MASTER SHOWMAN—No matter their political stripe, most Canadians agree that Liberal MP Jean Chretien is one of the country's most entertaining speakers. Mr. Chretien was in Alexandria Monday evening to lend his support to SD&G Liberal candidate Bill Dillabough and Cornwall Liberal Claude Poirier. In a speech, which featured some patented Chretien moves and expressions, Mr. Chretien lambasted the Conservative record on patronage and mocked suggestions that the federal party was dead.

Chretien rallies troops

by Bruce Hayes

Coming down to the final wire in the provincial election, local Liberals brought out the big guns and held a pep rally in Alexandria Monday night.

The rally, for SD&G Liberal Bill Dillabough and Cornwall Liberal Claude Poirier, featured federal Liberal MP Jean Chretien and attracted about 240 party faithful.

While the former deputy prime minister confined most of his comments to the federal arena, Mr. Chretien put on quite a show as he slammed the federal Conservatives.

Mr. Chretien admitted that some in the audience might be wondering why he was there, to which he answered, "I've come to tell you a few things that are the plain truth. First, it's not Miller time."

In spite of the party's crushing defeat at the polls in September, Mr. Chretien told the partisan crowd that Liberalism was alive and well, "whether it's a federal Liberal, a provincial Liberal or a municipal Liberal."

He said the electorate had told the federal Liberals that 21 years in power was too long and the party was thrown out. If 21 years was too long for the people of Canada, Mr. Chretien wondered, how much longer could the provincial Conservatives survive?

"I'm not very good at math, but I think 42 is twice as long as 21," he said to applause and laughter from the audience.

Mr. Chretien laughed at predictions made after the September vote that said the federal Liberals would disappear from the political map. While he admitted "September 4 wasn't our best

Fire marshal investigating Dalkeith store fire

DALKEITH — The Ontario Fire Marshal's Office is continuing its investigation into the cause of a Saturday morning blaze that destroyed the interior of MacDougall's General Store in Dalkeith.

Alexandria Fire Chief Gerry Charlebois estimated the loss at about $150,000 and noted the fire started on store shelves containing rubber boots and blue jeans.

The store's $60,000 inventory was destroyed, the interior gutted and a four-bedroom apartment on the second floor heavily damaged in the blaze, reported to the Alexandria Fire Department at 4:20 p.m.

The apartment's tenants, Roch Cadieux, his wife and child, were left homeless. They had no insurance, but managed to recover some possessions. The young family had only moved into the apartment on the previous Sunday.

Floyd MacDougall, owner and operator of the business with his wife Nicole, told The News on Monday he closed the store at 1 p.m. on Saturday and drove to Lancaster with his wife. He said he was not aware of the fire until later in the day.

Alexandria businessman Marcel Ranger, asked to find the store owners, caught up with Mr. MacDougall as he was ordering french fries at the chip wagon on Main Street in Alexandria.

Mr. MacDougall said he was insured, "but insurance can never be adequate." He had made no decision about rebuilding and was to meet with his insurance adjustor on Monday afternoon.

"Dalkeith has been hard hit," said the store owner, referring to fires last year that destroyed the community's two biggest businesses, the Dalkeith Feed Centre and Lanthier's Bakery, "but you never think it can happen to you."

Fire Chief Charlebois told The News 12 firefighters fought the blaze for four hours. The department guarded the fire throughout the night and remained at the scene until 10:30 a.m., Sunday, when the fire marshal arrived from Ottawa.

The chief praised the efforts of the Dalkeith fire brigade.

"They were a big help," said Mr. Charlebois. "They laid out the hose before we arrived and they had already put water on the fire. They helped contain the blaze."

Mr. MacDougall praised the Alexandria Fire Department and the local brigade. "They both did a good job," he said.

St. Elmo Presbyterian Church robbed again

ST. ELMO — For the second time in less than a year, St. Elmo Presbyterian Church, north of Maxville, has been burglarized.

Maxville OPP report two windows and a wooden picture frame containing names of local residents killed in World War Two were stolen in the break-in, Friday.

The loss is estimated at $150.

The same church lost all of its stained glass windows in an overnight robbery on Aug. 24, 1984. That crime remains unsolved.

Maxville OPP Cpl. John Mesich said Tuesday there was no evidence to suggest the same people were involved in both robberies, but it was obvious the thieves knew what they were doing.

"These are people who do things for money," Cpl. Mesich said. "What can you say? They are just people who have no respect for property."

Cst. Barry Hanniman is investigating.

Mount Carmel saved

ST. RAPHAEL'S — Mount Carmel House treatment centre will be able to keep its doors open, thanks to a last minute funding deal worked out with the Ontario Ministry of Health.

The St. Raphael's facility, which treats people with drug and alcohol addictions, is currently facing a $50,000 deficit and officials said they might be forced to close if the debt continued to grow.

Tuesday morning SD&G MPP Noble Villeneuve announced funding had been made available to keep the centre operating. He said a deal had been struck Monday afternoon during a meeting in Cornwall involving Mount Carmel officials, Health Minister Alan Pope and Mr. Villeneuve, the minister's parliamentary assistant.

The deal will see Mount Carmel receive short term funding to help it deal with the current deficit and longterm financial support to ensure uninterrupted service into the future.

Mr. Villeneuve said the short term funding would only cover part of the deficit. He said Mount Carmel had indicated a preference to raise the rest of the money needed on its own.

Mr. Villeneuve admitted he did not know what form the longterm funding would take. The facility has been denied such funding since its inception in 1981 because it is a non-medical treatment centre and not a hospital.

"There are no details on that, as yet," he said. "I'll play it as it comes to me. My main concern was to keep the facility going."

Mount Carmel operates on a $250,000 budget, with $155,000 generated by residents' fees. The rest must come through local fundraising, a year-long occupation.

The deficit arose through shortfalls in revenues and a series of unexpected expenses.

Executive Director Peter Desrosiers said the public response to the home's plight had been encouraging, with almost $8,000 raised since April 1.

"We received a promise of funding from Mr. Villeneuve on Monday afternoon," Mr. Desrosiers said Tuesday. "I wasn't at that meeting, but I heard unofficially last night that we had got it. It was a very positive meeting."

The 12 full-time and two part-time Mount Carmel employees were to be told the good news at the Tuesday morning staff meeting, Mr. Desrosiers said. He went on to say the treatment centre had fought for government funding for years and was relieved to finally see it happen.

"I feel great," he said. "It's been awfully difficult this past year, not knowing if we would receive the funding. Mr. Villeneuve has been very supportive.

Trustees reject parents' pleas to stop transfers

CORNWALL — Three Glengarry school committees went to bat for their principals April 23 and it now appears they all struck out.

Representatives of school committees from Glen Robertson's Ecole Laurier Carriere, Ecole Ste. Therese in North Lancaster and Alexandria's Ecole Perpetuel-Secours attended a meeting of the SD&G separate school board in an effort to halt proposed principal transfers.

Less than a week after the parents pleaded their cases before the board, they learned that the transfers would be going ahead as planned.

In late March the board announced a series of principal transfers. The three that sent area parents to the board meeting would see Gilles Joanette, currently at Laurier Carriere, take up new duties at Ste. Therese, Ste. Therese principal Donald Menard would be transferred to an as yet unnamed school and Perpetuel-Secours principal Francine Richer would become the new principal at Laurier Carriere.

Shortly after the announcement was made, parents vowed to fight the proposed transfers. Most parents say the three principals are well liked and they don't want to lose them.

On Friday, representatives of the North Lancaster and Alexandria school committees received registered letters from the board informing them that the transfers would proceed. While the Glen Robertson school committee has not yet received a similar letter, committee chairman Yolande Lacombe said she had been told by a board trustee that their petition had been rejected as well.

"We haven't met with the parents yet," said Ste. Therese committee head Roger Claude, "but the committee has decided not to appeal it. We like Donald (Menard) and we'd like to keep him. We did what we could.

"Before the (April 23) meeting, I thought our chances (of success) were 50-50," he said. "But I guess that was quite high. I think (the board members) had made up their minds before we got there. We did what we had to do and we lost the battle. There are winners and there are losers and we lost."

Johanne Leblanc, head of the Perpetuel-Secours school committee, said her group hadn't had a chance to talk with the school's parents yet and she didn't know what, if anything, they would do about the decision.

The Laurier Carriere school committee is planning a meeting at the school tonight (Wednesday) starting at 8 p.m. and a committee spokesman said the next move will be considered at that time.

"(The board members) had no comment whatsoever (on the group's presentation)," said committee spokesman Kathy McGrath. "Our presence was never acknowledged. As far as we know their minds were made up before we ever went there.

"Our spokesman was Reg Duval," Mrs. McGrath said, "and on the way to the meeting he told everyone in the bus that if we were turned down, it would merely represent round one. Everyone cheered him. I don't think they are going to give up yet."

Organizers expecting thousands to visit fair

Organizers are predicting crowds of thousands will be touring the Glengarry Sports Palace next weekend to take in 50 displays at the Alexandria Trade Fair.

The two-day exhibition will be officially opened late Friday afternoon, May 10, with SD&G MPP Noble Villeneuve and Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Don Boudria in attendance.

Co-sponsored by the Alexandria District Minor Hockey Association and the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce, the fair has been planned as a fundraising activity for minor hockey. The sports group must raise approximately $5,000 a year to meet expenses.

Interest in the fair has been overwhelming, according to co-chairmen Roger Levert of the minor hockey association and Pierre Aubry, president of the Chamber of Commerce. All available booths were sold out within a month of the dates being announced, they said. There is a waiting list of exhibitors hoping for cancellations.

With a wide variety of merchandise and services on display, along with a number of "trade show specials", the organizers say they have something to suit almost every taste. Businesses will be promoting cars, trucks, furniture, appliances, home renovation, financial services, real estate services, tools, recreational vehicles, sports equipment, clothing, photography and much more.

Organizers, hoping to draw the largest possible crowds for the benefit of exhibitors, have invested in advertising throughout SD&G and Prescott-Russell, emphasizing the variety of exhibitors.

Alexandria buys industrial land

The Town of Alexandria has purchased 136 acres of land next to the town's industrial park at a cost of $135,000.

Purchase of the Al Malcolmson farm, located just behind the Woodings-Railcar plant, was approved by town council during its regular meeting on April 23.

Mayor J. P. Touchette said the property, located in Kenyon Township, would be used for construction of a new water tower and hydro sub-station. Both projects, part of an overall industrial park expansion program, will begin this summer and be completed by fall.

The mayor said the improved services will benefit current and future industries in the area.

PCB SPILL—Richard Maisonneuve, an Alexandria truck driver, thinks he might have been exposed to the hazardous chemical PCB. Mr. Maisonneuve drove through Kenora shortly after another truck spilled the chemical on the roadway and Mr. Maisonneuve is afraid some of the substance might have sprayed up onto his truck cab.

Alexandria trucker sprayed with PCBs

A 33-year-old Alexandria truck driver says he isn't too concerned for his health, in spite of the possibility he might have been exposed to hazardous PCBs.

Richard Maisonneuve of East Boundary Road was hauling a load of beef carcasses from Winnipeg to Toronto when his truck cab was sprayed with an oily substance covering the roadway near Kenora.

Earlier that day, Saturday, April 13, an Alberta-bound truck had leaked its cargo of PCBs all over the Trans-Canada Highway near the Northwestern Ontario town. The chemical leak, from an old Hydro Quebec transformer, wasn't discovered until the truck stopped at a Kenora gas station. By that time it had sprayed the deadly chemical all over the road and onto passing vehicles.

