The Iroquois Chieftain

Wednesday, March 28, 2007 "Serving the Seaway Valley" Vol 26 No. 13 Price $1.00

The Martha L. Black came up the St. Lawrence River last week. The ship is a light icebreaker. Clearing the ice from the river from the Great Lakes to Montreal is a sure sign of spring. In this photo the Martha L. Black has just cleared the Iroquois Locks on Tuesday, March 20 a day before the official start of the 49th shipping season for the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Committee formed to lobby for LTC beds

BY ANDREA CARTIER
SPECIAL TO THE CHIEFTAIN

If the attendance at a recent meeting to discuss the issue of Long Term Beds is any indication, there are a lot of people in this area concerned about what they perceive is a chronic shortage of nursing home facilities.

The meeting, which was held at 7 pm on Wednesday, March 21 at the J.W. McIntosh Seniors Support Centre, was convened in order to bring concerned citizens together to learn about the steps to follow in order to get long term care beds for this area.

Another purpose of the meeting was the formation of a committee to under take these steps.

The mayors from 4 of the 5 counties concerned about the lack of long term care beds in the area were present at the meeting.

Bryan McGillis from South Stormont, Dennis Fife from North Stormont, Alvin Runnells from North Dundas, and Charles Barkley from South Dundas were in attendance.

The Mayor of Edwardsburg Cardinal sent his regrets. Unfortunately MPP Jim Brownell was unable to be at the meeting, but his assistant, Jeremy Gowsell was present, as was the Vice President for Capital Development of the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital.

John Dalrymple, who has been a force behind this initiative, welcomed those in attendance and introduced Garry Armstrong who had traveled from Ottawa to address the audience with regards to the steps to take in order to secure LTC beds for this region. Armstrong, who has worked in the field of LTC for almost 35 years, outlined the process.

"The first step is to convince the Ministry of Health that there is a need for beds in this locale."

Presently, beds are allocated by the Ministry on a regional basis, and South Dundas is within a broader region which includes all of SD&G as well as Prescott/Russell. According to the Ministry's allocation formula, this region actually has a surplus of beds. This is because there are beds in Prescott/Russell that are not occupied. The problem as perceived by area residents is that Prescott/Russell is too far away and there is a strong desire in the community to be able to care for the elderly close to home. According to Trevor Tolley of Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing the elderly have elderly friends and it is a hardship to have to drive over an hour for a visit.

Just at a time in their lives when they most need friends and family, the elderly are forced to leave their communities and end their days surrounded by strangers. He was, however, encouraged by the number of people who turned up for the meeting. "It is extremely heartening for me to see so many people here and concerned about nursing homes. I really hope that the sort of effort that is shown by people coming to this meeting will bear fruit and we will get a nursing home." He went on to mention that there was space in Williamsburg to construct such a facility.

Another consequence of a lack of LTC facilities is that a number of beds at the Winchester & District Memorial Hospital are occupied by patients requiring long term care as opposed to acute care.

LONG TERM CARE

LONG TERM CARE

The number of such patients is estimated to be between 20 to 40 at any one time. Other steps necessary for securing beds in this region include conducting a feasibility study, and then bidding on the beds if they are licensed for the region.

Before the meeting concluded, a committee was formed to move forward on this issue. The committee will included the five mayors mentioned above, along with such volunteers as Isobel Williams, Mary Anna Petre, Jan Clapp, Cory Martens, Glenn Cunningham, Trevor Tolley, Steven Byvelds, Del Jones, Eldon Horner, and Dave Lapier.

SD Council stays with $50 fee for church group

BY JOSEPH MORIN
CHIEFTAIN STAFF REPORTER

South Dundas Council has decided to push ahead with its philosophy of going by the book, creating a level playing field for all community organizations.

The issue that brought out the idea of making a fair deal to all organizations was one involving the Community Family Church and fees that the church pays to use the Iroquois civic Centre.

In 2002 the Township was approached by the Church who, at the time, were looking for a temporary building to hold their services. The Church has been using the Civic Centre on Sunday mornings and evenings as well as Wednesday evening Councillor at a cost of $25 for each time the Church used the building.

In 2006 a review of the users of the civic centre was completed and the Township decided that it was time to increase the rent that they had been getting from the church group. The Township raised their rent from $25 to $50 for each time the group used the centre. The Church responded to the increase by saying that they agreed to increase their rental payment to $30 from $25 but $50 would be out of the question. The time had come to decide on what the council wanted the Church to do. At the time of he exchange of information between the Church group and Township staff, a 6 month time limit was given to the Church.

Mayor Charles Barkley was quick to tell his fellow South Dundas councillors that they had no problem at all allowing the church group to only pay the $25 per use that they had been paying. "We have the buildings," he said, adding that they have to be used.

The South Dundas Clerk, Brenda Brunt pointed out to Mayor Barkley that other churches do not get a special rate for the use of the centre.

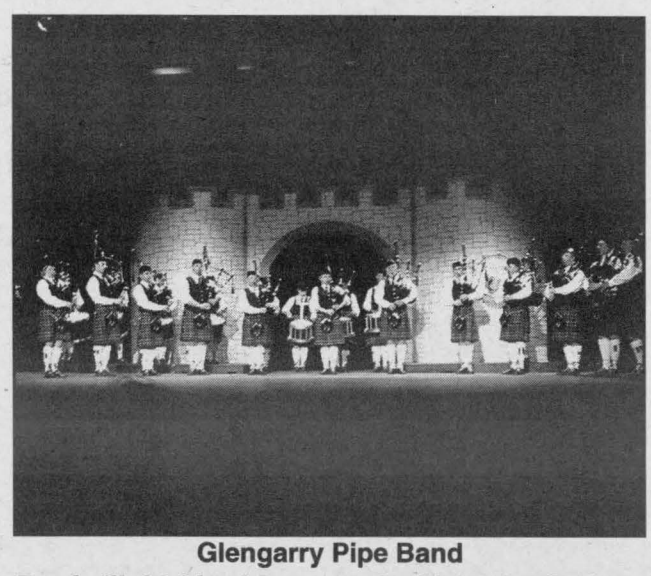
Councilor Steven Byvelds commented that all charity groups should have some kind of special reduced rate for use of he Township's buildings, however, he added, "In the issue of fairness I do not think that $50 is out of line." Councillor Byvelds went on to explain that a rental fee of $50 per use to him was not extravagant. Councillor James Graham agreed with Byvelds and Jones . Councillor Robert Gillard agreed was well.

Mayor Barkley expressed his concern that the local Church group could fail financially if the $50 rental per use was imposed on them. The Mayor commented that it was a sad day when the bottom line became more important than the community.

Township staff calculated that if the $50 were imposed then around $2080 in new revenue could be realized from the Church rentals. In 2006 the Township spent $30,559.86 in expenses at the Iroquois Civic Centre but only brought in $4,177.57.

Glengarry Pipe Band "Celtic Roots" Concert

On Saturday, April 28th, 2007, the Glengarry Pipe Band Grade II will be celebrating their Scottish heritage by holding a "Celtic Roots" concert at the Brockville Arts Centre. The night promises to give you a variety of highland music, song and dance as the pipe band gets ready to kick off their piping season.



Glengarry Pipe Band

The show commences at 7:30 pm and features the Glengarry Pipe Band Grade II, first place winners of the 2006 Celtic Classic in Bethlehem, PA. Under the direction of Colin Clansey, the pipe band has shown great success throughout the years at the Glengarry Highland Games and the World's Pipe Band Championship in Scotland, to name a few.

Solo performances by Pipe Major Clansey and PS Ed Bush will be sure to entertain those who love the wail of the great highland bagpipe, and Brockville highland dancers, Sonja Stilnovich, Paige Morin and Fiona O'Dair will be on hand to perform the highland dances. Other entertainment will include a tin whistle and fiddle duet by Karrie McLeod and Kelsey McDonell, and Celtic numbers sung by Christina Clansey accompanied with the small pipes and piano.

