THE NEWS in Brief

Centurians Install Officers To-Night

Winchester 'Centurians' will install the new slate of officers at to-night's meeting in Henderson Hall.

1971 should prove an exciting year for the active service club and it is understood plans are already under way for the annual winter carnival.

All members should make a special effort to attend this important meeting.

C of C Annual Next Week

Chamber of Commerce members, (and only a very few appeared at this week's regular morning meeting), issued a reminder that the Annual Meeting and Ladies Night is next Thursday, January 28th and urge all members to secure tickets as soon as possible.

Everyone is invited but those in charge suggest all tickets be purchased before Tuesday, January 26th.

All nominations for incoming officers will be from the floor and only members paid up for either 1970 or 1971 will be qualified to vote.

Plan to attend - remember this is an 'ACTION YEAR'.

Howard Ferguson Seeks Nomination

In a communique to Winchester Press Monday morning Howard R. Ferguson, R. R. # 2, North Augusta, declared his intention to seek nomination as representative for Grenville-Dundas.

In a statement to the Press Mr. Ferguson said:

"On December 21st, 1970, the Hon. F. M. Cass announced his decision not to stand for re-election as representative for Grenville-Dundas in the Ontario Legislature.

As a result of this decision I wish to announce that I shall seek the nomination as candidate to represent the Progressive Conservative Party for Grenville-Dundas in the next provincial election.

The nominating convention will be held at 8:00 p.m., March 1st, 1971, at Seaway District High School, Iroquois, and this is dated January 18th, 1971".

New Minister To Be Inducted

Rev. Reg. MacDonald formerly of Long Sault, will be inducted this Sunday as Pastor of Edwards Pentecostal Church.

Rev. MacDonald replaces Rev. Donnan who has been transferred to Bathurst, New Brunswick.

The induction service will be conducted by District Superintendent, Rev. R. A. Bombay, at 11:00 a.m.

The new clergyman is married and the father of two children.

Jack McIntosh Wins Snowmobile

Jack McIntosh of the Biccum and McIntosh insurance firm was the winner of a new snowmobile when his name was selected in a Saturday draw.

Sponsored by Glengarry Stars Soccer Club the winner was announced at Alexandria.

According to a close friend and associate Mr. McIntosh was 'toying' with the idea of buying a second machine when Lady Luck flashed her winning smile in his direction.

Delegates Selected At Spencerville

The area Progressive - Conservative meeting to select delegates to the leadership convention was held, not at Prescott as reported in last week's Press, but at Spencerville.

Educational Association Meeting Next Week

The executive of North Dundas District Educational Association will meet at the high school next Wednesday night, (January 27th).

The meeting is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. and all members of the executive are urged to be on hand since many important items appear on the agenda.

Area Witnesses To Attend Assembly

Some 50 Winchester and area Jehovah's Witnesses will meet with 600 other delegates for three days of Bible instruction near Kingston, January 22nd to 24th.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Daryl Shelborne, presiding minister for Witnesses in the Winchester-Kemptville area.

He said facilities for the sessions have been obtained at about five miles west of Kingston on Highway 33.

Peak attendance of more than 800 is expected during the third and final day.

"The Word is Alive" forms the scriptural theme of the gathering.

Provisions for rooms, motel and hotel accommodations, and for meals are now being made by a pre-assembly staff of volunteer workers.

The assembly is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society and will be directed by two visiting representatives, Laurier Saumur, district supervisor, and Fred Zamko, circuit supervisor.

COUNCIL NAMES 1971 BOARDS

Committees Installed

Winchester village council met Monday night and, following conscientious discussion committees were set up for various 1971 activities.

It was agreed in naming committee and board members that appointment of chairman should be left to the discretion of individual groups. Realizing the importance of the Recreational Committee many prominent citizens were appointed to map out and execute the elaborate 1971 agenda.

Two members of council will sit on each committee.

Those appointed to the Recreational Committee were: Councillor Larry Gray, Councillor Frank Morgan, Doug Keys, Walter Shadbolt, Al Inglis, Mel Vice, Ray Van Noy, W. C. MacDonald, Reg. Workman, Dr. D. Justus, Keith Carkner, Mrs. Len Steck, Mrs. Max Boyd, Mrs. Garry Collins and Lloyd LaPort.

The 'Parks Board' for 1971 will include: Dr. Larry Gray, Reg Fetterly, Wm. Johnston, Ron Workman, Robt. Porteous, Mrs. Richard Alton, Mrs. Bill Stewart, Keith Henry and Elzeon Raistrick.