Mr. Maisonneuve, who drives for Midland-Superior, was one of three company drivers hauling beef from Winnipeg to Toronto. He said he had heard there had been an incident in Kenora before he had left Winnipeg, but when he approached Kenora and saw the roadway covered, "I just thought someone had spilled some oil.

"I imagine a little bit got on the truck," Mr. Maisonneuve said. "The side mirror was covered with an oily substance. I guess if the mirror was covered the grab handles (used to climb in and out of the cab) were too and I could have had some (of the PCB) on my hands."

Mr. Maisonneuve and the other two drivers, both from Montreal, continued on to Toronto. When they reached their destination the loads of beef were quarantined and the trucks were washed down with a pressure hose.

PCBs were manufactured up until the early 1970s and were generally used as coolants in electrical transformers. Studies have indicated the chemical, which does not break down or degenerate over time, could cause nerve and liver damage in humans.

Aside from a few questions from a Ministry of the Environment doctor in Toronto, Mr. Maisonneuve said nobody from the government has been in touch with him since and he was given no special instructions.

"(The doctor) just asked me if I had washed my hands before eating anything," he said. "I told him I did wash my hands and I didn't eat anything until the next day.

While Mr. Maisonneuve says he has a good idea of how dangerous PCBs can be, he admits he really isn't too worried about the incident.

"I suppose I'd have to be worried a little bit," he said. "I don't feel any different. It just seems a whole lot of people are really concerned about it."

NEW PHONE BOOK HERE!

The Glengarry News has published a new telephone directory for the county, included as a supplement to the newspaper in the Glengarry market area.

Restricted to Glengarry listings only, the directory makes use of type much larger than that found in Bell Canada's directory. A directory in the back of the book lists all the businesses who chose to advertise in the first edition.

Glengarry residents listed under exchanges outside the county could not be included.

The directory is available this week free of charge to local subscribers and others who purchase single copies of The News in the local area. Additional copies will be available next week at a cost of 75 cents each.

The Glengarry Telephone Directory was made possible by the support of area businesses who purchased advertising in its pages.

Board, union talks continue

by Bruce Hayes

CORNWALL—A provincial mediator has been appointed to supervise contract negotiations between secondary teachers and the SD&G public school board.

Norman Bernstein, who previously acted as negotiator in a case involving the SD&G separate school board, will chair a meeting between teachers and the board set for May 1 in Cornwall.

The 340 secondary school teachers employed by the board, members of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation and the Association des enseignants franco-ontariens, have been without a contract since August of 1984.

Talks between the board and local union representatives had bogged down and, in January of this year, the negotiations were handed over to a provincial OSSTF negotiating team. That team was also unable to reach an accord.

In mid-April the teachers voted 78 per cent against the board's final offer. The union then requested the May 1 meeting with the board. The teachers have not yet taken a strike vote. They would be in a legal strike position five working days after such a vote.

Bob Whittaker, the board's manager of employee relations, said the five major points of contention involve money, staffing, layoff and recall provisions, fringe benefits and termination procedures.

While Mr. Whittaker was reluctant to discuss specific details of the board's final offer, he did say the board had proposed a 3.8 per cent wage increase over two years, retroactive to September of 1984.

On the issue of teacher recall, he said the board proposed that recall provisions would only apply to teachers with permanent contracts, excluding those on probation.

Mr. Whittaker said the negotiations "have had their ups and downs," with the last meeting "certainly not in a very good tone." He said he was optimistic that progress could be made at Wednesday's meeting.

"If we can put a deal together, we'll certainly try and do so," he said. "I'd prefer not to comment much more. I wouldn't like to see the process of reaching an agreement jeopardized. The parties are not far apart. I think we're involved in clarification rather than real issues."

While the union agrees with most of what the board says, a spokesman says it isn't telling the whole story.

Tom Dahl, an executive officer on the provincial OSSTF executive, said the board did offer a 3.8 per cent pay increase but, because of various stipulations involving time worked, not all employees would receive 3.8 per cent. Some would receive as low as 1.29 per cent and principals, vice-principals and department heads would only receive two per cent.

"That's why the teachers rejected the board's final offer," Mr. Dahl said. "They won't stand for this inequality."

Mr. Dahl agreed that the two sides were close to an agreement, saying much of the work that remains involves clarifying certain points in the board's final offer. He also admitted that the last meeting between the two sides went badly.

"Until the last meeting, I'd classify the meetings as amicable," he said. "The membership wasn't nearly as upset before the meeting as they were after. I'm hopeful it can be resolved at (the Wednesday) session."

$750 break-in investigated

Maxville OPP are investigating a break-in at a Dunvegan residence that netted thieves $750 in merchandise.

Police report that sometime between April 25 and 27, someone entered the residence of Patrick Amyot and made off with a stereo, turntable and speakers.

Family overwhelmed by support

LAGGAN — The MacSweyn family, trying to recover from a disastrous $600,000 barn fire April 10, were "overwhelmed" by the show of community support during a benefit dance held in Maxville Saturday night.

Morlin Campbell, a Laggan area farmer and one of a dozen people on a committee that organized the fundraising effort, told The News Tuesday a large amount of money had been raised and more was still coming in. The exact dollar figure was not revealed.

He said his committee was "more than pleased" with the turnout of about 700 people at the Angus Gray Centre, "and we couldn't be happier with

"It was a real community effort," he added, noting the entertainment for the evening was all provided free of charge and a great many people donated food.

"It makes you feel good about the community," he said. "That's what rural folk are like."

Speaking on behalf of his brothers, Ralph, Rhondo and Barry, Kent MacSweyn told The News his family was "overwhelmed" by the support.

It was an emotional evening, he said, and the family appreciated the "expression of goodwill and support from the community. All the members of the family were deeply touched."

Though nothing has been confirmed pending settlement of Dalagra Farms' insurance claim, he said his brothers had tentative plans for rebuilding after spring planting is completed. The money raised by the community "will be a big help," he said.

"The spring's work has to be the first priority," he explained. "We hope to get to work on the barn between spring and the hay season."

In addition to the modern barn, the MacSweyn's lost 112 head of Holstein cattle, a manure spreader, a 125 h.p. tractor and all the farm's milking equipment.

Two cement silos will likely have to be replaced and a nearby Harvestore silo was also damaged.

day," he said the experience was a good one for the party.

"It gave us a chance to go back to the people," he said. "I'd like to tell you Liberalism is alive and well."

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell Liberal riding president Pierre Aubry told the audience that Liberals were long overdue for a victory at the polls.

"It's been a long time since we've had a Liberal member in SD&G," he said. "I can almost taste (victory) and it's going to taste awfully good. After 40 years, someone will do something for this riding."

Mr. Dillabough, reading from a prepared text, stuck to the issues he's used throughout the campaign: cutbacks in education and the health care field, poor road conditions, Ontario Hydro's massive debt and the fact that four decades is too long for any party to be in power.

Mr. Dillabough slammed what he called an "arrogant and self-serving administration" accusing the Tories of clumsiness and "just plain stupidity" in its running of the province.

In a departure from what has been a friendly campaign, Mr. Dillabough took a couple of swipes at his Conservative opponent, MPP Noble Villeneuve.

He chided Mr. Villeneuve for taking credit for the Provincial Court building and the new Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded building, both in Alexandria.

"The late Osie Villeneuve made that happen and he shouldn't take credit for it," Mr. Dillabough said. said.

In another move designed to embarrass the Tories, Mr. Dillabough said a Liberal government would see OPP in Alexandria within 30 days of being elected. The town has long wanted the provincial force to take over local policing and Mr. Villeneuve has promised OPP service by the summer.

Alexandria Footwear workers stage two-hour walkout

by Bruce Hayes

Approximately 140 unionized employees at Alexandria Footwear walked off the job for two hours Thursday afternoon in protest over a company plan to send work to another plant.

The employees, members of Local 304 of the Brewery, Flour, Cereal and Soft Drink union, walked off the job at 2 p.m. They were upset over company plans to transfer some work on the eyelet machine to Alexandria's Brown Shoe.

The wildcat walkout ended peacefully two hours later when union representatives told workers an agreement had been reached with company management. The workers, who had spent their time milling about on the street in front of the factory, then dispersed peacefully and went home, honking car horns.

Local chairman Lorraine Cuerrier said the company wanted to subcontract the eyelet work because the two workers who were assigned to the task couldn't meet the daily quota of 2,200 pairs.

When the workers walked out, the union committee had been negotiating a compromise with management to either get more people working on the machine or approve overtime.

"The committee was negotiating and we were going to reach a decision," Mrs. Cuerrier said. "The secretary came in and said everyone had walked out. I was just as shocked as everyone else."

Mrs. Cuerrier said the company has agreed to borrow an eyelet machine from Brown Shoe and the work will stay at Alexandria Footwear. She said the company has ordered a machine of its own and it should be installed sometime later this week.

Company spokesman Ray Whippey said the problem was an internal matter and he didn't want to comment on it.

"I don't want to say too much," Mr. Whippey said. "There was a walkout and it's now resolved. I'd rather not comment any further WILDCAT WALKOUT—About 140 Alexandria Footwear workers staged a two hour walkout Thursday afternoon. The workers were protesting company plans to have some work done in another location. Union officials, left, told their members that an agreement had been worked out with the company and the workers dispersed and went home.

Three-year-old Moose Creek boy triggers massive police, civilian search

MOOSE CREEK—An adventurous three-year-old gave his parents quite a scare Tuesday evening when he went missing for four hours

Luc Delhey, son of Adrian and Cecile Delhey of Moose Creek, wandered off with the family dog Dixie and by the time he was found safe and sound, the search had attracted OPP officers from Long Sault, Maxville, Hawkesbury, the OPP tracking dog from Casselman, the entire Moose Creek volunteer fire department, village residents and even a few passing motorists.

Luc was found in a wooded area about a mile from his home at 11:30 p.m., roughly four hours after he had wandered away from his backyard. A search party of 100 had been out searching fields, ditches and woods when one group heard a dog barking. They followed the barking and eventually found Luc and Dixie.

Mr. Delhey and his son, who had been wearing jeans, rubber boots and a winter jacket, had been playing outside earlier while he spread fertilizer on the lawn.

"He was playing and helping me spread for about 20 minutes," Mr. Delhey, a 32-year-old shovel operator with Villeneuve and Leroux Construction, said. "He went around the front of the house with the dog and I never thought anything of it.

"About 7:30 p.m. my wife came out and asked where Luc was," he said. "I looked around the front of the house, checked the garage, the field and a small bush we have on our lot."

By this time an hour had elapsed since the Delheys had seen their son and, while Mr. Delhey continued to search nearby fields, Mrs. Delhey called the OPP.

Mr. Delhey was still searching when the police arrived and a short time later the village fire siren summoned firefighters to help out in the search.

The commotion attracted still more searchers, and even passing motorists joined in, although some weren't too sure what they were doing.

"I heard there was one guy who had been out searching and he stopped all of a sudden and asked someone what he was looking for," Mr. Delhey said. "He knew he was looking for a lost boy, but he hadn't asked how old he was, what he was wearing or what his name was."

Aside from being a bit cold, Luc was none the worse for wear. His father says Luc hasn't said much about his adventure, but he has indicated he had been following Dixie, although Mr. Delhey admits the truth could have been the other way around.

"I'm very grateful to all the people (who helped)," he said. "You don't know how nice people really are until something like this happens. It's hard to explain, it's incredible. If they had to search all night, they were willing to do it."

Man jailed for nine months

An Alexandria man was sentenced to nine months in jail Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after he was found guilty of theft and breach of probation.

Raymond Bellefeuille, 40, of Elgin Street, was charged February 18 in Alexandria.

Mr. Bellefeuille was found guilty following a trial April 25, but a presentence report was ordered at that time.

