New Council chosen--

Acclamation sets up 2-year goverment

Chesterville voters, some 40 strong, met the challenge of nominations last Wednesday evening. A new government was elected by acclamation without any fireworks. The term of the council will now be for two years.

A slate of councillors found three new names on the list other than incumbents. A. W. Black, Eldon York and Glen Merkley received nominations. Last year's councillors Harry Allison, Fred Coons and Ernest Kelly were also on the list read by the clerk. Former councillor Adolphe Lauzon had earlier in the week forfeited his right to sit on council for the remainder of the year, according to the clerk. It was reported he had not attended the necessary number of village government meetings in a row. Mr Lauzon was not present at the meeting.

Reeve James Brannen was the only candidate for the office to apear on the lists and he was in by acclamation as soon as his qualification papers were in order.

Nominees Merkley and York thanked their supporters but stated they would not qualitfy for the position of councillor. The former councillors did qualify and A. W. "Archie" Black also qualified to make a government.

All members of council and the reeve thanked their supporters for the honour and promised to continue to work for the good of the town. The reeve stressed the need to continue the work of getting a sewage system for the village. He hoped some means could be found to keep the costs within reason.

Clerk G. L. Graham presided as chairman for the evening. At its close a fragrant cup of coffee and cakes were served courtesy of councillor Allison.

Chesterville Minor Hockey planning is well underway. Members of the executive and coaches have been at work and the first registrations will take place Saturday morning at Community Hall. Dr. G. M. Carman speaks at Co-Op annual banquet

Chesterville Community Hall was bright with banners and decorations Thursday evening. The annual dinner and report evening was staged there by Chesterville District Co-Op Inc. and some 175 diners enjoyed the meal and the evening.

Russell Sirvage made a capable chairman for the affair. His business details included the presentation of the auditors report by auditor Harry Wood and the announcement of the appointment of new directors. They are Lyle Loucks, Francis Lynch and Colburn Helmer. Retiring directors were Russell Sirvage, Harry Hutchinson and Sheldon Ball.

An outline of the year's work by the Co-Op was given by manager Roy MacGregor. His factfilled report was of interest to his listeners and they showed their appreciation by their applause.

The main speaker of the evening was Dr. G. M. Carman, director of information, Canada Department of Agriculture. Dr Carman spoke at length of the agriculture of the future. He stressed the need for continued research to raise the returns to the farmer in his crops, his milk production, his meat production. He was sure the potential is in this land of Canada to make it as productive or more so than any other agricultural area in the world.

Minor hockey registration this Saturday in Com. hall

Chesterville Minor Hockey Association got off the ground a week ago. A meeting of Chesterville Recreation Committee under the chairmanship of Hulbert Henderson picked Grenville Fyke as chairman of the CMHA. The association will meet all potential minor hockey players Saturday at the hall for registration. Times are from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and all players interested should bring along proof of age.

Authorized league play means referees must have earned the crest of the Ontario District Hockey Association. To that end three Chesterville coaches went to Alexandria over the week-end. There they attended the referee and coaches clinic. They were Richard Elliott, Jack Lauzon and George Cooke.

Graduates

Barbara Ann Rombough

Barbara Ann, daughter of Mr and Mrs C. E. Rombough, Newington, has recently passed examinations qualifying her as a Registered Nurse. She is a 1968 graduate of the Cornwall General School of Nursing and is presently on the staff of that hospital.

Santa comes to town December 14

Santa Claus will arrive in Chesterville with a cheery "hello" Saturday, Dec. 14. Chesterville Chamber of Commerce met this week to tie up loose ends and make final preparations for his arrival. Chamber president Paul Monast is confident everything is going well to make this visit one of the best.

Floats and bands and dancing girls will mark the day. The parade will get underway from Legion Hall after the line-up shortly after one o'clock. Everything should be on the street and moving by 2 p.m. The parade will move down John Street, down Main to King, then up King to Queen, along west to Main again, across the bridge to Ch., over to College, down Victoria and end up at the firehall.

This year the firehall will be the location for Santa's visit. He will meet his small friends there rather than in Community Hall as in other years. There will be the usual goodies for some 700-800 children.

One of the featured attractions again this year will be the appearance of the Morrisburg Boys' Band. It will be close to the head of the procession and will arrive in the village coutesy of Lannin's buses.

West Point is the oldest military school in the United States.

Elections on for Monday polls open from 10 - 8

Monday will find the polling booths open in the village, even though there will not be an election for local government. School trustees must be chosen for the new regional boards and all across Ontario the same thing will happen.

Polls will open at 10 a.m. and stay open until 8 p.m.

Voters in Chesterville will have a choice of ballots. If they are public school supporters, they will get a single ballot containing the names of four candidates for the position of regional board member. One man will be chosen to represent the local ward of Winchester township, Chesterville and Winchester. If they are separate school supporters, they will get two ballots. One will have a group of names, three to be chosen, to represent separate school interests on the new regional board. The same voters will receive another ballot with the names of candidates for the new separate school regional board. This is Zone I and one candidate will be chosen from the list.