Possibly one of the most important committees, and definitely the one facing the greatest immediate task, is the new Community Centre Board. Included on this board are: Basil Dawley, Reg. Fetterly, Geo. Hanes, Edwin Duncan, Keith Carkner, Robert Carkner, Gerry Fluke, Mrs. Bill Sherwood and Mrs. Gerald Helmer.

Careful selection of boards was a time-consuming chore and as a result little time was left for other business.

The usual borrowing by-law was, however, passed and also the final by-law approving the $65,000.00 Community Centre debenture.

Some discussion followed regarding 1971 salary schedule for council but no definite decisions were reached.

Members were reminded of the joint meeting on Thursday night (to-night) with Winchester Township, Mountain Township and Chesterville Township.

This important meeting will take place at Winchester Town Hall and a representative from the Planning and Development Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs, will be on hand.

Snow Removal

NO NOTICEABLE INCREASE

Led to believe, thanks to repeated sad weather stories on radio and T.V., that many deep snow records had been shattered by this season's storms, the Press arranged a recent interview with town clerk Raymond Annable.

Suggesting that we would like to compare snow-removal costs with that of other years, we were surprised to learn that, to date, there has been no noticeable increase.

Mr. Annable pointed to the fact cost comparison can best be made on a basis of 12 months - January to December - and comparing 1970 with 1969 statistics show very little difference.

The clerk further drew attention to the fact that heavy snowfalls were recorded in December of both years but Januarys' were noted more for cold temperatures with very light snowfall.

South Mountain Annual Carnival January 30th

Saturday January 30th and Sunday Janaury 31st are the dates set for South Mountain's Annual Winter Carnival.

Although the Saturday format is very similar to that of last year something new has been added as a Sunday attraction.

Exact plans for Sunday's activity is not yet available but it has been termed as a 'SNOWMOBILE OUTING," and those interested can learn all the particulars by simply calling Cliff Ace at 989-2087 or 989-6037.

South Mountain Rink Committee, the sponsoring organization, met last week and all committee heads were selected. Bud Raistrict was selected as chairman for the big event and Lynn Boyd, Co-Chairman.

Some idea of the extensive plans already well under way can be found in the long list of committees: Races, Dale Boyd and Jim Scott; Booth, Bill Gates; Door, Ivan Keays and Cliff Ace; M.C. Bill MacDonald; P.A. Terry Foley; Minor Hockey Game, Brook Leightizer and Bob Gilroy; Costume Judges, Donnie Scott; Snow Queen Judges, Lynn Boyd; most committees will, of course, have several other names added.

The committee plans a schedule of events that is slated to get under way at 6:30 and continue till the final thrilling event when, once again, members of the rink committee will play a hockey game against their wives.

The name 'Carnival Queen' has been shelved this year and instead the prettiest girl will be crowned 'SNOW QUEEN'.

Sounds like a fun-filled weekend, and to cap it all off ticket holders stand a chance to win cash, as well as, a valuable door prize donated by Armstrong-Weagant Furniture.

NDDHS CURLERS

Prepare For Playdowns

When the best school-boy curlers in the province of Ontario gather at Ottawa's R. A. Curling Club on January 30th, attention in this area will be focused on North Dundas District High School's strong rink.

The team skipped by Bill Gamble earned a berth in the provincial play-downs when they eliminated Carleton Place and all clubs in the district are hopeful the boys will earn the right to represent the province in the Dominion play-offs at Vancouver later in the season.

Pictures were taken while the boys were enjoying a practice session at Winchester Curling Club recently and the school secretary willingly provided accompanying 'thumb-nail' sketches'.

BILL GAMBLE (Skip). Bill age 17, is a Grade 12 student and travels daily to school from Russell. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gamble.

FRANK BREWER: (Third). Frank, 18, is in Grade 13, and like his skip, he also comes from Russell. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Brewer.

BARRY COCHRANE: (Second). Barry, 18, is in Grade 12 and is the third member of the rink from Russell. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cochrane.

Robarts Launches Employment Program

Two projects employing 1,700 men, launching the Government of Ontario's Seasonal Employment Program, were announced last week by the Honourable John Robarts, Prime Minister of Ontario.

Nine hundred men will be employed in the removal of diseased elm trees near provincial highways during the next two-and-a-half months. In the $1 million program, administered by the Department of Highways, diseased elm trees within one-quarter of a mile of Highways 400 and 401 will be removed.

