Curious onlookers surveyed the remains of Mr. Jack MacDonald's pick-up truck at Dalhousie Station on Sunday. Mr. MacDonald managed to vacate the truck just seconds before it was pummelled by a train.

Tragedy averted:

Glen Nevis man narrowly escapes car/train collision

By Eric Siblin
News* reporter

An elderly Glen Nevis man came within a whisker of tragedy Saturday afternoon when his truck stalled on the CN train tracks at Dalhousie Station seconds before being rammed by an oncoming train.

Seventy-eight year-old Jack MacDonald had gotten only three feet away from his trapped pickup truck when the train sent it flying in various pieces, according to a man who raced out of a nearby hotel to lend a helping hand.

Neil MacGregor was playing darts in a nearby hotel at about 3 p.m. when he spotted a warning gate descend on Mr. Macdonald's 1977 Ford pickup. Rushing out to the tracks, he tried to lift the gate off the truck before realizing that the vehicle was stalled and Mr. MacDonald was having trouble getting out of the cabin.

"By the time I got around to the door he was already stepping out," said Mr. MacGregor, a St. Telesphore resident friendly with Mr. MacDonald and his family. "I gave him a hand getting away from the truck.

"We didn't have time to get further than three feet away before the train hit.

"The engineer told him later that from the time he saw him get out of the truck to the time the train crashed into it there was about two seconds or less," said Mr. MacGregor.

Only the nose of the truck, about two feet of it, was actually positioned over the railway track but the impact of the collision sent the vehicle flying into the warning gate box, a steel structure bolted into a slab of cement.

"Everything was sent flying," recalled Mr. MacGregor. "The hood went one way, the front was taken off and the cab flipped off the frame." The motor flung out of the truck and went a distance of about 200 feet.

"I told him he'd better go to church that night if he hadn't gone in the morning," said Mr. MacGregor.

Mr. MacDonald, though unhurt, was "still shaken up by it all" on Monday, according to his son. "You're not going to get over that in one day," said Hughie MacDonald.

"It's a good thing that Neil (MacGregor) was there," remarked the younger MacDonald. "I would say he risked his life."

He suggested that Mr. MacGregor had "a lot to do with" his father's narrow escape. "I certainly give him a lot of credit for quick thinking," he said.

Mr. MacDonald apparently forgot that his seat belt was fastened and had some difficulty getting out the cab. "He opened the door and went to step out but the seat belt was restraining him," said Mr. MacGregor.

Taking what he called "a calculated risk," Mr. MacGregor said that he "damn well looked to see if the train was going to hit me or not" prior to approaching the truck.

"You do what you have to do," he added.

Mr. MacGregor said that Mr. MacDonald, known to many by his nicknames "Prairie Jack" and "Beau Jack," was "pretty cool" after the accident. "He was a prospector living in the north for years so he's had a lot of experiences," mentioned Mr. MacGregor.

Hughie MacDonald, who arrived on the scene 15 minutes after his father's narrow escape, said that "both were very calm — Neal (MacGregor) a little more nervous than my dad. I was worse than the both of them."

A former truck driver who now does transport work, the 40-year-old Mr. MacGregor said that "when you're driving a truck you see too much of this sort of thing on the road. Eighty per cent of the people just stand there and watch."

About 15 years ago, he kicked in the windows of a burning car to rescue two children following an accident near Dalhousie.

Slowdowns cause temporary layoffs

By Eric Siblin
News* reporter

Citing market downturns, two of Alexandria's largest employers — Alexandria Footwear Ltd. and Carnation Ltd.— have laid off more than 50 workers for an undetermined period of time.

At least 30 workers have been laid off at Alexandria Footwear, some temporarily and others long-term, said Cam Nelson, business agent for local 304 of the Brewery, Malt & Soft Drink Workers.

And 26 employees at the Carnation factory are out of work following a seasonal slowdown in production. "Most will be coming back as we get into hot chocolate production early in May," said Carnation plant manager Ken Brown.

"Layoffs at Carnation are relatively normal and have never been permanent," agreed union spokesman John MacNamee, adding that the number of jobs affected seems higher than usual. Carnation's payroll usually counts about 100 employees.

"Because of the seasonability of the business, a lot of the products like hot chocolate are winter-oriented," said Mr. MacNamee, business agent for the Brewery, Malt & Soft Drink Workers. He noted that in the past such layoffs have lasted no more than two months.

Both union and management at Alexandria Footwear were hopeful last week a work sharing program could be arranged with unemployment insurance to avoid large numbers of outright layoffs.

Work sharing program may be arranged at Footwear

Under the proposed program, employees would share the belt-tightening by putting in a three or four-day work week with U.I. providing 60 per cent of lost wages. The company normally employs about 135 workers.

"As we only view the work slowdown to be temporary, we thought it would be better to have work sharing rather than lay people off," said Alexandria Footwear vice-president Ray Whippey. "At least we can keep the nucleus of the work force together so that when things do pick up we'll have these people in place."

But the fact that many employees were already on a reduced work-week prior to being laid off means that remuneration available under the program would be watered down, according to an industrial consultant responsible for the area's work sharing programs.

Pierre Lessard, who met with Alexandria Footwear union members last week, said a request for assistance under the program has not yet been made. The request has to be jointly made by management and the union, he said.

"We don't like these up and down cycles either," said Mr. Whippey, adding that this time of year is the company's "down-time."

He said the company is waiting for supplies to come in, a process that could take up to six weeks. "Because of the terrible winter everyone has high inventories," he noted.

Regarding Alexandria Footwear, "part of the problem is seasonal but there are other factors affecting operations," said Mr. Lesard. A seasonal downturn in production alone doesn't entitle companies to a work sharing program.

The company, which until recently produced only running shoes, is currently adding cross-country ski boots to its production line. "We've been totally exclusive for Adidas over the years and that hasn't been a good situation for them or for us," said Mr. Whippey in a recent interview.

He said the new ski boot line will enable the company to "broaden our customer base for when one segment of the market goes by."

Four administrative personnel — two full-timers and two part-timers— are to be permanently laid off, said Mr. Whippey.

Eastern tour brings Peterson to Cornwall

Ontario Premier David Peterson will be in Cornwall tomorrow (Thursday, April 20) as part of an Eastern Ontario tour.

During his visit, he will also address Liberals at a $100-per-plate fundraising dinner for the two area riding associations and will tour Upper Canada Village.

In Cornwall, Premier Peterson will visit Cummins Recon, an industry which recieved financial assistance from the province, and will go on to a media conference at the Best Western Parkway at 6 p.m.

APEC (Alliance for the Preservation of English in Canada) members will seize the opportunity to hold a mass rally outside the inn during the evening, in protest of Bill 8, which called for the delivery French-language government services throughout Ontario.

A group of SD&G teachers were to have rallied yesterday (Tuesday), to circulate a petition to be presented to Mr. Peterson tomorrow (Thursday). The teachers are objecting to the province's proposed one per cent hike in their pension premiums.

Touchette to belt out another for the trains

The mayor of Alexandria is planning to sing the praises of VIA Rail at a federal inquiry into passenger rail service next month — even if he has to belt it out a cappella.

After listening to a recording of Mayor J.P. Touchette's updated version of an old Irish ballad, the Save the Train Committee agreed last week to include the mayor's act in its presentation to the commission.

"Have you heard the story," begins the mayor's ballad, "of how Brian came to shame, I'll tell you so you'll understand, he's trying to scrap our trains."

But the tongue-in-cheek nature of the song shouldn't obscure the seriousness of its political message, said Mayor Touchette at a Save the Train Committee meeting last Wednesday.

The National Transportation Agency has been holding hearings across the country on VIA's ticket pricing policies. Committee members are taking advantage of the forum to protest recent signals that the federal government is considering slashing $600 million in annual subsidies to the Crown corporation.

The committee also expressed hopes to get mayors and reeves from small towns in the region serviced by VIA to back a six-point resolution which will be presented to the federal commission. The resolution calls for the creation of a national public transportation policy taking the needs of small towns and rural areas into consideration.

In "this age of frequent travel, overused highways and increasingly dangerous air travel," states the resolution, "...trains are an ecologically and economically sound way of transporting people and goods from downtown to downtown."

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Don Boudria, who was instrumental in starting up the Save the Train Committee two years ago, told the committee that if Canada "has resisted the gravitational pull of the United States, it's because we've built links east to west — and the train was the first such link."

"But there's more to it than just nostalgia," stressed Mr. Boudria. "With the shortage of air-traffic controllers and the highways plugged up these days, if there wasn't a VIA here at this time we'd have to invent one."

Mr. Boudria cited Amtrak in the U.S. and rapid rail transit in Europe as examples of the need for continuing rail service. "To make claims to-

Continuing problems prompt worker to seek unionization at GACL

By Lesley Cadham
News* editor

The past year's unrest at Glengarry Association for Community Living (GACL) has led a former employee to seek unionization for employees and to file grievances with the Labor Relations Board, says an official of Canadian Union for Public Employees.

Union representative Andre Lamoureux said in recent interviews, Tracy Masterson, former night staff at the association's group home in North Lancaster, invited the union to represent GACL staff in December. He also said her dismissal shortly after CUPE mailed its union cards and information to staff, has led the union and Miss Masterson to file grievances for "unjust dismissal" and interference in the unionization process.

Miss Masterson began to seek information about joining CUPE in August. In an interview Thursday, she claimed she did so because of contention between the board of directors and some staff members, which in some cases had been blamed for the resignations of several longtime employees over a period of about four months last summer.

Some employees at the time claimed they were tired of the board's interference in GACL's day-to-day operations.

In December, Miss Masterson felt that the "time was right" and contacted Canadian Union for Public Employees (CUPE) seeking union representation and began compiling a mailing list for the organization.

On Feb. 24, she was dismissed and given a letter which claimed she was unsuitable and unsatisfactory for the position, said Mr. Lamoureux. He added, this contradicted her evaluation record, which stated that she was a model employee. She had been with GACL for almost five years.

And this was not the first time Miss Masterson's job with the association had been terminated. In January, GACL declared her job and that of her co- worker and mother, Adair Masterson, redundant. The women had been working as "night staff" at one of GACL's group homes for developmentally handicapped adults, in North Lancaster.

At the time, GACL interim director Ruth Deer-Cormier told The Glengarry News that the Masterson's positions within the association were being terminated because new positions were being created. The Mastersons would have the opportunity to apply for the jobs.

They applied and though the younger Masterson was hired, her mother was not.

Miss Masterson said she did not feel the changes in the positions were sufficiently significant to warrant the termination.

About four months earlier, the women had written a "letter to the editor" of The Glengarry News, charging the board with interference in daily operations and commending a former employee for her courage in making public her reasons for resigning from GACL.

The vote has been set for April 25 from 2-5 p.m. at the Don Johnson building in the Industrial Park in Alexandria.

Labor Relations Board official Theresa Inniss said Monday, a Labor Relations Board hearing will only take place if attempts by the board to settle the matter less formally, are unsuccessful.

Officials from the Labor Relations Board, CUPE and GACL and Miss Masterson sit down on April 25, after the votes have been counted, to "discuss settlement," said Mr. Lamoureux, who is also optimistic that the matter can be reasonably resolved.

When contacted by The News, board Chairman Kitty Ewaschuk declined to comment. She suggested that GACL's recently hired executive director, Bob Grantier, be contacted.

Mr. Grantier, who joined GACL on April 3, said he was aware of the proceedings and that he was "optimistic about the outcome in these areas," but declined to comment further, citing moral obligations and the Labor Relations Act.

Sympathy is extended to Rev. Colin MacDonald of the Church on the Hill, following the death of his father Jack in Hamilton Sunday. Mr. MacDonald was 66-year-old.

Correction

On page 3 of April 5, 1989 issue of The Glengarry News, in the article "Petitioners seek further changes to Kenyon fire boundaries," it was stated that adjustments made to the township's fire boundaries in November, 1987 transferred responsibility for Dominionville and conc. 5, from the Kenyon Fire Department to the Maxville Fire Department.

However responsibility was transferred from Maxville to Kenyon.

The News regrets any confusion this error may have caused.

War amp tags to arrive soon

Glengarry residents should expect to receive those familiar War Amputations of Canada Spring key tags in the mail any day now.

The Spring Key Tag campaign is currently underway and will continue until next week, to raise funds toward several services to help child amputees. War Amps does not receive any government funds.

And War Amps now has a new public service called From Generation to Generation, which focuses on bringing together War Amps and child amputees, to bring to the youngsters an understanding of difficulties faced by amputees. War amputees also pass along advice and a positive approach to dealing with the situation.

Teaching children begins with the CHAMP program, and War Amps claims that some youngsters have joined as young as one day old.

Children in CHAMP also become eligible for financial assistance for their articial limbs and related expenses and parents are offered support and advice in the Matching Mothers program, which can put parents of children with limb deficiencies in touch with one another.

The War Amps want to be sure these children know they're not alone, that they deserve the same hope and advice passed from First World War amputees to Second World War veterans upon their return home, said a recent War Amputations news release.

Local industries to be held accountable for liquid waste disposal, clean-up

By Eric Siblin
News* reporter

A provincial-wide regulatory program to reduce industrial discharges to municipal sewer systems will eventually force some local industries to treat their liquid waste and foot the bill for the cleanup.

''We're fleshing out regulations which will require municipalities to carry out an inventory of industries'' in their area, said Nars Borodczak, assistant director of the Ministry of the Environment's water resources branch.

Mr. Borodczak said that tests taken in 1987 showed that phosphorous levels in the Alexandria lagoon exceeded MOE standards during a period of four months. An ingredient used in several industrial processes, phosphorous can lead to the depletion of oxygen content and disrupt the ecosystem of waterways.

The Alexandria lagoon, where sewage effluent is received and aerated, flows into the Delisle River.

The dumping of phosphorous ingredients and other contaminants into the sewer system would likely be reduced by the proposed program, lauded by environmentalists as the most progressive such program in North America.

Implementation of the Municipal-Industrial Strategy for Abatement (MISA), expected to take two years, will require industry to use the best possible technology to contain pollutants before they reach the province's waterways.

Under the proposed program, explained Mr. Borodczak, the Ministry of the Environment will place regulatory limits on 22 industrial sectors that discharge to sewers.

MISA would also require municipalities to act as the ''first line of enforcement of the control program'' by monitoring industrial discharges and prosecuting offenders.

Yet the scope of the proposed program goes beyond the current jurisdiction of both municipal and MOE authority. ''Our jurisdiction and their's have to be expanded,'' outlined Mr. Borodczak, adding that the necessary legislative changes should be in place by the end of the year.

A full year will be needed to coordinate the information gathering phase undertaken by municipalities. ''We're looking at a funding mechanism to provide financial assistance for municipalities to set up the infrastructure,'' he said.

Mr. Borodczak said that the policing and operating costs undertaken by municipalities should be recovered from the industries involved. ''I don't think taxpayers should subsidize industrial treatment,'' he said.

Jean-Guy Levert, Road Superintendent for the town of Alexandria, said that at present the town has no effective way of monitoring the discharge of toxic contaminants into the sewer system. He called MISA ''a good idea affording better protection for the public.''

Because sewage treatment facilities are not designed to deal with industrial waste, according to a recent MISA report, many contaminants pass untreated or partially treated into waterways. The result is a ''major source of pollution rendering waterways unsuitable as a supply of drinking water and as a recreational resource. It can also kill fish and create other adverse health and environmental conditions,'' said the report.

Alexandria
Council Briefs

The regular meeting of Alexandria town council was held at the town office on Tuesday, April 4 at 7:30 p.m. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

Financial statements upcoming

Touche Ross, the town's auditors, presented council with the 1988 financial statements and auditor's report. The document contains the financial data of the town, the Alexandria Public Utilities Commission and the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Council did not adopt the document, however, due to a request from Councillor Fern Seguin to postpone adoption until the next meeting, April 18. Councillor Seguin explained that he wanted to sit in his ''rocking chair'' and review the report before voting to accept it.

Chairman speaks out

A report by Chairman Mike Boisvenue on the March 23 Glengarry Sports Palace board meeting turned briefly to comments about arena finances.

Mr. Boisvenue, who in a later interview said ''people complain about the deficit, but no can come up with suggestions about how to make money,'' at the meeting commented, ''instead of hashing it out and complaining all the time, put it on paper and bring it to me.''

He also said the arena ''just lost 20 per cent of revenue which we've got to regain.'' Mr. Boisvenue was talking about ''losses'' in revenue which have occurred since the province imposed regulations on bingos held at the arena.

Regarding the raise for unionized workers — 15 per cent over two years, he said workers had requested it because ''they wanted parity with town employees and roads men,'' but they are still 38 cents an hour behind town employees. Mr. Boisvenue also reminded council that the decision was made not only by ''three people,'' but by the entire board of Alexandria, Lochiel Township and Lancaster Township representatives.

Proposal not a waste

Osnabruck Township is not interested in looking further into the Lafleche proposal, a well-known item in the issue of waste management.

Council has so far received six letters from various municipalities, in response to a March 7 resolution moved by Councillor Fern Seguin stating that the town is ''seriously interested in the proposal for long-range waste management from Mr. Andre Lafleche...''

The resolution was sent to municipalities in SD&G, Prescott-Russell and Leeds-Grenville and the City of Cornwall.

Kenyon Township responded, stating that it did not concur with the resolution, but felt it ''could be considered when the proper figures are presented for evaluation.''

Severance settled

A misunderstanding among the town, lawyer Pierre Aubry and a landowner led to half-hour discussion regarding a strip of land located behind the liquor store in town.

In December, Tapis Richard Ranger requested a severance to create a narrow strip for a right-of-way which runs from the rear of the liquor store to West Boundary Road.

Council endorsed the request, on the condition that the owner develop the right-of-way into a ''public highway.'' The SD&G Land Division Committee granted the severance, but the deed could not be finalized until the condition was met.

The landowner misunderstood and believed that council wanted the road to be developed immediately, but after some discussion between council and Mr. Aubry, council announced that a written agreement that the development would eventually take place, would suffice.

Kannon queries Reeve's Liberal palate

Charlottenburgh Councillor Don Kannon made true his pre-election promises to examine the spending habits of council.

