MAPLE SYRUP SEASON—One of the big problems in syrup making is the labor involved and the Besner Brothers at Glen Nevis are trying to solve the problem with automation. Guy Besner in first photo is tapping with an automatic tapper and with the aid of a snowmobile is able to tap 625 trees in two hours. Picture shows Guy with the pipeline installed in the section of bush where gathering is most difficult. Here 4,500 feet of plastic pipe connect 425 trees which empty into one vat. Bernard Besner, bottom left gathers on trails with tractor and 125 gallon vat and in the last photo Bernard is shown with the evaporator in the camp. They tapped almost 2,000 trees in mid-March but the run has been slow since the cold weather arrived. It takes about 40 gallons of sap to yield a gallon of syrup usually. Towards the end of the season the sap is sweeter and takes about 32 gallons.

Plan to build new warehouse

Alexandria Moulding Ltd. has plans for a new warehouse that will be built as soon as the snow goes. The 154x25 ft. building will be on the north side of the plant and will serve as a storage shed for lumber.

The present warehouse will be moved to make room for a substantial addition to the plant that will double the production capacity.

The addition is a long-range plan that will await restoration of the economy.

Counties and Cornwall may hire consultant to advise on region

Although considered last fall by Cornwall and United Counties councils, area politicians are still not committed to any form of regional government.

However, members of the two bodies got as far as discussing the pros and cons of hiring a consultant to at least look into the subject during a joint meeting Monday.

Restructuring, as it's been labelled by members of the two councils, does not seek to establish regional government as it has been introduced in other parts of the province, but rather is aimed at striking a compromise between regional government and the present system.

Raymond Lapointe, counties council clerk-treasurer, explained in an interview following the meeting that restructuring would consolidate smaller municipalities into larger, more viable units and responsibility would be allocated to the upper tier of local government at the county level.

United Counties Warden John Whitteker led discussion of the issue saying he was not in favor of restructuring but that a consultant "could bring out a lot of what we don't know about it."

"There could be advantages to regional government that we can't see."

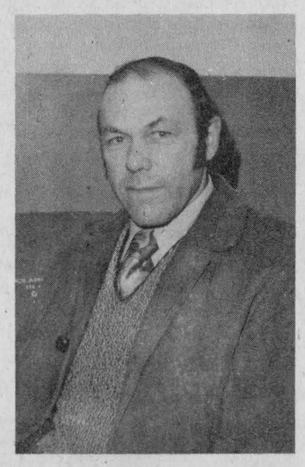
City administrator Maurice Engels suggested there might be more flexibility in restructuring.

"I'm not an advocate of regional government because of the poor results we've seen in other parts of the province," said Mayor Gerald Parisien. "It hasn't worked out as kosher as it should have."

He noted that there are many organizations in the area which are of a regional nature, such as the Children's Aid Society.

Warden Whitteker said a study of the feasibility of regional government in the area would determine whether it would be advantageous to restructure or maintain the status quo.

Hope area sports group will handle sale of lottery tickets



LIBERAL HOPEFUL—GERARD Massie of Alexandria, will seek the Liberal nomination in the new provincial riding of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, he announced Monday. A successful farmer on the McCormick Road, east of Alexandria, Mr. Massie served on the Lochiel Township council for 11 years. He was reeve from 1968 to 1974 and served as United Counties warden in 1973. Mr. Massie's announcement reads: "After attending the Liberal annual meeting and policy conference in Windsor, and having followed the conference very closely, especially the keynote speech of Leader Robert Nixon, I have decided to be a candidate in the coming Liberal convention in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. Having served in local politics for 11 years and as warden in 1973, I feel I could represent the constituency to advantage, knowing the needs of this area."

The first draw to be conducted by the Ontario Lottery Corporation is set for May 15th and members of the Park and Recreation committee are hopeful sale of tickets in this area will prove lucrative for a new sports group to be formed. The plan would see an Area Council of Sports acting as exclusive agents for the selling of provincial lottery tickets (Wintario).

The area sports group would act as wholesalers of the lottery tickets, the actual sale being handled by retailers in the various communities.

The plan was first proposed at a meeting of the Park and Recreation committee on March 19th when the suggestion was made that an area arena committee be set up, an Area Council of Sports, to undertake the exclusive agency for selling Ontario lottery tickets and a study on the present and proposed arena.

Committee Chairman Jean Paul Touchette was in contact with Fern Guindon of Cornwall, a member of the lottery board, and at a meeting of the committee on March 25th it was resolved that Mr. Guindon be advised that "we are not satisfied with the appointment of a wholesale distributor of Ontario Lottery tickets for this district and that a brief stating our views be forwarded as soon as possible. We propose that we should be official wholesale distributors for the district."

We understand a Cornwall man is being given the exclusive distributorship of tickets for the entire zone. Ticket distributors will be receiving five per cent of the revenue on every ticket sold, it is reported.

At a special meeting of town council on March 26th Chairman Touchette was authorized to meet with the authorities in the surrounding townships regarding a new arena owned and operated by a regional recreation board.

He has set up a meeting this week with reeves of the adjoining municipalities when discussion will centre on organizing of an Area Council of Sports and the possibility of partial financing stemming from the lottery ticket distribution.

Canoe race is postponed

The great Raisin River Canoe Race has been postponed for two weeks and will be run off on Sunday, April 27th, reports Art Chalk of the Raisin Region Authority. Ice has refused to release its grip on the river, thus forcing a postponement from Sunday, April 13th.

Good Samaritan deed pays off

Television viewers in the area will be interested in knowing that the actor in the Cadbury Record commercial who dashes about frantically filling his cart with records has a local connection.

He is Archie Barton, son of Mrs. Rita Barton of Toronto, the former Rita MacDonald of Lancaster.

Currently a student at the University of Toronto, Archie stumbled into his role via the "Good Samaritan" routine. He was riding along the highway one day when he stopped to help a young motorcyclist who was in trouble. The gentleman in distress happened to be the son of one of Canada's big advertisers, who in return for his helping hand offered him a sideline doing commercials on TV.

Storm closed roads, brought back bitter taste of winter

Bulldozers were brought into play Monday to open bad spots on some township roads in the area. Municipal officials reported traffic restored on all roads in the wake of last Thursday's storm that dumped more than a foot of heavy, blowing snow right across southern Ontario.

It was the worst storm of an unusually pacific winter and it came after most of the winter's snow had disappeared and some snow-fighting equipment had been dismantled.

Out of the U.S. midwestern States, the storm struck here early Thursday morning and steadily intensified through the afternoon and night. Highways were closed by the high drifting snow and business slowed through Friday as local industries shut down in face of inability of employees to reach the plants. Some local stores closed for a time, too, as Main Street traffic ground to a halt, Thursday.

Some students reached area schools Thursday morning but classes were not held as school bus transportation was halted Thursday and Friday. Teachers reaching Laggan school Thursday morning, were forced to spend the night there as Highway 34 blocked tight behind stranded trucks and cars. No mails were moving and the News was late reaching many area homes.

One home in the Fassifern area hosted 13 stranded travellers overnight and there were similar experiences along many roads.

Snowmobiles that had been mothballed for the summer had a rebirth when they were pressed into service to convey people to and from their employment.

The storm forced the cancellation of several events in the area but most roads were open again by Saturday and there was a return to almost normalcy.

In Alexandria special crews were busy Friday and Saturday clearing walks and streets. Cost of the unexpected snow clearing here will add some $3,000 to a winter bill that had been exceptionally low.

Bread blitz this Sunday

Members of the Richelieu Club of Alexandria, will be busy Sunday as they conduct their annual bread blitz. Alexandria churches and others in the area will be visited in the morning and the house by house canvass early that afternoon will cover Alexandria.

The goal is $1,500 and proceeds are used to assist underprivileged children.

The Hub getting a face-lifting

The stucco walls of the Hub restaurant are disappearing as workmen cover them with an aluminum siding type Stelco in olive green. There will be shutters on the windows and street level front will be finished in barn board.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewen McDonald also have plans for a new roof as the entire exterior is renovated.

Highway 43 to be resurfaced

Tenders will be called next week for hot mix paving on Highway 43 from Alexandria west to Finch, a distance of 25 miles, MPP Osie Villeneuve informed the News yesterday.

It is expected the paving will start in May or June.

To be converted into apartments

The former Le Gourmet restaurant on Lochiel St. is to be converted into five apartments, reports owner Wallie Hope. Work will start without delay.

Formerly active in this diocese Father Bourque 25 years priest

A priest in the diocese of Alexandria for 19 years, Rev. Lionel A. Bourque, now of Brockton, Massachusetts, will mark the 25th anniversary of his ordination on April 16th.

Father Bourque was ordained to the priesthood by Bishop Rosario Brodeur on April 16, 1950, in St. Felix de Valois Church, Cornwall, where he served as associate until 1952.

Now resident chaplain of the Cardinal Cushing General Hospital in Brockton, Mass., Father Bourque is recovering from major surgery in that hospital. For that reason the concelebrated mass of thanksgiving, the dinner and reception commemorating his silver jubilee in the priesthood, have been postponed until the fall.

A son of Mrs. Regina A. Bourque (nee Teasdale) of Fall River, Mass., and the late Arthur R. Bourque, the jubilarian was born in Fall River, Dec. 17th, 1923. After attending the local schools he took his classical studies at Enfield, N.H., Amos, Que., and completed his studies in theology at St. Augustine's Grand Seminary in Toronto.

While serving in this diocese, Father Bourque was also a curate at Nativity parish and Holy Cross parish in Cornwall before being appointed pastor of St. Lawrence Church, Curry Hill, in 1962. From 1962 to '65 he was also associated at Sacred Heart Church, here, with Bishop Landriault and Bishop Plourde who served as auxiliary bishops in the diocese.

