SNRCA rep undecided

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Winchester Township Council finished their inaugural meeting at the township offices Monday afternoon in a deadlock over who'll represent the municipality on the South Nation River Conservation Authority (SNRCA).

Both reeve Gerald Holmes and newly-elected deputy-reeve Cecil MacNabb are interested in the position. A vote from council on Monday failed to resolve the issue.

Councillor Albert St. Pierre moved to re-instate reeve Holmes to the job. Declaring a conflict-of-interest Mr. Holmes withdrew from the table handing the chair over to councillor Claude Cousineau. In a vote among the remaining councillors the two council members from Morewood, Mr. McNabb and Mr. Cousineau voted against Mr. Holmes while councillors Dwayne Holmes and Albert St. Pierre voted in favor creating a dead-lock.

Unable to make a final decision council moved on to further business. However, in urgency to conclude the episode council made a motion to re-consider the first motion.

Further discussion did not result in changing the deadlock.

Mr. Holmes told council he had become familiar with the workings of the Authority after having served on it as Winchester Township's representative for the last two years.

Mr. Holmes also noted that he withdrew from the table when members were asked to vote on the motion making him the SNRCA representative but that Mr. MacNabb did not. Mr. Holmes expressed surprise that Mr. MacNabb remained at the table to vote.

If both men had withdrawn from the vote Mr. Holmes would have won the motion 2-1. Mr. MacNabb told council he felt qualified to represent the township on the Authority.

"I feel I know that Authority from one end to another," he said.

Mr. MacNabb was previously reeve of Winchester township and served on the authority at that time.

Claude Cousineau, who voted against Mr. Holmes becoming the SNRCA representative, said he favored Mr. MacNabb in the position. He said Mr. MacNabb had more experience on the authority, and because he felt the Authority had been "dragging its feet" on several important issues recently Mr. MacNabb would be better equipped to deal with the situation.

Council was unable to break the deadlock and decided to discuss the issue again at the next meeting in January 5.

In other business council set the date for the Court of Revision for the Morewood Drain as Mon., Jan. 12.

Council voted in favor of having the reeve and the roads superintendent investigate the possibility of obtaining a new truck for the roads superintendent. The men will approach the Ministry of Transportation and Communications about the possible grants on a vehicle.

Little, big hit

At the Nestle Christmas party Saturday morning, Fred Little entertained the children with a variety of cartoon characters and the Muppets. Young Curtis was so enthralled he appeared to want to get into show biz. For his patience, Curtis won a kiss from Kermit. Later each child received a gift and had a visit with Santa Claus. Mr. Little is a brother of comedian Rich Little.

SD&G trustees vote 33% increase

CORNWALL (Staff) - Local school board trustees, Lorne Thompson, Sarsfield O'Connor and Lloyd Markell voted against giving trustees on the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board a raise in pay at Monday night's "organizational meeting" (the first with the newly-elected trustees). But despite the negative vote of the three men, and a no vote from Cornwall-Charlottenburg trustee Art Buckland, the raise was approved by the affirmative vote of the remaining 14 trustees.

The raise will bring the monthly allowance given to the trustees from $300 to $400, a 33 per cent increase.

Although trustee Thompson did not want trustees to obtain the raise he moved for the chairman to receive a 50 per cent raise, an increase of $200 per month. He previously received $400 and now will get $600.

Mr. Thompson said the increased amount of responsibility on the shoulders of the chairman, and the increased workload, justified the substantial increase.

The scale which determines the allowance trustees are eligible for are part of the Education Act, and is based on student enrollment. The maximum amount for boards with 10,000 to 40,000 students is $400 per month. The SD&G board has a total enrollment of 15,000 secondary and elementary students.

One-third of the allowance received by trustees is recognized as monies for expenses, and is exempt from taxation under the provisions of the Income Tax Act.

The new chairman of the School baord, elected by acclamation at Monday's meeting, is trustee for Lochiel Township, Lancaster Township and Lancaster Village, Lucien Chenier. Mr. Chenier succeeds Sandra Enns. He was vice-chairman during the last term as trustee.

Mr. Chenier did not set out any specific policy objectives for the board.

"I have set no specific goals, nor do I plan to steer the board in any given direction. The board should collectively set its own aims and objectives."

Mr. Chenier did urge the trustees to "forget the political arena and concentrate our individual abilities to provide the students in our jurisdiction with the best possible educational opportunities. We want schools to stress excellance and high levels of achievement, making sure that standards are at the high level which both students and parents have a right to expect."

Mr. Chenier also advocated the need for trustees, teachers and administrators to communicate more effectively with parents. "Parents want to know what is going on and why."

The new chairman concluded by asking trustees to work together.

"Whatever single issue may be making the headlines and dividing us trustees, there are at any given time at least twice as many on which we need to work together if anyone is to get anything done. Every trustee who has served this board has discovered this fact - not that he needs to "sell out" as the allegation goes, but rather that he can make nothing useful happen so long as he carried every issue and dispute to its ideological limits or personalizes the conflict."

Trustee from Matilda Township and Iroquois Village, Mahlon Zeron, was elected vice-chairman, defeating trustee Harry Gatward.

In other business the board voted in favor of studying the interest rates offered by the banks on the amount borrowed yearly by the board. Last July the board decided to give a banking commitment to the Bank of Nova Scotia for five years. Trustee Sarsfield O'Connor said the five-year plan is unwise in a period of rapidly changing interest rates. The motion was approved by the board for a yearly study of each bank's interest rates. Trustees were informed by a board administrator the interest rate paid by school boards was set by law at the prime rate.

Quarry zoning going to OMB

BERWICK (Staff) - Grant Morris, senior planner for Ontario ministry of housing informed Finch Township council a Municipal Board hearing would be held to hear objections to the proposed amendment 23 to the Lower St. Lawrence official plan.

At the first regular council meeting since the election Monday night, council was told the Lower St. Lawrence Planning Board had asked the amendment be referred to the Ontario Municipal Board for a hearing.

The ministry of housing stated no objections provided proper site restoration was carried out, however, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food had made objection to a quarry operation being carried out on class two and three land.

Cornwall Sand and Gravel made application through the township for a zoning amendment in order to carry out quarrying on property located at Lot 3, Con. 2. A public meeting was held in Berwick at which local residents voiced their objections.

Council did not pass a zoning by-law amendment in the township, they said, because such a move would indicate support of the proposed amendment to the official plan and they wished to remain neutral.

The old Connaught bridge gained another reprieve when the new council deferred a decision to pass a by-law to close the bridge, on the basis of a lack of information.

Councillors heard a letter from lawyer Barrie Wilson indicating the decision would be political and from the county engineer requesting the closure by-law. They were told the county had been refused money to repair the bridge by the province and there was little likelihood of further funds.

In response to a letter from the county planner to delay making a firm commitment to engage a planner until the Lower St. Lawrence Planning Board met inmid-December to decide its fate, council elected to stay within the board if it survived.

To cover the event of dissolution, council agreed the township's interest would be best served by attempting to join with Roxborough Township and Finch Village to defray the expense involved in forming an official plan.

On the suggestion of reeve Ralph MacKenzie council will conduct a road tour of the township immediately in order to form a road program before the snow falls.

Council also granted a further extension to the subdivision agreement between Lillian Smith and the township on phase 2 of the Crysler subdivision. The three year limit on the plan ran out on June 21, 1980 but council granted an extension until December 21, 1980 in order the draft plan would not lapse. Council imposed the

Finch council retains contractor's cheque

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township council agreed to retain a cheque for $631 made as a security deposit by contractor Rejean Genier on the Dunbar-Adams-Campbell drain, at Monday night's regular council meeting.

A letter from engineer John Stidwell advised council the contractor had been notified several times without result of 300 feet, between stations 30 to 33 on the drain, that had not been touched. The drain was to have been cleaned.

Mr. Stidwell suggested, in view of the high interest charges the township would pay to keep the drain contract open, they close it and penalize the contractor $10 per day to a total of $1790.

Mr. Genier had made a certified cheque deposit in the amount of $631 and a progress payment of $1524 was due him. Council opted to penalize him only on the security deposit, since to retain the progress payment would mean the drain could not be closed off and grant funding obtained.

The cheque represents 10 per cent of the tender for the work.

Interest on the project could amount to over $400 if it were left open over the winter.

In other drainage matters, council resolved to write to landowner Leo Butler informing him no subsidy can be obtained on the Moriarity drain until he moves or spreads material dug from the drain, and to write to John Stidwell, asking him to make Mr. Butler aware of the situation.

Mr. Butler asked the contractor, Rejean Genier, not to spread the fill since he wished to use it elsewhere, said township clerk Arnott Empey. Mr. Butler had contacted the township and made them aware of his request, whereupon Mr. Empey telephoned the engineer.

CARES (Chesterville Area Refugee Emergency Sponsorship) launched a second appeal for funds in November, to help support the family until the end of their sponsorship term.

The three men, Tran Ngoc Mien, Tran Ngoc Thuy and Tran Thoc Hong are attending St. Lawrence College full time, in English classes until mid-February, reports the committee.

The committee is presently searching for part-time work to enable the three men to attend school and for full-time employment to ensure an income following the termination of committee sponsorship.

