Legion was hoppin'!

Easter arrived early for local kids at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 108 in Winchester on Sun., April 10. Cookie decorating (and consumption) was but one of the many fun activities open to all except the fuzzy Easter Bunny himself, who proved unable to sample the sugary creations — despite the efforts of Nate and Megan Thompson. by Matthew Uhrig

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — There is one week until the Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry (SD&SG) federal all-candidates debate in the Township of North Dundas.

The event will take place next Wednesday (April 20) at the South Mountain Agricultural Hall. As of press time, each candidate — Conservative MP Guy Lauzon, Liberal nominee Bernadette Clement, the NDP's Mario Leclerc, and Green Party representative Wyatt Walsh — is slated to be in attendance.

Hitting the (local) streets

Leclerc, successor to former candidate Darlene Jalbert, was in Winchester on Thurs., April 7.

"Since I started going door-to-door, which is the grassroots [stuff] we have to do, the number-one issues I'm hearing are lack of jobs and improvements to health care," he said when speaking with the Winchester Press during the campaign stop.

From a medical perspective, Leclerc said there are problems with the local healthcare system, noting that patients are waiting anywhere from six to 12 hours to be admitted at the Cornwall Community Hospital. (He made no mention of Winchester District Memorial Hospital.)

Thank a volunteer this week

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — It's National Volunteer Week, and all over Canada, organizations, businesses, and citizens alike are saying "thank you" to the estimated 12.5 million citizens who give freely of their time.

The week runs from Sun., April 10 to Sat., April 16.

Locally, the Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) is one of the organizations thanking the many helpers. The WDMH Volunteer Tea will be held on Thurs., April 14 at the Lions Hall in Winchester.

"We can't thank our volunteers enough," said Trudy Reid, hospital CEO, in her prepared media remarks. "They greet patients and visitors at the front door and can be found throughout the hospital lending a helping hand and providing a comforting smile. They also raise much needed funds to support patient care."

National Volunteer Week started in 1943 to draw attention to women's significant contributions on the home front during the Second World War.

Glengarry mayor wins SD&SG nomination

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

AVONMORE — Jim McDonell now has to prepare for another October election.

Last fall, he was re-elected as mayor for the Township of South Glengarry. This time, he'll be on the ballot as Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry (SD&SG)'s Progressive Conservative (PC) candidate in the Thurs., Oct. 6 provincial election.

The decision was made on Sat., April 9 during the SD&SG Ontario PC Riding Association's nomination meeting at Tagwi Secondary School east of Avonmore.

McDonell's opponent in the nomination race was Winchester resident David Guy.

"It was a hard-fought battle. Dave fought a great battle, and we kept it to the issues; there was nothing personal," McDonell said following his victory on Saturday.

Prior to the official vote, both men had a chance to address the crowd of more than 1,000 people. (The association did not release vote totals.)

Candidates getting their messages out

"When people have surgeries cancelled, there is something wrong, and there is something to be fixed," he said.

As his Liberal counterpart Clement did during her Winchester stop on Sat., April 2, Leclerc said a hurdle has been getting past the perceived notion that the region is strongly conservative.

Leclerc told the Press residents have been open, listening first to what he has to say, before making a judgement.

"We just promote our platform, and what I mean by that is, we have the perfect platform for our riding," he said. "We have addressed the issues of poverty, and expanding employment insurance and the CPP [Canada Pension Plan]."

Lookin' north

In the neighbouring riding of Nepean-Carleton, each candidate is slated to be broadcast during a debate on Wed., April 13.

Conservative MP Pierre Poilievre, first-time Liberal candidate Ryan Keon, the NDP's Ric Dagenais, and Green Party representative Jean-Luc Cooke are scheduled to take part in the Rogers Television event set to air at 7 pm. The debate's moderator is Ottawa Citizen columnist Mark Sutcliffe.

The 2011 federal election is slated for Mon., May 2.

McDonell: We can win this riding in October

By a random draw, Guy was selected to speak first.

"A big blue wave will sweep across Ontario... A wave that will start right here in SD&SG," he said, later adding: "I've been dreaming about this day for a long time."

At various points in his 15-minute address, Guy went straight for the throats of the ruling Liberals and Premier Dalton McGuinty.

"The damage is great, and all of us have paid the price," he said. "Change [in this province] is desperately needed."

The Winchester resident continued, saying McGuinty has "allowed us to be ripped off," using the Ontario eco fees program's mismanagement and the e-Health boondoggle as examples.

"The only quantifiable benefit was in the pockets of consultants," he said.

McDonell was up next, using his speech to touch on his career as a municipal politician, saying his 16 total years in South Glengarry give him the background and experience to make positive choices as the provincial riding representative.

"With your help, we can win this riding in October," he said, drawing several rounds of applause.

Other notable speakers during the April 9 meeting included Leeds-Grenville MPP Steve Clark, who said his riding needed a "new PC neighbour," and MP Guy Lauzon, taking a break from his federal campaign to support the provincial party members.

Other hopefuls

The SD&SG provincial Liberal riding association has three contenders hoping to garner the nominee position. Retired St. Lawrence College employee Pat Finucan, former City of Cornwall Councillor Mark MacDonald, and one-time federal Liberal candidate Denis Sabourin are the three names on the ballot. A date has not yet been set for a nomination meeting.

Meanwhile, both the NDP and Green Party have no candidates at this time.

Greely pirate radio operator convicted

GREELY — A local teen was convicted Thurs., April 7 for running a pirate radio station, as well as threatening to kill two Ottawa-based radio DJs and an Industry Canada employee.

The youth, who cannot be named under the Youth Criminal Justice Act, was found guilty of criminally harassing Industry Canada employee Mylene Quesnel, as well Hot 88.9's Ryan Lindsay and Bob FM host John Mielke. For airing his illegal radio feed, the teen was convicted under the Radiocommunication Act.

According to police, the accused — who was 14 at the time — wished death upon Quesnel when the government organization raided the station's operating site in order to cease the transmission. The threats to Lindsay were done over the phone, while the teen said in a video posted online that he would shoot Mielke.

The pirate radio station broadcasted for three weeks out of a room in a motel in Greely's north end. The business is owned by the youth's father.

The teen is scheduled to be sentenced on Fri., June 24.

Volunteers: 7% do 78% of volunteering

It wasn't until 1960, however, that the week's focus widened to include all volunteers, ranging from sports to international development, environmental protection, firefighting — and, of course, community newspapers.

The week comes at a time when the landscape of Canada's wide-ranging volunteer community is shifting. According to a December 2010 study commissioned by Volunteer Canada and Manulife Financial, about seven per cent of Canadians fall into the category of "über volunteers" — those who contribute about 78 per cent of volunteer time throughout the nation.

Among other findings, the study revealed that it was the type of commitment — not the hours itself — that often prevented potential contributors from helping out.

"The primary gaps include the fact that many Canadians are looking for group or short-term activities, but few organizations have the capacity to offer them or prefer a longer-term commitment," said Ruth MacKenzie, president & CEO of Volunteer Canada.

Protest or vandalism?

Students conflicted over spray-painting incident

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

MAPLE RIDGE — A spray-painting incident at North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) on Fri., April 8 has elicited mixed reactions from students, while re-igniting concerns over arts programming.

A 17-year-old pupil — who told the Winchester Press she was in the art room during her spare time — used silver spray paint and red acryllic paint to write messages across the walls and door when the teacher was absent.

She declined a phone interview with the Press but agreed to communicate via email and Facebook chats.

"I wrote on the door 'This isn't the end of the road' and on the wall I wrote 'No matter how far you push us away we will live,'" she said.

The teen — who the Press has decided not to name — said she also wrote a message akin to "You can't take the art out of the art room" on the walls Thursday. However, nobody noticed, she said — mostly because the walls are already plastered with comments, slogans, and inspirational messages, a long-held tradition carried on by graduating NDDHS art students for decades.

She said she was proud and scared after getting caught by the principal — who happened to stop by the room — but added that she didn't get into any trouble beyond a rebuke.

Her words have since been painted over, she noted. Other students have confirmed with the Press that youth who took photos of the gaffiti were asked to delete them.

"I did directly tell the vice-principal and the principal I would clean up my mess and re-paint everything," she wrote. "They did not take me up on my offer."