During Tuesday night's April 4 regular meeting, Mr. Kannon went over the accounts to be approved with a finetooth comb, questioning several expenditures and asking for a recorded vote on accepting the accounts.

Mr. Kannon was particularly aggravated when he learned that a $100 cheque was going to pay for Reeve Carol-Ann Ross to attend a Liberal Party Dinner in Cornwall, Thursday. Premier David Peterson is to be the guest of honor at the dinner.

''You're paying $100 to be Liberal Party?'' queried the councillor. ''I don't think we should be using taxpayers' money to fund a political party.''

Mrs. Ross replied that she was attending the event in the interests of the municipality in an attempt to lobby the premier and other high-ranking government officials who might be present.

''I have no qualms about going up to a premier or a cabinet minister and tackling them. I can penetrate the crowd,'' declared the feisty Mrs. Ross.

Deputy-Reeve Ewen MacDonald said he felt that ''anything like that should be discussed at council before a decision is made.''

Councillor Joan MacDonald said she also felt donations should not be made to any political parties, but could see that the reeve's presence at the dinner could be a way of lobbying, ''especially since our relations with our own MPP are not too hot.''

Councillor Bob Roth said that he could see Mr. Kannon's point, but that he also supported the reeve's decision.

I find in a situation like this, where it is a gray area, we should give some discretionary powers to the reeve. Sometimes this face-to-face contact produces results,'' said Mr. Roth.

Mr. Kannon was the only member of council to vote against accepting the accounts, in the 4-1 recorded vote.

OPP checks net 12-hour suspensions

Six 12-hour suspensions of drivers' licences were handed out by Lancaster OPP at the latest R.I.D.E. program checkpoint, set up at the Grant's Corners area Saturday.

A total of 47 vehicles were checked.

Police Briefs

Moderate damage

A 1984 Dodge sedan driven by Edward Swerdfeger, 17, of Summerstown, sustained moderate damage when it left Glen Donald Road, 300 m east of Boundary Road in Charlottenburgh Township, and entered the ditch.

The driver was uninjured.

The accident occurred Sunday at 1:40 a.m.

Lancaster Council

The regular monthly meeting of Lancaster Village council was held at the village office on April 5 at 7 p.m. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

Muncipalities sign agreement

Council has signed a joint fire protection agreement with Lancaster Township to establish a Lancaster Joint Fire Department.

Under the old agreement, in which Lancaster Village Fire Department contracted out its services to the township, the village department couldn't call upon County Mutual Aid (an umbrella of back-up fire departments) in emergency situations. Under the new agreement they can.

''That's one of the reasons for signing the agreement,'' said Reeve Jennifer Charbonneau. ''If it is a major fire we're fighting in the township and we need assistance, or if a fire breaks out in the village at the same time, we can call on County Mutual Aid. Lancaster Township will be under our jurisdiction now.''

The agreement will mean the municipalities will share the cost of running the fire department, with 35 per cent to be paid by Lancaster Village and the remainder, by the township.

''The new agreement will be a benefit,'' said Reeve Charbonneau. ''We're not losing anything.''

Wants licence bureau

Council was visited by Green Valley resident Joseph Monteferrante, who gave a report on the feasibility of having a Motor Vehicle Licence Bureau in Lancaster. Mr. Monteferrante — who is endeavoring to set up the bureau — was requested by the provincial licensing office in Kingston to seek the support of council before going ahead with his plans.

''We have no objections,'' said Councillor Roger Menard. ''If he can get proper licensing, we'll support him in his plans.''

New garbage cans for Main?

Council is looking into the possibility of purchasing lighter garbage cans to replace the 45-gallon drums that have lined Main Street in the past.

The 45-gallon drums are heavy, have a tendency to fill up with water and are difficult for the Lancaster Sanitation Department to pick up, council remarked.

Other possibilities include keeping the 45-gallon drums and requesting the roads department to empty the drums and bag the garbage.

Canada Day festivities

A fish-fry, street dance and dunking tank are among the activites being planned by the village's service clubs, who will band together to organize this year's Canada Day celebrations.

''With all the service clubs coming together to combine their efforts, it should be a very successful occasion,'' said Reeve Jennifer Charbonneau.

KAS kicks off centennial with dinner-dance

By Angus H. McDonell

One of Glengarry's oldest institutions, the Kenyon Agriculture Society Exhibition, popularily known for the past 100 years as the Maxville Fair, will launch its first centennial celebration with a dinner-dance program this Saturday night (April 21), in its Angus Gray Hall.

At present we are pursuing the KAS history records, preparing a synopsis story for The Glengarry News supplement in May, to be published prior to the May 25, 26, 27 and 28 spring fair. Hence, this reference to the Saturday night fundraising entertainment is only in capsule form.

Actually, the original fair had its beginning some 10 years earlier in 1879, when it was held in the thriving pioneer hamlet of Athol. We presume one of the main reasons for the location was that in addition to its fledgling mercantile establishments, Athol had a race track (pacers and trotters). Horse racing was always a big fair attraction as were cattle and farm horses.

The building of the Canada Atlantic Railway in 1882 brought on the founding to Maxville and the demise of both Athol and Dominionville.

In 1889, the fair was moved to Maxville and the field, if it remained today, would be bordered by Peter Street on the north and Elgin Street to the west.

Eventually the popularity of the fair outgrew the grounds, necessitating in 1913, the purchase of six acress on whcih the current site is located. In the next 76 years, gradually, 60 acres were added.

There are numerous historical highlights recorded in that almost four score years, that will be reviewed subsequently, however, we mention here two in particular: The changeover in 1949, to the class B spring circuit, when Maxville joined the older Ormstown and Lachute fairs, and the assuming of sponsorship about 20 years ago, of the Glengarry Highland Games. Sponsorship resulted in the enlarged development that made the present exhibition grounds into a picturesque country setting, that compares with any similar site in Canada. More anon in the supplement.

The dinner highlight will be the address by retired Glengarry agricultural representative, Jim Humphries. There is not a more knowledgeable, affable speaker anywhere, than Jim Humphries, for this notable occasion.

As they will tell you in ''Up The Creek'' (Upper Ottawa) jargon, ''Jim is one of the boys from the Valley.'' How true that is. Jim hails from the Humphries homestead east of Renfrew, beyond MacKenzie Hill, he is a Valley farm boy. He was so keen a high school student, that any time transportation was tight, Jim would ride horseback to Renfrew.

The dinner chairman will fill everyone in on Jim's life from that point, to the fortunate day when he was assigned to the glens.

A great evening of entertainment is forecast for a historic occasion: Hope to see you there.

OPP, MNR, game clubs monitor walleye beds

Area anglers, Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR) staff and OPP officers this week are keeping watch over Raisin River walleye spawning beds in a joint effort to protect the fish from poaching.

''Illegal fishing activity usually increases when popular sport fish, such as the walleye, migrate to their spawning grounds every spring,'' said Bert VanWout, conservation officer with the Cornwall District of the MNR. Removal of spawning fish or disturbance of eggs by poachers, he said, ''Can reduce future valuable fish resources.''

In reaction to the growing problems of poaching, the MNR has established fish sanctuaries on the Raisin River, which bans all fishing for any species from April 1 to 30.

As well, several concerned local sporting clubs and interest groups have volunteered their time to help monitor major walleye spawning sites and to report any disturbances to local conservation officers.

''Poaching was a major problem on some parts of the Raisin River,'' said MNR Fish and Wildlife Supervisor Ed McGregor. ''It (the walleye monitoring program) has made a difference.

Mr. McGregor added that volunteers involved in the spawning watch ''free up'' conservation officers, who can step up patrols, day and night, where it's required.

While this year's walleye spawning appears to have started out slowly, as the water has been slow to warm, Rick Bowen of the Southeastern Ontario Anglers club said his group began ''babysitting'' walleye spawning beds on the Raisin last week, but the fish weren't running heavily. The spawn was expected to begin in earnest this week, however.

Members from the South Lancaster Fish and Game Club, the Glendale Fish and Game Club, the Southeastern Ontario Anglers and the Lunker Club have been monitoring the locations during the evenings, according to Mr. Bowen.

''We've had people out there every night,'' he said.

Crews are made up of 10 people patrolling each evening in five radio-equipped cars. With the involvement of the OPP and the MNR conservation officers, the spawning beds are covered ''24 hours'' a day, Mr. Bowen said.

''We have an interest at stake here, we have to protect,'' Mr. Bowen said in explaining the motivation behind the anglers' efforts.

There are six locations which have been declared sanctuaries within the Cornwall MNR district, two of which are on the Raisin River. The first includes the part of the river located in Martintown, Charlottenburgh Township, downstream from County Road 18 to the northwesterly limit of Kirk Street. The other location includes the waters in that part of the Raisin River in Lot 43 of Charlottenburgh Township in SD&G.

There is no fishing permitted in these areas from April 1 to April 30 inclusive. Anyone caught doing so, will be charged and upon conviction, fined from $100 to $5,000.

Court report

The following are cases dealt with by Judge Reginald Levesque in Alexandria Provincial Court, April 13, 1989.

Apple Hill man placed under probation

An Apple Hill man was given a conditional discharge and placed under probation for causing a disturbance while intoxicated in a public place.

Twenty-one year-old Gilles Derepentigny, of RR1 Apple Hill, was ordered to keep the peace and be of good behavior. He was placed under the supervision of a probation officer for a period of six months.

The incident occured on Oct. 29, 1988 at the Alexandria Pizzeria.

Man fined $700 for impaired driving

A Cornwall resident was fined $700 and his driver's license was suspended for one year after he was found guilty of driving with a level of alcohol in his blood exceeding the legal limit.

Fifty year-old John J. Denney, of 817b Augustus St., was apprehended by police on Highway 401 in Charlottenburgh Township at 8:30 p.m. on April 2, 1989.

Roads are no longer a laughing matter

Last week, our editorial cartoonist Gary Harris took a poke at the state of Glengarry's highways and byways. The good-humored illustration was well deserved — the county's roads are in the worst shape they've been in years. And while it's a problem we can all relate to, it is no longer a matter to be taken lightly.

Road care is the most basic service municipalities should provide, apart from the safe and secure supply of water where community systems are viable. And yet, in Glengarry at least, they are being slowly but perceptibly being left to deteriorate mainly because, say the local politicians, the province is not providing the subsidies necessary to reconstruct the roads which most need them.

It would be easy to dismiss their claims and attribute their lack of action to political cowardice. But in fact, every roads department at every level of government is complaining that without significant tax increases, and road subsidies the money just isn't there to get the jobs properly done. And nobody, least of all the taxpayers, want to see their property taxes hiked when Michael Wilson plans to do some tax raising of his own.

Counties council recently expressed frustration in dealing with the province, when a member noted the road density for blacktopping may rise from 500 to 1,200 cars a day. ''If they pull this on us,'' he said, ''it means all the roads around Toronto will get paved, and we'll be left eating the dust here in Eastern Ontario.''

It's not difficult to see that the worse roads become, the fewer cars will ride on them. Catch-22.

Perhaps the provincial Ministry of Transport should begin putting its car counters in the ditches of Glengarry's roads, because that's where most motorists will be driving if the situation isn't improved soon.

Beef marketing: A big question for producers

How to sell — That's the nemesis Glengarry's beef producers have struggled with when they decided, through a vote, to market their commodity through supply management marketing or to continue to sell independently. The decision for many producers has not been a clear cut one; the flickleness of consumers, the loss of markets to pork and poultry, fears of government intervention and the compelling arguments of both sides during the beef vote campaign has muddied many producers' opinions.

Now that the votes are in, or on their way in, and have yet to be compiled, counted and reported, the arguments for and against a beef marketing system are somewhat academic. But in retrospect, examining the bases by which producers arrived at their decision helps those outside of the agricultural field to understand the challenges they have faced — and have yet to face.

Whatever the outcome of the beef vote, producers will not know with complete certainty they have made the best decision. The division between the Ontario Cattlemen's Association, which wants the present marketing system preserved — and the Ontario Beef Producers for Change which favors supply management, is evidence of that. With the beef community divided on the issue, it's obvious the line between what is best and what isn't is a fine one.

Besides, the always-changing tide of the markets, altered by consumers' images of what foods are healthy and which are not, can improve or worsen the conditions by which producers may sell, supply management or not. If consumers judge beef is not a healthy commodity, demand will drop and no amount of supply management can ensure producers will be completely protected.

In fact, the problems with status quo have been presented as a strong case for change. Cattle numbers are declining, feedlots are increasingly becoming empty, and producers are leaving the industry. A change in direction, a re-education of the consuming public, is what everybody agrees is needed. Beyond this, there is little common ground among the producers on both sides of the issue, in deciding which vehicle is best to carry out these goals.

The beef industry is vulnerable now, and will continue to be so as long as its problems are allowed to drag on. Whatever the outcome of the vote, one of its first priorities should be to nurture unity in the industry. For if the public, even after all the publicity fades, sees that producers still can't get their act together, it will only add to the complications which made the beef vote necessary in the first place.

Holding true to tradition in the face of transition

AFTER THOUGHTS
Joe Banks

Change is a much-used word in our vocabulary today. In the course of the conversation, it's one that can spark great excitement or overwhelming fear. Everybody agrees the ''world is changing'' but getting a handle on just how much it affects our lives personally, can be frustrating.

Washington Irving described the paradoxes of change in ''Tales of a Traveller 'to the Reader'''when he said, ''There is a certain relief in change, even though it be from bad to worse; as I have found in travelling in a stagecoach, that it is often a comfort to shift one's position and be bruised in a new place.''

It's the same kind of change we've been experiencing at The News lately. No, we haven't been bruising the backside, but our advertising staff can tell you that since renovations began upstairs a couple of weeks back, change wasn't a very pleasant thing to experience. Our computers, if they could speak, may have expressed a similar sentiment as plaster dust and the pungent smell of paint wafted through the office. We're still waiting for their microchips to start coughing. To date, we've lucked out.

Apart from the changes to our office space, which we'll tell you more about in our upcoming 'Glengarry Progress' edition, we're experiencing changes with our most valuable asset — our people. News reporter Eric Siblin is heading off to the world of daily newspapers at the Standard—Freeholder.

And Sue Brent, advertising-typesetting, is off work due to illness. We expect to have a temporary replacement in soon to cover for Sue.

Changes in staff is a tougher pill to swallow than changes in technology or building. Everybody who passes through The News has left a mark that will never be erased by time, as long as the microfilmed copies of the paper remain intact in Ottawa. It's a difficult chore to replace those marks; every time another face leaves, they, in some small way, invoke change to the paper and to the staff which once worked around them. They have been unique.

And yet, the flip side of change provides a new opportunity and new beginning, for the people who left, and the people who remain. Doubtless our new reporter, Anne Kukhta, a native of Whitney, Ontario, will be leaving her own indelible mark on The News, and take a fresh approach to covering the Glengarry County's people and events.

But through it all, and through the significant number of name and face changes here at The News, I've been impressed (and very much relieved!) at the patience our readers and the community in general has displayed. Even with the omnipresence of Eugene Macdonald gone — a major blow to our ties to the past — you have remained, loyal and circumspect of quality. Our latest circulation figures again show you're continuing to pick up The News, and a few more new people out there are, too.

So rest assured that in a world seemingly racing headstrong toward change in all aspects of life, we'll be here to ensure the long-standing and longtime traditions of Glengarry's newspaper will continue, changes and all.

The eternal constancy that is God's faithfulness

LIFE WORTH LIVING
Dr. Gordon C. Smyth

The negative and destructive happenings of life command our attention more often than do the commonplace and worthwhile things of life.

Whether we believe in God or not, we may ask why he does not use his sovereign power to intervene and abolish all evil and cruelty from the earth. The fact of cruelty and suffering has tortured the minds of great believers and humanitarians throughout history.

John Henry Cardinal Newman (1801—1890), in his ''Apology'' for his life, looking out upon history ''with its endless conflicts, the alienation of races, the greatness and littleness of man, his far-reaching aims, his short duration, the curtain hung over his futurity, the disappointments of life, the defeat of good, the success of evil . . .'' asks, ''What shall be said to this heart-piercing, reason-bewildering fact?''

But to be hypnotized by the spectre of the cruelty, misery and evil that bedevil our existence, is to do violence to reason, to man's instinctive belief in truth, justice, freedom and to his potential intellectual and spiritually maturity. There would be no such thing as evil if it were not seen against the background of good. There would be no ugliness unless it was contrasted with the beautiful.

It is not popular nowadays to attribute ills to man's misuse of his freedom, or to the failure of well-intentioned human beings to restrain the actions of evildoers or ruthless tyrants or to the prediction of the prophet Jeremiah that the thinking of a generation can bring upon itself the fruit of its own thoughts.

But even more than that, the God-centred soul can say, ''Out of my stony griefs, Bethel I'll raise,'' or like Dietrich Bonhoeffer, the Second World War martyr, from behind the bars of his prison cell, could still behold the grandeur of the Everlasting Mercy, and exlaim, ''I'm so sure of God's guiding hand that I hope I shall never lose certainty . . . I'm travelling my appointed road with gratitude and cheerfulness.''

Once again, we are witnessing the start of the rebirth of nature. Daily before our eyes there are signs of the increasing beauty of the countryside. The bright colors of spring flowers will proclaim the coming glory of the summer gardens. How easy it is to take all this for granted.

Some years ago, a young man who had just graduated was asked what the effect of his university experience had been on his faith. He replied that, on the whole, it was stronger. When asked for an explanation, he said, ''Mountains!''

''Mountains?'' questioned his friend. ''Yes, a part of every year, I spend among the mountains. I have sunrise on too many mountain peaks to doubt the reality of God.''

Against the grain

THAT'S LIFE
Lesley Cadham

Strife at the Glengarry Association for Community Living (GACL, formerly called Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded) has reared its ugly head again, but this time, there can be no claims that problems of some sort do not exist.

Not with unionization on the horizon.

A date has been set for some GACL staff to vote on whether or not its rights will be guarded by the Canadian Union for Public Employees (CUPE). Not included in the vote are members of management and administration, and team leaders.

