Fire destroys Maxville home

Rene and Francine Cadieux of Maxville lost their home and all the contents when fire swept through their home on Monday. Mrs. Cadieux was outside talking with a neighbor when they noticed smoke pouring from the house. They were unable to regain entry to the building.

The couple have three children, two girls, ten and 9 and a boy, 4 years old.

The Maxville Fire Department was at the scene but the flame had spread so rapidly in the pre-fab construction home that nothing of value could be salvaged from fire or smoke and water damage.

Mr. Cadieux had been working of late finishing off the basement and this meant an additional value on the home being lost in the fire.

Mrs. Cadieux had been in the process of setting up a store in the Ernest Andre building, formerly operated by Jamiesons, and part of her merchandise was also in the house at the time of the fire.

Jeanette Melvin and Jeanette Scott are organizing a canvass in the area. Donations may be left at the Bank of Nova Scotia or at St. Bernard's School during school hours.

Board stand

Will ban questions at GDHS meeting

SD&G County Board of Education will hold an information meeting in the Glengarry District High School Wednesday, May 21, but members of the audience will not be allowed to ask questions.

Chairman Sandra Enns said Monday the "special board meeting" will be held in the school cafetorium at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone wishing to appear before the board must submit a written application to Director of Education Rosaire Leger by 5 p.m. Thursday, May 15.

"Included with such application to appear before the board must be an outline of the brief to be presented at the special board meeting," says a board ad placed with The News.

Only one spokesman per group will be allowed unless the presentation is to be given in both French and English in which case two spokesmen are permitted.

No group or spokesman will be allowed to speak in excess of 15 minutes.

Mrs. Enns told The News "there's no way for questions and answers".

She said the meeting is being constituted as a formal board meeting and ratepayers cannot ask the trustees questions.

"We won't be providing a forum for a mob atmosphere," she said.

"We're trying to avoid a free-for-all."

She said the board would give a "fairly extensive presentation" at the beginning of the meeting.

Karen Dicaire, who spearheaded the petition requesting the information meeting, was shocked when she heard the ground rules.

"I can only laugh," she said when told ratepayers will not be allowed to question the trustees.

She said the board's entire handling of the GDHS issue has been "a comedy in three acts".

She said the main purpose of asking for a public meeting was to give ratepayers a chance to question their trustees and get some answers.

"They're turning the cards around," she said.

She said she could not understand why the trustees would be "afraid of questions".

Form health body

Residents of the counties of Prescott and Russell, and Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry are to be served by a new 17-member Seaway Valley District Health Council. The inaugural meeting of the council is expected early in May.

The establishment of the council and the appointment of its members were announced in Toronto by Health Minister Dennis Timbrell. Laurent Cayen, Mayor of Hawkesbury, has accepted the post of chairman and all 17 members are appointed to council for a one-year term.

Excluding the Toronto area, there are 22 district health councils serving 82 per cent of the population in Ontario. Mr. Timbrell said that with the prevailing trend toward community involvement in health planning, DHCs perform an invaluable role.

"In their function of directing diverse viewpoints and concerns into an organized whole," Mr. Timbrell said, "I find that DHCs are vital for any community in interpreting local health needs, setting priorities and planning services."

He commended Steering Committee Chairman Ranald MacDonald of Alexandria for the efforts and recommendations of the committee that resulted in today's announcement of the Seaway Valley District Health Council.

Council membership is a cross-section of health-care providers, the public and the professionals in a community and through planning and co-ordinating, they can produce a balanced, effective and economical health service, Mr. Timbrell said.

In addition to Mr. Cayen and Mr.

RANALD MacDONALD

MacDonald, members of the health council are: Marcel Ranger and Mrs. Suzanne Bowen, Alexandria; Dr. J.T. Baird, Ronald Bergeron, Keith Jodoin, Gerald Parisien and Mrs. Tatiana Labekovski all of Cornwall; Roger S. Emsley and Margaret Hansen-deGroseilliers, O.D. both of Hawkesbury; Larry Gray and Dwayne Justus of Winchester; Joseph F. Dietrich, Wendover; Millicent Maguire, St. Andrews West; Robert Racine, Casselman; Mrs. Louise Sloan, Morrisburg and Mrs. Mavis Wert, Avonmore.

Surveying housing

Alexandria Town Council intends to conduct a survey examining the demand for geared-to-income family housing units similar to those located on Dominion Street South and William Street.

A letter has been sent to the Ministry of Housing seeking permission to conduct the survey and obtain the proper questionnaire forms. Subject to approval, a summer student would be hired to survey Alexandria residents. If a sufficient number of residents express interest and qualify for government housing, the town will submit an application for a housing project to the ministry.

Residents qualifying for housing assistance pay rent in conjunction with their income. A tenant would pay a quarter of their fixed income with utility charges, inclusive.

Any deficit incurred by the housing complex is covered by the two levels of government as of April 1, 1980. In previous years the municipality was responsible for seven and a half per cent of the deficit accumlated at year end.

Councillor Bruno Lalonde, who suggested the survey be conducted, pointed out the town has nothing to lose by applying. "A housing project would stimulate construction and create local employment."

Letters policy

Letters written to The Glengarry News will have to be shorter in the future, publisher Emile Hurtubise has announced.

Letters must be no more than two typewritten pages, double-spaced or the equivalent in handwriting.

Letters over this length will be cut.

In addition, the signatures, addresses and phone numbers of the letter writers must be present to ensure the letters are authentic.

Pen names are not permitted.

LANDING A BIG ONE—Highway 401 near Lancaster was the scene of a flurry of activity last week after a tractor trailer plunged into the Raisin River. Here three diesel tow trucks strain at their cables as they struggle to pull the trailer section out of the icy water. A fourth truck added extra leverage from its mooring on the highway. (Staff Photos—Cameron Ward)

Trucker found in river

A search for the body of a tractor-trailer operator in the Raisin River near Lancaster ended on Wednesday afternoon. The body of Lionel Leveille, age 44, of Longueuil, Que., was found 250 feet downstream from where the vehicle had entered.

The tractor-trailer, owned by CLR Leasing of LaSalle, Que., was eastbound on Highway 401 late Monday evening with a cargo of steel sheets when the vehicle entered the water near the bridge in Lancaster.

Four heavy-duty tow trucks from Montreal hauled the tractor-trailer unit out in three sections Thursday afternoon. The spectacle attracted numerous passing motorists.

Why the truck left the roadway has not been established, report the Lancaster OPP.

A preliminary examination revealed drowning as the cause of death.

An inquest will be held.

Purchasing marshland

Acting on a suggestion by Charlottenburgh Township, the Raisin Region Conservation Authority has decided to purchase the main marshlands along the St. Lawrence River east of Cornwall to the Quebec border.

The marshland is a major duck nesting and fish spawning area and plays an important role in the local economy, Authority Chairman Robert Roth said.

He said much of the tourist industry is based on hunting and fishing and there is growing concern the marshlands might be destroyed by private development.

The Authority had originally asked Charlottenburgh and Lancaster Township if they would favor development restrictions being placed on the marshlands.

Both townships opposed such measures and Charlottenburgh councillors suggested that purchasing the land would be a fairer way of controlling development.

The provincial government provides the bulk of the Authority's funding and the difference in purchase price will be picked up by Nature Conservancy of Canada, a private conservation foundation.

No local tax dollars will be needed to buy the land.

Spending $40.8 million

SD&G school taxes to rise about $50

SD&G County Board of Education taxes will rise about $50 this year.

The increases result from trustees' approval last week of a record $40.8 million budget.

The budget calls for spending $14.2 million for the elementary panel—a jump of $1.1 million—and $26.5 million for the secondary panel, an increase of $1.9 million.

The mill rate increases are 3.08 for the elementary panel and 3.11 for the secondary panel.

The average ratepayer with a home assessed at $3,000 will see his school taxes climb from about $290 to $340.

The half-day kindergarten French program and the proposed closure of four rural schools highlighted the budget debate.

About 60 placard-carrying parents opposing the closings attended the meeting but were not allowed to speak.

Last month trustees voted 10-1 to permanently close the Stampville, John Sandfield Macdonald, Maxville Senior and Roxborough schools at the end of this school year.

Trustee Harry Gatward suggested that if the $300,000 French kindergarten program could be continued, the four schools should stay open.

The provincial government has indicated it will no longer fund the French program because it is not achieving the desired results. The board, therefore, has to collect all of the money from local, property taxes.

Ater a long debate, trustees voted 7-4 in favor of the French program and 6-5 to close the schools.

The parents say they will continue their fight to keep the schools open.

Trustee Sam McLeod, chairman of the board's finance committee, said the two main factors for the increase in the mill rates are the growth in property assessment, which has reduced provincial funding, and a decrease in provincial grants.

Funds for Char-Lan labs placed in board budget

A $45,000 allocation for improving laboratory facilities at Char-Lan District High School is one of several "special projects" planned by SD&G County Board of Education next year.

The board also expects to spend $100,000 for roof repairs at General Vanier Secondary school in Cornwall and $15,000 for shower facilities and storage space at Osnabruck District High School.

Students and parents at Char-Lan are pressuring the provincial government to provide funding for an addition to the school.

Aside from the inadequate laboratory facilities, the school has six portable classrooms.

Students have been organizing a letter writing campaign over the past few weeks.

An estimated 1,000 form letters have been sent by individual ratepayers to the Minister of Education requesting action on the addition.

Leger offers no comment

SD&G County Board of Education Director of Education Rosaire Leger won't comment on results of his meeting Friday with senior Ministry of Education officials in Toronto.

Mr. Leger made the hasty trip to Queen's Park after a ministry spokesman contradicted comments the director made at a public meeting in Alexandria concerning the "two entities" proposal for Glengarry District High School.

Mr. Leger said the new policy would result in no changes at the school, while Vincent Caron, co-ordinator of French Language Services, told The News in an exclusive interview that a two entities policy would legally create two schools, a French Language school and an English Language school.

The director said he expects to make a public statement shortly. He is awaiting written comments from the ministry.

ARMFULS OF GIFTS—Lucien Ranger, left, and Clif Britton needed more arms on Saturday night to hold all the gifts presented to them at the Bonnie Glen at the testimonial evening held for them. The Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society which sponsored the event gave them the silver trays and photos while the Old-time Fiddlers presented the plaques. A monetary gift was made on behalf of the overflow crowd present. (Photo—Mervyn MacDonald)

Solar group having tour

The Eastern Ontario Chapter of the Solar Energy Society of Canada is inviting the general public on a bus tour of solar homes Saturday, April 26.