Concerns about the future of the facility have been broiling within the student body for a while — largely due to changes as NDDHS prepares to convert into a Grade-7-through-Grade-12 facility next September.

The art room is being turned into a second fitness facility. Meanwhile, art students will be moved up the hall to another to-be-renovated classroom.

The teen in question disagreed that her spray-painted slogans were an act of protest. Instead, her messages intended to "give hope to other art students who would have to go through this massive change next year."

She agreed that many NDDHS pupils feel left in the dark about the future of artistic programming: "The school is definitely not adequately communicating to students about changes in the school," she said.

Art room 'dungeon': principal

Principal Geoff Trasuk said the youth's spray-painting definitely qualified as vandalism. Plus, students are not supposed to write on the art walls anymore, he said.

He added that the space in the current art facility isn't being used adequately, and visual art students are getting an improved studio with natural light — rather than a "dungeon" that's actually a converted technology facility. A wall will be knocked down in the new classroom to expand it and create a larger studio.

Plus, the new fitness facility can be used for dance programming, Trasuk pointed out.

"We have to adapt," Trasuk said, adding, "Some students are supportive of the move."

He said that his door is always open if students have concerns. Pupils at both NDDHS and area feeder schools participated in the transition teams to have representation as NDDHS expands to incorporate two more grades.

Prior to the spray-painting incident, Trasuk said, he already planned to visit invididual classrooms to discuss changes.

Graffiti not the answer: students

Michelle Neil — an art student who also serves as the Press' NDDHS columnist — said she wasn't happy when she heard about the graffiti.

"I was really angry when I heard about the spray painting," said Neil.

However, there's room for improvement in communication with NDDHS administration, she said: "I think there should be a Q and A meeting of the heads of the school with interested students so they can fully understand what is going to happen with their school and give feedback."

James Sell, student prime minister, agreed, but said kids aren't being ignored.

"For those students who feel uninformed on the decisions made in the school and would like to know more, they can freely ask admin any questions or their parents could attend Parent Council meetings," he said, later adding: "I currently feel Upper Canada District School Board high school students lack proper representation among not only their school's administration, but the school board itself."

To Canadian Volunteers Everywhere, Thank You!

Canadians have a rich history of volunteering and community involvement. With 12.5 million of them dedicating their time across Canada, volunteers are on the front lines of all our community services – community health care, sports and recreation, heritage and arts, environmental protection and advocacy, disaster relief, international development, and volunteer firefighting – the list is endless. The work of volunteers is essential to maintaining resilient communities at home and around the world.

National Volunteer Week (NVW) pays tribute to the millions of Canadian volunteers who graciously donate their time and energy. This year's 68th annual NVW takes place the week of April 10 to 16. It is Canada's largest celebration of volunteers, volunteerism, and civic participation.

National Volunteer Week was first proclaimed in 1943 as an initiative to draw the public's attention to the vital contribution of women to the war effort on the home front. In the late 1960s, the focus was revived and broadened to include all community volunteers.

Volunteers: Passion. Action. Impact is the theme of this year's campaign. It is based on the individual volunteer super-heroes across Canada who dedicate themselves to making their communities better – and Canada a great place to live.

New guidelines regulate funding policy

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — Clarifications have been made to the way the Township of South Dundas will hand out funding in the future.

The decision came at the most recent council meeting on Tues., April 5 when CAO Stephen McDonald introduced a new set of guidelines for the handling of "dollar-for-dollar" funding applications.

Introduced in 2006, the program stated that selected projects would receive 50 per cent funding from the municipality up to a certain monetary figure.

"If we make these guidelines, we're going to stick with them."

— Mayor Steven Byvelds

Since that time, no changes have been made to the regulations, while, according to McDonald, some recipients have tried to use portions of their funding elsewhere, despite the stipulation that the money is to be used for only the applicable projects.

"It's about time we make some changes," he said.

The revisions came on the same evening the Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club requested $8,500 under the program. The group wants to erect a bandshell at Iroquois Point — property owned by the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority. Councillors voted to deny the request because the new guidelines state all projects must be on South Dundas property in order to be considered. (Despite the rejection, the project will still go ahead, with an anticipated June opening date.)

Other changes to the township's funding program note that projects receiving cash from the provincial or federal governments are not eligible for municipal help, while proposals should include a business case detailing how it will fit into existing or future township plans. As well, the maximum contribution will be capped at $25,000.

"If we make these guidelines, we're going to stick with them," said Mayor Steven Byvelds.

Council notes from South Dundas

Course's lease on the record

WILLIAMSBURG — The stalemate between the Township of South Dundas and taxpayers regarding the Iroquois Golf Course may finally be over.

At the municipality's most recent council meeting on Tues., April 5, councillors voted to accept an official lease agreement between the municipality and Stan Brigham, representative with Seaway Golf. (The adoption wasn't without controversy, however, as Councillor Evonne Delegarde asked that the vote be recorded. She was subsequently defeated by a four-to-one count, as her fellow politicians were ready to get this project on the move.)

"We may have taken the road that was a little bit quick," said Mayor Steven Byvelds. "But this was an opportunity for the municipality. We still have a contract [with Brigham], and [the process] will be open and transparent."

Operation of the course has caused friction between South Dundas and its residents since the township became sole owner in 2009. In that time, more than $200,000 has been shelled out for golf course operations — profit which was not recouped due to low turnout during the season. Since then, homeowners had often criticized council, saying no more taxpayer funds should subsidize the venture, yet they wanted the course to remain operational.

Under the new agreement, Brigham will lease the course from South Dundas for $1 for two years, meaning any further costs are his to bear. As well, Brigham has been granted a right of first refusal, meaning he can choose to purchase the site outright when he has determined, to the township's satisfaction, that the land can be developed.

"We looked forward to becoming a part of the community and offering a memorable golf experience to all players," Brigham said in a prepared statement.

Discovering the waterfront

Two new committees — one in Morrisburg, another in Iroquois — will soon be formed to help develop a vision for the two villages' waterfront locations.

Councillors accepted CAO Stephen McDonald's advisory committee guidelines presented at the April 5 meeting.

"This is a follow-up to a January report before council," said McDonald. "The next step is to advertise, and accept five to seven members [to each committee]."

According to his report, the working groups will provide a forum for community input on the development of waterfront property, while ensuring the use and enjoyment of the property by people of all ages and abilities.

"The challenge with the waterfront is, we've had ad hoc development," said Byvelds. "Groups just came to us [with what they wanted], and we told them to do it."

This plan is a campaign commitment for the mayor, who, prior to being voted into the township's top position, said it should be up to the villages' residents to determine development along the waterfront, rather than having it forced on them by elected officials.

Sidewalk build

Council has agreed to allow the construction of a new sidewalk in Morrisburg, but no municipal funds will be spent.

The request came from the Catholic District School Board of Eastern Ontario (CDSBEO), on behalf of St. Mary's/St. Cecilia school, asking that a sidewalk be built on the south side of the facility, near the main entrance. The motivating factor is "safety issues," as there is much bus and other vehicle traffic in the area.

Initially, CDSBEO had asked South Dundas to bear the project's expense, but when informed it could not be done, board staff agreed to accept all costs to build and maintain the sidewalk year-round.

Detachment shuffle

Robert Hamilton, deputy-chief of the Morrisburg detachment of the South Dundas Fire and Emergency Services, has retired. His replacements have been officially instated.

Kevin Keyes takes over as deputy-chief, while his vacated assistant deputy-chief role will be filled by Marc St. Pierre.

Township needs vision of growth: Cox

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

IROQUOIS — As Bob Dylan sang in his 1964 hit, "the times they are a-changin'."

It's a prospect recognized by various business-related service groups in the Township of South Dundas, and chief reason for a public meeting held Wed., April 6 at the Royal Canadian Legion Iroquois Branch 370.

Brian Cox, president of the South Dundas Chamber of Commerce, the organization leading the preliminary research phase, said the roughly 50 people in attendance were tasked with developing answers to three different questions: "What we do have; what we can have; and what facilities we would like to see," he said.

When speaking with the Winchester Press in the days following the meeting, Cox said he was working to incoporate more than 100 items of feedback into one report.

"I'm very happy with the draw," he said. "There is a desire to move forward."

Cox said that once everything is compiled, another meeting will be scheduled in order to continue the process. At that time, South Dundas council may become involved, he added.