So if you're looking to celebrate your Celtic roots, pick up your tickets now at the Brockville Arts Centre at 235 King Street West, Brockville. Visit www.brockvilleaercentre.com. Box office hours are Monday to Friday, 10:00 am to 5:00 pm; Saturdays from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm. Tickets are $18.00/adults and $15/seniors and students.

McIntosh Inn receives award from Toastmasters Club

BY ANDREA CARTIER
SPECIAL TO THE CHIEFTAIN

The McIntosh Country Inn received an award from the local Toastmasters Club for its support and long history of community service and leadership excellence. Pictured here are Nancy Beatson Toastmasters Club VP of Membership, Tom Morrow Co-owner and Manager of the McIntosh Country Inn, Patsy St. Pierre Food & Beverage Manager, and Bob Berthelet Toastmasters Club President.

The local Toastmasters Club made a special presentation on Sunday, March 25 to acknowledge the support the McIntosh Inn has provided to the club since it was chartered in 2000. The Community Service and Leadership Excellence Award was presented in a special ceremony and received by Tom Morrow and Patsy St. Pierre on behalf of the inn.

In a brief speech prior to the presentation of the award, Toastmasters Club President Bob Berthelet recounted the support the McIntosh Inn has provided the club.

"About 7 years ago a group of optimistic people here in Morrisburg decided they were going to create a Toastmasters Club, and from day one the McIntosh Inn has supported that effort. And it is not just the Toastmasters Club, the Inn is a major force in the community and supports many local organizations." The plaque presented to Tom Morrow reads: "The Morrisburg Toastmasters Club, District 61 presents this award to the management and staff of the McIntosh Country Inn & Conference Centre in recognition of your continued support and long history of community service and leadership excellence. We thank you for your warm hospitality, professional service and excellent facilities. Your team's efforts have helped our Toastmasters Club to serve the people of South Dundas in developing their communication and leadership skills."

The award ceremony was followed by an international speech contest.

The Club's Vice-President of Membership, Nancy Beatson, explained that the club is still trying to build up it membership, and she encourages anyone who is interested to come out to one of the bi-monthly meetings.

"People think that that Toastmasters is just about speeches, but it also teaches leadership skills and other skills such as how to run meetings."

The 10 people who are currently members of the club come from Iroquois, Ottawa, Orleans, Cornwall and Morrisburg.

Because of its small size, it provides a very comfortable environment for those just learning to speak in public. The Toastmasters meetings are held the first and third Mondays of every month in the Dundas Room of the McIntosh Inn.

Anyone interested in being a guest at a meeting can call Nancy Beatson at 613-543-1042.

Good news for Upper Canada District School Board

Guy Lauzon, MP (Stormont, Dundas, South Glengarry) is confident that Canada's New Conservative Government is consistently taking care of business.

Budget 2007 proposes to remit $423,751.47 to the Upper Canada District School Board in GST/HST paid in respect of student transportation services that were reassessed pursuant to a measure announced in 2001 and enacted in 2003.

Despite the fact that the Tax Court of Canada had rendered decisions in their favor after the measure was announced, our Government is prepared to follow through. The proposed remission addresses these exceptional circumstances.

It continues to be the Government's policy that the provision of student transportation services by school authorities be treated as an exempt activity under the GST/HST.

Lauzon said, "This is good news for the school board and ultimately for our communities."

A little has goes a long way

It would appear that the global warming message is starting to get through to everyone.

The South Dundas Township's recycling battery project is working and residents are bringing in their old and failed batteries to be recycled.

At first glance the program does not seem to be capable of putting much of a dent in the global warming issue however the expression "every little bit helps" does apply here. When a group of people or the residents of an entire township start thinking all the same way the result can be astonishing.

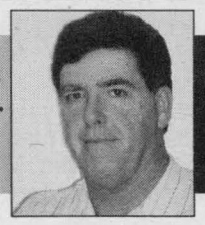
Keeping global warming front and centre will make a difference in a million different ways. For the past 20 years conservation and recycling have been the main message of governments at all levels as well as from the same experts who have made global warming headline news.

All of that publicity and the constant reminders to do what little you can on an individual basis has not all been for nothing. Lets hope that China and other countries that are in the midst of their own kind of industrial revolution are listening.

J.M.

A thought...

by Joseph Morin Editor



from me to you

Have you ever experienced the perfect golf swing or for that matter, the perfect anything.

I firmly believe that regardless of what you doing there is a moment or two of sustained perfection that gives all of us at the time, a glimpse into how things were meant to be.

The perfect golf swing, connects with the golf ball in such a way as you intuitively know that this will be a perfect shot.

The combination of wind, weight, weather, and the relationship between the sun and moon all come together so that your golf swing becomes everything that it was supposed to be, but only that one swing.

If you burp, for example, you have changed all of the factors and perfection may suddenly be far, far away.

The other day, I was trying to practice a little guitar playing. I was not trying to play as perfect as some of my heros I was just making sure that I could remember the basics.

All at once I realized that what I was playing was perfect. The guitar sounded just what I had been hearing in my head. The strings rang out in the way they were designed and the notes that I was playing formed up in a perfect line waiting to be played. This moment of musical perfection must have lasted all of 8 seconds, out of an hours worth of time.

When I realized what I was doing and tried to understand how I was doing it I crashed and burned.

As long as I simply went with the moment all was well. I was reminded of poem I had memorized while in school..

A centipede was happy quite
Until a frog in fun said,
Pray which legs comes after which?
This raised her mind to such a pitch
She lay distracted in a ditch
Considering how to run.

Often getting something right is a matter of your state of mind and body, and the result of 100 years of practice and if you are lucky some natural skill passed on from some long gone ancestor.

The South Dundas Council seems to be operating that way, saying yes to ideas that are logical and intuitive and no, to other ideas that need a great deal of explanation.

It is a leaner but not necessarily meaner South Dundas council this time around, and some of their latest decisions have been the result of the council trying to be fair and economically responsible at the same time.

That is a hard place to be in at times but they are determined to continue to act this way.

Perhaps they will wind up making the right decision at the right time simply because they are doing as opposed to thinking of doing.

Sort of like my eight seconds of perfection on the guitar. As long as I just kept going, all was well. Stopping to figure out why things were working spelled the end of my little moment. Apparently when you are operating in the "zone" so to speak and only through common sense or learned values, not through your ego, are you able to hit the target every time.

Archery and darts are a case in point. Any archery instruction will always include one on aiming with your body or with your feelings.

If you feel that you are aiming the way you should be you probably are.

A councillor's gut reaction to a particular issue is often a reflection of the way that councillor will vote.

Last weeks decision by the council to go with a $50 rental fee for a struggling church group was made without rancor, judgement or bias.

It was a logical decision to make if not disappointing one for some, but in keeping with the theme of this council which is to keep the Township

Wild Spring Weather

Weather from The Valley
By Stephen Balena

Spring is such a wonderful season in Ontario, filled with very active weather. This week showed us just how active.

Let us back things up to last Wednesday and Thursday. Thunderstorms in the southwest portion of the province killed one person near Parry Sound, from a lightning strike.