Interested people may call Richard Kerr, 874-2293, or Bill Buss, 525-3715.

The society wants names in advance so that a large enough bus can be ordered.

The tour will start at Glengarry District High School at 10 a.m. and return there by 5 p.m.

People are to bring a box lunch and there will be a small charge to cover bus rental.

The tour group will visit an add-on greenhouse in Avonmore, a solar water heater in St. Andrews and a solar addition to a house.

Also, on May 3, "Sunday" is being celebrated with a demonstration at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Starting at noon, the group will construct a solar water heater suitable for use in an average home. Materials cost about $300.

Such a heater should provide all hot water needs in summer and some in winter.

Additional demonstrations may also take place.

Plan to create a parking lot

Glengarry Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., located at 51 Main St. North, will be levelling two buildings directly north of their office. This property will be converted into parking facilities for the company within the next month, reports a company spokesman.

The insurance company recently purchased the building located at 59 Main St. from Mrs. Gary Shepherd. This wood-frame building was last operational as Elie David's Feed Store. The neighboring cement block structure had been bought three years ago from Adrien Charlebois. Mrs. Lise Theoret operated a Ladies Wear Shop at this location until the building was gutted by fire in late February.

Area Girl Guides are honored

Club members would like to thank their leaders Mrs. Diane Jaggassar and Mrs. Maureen MacEwen for their help and efforts. They would also like to thank Miss Michels for being such a helpful Home Economist. The next club will start in the fall, and will be called "Food for Friends."

This should be a fun evening, or an entertaining night out—all kinds of goodies have come in for the sale, and the Manor residents will be having their crafts table too.

Parents will fight school closure

by Velma Franklin

Interested parents and village residents gathered in the auditorium of the Maxville Senior School on Wednesday evening for a further discussion on the SD&G Board's decision to close this school, sending its 73 pupils back to the public school next fall.

James Fergusson chaired this meeting, with committee members Catherine Kippen and Stan Jasiewicz.

He reviewed the debatable points, upon which complete information seems to be lacking, the costs of busing elsewhere for shop and home economics, classes, the increased costs at the public school with the increased enrolment, and what happens to the debentures if the school closes. Since declining enrolment is the root of the whole problem there was a strong feeling that not enough attention had been paid to the effect of new families moving into Maxville who are in new subdivisions, particularly over a period of 10 or 12 years. There was also the disturbing prospect of Tagwi having to close for lack of students.

Stan Jasiewicz had attended the Board's last meeting at which the budget was approved, and he gave an account of this, combined with an impassioned plea for support for the welfare and best interests of the children in this district. He pointed out that the school committee had spent about $65. in advertising this evening's meeting, that leaflets had been sent out to everyone of the 1600 families involved, and the result was a disappointing turn-out of about 50 people. He said "Without public support, you can't blame the Board for this, we are closing this school ourselves!!" He had been appalled at the lack of discussion over the items on the Board's budget, and Chairman Enn's unfortunate reference to $300,000 as "nickels", when the idea of closing this school was to save $40,000. The fight can be continued, he said, "But where is everybody?"

Principal Dwayne MacKinnon, in reply to a question from the floor, informed the audience that all the staff from the Senior school would be transferred to the junior school, and that health, music, and social adjustment classes would continue as before.

Trustee Fraser Campbell, who received his formal education in this school, pointed out that he always voted against closure but has only the one vote.

The Board, once having decided on closing a school, is not easily deterred from its path. He felt that far more public support was essential for any kind of success, and that Maxville should join forces with the protesters in Moose Creek and Monkland who are fighting vigorously for their schools. On one point he was quite firm, that the Board cannot pick and choose between schools, either all the four schools close, or they all stay open.

Allan MacEwen, village councillor, recalled the blow the village received when the high school was closed and the new one opened at Tagwi. Closing the Senior school will be a second similar blow to the village. He confirmed that the old community hall is definitely for sale. Administrator Lorne Lawson outlined the procedure in case the school has to be sold, first chance going to 1) another school board, 2) St. Lawrence College, 3) the municipality, and finally 4) the public.

Capacity at the junior school is officially 368 (it was later admitted this was including portables). With Roxborough and the Senior in next year the enrolment is projected at 305, very little room for expansion in case the population should increase as hoped. Statistics were quoted from the States to the effect that the birth rate has already begun to rise again.

Larry Cotton, formerly counties planner, was of the opinion that the Board's decisions were almost entirely political, and felt very strongly that Maxville should enlist the aid of its politicians too, he wondered why Mr. Villeneuve and Mr. McIntyre were not at this meeting.

There was insistent questioning on the subject of "a firm commitment" that the community understood had been made at the time the Senior school was opened that it would stay open. Mr. Lawson explained that this was a verbal agreement only, and not general board policy. Fraser Campbell affirmed this, adding that the present Board, consisting almost entirely of new members, feels no way bound by the agreements of a previous group. Trouble had apparently been foreseen due to declining enrolment even so long ago, and the administration at that time had reservations about the Senior School.

Larry Cotton pointed out that facts and figures can be altered and adjusted, a sharp clear picture is very hard to obtain, and he wanted much more detailed financial information on the whole cost problem. Councillor Ron Clare recognized the need for contributions towards an expense fund for a school closure committee which he felt had to be formed immediately.

There was considerable discussion over the sum of $40,000 mentioned as necessary for repairs to the roof. Margaret Jack pointed out that the roof has already been repaired satisfactorily several times at little expense. However Mr. Lawson explained that most roofs only last 20 years, and complete replacement becomes necessary—he also felt that a roof was not an essential item in the closure debate, since a roof had to be on, regardless of the fate of the building.

When all the discussion had drawn to a close chairman Fergusson called for a vote—yes or no, on whether to drop the whole matter right now, or to form an active committee of a dozen interested parents to go on with the fight to keep the Senior School open. The answer was a unanimous yes to continuing the fight. After a brief adjournment for coffee and cakes this group of individuals met to plan their strategy.

They intend to attend the next Board meeting in Cornwall, and to join forces with the other battling school supporters, and enlist the aid of the local politicians. A particular effort is to be made to obtain more accurate financial statistics. This committee is in need of some funds to help defray the costs of advertising, printing, phone calls, etc. Maxville Recreation, The Cubs and Scouts, Ron Clare, Campbell's Toyota, the Pathfinders, and the Students' Council have already made their donations—further support is most welcome.

CLAUDE BOURCK SELECTED ALL-AMERICAN

Claude Bourck of Lancaster, has been selected to the first team of the National Junior College Athletic Association All-American hockey team.

The selection comes after two years at Canton ATC in Canton, NY, where Claude has accepted a scholarship. Joining Claude on the honorary first team is Bob McNairn, an ex-Morrisburg Lion, who haunted Glens' goaltenders with his scoring ability when the locals played in the South-East sector of the Jr. B league.

Claude is presently enrolled in a Business Administration course at Canton but will be transferring to Clarkson College in Potsdam next year for the last two years of a degree program. The scholarship at Clarkson means playing in a higher calibre hockey league.

Claude played the majority of his minor hockey in Alexandria and several junior years with the Char-Lan Rebels Jr. C club.

Reflecting on Claude's decision to attend an American school, we recently noticed how these schools are producing hockey players who are as capable as many Canadian junior hockey graduates. The American Olympic team was composed of university players who certainly proved their capability in world competition.

Canadians introduced the game of hockey and have watched the Americans develop a tactical and strategic approach to win. One approach includes the adoption of hockey into their disciplined university athletic programs and the offering of scholarships. Their success is proven by the number of Americans now wearing NHL uniforms.

Americans have illustrated the success of athletic scholarships but the Canadian government refuses to budge in its stand to disallow athletic scholarships, even in the face of embarrassment in world amateur competition.

The main reason for not supporting athletic scholarships has been the argument that academic standards would decrease. The logic is supposed to be that students getting their education paid by the government would tend to slack off as opposed to those paying their own education.

I suggest the government monitor some students receiving substantial government grants if that is the main concern.

VERSATILE PLAYER

The Apple Hill team must have recorded a first in the annual Glengarry News Cup series when Denis Decoste scored a goal in last Wednesday's game. The novelty of the goal was that Denis started the game as a netminder allowing several goals, then shed the pads for a forward position and notched a goal himself. Truly a two-way player!

COUNCIL COMMENDED

Alexandria Town Council, in particular Jean Guy Levert and his men, were commended by Perpetuel Secours School at the last council meeting in a letter thanking them for preserving a skating rink on the lake in Alexandria throughout the winter and for assistance in assembling their school rink. That expression of gratitude served as an eye-opener!

During this rather peculiar winter season we were without our customary outdoor recreational activities; there were only a handful of days when cross-country skiing conditions were good and snowmobiling was treacherous throughout the season. But that sleek sheet of ice in the parkland preserved our sanity and provided numerous hours of enjoyment and exercise for young and old alike.

We join Perpetuel Secours School in saluting the efforts and insight of Jean Guy and his crew in maintaining this recreational facility. They provided an ice surface free for area youths when ice time available in local arenas was at a premium.

UNIFORMS ARE COSTLY

It can hardly be considered an investment when local business folk and industry purchase athletic team uniforms, for only a handful of people appreciate the pledge. However sponsorship can still be found throughout the county, but the good heartedness of our sponsors is dwindling in the wake of sweaters disappearing from complete sets. It's somewhat frustrating and discouraging to spend $400 on uniforms only to have an incomplete set of sweaters by the conclusion of the first season.

A team sporting smart uniforms instills a certain pride and confidence in any athlete. For a minor athlete it's the ultimate honor to be worthy of a team sweater. So let's not deprive a team or sponsor of what they have worked for and paid for only to be fashionable. If the particular mould of uniform is so appealing, order extra sweaters as the local high school football team has done in the past seasons. Another alternative would be to steal the entire set so they could be used for another team sport.

As athletes we owe it to the sponsor to respect the equipment purchased for us and today that property is worth a considerable sum.

Soccer officials returned

The first meeting of the Glengarry Soccer League took place on Tuesday, April 15th in preparation for the 1980 season.

The annual elections were held and the same slate of officers was returned for the coming season. Marie Hambleton will once again serve as chairman; Peter McLeod, vice-chairman; Bill Shields, referee-in-chief and Elizabeth Barton, secretary-treasurer.

Elizabeth Barton reported the bank balance as $3,952.