"Right now though, there's very little we do not have here. But a lot of people don't know what's happening," said Cox. "There is a greater need to promote our assets."

Youth to descend on Morrisburg for training

MORRISBURG — Thirty youth between the ages of 18 and 25, as well as 15 Aboriginal youth, will soon start training in Morrisburg to become heavy equipment apprentices due to $428,600 in funding from the Ministry of Training, Colleges, and Universities.

The Operating Engineers Training Institute of Ontario will deliver a pre-apprenticeship training program that will help people develop the skills they need to work in a skilled trade.

"The OETIO is a leader in training and an important contributor to the economic development of Morrisburg. I'm pleased that they're working with us to help people develop the skills needed to be an apprentice," said Jim Brownell, MPP for Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry, in his prepared media statement.

Election fraud case deferred

CORNWALL — Peter Byvelds' day in court has been postponed until Tues., April 19.

The Brinston resident was charged last month under the Municipal Elections Act following an investigation by the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry OPP.

Byvelds, who is the cousin of current Township of South Dundas Mayor Steven Byvelds, is alleged to have used more than one PIN code to cast a vote in the Mon., Oct. 25 municipal election.

Cartoon – Bradford-Lea

Say it, kids – don't spray it

Let's be absolutely clear: The Winchester Press is absolutely not condoning the graffiti spray-painting incident that took place at North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) last Fri., April 8.

It's unclear what the 17-year-old student was trying to achieve when she wrote on the art room walls and door while the teacher was not in the room.

She could have chosen a better way to deliver what, in her interview with the Press, she considers to be inspiring messages for the kids who are losing the old art room next year.

NDDHS is transitioning from a Grade-7-through-Grade-12 facility this September. It's not going to be easy, and the school certainly needs more gym space, which is what the old art room is being converted into.

In fact, principal Geoff Trasuk has told the Press that the new facility will be much nicer and brighter than the "dungeon" (excellent word choice!) that students have used as a studio for years.

Vandalism is wrong, but it's important for administrators to prioritize communicating with the students they serve.

The room in its present state is far from an ideal studio. Indeed, budding visual artists deserve better facilities than what they've got, even if it means painting over the years of accumulated messages and pictures drawn on the walls by students.

Kids must be communicated with properly as the true beneficiaries of any educational system, and provided with a policy mechanism to assert themselves through correct channels and take control over their educational experience.

That way, they won't need to feel the need to "spray it on the walls," as it were.

Youth can turn to the media as the ultimate mechanism to improve upon a real or perceived lack of accountability, but it shouldn't come to that — although letters to the editor are welcome from everyone, regardless of the writer's age, at this paper. (And it's also important to add that the young woman in question didn't contact us for an interview. We contacted her.)

It appears teens these days, like their parents and grandparents before them, don't know what's happening with their courses or classes, favourite programs or facilities. Administrators too often forget that school is all about kids.

Teens aren't technically "school board customers" as they don't yet pay property taxes, but they are the entire point of having an educational system. Their experience at the school should take top priority.

Without kids, there's no need for teachers, facilities, programs, trustees, curriculum design, school boards — or the entire Ministry of Education.

The principal has clearly stated he has an open-door policy and a few young people have served on transition teams to ensure youth have some representation. Yes, he plans to talk to the classes individually about changes at NDDHS.

But like any local institution — the township, the Winchester District Memorial Hospital, and local papers — NDDHS must be careful not to overestimate how well they're communicating with the people they actually serve.

Remember when...

1931

Many families that have lived long in one house have been known to discover forgotten treasures, the Press said this week. It was reported that Queen Mary had made several interesting discoveries of this kind throughout Buckingham Palace.

1941

This week's "Modern Etiquette" column considered whether it was permissable for an unmarried woman to take a man's arm when walking along the street. The rule was that it would be all right under certain conditions, such as the street being poorly lit. However, it was purely inappropriate for a young couple, both wearing jeans, to place a hand in each other's back pockets.

1951

Winchester resident Ron Alexander returned home this week after serving eight months at sea with the Royal Canadian Navy aboard HMCS Cayuga off the coast of Korea. The young man was on leave for 80 days, the Press reported.

1961

As a further convenience to customers, the Winchester Post Office installed an electrically operated stamp machine in the main lobby this week, the Press reported. The new machine would give the customers stamps in the four-cent and one-cent varieties at no extra charge.

1971

Flood waters that crested the banks of the South Nation River, flooding thousand of acres of farmland, were beginning to subside this week, the Press reported. At one point, County Road 31 south of Cass Bridge was closed for nearly a week due to flood waters making the roadway impassable.

1981

Startling facts came out in a random survey of 550 local students conducted by a drug awareness group this week, the Press reported. The survey showed that while 57 per cent of students aged 12 to 18 drank, an amazing 24 per cent of students under 12 were known to "raise their wrists" with a drink in hand. More than 75 per cent said they knew where to go if they wanted a drink.

1991

Plans for the Winchester Lions Club to host a large outdoor concert had Winchester council worried this week, the Press reported. The plan was to feature Blue Rodeo at a concert behind the Winchester Arena. While the prospect of attracting an estimated 5,000 to 10,000 people to the village was impressive, council was concerned whether the facility could manage a crowd of that size, this paper said.

2001

Plans were in motion this week for the Winchester Pathfinders, Girl Guides, Brownies, and Sparks to hit the streets of the village to help the Dundas County Food Bank, the Press reported. The service clubs were hoping to help keep the food bank's shelves stocked throughout the spring and summer months.

Area fields and roadways were flooded this week in 1971 when the South Nation River crested its banks at a number of points throughout the region.

The legend of Lim Say Chong lives on

From the Other Side
by Jeff Morris

April Fool's Day brought back some memories of old practical jokes and pranks.

One of our publications, the Barrhaven Independent, had a publication date of Fri., April 1.

We couldn't resist.

Our photographer, Mike Carroccetto, wanted to pull off a prank involving the Nepean Raiders Junior "A" hockey team. Thus was born the legend of TJ Napanga, a 17-year-old roller hockey player with a 140 mile per-hour slapshot from the Republic of Vunuatu in the South Pacific. Discovered by Mormon missionaries, the 7'1", 275-pound Napanga was to come to Barrhaven to spend the summer learning to skate on ice at the Walter Baker Arena.

Not only is the story an April Fool's prank, but if you take the first letter of each word in the subhead (A prospect reflects in living for Ottawa's only love), it actually spells April fool.

After telling my kids about the prank and having a good laugh with them, Jack, my oldest, brought back an old memory.

"Didn't you guys invent a hockey player or something like that at Carleton?"

Ah yes, I thought, as a smile tugged at the corners of my mouth. Lim Say Chong.

I was 19 years old and in my second year at Carleton University. I lived on Fourth Avenue in the Glebe with a house full of rugby players. They tended to spend a lot of their time — okay, all of their time — sitting around and pounding back Carlsbergs.

The discussion would always, somehow, get to sports. One of the guys wondered out loud why Carleton did not have a hockey team. Today, the Ravens have a very good team, but during the Reagan administration, Carleton was sans hockey.

Suddenly, memories of some of the old media pranks my father pulled and was so proud of flooded into my mind. And then, before I could work the filter to my mouth, it came out.

"Why don't we just make up a Carleton hockey team."

The rugby players, all of whom were named Chris, and Postal Pete, the other non-rugby player, just looked at me blankly.

"Sure," I said. "Let's just make up a Carleton team and make up games and send scores into the radio stations and the papers."

They looked at each other thinking that it was the stupidest yet most brilliant idea they had heard all year. We clinked bottles — I was drinking a can of Tab Cola — and we got to work.

We determined that Lim Say Chong, a Malaysian student who lived with us on Fifth Glen the previous year, would be our superstar. Carrie Tucker, a girl who hung out at our house a lot, would also be a star on the team. Carrie is a unisex name — no one would ever figure it out.

That afternoon, after combing through the Toronto Star stats pages looking for schools that did not play, we determined that Carleton would beat Trent in a non-varsity exhibition game. Lim Say Chong had three goals and Carrie Tucker had two in the 5-2 win. We then had our fictitious coach, Jim Johnson, call the media with the score.

The next morning, we got up early to listen to the sports reports on the radio and celebrated every time we heard the score.

