Winchester Twp. Council To Discuss Purchase More Snow Equipment

A special meeting of Winchester Township Council is being held in Chesterville this afternoon at 2.30 to discuss purchase of additional snow removal equipment, possibly a bulldozer or another plow to hitch onto a heavy truck. There are 135 miles of township roads to be kept open with one snowplow. Some of the roads are very narrow, and many ratepayers feel wider shoulders should be built to accommodate traffic.

Proof of the oft-repeated statement that February is the roughest month of our Canadian winter was recorded over the week-end when a howling blizzard came tearing in from New York State (the weatherman says) and westerly winds heaped highways full of snow, forcing cancellation of church services on Sunday, marooning many motorists and curtailing railway traffic.

Provincial, counties' and township plows, augmented by private outfits, have been working night and day since the storm started and have managed to clear main highways. But it will be some time yet before sideroads are ready for motor traffic. The snow packed very hard as it was blown into drifts by the gale, and snowplows have suffered casualties bucking their way into drifts.

J. V. Fetterly, Township Road Superintendent, told The Record this morning the township's plow was laid up with broken crown gears, and Syd Morris' plow was also laid up for repair of a broken rear axle. A plow had been engaged from Ottawa to work on the roads in the Osgoode district.

North and south roads are reported worst off, and officials are at a loss to know what to do with the road from the Annable Corner, Melvin Settlement to Winchester, which is blocked with five feet of solid snow from fence to fence.

MR. AND MRS. WM. PEMBERTON MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pemberton of Elma, who will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton were married at the Elma parsonage, February 17th, 1897.

Mrs. Pemberton, nee Edith Beckstead, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marquis Beckstead. She enjoys good health as does Mr. Pemberton. They have a family of 2 sons and 3 daughters, and are very highly respected residents of the Elma community.

FARMER ESCAPES INJURY IN ACCIDENT THIS MORNING

Russell Froats, Chesterville farmer, escaped serious injury this morning when his sleigh and hay rack were in collision with Howard Hough's car near Pitcher's Corner and he was rolled beneath the sleigh. His team of fiery horses stopped when he shouted to them and he suffered only bruises to his back and leg, and did not require medical attention.

The sleigh was going south, into Chesterville, and as Mr. Froats pulled out to meet the car the sleigh rack hit the hard snow drift and was pushed in front of the can. The left front fender of the auto was crumpled and the sleigh rack was damaged.

Chesterville High School Annual "At Home"

The annual "At Home" of the Chesterville High School was held in the Community Hall last Thursday evening when some 200 couples danced to the music of Eldred Duquette's orchestra.

The patrons and patronesses were, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ross of the teaching staff; Miss Marion Bell, Miss Marjorie McMillan, Mr. Douglas Hough, and Mr. Douglas Dillabough.

The hall was tastefully decorated to represent a spring garden with a profusion of tulips and daffodils. On the stage was a rock garden, with stones painted in pastel shades surrounded with brightly colored spring flowers. Behind the garden was a white picket fence.

The decorating was planned and supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Ross.

Students responsible for the decorating were, Shirley Rowe, Margaret Gilroy, Evalene Thom, Sheila MacMillan, Marjorie Merkley, Ardeth Justus, Muriel Gray, Phyllis Clayton, Marion Bell, Lucy Carr, Douglas Hough, Henry Feeley, Ernest Fawcett, Gerald Brown, Graham Barkley, Gordon Fulton and Billy MacMillan.

BUCKINGHAM-RUSSELL PLAY-OFF HERE WEDNESDAY

C.G.I.T. GIRLS TAKE CHARGE SUNDAY EVENING SERVICE

Friends Respond Generously To Appeal for Fire Victims

Splendid response has answered the call for assistance to Mr. and Mrs. Myles Casselman, who lost their three young children and their worldly possessions in the tragic fire north of Chesterville February 1, with cash collections to date totalling almost $800, and contributions also given of furniture and other household supplies.

Elgin Froats of Chesterville spent a week canvassing the village and district and has turned in $391.02, with promises of more money. Stanley Harper, Earl Bowman and Nelson Dixon of Winchester collected $92.15 at the hockey game in Winchester last week-end; Lorne Taylor collected $68.15 at Dunbar; Chesterville Volunteer Fire Department donated $15.00; employees of Nestle's Milk Products (Can.) Ltd., gave $70; Harold Windsor collected approximately $80 and J. Vernon Fetterly received approximately $40 in his canvass. Chesterville Branch 434 of the Canadian Legion gave $25 from the Poppy Day Fund, and further assistance is promised by Chesterville Branch of the Red Cross Society and the Rotary Club of Chesterville.

M. V. "Shy" Harper put his express delivery at work collecting furniture and other household supplies last week and delivered a generous contribution to Mr. and Mrs. Casselman.

Mr. and Mrs. Casselman report they hope to move to the farm of Wellington Ball on the Ridge Road next while awaiting development of plans for securing a farm of his own. It is said offers of farms have been made by persons willing to assist the young couple.

Mr. Casselman is a veteran of World War II, having served with the Light Anti-Aircraft in England and on the continent to the conclusion of the war.

The benefit hockey game scheduled last Monday between the RCAF Flyers and the Legionaires had to be cancelled because of the drifted roads.

Five Boards Attend "Clinic" Sponsored By Chesterville Chamber

The Chamber of Commerce movement is on the march in Canada, great things have been accomplished by the 317 member boards, and greater are planned, declared Evan McCormick, manager of the Field Service Department of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, speaking at a "clinic" sponsored by The Chesterville Chamber here Tuesday night, at which 50 representatives sat down from Kemptville, Winchester, Chesterville, Maxville and Moose Creek.

The clinic, one of a series of 100 being held across Canada this year to replace the larger regional conferences of other years, was held for the purpose of discussing Chamber of Commerce fundamentals and particular problems confronting the participating boards. Four representatives of the Field Service Department will cover the clinics held throughout the Dominion.

The meetings were skipping the larger cities and going to the smaller centres, said Mr. McCormick to emphasize that the organization is a truly national one. The "clinics" are two-way propositions; 1, To bring ideas to the participating boards, and 2, to take back to the national offices knowledge of what the men in over 100 centres are thinking about national affairs so that the Dominion officers may speak knowingly for them.

Illustrating the upward trend of Chamber of Commerce activities, the speaker said the number of affiliated boards stood at 317, compared with 180 a year ago. Although membership and numbers of boards had grown, that alone was not the greatest interest of the national organization. Rather it is the ability of individual Chambers and the National Board to "get things done"—indicating the growth of efficiency.

Mr. McCormick enumerated the points for success of a Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade. Careful consideration must be given to the selection of members for the Council, or executive Board, which is in a large measure responsible for the success of the individual group. The programme of work must include all points of the "square and circle"—agricultural, industrial, commercial and civic portions of the programme. Greater measure of results can be obtained by effective committee operation, and finally sound membership and finance will be obtained if a good programme is evolved to be "sold" to the community.