Committee spokesman, Mimi Adamson, said they hoped to share "a cherished facet of Canadian culture with the family by inviting them to a Christmas party."

condition on the extension that a new subdivided agreement be drawn up to include some of their concerns.

Mrs. Smith agreed and the agreement is still in the works. In view of this council agreed to a further extension until June 21, 1981.

Councillor Archie Byers informed council a major farm equipment manufacturer was interested in setting up a plant in Eastern Ontario capable of employing up to 200 persons.

After discussion of possible sites, council agreed to have Mr. Byers contact the firm to offer them a meeting with council to determine mutual requirements.

Council agreed the township's five-year old half-ton truck was in need of replacement and asked clerk Arnott Empey to apply for approval from the ministry of transportation and communications which subsidizes such purchases.

They also asked Mr. Empey to investigate the cost of renting a postage meter for the township office in view of the volume of mail and the time involved in stamping individual letters.

Chamber donates to CARES

(Staff) - Chesterville Chamber of Commerce plan to donate $100 to the CARES committee (Chesterville and Area Refugee Emergency Sponsorship) to help with the additional expenses facing the group, but intend to wait until after their New Year's Eve dance, when their financial situation is more stable.

contractor's cheque

The letter from Mr. Stidwell explained to the council the material could carry back into the drain and fill it up or it might weaken the walls of the drain. In spring, said council, the fill could stop the water flow.

If the material is not spread early in spring, council would be within their rights to withhold Mr. Butler's damages for spreading. It could also complicate payment to Mr. Genier.

The situation (the drain cannot be passed by the engineer until spreading or trucking of the material has taken place) will mean the two-thirds grant will be held up until the spring, incurring further interest payment.

On the Manley-Sanders branch of the Gillies drain, the contractor did not replace a pre-existing fence which had been part of the tender.

The Villeneuve and Leroux bid of $3,803.75 was accepted after the cost of fencing was reckoned into a tender of $2,586.55 by Maville and Andre which did not include the fence work.

Landowner Hank Sanders had informed the contractor he did not wish the fence reinstalled along the road allowance. Engineer John Stidwell suggested a credit should be negotiated with the contractor.

Council opted to contact landowner Russell Servage to inquire as to whether he wished to have a fence re-installed and take further action after his response. Mr. Servage's property abuts Mr. Sanders' property. Mr. Sanders has since sold the farm.

Council decided to inform landowner Beat Diefenbacher the most expedient way for him to obtain drainage at the end of the Ouimet drain would be to hire a contractor to do the work, rather than go through drainage channels.

Council also instructed engineer John Stidwell to prepare a plan in response to a petition by H.A. Sanders and others and others for the Dennis McMahon drain.

Maybe it's time you jumped into something more demanding than a car pool.

Helpful heating hints

TORONTO - Learning to keep the heat in your house this winter can save money and energy.

Home economists with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food say certain home furnishings can help.

Drapes, especially lined ones, help to insulate windows. It is a good idea during winter to draw the drapes just after the sun goes down. In summer do the opposite: draw them to keep out the sun's direct rays, and open them in the evening to let in cooler air.

Rugs help on floors over garages, cold cellars and cool basements.

Exhaust fans in the kitchen and bathroom should be used as little as possible in winter. When the fan is on, warm air goes out and cool air comes in to replace it. A clean filter in the kitchen fan removes smoke and odors faster, so the fan shuts off sooner.

At night, don't open the window, but turn down the thermostat instead. As the basement is one of the cooler areas of the house, keep the basement door shut.

Furnace maintenance is important. If it is not properly tuned, the furance will waste fuel.

Guelph offers soil course by mail

(Special) - The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and the University of Guelph are offering a correspondence course in soil conservation.

Erosion and environmental problems are becoming more severe in some areas because of poor agricultural practices and other factors. The course increases awareness of the situation and presents solutions.

It was prepared by Professor Len Webber, formerly of the University of Guelph's land resource science department. While specifically aimed at Ontario conditions, it can be applied to farm and nursery operations in other provinces and states.

The course traces the soil conservation movement in Canada and the United States since the 1930's. Reasons for practising conservation are discussed. Other chapters examine soil properties and terminology, erosion and the various environmental effects of poor soil management.

The program can be used by individuals or groups. It includes an illustrated test, eight filmstrips, a hand viewer and cassette tape commentary. The filmstrips, containing the equivalent of 104 color slides, can be shown to groups using a small, inexpensive adaptor and slide projector.

Cost of the course is $75 for Ontario residents, $85 for most others. The course carries three credits toward an Ontario Diploma in Agriculture. Hog producers warned to prepare for future (Special) - Market fluctuations in the hog industry are levelling and prices continue to strengthen, but producers should heed the lessons they learned in the past year and prepare for future uncertainties. That's the warning speakers will present at the third annual Swine Symposium in the Stratford Coliseum December 10.

"Producers have just come through a period of uncertainty," says Art Lawson of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. "This conference hopes to present some ways producers can reduce their risks".

The one-day program brings top speakers from Indiana, Illinois, North Carolina and Ontario to discuss such topics as marketing options, improving sow performance and reducing production costs.

"This conference is designed for the intensive producer who is looking for new ideas," says Mr. Lawson. "In past years, the program has attracted more than 1,000 Ontario pork producers."

The symposium is supported by county pork producers' associations in Perth, Huron and Oxford, the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, and pork-related industries.

In addition to the education program, the conference helps producers share ideas and discuss common problems. They can also talk with representatives of more than 75 pork-related industries at literature display tables.

Conference registration fee is $12 per person in advance, $15 at the door. The price includes a luncheon. To pre-register write: Swine Symposium, c-o Richard Smelski, 413 Hibernia St., Stratford, Ontario N5A 5W2.

IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORIAM

WALDROFF — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Carl G. Waldroff who passed away, suddenly December 5th, 1978.
He is gone, but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within the hearts concealed.

Lovingly remembered by Wife Edith,
daughter Marjorie,
Roland and Grandchildren

KCAT swine herdworker course fills need

KEMPTVILLE (Staff) - As the hog industry in Ontario gains strength, the need for qualified and capable help increases; the swine herdworker course offered at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology for the second year, helps to fill the need.

The course, offered in conjunction with Canada Manpower, placed all its graduates of last year's course and the healthier state of the industry this year should mean more producers can afford to hire.

The 12 week course teaches the basics of herd health and management during four classroom weeks and eight weeks on the farm demonstrate the practical applications of the principles.

Training farms are needed for the students. The college pays room and board and a small training allowance to the farm family in return for their contribution to the program.

Farmers can also help by referring possible participants to the Farm Labor Pool or the Canada Employment Centre.

Manpower will pay the students a training allowance and cover the tuition at the college.

Students can look forward to benefits following graduation, including free or reduced cost housing at some farms, incentive programs at others and a responsible career with good future prospects.

A student who is willing to work hard could look forward to a career as a herd manager or to owning his own farm.

Details are available at the nearest Canada Employment Centre, Farm Labor Pool or by calling the college at 258-3411, extension 251. Doug Green is the course co-ordinator.

Storing Ontario potatoes

(Special) - Potatoes are so versatile that almost every cook keeps a store of them on hand. But marketing specialists at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food caution that cool, dark storage is needed to maintain their quality more than a week or so.

The Ontario potatoes on the market now are called late or mature potatoes. They are hardier than summer varieties and can be stored in special cold storage facilities over the winter. It is important to care for them properly at home because even small variations in temperature can result in loss of quality.

Store potatoes in a cool, dark, well-ventilated area, preferably at temperatures between 8 and 10 degrees Celsius (46 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit). If you don't have this type of storage, keep potatoes at room temperature only seven to 10 days. It is not advisable to store potatoes in the refrigerator because their flavor can change. And at temperatures above 10 degrees (50 degrees F) they'll soften and may begin to sprout.

Keeping potatoes in the dark is important to prevent them from turning green. If exposed to light, the area where the potato has turned green develops a bitter flavor. Also make sure that potatoes are kept in a dry, airy place. Dampness can cause mould.

It's not advisable to buy large quantities in fall and winter because of their maturity. But only as many potatoes as you can use in one month, provided they're properly stored. Toward the end of winter, buy only two weeks' supply.

Dundas DHIA banquet marks thirtieth year on test

SOUTH MOUNTAIN (Staff) - The Dundas Dairy Herd Improvement Association celebrated 30 years of existence last Friday night at the annual awards banquet at the Mountain Township Agricultural Hall in South Mountain.

Dundas County formed a Dairy Herd Improvement Association in 1950, one year after testing under the DHIA began in Ontario. Art Milne was the first Dundas supervisor, beginning with 25 herds and an average number of cows of 16.4.

John Cameron took over as supervisor in 1953. He had 21 herds and an average number of cows of 19. At that time the herd average for milk was 7829 and fat was 268.

The first BCA's were used and Dundas had an average of 86 to 79 BCA. The provincial average was 95 to 93 BCA.

Reg Strader became supervisor for Dundas County in 1965. The county average BCA was then 88 to 82. The provincial average was 100 to 98 BCA.