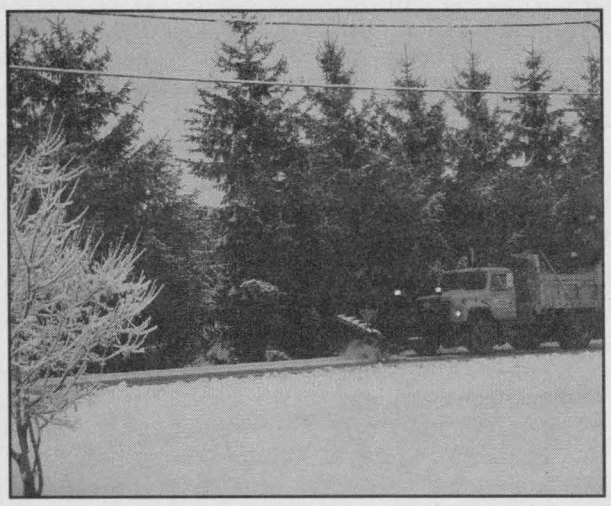
Mild weather prevailed in most parts of the province and was expected to remain that way through the weekend. Mother Nature had different plans. The weather turned nasty Saturday afternoon along a warm front draped just south of the Seaway. The overrunning warm air met with just enough cold air to produce very heavy wet snow. The main area of snow affected a small region from Merickville and North Grenville south to the Seaway. Almost 10cm of heavy wet snow blanketed everything and reduced visibility to a few metres in places. Travel became very poor. I was heading back from Watertown, NY and encountered the snow right at the International Bridge. The drive north along the 416 was white knuckle most of the time with cars in the ditch and very slippery roads. The snow ended late Saturday. Sunday was much milder and most of the snow was gone by 4pm.

Monday was much more spring like with thunderstorms moving across the area. The first storms of the season for the area dropped about 15-20mm of rain with frequent lightning and thunder. A second line of storms raced across the area around the supper hour, before fog settled in for the night.

On Monday there were some wild temperature differences across the province, Windsor was 26C with a humidex of 30C. At the same time Ottawa was only 2C.

Mild air is expected for the balance of the week with dry weather. The upcoming weekend will see some rain but continuing mild, I hope! I said the same thing last weekend. It was by far the most missed forecast of the winter. The Seaway is open with the first ships moving through the area. This is a testament to the warm winter, as it is the earliest opening in the Seaway's history.

The remains of the surprise storm...



Iroquois Legion Branch 370 Newsletter

By Dar

For the fourth week in a row "Doubles" were played as a total of sixteen cribbage players gathered in the lounge on Saturday afternoon. Finishing first with 1065 was Don Hutt and trailing on second, just four points behind Don was Bob Esford. Taking the third spot was Dennis Wright with his total of 1057. Ted Gratton and Marie Mattice tied with 1045 giving them the honours of sharing the bridesmaid chair for the day. A total of only two skunks (the lowest for the season so far) were found scurrying around. There is four weeks of official play remaining followed by the wind-up play and dinner on April 28. At the present time the race for the Season Championship is between Bernie Montroy and Ron Perrin.

The Pot of Gold winner was Walter Bailey who was signed in.

The Friday meal for this week is to be turkey dinner with mashed potatoes and gravy and dressing, veggie salad and cranberry sauce. The dessert is pumpkin squares with whipped cream. For this special meal the cost will be $6 per person.

At euchre on Tuesday March 20 there were eight tables. Claiming the first prize was Tina Dewit while the second prize ended up in a three way tie between Willis Douglas, Donna Scharfe and Andy Acelvari. The third place prize was picked up by Esther Allan.

On Saturday, March 31 there will be a ham and turkey shoot at our Branch by the 1st Iroquois Scouting Program. This is a very important event with all of the proceeds going to the Iroquois Scouts to help send our Scouts the Canadian Jamboree 2007. This is open to anyone. Registration starts at 10 am to 10:30 am. The play starts at 11am sharp. The cost is $2 per round. The pay out will be for mens' and ladies' high score and high finish. There will be prizes and raffles as well and of course the canteen will be on the go. If you enjoy darts please come out and help the scouting program. They will be glad to have you.

Our Legion will be hosting a "Pub Crawl" on Saturday, April 14. They plan on heading to the Legion in the Perth Lanark area (Russ Lackeys) turf. The sign up sheet is at the bar and the cost is $10 per person. A minimum of 20 people is required. They plan on leaving the Legion at 11 am and returning at maybe 8 pm. It sounds like a good time.

The Ladies Auxiliary Zone Convention will be held at Branch 297 Cornwall on April 15.

The April Birthday Bash is to be held on Saturday, April 21 starting at 3 pm with a bbq, snacks, birthday cake, entertainment by one of our favorites Dave Farmer. Please note that due to previous functions the Birthday Bash is on the third Saturday in April.

The Legion District Spring Convention will be held at Branch 92 Gananoque on April 20, 21 and 22. Comrades, this is our election year at our Branch. It would be much appreciated if you all would please keep this in mind. Why not give this some serious thought and participate. This is very important in keeping our Branch in business. Don't leave the decisions up to the same ones all of the time. We need more support and ideas. Please keep this in mind and first of all come to our meetings. In the hospital this week are Wilma Playfair and Ed Thompson. You both are in out thoughts and wishing you a speedy recovery.

Until next week, take care.

EARTH TALK

Dear EarthTalk: Which countries that signed onto the Kyoto Protocol, which set goals for reducing global warming emissions, are fulfilling or surpassing their commitments? Which are falling short and why?
-- Dan S., via e-mail

As of the end of 2006, 169 countries had signed onto the Kyoto Protocol, an agreement forged in Kyoto, Japan in 1997 calling on the world's industrialized nations to reduce emissions of so-called "greenhouse gases" thought to be contributing to global warming. The agreement called for a 5.2 percent reduction overall in the release of six pollutants—carbon dioxide, methane, nitrous oxide, sulfur hexafluoride, hydrochlorofluorocarbons (HCFCs) and perfluorocarbons (PFCs)—by 2012 in relation to 1990 levels.

Although the agreement was hammered out 10 years ago, its emissions reduction standards did not take effect until two years ago, in February 2005. As such, signatory countries have only barely begun to make changes, and no one has yet conducted a comprehensive study of progress toward reaching targets. United Nations research does show, however, that a majority of the 36 European countries that signed onto the Kyoto Protocol are currently not on track to meet their goals by 2012.

However, the 27-member-nation European Union (EU), which as a block is one of the largest global warming polluters, is likely to meet its collective goal. This is due in large part to Eastern European states having shut down or modernized heavy polluting Soviet-era industries during the 1990s. Also helping the EU effort is the United Kingdom, which is on track to meet its goals, thanks mostly to a switch from coal-fired power plants to cleaner burning natural gas. Germany and France also hope to meet their Kyoto commitments, largely through a program of subsidies for the development of non-polluting energy sources. And Sweden expects to overachieve on its Kyoto targets thanks to the imposition of a hefty carbon tax on polluting industries and big investments in alternative energy sources.

Topping the list of Kyoto slackers is Canada, which last year became the first signatory country to announce that it would not meet its Kyoto target of a six percent emissions cut by 2012. New oil production in the tar sands of Alberta has instead forced Canada's greenhouse gas emissions up significantly, as the government has chosen to pursue economic growth as a priority over meeting its Kyoto commitments. Japan is also lagging behind. If no additional measures are taken, the United Nations forecasts that Japan's emissions will instead grow six percent by 2012. But Japan's environment ministry says that implementation of some market-based incentives in 2008 should help Japan meet its goal.

Regrettably, the United States and Australia don't have to worry about meeting any commitments, as neither country agreed to sign the Kyoto agreement, even though together the two major industrial powers account for 30 percent of the world's greenhouse gas emissions. U.S. President George W. Bush does not support mandatory caps on emissions, arguing that such a move would cause irreparable harm to the U.S. economy. He also complains that developing nations are not being held up to the same standards as the rest of the world. Unfortunately, with the U.S. on the sidelines, the good faith efforts of dozens of other nations could end up being quite immaterial in the fight to stave off global warming.

Strategy Urgently Needed to Meet Needs of Growing, Aging Population: Ontario Hospital Association

CNW/ - Creating a comprehensive strategy to meet the needs of a growing and aging population must be an urgent priority for the Government of Ontario, and for Ontario's health care providers, in the months and years ahead.