Only school voting will be held in the townships of Winchester and Williamsburg. Finch village and Finch township have a race for all government offices, as well as the school votes.

Mainly About People

The Reverend and Mrs E. Earle Eaton were in Ottawa last Friday for hospital calling.

People who like to be waited on are the hardest to cure of their ailments.

There is hardly anyone around this time of year who is not suffering or has not recently had a case of sniffles. The common cold is a thing that goes with the first wet snows of early Winter and usually plagues people for the rest of the season. It builds a valiant defence against pills and other nostrums. It makes millions for imaginative souls who bottle guaranteed preparations that have almost no effect against the little bugs. It makes normally cheerful folks cross and in a mood to kick the dog. It affects the taste to such an extent that soap and sawdust could pass for stew.

The Castle is rife with drafts and vagrant breezes. Somewhere along the line this ancient got caught in one, probably after a sweat over a haunch of venison. Before one could marshall any defences, we were overcome with snorts, sniffles and expanded glands. In spite of repeated visits to the girls around the bonfire, and a modest quaff of their witches' brew, we still enjoy a head under a basket and a dripping tap for a nose.

Surely someone will eventually come up with a cure for the most common ailment of all humanity. There is little doubt early man had the sniffles and when he began to wear a jacket the first thing the tailor did was to protect the sleeves. By sewing a row of buttons all along the edge above the wrist, the sniffler was discouraged in using that cloth as a wiper. We even went so far as to try some of the newfangled dryers-up called antihistamines. A capsule was supposed to control the drip for 24 hours. It certainly helped, but other things came in for the same process. Eventually when we had reached a point of pucker from pharmaceuticals, we decided it was hardly worth it. So back to the drip and blow brigade and let the germs fall where they may.

Some of the old remedies are probably as good as any modern ones. A dollop of honey heated with lemon juice adds slipperiness and helps cut the gunk. A snootful of steam charged with Friars balsam is sure to do something to a clogged set of pipes and a mustard plaster still has certain advantages. It is easier to wear than a blowtorch.

Sadly enough the common cold is so common, one gets little or no sympathy while under its influence. In spite of the painful snorts and sneezes, the sufferer might just as well enjoy the ailment for its duration. Unless it develops into pneumonia there is little to be done except blow, sneeze and wipe.

Avonmore W. I. meets for December meeting

At the monthly meeting of the Avonmore Women's Institute, held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs George A. McElheran, Mrs E. L. Filion reported on the recent Ottawa Area Convention.

In her report to the 18 ladies in attendance, Mrs Filion gave details of a luncheon, given by Mrs Lucien Lamoureux, wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons. Mrs Filion announced that next year's Area Convention will be held in Cornwall.

Mrs Alex Armour, president, was in the chair. The roll call was answered by members displaying a picture of their home and giving its history.

Members observed a two minutes silence, honoring those who paid the supreme sacrifice in the World Wars. Mrs Armour read an appropriate poem. She thanked members who participated in the memorial service at the local Cenotaph on Remembrance Day.

Members receivd an invitation from the Moose Creek Branch inviting them to a meeting. Announcement was made of the Girls' Homemaking Clubs Achievement Day at Ingleside on January 4th.

Mrs Stanley Norman thanked members who remembered her while she was a patient in hospital.

Members planned on remembering sick and shut-ins with boxes and cards at the approaching Christmas season.

Miss B. J. Banfill gave an interesting paper. She touched on a number of timely topics — the need for public suport of law-enforcing officers, the need of wills and the merit in donating vital organs in the cause of science.

Mrs Clifford McElheran thanked Mrs McElheran for the use of her home and the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held on Dec. 19th at the Fire Hall. There will be an exchange of Christmas gifts among the members. Mrs George A. McElheran will be social convenor. Hostesses will be Mrs Stanley Norman, Mrs Clifford McElheran, Mrs John A. Cameron and Mrs W. M. Campbell.

"Stitch in Time" 4-H Club holds final meeting

The 'Stitch in Time' 4-H Club held its final meeting in the Institute Room of the Community Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 19th. Mrs Betty McIntosh was in charge, assisted by Mrs Annie Johnston.

Kathy Allan, president, opened the meeting with the members repeating the 4-H pledge. Mary Craig, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, she also called the roll. The roll was answered by "other articles I would like to embroider. Janice Docksteader, treasurer, took the collection. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs McIntosh.

The members worked on their free choice article; made plans for achievement Day; practised their part in the demonstration.

H. B. Hunter, Magistrate--

Winchester Springs man sets legal precedent

In the first sentence of this kind in Ontario, Magistrate H. B. Hunter handed out an intermittent licence suspension to Gary L. Kirkwood of Winchester Springs, who was found guilty of impaired driving under section 223 of the Criminal Code of Canada.

In asking for an intermittent suspension, Legal Aid Duty Counsel G. Pat Beavers of Morrisburg, said that the accused living some eight miles from his work needed some way to get to and from his job at Winchester Memorial Hospital. Counsel asked the court to prohibit the accused from driving except during the restricted hours of 7 - 8 a.m. and 3 - 4 p.m. for the sole purpose of travelling from his home to work.