Court was told the accused walked into the Alexandria Canadian Tire Store and stole a measuring tape. On February 13 in Alexandria, Mr. Bellefeuille breached his probation by talking to an individual after he had been ordered by Judge Reginald Levesque not to communicate with that person.

Judge Levesque told the accused he'd recommend that he spend his jail term at the Ontario Correctional Institute where he could take treatment.

"You realize Mr. Bellefeuille that you have a problem and you become violent at times. If you continue to break the law, court can only incarcerate you to protect the public from you," said Judge Levesque.

"In the pre-sentence report, it says you are a danger to society. You have a medical problem. You take treatment to control a violent behavior you have. You have to motivate yourself so you can solve your problems," said Judge Levesque.

Board announces transfers

CORNWALL — The SD&G County Board of Education has announced a series of transfers and staff appointments involving its principals and vice-principals.

Mel McCormick, principal at Maxville Junior School for the past five years, will leave the school in September to take on new duties with the board as the humanities consultant.

Mr. McCormick, with 25 years in education, the last 11 in SD&G, will work with the board and be responsible for creating new curriculum in concert with Ministry of Education guidelines.

Replacing Mr. McCormick will be Robert Wilkes, currently principal at Newington Public School.

A second change will see Pat Fitzharris, currently principal at Riverside Heights Public School in Morrisburg, take over as principal at Martintown Public School. Doug Anderson, currently principal at Martintown, will become the new principal at Morrisburg.

A previously announced transfer of Tagwi Secondary School vice-principal Collin Geoffrion to Ecole Secondaire Regionale Glengarry, has resulted in the transfer to Tagwi of Char-Lan District High School vice-principal Robert Raymond.

Mr. Raymond has taught for the past 25 years, the last six spent at Char-Lan.

Char-Lan will also lose its principal, Ron McCabe, as he will take on jobs with both the school board and the ministry.

Mr. McCabe, who has been principal at the school for the last seven years, will work part-time for the ministry, serving with the branch dealing with French language services and he will provide assistance in a new ministry program, Anglais/English, a program dealing with English taught in French language schools.

Mr. McCabe's other duties will see him working for the board on a review of vocational education.

Needs strong support

Without the infusion of tens of thousands of dollars, Mount Carmel House in St. Raphael's, a treatment centre for alcoholics and drug addicts, may be forced to close. That could be an irreparable loss Glengarry County can ill afford.

In spite of the apparently stronger family and moral values taken for granted in a largely rural society, Glengarry County is far from immune to the major social and personal problems attacked head-on by the dedicated and talented staff at Mount Carmel.

It is no exaggeration to say the treatment centre has saved lives. Many people would have been doomed to lonely deaths from alcohol and drug-induced disease, were it not for help from Mount Carmel. More might have taken their own lives in fits of deep depression.

Marriages and careers have been salvaged for people who, with the help of this treatment centre, have been able to recover from their addictions and stand firmly on their own feet once more.

Mount Carmel does not cost society money. Aside from the obvious human benefits, this treatment centre and others like it save society millions of dollars in medical and welfare costs. People who pass through its doors have the chance to contribute to the economy again.

Mount Carmel should not have to depend for its very survival on eleventh-hour fund-raising efforts, but that is the case now. It will take at least $50,000 to put the home back on a solid financial footing. That is a large amount of money, but it can be raised in SD&G and it must be raised.

For the longterm health of Mount Carmel and its current and future residents, a permanent funding arrangement must be reached with the Ontario Government. The service is too important to leave at risk. Some financial security must be provided.

Tories in a panic

The Big Blue Machine is in a panic.

Opening the current Ontario election campaign with a commanding lead in public opinion polls, the Conservatives' backroom handlers felt all they had to do was run a low-key, no risk campaign to capture another majority win, extending Tory rule in the province for at least another four years.

With a gregarious Frank Miller, sometimes notorious for opening his mouth before putting his brain in gear, as new leader and premier, the handlers felt a strong muzzle was in order. The leader's most likeable quality was hidden away for fear of a politically costly gaffe. Mr. Miller was left moving and speaking to the tug of marionette strings, ducking reporters' questions and running away from a "risky" debate with the Liberal and NDP leaders.

The strategy, insulting to the electorate from the outset, has backfired. Repeated polls have shown Tory support slipping steadily, dipping to as low as 40 per cent of decided voters, while the opposition parties have been gaining.

The Liberals, under new leader David Peterson, have run a nearly flawless campaign, pulling up to 34 per cent, just six points back of the mighty Tories. The NDP, also with a new leader in the person of Bob Rae, has also gained new support.

The fact that both opposition parties are increasing their popular support may be all that keeps the Conservatives in power. If opposing votes all went to the Liberals, the Tories would have been out of power years ago and their defeat in this election would be all but assured.

To the everlasting comfort of the Conservatives, that is not the case. Divide and conquer has become a key part of the Ontario Government's election credo.

As it stands, few, other than the most partisan Liberals, really believe for a moment that the Conservatives can actually be defeated in this election. Should the party's slide in the polls continue, however, it could happen, making the Liberals' Peterson the biggest giant killer in Ontario political history.

The more likely scenario would involve Mr. Miller and his Tories losing a number of seats this time around, probably slipping into a minority government status, but with a stubborn grip on the reins of power still in place.

Any governing party will argue a clear majority of seats is needed to assure good government.

In reality, the most democratic and responsive governments are those that have to be closely attuned to opposition criticism and public demands. A return to minority government would do Ontario a lot more good than harm.

A tax deadline no time for wanton waste in Ottawa

RAMBLING REPORTER
Eugene Macdonald

The timing was terrible. The April 30th deadline for remitting one's income tax was only a week away when Canadians were given grim reminders of how speedily their hard-earned tax dollars can be squandered by government.

Finance minister Michael Wilson was on the hot spot this time. A firm headed by his brother-in-law had been given a $234,000 government advertising contract, let without tenders even being called, and the Liberals were demanding his resignation. It was a clear-cut case of conflict of interest, they claimed with some justification. And there was more to come.

Another news report told of a contract for more than $5 million being let to another Toronto advertising agency, this one connected with another upper echelon Tory, Dalton Camp. Camp and his associates would be richer by more than a million dollars from fees for tourism advertising in the United States.

And so the tax dollars go; and the deficit grows.

Prime Minister Mulroney loyally defends his finance minister as a man of honesty and integrity. And such he probably is, despite his government's involvement in a scheme to enrich members of his family.

This is simply politics the way it is played by governments, be they Liberal, Conservative, NDP or any other nomenclature.

This is "an easy piece of business" and a "beautiful handout" of patronage, says an executive with the advertising agency that had the same contract under the Liberals.

There was nothing new in the way the Tories handled the Lawson contract, in the opinion of another Toronto advertising executive. "Being an old Liberal agency guy myself, there are no surprises in this thing . . . it's a beautiful handout. It's patronage."

Prime Minister Mulroney may find words of support for his finance minister, but it would be impossible for him to defend his government's penchant to playing politics just as politics has always been played. Patronage we might expect to some degree, but Mr. Mulroney and his Conservatives were elected to cure the ills of the Canadian economy, not to continue the spending proclivities of the Trudeau Liberals.

Week of massive change at the old Glengarry News

SECOND LOOK
Phil Rutherford

It has been a hectic week at The Glengarry News; a week of massive change that has left most of us pulling our hair in exasperation.

You probably noticed the most striking change already. That's right, you don't have to stretch your arms as far to read The News any more. We've narrowed our web four inches. In other words, our pages are two inches narrower than they used to be.

The change brings us in line with most other newspapers, weekly and daily, which have been printing on the narrower newsprint rolls for years.

Newsprint is one of the biggest expense items for newspapers and the cost has been going up steadily. We were facing a substantial increase again this month, which would have forced a significant jump in both advertising and subscription rates. Instead, we have moved to a new printer, which enables us to take advantage of the cost saving resulting from smaller pages.

We now have an almost unlimited capacity for printing color. Previously, our options in this regard were sharply constrained. Now we can run two or three colors on a single page, on up to six pages in a section. As an introduction to this new service, we have made liberal use of color this week on the front page and on several advertisements inside. Take a look.

Internally, the biggest change to hit our staff this past week was the introduction of new, more computerized typesetting equipment. One of the new computer terminals was used for typesetting every news story, editorial and column in this week's paper. In a month to six weeks two of them should be in operation.

The equipment purchase stands as the single largest investment in the history of The Glengarry News and we're confident the move will sharply increase production efficiency, improve the appearance of the

We need Mount Carmel

NOTEBOOK
Bruce Hayes

They say a society is judged by how it takes care of its weakest members. Keeping that in mind, I wonder how the residents of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry and Prescott-Russell will be judged if St. Raphael's Mount Carmel House treatment centre is forced to close its doors.

Since its inception on July 5, 1981, this residential treatment facility has managed to help thousands of local residents and many more from other parts of the province. For many, suffering the ravages of drug or alcohol addiction, Mount Carmel House has been the last hope.

What is threatening to close this vital facility is money, or more precisely the lack of it; something most people can probably sympathize with.

Steadily decreasing revenues and a couple of unexpected expenditures have combined to leave the institution's board of directors with a deficit of $50,000. To their credit, Mount Carmel's directors felt they couldn't continue to let the situation fester and decided to face the harsh realities.

Mount Carmel officials say most of the companies owed money have been understanding and have been patiently waiting for payment for too long. The directors felt in order for the treatment centre to maintain credibility in the community, it had to take drastic measures to get the deficit under control. That's why, even as you read this column, the doors could be closing.

A public appeal for funds has been launched and officials are confident the people of SD&G and Prescott-Russell will come through, as they have so many times in the past.

There are some who would say alcoholics and drug addicts have only themselves to blame for their problems and that public money shouldn't be spent on curing them. In reply, there is strong medical evidence to suggest addiction is much more than a character flaw or a social embarrassment. It's a disease.

To say we shouldn't spend money on people with addictions is little different than saying cancer patients have only themselves to blame and should be left to battle the disease on their own.

I've only visited Mount Carmel House a few times since coming to Glengarry, but I've always found a group of caring and hard-working people. It's refreshing to listen to their optimism. I usually leave believing, as they do, that one person can accomplish just about anything.

To reduce the matter to straight dollar terms, either we keep Mount Carmel open or hospitals, which are already battling cutbacks, will be flooded with patients.

I'd like to take this opportunity to congratulate two of the hardest working hockey teams I've seen in a long time.

I'm talking about Glengarry News Cup finalists Glen Nevis and Charlottenburgh. While Charlottenburgh took the series on Sunday in the seventh game, credit must also go to Glen Nevis for previously fighting back from a three-game deficit.

The last three games of the series provided the most entertaining hockey I've seen in a long, long time. The two teams put on a great show and they made the high priced NHL talent look like amateurs.

Great series, guys.

Election Apathy

The voters of Ontario appear to be in a coma-like state heading in the final week of campaigning for the May 2 provincial election.

It would not be surprising if the voter turnout across the province dipped below 40 per cent and that would be shameful indeed.

The Tories must take some of the blame for the apathy which is smothering the electorate. The Tories have skirted the issues, Premier Frank Miller has refused public debates and the party trotted out tired old cliches

Let's face it, Enterprise Ontario is just another Tory gimmick. Just as the BILD program was last time around, Enterprise Ontario is a soother for voters who threaten to awake from their Tory trance.

There are numerous issues in Ontario which the voters should be considering, ranging from continuing environmental pollution to out-of-control spending by Ontario Hydro.