The second project, being under taken by the Department of Lands and Forests, will employ 800 men in capital improvements to provincial parks throughout Ontario. A total of 150 small projects will be included in the parks program at a cost of about $1 million.

These projects are being developed by the Government of Ontario to ease the unemployed situation in this province, Mr. Robarts said. Other projects under the Ontario Seasonal Employment Program are also being developed and will be announced in the immediate future.

In addition, he said the Government of Ontario is proceeding with the development of programs so that Ontario residents may benefit from the fund established by the federal government to make available low-interest loans for employment-stimulating capital projects. These will also be announced in the near future.

A pilot project of the tree removal program began on January 4th to determine its feasibility. In the two test areas approximately 3,000 trees were felled and cleared away during the first week.

The elm tree project will operate through the district offices of the Department of Highways in Chatham, London, Hamilton, Owen Sound, Toronto, Port Hope, Kinston and Ottawa. Permission of property owners is required for the removal fo diseased trees.

Referrals to all projects under the Ontario Seasonal Employment Program are being made by local social asistance offices and Canada Manpower Centres in the areas where the projects operate. Placement is being coordinated by the Ontario Department of Labour.

Sportsman Addresses Metcalfe Lions

'Rocky' Robillard, well known radio and television sports personality, told members of Metcalfe and District Lions Club of the trials and tribulations that are part of sports announcing. The well-known sportsman was Guest Speaker at last week's regular club meeting.

Mr. Robillard, who is now teaching physical education at Highland Park High School, Ottawa, besides having been associated with sports announcing on both radio and television, is also the announcer at all Ottawa Rough Rider Home games, telling fans in the stands what has happened and what is about to happen.

Before coming to Ottawa, 'Rocky' was assistant sports director at McGill University and he said, "only a fine service club like the one at Metcalfe," could induce him to leave his cozy home in 14-below weather and journey some thirty miles to dinner.

Mr. Robillard was introduced by Robert Rowan and thanked by Don McIntosh.

Following dnner and 'sing-song', led by Gerald Mullins, members held a rather lengthy meeting during which various reports were heard. It was evident all Christmas projects had been very successful and many letters of appreciation were read from those who had received hampers

What A Difference Three Years Make

Accompanying writeup with the '68 photo noted that on that day weather was 'miserably mild' and 'wet'.

Last Tuesday, however, the story was entirely different. Temperatures were far below zero, the town smothered in a heavy blanket of snow and only the hardiest of children braved the arctic air at recess time.

Principal Grant Edwards reported, however, that children at play were being carefully supervised by teachers and none were allowed to stay out too long in the biting frost.

THE BILL SMILEY COLUMN

He's Not Telling What Really Happened

Ray Argyle, the chap who syndicates this column, has written for about the fourth time asking for a new picture of yours truly to head up the column. For various reasons, none of them worth the powder, I haven't got around to having my "portrait" taken.

But I don't blame him. The old one does not do me justice. There's scarcely a hint of the bags under my eyes. There's little suggestion that I'm gray as an old billy-goat. The deep lines of suffering nearly twenty-five years of domestic warfare just are not there.

However, I have a good reason for not having a picture taken for a couple of weeks, at least. I have a black eye. That is, it was black. Then blue. Then purple. It's now a sort of mauve, shading into yellow.

I haven't had such a dandy since 1944, when some German guards gave me a going-over for being imprudent. That time it was both eyes. In fact, the first time I got a look in a mirror after the beating, I could have been mistaken for a fairly scruffy rainbow.

There's nothing quite so embarrassing as a black eye. It arouses the worst — in other people. Loud and clear, "What happened to you, Smiley? Wife beat you up again?" And so on. Those inane remarks.

To people who ask that, I reply tersely, "Yes." They don't know where to go from there.

But to those who seem genuinely concerned, I try to find some more exotic reason, something to make them think I'm a devil of a fellow.

This one happened during the holidays. To the first few who came sniffing around, looking for scandal, I tried this gambit: "Do you realize that the cork from a champagne bottle can penetrate the plaster of a ceiling? Next time you open one, be sure the cork is pointing at someone else's eye." That shook them a bit, and they went away shaking their heads in admiration. Or something.

To the next few curious, I remarked offhandedly that I'd had a fight with a cop on New Year's Eve, that he was still in hospital, and that I had to face charges as soon as he was released. They didn't really believe me, after a scathing look at my 142 pounds of pure suet, but they weren't sure. "He was just a little cop", I added. "I kicked him right in the gall bladder."