Efficiency of the new National Affairs Committees was urged by the speaker who stated this was one of the main points of the year's programme laid down by the national president, C. Gordon Cockshutt. An intelligent interest in national affairs helps the individual Chamber to build better communities, achieving a greater Canada. Already 40 such committees had been organized, including Chesterville, of which R. C. Dillabough is the chairman, with E. B. McMillan and J. Frank Casselman.

At the conclusion of Mr. McCormick's address, a round table discussion was held on the five phases of Chamber of Commerce activity, based on an outline provided by the national office. Questions were asked and opinions expressed by Lorne Reddick, President and Jas. Morton, Secretary, of the Kemptville Board of Trade; Arnold Dukelow, President, Winchester District Chamber of Commerce; J. Brunet, of the Moose Creek Chamber of Commerce; J. D. McRae, president of a group organizing a Chamber of Commerce in Maxville; R. C. Dillabough, J. Frank Casselman, E. B. Lynch, H. Brown, President; J. A. Morris, secretary, and others of the Chesterville group.

Reeve P. S. Boyd extended a civic welcome to out-of-town members, saying it was a source of great satisfaction to see men from various municipalities leaving their businesses to interest themselves in the programme of the Chamber of Commerce movement for the betterment of Canada. The Chesterville Chamber was well-organized, he said, and functioning smoothly, and he believed the same could be said of the visiting groups. His wish was that the discussions of the evening would result in means of best accomplishing the wishes of each organization and the group as a whole.

President H. Brown introduced the guest speaker, and the thanks of the group was expressed by R. C. Dillabough. Following the meal and the toast to the King, proposed by vice-president W. O. Dixon, a sing song was lead by Mr. Casselman. Grace was said by E. B. McMillan.

INJURED AT HOCKEY PRACTICE

The second of the Legionaires' hockey players to be seriously injured is Jim McCloskey who suffered fractures of his jaw bones last Friday night while at practice. His cheekbone was also injured. He was taken to Dr. Justus' office where his injuries were found to be serious and he was taken to the Civic hospital for further examination and treatment. He has responded rapidly and is expected to come home tomorrow.

Hockey Near Windup; Winchester Here Tonight Play-Offs Start Friday

With Winchester Rangers playing here tonight, the final game of the COVHL schedule rings the bell on the first lap of the race for this season, and the four teams move into the play-offs Friday night with the Legionaires visiting Winchester, and Maxville expected to play their game in Finch.

Maxville finished on top of the league with 16 points, and should Chesterville win tonight they would be within one point, as they split the points on the last game following last week's protest against Maxville bringing in a Cornwall man. Chesterville thus stands undisputed in second place with 13 points; Winchester is third with 10, regardless of the outcome of tonight's game; and Finch finished the season in fourth spot with 7 points.

Scores for the first round of the play-offs will be goals on the two games, with the first and fourth, and second and third teams playing. In the finals the count will be the best-of-three games. A winner must be declared by the 24th to meet Osgoode who have secured a bye for the first round of the district playdowns.

Maxville Glens trounced the Finch Blue Devils soundly on Saturday night 12-5, and last night, in the game postponed from Monday, handed out a 13-2 count on their own ice.

THE MILKMAN COMETH

A milkman's life is never dull and Vancouver milkmen have learned not to be surprised at any sort of request. Here are copies of notes actually left by customers.

Dear Madam: When you leave my milk, knock on my bedroom window and wake me. I want you to give me a hand to turn the mattress. P. S. Hope you don't mind.

Dear Milkman: My back door is open. Please put the milk in refrigerator, get money out of cup in drawer and leave change on kitchen table in pennies because we want to play bingo tonight.

Dear Milkman: When you leave the milk please put coal on the furnace, let the dog out, and put the newspapers inside the screen door.—P.S. Don't leave any milk.

Town League Hockeyists Await Play-Off Dates for Championship Cup

Winding up their schedule Tuesday night with Ray Hummel's Shur-Gain boys undefeated in first place, the Town League teams are chafing at the bit waiting for the play-off dates which cannot be arranged until the Intermediate series is arranged.

Leonard Moran's Dodgers finished in second place, Freeman Beckstead's Dodgers in third, and Staley Chambers' River Rats gnawed their way into the cellar.

Tuesday night's double-header saw Shur-Gain trim the Dodgers 5-2, and the Wanderers defeat Connaught River Rats 4-2.

Emblematic of the Town League supremacy is the silver cup in safe keeping at P. J. Gilroy's jewellery store.

Chase of Wolf Packs Switches To Mr. King's Glengarry Riding

Huntsmen in Glengarry have declared all out war on a pack of wolves which have been in the district for the last few months. It is feared that the wolves will be a serious menace to the herds and flocks as well as the wild life in the county.

Many deer have been reported killed since the recent crust has formed but wandering dogs have been blamed for this. In the vicinity of Glen Roy three deer were killed by dogs recently. A local hunter, Steve Russel, killed two of the dogs when he came across them attacking deer in a bush not far from his home.

Deer in the district are plentiful and becoming tamer. The game preserve at Loch Garry is given as the reason for the abundance of wild life in the county.

CLEAN SEED MEANS PROFIT TO FARMERS

All seeds require thorough cleaning and grading to remove weed seeds and offal, as well as light and shrunken kernels. Both experience and experiments have demonstrated the fact that the largest yield per acre may be expected from the use of large, sound, plump seed rather than from seed which has been poorly cleaned and graded.

In many places in Canada there are well-equipped seed cleaning plants available to farmers, but it may so happen that these seed cleaning establishments may not be conveniently near some of the farmers whose only alternative is to clean their own seed. The farm-sized fanning mill, however, can do a good job if carefully operated. Improper cleaning of seed is due in most cases to lack of proper sieves or screens, or to improper adaption of the mill. Some of the weed seeds are difficult to separate, but most of them can be removed if proper sieves are used and time is taken to determine the proper combination of size and slope of sieve, shake, air blast and rate at which the seed passes over the sieves.

The labour of cleaning and handling seed on the farm may be reduced considerably where the facilities permit the elevation of the seed from the cleaner to an overhead bin. From this bin, the seed may be spouted back to the fanning mill for a second cleaning. It is necessary to run seed through a farm fanning mill at least twice, and sometimes three times. If seed is to be cleaned a third time, it may be elevated to a second overhead bin which is within spouting distance of the fanning mill on the floor below.

GREAT GRAY OWL SIGHTED

In the past 36 years, there have been only two records of Great Gray Owls at Toronto—one in January, 1935, and one on January 12th of the present year, found by T. M. Shortt of the Royal Ontario Museum.

The Great Gray Owl of the far Northwest is the largest of all the owls—with a wingspread exceeding five feet.

During some winters, numbers of them desert their accustomed grounds and invade Eastern Canada and the norther United States, probably due to a failure in their food supply—mice, shrews and other small mammals.

Since the great flight of 1889-90 (when one Toronto taxidermist alone received 23 specimens to be mounted), there were almost annual visitations until 1910-11, when they apparently ceased.