But very few people are standing up and shouting. Most are simply shrugging their shoulders. That's what nearly half a century of Tory rule or any kind of rule will do to an electorate.

paper and allow for a more diversified service for our advertisers.

The most obvious change derived from our new equipment this week is the introduction of a slightly different and substantially larger type in our news columns. We've made this change on a trial basis only, with a view toward making the paper easier to read. An unfortunate side effect is that we will not be able to publish quite as many articles without reducing them in length.

We will await response from our readers before deciding whether or not the larger type will remain.

We have always welcomed criticism and suggestions from our readers. Glengarrians, never known for their reticence, have usually been quick to let us know when they're upset.

We've probably slapped you with too many changes in one week, so we're particularly anxious to hear the feedback, positive or negative. Just give us a call or drop a note. And we're always open for a visit.

Cable company leases town land

The town of Alexandria has agreed to lease a small parcel of land to an Embrun firm that wants to bring cable television service to town.

At its April 23 meeting, council agreed to lease a portion of land at the southwest corner of the Public Works garage to DL Cable Services for $5 per year per customer.

The company had originally wanted a long-term lease on the portion of land behind the fire hall on Kenyon Street. Some members of council were reluctant to rent the land, saying it would prevent any future expansion of the fire hall.

The company, which plans to erect a receiving tower and a satellite dish, is currently seeking support from various service clubs in Alexandria Council's lease agreement is conditional upon the company receiving CRTC approval.

Bernadette Blais, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaetan Blais received her Call to the Bar of the Province of Ontario on April 17, 1985. She is presently practicing law in Ottawa with the firm of Vincent, Choquette and Associates.

We work for you
The professional insurance broker does more than sell insurance. Our role includes a review of your coverages... plus a regular updating... so that your changing circumstances are properly reflected in your policies of insurance.
In almost every community... there is choice of independent insurance agents and brokers. We are not identical... either with the policies we sell... or prices we offer. You have the power of decision as to which you choose... as you do when choosing a doctor, dentist or lawyer.

What do we do when you report a claim?
When you report a claim... it is usually by telephone. We fill out a preliminary report concerning all details of incident including time, date, place of loss, extent of damage, injuries to you or third party... and where and when damage or injuries can be examined. You are generally advised if your claim is covered.
In most cases... we turn your claim over to the insurance company... or an independent adjuster used by the company in our area.
Our role is to try and expedite a prompt and fair settlement between both parties and keep the lines of communication open.
If you feel that a claim settlement is not proceeding to your satisfaction, we ask that you advise us at once in order that we may intercede on your behalf.

Birthdays celebrated in nursing home

ALEXANDRIA
Marguerite Seger

The ladies of the McCrimmon Institute hosted the April birthday party for the residents of the Community Nursing Home who celebrated their birthdays in April. The party was held on Monday, April 15 at 2 p.m., in the lounge which was nicely decorated in keeping with the festive occasion.

Those celebrating were Marie Rose Poirier, who was 93 on April 7; Marie Anne Charlebois, 89 on April 10; Mary Ann McDonald, 97 on April 18 (she is the mother of Gerald McDonald); Julie Todorov, 91 on April 19; Florida Thauvette, 92 on April 20; Cecilia Lalonde, 93 on April 26. Also celebrating was Margaret Shago who on March 25 marked her 91st birthday.

The Lochiel Strings provided the very enjoyable violin and piano airs. Mrs. Lorna Chapman led in a sing-song.

Ladies in residence made and decorated their own Easter bonnets and led in an Easter parade while Milton MacDonald of Lancaster, the guest soloist, sang "Put on Your Old Easter Bonnet" and several other familiar songs. Ruthanna MacPherson added to the delightful musical program.

Each celebrant was presented with a lovely corsage and birthday gifts. As the candles on the birthday cake were being blown out everyone joined in singing happy birthday.

The ladies served the birthday cake and other refreshments.

Duncan MacDonald of the Palace composed the thank you poem which he read, thanking the group for all their kindness to the residents, which brings so much happiness to them.

Mrs. Florida Thauvette on behalf of the residents and staff expressed their sincere and heart-felt thanks to the group for such a wonderful hour of entertainment.

There will be no party in May but the June party will be on Monday, June 17. This will officially open Nursing Home Week. The general public is invited to visit the home during that week.

On April 6 the Daughters of Isabella brought an Easter candy treat to the residents.

On April 14 the Cancer Society distributed beautiful vases of daffodils to the residents. The residents contributed $20 to the Cancer fund drive.

Railway shaped future growth of Monkland

by Angus H. McDonell

MONKLAND — Bicentennial and centennial celebrations have been major Glengarry summer events the past three years. Apple Hill led the way in 1982. Last summer among the anniversaries were Faulkner's Landing (South Lancaster), Williamstown and Alexandria. Next year it will be St. Raphael's turn to be honored.

Another heritage centennial will be celebrated June 28, 29 and 30. The celebrants will be the good people of Monkland and area.

That narrow strip along the Glengarry-Stormont boundary is known as the historic Indian Lands. The residents on both sides, regardless of racial origin, have lived for generations in a neighborly atmosphere, a legacy handed down by their founding ancestors.

For this reason, the Monkland and area celebrants who have participated in Glengarry entertainments down through the years justifiably expect that a reciprocal attitude will prevail and an overflow attendance will assure success of their centennial program.

Also for this reason, The Glengarry News will endeavor to stimulate keen interest by a series recording the history of Monkland and area. This letter from home brings readers the introductory instalment.

Following Confederation, Prime Minister Sir John A. Macdonald chartered the Canadian Pacific Railway to bind Canada with ribbons of steel.

Established, progressive pioneer towns and villages would be linked by a railway, the stations bearing their names.

In between, new communities would develop due to railway officials designating that a station should be located at a specific mileage point. An appropriate name would be selected or taken from a nearby post office.

Local examples of new settlement names include Dalhousie Station, Apple Hill and Maxville. Monkland was in the post office class.

Historians have recorded that Monkland Station may have received its name from Lord Monck, a one-time Governor-General of Canada.

Now that we have ascertained the christening of Monkland, let us go on to establishing the location.

The front of Glengarry and Stormont, in 1854 and 1855, was served by the Grand Trunk, Montreal-Brockville, Railway line. Some 10 years later, a Montreal group of tycoons observed that in Eastern Ontario the Grand Trunk had no opposition. This railway field was wide open. Those financiers organized and were incorporated by a charter granting the right to operate as the Quebec-Ontario Railway. They would build a line connecting Montreal and Smiths Falls.

On the drafting board was a line drawn, as the crow would fly, almost straight west from Montreal to Smiths Falls. There were no obstacles in view until the advance survey crew were nearing the Soulanges-Glengarry boundary.

In the distance was Loch Garry Lake. There was more consistent high land on the north side to build a railroad bed. But the proposed Ottawa-Montreal Railway, at the same time, was meant to serve north Stormont and Glengarry, with Alexandria as the major freight revenue centre. That meant the Quebec-Ontario surveyors must skirt the south side of Loch Garry and through the swampy head waters of the Beaudette River, which they did.

This meant the future demise of a few pioneer settlements and the births of others as we know them today. In sequence they are: Dalhousie Mills (Dalhousie, Peveril and Stackhouse carding mills) yielding to Dalhousie Station. This was a gain for Bridge End and Glen Nevis. Glen Norman station was wedged between Glen Norman and North Lancaster, Green Valley was a rail and postal outlet for the Brown House area and St. Raphael's and Glen Roy station was within range of the Glen Roy post office and hamlet.

At this point of time, according to a legend, there was an important conference by the heads of the survey crew and the advance exploring team.

The superintendent of the advance route observers tabled two suggested right-of-ways. The first was to continue almost due west from Glen Roy to the pioneer settlement of Strathmore, located a concession north of the Cornwall Township-Roxborough boundary and a short distance west of the Indian Lands.

This site had station potential. There was a post office, store and ashery. Nearby there was the St. Andrew's Parish R.C. Chapel, a saw mill, shingle mill and oil derived from the cedar trees.

Adding to the favor of this right-of-way was a proposed station, west of Glen Roy, centering the distance between Loch Garry and Munroe's Mills. Such a station with a siding would be a great asset and be similar to the one at Glen Norman wedging Glen Norman and North Lancaster.

It was suggested the alternative right-of-way begin at Glen Roy bending slightly north west. Having skirted Loch Garry Lake and nearing Finch, the route could then continue as originally drafted almost directly west to Smith Falls.

However there was a problem. The terrain south of Loch Garry village was swampy. This would require countless tons of fill. (It became known as the Big Hole). Immediately to the west there was a hill that would demand a cut to lessen the long grade. But there would be compensations after solving those land problems.

From the Strathmore site the advance crew were greatly impressed with the area surronding a cross-road intersection midway through Roxborough. Their map showed the north-south road to link Tayside, Gravel Hill, St. Andrews and Cornwall. The east-west road was from Alexandria across the Indian Lands and on to Winchester. Their survey draft map indicated that this point was midway between Montreal and Smiths Falls. Obviously the location of the way-freight divisional station.

There were more important factors to be considered as assets. The roads, now Highways 138 and 43, would provide the hauling of pioneer produce to and from the station. That meant freight revenue. To the north as far as the Roxborough capital of Warina, test pits indicated an ample supple of gravel, necessary for the rail road bed. A few acres east of the road intersection there was a creek, a perpetual supply of water for the train engines. Finally, and also important, not far across the clearings was a post office named Monklands.

At the survey headquarters in Glen Roy this route was chosen over Strathmore. It was the beginning of the end of both pioneer settlements, Loch Garry and Strathmore. It was the founding of Apple Hill and the Monkland we know today, one of Ontario's highly rated thriving and prosperous villages nestling within a farm community that has contributed so much during the past 100 years making Monkland a worthy holder of a lofty status.

MONKLAND BY AIR—The Village of Monkland is celebrating its 100th birthday this year with a wide variety of festivities planned. The village's past was shaped to a large extent by the nearby railroad.

Club judges cows

by Sandy Peters

The evening of April 23 was the second meeting of the Glengarry Senior Calf Club. It was held at the very elegant farm of one of our leaders, Don Thomson, Martintown.

We judged a class of cows and then we discussed the placing. The incident that followed, I'm sure none of us were prepared for.

Our topic for the night was the rumen, and how appropriate it was to have had a cow butchered earlier during the day. Dr. Algire was our guest speaker and he went over the complete digestive system of the cow. It was a very good learning experience for all of us and it was nice to see that all the members were able to tolerate the smell as well as the visual aspects of the lesson. We were also encouraged to put on rubber gloves and assist Dr. Algire in exploring the insides of a cow.

After this educating experience we were invited in the house for refreshments and a quick look at the hockey game which just happened to be on television that night.

5C Club adopts two foster children

APPLE HILL
Aline Gormley

St. Anthony's Parish 5C Club has adopted two young children through the Foster Parents Plan of Canada.

This new commitment, called Seeds of Hope, means our contribution will extend monetary help in providing better living conditions through health, education, agricultural and community development projects.

We are delighted to participate in such a plan since not only will the children profit from this program but their families will as well. Continued support will mean assistance designed to improve their life styles until they can become self sufficient.

The first child to be adopted was Muthee Gitonga M'Itoobi, a tall strong 9-year-old boy from Liliaba, Kenya. He lives with his parents, a brother, three sisters and his grandmother. As rural villagers the family's primary economic activity is that of subsistence farming for domestic consumption.

In years of poor rainfall and thus of poor harvests, some of its livestock, mainly chickens and goats, must be sold in order to survive. Additional income is gained from the sale of coffee and mirae and working as casual laborers on neighboring farms. This provides supplementary food items such as sugar, tea, salt and cooking oil, cloth for sewing clothes and kerosene for their lamps. Meat is a rare treat for the family except perhaps to mark an important celebration.