When this palled on me, I swore I'd had a brawl with the paper boy when he said I owed him for two weeks and I said one. "He's a big paper boy."

For the ladies, I use a different technique. I tell them that this lady took a violent crush on me at a party, that I was holding her gently, patting her back and trying to quench her unrequited passion, when her vicious, jealous husband hit me right in the eye, right over her shoulder, with my hands tied up. They raise an eyebrow, sometimes two, but I can hear them muttering together and sneaking glances at me from the other end of the room.

To others, I relate that I was arm-wrestling with my daughter, and when she found I was winning, she punched me in the left eye with her left fist. Which she would.

I have lots of others. Hit my eye on the rear-view mirror when I collided with a snow-mobile and everyone else suffered terrible lacerations. Struck my eye on the end of the handle of the snow-shovel when I had my first coronary. Bumped head-on into the cat when we were both crawling around under the bed, looking for her.

But I will never, never resort to that oldie about running into a door. I've run into plenty of doors, and other objects, in my life. But it's a pretty cheap way of accounting for a black eye.

I swear my wife didn't do it. She was so ill through the holidays she couldn't have given a goldfish a black eye. What's your version? Drop a line.

The Seventh Column

"Minor Hockey Week" starts this Saturday, and if you haven't already been taking that boy of yours to the rink, we suggest this is a good time to start. True, we do not have facilities for hockey here in town at the present time, but this unfortunate situation will be remedied by next fall. Meanwhile, many of our young boys are taking advantage of opportunities to participate at neighbouring towns, and experience gained will prove valuable when Winchester's own minor hockey program gets under way next year. Close co-operation between community centre officials and Lions Club members at Metcalfe has resulted in an extensive and very successful minor hockey program in that area, and teams are entered in several leagues. Some of these youngsters could be the NHL stars of the future, but to-day they need the encouragement that only Dad and Mom can give. REMEMBER: "To keep a boy out of hot water, put him on ice" and above all "Don't send - take your boy to the arena - and stay to see him play."

Now here's a task that is fast fading into history— but not fast enough. We're thinking of the semi-annual task that has plagued mankind for so many years — Stove Pipes. Modern heating equipment has all but eliminated the necessity of the dirty, contrary bits of tin that have toppled many a saintly man off his pedestal and removed more "halos" than even the "demon rum." Some of us are still forced to face the nasty chore and it is at such times that thoughts of craftsmen like the late John Fader and Sid Bishop come to mind. Both were tinsmiths, and practically every small community had an equally skilled stovepipe maker. These master craftsmen manufactured pipes that were securely riveted and made to fit together without causing a man to damn his soul to eternal fire. To-day it's mass production, and those 'easy-to-assemble' pipes that 'snap together' shortly after fingers have been severely sliced, and then fall apart when an attempt is made to join them together with another misfit. And "misfit" is the proper word. The link that absolutely refuses to join forces with a similar looking length, slides half-way down another. Oh yes, and the cost is approximatey three times higher than those so skilfully manufactured by the late John and Sid.

Although Christmas has come and gone for another year, we think we have come up with a rather ingenious idea that should appeal to most husbands when next year's shopping problem presents itself. To make the scheme work it is absolutely necessary to learn well in advance just what the little "lady of the house" has her mind set on and then, diplomatically of course, suggest to sons and daughters that they pool their resources and purchase said gift for their dear mother. Step two is comparatively simple — selecting a store that sells such articles, and also sells groceries, you simply purchase a similar gift. Possibly some practice will be necessary to create the proper expression of amazement and bewilderment on Christmas morning when "she" finds two gifts exactly the same. "Fiendish Fun" is the name of the game from here on — suggest, rather tactfully, that the children might feel hurt if their gift was exchanged, and since it is a time for happiness, you will make the "sacrifice." Three weeks should elapse before the final act in the quaint little scheme is played. By that time the tree is gone, decorations returned to the attic, life has returned to normal and you are in a position to return your purchase and exchange it for — groceries!

Soon another crew of astronauts will blast off for the moon and because of great advances in science men will once more walk on that far off planet. One sometimes wonders why a society that can master a "soft" landing on the moon's surface can't come up with a level crossing on St. Lawrence Street.

Two weeks ago this writer became a grandfather— again. The same week our Grade 9 daughter received a school assignment that called for the writing of a limerick. The teacher rated it an "A":

We now have an addition to our family tree,
A child for my brother, a niece for me;
She has tiny hands and cute little feet,
With sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks;
I am sure it is already plain to see
This bundle of joy resembles ME.