"Ontario's population is growing and aging very quickly," said Hilary Short, President and CEO of the Ontario Hospital Association (OHA). "This means that the demands on Ontario's acute care hospitals, and particularly on their emergency departments, are increasing very quickly."

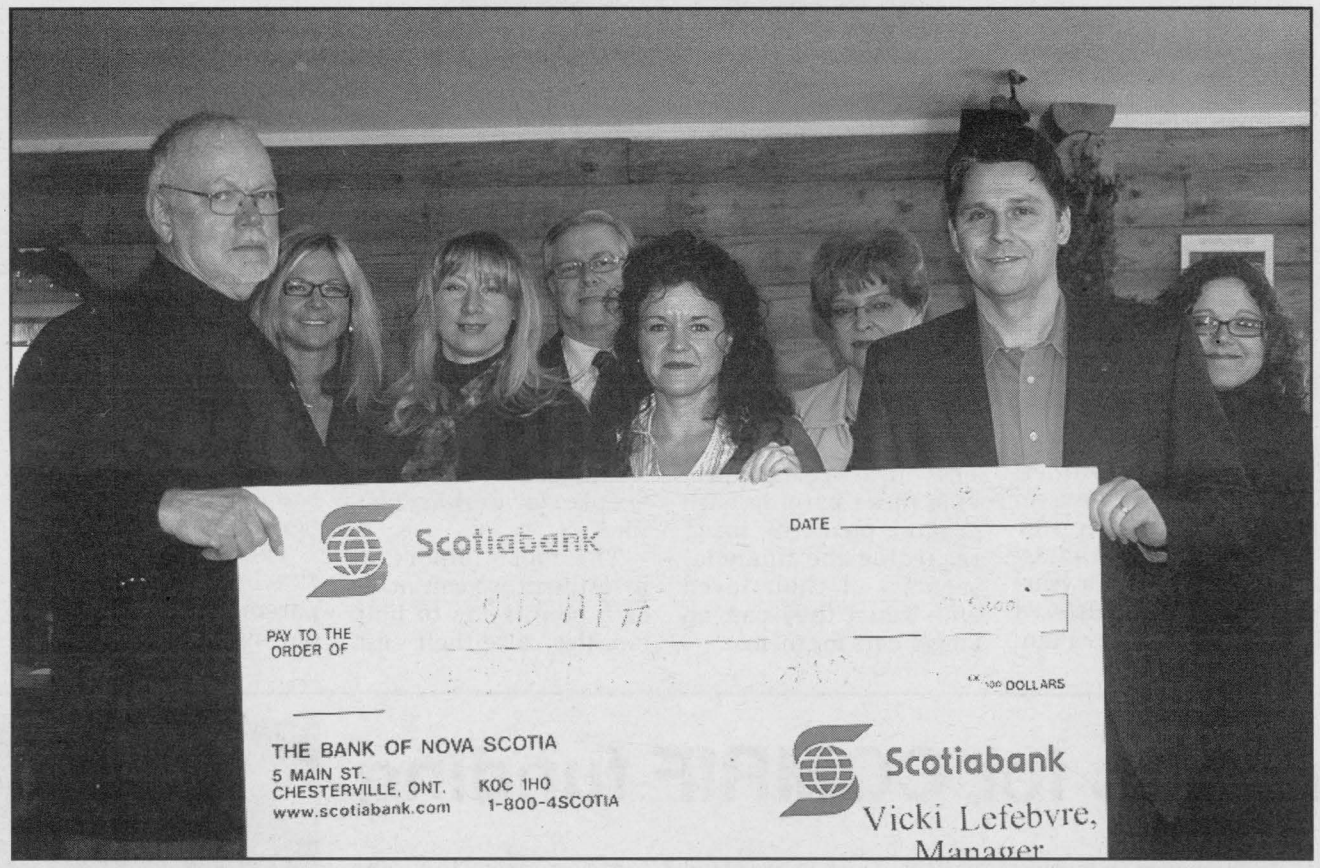
The OHA continues to call for the timely development of a comprehensive strategy to ensure that Alternate Level of Care patients can receive the care they need outside of acute care hospitals. ALC patients typically require a lower level of care than that provided in acute care hospitals. Hospitals that are unable to discharge their ALC patients to more appropriate facilities have experienced crowded emergency rooms and, in some cases, have cancelled surgeries. The OHA recommends that the ALC issue be addressed from a health system perspective, and involve additional investments in the acute care, long-term care, home care, complex continuing care and rehabilitation sectors and in supportive housing beyond what is currently planned. "Concerted action is needed to ensure that patients, particularly elderly patients, receive the care that they need, where and when they need it," Short said. "We plan to work with the Government of Ontario, and our partners outside hospitals, to develop a strategy that will meet their needs."

Scotiabank Completes $25,000 Pledge to Renewing the Vision Campaign

Scotiabank management and staff are well known for providing strong support of their local communities by assisting with many worthy causes.

Recently the Branch Managers also commiteded to sponsor $15,000 in support of the Foundation's upcoming fundraising gala, "This Land is Your Land" featuring Rick Mercer on June 9.

The Renewing the Vision Campaign wrapped up in 2005, boasting a total result of just over $15 million contributed by the municipalities, community groups, local businesses and individuals. This is an outstanding achievement from a community which has never wavered in its support of their Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Such dedication will be rewarded by seeing construction begin on the redevelopment project later this year, once the approval to go to tender has been received. That approval was promised for this spring.



Scotiabank Branch Managers from Avonmore, Chesterville, Morrisburg, Osgoode, Russell, and South Mountain, and the District Vice President, Jeff Darwin, present former WDMH Foundation Chair Dwayne Holmes with the final payment of their $25,000 commitment to the Renewing the Vision Campaign.

"Winchester District Memorial Hospital is a progressive, economic force in this region, as well as providing superlative care and services to our people.

We are very proud to support a project of this magnitude", states Darwin. "Scotiabank is committed to its involvement in the communities in which we work, and we enjoy participating in all projects, large and small," adds Vicki Lefebvre, manager at the Chesterville branch.

Budget 2007 reduces tax burden on families

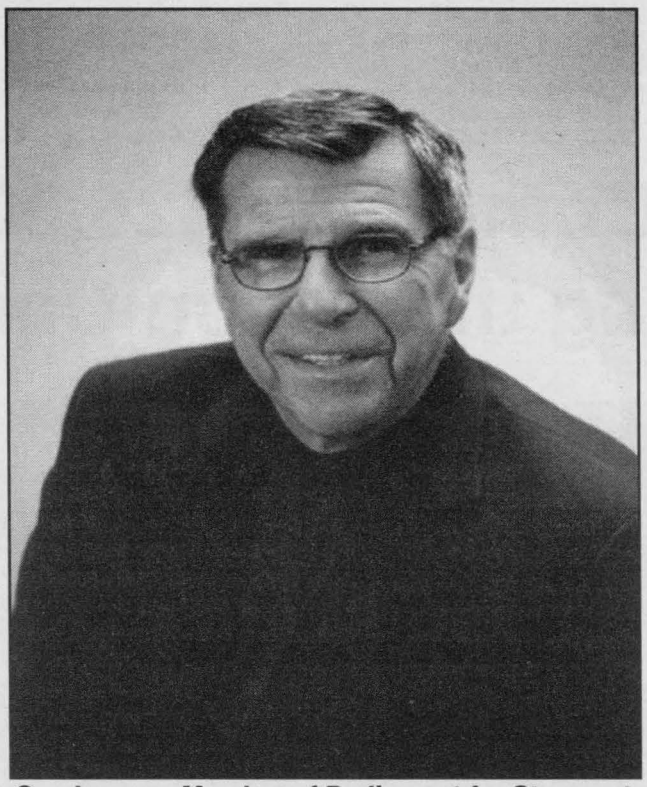
Life on Parliament Hill is always busy but as your Member of Parliament for Stormont, Dundas and South Glengarry I can tell you that this week has been a-buzz. Our New Conservative Government released its new budget on March 19, 2007 and it is like a breath of Spring air. I am particularly excited that Budget 2007 proposes several tax measures to help Canadian families get ahead and stay ahead and I am delighted to receive calls from constituents wanting to know how the budget will work for them.