The owner-sample program was started in 1966 with the milk testing then being done at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

Just two years later Reg Strader became Regional Supervisor and Dundas County was divided with Harold Boyce as supervisor in the west half and Mac Moffat as supervisor in the east half.

The DHIA program had grown substantially in Ontario by 1968. The provincial average BCA was 103 to 101 for the supervised program and 96 to 93 BCA for the owner-sampler program.

By 1970 computers were being used to process herd records. The National Identification Program (NIP) was introduced in 1971 to identify and eventually register grade cattle. Since then the program has been converted to the metric system.

Last year in Dundas County the composite BCA was 123 in the supervised plan and 105 in the owner-sampler plan. Of 420 herds in Dundas there are 101 on DHIA.

Maintaining what has become a family tradition for the Verburg family of Iroquois Martin Verburg again took the High Herd List for Dundas County. It is the fourth year Mr. Verburg has won the award. Previously his father had won the same award from 1968 to 1975.

Mr. Verburg won the High BCA Fat award. It was presented to Mr. Verburg by the Bank of Montreal in Winchester for Sandycreek Fanny with a BCA of 204.

He also won the Highest BCA Milk presented by the Royal Bank in Iroquois. The prize was won for Sandycreek Myran with a BCA of 198.

Other top award winners were Cory VanDelst and Gerrit Westervelt. Mr. VanDelst won the Most Improved Herd in Dundas East presented by the Winchester branch of the Royal Bank. Mr. Westervelt won Most Improved Herd in Dundas West, presented by the Bank of Nova Scotia in South Mountain

The Proficiency Award (Owner Sampler) in Dundas West was presented to Tom Forward of Chesterville by the Bank of Nova Scotia in Chesterville.

The Proficiency Award (Owner Sampler) in Dundas East was presented to Irvan Simpson by the Bank of Montreal in Williamsburg.

Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food (OMAF) certificates for the Most Improved Herds were won by Cory VanDelst in Dundas East and Gerrit Westervelt in Dundas West.

OMAF certificates for Breeding Efficiency were won by Cory VanDelst in Dundas East and Carl and Dave Bryan in Dundas West.

OMAF certificate for Highest Composite BCA went to Wilmer and Hugh Porteous in Dundas East and to Marten Verburg in Dundas West.

The Morrisburg Bank of Montreal's award for the Most Improved Owner Sampler Herd was presented to Yvon Racine.

Dundas DHIA Trophies for members with BCA provincial averages or better for the first time were awarded to Carl and Dave Bryan (141) Bill Harbers (148) Cory VanDelst (135) and Albert Koekkoek (127).

Dundas DHIA Shields were presented to members with the provincial average or better. Winners were: Marten Verburg, Charles Farlinger, John DeJong, Francis Lynch, M.D. Graham, Dave Jorgensen, William and Cornelius DeJohng, the Coons Brothers, Carl Sears, Wilmer and Hugh Porteous, John Douma, Durk Bylsma, John VanDelst, Mellan Brothers, John Byvelds, and the Simzer Brothers.

Allan McDonald

Tagwi students were saddened this past week by the death of one of their peers, Ginet Seguin. Over 100 students attended her funeral on Wednesday. She will always remain a loving memory in the hearts of those who knew her. May she rest in peace.

There were many positive aspects to this past week at school. Tuesday morning a "Reach For the Top" assembly pitted the students' team against a team composed of staff members.

The students won the game easily, - 920 to 700. The teachers team consisted of: Mr. Hawkins, Dean of Pure and Applied Sciences, Mr. Hill, Dean of Communications, Mr. Bond, Dean of Social Sciences, and Mr. Murray, the principal.

The student team of Brent Robinson, Barton Bilmer, Paul Hurtubise and Allan McDonald are now gearing up for an exhibition game, against the team from Osnabruck, which shall be held in mid-December.

The junior boys' basket ball team played their opening game of the season on Thursday. The team lost at home to the St. Lawrence team by a score of 51 to 24. This week General Vanier will send their team to the school to do battle on the court.

The girls' basketball teams were busy on the 22nd. The senior team participated in a tournament held at Glengarry. In the first game the team was defeated by Vankleek Hill 35 to 21. Glengarry were the next opponents. The Gaels managed to win a tough, hard-fought game 56 to 54.

The senior band completed their exchange with Char-Lan this week. The band travelled to Williamstown on Wednesday morning.

The bands held a workshop for the first part of the morning, then they performed, both separately and together, in front of the entire school.

The Tagwi band is now practicing Christmas music in preparation for the Santa Claus parade in Finch and also for the band's annual trip to the elementary schools.

December will be a busy month at the school. "Club Day" will be held on Dec. 2. All the Tagwi clubs will be out in full force prepared to describe the club's activities to anyone and ready to accept any new members.

The 12th of the month is the day on which Tagwi's second dance of the year will be held. The dance shall serve as the opening of "Wassail Week" which will last from the 15th until the 19th. Plans for the week are not complete; however, the week will, as usual, end with the Christmas show on Friday afternoon.

...only 13 school days until Christmas.

EBI official:

Computer age in cattle breeding

MONKLAND (Staff) - "EBI is trying to get a better female all the time", said Eastern Breeders' Bob Lang; the breeding co-op will initiate a system of computer assisted breeding early in the new year.

Mr. Lang, co-ordinator of special services and public relations for EBI, told the annual meeting of Stormont Holstein breeders, Monday afternoon "things are changing all the time".

He stressed the computer will help to process data to make breeding recommendations; it would assist rather than decide.

The innovative program extends EBI's commitment to providing good genetic material, said Mr. Lang, but extends it further to facilitate good female genetic material through embryo transfer.

The computer will try to provide assistance, he continued, in identifying bulls in a position to match and correct cows traits, sires traits and the breeders experience and bias.

The system will make use of existing programs, DHIA, ROP and breed associations, explained Mr. Lang. In this way EBI will provide the service with a minimum of manpower and expense to the farmer.

Tools required to make the program workable are cow and herd production data, cow type classification, and the breeders desired sire list.

The information sheet on the bull contains 94 bits of information on traits and defects in his make-up. The computer is given the information to weigh these traits according to their gravity. Ratings from -5 to 0 indicate respectively, an extremely serious flaw to no effect.

The computer had to be reprogrammed to accept the amount of information such a program would require. It is now capable of dealing with a 6,000 cow herd and 6,000 possible mates. Said Mr. Lang, "that should take care of most of the herds around here!".

One of the problems inherent of the use of proven sires is indicated and in this way the program is almost antagonistic to EBI's goals. New, young bulls are where the future lies, said Mr. Lang.

A final sally, from the audience "Being from Glengarry, how much will it cost?".

Replied Mr. Lang, "Being from Grenville, quite cheap.".

Qualified - entry proposal divides Holstein ranks

MONKLAND (Staff) - The Stormont Holstein Breeders' Club were told, Monday afternoon by national director Murray Howes of Dalkeith that ballots for the Qualified Entry (QE) program were being counted that day.

A 60 per cent majority was required to carry the proposal to allow qualified grade Holstein cattle to qualify for a pedigree on the basis of a high BCA.

The referendum returned an overall total of 63 per cent in favor of QE. Ontario voted 55.7 per cent in favor.

The highest favorable vote was in Quebec where 82.4 per cent backed the proposal and the lowest in PEI where only 44.3 per cent favored QE.

The referendum was held to assure representation across the country. The annual meeting in Toronto could not assure equal representation for Ontario and either far eastern or western provinces. Members supporting the proposal were urged to attend.

Mr. Howes reported the number of animals classified this past year had risen although the volume of Holsteins exported to foreign countries had fallen.

Although revenue was up on the national scale, reported Mr. Howes, expenses had risen more and net revenue was down $6,000 from last year.

He also cautioned members to hold off buying their 4-H calves yet because changes had been made to the show classes. The classes are being modified to coincide the cow's age with the calendar year.

On the local scene, expenses for the centennial Holstein book for Stormont County tallied 25 per cent higher than bargained for and the book will put the club's centennial celebration funds in the red unless more donations are received to augment the account.

President, Heinze Mulitze noted two generous donations had already been offered. A county farmer offered a calf to be sold at the annual calf sale and sales barn owner Allison Fawcett offered two per cent of each cow sold from Stormont at the purebred sale in April.

Oran Montgomery drew the club's attention to problem's arising from the calf sale, particularly with foreign buyers' stipulations. He said it appeared the federal government will pay for leukosis testing only when calves are sold to certain countries. Italy was not among these, he said, and problems entailing leukosis testing had arisen.

Fieldman Grant Smith advised farmers to apply for entry to one of the official recording programs since they were starting to get caught up in new entries.

He also pointed out the importance of tagging calves soon after birth to avoid mixups in pedigree. A functional tagger and tag was demonstrated for the group.

Directors for the coming year were chosen at the meeting. They were, from Finch twonship, Armand Cloutier, Case Michels, Ian McMillan, Ellwood Craig, Bill VanLoon, Barry Armstrong, Robert McLeod and Hugh Carruthers.

From Roxborough, Garry Howes, Oran Montgomery, James Campbell, Gilles Aube and Gerald Maloney, Campbell Murray and Richard Allinotte and Osnabruck acclaimed Peter Zeran, Allan Wells, James Bancroft and president Heinze Mulitze.