In 1965 Father Bourque was appointed pastor of St. James, Maxville, where he remained almost four years until he resigned due to ill health. After a sick leave of eight months he was appointed resident chaplain of Cardinal Cushing General Hospital in his native Massachusetts, where he is now.

Missed rounds for first time

Last week's storm left Alexandria streets in such poor condition, Adrien Charlebois was unable to make his milk run Friday. It was the first time in 50 years that I've not been able to complete my run, Adrien tells us.

Second Turbo run expected

A new, fast Turbo run between Ottawa and Montreal is expected to be announced tomorrow. Canadian National Railways officials have called a news conference for that day to announce rail passenger improvements between the two cities planned to begin at the end of the month.

Deputy minister Agriculture Gordon Bennett was Ag. Rep.

R. Gordon Bennett, 58 who served as agricultural representative in Glengarry in 1944-48, has been appointed to the top job in the Ontario department of agriculture. His appointment as deputy minister was effective April 1st.

Mr. Bennett succeeds in that post T. R. 'Dick' Hilliard, 59, who retired from the deputy post to assume a special assignment relating to world food supply and distribution. He will make recomendation to the government on how Ontario can help Third World countries.

Born in Wentworth County, Gordon Bennett was named assistant representative in Middlesex County following his graduation from Guelph Agricultural School. From Middlesex he came to Glengarry in 1944 as ag. rep. and four years later was transferred to Huron County. Later appointed Director of Junior Extension Work at Toronto he had continued moving up the ladder and was assistant deputy minister (marketing and special services) when appointed deputy minister.

Mr. Hilliard will report his findings to the Government of Ontario through the minister of agriculture and food within the next few months. Upon completion of the study, Mr. Hilliard will retire, completing a 35-year career in the Ontario civil service.

The study mission is being undertaken in reponse to a number of church organizations and concerned citizens' groups which are seeking ways to help relieve hunger and starvation in developing countries.

The Province of Ontario has in the past provided some high-protein food to Cyprus and Africa in conjunction with the Canadian Red Cross.

Fined assessed by the milligram

Five men who appeared in court here on Monday charged with impaired driving paid $1. per milligram of alcohol found in their blood at the time of their breathalizer test.

Judge Ryan sentenced the men to fines ranging from $150 to $180., depending on their individual readings.

Their licenses are also automatically suspended by the Ministry for three months, if this is their first offence.

Injured in fall from bicycle

An Alexandria man suffered head injuries on Wednesday of last week when he took a weak spell and fell from the bicycle he was riding on Main Street, striking his head on the pavement.

Wilmer Massia, 63, was taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital following the accident about 9:30 pm and later transferred to Hotel Dieu where he recovered consciousness about midnight.

He has since been released from hospital.

Meeting in Cornwall to discuss weed control Lake St. Francis

A weed harvesting program in Lake St. Francis will be discussed at a public meeting in General Vanier school auditorium, Cornwall, at 7:30 pm Wednesday, April 16th. Alderman Francis Guindon has set up the meeting and has invited the heads of area municipalities to attend and hear a presentation of a report prepared by the ministry of the environment.

The general public is also welcome to attend the meeting, says Mr. Guindon who is chairman of city council's environmental control committee.

The report recommends a small scale weed harvesting program be implemented to control excessive aquatic plant growth in the lake. The ministry suggests a start be made on a small scale, using a single large harvester unit plus necessary back-up equipment.

The harvesting program could readily be expanded later.

Harvesting should be started in acute problem areas after consultation with the ministry of natural resources and that of the environment, the report further suggests. In conjunction with the weed harvesting, dredging of major secondary access channels would create self-perpetuating boating channels.

"This method would be most applicable to the portion of the north shore between Danis Point and South Lancaster and perhaps to other areas of the lake where access across extensive areas of flats would improve pleasure boating," the report stresses.

Design of the channels, the report continues, should be carefully planned to ensure an increase in water flow that would preclude the future development of weeds.

Martintown Rumor Mill

by Arthur Buckland

The weather is the main topic amongst my friends this week, taking over from inflation for a moment. Has January really waited until April to arrive on the scene? Now that centigrade temperatures are being rammed into our ears, it seems colder anyway. Is it true that thermometer manufacturers have perpetrated a hoax on us? The rumor is that five years from now we will be switching to Angstrom units.

John Shago, one of the sharpest dressers in Glengarry, was telling me an interesting anecdote recently. The King's Road in days past was a famous racing road. Apparently after a hard day's work at Menard Construction, two Martintown stalwarts used to race home. After John's story I remarked that I felt D.R. had an unfair advantage and John agreed, that being a Glengarry newlywed did give him a psychological edge in a race homeward.

Finlay MacDonald organized a successful bowling tournament between the two Martintown bowling leagues last Sunday in Alexandria. The six top bowlers in each league competed for trophies donated by Labatts. The winning team members were Eileen Johnston, Maureen Nicholson, Charlotte Sansom, Clarence Bethune, Pat Blackadder and Dan Williamson. Runners up were Diane Ingram, Madeline Flaro, Shirley MacDonald, Mike Crook, Carl Grant and Donny Ross.

Gerry Lalonde has purchased Finlay MacDonald's chip wagon. Gerry will also be the organizer for baseball this summer.

Last week I was in Toronto (during the storm). I witnessed many heartwarming scenes of friendly acts; adversity may bring out the best in man. At one meeting the chairman announced that two ladies would need a place to stay because they were unable to get home. "Let's have a look at them before we decide" some charitable husband away from home quipped.

I would not recommend the food at inns at Toronto, nor at Oshawa, based on my stomach's recent ordeals. But then, how often does one get the opportunity to taste cardboard ham, sawdust potatoes and raw duck served under glass? It was such a thrill to return to the family and the homecooking of Buckland beef, bacon and barnyard eggs.

Monique Lapointe, a carnival '75 princess, has been accepted for the nursing program at St. Lawrence College in Cornwall.

A recent treat was my first experience at buying dollar-a-pound butter. Hope the extra money is all going to Canadian farmers. Then I don't mind.

Martintown Mac says to remember that we are what we do sometimes in spite of what we say we are.

Friday, May 9th is a night to reserve. William (River Road) Johnston and Eileen Johnston are asking you to come to St. Mary's Centre in Williamstown. The Brigadoons will be playing. Mr. Johnston will receive his 25 year perseverance medal.

Opposition to mobile homes in Charlottenburgh heard council

Mobile homes will not be allowed in a proposed subdivision at Purcell and Tyotown Roads, Charlottenburg Township council told a 10-man delegation last week.

The assurance came after the ratepayers expressed fears that the proposed subdivision across the road from their homes would include mobile homes. Council has approved a bylaw allowing mobile homes anywhere if they meet building standards.

Council agreed to keep the ratepayers posted on developments or decisions reached regarding rezoning of the property. The site is about two miles east of Cornwall.

Even after Reeve Adrian Gadbois and Councillor Gerry Dicaire insisted the subdivision would not include mobile homes, Charles Bourdon, spokesman for the group, was skeptical.

'We want to be sure we're not getting a snow job', he said, pointing out that Councillor Dicaire has previously said he would not object to having a mobile home in his back yard.'

The reeve agreed that mobile homes had been considered there two years ago. He explained that the area is now zoned rural and application has been made to have it changed to residential.

'This may take six months if it comes through at all,' he said, adding subdivision approval could take as much as two years after rezoning since it must go through as many as 20 departments.

He also told the homeowners, some of whom live in homes sponsored originally under the Veterans Land Act, council can put restrictions on building even once approval is received.

He said he would rather see three or four subdivision plans approved with 30 or 40 lots in each one than a single large plan 'with conditions so tough the average working man can not afford them.'

But several members of the delegation criticized the reeve for being too concerned about the working poor not yet living in the township and not concerned enough about existing ratepayers.

Mr. Bourdon said the type of newcomer the township will be attracting as a result of such projects as the federal transport training school will not be low income earners.

Robin Casgrain was also opposed to aiming for homes geared to lower income earners. He said land in Glengarry is available and Charlottenburgh can afford to set high standards.

'People are coming out of Montreal and Ottawa looking for this kind of land,' he said, adding they value the privacy available to them here.

He suggested that instead of encouraging mobile homes the township should consider building condominiums or highrise apartments to accommodate those unable to buy standard housing.

'The township could even make money,' he said.

In an interview, Mr Casgrain said the county should be primarily the preserve of the middle class and that as such could become the 'Muskoka' of eastern Ontario.

Other members of the delegation agreed.

'We should set our sights on housing to be proud of,'said Mr. Bourdon and not be rushing to attract Cornwall's lower income earners. The standards in Charlottenburgh are not very high now, he maintained.

'I don't want a mobile home across from my home,' he said. 'I'll sell my home first.'

He and the others agreed they were not opposed to provision of housing for lower income groups in the township 'but we are opposed to mobile homes in built up areas.'

Mrs. Harry Taylor suggested the township should take care of its own and let somebody else worry about the poor.

Mr. Bourdon urged Mr. Gadbois 'instead of crusading for the poor take into consideration the people that already own property in Charlottenburgh.'

Mr. Gadbois countered that the township is already doing this but council has a responsibility to represent all 5,000 voters in the municipality.

He said building restrictions cannot be made so tough that retired couples who only want small homes or 'average workers' are excluded.

The reeve said the economy is in a tremendous slump which he predicted has not yet bottomed out.

'I don't see any big building boom happening in Charlottenburgh or anywhere else,' he said, despite the promise of an influx of higher income earners into the area.

He said only the middle-aged or the retired could afford the kind of housing standards proposed by Mr. Casgrain.