Indications point to the complete disappearance of the Great Gray Owl unless thoughtless shooters allow them to visit us with impunity. Big winter invasions seem to be a thing of the past — in the Toronto region at any rate.

Man's treatment of Nature has been a grim story. Let us make sure that these owls do not join the ranks of the Passenger Pigeon and Great Auk—earlier victims of man's folly.

WHALEMEAT WILL HELP ELIMINATE WORLD FOOD SHORTAGE

Britain's scientists are studying the possibilities of developing whale meat as a staple human food in addition to the sperm oil which is already providing such valuable help in overcoming the world shortage of fats. Prewar figures indicate that—if the present tests are satisfactory—the whale's place on the menu may well be an important one. Medical science maintains that the whale meat proteins surpass in health value for children those obtained from land animals. Research workers are devoting particular attention to testing the most palatable methods of preparing whale meat for the table. Meat not used for food can be converted into cattle food while bones frm carcasses will yield bone manure and glue. As well as bringing a variety to menus in Britain, whale meat will have an important role in supplementing Europe's food supplies.

ROYAL FASHION FOR SOUTH AFRICA A SECRET

The styles the Queen and the Princesses will introduce to South Africa —which will be noted in fashion centres throughout the world—are still secret. They were shown privately to fashion writers in London, but Queen Elizabeth has asked, in courtesy to the South African people, that details of the Royal wardrobe shall not be revealed until the Royal family arrive in Capetown on the 17th of February.

Do you wander all over the road? Are you a road-hog? Do other drivers wonder what you are going to do next? If so you are risking not only your own safety, but that of all who are anywhere near you. Traffic lanes and white lines are put there for a purpose. Use them properly, and use signals.

Very few drivers seem to know what to do when a car starts skidding on ice, snow or wet pavement. The Ontario Highways Department wants to remind you of what every experienced driver does instinctively, in such situations. When your car skids do as follows: First, turn the front wheel in direction in which the rear end is slipping; second, take your foot off the accelerator but leave the clutch engaged; third, pump the brake pedal down and up gently. Above all, don't lose your head and jam on the brakes.

WHAT WEATHER!

Rain has been causing some trouble in England, and the radio news bulletins have contained frequent references to flooding, but in a recent BBC broadcast David Ascoli has sprung to the defence of the greatly-maligned English climate. He has travelled much, and points out that, whereas a fall of half-an-inch of rain in England in twenty-four hours is almost a sensation, in many parts of the world it would be a mere nothing. Ascoli seems to have been unfortunate with the weather in his globe trotting, but he remembers only too vividly one August morning last year in Ceylon when they measured four-and-a half inches of rain in the space of a single hour. In sunny, fabulous California, where they are so touchy about their weather that they refuse to admit the word "rain", he saw the streets running four inches deep in water. In Honolulu lightning flashed, thunder rolled and rain fell in torrents from dawn to dusk. When he was in the Solomon Islands it rained not only every day, but twenty-four hours of every day. At Melbourne, where it should have been full summer, an icy wind straight from the South Pole blew without respite. In Colombo, three houses collapsed under the weight of water. But all this is chicken-feed beside Cherrapooji, in the the average annual rainfall is ten times that of England. In the two days that he was there, thirty-seven inches fell.

Wherever he went, the local inhabitants gazed mournfully at the pouring rain and said: "This is quite unusual. We never remember having weather like this!" The only place which lived up to anything like its glowing reputation was Perth, in Western Austrlaia, where out of the seven days he was there it rained only on three.

On the question of weather forecasts, Ascoli compared the Air Ministry's most scientific efforts with those of the Romans, who peered into the gizzards of dead birds, and with the weather sages, who hold a finger to the wind, or who swear by cows lying down in the field, red skies, or a halo round the moon; but of all these methods, he prefers to rely on old Barney's rheumatism.

PENICILLIN HELPFUL AGAINST MASTITIS

Good results were obtained with penicillin in the treatment of mastitis in cows by the Division of Animal Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, in the 12 months ended March 31, 1946. Results were based on a complete bacteriological examination one to three months after treatment. In view of the results obtained, a large-scale field experiment was planned in which the practising veterinarians in the Ottawa Valley were invited to co-operate. Short courses were given and forms were supplied to the attending veterinarians. Under the plan, all animals in the herd are tested, individual milk samples from each quarter are subjected to bacteriological examination, infected quarters are treated, and re-examined later to determine the value of treatment. The results of the experiment carried out by practising veterinarians will indicate whether mastitis can be controlled by the methods recommended.

ANTLER-SHEDDING TIME

Our zoologists tell us that moose and deer shed their antlers during a period extending from December to March, the older animals losing them first. Surprisingly few antlers are found lying about the woods since rodents such as squirrels, mice and porcupines gnaw away at them. Antler is one of the hardest types of bones, too.

Central Canada Exhibition Coming Back This Year

Five thousand prize lists covering twenty departments of operation for the Central Canada Exhibition will be in the hands of exhibitors before May 1st, according to H. H. McElroy, General Manager. The dates of the Exhibition are from August 18th to 23rd, and the venue, Lansdowne Park, Ottawa.

A huge works programme of reconstruction and rehabilitation, with practical worth, and beauty going hand in hand, is now in full swing. Before the gates open on the first day of the 1947 Exhibition, more than $400,000 will have been spent to provide a suitable memorial for the thousands of men who gave then lives for their country from the districts contiguous to Ottawa, as well as to be a dedication on the part of the Exhibition Directors and Management for the building up of a great era of prosperity and happiness on behalf of the people of Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec.

The residents of these areas have been generous supporters of the Exhibition in the past. With every section of fair activity greater than ever before, including a stellar programme of outstanding attractions, it is expected the support will be enhanced and increased.

One of the great 1947 features will be the advance ticket sale. This will find its way into every town, village and country district in the area served by the Exhibition. Splendid prizes have been arranged in conjunction with the sale, and the draw will be held on the last day of the Exhibition. Items include automobiles, refrigerators, chesterfield suites and other outstanding gifts. The Exhibition Association plans to make the event annual one of the greatest importance to the patrons of the Fair.

A wonderful time is promised for the huge throngs which are expected to attend the exhibition, which is now in its 72nd year of public service.

The Ottawa Exhibition is where city and country meet, in deed and in fact. One cannot prosper without the other.

Worth It

Naturally, the sweet girl's father was annoyed. It was after midnight and she'd just come home.

"You're late again!" he stormed. "This won't do. You must tell that boy friend of yours that late hours are bad for one."

"Yes, dad—I know," she replied. Then she added, with a sign: "But they're lovely for two."

THE BUILDERS

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

In the elder days of Art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen;
Make the house where gods may dwell
Beautiful, entire and clean.

Fifty-Fifty

"Well, it grew on the firm's time, didn't it?"

"Well, I didn't have it all cut off."

Mr. Hairspring: Heavens, no; he has a list of blondes, a list of brunettes, and a list of red heads.

