Hon. George P. Graham, who is spending the summer with his family at Staten Island, N. Y., was a passenger in a seaplane among the clouds when engine trouble developed, and the plane with its occupants, including Major Tibbs, the aviator, and Mr. James S. Graham, cousin of the ex-Minister of Railways, fell into the ocean last week. The disabled aircraft was rescued by boats, and the occupants landed safely on shore unharmed.

Organizer Will Attend Council Meetiag.

At the Council meeting on Friday evening the Provincial Organizer of the Navy League of Canada will be present and will give a live address for 10 minutes. Every thinking man of the village is invited to attend and ask any question relative to the Navy League and its aims.

Baseball Saturday Afternoon

Saturday afternoon on the Driving Park the Chesterville Maple Leafs will meet the fast C. P. R. Recreation Club team from Smith Falls. In a town league of four Clubs the C. P. R. boys have won the championship and are by far the strongest team the Leafs have been up against this season. The locals are playing fast ball and will give a good account of themselves. It is expected new uniforms now ordered will arrive in time for this game. Senecal and Coyne will be the Leafs battery.

Death of Mrs. R. H. Hogoboam

There passed away at Kemptville, on Wed. Aug., 18, 1920 Effie Richardson beloved wife of Mr. R. H. Hogoboam, aged 46 years. She had not been in good health for some years, but bore her suffering patiently being a kind and devoted wife and mother. Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs Eben Smith of Three Rivers, Que., and a son Howard at home; also her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richardson of Mountain and a brother Howard of Mountain Station. The funeral service was held at the family residence, Kemptville on Friday at 1. p. m. by Rev. Mr. Taylor. Interment was made in Maple Ridge cemetery where Rev. J. K. Curtis of Winchester, conducted a short service. The pall bearers were former neighbours of the deceased when she lived at Cass Bridge.

A Unique Anniversary

On Saturday, Aug. 14th, 1920 Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bouck of Bouck's Hill, county of Dundas, celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedded life. The event was rendered quite extraordinary from the fact that in a family of eight children, four boys and four girls, they were permitted to meet on this occasion without a break in the family circle, and at the old home where they were all born. Besides the immediate family there are twenty six grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. Mr. Bouck who is eighty three years old comes of U. E. Loyalist stock and Mrs. Bouck, seventy-eight years, is a wee bit of ould Ireland, coming from Belturbit, county Caven, when she was but ten years old. The oldest son is fifty-nine and the youngest daughter forty. Seventy-five sat down to wedding dinner served on the lawn, sixty-seven of whom were immediately connected with the family and the remainder close friends of the aged couple. After dinner the king, the jubilee couple, the old home and the family circle were amply toasted by members of the family. Mr. Wm. Bouck, Morewood creditably performed the duties of toastmaster.

During their united journey through life they have witnessed great changes in the political and social life of Canada and many are the stories they can tell of the joys and sorrows of pioneer days in this country.

We believe it is rare in the family histories of the Dominion that a Diamond Jubilee celebration takes place under such auspicious circumstances as the above.

The following address was read accompanied by an appropriate gift:—

Dear Mother and Father:—

It is with heartfelt gratitude to the Giver of all good that we, your children, grandchildren and great grand-children, have assembled here to day to celebrate with you the 60th anniversary of your wedded life. Our hearts shout aloud in thanktul joy for this manifestation of His continuous favours towards us in sparing your lives to be the anchor, the beacon light, yea, the lode-star that has for these many years directed us through all the vicissitudes of life. We realize only too painfully the inadequacy of words to, in any measure, convey to you the debt we owe you as our parents, by your consistent and exemplary lives. We are what we are on account of what you have been. We feel to-day, each one of us too keenly that a child's debt to his parents can never be paid. At the same time we are quite sure you would be most pained if it were within the possibility of any of us to repay.