UCW HAD EASTER THANKOFFERING

Maxville United Church Women joined on Tuesday, April 1st at 8:00 to hold their annual Easter Thankoffering meeting. Mrs. W. E. Henderson presided, with members of Group III. The meeting opened with the UCW purpose and ladies sang "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross." Hattie Hughes led in prayer and Mrs. Donald McIntosh read the scriptures on the Easter story. Mrs. Henderson gave a meditation called "Garden of Gethsemane," followed by a reading "Easter Is Ours." The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Clarence McPhail.

A short business session contained various reports and an invitation was extended from Moose Creek UCW to hear George Willis, who recently returned from an African safari, on April 8th at 8:00 pm. Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Jennie McEwen announced the Seaway Valley Presbyterial meeting in Trinity United Church, Ingleside, on Wednesday, April 16th, registration 1:15, afternoon session, 2:00 pm, dinner at 6:00 pm.

Our new general president, Mrs. Gwen Swift, took the chair, presenting the needs of the group —a vice-president, in particular —any volunteers? She discussed the Seaway Valley Presbyterial Executive Meeting held March 19th at St. Paul's United Church, Cornwall, to which she was elected regional vice-president. She discussed the Presbyterial and the "cake" contest in celebration of our 50th anniversary. A meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society will be held in Maxville Community Hall on Thursday, April 10th at 8:00 pm.

Rev. Ross Hamilton will return to our pulpit on April 20th and an open reception will follow the service at 12:15. Mrs. Grace McDermid agreed to convene this luncheon with helpers. A letter co-ordinating the disgust of our members with certain CBC and CTV programs and commercials was circulated again for signature—to be presently mailed to five MPs of the area. Let's hope it serves to bring about more suitable family viewing.

The next meeting will be May 6th with Mrs. Archie Campbell and Group IV in charge.

Your press secretary cannot adequately cover the wonderful address of Mrs. Bert Loree, (Mary) of Long Sault United Church and the 36 ladies present thoroughly enjoyed her summary of "Summer Event" held in East Montreal last summer in August. Mrs. Loree emphasized this "Summer Event" 1975 to be held at Ottawa University for three days in August and expressed the hope that someone present might be able to go. She expounded on last year's theme "All In The Church Family" and gave complete reports on the two "Interest Groups" that she had chosen from nine—these being "Worship" with Burn Purden, Sutton, Que., and "Rural Ministry" with Rev. Peter McKeller, associate secretary to Board of Missions. She noted 67 Seaway Valley members attended the school and heard such wonderful music from people like David Irwin and the "Share" group from Hexton near Kemptville.

Mrs. Loree shared her many tapes with us and ladies especially enjoyed the theme song of "Summer Event" 1974—"Come as a Little Child." She expounded on speakers such as Dr. Merle Jordan, Pastor of Theology at Boston University, who did counselling in Los Angeles area and served as a missionary in the Philippines. She spoke on "Communication" in marriage, the church and the church family and gave a talk on "Script Analysis" and "Family Sculpture."

"Pastoral Calling" was another important item of her resume as she closed with a short piece on the "Dead Soldier."

Mrs. Gwen Swift and Mrs. Henderson thanked Mrs. Loree for her enlightening glimpse of summer school as Mrs. Robert MacIntosh sang "He Lives."

An hour of fellowship and lunch followed as members met and visited with Mrs. Loree.

Tagwi High to have drama night

On Wednesday, April 16th, the Tagwi English Drama Club will present two one act plays starting at 8 pm. The first titled "Make Your Play" by Kenneth Lillington is a spoof of a shoot-out in an old west saloon. The place has been "modernized" and feminized by making the three villains "villainesses." Black Bertha, Penelope Primrose and Ophelia Ogle, the outlaws, terrorize the town and the saloon run by barman Morton MacSissy but in the end as you'll see—Love triumphs.

The second presentation is Tagwi's entry into the 1975 Seaway Collegiate Drama Festival. "My Lost Saints" by Tad Mosel. This play adapted to the stage from the original TV script is a serious domestic situation centred upon the conflict in a household maid torn between loyalty to her employer of 18 years and her recently widowed mother. Some moving scenes highlight the increasing bitterness before the parties reach compromise.

Admission fee will be $1.00 for adults and 50c for students and children.

Postpone meet

The regular meeting of the Glengarry Historical Society scheduled for Thursday, April 3rd, was cancelled owing to the storm. The date has been changed to Thursday, April 7th, and will be held in the Church on the Hill, Alexandria, at 8 pm. (preceded by an executive meeting at 7 pm.)

As previously announced, Jennifer Harper is to be our guest speaker; her subject "City Work at Country Prices," the portraits of Duncan Donovan of Alexandria. If you are familiar with Duncan Donovan and his works Jennifer would be very interested in having you identify some of her portraits.

Weather permitting, we'll see you on the 17th of April.

"CHARGE-IT!"

ALEXANDRIA

Sports piel

by Emile Hurtubise

Why all the secrecy over the arena in Alexandria? The question concerning the condition of the building in regards to safety is the topic of conversation wherever we go. We are being asked the same ridiculous questions: "Has the roof caved in?" "Is the arena still being used?" "What is being done about it?"

Town council or Parks and Recreation Committee will not give a satisfactory answer on this subject. We feel they should operate more openly and keep the public informed on what is being done. The taxpayers and all concerned would be better prepared if and when asked to co-operate with the decisions taken by the governing body. The sick condition of our recreation centre has brought a lot of bad publicity to our town and embarrassment to its citizens.

Last Friday we walked down to the arena and witnessed the heavy layer of wet snow that the recent storm had deposited on its roof. Parts of the roof bore more of the white stuff than town engineer Ghislain Seguin claimed it could carry without being a hazard. The building was in darkness and as we walked away we wondered if it would ever reopen again.

The extensive repairs required to make the community centre suitable and safe leaves its reopening possibility next season a question mark. The cost of repairs should be carefully compared to the escalating costs of rebuilding. A decision should be reached without delay, with the next season but six months away.

Should council decide to repair the present building, several needs would be ignored. For example the parking facilities. This can not be improved at that location and arena users will continue to park on the street. The inadequate lighting system and poor ventilation would probably not be improved. The poor ice surface would also remain the same as well as the irregular size of the rink. These are just some of the disadvantages.

New arena welcomed . . .

The talk of a new arena is being heard more and more each day. A site mentioned that meets our approval is on the Industrial property the town owns immediately north of the Consolidated Textiles' plant. This site would be acceptable for many reasons. First of all because of the parking facilities it offers. The location would also afford easy access from Highway 34 as well as 43 without adding to the regular town traffic.

A more powerful ice making unit is a must. Ice could be made earlier in the season and kept to a later date. This would attract hockey schools and training camps. Also the ODHA playdowns that are usually held in arenas with better facilities. Summer sports such as lacrosse and ball hockey could be resumed here.

A heated lobby would be popular, where the public could watch ice activities in comfort. A showcase could be set up in the lobby or foyer and maybe a (Glengarry Hall of Fame) etc.

The arena should provide seating for some 700 to 800 people with ample standing room. Sufficient washrooms, dressing rooms, referee room and first aid room should also be planned.

Sports Slants . . .

The News Cup play last week was the best competition ever for this trophy. The Glens appeared to have an edge in conditioning over their older opponents, the Glen Nevis squad . . . Barry MacDonald and his Midget hockey team were in Ottawa on Saturday to compete in the ODHA playdowns. One car with six of his players had difficulty locating the Glen Cairn arena, arriving too late to help their teammates. With seven players they lost to Hawkesbury 8 to 2 . . . We had just taken our golf gear out of the moth balls when last week's snow storm hit. The snow and water will delay the golf season opening by a couple of weeks . . . The Peewees had a surprisingly large following in Lake Placid despite the worst storm of the year. . . . Men's Broomball League banquet at Glen Robertson Parish Hall, Saturday night.

Peewees return from Placid with second place trophy

"We want the pipes," rang through the Lake Placid arena on Sunday as the Alexandria entry reached the finals in the Peewee hockey tournament.

The local entry had braved the bitter storm on Thursday to travel the 110 miles but after their four hour drive they were still in shape to win their first game over Scituate, Mass., 3-2. Gilles Depratto got two goals, Kieran McCormick the other.

They won their second game on Friday against Hartford, 3-1, and Depratto counted for two goals with Andre Lortie scoring the third.

Ron Allison and Dale Boisvenue scored for their team and Keith Malkin earned a shut-out to defeat Alta Vista 2-0 and qualify for the big finals on Sunday. However, they came out on the losing end of a 1-0 score with Warwick, Rhode Island, in the final game and wound up with the second place trophy.

It was a very colorful affair, relates Cameron McCormick, the team manager, with pipers Billy Allison, Bruce Malkin, Colleen and Frances McCormick leading the Alexandria team out to play each time. Ron Allison (Jr.) was also out in front on the drums.

"It was just like the Olympics," relates Cameron, on Saturday night all the teams lined up and paraded around the ice behind the American and Canadian flags and the young pipers led the way. The crowd was very impressed with the members of our band and kept calling for more. Mrs. Howard Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Alastair MacKenzie also gave a little exhibition of dance steps to the music that added a little more flavor.

Wayne Crack and Cameron McCormick shared the coaching and players were: Keith Malkin, Marc Titley, Grant Crack, Dale Boisvenue, Grant Oke, Jed Barker, Ron Allison, Kieran McCormick, Frankie Morris, Gilles Depratto, Andre Lortie, Marc Bellefeuille, James Villeneuve, Carl Campbell and Billy Allison.

There were 12 Peewee teams in the tournament, chosen from 75 entries. There were 38 teams altogether entered which meant that about 760 players, coaches and managers were on hand as well as about 2,500 supporters. Ten years ago the Alexandria Peewees took home the championship.