In this way counsel said the intent of the legislation would be carried out without causing the injustice of the defendent of losing his job and means of employment.

Defence Counsel pointed out that he relied on the precedent set in Windsor recently in the case of the Queen vs Gray.

Service of Admission at Anglican church

On Sunday, Nov. 24th, at the Service of the Holy Eucharist in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Fr. G. T. Churchill conducted a Service of Admission for thirteen girls as members of the Girls' Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of Canada. The executive of this organization was installed at the same time. Mrs Lillian McNab and Mrs Barbara Cooke are the leaders of this group. Members of the G. A. and their leaders took part in the Eucharist Service.

The Canadian Girls in Training of the Chesterville United Church were present at this service and assisted in the singing of the hymn "Youth of the World Arise." The leaders and the members of these two groups are working together in areas of mutual concern and fellowship.

OPINIONS . . . OURS AND OTHERS

Don't forget to vote

Confusion reigns happily throughout the townships and other municipalities. The new school division election, as well as all other changes are creating modest havoc. Who votes where and for what seems to be the burning question.

The new regional school system for public and secondary education is electing a full slate of 16 members. These people will be voted on according to the number allowed in each ward or section of the school division or across the whole division if the voter is a separate school supporter.

But there is also a new combined Separate School Board for the counties. This board will be elected next Monday to look after the separate elementary schools as they do not enter the regional board as do all public schools.

Voters need to remember a couple of facts. One board will look after the affairs on a combined basis of all public and secondary school matters in the counties. Another board will look after the combined separate elementary schools. However the regional board will have seven members out of the 16 elected at large across the counties and from Cornwall to represent separate school interests in secondary education.

Voters next Monday in Chesterville's polls will be handed ballots according to their listed school support. If it is public school, the voter will receive one ballot. The names thereon will represent the candidates for the school ward made up of the township of Winchester and the villages of Chesterville and Winchester, and one is to be elected. A separate school supporter will get two ballots. One will be for a representative on the regional board; there is quite a list of names now. The other ballot will be for a trustee for Zone 1 of the Combined Separate School Board. Perhaps if this sounds complicated, witness the plight of a Winchester village voter: he will have eight ballots alone on the liquor vote before he gets down to municipal and school ballots.

It is hoped the public will take advantage of the right to vote on Monday. We feel this is a right and a privilege that must always be exercised. The education picture is getting more and more to be the largest part of our municipal interest. Now is a good time to put a good man in the seat of power and see what makes the whole thing tick. Vote on Monday.

Unfair discrimination

Because the Post Office loses about $37 million dollars a year handling newspapers and magazines, the postal rate for newspapers is to be about doubled in an effort to cut down that loss. The result, observes the Alliston Herald, will likely be the doubling of subscription rates for daily papers and magazines sent by mail.

They provide entertainment, news, education and editorial comment to their readers and it is available to them for as long as they want to keep it. Moreover, news is covered in depth and there is a great variety of it.

Against this, television and radio provide only highlights and there is no way for viewers/listeners to keep the programs for future study or reference. Such "editorials" on affairs as are provided are usually that of commentators and not the views of the station.

The government subsidized the CBC to do this by about $139.5 million for the fiscal year 1967-8, according to preliminary estimates presented to Parliament. This is a loss four times as great as that incurred by the Post Office in handling newspapers and magazines. The Board of Broadcast Governors costs another $1 million.

If the government is consistent, it should do something drastic to bring more revenues to CBC to cut down its loss.

We know that the government argues that the CBC is a national service to provide Canadians with entertainment, information and cultural uplift. Newspapers and magazines do this too. Why soak them? Is it the government's desire to handicap free enterprise and the spread of printed news so that people will become increasingly dependent upon government-controlled media which could easily become a major channel for "managed" news?

This is something which should seriously concern everybody. A free press is one of the bulwarks of a free, democratic society and anything done to restrict it, while strengthening government media, is to be deplored.

Don't celebrate Christmas in jail

A rather shocking fact was brought to light recently when an official of a store security firm addressed the Cornwall Kiwanis Club, reports the Cornwall Standard - Freeholder. F. L. Sullivan said that 50 per ent of shoplifting is done by store staffs, almost that much by average shoppers and only a minor percentage by professionals.

The statement seems to bear out the old saw that there is a little larceny in all of us. Unfortunately the thefts add up to millions of dollars every year and the loss is reflected in the price that consumers must pay for a wide assortment of items.

Theft committed by the so-called professional is usually an alcoholic or drug cannot be condoned by society. The professional is usualy an alcoholic or drug addict who must steal if he is to satisfy his unnatural appetite.

But thefts committed by the average citizen are difficult to fathom. Usually the item is not of excessive value and the danger of apprehension, court costs and embarrassment far outweighs any net gain to the offender. Besides there is always a considerable risk of public censure being directed at family and loved ones of those so foolish as to seek something for nothing.

Would-be shoplifters might be wise to remember that even the theft of a minor item could give them a police record that will mar their community standing for life. Also, they might ponder that loss of employment could result, with serious family consequences.