The M'Itoobes live in an enclosed compound to keep the livestock in and wild animals out; in three small huts made of hard packed mud walls and thatched roofs. They grow maize, bananas, potatoes and beans.

Muthee attends Kangeta primary school, one km from home. He helps with small tasks, not minding the four kilometres walk to fetch water and firewood for cooking and we are told he likes attending class also.

We have chosen Gordon Van Putten and Paul Lascelle who have agreed to enter into correspondence with Muthee to encourage a good relationship and a continual exchange of news.

The second adopted child is Ana Beyba Gonzalez Cuero, a happy six-year-old girl with black eyes, black curly hair and a sweet smile. She lives in El Porvenir, Buenaventura, Colombia with her parents and a two-year-old brother.

The Gonzalez family live in a small rented house which is built over tidal waters. Living conditions remain poor and employment is scarce. The father is learning the bricklaying trade at present and the mother looks after the home.

The family's diet is based on rice, plantains, potatoes, coffee or crude sugar with water. Meat, milk and eggs are too expensive to be part of their diet. Because of their poor economic situation their main ambition is regular work, proper housing and education for their children.

Young Ana attends school some six blocks away. In the first grade she follows the regular curriculum including physical education. The nearest health post is about one km from home.

Correspondence with Ana will hopefully encourage the family, open avenues and establish friendships that all of us at St. Anthony's will anticipate to hear about. Our correspondents in this case are Lorrie Darling and Christine Decarie who have graciously accepted the challenge.

The 5C Club is grateful to the four young members of our community who have accepted this lively task and we wish them heartfelt expression in all their commentaries.

A second fiddle sale will be held at St. Anthony's on May 24, 25 and 26 in the unfinished upper section of the church.

Any good clothing articles, dishes, or household furnishings you want to part with will be accepted for the rummage sale and flea market bazaar. You can bring these items to the church hall on Saturday afternoons and early evenings.

Man uninjured as train hits car

MAXVILLE — A 19-year-old Maxville man was shaken up but uninjured Sunday evening when he was struck by a train at the level crossing on Main Street in Maxville.

Robert A. Quesnel had been driving a 1975 Plymouth north on Main Street, was unable to stop and was struck by the Montreal-bound VIA train.

The train struck the car at the driver's door and the force of the collision ripped the car in two.

The investigation is continuing under Cst. Jim Stewart.

First Maxville Scout Troop looking for volunteer leaders

MAXVILLE
Sybil Carello

First Maxville Scout Troop is looking for new leaders. Anyone interested in working with the Scout movement should contact Beth Williamson at 527-2808. The new leaders are needed for the fall.

On April 13 the local Scouts participated in the district annual air gun safety competition. The trophies for the highest overall points went to Tommy Van Loon from the Maxville group.

The Beavers, Cubs and Scouts will be planting trees on Trees for Canada Day this Saturday at 8:30 a.m. Parents are asked to bring the boys to Pine Road, off Hwy. 43. Signs will be posted.

The boys would like to thank the public for pledges received during this project.

Don't forget to attend Maxville Curling Club's Spring Hop on Saturday. The evening will be filled with music from the 50's and 60's, along with contests and prizes.

Winner of the Glengarry Arts and Crafts Association's Annual Spring Fair door prize on the weekend was four-year-old Amy-Jean Munro from Maxville.

MAXVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOL

Maxville Public School's show committee is looking for local amateur talent to enter the photographic competition during the Maxville Fair, May 29 to June 2.

For more information, please call 527-5544.

Congratulations to Ovila and Grace Doth who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Tuesday, April 23.

Grace is a long time member of the Maxville and District Curling Club and was surprised at the pot luck supper when Bob Ramsbottom and Bill Metcalfe, on behalf of all the curlers, presented a lovely silver tray. The five members of the Wilfred Doth family provided a silver wall cross and there were many other gifts and cards from friends and neighbors.

Volunteers have been enjoying a considerable amount of attention lately.

The hard-working group at Maxville Manor all received recognition certificates a few weeks ago. Last Thursday the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture held a reception at the Skyline Hotel in Ottawa in order to present pins of recognition for volunteer service awards.

Attending from the Glengarry Historical Society were Grant MacGillivray, Marjorie Crowley, Alice Grant, Ed Broomhall, Joan Johnston and Velma Franklin. The pins were for five, 10 or 15 years' service, but the announcements mentioned several people who had put in between 40 and 50 years for their particular causes.

The Maxville Lions Club had a gala dinner for its 21st Charter Night. The guest speaker was Max Keeping, anchorman for CJOH News.

He had some kind words for the thousands of volunteers who keep hundreds of important projects going with their steady contributions of time and energy.

This might be a project for some volunteers who are looking for something to do.

Spring and the tourist season are upon us and one of the points of entry to our fair village is a real mess.

The CNR station looks awful. The building is in good shape, but it desperately needs a coat of paint. Anybody interested?

The Maxville War Veterans Club has planned a bus trip to the Ottawa War Museum on May 11 to see "Women at War."

The group will also see the tulips in bloom.

The cost is $6 per person and anyone interested is asked to call 527-3211 or 527-5554.

Glen Robertson landmark removed

GLEN ROBERTSON
Kathy McGrath

A group of parents from Laurier Carriere School motored by bus to Cornwall on Tuesday evening to present a brief to the SD&G Roman Catholic Separate School Board by Reginald Duval requesting that the decision to transfer the school's principal, Gilles Joanette, be reversed.

No official word on the board's decision has yet been received, but rumours are circulating that the request has been denied.

An old landmark in the village had to be removed last week. The poplar tree in front of the home of Fern and Lily Rozon had to come down.

It was estimated to be about 40 years old, 85 feet high and 15 feet in circumference.

Over the years the Rozons have lived in the village they have watched it grow from a tiny tree to its recent size. It was sad to see it go and it will be missed.

Congratulations to Anthony and Diana Hagen who were among the delegates chosen to participate in an area 4-H Club exchange trip.

Anthony and Diana will be flying to Kamloops, B.C. sometime in July for a 10-day stay, during which they will be paired with a twin in that area.

Activities planned so far are trips to Ottawa, Montreal and the Williamstown Fair. Fundraising events are being planned, so keep an eye peeled for these.

Lil MacDonald has returned from a speaking engagement at the Catholic Women's League of Canada, St. Jean's, Quebec Diocesan Convention, held in Candiac.

Hostess for the day was Our Lady of Good Council, under the direction of Father David Cray, S.S.E. Mrs. MacDonald conducted a workshop and was guest speaker at the luncheon.

People living in Glen Robertson are very happy that the Robertson Drain running through the village is scheduled to be cleaned and tiled this spring.

Laurier Carriere Grade Eights competed with Elda Rouleau Grade Eights in a game of softball on Wednesday. Winners were Laurier Carriere boys and Elda Rouleau girls.

Coming up at the school on Thursday, May 9, at 9:15 a.m. will be a show put on by a group of musical artists called Diadem. The students will be divided into three groups and will participate in a mini-workshop on musical instruments.

School photographs will be taken this Thursday.

Monkland centennial fast approaching

Monkland and District has set aside June 28, 29, and 30 to honor and remember its ancestors, the people who played an important role in its heritage. Friday, June 28 will feature the crowning of a junior and senior centennial queen. The queens will reign over the various events for the weekend.

On Saturday, June 29, festivities will start with a parade through the village. There are 16 confirmed entries including bands. Families in the area are encouraged to put in a family float depicting a scene from the past.

Various events will take place on the grounds all day Saturday. They include the official opening, craft display, family ball tournament, local talent, fashion show, refreshment booths, tug of war, land marks open for browsing, etc., followed by a buffet supper. Saturday evening will feature a dance. Centennial dress is encouraged all weekend.

Sunday's events will include a ball tournament, children's games and races, ecumenical church services, chicken barbecue, campfire and sing-a-long.

Residents are encouraged to decorate their lawns and display centennial signs welcoming friends and visitors to the area.

Souvenir centennial buttons will be on sale shortly.

Monkland and District Horticultural Society has put out a book, Reflections on Monkland and District to celebrate the centennial.

The next meeting of the centennial committee will be held on May 14, in the Community Centre.

JUNIOR KINDERGARTEN REGISTRATION

The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education is pleased to announce the introduction of a Junior Kindergarten program, effective for the 1985-86 school year.

Show had everything for the handicraft lover

by Joanne Stevenson

WILLIAMSTOWN — Your hands are all thumbs, but you still want to impress visitors with a house filled with handicrafts? You could have returned home from a trip last weekend to the arts and crafts show at the Nor'Westers and Loyalist Museum with shopping bags full of beautiful and unique crafts.

More than 30 members of the Glengarry Arts and Crafts Association participated in the show. Available for purchase were ideal Mother's Day gifts such as silk flower arrangements, decorated hats, handpainted jewellery, floral wicker brooms and pottery. A variety of handmade toys, clothes for Cabbage Patch dolls and girls' smocked dresses were also displayed. You could also buy works of handweaving and quilting.

Searching for a one-of-a-kind item? Bessie Radley of Summerstown, one of the association's original members, could sell you a kitchen plaque of a rooster made with real feathers or some handknitted golf club covers. At Lucille Fay's booth, gum plates, baby dinosaur and happy worm sculptures were for sale.

Mrs. Fay recalls at an earlier crafts show tourists from France, wanting to pick up a souvenir of Canada, gazed over her selection and decided to buy a tooth fairy pillow.

Vivian Shipley of Glen D'or Studio in Green Valley, offered customers a uniquely Glengarrian treat. Her silk screen cards often feature familiar tunity to display and advertise his works. He also paints portraits, in addition to creating original works of art.

Patrons of the show drive from Montreal, New York, Cornwall and throughout Glengarry to enjoy this twice yearly event. Most make it a point to return and are usually looking for specific items. Some crafts-people P. Bosschaart were shown. Mr. Bosschaart is a new member of the association.

While many members are hobbyists who sell their work as a sideline, Mr. Bosschaart is a professional artist and designer. Together with fellow association members Joe Rebastien and Pauline St. Germain, he operates the 3370 Gallery in Cornwall.

Mr. Bosschaart sees the spring show as an opportunity to display and advertise his works. He also paints portraits, in addition to creating original works of art.

Glengarry scenes such as the Priest's Mill in Alexandria and St. Raphael's Ruins.

Charlie Klintoch's assortment of wickercraft was on display in the museum's East Room. Mr. Klintoch, who is blind, weaves baskets in an assortment of styles and sizes.

In addition to the many country crafts offered, the paintings of artist Jeroen distribute business cards and interested parties can arrange for custom work.

Publicity chairman Gordon Lindsey of Apple Hill Pottery briefly outlined the history and activities of the association. It started in 1973 and in 1981 organized the first spring sale at the museum. The association, made up of both amateurs and professionals, boasts 42 members.

The group meets twice yearly, and operates spring and fall sales. The fall sale traditionally includes Christmas crafts.

At the meetings, a jury assesses the work of prospective members. Mr. Lindsey explained this procedure is necessary because the association strives to maintain high standards and discourages the offering of "too many of the same thing."

Members often participate in other craft shows throughout the area and, in some cases, throughout the world.

So, even if you're all thumbs, the association members are not and can guarantee any item purchased will be displayed with pride in your own home.

Couple could have lost cheques because of error

GLEN ROBERTSON — A Glen Robertson woman says she and her husband could have lost their social security cheques this month because someone forgot to seal the envelopes.

When Kathleen and Lawrence Hagarty picked up their social security cheques at the Alexandria post office on Thursday they were surprised to find the envelopes were open and had never been sealed.