To compete in ODHA final

The Alexandria Atoms will meet Arnprior in Richmond on Saturday for the championship in the ODHA playdowns.

They defeated Prescott 9-1 in Char-Lan arena last Saturday and earned a bye into the finals.

Game time is 1:30 pm and the boys are looking for lots of fan support for the "biggie."

They are currently competing with Long Sault for the SD&G Cup.

Alex Campbell died Cornwall

Friends and relatives were shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Alex Campbell of 215 Fifth Street East, Cornwall, on Wednesday morning, March 19th.

The deceased was the elder son of the late Duncan A. Campbell and his wife, Isabella McNaughton, and was born at Dominionville, August 29, 1894. He is survived by one brother, Glen Campbell of Toronto, and one sister, Mrs. William G. MacLeod (Grace) of Maxville.

For many years, prior to moving to Cornwall, Alex resided on the family farm at Dominionville and was recognized as a very progressive and successful farmer. His wife, the former Mae MacDonell of Apple Hill, predeceased him in 1956. Alex was a keen follower of sports, particularly in his younger days of lacrosse and soccer in which he was an active participant. He was a member of the Whitham Lawn Bowling Club and the Cornwall Curling Club. In 1970 he was awarded a trophy as the "Curler of the Year" at the Cornwall Sportsmen's annual award dinner. During his life, Alex was not only identified with the work of the Baptist Church but also with every movement that had as its object the betterment of the community.

The funeral service was held on Saturday, March 22, at the chapel of McArthur Bros. and MacNeil Ltd. and was conducted by Rev. Douglas Kinsman of First Baptist Church. A Masonic service was conducted at the funeral home on Friday evening by members of Maxville Lodge No. 418, of which Alex had been a member since 1917. Members of the Cornwall Curling Club also attended at an earlier hour that evening.

Relatives attending the funeral from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Glen Campbell and Mrs. Ian Metcalfe of Toronto, Mrs. Jean Marcellus of Brockville, and Norman Morrison of Minneapolis.

Pallbearers were Frank Cserhalmi, Bernard Fraser, Charles MacDonell, A. R. Rafuse, Wm. M. Raeside, and Harry Moffat.

Spring interment will be at Maxville Cemetery.

Vankleek Hill rink won business girls' bonspiel here

Last week's storm failed to stop plans for the Business Girls' bonspiel at Alexandria Curling Club, Saturday, though road conditions did force three outside rinks to cancel. Alexandria rinks filled in and one of them, skipped by Jeannette Graham won the one-game honors.

Joy Oswald's rink from Vankleek Hill was two-game winner with Amy Ward's Lancaster rink as runner-up. Another Lancaster entry skipped by Eileen MacLennan was one-game runner-up.

Ethel MacFarlane's rink from Valleyfield, won the Macdonell trophy in play held here March 19th. Other ladies' rinks were from Cornwall, Lancaster, Maxville, Pointe Claire, Hudson, Legion and Lorraine.

This weekend the annual French-Irish-Scotch games will be a mixed affair and one week later the closing play will be a Fondue bonspiel and supper.

Curlers honored at St. Hubert

A couple of veteran campaigners, who have curled in almost every situation imaginable over the years, were honored recently at the Canadian Forces Base Curling Club in St. Hubert, Que.

Russ Smith, a charter member of the club, and John Sandilands, a long time and still active curler, were made honorary life members of the club. It was the first time the club had bestowed such an honor on any member.

John Sandilands, retired from the RCAF and a native of Williamstown, is a past president of the club and still an active member.

Upon leaving the forces, he became principal of the Combined High School in St. Hubert.

Co-incidentally, Smith and Sandilands curled as members of the same rink for several years.

GMH won curling trophy

The Glengarry Memorial Hospital Curling team won the Inter-Hospital Championship in Cornwall last weekend. This is the third straight year they have taken home the trophy.

The winning team were: Dr. Jean Claude Nadeau, skip, Mrs. Duncan Macdonell, Mrs. Jack Trudel and Gaetan Ravary.

The runners-up were Doug and Carol Baxter, Marian Armstrong and Les McKinnon.

Teams were entered from Cornwall General, Hotel Dieu, Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge and Winchester Memorial.

The team skipped by Dr. Cox of Glen-Stor-Dun was winner of the B event.

NFU workshop set for tonight

At the National Farmers Union District 1, Region 3, board meeting on April 1st, Gilbert Desjardin, Junior Director, informed the board that this year's youth exchange program was to begin with a seminar in Toronto, April 4th-6th. Five young people were scheduled to attend from District 1. The youth exchange is open to all rural youths between the ages of 14-25 at an approximate cost of $350 for each participant.

The district board decided to make a presentation to the Federal Beef Marketing Inquiry in June. Local presidents are to collect the ideas of their members on the subject so they can be included in the brief.

It was decided that each local could embark on collective bargaining programs for baler twine and atrazine if their members so desired, but that this would not be done on a district level.

Yvonne Sauve and Joe O'Neill were picked to represent the district at a Seminar to investigate the total food industry, sponsored by the Ontario Anti-Poverty Coalition organization at Hamilton April 4th and 5th.

At the district convention in February, the farmers present requested that a policy workshop be held, so it was decided to invite Nelson Coyle, National Director of Education for the NFU, to conduct such a workshop on April 10th in the Department of Agriculture Board Room from 10:30 am to 4 pm, with lunch provided by local 326.

Group of citizens to help in industrial development field

In an attempt to gather up to date information on what direction efforts in the field of industrial development should take in Alexandria, Councillor Archie McDougall has had each member of council name two citizens who may be able to contribute to the study.

He hopes to organize a seminar in May on the subject. It would be attended by members of town council, the citizen representatives, citizens and town employees with special information and consultants from various government departments.

"The basic idea is to have a reference group of townspeople, from all walks of life, and others who are concerned with industrialization, gather with consultants to find out what it is all about," he pointed out in his submission of citizens' names to council at last week's meeting.

Several weeks ago Mr. McDougall asked each member of council to submit two names of persons thought to have the qualities necessary to properly represent all parts of the community, to "ensure a mosaic of representation."

He hopes the industrial development seminar can be held in the early part of May to "correct our lack of information and to give us all some basis for thought and discussion."

Richard Duff of Cornwall was remanded and will appear on May 5th for a plea.

One of Mr. Hilliard's tasks will be to work closely with church organizations in the field to see whether improvements can be made in the area of food aid distribution. He will also look at unique food aid situations where Ontario itself may be able to supply Ontario grown commodities to specific countries, such as the recent gift of white beans to Africa.

Mr. Hilliard will also assess whether the Ontario Agricultural College and Ontario Veterinary College specialists working in cooperation with the Ministry of Agriculture and Food in Third World countries have been effective and whether this program should be stepped up by the provincial government.

In announcing the appointment of Mr. Hilliard, who will retain the rank and status of a deputy minister during his assignment, Mr. Davis said the government had been approached originally by churches of Ontario

WITH HAND AND HEAD—Each sense that can be used in learning helps in memorization, and one of the methods used in the primary grades to help learn the sounds is to have the child learn a manual expression for each sound as well. We visited Ecole Carriere in Glen Robertson where Mrs. Brian Sherratt was teaching her class and copied a few of the expressions.

Pledge vows at Maxville

HYDE—MacKINNON

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Maxville, was the scene of a lovely Spring wedding on March 22nd, when Shirley Joan MacKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex R. MacKinnon of Maxville, became the bride of David Howard Hyde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hyde of Ottawa.

Dr. I. D. MacIver of Maxville, and Rev. Wallace MacKinnon, Ingleside, uncle of the bride, officiated at the ceremony and Mrs. Helen MacIver was organist.

Arrangements of white gladioli, large yellow mums and yellow daffodils decorated the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peau-de-soie styled with an empire waistline, high collar and long sleeves. The bodice, hemline and train were trimmed with lace. Her short illusion veil was also edged in lace and fell from a white satin and lace pillbox headpiece. She carried a small bouquet of yellow roses and white stephanotis.

Her attendants were Miss Susan Roche, Ottawa, as maid of honr, Miss Margaret Magwood, Ottawa, and Mrs. Heather McIntosh, Ottawa, as bridesmaids. They wore identical long gowns of Nile green, styled with a high gathered neckline, empire waistline and separate long-sleeved jackets. They carried small bouquets of yellow roses, yellow carnations and white stephanotis.

James Cybulski of Ottawa, attended the groom as bestman and the ushers were Thomas Cybulski of Ottawa, and Evan McIntosh, Ottawa.

Following the reception in the Maxville Community Hall the newlywed couple left for a honeymoon trip to Florida. For travelling the bride chose a light blue knit pant suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyde will be residing in Ottawa.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

On the fence before it is built ?

Members of town council with whom we have spoken on the subject don't seem to favor a fence around our park and yet we see no evidence of debate on the subject in the minutes of council meetings. It would seem some members are sitting on the fence even before it is built.

If they're bound to fence people out of our park one would think that the Park and Wreck committee would not be content with a common or garden type of fence. Given the chairman's constructive ideas one would suppose he'd come up with plans for building something more imaginative than a fence. How about a miniature version of the Great Wall of China, J. P.? That would be a big tourist attraction, even if the tourists weren't allowed to breach it and enjoy a day in the park.

Even more effective at keeping people off their park might be a fortress wall, complete with water-filled moat, gun turrets, embrasures, portcullis and all. There would be no trouble getting water from the lake to fill the moat and it would be crossed only by a drawbridge or two, let down over the moat on July 1st when the public would be welcome to come to the park and pay their way in.

There's a foolproof idea for saving the park's picnic tables, J. P. If they had to carry the loot across a moat, those itchy-fingered table hoppers might decide not to steal them.