None will deny that youngsters are enjoying the skating at the partly-completed community centre —but there are a few problems urgently in need of attention. Unfortunately there are no toilet facilities whatever and this, in itself, creates a serious problem. Parents are also concerned, and rightly so, that there is no telephone service enabling children to make contact with parents if necessity demands. The availability of the curling club appears to be serving a temporary solution — but one wonders if the curlers are happy with this arrangement.

EDITORIALS . . . the way we see it!

That Community "Community Centre"

It has become customary to refer to the weather as something everyone talks about but no one does anything to remedy. The stage may now be reached when education in Ontario can be classed in the same category.

Everyone agreed a few years ago that it was indeed high time the little one-room system was abandoned, but it is doubtful if any ever dreamed that such an unwieldy monster would replace the time-proven unit.

Even teachers often find themselves confused and frustrated as they try vainly to keep abreast of the ever-changing whims of an educational directorate slowly choking to death in its own red tape.

Here's a "for instance" selected from mountains of complaints:

Grade 9 students in 1967 were advised by well-meaning guidance teachers that those planning to complete Grade 13 could obtain extra credits by studying languages. For example, Latin, French and English would each be considered as two credits and in this manner the heavy Grade 13 burden would be lightened.

Now, in 1971, when those same students are completing Grade 12 and are preparing for that big final year before entering the college of their choice, a new ultimatum comes down from Toronto. Lo and behold, for no apparent reason, the languages are no longer considered as double credits and students feel, and rightly so, that they have been once again hoodwinked. Result — many who planned on proceeding to Grade 13 have decided to direct their activities in other directions.

Quite true, nothing can be done about the weather, but surely the time has come when those who pay, and pay, and pay can do something about an education system that urgently needs help.

In the old days, when a faithful horse could no longer pull the load he was mercifully destroyed. Does this give you an idea?

Students Being Hoodwinked

Winchester's new community centre may not be completed, but the enthusiasm displayed by great crowds enjoying the facilities offered is sufficient indication of the need.

Too many, we feel, refer to the fine new structure as Winchester Community Centre, but the feeling here is that it is indeed a district community centre — facilities to serve the recreation requirements of the town and also the surrounding district.

There is much yet to be done before the final stages are reached, and although donations continue to arrive daily, there is still a great need for more money.

Possibly many have not taken the time to have a close look at the building and, if this is the case, we suggest you do so without delay. On realizing the great potential for the good of the community some may feel their donations were a trifle small and wish to add a little more. Those who have not, as yet, made a contribution will, we feel sure, be anxious to do so.

Residents of town, who have for years worked closely with neighbouring municipalities, hope rural ratepayers will recognize the value of the community centre to their respective areas and urge their municipal officers to offer assistance.

The very word "Community Centre" suggests the drawing together of an entire community for the betterment of all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Russell, Ontario
January 11, 1971

Dear Sir:

Fluffy died Saturday.

She was hit by a snowmobile Christmas night. It was driven by a person without the common decency to knock at a door and tell the people from whose driveway she had burg that the kitten way she had run that the kitten had been hit.

She was only eight months old; she had a strong will to live. The skilful veterinarians at the Alta Vista Animal Hospital performed complicated surgery to set her fractured femur. She made good progress. She gingerly tested walking on her injured leg. But she quivered in fright everytime a snowmobile passed the house.

Then suddenly she became very ill. Perhaps the accident had resulted in other injuries not visible on X-rays, which, dormant for several weeks, flared up again. Alternatively her weakened condition left her susceptible to infectious disease.

"What a fuss over a mere cat!" many are no doubt thinking. Before you judge, watch a kitten develop and grow from the time it is several hours old until it reaches eight months. Then if you are not upset seeing that kitten die in such a senseless manner, you must be extremely hard-hearted.

Snowmobiling is fun - I won't deny that fact. However, roads are not race-tracks for snowmobiles. The accident happened on First Avenue (better known as "the back street") in the village of Russell. For some time, this street has been the scene of racing snowmobiles - at times four abreast, eight or twelve in a group. Next time, what chance will an animal have - or will it be a child?

It is often impossible to prevent hitting an animal on a road. Did that snowmobiler try? Always at the back of my mind will be the nagging suspicion that if the driver had stopped so that we could have known the extent of the kitten's injuries before the next day, Fluffy might have had an increased chance to live.

Yours Sincerely
Miss B. May

January 11, 1971.