We cannot avoid, on such an occasion as this, becoming retrospective. Our minds are flooded with memories of your fostering care and protection, your uuremitting self-sacrifice and devotion, your unstinted love and toil throughout the many years that our yonng lives were entrusted to your keeping. How well do we remember, dear mother, with what solicitude you were wont to climb the narrow stairway, lamp in hand, ere you sought your well-earned rest. to assure yourself that all was well with us. With what kindly eyes you looked upon our childish games. With what motherly fondness you plied needle and thread or provided for our daily bread that we might not go neither threadbare nor hungry. How silently did you draw us to that better way so that our lives might not be a blot upon the family escutcheon. How often, dear father, have you sought your repose with the consolation that though the body might be weary you had wrought well and honestly for those you loved. Yours it was to make it possible for us all to have a fair chance in life, and you did it nobly. But why continue to try and express the inexpressible? Happy is our lot that we have been permitted to call you father and mother.

Happier still that to-day on this your diamond jubilee you both are basking in the mellow rays of a quiet and serene sunset. Happiest of all are we to rejoice with you in beholding your forms and features multiplied to the third and even to the fourth generations. The years of toil and anxiety are now over and your storm-tossed bark floats out into the quiet waters to be gently wafted to yon haven of rest. Your most satisfying thought at this moment must be that your eight children, all graciously spared to this day, have fought and struggled bravely and so far have escaped the shoals of life and relying upon that sure compass that has led your lives into still waters, you now view with serenity their approach towards the eventide of life.

How glad we are on this your nuptial day;
How bright the sun in his declining ray;
Father of all we thank thee and we pray
That filial love may fill our hearts alway.

We know, dear parents, that mutual love is sufficient unto itself but as a token of our devotion and respect we ask your acceptance of this gift.

Signed on behalf of your children to the fourth generation of them that love you.

Master Lloyd Burd and Howard Christie called on Winchester friends Sunday evening.

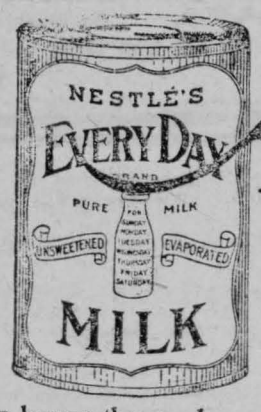

In the sweet silence of the twilight they honeymooned upon the beach.

"Dearest", she murmured, tremblingly "now that we are married, I have a secret to tell you".

"What is it, sweetheart?" he asked, softly.

"Can you ever forgive me for deceiving you?" she sobbed, "My—my left eye is made of glass!"

"Never mind, lovebird", he whispered, softly, "so are the diamonds in your engagement ring!"

The Macartney Machine Milker Is Fool Proof

There is no complicated machinery to the Macartney Machine Milker, in fact it is a marvel of simplicity. It only needs ordinary care and it will not get out of order.

Besides being so simple, the Macartney Milker is perfectly natural in operation, there is nothing about it to irritate the cow, in fact its use is greatly preferable to the old method. Hand milking at best is only poor imitation of the calf's way of taking the milk. The Macartney Machine milks exactly as the calf sucks—that's why it is called "The Cow's adopted child."

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Soldiers in France

There's a consecrated garden
In a lonely spot in France,
The Gethsemane of mothers it is said,
All adorned with wreaths of glory
Is this garden, once so gay
Memory brings the sacred story of our dead.

There are rows of wooden crosses,
Quite as far as eyes can see
And the names of valiant warriors are there.
There's a flag that waves above them,
There are mother-hearts that love them,
For the self same sorrows move them over there.

Yes, the flag that waves above them
Is our own dear country's flag,
In the centre of that silent hill of God;
High upon the flag staff flying,
"Liberty forever" crying
Guarding well our soldiers lying 'neath the sod.

Silent, yet a living tribute
To their noble sacrifice,
Flags that stand for freedom, peace and unity.
For this flag they died while fighting
Gainst the wrongs that needed righting,
Nations in one bond uniting was their plea.