If a moat and wall effect costs more than the service clubs can afford, J. P., people might more cheaply be discouraged from approaching the park by staking out some hungry dogs at intervals. Or snarling lions might be more appropriate since it's the Lions Club that wants that fence for July 1st.

Looking back over the past decade it is sad to see how ill-served has been our park by successive park and recreation committees. They have been content to supply a swim program and promote the playground while remaining totally uninterested in park improvement. Recent committees have been more intent on despoiling the park.

Perhaps a park committee completely divorced from recreation and petty politicians is the answer.

Money down the tube

The Canadian postal service, steadily deteriorating in efficiency for the past ten years, is apparently in for another decade of trouble—and the average Canadian citizen along with it. The present postmaster-general, Bryce Mackasey, is possibly the best choice in the federal cabinet to handle the increasingly sticky problems of the post office, but even his know-how with labor groups and his native toughness of character are going to be tried to the limit, suggests an editorial in the Wingham Advance-Times.

The minister has already suspended 40 Montreal post-office workers because they simply weren't working when they were on the job. The suspensions have been answered by strikes and warnings from fellow-workers and Mackasey has threatened to leave the Montreal post office closed "for months if necessary".

Indoor postal workers are now talking of a strike within a few weeks unless demands for a 71 per cent increase (yes, that's right) are met.

In the meantime private courier services are springing up all over the place. Hundreds of business firms throughout the country are warning their customers not to trust the mails—and while all this goes on the postal workers attempt to talk the public into a boycott of the postal code because they believe they can throttle progress in the form of automation.

Why in thunder is the post office spending well over a million dollars this year on a television advertising campaign to convince the public that Canada has a good postal service? There are a lot of us who know that is not true and Mr. Mackasey's statement that the Canada PO is the third best in the world doesn't get the letters through the Toronto terminal any faster.

The failures in the postal system are human ones. They are not caused by the rapid increase in the volume of mail to be handled. When willing and co-operative staff is available our postal system can work wonders. If you doubt that, you were never a member of the active armed forces. Many a Canadian soldier marvelled at the prompt delivery of letters and parcels from home when he was lying in a wet foxhole in the flats of Holland. It can be done by the Army!

Narrowing the control of industry

Much of it already in the hands of foreign owners, Canadian industry will suffer even more concentrated control if two of the Canadian-owned giants are merged. Power Corporation of Montreal, is attempting a take-over of Argus Corporation of Toronto. They are two of Canada's most powerful holding companies and Power Corporation's bid poses for the federal government a threat to its oft-enunciated competition policy.

How far can the increasingly narrow control of Canadian-owned industry be allowed to go, Ottawa should be asking itself?

Almost all the petroleum production, all automobile manufacturing except some parts companies, more than half of general manufacturing, very large segments of the resource industries are foreign-owned. The part of the economy that is Canadian controlled includes three giant investment or holding companies, each running great industrial and commercial empires. These are Canadian Pacific, Power Corporation and Argus. If the latter two effect a merger, Power Corporation and Canadian Pacific would between them control an overwhelming amount of the Canadian economy not already foreign-owned.

The Trudeau government has talked endlessly about competition, made various false starts and done next to nothing about the problem. The power being sought by Power Corporation should trigger some action at Ottawa.

Let's bring back learning

There is a decided swing among both teachers and parents to return to at least a few compulsory subjects, an area representative of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation reports. And is it not high time high school teachers were taking cognizance of the vacuum in education since compulsory subjects were abolished by the ministry.

Teachers must see at first hand the ill effects of over-permissiveness that lets the student choose his own courses. Results of a test among three thousand senior year high school students across Canada found almost two-thirds of them failing the "passing" mark of 50 per cent.

Here are some results: 63 per cent could not name any three of Canada's prime ministers since the Second World War; 61 per cent were unable to name the BNA Act as Canada's constitution; 66 per cent could not name the Canadian awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957.

Over 60 per cent could not list Canada's 10 provinces in geographical order, east to west. Fifty-nine per cent could not say into which ocean the Mackenzie River flows. The majority could not name the provinces or territories in which the Annapolis Valley, Athabaska River, Mackenzie River or Klondike are located.

There were equally sad results in other fields of knowledge. Is it not time to demand that the Ontario Ministry of Education restore some of the studies it has allowed students to flout to their own disadvantage?

Pre-fight hokum

(The Prescott Journal)

Like the build-up for a heavyweight title bout, the political hacks are pouring out reams of copy toting the devastating punching power of Robert Nixon and the Ontario Liberals, predicting an early-round knockout over title holder Bill Davis in this year's provincial election.

We just can't see Rural Robert "float like a butterfly and sting like a bee" this year when, for five years or more, he has been floating like a contented mother hen and kicking with all the force of an Easter bunny.

With an election just a few months away, the Ontario Liberals still do not have a policy, or any hint of one. They have failed as yet to name any new, vigorous and talented candidates, and they hardly have enough good material in the Provincial Legislature at the moment to make up a strong cabinet.

Mr. Nixon cannot wait for the Ontario electorate to win his campaign for him. He has to come down from the mow and start training in the cities and suburbs and rural pockets of the province to get ready for his title bout. Right now we call the Conservatives, NDP and Liberals one-two-three in the approaching Ontario election.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

THE DRUG OF CHOICE
Dalkeith, Ont.,
April 7th, 1975

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

April 20th to 26th has been designated as Youth Temperance Week throughout Canada.

For some time now we have been told by the news media of the increase in alcohol consumption especially in the under 16 age group. CBC's Peter Gzowski said, "Fourteen-year-olds are talking about their drinking like eighteen-year-olds were a few years ago." Dr. Martin Wolfish, chief of adolescent services, Hospital for Sick Children, said he was genuinely alarmed at the number of intoxicated youngsters coming in for treatment, "Alcohol not LSD or 'speed' is the drug of choice in the new group of experimenters" he said.

The testimony of Ken Lowe, Director of Education in Calgary was similar, "It is regular party use in the high school crowd," was his comment. A report of drug use in Toronto schools conducted by the Addiction Research Foundation gave the alarming information that "There are now 71% of students in Grades 7 to 13 who are consuming alcohol. Much of the increase in the use of alcohol can be attributed to the lowering of the drinking age in Ontario." It should be no surprise after reading those reports (given a couple of years ago by the way) to hear now from many sources of the almost epidemic proportions of alcoholism in the thirteen to sixteen year age group.

Youth Temperance Week is an opportunity for parents, churches, schools and youth groups of all kinds to get a warning message to our young people before it is too late.

It is no use saying that it is the abuse not the use of alcohol that causes the harm. Alcohol is a mind-altering drug, whether taken in beer, wine or other spirits and it is the alcohol in the beverage that causes the abuse for it is a drug that begins to loosen the controls from the very first drink.

We would suggest the use of all available information on this drug,—literature, films, posters, etc. I have on hand many posters made by students from Laggan Public School, Laurier-Carriere Separate School and Lancaster Public School, also a limited

They'll Do It Every Time

WITH OUR RAMBLING REPORTER

by Ed.

A NAME TO CHILL

Winter was refusing to release its grip on the Glengarry countryside last Thursday as the worst storm of the 1975 winter dumped more than a foot of heavy, drifting snow on town and county. Traffic was paralyzed for more than a day, business ground to a standstill and our dreams of an early return to the golf fairways suffered a setback.

It was in that context that we read the news release on the new Ontario lottery and we took an instant dislike to the name that has been coined for the new lotteries that will be held twice monthly.

"Wintario" is intended to put across the message that one can win in Ontario, no doubt; but that blizzard of snow outside our window focussed our mind on the first two syllables. Who wants to be reminded of winter all through the year, we were thinking? That name of the lottery could discourage a lot of would-be buyers of tickets.

Course it might have another effect. The name could prove a reminder that Ontario's winters are long and about the only way of escaping them is to win a top prize in the lottery and head for Florida.

A born sucker, us. We'll be a regular buyer of instant riches but not because of that name, Wintario.

But if we happen to win big in Wintario.
You may hear us humming an aria.

HAPPY HE DIED

We'd already glanced at the syndicated report of a Briton who laughed himself to death watching TV. But we hadn't bothered to read it through until Rod Fletcher of Novi, Michigan, forwarded us a clipping.

We hadn't realized it was a Scottish comedian fighting his bagpipes in a take-off on the martial art of kung fu that had proved so hilarious a fellow Scot had laughed until he died.

We can see the possibilities though. The chanter, the bag and the drones would lend themselves to some funny situations in a simulation of kung fu fighting. The squeals and groans the bag could produce on order probably would be added incentive to gut-jerking laughter.

Maybe we'd laugh ourself to death, too, if a comedian on the scale of Hugh Dan MacCuaig came up with his version of a fight with the pipes.

We can understand a Scotsman laughing himself to death at the bagpipes used in a comedy situation, even though he is thrilled to the core by pipe band music. It's a measure of the race that they can laugh at jokes on themselves.

What doesn't ring true in that news report, Rod, is Wife Nessie's assertion that she would write and thank the creators of the comedy program "for making Alex's last minutes so happy."

Nessie comes up like the Loch Ness monster.

Laugh at the pipes if you will, but they're the kind of windbag that'll produce the Scottish soldier.

OVERPAID

Inflation will never be contained if unions are allowed to demand and get 30 to 50 per cent increases year after year. That thought was prompted by our reading that some 400 plumbers in London, Ont., have ratified a new contract agreement that gives them a 30 per cent wage increase.

Those members of Local 593, United Association of Plumbers and Pipefitters, will be getting $12.22 an hour when their new two-year contract expires. That's almost $100 a day before overtime and if that isn't inflationary it must seem so to anyone planning to build. No wonder new housing is almost at a standstill; no wonder the federal government has to subsidize new plant construction.