A referees' clinic will be held at the Sports Palace on April 24, 28, 30 and May 5. Participants will be charged a $2.50 entry fee.

A new fee schedule was passed for the Senior division. Player registration will remain at $5. but referee's fees and admission fees will increase.

Referees will receive $18. for regular season games and $25. for playoff games while linesmen will get $7. and $10.

Admission to senior games will be $1. during the season and $1.50 for the playoffs.

The Glengarry Stars' informers brought up the question of why the Stars are not permitted a voice in League's affairs and were told that a constitutional amendment could be proposed in September.

The registration fees for girls and minors will remain at $2 per player and referees will receive $7. for minor games.

There will be three girls' divisions this year; Senior (15 and over), Intermediate (11 to 14) and Junior (10 and under).

Player registration for the up coming season will be held on May 3 and 10 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. with locations to be announced.

Stars eliminated

Glengarry Stars ran into hot goalkeeping during a penalty shot shootout against Ogdensburg on Saturday which resulted in their elimination from the Prescott Indoor Tournament.

Stars played three games in a round-robin format against Ogdensbury, N.Y.; Clarkson College, N.Y.; and Cornwall City. After a 0-0 tie against Ogdensburg the Stars rallied for two 1-0 victories over Clarkson and Cornwall City on goals by Phillip Lewis and Herb Maley, respectively.

The point totals after the round-robin series had the Stars tied with Ogdensburg which resulted in the shootout. Ogdensburg prevailed 3-1 after five penalty shots apiece.

This week-end both Stars' teams will participate in the Cornwall City Indoor Tournament. Glengarry Stars' junior and senior teams both play two games Friday evening. The juniors' first game is slated for 7:30 p.m. and the seniors are scheduled for a 9 p.m. start at the Water Street Arena.

Canoeists capsize, finish third

Tom Bryson and Maurice Sauve finished third in the 14-mile Jock River White Water Canoe Race in Manotick recently.

The placement came as somewhat of a disappointment for the duo who had led their competitors up to the three-quarter mark of the race only to strike a rock and capsize. Before the canoe had been uprighted the team had lost six valuable minutes and fallen to third position. They finished two and a half minutes behind the winning MacMillan brothers of Ottawa and only 14 seconds back of second position and a trophy.

Among local competitors were female canoeists Lynn Gallant and Beth Lancaster who teamed up for a second-place trophy in the women's category. They were also destined for a first-place finish but upset in the last leg of the race losing precious time.

Bruno Major and son Myles of North Lancaster, paddled to the parent-child championship while Maurice and Richard Deguire of Alexandria capsized and were unable to complete the race.

Maurice and Tom's next major race will be in Pembroke on May 17, one of the preliminary races for canoeists to qualify for the provincial competition.

Dimitrios lose playoff

The playoffs began Friday in Vankleek Hill. Dimitrios played Metro and lost their first playoff game. The final score was 48-39.

Dimitrios only had four players throughout the game and at one point were behind by 20 points. They managed to lessen the gap in the final quarter.

Paul Hurtubise led the scoring, with 27 points. Other scorers were Andy Lariviere with eight points, Butch McFadden with two points and Robert Mills, also with two points.

Their next game will be Friday night in Vankleek Hill.

Abbey skips curling team to Syrup bonspiel win

The final event of the curling year held on Saturday, the maple syrup bonspiel, was won by Harry Abbey and his team of Bill Watts, Don MacLennan and Joanne Lapierre. Lorne Lawson convened the 16-team event which wound-up with a steak barbecue dinner. In second place was the team of Jerry Adams, skip, Claudette Larocque, Ron McDonell and Ann Williamson.

One-game high winners were Hugh Allan McDonald, skip, with Marie Laure Menard, Gord MacMillan and Claire Aubry. One-game high runners-up were Kaye Hay, skip, Janine Deschamps, Wally MacDonald and Blair Watts. All received maple syrup for prizes.

The supper was catered by kitchen convenors Bev Craig, Janine Deschamps and Patch Macdonell. Music was provided by the Dorney Duo, Jackie Smith and Hughie McDonell, with some assistance from Jerry Adams on the gut bucket and Phil Lloyd on washboard.

The spring draw in the ladies division, for the Menard Construction Trophy, was won by Marie Laure Menard, skip, with Reine Bergeron, Joy Clinton and Sheila Olson. Runners-up and winners of the Challenge Trophy, were Claudette Larocque, skip, Barb McCormick, Bev Craig and Lucy Theoret.

The Town of Alexandria Trophy was won by Lorne Lawson's team in the men's draw. With Lorne were Art Craig and Brian Clinton. Runners-up were Laurent Major, skip, with Bob Labonte, David MacMillan and Wally MacDonald.

In the spring mixed draw, Fraser MacLeod's team of Joan Ryan and Sheila Olson were winners of the Town of Alexandria Business Peoples Trophy. They defeated the team of Jerry Adams, Leonore MacMillan, Donaldson MacLeod and Paula Bruni.

Sherry Macdonell, skip; Scott Milne and Blair Watts were the winners of the Al Malcolmson Trophy for junior curlers in Alexandria. The finals of the junior program were played recently at which time Bob Labonte, supervisor, reported another successful year.

Runners-up were the team of Bill Watts, skip, along with Joanne Trudel and Cheryl MacDougall.

Bainsville, St. Raphael's in cup final

Bainsville and St. Raphael's will meet in the first game of the best-of-seven Glengarry News Cup final on Wednesday night. The two teams finished the double round-robin series with only one point separating them, splitting their two encounters with one win apiece.

Glen Nevis finished third with seven points, faltering in the early games of the series while the Glengarry Juniors started strongly but sputtered near the end. Apple Hill, who were forced to contend with a manpower shortage, failed to win a game.

MONDAY, APRIL 22

St. Raphael's 4, Bainsville 2

Glen McDonell opened the scoring for Bainsville in the first period but St. Raphael's came back in the second period with four quick goals.

Scoring for St. Raphael's were Kennedy MacDonald with two and singles by Cameron and Kieran McCormick.

Rodney Shepherd notched the second goal for Bainsville at the mid-point of the third period to conclude the game's scoring.

GLENGARRY JRS. 15, APPLE HILL 1

Glengarry Juniors led by Grant Crack's 10-point night slaughtered Apple Hill.

Don McRae potted Apple Hill's lone marker in the final game of the round-robin series.

It is sufficient to say every St. Raphael's player picked up points in the rout.

FRIDAY, APRIL 18

Glen Nevis 11, Glengarry Jrs. 7

Glen Nevis held a commanding 8-2 lead after two periods then coasted to victory.

Mike Tessier led the Glen Nevis attack with four goals.

Bainsville 7, Apple Hill 0

Seven different individuals scored for the Bainsville entry as they shutout Apple Hill behind the goalkeeping of Rene Lefebvre.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16

St. Raphael's 9, Glengarry Jrs. 1

St. Raphael's put on a strong performance in dealing the Glengarry Jrs. a death blow in the News Cup series. The Glengarry Jrs. were in a must-win situation but were no match for the high scoring St. Raphael's team.

Leo Seguin recorded a hat trick to lead the red and white to victory.

Glen MacMillan got the lone tally for the Juniors.

Glen Nevis 13, Apple Hill 5

Glen Nevis pulled out to a 6-1 lead in the first period and never looked back en route to their 13-5 romp.

Stephen MacDonell paced the Glen Nevis squad with five goals while Ian Sandilands added a hat trick.

Bruce Benton knocked in three of Apple Hill's markers and added an assist on another goal by Gordie MacDonell.

Golf season to open on weekend

The greens are mowed, the fairways drying out well and the club house facilities ready for the start of the 1980 golfing season on Saturday. A few players have covered the course already, and report it in good condition. The warm weather and rain have played their part as has the busy ground crew.

An executive meeting presided over by President Bruce Marr was held Sunday to finalize opening plans. Changes in licencing by the Ontario government were a main topic. Only members and green fee players are entitled to use the club house.

Preferential tee-off times for members were set by Richard Bellefeuille, director of golf. These are from 1-2 p.m. on Saturdays and after 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoons. A starter is being sought. Gilles Houde agreed to chair the Twilight League again this year.

Social Director Sandy MacDonald reported on plans for the opening dance, May 31, with the Nowickyj orchestra, and announced that a $3.00 charge was set. There will be a ladies' card party May 7.

The new pro shop has some stock on hand for opening day reports Stanley Fraser. Show cases are still needed for the display of golfing accessories. Staff for the year has been hired and some are on duty now. Al Pickett, club manager, and Hubert Lapierre, bar manager, have been working daily to prepare for the season.

Club lounge hours were set at the meeting. These are on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, noon to 10 p.m.; Wednesday, noon to midnight; Friday and Saturday, noon to 1 a.m.

The use of Chargex at the club was discussed and Gilles Houde is continuing his investigation in this matter.

Stanley Fraser reported on plans for the Junior Golf Clinic to be held May 12-16 from 4-6 p.m. daily. He has scheduled a two-level program for beginners and the more advanced golfers. Mr. Fraser also requested that tees be closed during the clinic to facilitate lessons. He asked that juniors be given the opportunity to caddy during tournaments, with a fee to be set by the club. A novice tournament is planned for early July.

It was moved by Gilles Houde that promising juniors be awarded the opportunity of attending a week-long golf school. The executive agreed to having the club absorb the tuition fee and named Julie Rouette as this year's recipient.

Two items of business which arose at last year's shareholders meeting were attended to. A tree committee is to be named to start the much-needed program of replacing the dying elms on the course; and Gary Viscount of Comrie, Blakely and Craig was appointed auditor for 1980.

N. Lancaster wins weekend foot hockey tourney

North Lancaster won the Alexandria Foot Hockey Tourney Sunday afternoon, tying the Gilles Ouellette team from Laval 3-3 with only 40 seconds remaining on the clock, then marching to a 6-3 overtime victory. The victory meant $450 in prize money and the respective hardware.

To gain the final berth the North Lancaster squad had to record four victories in the 28-team, two-day competition. In the preliminary round they shut out Cornwall Dalbec's and in the semi-final round drubbed Trottier-Ford 4-1.

Paul Seguin was the final game's hero, scoring the tying goal in the dying seconds to force overtime.

Winner of the "B" title and $200 in prize money was St. Janvier, Quebec, downing Roy's Garage 5-2 in the final match.

Local merchants and industries donated MVP trophies to make the tournament a great success, reports Henry Dumouchel, tournament chairman.