Funeral Late Mrs. Henry Whitteker

Final tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Henry Whitteker was paid by the many relatives and friends attending her funeral which was held from her residence to St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, on Wednesday afternoon. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. George Innes. During the service the choir sang "It Is Not Far".

The pallbearers, all nephews of the deceased were, Messrs. Hugh Barkley, Jimmie Sargeant, Graham Casselman, Clifford Casselman, Aden McIntosh, Percy Casselman, Victor Riddell, Russell Ault. The remains were placed in the vault for interment in the Williamsburg cemetery, in the spring.

Mrs. Whitteker's death occurred at the St. Vincent de Paul hospital, Brockville, on Sunday afternoon, following an operation. She was removed to the hospital on Saturday afternoon after a few days illness.

Mrs. Whitteker was born near Dunbar in April, 1884 and was in her 63rd year. She was a daughter of the late Lemuel Dillabough and his wife Rebecca Elliott, her maiden name being Emily Florence Dillabough. On January 10th, 1912, she married Mr. Henry Whitteker of Williamsburg, who survives with two daughters, Mrs. Dalton Robinson of Winchester Springs and Mrs. Gerald Adams of Vars, three grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Henry Barkley of Williamsburg, Mrs. Aden Casselman of Winchester Springs, Mrs. Charles Harper of Ottawa and one brother William Dillabough of Dunbar. Two sisters and a brother predeceased her.

Many beautiful floral tributes covered the casket, a silent message of love and the sorrow occasioned by the death of Mrs. Whitteker.

Williamsburg

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Faulkner and Mr. Thomas Faulkner of Morewood, were entertained on Monday evening, February 3rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Trickey and Mr. and Mrs. Arden Trickey. The occasion was in honor of the 1st birthday of the latter's little son, Billy Trickey. The table was centred with a birthday cake.

In spite of the stormy weather on Tuesday evening an enjoyable social evening was held in the Williamsburg United Church Sunday School. The program of contests, games, singsongs was arranged by the Misses Edna Coughler, Eva Shannette and Muriel McIntosh of the Young People's Union. Kemptville Stores Robbed Doctor's Car Stolen Again

Four Kemptville stores were broken into early on Monday, and a quantity of clothing and a sum of money stolen.

Provincial and city police are scouring Ottawa and district for the thieves, who were forced to abandon a car stolen by them in Kemptville after it became snowbound just north of Manotick.

Detective Inspector Leonard Greene and Provincial Constable A. H. Bird, who are in charge of the investigation, said the thieves broke into a garage at 137 Besserer street, Ottawa, some time Saturday night and stole a Rideau Bakery truck.

They kept the vehicle 'under cover" during daylight hours Sunday and late last night took it to Kemptville. There it became snowbound and the thieves left it stuck in a drift.

They then broke into Stevenson's Garage, stole a box of tools, and tried to take Game Overseer Roy Baker's car. It became stuck in the heavy snow outside the garage and the robbers could not move it farthen.

The thieves then broke into Johnson's Garage and took Dr. Beamish's car, which was stored there. Assured of Transportation, they smashed their way into Anderson's Department Store and stole a dozen overcoats. These they placed in the stolen automobile and moved up the street to Marshall Motors. They forced entrance there and stole about $5 in cash from the till.

Heading back to Ottawa in Dr. Beamish's stolen car, the thieves plowed into a drift just north of Manotick and were unable to move the car any further. They abandoned it, together with most of the coats stolen from the department store.

Ontario Department of Highway's plow crews found the car early this morning and notified Constable Bird at Kemptville.

Subsequent investigation located the bakery truck at Kemptville. Constable Bird said the truck had not been there prior to midnight Sunday night.

FRAMEWORKED TREES GIVE BEST RESULTS

Frameworking is the name given to the practice of grafting or budding fruit trees in such a way that most of the original framework of the tree is retained. Only branch ends, small or poorly placed laterals, spurs and surplus larger branches are removed in the operation. The advantage of frameworking is that the trees have so little of the original top removed that the shock to the root system is reduced to that of heavy pruning and by the end of the first growing season the leaf area is very close to normal for the age of the tree.

On the other hand, the well-established methods of top-working (top grafting) call for the cutting away of most of the tree top, and it is usually at least six years before this top can be re-grown to its original size. Further, a serious shock to the tree root system often results and when top-worked trees do bear fruit, the apples of the first two or three crops are oversized and "punky", typical of fruit grown on rapidly growing juvenile wood. Full information on frameworking is given in the bulletin "Frameworking Fruit Trees" by R. J. Hilton, Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S. A copy of the bulletin may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

In a keenly contested game on Morewood ice, the Beavers from Winchester Springs defeated the Morewood Group 3 to 1.

The Morewood team outclassed the visitors in the first period and the only goal of the period was scored by Moss of Morewood. Casselman on a long shot from centre ice.

Juvenile Billy Thompson was the hero of the game with two goals. Billie Baker was the star of the Morewood team.

MORE RURAL LINES!

THIS YEAR ALONE we are spending $3,500,000 so that more farms will have telephones with fewer people on each line.

• • •

For the best telephone service, remember the master rule, "Do unto others as you would like them to do to you—and do it first!"

For best results from your telephone:
1. Keep calls brief.
2. Space your calls.
3. Avoid "listening in."
4. Give right-of-way to emergency calls.

THE BUILDERS
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

In the elder days of Art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen;
Make the house where gods may dwell
Beautiful, entire and clean.

Satan: What are you laughing at?
Junior Devil: I just locked a woman in a room with a thousand hats and no mirror.

Master Breeder Award To W. J. Fawcett

W. J. Fawcett, Winchester, Ontario, received the highest honor that is within the power of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada to bestow when he was presented with a Master Breeder Shield at the Annual Meeting of the Association held February 5 at Toronto. The actual presentation was made by Col. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture. Since the first such shield was presented in 1930, only thirty Holstein herds in Canada have received this coveted award.

To qualify for the title of Master Breeder, Mr. Fawcett has bred 6 Class XX bulls, 1 *Excellent, 2 Very Good, 3 Gold Medal, 6 Good Plus and 2 Excellent cows. All the females have production records at least twenty percent above the amount required to qualify in the Dominion Record of Performance. In addition, he has bred 1 Very Good, 10 Good Plus and 2 Excellent cows that have not yet fulfilled the stringent Master Breeder production requirements.

"Bill" Fawcett was born at Chesterville in Dundas County and purchased his first Holsteins in 1920. The real foundation of his present herd however, was secured in 1929 when he bought two cows, Sylvia Dimple Car Born secured from A. D. Ralph, Kemptville, and Thelma Ottile Pontiac from Milton Richardson, Mountain, Ontario. These two females were shown at the Ottawa Winter Fair in 1930, Sylvia winning first prize in the Aged Cow class and going on to the Senior and Grand Championship and also winning the special R.O.P. class. Thelma, then ten years old, won the class for Aged Cows in milk and was third in the R.O.P. classification.