Not only are these London plumbers being overpaid. Their

GLEN SANDFIELD

Last Wednesday at noon, the ladies of the UCW invited area residents to a Good Neighbor Luncheon followed by a Bake Sale at Glen Sandfield Hall. While some were unable to attend, there were 50 people there. The sun was shining, there was a light breeze and the hall, was most attractively decorated by Mrs. Margo MacRae, with help from Lois Bickerstaff, Wendy Chapman and Mamie and Keith MacRae and some of the ladies. It was very gay and festive. The motif was Easter and Springtime, with Spring flower table centres on green doilies, with fluffy chicks in a soft nest.

Mrs. MacRae welcomed the guests and had all seated in their places. Grace was sung by everybody in unison. The hot meal was then served by two ladies seated at each table. On entering the hall each person was presented with a flower. It was a paper cutout one for identification, each one numbered. The ladies got a yellow daffodil, the gentlemen a red tulip. They were to find the corresponding number for a dinner partner. So breaking up married couples (just for lunch, however) and getting everyone to mingle. It worked beautifully, getting new neighbors involved in conversation with each other and retired folk with younger people. There was no formal program, as such. Just a sing song, led by Mrs. Chapman with Mrs. A. MacMillan at the piano. When we sang but three verses of "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee," there was an outcry of protest, saying it was going so well, and to sing the last verse which they proceeded to do with such volume and enthusiasm that a passer by would have taken it for a crowd of 100. Also sung were "You Are My Sunshine" and "Vive la Compagnie." O Canada followed. Mr. Broomhall thanked the ladies for a grand time and a lovely afternoon. It is very gratifying to have one's efforts succeed so well. Thanks to the ladies who donated to the Bake Sale and all the ladies who contributed food, time and just plain hard work. But it was worth it.

We're glad everyone had a good time, maybe we can do it again.

A short informal business meeting of the UCW was held after the guests had left. Mrs. Grace MacLennan, president, presided and opened with a prayer. Certain courses on Needlework for our group were discussed. Some donations for the Organ Fund were turned in. One small group of ladies, turned in a little over $82 talent money. Some others turned in theirs as well. Mrs. A. MacMillan had correspondence to read to us. Mr. Morrison will show slides on his time spent in the Arctic.

It is to be the end of April.

record new take-home pay is certain to set new goals for all workers in construction. Toronto plumbers won't be happy with the $10.41 an hour they now receive; Montreal plumbers are working at $8.41 and due for another 61 cents May 1st.

The London agreement is one of the first to be settled in the Ontario construction industry and there are 250 more to be negotiated before the end of May. By the time all the trades get their bite, building costs will have taken off again.

Sometime soon, Ottawa will have to think seriously of wage controls; or must we adjust to inflation ad infinitum?

If Green Foxtail is your problem, Ekko® should be your herbicide.

Annual grasses, particularly Green Foxtail, are the reasons you need Ekko in a corn-after-corn operation.

Ekko is a safe, economical, one-package herbicide that saves you work while controlling broadleaf weeds and grasses.

Ekko offers the same flexibility of application times you've been accustomed to with AAtrex: pre-plant incorporated, pre-emergence and post-emergence in an oil-water emulsion.

And Ekko is safe to corn and is effective right up to the three-leaf stage of grasses.

Ekko was designed to give season-long control of grasses in continuous corn operations, so only corn can be planted the year following application.

A suggested method of controlling grasses is to plan on two years of corn. Use Ekko the first year and AAtrex,® combined with a short-residual grass herbicide, the second year. Then, your field will be ready for a change of crop in the third year.

Ekko. The convenient, easy-to use, one-package corn herbicide that prevents grass build-up and gives you clean fields right up to harvest.

MacCUAIG—In loving memory of my dear grandmother, Martha MacCuaig, who passed away March 26, 1974.
There is a gift in life we cannot buy
That is very rare and true,
It is the gift of a wonderful grandmother,
Like the one I had with you.
The many things you did for me
In your kind and loving way,
You gave me years of happiness
No one can fake away.
To me you were someone special
God must have thought so too
Nothing could be more beautiful
Than the memories I have of you.
It broke my heart to lose you,
But you didn't go alone
For part of me went with you
The day God called you home.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by granddaughter Margaret, Walter, and great grandchildren. 15-1c

MacCUAIG—In loving memory of a wonderful mother, Martha MacCuaig, who passed away March 26th, 1974.
The pain she bore so patiently
For such a weary while,
She kept her sweetness to the end,
A brave and loving smile
And when God called her to himself
And hushed her heart to sleep
So peaceful was her dear, sweet face,
It seemed a shame to weep,
She left us quietly, her thoughts unknown,
But she left us a memory we are proud to own
So please treasure her Lord in your garden of rest,
For when on earth, she was one of the best.
—Always remembered, daughter Donalda and son-in-law Art,
Vanier City, Ottawa. 15-1c

ROSS—In loving memory of a dear husband, David A. Ross of Moose Creek, who departed this life on April 12, 1968.
On a road that's calm and peaceful,
Guided by God's loving hand
He has gone upon a journey
To a fairer, brighter land
And when the great tomorrow dawns
And all the shadows flee,
I'll meet him over yonder
Just beyond the silver sea.
—Remembered by wife, Mary A. Ross,
Moose Creek, Ont. 15-1p

Where's the fire?

If there's a fire in your town, you'd want a full report on it, wouldn't you? And, when it comes to reporting fires and other local happenings, most people turn to their local newspaper for the news.

Your local newspaper's prime function is to present the news—with strong emphasis on local news.

That's why eight out of ten adults read a newspaper every day. No other news source can match local newspapers for speedy, thorough saturation of a community.

Local newspapers deliver massive coverage to people of all ages. 80% of all men and women read a newspaper every week. And the figures are almost as high for teen-agers—7 out of 10 (ages 12-20) read a newspaper every week.

Where's the fire? Who's the proud new parents? Who got married? All of these, and more, are reported in your local newspaper every week. And who wants to know? You do—with a full report.

Newspapers deliver the local story.

Ministry announces increased student assistance, programs

Ontario will provide about $47 million in direct financial assistance to students in the 1975-76 academic year. Details of student assistance programs, including two new programs, were announced in the Ontario Legislature this week by the Hon. James A. C. Auld, Minister of Colleges and Universities.

The new programs are the Ontario Student Loans Plan, which is intended to help many of the students ineligible for aid from the federal government's Canada Students Loans Plan, and the Ontario Special Bursary Program, which will provide up to $500,000 to help the most needy part-time students.

Mr. Auld also announced that expenditures on the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP) will be increased by approximately 16% to $46.55 million. The allowance under OSAP for students living away from home will be increased to a maximum of $57.50 per week, up 18.5% from a maximum of $48.50 per week in the current year.

ONTARIO STUDENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

OSAP provides assistance to full-time, post-secondary students who are unable to pay the full costs of their education and related expenses. About two out of every five students in Ontario receive financial aid from the program.

Over a normal academic year students eligible for assistance receive the first $800 as a loan under the federal government's Canada Student Loans Plan, which is administered through OSAP in Ontario. Students who qualify for additional assistance receive it from the province in the form of a non-repayable grant.

Mr. Auld said that the $800 loan ceiling would be retained in 1975-76, although federal regulations would permit its being raised as high as $1,800.

Mr. Auld also said that the board and lodging allowance for students receiving aid from OSAP and living away from home will be increased from $32 to $40 per week; the allowance for miscellaneous expenses, which was increased from $9.80 to $11.50 per week in the current year, will remain at $11.50; and local transportation allowances will be increased to $3 and $6 per week, depending how far the student lives from campus. The allowances in the current year are $2.50 and $5. These changes bring total living allowances to $54.50 or $57.50 per week.

Mr. Auld repeated a promise made in November 18 last year that tuition fees in 1975-76 will not be increased.

"These measures, maintaining the current loan ceiling, increasing living allowances and freezing tuition fees, should enable students to enjoy a modestly improved standard of living despite the pressures of inflation," he said.

The Minister also announced other changes to OSAP, as follows:

* the amount students are expected to save from their summer earnings will be increased in proportion to increases in the minimum wage;
* the amount parents are expected to contribute to students' expenses will be based on their actual 1974 earnings rather than their estimated 1975 earnings;
* students will have the option of applying for loan assistance only, rather than loan and grant. This option will enable them to obtain more money, although all of it will eventually have to be repaid.

ONTARIO STUDENT LOANS PLAN

The Ontario Student Loans Plan will benefit people such as part-time students, students taking certain upgrading programs and students who are ineligible for Canada Student Loans because the length or entry requirements of their programs do not meet federal regulations.

The program will provide loans of up to $1,400 over a normal academic year, to a maximum of $4,000. The terms and conditions of the loans are expected to be similar to those of the Canada Student Loans Plan, under which no repayment is required and the loans are interest free until six months after the conclusion of studies.

The new Ontario Special Bursary Program will aid people in serious financial need who may be able to improve their financial situation by taking one or more post-secondary courses.

Applicants to the program must be receiving social assistance, be unemployed or have a low family income.

People eligible for assistance will receive funds to cover the costs of their tuition, other compulsory fees, books and equipment. They may also receive an additional allowance of up to $125 per term to help meet exceptional costs such as baby-sitting, day care or unusual transportation expenses.

The program is based on a successful pilot program of bursaries for part-time students which has been in operation at a limited number of institutions since 1973.

Ontario universities, colleges of applied arts and technology, Ryerson Polytechnical Institute and the Ontario College of Art have been invited to participate in the Ontario Special Bursary Program.