Canadian social assistance programs are designed to help people who are out of work, but they can also have unintended effects. For example, for a single mother struggling to get by, getting a job can mean higher taxes and reduced benefits for things like drug and dental coverage. This is often referred to as the "welfare wall." Budget 2007 helps people over the welfare wall and into the dignity and independence that comes with a job.

A new $550-million-per-year Working Income Tax Benefit (WITB) will serve as an important first step to help people over the welfare wall and on to a better, more prosperous life for themselves and their families.

The WITB will provide up to $500 per year for individuals and $1,000 for families to reward and strengthen incentives to work. More than 1.2 million low-income Canadians will benefit.

Our government is investing in people. Canadians who care for persons with severe disabilities face unique financial hardships. Based on the recommendations of the Expert Panel on Financial Security for Children with Severe Disabilities, Budget 2007 proposes to invest $140 million over the next two years (rising to $200 million a year) to establish a Registered Disability Savings Plan.



Guy Lauzon, Member of Parliament for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

This measure will provide these parents with greater peace of mind regarding the financial security of their loved ones when they can no longer care for them.

Budget 2007 has a new tax plan for working families.

The most important investment we can make as a country is to help families raise their children. Budget 2007 proposes several measures that help parents to be better off and more secure through a new Working Families Tax Plan.

Together, the measures in this plan will benefit over 3 million taxpayers, removing 230,000 low-income Canadians from the tax rolls. More than 75 per cent of the tax relief will go to those with annual incomes below $75,000.

A new $2,000 child tax credit will provide up to $310 of tax relief for each child under 18 to more than 3 million Canadian families. More than 90 per cent of families will receive maximum relief, and almost 180,000 taxpayers will be removed from the tax rolls.

The marriage penalty will be ended through an increase in the spousal and other amounts to the same level as the basic personal amount.

This will provide up to $209 of tax relief to two-parent families with one parent who earns little income. Single parents and someone caring for a dependant will also benefit.

Registered education savings plans will be strengthened by eliminating the $4,000 limit on annual contributions and increasing the lifetime contribution limit to $50,000 from $42,000. The maximum annual Canada Education Savings Grant amount will be increased to $500 from $400 and the age limit will be increased to 71 from 69 for registered retirement savings plans and registered pensions.

It gives me great satisfaction to see our government looking right into the hearts and homes of our families. Here in Stormont, Dundas and South Glengarry we can feel confident that our New Conservative Government has its priorities in place, starting where it matters most, reducing the tax burden on families.

Council applies for COMRIF funding

BY JOSEPH MORIN
CHIEFTAIN STAFF REPORTER

The South Dundas Council is getting ready to do their part in getting ready for the assessment management program.

The program imposed on all Ontario municipalities, cost is expected to be around $50,000 by the time it is finished in 2009. The funding will be one-third from the federal and provincial governments and the final one-third from the municipality. The project entails cataloging all of a municipality's assets. When that has been done a dollar value is attached to the physically inventory.

The program has to be completed by 2009 and the cost is expected to be around $50,000.

At last weeks South Dundas Council meeting the council gave a green light to treasurer Lorna Seibert to go ahead and submit a COMRIF (Canada Ontario Municipal Infrastructure Fund) application. The treasurer wants to make sure that the municipality is able to take advantage of the federal provincial offer and will apply for $9,951. The total $29,853 is all that the council has to work with at the beginning of the project.

The United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry has hired Dan Harper to act as the Project Manager of the Capital Assets Program. Mr. Harper will be working with people from the three municipalities.

The program will see virtually every building and road as well as equipment in the Township inventoried and evaluated.

The village of Iroquois had a problem with their sewers last week. The Township was called and Caneau, the company that looks after the municipality's water and sewer concerns were, was quick to respond. The main sewer line that runs behind the Iroquois Plaza and up to a residential area to the west of the Plaza was packed solid. The work crew from Caneau had to open all of the main drains along the lines and look for the problem. In the above photo, the crew are vacuuming out the main sewer drain by the post office. The crew lowered a high pressure hose designed to spray water under pressure along the inside of the drain. The hose was pushed all of the way through the drain under the parking lot of the Plaza. After the hose has completed its work the vacuum catches all of the debris that has been washed away from the sides of the drain. In this case the problem was thought to be the result of several factors one of which could have been congealed grease along the pipe. This procedure had to be repeated along the entire length of the main sewer drain.

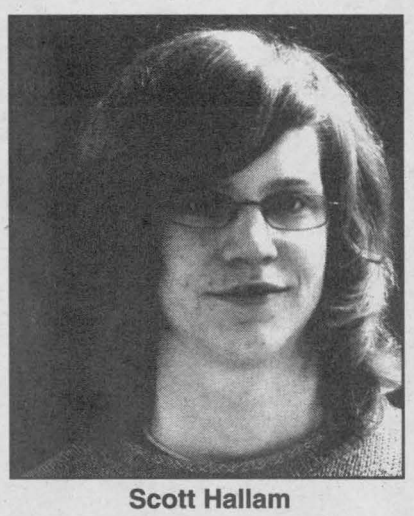
Spartan of the Month



Scott Hallam

The Spartan of the Month for March at the Seaway District High School is Scott Hallam. Scott was given the title for his achievements outside the school.

Scott lives in South Mountain and was on the Ontario team for the Canada Winter Games held in the Yukon. His team managed a 5-3 round-robin record that gave Ontario a fourth place spot in the men's team sabre.

The games were held February 23 to March 10 in Whitehorse in the Yukon. There were nine teams from across Canada competing in the competition.

Scott's team, lost to Alberta, Manitoba, and Quebec. They were able to beat Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

The Whitehorse 2007 Canada Winter Games are a major undertaking. In fact, these games will be the biggest event ever staged in Canada north of the 60th parallel.

The Games ran for two weeks from February 23rd to March 10th, 2007. Over 3,600 athletes, coaches and managers gathered in Whitehorse to compete for a total of 1,122 medals in 22 sports.

Whitehorse will also host several non-sporting venues including the Athletes Village, Mission Centre, the Media Centre, the Volunteer Centre and venues for the Opening and Closing Ceremonies. It is anticipated that Canada's national broadcasters will provide over 100 hours of television coverage.

Games Facts:

- 13 Teams
- 3,600 Athletes, Coaches and Managers
- 120-150 Mission Staff
- 400 Major Officials
- 200+ Media
- 150 Host Broadcast Staff
- 600-800 VIPs and Corporate Sponsors
- 100,000 day visits to venues
- 14,000 lbs of pasta served
- 210,000 meals in total served

The idea for the Canada Games was born at a meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada in 1924 in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Over 40 years later, in Quebec City in 1966, the Quebec and Canadian governments approved a proposal to hold the first-ever Games to coincide with Canada's 1967 Centennial celebrations.

4th Annual Wolf Wagon Waces a wonderful time!!