Dear Sirs:

The staff and students of Metcalfe and District Public Schools would like to express their congratulations and appreciation to the staff for their excellent Christmas issue of the "Press".

The students were delighted to see their contributions in print and the extra copies placed in the library will provide further reading enjoyment.

May we wish you continued success and we will be looking forward to the next Christmas Special.

Sincerely,
R. A. Alton,
Principal

After prayer the minutes were read by the secretary Mrs. C. Robinson.

Following a short business session the meeting was turned over to the committee in charge. In the absence of Mrs. Alex Summers and Mrs. W. Henderson, Mrs. Inglis assisted Mrs. R. Johnstone and Mrs. K. Morrow.

As the theme for the year is "How the word gets around," they chose "Mass Media" from the study resources.

Mrs. Ralph Johnstone was the listener, Doris Inglis radio announcer and Keitha Morrow as the interviewer. A very interesting discourse followed and closed with a discussion.

Mrs. Hugh Wilson reported on her T.V. watching and the telephone was cited as another means of "Getting the Word Around." A question and answer period followed. Mrs. Cooper read the Scripture.

Joint Agreement Should Boost Dairy Business

An agreement that will give the dairy industry new impetus towards solving its problems was signed January 14th, by the federal milk marketing agency and those of Quebec and Ontario.

The agreement brings into effect a market sharing quota system for industrial milk in those two provinces which, together, produce 80 per cent of the Canadian total. It is expected that other provinces will join the plan in the near future.

Agriculture Minister H. A. (Bud) Olson termed the signing of the agreement a major milestone in Canadian agricultural history.

"I congratulate the provincial marketing agencies and the Canadian Dairy Commission on achieving this agreement," he said, "as well as the farm organiations which have fostered and supported the plan.

"It is an example of how a co-ordinated approach by national and provincial agencies can operate for the benefit of farmers and their industry.

"It is our hope that this type of co-operation will be extended to other areas of agriculture through the national marketing bill now before Parliament," the Minister said.

The agreement, which took effect on December 1, 1970, establishes a supply management program for milk used in the manufacture of dairy products and is designed to keep production in balance with domestic requirements on a butterfat basis.

It applies to all milk used for manufacturing purposes, whether from industrial or fluid milk shippers.

Market sharing quotas are based on each producer's deliveries between April 1, 1969, and March 31, 1970, or on his subsidy eligibility quota if that is greater than his deliveries.

Each producer will recive a market price related to Canadian price support levels for deliveries up to his market sharing quota.

Prices for deliveries over market quota will be related to world prices for surplus dairy products.

The Canadian Dairy Commission currently makes a holdback from subsidy payments and uses the money to offset costs in disposing of surplus.

Effective with December deliveries, this holdback will be discontinued on subsidy payments to producers in Ontario and Quebec. Producers in those two provinces will receive the full rate of subsidy, now $1.25 per 100 pounds of milk, on the basis of their subsidy eligibility quotas.

In place of the holdback from subsidy, there will be a levy on the market price paid to producers.

The levy rates to March 31, 1971, will be 26 cents per 100 pounds of milk on deliveries by a producer up to his market quota and $2.40 on deliveries in excess of his market quota.

These levies will be collected under provincial authority and the funds remitted to the Canadian Dairy Commission for its costs of surplus disposal.

The agreement also applies to cream shippers in Quebec. The levy on cream is to be one cent per pound butterfat on deliveries up to market quota and 50.28 cents on deliveries in excess of market quota.

Although the agreement now covers only Ontario and Quebec, producer groups in other provinces are working towards entry into a similar program. The present agreement provides for replacement by another which would be open to participation by the appropriate agencies of any provice.

Agencies signing this agreement are:

The Canadian Dairy Commission, signing on behalf on the Federal Government.

FOR QUEBEC:

The Quebec Agricultural Marketing Board; The Quebec Federation of Industrial Milk Producers; The Quebec Federation of Milk Producers; The Carnation Company Milk Producers' Board; The Board of Producer-Suppliers of Milk to the Cremerie Revelation; The Syndicate of Producer-Suppliers of Milk to J. J. Joubert, Ltd., Nicolet.

FOR ONTARIO:

The Milk Commission of Ontarion; The Ontario Milk Marketing Board.

Members unanimously agreed to inviting two ex-club members to attend the next meeting. Dave Croskery and Hank Hansen both former members of the club, made contributions to the success of pre-Christmas projects. Mr. Croskery, operator of 'Edwards Airfield Potato Farms', donated 18 bags of potatoes to be used in the hampers and Mr. Hansen, operator of Hansen's Esso Station, sold Christmas trees to the value of $360.00.