Loving hands may place their garlands
On our heros' lonely graves
But a short day and their beauty none can see;
While our flag keeps waving, waving
Speaking our comrades braving;
Battles fierce and long while saving you and me.

Rows and rows of wooden crosses,
With their arms outstretched in prayer;
Their petition to the mother flag above
"Peace forever" they are pleading
For the whole world interceding,
Naught can staunch the worlds wounds, bleeding,
But God's love.

Tread the gravelled walks there lightly,
Gently touch the verdant sod,
Whisper softly and with tender reverent tone:
Tis God's acre. He is keeping watch o'er all our boys there sleeping,
And He comforts loved ones
Weeping for their own.

And Then

As the man and the maid strolled through the picture gallery, the woman stopped before one of the exhibits.

"Oh, how sweet!" she breathed.

"I wonder what it means? questioned the young fellow, as he eyed the pictured pair who clung together in an attitude of love and longing.

"Oh, Charlie, don't you see?" the girl chided tenderly. "He has just asked her to marry him and she has consented. It's lovely! What does the artist call the picture?"

The young man leaned nearer and eyed a label on the frame.

"I see," he cried. "It's printed on this card here—"sold!"—London Titbits.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Cut Chore-Time in Half

Do you realize that an average farm uses one ton of water a day? How long are you going to handle this tremendous bulk by old-fashioned, wasteful methods?

Modern farmers let the wind pump and distribute their water. They cut chore-time in half. They have running water in the house, the barn and stables, and pasture.

Not with old-fashioned windmills. But with big, sturdy, efficient double-geared Toronto Windmills, constructed throughout of galvanized steel, strong and rust-proof.

A Toronto Pump and a Toronto Water-System, combined with a Toronto Windmill, gives you a real city water service.

Toronto Pumps and Water Systems can also be supplied with a gasoline engine or electric motor.

Our Windmill, Pumps and Water System booklets show you how to cut out waste time and energy on your farm—how to make more money. Write for them. They are sent free.

Got Load of Liquor at Cornwall After Warm Fight

Provincial Officers Stick, McCready and Dehaitre had an exciting time on the road east of Cornwall Friday night. While out in their car reconnoitring for booze-runners, they passed a motor truck which contained a suspicious-looking cargo, covered with a large tarpaulin.

They hailed the driver and found the truck held a shipment of liquor, and the inspectors took charge. On the way to town, while McCready was on one side and Stick on the other, another car drove up alongside the truck and a man jumped on and proceeded to belabor Stick, bruising the officer's face with his fists. Stones of good size flew and Stick was struck in the chest with one of these. In effecting the capture of his attacker, a man on the truck made his exit in the darkness and the truck was driven off, but was later found in a side street in the east end of the town.

The man who escaped is supposed to be the party who brought the load from Montreal, presumably for shipment across the border. The truck was brought to town and the cargo some 30 cases of whiskey and gin as well as five gallons of highwines, was unloaded and locked up, and the truck was placed in a garage. Officer Stick's assailant and the driver of the truck were placed in the cells.

The Present Cost and Selling Price of Hogs

(Experimental Farms Note.)

When a man states that there is no money in hogs he bases his contention largely on more or less accurate records of feeding costs, and feeding costs only. If the market hog cannot even pay for his feed, what then of interest on investment, labour, risk, losses, marketing expenses, etc.

The feed cost to produce one hundred pounds of pork may be calculated by including the cost of maintenance of the breeding stock responsible for the market hogs. Applying this method, one hundred pounds of pork would require about 600 pounds of meal. American farm survey figures indicate even a higher meal cost, 615 pounds. Valuing meal and grain at $70.00 per ton which is conservative enough, the herd feeding charges per hundred pounds of pork would amount to $21.00 on the 6 to 1 basis. Even this does not cover all farm costs.