The following week, wanting something a little more exciting, the team travelled to Westpoint and defeated Army 4-3.

Again, Jim Johnson called in the score, and the imaginary Ravens hockey team would again take flight on the airwaves.

As the season went on, the Ravens kept winning. We threw in a loss or two along the way just to keep it believable, as Michigan would beat us in overtime. We also had some problems along the way as our goalie had ringworm and we needed to raise money for new equipment.

Lim Say Chong, the 5'2" martial arts expert and architecture student who was still on Fifth Glen, was clipping the reports from the Sunday paper and sending them home to Malaysia.

We thought he was getting cocky with his celebrity status, so we had one of the guys call him and pretend to be a scout from the New York Islanders.

The next morning, we ran into Lim Say Chong, hunched over, windmilling his arms, and babystepping his way through his first time on skates on the canal.

"I got a call from the Islanders," he said in his heavy Asian accent. "They said they want to draft me. I better learn to skate, or I end up in %&^@#&# jail!"

The year culminated with the ultimate coup. We had it reported in the media that Carleton had defeated the Ottawa Gee Gees, who were one of the best teams in the country, in the hockey Panda Game. Our buddy Stu was the Zamboni driver at the rink on the Rockliffe base, so we got Stu in on it and when the media called to verify the story, he would give them a "You should have seen it. The place was packed. Carleton plays their games here because their coach, Jim Johnson, is in the military. But I've never seen anything like it!"

The next morning, Lim Say Chong was a household name in Ottawa. After Carrie Tucker scored the tying goal with only seconds left, Lim Say Chong blocked a slap shot in overtime and scored a shorthanded goal to give Carleton the win.

Ottawa U players, students, faculty, and alumni were all furious.

Nobody caught on that the season-ending game was played on April 1.

I wonder what ever happened to Lim Say Chong.

I wonder if today's players know how he was the Carleton hockey pioneer who put the Ravens on the map in 1984.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader submits federal election 'checklist'

The Editor:
It's said we have the governments we deserve. Do we deserve our current government in Ottawa? Should we re-elect it on Mon., May 2?

Here's a checklist of its record on key issues:

• Managing the economy: $56 billion deficit, largest in Canadian history

• Spending: $30 billion planned for stealth jet fighters (for what practical purpose?); billions on mega prisons, when crime rates are dropping; $1 billion on G20

• Human rights: Brutal police actions on innocent people at G20; treatment/neglect of Canadian citizens trapped overseas; treatment of Afghan detainees

• Democracy: First government in Canadian history to be found in contempt of Parliament; suppressing information through cancellation of long-form census; ejecting bona-fide students from Conservative rally, Mon., April 4, 2011

• International relations: Losing seat on UN Security Council; Canada no longer a respected peace-keeping nation

• Environment/climate change: Canada annual recipient of Dinosaur Award

• Education: Low priority

• Health care: Low priority

• Arts and culture: Low priority

• Poverty: Not a priority — corporate tax cuts, spending on jets and jails, while poverty and homelessness index rises in Canada, a leading developed nation

• Accountability and transparency: A bad joke, Stephen Harper's ultimate deceit

• Working with the civil service: Dismissal and/or character destruction of any public servant who puts Canada's interests ahead of Mr. Harper's.

• Nuclear safety: Dismissal of Linda Keen (then Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission president) for putting safety first, ahead of Prime Minister Stephen Harper's ideology

Do we deserve such a government, and should we re-elect it? I believe we deserve better, far better.

The Canada that welcomed my family in 1968 — the Canada of Expo 67 — was riding high in the world, radiating energy and hope. In contrast, Mr. Harper's Canada is inward looking, fearful, and sour, and losing respect in the world. Which of these Canadas do we deserve? It depends on how high we choose to set the bar.

I believe it is in the Canadian DNA to raise the bar way higher than Mr. Harper. And when we do, we will have the government in Canada that Canadians and the world truly deserve.

Easter weekend polls? No good

The Editor:
Why are the advance polls being held on Easter weekend? I'm sure they are aware that this is one of the holiest holidays of the Christian faith. One of the polls is to be held in one of our local churches on Good Friday.

"Who cares?" you might say. I, for one, do!

Volunteers: We couldn't do it without you

The Editor:
The week of Sun., April 10 to Sat., April 16 has been designated as National Volunteer Week, and I wish to publicly thank the many volunteers who assist at the Winchester and Morrisburg sites of the Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB).

The work that you do for the DCFB means that together, we can serve families and single persons in our community when they need emergency assistance. Whatever stresses, and there are plenty, that DCFB clients have in their daily lives, they can be sure that they will not be without food for themselves and their family. This is because of your commitment to others. Your dedication and volunteer service to the DCFB is both appreciated and necessary.

I read recently that volunteers in Canada contribute more than two billion hours of time in a year. Though this amounts to about seven per cent of our economy, we know that most of what volunteers do cannot be measured in financial terms — for volunteerism ensures the provision of many essential services that society could not otherwise afford. If you are 60 years or older, your age group contributes more hours than any other age grouping — an average of 245 hours per person per year.

As volunteers of the DCFB, you have contributed to the wellbeing of other families and individuals in your community. For all that you are and all that you do, we give you our thanks.

Poop politeness gone to the dogs

The Editor:
I've noticed a disturbing trend this year as the snow melts and spring is stepping up. Many areas of our community are being littered with dog poop. No matter where or when it occurs, there is no excuse for not scooping. Carrying around a bag of feces may seem undignified, but the alternative — being spotted by your neighbours leaving it on the sidewalk — is much more defining of your character.

• It is the law: It is unlawful not to pick up after your dog, and the violation is subject to a fine.

• Dog doodie is unsightly: We all deserve to live in a clean town where we can be proud and step lightly.

• It is common courtesy: Cleaning up after your dog shows respect for your neighbours and your community. It is plain old bad manners to leave your dog's mess for others to look at, step in, or clean up.

• Dog stool is unhealthy: Abandoned dog do-do can host diseases that can infect other dogs who come into contact with it, or be transmitted to people who accidentally step in it and track it home. Most at risk, of course, are children who play on the ground.

Care Close to Home
A Look Inside WDMH

Volunteers are an inspiration

Welcome to Care Close to Home, a column written by or featuring the people who are at the heart of Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH). This "inside view" is designed to help our communities get to know the WDMH team — in their own words. This month, we feature Alan Archer, WDMH's chief liaison officer for volunteer service.

Alan Archer
WDMH's chief liaison officer for volunteer service

I have the greatest job in the world. Every day when I come to work, I'm surrounded by people who are happy to be here. People who would do absolutely anything to make each visitor's day better. Their positive attitudes are contagious. Their smiles are infectious. You can't help but feel great when you work with the volunteers at Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH).

My job title is chief liaison officer for volunteer services. A newly created position at the hospital, my responsibilities range from planning volunteer services and new business development opportunities that contribute to the hospital's daily operations, human resources planning for recruitment, selection, training, and retention of volunteers, as well as a consultative role supporting the WDMH Auxiliary.

Our volunteers play a pivotal role as directors of first impressions at the hospital. They greet everyone with a smile and friendly voice, asking "how can we help you?" From that moment on, our visitors share a connection that makes them feel safer and more at ease, knowing a friendly face in a blue smock is there to help. Visitors tell me that this personal treatment is unique to WDMH. Clearly, the volunteers at WDMH all share a commitment to giving back to our community and our hospital.

I feel very fortunate to work with such incredibly charitable people. National Volunteer Week began on Sun., April 10 and continues to Sat., April 16. For those of you volunteering within the community in any capacity, please let me say thank you. You are an inspiration.

If you'd like to volunteer at WDMH, please contact me at 613-774-2420 extension 6323 or by email at volunteer@wdmh.on.ca.

Politeness gone to the dogs

• Dog poop biodegrades slowly: Some people think it's okay to leave dog dung because it will break down naturally. However, the composting process is very slow, and abandoned dog poop can accumulate faster than it breaks down. Leaving dog excrement encourages other dogs to mark that spot (by urinating over the previous dog's scent), so dog "fertilizer" is ineffective as a lawn aid.

• Dog bombs top the list of complaints against dogs more than dog aggression, nuisance barking, or unsupervised dogs: We want to love your dogs, but some of you are making that difficult.