With Christmas just around the corner, taking the risk of theft is both a silly and unrewarding invitation to trouble. Also the would-be thief should take into account that he is only putting up the price of consumer goods. And he will eventually have to pay the increase anyway.

C.G.A. ASSOCIATION DROPS TERM "STUDENT"

Herbert H. Perry, C.G.A., Executive Secretary of the Certified General Accountants Association announced recently that the Board of Governors has decided to discontinue use of the word student when referring to people taking its five-year university-based program and to use the word "undergraduate" instead.

Commenting upon the move, Mr Perry said, "This is a further step in an evolution which began four years ago when the -Association discontinued use of the archaic term "students-in-accounts." The Board feels that in today's setting the word student does not fairly describe mature businessmen, many of whom have university degrees, who are studying in the C.G.A. evening educational program.

"All too often," Mr Perry said, "the word student today describes a dirty, unwashed, bearded, rebellious person, totally unlike the sensible young businessmen on the C.G.A program."

THE BIBLE TODAY . . .

President Kaunda of Zambia spoke of the importance of spiritual development, which results from Bible reading and the spread of Christianity, when he opened the Bible Society's new Bible House in Lusaka on September 3.

Referring to a 1,058-mile pipeline he had officially opened the previous day, he said: "Yesterday we took yet another step forward in bringing about effective material development of our people, and today by the opening of this Bible House we witness the bringing about of effective spiritual and moral development of our young nation . . .

"I talk of balanced development because I believe that the development of a nation does not mean only political, economic and social development. It means a mature awakening to, and a fuller participation in all important aspects of the life of a nation, of which the political, economic and social aspects are each but a part of the whole. In this respect, I consider religion as one of the Student land use surveys

Students at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, Kemptville, Ontario, study land use by actual on-the-spot evaluation of land areas on a township basis.

According to J. S. Gardiner and D. W. MacDonald, Soils Specialists at the Kemptville College, students prefer this direct field experience over the usual lecture-lab learning routine.

Before tackling the field observation work in teams of two, there is instruction based on aerial photos and soil survey reports.

Equipped with spades and hand levels, each student team is soon on the way to examine first hand an assigned area of some 1200 acres. They want to find out what is grown and what could be grown in certain areas.

After intensive field study on foot, each team makes a written recommendation for improved use of land in the area evaluated. This report includes such data as present land use and soil capability maps.

PROPER BEDDING AIDS HEALTH

What's the most important household article you own? More than 8 per cent of physicians asked that question responded with the same answer: The correct bed.

Here are some tips what your bed should do for you:

A comfortable mattress and spring well help you relax easily and fall asleep. After sleep comes, the right bedding will help you change your position during the night. This may happen as often as 45 times a night, and it's nature's way of giving all your muscles a chance to relax. If you "fight your mattress" it's not right for you.

Support is as important as comfort. Too soft a mattress gives improper support. This may lead to low back pain and muscle fatigue. One to hard may not conform to your body's contours, may cause strains and "hollows" in the small of the back.

The proper mattress should have surface softness to provide muscles, and relieve tensions.

Soft but firm, these are the keys. Any sagging and it's time for a mattress change.

Your Legislature Report . . .

Fred M. Cass, Q.C., M.P.P.

The Second Session of Ontario's 28th Legislature was opened in the traditional manner on Tuesday, November 19th, by the new Lieutenant-Governor, the Honourable Ross Macdonald.

It will be my hope to bring you, as in the past through the courtesy of the Editor, a weekly report on events and proceedings at Queen's Park. And also as in the past, I shall endeavour to be objective and brief enough not to discourage either the Editor or you who read.

In the usual manner the program of the Government, named the "Speech from the Throne," was head by the Lieutenant-Governor and the House began its debate on the motion in return which will probably consume most of the time of the House till the Christmas recess. The address in reply to the speech from the Throne was moved by Albert Belanger, the P.C. Member for Prescott and Russell, a newly elected member in the last election who spoke both in English and French, the official languages of the House.

Organization of the House by creation of its Sessional Standing Committees, by authorization for Hansard (the printed daily report of proceedings) and the so many other necessary matters occupied the members during the first week. However, by the second week the Government should have begun the introduction of legislation, and we will then all know what new laws, fees, licences, rights and responsibilities lie ahead of us. And when the budget is brought down after the new year, we will then all know also what new or different taxes, if any, will face us here in Ontario.

To The Electors:

I have been a life-long resident of Williamsburg, except for my R.C.A.F. service.

Married in 1945 to the former Joyce Towsley of Iroquois, and father of three children: Stephen, who is affiliated with me in my I.G.A. store, Paul, a student at Waterloo Lutheran University, and Deborah, a student at Seaway District High School.

Member of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, at present on the church council.

I have been a trustee of South Dundas District High School for ten years, of Which I am now the vice chairman.

HAVING QUALIFIED AS A CANDIDATE ON THE NEW BOARD OF EDUCAION OF THE UNITED COUNTIES TO REPRESENT THE CONSTITUENTS OF MORRISBURG, WILLIAMSBURG TOWNSHIP AND VILLAGE, FINCH TOWNSHIP AND VILLAGE, I SOLICIT YOUR SUPPORT AT THE POLLS ON DECEMBER 2, 1968.