BY ANDREA CARTIER

CHIEFTAIN PHOTOS - A. CARTIER

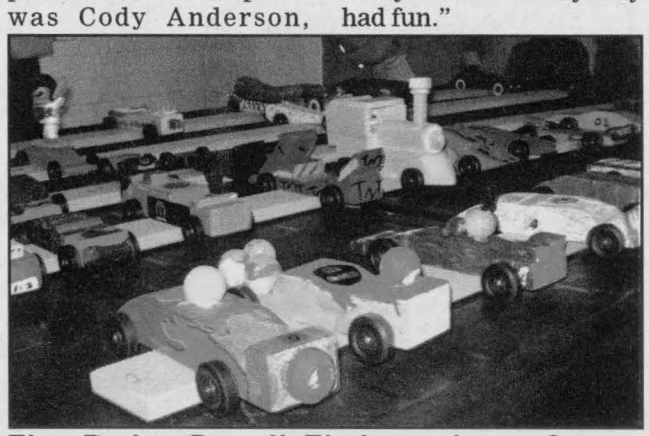
The Baden Powell Otters, Timberwolves, Explorers and Senior Explorers took part in the 4th Annual Wolf Wagon Races this past weekend in Morrisburg. The site of this exciting event was the basement of the old high school, and 35 young people turned up with their cars anxious to compete in a fun day of racing.

The Wolf Wagons, Otter Autos, and Explorer Derby Cars were all constructed from "Kub Kar Kits" which each participant modified for appearance and speed. The race cars could not exceed 7 inches in length or weigh more than 5 ounces. The race track, which was raised approximately 4 feet off the ground at the starting line, consisted of three lanes, and each participant had a number of races before the process of elimination began.

In the end, the top three cars in each division were selected on the basis of speed and design. In Otter Auto competition, Sarah Henry had the fastest car. Cody Anderson placed second, and Robin Garlough was third. The Timberwolves had a stiff competition with a number of rounds having to be repeated because even the photo-finish judges had a hard time determining a winner. In the end, William Wallace and Jay Simzer tied for first, and third place was awarded to Matthew Henry. In Explorer competition, Travis Barkley's derby car came in first, followed by Travis Vanderveen in second, and Melissa Ingola in third. The fastest Senior Explorer car belonged to Colin French, with David Jansen finishing in second place, and Baloo (Alex Berseth) coming in third.

There were some magnificently designed racers, and the top three in each category were also noted. For the best Otter Auto design, Jacob Garlough was given a prize. In second place was Cody Anderson, and third place went to Dawson Givan. Jay Simzer and Cassandra Thompson tied for first place for Wolf Wagon design, followed by Austin Jurgens in second, and Ian Inkster-Richmire and Jamie Garlough in third. Explorer Ryan Lalonde won first place for his design. Travis Vanderveen came second and Amanda Lalonde came in third place for her design. The Senior Explorers Alex Berseth was awarded first place for his design, followed by David Jansen in second and Stacy Johnson in third. The first place winners were entitled to choose a prize from the prize table, but every participant received a pin for taking part in the event. According to Timberwolves Leader, Harold Jansen, "It was a super day. The kids were energetic and cheered everyone on. Everybody had fun."



The Baden-Powell Timberwolves, Otters, Explorers and Senior Explorers did a terrific job designing their race cars.

Rowing Club prepares for upcoming season

BY ANDREA CARTIER
SPECIAL TO THE CHIEFTAIN

The St. Lawrence Rowing Club is looking forward to the upcoming season, and in order to be prepared a number of members spent the weekend getting the rowing shells in 'ship' shape.

The rowing shells, which have been stored at Iroquois Marine Services over the winter, were brought to the service bays at Upper Canada Motors for a weekend of renovation. The first step in the process was to strip off the old varnish and sand the shells down. Any damaged areas were repaired, and then six coats of finish were applied. Finally, the boats were deemed ready for the season, and returned to Iroquois.

The St. Lawrence Rowing Club was founded last year and had a great initial season, attracting a number of people to the sport for the first time. A review of the past year's statistics shows that the club had 23 high school rowers, 21 participants in the 'learn to row' program, 24 adult recreational rowers, 8 youth rowers, and 6 coaches for a total of 58 members. This membership makes the St. Lawrence Rowing Club comparable in size to many other more established organizations in the province, and bodes well for the future of the sport in South Dundas.

This year, the club is hoping to introduce even more people to the great sport of rowing. Programs for adult recreational rowers, learn-to-row, youth, and high school are planned for this spring, summer and fall. Registration will be held on Saturday, April 28 from 11 am to 2 pm at the Morrisburg Arena. Registration forms will also be available from Patty Thorpe at Upper Canada Motors, or from Trish Morrow at Morrisburg Chiropractic. The spring season will commence the week of May 14 and learn-to-row and adult recreational rowing will be offered. The high school program will begin a week earlier, and information sessions will be held at Seaway District High School prior to that time. Youth rowing will be offered in the summer.

A learn-to-row coaching clinic, open to anyone interested, will be held May 4 and 5 at SDHS. The club is also planning some fundraising events, including a barbeque, in order to purchase more boats. St. Lawrence Rowing Club President, Trish Morrow, is looking forward to a successful season and is grateful to the community for all its support. "I'd like to thank all the individuals and business that have been so helpful to the club. I'd also like to say a special thank you to Upper Canada Motors for allowing us to use their facilities to work on the boats."

ANOTHER GREAT COVER-ALL®

"I'm very happy with my new Cover-All barn. I find that the best thing about the Cover-All is the height of the barn, and the brightness. It is the feeling of being in a wide open space. It's just like being outside, but without the elements. I would definitely recommend Cover-All."

SDHS to stage dinner theatre 'Who done it?'

SPECIAL TO THE CHIEFTAIN

When six strangers sit down for dinner the talk turns to the mysterious theft of the 'Blood Stone'. This famous ruby, recently stolen from the museum, is very much on the minds of the diners, and if you want to find out why you'd better get your ticket for Seaway District High School's dinner theatre production of 'The Ace of Diamonds'.Last year's success with 'A Slip in Time Kills Nine' inspired the Parent Council to stage this new play as a fundraiser. The play was written by Colorado Tolston and is being directed by Seaway District High School Dramatic Arts teacher Kevin Kennedy. "It's a full length play and that makes it an exciting experience for the students," stated Kennedy. "It also gives us a chance to give something back to the community and raise some money for the parent council." Fittingly, this mystery will be presented at a spaghetti dinner theatre on Friday, April 13. Tickets for the meal and play must be purchased in advance and are available at Mustard's Variety in Iroquois, the Seaway Valley Pharmacy in Morrisburg or at the high school for the low cost of $10. Six students are acting in the play and they are all looking forward to the three stagings of the show. The dress rehearsal will take place at the Hartford the day before the dinner theatre. The afternoon of the big event will see the play staged for SDHS students as well as the grade 7 and 8 students from Iroquois Public School. Alex Bouwman, who is playing a rather sinister character in the play, is finding his role quite challenging. "I usually play the good guy, so this role is quite different for me," stated Bouwman. Kennedy, however, is quite confident that his students will rise to the occasion and be ready for the big event. "They have been working very hard and I'm sure they will do a great job. Some of the cast even came in on the March Break for a rehearsal." The cast consists of Alex Bouwman, Sarah Meyers, Sam Whelan, Bret Avery, Bailey Hollister, and Alex Whelan. The school council is organizing and preparing the meal, with student volunteers serving as waiters and ushers under the supervision of teacher Melissa Ringler. Art student Jessie Moore has designed the publicity poster, and the school's Vice-Principal, Lorraine Palmer-Smith, is organizing the silent auction and door prizes which have been donated by community businesses and individuals. Make sure you get your tickets early and come out and support your local high school!

Oskars Friday March 30th

Seaway High will be holding the second annual Oskar awards on Friday the 30th. Awards will be presented to students who were selected for categories such as who's Seaway's next top model, or who has Seaway's style.

Hosted by the student council the votes have been tallied up and ready for the pickings who will win Seaway's cutest couple, who should of won Seaway's partners in crime?

Last year students were presented with gold painted Barbie dolls. What will be presented to the winners this year? Ticket sales start on Monday March 26 for ten dollars a ticket or you can pay twelve dollars at the door.

South Dundas Peewee C House Lions go to the finals

BY ANDREA CARTIER
SPECIAL TO THE CHIEFTAIN

The South Dundas Peewee C Lions defeated Brockville to move on to the final round of the play-offs. They will be facing off against the North Dundas Demons in a five point series to determine the winner of the Eastern Division.