Hector Courville, formerly a Finch Township director asked his name be withdrawn from nominations this year.

Income tax regulations affecting farm decisions

GUELPH (Special) - Income tax regulations are becoming increasingly important in farm decision-making.

"The outcome of tax regulations often overrules normal production decisions," says Gary Hutchison of the University of Guelph School of Part-Time Studies and Continuing Education.

The university's home study course on farm income tax, sponsored by the Ministry of Agriculture and Food, stresses that filing a return is only a small part of farm tax management. Decisions about machinery purchases, registered retirement savings plans and building projects are also tax decisions.

"It isn't practical for farmers to consult a tax specialist every time they make decisions," says Professor Hutchison. "But to save those hard-earned dollars, it pays farmers to understand as much about tax laws as they understnad about fertilizers, mastitis control or machinery repair."

The course starts with a simple record system suitable for most tax purposes. It covers all the specific farm rules about income and expenses.

"Depreciation is one of the most difficult sections of the tax rules, according to many of our students," says Professor Hutchison. "The course provides detailed examples to help farmers understand this aspect of the tax laws better."

The course also explains unique rules such as using livestock inventories in low-income years to save thousands of dollars in future years.

Studying at home allows students to progress at their own speed. Assignments, using actual tax forms, are returned with corrections and comments. Tax materials provided, combined with yearly tax guides, can keep a student up-to-date for several years.

Cost of the course is $50 until Jan. 2, $60 after that. For information write University School of Part-Time Studies and Continuing Education, Independent Study Division, Room 153, Johnston Hall, Guelph, Ontario N1G 2W1.

Children's Christmas Story Contest

OTTAWA (Special) - CBO 920 Radio's local information program RADIO NOON, heard weekdays from 12 to 2pm, is currently sponsoring a competition for children aged five through twelve years.

The program is asking them to write an original story, no longer than one page, about the holiday season - Christmas, Chanukah, etc. The stories should be clearly marked with the child's name, address and phone number, and the age should be on the outside of the envelope.

The stories will be judged in four categories - five and six year olds, seven and eight year olds, nine and ten year olds and eleven and twelve year olds. A prize will be awarded for each age group and each of the four winners will read his-her entry on the program on December 24, Christmas Eve.

Some of the other, particularly good, stories will also be read on the program in the week or so before Christmas. Authors will be notified in advance so that family and friends may tune in for the event. As well, authors will receive a cassette tape recording of the reading of their story.

The stories should be sent to: RADIO NOON HOLIDAY STORY CONTEST, P.O. Box 3220, Station "C", Ottawa, Ontario, K1Y 1E4. Deadline is next Wednesday, Dec. 10.

When studying a language: "practice" don't "think"

Don Stephen, Head of Guidance
North Dundas District
High School

Continuing with our series on how to study specific subjects, I have this week some thoughts on studying French or any language from Bernie Harper, head of the French Department at the High School.

In most non-language work you are asked to read a certain amount of material and to learn a certain number of facts. But this is only the beginning.

The most important thing for you to do is to sit down and think about these facts, organize them, analyse them and interpret them.

You cannot learn a new language by this "thinking" approach alone. You mastered the sounds and structure of English by the time you were five or six years old - long before you could "think". You did it by listening to those about you and copying what they said. By doing this over and over again you built up the complicated set of habits, and in learning a new set of habits you must do what you did as a child, - listen and imitate and learn these new habits not by "thinking" but by practice, practice, practice; that is, by memorization. It is as simple and as hard as that.

You have one distinct advantage you did not have in learning English as a child. You know grammar, so that you can be told how the new language is put together, how it works, and how it differs from English.

These directions (grammar) can speed up the learning process by helping you to imitate more successfully.

One way to memorize new material at home is to read it silently over and over again. But, in so doing, you are using your visual (eye) memory. If you study out loud you double your efficiency by using your auditory (ear) memory too.

If you also write out your material, you double your efficiency again because you are also using your motor (muscle) memory which is the most efficient of all. You may remember that in learning to ride a bicycle you used your motor memory and that you never forget how to ride a bicycle no matter how hard you found it to learn in the first place.

It is generally far better to practice or drill frequently for short periods of time - rather than say, for an hour or two all at once. For working on vocabulary it is better to spend 20 minutes, on four or five different occasions over a period of a few days, than to spend an hour-and-a-half and then not look at it again for almost a week.

Start off by reading aloud right out of the book; generally, you will have little trouble remembering how the new words sounded or what they meant. As soon as you have read a sentence in this way, look away from the book and say it again.

Language teachers classify students into the slow and the quick, not on the basis of how well they learn a language, but by the way they make use of class hours.

The slow ones sit back and dream until they happen to be called on, even if they know the answer; they're still slow because they've wasted valuable time.

The quick ones pack 30-35 minutes of practice into each class hour. When somebody else is reciting, they are mentally reciting right along with him, and hence have new material half memorized even before they go home to study it.

Even though steady, day-by-day work, is the best way to learn any subject, it is true that in many courses you can get yourself out of a jam by some high pressure, last minute cramming. Not so with a language.

Cramming for a language examination would be about as sensible as cramming for a swimming test; you just cannot learn habits that way.

Furthermore, language learning is a highly cumulative process. It is like making a tower out of blocks; you keep building on top of what you did the day before. If you don't keep at the job steadily, pretty soon you are trying to put new blocks on top of empty space. So don't fall behind.

Once in a while, of course, you will not have time to prepare an assignment. It happens, occasionally, in the best of families. But when it does happen, don't be so foolish as to stay away from class.

If you do, making up the work will be twice as hard. Come to class, tell the teacher you're unprepared, and learn as much as you possibly can from the class-room work.

In the long run, memorizing boils down to a constant process of learning, forgetting a bit, re-learning, forgetting a little less, and then re-learning again and again, until the memorized material becomes second nature.

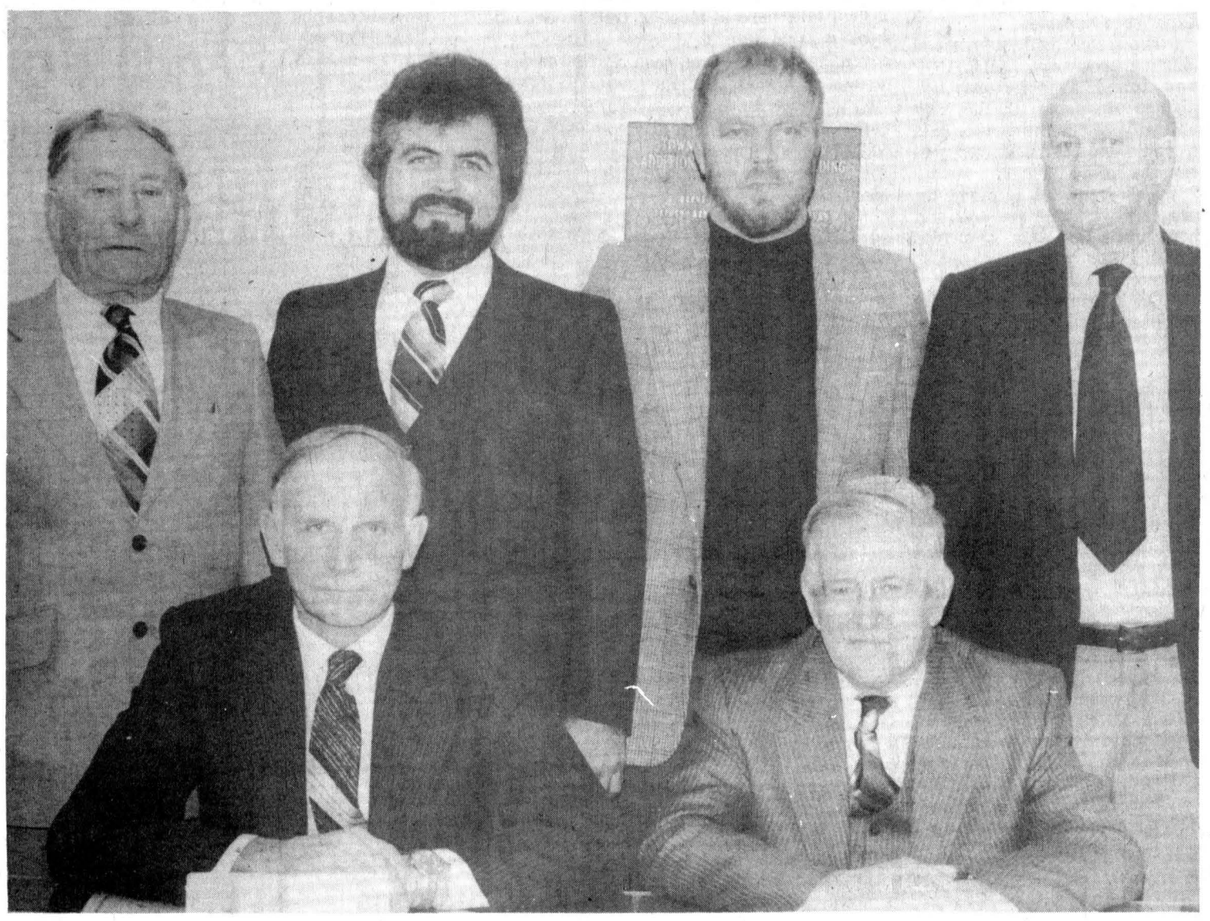
The suggestions we have given will help you to go through this memorizing process as efficiently as possible. To reinforce your memorizing, the schedule of assignments calls for repeated reviewing of earlier material.