11-1

To the Electors of the Township of Winchester, Village of Winchester, Village of Chesterville:

As a qualified candidate in this ward for the new Area School Board, I solicit your support at the polls on Monday, December 2.

My previous experience on several school boards in the area along with forty years banking experience should enable me to be of some benefit to the new board, and it is my belief that I could effectively serve this area as a member of the board.

Your support at the polls will be greatly appreciated.

Jack Hatcher

TO THE ELECTORS OF FINCH TOWNSHIP:

Having served this Municipality as Reeve for a number of years, I am once again appealing to you for your support for another term.

I believe I have served you well in the past, both in Municipal affairs and in County affairs, and if re-elected I will continue to serve you to the best of my ability.

It is impossible for me to call on everyone personally, therefore if you feel my experience and service would be of benefit to our township in these changing times, leading up to Regional Government, YOUR SUPPORT ON MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, WOULD BE GREATLY APPRECIATED.

Public School Supporters of Morrisburg, Williamsburg, Finch Village, Finch Township:

In the next few days the public school supporters of our area will choose a representative to sit on the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education. This new board takes office January 1st, 1969, and will decide the educational future of this large area as it affects the elementary public schools and secondary schools in the three United Counties and the City of Cornwall. There will be 16 men on this board to take over from the present 27 school boards, nine of whom will be public school supporters and seven separate school representatives to act on secondary education matters only.

With representation being so confined it is imperative that the ratepayers take a keen interest in the December 2nd election and choose a representative with dedication to the best principles of education as well as to the dollars that the ratepayers provide to implement the educational advantages to be offered.

Having served 11 years on the South Dundas District High School Board, and its chairman for 10 years, I have let my name stand for election on December 2nd. At no time in the history of our education system has there been a more pressing need for the taxpayer to take an interest in his representative than at present. And the need for men and women of experience is evidnt when one looks at the massiveness of the area to be served by the new board, with its inherent problems.

Having served for several months on the Interim Committee to bring forth recommendations and proposals for the new board I have come to realize more fully the necessity for strong representation on behalf of our ratepayers, school teachers and students.

We must have the best educational system we can provide for the young people of our area if they are to be able to compete in the future with the standards of other areas. We do have good schools in our area and we must keep improving them in the future as we have in the past. And while education must be foremost in our minds, we must also realize that none of these advantages can be promoted and implemented without adequate funds. Nor must we fail to realize where the money comes from and how diligently we must strive to keep education costs from overburdening our already strained wallets. With children of my own in school I fully realize the true costs of education and its value.

As I have served faithfully in the past, I would promise to serve as earnestly and compassionately in the future, keeping in mind at all times the needs of both students and the parents who support our educational system.

* Successful automobile dealer in Cornwall for ten years.
* President of the Recreational Committee of the Blessed Sacrament Parish.
* Members of the Bishop's Committee on Catechetics for Secondary Schools.

FOR GOOD SOUND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE ON YOUR UNITED COUNTIES BOARD OF EDUCATION

To the Electors of the Township of Finch, Township of Williamsburg, Village of Finch and Village of Morrisburg:

I have been nominated as your candidate on the Board of Education for the Three United Counties and the City of Cornwall. I have eight years experience on Finch Township School Area Board, six of those years as member and the last two years as chairman. With this experience I believe I could be of value to the Board as a whole.

I believe we can have a modern school system without burdening the taxpaper with undue taxation. I am a farmer and also employed by T.C.F. of Canada Ltd., Cornwall, so you can see I know what the tax dollar is and I want the most for that dollar.

Your child's school progress and future are at stake, so as a ratepayer

O.P.P. REPORT

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County last week patrolled 14,416 miles in 1,095 working hours.

During this time, there were 53 charges laid under the Highway Traffic Act, along with 87 warnings being issued. Officers investigated eight infractions of the Liquor Control Act of Ontario which resulted in 11 persons being charged. One person was arrested and charged with driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol. There were also three thefts and one disturbance investigated by the Ontario Provincial Police, along with 17 miscellaneous complaints. Officers also investigated five property damage accidents on our area highways.

Magistrate's Court was very active during the past week, with officers spending a total of 22 hours in Court and registering 126 convictions.

Highway Traffic Act — with the coming of the winter season and the hazards that accompany it, now would be a good time for our drivers to review the following section.

Section 78 (1) of the Highway Traffic Act states: "The driver or operator of a motor vehicle shall not follow another vehicle more closely than is reasonable and prudent having due regard for the speed of such vehicle and the traffic on and the conditions of the highway."

Safe Driving Week — is being observed again this year across Canada from December 1 to 7. Each year Safe-Driving Week has shown a marked reduction in traffic fatalities. With this in mind all safety organizations and interested community groups ask your support to help keep our area highways accident free, not only during Safe-Driving Week but every week of the year. If the spirit of this continued all year long, it would save hundreds of Canadian lives.

PROMINENT MEN OUTLIVE AVERAGE MAN

Men who became prominent in their careers tend to outlive the average man, a statistical study suggests.