Figures available from herds on the Experimental Farm System compare very closely with those obtained in farm survey reports that approximately 78% of the cost of pork production is for feeds and the remaining 22% to cover farm costs exclusive of shipping charges. To produce 100 pounds of pork under average Canadian conditions requires from 450 to 500 pounds of grain or the equivalent. At $70.00 per ton for meal this would represent a feed cost per cwt. of pork of $16.62 which figure represents only 78% of the total cost. One hundred per cent or the feed plus the farm charge would amount to $21.28 per cwt.

The above figure may appear startling. There are hundreds of small feeders who can feed a litter or so of pigs on a much cheaper basis. Otherwise there would be very little pork produced. Why can a few hogs be raised comparatively cheaply on the farm? Simply because of the fact that a considerable proportion of the feed is in the nature of a by-product or perhaps home-grown. Multiply the swine activities on the farm and it is necessary to purchase more meal and grain at market prices. The cost to produce mounts alarmingly. So with the farm flock of poultry

What shall we feed hogs? Grain, mill feeds and by-product feeds are becoming scarcer than ever. Wheat by-products are practically off the market. The feed markets of the future are most discouraging in prospect. The wholesale price of hogs has not appreciated correspondingly. The man who can feed hogs profitably today must have a comparatively cheap product or by-product to replace meal as largely as possible. Such are scarce. Milk products form the greatest of all. City and hotel refuse is another. Green feed intelligently used, soiled or under the right conditions, pastured,—is a third. Barley is one of the best Canadian hog feeds—too little appreciated. Elevator screenings if of standard quality, must be utilized wherever available. The man who is raising young pigs who plans to feed them almost entirely on a grain ration, who has lfttle or no milk or green feed available, will almost certainly be forced to place a high valuation on manure and experience if he is to get an even break next fall.

Jud Tunkins says he's going to have help this summer if he has to put phonographs on the farm machinery and have moving pictures in the barn.

BIG SAVINGS ON CLOTHING PRICES

The new prices accompanying the recent arrivals of the latest samples and style books from The House of Hobberlin, Toronto, and from the Campbell Co. of Montreal, show a very considerable reduction in many lines.

Along with these are special prices for early orders to be made up now in the slack season.

If you are going to buy a suit this season now is the time to buy it.

You are late enough for the newest patterns and lowest prices, and just in time for a special price on the "keeping-all-hands-busy" early orders.

A Timely Warning

To Whom it May Concern

Re Nursery Stock, especially Fruit Trees, our stock for Spring delivery, of 1921, is so small compared with previous years, although of extra quality, that they will last but a short time. By ordering at once you can have your choice of 90 varieties of Apple Trees, and the ones you may want may be the variety sold out first. We do not substitute like other Nurseries, you get what you order if we have them in stock. If we are sold out we notify you and let you choose for yourself instead of the Nurseryman sending you trees of the variety he has most of. All trees that die the first summer are replaced at half price, as stated in the order blank.

Mr. John Stamp of Winchester Springs formerly of Iroquois, has been our representative for a number of years, and has given us the utmost satisfaction, and his customers as well. His experience from a child in his father's orchard, which then was the largest in Dundas County, and his handling of nursery stock for the last 40 years, would make his advice valuable to inexperienced customers.

Editor and Proprietor

Member for Dundas Likely to Enter U. F. O. Cabinet

(Toronto Telegram, Aug. 20)

For some time there have been many rumors that there were to be changes in the Ontario Cabinet. It has been reported that Premier Drury has been considering for some time making a few changes.

It looks as if before long the contemplated changes will be made. As the Government intends to have an early session next year, it is intended to have the new ministers get a good understanding of their departments before the House meets.

For sometime it has been felt that Hon. Beniah Bowman, Minister of Lands and Forests, was not making a great success of his department.

"That is one department that the Government expects to get a good revenue from", said one U.F.O. member to The Telegram, "but apparently Mr. Bowman is not going to make as good a showing as he should".