If you still have trouble, the best suggestion we can make is that you do even more reviewing. Continue doing a conscientious job on each lesson as it is assigned; then, spending a little extra reviewing like this is all a person needs to catch up with the rest of the class.

Here is a brief summary of the pointers we have given you.

1. You cannot learn a language by "thinking" about it.
2. A language is a set of habits.
3. You've got to listen and imitate.
4. You've got to memorize.
5. Study out loud.
6. Write out material.
7. Divide your material into small units.
8. Divide your study time into small units.
9. Go from the easy to the hard.
10. Make full use of class time.
11. Don't fall behind.
12. Review constantly.

Next week some tips on studying history.



New Winchester Twp. council

Winchester Township Council, 1980-82, was sworn in Monday morning at the township office at Maple Ridge. The ceremony was necessary before the new council could conduct any business. The new council is only slightly different from the last one. Seated are returning reeve Gerald Holmes (acclaimed), deputy-reeve Cecil MacNabb (newly elected); standing, from left are councillors Albert St. Pierre (re-elected), Claude Cousineau (re-elected), and Dwayne Holmes (newly elected), and Winchester clerk-treasurer Glenn MacGregor. Following the swearing-in council held its first meeting. - staff photo -

Afghan will travel

(Staff) - The first prize winner of the Signet Chapter (Finch) of the Eastern Star's draw December 1, was Alice Murray from North Carolina. Mrs. Murray won an afghan. Second prize, a hand hooked wall hanging went to Grace Markell, Northfield Station. Lois Ouderkirk won a Christmas gift pouch, third prize.

Dance fails to harvest

(Staff) - The Harvest Dance held by the Chesterville Chamber of Commerce racked up a loss for the second year in a row, reports the chamber. The dance lost $488 and chamber plans to drop it from the schedule of events. At the other end of the scale, the children's Hallowe'en party held in the Legion Hall, was a success, with approximately 60 kids attending. Although attendance was down from last year, organizers were pleased with the party.

January 2, holiday

(Staff) - January 2, 1981 was retained as a municipal holiday in Finch Township when council agreed an already existing by-law would remain in force this year, at Monday night's regular meeting. The Royal Bank had inquired whether or not this would again be the case in order that they could inform their head office.

Ken Boyd named agricultural engineer

TORONTO - Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Food Ken Lantz has announced the appointment of Kenneth Boyd as supervisor of the Ministry's agricultural engineering service, to succeed Ed Brubaker.

Kenneth Boyd graduated from the School of Engineering, University of Guelph, in 1970. He has served as agricultural engineer in Lambton County for 10 years and in addition is recognized provincially and nationally for his work in swine housing and equipment.

Mr. Boyd will begin his new responsibilities on December 1 and will have his headquarters at the University of Guelph.

Mr. Brubaker recently was promoted to the position of Manager of the Ministry's new energy management resource centre in Toronto. Mr. Lantz expressed appreciation for the excellent leadership Mr. Brubaker gave to the Ministry's engineering service for the past 23 years.

Cheese provides so much in economical food value, meal time variety and just plain enjoyment. Take the time to protect its goodness with proper storage.

Farmers lose influence as ranks decrease

TORONTO (Staff) - Ontario Federation of Agriculture president, Ralph Barrie, challenged Ontario farmers to be active in farm organizations to increase the influence of agriculture in political circles, at the 1980 convention of the OFA held here November 25, 26 and 27.

Mr. Barrie cautioned the delegates that as farmers become more efficient and productive, the number of farm people in Ontario steadily decreases.

As a result, farmers become less effective in influencing the political decisions of our governments.

In Ontario, money allotted to agriculture (Ontario Ministry of agriculture and food) has declined to one per cent of the total provincial budget.

A policy paper presented to the convention and approved by the delegates called for the Ontario government to implement an Agricultural Development and Protection Act, to be administered by OMAF.

The suggested legislation would provide for growth, conservation and protection of the Ontario agricultural community.

Attending the conference for North Dundas were Stan Baldwin, Gerry Brugmans, Stan VandenBosch and Cliff Howse. Stormont delegates were Stuart Clark, Bill Van Loon and Floyd Dunbar.

NDDHS NEWS

by Janet Jansen
and Janet Hunter

You better not pout! You better not frown! North Dundas's Teddies are coming to town! !

Teddy Town is the theme of this year's float which will be entered in local parades along with the school's Tasmanian Marching Band.

The Christmas weather was already making itself evident as the school buses were cancelled because of ice and rain last Friday.

On Thursday, the Reach for the Top team dashed the teachers' hopes for a come-back by defeating them 440-320 on a final game.

Grade 12 and 13 accounting students began their first entry for the annual business game competition last Wednesday.

This competition is an exercise for accounting students in which each group is set up like a business, and decisions involving marketing, transportation and advertising are made.

These decisions are sent in to Toronto and the school's scores are calculated.

There are six rounds in total and the school with the largest profit becomes the champion of Ontario. North Dundas's results will not be known for at least three months.

Junior students were also busily practising their mathematical skills in anticipation of the Junior Math contest sent out from Waterloo University each year.

The Juniors were the centre of attention as the school's Junior Achievement Program was held last Wednesday.

Gold and silver medals were awarded to the students who attained the highest academic standing in their respective programs.

Mr. McGahan presented the awards to: Grade 9 - gold, Jeffrey Belanger; silver, Jennifer Anderson; Grade 10 - John Vanderlaan, Vicky Wilson; Grade 11 - Beth Moore, Eleanor Reynolds; Prepatory Practical - Tom Levere, Patti Carruthers.

Numerous special awards were also distributed, some of which were: the P.G. Hewitt Band Trophy won by Bernie Jansen; the Empey Trust Award, Beth Moore, and the Fulton Brothers Shield, Jeff Belanger.

In student-staff competition action, the teachers defeated the students by a close score in bowling last Wednesday after school. The next event will be broomball on December 12.

With the focus on scholastic achievement last week, academic stars here at North Dundas were certainly shining brightly.

Dear Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: You have printed several prayers in your column, the most recent a prayer for farmers which I enjoyed. And now will you print one for a segment of society larger than most people suspect? I wrote it myself. You see, I am...

The Other Woman

Dear God, please give me the strength to let him go gracefully. Make me a stronger person, for I have been such a weak one. Please help me put the needs of others ahead of my own, for I have been selfish. I must have your help if I am to put an end to this affair.

We did not mean to fall in love, but somehow it happened. I have never known a man so loving, so compassionate and understanding. He brought more happiness into my life than I dreamed was possible. The stolen moments were glorious and filled a desperate need for both of us. But I know in my heart he will never be mine, and I must find the courage to tell him goodbye. Help me, O Lord. It is the most difficult thing I have ever had to do in my life - and I cannot do it alone.

My Name Is Legion

Dear Legion: Here is your prayer - one with which many readers will surely identify. Please write again and let me know your prayers were answered. I hope it is soon.

Dear Ann Landers: We finally did it! After two years of watching every penny we just wrote the check that paid back our last creditor.

Our downfall was credit cards. It is so easy to buy something you can live without if you don't have to pay cash. My wife and I were equally guilty. When we look back at those crazy days we can't believe we were so dumb.

Urge all your readers who are buying with plastic to stop it immediately. Tell yourself if you can't pay cash, you can't afford it. If you want it badly enough you will save for it.

What a terrific feeling it is to be debt-free. It's like having a 500-pound bag of cement lifted off your back. Just sign us

No Interest Due
In Charlottesville
And Sleeping Nights

Dear N.I.D.: My readers will never get better advice than you gave them in your letter. Thanks for those pearls.

True, my good friend, the economist Milton Friedman, says the best hedge against inflation is to buy it NOW because it will cost more later. But he didn't say, "Charge it."

Charge-a-holics have no idea how much extra they are paying in interest. It's goofy. Do yourselves a favor, folks, and shred those credit cards.

Dear Ann Landers: Is there any set rule about whose name comes first - the man's or the woman's? For example, on an envelope, MUST is say "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe"? Is "Mrs. and Mr." acceptable? When introducing a couple, should the male be mentioned first?

My husband is so hung up on this you wouldn't believe it. When I write to the children and sign the letter "Love from Mom and Dad" he throws a fit, crosses it out and writes "Dad and Mom."

Please print this, Ann. We both read you daily.

Dear Bugged: Since your husband is obviously not rational on this subject, go along. It's of little consequence.

But he is wrong.

Got those wedding bell blues over cost...guest list...what to wear...and other details? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" will help. For a copy, send a dollar, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (15 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

There will be an executive meeting Mon., Dec. 8 in the library.

Record Recipes

by Chris Brown

As promised last week, here are two more Christmas desserts. Eternal pack-rat that I am, neither of them originated in my kitchen.

If there's anything I love more than having friends who are great cooks, I don't know what it is! Of course, you do have to have a sweet tongue to weasle the recipes out of their kitchen, now and then.