"It's never happened to us before," Mrs. Hagarty said. "But the cheque could have fallen out or been removed from the envelope. It might only happen two out of 100 times, but people who really need it could lose their cheque. Everybody isn't honest in this world."

Hubert Dubois, assistant postmaster in Alexandria, said Monday the problem is a common one and the blame lies with the department of supply and services.

"A lot of bulk mailers send out mail without sealing the envelopes first," Mr. Dubois said. "If they have a big load of mail, 30 or 35 envelopes might slip through without being sealed.

"If we see one that isn't sealed we'll put a sticker on it saying it was found damaged and put our initials on the back," he said. "But we can't catch them all."

Mr. Dubois said organizations that use the mails frequently should make sure envelopes are sealed before mailing them.

Rebels beat Glen Nevis for News Cup

MacInnis leads the way with hat trick in dramatic seventh game

by Peter Conway

It was a script that organizers and hockey fans dream of. One team jumps out to a 3-0 series lead. Then, all of a sudden, the underdog wins three straight to force a seventh and deciding contest.

Close to 400 spectators watched as Glen Nevis' Cinderella story came to an end Sunday at the Glengarry Sports Palace, dropping a 6-3 decision to the Charlottenburgh Rebels in the seventh and deciding game in the Glengarry News Cup.

After losing the first three games of the series, not too many people felt Glen Nevis would make a series of it. In Game 4 last Wednesday night, Glen Nevis came within an eyelash of being swept. Leo Seguin's tally in overtime kept Glen Nevis' hopes alive in an exciting 7-6 win.

Glen Nevis then rolled over the Rebels 9-4 Thursday in Game 5, forcing the deciding contest with a 5-4 squeaker Friday night in Game 6.

Sunday's game was an emotional affair, both on and off the ice.

Charlottenburgh Rebels drew first blood on a goal from Don Pilon, but Glen Nevis skated off to the dressing room with a 2-1 lead after the opening stanza. Cameron McLeod and Leonard Seguin scored in the final five minutes.

The game featured outstanding goaltending at both ends of the rink by the Rebels Dave Carmody and Glen Nevis' Denis Parette.

Carmody was replacing starter Doug Spink, who was sidelined with a knee injury during Friday night's game.

The turning point in the contest came in the middle stanza as Glen Nevis ran into penalty problems. The Rebels tied the contest on the powerplay when Ian MacInnis tallied his first of three goals. Moments later, the Rebels grabbed the lead for good when Dwayne Spink banged in a rebound past Parette on the powerplay.

Referee Chris Emard assessed 13 penalties to Glen Nevis while the Rebels received 10 infractions.

Emard was under constant criticism from the partisan Glen Nevis crowd for his work.

The Rebels increased their lead to 5-2 midway in the final stanza. But, with just over six minutes left, the lead was cut to 5-3 on a goal from Blake Hambleton.

Brendon MacDonald was the other marksmen for the Rebels while Murray MacDonald and Neil Sandilands contributed three assists each.

In the final moments, Glen Nevis buzzed around Carmody with enormous pressure, but couldn't score against the young netminder.

In Friday's game, Leonard Seguin tallied twice, including the winner, as Glen Nevis nipped the Charlottenburgh Rebels 5-4. Glen Nevis trailed 2-1 after the opening stanza and 4-3 after two periods.

Blake Hambleton also chipped in with a pair of markers for the winners while Cameron McLeod rounded out the scoring. Leo Seguin had two assists.

Dan Flaro paced the Rebels with a pair of goals and two assists while Brendon MacDonald and Don Pilon completed the scoring.

In Game 5 last Thursday night, Glen Nevis skated to a 9-4 decision.

The clubs were tied 2-2 after 40 minutes, but Glen Nevis broke the game open in the third period with seven goals.

Carter MacDonald, Leo Seguin and Stephane Levac with two goals each paced the Glen Nevis offensive attack. Levac's second marker was the winner.

Also scoring for the winners were Paul Lefebvre, Marc Laperle and John MacSweyn. Levac and Seguin also had two assists each.

Dan Flaro led the Rebels with two goals and an assist while Don Pilon and Neil Sandilands added singles.

Last Wednesday night, it looked as if Glen Nevis would have little problem forcing a fifth game. They led 5-1 after two periods and seemed to be in command.

The Rebels, however, scored five times in the third period to cap a furious comeback.

Dan Flaro's third goal of the night with just over two minutes left sent the game into overtime.

Denis Parette was the game saver for Glen Nevis in the dying moments of regulation time. With the Rebels' Murray MacDonald parked at the lip of the crease, Parette stole a sure goal from the Rebel forward with a glove save on a rebound.

Glen Nevis' Leo Seguin ended the contest four minutes into the extra session as he beat Rebels' netminder Doug Spink with a quick wrist shot from the slot.

The goal gave Glen Nevis a thrilling 7-6 victory. Seguin led Glen Nevis with a hat trick while singles went to Findlay McLeod, Leonard Seguin, Marc Laperle and Stephane Levac. Cameron McLeod had three assists while Paul Lefebvre had two helpers.

Dan Flaro fired a hat trick for the Rebels while Neil Sandilands chipped in with a pair. Ian MacInnis rounded out the scoring and he also had four assists.

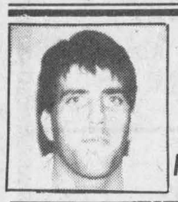
Both News Cup finalists deserve some credit



SPORTS

Peter Conway

It's nothing new for an official to be on the receiving end of criticism from players, fans and the media.

Following Sunday's seventh and deciding game in the Glengarry News Cup, referee Chris Emard was getting an earful from Glen Nevis players and their supporters.

Sure, there were times when Emard chose to turn the cheek, and it looked as if Glen Nevis was getting the raw end of the deal. There were some questionable penalties called against Glen Nevis. Perhaps some infractions shouldn't have been called against both teams and maybe others should have been assessed.

Emard assessed 13 penalties against Glen Nevis and 10 against the Charlottenburgh Rebels. Most of the people walked out of the Glengarry Sports Palace Sunday upset with Emard's work. There were times in the contest when he let too much go and there were other times he called some cheap penalties.

We all like to put the blame on the referee, especially during a hotly-contested affair such as Sunday's game.

The refereeing is not always perfect or the way we want it to be. Officials try to do their best, but it doesn't always look that way to the fan, players or sports reporter.

It isn't the referee who elbows a player in the face or highsticks someone in the corner. Officials will always be second guessed. It is easy for us to criticize from the stands and press box, but most of us wouldn't change places with the referee on the ice.

CAN'T SATISFY SOMEONE

Referees and sports writers have something in common—they can't please everyone all the time.

Everyone has his own opinion about the performance of individuals during a game or throughout a series for that matter.

In a story in The News last week, I had mentioned that defencemen Neil Sandilands and Marc Bissonnette of the Rebels, had stood out above other rearguards in the Glengarry News Cup series.

There were a lot of people, including myself, who weren't giving Glen Nevis much hope after losing the first three games in the best-of-seven format. Glen Nevis didn't play all that well at times in the three games. I won't mention his name, but a staunch Glen Nevis supporter told me in the lobby following the third game that Glen Nevis was done. So, I wasn't the only person.

There aren't too many teams, whether it's a peewee series, the Glengarry News Cup or the pros, that come back to win.

Give Glen Nevis full marks in this case. En route to forcing a seventh game, Wendell MacLeod's team were more disciplined at times than during the first three games. They received solid goaltending from Denis Parette and Jim McDonell.

As the series went on, Glen Nevis gained momentum and the pressure got to a younger Rebels squad.

Glen Nevis was led by two defencemen, who gave all they had and dug deep for that extra effort. Both Cameron (Rosie) McLeod and Carter MacDonald were Glen Nevis' top performers in the final series.

Both these individuals played with a lot of heart and emotion and never gave up, despite the game's outcome.

If a trophy would have been presented for showing dedication and desire, Rosie and Carter would have been worthy recipients.

You can also throw Jim McDonell into that category. With Denis Parette expected to play the brunt of games between the pipes, Jim filled in with formidable outings while Denis had work commitments.

Jim was a constant vocal supporter on the bench for his teammates.

Another player who had an outstanding series was Leo Seguin. As far as I'm concerned, Leo Seguin is one of the best players in this area, or anywhere for that matter. I've been told by some people that Leo was a "late bloomer" as far as his hockey-playing skills are concerned. It wasn't until his last couple of seasons that he excelled with the Junior B Glens.

There aren't too many players in the area who are natural goal scorers, but Leo Seguin is one of them.

For the record, this is for the lady who approached me following Sunday's game, upset with the story on Sandilands and Bissonnette in the News last week. I think those two were the best defencemen earlier in the series.

That's my opinion, but as the series went along, both Rosie and Carter were more noticeable on the ice.

Organizers and fans should be delighted the series went the limit. Let us not forget that the series could have concluded last Wednesday night. Glen Nevis won a thrilling 7-6 victory in overtime after squandering a 5-1 lead after 40 minutes.

Give credit to Glen Nevis for pulling it out of the fire and give the Rebels a hand for not giving up.

It looked as if the Rebels had a lock on the series after the first three games and then Glen Nevis took control the next three games following their overtime win in Game 4.

Sentimental favorite in Game 7 was Glen Nevis. Glen Nevis supporters will blame the officiating in the deciding game. At times the refereeing wasn't up to par. But, is there ever a good word said about referees anyway?

It's too bad both teams couldn't have come away winners.

HAPPY WINNERS—Charlottenburgh Rebels Neil Sandilands, left and Marc Bissonnette were all smiles after winning the Glengarry News Cup Sunday afternoon against Glen Nevis. Sandilands received a trophy as the top scorer in the tournament while Bissonnette was chosen the best defenceman. Presenting the trophies are Glengarry News Cup co-ordinators Raymond MacDonald, left and Arthur Maclaren.

Murray returns as Alexandria Minor Hockey Association president

Tom Murray will be back for another term as president of the Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association.

Mr. Murray was unopposed during the election of officers for the 1985-1986 season Monday night during the association's annual meeting at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Yvonne McDonell will be the vice-president, Rachel Buss, secretary, while Mike Boisvenue will again be the treasurer.

The association will have 11 directors. They are Daniel Brunet, Gaetan Ravary, Bill Gebbie, Peter Conway, Roger Levert, Jacques Leblanc, Gerry Simpson, Jacques Trottier, Bruce Picher, Ron Lefebvre and Maurice Desautels.

A number of people will be returning to familiar jobs with the association. Ron Lefebvre will be back as referee-in-chief, Bill Gebbie is commissioner of the house league, Gaetan Ravary is the travelling team convener and Peter Conway is publicity chairman.

Bruce Picher is the new equipment manager, replacing Gilles Brunet, who wasn't interested in returning to the position.

The midget house league convener is Gerry Simpson while Daniel Brunet is back for another term as bantam house league convener.

Roger Levert is in charge of the peewee house league while Jacques Leblanc is the atom convener.

There will be a new format next season with the novice house league. The seven and eight-year-olds will play in the novice division with Jacques Trottier as convener. A tyke division for players six and seven-year-old will be formed. A convener has yet to be named for the new division.

A fund-raising committee, headed by Mike Boisvenue, was also formed for next season. Also on the committee are Bill Gebbie, Jacques Leblanc, Peter Conway and Bill Buss.

The ice committee consists of Yvonne McDonell, Bill Gebbie, Tom Murray, Ron Lefebvre and Maurice Desautels.

It was also decided that youngsters on travelling teams, such as the goalers, will be allowed to play as a forward in the house leagues next season. But travelling team players will float from team to team, rather than play for a specific club as in the past seasons.