So, call it what you will, dog droppings destroy the good reputation of responsible and irresponsible dog owners a like. Thank you.

Controversial when it was published in 1916, Susan Glaspell's Trifles *is a one-act murder mystery and feminist piece. North Dundas District High School is running a fundraiser this Saturday (April 16) at Winchester's Old Town Hall, starting at 7:30 pm, so the community can see the show before the cast and crew leave to compete at the second level of Sears Ontario Drama Festival in Oshawa. NDDHS Notes
by Michelle Neil

MAPLE RIDGE — A little news on something from the artsy side of North Dundas District High School (NDDHS)! There will be a fundraising soiree on Sat., April 16 at the Old Town Hall in Winchester planned to help support the actors of Trifles get to Oshawa.

You may remember a while back a story of NDDHS showing a play at Dramafest in Russell — well, that production won, and it is now going to the second-round regionals next week. To offer your congratulations and support for these talented young actors, tickets will be sold Saturday for $3 at the door and the show will begin at 7:30 pm.

The Dundas County Players will also be showing a scene from their upcoming production, Barefoot in the Park.

It is mid-way through April, and marks for mid-semester report cards are being calculated. To give a mental image of how close we are to finishing this year, we have only about three full months of school left out of 10.

Everyone is in the mood for summer, but until then, we have some very awesome things going on. Soccer has started, with teams being chosen, and players are trying their best to impress. Badminton is also beginning, and we have been quite successful in the past and are hoping for another great season.

Track and field athletes have been busy at work for a while now, practicing events like shot-put, hurdles, and pole vault.

Rugby players have been practicing for quite a while now; the girls have had their debut game already, while the boys' team is still waiting for theirs.

MORRISBURG — The Upper Canada Playhouse will be presenting the classic children's play Charlotte's Web for one performance only on Sat., April 16.

The theatre's first school touring production will be travelling to roughly 40 schools in the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry region, and beyond for the month of April.

Concert series begins Saturday

IROQUOIS — The 2011 line-up for the French Cafe on English Road's annual concert series has been unveiled.

Beginning this weekend and continuing until early August, the stage at the Iroquois-based business will be home to an eclectic group of artists.

Doug MacLeod, master of original acoustic blues, kick things off Sat., April 16 at 7 pm.

In June, two shows have been scheduled. On Sat., June 11, Antoine Dufour, Canadian fingerstyle guitar playing champion, is slated to take the stage, while singer-songwriter Melissa Greener is the expected entertainer on Sat., June 25. Showtime for all events is 7 pm.

The month of July will also see two different performances take the cafe's stage. Up first is singer-songwriter Gregory Hoskins on Sat., July 16, with Montreal-based Duo Beija-Flor scheduled for Sat., July 30.

Sat., Aug. 6's performance will see the concert series end the same way it began, with MacLeod expected to make a return visit at 7 pm.

The 54th Annual Eastern Ontario Master Breeder Classic Sale took place at Winchester's Hugh Fawcett Auction Sales on Sat., April 9. Beef day attracts producers, experts

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Dundas County Cattlemen's Association held their annual Beef Day on Sat., April 9 at the Winchester Community Centre. This year's event, like in the past, gave local cattle and beef producers a chance to come together and hear of news and advancements in their fields.

"It was the first meeting I've been to in years where everyone in the room participated in the discussions," Rose Stewart, Beef Day organizer, told the Winchester Press following the 2011 conference.

One of the major discussions at the April 9 event was a farm safety talk lead by Sheila James, consultant with Workplace Safety and Prevention Services, a division of Health and Safety Ontario.

James' talk focused strongly on how to better protect farmers, and mainly "how not to get killed when working with cattle."

"These animals have big instincts, and we can work well with them, as long as we understand their instincts," she said.

Another focus of James' address was trucking safety, and specifically, how to better load cattle into a trailer for a trip to a sale barn or elsewhere.

"Sometimes, when a farmer is heading out, they only put one animal by itself, and that animal becomes frightened," she said. "Taking a few at time lowers the danger risk."

Stewart said this portion of the event was beneficial to those in attendance.

Sheila James

"Everyone in the room had their own story about being injured by cattle," she said. "Everyone expressed their opinion on what a bull looks and acts like just before becoming mean so you can [remove cattle from the situation] before anyone is hurt. The whole group was very involved in the discussion."

Another speaker at the 2011 Beef Day was Sandra Vos, a member of the South Coast Calf Club, who has been instrumental in the creation of what she calls "special calf" sales in southern Ontario.

"It's quality calves for quality sales," she said.

The theory behind the method is that farmers are more likely to buy knowingly healthy calves, ones who have already received vitamin E shots, and have been weaned from the mother, among other things.

"Our goal is that the buyers will take chances," said Vos. "Often you just buy as is, but we encourage vaccinated calf sales."

Holstein sale draws crowds to Fawcett's

WINCHESTER — The arena at Hugh Fawcett Auction Sales was a hive of activity on Sat., April 9.

Taking place that day was the 54th annual Eastern Ontario Master Breeder Classic Sale. In total, 60 head of Holstein cattle, including fresh two-year-olds, show-age calves, and bred heifers, were auctioned off throughout the day.

Since the beginning, the sale has been sponsored by the 10 Eastern Ontario Holstein Clubs, raising funds for the various activities undertaken by the individual groups.

A fundraising total from the Holstein sale was not available by press time.

Last Saturday's sale followed the 50th anniversary sale for the Grenville-Dundas-Stormont Ayrshire Club. The event took place late last month, also at Hugh Fawcett Auctions.

Valdy headlines entertainment at 80th Chesterville Fair

CHESTERVILLE — It has been the place where town and country have met for 79 years, and directors are busy setting the stage for the 80th anniversary edition of the Chesterville Fair from Fri., July 22 to Sun., July 24.

Double Juno Award-winning folk singer Valdy, an Ottawa native who now makes his home on Salt Spring Island, B.C., will be among the headlining acts at this year's fair, taking the stage on the afternoon of July 24.

Valdy has sold more than half a million records and CDs in his long and varied career. He has 14 albums, 22 singles, four gold records, and a host of television credits to add to his 36-year stage career.

Local favourites Landmark and Ambush plan to rock the entertainment tent Friday and Saturday. Ambush will play Friday night, and Landmark will take to the stage Saturday night following the demolition derby.

Fairgoers can also kick back with some kickboxing in the entertainment tent on Saturday afternoon.

Advance sales for ride bracelets will start in early July and will be priced at $20. Bracelets during the fair will cost $30.

There will be a ball tournament running throughout the fair, and Dr. Kaboom will be on the grounds with his kids' show on July 23 and 24.

The fair will hold a beef show at the livestock barn on July 24, and the exhibit hall will be jam-packed with homecraft, crops, and produce entries throughout the weekend. The homecraft book and entry forms are available online at www.chestervillefair.com for those wishing to enter the classes at this year's fair.

You can get a head start on the fair at the Chesterville Legion Fri., April 22 as the agricultural society hosts a Yuk-Yuk's comedy night featuring three stand-up comics, a DJ, and light lunch. Advance tickets are $18, at the door they're $20, and after 10 pm that night they're $5. For more information, contact Dan Gasser at dangasser1@gmail.com.

Good grub in Brinston

Ag businesses continue team approach to show appreciation

by Amanda Smith-Millar

BRINSTON — Parked vehicles lined the streets of the normally sleepy hamlet of Brinston on Wed., April 6 during an annual tradition for the farming community: Customer Appreciation Day.

Again in 2011, Brinston became one of the most happenin' places in Dundas County when four area agricultural businesses hosted a community barbecue.

Advance Grain Handling Systems, H&I Country Supply, Murphy's Sales and Service, and Plante Farm Equipment teamed up to say "thanks" to roughly 200 people from 10 am to 3 pm.

"There were just as many people, if not more, than last year," said Jake Drummond, dairy nutritionist at H&I Country Supply.

Throughout the years, the four businesses have settled into a routine. H&I Country Supply grills the burgers — usually in its outdoor parking lot along County Road 16, which gets stomachs rumbling early in the morning for everyone within smelling distance. At Plante Farm Equipment, Octoberfest-style sausages are the specialty, while Murphy's Sales and Service has emerged as the place to go if you like roasted pork-on-a-bun.

Dessert has become the focus at Advanced Grain Handling Systems. As owner Peter Patenaude put it with a grin: "All the sweet people are here."