At any rate, after very little persuasion a friend from Winchester, Austin Baxter, let me have his scrumptious recipes for rum balls and raspberry mousse. My sister has a good recipe for rum balls, but I thought if I could get this one, I would. It's superlative.

Austin's Rum Balls

1 cup semi sweet chocolate chips
3 tbsp. corn syrup
½ cup rum, light cream or brandy
2½ cups crushed vanilla wafers
½ cup icing sugar
¼ cup finely shredded unsweetened coconut
¼ cup finely chopped drained maraschino cherries
¼ cup finely chopped marshmallows
¼ cup chopped nuts
(or any combination of the above four ingredients to total one cup)

Melt the chocolate chips over hot water. Add the corn syrup and the rum (or substitute). In another bowl, combine the crumbs, icing sugar and the nuts or other combination of ingredients. Add the chocolate mixture to the dry ingredients.

Mix well and then let stand for 30 minutes before shapping into 1 inch balls. Roll in icing sugar or finely ground coconut. Another suggestion Austin made, but I haven't tasted, is to finely grind instant coffee in the food processor and roll them in that.

Let ripen in a covered container at least three days.

Raspberry Mousse

1 package of frozen raspberries (12 ounces)
2 raw egg whites
1-3 (one-third) cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream

Partially thaw the fruit in a large bowl. Add the sugar and egg whites. Beat with electric mixer until thick, light and fluffy. Whip the cream and fold in. Hints: There must be some ice crystals left in the fruit and do not drain off the liquid. Put in the freezer until serving time but if you leave it overnight (or too long) it will freeze solid and resemble an ice dessert.

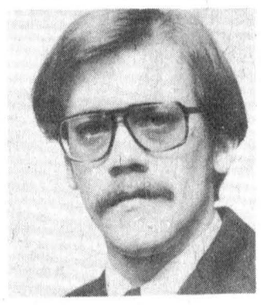
What's Cooking?

For those of you who missed the last microwave cooking school, Panasonic are giving one at Paul Stewart's near Elma, tommorrow (Thurs., Dec. 4). If it's anything like the last one I went to it would be well worth taking in.

If anyone has items for What's Cooking, phone me at The Record and we'll try to get them in. Any upcoming cooking events are welcome.

Osnabruck this week

Richard Waldroff



The subject I am writing about today affects me personally, it also effects approximately 125 other people and their families as well. These are the people who have been laid off as a result of the strike at the paper mill in Cornwall.

Most of these people are negotiated staff from the mill, but there are also some of those who work for the service industry. The service industries are contractors, trucking companies, the cafeteria staff, suppliers of various materials, etc.

Now here is our problem: after our layoff we applied for unemployment insurance which we are supposed to be entitled. This was easy, no difficulties were encountered.

Since this time of filing (date Oct. 29) we have received nothing in the line of benefits. U.I.C. has sent us cards to return at the normal time period, but never any money.

The natural reaction on our part has been to question the delay. Why we ask? They tell us they are looking into it. The office in Cornwall told us it was out of their hands; the decision was between Belleville, Toronto and Ottawa.

This prompted us to contact our M.P.'s office. We were unable to speak to Mr. Lumley personally. So his staff took the information and promised to get back to us quickly. Now here we are six days later and Mr. Lumley's office is still looking into it.

I guess the words "looking into it" means the same as passing the buck, or "we can't make a decision". Now isn't it great the way bureaucracy works.

Meanwhile the money required for shelter, heat and food lies in the control of these people. Five weeks past and week six has started and still no answer; certainly no income.

I ask, what are people to live on? Why do we buy insurance? I have other types of insurance, and never had this kind of nonsense pushed my way.

In an effort to bring attention to our problem a protest march on the U.I.C. offices has been planned for Wed., Dec. 3 at 11 A.M. The city of Cornwall will have anywhere from 150 to 300 people gathered and voicing their displeasures with U.I.C. and Mr. Lumley.

The important thing here is that we are caught in a situation in which we have no control. We did not vote for the strike and could not vote either way. I guess the protest is the only answer.

Romping Through the Bruck

A Euchre will be held December 4 at the Fraternity Hall, Ingleside. Prizes and refreshments will be served. Everyone is welcome.

The pre-school children's Christmas Party will be held Sat., Dec. 13, 1 P.M. at the Ingleside Fire Hall. Music by the school band and of course, Santa will be present. Sponsored by the Ingleside Fire Department.

He was born in Dunbar, Ont., April 11, 1896 a son of Ashabel and Bertha (Warring) Weegar.

Huggett Family's Renaissance Christmas

CORNWALL (Special) - Aultsville Hall Theatre at St. Lawrence College will take on a Christmas spirit when the Huggett Family presents A Renaissance Christmas on Mon., Dec. 8.

The program is a Yuletide excursion back through the ages which promises a colourful evening of rousing carols, folksongs, elegant music, and dances, all performed on lutes, krummhors, viols, recorders, pipes, drums and nakers.

The program, with pieces dating back to the 13th century, includes God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen, A Masque Danse For Christmas, To Shorten Winter's Sadness and The Lute Book Lullaby.

Some of the instruments used by the Huggetts fell out of use centuries ago but their names have survived on organ stops to this day. The gemshorn, for example, is made from the horn of an Andulusian bull and is blown from the wide end.

The Huggett Family, consisting of Leslie, Margaret and their four children, Andrew, Jennifer, Ian and Fiona, has brought its successful programs of the music, song and dance of the Renaissance era, plus traditional ballads and folk songs, to delighted audiences in over six different countries.

Since their debut in 1969 at the National Arts Centre in Ottawa, the Huggetts have beenbusy touring and performing concerts throughout Europe, the United States, and Canada.

The French National Radio Network, BBC Radio and CBC Radio have all made broadcasts of the family's Renaissance music, and the CBC TV Network, TV Ontario and BBC Television have featured the Huggett Family in several specials.

In 1975, at the invitation of Brian MacDonald, artistic director of Les Grands Ballets Canadiens, the Huggett Family performed the original score by Canadian composer Harry Freedman to the ballet Romeo and Juliet. They have since made three successful tours with this production and have given over 70 performances throughout Canada and the United States.

During their ten years as a professional ensemble, the internationally acclaimed Huggetts have become regular visitors to the National Arts Centre during its summer season. They have also spent the past two summers as musicians in residence at the prestigious Shaw Festival in Niagara-on-the-Lake, providing a successful series of concerts to complement the festival's threatrical presentations.

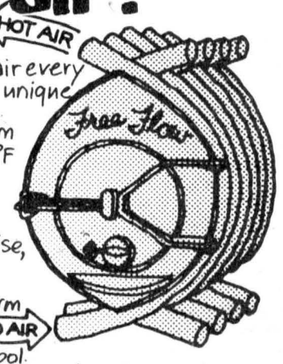
Is the Free Flow™ Stove just a lot of hot air?

It certainly is.
Our smallest Free Flow™ moves 160 cu.ft. of hot air every minute, through those unique tubes.
It lets you take a room 10'x20' from 20°F to 70°F in less than 20 minutes.
Without electricity.
Without a fan.
Without a peep of noise, warm air is circulated.
The walls are warm.
Even the floor is warm.
But the stove itself stays remarkably cool.



Because the Free Flow stove doesn't work like other stoves, it doesn't look like other stoves.
Today, a lot of stoves are heavy and loaded with chrome.
The way a lot of cars were until the beetle arrived.
It has a different shape. It's air cooled.
And it works to beat the band.

It is wonderful how the trustees who voted in favor of giving themselves a pay increase Monday night can be taken as an example to all others involved in the education system.

Here is a group of people, elected at the local level, who are acting with the interests of the best education possible for our children with the money available. Is it not the same group of people, highly respected in the community for their sense of fair play, who have informed the taxpayers that due to declining enrolment they may be forced to close many rural schools as they are quickly becoming economically unfeasible? Is it not this same group of people who have informed many schools that new facilities of any type are an economic impossibility?

Yet, this same group of people who have repeated numerous times that it is necessary to cut-back, voted to give themselves an increase in pay.

Yes, it is true -- trustees put in many long, hard hours on school board work. And, it is also true that they have not received an increase in the past six years.

However, how can they ask ratepayers, whom the education system is serving to cut back while they continue to give themselves increases? It is a case of a double standard.

It is alright for a child in the country to be bussed more miles to reach school; it is alright for students in high schools to get out and canvass the community for money for school sponsored events; it is alright to ask the students, and teachers to do with less; but heaven forbid the trustees applying the same rule to themselves.

It seems fairly safe to say most trustees don't run for the position for the high financial gain. It just doesn't exist. The amount of work involved per year in being a school board trustee will never be completely compensated for monetarily. Why then further strain the financial burden on the local taxpayers with the increase in pay? What purpose does it really serve?

Trustees, by approving the raise, have further alienated the public and made it extremely difficult for the "little man" to view them as leaders. The raise served no constructive purpose.

chesterville's past

From the Record
December 5, 1940

At 7am, Tuesday, Chesterville's telephone system will be changed from manual to dial operation. For a brief period before the "zero hour" operators will ask callers to hang up and call again after 7am, when they will not use the old telephones with the crank attachment, but will merely lift the receiver of the newly-installed dial instruments, hear the low humming noise known as the "dial tone", and then dial the figures of the number they require.