Playing for the winning team were: Bob Elson, Doug Meldrum, Philip, Henry, and John Dumouchel, Leo and Paul Seguin, Bruno Lalonde, Tom Lowe, Jean-Paul Claude, Guy Secours, Louis Bennett. Allan Fox. Mackie and Darrell Campbell.

Local broomball team wins Canadian title

Winning a national title is an amateur athletes' dream. For Willie McDonald of Greenfield Harold McRae of Maxville, Ray Seguin from the Williamstown area and Brian Benton of Apple Hill, the dream became a reality on Saturday when their Cornwall based team won the National Broomball Championship. These four broomballers are without a doubt the first Glengarrians to win such a title, let alone members of the first Ontario team to win the national broomball crown.

These lads play for the Cornwall Pop Shoppe team which upset defending champion Quebec 4-2 in Saskatoon on Saturday afternoon to win the title. Cornwall becomes the first non-Quebec team to win the men's title.

Cornwall lost to Quebec 3-1 earlier in the tournament during the round-robin series; that loss coupled with a loss in the finals last year to the same Quebec team made the final victory "sweet revenge".

WILLIE McDONALD

To gain a berth in the Canadian championships Cornwall had to win the regional championship in Rockland and the Ontario tournament held in Cambridge.

The team returned from Saskatoon Sunday evening and reportedly is still celebrating the victory.

Correction

In our story last week, "Arena rates hiked," telling of the Glengarry Sports Palace Board's decision to raise the participation fee to $25 the News has erred in saying the hike represented a 10 per cent increase per minor hockey player. The increase would represent a $10 increase per minor hockey player and $15 for minor broomball, ringette and figure skating participants.

Sports in the Glens

There is an ancient cliche in sport writing. It says, "Younger legs are developed to replace those that have become a step slower on both the turf and ice lanes." This is also true, figuratively speaking, in relation to those of us writing and commenting on athletic events whether it be in a weekly paper, a daily or the electronic way of radio and TV.

That time has come to me in my lengthy and pleasant association with the Glengarry News. Hence I write this column with mixed feelings. Like a veteran player in baseball, football, soccer or hockey I am stepping aside in favor of younger legs.

To be forced to slow down after some 60 years of sport realm involvement in one minor way or another creates a melancholy frame of mind. However the bright side is knowing that the cliche of younger legs means that your favorite weekly journal has a bright, affable, knowledgeable and highly qualified sport writer in Brian Filion. Brian has his finger on the sport pulse daily and his university career broadens his analytic powers that have already established his status of writing in an interesting and professional way.

Like Dink Carroll of the Montreal Gazette my future contribution will be an occasional column when a reminiscent theme stirs fond memories of past heros and glory days in the Glens. Best wishes Brian—carry on.

IN RETROSPECT

My appreciation and gratitude is extended to all those News readers who mailed best recovery wishes to me directly and indirectly during the winter months. Your expressions of concern will be always among my treasured memories. And a memo especially to Mrs. Julien (Marie McLeister) Quebec City and Ewan Ross, Goderich, "No, I am not throwing in the towel completely, thus complying with your request; thank you."

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF

The year 1979-80 in football and hockey will rate among the best in the great years of Glengarry sport history. Last fall the pride of Lochiel, the Hay boys, J.T. starred with Calgary Stampeders in the Western Canada CFL final. Scott booted Ottawa Sooners to the Canadian junior football championship. Shades of Lancaster's Stuart Rayside with Ottawa in their 1900 Dominion championship, "Big Dunc" (Father Duncan-Baker) MacDonald of Glen Sandfield and Munroe's Mills Joe Corbett of Ottawa College glory days.

In the NHL, St. Raphael's Blair MacDonald had an outstanding season with Edmonton Oilers especially his lofty scoring record. And John Wensink was his usual sturdy, reliable self on Bruins' wing play. More shades of the past like Charlottenburgh's Ran McDonald and Randy McLennan of West Coast Stanley Cup play. Ran McDonald played beside the famed "Cyclone" Taylor with Vancouver in the Stanley Cup playoff against Toronto in 1918. And in 1895 Randy McLennan was a member of the Klondike hockey club that challenged Ottawa for the Lord Stanley silverware.

But that is not all. Right now we have a family tradition repeating. Peterborough Petes of the Ontario Major junior loop who have just eliminated Ottawa 67's appear headed for the Memorial Cup finals. Among the chief reasons that they are on that course is the stellar play of their Alexandria-born goalie "Rick" Laferriere.

Rick's parents are Jacques and Marlene (Saddler Macdonell) Laferriere. Rick was born here January 3, 1960. He later moved to North Bay with his family and from the minor hockey in North Bay he was drafted by Peterborough. Last season he was in the back-up slot but is now the number one net minder.

Rick Laferriere has come by his hockey prowess honestly via his maternal heredity. His grandfather, "Joe Saddler," a son of Donald John Saddler Macdonell links Ourtown back before the turn of the century. Joe was quite a capable player on the open air rinks before any dream of Glengarry Gardens. Rick's grand uncles Wallie and Basil were two of the best young lacrosse players in the wane of the 10-man field game and launching box lacrosse. In hockey, Wallie Saddler rated among the better class of players in that era of Bruno Brunet, Brabant Lauzon, Plouffe Taillefer, Johnny Hughie and "Little Alex (Greenfield) MacDonald and the Pilon brothers.

And Rick's great grandfather Donald John "Saddler" Macdonell and his brother Bill, legend tells us, were both among the leaders of Alexandria pioneer days of hockey and lacrosse. On their plus side they were known to be quite able in handling their "dukes."

So Rick, along with playing for the honor and glory of such a great Ontario town as Peterborough you also have on your back the "Saddler" tradition down here in the Glens. From here sport fans extend their best wishes for your continued success that we trust will provide you with an NHL contract.

ANOTHER GLENGARRY LINK

Old friend Claude McIntosh, Freeholder sports editor, heads his Royals' elimination story of Chicoutimi Sagueneens thus: "Big Mike rediscovers scoring touch." Claude is referring of course to Mike Corrigan the young lad who came down this way from Sudbury in the midget draft a couple of years ago.

Mike has a Glengarry connection via the marital route. Some years ago Wm. "Billie" MacMillan from this area married Mike Corrigan's widowed grandmother. We seem to recall that they lived in Timmins. In this way Billie (John Dougall) MacMillan became Mike's step-grandfather.

Among the next of kin locally on the MacMillan side are Mrs. Pete MacSweyn and her brothers Archie, Duncan and Robbie McCormick.

FROM THE MAIL BAG

Jim will be delighted with the Standard's 1911 report of a hockey game matching Williamstown and Cornwall.

Bill Fitsell, International Hockey Hall of Fame, writes from Kingston with a brief on Ran McDonald and Randy McLennan . . . Bill also advises how to contact Bobby Orr . . . we were to invite Bobby to be our guest speaker at coming induction dinner . . . too late for this time around.

From the Toronto Artillery Officers Association and Arthur MacRae a brief of the great rifle record of Dr. Donald "Don" MacRae, Montreal, relative to his induction nomination to our Glens' Hall of Fame . . . also too late for this year but such an outstanding record elevates the Dunvegan native to the top priority list.

And also in the belated mail an interesting stint from George and Kym Anthony of Roxboro, Que. . . . George is an avid News reader thus maintaining his ancestral Glengarry heritage . . . George is a brother of Matt Anthony, Ottawa, who was inducted in the Ottawa U Hall of Fame last fall . . . Their mother was Martintown-born Maude Lamabe, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lamabe . . . an uncle Jimmy Lamabe was one of the all time great athletes of the old Alexandria High School era.

BACK IN THE SENATE

It was pleasing to learn after arriving home that two of the older sport fraternity were able to resume their seats in Ourtown's Senate . . . Deputy Speaker, "Gabe" Aubry and "Howie" Morris . . . both had a tough battle with the medicos the past months . . . another member tells us that Gabe is back in fine debating fettle especially with the Speaker (Gerald Paddy) . . . also John M. Kennedy tells us that "Howie" is the sport fan of old . . . the other night at a News Cup game he, quote, "Gave me the elbow in the ribs four times in one period . . . that is more than Gordie Howe can now do during a whole game," end of quote. That's it for now folks.

County Commentary

by Cameron Ward

One of the highlights of the first meeting of the Glengarry Soccer League executive was the secretary-treasurer's report that the league has a bank balance of $3,952.

The Glengarry league appears to be a thriving business. Each year, its revenues outweigh its operating expenses. It would seem logical, then, that the surplus revenue be employed to improve the quality of the league.

Several suggestions come to mind, although none were mentioned at the first meeting.

The league could take steps to upgrade its calibre of officiating and coaching by sponsoring referees' and coaches' clinics. Granted, the Glengarry league is subsidizing this year's referees' clinic, but it could probably encourage more participation by waiving the entry fee altogether.

The league could also improve the quality of soccer by earmarking funds for field improvement. Several of the playing fields are dreadful, and, if the league provided a capital subsidy, fields could be levelled, lengthened and cleared of stones. Running water and change rooms could be installed where necessary.

There would no doubt be bickering over the amount each field would get, but a simple formula could circumvent this problem and provide an equitable arrangement. The number of Glengarry League games scheduled for a particular place could be divided into the total number of games scheduled. The resulting percentage figure could then be applied to the funds set aside for field improvement projects. A field which hosts 20 per cent of the games would get 20 per cent of the total cash available from the league. A field hosting 10 per cent of the games would receive 10 per cent of the money, and so on.

Evidently then, there are ways in which Glengarry league profits can be spent in order to improve local soccer. However, the league may wish to continue to pad its $4,000 nest egg. If so, it might be advantageous for it to invest in oil stock, where the money could draw a greater return than it presently does in a bank account.

Several products of the Glengarry Minor Soccer system turned in strong performances for the Glengarry Stars in a recent Prescott indoor tournament.

This is a heartening note for followers of soccer here, but it may prove disheartening for members of the Glengarry League Stars, since many of these young players will soon be donning rival uniforms.

If the Prescott tournament is any indication, young players to watch this year and coming years will include Kieran McCormick, D. J. McGillis, Irvin Simpson and Allan MacLeod.

Martintown Rumor Mill

By Art Buckland

The Char-Lan School Committee is sending a letter to the Minister of Education seeking funds to improve inadequate facilities and replace portables at Char-Lan High School.