A son of Sylvia, Dimple Car Born was the first prize Bull Calf and Reserve Junior Champion and became the Senior herd sire in the Fawcett herd. Mr. Fawcett considers him as probably the most outstanding sire that he has used.

For the past decade or so the herd has been bred on Rag Apple lines, mated to the offspring of these outstanding animals. The herd has been continuously on Record of Performance test since 1928 and consistently good records have been made but it has been Mr. Fawcett's policy to operate the herd on a very practical basis and so there has been no forcing for exceptionally high records. Rather the program has called for securing a calf a year from each cow together with good production on twice-a-day milking. Until 1942 the milking herd did not number over 16 but a new barn was built at that time to accommodate 24 milking cattle. Until 1946 the farm consisted of 100 acres at which time Mr. Fawcett purchased another 100 acres. Among the prominent animals bred in the herd was the *Excellent cow Willola Car Born Bell. She was first prize Aged Cow, Senior and Grand Champion at the Kemptville Championship Show in 1941 and was second in the Aged Cow class in 1942 and 1944. She was also first at Ottawa in 1938 and 1939. Another prominent show winner was Willola Daisy Supreme who was All-Canadian heifer calf in 1945 and All-Canadian Junior Yearling heifer in 1946.

Not only is Bill Fawcett a good showman but he is an excellent judge as well having placed the awards at many of the prominent shows in Eastern Ontario. He has served as Director of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada since 1943.

MAGIC SPRAYER WIPES OUT MUSTARD

In June 1946 mustard was wiped out of wheat growing near Regina, Sask., by a machine that applied less than five gallons per acre of a 2, 4-D solution at the rate of .35 of an acre per minutes. Farmers call this machine the Magic Sprayer.

These sensational results were obtained in field scale experiments conducted by the Field Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms, on farms adjacent to the Experimental Farm, Indian Head, Sask., and on the Experimental Sub-Station, Regina.

Observations made by the field Husbandry Division in the year 1945 led to the belief that 2, 4-D could be effectively applied in much less water than the recommended rates. Further investigations at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in the Spring of 1946 appeared to confirm this theory. The results obtained at Indian Head and Regina are a further verification of this belief, for in these experiments practically 100 per cent of the mustard was wiped out of wheat by 4.4 gallons per acre of 2, 4-D solution that contained 500 cubic centimeters, this is less than a pint of one of the brands of 2, 4-D. This brand is sold in Canada for $8.00 per gallon, so that the cost of the chemical was a little less than one dollar per acre.

The mustard was killed before it was large enough to retard the growth of the grain consequently the average increase in the yield of wheat was 2.6 bushels per acre.

No other method of killing mustard has made so great an appeal to Prairie Farmers. Speed of application, little water and low cost per acre are the outstanding advantages in favour of this novel method of killing mustard.

Frank Davidson, Winchester Suffered Seizure While Working

Franklin Frederick Davidson, owner of a farm on the southern outskirts of Winchester for the past 40 years, a former member of the town council and member of the Public and High School Boards, suffered a seizure Saturday afternoon while working in a chicken coop.

The body was discovered by Joan Davidson, a daughter.

An active member of the local Masonic Lodge, Mr. Davidson, in his 67th year, was also a member of the High School Board. He had served previously with the Public School Board, and until a few years ago was a member of the village council. His farm was inside the limits of the village, and was something of a landmark at the southern outskirts.

Mr. Davidson is survived by his wife, the former Elena Powell, whom he married 40 years ago. Mr. Davidson was born at Winchester Springs, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Davidson, and he attended schools in the district.

Surviving, besides his widow, are three sons, Eldon and Douglas, of Ottawa, and Charles, of Alexandria; two daughters, Mrs. Harry Baldwin and Joan Davidson of Winchester; and two sisters, Mrs. H. P. Hanson, and Mrs. M. M. McQuaig, both of Kingston.

The funeral was held Tuesday at Winchester United Church. Rev. Norman J. Thomas conducting the service at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Maple Ridge cemetery in the spring.

Clear Conscience

When the examination was over, the teacher in a mountain school told her pupils to write a pledge upon their papers that they had neither received nor given help.

One gangling youth, who had squirmed in dismay and mopped a bewildered brow throughout the ordeal, wrote:

"I ain't received no help in this matter, and God knows I couldn't have gave any."