The union was invited to look into representing some GACL staff members in December, by an employee who has since been dismissed and has filed grievances with the Labor Relations Board for ''unjust dismissal'' and interference in the union organizing process.

Her general feeling was that the association was ''unfair'' in its methods of hiring and of letting people go and this was her very catalyst toward CUPE.

Serious discord between several employees and the board of directors surfaced last spring, after the resignation of the executive director. It was also blamed by some for a rash of employee departures throughout the next four months. Some of the workers who left had been with the association for years and had held fairly high-level positions. Obviously, a problem existed somewhere. But the board, charged with being the instigator, wouldn't accept the blame. Then again, human nature dictates passing the blame.

And though I cannot yet pass judgment as to who is at fault — for there are two sides to every story and we have not yet come to the end of the book — I can state what must already be painfully apparent to the people involved: Those who have already suffered the most are the clients, the people who deserved to suffer the least.

Furthermore, if those who deliver direct care to the clients become unionized, there will be infinitely more opportunities to cause distress. It will likely create an ''us'' and ''them'' (staff pitted against management, administration, board) attitude, which cannot possibly lend to a healthy working environment. It could undermine GACL's purpose to provide home and hearth and workplace for developmentally handicapped adults, a delicate and difficult task in itself.

Something about bringing in a union, about the need to bring in a union, goes against the grain of GACL's mandate. It has, in the past, boasted that it is a non-institutional establishment, a place where the handicapped can live as naturally as possible.

But there is something unnatural about the need to protect, through unionization, the people who have accepted the challenge of helping to deliver a dignified life to GACL's many clients.

I have my doubts that the employees who work with the handicapped are in it for the money, the prestige or the social status. It's got to go deeper than that; perhaps it's seated in a drive to be a benevolent human being, to provide care to those who need it.

And it's unfortunate that these people need protection from a group outside of the organization, at all.

I don't think the answer to the staff's problems lies in unionization, but rather in a change of command. Board members aren't there to earn a living, so there will be no loss of income should they turn over their seats to new blood. But it could mean a fresh start for a highly significant organization and a more secure environment for the people who really matter — the clients.

Alas, The Study

WORD SKETCH
Sybil Carello

Attention all vitamin/mineral — popping, health — conscious individuals! Another STUDY has hit the circuit! A STUDY which strongly suggests that those of us who eat nutritional supplements with a steam shovel might be courting toxic disaster, and wasting money.

The STUDY, released last month by the U.S. National Research Council is called Diet and Health: Implications for Reducing Chronic Disease Risk.

They — the e x p e r t s — are calling it THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH UNDERTAKING TO DATE.

Well, excuse me while I get on my trusty steamroller and crush into smithereens: my chewable vanilla flavored vitamin E's, my chewable calcium, my buffered vitamin C's, my B—12's, my lethicin and my vitamin A's. Hold it while I climb atop the water tower in Alexandria and scatter into the wind: my bee pollen granules, my wheat germ, and all of my biochemic tissue salts.

But let's not panic; let's take a rational look at this. Most of Canada's mineral and vitamin products come from the United States where they are marketed as food products. Here in Canada, the supplements are looked upon as DRUGS and fall under tougher regulations. But according to the STUDY, even this safety net will not prevent MEGADOSING of said health supplements.

In his book, Vitamins & You, biochemist-nutritionist, Robert J. Benowicz states unequivocally that vitamins are not drugs. ''The much-touted dangers of immoderate vitamin intake — particularly A and D — are ludicrous when compared with the effects produced by overdosages with drugs. The former occur only when either of the two vitamins is consuemed in wildly exaggerated quantitities for long periods of time. They produce only mild symptoms of distress, which disappear rapidly when supplementation ceases. The latter maim — often permanently — kill'' he says.

It would be premature at this time to accurately predict the natural fallout of this very latest STUDY. However, one would be fairly safe in suspecting that those vitamin and mineral manufacturers and retailers who rang up $47 million in 1987 (Canadian) sales,

Christian minister accused of rumour-mongering

To the editor:

A reply to the Rev. K.D. McKibbon of Metcalfe, Ont., which appeared in the April 12, 1989 issue of The Glengarry News.

Dear Mr. McKibbon:

I write you today in order to reply to the unfortunate article that appeared last week under the title, "Unholy war rages in church."

As a fellow Christian minister, albeit in another denomination, my first concern is to build up the body of Christ. The article you wrote indicates that your's seems to be to tear it down.

My purpose in writing you is not to take up the issue of gay and lesbian ordination. It is to address your response to this tragic controversy. The article you wrote is a most unhelpful response in that it seems to have had only one purpose: To accuse.

You begin by claiming that hundreds of your fellow clergy and other professionals would act out of their heart-felt convictions and leave the church, were it not for their stipend cheques and pension funds. Thus you portray them as hirelings whose convictions can be bought for the price of their stipends. Those who know how little some of these stipends are, compared to what they could make in secular employment, must have had a good laugh at this accusation! In fact, hundreds of clergy and other professionals are staying with the church in these troubled times to try to heal the wounds the times have brought upon it. These are, on the whole, people who but for their love of Christ and of his people, might leave the church for an easier job and more money. Yet you accuse them and undermine their congregations' confidence in the good work they do. Perhaps the question should be put to you: "Why do you stay?"

I believe your second accusation is even more serious than the first. You claim that many congregations would also leave the denomination and act out of their convictions, except taht they love their buildings more than the gospel. The faithful people who sit in the pews of our churches must certainly take exception to your accusation! How is it that you are able to judge their faith so accurately? Why is it that you would even attempt to? Your Lord and mine warned us against such judgments in the most severe terms!

Mr. McKibbon, I believe you when you say, "I have been studying church fights and clergy abuse for a decade." You didn't print the names, but that's all you omitted . . . who sleeps with whom, and who is on the take. Anybody with the inside information can figure it all out, just like you did. I find it embarrassing that a Christian minister should stoop to this kind of rumor-mongering. It is also unfortunate that such an otherwise fine newspaper as The Glengarry News would print it.

Mr. McKibbon, if you want to accuse people, there are legal procedures that operate through the courts of your denomination and you can use the proper means to do it. But think before you do! It will take a lot of courage to stand up for your convictions there. You had better be able to document what you say. You can take a cheap shot in a letter to the editor, but you can't get away with it in a church court.

Yes, Mr. McKibbon, I believe you when you say you've been studying church fights and clergy abuse for a decade. I've been in the ministry for a decade too, but I didn't waste my time on such trivial matters. If you look for the evil in people you will certainly find it, but it won't help. The trick in ministry is to bring out the best in people. Making unsupported and unsupportable accusations never does that.

There are better ways to serve the church and your people than the way you have chosen. In your article you conclude by saying, "If something doesn't happen soon, there won't be any church left to lead." So as a leader in the church, why not set the example and try to love your people? Whether they are on this side of the issue or that, whether you suspect them of hanky-panky or not, love them with the same love Christ has for you. His love always brings out the best in the people.

Ethiopia needs our help

To the editor:

Overseas agencies seldom highlight positive and hopeful projects to win public support.

Ethiopia is a case in point. Mention Ethiopia and most Canadians think of a wasteland of war and famine, without hope. THis image is misleading. There is hardship, but there is also progress.

USC Canada is helping to suply funds so that farmers and scientists can work together through Ethiopia's Plant Genetic Resource Centre (PGRC) to conserve the country's traditional seeds and select the best for development and storage in times of drought.

PGRC Director Dr. Melaku Worede describes the program as the only way to sustainable agricultural growth within Ethiopia. Local seeds have been developed by centuries of co-operation between man and nature, to resist drought, pests and disease and improved varieties will be used to increase agricultural production.

The Ministry of Agriculture, Farmers' Associations and the Ethiopia Seed Co-operative are working in close co-operation with PGRC. The cost to USC of launching and co-ordinating this important pilot project is $1.3 million. We need the financial support of Canadians to help Ethiopia put its own resources to work.

Every donation counts.

Strangers stop to help horse

To the editor:

On Sunday, April 16, it was brought to my attention that one day last week, one of our horses had somehow caught her two back feet in the wire fence and she was on her back trying to free herself.

Her crisis was noticed by four men driving through Glen Norman. They took time in their busy day to stop and free the mare and then remained to observe that she was not bleeding or hurt.

The market value of this mare is limited, 20 years old with heaves, but as an eight-year member of the Carpenter family, her sentimental value is limitless.

I do not know your names, but I thank each of you individually for assisting Sheba. People will often pass by people or animals in distress, saying "I do not have the time," or "it is not my problem," but I am proud to see it is not the rule of Glengarry.

Thank you again, gentlemen.

Alas another costly study might be just a tad spooked. Compared to the brisk business in prescription durgs, this figure is just a spit in the wind.

Hey! I know! How about a comprehensive STUDY on the nutritional benefits derived from consuming sackfulls of anesthetics, pain killers, tranquilizers, barbiturates, antibiotics, diet pills, analgesics, antidepressants, sleeping pills . . .

But don't hold your breath because it won't happen soon. It's THE WAR ON VITAMINS that has taken priority. This summer, Canada will be coming out with a similar riveting REPORT of their own. It will be the culmination of nearly two years of research and will, once and for all, DETERMINE THE APPROPRIATE LEVEL OF INTAKE OF EACH NUTRIENT — with special consideration for our more northern climate and different population mix.

Whew! I can hardly wait. Wonder what the STUDY cost?

Canada Post improving?

To the editor:

For years Canada Post has been doing a very poor job.

I don't want anyone to get too excited. But it looks like they may be improving. Tell me why have they got to spend our hard-earned tax dollars by the hundreds of thousands, patting themselves on the back?

Just do their job the same as we have to do ours; that's what they are paid for.

Time for patients

The Glengarry Memorial Hospital Auxiliary gave patients an unexpected Easter gift; $2,000 in clocks and prints, to brighten up their rooms. Auxiliary members believe that a cheerful environment can speed up patients' healing. They delved into the In Memoriam fund, purchased the items and asked hospital maintenance employee Gilles Lauzon (upper left) to put everything up. From the bottom left are patient Hilda Cousineau, project convenor Carmel Roy and Auxiliary President Vivian DaPrato. Staff photo — Lesley Cadham

Macdonald family in spotlight

The John Sandfield Macdonald family — of which The Glengarry News' late owner Eugene Macdonald was a member — and its contribution to Ontario's history, will be the focus of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Historical Society's annual meeting tomorrow evening.

Delivering a presentation about the family will be Trent University professor of history, Dr. Bruce Hodgins, who is also author of ''John Sandfield Macdonald 1812-72,'' and director for Canadian heritage and development studies at Trent.

John Sandfield Macdonald was born at St. Raphael's, was Cornwall's first mayor, founded the Standard-Freeholder and became Ontario's first premier. His home ''Ivy Hall'' later became the Hotel Dieu Hospital. His brother, Donald, a railway contractor and local Alexandria businessman, became lieutenant-governor of Ontario.

A pot luck supper begins at 6:30 (April 20) in the hall of St. John's Presbyterian Church in Cornwall. The presentation begins at 7:30 p.m. and everyone is welcome to attend both portions of the meeting.

For more information, call Inverarden Museum at 938-9585.

Pastor to be ordained

The ordination service for Pastor Tom Felts of the Alexandria Alliance Church will be held Sunday, April 23. The service will be held at the Breadalbane Baptist Church at 8 p.m.

Mr. Felts received a B.A. from the State University of New York and a Master of Divinity from the Canadian Theological Seminary in Regina, Saskatchewan. To quality for ordination he has completed a two year study program as well as an oral exam befores an ordination committee. He is presently completing his third year of ministry in Alexandria.

The service will be officiated by Rev. Robert Gould, District Superintendent for the Alliance in Ontario. The public is invited to attend and refreshments will be served following the service.

Expert to speak on growing

Interest in organic growing is continuing to flower in Glengarry County, and farmers will have an opportunity to hear an expert in the field next Tuesday night in Alexandria.

Dr. Stuart Hill, associate professor of Entymology at MacDonald College will be presenting ''Life in the Soil'', a discussion about the benefits of organic growing.

Dr. Hill is a member of the Science Council of Canada, and is assisting in the preparation of a background study on an ecological agriculture plan for Canada.

Sponsored by the Ottawa Region of Canadian Organic Growers (COG), the discussion will be held at St. Joseph's School on Lochiel Street in Alexandria at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. For further information, call Doug Sova at 525-2612.

J.P. Touchette sings for trains day that the train is used only to the tune of 20 per cent is completely erroneous. Train traffic in the Ottawa-Montreal corridor is increasing all the time,'' he said.

Because neither the provincial governments of Quebec or Ontario can be expected to pick up the tab for Montreal-Alexandria rail service, and considering that the central government has always handled interprovincial matters, the issue falls under federal jurisdiction, added Mr. Boudria.

''Commuter transport always loses money, but it operates for different reasons: to take people off the highways,'' he said. ''Commuter train transit has to operate on subsidies and there's nothing inherently wrong with that.''

One committee member suggested that the federal inquiry ''should be made aware that the Save the Train Committee hasn't been quickly formed to go to the commission,'' but that it's ''a genuine public outfit'' which was formed two years ago.

Mr. Boudria noted that he read the lyrics to Mayor Touchette's song in a recent parliamentary speech and that the words will appear in the official records of the House of Commons.

The lyrics were penned by the mayor and set to the music of A Little Bit of Heaven, a traditional Irish ballad.

While the mechanics of the performance still need fine-tuning, he explained, either a recording of the song or a live performance accompanied by electric piano will take place at the inquiry. ''If at all possible it's better that I do it live — even if I have to belt it out a cappella,'' said the mayor.

One year ago, Mayor Touchette received nation-wide media coverage when he came up with another VIA-inspired song, setting lyrics to the Frank Sinatra classic My Way.

The Save the Train Committee is scheduled to deliver its presentation to the federal inquiry on May 1 in Hull, Quebec.

Charlottenburgh Council

The regular meeting of Charlottenburgh Township council took place on April 11 in Williamstown. The following items were among those dealt with by council.

Dissatisfied with MPP's reply

Reeve Ross said she was disappointed with a reply from Cornwall MPP John Cleary about the costs which might be incurred by the municipality under the Police and Sherriffs Statute Law Amendment Act, 1989, which was announced recently.

"I asked Mr. Cleary about the cost to Charlottenburgh for policing the provincial court in Alexandria, and the information I received tells us, "diddly-pout", said the reeve.

Councillor Roth agreed, "A copy of the Attorney-General's statement to the legislature and a two-paragraph covering letter, tells us nothing about financing."

Workers to be remembered

Council concurred with a request from the president of the Labour Council, asking that April 28 be declared an official day of mourning for workers killed, injured, or disabled while working.

The township honored the same request last year, Reeve Ross said.

Replacement sought for Airport Committee

Charlottenburgh Township is seeking a replacement on the airport committee for Bruce McCuaig, who resigned recently.

Councillor Don Kannon advised that the ideal candidate should be business-minded, rather than just interested in flying.

Councillor Bob Roth agreed, "It's a pretty tough job," said Mr. Roth.

Ruins committee to hold dinner

A council member's report from Joan P. MacDonald told of plans for a dinner to be held to raise money which will pay for the cost of beautifying the St. Raphael's Ruins with flowers this summer.

The committee is also hoping that it will be successful in obtaining an Experience '89 grant so that student guides may be hired for the summer months.

Being your own boss

Glengarrians who have always wanted to be their own bosses may be interested in attending a marketing seminar geared toward potential or budding entrepreneurs.

SECCES (Self Employment Counselling Centre and Educational Services) has pulled in three speakers for next Tuesday night (April 25), to talk about launching small businesses.

"Introduction to Marketing" will feature Maurice Leblanc, business counsellor of the Hawkesbury Self-Help Centre, who will speak about market research sources; Janet Parisien, visitor and convention coordinator for the City of Cornwall Economic Development Corporation, to talk about marketing techniques and methods, and Kevin Wilson, president of Advantages Advertising and Promotion Consultants, to verse spectators on advertising promotion techniques and methods.

SECCES is a recently formed non-profit, non-government program which provides a variety of services to men and women of any age who want to launch a small business. It provides one-on-one counselling before, during and after business start-up; an 18-week "start your own business" course which can also earn high school credits; assistance to prepare a business plan; guidance from an established entrepreneur; advice on financing and child care alternatives; access to a resource centre, computer facilities, secretarial and telephone answering services.

There is no charge for SECCES services and clients receiving social assistance benefits can continue to do so.

However, there is a nominal fee for the seminar, to be held at East Winds Small Business Centre, 150 Boundary Road, Cornwall, at 7 p.m.

Legion to hold Battle of Atlantic ceremonies

Branch 544 of the Royal Canadian Legion in Lancaster will be holding "The Battle of the Atlantic" ceremonies in the clubs' facilities Saturday, April 29 commencing at 1700 hours.

The Branch padre, Rev. Donald R. Chisholm will be conducting the service when veteran sailors will remember fallen shipmates who were lost at sea during World War II when the Royal Canadian Navy lost 24 ships.

Gone were the Destroyer Ottawa, the Frigate Valleyfield and the Corvette Regina. In all two A/S Yachts, one Auxiliary M/S, four Bangor M/S, 10 Corvettes, six Destroyers and a Frigate were to see no more action and many of their lost crews who gave the "ultimate" for their country and allies.

Along with the many valiant men of the Royal Canadian Navy who lost their lives, 59 Merchant Navy ships along with many of their crews fell victim to the war.

Organizer Denis Nacreto is asking that all veterans and especially those many sea-going "buddies" will make every effort to attend these commemorative services.

He hopes all hands will be on deck at 1700 hours for the main hall at 1800 and the meal will follow at 1900 hours. Dancing will round out the occasion on the main deck until 0100.

The evening has taken on the title "Splicing the Main Brace," and let it be known that everyone is welcome. Out of town and province legion branches have been contacted to partake in this memorable function so the organizers are looking for a good turnout, plan to attend. Admission is $5.

Comrade Nacreto was hoping to have the Cornwall Sea Cadet Band on board for the parade and the actual Wreath Ceremony but unforseen circumstances makes the band unavailable for the date.