Despite snowflakes in the morning, a gentle wind and sunny skies prevailed, observed Susan Whitteker of Murphy's Sales and Service. But, April 6 started out chilly: "It was cold this morning," said Whitteker.

Understandably, the decent weather was welcome for all who helped prepare the pork-on-a-bun meal — especially when they have to start the roasting at 5 am in order to serve hungry guests at lunch.

Paul Plante agreed that it's a good idea for the four businesses to team up for Customer Appreciation Day.

"It's not about sales," he said. "It generates more interest, working together with the other companies.... The best part of it is, it's a chance to see many of our customers and socialize."

Meanwhile, further north...

Weagant Farm Supplies in Winchester also served up their grub on Wed., April 6.

But according to many of the customers the Winchester Press spoke with in Brinston, the fact that the events coincided didn't cause a conflict at all. In fact, many guests made "a day" of it, driving north to Winchester or heading back South Mountain way to hit County Road 16 after already eating Octoberfest sausages at Weagant Farm Supplies.

Farmers feed... farmers!

Francis Henderson (above) and roughly 200 of his fellow customers visited busy Brinston for Customer Appreciation Day.

4-H UPDATE

Club celebrates sweet successes

by Carolyn Lillico

MOUNTAIN — The Dundas 4-H Maple Syrup Club Achievement Day Program took place on Sun., April 10 at the community hall in Mountain.

Gathering together at noon, they celebrated their last time together as a group by having a pancake lunch with fresh maple syrup and a hot maple apple crisp with ice cream. During their time in the kitchen, a batch of maple popcorn was also made. A class of four samples of maple syrup were provided, and members were asked to judge it with leader Gord Moat giving the official rankings. Next on the agenda was a trip to the Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB) in Winchester.

Each member had baked a dozen maple-drizzled apple muffins at home to bring and donate to the food bank. All members and leaders were greeted by Judy Hilson at the DCFB, and provided a tour of the facilities. Next, members packaged their muffins and popcorn into bags to be ready to hand out to clients. Members thanked Hilson for the very informative tour and presented eight litres of syrup to the food bank. The club would like to thank Farm Credit Canada and Sand Road Sugar Bush for helping make this donation possible.

Leaders then congratulated all members on their completion of the club, and each received a recipe booklet.

Plenty of springtime fun entertained local kids at the Royal Canadian Legion Winchester Branch 108 on Sun., April 10. The event, which involved various community groups and sponsors, raised funds to support 108's ongoing activities in the region.

There's change in the wind at Winchelsea

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — There's been a name change and a transfer of ownership at 1567 County Road 31, but the familiar landmark is still open for weddings, business meetings, and everything in between.

Winchelsea Events — formerly known as Winchelsea Farms — is now owned by Laura Fletcher and her husband, who have bought both the house and the neighbouring barn that has served as the host site of countless local receptions, parties, fundraisers, dinners, and more throughout the years.

Laura Fletcher is excited to work and live at Winchelsea.
Press Photos — Smith-Millar

Event manager has background in corporate training, hospitality

Fletcher's already a big fan of Winchester. Weary of her years commuting to the city for her government job, she was hoping to work at home but still draw on her background in hospitality, as well as corporate training and team-building.

"We had been looking for a property," said the mother of two, adding with a grin: "I wanted my commute to be across my driveway!"

Already familiar with the friendliness of Winchester through her family's participation in the skating community, Fletcher fell in love with the Winchelsea property, event facilities, and house.

"The gardens are just gorgeous," said Fletcher, praising the green-thumb skills of her predecessor, Shelley Spruit, who Fletcher said kept the trademark grounds looking beautiful. "It's just so quaint and cozy."

She noted that the present and former Winchelsea businesses will be quite similar. Fletcher plans to build on the existing services by offering various packages, including corporate day retreats where staff teams can spend the day strengthening their relationships and boosting morale through team-building exercises. (Fletcher noted that it's convenient to offer golf packages, too, as Cloverdale Links Golf Course is located across the road from Winchelsea.)

Upcoming special brunch events at Winchelsea include one for Easter (Sun., April 24); Mother's Day (Sun., May 8); Father's Day (Sun., June 19); and Dairyfest (Sun., Aug. 7).

I am asking residents to report any instances of vandalism to the Ottawa Police Service, or to the City of Ottawa, by calling 311. City staff will clean up the garbage, but it is a danger and a financial burden on our residents.

Beavers dam Hawks' historic run

Clarence Creek wins eastern Ontario championship series in five games

CLARENCE CREEK — Never in the 43 years of its existence has the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks hockey club played a game in April.

The longest post-season run in the organization's history came to an end in Clarence Creek on Sunday afternoon (April 10) when the Hawks suffered a 4-3 loss in the fifth game of the Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League's (EOJHL) championship series against the Metro/Valley Conference champion Clarence Beavers.

The Hawks, who finished third in the St. Lawrence Division's regular season standings, made their way to the EOJHL final round, taking down some powerful opponents. They swept the Alexandria Glens (29-9-0-4) in four games and the first-place Casselman Vikings (35-5-1-1) capturing the St. Lawrence Division championship. Next on the list were the Rideau Division champs, Athens Aeros, who recorded the most wins (38) in the entire EOJHL. The Hawks dispatched the Aeros (4-1) in five games to claim their first-ever Rideau-St. Lawrence Conference title.

Last stand
The Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks played their final home game of the season in front of a packed house on Friday (April 8) night. Unfortunately, the Winchester fans witnessed a 4-1 loss to the Clarence Beavers, who went on to claim the 2011 Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League championship with a 4-3 win in their own barn on Sunday (April 10) afternoon. Ross Urbankiewcz (left) goaltender Adam Laderoute and Lucas Richardson (right) formed Winchester's last line of defence against attacking Beavers. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Five games

Winchester got off to a solid start against the Beavers, sinking them 4-1 on their own pond (Sun., April 3). Clarence scratched out a 2-1 decision in Winchester two days later (Tues., April 5) and tied the set up 1-1. Back in the Creek on Thursday (April 7), the Hawks lost a 3-2 decision in double overtime. The Beavers then chewed off a 4-1 victory in Winchester on Friday (April 8) establishing a comfortable 3-1 lead. Sunday's 4-3 loss enabled the Beavers to capture the D. Arnold Carson Memorial Trophy for the third time in the franchises history (1994, 2001, 2011).

Hawks head coach Tom Kirkwood gave the new champions credit.

"They [Beavers] are an older team, which makes a difference in strength and speed," he said. "Clarence had two lines that could dominate and a third one just about as good. If we made a mistake or took a shift off they would take advantage."

Kirkwood said he knows that hockey teams have to make their own breaks but figures his squad could have used a little bit of good luck and a couple of good calls as well.

"The disallowed goal in the 3-2 double overtime loss was a killer," he said.

And like most coaches, Kirkwood would not use injuries an excuse in the outcome of the championship series. But the Hawks were a banged-up bunch. At least seven skaters needed pregame attention from the team physiotherapist before they could lace them up.

Good kids

"We had a few walking wounded. But I will not use injuries as an excuse," said the coach. "But some of those kids showed me they had huge hearts and lots of guts. I love this group — I couldn't ask for more."

Great support

On behalf of himself, his staff and the players Kirkwood wanted to thank the Winchester fans.

"The support from the fans was unbelievable, seeing the packed house in Winchester gave me goosebumps and certainly energized our team."

As for his future with the club, Kirkwood said, "I have to take some time to think about it."

Series stats

The Hawks finished the post season with a 13-7 record and were outscored by three goals (11-14) in the final round. They outscored their post-season opponents 71-50.

The Beavers posted a 16-3 record in their run to the league title. Overall they scored 79 times and gave up 43 goals.

Winchester's powerplay produced four goals on 23 opportunities against the Clarence defence. The Hawks PK allowed just three PPGs on 31 chances.

The opposing goaltenders — Hawks' Adam Laderoute and Beavers' Patrick Martin — put together some impressive numbers in the playoffs.

Laderoute complied a 13-7-0 record, a 2.28 GAA and a .929 save percentage.

Martin went 16-3-0, posted a 2.21 GAA and a .928 save percentage.

"We got excellent goaltending from Laddy [Adam Laderoute] and their goalie made some big saves at key times," said Kirkwood.