The arguments are as follows: 1. The population growth of Charlottenburgh Township is twice the national average. 2. Past projected enrolment figures were lower than actual enrolment and the same seems true for present projections. 3. The Ministry of Education showed obvious faith in the area by spending $277,000 to expand Williamstown's public school last year. 4. Millions has just been made available to duplicate facilities in English come French high schools. Char-Lan wants just one set of up-dated facilities. 5. The high school has needed these improvements for ten years.

Remember the Davis theme of regional school initiation: "Equality of opportunity for all students, urban or rural," Eastern Ontario or Metro Toronto.

Recent studies of post secondary graduates have shown that "the qualities most valued by employees are general know--ledge, leadership, clear thinking and effective communication," i.e. the ability to observe and discriminate, to think and analyze, to communicate.

SPRING POEM

Wilbert A. Crawford, formerly of Monkland, sends along his spring poem, I Too Should Sing.

There, on a slender branch
A tiny bird
With throbbing throat
Pours forth in limpid notes
Its joyous song in praise of Spring.
Should I, with winter past and lengthening days,
Feel less inclined to lift my voice
In grateful praise for resurrected thoughts
And lovely Spring?

AUTHOR WAS HERE

Last weekend Cornwall's Roger Caron was in town. His book, "Go-Boy," winner of the Governor General's Award, tells of leaving the Cornwall jail at 16 and details 23 years of Canadian prison life. His autobiography points out that you just do not change human nature.

His vivid description of a corporal punishment called The Paddle should be read by everyone.

Caron says that they took him into a whitewashed room with a mass of metal tubing contoured to hold the human form with shackles. Hanging from pegs were three leather straps with wooden handles, each one perforated with tiny holes designed to trap and rip the flesh from the buttocks.

When his naked body was securely anchored, and a metal band encircling his waist protected his kidneys, the flailing began.

Finally, he says, it was over. Ten strokes of the paddle and he did not scream or beg as so many had. That was an important part of his code.

The Scotiabank difference

They're all the same, many say! A bank is a bank . . . and money is money.

True, there are many similarities, but there are differences too, and it's the differences that matter to you. The Scotiabank difference is the way we do business.

Money is money, but there are many different situations and purposes for which it can be used. There's money for operating, for equipment financing, for leasing, for land purchases and for fixed interest term loans. Scotiabank can show you different financial routes that can help you achieve your goals.

As a farmer, you want a farm bank, so we staff Scotiabank branches in farm areas with people who know the farming business.

And, because farming is a big and complex business, Scotiabank also offers a full range of support services.

If you think all banks are the same, discover the Scotiabank difference.

Glengarry Pipe Band begins to prepare for spring

Just as "Capistrano" has its return of the swallows, Maxville has it's music of the "great Highland Bagpipe" heralding the arrival of spring.

Winter is the time of year when the band must follow an intensive learning program and it is only by the time the warm spring days arrive that the new "competition medleys", incorporating eight or ten new tunes, have been mastered. The culmination of each individual piper's homework on new tunes and each drummer's new beatings must blend and be perfected before these new medleys can be enjoyed.

Each fall the band becomes depleted as members leave for University or take their place in the work force. Throughout the fall and winter "intermediate" students from the School of Piping and Drumming are gradually joining the band for practice and by spring many are ready to join the band when "on parade". Band members returning from university, having learned the tunes from sheet music and tapes, are quickly able to rejoin the band and swell the ranks for competitions, concerts and parades.

The Band gave a short performance for the members of the Glengarry Club of Ottawa at their "Bonspiel" held at Maxville Curling Club Arena, April 12. The "performance", although in reality an extension of the Saturday afternoon band practice, was a chance to play this year's new medleys for an audience. These tunes, unfamiliar to most ears, and rather different from previous years, were well played and well received.

Friday eveming, May 2, The Glengarry School of Piping and Drumming will be holding their annual recital and presentation of trophies and awards. The school executive extends an invitation to all of you to support the students by being present at this annual event, scheduled to be held in the Old Community Hall. (no admission charge) The teachers of the Glengarry School of Piping and Drumming, the present and future members of the Glengarry Pipe Band, as well as the executive, would be pleased to answer questions and get to know any potential students at a friendly gathering following the recital.

The Pipe Band members, although taking time out for the Wednesday Evening, April 16, performance at the meeting of the Ottawa Piping Club, collected donations of all kinds (books, plants, baking, furniture, from their neighbourhood friends and relatives throughout the Ottawa Valley. John A. MacLennan, whose expertise in antiques is well known, again this year donated his services for the "Auction" held at the Maxville Sportsplex, April 19. A "Bake Sale" was held in conjunction with the "Auction" and tickets for "The Quilt Draw" were available, another beautiful quilt made by Mrs. Donalda MacLennan. Band performances, the generous donations from individuals, clubs and communities, together with a Wintario Grant '79 allowed the band to purchase eight new drums, tuned pipe chanters for the band, socks, plaids and brooches—we hope you approve of the "new look".

Maintenance of a band is costly:—some of the jackets are attaining retirement status as they have been in existence since the "early days" of the band; Inverness capes are on order as the sun doesn't always shine when the "Glengarry Pipe Band" is in town; transportation costs are sky-rocketing—enough said! We know you are with us.

A few band members are expecting to be present in the "Brookdale Mall", April 24 and 25, late afternoon and evening, where it is hoped their music will attract attention to the "Quilt Draw" sale of tickets. The quilt will be on display.

The Glengarry Club of Ottawa is sponsoring an "Appreciation Nite" Saturday, May 10, in the Maxville Sportsplex. Members of the cast and supporting executive of Glengarry '79 will be served dinner. It is hoped that a dance open to the public, and a "Mini Concert" starting at 9 p.m., will be another successful evening when Sylvester MacDonald and "The Clansmen" join the performers of Glengarry '79. The Glengarry Pipe Band will be there

The Ottawa Branch of the Pipers and Pipe Band Society of Ontario will be holding competitions in the Cameron Drill Hall, Ottawa, Saturday, April 26. This event is open to the public and there will be competitions throughout most of the day.

The very large St. Jean Baptiste Parade, that incorporates many of the surrounding communities, will be held, Sunday, June 22 in Clarence Creek. The Glengarry Pipe Band has been asked to participate.

Many parades and concerts have been confirmed: Rouses Point, NY, Maxville Highland Games, Belleville, Pembroke, Finch Lions Barbecue and other dates are being negotiated including the now famous Glengarry '80. We will keep you posted.

Craft show coming

Glengarry Arts and Crafts Association continues to maintain and improve its fine standard of craftsmanship that you will once again be able to appreciate at our spring sale to be held in The Cornwall Civic Complex on April 25 and 26.

The artisans participating will be featuring wood carving, weaving, jewellery, woodburning, basket weaving, smocking, oil painting, photography, tolepainting, water colors, wood working, candles, needlepoint, wall hangings, dolls, doll furniture, pottery, homecrafts, rug hooking, etc.

New members were accepted and categories extended.

If you should be a craft buff who lives in either the city or country and enjoys buying unique arts and crafts at reasonable prices then make your way to the Cornwall Civic Complex where the artisans always welcome your questions and enthusiasm.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Council as fund-raisers

On two separate occasions now, Alexandria Town councillors have agreed to host fund-raising events for local organizations.

In both cases the offer was made in response to the groups' request for grants.

We see a dangerous trend here.

Town council was not elected to be a giant fund-raising committee and while we know that as individual members councillors would be quite willing to donate their time to worthy causes, we do not feel that fund-raising for private organizations should be an official council function.

Members of council have many official duties to which they must attend as elected representatives of the municipality. Although many people may believe councillors only attend a couple of meetings a month, this hardly reflects the workload. Committee meetings and time spent doing research often take up more time than the formal council meetings.

Despite the large raise recently adopted, councillors in Alexandria are far from overpaid for the responsibilities they have.

It is unfair, we believe, to turn municipal council into a "United Appeal," so to speak. Private groups wishing to raise money for their own clubs should get club members to do the fund-raising, not ask for taxpayers' money or time from taxpayers' servants.

The precedents being set in Alexandria could lead to several other legitimate groups asking the town to host fund-raisings and there is no end to how much time could be devoted to such activities.

It is quite in order, of course, for councillors to become involved in fund-raisings as individuals. Many members already volunteer much of their time in this regard. But it should not be an official obligation.

Planning still dirty word

By a slim 19 to 15 vote, SD&G County Council has agreed to maintain its planning department following the resignation of the area's first planner, Larry Cotton.

The fact that council came that close to scrapping the department indicates planning is still a dirty word in the minds of many rural politicians.

Some of the county councillors were particularly unhappy with Cotton's final report—a 100-page document which listed several shortcomings in the area.

Upper Canada Village was one region singled out.

In the absence of planning controls "the long-term attraction and potential of Upper Canada Village and golf course are being crudely exploited along Highway 2 with poorly planned tourist commercial developments, which lend a carnival midway atmosphere to the entire strip," the report said.

"What will the area look like by the year 2000 if short-term ad hoc decision-making, based on individual gain and initiative, is allowed to continue in a policy vacuum?"

The report suggested that the situation could be corrected "by proper site planning control, which could greatly increase the assessment potential and aesthetics along this corridor."

Instead of lashing out at Cotton, the politicians would have done better to heed his advice.

Site plan control—whereby the municipality draws up an agreement with the developer outlining exactly what the end product will look like—is an accepted and proven method of regulating development in many parts of Ontario.

Property owners rightly argue that they should not be overly restricted in how they use their property. On the other hand, environment is an important factor in the social development of people and individual developments eventually combine to create an overall environment in which we all must live.

In larger centres where planning controls were brought in much too late, slums and other forms of blight have resulted.

While it is true that we can be overregulated, it is also true that we can be underregulated. In most parts of SD&G, the latter condition is the greater problem.

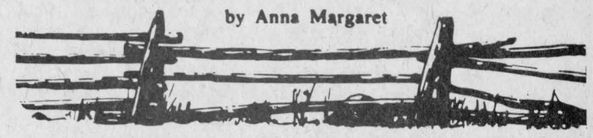
'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret



"Surely this rates a column!" At least a dozen people commented to me at the great fun night in honor of Clif Britton and Lucien Ranger held at the Bonnie Glen on Saturday night.

There was no doubt about it being one of the greatest tributes ever held in the area.

"It's too bad it wasn't held on separate nights," someone remarked. But I don't think it would have split the crowd much. The same friends would have been there for either one.