A display of navy memorbilia will decorate the hall and should bring back fond memories of those days at sea and at war, happy and sad.

Char-Lan placed second in Senior Science Quiz finals

WILLIAMSTOWN

Sue Harrington
347-2279

It seems as though there were more contests than days during this past week in Williamstown. Well, I stretch things a little. But since elasticity has something to do with science and since there were local entrants in the United Counties Science Fair on Saturday in Cornwall, perhaps I may be forgiven.

Unfortunately, the Char-Lan High School tradition of winning the top prize at the fair died out this year with the non-entry of the Kastacks, a name synonomous with excellence at the event. You will be glad to learn, however, that our high school placed second in the Senior Science Quiz finals, beating out the city greats and bowing only to Tagwi. Members of our team included Matthew Currier, Sherry Benton, Maria Payer and Matthew Eamer.

Char-Lan science teacher Ken Johns was no doubt pleased with the success of the team: As Chairman of the fair this year, Ken might have been a whit embarrassed had his students ''wiped out!''

I suppose if I keep on stretching things, I can say that there is a connection between this year's Grand Winner and Char-Lan. Daniel Gosselin, whose project was judged best over all, is the son of Wayne Gosselin, former vice-principal at the school!

If you should, by any chance, be looking for a mouse-trap-mobile-maker, call the above number. Zachary's vehicle took third place in the senior race (we won't mention the number of entries now, will we?) and is presently launguishing on top of the piano. Well where do you store yours?

Meanwhile, there were winners from the institution of lower learning across the road. Williamstown Public's two representatives in the fair, Sarah Harrington and Laurie Schaefer, both won merit awards for their projects. And in the wall display competition, for students in Grades 2-5, Elaine Calfacacos won a first for ''The Deer Family''; Caroline Bradley picked up a second for ''Waves'', and Bruce Ross trotted off with a third for ''Horse Motion''.

Char-Lan's Junior Canada Quiz team was stunned by the news that, despite not losing a game in its matches, it will not be going to the finals. The reason is that though Char-Lan tied St. Lawrence High School in the semi-finals, the Cornwall team goes on by virtue of its having won its prior games with more total points. All may be fair in love and war, but...

Math competiiton

Another contest with results announced this week, was the Canadian Mathematics Competition. Char-Lan placed 16th among Ontario schools in the Cayley and Fermat contests (Grades 10 and 11?. Forming the school's team were the top three students in each grade. For the Pascal, in Grade 9, the team was Adam Guest, Brian McGillis and Luke Bryan. Grade 10's team was led by Wendy Woollven, followed by Greg Lauzon and Eric Malo. Rebecca Kastack, Joshua Harrington and Bobby Richer formed the Grade 11 team.

Coloring contest concluded

And one more. The anxiously awaited winners of Sarah McDonad's spring coloring contest were awarded their prizes on Friday. They included, in the nine years and under category: Laine McDonell, Laura Bougie and Lachlan McDonald. Honorable mention went to Scott McDonald. Sarah Harrington, Ariana Winn and Joanne Dyck won for 13 years and under, while in the 14 plus group, it was Johanna Harrington, Donnie McDonald and Penny Cavell.

Horticultural Society

Next Monday, the 24th, should be decorated with a multitude of asterisks. On that day, at the hour of 8 p.m., at St. Mary's Centre, the Green Thumbs Horticultural Society will be holding a very important meeting. The topic will be one of interest to a rapidly growing number of people — organic gardening. Guest speaker will be Kathleen Belland of Morrisburg, who practises what she preaches.

Of additional interest will be the auction of two bluebird houses which have been made by Andrew Harkness. Bludbirds are slowly returning to our area, it is said, and local bird fanciers will want to lure them with the superior accommodation these houses offer.

I mentioned it briefly last week, but Rozon Feeds is getting quite a new look. According to Larry, the modernization includes a new office and store. In addition to the usual feeds, the store will carry garden supplies: Peat moss, vermiculite, lawn fertilizer, manure, stone, etc.

Although open now, an official opening is slated for June.

Sympathy goes out to Ron and Linda Kubelka, Adam and Eric, on the death of Ron's father, which occurred last week in West Germany.

Condolences too, to Isabel MacDonell and family, on the passing of her mother, Lopie MacDonald of Alexandria, formerly of St. Raphael's.

Williamstown's inveterate window-watcher noticed a moving van outside the Mowat's old place this week. Cold it be? Finally? Only Clark and Eileen know for sure.

Members of the Friendly Neighbors with April birthdays were honored at the club's monthly birthday party held Thursday at St. Mary's Centre. Delia Lafrance, Viola Pilon, Edith Major and Lillian Rabin were treated to a lovely birthday cake, made by Violet Lauzon.

Card winners at the party included Violet Lauzon, Kay McDonald, Hector Leblanc and John King.

Sharing the wealth were Isobel Larocque, Martin Van Sleeuwen, Rita Macdonald, Emily MacDonald, Catharine MacDougall, Cecile Leblanc and Hector Leblanc.

Margaret McLennan and Edith Abrams went home with the door prizes.

Readers are advised that the Friendly Neighbors open euchre will take place on Thursday, April 27 at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's Centre.

A beautiful shower was held on Sunday at St. Mary's Centre in honor of Melinda Lafave, whose wedding to Richard St. Jean takes place on June 17.

The shower was given by Kim Benton, who will be Melinda's matron of honor, Lucy Shaver, bridesmaid, as well as Melinda's sisters and sisters-in-law and Julie Chafee.

According to Melinda's mother, Donalda, the bride-to-be received a nice variety of lovely gifts and should have no excuses for being late!

UCW highlights

Some highlights of the UCW meeting at St. Andrew's Church were delivered my way by Ruby Warden.

Ladies of surrounding churches are invited to attend the May meeting of the UCW to be held Wednesday, May 3 at 8 p.m. at Irvine Hall. Featured at the meeting will be Rev. and Mrs. Baudene of Avonmore who will show slides of the Holy Land.

On Saturday, May 6, the ladies of the church will gather at the hall to do some spring cleaning in the kitchen and the hall itself. Lucky things!

A potluck congregational supper will be held on Saturday, May 13 in irvine Hall. There will be a fun time after the supper, with Cliff Hope auctioning off some beautiful wrapped ''mystery'' baked goods — all homemade, of course.

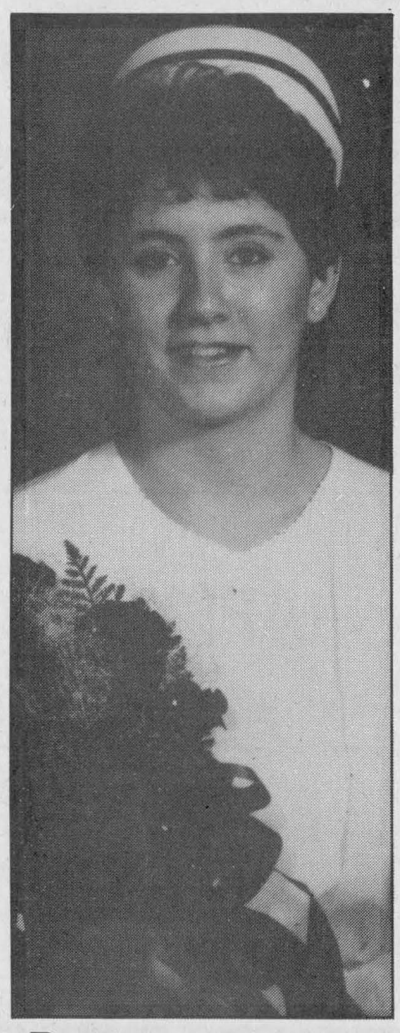
A little ''defensive playing'' pushed Mac Edwards and Maurice Lagroix into first in Bridge Club action this week — just a half-point ahead of second-place finishers Penny McLeod and Marian McCuaig, who tied with Leonard and Kay MacLachlan. Angus and Mary McDonell were third.

* * *

It may not be Cole's, or if you prefer, W. H. Smith's, but a book store of sorts will be in Williamstown until Thursday of this week. It is a book fair, featuring books for children, and it will be open to students, parents and ''the community at large,'' each day from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the public school.

Education week show

Next week, during Education Week, the school will present its second annual gymnastics and dance show.



Registered Nurse

Shelley MacDonald Bruyere graduated from St. Lawrence College as a Registered Nurse in January. The Glen Walter Public School and Char-Lan District High School graduate is employed at Cornwall General Hospital and is the daughter of Archie and Jocelyn MacDonald of Summerstown, and wife of Denis Bruyere of Cornwall.

Firefighters to hold sticker drive

MARTINTOWN

Lorne MacDonald
528-4378

This Saturday (April 22(, the Martintown Fire Department will hold its telephone sticker drive throughout our fire protection territory. The door-to-door blitz will begin at 9 a.m. and this is a huge endeavor to canvass every home and business in the community. The firefighters provide this service free of charge and on their own time. Please, when you get your stickers, place them on your phone right away, so they will not get lost in the shuffle.

Last Sunday, the firefighters had a bus tour of the area, to educate new members on the perimetors, and refresh older members of new buildings and water supplies. After the tour, the firefighters were joined by their spouses for a spaghetti feed at the firehall, as well as a few games of euchre and crib. The spaghetti was catered by the members, out of their own funds. A very enjoyable afternoon was had, with lots of suggestion we should have these get-togethers more often. Speical thanks go out to former firefighter Jim Pratt, who looked after the fire phone and radio system, while members were out on the bus.

Horticultural news

The Martintown Horticultural Society will hold a bake sale on Saturday, May 13, from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. at Nell's Store here in Martintown. Everyone is welcome to attend. People are advised to come early, as these bake sales usually sell out fast.

Then the society will hold a plant sale on May 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Elizabeth Peters. Everyone is welcome to attend this event.

The next regular meeting of the Martintown Horticultural Society will take place on June 7 at 8 p.m. at the Martintown Community Centre. Everyone is invited to attend.

Your new committee

The new executive of the Martintown Community Centre are Mary Rankin, Robert Stokes, Ruth Lafave, Jim Hughes, Anita Goudie and Don Ross. The committee has already started planning for this year's jamboree, and has landed a ball tournament which will be held the weekend of June 2, 3 and 4. All proceeds from the tournament will go to the MS Society.

Don Thomson Jr. is the new manager. He would, I'm sure, like to remind eveyrone that the centre is open for business, weddings, mixed parties, anniversaries, etc. and Don can be reached at 528-4200.

Congratulations go out to these individuals on taking the bull by the horns and getting the centre back on the right track. Residents are reminded volunteers will be needed for the jamboree so why not give a committee member a call and volunteer your time?

Sugar bush owners host school students

SUMMERSTOWN, GLEN WALTER, GLENDALE

Sue Harrington
347-2279

A big outing for the Grade 1 class from Williamstown Public School was a trip to the sugar bush at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. James Warden near Glendale. Accompanying the children were their teacher, Mrs. Kinloch, as well as Verna Warden and Brenda Lauzon, who also drove the bus to the farm.

The students had a great time touring the sugar bush and playing with the farm animals. Fun was had by all, especially by young Carl Warden, who was thrilled to have his classmates visit.

Spending the week with Mrs. Violet Lauzon and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Maloney were Barry and Nancy Maloney and daughters, Leslie, Laura and Jennifer, from New Brunswick. The Maloneys arrived home just in time to help celebrate with Wilfred and Veronica Lauzon on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Also home for the event was Shirley Hart of Mississauga, and Sheila, John and Laura Hearne from Richmond, who, along with family living nearby, gathered together for the celebrations. Congratulations, Wilfred and Veronica!

Happy anniversary, too, to Guy and Helen Leduc, who are also celebrating this week.

It is a relief to be able to once again drive along Hwy. 2 at Glen Walter without having the delays caused by construction of the Purcell sewage and water project. In case some of you who travel the scenic route infrequently are wondering; the project is the reason behind the gray mausoleum located opposite the Al-Rashid Islamic Institute.

Former RRCA board members were honored

Former members of the Raisin Region Conservation Authority board of directors were honored for past efforts during the February board meeting in Martintown.

Four members who left the board in 1988 were presented with commemorative gifts.

Recipients were Lochiel Township Reeve Ron MacDonell, who served from 1983; Ray Alguire of Roxborough Township, who was on the board from 1978; Terri Lalonde of the City of Cornwall, there from 1986 and Township of Cornwall's Mike Maloney, on the board just one year.

Oh, the sweet smell of success... never smelled sweeter!

Pioneer volunteers awarded honorary life memberships

GLENGARRY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Carmel Roy

The hospital cafeteria was filled to overflowing, when 55 members attended the April 12 general meeting, to applaud the recipients of Honorary Life Memberships. They were awarded certificates and pins in recognition of their years of dedicated and continous service. The honorees were Zoe Grant, who received a standing ovation and Jane Wightman, who was unable to attend due to an illness in the family.

The Glengarry Memorial Hospital officially opened in May 1965, and the board of directors approved Jane Wightman and Gertrude Lalonde's attendance at the Hospital Auxiliary Association of Ontario Convention in Toronto. In October 1965, they were commissioned to observe and study 'what would be involved' in the information of a hospital auxiliary. Jane became Archives and Public Relations officer when the first slate was formed in September 1966; she served as editor of the newsletter for six years from April '72 to January '78 and, having been deeply involved in the formation of the constitution and bylaws when they were adopted in June 1972, she willingly accepted the chairmanship, a tenure that lasted for 16 years until May 1988. On more than one occasion, Jane was called upon to preside at the installation of officers at annual meetings and always brought a special sense of commitment and pride to the proceedings. She continues to be 'keeper' of the auxiliary archives.

Before the advent of the tuck shop in October 1975, a 'hospital cart' was put into operation in November 1966 and Zoe Grant joined the auxiliary, in her own words, ''by pushing the cart around selling stuff to patients; I just assisted Mabel Ross,'' she added. Zoe helped organize the tuck ship and, when it opened in October 1975, subsequently served as manager; often doing double duty behind the counter as well. She has continued to work in the gift shop over the years and currently serves there every second Sunday afternoon. Zoe has been president of the auxiliary, editor of the newsletter for six years and a pioneer in pastoral care work at GMH as auxiliary representative for the Protestants of the area. On occasion, she has even played the violin at birthday parties sponsored by the hospital auxiliary at the Community Nursing Home. She is currently chairman of constitution and bylaws.

Jane Wightman and Zoe Grant join the company of four other honorary life members: Mamie MacMillan — 1987; Amanda MacGillivray — 1984; Barbara Coward — 1977 and the first president, Gertrude Lalonde. This honor is not given lightly, as evidenced by the roster of only six recipients since 1966. It represents outstanding service over the years by volunteers who continue to be active in the auxiliary at the time of presentation.

President Vivian DaPrato enquired whether any member would be willing to donate a rocking chair, as she had been approached by Continuing Care to supply one. Thanks to Cecile (Mme. Achille) Joanette and Monique (Mme. Gilles) Roy, the patients' lounge will have not one but two rocking chairs.

If anyone in the community is interested in working in the hospital as a volunteer, please don't hesitate to call Jean Williams at 525-2886 or Eleanor Denis at 525-4343. New members are needed to fill several vacancies in a variety of services.

* * *

The quilt raffle tickets should be in circulation before the end of the month. They will be drawn at the Annual Strawberry Tea on June 10 in Alexander Hall. So please try to keep the date open.

After the meeting was adjourned, chairman of the hospital board, Jean Paul Touchette, brought greetings to the auxiliary members in recognition of Volunteer Appreciation Week. He then joined President Vivian DaPrato in cutting a cake made in the hospital kitchen especially for the evening, with the hospital's compliments. Also to celebrate the occasion, Interim Volunteer Co-ordinator Jean Williams pulled names for door prizes and Margaret Dow, Elaine Barbara, Carmel Roy, Kitty Ewaschuk and Zoe Grant were the lucky winners.

Mrs. Vivian Depratto (left), president of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, extolled the virtues of Mrs. Zoe Grant, recipient of an honorary life membership of the GMH Auxiliary. Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Jane Wightman, both charter members of the auxiliary since 1966, were awarded the honor in recognition of outstanding volunteer dedication. The ceremony took place last Wednesday evening at the hospital during National Volunteer's Week. Mrs. Wightman was unable to attend. Staff photo — Eric Siblin

Hello again! I'm back! Like a bad weed, I keep popping up. Please let me know about all your activities, visitors, visiting, birthdays and births, anniversaries and parties, yes, and the sadder events in the family also. Try to get your news to me by Sunday morning early, or even before, if possible. That gives me a chance to write it out and have it ready to take in on Monday morning. I'll do my best for you.

April is cancer month, so when you are asked for your donation, please give as generously as you are economically able. Here are a couple of ways last year's dollar was spent: Research — 57 cents of every dollar. Your past research dollars have extended life expectancy in children in some types of leukemia; 80 per cent of patients with Hodgkin's disease are now responding to treatment. These are just a few of the positive results. Patient services: 18 cents of every dollar. Patients in need of free cancer dressings, prosthesis, medication, rides to clinics and emotional support, are served.

Dunvegan Recreation Association

The DRA taffy party and crokinole tournament held on March 18 was enjoyed by an enthusiastic group of all ages. Winners of the crokinole tournament were: Highest family — Serena, Chad and Glen McRae; highest pair — David Viau and James Addison; highest individual — Mary Anne McRae and the door prize, a liter of maple syrup, was won by Mrs. Mary Fraser. Maude and Willie MacLeod donated the maple syrup for the door prize and for the taffy. The taffy expert, Linda Wightman, cooked up the syrup to provide this delicious treat for all the ''sweet tooths'' present.