Robert Rowan reported on the club's regular visits to Carleton Lodge, when an evening of fun is provided for residents, and thanked fellow members who made it all possible.

The proposed new swimming pool was briefly discussed and Eric Shortt promised to have a more detailed report for the meeting, January 27th, when the District Governor, Mac Hayes of Shawville, will make his official visit.

Several members enjoyed a few ends of curling following the meeting.

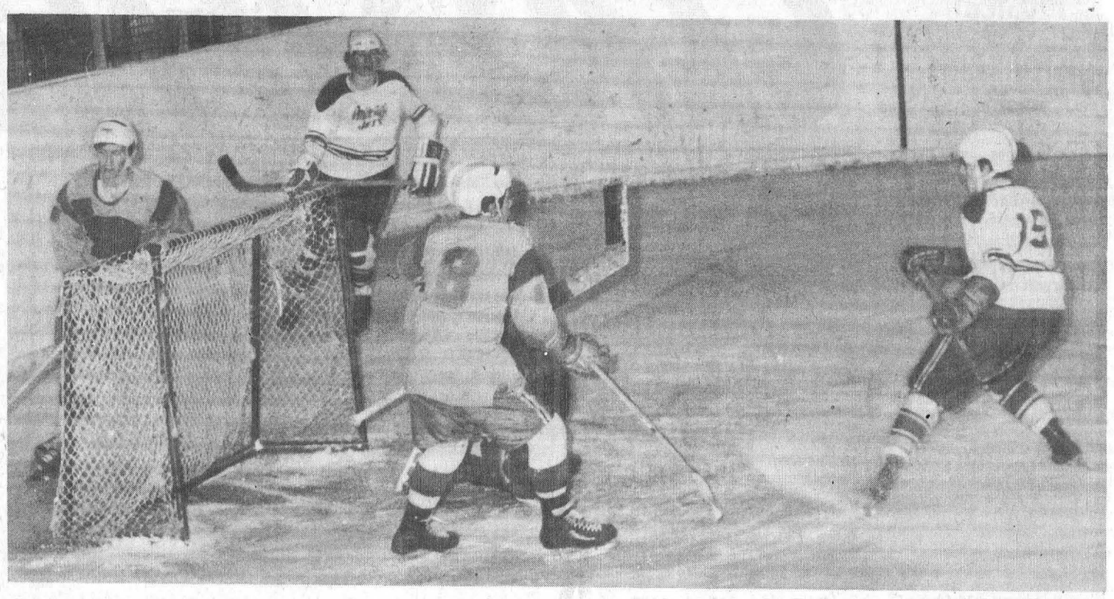
Junior "B" Hockey Gives Fans Plenty Of Action



Hockey fans in the area have been treated to the best in hockey entertainment this season and much attention has been focused on the St. Lawrence Junior 'B' League. Three teams, Winchester, Metcalfe, and Alexandria ar presently battling for top position and the accompanying pictures show some of the Metcalfe boys in action.

In the hard-fought battle Cornwall edged the 'Jets' 6 to 4, but the last marker came after coach Linegar had pulled his goalie in favour of an extra forward in the dying seconds of the game.

Coach Joel Steele Finds Magic Word

Coach Joel Steele appears to have finally found the 'magic word'.

He said it Sunday afternoon and his 'Hawks' proceeded to trounce Maxville to the tune of 8 to 2.

It was obvious from the outset the local boys were skating with authority and before the first period ended, they held a 4 to 0 lead, thanks to two-goal efforts of both Joe Marriner and Billy Moran.

The Hawks played it 'cool' throughout the second frame with each team scoring once. Bob McClintock tallied for Winchester.

Hawks opened up again in the thrid period with three more goals: McClintock with his second, Rae Armstron and James Duncan with one each. For Duncan it was his first Junior'B' goal. Maxville was able to score once more before the final whistle. Final score 8 to 2. Hawks outshot the hapless Maxville team 61 to 28.

The win moved Winchester to within four points of second-place Metcalfe, and the Jets were unable to help their cause last Friday when they dropped a 6 - 4 decision to Cornwall.

Fans will have an opportunity to see the teams in action again this weekend when Metcalfe hosts Prescott on Friday night and Winchester on Sunday afternoon.

Coach Joel hope to beat the 'jinx' come Sunday and fans will be anxious to learn if the 'magic word' will work against the powerful Metcalfe team.