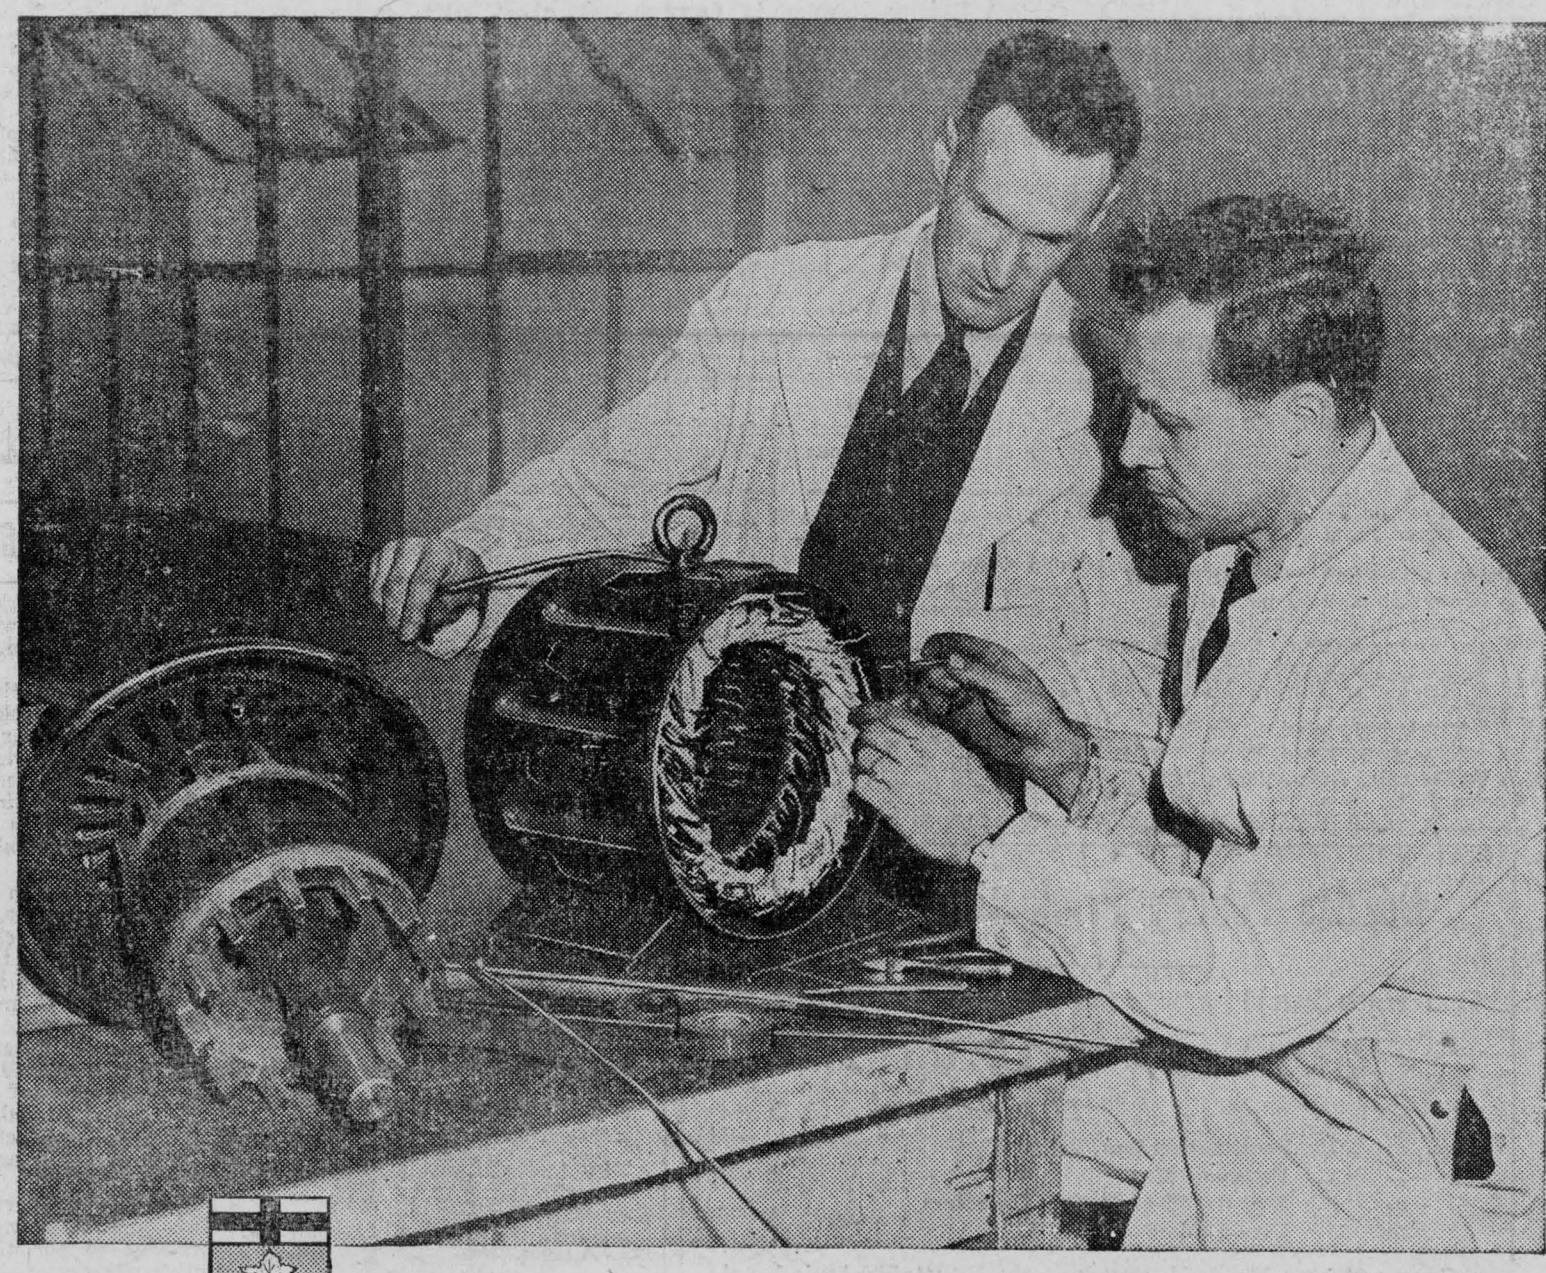
ANAEMIA IN PIGS CAN BE PREVENTED

Anaemia in baby pigs is preventable but still too commonly encountered, says the Division of Animal Pathology, Dominion Department of Agriculture. The therapeutic and prophylactic value of iron was clearly shown in all the experiments so far made by the Division. Life-long feeding of iron to the sow did not result in greater storage of iron in the young, these being equally as susceptible to anaemia as the young of untreated sows. A single dose of iron for young pigs was not sufficient. A minimum of three at weekly intervals was indicated. The first should be given when the pigs are a day or two old as cases of anaemia may be well developed in the first week in confined pigs.



HANDS AT WORK...

ONTARIO'S future prosperity depends directly on a sufficient volume of production to satisfy domestic needs and assure for Canada a pre-eminent place in the markets of the world. Take the electrical industry for example ... never before has the demand, both here and abroad, for the products of Ontario's great electrical plants been so great. Production must be increased ... but to meet new production goals, skilled hands are needed. For them great opportunities lie ahead. Higher wages, job security, better working conditions are within easier reach of those who have mastered a skilled occupation.

Today, through the plan sponsored by the Department of Veterans' Affairs and other agencies, thousands of young workers are being trained to meet the electrical and other industrial needs of this Province. Graduates of these rehabilitation courses are now ready to take their places in Ontario's industry. Available to you are veterans, well started on the road to skilled electrical trades such as electrical construction and maintenance, radio and electrical servicing and motor winding. Seek them out with confidence. They are your future craftsmen.

MOTOR WINDING

The Motor Winding Course enables the student to understand intelligently the operation and repair of motors. Graduates of this course, available at Hamilton and Toronto, have a practical knowledge of the different types of winding and re-winding of motors as large as 10 and 15 h.p.

Vocational training courses in the arts, professions and trades are offered at training centres located in the following cities and towns in Ontario: Toronto, London, Hamilton, Kitchener, Windsor, Ft. William, Brockville, Prescott, Kingston, North Bay, Ottawa, Guelph, Kemptville, Haileybury.

THE BREWING INDUSTRY ONTARIO

THE APPLES OF ONTARIO

By
R. J. Deachman

From time to time stories appear in the papers telling us that Ontario apples are poor, they are not the fruit we used to know. That cry gives me strange nostalgic pains. I remember these apples, I knew them years ago. Where now is the Talman Sweet a lovely apple in its pristine glory? What has become of the Snow Apple with its ruddy face, its thin skin and its white body? Then there was the Golden Russet and the Northern Spy, the pick of the lot for late eating. We have them yet, they do not seem the same. Has the flavor gone out of them or am I sensing it through memories more imaginative than real.

It's a sad story. On the face of things nothing could be done about it along the lines we were operating when the disaster came. The average farmer in pioneer days planted an acre or two of orchard as soon as the land was cleared. There was no coddling moth in those days, there was no scab to mar and deface the fruit. The apples were big and beautiful. They were blessed by a flavour not known in lands where the climate was less vigorating—British Columbia for instance. Now I've put my foot in it!