Dunvegan Women's Institute

The annual meeting of the Dunvegan WI was held on the night of Thursday (April 13). There were 12 members present and a new member, Jean Clark, was welcomed. The new executive is: Past-president, Ann Stewart; president—Peggi Calder; vice-president—Marion Loewen; secretary—Eunice Nixon; aternate—Eunice Nixon; treasurer—Margaret MacLeod; district director—Joyce MacKinnon; aternate—Eunice Nixon (or Catherine (Dan) MacRae); public relations officer—Isabel MacLeod; branch directors—Mrs. Dan MacRae, Mrs. Mack MacRae and Sheila Whealon and program co-ordinator—Marion Loewen. Mary Fraser will represent agriculture and Canadian industry; Joyce MacKinnon, education and cultural activities; family and consumer affairs, Mrs. Jim Alderson; citizenship and world affairs, Mrs. DAn MacRae; curator—Flora Chisholm; resolutions, Peggi Calder; nominating committee, Ruth Alderson, Mary Fraser and Eunice Nixon, and auditors, Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Larry Deneault. On May 11, the Glengarry district annual will be held.

Betty Kennedy was in Ottawa last Thursday visiting her son Mac, Mary and young Jarrod Kennedy.

* * *

It was good to hear that Eunice Nixon is home from hospital. Reports are, she has to take it easy for a while, but she is on the mend.

Kenyon Presbyterian Church

The Rev. Lloyd Smith will conduct the service on Sunday (April 23) at 11 a.m. His sermon subject will be ''Creator of mankind.'' The music will include a hymn written by Hattie Buell, ''A child of the King.'' Mr. Smith's message to the Sunday School children will be ''coming up again.'' Angus MacQueen is the church organist. A warm welcome is extended to all.

Obituaries

Mary Elizabeth (Page) Bigelow

Mildred Elizabeth (Page) Bigelow died at Cornwall General Hospital on April 2, 1989. She was 66 years old.

Wife of Alex Bigelow, she was predeceased by her parents, Joseph and Mary Page.

A former resident of Bell Falls, Que., she is survived by three sons, Gordon (Sheila) of Bell Falls, Richard (Anita) of Ottawa and Jimmy (Linda) of Kilmar, Que., and a daughter Dorothy of Glen Robertson.

She is also survived b y sisters Joan (Mrs. Guy Nixon) of Grenville, Que., Hilda (Mrs. Robert Eastwood) of Bell Falls, brothers John (Isabel) of Grenville and Bobby (Marlene) of Bainsville. Ten grandchildren, six great grandchildren and many nieces, nephews and cousins also survive.

She was predeceased by sons Eric, David and Allan, daughter Dianne and brother Laughie.

The memorial service was held from the Morris Funeral Home in Alexandria to Hawkesbury United Church. Rev. D. Wachenschwanz officiated.

Interment was in Calumet, Que.

Penelope MacDonald

One of Glengarry's widely known and highly-respected grand old ladies, Mrs. Penelope MacDonald, St. Raphael's, died on Sunday in the local hospital following a gradual decline in health, due to longevity more that a normal terminal illness. Mrs. MacDonald would have been 101 years old on May 24.

Christened Penelope MacPhee at St. Finnan's Cathedral in late May, 1888, she was the daughter of the late Duncan (Donald Angus) MacPhee and his late wife, Mary Jane (Johnny Angus) MacDonald. Their pioneer home was, and still is, at MacPhee's Bridge, Glen Robertson Road, a short distance east of Alexandria.

After attending local schools in Alexandria then Penelope MacPhee entered the Plattsburgh General Hospital, N.Y. as a student nurse. Following her graduation she practised her profession for some time locally and became known as nurse ''Lopie'' MacPhee, a devoted country nurse, known in particular for her jovial disposition in discharging her sick bay duties in an era when there were no urban hospitals in contrast to today.

On February 16, 1920, at St. Finnan's Cathedral, nurse Penelope MacPhee married Hugh MacDonald of St. Raphael's. They resided on the family pioneer farm (Ranald Rory's) west of St. Raphael's at Johnson Road, Williamstown.

They had five children, Mary Jane, Isabel, Angus, Duncan and Hugh Gerald.

The late Mrs. MacDonald continued in her St. Raphael's home the characteristics that she was noted for a resident of the Lochiel-Alexandria area. She was then popularily known as ''Lopie Hughie Ranald Rory'' and was always counted among the St. Raphael's church and school committees in community projects, and for rendering nursing care when required in the neighborhood.

Following her husband's death, she continued to reside with her son Angus R., his wife June and family. After crossing the four score and ten milestone, Mrs. MacDonald moved to Alexandria with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Jane MacDonald. Approaching the century mark and requiring nursing care, she entered the Alexandria Nursing Home.

At this time one year ago, still possessing all her faculties, her family was drafting plans to hold her 100th birthday celebration at the old home hosted by her son Angus R., his wife June and all the family members.

The weatherman co-operated on this May 24th celebration in a typical Glengarry heritage home, and the guest of honor was the ''Lopie'' of old, graciously greeting relatives and friends representing four generations and still able to reminisce with a vintage quip.

The late Mrs. MacDonald was predeceased by her husband and one son Hugh Gerald (Lindsay).

Surviving are daughters Mary Jane, Mrs. Cormic MacDonald, Alexandria; Isabel, her husband Archibald MacDonell, Glen Road, Williamstown; sons Angus R. and his wife June, St. Raphael's and Duncan, Alexandria. Also surviving are several grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be held Wednesday (today) from the Morris Funeral Home to St. Raphael's church. Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated by Msgr. D.B. McDougald, assisted by colleague members of the clergy.

The pallbearers were grandsons Hugh P., Robert A. and Malcolm MacDonald and Hugh C., Jerome and Roy MacDonell.

Gisele Bellefeuille

At age 42, Gisele Bellefeuille of Rosemere, Que. died on April 1, 1989.

She was the wife of Paul Bellefeuille, formerly of Alexandria and also leaves to mourn her death, daughter Josée, and son François, both of Rosemere.

Her mother, Marie-Louise Carrier (Mrs. Henri Theoret) of Cornwall, also survives her, as do five brothers: Fernand, Alcide and Ronald of Cornwall, André of North Lancaster and Leo of Alexandria. She is also survived by two sisters: Mrs. Yvonne Gauthier of Rivière Beaudette and Germaine (Mrs. Marcel Drolet) of Boisbriand, Que.

She was predeceased by her father Henri Theoret of Cornwall, formerly of Bainsville.

The funeral was held April 4 from the Gayer Funeral Homes Ltd. to Saint François Cabrini Church is Rosemere.

Daniel Beaton MacKillican

A lifelong resident of the Moose Creek and Maxville areas, Daniel B. MacKillican died at the Maxville Manor on March 30, 1989, at the age of 86.

Mr. MacKillican was born at Tolmie Corners, son of the late James A. and the late Mary Ann McKillican.

He was predeceased by his wife, the former Lorna Alexandra Bruce.

Left to mourn his death are his sons, David and Gary, and daughter, Brenda, and their spouses, along with eight grandchildren.

Also mourning the loss of Mr. MacKillican are sisters, Lily McKillican, a resident at the Manor and Kathryn McKercher, Moose Creek and sisters-in-law, Zella MacKillican and Anne Bruce, both of Maxville. Two brothers, Edward of Moose Creek and Stewart of Massena, predeceased him.

The late Mr. MacKillican operated the home farm until he was forced to retire from farming. He became an insurance representative. About 23 years ago, the family moved to Catherine Street in Maxville, where the insurance business was administered until retirement. Gary and his wife Deana and two sons, continue to live in the family home.

A Masonic service was conducted in the Munro Funeral Home on April 1, from where the funeral was conducted on April 2, with Mr. MacKillican's minister, the Rev. Frank Bailey officiating.

The pallbearers were Gordon McKercher, Donald McKercher, Cecil Robertson, Fern Sabourin, Irwin Shields and Ross Graham.

L'Union Culturelle elects new executive

NORTH LANCASTER
Diane Roy
347-3553

L'Union Culturelle Franco-Ontarienne (UCFO) of North Lancaster elected its new executive at the members regular meeting last Monday April 11.

Congratulations and wishes of success to the following ladies whose mandate will become effective in September 1989: Gisèle Giroux Besner, president; Lucille Campeau, vice-president; Thérèse Bourbonnais, secretary and Lucille Glaude, treasurer. Stella Legros remains arts and crafts president, while Hélèna Campeau is now regional director. The following members are responsible in various areas: Bernadette Campeau for education; Pierrette Larocque for information; Berthe Sauvé for agriculture and economy and Angéline Poirier for social implication.

That same evening, actual president Florence Claude honored active member Hélèna Campeau with a special gift, since the latter capably took over the presidency while Mrs. Claude was away for a month.

First communion

Last Sunday (April 16) was a memorable day in the Christain lives of seven first-time recipients of communion who received the eucharist sacrament at St. Margaret of Scotland's Church in Glen Nevis. Blessings and congratulations to Ecole Ste—Thérèse students: Eric Bishop, Alain Campeau, Jean-Yves Campeau, Mélanie Claude, Christopher Corput, Martine Poirier and Adèle St. Denis who all excelled in their individual share at the special mass. Much merit goes to Grade 2 teacher, Rachelle Owens, who prepared the students so well, and to school Director Jean-Pierre Bourdeau, who created an artistic church poster in honor of the seven youngsters.

Father Witold Mazurkiewicz officiated at the touching ceremony, while the choir rendered heartwarming hymns under the dedicated direction of Georgette Sauvé. May we add that both parishioners and visitors agree that Glen Nevis Church now looks strikingly beautiful with its overall new carpeting . . .

Gymnastic achiever

It was another terrific victory for our vilalge champion gymnast, Suzanne Glaude, who competed in the All-Ontario gymnastic meet in Waterloo last Friday (April 14).

Her proud coach, Jacqueline Fraser, her Gaels teammates and her family and friends, are thrilled about Suzanne's recent spectacular athletic winnings. Sincere appreciations to 15-year-old Suzanne, who reaped in level 3, the gold medal on the vault with a high score of 9.30, a silver on the floor with 9.15 and a bronze on the beam with 9.05, as she competed against cream of the crop gymnasts at the provincial event. Proud boyfriend, Shawn Boyce, is busy at work these days building a trophy and medal cabinet to expose all of Suzanne's numerous gymnastic and judo awards.

Judo winners

At the Hajime Judo Club third annual judo tournament held April 9 in Prescott, four North Lancaster Judo students fared remarkably well. They are, of course, the Glaude sister-and-brother team. Suzanne took first place in the IJF junior females, while Roger won second place in the IJF senior males.

Congratulations are also in order to two of Gilles Glaude's students, Patrick Leroux, winning first place in his weight category for the IJF junior males and Stéphane Boucher, first place in junior boys. Good going to all!

By the way, we just heard that Roger Glaude took third place at a brown and black belt Judo competition for senior males under 86 kg. in Ottawa last Sunday April 16.

Sympathy

Sincere condolences are extended to Mrs. Blanche Brazeau of R.R.1 North Lancaster on the recent death of her son, Collin Brazeau, 59, of Coteau-Landing, Que. Collin was the brother of Roger and Gérald Brazeau, also of the 9th concession, of Maurice Brazeau of Montreal and of Denise Lemieux of Green Valley. Thoughts and prayers go out to the bereaved families, and especially to the wife and son of Mr. Collin Brazeau.,

Welcome

A warm welcome to Don and Monique Reeve, formerly of Vanier, Ont., who have taken up residence in a beautiful new home in our village. They find North Lancaster pleasant and friendly and the ideal location for commuting to their respective jobs in Montreal and Ottawa.

* * *

"Where is Canada's warm spring?" asked Jean and Lise Major upon their return to North Lancaster last Wednesday (April 12) after spending two glorious sunny weeks in Florida. Children Jocelyn and Melissa thoroughly enjoyed the trip and especially the long stretches of sandy beaches

* * *

Rodney Craig is back in our midst after completing his first year in the agriculture business program at Guelph University. He found the courses most interesting and thought that time just flew by. Rodney has already started a summer job and will pursue his studies at Guelph in the fall.

Good wishes

Get well thoughts to two esteemed neighboring ladies, Pat Major and Thérèse (Laurent) Major, who were both recently hospitalized in Cornwall.

* * *

A very happy birthday to Anik Bourbonnais of Alexandria, granddaughter of Joseph and Georgette Bourbonnais of our village. Very pleasant days to Solange Décoste and to 15-year-old Patrick Campeau on April 23.

Happy celebrations to Lise Major and one-year-old daughter Melissa, who share birthdays on April 24.

Congratulations to Normand and Bernadette Campeau on their 18th wedding anniversary on April 24.

"When we built our new R-2000 home, the only things we left out were the drafts."
Chris & Gail Lazenby, R-2000 Homeowners, Stirling

"I guess the best word to describe our old place was drafty. It was a great place. We loved it. But we could never keep it comfortable enough.

"So when we decided to buy a new house, we decided to go R-2000. We checked into it and found that R-2000 would do two things. Cut down on energy costs, and make the place a lot more comfortable.

"The double-glazed windows are great. The ground source heat pump gives us air conditioning in the summer, too. And the fireplace keeps the living room cozy.

"Before we couldn't imagine what it would be like living without drafts. But at times it gets hard to remember what it was like living with them."

Gaels' Glaude strikes gold at gymnastics championships

Glengarry Gaels' Suzanne Glaude ran the full gamut of medal results at the provincial high school gymnastics championships in Waterloo over the weekend.

Glaude — who along with teammate Cynthia Wilson were the only competitors from Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry to rank in the top six of any event — won gold in the vault event with a dazzling 9.30 score, copped a silver medal in floor exercise (9.15) and walked away with a bronze on the beam routine (9.05).

The North Lancaster resident competed in the level three (intermediate) division.

''It was a very impressive performance,'' said Gaels coach Jacqueline Fraser. ''We're very proud of her and of all our athletes who competed this year.''

Wilson, competing in level two (junior), was sixth out of 48 competitors on the beam.

Twelve team members made the trip, qualifying for the provincials at last week's Eastern Ontario competition in Chesterville.

''They all did very well,'' said Fraser, adding that the Eastern Ontario region - one of 12 associations at the meet - finished fifth overall, their best-ever showing.

''The girls all performed very well, and just to have the chance to compete against the best in your province is quite an opportunity,'' said Fraser. ''We have some good level one (beginners) athletes who have only been to two competitions in their life. They're not used to a big competition like this. It's quite an experience for them.

''By having the opportunity to participate at the provincials this year, they'll be more confident next year.''

Gaels' strong showing at the provincials capped a season in which they ran off back-to-back, SD&G and EOSSA team championships. It concluded a year that began with after-school practices six months ago.

''All the hard work paid off for them,'' Fraser said. ''It's been another very rewarding year.''

Era comes to an end as Gananoque eliminates Rebels

by Todd Hambleton
Sports editor

An era ended Tuesday night (April 11) in Williamstown, when Char-Lan Rebels were eliminated from their Rideau-St.Lawrence junior ''B'' final series by Gananoque Platers.

Platers won game five of the set, 5-3, to take the best-of-seven series four games to one.

The contest marked the end of the junior ''B'' careers of 10 veteran Rebels. Char-Lan minor hockey products Brent Laplante, Daryl Menard, Darin Menard and Kevin Chafee, as well as Cornwall-area players Kevin Buchan, Kelly Primeau, Chris Villeneuve, and six-year man Kevin Renwick, have graduated. So too have 21-year-old overage veterans Rod McKenzie and Kevin Poapst.

''What can you say about those two fellas?'' said Rebels president and general manager, John Chafee. ''They were two of the best players that have ever played in the league. Kevin winning the MVP award three years in a row is quite something, and for Roddy to switch to defence this season and have a great year, says something about his talents.

''He (McKenzie) probably could have been in the top three or four in the league in scoring, had he played forward, but he unselfishly went with the team's wishes by playing defence and he did a great job. You just don't replace players like that.''

Two of Char-Lan's 20-year-old grads will be eligible to rejoin the club as overage players in the fall.

Poapst scored the final goal of his illustrious career on a powerplay, giving Rebs a 3-2 lead early in the third period of game five. Gananoque was able to force the overtime session, tying the contest at 3-3 with 4:19 remaining in regulation.

Platers scored twice in the 10-minute overtime — Terry Collete halfway through and Derek Bennett with 49 seconds left — to secure the win and advance to the Eastern Ontario final against South Ottawa Canadians.

Jamie Latreille scored Rebs' two earlier goals.

''Gananoque certainly deserved it in the end,'' said Char-Lan coach Ken MacDonald, whose team posted an 8-3 win in the series opener, then dropped the next four. ''They're a good, all-around team. They got strong goaltending throughout the series, their defence moved the puck well and they were fairly physical.

''They (Platers) had some real good speed on the team. A few of them had breakaway speed, and overall we couldn't stay with them. Our injuries didn't help matters, but we were thin on defence all year and it finally caught up with us.''

Rebels were without rearguards Kelly Primeau and Todd McDonell, for game five. McKenzie and Darin Menard, sidelined for game four in Gananoque, as well as Daryl Menard, who went down with back problems, returned to the lineup for Tuesday's contest.

''We're quite happy to go as far as we did,''said MacDonald, who, in his first year at the helm since the 1986 Eastern Ontario championship season, guided Rebs to a first-place finish in the St. Lawrence division during the regular season, then claimed the divisional playoff crown with wins over Kemptville 73's and Morrisburg Lions. ''We didn't have the strength we had a couple of seasons ago when we won it all, but that was an incredible team. This year's team did very well for themselves. Winning our league is enough for me.''

MacDonald says he didn't set any long-term goals for the club at the start of the campaign. ''We sort of set our goals as we went along. I hadn't seen the team much for a few years. I knew we had quality players, but how it would develop we didn't really know.

''I kind of thought if first-place was still attainable after Christmas, we'd go for it. If not, we'd just try to finish as strong as we could and see what would happen in the playoffs.''

Alexandria ball hockey loop begins 11th season Tuesday

When the Alexandria Men's Ball Hockey League regular season gets under way Tuesday night (April 25, Glengarry Sports Palace), all Remi Sauve will have to worry about is whether his team will be able to successfully defend their championship trophy for a seventh straight year.

Sauve, player-coach of perennial powers Roy's Garage Express, handed over league presidential duties — a position he's held for nine seasons — to Stephane Landriault at an organizational meeting two weeks ago.