The travelling team players will not be allowed to participate in the playoffs.

The Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association is also hoping to have a fund-raising booth at this year's July 1 celebrations at Island Park.

Eight teams in softball league

The Alexandria Ladies Softball League expects to kick off its new season May 7, at Island Park ball field.

The league will consist of eight teams again this year. The teams who'll be back to play a 14-game schedule are defending champion Bonnie Glen, GTL, Roy's Garage, Caisse Populaire, RVA Steel, Glengarry Glass and Sultan Drugs.

The league's new entry is Sanilit.

The league is still looking for someone to assume the duties of league president.

Hay to attend Montreal Concordes football camp

by Patricia MacGillis

Scott Hay, eldest son of Edwin and Phoebe Hay, has recently signed up with the Montreal Concordes football team as placekicker and punter.

A six-week training period will begin on May 22 at Concordia University.

Within two to four weeks after training starts Scott will know whether he will be kept on.

Scott has a solid background in a variety of sports. Among his many accomplishments are: 10 years on the Lochiel soccer team, eight years with the Alexandria hockey team and five years with the Ottawa Sooners as placekicker and punter.

While in high school he played on the Glengarry District High School football team for three years.

In 1983 and 1984 he was at camp with the Ottawa Rough Riders.

Football is Scott's favorite sport. He is extremely pleased with this golden opportunity and hopes to play professional football for at least 10 years.

Hellenic wins A title

by Sue Sloan

Winning a 12 men's team tournament is admirable enough, but to do it with no goals scored against throughout, is phenomenal; but the Hellenic Stars from Cornwall did it and then walked away with the Men's A Division Championship Sunday during Char-Lan's 15th annual indoor soccer tournament.

The combined effort of the Hellenic Stars and their goalie Greg Platt saw them down St. Lawrence (Montreal) team 2-0 in the men's final.

Hellenic's first goal came when St. Lawrence keeper gambled on a ball recovery outside his crease. His efforts proved fruitless as Hellenic's Steve Watt saw the opening, and set the shot up for Karin Mehrtask to close it when his goal claimed point one.

A one on one shot directly at St. Lawrence's keeper netted Steve Watt the spoils and insured a 2-0 lead for Hellenic half way through the game when his shot rebounded off him and into the net.

In their climb to the final Hellenic shut out Char-Lan U-2, Aylmer Strikers, Unity Maine and St. Andrews. In the past few weeks the Hellenic's indoor play has earned them an impressive 14 games undefeated.

In women's play the Lynwood Spirits from Nepean won when they defeated Longueuil 2-1 in overtime.

Boasting their first victory of the season, Glengarry's Junior Hearts won the Men's B Division title with their defeat of Char-Lan 5-4 in a penalty shoot-out.

Claiming the Women's B title was the Cornwall City women's team as they ousted Scarborough 1-0.

Tournament co-ordinator Mark Gareau said "It was the smoothest running indoor tournament we've ever had, I couldn't ask for anything better."

The consensus on refereeing was good overall with only a few minor irritations on behalf of one participating team. One team out of 24 is something to be proud of.

The only change this year was the point system. Gareau said that in previous years they had experienced difficulties so they had adopted the three points-win, two points-tie, one point-loss, zero points-forfeit system instead of the MSL point system.

Unofficially this indoor season launches the beginning of soccer in the area, therefore we can anticipate a great deal of soccer in the months to come.

Junior Hearts capture B crown

by Sue Sloan

Boldly going where no junior team has gone before, Glengarry's Junior Hearts beat out Char-Lan's Senior Men's team to clinch the B championship Sunday during the 15th annual Clar-Lan indoor soccer tournament held in Willamstown Saturday and Sunday.

Hailed as the best game of the tournament the Junior Hearts held Char-Lan to a 2-2 tie a the end of regulation play.

Alan Brown gave Char-Lan the one-up advantage early in the game when he crossed directly in front of Jr. Hearts keeper, Chris Sauer, to score with a shot to the upper left of the Jr. Hearts net.

Not to be intimidated the Jr. Hearts rebounded immediately from centre and drove the ball down the floor where Glen Campbell's low drive from the right of Char-Lan's crease soared to the upper left of the net to tie the game one all.

With the game half over the Jr. Hearts Glen Campbell secured their first advantage, and his second goal of the game, when his shot found its home in the upper left corner of Char-Lan's goal, making it 2-1 in favor of the Jr. Hearts.

Char-Lan's Alan Brown matched Jr. Hearts Glen Campbell two-goal effort four minutes later when his low drive to the lower left tied the game two all. It remained there until end of regulation play.

Sudden death overtimes pump adrenalin, and both teams had an abundance of it as they played with a fierce concentration and drive to score a goal and claim the win.

Player for player, shot for shot, neither succeeded where the other failed and at the end of ten minute play the score remained two-all.

As the chosen ten made ready for the shoot-out, a well attended audience sat silent waiting for the outcome.

Char-Lan was elected to shoot first. In net for Jr. Hearts, Chris Sauer.

Sauer blocked Char-Lan's Alan Brown and Eric Brown's attempts while Gilles Dubeau's shot went wide.

Scoring for Char-Lan were Jean Tessier and Rick Wood.

Standing victorious were the members of the Jr. Hearts when their penalty shots gave them what they had originally set out for.

Andrew Meth started the momentum with his successful goal. Next up, Lyndon MacNaughton. His shot was blocked by Char-Lan's keeper Dan O'Flaherty.

Brian McCormick made amends when his shot went in. Scott McDougall's shot was also blocked by O'Flaherty.

With a do or die shot, Glen Campbell made his hat trick of the game as his shot found its mark securely "in" Char-Lan's goal. Final score Jr. Hearts 5, Char-Lan 4.

Youth vs Experience appropriately summed up the game.

Matching Char-Lan the Jr. Hearts played with a vigor reminiscent of their senior counterparts, the Heart of Glengarry, a few years back.

Coach Gerry Simpson said his team drew from their name and "they played it with heart," "their desire to win," may have been the catalyst.

The Jr. Hearts claimed their B Division playoff berth by their efforts throughout the tournament.

Play throughout the tournament went as follows: Jr. Hearts vs St. Andrews 1-1 (Jr. Hearts goal Lyndon MacNaughton); Jr. Hearts vs Seaway 0-0; the team from Prescott forfeited.

In semi-final play the Jr. Hearts defeated the Aylmer Strikers 3-1—goals for Jr. Hearts were Glen Campbell with two and one by Richard Willard. Scoring Aylmer's only goal was Hassan Belharkat.

Admittedly Char-Lan played an outstanding game and weren't intimidated by the 15-18 year olds.

At game end the common consensus was that Char-Lan played and the Jr. Hearts just out-played them.

Both teams deserved the recognition of playing a good, clean game.

The icing on the cake came later during the awards when Jr. Hearts keeper Chris Sauer deservedly walked away with the most valuable goalie of the tournament

Leroux, Menard teams win

The Lerouxs skated to the A championship in the second annual Family Hockey Tournament Saturday at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

The Menards came away with the B title in the 11-team tourney.

Organizer Daniel Cholette had 12 teams for the tournament, but was forced to change his schedule after one team dropped out moments before the opening contest.

"The tournament went really well. There was good participation from everyone who played and the fans," said Cholette.

"We're hoping for 16 teams next year. We went from eight teams the first year to 11 this year and our goal is to reach 16 next year," he added.

The annual family tournament has become popular and teams will now be able to compete for an annual trophy while having fun.

"Roger Bray (Bray Trophies) donated an annual trophy for the tournament and I'm very pleased about that," said Cholette.

The Leroux team defeated Brisson 8-1 in the championship game of the A Division. In semi-final play, the champions knocked off McDonell 9-0.

In their second game, Leroux blanked MacDonald 3-0 and defeated Cholette 4-1 in the opening game.

Brisson beat Sauve in their first game and then ousted the Seguin squad in the second game. They received a bye to the final after the second game.

After dropping a 4-3 squeaker to Brisson in their opening contest, Menard defeated Decoeur 6-2 and then beat Cholette 5-1 in semi-final action.

In the B championship contest, Menard skated to a 4-1 decision over Gareau.

Gareau dropped a 5-2 setback to Seguin in their first game of the tourney, but then rebounded to beat Sauve 4-3 in their next outing.

Gareau advanced to the B final after their second game after receiving a bye.

NEWS CUP CHAMPS—Charlottenburgh Rebels captured the Glengarry News Cup Sunday following a 6-3 win over Glen Nevis in the seventh game. The Rebels won the first three games in the best-of-seven series, but Glen Nevis stormed back to win the next three and force a deciding contest. Glengarry News Editor Bruce Hayes presents the Glengarry News Cup to Charlottenburgh Rebels captain Murray MacDonald.

TOP GOALERS—The duo of Doug Spink, left and Dave Carmody won the trophy for the best combined goals-against-average in this year's Glengarry News Cup. Spink played in most of the games for the Rebels, but was replaced by Carmody in the seventh game after suffering a knee injury in the previous game.

Attended wedding

Odette Guindon, Hallandale, Florida came to Alexandria to attend the wedding of her grandson, Richard Quesnel. After the reception the young couple motored to Nashville.

Teams needed for fastball

Fastball players in the area may have to look to another sport for enjoyment this summer.

Unless more interest is shown in the near future, the Alexandria Men's Fastball League may not operate this summer.

Following three organizational meetings, only three teams—defending champion Giroux Sport, Highland Motor Sales and Alexandria Builder's Supply have confirmed they'll be back this season.

The league will have a president this season if it operates. Pierre Vaillancourt will handle the president's duties.

Any teams wishing to join the league are asked to contact Alain Giroux at 525-3688.

Teams wealthier after News Cup

by Peter Conway

Although there was only one winner on the ice following Sunday's seventh game in the Glengarry News Cup final, both clubs were rewarded off the ice.

Char-Lan captured the on-ice honors with a 6-3 decision over Glen Nevis. But both teams came away a little wealthier following the final buzzer.

The two teams split about $1,400, with 60 per cent of entry fees and gate receipts going to Charlottenburgh Rebels and 40 per cent going to finalist Glen Nevis.

After the Glengarry News Cup was presented to the Rebels a number of individual honors were handed out.

Chosen as the most valuable player in this year's Glengarry News Cup was Leo Seguin of Glen Nevis. Seguin was his club's top scorer and he prolonged the series last Wednesday night, scoring the winner in overtime during a 7-6 Glen Nevis win.

Seguin's teammate Blake Hambleton was named the most sportsmanlike player.

Marc Bissonnette of the Rebels was named the top defenceman. Bissonnette was a steady influence on the blueline throughout the News Cup.

The Rebels' Neil Sandilands was the recipient of the top scorer award. He edged teammate Don Pilon and Glen Nevis' Leo Seguin for the trophy.

The goaltending award for the combined best-goals-against went to the Rebels' duo of Doug Spink and Dave Carmody. Spink handled the majority of the goaltending work. Carmody came in to the spotlight in the sixth game when Spink went down with a knee injury.

Carmody was between the pipes in the seventh and deciding game Sunday afternoon at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Iona Academy honors McDonald

IONA NEWS

by Geoff Cameron

On April 19, Iona Academy honored Glengarry's first permanent deacon, Kerry McDonald.

The afternoon program consisted of songs, dances and piano by the students of Grades 2 and 8. The day was organized by Miss McCosham, Mr. Lajoie and Mrs. Filion.

The students in Grades 2 and 8 acted out a comedy called "The Year of the Deacon."

A spiritual bouquet was presented to Rev. Mr. McDonald and a bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. McDonald.