Introducing the new Ontario Lottery

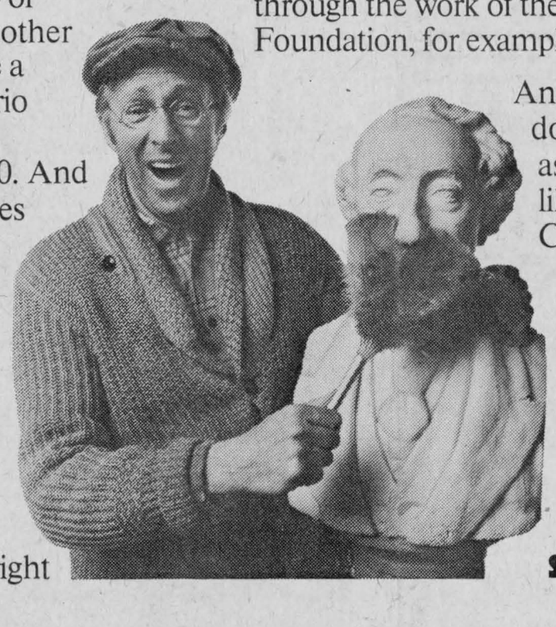
"For a buck a throw, she sure sounds like she's a ring-dang-do of a lottery".

CHARLIE FARQUHARSON
FROM PARRY SOUND

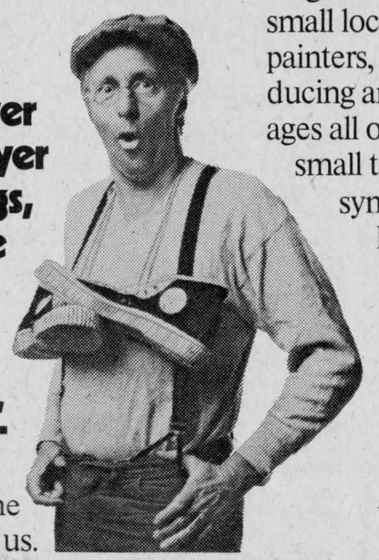
You were never more right, Charlie. We're going to call it Wintario. And, with a new draw every two weeks for a grand prize of $100,000 tax free and up to 1350 other big cash prizes, it's going to make a whole lot of people all over Ontario very happy.

Price of the tickets? Just $1.00. And they'll be almost everywhere. Places like cigar stores, newsstands, gas stations, milk stores, grocery stores, restaurants–that's right, almost anywhere.

But that's just the beginning. Through the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, the millions of dollars raised by the lottery will help support a wide range of activities and facilities right here in Ontario. Things we can all enjoy. So you see, Charlie, with Wintario we're all going to win.



"Support yer sports and yer physical fittings, you say? About the only thing that runs 'round here is my Allis-Chalmers".



Well Charlie, it's the same with most of us. So Wintario will help support big sporting events like the Ontario Summer Games. And small events like building a new ball diamond in your town. And coaching clinics so our kids get the best instruction. There'll be something for everyone, everywhere in Ontario.

And more, Charlie. Wintario will help support hundreds of historical projects across Ontario. Places like Ste. Marie Among the Hurons, Nancy Island Museum and Old Fort William. And preserving our past through the work of the Ontario Heritage Foundation, for example.

And more, Charlie. Lottery dollars will provide huge assistance for groups like the Ontario Arts Council. For visual arts programs like the McMichael Collection in Kleinburg, big art galleries like the Ontario Art Gallery and small local galleries. For grants to local painters, potters and sculptors to continue producing and growing. And for musicians of all ages all over the province, all the way from small town Barbershoppers to big city symphonies. Plus, money to support playhouse theatres, drama societies, modern and ethnic dance troupes. Charlie, they're all important.

"No question, you gotta preserve yer hysterical sights and yer monumental statuatory".

"Say now, reminds me, we'll be needing a new buffoon for the Parry Sound Sympathy Orchestra".

You've got the right idea, Charlie. Now, be sure you get a ticket. First draw is May 15th and tickets go on sale in April. One way or another, we know you're going to win. With Wintario, we all win.

It's our own lottery and we all win

Subsidy program for dairy industry to be indexed

The cost of producing milk and other dairy products for Canada's dinner table is rising so steeply that Ottawa plans to index its subsidy program for the troubled industry.

During the last 12 months, Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan has been forced on four separate occasions to increase dairy producer subsidies and price supports.

Inflation, high feed costs and rising labor bills all are blamed for the dairyman's plight—which becomes the consumer's problem on shopping day and the taxpayer's worry at tax time.

Because a dairy producer can't stop feeding and milking a herd of cows to trim his operating costs, he's particularly susceptible to a downturn in the economy.

As a result, Whelan is preparing to announce a pricing formula which will allow dairy producers' returns to move in lock-step with production costs, up or down.

The cabinet minister plans to announce details of his new indexing formula on April 18 when he addresses the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

The indexing scheme is expected to make it easier for the federal government to compensate dairymen directly for their production cost increases. In the past, agriculture ministers have revised their dairy subsidy levels annually, but the current bout of inflation and recession has forced more frequent adjustments.

The cost of dairy subsidies borne by taxpayers has risen at an alarming rate in recent years, to an estimated $270 million this year from $104.7 million three years ago.

The Trudeau government has used a combination of higher subsidies and price supports to spare consumers, particularly low-income consumers, the full brunt of higher production costs.

The political consequences of a consumer swing away from dairy products and a sudden drop in production have forced the government to walk a narrow line in its subsidy efforts.

As a result, the wealthier taxpayer is paying more for his dairy products than the low-income consumer who is less-well-equipped for sharp price spirals.

Nevertheless, the revised dairy support policy recently announced by Whelan does represent a slight shift away from producer subsidies toward higher consumer price levels.

Ottawa boosted its direct subsidies by about $10 million, leaving the consumer to pay an estimated $90 million more in the form of higher prices for dairy products.

Last year's dairy policy gave producers 27 per cent of their return in subsidy form and 73 per cent from the federally supported market price. This year, the subsidy level will drop to about 24 per cent while the consumer will account for 76 per cent of producer returns.

During the last decade, the dairy business has changed dramatically toward ever-larger operations. Many old dairy farmers have retired and production of industrial and fluid milk has declined.

In 1966, there were an estimated 180,000 dairy farmers in Canada. The Canadian Dairy Commission, the Crown agency which runs the dairy support program, now estimates there are 90,000 producers, all but 5,000 of whom receive subsidies.

Last year, producers' ranks continued to shrink, although not as rapidly as in previous years. About 9,000 producers dropped out, and about 6,000 newcomers replaced them.

Farm cash receipts from milk and cream sales rose about 29 per cent last year, but the industry's production costs wiped out much of this gain.

Plan Holstein trip to Spain

The Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada is promoting a special tour to Spain, May 27 to June 5, to coincide with a very large livestock show being held in Madrid. The tour promises to be of special interest to those Holstein Breeders who have shipped cattle to Spain in recent years, as they will have an opportunity to see two herds that have a large number of Canadian cattle. It should be of general interest to all livestock farmers, since it will give them a chance to inspect the best livestock in Spain.

The Madrid Fair, which attracts thousands of buyers and sellers, can be called "The Royal Winter Fair of Spain." It is ranked as one of the best and largest livestock expositions in Europe. The fair is further highlighted this year since it is their 25th anniversary.

The tour, beginning the evening of May 27 at the Toronto International Airport, features seven full days of activity. Visits have been arranged to the Priegola and Traversia Farms which feature hundreds of imported Canadian Holstein cattle.

Their milk production is similar to that of cattle housed under Canadian conditions, and one animal was classified "Excellent" for type on a recent classification service provided by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

The tour cost, including transportation, seven nights accommodation, and sight-seeing services is only $550. (Canadian). For those wishing more information or making a confirmation, contact the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, Box 610, Brantford, Ontario N3T 5R4.

To prevent poorly filled corn cobs

The appearance of poorly filled cobs increased drastically in the 1974 season. Finding out how to prevent the same thing from happening in 1975 'depends entirely on pinning down the cause,' says Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food soils and crops specialist, H. C. Wright.

A shortage of any of the vital nutrients—nitrogen, phosphorus, potash—will affect the filling out of the ear but determining which nutrient is short in difficult. 'If a farmer can remember what the plant leaves looked like in September; this together with the shape of the ear, makes the problem easier to pinpoint,' says Mr. Wright. 'However, a far better idea is to talk to the local agricultural representative or soils and crops specialist, outlining field practices and the results of any recent soil tests.' If there's a suspicion of a nutrient deficiency, a soil sample should be taken.

Water is equally important. Lack of it causes poorly filled ears, either because nutrients were not carried up to the plant, or because pollination was interfered with. In most cases we cannot irrigate corn acreages, but the water demand can be reduced somewhat by reducing the number of plants per acre. Where experience shows that drought can happen fairly regularly, such as on land with gravelly or sandy subsoils, Mr. Wright recommends a maximum of 18,000 plants per acre.

In some fields, the problem is root damage and poor uptake. Damage by corn rootworm larvae feeding on the roots in evident if the corn was goose-necked. The range for rootworm is normally considered to be in southwestern Ontario, 'but there are definitely no rootworm problems east of Toronto's Yonge Street.' Mr. Wright says

Adult corn root worm beetles feed on the silks and, if present in sufficient numbers, can intervene with pollination. If the silks are clipped off before pollination, barren ears can result.

Another problem causing insect in the aphid. Occasional overpopulations feed on the tassels and can reduce pollination if the pollen falls off before the ears are pollinated. There is no practical control method for these pests. However, because aphids were present in 1974 does not mean they will be an important factor this year; there is no relationship between continuous corn and aphid numbers. However, neither adult corn rootworm beetles nor aphids is likely to cause as many problems as the first three factors. Good management plays an important part in reducing, controlling and eliminating poorly filled ears. If you had problems in 1974, don't just hope they'll go away. Do something about them.