''I enjoyed running the league, but I've been doing it for a while and I think it's time for someone else to take it over,'' Sauve said recently. ''I figured now would be a good time to get a younger guy to do it. Stephane will do okay. If he needs any assistance from me, I'll be around to give him some help for the first year or whatever it takes.''

Darrel Lewis retains his position as secretary/treasurer and will also act as league statistician.

''Doing the statistics is a big part of the job. When I was doing the statistics it would take me all night Thursdays to get them done,'' said Sauve, who inherited the presidency from Henry Dumouchel in the league's second season in 1980. He says there were few serious problems to contend with during his tenure.

All in all, things went fairly smoothly. I've always gotten a lot of assistance and co-operation from the team representatives. That made it a bit easier.

''But the one thing I never liked doing, was suspending players. I never enjoyed that. I didn't like seeing anybody get suspended but it happens,'' said Sauve. ''One good thing is, there hasn't really been any serious injuries in our league over the years. From a discipline standpoint our league is one of the best.

''Getting enough teams out to form a league each year has never been a

F.I.S.T. first in indoor league

It's a good thing for Cornwall F.I.S.T. that Jamie Johnston heals quickly.

The Cornwall goaltender was writhing in pain after blocking the second of five Lancaster Rovers overtime penalty shots in the mid-section. But the keeper managed to pick himself up and re-enter the fray,then proceeded to stop two of the Rovers final three kicks, giving F.I.S.T. a 4-3 win and the Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League ''A'' championship trophy, Monday night, in the Char-Lan High School gym.

Tied at 1-1 after regulation time and a 10-minute sudden death overtime period, F.I.S.T. outscored Lancaster 3-2 — on goals by Eric Paquette, Tim Snyder and Guy Carriere — in the penalty kick shootout, to win the title.

Stuart Cowman and Danny Saucier scored shootout goals for Lancaster.

Cornwall had taken a 1-0 lead midway through the first half when Jason Kilger — despite being closely marked - managed to unleash a rising blast from 15 feet out that beat Roger Carriere and lodged just underneath the crossbar.

Lancaster answered back five minutes later, however. Rod Parkinson stripped the ball away from a Cornwall defender and scored to the upper right corner with a quick blast from 20 ft. out.

Lancaster and Cornwall played to a 1-1 draw in game one of the two-game, total goals series a week ago.

Strikers take ''B'' title

Cornwall Strikers made it a city sweep, beating Avonmore Pacers 3-1 in the second game of their total goals series.

Strikers and Pacers played to a 2-2 draw in game one.

Troy Gadbois, Angelo Sanseverino and Henk Kueklein scored for Strikers in Monday's ''B'' final. Les Bradshaw was the lone Pacers marksman.

The Glengarry Curling Club of Maxville hasn't had any trouble adjusting to its new clubhouse on Alexander Street. Jim Campbell, chairman of the building fund committee says the club has enjoyed a very successful inaugural season in the new facility.

Curling facility receiving passing grades

by Todd Hambleton
Sports editor

The early reviews are in and so far the new Glengarry Curling Club building in Maxville has received nothing but passing grades.

''Response has been very favorable,'' says Jim Campbell, chairman of the building fund committee. ''We haven't had any negative response yet. We've had a very successful year.''

Formerly the Maxville and District Curling Club, the Glengarry Curling Club of Maxville moved into their new $500,000 facility — located adjacent to the old soon-to-be-demolished clubhouse on Alexander Street — in early January.

The move was necessary because the expanding club was outgrowing the venerable and decaying old structure, which had opened in 1952. ''The old building just wasn't big enough to accommodate our expanding membership,'' says Campbell, a Maxville resident. ''That was a two-sheet facility; this has three. We were also having trouble maintaining the ice in the old one, because we couldn't control the humidity in the building, with all the cracks on the walls and in the foundation.''

Keeping the ice cold is a non-issue now.

''The ice is very good in the new facility,'' says Campbell. ''And with the extra sheet we can accomodate a lot more curlers.''

And, of course, more curlers means more food and drink being consumed. ''We have a much bigger kitchen area,'' says Campbell, ''So there's no problem there. We also have an enlarged banquet hall upstairs and much better facilities downstairs, with men's and women's locker rooms and a public coat room.''

There's also a meeting room downstairs at ice level to which various organizations in the community will have access.

The club organized a membership drive this year that attracted 100 new members (for a total of 250), surpassing Campbell's wildest expectations. ''To add 100 new members was really phenomenal. We're very happy with the growth of the club. It really exceeded our expectations.''

But things haven't always been so rosy. In 1986, the club approached the Ontario government to inquire about a grant to help build a new ice house, but were turned down. Persistance paid off and a year later, the province came through with a $208,000 grant.

The club raised $150,000 by canvassing old and current members, and borrowed the rest — about $100,000 — to pay for the building.

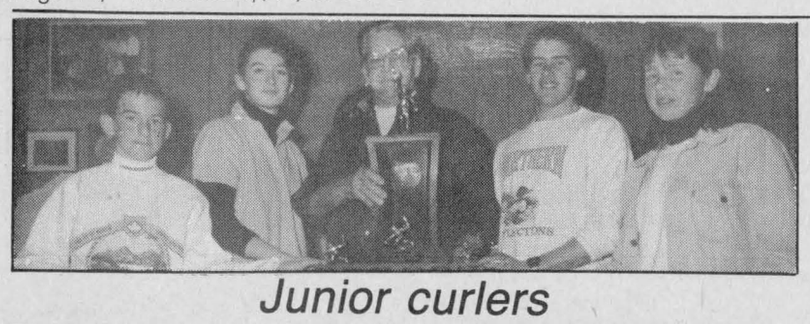
''We shouldn't have any trouble paying that off in the next five years,'' says Campbell, adding that the building was 80 per cent paid for before they moved in. ''That was something we were quite pleased with.''

Construction on the complex began last June, and although it was supposed to be ready in November, it wasn't completed until January. ''That's part of the reason we're still curling,''says Campbell. ''Normally we'd be done by this time, but we'll go until the end of the month because of the late start.''

Campbell says the facility is put to good use, with curling going on every day of the week except most Sundays. There are leagues each night during the week and seniors curl twice a week on afternoons.

''There are bonspiels going on every weekend,'' says Campbell. ''It's a facility for the whole community. At the bonspiel we had today, probably 70 to 80 per cent of the curlers weren't from the club. That's typical of your average weekend.''

Future plans for the club include increasing the size of the parking lot, but Campbell says there will be few future additions. ''We're just going to try to make the club as enjoyable as possible for our membership.''



Junior curlers

The junior curling program at the Alexandria Curling Club wrapped up the season with a banquet and trophy presentations Sunday, April 9. The winning foursome at the Al Malcolmson Bonspiel was, from the left, Jeff Johnson, Julie Dicaire, Al Malcolmson (presenter and founder of junior curler program), Alain Larocque (skip) and Trina MacMillan.

Winners of the Richelieu Club Trophy, presented at the Alexandria Curling Club junior curlers banquet on Sunday, April 9, are Rene Gauthier (presenter), Charlene Ryan (skip), Scott McPherson, Christian Diotte and Jenny Lowe.

By Jeff Lowe

Tapis Richard led by Sue MacIntosh, won games thre and four to clinch the championship series, three games to one.

In game three, Sue MacIntosh scored twice as Tapis Richard won by a score of 3-1. Jackie Bray added a goal and an assist, Anne MacMillan picked up an assist.

Ginette Lalonde scored the lone goal for Art Benton.

Game 4 saw a battle of goaltenders. Carmen Hagen for Tapis Richard and Nathalie Theroet for Art Benton.

Carmen Hagen won the battle as her team defeated Art Benton 2-1. Nathalie Theoret, however, stopped a penalty shot as she embarassed Louise St. Pierre.

Sue MacIntosh, assisted by Sue Delage accounted for Tapis's first goal. Donna MacGregor tied the game as she scored on a pass from Debbie Nadon.

Anne MacMillan was the hero as she clinched the championship for Taqpis with 3:07 remaining in the game.

The B—Final saw Chez Paul defeat Titley three games to two. Game 4 saw Sue Lalonde earn the shutout as Chez Paul won in a 1-0 double overtime victory.

Cheryl Wightman scored the winner assisted by Sylvie Menard. Game 5 saw Sue Lalonde earn another shutout as Paul's won easily, 3-0. Naomi MacKenzie scored a goal and picked up an assist. Janice Munro and Ginette Quesnel also scored for the victors.

Sylvie Menard and Cheryl Wightman picked up assists.

Pizzeria peewee champs

Alexandria Pizzeria scored a 4-3 victory over Lion's Club, to win the Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association peewee house league final series two games to one, Sunday at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Eric Decoste's goal two minutes into sudden death overtime proved to be the difference. Pierre Lauzon had scored for Pizzeria with 16 seconds left in regulation, to send the contest to the extra session. Luc Titley and Lauzon, with his first of two, scored earlier in the period for Pizzeria.

Darcy MacDonell, R. Jeaurond and Joel Bellefeuille scored for Lion's Club, who squandered an early third-period 3-1 lead.

Lion's Club had evened the series at a game with a 5-3 win on Saturday. Darcy MacDonell, with a pair, Kiren MacKinnon and Jeaurond handled the Lion's Club scoring. Luc Titley, with a pair, and Eric Decoste scored for Pizzeria.

Char-Lan Rebels eliminated by Platers

Like a lot of observers, MacDonald figured Alexandria Glens were the team to beat in the post-season. "Especially when they picked up Pierre Roman and Pete Johnson late in the year, I expected Alexandria to win the division in the playoffs.

"It looked like they had strengthened themselves so much on defence, they'd be tough to beat, with all that team speed. But anything can happen in the playoffs. It was really wide open for anybody to win it."

Rebs will be in tough to repeat in 1989-1990. In addition to the heavy graduation toll, the status of several of the club's rookie performers is in limbo.

"We had seven rookies on the team that got pretty good exposure to the league and hopefully they'll be back. But it depends on schooling," said Chafee. "It's definitely a rebuilding year. We finished the year with 12 Char-Lan Minor hockey products on the team and we were hoping we'd have a pretty good base for next year, but it could depend on whether some of the boys go to school out of this area or not.

"There should be three or four players from the Char-Lan midgets that will make the team and we've talked to a couple of players in Cornwall who've shown an interest in playing, so we should be okay."

"The team will certainly have some good players coming back," said MacDonald. "We'll be okay in nets with Philip (Poitras) coming back and certainly Wesley (Jurchuk) had a good year. We'll also have Mathieu Germain and Ronnie Lefebvre up front, but it's going to be very much a rebuilding year.

"We'll be looking for a lot of hockey players. We may be looking for 10 players and possibly more."

"But all in all, it was a pretty rewarding year," said Chafee. "Going all the way, like in 1986, you know what it takes to win. It requires a lot of determination, self-sacrifice and dedication. It's a tough road but we had the dedication this year. The team did very well for themselves."

Raisin River winner

Bruno Major (left) of Williamstown and son Mark, of Alexandria, won the Great White Water Raisin River Canoe Race last week. They picked up their gold medals at a ceremony at St. Mary's Hall in Williamstown. The Majors won the race in a time of 2:24:53, 17 seconds ahead of Richard Lajoie and Martin Lajoie of Vaudreuil-Sur-Le-Lac, Quebec. A hole in their canoe foiled the Major's from winning a second straight race Sunday.

Sauve and Pinard team up for White Water Canoe Race

A hole in one of the boats may have made the difference as two Glengarry teams battled it out for first place at the Jock River White Water canoe race near Manotick, south of Ottawa, Sunday.

With two miles of the 14-mile course remaining, Maurice Sauve of Summerstown and Pierre Pinard of L'Orignal led the father-and-son team of Bruno and Mark Major by 30 ft. when the Major canoe sprung a leak, forcing them to withdraw from the race.

Sauve and Pinard, third-place finishers at the Great Raisin River White Water Canoe Race a week ago — a race won by the Majors — went on to capture first place in a time of 1 hr., 36 mins..

Eric Wheeler and Garry Atcheson of Williamstown took third place.

The Raisin River and Jock River competitions are considered the two premier events in Eastern Ontario spring white water canoe races.

Seminar designed

The Ottawa District Hockey Association will host the 1st Annual Coaches Workshop at the Nepean Sportsplex, June 16 and 17.

The ODHA has designed the workshop to provide hockey coaches at all levels, with material to supplement and enhance information provided by the National Coaches Certification Program.

"The workshop will cover additional topics not included in the standard C.A.H.A. program," says ODHA Development Co-ordinator Rick Ladouceur, a Green Valley native. "The workshop is the first of its kind ever offered in Ontario and will be the pilot for what is expected to be an annual seminar."

The only requirement for participation is certification at any level of the N.C.C.P. program.

More information can be obtained by calling the Ottawa District Minor Hockey Association at 224-7686.

Ball hockey starts Tuesday

problem, either. There's always been enough teams and players interested in playing. We had another team call just last week, wanting to join the league, but we're all filled up."

The same eight teams (Roy's, Chez Paul, Robert Lajoie Tire Service, Mike Gibbs, Alexandria Milling, Greenfield Wings, Glengarry Trophies and Miller Hughes) that competed last year, are back again this year. They'll play each other twice, for a total of 14 regular season games.

The regular season's first-place team will receive a first round playoff (beginning in mid-July and concluding in late August) while the eighth place finisher is excluded from post-season action. The remaining six clubs will play a best two-out-of-three series with the winning teams advancing to the "A" division semi-finals and losers to a round-robin "B" division playoff.

Both "A" and "B" division finals are three-out-of-five affairs.

"We've had as many as 10 teams in the league in the past, but I think we're strongest with just the eight," Sauve said. "With 10 teams, the players are spread out too much and the league is weaker. With the eight teams we have now, we're probably as strong as we've ever been."

Sauve says the biggest change he's noticed during his years at the helm is the improved calibre of play in the loop. "As the years have gone by, the teams have just gotten better and better. And the league has grown in size. You never see a team with not enough players anymore. The interest is high."

He speculates the sport has grown in popularity in this area, as it has in Canada of late, because of our affinity for the sport of hockey, in general.

"The guys just seem to love hockey all year 'round. I think that's the biggest reason for the sport's popularity. We probably have as many guys playing ball hockey as soccer right now, and that wasn't the case just a short time ago. Players used to leave their ball hockey games halfway through them, to go and play soccer. We don't have that problem anymore.

"Even softball has declined in the area, while interest in ball hockey has picked up. I'd say the reason for it is love of hockey, more than anything else."

Roy's Garage, league champs the last seven seasons, have most of last year's club returning, and appear poised to run off an eighth straight title. But Sauve says they won't be taking anything for granted.

"Overall there are four or five very strong clubs that have a shot at it. With the league as balanced as it is right now, any team can beat any other on a given night. I'm expecting it to be another competitive year."

Morris going to Wembley

Kenyon native Frank Morris will be a key player for his team — Ayr, Scotland Bruins — in their bid for Great Britain hockey supremacy at "The Wembley" in Wembley, England, next weekend.

Bruins captured first place in the Scottish league and will be representing their country at the championships.

Morris is a graduate of the sociology and sports medicine program at Concordia University in Montreal and was a stellar performer for the varsity hockey Stingers.

Morris is a former graduate of the Alexandria Minor Hockey Association and the Alexandria Junior "B" Glens hockey team.

Novices end season on high

Char-Lan Branch 544 Novice Rebels ended a successful year on a successful note, winning a pair of lopsided exhibition games and claiming their fifth "A" championship tournament trophy.

In some very competitive games the Rebels took three straight at the Russell tournament, beginning with a 2-1 win over the host team in overtime. Kent McDonell had both Char-Lan goals.

Jamie Lemire scored twice, while Kent McDonell, Stephane Loyer, Randy Rogers, and Michael Rankin each had a single in Williamstown's 6-1 win over Morrisburg.

In the tournament final against Riverside, Char-Lan broke a 2-2 tie with four minutes remaining in the game. The final goal in the 4-2 game was scored into an empty net. Kent McDonell with a hat-trick and Stephane Loyer accounted for the Rebels' scoring.

Both McDonell and Loyer had four goals apiece in exhibition wins against Hawkesbury and Louisville, N.Y. Chris Roy and Kacey MacDonell also scored in Char-Lan's 10-3 thumping of Hawkesbury.

In the 11-2 win over Louisville, Kacey MacDonell added two goals and Michael Rankin, one.

House League

Big Dipper captured the Atom House League Play-off trophy after a hard-fought series against Cornwall Aviation. Each team posted a win and a tie with the victors being decided on total goals, 9 for Big Dipper, 8 for Cornwall Aviation. Brennan Cameron had four play-off goals for the champs, while Kevin Bard scored twice. Albert St. Denis, Kevin Owens and Jason Alguire had one each for the winners. Jason McCallum was the big gun for Cornwall Aviation, scoring four times in the series. Geoffrey McLean had three goals while Jason Buriak chipped in with a single.

Junior champs

Shepp's Pizzeria won the Char-Lan Minor Broomball League junior division playoff championship recently, defeating Munro Feeds three games to one. Team members are, in the front from the left, France Jalbert, Glenda Lauzon and Chantal Quenneville. In the back row are Sasha Grant, Gillian Chaddock, Chantal Valade and Homer Grant (coach).

Big tournout at bonspiel

With 36 teams participating in the annual round up bonspiel the — largest number ever — Hugh Allan MacMillan came away with the top honors.

The spiel was held at the Alexandria Curling Club, last weekend (April 14 and 15). Playing with Hugh Allan were Mario Riggio, Andy Fraser and Mary MacLeod.

The two game runner-up was the rink of Billy MacLeod, Flora Poulton, Debbie Ryan and Lorna MacLeod.

The one game high winners were Hubert Hay skipping, Margaret MacCuaig, third, Duncan G. MacDonell, second and Stuart Nixon playing lead.

The second two game runner up went to the team skipped by Dougal MacLeod, Hughie MacGillivray, Angus W. McDonell and Mary Nixon.

Skipping the one game high runner rink was Donald Angus MacLennan along with John MacLeod, André Lefebvre and Ralph Lunn.

The bonspiel was convened by Dougal MacGillivray and Peggy Lafave while Kitchen convenors were Joy Clinton and Bonnie MacDonald and Claude Nadeau and Joan Ryan were the barbeque chefs.