As to who should succeed Mr. Bowman there is some speculation. It has been claimed that the eastern portion of the province has not its fair share of representation in the Cabinet. In fact, Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education, is the sole representative. Although he has faithfully been on the job all the summer, scarcely being away a day from his office, he cannot shoulder all the burdens of the east. He, at least, has been one of the Ministers who have been at work in the city, and available at all times. Few picnics have been attended this summer, if any.

Hon. Nelson Parliament, Speaker of the House; has been mentioned for the portfolio. However, the U.F.O. think they have done well for Mr. Parliament and the Liberal ranks when they selected him for Speaker.

Then there is W. H. Casselman, U. F. O. member for Dundas. Premier Drury has admitted that Mr. Casselman "has Cabinet possibilities." The appointment would be acceptable to the U. F. O., and it is not likely that there would be any contest in a by-election. Mr. Casselman has been appointed on nearly all the special house committees that are sitting during recess.

Then there is talk that Major Tolmie, leader of the little group of dissatisfied Liberals who broke from the Dewart leadership a short time ago, would be glad to accept a Cabinet portfolio. He has nearly a dozen followers, who would probably follow him to the U. F. O side. However, his chances of getting on the Cabinet benches are not very favorable.

"There will not be another Liberal taken into the Cabinet," one Minister informed The Telegram to-day, although the Government might be quite glad to have twelve additional Liberals to support them, and thus be free of depending at all on the Labor group.

The Labor section of the Government has not been quite as successful as Premier Drury and his colleagues thought it would be when the combination was formed. In fact, it is claimed by many of the U. F. O. members that the Minister of Labor, Hon. Walter Rollo, is too radical, and that M. M. MacBride, M. P. P., of Brantford, doesn't exactly suit them.

It would not be at all surprising if before long there would be a change there. Some of the U. F. O. members think that the Government were too easy with the Labor section during the last session, and thus wandered away from the fold.

There were rumors at one time that Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education would resign. In fact there were feelers put out, that were to emanate from Windsor, to see if Major Tolmie would have a chance to succeed him. So far there has been nothing but denials from Premier Drury that there was any intention of Mr. Grant quitting.

"I am not going to resign unless the premier asks me, or unless I get some good hints that I am not wanted", declared Mr. Grant to the Telegram. "I told Mr. Drury when I accepted this position that I would take it till he found another man. Since I have been here I have enjoyed the work in this department and have heard of no complaints. If Mr. Drury wants my resignation I will give it to him without any compulsion as soon as he says that he has another man he would like to take my place. However, my dealings with Mr. Drury have been most friendly at all times".

There have been influences at work to get rid of Mr. Grant ever since he opposed the Massey Foundation interfering with his department. Since then the antagonism against Mr. Grant from certain quarters has not ceased. It is not likely that there will be any change made in this department by the Premier as long as Mr. Grant wants to stay there.

Eastern Ontario also wants representation on the Hydro-Electric Commission, and the east has been complaining for a long time that it has been neglected as far as Hydro is concerned. There was talk some time ago of asking Hon. I. B. Lucas to resign from the commissiou, but so far he is still a member. Should he resign, a man from the east will be nominated, and W. H. Casselman, of Dundas, may be appointed to that.

The Value of Advertising of and For Live Stock

(Experimental Farms Note)

To the well known, established, breeders of live stock any advice on the value of advertising is superfluous for in the large majority of cases it has been by proper advertising of high class goods that they have built up their business. The purpose of this article is to call the attention of the smaller breeders, the beginners in the business, to the possibilities in advertising any live stock which they may have for sale. For example every year at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, there is a deluge of enquiries as to the possibility of purchasing young animals of the various classes of live stock. Needless to say the Farm is unable to fill all wants for obvious reasons such as being sold out of the particular class of stock wanted; not having animals of the age or sex wanted; and not keeping representatives of the breed wanted. In an endeavour to assist our correspondents to locate the animals they wished to purchase it has often been found and sometimes too late that breeders right in their own vicinity had animals of the class of stock wanted for sale, but as they had not been advertised for sale nor had the intending purchaser advertised his wants, both parties missed a chance to do business which would have benefited both.