Winchester's scorers versus the Beavers were: Brett Ashton 3-0-3; Evan Walker 1-2-3; Aaron Dickenson 0-3-3; Dylan Chessel 1-2-3; TJ Doran 1-1-2; Brock Burge 1-1-2; Jordan Moran 1-1-2; Josh Stubbings 1-1-2; Graham Loyst 0-2-2; Mack Weegar 0-2-2; Jesse Barbier 1-0-1, Ramsey Wheeler 1-0-1 and Brodie Boulanger 0-1-1.

Thunder rumbles to national broomball championship

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, MAN — A battle between a pair of teams from eastern Ontario decided the 2010-2011 Canadian Juvenile Girls Broomball Championships' gold-medal winner.

Thanks to Jessica Norman's perfect goaltending, the Eastern Thunder earned its second consecutive national title with a 2-0 shutout over the Seaway Valley Devils in the gold-medal game played in Portage La Prairie on Sat., April 2.

The Thunder put together a 5-0 record in the round robin play, outscoring the opposition 19-0 in the process. Janessa Byers was top goal scorer in the tournament, ringing up five goals. Her teammates — Justine Byers, Veronique Cayer, and Lynn Duncan also collected five points in the event.

The Thunder extended its overall record to 7-0 and finished the competition without allowing a goal registering a 1-0 win over the Ontario Terminators in the semi-final and the 2-0 win against the Devils in the gold-medal match.

Norman split the Thunder's goaltending chores, with Lily Moran between the pipes for the 2-0 victory in the final game. Duncan (from Alex Roach) counted the winning goal at 17:35 of the first stanza. Janessa Byers (unassisted) made it a 2-0 difference with an early second-half tally.

Hannah Jackson used a pass provided by Sarah Jackson to give the Thunder their 1-0 semi-final win over the Terminators.

Devils details

The Seaway Devils claimed the Canadian championship in 2009 and took home the bronze last year. This year they secured the silver following the 2-0 loss to the Eastern Thunder.

Josyanne Castonguay posted the shutout as the Devils whitewashed Debden 2-0 in the opening round. Emily Terry potted both goals. But Saskatchewan's other representative, Odessa, handed Seaway a 1-0 loss in game two.

A 2-0 win over the host Manitoba squad put the Devils back in the win column in game three. Brittany Bols and Chanel Marion netted the goals while Brittnee Fecteau provided perfect goaltending. Unfortunately the Ontario Terminators dropped the Devils back to 500 (2-2) beating them 1-0 in the fourth round.

Goals by Caroline Ranger, Karstie McRae and Amy Corvinelli improved the Devils round robin record to 3-2 with a 3-0 decision against the Montreal Dynamite. Fecteau recorded the shutout.

Fecteau was back in the nets in the semi-final and helped her team qualify for the gold-medal game with a 2-0 blanking of the Becancour Amigos. Bols and Annelie Lanther did the scoring.

Russell Renegades shoot down Ottawa Jets for Masters Rec title

OTTAWA — Heather Ready's flawless goaltending combined with a solid forecheck and penalty kill enabled the Russell Renegades to capture the 2010-2011 Ottawa District Women's Hockey Association's Masters Rec championship.

Heather Ready perfect in net

Kenda Hoffer powered the Renegades offence, potting a pair of goals in Russell's 4-0 victory over the Ottawa Jets at the Tom Brown Arena on Sun., April 3. Russell and the Jets finished the regular season tied for third place. The Renegades then qualified for the final by winning their semi-final game 5-0. The Jets, a team Russell has been playing against for 25 years, made the title match eliminating their opponents in two games.

Anne Van Dam, assisted by Nicole MacLaurin and Hoffer, scored the winning goal in the first period of the title match. Hoffer's first tally made it 2-0 finishing a play started by MacLaurin and Nancy Pothier in period two.

A pair of empty net goals in the final frame locked up the 4-0 decision and the championship. Hoffer used a feed from MacLaurin to make it a three-goal difference before an unassisted shot fired by Pothier found the unguarded cage, making the final margin of victory 4-0.

This year's victory was especially satisfying for the Renegades considering they had lost 1-0 in last year's final and the year before were defeated in the championship game in a shootout. On both occasions the setbacks were delivered by teams with younger players on their rosters.

Hockey masters

Koekkoek nets goal in loss to Sweden

CRIMMITSCHAU, GER. — Slater Koekkoek's first goal as a member of a Canadian national team didn't figure in the final outcome of the game, but the tally against Sweden on German soil will no doubt be a highlight in the NHL prospect's blossoming career.

Koekkoek, a native of Inkerman Station and a rookie defenceman with the Ontario Hockey League's Peterborough Petes this season, scored unassisted at 4:33 of the second period of Monday's (April 11) exhibition game in Crimmitschau, Germany. The former Notre Dame Hounds blueliner's tally tied the game 1-1.

Team Canada went on to lose the game against Sweden 4-3 in a shootout. The loss dropped Canada's exhibition record at the 2010-2011 IIHF World Under-18 Hockey Championship to 1-1-0. Sault St. Marie Greyhound forward Daniel Catenacci counted Canada's other two goals in the third period, but a goal by Sweden's Max Gortz sent the game into OT. There was no scoring in the extra frame. Catenacci also pegged a shootout marker, but the opposition put three pucks into Andrew D'Agostini's (Peterborough Petes) net to secure the win.

They opened the event with a 2-1 victory over Team USA on Saturday (April 9) and finished with a pre-tournament test against the Czech Republic yesterday (Tues., April 12).

Up next

Canada's first game in the preliminary round is scheduled for Dresden on Friday (April 15) against the Czech Republic. They will then take on Finland on Saturday (April 16).

The Canadians get a day off (Sun., April 17) and return to action on Mon., April 18 when they meet Norway. The final preliminary round match is set for Tues., April 19 with a rematch against Sweden.

The quarter-finals and relegation games begin on Thurs., April 21. The semi-finals are set for Sat., April 23 and the bronze and gold-medal games will be played on Sun., April 24.

Take A Charge for Cancer program raises $1,120

MAPLE RIDGE — When North Dundas District High School [NDDHS] coach Deanna Corbett-White came up with the idea, she hoped to raise about $400 which would be a charitable donation to the fight to eliminate cancer.

Junior Boys basketball team joins fight to end cancer

Corbett-White's Junior Devils boys basketball team bought into the "Take A Charge For Cancer" program and through the generous support of local businesses and families, a total of $1,120 was raised. The ceremonial cheque was presented to the Canadian Cancer Society, SD&G & Prescott-Russell unit representative Len "Skippy" Brisson by team members last week (Fri., April 8).

"It is unbelievable we raised that much," said Corbett-White. "Considering I thought maybe it would be half that."

She also said the program helped the teenaged players become part of the community and how to work for a great cause.

Take A Charge

The coach described the basis of the "Take A charge for Cancer" as follows: In the game of basketball, the ultimate defensive play is 'take a charge.' This is a precise manoeuvre that requires hustle, positioning and a lot of bravery. As you basically set yourself in front of an opposing player who is approaching at full speed. This is often a team spirit builder and or momentum changer.

Sponsors donated money for each charge the Devils took in a game. There were three levels of participation: bronze level -$5 a charge; silver - $10 a charge and gold - $20 a charge.

Supporters

The local businesses and families who sponsored the NDDHS Junior Devils basketball team included: Winchester Video, Ian Bufton and Martha Attridge Bufton, Louis Restaurant - Louis Paviounis, Winchester Home Hardware, Ben Henry - Pioneer Gas Bar, Bay Street Salon and Spa, Township of North Dundas Mayor Eric Duncan, Daniels Funeral Chapel, Kelly's Garage, Shadbolt's V&S Department Store, Lannin's Garage, Richie Feed and Seed SAFE International, DWC Photo - T- shirts and anonymous ($200).

Devils donate

The North Dundas District High School Junior Devils boys basketball team took part in "Take A Charge For Cancer" fundraising program and generated $1,120 for the Canadian Cancer Society. Taking part in the presentation were: Deanna Corbett-White - coach/program organizer, Robbie Kerr, Travis Barkley, Wes Schmitdke - captain, Evan Corbett-White, Devin Boje, Bruce Bufton and cancer society SD&G & Prescott-Russell representative Len "Skippy" Bisson. Missing: Cory Vandemheen, Karl Gross and Jordan Markwell.