Music for the evening was supplied by Mike Gibbs while prizes were sponsored by Labatts.

Members are reminded that trophy night is being held on May 6.

Recreation committee to meet soon

APPLE HILL
Gordie VanPutten
527-3473

The Apple Hill Recreation Committee will hold a meeting Monday, April 24 at 7 p.m. in the Apple Hill fire hall. Topics of discussison will include a new pump for the rink and children's playground and ball fields for the upcoming season. If anyone has any suggestions for this year, please feel free to express these at the meeting. The more input, the more output.

Youth Day

A reminder to keep free, April 29, when Youth Day '89 will be held. All youth from Alexandria—Cornwall area are invited to attend. This Christian day should be very interesting and always remembered by those who will participate.

Farewell

Sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Joe Massia will be moving out of Apple Hill. I wish you all the luck in your new home and welcome your nephew, who will be moving into their old home in Apple Hill.

April showers

Well, April showers were all over me this week and also a shwoer of birthdays were this month. It must be that all good people are born in April! To start off, Wallace Quesnel celebrated April 10. Joey Piette turned three years old on April 14. On April 16, Brenda Gordon celebrated her birthday: Did someone say Brenda turned 40? On April 18, Dwight Murray celebrates his day and also on the 18th, Shawna Marjerrison turned 11 years old. Connie Lacroix turns 15 on April 20 and Louis Cartier will be 23 years old on April 22. Aren't we getting up there, Louis? Also on April 22, Mrs. Gertrude Lapierre celebrated her birthday. Allan Faubert will celebrate his birthday on April 23 and to end it all off on a sweet note. Margo MacIntosh will turn "sweet 16" on April 23. Isn't that cute, Margo?

Anniversary wishes

A 14th wedding anniversary will be celebrated by Ann and Bill Van Riel on April 25. Fourteen years of love: Must be Dutch!

Euchre results

On April 11, the Eagles held a card party at St. Anthony's parish hall. I am sorry to report that I have misplaced the names of the winners and therefore I am unable to list them. Congratulations to all who won and I hope this will not happen again.

Dedicated service

Captain Brian Vernon, left, son of Muriel of Loch Garry and the late Charles Vernon, received his Canadian decoration medal, representing 12 years of dedicated service to the Canadian Forces. He is currently serving as an instruction at the air weapons control and counter measures school, CFB North Bay.

Area correspondent back after break

GLEN NORMAN
Mary Lacelle
525-1372, 525-4998

Hello all you wonderful people! It is good to be back, and I do hope to hear from all of you to the east, west, north and south of me; and many thanks to Audry Cober for filling in the past two months.

I must go back a ways to March 29. There are two reasons I remember that date. It was my brother Alcide's birthday, and it was the day The Glengarry News had the 1880 high school arithmetic entrance exam, submitted by Mr. Daniel MacDonald, in the paper. I must say I was boggled by the exam, and felt a great amount of respect for all those studious souls whose education depended on it. Well that was a moment's thought and then it was forgotten, until Thelma Johnson called me last week, disappointed that no one has sent in the answers. Eager beaver that she is, she tackled a few of the problems and talked Henry into trying the same. They would really like to know if they are right, close to right or completely wrong. Thelma challenged me, and I did make an attempt, but I can't prove anything either, as my calculator would need about two more inches of digit space. Could someone phone and give me the answers, so we'll all be a little wiser?

Philosophic tidbits on education: The greatest aid to adult education is children; The foundation of every place is the education of its youth, and education is what you have left over when you subtract what you've forgotten from what you've learned.

If you are an Aries, you are among such famous people as Hans Christian Andersen, Thomas Jefferrson, Leonardo da Vinci, William Shakespeare, Queen Elizabeth II, Lester B. Pearson and Ulysses. Grant. Happy birthday to my brother-in-law and nephew, Wayne and Ricky Brunet, my niece Cindy Seguin, a grand-nephew Luke Riel, my brother Donald Bergeron, Mary O'Connor and Morag Libbos.

April anniversaries

John and Yollande Hehn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bergeron celebrate on April 23 and Hubert and Jean Quesnel, April 24. Best wishes to all.

Yours truly attended the bridal shower of Suzanne Dorie, daughter of Lionel and Marcella, on Sunday afternoon.

There was a large turnout of friends and neighbors, and relatives, relatives and more relatives, which was very nice, as there were a few cousins I had the opportunity of meeting for the first time. This shower was a complete surprise for Suzanne, as she was under the impression that she was attending an Iona Academy school reunion. She received so many gifts that she will either have to rent a trailer or Lionel will have to use his hay wagon to get them to their destination.

Congratulations to Liane Ward and her group, who came in first in the air band competition for their performance of "Rocky Horror Picture Show" Liane was the skeleton. And to Lynn McCuaig and Luane MacDonald's group who took second place, congratulations. Lynn portrayed Chris De Burg and Luane was the stripper. Best of luck to you all in the upcoming Cornwall competition.

First communion

More Grade 2 students had their first communion this Sunday at Ste. Marie's church. They are Catherine Aubin, Daniel Brunet, Renel Cadieux, Katrina and Nicholas Campeau, Nicholas Currie, Tanya Decoste, Marie-Claude Doré, Manon Jeaurond, Rachelle Leblanc, Alain Lefebvre, Darquise Menard, Marc-André Miron, Miriam O'Connell, Martine Poirier and Julien Sarda.

The class celebration for the Grade 2 children will be held at the 9 a.m. mass next Sunday (April 23).

Father Dumoulin gave each child a certificate and handmade prayer beads to commemorate this special event.

La Vie Montante

Members of La Vie Montante held their monthly meeting April 11, with 22 members in attendance. Minutes of the meeting were read, and Isidore Secours presided the meeting, with Sister Rita Quesnelle as the spiritual animator. Mass was celebrated by Father Raymond Dumoulin.

Members met at Gilbert Gauthier's sugar camp last Thursday, having as their host Marie-Anne Gauthier, who made pancakes to our hearts' content. Majella Lajoie and her committee prepared the good old-fashioned meal.

Music was provided by Georges Lajoie on the violin, and Sister Rita led a sing-song that kept the members in a good lively atmosphere for part of the afternoon. Others enjoyed a good round of cards.

The members of the diocese will be meeting May 3 at St. Paul's University for a mini congress in Ottawa and a day of study.

There are tickets circulating for a hand-crocheted bedspread. Anyone interested in taking a chance may contact Majella Lajoie at 525-3731, Viau's Ladies Wear, or Lalonde's Ladies Wear.

This bedspread will be drawn on Mother's Day at the 11 p.m. mass.

The next meeting will be held May 9 in the rectory hall.

Birthday wishes go to Linda Menard on April 19, to Leo Seguin on April 21, to Marc Piché on April 11, to Hortense Charbonneau on April 15, Carole Brunet on April 10 and to Karine Brothaler who was four years old on April 17.

Happy birthday to all!

Optimist Club

Remember a couple of weeks ago, I wrote about the Green Valley Optimist Club's hockey tournament in Rockland? Well, they lost the "B" title and I wished them better luck the next time. It think it worked, because this weekend they played in another tournament in Alexandria and won the "A" title.

The team defeated Glen Robertson 9-2 in the first game. In the second they downed North Lancaster 12-2 and won the final game against St. Isidore with a score of 4-1.

Len Seguin won top scorer for the tournament.

Congratulations to our guys! I guess the first tournament was just a warm-up!

4-Hers gather to learn first aid

By Heather Pasco

Twenty-four enthusiastic 4—H members from the North and South of Glengarry Home and Farm Safety Clubs met the second week in April to wrap up a dynamic project: Looking Out for No. 1.

Parents attended the meeting to see their children display what they had learned in the preceding lessons through posters, skits and speeches.

The guest speaker for the evening was VON, Roseanne Carr, who helped the two clubs with the lesson on First Aid. Also present were Martine Bertier, ROS, Anna Krol, Helen McKenzie, and John Ferguson, Home and Farm Safety Association members. Leaders for both clubs also participated: Christina Urquhart, Johanna Peters, and Anne Chaddock. Emcee for the evening was junior leader for South Glengarry club, Heather Pasco.

The North Glengarry club presented a skit on safety, while the south club members displayed posters and presented speeches on which lesson was their favorite. Mischeala Mader wrote an exceptional speech.

The group learned that disadvantages to drinking and taking drugs are: Your heart rate increases; you have more chance of getting heart disease; your grades could drop; you could get into trouble with the law; you gould gain weight from drinking; you might get killed in a drinking and driving accident; you could develop family problems and you could develop health problems.

Youth goes higher in French speaking contest

DALKEITH
Jean MacLennan
874-2385

Congratulations to Eric Emmanuel Vaillant, who won the boys' section of the French public speaking contest recently held at Glen Robertson. Now he will go on to Gloucester on May 6, representing Zone 6 in the Optimist International District finals. Good luck!

Sympathy is extended to the family of the late Donat Lanthier, who died quite suddenly in hospital in Alexandria on Friday, April 14.

* * *

Marion and Allister MacGillivray enjoyed a visit from his nephew, Grant MacGillivray, and his daughter Marion of Wetaskiwin, Alta. Also over the weekend, their daughters, Gwen of Ottawa, and Heather of Pakenham, were home.

* * *

On Saturday, friends and relatives of Edith and Lloyd Howes joined with them to celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary at a tea held in their honor at Laggan Public School. Congratulations.

* * *

On Sunday, Ken, Nancy, Kara, Grant and Emily MacLeod travelled to Laval, Que. for a farewell party for Nancy's niece, Koreen Fahey. She will be moving to Switzerland to work. They were accompanied by Mrs. A. McGibbon, Vankleek Hill.

Suzanne Polsky, Oakville, spent some days with her mother, Merle Levac, who is recuperating after a hospital stay.

Dorothy and Cliff Rae have returned from their winter holiday at Tarpon Springs, Florida.

On April 5, Gwen (Thomas) Pincombe, London, Ont., died quite suddenly in hospital in Barrie. She is survived by five children, her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Norman Thomas, Barrie; Joyce Reynolds, Toronto; The Rev. Norman (Sargent) of Calgary and Kenneth of Toronto. She was predeceased by her brother, Roy (Pringle) in December, 1988.

From 1939—42, the Thomas family lived in the United Church manse, Kirk Hill, and the children attended Pine Grove School.

Last Thursday, the last euchre of the season was held at Laggan, followed by a lovely pot luck supper.

Results were: Ladies' first—Dorina Theoret; ladies' second—Edith Howes; men's first—Steven Robinson and men's second—Clifford McDonald.

Door prizes were won by Alice Barton, Catherine Fraser, Cindy McRae, John Peter McDonell and Elden Cutts.

Convenors of the evening were Linda McDonald, Cheryl McBean, Myrna MacSweyn, Lorna MacLeod, Billie and Janice Nixon and Catherine Fraser.

55th anniversary

Edith and Lloyd Howes of Dalkeith celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on Saturday, April 15, at Laggan Public School. They were melediously welcomed into the school by a bagpipes playing grandaughter.

Many confirmed Sunday

GLEN ROBERTSON

Winners of the card party held at the Social Centre on April 11 were as follows: Malvina Lefebvre, Rita Villeneuve, Leo Goulet, Maurice Sauve, Rolland Lalonde and Antoinette Lalonde. Annette Lyman was the recipient of the skunk prize. The door prize went to Rita McCarthy. The draw was won by Irene Lavigne, Antoinette Lalonde and Ina O'Brien and the special to Diana Giroux and Mrs. Auxilia Poirier.

The next card party is April 25.

Confirmation

Last Sunday at the 9:30 mass in a beautiful ceremony, 22 pupils were confirmed by Bishop Eugene LaRocque. Those who received this sacrament were Jeff Wylie, Lisa Decoste, Marie Josée Faubert, Julie Horvath, Marilyn Cooper, Normand Lacroix, Michel Lortie, Sophie Proulx, Mélanie Lussier, Anik Poirier, Fanny Van Den Oetelaar, Nancy Titley, Tania Villeneuve, Anik Aubin, Martine Chenier, Darquise Decoeur, Paulette Piette, Guylaine Poirier, Jocelyne Théoret, James Lacombe, Marc Lacombe and Kevin Seguin. Congratulations to all of you! Confirmation is one of the seven sacraments and these are the fruits promised by the Holy Spirit on this very special day and by each and every one of us, if we are sincere in asking for them.

They are love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, humility, and self-control. Fine qualities to possess, don't you think? After mass, refreshments were served in the parish hall.

Optimist news

Last Saturday night, Club President Michel Rozon and wife Paulette, Maurice Sauvé and yours truly were in Rockland to represent our club to celebrate the roast of past-governor, Roch Roy. Members and spouses gathered at l'Heritage last Sunday for their weekly meeting which was followed by a supper. Attention, teens: This Friday (April 21) at the Social Centre, the Optimists will hold a teen dance at 8 p.m. for youth aged 11 to 15. Station to Station will supply the music.

Our sympathy goes out to our Optimist hockey team, which entered the North Lancaster tournament. Although they lost all three games, they enjoyed themselves and closed out their hockey season by having a mixed game between themselves and their spouses.

Welcome to the BIG 40, Weisy (Gareau)

SALE OF LAND
BY PUBLIC TENDER
Municipal Tax Sales Act, 1984
The Corporation of the Township of Lancaster

Take notice that tenders are invited for the purchase of the land(s) described below and will be received until 3:00 p.m. local time on May 17th, 1989 at North Lancaster, Ontario K0C 1Z0.

The tenders will then be opened in public on the same day at 3:30 p.m. in the township hall.

DESCRIPTION OF LAND(S) part of Lot 7, Conc. 9 in the Township of Lancaster, County of Glengarry and containing approximately 4.37 acres. Minimum tender amount $4,147.35.

N.B. It is to be noted that this property has no road frontage, public or otherwise, and that the municipality cannot guarantee access. This property is located approximately 950 feet away from the nearest public road.

Tenders must be submitted in the prescribed form and must be accompanied by a deposit in the form of a money order or of a bank draft of cheque certified by a bank, trust company or Province of Ontario Savings Office payable to the municipality (or board) and representing at least 20 per cent of the tender amount.

The municipality makes no representation regarding the title to or any other matters relating to the land to be sold. Responsibility for ascertaining these matters rests with the potential purchasers.

This sale is governed by the Municipal Tax Sales Act, 1984, being chapter 48 of the Statutes of Ontario 1984 and the Municipal Tax Sales Rules made under that Act. The successful purchaser will be required to pay the amount tendered plus accumulated taxes and the relevant land transfer tax.

Sewer work shouldn't stop residents from patronizing businesses

MAXVILLE

Gordon Winter
527-2888

Clara (nee Silmser) and Emile Cuillerier, Montreal were weekend visitors with relatives in the village.

Audrey and Bill Reid are back home again after a two-month Florida vacation.

Two sisters, Sarah Lacroix and Catherine Scott, have moved to Dominionville to live with their sister Nettie Bergeron. To be more specific, the location of the Bergeron home was called Notfield many years ago.

* * *

John Harrison Jr., Whitby, was a recent caller on his grandmother, Florence McNaughton.

The winner of the rain work jacket, that was offered in a free draw in the Master Garden Booth at the recent Farm and Home Show was George McLean, Finch.

It was regrettable that the Bank of Nova Scotia no longer required its house on Peter Street for a manager. The new owner is Ubald Cardinal, who has not moved in yet, but when he does, a hearty welcome is awaiting him.

* * *

We always consider it complimentary when former residents come back to visit and to attend church. Sheila and Elgin Montgomery and Rylan, Manotick Station, were here recently.

The goldfinches are beginning to display their summer coloration. With a gradual moulting process, the males are losing their drab winter colors and taking on the bright yellow ones.

The first killdeer was reported last Thursday. Readers have been wondering about a certain strange habit of the robins. At this time of year, the male robins are back alone and are staking out territorial rights. Occasionally, a male robin will see its reflection in a basement window and start fighting with it. I have seen this happen until the single male plays out fighting with its image. However, he must feel gratified when his ''opponent'' plays out at the same time.

Mavis Williamson, Jason and Colleen from Lahr, Germany, were home for two weeks visiting with Helen and Ian MacRae and other relatives.

The family is very happy over there and enjoying work, Germany and learning to speak German and is hoping to obtain an extension on the length of their posting with the armed forces.

Doreen and Allan Merrick enjoyed a two-week holiday in Barbados.

Sewer work continues

The sewer work along Main Street seems to be proceeding well and those in charge are satisfied with the time schedule.

Let us think of our business people along Main Street. The construction work certainly does not help their businesses, so this is an appeal for all to put themselves out to patronize our own folk. It may mean parking farther away and walking, or it may mean a longer drive and some maneuvering around piles of earth to get to the gas pumps. However, let us think of others and not just our own convenience.

Lena Golden was a happy lady one Sunday recently when she had a nice, large crowd of relatives visiting her. Her sister Laura Larocque came from Spencerville with her son Denzil and two granddaughters, and brother-in-law Spurgeon and Dora Golden, along with their daughter Elizabeth, came from Alexandria.

Vera MacEwen was in the Barbados for three weeks and reports that she had an excellent holiday, although there was more rain than is sometimes expected on that island.

Gladys and Gerald MacEwen, Ottawa, spent a couple of days last week with Catherine McEwen.

Shirley Cutten, New Liskeard, spent a week with her aunt Anne Bruce after the funeral of her uncle, Dan MacKillican.

Keep the evening of May 8 open for the next meeting of the Centennial Committees at the Sports Complex.

Euchre season opens

The first euchre sponsored by the Young-at-Heart Senior Citizens group in their room in the basement of the Anglican Church was held on April 10.

One lady went home very happy, if not a bit embarrassed. Gladys Barton, Vankleek Hill, had top prize for the ladies and also won two 50-50 draw prizes.

Grace Doth was in good playing form and was second-prize winner, followed by Marie O'Brien, Monkland.

Morrisburg's Howard Eamon led the gentlemen players, followed by Mac O'Byrne and Hormidas St. John.