At the cutover hour, a signal will be given to the well-drilled crews in the old exchange building. Immediately they will withdraw the fuses which connect subscribers lines to the old office. The instant the last pair of fuses part company with the line they have served so long, another signal will pass to waiting technicians in the new dial exchange on King Street.

Following the conversion, callers will hear, instead of the familar, "Number, please" a low humming noise known as the dial tone. This hum is to the telephone user what the green light is to street traffic - the signal to go ahead. The old telephones will be removed from subscribers premises as soon as possible after the cutover.

With Mackenzie MacGillivary acclaimed as reeve and Charles Burd as deputy-reeve at nomination time, the elections held in Finch township for councillors held Monday night resulted in the naming of Gerald Kearns, 433 votes; William Plumb, 344 and Chas. McKinnon, 322. The defeated candidates were Johnston Ouderkirk, 260 and Elgin Warner, 90.

At the December session the last regular one, of the Village Council, held in the Hydro office, on Tuesday evening, only routine business including the passing of accounts confronted the members. An explanation of the set-up and operation of the new dial telephone system was given to the council by J.C.N. Cochrane, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company.

Saturday afternoon, a large milk truck owned by Noe Cousineau, skidded on the icy highway at the northern limits of town and crashed into a Hydro pole which was snapped off near its base. The truck suffered little damage although the icy surface of the road made it difficult to get it back on the road again.

Nominations last week passed off uneventfully except that not enough qualifications came into fit the bill. Reeve, Chas. McMillan, councillors Brannen, Durant and Carl McMillan were returned by acclamation but John Turner stuck to his word and did not qualify. Neither did Leon Marcellus or W.C. Dixon who were nominated so new nominations are called for tomorrow night to fill the hole.

Last night the jackpot of Photo Nite at the Community Theatre stood at $90 waiting for some lucky winner. In the contest that followed the first show, W.G. Nash was called and Mr. Nash was present to answer the call. By this time next week he will be richer by all of ninety nice dollar bills upon presentation of a photograph of himself to the manager, John Maxwell.

Incidentally, the popular manager of our theatre, Mr. John Maxwell will move to a house on College Street during the Christmas holidays. He and his family will be welcomed by our community.

In the three churches in the mission of Winchester this past Sunday, the Rev. Leon B. Adams, BA, announced that with the approval of the Lord Bishop of Ottawa, he is resigning as incumbent of Winchester, Chesterville, and South Mountain and will be leaving the week of Jan. 15, 1951 to become the rector of the Church of St. John the Divine, Burlington and St. David's Church, Jewelcrest in the diocese of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, USA.

At the annual banquet of the National Progressive Cheesemakers held in Cornwall on Nov. 30 the drawing was made in the contest for a suit of clothes and a new pair of shoes. The winner of the suit was Lucien Lamoureux of Lemieux, and the seller who walked away in a new pair of shoes was Rosaire Forget of Casselman.

Chesterville always has a couple of good holiday dances lined up for the Christmas season. This year will be no exception.

The first of the balls will be held Saturday night, Christmas eve, in the hall and will be sponsored by the volunteer firemen.

The next gala affair is the annual New Year's dance sponsored by the Rotary Club. This year, in an endeavor to lessen the crush, a limited number of tickets will be offered for sale. They will be sold as "couples" only at $3 per ticket and will be on sale at Laflamme's store, Casselman's store and Labre's store. Rotarians will also have some on hand.

Santa Claus will get a rousing reception here this year. A block-long parade will feature the Chesterville High School band, majorettes and real live clowns. Floats have been prepared to brighten up the proceedings and the whole thing promises to be a gala affair. Santa himself will arrive at Community Hall about three, Saturday, where the waiting kids will get their chance to see the old gentleman up close the farmer's wife

by wyn thompson

Nobody asked me but...the Farmer and I took a holiday recently. It was a combination business and pleasure trip.

A typical November day emerged as we travelled along to Toronto. Windy, cold, grey. However, along about Belleville we got into the holiday mood and it mattered little what the weather was like.

Our first stop was at the Royal Winter Fair. During the afternoon we toured the exhibits, admired the animals, and partook of the food. The vegetable growers and the soybean growers did promote their products exceptionally well although it is hardly fair to praise specifically as all the exhibits were of a very high calibre.

We tasted the soybean casserole cooked slowly and well in a slow cooker. Delicious! I bought a two pound bag of the beans and a cook-book. All through the years I have added a handful of soybeans to navy beans when making baked beans. The Farmer has always praised the protein content of soy beans and there is was spelled out for all to see - "Soybeans are Protein - there is one-and-a-half times as much protein in soybeans as there is in cheese, peas, or navy beans.

Another demonstration booth caught my eye. It honoured the humble potato. At the entrance was a collage labelled "How Some Survived - Potatoes 1939".

In words and pictures man's survival during the depression years was spelled out. The potato was the medium of survival. The following story 'Potatoes for Christmas' is true: "We ate potatoes all that winter. Nothing else. At supper we'd each get a big potato on the plate and mother would cut off one end and say, "Now this is your soup, and isn't that good? We'd eat that."

Then she'd slice off another piece and say, "Here's your meat", and another slice and, "My, isn't that a fine piece of carrot and look at all those nice peas," and then she'd pick up the last piece and she'd say "And here's your chocolate pudding and isn't that nice?" A Christmas dinner with all the trimmings made up entirely of potato.

The 52nd Royal Horse Show was most enjoyable. Prince Michael of Kent and his wife were as glamorous as royalty should be during the opening ceremonies. Torchy Miller disappointed me during the first day's jumping events. I kept saying to the Farmer, "He has no rapport with his horse." I was reminded that the equestrian team had suffered animal losses in the United States just a short time before. A personality clash seemed obvious when he was riding Saskia, however, there was a definite improvement when he rode into the ring with Good Sam. And he had much better days ahead as the week progressed, I now know.

The hackney ponies were teaming with personality as were the four-horse Belgian teams, And the harness! And the wagons! And the drivers! A sight to behold.

Following a swim and a good night's sleep, we walked to the Eaton Centre to begin our Christmas shopping. The decorations were beautiful. They spoke of luxurious Christmas festivities. A world of sugar plums and fairies and magic.

A make-believe world where there is no pain, no suffering, no sorrow. For a short time I entered that world transported by the colour, the light, the music. I would come down to the earth with a thud, no doubt about that, but just for today...

The Farmer purchased John Kettle's "The Big Generation" for us. He had heard the author interviewed and was quite interested. This book tells of the generation that is so big and so different, it is going to change all the rules... and in the process, change Canada beyond recognition.

These kids, a generation seven million strong, the biggest single generation in the nation's history had been created between the years 1951 and 1966. They were born into the best of all possible worlds. It was the early fifties, the war was over, and the economy was booming. The future belonged to Canada's young people...and nothing was too good for them. Our sons are part of that generation.

These people make up one-third of the nation's population, and now it is becoming clear that they represent a power to be reckoned with because they are doomed by their numbers to frustration, unemployment, and shortages of most commodities. Canada doesn't know what to do with them, at the moment.

It is shocking, but fascinating reading. I had just visited the Eaton Centre and sat now with the book open in front of me and read Kettle's predictions for the year 2025. He said it had been converted to living quarters a few years back and now what is left of its open space retains something of the buildings original character; it is now, the city's central bartamart. Yikesss! I wonder what Mr. Eaton would have to say to that.

It was time to move on. Through the smog and fog of industrialized Ontario. We called on friends at Stoney Creek. The big sky threatened to engulf me en route to London. I get the same feeling in prairie country. "Where have all the trees gone? I asked the Farmer.

"Those greedy agriculturists have denuded the lands for their own profit," he slyly remarked. For five miles we drove through lush agricultural lands, passed elitist homes and barns, breathing all the while the all-prevading odour of pigs. "How come?" I enquired of my travelling companion.

"We are in hog-raising country," he replied, "and the liquid manure is placed on the fields through the irrigation systems."

"Ye gods, you got to be kidding," I shot back. "No wonder that air is so polluted. Oh, but I don't believe you."

Although the Farmer in my life is known to pull my leg on occasion, it turned out that he was telling me the truth.

"So you farmers not only denude the landscape and pollute the rivers with agricultural run-off, you also pollute the air I breathe," I challenged.

"In a manner of speaking, yes," came the cautious reply. The challenge of what do you propose to do about it did not follow.

I waited. Nothing further was said. No fun here...I couldn't even get a good argument going.

Next week: London!...no Sarah, not London, England.

Rotary is OK

To The Editor:

I would like to thank Mr. Dudley Craig for inviting me to Rotary on Monday night as a guest.

I was surprised at the work that is being done by the local club.

For instance a cheque to Dr. Slowey for the Cancer society, financial aid to C.A.R.E., also a commitment to the boy Scouts, and a donation to the earth quake victims in Italy.

If Monday night's are boring and you would like an outlet for your ideas, an input in the community, good fellowship and a chance to meet new people get involved and join Rotary. You might be as surprised as I was at their accomplishments and dedication to serve all.