My friend, George Cruickshank, M.P., raves about the British Columbia fruit. With deep humility I admit that, in appearance, the British Columbia fruit is often better than our own but George Cruickshank, M.P., born west of the Great Lakes, living now in British Columbia, doesn't know the flavour of the Ontario apple back about the time of the Riel rebellion he wasn't even born then. It is not his fault, what could he know of Ontario who only B.C. knows. He's an M.P., of course, but Western M.P., never get to know the real Ontario—the farms and villages.

Well what did happen to Ontario apples? The orchards were small, an acre or two on a hundred acre farm. They were an unimportant factor in the farm economy. In many cases they were grown wholly for home consumption. The farmers put them in bins or barrels and stored them in the cellar for winter use.

The ground was not cultivated, the trees were not properly cared for, apple growing was not even a side line, the Ontario apple, for years was not what it once was. Now new commercial orchards have been developed and from these we are getting good fruit. The apple industry is on the march again and British Columbia, which at times, I admit, does fairly well, must look to its laurels, we shall dispute any of its temporary gains, do it on the basis of quality.

Ontario was a lovely land in the old days—still is, of course. The fishing season started on the 24th of May. The sheep would be washed before the first of June. The old swimming holes resounded to the yells of youngsters taking their first dip. It rained on the 12th of July. I wish Ontario would go back to making apple-butter—the real kind, what a marvellous smoky flavor- There was a touch of ashes in it! Then we had pumpkin pie and black currents and gooseberries and corn on the cob. In those days nearly every farmer had roast lamb for the threshing dinner and I recall one bright chap who said he could taste wool for a month after the threshing was over. Things are different now but these far off memories are a part of life which will abide till the shadows fall and those who lived them know them no more.

PRAYER

By Harold Applebaum

The winter holds the sleeping seeds at rest,
The snows hear springtime signals to withdraw.
The magic of the season's rich request
Awaits the wand of February thaws.
Perhaps at this time man might breathe a prayer—
That of earth's sweet torment there might be born
An age of freedom, springing everywhere
Exultant, bright in every April Morn'.

PUZZLES FOUND IN ROCKS

That the devil put fossils in the rocks to confuse mankind was a fantastic idea once held, but modern science has done much to solve these rock puzzles. We know, after the past century of intensive research that fossil remains provide us with the means to study many forms of ancient life. Most fossils are the incomplete remains of the hard parts of organisms. Soft parts, except in unusual cases, are not saved. Sometimes it is simply the footprint or trail left by an animal of long ago or the impression of a leaf, preserved for us in rock, that gives the clue to its identity. In the galleries of the Royal Ontario Museum, artists and scientists have combined their talents to help us visualize the lands and waters of the ancient world as they might have appeared when teeming with living organisms. In the study cases we may learn that, although Canada is considered a "young" country today, she has a fossil history dating back millions of years. Fossils from Durham, Wiarton, St. Mary's, Thedford, Ottawa, as well as those from Toronto, and many other Ontario sites, are definitely of the "old" world type.

GIRL FROM TEXAS

Cattle ranching in Texas and broadcasting in Toronto may seem to have little in common, but Texas-born Jitty Potter, pictured here, is combining them most successfully in her "Tales of Texas" children's program, broadcast over stations of the CBC Trans-Canada network every Thursday at 5.30 p.m. EST. Now living in Canada, Miss Potter draws for her stories upon the life she led on her parents' 15,000-acre ranch.

BRITAIN'S EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN FOR ROAD SAFETY

Many fascinating mechanical devices are teaching hundreds each day in London how to keep death off Britain's roads. They are part of an exciting and instructive show for school children and adults organized by the London County Council in collaboration with the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents. The aim of this Road Safety exhibition is to bring home to everyone the main points in the Government's educational campaign against road accidents. It also provides a guide to be followed by local authorities throughout the country in staging similar exhibitions in their areas as part of this year's extensive plans for the most vigorous nationwide safety campaign ever undertaken in Britain.

In Person

Groping downstairs in his bare feet the householder surprised an intruder packing the family silver into a bag.

"By George, a real burglar! Wait a minute, will you?"

"And you'll calla cop!" snarled the burglar.

"Oh, no, only while I call my wife. She's heard you every night for 20 years, and I'm sure it will be a real pleasure for her to meet you at last."

DANGER IN COMMON WATERING TROUGH

A common watering trough is just not good enough for dairy cattle. Unless every animal is healthy, the common watering place serves as a breeding place for tuberculosis.

This reminder comes from Canada's acting Veterinary Director General, Dr. Thomas Childs. He says that when testing a herd he has often found one or two animals badly infected and, next to them on the milking line, several re-actors. If these re-actors had been bred and raised on their owner's farm, the veterinarian concluded that it was there they had been infected. The spread of the infection, he attributes to the common trough.

Nor is tuberculosis the only disease which cattle may acquire in this fashion. Actinomycosis, or lump jaw, may be spread when discharges from its ulcers fall into the trough from which all members of the herd drink.

To prevent infection of these dangerous, expensive and sometimes fatal diseases, Dr. Childs recommends individual drinking bowls. More and more farmers are installing these.

Not as satisfactory but less expensive is a metal or wooden pail for each cow. These should be of heavy construction, as cows have the habit of pushing them around. And as a cow can kick over her drinking pail almost as easily as kicking over her milk pail, the buckets should be strong enough to stand a certain amount of this violence.

Despite its limitation, even an individual bucket is better than a common watering trough, but individual drinking bowls are best.

Wrong Corner

She waited on the corner joyously, then pensively, then expectantly, then casually, then anxiously and two hours passed.

"Man," she said, 'is a perfidious animal, faithless and untrue, incapable of keeping a promise," and so she became a cynic.

Two hundred yards down the street he said the same thing about women. She was on the wrong corner.

First?

You could tell she was just the type—pretty as a doll and just as dumb—as she floated through the cocktail lounge with a fuzzy poodle under her arm. She seated herself and as the waiter prepared to take her order, baby-talked the dog into exasperation.

Trying to comfort the fidgeting animal (the waiter still waited), she cooed: "There, there, now. Mama's itsy-bitsy baby—nobody's going to hurt 'oo."

The poodle settled after a while and the affectionate girl turned big blue eyes to meet the icy glare of the waiter, who asked, courteously but bitingly: "Your first dog, madam?"

Now, What?

"And what did my darling do all the evening?"

"I played postman, Mummy. I put a letter in every house in the avenue. Real letters, too. I found a big bundle of them in your drawer, tied up in pink ribbon."

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! The true griddlecake lover enjoys eating them in the kitchen—when he can. He sits at a white kitchen table, flanked by a deep-lipped pitcher filled with rich looking syrup and the other essentials for a perfect griddlecake meal. Some citrus fruit, spiced sausages and coffee are the only other foods needed apart from the griddle cake ingredients. There he sits, and as the lace-edged pancakes or patterned waffles are baked and come off the iron, he eats his fill. That is a profile of the true and ardent griddle-cake fan.

Barring the privilege I told you of, let us hope the electric waffle iron is set upon the dining room table. Because "hot off the griddle" is the best quality waffle.