There was a line-up at the entrance all evening. "There isn't an empty chair in the place," people were warned at the door. But it made no difference, the friends poured in until finally they had to be turned away.

At one point there were 32 fiddlers onstage in massed unison and we still spotted others in the crowd who weren't drawing the bows with them for some reason or another. There were dozens of pianists and pipers in the hall as well as singers and dancers.

Eight of the Morris family were present to sing and Peter Dawson and wife Carol (Kennedy) combined to introduce a brand new composition, "Glengarry's Home to Me."

The Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society who sponsored the evening have begun a brief history on the members of their group and those of Clif and Lucien will be carried in The News so I will not elaborate on them here.

But it is fitting that men like these who have contributed so much to the social life of the area should have a brief moment where folks could honor them in return.

Today musicians for the most part are being given a remunerative recognition for their music and rightly so. But Clif and Lucien belong to a long line of violinists and pianists who year after year supported every church and fund-raising event in the community and for very little of the green stuff, if any.

The older crowd will remember some of this but many of the younger ones will never know the concerts and lawn socials where these men entertained year after year.

This meant travelling to and from the event. At the church socials in the summer time, the stages were usually a temporary set-up, outside. The violinists had no choice but to carry their violins around with them for the entire evening until it was their turn on the program at which time they would be called onstage and without so much as a practise, attempt to play together.

Concerts in crowded halls did not have such an ideal back-stage set-up either. Violinists were "permitted" to stand back-stage in the darkness in cramped quarters waiting their number.

Their pay at a great majority of these evenings was lunch and coffee.

For the good old house-parties so many remember, fiddle music was the reliable source for dancing as a violin was easier to carry around than a piano. (It still is.) The violinist got to sit in a corner of the kitchen or parlor, usually the hottest spot in the house, and he was supposed to entertain all evening.

If you hear Clif and Lucien or similar types tell about days like this, it will not be with complaint. They will remember all the good times and it is enough for them that they gave pleasure to many.

With all the means of promotion today, we wonder sometimes how the tunes came down the generations as accurately as they did, since so much of the music was by ear. It took a keen ear indeed to hear a tune at some event, mentally record it well enough to go home, practise in solo and then play it in unison with fellow fiddlers the next time they met.

The talent of these old-time musicians was remarkable. What a heritage they have left us today, now that we can have records made and have the music preserved forever.

Fitting then it was, that there should have been a night of honor for such unselfish and dedicated men.

It was just a drop in the bucket compared to what was their due.

But Clif and Lucien never thought much about their dues in the music field.

Like those who went before them, to give pleasure to others was their just reward.

GDHS: The solution

What has been learned about Glengarry District High School over the past couple of weeks?

At best, there is total confusion due to contradictory remarks made by local and ministry officials. At worst, there is a deliberate attempt to deceive the public.

It would serve little purpose to rehash all the interrelated side issues which have arisen. They have all been covered in great depth. The question now is, where do we go from here?

Karen Dicaire, who represents Lancaster's French-speaking parents on the School Committee provided the simple answer on a CJOH-TV newscast Thursday night.

"We want it in writing," she said.

Clearly it is now up to SD&G County Board of Education to set the record straight with a detailed policy statement. This statement should be passed by the full board of trustees, not enunciated by the hired help.

Director of Education Rosaire Leger told people there will be no changes at the school. That is board policy, he said. However, a letter sent out from the two principals indicates there will be a change—namely that "two entities" or two schools (since they mean the same thing under provincial policy) will be created. Students who once registered at one school and then took one of the two parallel programs will now register in one of two schools or "entities," the school letter says.

That is a fairly significant change because it legally creates two schools and, as the ministry spokesman explained, it would logically follow that we would end up with two of everything sooner or later—two councils, two school committees and two football teams, etc.

The main issue is not whether two schools or two "entities" is the best route to go. The issue is, what does the community want?

The first item of board business should be to clarify the existing situation. The second item should be to consult parents to see if they want the existing system changed.

If, in fact, nothing is going to change, let's have that stated in more detail.

Based on the massive community turn-out at the public meeting, we must assume, for the time being, that the community wants the school to remain as it is (or as we are told it is by local officials) as a single, mixed school, offering parallel academic programs.

The board of trustees should, therefore, be asked to endorse the following policy statement by resolution.

"1. It is the policy of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education to maintain Glengarry District High School as a single, mixed school, offering parallel academic programs in both French and English.

"2. To reflect this reality, there is one student council, one school committee and one team when the school is represented in inter-school competition.

"3. Students shall at all times be free to 'cross-over' and take subjects in either of the parallel programs."

If such a resolution is put before the board, debated and voted on, it will force the issue out into the open. We will know exactly where the board stands—not where a bunch of individuals with conflicting opinions say it stands.

If the above policy is adopted by the board, the trustees should then determine if the community is happy with the system or if it wants a two-school set-up under one roof.

There have been charges by a few that Francophones are being denied their rights. Therefore, let all the parents of students in the French program be given a questionnaire offering them the alternatives. "(a) Do you want the existing single, mixed school, parallel academic program to continue? (b) Do you want a separate French School?"

If the vast majority of Francophones vote for a separate school, then the two entities program should be adopted. This is the right of Francophone parents and students.

If, on the other hand, most Francophone parents are happy with the mixed school, but there are still a significant number who do want a separate school, then the board will have to consider the option of creating a separate school for that group alone, if numbers warrant.

This is the only fair way to resolve the issue and guarantee everyone's right. If a large number of Francophone parents and students want a separate school, it cannot be denied to them. If, on the other hand, most like the mixed school, it would not be fair to force everyone to change just to satisfy a small minority.

Everyone's rights must be preserved. This can only be accomplished with a clear policy statement from the board and a poll of the parents and students.

That is the democratic way.

Glengarry Hog Producers left in the cold over issues

R1, Alexandria

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

In a four-day tribunal hearing in Cornwall this last month, Andre Dumas, president of Prescott County Pork Producers Association in his final presentation to the tribunal members proposed that the OPPMB build and own a yard at St. Isidore and that a rented or temporary yard be provided for Glengarry, in the Alexandria area.

I, as a veteran organizer, had from the beginning a gut feeling that this would happen and therefore did all that was in my power to fight for a board-owned yard at McCrimmon.

If a decision is made in favor of this proposal, producers in Glengarry County in my opinion will be the losers.

If there was a new yard in St. Isidore, producers from the north and North-west of Glengarry would go to St. Isidore and with those who prefer to ship to Finch the number of hogs available for a yard at Alexandria would be cut considerably.

This will mean that we are at the discretion of the OPPMB who are very concerned that there will not be enough hogs left in Glengarry to support a yard. Consequently it would have to be closed.

In 1979 Glengarry marketed 8,862 hogs but only 5,400 come to the Alexandria yard, about 103 weekly. Cost of operating the present yard is $6,000.

So Glengarry producers may well have to travel an extra 10 miles in the future which is the difference between McCrimmon and St. Isidore.

Says Alexandria citizen does not speak for her

Alexandria, Ont.

To the editor,
The Glengarry News:

In a reply to an open letter to the Minister of Education (April 16th issue), let me express the resentment I now feel.

Mr. Lemieux says he represents the citizens of Glengarry, but which citizens does he really represent? I am genuinely concerned! How can he write to the Minister of Education and suggest that we, the majority of citizens of Glengarry wish to decline a $649,000 grant for the betterment of our existing Secondary School?

How many of us did he consult to take such a stand? I was not consulted in the matter of his letter and as a concerned Francophone, my opinion is sincere and easily obtainable. I am furthermore persuaded that many other Francophones like me, have not been consulted either.

If Mr. Lemieux wishes to speak for himself and others who share his opinion, fine and I respect his viewpoint. But when he says he represents the opinion of the majority, I draw the line! Because he does not speak for me and I suspect for many others!

You see, Madam Editor, where would be my children's rights to French Education today as prescribed in Part XI of the Education Act 1974 and as monitored by French Language Advisory Committees and the Language of Instruction Commission if it had been left to the majority to decide?

Concerned,
Claudette Francoeur

Former residents liked GDHS "The way we were"

The editor
The Glengarry News

It has been 14 years since we left Glengarry and set down roots in another area of Ontario. We live in Bala, Ont. and although Muskoka is firmly in our blood, we have only fond memories of GDHS and Glengarry.

Both of us are greatly saddened to see the degree of poor leadership being extended to the student body at Glengarry District High School. Once again the problem is truly shown to be not that of originating with the students but instead with adults who have felt insecure all their lives and who now can only gloat on their newly found prominence in trying to split the school and the community.

My wife and I attended GDHS Grades 9 through 13 inclusive and through those years struck up friendship with other students who were of Dutch, German, French, Czech and English families. We felt at ease with our friends both in and out of school.

Neither language nor creed posed any threat to our relationships. I guess this is because most of us thought of ourselves as Canadians first . . . only afterwards did we relegate each other to his own corner be that Laggan, Dalhousie Dorney, Greenfield, The Hill, Bainsville or the like.

The break-up of the student body in GDHS is perilously similar to the current break-up of the family units in today's society. The lowering of moral standards, the serving of self first and the almighty drive for power have worked their way into the very functioning of GDHS.

Times change and people too change, but in the interests of young people in Glengarry District, I should like to beseech all citizens to vocally and actively speak out against any further attempts to twist young minds into having to choose between French or English.

Only through conscious, cooperative, positive efforts will the youth of Glengarry grow spiritually, intellectually and physically.

Although Glengarry and Muskoka are dear to both of us...we both could feel at ease anywhere in Canada...mostly because we are proud to be Canadians.

We encourage the students... with the support of their parents to go to the media for help in publicizing their concerns. Only those who have something to hide whisper! Shout out your beliefs and stay together!

Emphasis will be placed on familiarizing the landowner with techniques and con siderations necessary to manage and improve their properties with respect to managing existing woodlots and establishing windbreaks, shelter belts and plantations. Two Saturday field trips will be substituted for two of the evening sessions.

AC59P—SCREEN PRINTING WORKSHOP: Moulinette Hall, S.L.C. Screen printing for the career oriented. People taking the course should already be familiar with the screen printing process and wish to "brush up" or develop some new techniques. The student will produce project material to meet assigned objectives.

AC60P—WEAVE ANALYSIS and CLOTH DESIGN: Moulinette Hall, S.L.C. A course for weavers with basic weaving skills and knowledge of drafting weave patterns. Several samples will be analysed and the threading and lift sequence of each will be extracted from the weave draft. One sample will be reproduced on the loom with variations. Color weave drafts will also be taught, and simple tests for fibre content.