The Lions first game against the Braves was played in Morrisburg on March 3, with the South Dundas team winning decisively by a score of 9 to 2. The Brockville team scored five minutes into the game, but the Lions answered with 6 goals in the first ten minutes of the second period. Rudy Van Beilen opened the scoring for the Lions with an unassisted goal. Tyler Bellinger then scored with help from Zach McMillan. Matt Kuepferling got the Lions third goal with the assist going to Andrew Morris. Josh Hodgson was the next Lion to score, with Rudy Van Beilen assisting. Zach McMillan then scored with the assistance of Eric Saddlemire, and Josh Hodgson scored again from Rudy Van Beilen.

Brockville fought back and got one in the Lions' net at 4:33 of the second, but Eric Saddlemire got the momentum back for the Lions at 3:23 with help from Zach McMillan. Tyler Bellinger scored two goals in the third to bring the final score to 9 to 2. He was assisted on the last goal by Zach McMillan and Eric Saddlemire.

The 2nd game of the series was played in Brockville on March the 10, and the Braves put up a good fight, winning the game in the last 3 minutes of play to force a third game. Brockville scored the first three goals of the game, but the third period belonged to the Lions. Josh Hodgson scored from Rudy Van Beilen and Chase Dedekker. Zach McMillan scored unassisted, as did Eric Saddlemire. The Braves managed to defeat the Lions' goalie in the last few minutes of play to make the final score of the game 4 to 3 for the Brockville team.

The third game of the series was played in Morrisburg on March 20, with the Lions defeating Brockville 7 to 0 to win the series. In the first period, Zach Lalonde scored from Sawyer Gillard and Damen Jarvis. Tyler Bellinger got the Lions second goal with help from Josh Hodgson and Zach McMillan. Eric Saddlemire put the puck in the Brockville net at 6:48 of the first with assists going to Graydon Baylis and Sawyer Gillard. Zach Lalonde scored from Zach McMillan to put the South Dundas team up by 4 going into the second. Neither team scored in the second, but the Lions got three more in the third. Matthew Kuepferling scored from Josh Hodgson and Joel Johnson, Zach Lalonde scored from Zach McMillan and Damen Jarvis, and Chase Dedekker scored with just 40 seconds left on the clock. He was assisted by Josh Hodgson and Matthew Kuepferling. Hunter Jones and Konnor Mullen shared goaltending duties for the Lions.

The Peewee C House team played their first game of the five point series against North Dundas last night in Morrisburg.

The Demons were leading 1 to 0 with 3 minutes left on the clock when the Lions scored to tie it up. Another Lions goal put the South Dundas team in the lead and they won the game 2 to 1.

The next game is scheduled for Chesterville at 7pm on Wednesday night. Game three is set for Friday March 30 in Winchester at 6:00 pm.

S D & G OPP Update

Barn Fire Update

(North Dundas) - The Ontario Fire Marshall's office, in conjuction with the SD&G OPP, has completed their investigation. As a result of their findings they have ruled out arson as a cause of the barn fire on Nesbitt Road, North Dundas , Township.

Barn Fire

(North Dundas) – On 21Mar07, at approximately 1:30am, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a fire located at a property on Nesbitt Road, North Dundas Township.

Fire departments from Chesterville, Winchester, Morewood and Mountain attended the scene.

The fire resulted in the complete loss of the structure and approximately 100 cows. There were no other injuries.

SD&G OPP is on scene as well as an investigator from the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office to continue the investigation.

Male Arrested

(South Dundas) – On 25Mar07, at approximately 6:30pm SD&G OPP officers responded to report of an unwanted person on County Road 31, South Dundas, Township.

The investigation revealed that a male was in the area of a private residence and had repeatedly called the female complainant and would not leave when asked to do.

The 47yr old male was arrested and faces a charge of: Criminal Harassment

Morrisburg Curling Club News

Last night, Robert Houze, John Toonders, Josh Laurin and Sebastien, the Tuesday night men's first place team, faced off against Joe McCooeye, John C. Toonders, Alan Black and Dave Van Moorsel for the Pat Lid Trophy. Chris Barkley, Sam Laurin, Graham House and Matt Laurin had tied for second, but Joe Mcooeye's team advanced because of their winning "head-to-head" record.

In Thursday night league play, Craig Harriman, Graham and Robert Houze and Alan Brunt defeated Steve Boucher, Ron Beaupre, Mike Felker and Frank Lalonde to advance to the semi-finals. On Monday, they faced Larry and Anita Cooper, and Chris and Nancy Barkley, who finished second. Amy McCooeye, Ashley Cooper, and Matt and Peter McCooeye upset Joe and Leanne McCooeye, John Toonders and Jack Barkley. They will face John and Ian Wilson, Scott Lane and Mike Staebler, who finished first. The winners will play Thursday night for the Dodge Trophy. As always, visitors are welcome.

Some daytime mixed curlers visited Metcalfe last week for a friendly bonspiel. Al Harriman, Cheryl Thompson, Greta McGann and Doug Jarvis dropped their match, Martin Schneckenburg, Susan McIntosh, Sandra Beckstead and Dorothy Culkin won, and Steve and Alice Thompson, Kathy Norg and Sharon Van Allen tied with their opposition. It was a pleasant outing, and the two clubs plan to exchange visits again next year.

The senior men traveled to Cornwall on the same day for another friendly bonspiel. Wally McDonald, Dwight Gilmer, Art Carkner and Doug Brannan dropped their match with their hosts, while Peter Zeran, Al Gowanlock, Ron Brown and Karl Duncan won theirs. Neil Williams, Raymond Benoit, Reg Wild and Bud Perry also won, and all repaired afterwards to the lounge for refreshments and a fine meal.

The daytime ladies hosted their opposite numbers from Prescott in another "friendly" bonspiel last Tuesday. They combined forces, and the six newly-formed teams curled mutually satisfying eight-end games. Afterwards, the hosts brought out the goodies and drinks for a pleasant visit. Both small leagues, they plan to expand these exchanges next year to provide variety for their members.

Our grand master champions returned from the provincial championships at Toronto's Thornhill Country Club Sunday evening. There were 16 zone champs there, and in their first game, our fellows won 9-2 over Midland, and followed that up by defeating a Renfrew foursome 6-5. Elmira was their next opponent, and our men won 8-2. That put them into the "A" final against a Dixie team that has played as a unit for the last five years and curls in a Toronto senior league. Our chaps lost out, but brought home fond memories, and crests to commemorate their achievement. For Sid Morrell, Bob Bedingfield, Peter Zeran and Gerry Thompson, we're proud of you. Good luck next year!

The senior men finished league curling last week. The champions for this draw are: Peter Zeran, Al Gowanlock, Ron Brown and Karl Duncan. For this week, coordinator Gerry Thompson has devised a light-hearted draw, with such options as rotating positions and wholesale use of curling sticks.

Four ladies from the daytime league curled today in Ottawa today at a City View bonspiel. We'll have the results next week in the final column of the season.

At our club's executive meeting last week, it was decided to purchase the nipper, which is on loan until the end of the season. Tip money will be used in the purchase.

Until next week good curling to all!

United Counties Science Fair – Come and see our future scientists!

The Science Fair will be held on March 31st at Cornwall Collegiate and Vocation School. The fair is open to the public and will run from 8:30 am until 5:00 pm

"It is an incredible experience for these students since they can interact with scientists, researchers and experts in various scientific fields," says Ms. Levis, communications coordinator for the fair.

"Projects will be made available for public viewing between 8:30 am to 2:00 pm and afterwards the public is invited to the 'Science Spectacular' [a show demonstrating several scientific principles] and the awards ceremony." Ms. Levis explains that there will be approximately 30 awards given out and that winners of the fair will have an opportunity to participate in the Canada Wide Science Fair.