Buckle up!

Seatbelt law turns 35

WINCHESTER — It has been 35 years since seatbelt laws came into effect in Ontario (1976), and the milestone is being celebrated by the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) as the 2011 Spring Seatbelt Campaign kicks off.

The province-wide blitz will run starting today (Wed., April 13) until Sat., April 23. During that time, the OPP will be stepping up enforcement throughout the province to ensure that motorists and passengers buckle up.

According to the force, using a seatbelt is the single most effective way to reduce the chance of injury or death in a motor vehicle collision. Yet, tragically, countless fatalities and injuries relating to seatbelt use have continued to occur needlessly each year throughout the past three and a half decades.

Last year (2010) on OPP-patrolled roadways, 89 people lost their lives in collisions in which lack of seatbelt use was a causal factor, and 4,200 people were injured for the same reason.

So far this year (2011), seven people have died in collisions in which lack of seatbelt use was a causal factor and 855 have been seriously injured. Compared to this same time last year, 13 died and 913 were injured.

The OPP will be focusing its efforts on child restraints during this campaign to raise awareness about the need to properly secure children in a vehicle. A properly used child seat reduces a child's risk of injury in a crash by as much as 75 per cent, yet many child car seats are incorrectly used or improperly installed.

When used correctly, a booster seat provides 60 per cent more protection than a seatbelt alone. In a collision, children using seatbelts instead of booster seats are three and a half times more likely to suffer significant injury, and four times more likely to suffer head injury. OPP detachments regularly run child car-seat safety clinics and the OPP is encouraging everyone to contact their local OPP detachment or their local police service for more information.

"In 1976, Ontario became the first province to require all drivers and passengers to wear a seatbelt," said the OPP's Larry Beechey. "After all these years OPP officers across this province are just as committed to ensuring that occupants buckle up."

Did you know?

• A driver who is not wearing a seatbelt is more than 40 times more likely to be killed in a crash than one who is properly buckled.

• The annual Spring Seatbelt Campaign is a partnership between the OPP, Ontario Police Services, the Ontario Ministry of Transportation, and other road safety partners.

OBITUARIES

Dorothy Tait

Dorothy Tait, a resident of Williamsburg for the past 38 years, passed away suddenly at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Thurs., March 31, 2011. She was 80.

She was born in Oakland County, Michigan on Sept. 29, 1930, to parents Hugh and May Cummings (nee McKnight). At six months of age, her family moved to the Uxbridge area. Dorothy married Bill Tait on Nov. 25, 1950, and together they had three daughters: Lynne, Cathy, and Clara.

In June of 1973, they bought a farm in Williamsburg. They moved their family there, and she and Bill dairy farmed for 24 years. Upon retirement, they enjoyed their travels across Canada and parts of the United States. They also enjoyed their trailer on McGowan Lake where Dorothy enjoyed fishing and camping with her family. She especially enjoyed teaching her grandchildren the thrill of catching the "big one." Dorothy also loved a good game of cards, reading, and working in her flower beds. Dorothy and Bill belonged to four Old Time Fiddler clubs in the area, where they made many life-long friends.

On Nov. 25, 2011, Dorothy and Bill celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary amidst family and friends.

Dorothy is survived by her husband, Bill her daughters, Lynne (Graham) Casselman of RR#1 Williamsburg, Cathy (Philip) Tupper of RR#2 Williamsburg, and Clara Erdman (Blair Cooper) of Orleans, her sister, Rena Hudson of Uxbridge, her grandchildren, Adele, James, Wendy, Adam, Chad, Leslie, Courtney, Ryan, Christian, and six great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by sisters Isabel Turner and Doris Tait. She is also survived by nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on Sun., April 3 from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 pm. The funeral service was held at the funeral home on Mon., April 4 at 11 am with Rev. Christine Lowson officiating, followed by interment at Maple Ridge Cemetery in Chesterville. The pallbearers were James Garlough, Chad Garlough, Christian Cooper, Adam Erdman, Mike Reynolds, and Ryan Casselman. The honourary pallbearers were granddaughters Courtney Garlough, Leslie Erdman, Adele Cowan, and Wendy Casselman.

Donations to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be appreciated by the family.

June 21, 1925 - April 5, 2011

It is with great sadness the family of Muriel Ciavaglia announce her passing on April 5, 2011, at the age of 85 years.

Muriel will be dearly missed by her husband of 66 years, Alfred, as well as her children Mark (Kathryn) of Kincardine, Donna (Rick) Chimko of Edmonton, Robert (Carolyn) of Winnipeg, and Rosanna Ciavaglia of Edmonton. Muriel is survived by her grandchildren, Amy (Shion) and Nicholas (Karen) Chimko of Edmonton; Gina and John (Melanie) Ciavaglia of Winnipeg; Matthew (Jennifer), Andrew (Cynthia) Ciavaglia, Zoe (Jeff) MacCrostie of Ontario; and eight great-grandchildren. A visitation was held at Memories Funeral Home in Edmonton (780-454-9111) on Fri., April 8 at 12 pm. The funeral service followed the visitation at 1 pm. Interment took place at Northern Lights Cemetery in Edmonton.

The family would like to thank the staff of Capital Care Dickinsfield, 2B for their genuine care and compassion shown to Muriel during her time there.

In operation since 1993, the program provides funding for projects like controlled tile drainage structures, buffer strips, fencing along waterways, and stream bank erosion controls. There are a total of 13 different projects that qualify for grants

To date, Clean Water Program grants of more than $2.1 million dollars have contributed to 681 completed projects, with a total estimated value of over $10 million. According to SNC, almost 15,000 kilograms of phosphorus is prevented from entering local watercourses.

> Clean Water Program grants of more than $2.1 million dollars have contributed to 681 completed projects, with a total estimated value of over $10 million.

Parmalat Canada has emerged as the major sponsor of the program, with a total $280,000 donated and 100 landowner water quality projects supported.

"The Clean Water Program is fortunate to have a dedicated, long-term corporate donor like Parmalat," said Ronda Boutz, Water Quality Co-ordinator at South Nation Conservation.

NDDHS famine fundraiser raises $4,500 for charity

WINCHESTER — This year's 30-Hour Famine fundraiser at North Dundas District High School was a milestone for Lea and Jonny Zollinger.

Combined, the two raised more than $1,500 for World Vision, while that total joins the more than $5,500 raised by various Zollinger family members throughout the years.

In total, 54 NDDHS students took part in the 2011 event.

Held over two days (Thurs., April 7 and Fri., April 8), the 11th annual campaign helped to raise more than $4,500 for the child protection division of the international relief and development organization.

This year's top three fundraisers were Lea Zollinger ($1,250), Jonny Zollinger ($466), and Erin VanWinden ($327.59).

"These funds raised are appreciated," said Joanne Leduc, NDDHS French teacher and 30-Hour Famine group leader. "For these students, there is light at the end of the hunger tunnel, but for others, there is no light."

No food, no problem — locally

North Dundas District High School teacher Joanne Leduc, who also acts as the 30-Hour Famine group leader, presented a special plaque to Jonny and Lea Zollinger at the conclusion of this year's event on Fri., April 8. The hardware commemorates the more than $5,500 raised by various Zollinger family members throughout the years. Press Photos — Uhrig

The 30-Hour Famine is a World Vision event that takes place in roughly 20 countries each year. Its beginnings are traced back to 1971 when 14 Calgary students staged a "starve-in" event in a church basement. Millions of dollars have been raised throughout the years, and in 2007 alone, Canadian youth raised more than $4.5 million.

To thank all the nice people who bought and sold properties (many did both) through us over the last year, we have teamed up with local merchants to create a customer appreciation gift basket of gift certificates and cash to be won from the list of our 2010 customers!

Our first-place winner took home over $1,000 in value and our second-place winner brings home over $250 in value of prizes! Our second lucky client and your new neighbours were Matt Holmes and Jessica Laneville. Matt and Jessica's gift basket was generously supplied by the Cass Bridge Gift Shop and includes $100 cash and gift certificates from Mike Dean's Super Food Store.

Thanks to all our clients for working with us throughout 2010!

Please note: the grand prize basket was generously provided by Cass Bridge Gift Shop. We regret any errors.