"Men of letters" rank lowest on this same totem pole, but still ahead of the average.

In this sub-grouping, correspondents and editors seem to be outlived by their leaders by a large margin.

The longevity study was described to the American Public Health Association by Jules V. Quint and Bianca R. Cody, statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., New York.

Using the 1950-51 edition of Who's Who in America they selected a sample of 6,329 distinguished professional and business men.

They checked how many had died and when during the next 12 years, and compared this with death rates among white men in the general population who had been of the same ages back in 1950.

Over-all, they said, the mortality rate of Who's Who men who were over age 45 in 1950 was 30 per cent less than that of the general population.

The greatest difference was found between ages 50 and 59.

"This contradicts the belief in some quarters that the mercilessness with which men drive themselves during their 40's to outstanding positions in their careers is reflected in broken health when they are in their 50's," they said.

Average mortality of men of letters was 10 per cent under the general population, but 30 per cent higher than the entire professional sample.

Men of letters included authors, writers, critics, historians, journalists.

The death rate for correspondents and journalists alone, was more than 30 per cent above the general population, and double the rate in the sample.

IN MEMORIAM

HEAGLE — In fond and loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs J. Heagle, who passed away on November 28, 1959.
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought her death so near;
But only those who love can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
Sadly missed by Daughter, Son-in-law and granddaughter Eunice.

IN MEMORIAM

HEAGLE — In loving memory of a dear wife, Abbie Heagle, who passed away November 28, 1959.
You bade no one your last farewell,
You said good-bye to none;
A light is from our household gone,
A voice I loved is stilled.
I often sit and think of you,
The things we used to say;
I wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say good-bye.
Each time I see your picture
You seem to smile and say
"I'll meet you again someday."

Miss Beverley Patrick

The funeral of Miss Beverley Joan Patrick will take place Saturday in Cornwall at Trinity Anglican Church. Interment will follow in Maple Grove Cemetery.

Miss Patrick was the daughter of CNIB secretary for this area George Patrick and Mrs Patrick. She grew up in the area, attended public and high schools in Cornwall and Teachers' College in Ottawa. She taught English to Eskimo children for the past two years at Eskimo Point in the North.

Death occurred as a result of a motorbus-automobile accident. Miss Patrick was vacationing in Europe and was involved in the crash in West Berlin. She was injured September 23. Despite valiant efforts by the Auguste Viktoria Hospital staff there she passed away Nov. 3.

The young teacher was deeply involved in the life of the Eskimo. The incidence of TB in the population caused her much concern; the sorrowing family would appreciate a donation to the St. Lawrence Sanatorium instead of flowers, if that is contemplated.

Beverley Joan Patrick is survived by her parents and one brother, Christopher, Richmond.

UFO IN BRAZIL?

A luminous, orange-coloured "unidentified flying object" was observed for 15 minutes at low altitudes the other night over the town of Guarulhos, Brazil.

Cumbica air force base said the unidentified object was picked up on its radar, then suddenly disappeared.

Mainly About People

The Reverend E. Earle Eaton, H. G. Bigelow, George Crawford and Murray Rae attended the meeting of Brockville Presbytery at Westport last Wednesday. Mr Eaton conducted devotions, and gave the report for the Christian Education Committee, of which he is convenor.

George Crawford, the Reverend E. Earle Eaton and Douglas Hunter of Morewood, attended the meeting of Presbyterian Men at Winchester. Mr Hunter chaired the meeting and Mr Crawford conducted devotions and led in the singing.

ANCIENT FOSSIL FOUND

A geologist says he has discovered the oldest signs of life ever found — 3,500,000,000-year-old fossil remains of living organisms.

Dr Albert E. J. Engel of the Scripps Institute of Oceanography reported in a recent interview that the tiny fossils were found in eons-old rock formations in the Transvaal of South Africa. He said the largest fossil is 39 millionths of an inch in diameter.

Engel soid oldest previous proven signs of life date back 2,900,000,000 years and also were found in South Africa.

Engel has spent 30 years searching the earth's oldest rock formations from Canada to the middle of the South Pacific Ocean to Africa. He said:

The fossils are visible only through use of a special microscope that magnifies 50,000 times.

11-1

TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOL ELECTORS
In the Villages of Chesterville, Winchester and the Township of Winchester:

For the past twenty-five years I have served, to the best of my abilities, the interests of the pupils, teachers and ratepayers with several school boards. Now in a larger area of administration I would appreciate your support that I might continue this work. I do promise my sincere service in the important field of education.

At the election to be held Monday, December 2, your vote of confidence in me will be appreciated.

W. LORNE THOMPSON.
11-2

to the electors of the
• TOWNSHIP OF WINCHESTER
• VILLAGE OF CHESTERVILLE
• VILLAGE OF WINCHESTER

Do you realize that the school board is the largest spender of your tax money? The projected budget is approximately $12,000,000.

Do you realize that the school board will spend approximately 50% of your tax dollar?

Do you realize that decisions of the school board will affect your child's entire school life, from Kindergarten to Grade 13?

Do you realize that it is quite possible that decisions made by the school board could affect your child's entire life?