Choose hybrid seed corn carefully

Learn from last year's experience and make this year's corn crop a success. "Remember—there is no point in planting a late-maturing corn hybrid late in the season," warns R. C. Jenkinson, agronomist at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology. "Last year, farmers who did this were thwarted by the cool season and an early frost. Their yields were low and their corn was wet and poorly filled."

Using the 1975 report on the Ontario Hybrid Corn Performance Trials, select hybrids with heat unit ratings equal to or less than the heat units available on your farm, advises Mr. Jenkinson. For information on the 1975 report, contact your county or district Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office or see a corn dealer.

Low stalk breakage and high yield are the other characteristics to expect from the corn hybrid you choose. To ensure low stalk breakage, aim for a final population of 18,000 to 20,000 plants an acre. Excessively high populations lead to increased stalk breakage, an increase in the number of barren plants, lower yields and higher seed costs.

Recommendations from road hearing will be made to council

South Branch Road expropriation hearing concluded last week. Chairman Ken Bergeron said his recommendations will be made to United Counties council in about three weeks.

Duncan MacDonald, lawyer for South Branch residents, in final arguments pleaded for a compromise between esthetics and the engineering aspects of the road.

The case has become a "confrontation between engineers who want . . . strict standards . . . and individuals who own land and who drive and admire the beauty and wish to retain the esthetic value."

Barry Wilson, lawyer for United Counties, contended the expropriation is "fair, sound and reasonable" and is aimed at improving the roads system of the counties.

He pointed out that engineering evidence has not been disputed. He said the project would try to retain the quality of the road but eliminate some of the hazards.

But he insisted the expropriation is trying to "strike a balance" between public and private interests. He said feelings are going to be ruffled no matter what the decision.

Mr. MacDonald said no one is against safety or improving the road. "It would be nonsense to take that stand," he said.

He suggested that the public and the private interest are difficult to separate in the case of South Branch because of the historic value of the road.

The lawyer said the engineers' arguments for a 100-foot road allowance rather than an 86-foot right of way as the residents want are questionable.

He said there has been no recent traffic count on the 2.5 mile stretch to Glenbrook Road and Kinloch Side Road that engineers want to begin work on this summer and where expropriations notice has been served.

He contended the South Branch is not a heavily travelled main road that requires the high standards the engineers are seeking.

Final witnesses favoring the project were heard the previous afternoon.

Roch Desjardins, a school bus operator along the road, urged that the project be allowed to remove "blind spots" that are a danger to school children.

He said oncoming traffic often has a hard time stopping when it encounters a school bus taking on or discharging children because the bus is hidden by hills and curves.

This creates an unnecessary hazard, he maintained.

He also said the narrow, twisting nature of the road causes traffic to build up behind a school bus and impatient drivers try to pass when the bus is stopped.

A farmer living along South Branch testified at least an 86-foot road allowance is needed for moving farm machinery without causing some hazard.

New Ontario road map now available

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications latest official Ontario road map is now available. And it embodies several design changes and a restructuring of part of the face to make it more easy to follow as a guide for the travelling public.

The mileage triangle, showing distances between the larger cities and towns in the province, has been given a new and more readable look. Individual city enlargements have been more accurately placed to present a more reconizable picture of trans urban highway routes.

A major innovation is the inclusion of the list of CBC low power radio transmitters spotted in the northeastern and north western regions of the province.

These stations, with an average range of 15 miles, are designed to bring CBC programs to specific localities not reached by other radio stations. Programming includes road and weather information provided by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

Copies of the map may be obtained, free of charge, from the Ontario Government Bookstore, 880 Bay Street, Toronto; the Map Office, Ministry of Transportation and Communications, Downsview, and all Ministry offices throughout the province; the Ministry and Tourism, Parliament Buildings, Toronto; Ontario Government Tourist Reception Centres at border crossing points; and Service Centres on Highways 400 and 401 (the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway).

STILL A LOT OF MELTING TO DO—While Marc Chenier looks as though he is standing atop the car, he is actually standing on the snowbank on Bishop St. alongside St. Finnan's graveyard. The passing car gives an idea of the height of our snow in this second week of April.

Bill to help eradicate refuse

Arthur Mein, Minister of Revenue, announced in a statement in the legislature Monday, March 24, that amendments have been made to the regulations under the retail sales tax act. The amendments extend the exemption from retail sales tax on the deposit paid on the return of re-usable containers to encourage its return.

Mr. Meen stated that, prior to this time, 'an exemption from retail sales tax applied most commonly to re-usable glass containers for beer and soft drinks. The amended regulation will extend the exemption to include deposits on any container such as cans for beer, soft drinks and other products, to encourage their return.

'The ministry of the environment has recently made a determined effort to encourage the development of a system of refunds for all containers used by the soft drink industry,' Mr. Meen added. 'I hope our new regulation will substantially help that Ministry's efforts to eradicate litter of this kind.'

Regulation 213-75 will be published in the Ontario Gazette Saturday, April 12, 1975.

Direct seeding of forages

John E. Madill, Agronomist
Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology

With low cereal yields and poor establishments of forages increasing numbers of Eastern Ontario farmers are going in for direct seeded forages. Not only are establishments more successful, but often a forage crop may be taken during the same season. The practice is particularly useful where forages have winter-killed or faster establishment is needed.

If forage yield is to compensate for lack of straw and grain production the most important factor is early seeding. Early spring seeding will allow sufficient time for growth before the critical fall period. In addition good early development in the spring will allow deep penetration of root systems to form before chances of summer drought periods. Dry weather will not kill forages once established but yield will be low if the plants are not well developed.

In most cases the greatest hazard to direct seeding is competition from weeds. There is little point in removing the competition from a companion crop and substituting it for weed competition. Undesirable grasses such as quackgrass must be removed prior to direct seeding a grass-legume mixture. Even if you intend to have a pure stand of legume it is easier to clean out the grasses before seeding the new forage. Broadleaf weeds are much easier to control in new seeding than in an established stand. Subsequent development and winter stresses tend to make broadleaf weeds less susceptible to herbicides. If you do not control weeds you will obtain better forage establishment under a lightly seeded grain crop with a low level of nitrogen.

Direct seeding has proven to be most successful with birdsfoot trefoil which lacks the seedling vigor to compete with other plants. Weeds in the mature stand of trefoil are generally less troublesome if it was seeded alone rather than with grain. The stand is much weaker following a grain crop providing greater opportunity for weeds to establish.

Direct seeded trefoil will normally yield only one cut during the year of establishment, however better production may be expected during the next one or two years.

Show cushions and quilts

Dunvegan WI met March 27th in the hall. The President, Mrs. Mack MacRae, was in the chair. Fifteen members answered the roll call "Name a phase of cultural affairs."

The motto "A woman who wants to do something finds a way—the other finds an excuse," was commented on by Mrs. Neil MacRae.

Mrs. Dan MacRae, a leader of Quilts Training Course, had a showing of cushions made during the course.

Mrs. Leslie MacKinnon reported on the executive meeting of Glengarry WI, held in Alexandria. Plans were made for the District Annual to be held in Dunvegan, May 21st. Have your annual reports ready for the April meeting.

Mrs. Ian MacLeod had the topic "Education and Cultural Activities." Mrs. Leslie Clark outlined the school curriculum and gave much food for thought. Children of today are not as fit as they were ten years ago. So much of our culture goes to our southern neighbors. Why? Each child has a different ability.

Next euchre party will be held on April 14th.

Heads trees for Canada project

Jay Sookman of Cornwall has accepted the responsibility for organizing Cornwall District "Trees for Canada" project in 1975. In announcing the appointment, Ken Taylor, president, stated "that Mr. Sookman has already got the project under way and has been assured of the full support of the Council."

Mr. Sookman expressed the hope that "all citizens of Cornwall and area will support the Scouts in this project." Mr. Sookman welcomed Alexandria and Maxville who will be participating for the first time this year. "I am confident that the community will back the Scouts in their "Trees for Canada" project."

Charlottenburgh defers decision on proposed management study

Charlottenburgh Township council has again deferred a decision on having a consulting firm do a management study of township operations.

Council decided last Tuesday to wait until the auditors complete their work later this week. Councillor Ewen MacDonald suggested the move two weeks ago

Council noted there is little chance the study will show the township office overstaffed.

The township office is the main target of the proposed study which is to evaluate the efficiency of all township operations. "Then why are we spending $8,000 to tell ourselves we're understaffed," Mr. MacDonald said in exasperation.

Council has made three attempts to arrive at a decision on whether or not to have P. S. Ross and Partners conduct the study which would take about 11 weeks.

Reg Gagne, township clerk, said the auditors report is expected within the next week or so. Earlier Mr. Gagne became upset with what he felt were insinuations that the proposed study is directed at him.

He pointed out that in the eight years since he became clerk-treasurer the township has moved from a deficit position to a surplus.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois said the study is not aimed at any individuals and that Mr. Gagne has done a good job for the township. However, he added, elected representatives have had something to do with bringing the township to where it is today.

Deputy Reeve Roger Lefebvre and Councillor Gerry Dicaire are the strongest advocates of having the study done, while Reeve Gadbois also leans towards it to determine if the operation could be improved.

Councillor Morgan Major was vehemently opposed to the proposed study, saying council should be able to evaluate township efficiency as they propose to pay the consultants for.

"I want to go down on record as not in favor of this," he said.

Mr. Lefebvre insisted, however, that township ratepayers have been harping for years that the office is overstaffed and the study would satisfy them this is not the case.