Ellery McMillan from Finch won the door prize and other 50-50 draw winners were Jean Heath, Olive McLean and George Essery from Moose Creek, Norman MacLeod, Dunvegan, Rannie McPherson, Alexandria, Eva St. John, Maxville and Norbert Ryan, Casselman.

The next euchre will be on April 24 at the same time and place. This first euchre had 11 3/4 tables of players. New players will be made welcome at this evening of fun and fellowship and if they assist in filling up all the tables, will have helped to avoid the complications of part tables.

Maxville and District Lions Club will be celebrating its 25th Charter Night on May 6 at the Sports Complex. Watch for more complete details.

National Garden Week

You may never have heard of it but the third week of April is annually declared National Garden Week. Its purpose is to increase the awareness of the benefits of gardening to the Canadian people, from the perspective of food production, aesthetic improvement and recreation.

Volunteers at Manor

Activities for the volunteers working in or out of the Manor continue for Volunteer Appreciation Month. From April 24-28, a videotape providing information on AIDS may be viewed at the Manor.

On April 27, Sue Pike from the Central Volunteer Bureau in Ottawa will address ''The Changing Role of Volunteers'' from 1:30-4 p.m. at the Maxville Sports Complex.

A volunteer appreciation banquet will follow at 6 p.m. The deadline for the registration for this banquet is April 17. Please contact Phyllis Burtenshaw at 527-2170 to register for the afternoon activities and the banquet.

Maxville Manor birthdays

April is the month of several notable birthdays at the Maxville Manor. From the left are Miss Edna Jane Cameron, who turns 90 on April 24; Mrs. Ethel Alguire, who turned 90 on April 10; and Mrs. Margaret MacEwen, who'll be 93 on April 25. Absent from the photo is Mrs. Margaret Whiteford, who turns 99 on April 26.

VON coming to Alexandria on May 1

The Victorian Order of Nurses is coming to town.

Nine nurses who currently work out of the VON offices in Cornwall and Hawkesbury will move into a new office at 45 Main Street North in Alexandria on May 1. The office will serve the town and surrounding areas such as Green Valley, Dalkeith, Dunvegan, Greenfield and Maxville.

VON Director Ann McKim said Friday, about 100 clients from Alexandria and area are already served by VON.

A direct benefit of the Alexandria office will be the increased ability of the nurses to keep in touch with the needs of clients and potential clients in Glengarry. It may also increase the use of the VON.

''The further away a service is, the less apt you are to use it,'' said the director.

The nurses who will look after this area, either live here now or will move to Glengarry, and will not have so far to drive.

Also, palliative care clients in this area needing unexpected nursing care after regular office hours, are now served by an on-call nurse who may live in Cornwall or Hawkesbury a 35-40 minute drive away. Come May, local clients will be served by nurses who live here.

The nurses' visibility in this area will also increase.

Two other VON offices are located in Casselman and Winchester and the four offices serve Glengarry, Stormont, Dundas, Prescott and Russell.

Victorian Nurses provide nursing care to disabled or elderly people in an attempt to help them stay in their own homes longer.

Nurses to work out of the Alexandria office are Sylvia McMillan, who will be the local team leader, Dawn McPherson, Anna Den-Otter, Susan Lajoie, Sharon Thibeault, Linda Menard, Doris Barton, Lynn Levere and Roseann Carr.

Auld Lang Syne

NINETY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 21, 1899

•John R. Shaw this week purchased a first-class soda water plant and will engage in the manufacture of all kinds of artificial drinks. He has added improvements to the plant and is also putting up a new building. Several hands will be employed.

•D. D. McNaughton, DVS, of Laggan, left on Monday for Devil's Lake, N.D., where he will follow up his veterinary practice.

•D. Courville, Geo Lavoie and D. Gamelin wheeled from Maxville to Greenfield on the railway track Sunday. They say the road was somewhat rough.

•The River de Grasse rose pretty high the beginning of this week. Hurley's bridge, west of Dalkeith, couldn't stand the pressure and collapsed.

•Charles Brown is repainting the Ottawa Hotel.

•Twin calves were born on the farm of P. D. Sinclair, St. Elmo, on Thursday.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 23, 1909

•The first meeting of Alexandria Cheese Board will be held on the 13th day of May. At the annual meeting held last Wednesday, A. D. McDonell, 1-3rd Kenyon, was named president; A. A. McKinnon, vice-president; R. H. Proctor, sec.-treas., and James Martin, salesman.

•Allan McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McMillan, 7-4th Kenyon, left Wednesday morning for Ottawa, where he will join a survey party and leave immediately for Alberta.

•We congratulate Miss J. K. McLeod of Dunvegan, who graduated from the Union Hospital Training School for Nurses, Fall River, Mass., on April 10.

•Oscar Gareau's many friends will regret to learn that he arrived home from Cobalt this week suffering from a severe attack of inflamation of the lungs.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 25, 1919

•At a well attended meeting, Friday, April 11, in the Grant Hall, Dunvegan, a Farmers' Club was formed covering that district. Officers elected were: President, Fred McLeod; vice-president, D. J. Stewart; secretary-treasurer, Ewen McLennan; directors, M. Clark, N. R. McLeod, K. McDonald, Hugh Dewar, D. H. McIntosh and A. Grant.

•Included in the large Glengarry quota of soldiers returning this week were: Spr. O. D. Empey, A. Currier, E. Rolland, D. J. Bethune, Maxville; Spr. N. McLeod, Dalkeith; L/Cpl. Donald R. McDougall, Leo Lauzon, A. Currier, Dvr. J. J. Bedard, Alexandria; Gnr. J. U. MacEwen, Gnr. E. Duperron, W. J. McIntosh, Martintown; N. M. McDonald, Williamstown; J. A. McLeod, Dunvegan; Duncan McDonald, Glen Roy; G. D. Montgomery, Moose Creek.

•The home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gelineau of Lochiel was the scene of a most pleasant event Tuesday evening, when a welcome home was tendered his sister, Miss C. Gelineau, and three brothers, Lieut. Peter, Privates James and Mark Gelineau from overseas.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 26, 1929

•Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dever of Alexandria, announce the engagement of their daughter Ella Marguerite, to Hubert S. Macdonald of Three Rivers, Que., son of Col. and Mrs. A. G. F. Macdonald of Alexandria, the marriage to take place early in June.

•Charles M. Stewart, Dunvegan, has been appointed manager of this district with headquarters at Cornwall, by the Confederation Life Assurance Co. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and son Harold are this week taking up residence at Cornwall.

•The following Queen's University students have returned to their Maxville homes for the holidays: Miss Catherine MacLeod, Duncan Hoople, Lawrence Franklin, Keith McDougall and Hilton McEwen.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 21, 1939

•John W. MacEwen of the OAC, Guelph, is holidaying with his mother, Mrs. A. J. MacEwen, Maxville.

•Miss Edith McLeister left last week for Toronto to accept a position in the Department of Labor.

•Among those from Apple Hill in Montreal to see the Royals-Port Arthur hockey game last Thursday were: Dr. Geo. V. McDonald, P. D. McIntyre, Archie G. McDonald, John W. Munro, Cyril and Charles Macdonell.

FORTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 22, 1949

•A former resident of 12-2nd Kenyon, Archie McDonald, 67, was killed near Timmins, April 16 when struck by a car.

•A committee of Counties Council has been named to consider erection of a new Home for the Aged.

•Dr. D. J. Dolan, Alexandria, was elected president of the Separate School section of the Trustee & Ratepayers' Association of the OEA.

•A new salary schedule with higher minimum salaries was approved for the teachers of the three high schools in Glengarry by the Area Board. The minimum will now be $2,200, and the maximum $3,200, with annual increment at $100. Also granted was a $200 increase to all teachers, effective next September.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, April 23, 1959

•Sparks from a grass fire destroyed the farm home of Emile Maille, 7th Lancaster on Friday. The family of four came to the area from Montreal two years ago.

•Vicar-General of the diocese until his retirement in 1956, Msgr. Albert McRae died Saturday at 86.

•Gold medals in the Cornwall Music Festival were won by Billy Morris, vocal solo; Jeanie and Grace Morris, vocal duet. Betty Seguin and Lillian St. Pierre, Martintown, were first in vocal duets from one-room schools.

•Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Neil McCormick spent last week with their families here before leaving last weekend to take up residence in Ottawa.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, April 24, 1969

•The body of Allan McBain, 17, was found in 15 feet of water in the Raisin River on Thursday after four days of dragging. The youth had been missing since the previous Sunday and the recovery was made a few hundred feet east of his home near Finney's Bridge west of Lancaster.

•A meeting has been called for Wednesday night by the Park and Recreation Committee to revise plans for development of facilities on park and playground.

Father John McPhail's musical group was photographed at a concert in Avonmore around 1967 by Clifford MacRae of Cornwall. Group member Edna MacMillan says some of the members couldn't play, but Father MacPhail made his musicians feel they were the best in strathspey and reel. In the back from the left are Hugh Allen MacMillan, Alex McDonell, Duncan MacDonald, Martin Ferguson and Father John McPhail. In the center are Cliff Breton, "Little" Jack MacDonald, John MacDonald, Edna MacMillan and Viola McCuaig. In the front row are Donald Kennedy, Donnie (Ian) MacLeod and Beverly MacQueen.

•Building Inspector Roch Boisvenue has issued building permits for six new homes with a value of $61,000, so far in April.

•French language subjects will be taught in Maxville High School starting in September.

•A fifth barn fire to hit the area in a little more than a week destroyed the large barn on the farm of Mrs. A. H. Kennedy, one mile west of McCrimmon on Sunday.

•Maxville will have an entry in the Glengarry Soccer League this season. Their home games will be played under lights on the fairgrounds.

TEN YEARS AGO
Wednesday, April 18, 1979

•Brenda MacRae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacRae of Lancaster is one of four Junior Farmer Club members selected to represent the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario on travelling scholarships to the United Kingdom in 1979.

•Rector of St. Finnan's Cathedral in Alexandria from 1951-1965, Rev. John D. McPhail died Good Friday, April 13.

•Rev. Witold Masurkiewicz, a native of Poland, has taken over the administrative duties of St. Margaret of Scotland Parish, Glen Nevis. Rev. Patrick Breton, former parish priest there, has announced his retirement.

WMS of Gordon Church to meet tomorrow

ST. ELMO
W. MacKinnon
527-2348

Good wishes for better health to Mrs. Jake Vanderwal of Sandringham Road, following her recent hospitalization in Cornwall.

The WMS of Gordon Church, St. Elmo, will meet in the church hall tomorrow (Thursday, April 20) at 8 p.m.

Two teams from the Glengarry Curling Club, Maxville, participated in the Senior's Curling Bonspiel on Thursday (April 13) at the Valleyfield Curling Club. The teams were skipped by Bruno Besner and Eli Martin. Members of the teams were Jimmy Campbell, Chester Valley, Wilfred Vallance, Hugh Fisher, Russell Marjerrison and Wallace MacKinnon.

Members of the Gordon Church WMS attended the special "thank-offering" service in Knox Church, Moose Creek, on Sunday evening (April 16). The guest speaker was Mrs. Beth Anne Yando of Kemptville, the area educational consultant for Eastern Ontario for the Presbyterian WMS (WD). The Knox Church WMS Moose Creek were hosts for the special "thank-offering" service

Good wishes for Mrs. Helen Ayotte of Sandringham Road, who is a patient in the Cornwall General Hospital.

* * *

Weekends visitors with Paul Wilson and Tammy were her parents, Roy and Lynn McGregor of Manotick, and Paul's mother, Mrs. Jean Wilson of Ottawa.

Prepare now for children's parade

LANCASTER
Janice Montreuil
347-7464, 347-2420

Hello again, folks. Another good Glengarry week is ahead with lots to do. My garden rake is calling me to clean up the yard and pick up all the trash that was stuck in the snow for months. The dog's bone-yard outside our front door is the first place to be done!

Knights news

While we're on the subject of cleanups, Richard Pilon sent news that Knights of Columbus No. 8715—Lancaster will have a yard sale on July 8. Now, I know that is far away, but he asks all you good people out there to keep this in mind when doing your spring cleanup. You can call Richard at 347-3745.

Children's parade

Speaking of July, I want to alert all the kids in the area of the second Annual Children's Parade to be held July 1st weekend in Lancaster. Get cracking now on the best costumes and come on out and have some fun. There are four categories and age groups beginning at five years old and up to 14 years. Start reminding your moms now, kids, to help you with the costumes. You can call me at 347-7464 for more info.

Pacemakers

Pacemakers Seniors Club members are reminded of their meeting this Friday (April 21) at 3:30 p.m. at Lancaster Legion Hall.

* * *

Congratulations to the "B" championship winners of the prestigious Lord Elgin competition held this past weekend in Montreal, with 32 rinks competing. The winning team members were Norman Leroux, Coleman MacDonald, Les Wert and Bob Blanchard, all of Lancaster and District Curling Club.

Ecole St. Joseph

Ecole St. Joseph in Lancaster is pleased to announce the names of students who have made special efforts to improve their work at school during the month of March. On the Francais a l'honneur list were Bernard St. Pierre, Stephanie Bourdon, Julie Ouellet, Francis Leboeuf, Laurie Rogers, Erin Cumming, Damien Lafave, Leo Pilon, Angele Viau and Rachel Quenneville. Congratulations to all these fine students.

Community Protestant Church

At a recent meeting of the congregation of the Community Protestant Church, Eric Urquhart was requested to represent them at the National Spring Meeting of the Conference of the Congregational Christian Churches in Ontario to be held May 26, 27 and 28 at York University in Toronto. The theme this year is "Coming Together." Rev. Clifford Christensen, president of World Evangelical Congregational Fellowship, will be the theme speaker. It was also agreed at that congregational meeting of the Community Protestant Church that donations be made to Lancaster and District Non-Profit Housing Inc. and the Cornwall Joint Hospital Building Fund. An invitation to worship at Smithsfield Hall any Sunday at 10 a.m. is extended to all, especially those without a church home at present.

Masonic service

The Eastern District Masonic Divine Church Service will be held May 7 at 2 p.m. at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church (Old Stone Church), South Lancaster. Everyone is welcome.

Lancaster Public School

Lancaster Public School has lots to report this week. Congratulations to the boys and girls floor hockey teams who won the "A" and "B" divisions respectively. This tournament took place in Martintown on March 23. The senior girls' basketball team won the "B" championship at Char-Lan. The Science Quiz team defeated three teams in regular play to qualify for the finals. Team members were Sean Burgess, Dustin Bleile, Jana Hallberg, Ian Cameron and Jane Tesky. They met on the evening of April 12 to match heads with Bishop MacDonell separate school. The game was a close one, with Bishop prevailing. The organizers are to be congratulated for a very well-organized event. On April 17, the primary grades travelled to St. Lawrence College to enjoy the play "Cinderella". The French scrabble team has been dedicating time to prepare for the annual tournament in Roxmore. They were scheduled to play on Tuesday (April 18). The entire school is also preparing for Education Week, which officially runs from April 24 to 28. A Book Fair is planned for April 19 to 27. Students and parents will have the opportunity to purchase books for all age levels. Winners of the first public speaking competition sponsored by the Lancaster Optimists will repeat their speeches to visitors on April 27. Winners were Julie Rogers, Sarah Harris and Anne McCuaig. Julie advances to the next level of competition in Ottawa. On that day, the Grade 8 class will present the play "It's My Life" which they wrote and presented at the Drama Festival at General Vanier Secondary School. On April 27, parents are invited to visit classes in the morning and enjoy various student talents in the afternoon. All ages are involved in the songs, plays and band selections. It is hoped that all entries of the school Science Fair can be displayed on that day.

Char-Lan Alley Cats

June Pecore of the Char Lan Alley Cats Bowling League called with results of two weeks of play. For the week of April 6, men's high single and men's high triple was taken by Ted Lalonde. Ladies' high single was won by Yvette Brodeur. Ladies' high triple starred Dot Walters. For the week of April 13, men's high single was won by Rene Amelotte. Men's high triple was taken by John Corput. Ladies' high single starred Sheila Urquhart. Ladies' high triple was won by Ina Davies.

Six winners get money and trophies

ESRG IN THE NEWS
Lise Bourdeau

Another week of bustling activities at ESRG!

Thursday, March 23rd, was a day filled with nervousness for 8 of our junior students..

They participated in the Optimist Club's public speaking contest. Many crafted speeches were presented to the judges. Each participant, 16 years of age or younger, had to compose a speech on a particular topic. The three grand winners were Dominique Roy (1st), Josée Titley (2nd) and Marie-Josée Bergevin (3rd).

The senior students presented their public speaking skills Monday, April 3rd. Approximatley 12 students were competing for first place. Such fascinating topics as "The Meaning of Love", "Psychology", "The French language", "Originally", "Gossiping" and "Obesity" made up the speeches which entertained the judges from the Richelieu Club. Nathalie Bourdon won first place with the topic of love, following closely behind were Lucie Tardif, Sylvain Faubert, Patrick Leroux, Monique Poirier and André Marcoux. Nathalie and Lucie presented their speeches again on Monday, April 10th, to the Richelieu Club members in a Regional contest. The six winners were awarded money prizes with trophies donated by the Club. Congratulations to all the winners.

The organization, "Les jeunes naturalistes", met on March 27 to organize their canoe outing down the Delisle River. Approximately 24 students will join Maurice Sauvé from Alexandria to pursue a two hour, 15km, excursion on April 22nd. If you have a canoe and want to enjoy a beautiful day, come and join our expedition. For more information, you can contact Jo-Anne Vallée through the high school.

* * *

The theatre group, "Le Sablier", boosted the school's spirits when it participated in the Seaway Drama Festival at Tagwi Secondary School on April 1. Sylvain Léger and Myriam Dubois received high acclaim from the judges for their outstanding performances throughout the play. Congratulations to Mr. Larocque and all the artists who participated.

Anyone who saw that big smile on Mrs. Fraser's face Friday realized that our school won still another SD&G championship. The girls' gymnastics team will represent ESRG/GDHS at the EOSSA tournament in Waterloo, Ontario, in May. Once again our trophy case is overflowing. WOW!