Do you realize that to get the most for your tax dollar that is spent on schools, and to obtain the right decision affecting your child's future, it is important that you get the right man on your school board?

Do you realize that being a member of this board will be a full time job and members should be able to devote all their time to it?

Even though there is no election for council in your community, is not your child's future important enough for you to take a few minutes and cast a vote for a man with experience in handling tax money in such a manner as to get full value for it; a man used to making important decisions after weighing all the facts; a man whose time is his own.

ANN LANDERS

It's that time of the year and once again I am going nuts with Christmas shopping. Every year I promise myself "This is the last time . . ." But here I am, doing the same stupid thing. Please, Ann, tell me how to get out of this miserable rat race.

George and I both come from large families. We have four children and they each have three children — that's 20 gifts right there (including husbands and wives). My mother is still living and so is George's. That makes 22. I always get George a gift and he gets me one. That's 24.

I see no way to cut that list, and I don't want to. It's the other 40 people I'd like to skip. I am not exaggerating, Ann — last year we sent 64 gifts. Somehow we've become involved with sisters, brothers, aunts, uncles, cousins and even second cousins. I can't recall if they started it or if we did, but it's been going on for years and I am worn out, not to mention broke.

If you can come up with a solution, you're a genius. — Financially Embarrassed.

Dear Embarrassed: There is a solution, but it's not for the timid of the faint of heart.

Starting with that 25th name, drop a line or make a phone call to each and every person on your old list. Ask them not to send you a gift this year. Explain that you are cutting back on gift giving and you hope they will do the same.

Some will send a gift regardless. Your response will determine the success or failure of the entire plan. If you rush out and buy them a gift in return you are hooked for the next year. It may take three years to get your list down to where you want it, but eventually you'll succeed if you have courage and fortitude.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: I am an unmarired mother who is returning to her job in three weeks. Here is my problem.

The married women in this rather small office have framed photographs of their children on their desks. I intend to put a picture of my daughter on my desk, also. Judy is a beautiful baby and I am proud of her. I do not plan to hide her from the world.

What shall I say when asked 'Whose child is that?" — A Newark Secretary Who Needs an Answer.

Dear Newark: The answer is, of course, "She is my daughter." And I trust you are prepared for the next question, since it's a "rather small office," and your co-workers surely know you are not married.

There's an old Hebrew saying that loses a lot in the translation but it goes something like this: "The cat who intentionally places her tail under a rocking chair should not be surrpised when somebody rocks on it."

Ann Landers' new book, "Truth is Stranger," is available at your bookstore. Price: $4.95.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HOMEMADE DESSERTS ARE BEST

I LIKE TO MAKE MOST DESSERTS from scratch myself. I don't mean to say, though, that instant and frozen foods haven't their place. They are invaluable when you are pressed for time or unexpected company arrives. But those you make yourself are certainly cheaper and have a superior flavour.

Spanish Cream with Caramel Sauce

1 tbsp. unflavoured gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1¾ cups milk
2 eggs
¼ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla

Soften gelatine in cold water. Mix yolks of eggs and sugar; add hot milk. Cook until thickened over hot water. Pour over softened gelatine. Cool. When partially set beat mixture until foamy; beat stiffly beaten egg whites into custard mixture. Pour into moistened molds and serve with caramel sauce.

To make caramel sauce melt sugar in a heavy frying pan and slowly add in equal amount of boiling water. Boil until the consistency of syrup. Cool.

Indian Pudding with Vanilla Ice Cream

2 cups milk
1/3 cup molasses
3 tbsps. sugar
¼ cup yellow cornmeal
¼ tsp. cinnamon
⅛ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. salt
2 tbsps. butter

Heat milk and add molasses, sugar, salt, cornmeal, spice and butter. Cook over hot water until mixture thickens. Pour into a baking dish. Place in a 250 to 300 degree oven and bake for three hours without stirring. Serve hot topped with vanilla ice cream.

Plan to make this pudding when you are using the oven for a roast.

Pineapple Pie

2 cups shredded pineapple
2 tbsps. cornstarch
½ tsp. salt
½ cup sugar
Juice of ½ lemon
2 eggs

Mix cornstarch, salt and sugar together and stir into the pineapple. Stir and cook ten minutes. Add lemon juice and beaten yolks slowly. Cover and let cook five minutes. When cool, turn into a baked pie shell and top with meringue made from egg whites. Brown in slow oven.

Jelly Roll

Homemade ones are much the best.

2 eggs
½ cup flour
½ cup sugar
3 tsps. baking powder
Salt

Beat egg yolks until smooth and lemon coloured; add sugar; blend thoroughly. Add sugar mixture to whites which have been beaten stiff, cutting and folding until blended. Fold in flour. Spread in a thin layer on a rectangular greased pan. Bake in a moderate oven till cake leaves sides of pan. Turn out on a damp cloth sprinkled with powdered sugar. uickly trim off edges. Spread with your favourite jelly and roll. Store in damp cloth for a few hours. Serve in slices with whipped cream for dessert.