The United Counties Science Fair was started in 1975 by some founding members such as Mr. Tim Blake, Dr. Cathy Hall and Mr. Joe Rotheram.

Over the years, countless numbers of volunteers such as teachers, professionals, scientists and retirees have dedicated their time and energy in organizing and running the science fair. The yearly success of this event is made possible due to the volunteer activities of judges and the members of the science fair committee such as Mr. Tim Power (Chairperson) and Mrs. Louise McLellan (Coordinator "extraordinaire").

This fair is also made possible by the generous contributions of school boards, businesses, public agencies and private donors.

For more information people are able to visit our new website at www.unitedcountiesscience-fair.org.

Species at Risk Legislation discussed at Council

BY ANDREA CARTIER
SPECIAL TO THE CHIEFTAIN

At the last meeting of council, held on Tuesday, March 20, a petition regarding the Ontario government's draft resolution on species at risk was discussed by the members. The township of South Dundas is being asked to join with other municipalities and concerned groups to write to the Premier of Ontario requesting that full public hearings be held into the Species at Risk Act and that those hearings be held prior to Second Reading by the Ontario Legislature.

Some of the information provided by the Ontario Forestry Coalition to the Mayor and Councillors on this issue points out that the Government of Ontario posted its framework for the development of species at risk legislation on the Environmental Bill of Rights web site on December 22, 2006 the day that most municipal offices closed until the New Year. This action effectively reduced the 30 day review period by a third and gives the impression that this legislation is a rush job. The Coalition also claims that the currently proposed language to address species at risk could impose moratoriums affecting the livelihoods of more than 1.2 million people and more than $100 billion in economic activity. If passed, this legislation would be added to 12 Provincial and 5 Federal pieces of Legislation including the Federal Species at Risk Act (SARA) and the Provincial Endangered Species Act of 1971 that currently provide protection for some species. Furthermore, it is argued that the new proposed Ontario Species of Risk Legislation as written will add a new and costly layer of bureaucracy and regulatory burden that will create a further disincentive to invest in Ontario and will result in a loss of jobs and economic opportunity.

Finally, it is argued that the currently proposed framework for a species at risk act is wrong for Ontario and will negatively impact the farming community, the forestry and mining sectors, the urban planners and homebuilders, fur managers, anglers and hunters, sand, stone and gravel industry, hydro electric developers and many, many others.

After reviewing the information provided by the Ontario Forestry Coalition, Councillor Byvelds stated, "The forest people have a valid point." Councillor Jones was impressed by the way the case was presented and stated, "It certainly seems that they have done their homework." Mayor Barkley was in agreement, and it was the general consensus around the council table that public meetings on the issue were in order.

Pennies for Oma purchases valuable equipment for WDMH

In 2000 Hilda Vandekamp, otherwise known as Oma and a long-time volunteer with the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, started collecting pennies. She collected dozens, then hundreds, and still more pennies kept popping up from friends, neighbours, schoolchildren, WDMH staff and physicians. The project grew and grew, and Hilda decided she would try to collect one million pennies – enough to buy some necessary equipment for Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

The $10,000 collected through these pennies - rolled, counted and banked by Hilda and her helpers - purchased two urgently needed pieces of equipment: one a tool for gynaecologic surgery, and the other a fluid warmer for the emergency department. The fluid warmer assists with people who have suffered hypothermia or trauma, or are in shock, by warming the IV solutions or blood they receive to bring body temperature back to normal.

The Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has been raising funds to help the hospital purchase equipment for nearly 60 years. Hundreds of volunteers have worked thousands of hours in many areas of the hospital and are themselves an outstanding support.

In the photo, Dr. Chuck Su, Chief of Emergency; RN Sandra Fawcett; Hilda Vandekamp; RN Amy Rousseau; and Clinical Manager, Outpatient Services demonstrate the shiny pennies that permitted the purchase of the equipment, seen in the background. "It took a very long time," states Vandekamp, "and I want to thank everyone who helped – we could not have done it without the tremendous assistance from so many people!"

Markell In Memoriam

In loving memory of a dear Grandfather, who passed away March 21, 2005 Charles Markell

You never got to hold me grandpa or me to feel your loving embrace, but often mom shows me your picture and there's a loving smile upon your face. Mom speaks of you with pride and often says your name. I know I would have loved you Grandpa and you would have loved me just the same. Mom says you loved to sing Grandpa and she plays the tape for me. So with your picture and your songs a loving memory you will always be. Mom says God took you to heaven up above and I know you are looking down Grandpa. You can see how much you are missed and loved.

Your Grandson Cameron. Born November 28, 2005. I never met you, but I still know you and love you Grandpa.

Loving memory of a dear and precious father Charles Markell who passed away March 21, 2005

When the Lord said you have finished come up higher, father Dear
You have won a crown in heaven for your love and kindness here
I remember well my sorrow as I stood beside your bed
When I was told that you were gone I miss your kind and willing hand
Your fond and loving care, our home is dark without you Dad
I miss you everywhere, so please God take a message to my precious Dad up above.
Tell him I miss him terribly and give him all my love

Love you and miss you with all my heart your memory will always be with me. Your daughter Pam

A dear Grandfather Charles Markell who passed away March 21st, 2005

Dear Grandpa up above
I'm writing this to let you know how much that you were loved
We are too young to know and cannot understand why you had to go.
Grandma tells us Grandpa, God took you home to rest.
She says I know you miss him, but God only takes the best.
We say a prayer each night Grandpa. But we know it will never be.
Our prayer is to have one more chance to sit upon your knee.
So please dear God in heaven above, give our Grandpa a big kiss and hug. Tell him how much we miss him and how much that he is loved.

Always loved and forever remembered. Your granddaughters Brittany and Hailey

A dear and loving father Charles Markell who passed away March 21, 2005

The moment that you died my heart was torn in two.
One side filled with heartache the other died with you.
I often lie awake at night when the world is fast asleep and take a walk down memory lane with tears upon my cheeks.
Remembering you is easy I do it every day, but missing you is heartache that never goes away. I hold you tightly within my heart and there you will remain.

My dear father and friend you are forever in my heart, your son Calvin.

A dear and loving husband, father and grandfather Charles Markell who passed away March 21, 2005

Little did we know the pain and sorrow that we were to endure that day.
Little did we know God was calling you away.
In the family lounge we waited in silence and in prayer
But when we saw the doctor's face, we knew your life God did not spare.
At that moment our hearts were broken and our lives were shattered in two. Because our lives we would no longer share with you.
So if I could have just one wish and one dream that could come true. I would pray to God with all my heart just to see and speak to you. A thousand words won't bring you back, I know because I've tried and neither will a million tears, I know because I've cried.
So your memories I treasure and the love you left behind, I will always have then with me until the end of time.

Always loved and sadly missed, Your wife Kathy.

Card of Thanks

Though we live at a fast pace these days its much appreciated when people like you take the time to remember me with cards, phone calls, and flowers while I was hospitalized and since I came home too. Special thanks to my family for all of the support I have received. Your thoughtfulness will long be remembered.

BIKE HELMET SAFETY

7 easy ways to get your children to wear bike helmets

(NC)—Now that biking season is here, you might consider these easy tips to get your children to wear bike helmets.

1. Start the helmet habit early.
2. Wear a helmet yourself.
3. Let your children pick out their helmets.
4. Tell your children why it is so important to wear a helmet.
5. Reward your children for wearing helmets.
6. Don't let children ride their bikes unless they wear helmets.
7. Encourage your children's friends to wear helmets.

For more information on bike helmet tips and on obtaining a resource kit to initiate your own community helmet promotion campaign, contact the Canadian Bike Helmet Coalition, 885 Meadowlands Dr. East, Suite 512, Ottawa, ON K2C 3N2 Tel: (613) 224-4144