AC61P—ADVANCED LAMPMAKING, STAINED GLASS: Moulinette Hall, S.L.C. For those students who have taken an introductory course in stained glass. Students will learn the techniques and constraints of 3-dimensional stained glass projects. It is primarily a lampmaking course but the same methodology applies to terrariums, jewelry boxes and planters. Students should bring a plywood workboard (46 cm. by 61 cm.) (18" by 24"), a hammer and goggles. This is a 2-day workshop.

SG45P—STAINED GLASS, BEGINNERS: Moulinette Hall, S.L.C. More and more people are rediscovering the beauty of stained glass. In its simplest terms, stained glass refers to windows, lamps and other objects formed from small pieces of glass held together in a latticework of lead and/or solder. The basic skills of stained glass crafting are glass cutting, working with lead and copper foil and soldering. Students make a leaded panel. Lessons are supplemented with handouts and slide show. Materials and tools are provided. 2-day workshop.

Disappointed with grant proposal at GDHS

Brantford, Ontario

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

My disappointment over the Ontario Government's possible granting of a $650,000 sum of money which would be ridiculously used in an attempt to segregate French/English students at Glengarry District High School is without bounds. I have tried to rationalize this situation and expenditure but cannot. I am Canadienne Francaise, born in Alexandria, Ontario, educated grades 1 to 8 by the French Holy Cross nuns and attended GDHS from 1950-1955. Why this blown out of proportion separation matter is supposedly necessary in Glengarry during the crucial Quebec versus Canada referendum battle angers me to say the least.

In my practical view Glengarry is in the fortunate geographical position to never, but never lose its French-Canadian culture and let's be positive here, Glengarrians have a unique and a most enviable position of "living" two beautiful cultures, two languages. Believe me we are the envy of thousands of Ontarions and Quebecois who wish to be bilingual. Is this not stimulating, enriching, a great gift?

I can only prove the above fact by saying that I as a bilingual French-Canadian Glengarrian, the offspring of two cultures am envied here where I presently live in Brantford where I have been employed as an industrial translator/executive secretary and mainly because of being bilingual these interesting job opportunities have been readily available to me allowing me a very interesting life.

Another strong point I wish to make is that I left Glengarry in 1955, am presently 43 years of age and I have continued and will remain a proud French Canadian, but, of equal importance to me is my feeling of having "lived" the Scottish Glengarry culture. There has never been cultural bigotry in my family, the "Taillefers" of Alexandria. We are not by any means a perfect family, but I am proud to say that we all are indeed part of two beautiful cultures and remain French Canadians. I really believed that we in Glengarry intermixed because never in my years of growing up in Glengarry did I ever experience racism, to the contrary, it was after I left home and Alexandria on my first trip to New York that I became conscious of racism and inter-racial differences,—created by the so called intellectual human animal, "man."

You will therefore now understand how disappointed I am to see French/English administrators, educators, individual Glengarrians sitting on various Boards scrapping over separation of students and $650,000, this in order to build a personal empire or is it to, without conscious realization, expand bigotry. To these above-mentioned individuals I ask, do you really believe $650,000 of the taxpayers' money will solve a problem which you are monopolizing and rolling into an emotional issue. It is possible that French votes are being sought and bought with the forthcoming Ontario Provincial election. Are you not dragging Rene Levesque's referendum over the border into Ontario, to Glengarry specifically? If certain individuals want to advocate a "cause" and fight for student separation—why don't they move to Quebec. That is after all where they belong, where the battle is.

I think that the Ontario Government's position in allocating funds to promote the teaching of French in schools to all areas of Ontario North and South, West of Cornwall is very valid due to this country's two founding nations and the claim that this is a bilingual Canada. However, Glengarry is unique, it presently has a most appropriate bilingual system where I feel that very little revision is required. Glengarry has the natural phenomena of having beautiful intermixing of cultures which also by nature of its geographical location results in bilingualism, a much needed commodity during these trying times.

Our students should definitely not be segregated. This will lose job opportunities. Who is going to supply the market this country needs so badly of bilingual men and women required in industry, business, the arts, etc. etc. etc. Goodness, if we start separating students this is inflicting deprivation of culture, job opportunities on our youngsters—let alone teaching them bigotry and let's face it, wasting the taxpayers' money.

I fully intend to send a copy of this letter to Premier Davis, the Minister of Education, your MLA for Glengarry and furthermore I have discussed this issue at length with my husband the Federal Member of Parliament for Brant. I will alert the two opposition Leaders Messrs. Michael Cassidy and Stuart Smith to call for an investigation into this matter and raise "hell" on the floor of the house in Queen's Park.

Schools, hospitals, churches and such institutions belong totally to the "People" paid for through their taxes, their dollars. I might boldly add that administrators, educators, doctors, clergy are hired by "people" to do a job under specified contracts, and not to destroy blindly, existing values let alone cultures. If certain individuals or members of boards of education or the like are subject to bigotry this should be discussed openly and we all know what happens to individuals who become public embarrassments; once things quiet down a way is usually found to dismiss them or else vote them out. After all, the power rests with the taxpayer and the students themselves. It is after all a democracy we live in.

I am grateful to the Glengarry News for the in-depth reporting on this very grave situation. I would suggest as well that all Glengarrians purchase the recently published book "A History of Glengarry" by MacGillivray & Ross. I am sure a copy is available at the local library for those who cannot afford the book. Knowledge of our roots based on historical data and fact would help clear confused little minds who seem to presently be losing their objectivity.

Sincerely yours,
Suzanne Blackburn

SIXTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 23, 1920

Owing to certain differences which have arisen between the management and the employees of the Carriage Works here, not a wheel has turned since Monday. There have been no disturbances. The higher cost of living is reported to be the chief cause of friction, and Mayor Simon is bending every effort toward bringing the parties together. —Edmund Lalonde went to Montreal on Sunday to meet his brother David, who with his English bride was expected to arrive at the Metropolis the following day.—Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bathurst of Dalhousie Mills, were in Ottawa Wednesday attending the marriage of their son, Thos. W., to Miss Edna Proctor, daughter of Mrs. J. R. Proctor, of Ottawa.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Proctor of St. Raphael's, have taken up their residence on Main Street, north.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 22, 1910

The newly formed Alexandria Canoe Club is in its quarters at the head of the mill dam. Already canoes have been received from the Peterborough Co. and the membership is growing. N. Gilbert has placed a gasoline launch on the pond and each evening takes a number of citizens for a spin on the water.—In the list of successful candidates in the final examination held last month at the Ottawa Normal School, we note the following Glengarrians: Margaret Daly, Greenfield; Ethel M. Hope, Summerstown; Mary A. McDiarmid, Maxville and Violet L. Marjerrison, Apple Hill.—Ewen L. McCuaig and Hugh McGillivray of Laggan, left here Tuesday morning for Saskatoon. T. Andre, A. Gareau and J. Sauve, all of St. Raphael's, left for Winnipeg that same day. —Early this week the Mesars. Mulhern, owners of "The Pines," Main Street, south, disposed of the property to Dr. J. Howard Munro of Maxville, who will take possession on August 1.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Friday, April 21, 1905

The last classes in the history of the Boys' Separate School were held on Tuesday and the demolition of the building has already commenced. The new structure when completed will be one of the finest school buildings in Eastern Ontario.—We understand the Bell Telephone will branch out from Maxville this summer. A line will be built to Dunvegan via St. Elmo and Athol, while another line will run south, possibly to Apple Hill.—On the 1st of May, the Commercial Hotel will pass into the hands of Messrs. Gormley Bros., the well-known hotelmen of Finch, who have rented it for a term of years from Arch. McMillan.—Among the appointments noted in the Ontario Gazette is that of Angus McDonald, Alexandria, as License Inspector for Glengarry, vice W. J. McNaughton, retired.—We understand that J. A. Macdonell has purchased the lot on Kenyon St., next to the residence of A. P. McDonald.—Dr. J. Howard Morrow, who has practised his profession in company with his father at Maxville for some time, will shortly remove to Greenfield, where he will open an office.

Clergy Comments from Glengarry Christian Council

by Rev. M. J. O'Brien, pastor, St. Mary's Parish, Williamstown

Since we are still basking in the brightness of the Glorious Resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ, we would like to dip into some of the spiritual sources at our disposal. Through our baptism we participate in this new life of grace won for us through the Life, Death and Resurrection of Our Lord. Like the early Christians we should continually talk about and live this resurrected life of the spirit. If you be risen with Christ, seek the things which are above. Let us consider the quest for perfection, Jesus told us. "You must be perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect."

Matt.: 5 and 48—The Bible, particularly Saint Paul, speaks often of the need for perfection. We are told that only the perfect shall enter heaven. Hence, we must become perfect in this life or do it by atonement in purgatory. This perfection is not impossible as the lives of so many recorded and unrecorded saints attest.

The world does not look kindly on those who seek spiritual perfection, often ridiculing them and their values. This is partly from envy, partly from the perversity of the human spirit, and partly because the world does not understand spiritual perfection. There are also those who, while admitting the need for spiritual growth, confuse the situation with personal preferences. So before passing onto what perfection is, it is good to understand what perfection is not. "You will know them by their deeds," Jesus told us (Mt. 7:61) and this is the basis of our judgments.

A common mistake is to confuse devotions for devotion. Devotions have a place in the spiritual life but they are not the end-all. I know of one person who kept a diary of the number of ejaculations and prayers said each day, speaking with great pride as the number grew and grew. I know of another man who has a record of the number of masses he "hears" going considerable distances for concelebrated masses because they increase his number. I suspect that in both cases the means have become the end and that other duties are sometimes slighted. It is quite possible that here devotions have become more of a hobby than the seeking after perfection.

There are those that interpret piety as a sort of riding Cloud Nine. Religion becomes an exultation of feeling. They do not feel holy unless they have an emotional charge. This is a danger in some of the more pentecostal types of the charismatic movement. The fact is that one cannot have a continual high or stay up emotionally for a long period. By nature we have our ups and downs. The quest for perfection must be just as active in our low periods as in our highs. Indeed, one who is diligently striving for perfection tends to even out his or her life, to lead a more balanced life without the extremes of up and down. As one person remarked, "It is difficult to recognize a saint because a real saint does not seem to be one."