WAFFLES

2 cups sifted cake flour, 2 eggs separated, ¼ tsp. salt, 3 tsps. baking powder, 1¼ cups milk, 6 tbsps. melted shortening.

Using electric mixer, beat whole eggs 1 min. using high speed. Add the milk and beat for 1 min. Add the sifted dry ingredients. Add melted shortening and beat for 15 sec. at high speed or until the mixture is thoroughly blended. Makes 8 or 10.

GINGERBREAD WAFFLES

1|3 cup shortening, 1|3 cup boiling water, 1|3 cup molasses, 1|3 cup sugar, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 cup flour, ¼ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. ginger, ½ tsp. cinnamon, ¼ tsp. cloves.

Place shortening in a mixing bowl and pour boiling water over it. Add molasses, sugar and egg. Stir in flour, sifted with salt, soda, baking powder and spice. Cook mixture in hot waffle iron. Serve with syrup or with cottage cheese. Makes 3 or 4.

SOUTHERN PANCAKES

1 cup buttermilk, ½ cup sweet milk, 1 egg, well beaten; 1 tsp. soda, ½ tsp. salt, 1 tbsp. melted fat, 2 tbsps. cornmeal, 2 cups flour.

Mix ingredients in order given. Bake in electric waffle iron or sizzling hot greased griddle pan. When bubbles form, turn and brown on other side. Serve with sausages—or with fruit for dessert. Makes 10 or 12.

ORANGE PANCAKES

1½ cups prepared pancake flour, 1½ to 2 tbsps. grated orange rind, few gratings nutmeg, 1 tbsp. sugar (optional), 1½ cups milk or water.

To pancake flour, add orange rind, nutmeg and sugar. Add liquid, stir until batter is smooth. Turn into pitcher. Fry as directed for pancakes. Serve hot with butter and honey. Makes 8.

TAKE A TIP

1. Use a scant measurement of salt with flour for thin batter mixture.
2. Use salt-free fat to grease griddles and waffle irons since salt causes mixtures to stick to metal. Melt fat and skim off a small amount from the top to use. Pork fat is better than butter as the latter burns easily.
3. When electric waffle iron is preheated to bake, it is ready to use. Heat gridde pan until it is hot but never smoking before pouring in the batter.
4. Pour batter from a pitcher about 1|3 cup at a time. Do not spread batter. Allow about 10 to 12 mins. on each side to brown — when bubbles begin to form in pancakes, it is time to turn and when steam stops coming forth from side of waffle iron it is time to lift out.
5. Stack pancakes and waffles on end to prevent sogginess. Serve on hot plates.
6. Spread soft butter (neither hot nor melted) on waffles and top with maple syrup.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mr. C. J. asks: How do you prevent gravy from becoming greasy?

Answer: Let the juice in the pan stand for 3 or 4 mins. after you remove the meat, then skim off the top grease and save for baking. Brown about 4 tbsps. flour in a skillet pan and quickly stir in the meat juice. Add hot water or potato water to thin to desired consistency.

Mrs. B. K. says: What makes fried liver very hard?

Answer: Liver should be wiped with a dry cloth—never soak or wash it. Pork liver may be scalded. Saute quickly in hot fat; browning both sides, then cover tightly and cook 5 mins. on electric element turned low. This method prevents liver from becoming tough.

Mrs. M. R. says: that since the supply of starch is very limited it should be used sparingly. When making blanc mange, use 1 tbsp. cornstarch and 1 egg; and to make sweet sauce, use part chopped fruit or graham cracker crumbs to substitute for cornstarch.

Wos Assn Trinity United Will Serve "Pot Luck" Supper

The regular meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United church was held Thursday, February 6th, in the Sunday School rooms, taking the form of a towel and money shower for the bazaar which will be held in the Fall. Nineteen towels were received and a money donation of $16.15. There were 47 in attendance when the meeting opened with singing, followed by prayer by the president, Mrs. Clayton. Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Walter Hummel. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and reports received from different branches of the work, followed by Roll Call.

It was decided to have a "Pot Luck" supper on the evening of the annual congregational meeting the latter part of this month.

The programme consisted of a solo by Mrs. Allison Graham with Mrs. Gilroy at the piano, a piano solo by Mrs. Gilroy and a spelling contest by Mrs. Senn at which Mrs. Allison Graham, Mrs. Byron Campbell and Mrs. Gilroy were winners. The meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction after which refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Memories of England Subject of Rotary Talk

Relating some of his travels in England while a member of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, Dr. H. G. Barton gave members of the Rotary Club another vista of overseas service when they listened to the story of the famous historical churches and university towns, the charming countryside and hospitable people.

Dr. Barton, who was born at Schreiber, Ont., and studied at Queens, did not get overseas until the war was nearing its close, and saw service in Canadian military hospitals in England. After his release from the army, he took over the practise of Dr. W. H. Lloyd in Chesterville.

During the business session, President Leon Marcellus announced a telegram of condolence had been sent to Mrs. Jean Harris, widow of the founder of Rotary, and discussion was held on what form the club's assistance to Mr. and Mrs. Myles Caselman might take.

Don Hutton reported hockey practices with the young boys were going well at the Legion Memorial Rink, and with the assistance of Dr. S. H. Hutt playdown games in the district will be arranged in conjunction with the O.H.A.

H. L. Hough, chairman of the club service committee, distributed books of tickets for the St. Patrick's Day dance.

K. K. Woods introduced Dr. Barton, who became a member of the club a couple of months ago, and H. G. Bigelow expressed the appreciation of the members.

Dr. Barton briefly described his work in England as an army M.O., at No. 22 Canadian General Hospital, the Repatriation Camps, and the Medical Discharge Board in the U. K. In their off-duty hours, Canadians went out to see England, and they certainly visited most of the interesting places in the United Kingdom, Dr. Barton said. Many of his sightseeing trips were made by bicycle, some by bus, and some on England's efficient railways.

A few of the places visited by Dr. Barton were the cathedral towns of Canterbury and Winchester, Windsor with its castle and St. George's chapel and Eton College; and Maidstone, Kent, where he spent V-J night amidst hundreds of British troops. Touring the Isle of Wight he found the hills a bit difficult on a bicycle. He also saw Plymouth, Torquay, the beautiful Lake District, Cambridge and Oxford, Stratford-on-Avon with its Shakespearian theatre and Anne Hathway's cottage; Wales, Scotland and Ireland, both north and south.

HUSBANDS ENTERTAINED BY "500" CLUB

Mrs. Gertrude Alford was hostess to the ladies of the 500 Clug of Queen St. and their husbands at a Valentine dinner, February 11th at 6 P.M. The table was very prettily decorated for the occasion, with red and silver, the centre being a silver basket of roses and carnations. Mrs. Alford and Mrs. Olsen received the guests and made all welcome. Mr. Harry Hummel, in his humorous way thanked the hostess and ladies for the lovely evening planned for them. Mrs. Ken McDonald replied appropriately. The evening was spent in cards and music.