Defenceman Carson McVey, who was assessed a two-game suspension following an incident in the last game against Winchester will not see action Friday night but will be back at his position on Sunday.

O.P.P. WARNS
Railroad Crossing Dangers

Motorists! If in your driving you occasionally find that you must cross railway tracks, remember . . . . . Winter is a bad time of year for railway crossing accidents. Closed car windows frequently shut out the sound of an approaching train. If the windows are steamed up, they also shut out the view of the tracks you need for safety. Always approach all railway crossings with caution. Before you start across, be sure, don't just guess that there are no trains approaching.

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County patrolled 11,290 miles while working 936 hours. During this period, 40 charges and 81 warnings were issued by officers under the Highway Traffic Act of Ontario.

Officers from Morrisburg Detachment investigated 5 thefts, 4 break and enters, 4 disturbances and 11 miscellaneous complaints. Two persons were charged under the Motorized Snow Vehicle Act while seven others were charged under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

Area highways were quiet with officers investigating 5 property damage accidents.

THE RIDEAU WATERWAY

Gordon Blair Reports

A large part of the Rideau River system is located in Grenville-Carleton. It is 125 miles in length. At present, it is subject to the jurisdiction of at least 15 Federal and Provincial authorities and approximately 75 local governments.

There is growing realization that the Rideau must be treated as a whole. Unless this happens, it will deteriorate because of lack of overall coordination and direction. This will destroy its scenic beauty and adversely affect its use for recreational purposes and the benefits these confer on everyone living in the area.

CORTS Report

Several years ago, Mr. Pearson and Mr. Robarts recognized the problem and created a joint Federal-Provincial organization known as the Canada-Ontario Rideau - Trent - Severn (CORTS) study of the future development of both the Rideau-Severn systems. Its final report is expected in March, but a preliminary report indicating its ideas has now been published and is being studied by both governments. Unfortunately, the public is generally unaware of the report and I am doing my best to make it known in our constituency.

The report recommends overall coordinated and planned development of the Rideau system. This planning would be based on the recognizing of the Rideau system for what it is, a prime recreational area. The report recommends that an "Environmental Corridor" be established on each side of the River within which future development would be planned and controlled.

Objectives

The report states the broad objectives of planning in order of priority, as follows:

"1. A pollution free environment.

2. Adequate undeveloped open space: wildlife areas; natural features; general open space.

3. Preservation of the historical and cultural environment.

4. Adequate public use areas (developed), access points; picnic canoe routes; walking trails; scenic roads.

5. Adequate commerical development.

6. Satisfactory private development."

To Achieve Objectives

Having established these objectives, the report lists the major tasks to achieve them as follows:

"The Major tasks now appear to be: Pollution Control, Land Acquisition, and Land-Use Controls.

Pollution control is considered the highest priority task since a polluted environment would be useless for recreation. Large areas of land will be required for public use and for preservation of open space and natural areas. Land use controls are necessary to aid in the achievement of several objectives. For example, land use controls could be used to (a) control water pollution; (b) to preserve open space (c) to preserve historic areas (d) to guarantee satisfactory private development."

The report indicates "WHAT" should be done; however, it does not say "HOW" these things should be done or "WHO" should do them. These important practical matters were expressly excluded from the terms of reference. Obviously, they are the most important questions now to be decided by the Governments of Canada and Ontario.

Various suggestions have been made about means to give effect to the report. One is the creation of a super Rideau Valley Authority which would get complete power jointly from both governments. Another alternative is a firm agreement between Ontario and Canada as to what should be done and who should do it. These decisions involve more than the two senior governments. They concern citizens, municipalities and community associations. Because of this, I would hope that there could be wide-spread discussion of the preliminary CORTS report so that CORTS and both senior governments can benefit from the experience and suggestions of people who live along the Rideau.

Active Interest

People in the Rideau Valley appreciate the urgency of the problem. Already, one major step has been taken through the joint action of the municipalities and others in the creation of the Rideau Valley Conservation Authority. In the few short years of its existence its expenditures have risen from $6,000.00 to $500,000.00 a year. It has acquired extensive land and has already built several reservoirs. Its experience indicates that people can work together if proper governmental authorities are established to enhance the Rideau system.

I would be very happy to send copies of the preliminary CORTS report to anyone. I could also arrange to present the beautiful slides and explanatory material prepared by the CORTS group to any interested organization. Last week this was done at a public meeting in Merrickville. There was great interest and many good suggestions were made.