For similar reasons, one should not undertake rigorous fasting and austerities except under spiritual direction. These things are good but they must be directed and not become ends in themselves. Most people in a religious order know someone in their community who, while given to strict penances, is often almost impossible to live with. No amount of rigorous action can ever take the place of charity which is the keystone of virtues.

In the spiritual life we must be aware of self-delusion and of hypocrisy. The acid test is not what we as an individual feel or like but what God wants. It is in doing His will that we become saints. While saints are extraordinary people, they become saints by being ordinary. The old adage "It is nice to have saints but I wouldn't want to live with one" really says what a saint should not be. Whenever someone's piety or devotion attracts attention to itself, I become suspicious and take a second look. I believe that true saints are hard to recognize because they seem like ordinary, good people.

It is the false piety and the mistaken self-approval that turn so many away from religion and often cast over "holy people" the aura of hypocrisy. True sanctity is in being true to oneself, not in pretense of acting. We are all diverse individuals with diverse personalities. Each must find his or her own path to holiness and heaven. While the lives of saints should inspire us to accomplish what they were able to accomp-lish, sanctity is not in being carbon copies, which is unnatural, but in supernaturalizing our own individual personalities.

Each Sunday we come together to celebrate—Easter—the resurrection of our Lord—the Christian family always remembers this and is faithful, not because there is a command—"Keep holy the Lord's day," but because of Him—who rose on that first Blessed Easter Day.

Agricultural News

by Glen J. Smith, Ag. Rep., Glengarry County

As you may be aware, the Ontario and Federal Governments signed the Canada-Ontario Eastern Ontario Subsidiary Aggreement on December 20, 1979. This agreement covers all of Eastern Ontario and is to provide $50 million of assistance primarily to rural areas and has funds earmarked for five major problem categories. This program expands on, and continues, a number of programs that were previously undertaken under the ARDA program which terminated March 1979.

The program covers five major categories: a) Agriculture b) Forestry c) Mining d) Tourism e) Small Business Incentives.

Under the Agriculture program the assistance has been distributed to four areas as follows:

Municipal Outlet Drainage ($11 million) to encourage the improvement of agricultural lands by providing assistance to municipalities on behalf of agricultural land owners towards the costs assessed against agricultural land for considering outlet drains. The maximum grant available under the program and the Drainage Act of Ontario will be two thirds of the costs assessed against agricultural lands. The remaining one third of the costs will be charged against the land owner receiving benefit.

South Nation River Basin Development ($9 million) to provide for interim flood control projects at Chesterville and Plantagenet plus a river basin study to determine the viability of further floor control measures.

Agricultural Technology Transfer program ($2 million) to promote the testing, demonstration and adoption of new technology on farms and in agricultural businesses. This program will provide financial assistance to farmers and agricultural businesses for projects to test innovative technology, demonstrate new technology (50% of project costs, maximum assistance $10,000), and to promote wider adoption of proven technology, facilitate the adoption of revised farming systems (25% of project costs with maximum assistance of $5,000).

Where in-depth on-farm testing of research proven technology is proposed with public or private sector bodies, assistance up to 100% of the cost will be considered, to a maximum of $50,000.

Projects will be considered which improve farm use of technology in areas such as energy-saving systems, new crop development, improved soil management, improved livestock environment, waste recovery and farm management systems.

Where monitoring equipment is required to evaluate projects which are beyond normal farm use, provision may be made for the purchase of the necessary equipment.

Where projects have or will receive grants from other Government sources, they will not be eligible for this program.

Projects which have been implemented between December 20, 1979 and March 31, 1984, will be eligible for assistance under the program subject to availability of funds.

All applicants will be required to supply a detailed project proposal to include—general background information, the need for the project (e.g.—how will this project stimulate the development of agriculture in your area), the major objectives of the project, specific activities, financial arrangements, etc.

Farm Development program to promote the use of modern farm development techniques among farmers to meet changing economic conditions. The program will provide financial assistance for the acquisition and development of community pastures and other similar projects which provide services or demonstrated management practices to area farmers.

Financial assistance will be provided to encourage individuals to participate in farm development training or retraining and to adopt farm records and development systems that are currently available. Ministry staff will assist applicants in preparing a two-year farm development plan and in determining the type of assistance which would be more beneficial to the individual. Assistance will be given on the basis of 50% contribution towards the costs of the plan, however the maximum assistance to any one individual may not exceed $500.

Assistance to individuals is available for those who seek to improve their farm management and who are involved in the operation of a farm which had less than $25,000 in gross farm sales in the previous twelve months, obtain greater than 50% of their income from farming, have more than two years farm experience and are willing to develop and enter into a farm development plan.

Farm Products Marketing program to encourage individual farm operators and farm groups in developing new and expanding local markets for their farm products. Financial assistance will be provided for conducting market studies which identify new and expanding local markets for agricultural products produced in the area. Financial assistance is also available for the promotion of farm products in local markets.

Applications and further information on these programs are available from this office.

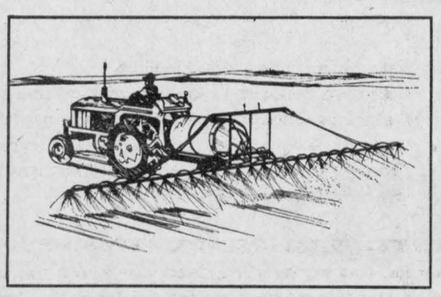
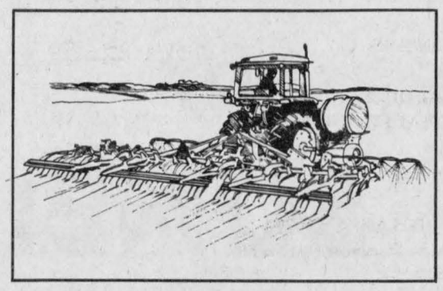
Surface application or shallow incorporation.

It's your choice with Lasso®.



Surface application



Shallow incorporation

Lasso® herbicide by Monsanto is usually surface applied before the crop emerges. Some farmers, however, prefer to incorporate their herbicides, and Lasso fits the bill.

"Shallow" is the key word.

Lasso should be shallowly incorporated, prior to planting corn or soybeans. First, broadcast Lasso; then thoroughly incorporate it into the top two inches of soil. To make sure the incorporation is shallow, set your disc or cultivator to work the soil to a maximum depth of four inches. Shallow incorporation of Lasso plus atrazine suppresses yellow nutsedge in corn.

To suppress yellow nutsedge for six to eight weeks, shallowly incorporate Lasso plus atrazine (mixed at new labelled rates) before planting. Suppressing yellow nutsedge with Lasso plus atrazine gives your corn the chance to become established without nutsedge competition that can hurt your yield.

Whether you surface apply or shallowly incorporate, you get outstanding grass control with Lasso.

Lasso consistently controls annual grasses in corn and soybeans. With excellent crop safety. And no carryover. And you can surface apply Lasso or shallowly incorporate it. Because it's your choice, with Lasso.

The violin influence in my life

by Lucien Ranger

I was born in Montreal, Quebec on January 8, 1908. At the age of three, my family moved to Glengarry County in the Township of Lochiel. Here we took up residence on a farm and it was here that I first heard old-time fiddling music. I became very interested and at the age of 16, I began to learn violin. Don Messer was very popular at this time and I began to play his style of music.

During the war, I formed a small band. We played for weddings and farewell parties for the boys in the army. In our program, we played square dances, waltzes and popular music.

In 1945, I married a Scottish Canadian girl, from Alexandria, by the name of Kathleen MacIntosh and it was at this time that I switched from old-time fiddling to Scottish fiddling. Her family were all interested in Scottish music and most of them played some sort of instrument. I learned a great deal about the Scottish music from listening to their playing. Her uncles, Duncie and Johnnie MacDonald, were noted fiddlers in the area at this time. My wife, herself, could play the piano and was able to help me, both in learning new tunes and practicing the older ones.

In the early forties, I joined other fiddlers to play for various concerts throughout the countryside. In the fifties, the fiddlers joined together to form the Glengarry Old Time Fiddlers. I became a member and was in the association for many years.

Throughout my years of fiddling, three of the fiddlers that I have admired the most were Angus Chisholm, Winston Scotty Fitzgerald, and Joe McLean. Many of their compositions and tunes were learnt by me and I would try to imitate their style of music. One of the more local fold who influenced me was Reverend John MacPhail. He had a wide knowledge of tunes and many new tunes were introduced to me by him.

Among the first tunes that I played were "Cock of the North" and "The Road to the Isles." Today, some of my favorite tunes are "The Ninety-Third's at Modder River" (march), "Peter Bailey (strathspey), and "The Marchioness of Tully Barden" (march).

One of the greatest pleasures in all the years of playing the violin was being asked to play at the National Arts Centre in Ottawa, along with several other fiddlers. I considered it a great honor, especially since I had learned the tunes by ear.

Perhaps one of the greatest difficulties I experienced in playing the violin, was when I switched from old-time to Scottish music. The bowing technique was altogether different between the two styles and much practice was needed to successfully master the correct bowing.

The event that made me realize that others enjoyed my music was when I was asked if I would provide a Scottish musical evening every week at the Cosy Inn in Alexandria. The people really enjoyed the music and their praise and applause meant more to me than I could say. Playing at the Cosy, gave me the incentive to learn more new tunes. I felt that it was a truly rewarding experience.

In the fall of 1977, I was asked if I wished to become a member of a new association that was being started to preserve Scottish music. The association was called "The Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society." I joined and with the other members of the society have learned many new tunes and have enjoyed listening to the styles of the other members.

I hope to continue my fiddling in the future and to be able to continue to please others with my music.

Dunvegan

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Embry and Linda, of Verdun, were visiting with her mother Mrs. Margaret MacLeod of Maxville Manor, and Homer MacLeod for a few days in the village. Mrs. MacLeod and her granddaughter Joyce, spent the day with them in the village on sunday, April 13.

Mrs. Betty Masson and children visited for a week with her sister Doreen Moore at Cobourg. Their mother also came from New Brunswick to visit with them.

Donat Duval is in the Glengarry Memorial Hospital in Alexandria for a while. We wish him a speedy recovery.

BRIDAY SHOWER

On Saturday afternoon Kim and Heather McLaughlin were hostesses at a bridal shower to honor their sister, Susan, on her forthcoming marriage. Many friends and neighbors gathered at their home for the occasion, and many lovely gifts for her new home were received by the bride-to-be. Susan graciously thanked everyone, after which a delicious lunch was served.