HARDWARE DISEASE

After an evening out together, Colin Thoroughgood went for an x-ray and Janet Archer, Bexley Heath, Eng., announced she was having her ears pierced. The x-rays showed Colin had swallowed one of her new earrings.

Wifie and the Freezer

By Dave Mackie,
R.R. 2, Edwards, Ontario

The cook said to her good man one day
We've got to get a freezer
To package all those beans and corn
To me would be a pleasure.

We could freeze a side of beef
And cut and wrap some lamb;
Said she, I'd package up some pork,
We'd just help out the ham.

Well Hubby thought it over,
And of course he weakened down,
So they hit to the city
And bought the biggest one in town.

Said she we'll freeze the garden crop,
The butter, bread and pies;
We're just as well to fill it up
As it's an awful size.

Well, Hubby lived on ham that week,
As it had not gone in,
But he had caught on to late—
It was frozen foods for him!

The very next day he rushed in for lunch,
He could eat anything Wifie had chosen;
Said she with a smile you'll have to wait for a while.
'Cause everything here is frozen.

Well he was that busy he couldn't hang 'round,
This waiting he could not see,
So he waited awhile, till the water was hot
And had a good cup of tea.

He went back to work, full of nourishing tea,
The calories he had consumed were imenmse;
That afternoon in his leisure, he thought of that freezer
And figured his savings in dollars and cents.

That evening when he came in from work
He could hear the wife chipping away,
Trying no doubt to get some meat out
So it would be thawed the next day.

The toaster was on to thaw out the bread,
The counter was piled with frozen delight;
After awhile he said with a smile
Are you married to Frosty tonight?

Poor Hubby got gaunt on waiting for food
And said let's go modern dear;
If this keeps up I'll never hang out,
I'll be dead within a year.

This put Wifie on the spot and made her really think,
She could plainly see it now, Hubby sure would shrink;
Said she, out goes the freezer — it I cannot scold—
I'd better look after Hubby, he isn't all that cold.

ARTERIAL GRAFTS TERMED "GREATEST LIFE SAVER"

Arterial grafts continue to be the most successful and greatest life saver in Canadian heart surgery, a leading surgeon said the other day.

Dr W. G. Bigelow of Toronto was interviewed at the Canadian cardiovascular annual meeting where he delivered the keynote address in honour of Dr John Keith of Toronto, another distinguished heart surgeon.

He said the mortality rate last year at Toronto Geneal Hospital, where upwards of 100 internal artery operations were performed, was 3.7 per cent.

The operation is a procedure which involves moving an artery from the chest wall into the heart.

It was first performed by Dr Arthur Vineberg of Montreal.

In a speech to the convention, he stressed the importance of performing the operation before the heart muscle is badly damaged.

He referred to the first "Vineberg operation" patient who couldn't put on his coat without suffering heart pains. He lived 14 years after the operation and died at age 73.

While heart transplants have provided new scope, Dr Bigelow said, there are many limitations to the field.

The number of acceptable donors is restricted; mechanical hearts that would have to pump five quarts of blood a minute would require a motor whose heat would destroy tissue; use of animal organs is only a possibility; and long-term banks, though a probability, are a long way off.

He said the artery operation doesn't require a heart-lung pump, and thus can be performed by all major hospitals.

BIBLE TODAY—

most important pre-requisites for a peaceful, tolerant, self-reliant and co-operative society. 'Man shall not live by bread alone' is as true and valuable a statement today as when it was first uttered, and indeed it is true for all time . . . Those who labour to promote the propagation of the Christian teachings are playing a vital role in the development of a healthy nation."

Mr Kaunda concluded: "I hope that the majority of our citizens will take advantage of the facilities which the Bible Society has put at our disposal. These facilities will remain for a long time a valuable spiritual investment for this nation."

CHECK MILKING TIME FOR YOUR HERD

Good dairymen work sharp pencils in tracing costs and finding ways to reduce costs. The following reminder may give you an idea, if you operate a dairy farm: Time is money. One way you can make sure you are using your time, or your herdsman's time efficiently is to check the milking time for your herd. Here's how:

Multiply the number of units used by the number of minutes between preparing the first cow and removing the last unit from the last cow. Divide the total number of unit minutes by the number of cows milked. This gives the average minutes per unit per cow. This milking time includes (1) cow preparation; (2) the time spent moving units from cow to cow; (3) actual milking (4) removing unit from the cow; (5) moving cows in and out of milk parlour if used.

For example, if you are using three units to milk 30 cows and your total time from start to finish is 60 minutes, your average unit time is 6 minutes (3 × 60 — 30 = 6). Many good dairymen keep average unit time as low as 6 minutes per cow. One must realize if you are carrying milk some distance your time will be much longer. If your unit time is too high, one or more of the following factors may be responsible:

1. Operator using too many units.
2. Doing other chores during milking.
3. Insufficient preparation of cows for milk let-down befor machines are attached.
4. Machine left on cows after milk flow ceases. This may cause udder trouble.
5. Machine problems such as worn-out pump, worn-out, flabby inflations or liners, plugged vacuum line, leaky stall cocks, inoperative vacuum controller, and sticky or leaky pulsators. ***