From the above it would seem that a more extended scheme of advertising on the part of breeders who are either in need of or wish to dispose of stock would be profitable for all parties concerned. This advertising need not be very expensive. A small notice in The Chesterville Record would serve the desired purpose quite adequately. If the number and quality of the animals warrant it, a larger advertisement with an illustration would be in order.

Advertising is of course of particular value in disposing of breeding stock or animals not in fit condition for sale on the regular market. The writer has in mind one particular class of stock namely aged pure bred dairy bulls of good quality and known to be breeding good stock. Many of these find their way to the butchers every year when it would be much to the advantage of the breed as well as to the farmers disposing of them and lucky enough to get them, if they were kept for further years of service. A little timely advertising would in many cases accomplish this end.

Lastly advertising must be more or less seasonable. The greatest demand for dairy cattle and swine breeding stock is usually in the late winter and early spring, while sheep are more in demand in late summer and fall. Plan the advertising to meet the seasonal reqnirements and it can then be done most economically.

Herbert Hoover said at a Washington reception:

"We must economize our food, or we'll get as short as some of our Allies across the water.

"In a restaraunt over there a man said when his coffee was brought:

" 'Hey, there, waiter, where's my portion of sugar.'

" 'Oh la, la!' said the waiter. 'It must be that accursed fly again, monsieur. Every time I serve a portion of sugar, up he sneaks and swipes it!"

CHESTERVILLE PEOPLE PREVENT APPENDICITIS

Many Chesterville people are using simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This flushes BOTH upper and lower bowel so completely it removes all foul, accumulated poisons from alimentary canal and prevents appendicitis. Adler-i-ka relieves ANY CASE gas on stomach or sour stomach. Often CURES constipation. In one case of chronic stomach trouble ONE bottle produced wonderful results. W. G. Bolster, druggist.

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P. O. Box 123, Parrsboro, N. S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance.

I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-tives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since.

Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-tives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me."

JOHN E. GUILDERSON,
Contractor and Mason.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Paper Dresses

Frocks at one guinea apiece! They are not cotton frocks, but will be charming affairs manufactured out of string colored paper material, guaranteed to wear five years (but not to stay in fashion that long), and carried out in wonderful designs, embroidered with raffia roses, poppies, and pomegranates.

These dresses will really be an answer made by a British manufacturer to the Germans, who sent over some weeks ago a lot of cheap. but not beautiful, paper suits for men. The British firm, who have a booth at the clothing exhibition at the Royal Agricultural Hall, claim that they can make anything out of paper from trunks to carpets, and far better than anything ever thought of by the Germans. The frock materials which have not been made up yet, only need a clever dress designer to popularize them.

"Frocks should be far easier to make out of paper than suits", said a member of the firm. "The material is not pliable enough for tailoring, but would make splendid frocks with outstanding panniers or hip pleats, or the pockets that are so fashionable. If only Poiret, Paquin, or one of the others would take up the idea, the paper dress would be the most popular thing in existence".

The idea of embroidering the paper frock with raffiia was suggested by a young woman who saw a beautiful, wide-meshed bag manufactured out of paper and embroidered by school children with exquisite raffia roses.

Stair carpets, drugget, rugs and suitcases for nominal prices were all seen at the booth, and looked very unlike the paper that they are made of.