Sincerely,
James R. Morar

On Wednesday night the Flyers tied Crysler 6-6. Mike Harper paced Chesterville with three goals. Dan Dubois had two and Rudy Witteveen one. Witteveen was the game's playmaker setting up three goals. Rick Nelson and Jamie Cheney helped out on one marker each.

Chesterville jumped out to a 1-0 lead when Rudy Witteveen scored from Dubois eight minutes into the first period.

However Winchester's Michael Sargent notched an unassisted tally before the end of the period to tie things up.

The visitors went ahead on a goal very early in the final period by Dean Armstrong but the Flyers evened the game when Dubois scored from Darren Greer seconds later.

Jeff Johnson on scoring spree nets 15 goals in three games

OSNABRUCK (Staff) - Jeff Johnson will probably never again play three better games.

The Osnabruck Twp. Kings right winger scored all eight of his team's goals as the Kings dumped the Chesterville Jets 8-2, three in a 6-2 win over Finch Twp. 76's and four against Alexandria Glens as Osnabruck Twp. won 8-5.

His 15 goal explosion gave Johnson 23 goals for the season and when 10 assists are added on, it gives him 33 points in eleven games which makes the Kings standout the most productive scorer in the league to date. One point ahead of Embrun's Mario Savage.

Osnabruck 8 Chesterville 2

Jets goal tender Pat Brugmans must have thought he was dreaming as Johnson found eight ways to beat him last Tuesday night at the Chesterville Arena.

As they have done several times this season the Jets got on the board first when Jamie Utman scored at 9:34 of the first period from Jeff Casselman. Casselman was designated captain because Rob Harper did not play.

Chesterville scored its final goal with a little more than four minutes in the game with Kevin Saunders the marksman from Sean Boulrice and Dan Moriarity.

Johnson's linemates Blair Henderson and Bill Kroeze were the beneficiaries of his scoring spree. Kroeze bagged five assists and Henderson three. Defenceman Ricky Dewey added a pair of helpers.

Osnabruck 6 Finch 2

The 76's were the next victims of Johnson's magic as they fell to the Kings on Wednesday night at the Finch Arena.

Johnson popped in three goals, Kroeze two, and Dwayne Crawford one, in the victory. Henderson counted five assists, Kroeze, two.

Michael O'Donohue scored both, of Finch's goals after being set-up on each of them by Roger Vanier and Ed Dewit.

The score was tied at one at the end of the first period and Osnabruck was on top 3-1 after two.

Embrun 7 Crysler 2

The 72's continued in their undefeated ways as they brought Crysler down to earth after the Recreation Raiders won three straight games the previous week.

Mario Savage, Daniel Piche, Pierre Servant, Daniel Emard, Raymond Bourbonnais, Mario Lessard and Michel Provost tallied for Embrun. Lessard picked up three assists.

Paul Farley scored in the first period from Albert Herfkens and Dale Dingwall and Herfkens zinged one home in the third period from Christian Brisson and Robby Termeer to account for Crysler's goals.

The Recreation Raiders lost their grip on the game early as Embrun had a 4-0 lead before six minutes had elapsed in the game.

Osnabruck 8 Alexandria 5

Jeff Johnson capped off a brilliant week with four goals, including the winner against the Glens Saturday night in Alexandria.

The Kings had a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period on goals by Bill Kroeze and Edwin Rutley. They went in front by three goals when Johnson scored 54 seconds into the second stanza.

Alexandria hit the scoreboard at 4:24 compliments of Stephane Levac but the Kings got that back on Bill Shaver's goal.

Carey Cameron brought the Glens back into contention only to have Osnabruck's Kroeze and Johnson tally before the extermination of the period to put the Kings ahead 6-2.

Jocelyn Ranger, Cameron with his second, and Mike McDougal scored in the third for the Glens but they were nearly offset by Johnson who popped in his third and fourth of the game for Osnabruck.

Crysler 6 Embrun 6

It took a goal by Daniel Emard with 1:40 remaining the game to pull Embrun into a tie with the Recreation Raiders Sunday in Embrun.

The 72's started fast as they did Thursday night against Crysler; taking a 3-0 first period lead on goals by Raymond Bourbonnais, Pierre Servant and Mario Brisson.

Denis Raymond got Crysler moving in the second period with a goal, but Mario Lessard and Brisson, once more, propelled Embrun to a 5-1 lead.

Unlike Thursday night, the Recreation Raiders were able to battle back with Raymond and Kevin Mason notching goals in the final four minutes of the second and David Mason and Raymond, with his third, in the final period to draw Crysler even.

However, Emard saved the day for Embrun with his late goal.

Laying down on the job

Winchester Hawks goaltender Dave Spence looks to the right for the puck during action Friday night against Kemptville 73's at the Winchester Arena. Hawks battle back to tie Kemptville 73's

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Even though they have yet to lose, this season has not been an easy one for the Winchester Hawks.

The Hawks ran their unbeaten streak to twelve games when they tied the pesky Kemptville 73's 5-5 on Friday night at Winchester, and dumped the Broncos 7-5 Saturday in Cardinal.

Winchester bounced off the ropes from a trio of three-goal deficits in their draw with the 73's. It took a goal by Mark Beaupre with 1:24 left in the game for the Hawks to earn their one point.

Kemptville notched the only two goals of the first period with Ted Rintoul scoring at 6:19 and Clark Patterson lighting the red light at 14:51.

The 73's went ahead 3-0 on Pat Meghar's tally at 9:35. Winchester finally outguessed Kemptville goalie Doug Rigby as Al McLean scored from Darrell Shelp at 11:19.

However, Kemptville grabbed back their three-goal advantage 25 seconds into the third period as Rintoul put the puck past Hawks goalie Dave Spence for the second time.

McLean and Shelp teamed up again for Winchester's second goal 17 seconds later but Clark Patterson hit the target at 4:56 placing the visitors in a comfortable position.

At this point it appeared that Winchester maybe, just maybe, would be on the losing end for the first time this season.

But a loss was not in the cards for the Hawks as Beaupre slammed the puck home at 12:53 from Rick Grisel and Curtis McMillan.

Winchester continued their march back when McLean notched his second goal from Shelp and Simpson two minutes later thus paving the way for Beaupre's tying marker.

The Hawks were in for another tough one in Cardinal. Winchester owned a 2-1 lead after the first period on goals by Shelp and Dean McIntosh before Trevor Gill got the Broncos on the scoreboard.

McIntosh found the net three minutes into the second increasing the Hawks lead to 3-1. Assisting on the play was Rudy Grisel and Pete Marriner. The two also helped out on McIntosh's first goal.

Hawk's Dan Lee was then given a double minor for slashing and roughing and then fireworks started to occur. Grant Simpson scored a shorthanded goal, a feat which seems to be Winchester's forte.

The two penalties did hurt the Hawks cause however, as Cardinal's Kevin Brown and Gary Rheaume capitalized on the power play to bring Broncos within one.

Cardinal was now on a roll and they proved it when Marty Hamilton scored to tie the game at four.

Half-way through the final period McLean enabled the Hawks to get back into the driver's seat after he was set-up by Simpson and Shelp but Rob Robinson tied the contest up shortly thereafter.

Shelp put the game away for Winchester at 12:52 with his second goal and Simpson slid the puck into an empty Cardinal goal with six seconds left to end the scoring parade.

Bruce Jones was between the pipes for the Hawks while ex-Morrisburg Lion Shawn Geeves tended goal for Cardinal.

So, again Winchester goes into this weekend's play without a loss. The teams who will be trying to shoot the Hawks down will be Cardinal on Friday night (game time at the Winchester and District Arena is 8:30pm) and the Morrisburg Lions who Winchester will play in Morrisburg on Sunday.

Green posts last second win

(Staff) - Points have been hard to come by for the Blue Squad this year as was proven on Thursday night at the Chesterville Arena.

Green "stole" a tie away from Blue as Steve Plummer scored with a scant second left in the game giving Green a 3-2 win in Town League Hockey action.

In the other game, Red had all it could handle from Maroon before posting a 4-3 win.

Green raced out in front 2-0 when Neil Kittle banged in an unassisted goal at 5:07 of the first period and Mike Lecuyer scored at 8:07.

Blue tied it before the end of the period with Tony Welland tallying from Doug Shay and Dave Carkner at 11:55 and Carkner getting a goal himself with assistance from Rick Barkley at 14:08.

There was no scoring in the second stanze but Green pulled the game out of the hat on Plummer's goal. Assisting on the game winner were Kevin Cooper and Pat Lynch.

Red won their sixth game in six starts as they edged past Maroon.

Both teams went scoreless in the first period but the play heated up in the second. Red drew first blood eleven seconds in when Brent Theede popped in his first of three from Dave Cross. Theede then scored again two minutes later followed by Gary Gallinger from Larry Gallinger a minute after that giving Red a 3-0 lead.

Maroon's Bill Halem punched in two goals to bring the underdogs within shouting distance, but Theede finished off his hat trick with 20 seconds remaining the period making the score 4-2.

Larry Kelly put Maroon on the doorstep with a goal midway through the third period. However, they couldn't put the puck past Red goalie R.D. Chisholm again.