The Speed of Animals

Apropos of speed in animals a writer in the Mail and Empire says that when the "Man o' War" ran a mile and three-eighths not long ago in two minutes, fourteen and one-fifth seconds, he travelled faster than ever a horse travelled the distance before. His speed would work out at the rate of about thirty-six and four-fifth miles an hour. An antelope would have beaten a cheetah, for the latter do not race more than three-quarters of a mile as a rule. They do not have to. The greyhound is credited with a speed of thirty-two miles an hour, and it it said the Russian wolf-hound can travel 5 miles an hour faster, a statement we doubt. Dr Andrews found a timber wolf that could travel thirty-five miles an hour. Once in Kansas a train was travelling at the rate of forty miles an hour. A jack rabbit started up beside to give the train a race and bounded side by side with it for twenty miles, never losing a foot.

Her Idea

Hostess—Won't you sing us another song before you go?

Jones—Well, it's getting very late and I shouldn't like to annoy your neighbors.

Hostess—Oh, don't mind that; they have a brute of a dog that barks every night and I should be very glad to take my revenge.

The Cash Value of a Pedigree

(Experimental Farms Note.)

All animals have a pedigree of some sort whether pure-bred or scrub. Only the pure-bred animals have their pedigree registered and have pedigree certificates issued. A pedigree is valuable only when it proves some fact that is worth while about an animal, either favourably or otherwise. We frequently hear comments of some such nature as "I do not care about the papers it is the cow I want." Speaking broadly that may be good business for a butcher but the real stock breeder is paying more attention to pedigree than ever before and we often hear him say "that is a beautiful individual but I do not like her breeding."

The man who attached the most value to a pedigree is the one who knows the most about its true value. The pedigree student may learn of a cow that has had a brilliant show-ring career. She may be particularly pleasing to the eye in type form and conformation. He studies her pedigree and finds that she has sprung from ancestors that were of little value and immediately decides to let her alone, regarding her as a freak. On the other hand he may find a cow that is not a particularly fine individual in type but he studies her pedigree and finds that she has for ancestors some of the very best animals of the breed. He decides to buy the cow doing so on what he knows about her ancestors. He has made use of the pedigree to select a cow but he has not, as so many are inclined to state, paid a big figure for papers.

Pedigree does not make value, it decides value by establishing the history of ancestry. The cow backed by several generations of good producers is much more liable to be the dam of producers than the cow whose dam only, of all ancestors is a producer. This does not of course always hold true. Just as we frequently find a good individual with a poor line of ancestors so do we find poor individuals with strong ancestors. Like, as a general rule produces like, but the law of variation i, also felt. The pedigree student studies these laws and draws his conclusion.

When a cow is purchased for a breeding herd two things are kept in mind, first the value of the cow for what milk she will produce and secondly, the effect she will have upon the future of the herd. A good judge of dairy cattle can estimate closely her value as a milk producer but her worth as a herd improver must be determined chiefly by pedigree.

Individual merit is very important and should not be overlooked yet it must not be the main deciding point. History shows us some excellent individuals who have apparently sprung from inferior stock and later have become wonderful foundation cows. Such animals are valuable if properly developed, but the owner must have skill and patience to handle a problem of this kind as often, after a few generations there may be a reversion back to the old ancestral type.

Some herds have been built almost to perfection with the exception that possibly a single defect may be noticed through the entire herd The owner is a true stock breeder and wishes to have as perfect a herd as possible. He decides to secure a new sire and correct this fault. He selects an animal not only strong itself where the defect is shown in the herd, but the breeder finds that the animal is from families perfect in this respect. This sire is more certain to correct the fault than an animal who is strong individually but part, or all, of his ancestors are weak.

This is where the real value of a pedigree is recognized. It is not so important to know simply that an animal is pure-bred as it is to know that the strain in the herd is of the very best.

"You are charged with selling adulterated milk," said the Judge.

"Your Honor, I plead not guilty."

"But the testimony shows that it is 25 per cent water."

"Then it must be high-grade milk," returned the defendant. "If Your Honor will look up the word 'milk' in your dictionary you will find that it contains from 80 to 90 per cent water. I should have sold it for cream."—Success Magazine.