CONFIRMATION 85

Bishop Eugene LaRocque visited our school on April 17. He spoke about the meaning of the sacrament of Confirmation. He stressed that we are confirmed for others and he asked that we become more involved in our parishes. Confirmation will be held in our different parishes during the month of May.

SCIENCE FAIR

Matthew Shepherd in Grade 6 entered his experiment in the United Counties Science Fair at St. Lawrence College. He showed his theory about air pressure, using a bottle.

PRO LIFE

Our Choose Life booklets were sent to every Iona family. Booklets were also sent to our bishop, our parish priests and our trustees. During the month of May, daily prayers will be said at school for the unborn and for expectant mothers.

Also, please plan to attend a Pro Life meeting at Aultsville Hall, Cornwall on May 13 at 8 p.m. The film "Silent Scream" will be shown.

GOOD NEWS

The Grade 8 students received a note from the Secretariat of State (Vatican City) last week. We had sent thank you notes to the Pope following his visit to Canada last fall. The note contained the Pope's blessing for each of our families.

EDUCATION WEEK '85

The theme for Education Week '85 was Education: It's you and me.

A special concert was presented to our parents on Thursday, April 25. Our theme was "We have come a long way in Catholic education."

Our principal, Mrs. LaRosa, told the audience about the beginnings of our school. Each class presented a number. These included songs, skits, dances, music and recitations.

It was really nice to see so many parents, relatives and friends at school for this special event.

VISIT TO CHAR-LAN

On April 23, our Grades 7 and 8 students who will be going to Char-Lan, visited the high school. We wish to thank Char-Lan for the invitation.

INVITATION

A beautiful day for peace is being planned for May 26 at the Cornwall Civic Complex at 2 p.m.

Tickets are available at school for $2 each. Please plan to attend.

Eight teams set to play in ball hockey loop

The Alexandria Ball Hockey League kicks off its 1985 season May 14 at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Eight teams will take part in the league, which will be divided into two divisions.

Competing in Division I are defending champion Dalbec Sport, Mike Gibbs, Daniel's Gas Bar and Mark Rickerd's squad.

Division II is made up of last year's finalist Chez Paul, Miller Hughes, Greenfield Wings and Jacques Massie's club.

The teams will play a 10-game schedule and games will be Tuesday nights at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

MacSweyn rink wins

The closing bonspiel "The Round-Up" was held last weekend at the Alexandria Curling Club. Thirty teams participated in the spiel. The two day event was under the chairmanship of Dougal MacGillivray and Peggy Lafave.

Winner of the spiel was the rink skipped by Kent MacSweyn, Joan Ryan, Donald Gormley and Serge Andre. The two game runner-up was Hugh Allan McDonald, Jeannette Crevier, Gerry Deguire and Allan McPhail. The one game high was skipped by Art Craig, with Bonnie MacDonald, Kevin Roy and Angus Gormley. The one game high runner up was won by Al Malcolmson, Lise Paquette, Angus McDonald and Danielle Felx.

Prizes were sponsored by Labatts. The barbecue steak supper was headed by Phil Lloyd and Jerry Adams and kitchen was convened by Joan Ryan.

Music was provided by Mike Gibbs and Blue Jeans.

CAMPBELL—The family of the late Sadie Campbell would like to thank Rev. Fred Rennie, Dr. Ridout, Dr. Cox, Dr. McPhee, nurses and staff of the Cornwall General Hospital, also relatives, friends and former neighbors for the many acts of kindness, prayers, visits, floral tributes, memorial donations during the illness and upon the death of a dear sister and aunt. Special thanks for the services of McArthur Bros. and MacNeil funeral Home. Your kindness will always be remembered.
—The Dewar family. 18-1p

ROBINSON—We would like to express our thanks to all who have supported us during our time of sorrow. We would especially like to thank Father Dumoulin, both families, Mr. Kent MacSweyn, the ladies of Lochiel parish, Morris & Munro Funeral Home, friends and neighbors for their kindness and thoughtfulness at the time of the death of a dear husband and loving father.
—Marie-Claire & Kim Robinson. 18-1p

In Memoriam

MICHAUD—In loving memory of a dear father and brother, John Louis and Laurier who passed away May 5, 1975 and May 31, 1964.
They are gone but not forgotten
And as dawns another year
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of them are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us.
Many think the wound is healed,
But little they know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.
—Always remembered by Archie and Anita Michaud and family. 18-1p

RIGBY—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Donald, who passed away April 29, 1983.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just in all his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
—Lovingly remembered by mom and dad, brothers John, George and Richard and sisters Doreen, Jane, Susan and Sandra. 18-1p

In Memoriams

MacLEOD—In fond and loving memory of a dear wife and mother who passed away May 7, 1983.
—Sadly missed by John Ross MacLeod and family. 18-1p

400 ACRES, ALEXANDRIA: Why has no one bought this farm yet? It's just on the southern outskirts of Alexandria. The home is all modern. The barns have both farming, hobby and multiple other uses. The land can be worth a fortune in a few years, and so much of it, 400 acres. Take a few minutes over coffee to discuss it with me.

UNIQUE OLD PRESTIGE HOME: I have rarely seen a home like this one. It is a very spacious 100-year-old brick residence with rich interior decor and layout. Most of the floors, mouldings and door frames have been brought back to its original wood with natural staining. It has a big living room with fireplace, a formal dining room, all the other rooms needed. It is on an 86-acre farm just north of North Lancaster.

EARN $1,500 PER MONTH: Call Maurice to find out how you too can earn $1,500 and more each month after all expenses paid by investing in this small business.

APARTMENT BUILDING, WHY NOT? Start your retirement plan now. I have a 6-unit apartment building which needs repairs (you may do this yourself) but has a good income and only $55,900. I'll be only too pleased to sit down with you to calculate everything out. M.L.S.

AULD LANG SYNE

TEN YEARS AGO
Thursday, May 1, 1975

The Pinto grocery business, Mill Square, has been purchased from Larry and Roxanne Hickman by Richard Lefebvre of the Foodorama. — Mrs. Lloyd MacDonald of Lancaster was presented with an electric wrist watch by CNR officials in appreciation of her action in warning that track had been damaged at the Lancaster crossing last November 25. —Lochiel Reeve Alex McDonald will be walking for $3 a mile in Sunday's walkathon to aid the Lions Club $40,000 contribution toward cost of the addition to Glengarry Memorial Hospital. — Well known to generations of Glengarrians, the Hotel Cecile at Riviere Beaudette, Que., was completely destroyed by fire early Monday morning.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, April 29, 1965

Pte. Garry Larocque of the RCRs arrived home Saturday from Germany where he had been serving since 1962.—Alexandria firemen today battled a blaze at the home of Ernest Danis, 2nd Lochiel.—Melville MacLeod, Dunvegan, has completed his studies at Guelph University and will be employed with CIP at Hawkesbury. With Fraser Ashton Lucknow, and Robert MacCrimmon of McCrimmon, he left Monday for a vacation in Bermuda.—Homes under construction include bungalows for Dr. Yvon Bourdeau and Jack Trudel on St. George St., Lucien D'Aoust on the lake shore and Wallace Hope, on Dominion St. North.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, April 28, 1955

A new restaurant specializing in barbecued chicken will be opened in June by Alphonse Lalonde and Roger Menard. It will be at the corner of Main and Gernish.—Donald Gormley is the incoming president of Alexandria Lions Club. He will succeed C. C. Fraser.—G. G. Aubry of Alexandria was elected to succeed Dr. D. J. Dolan as president of the Glengarry Liberal Association.—Duncan J. Gelineau was awarded the contract, at $2,300 to lay a polished cement floor in Glengarry Gardens. It will be ready for opening of the lacrosse season May 14.

FORTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 27, 1945

E. A. MacGillivray, Glengarry's representative in the Legislature for the past eight years, has again been chosen the Liberal candidate for the June 4 election.—CSM Wilfrid Lajoie of Green Valley, is reported recovering from wounds suffered April 16th. Pte. J. W. Boisvenue of Maxville and Pte. Alexander Samson of Lancaster, are also reported seriously wounded.—Glengarry relatives and friends have learned of the release of three prisoners of war, Warrant Officer Perrin Magwood and Warrant Officer Lawrence J. McCosham of Cornwall and Pte. John E. Larkin of Montreal.—Mr. and Mrs. Dougald A. McDonell of Williamstown, marked their golden wedding date, April 23rd.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 26, 1935

A threatening blaze destroyed the barn of Fred Tracey's property, Mechanic Street East, Maxville, Wednesday afternoon.—Miss Elinor McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. McDonald, 5th Concession, North Lancaster, left on Saturday for Cornwall, where she has entered the novitiate of the Religious Hospitalers of St. Joseph's.—Miss Isobel Cowan, New York City, spent Easter at her home here.—Clarence Quinn of Curry Hill, left on Monday to take up work on the Britannic.—A widely known resident of Kenyon Township, Dan S. Macdonell, Lakeshore, died on Saturday, April 20th, aged 52 years.

SIXTY YEARS AGO
Friday, May 1, 1925

On Saturday evening the stock barn of N. Guay, 38-3rd Lochiel, was destroyed by fire. Members of the family were uninjured when lightning on Sunday night struck the residence of Duncan F. MacMillan, Fassifern. Considerable damage was done.—John M. and Duncan Fletcher of Dunvegan, left on Thursday for Detroit, Mich., to take up their positions with their brother Neil of that city. Chas. Bond of Alexandria, also left last week for Detroit.—John Duncan Claude, 8-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Neil Macdonald of Calgary, was judged as perfect a specimen as a child could be at a baby show held in that city.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 30, 1915

Canada has received her first great casualty list and it is thought the desperate battle of last weekend at Ypres may have cost 800 casualties including 22 officers killed. London papers report Canadian divisions saved the day but at heavy cost. The use of poison gas by the Germans has been substantiated.—The following Glengarrians have obtained the BA degree at Queen's: J. J. Dunlop, Margaret L. Govan, Grace M. Grant, Williamstown; Gertrude McCuaig, Bainsville; D. L. Matheson of Dalhousie Mills won the degree of Bachelor of Medicine.—The following Alexandrians purchased automobiles this week: Dr. A. L. Raymond, an Overland runabout; Dr. Bellamy and J. W. Crewson, Ford touring cars; J. R. McMaster, a Reo touring car.—Mr. and Mrs. John A. McMillan last week removed from Maxville to the farm of Angus John McDonald, contractor, Bridge End.—Fred MacLeod of Dyer, lost his house by fire.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO
Friday, April 28, 1905

A desperate struggle in which one of the robbers was killed, resulted from the attempted robbery of the Merchants' Bank at Lancaster, Tuesday night. Four men broke into the bank, in which Herman Von Metzke, the teller, was sleeping. In the terrific struggle which followed, the teller shot and killed one of the robbers, the others fleeing. Mr. Metzke suffered nine severe cuts on his head in the scuffle.—Our townsman, John R. Shaw, is steadily branching out. On May 1st, he opens an agency in Ottawa where he has installed a manufacturing outfit by the American Soda Fountain Co. Mr. Shaw has signed a 20-year contract with the Caledonian Water Co., and will handle all their wholesale and retail trade in Eastern Ontario.—John McLeister is having built a stable and barn which will house a swell turnout but recently purchased from the Carriage Works.—Queen's graduates include Miss Ethel Ostrom, Alexandria, Norman MacLeod, Dunvegan; J. F. Pringle, Cornwall, who received the degree of BA; D. R. Cameron, Lancaster, won the degree MA; W. H. McInnes, BA, received the degree BD; P. F. Munro of Moose Creek, has arrived home from Scotland.

GREAT FLOOD—This view of Alexandria's Bishop Street looking north gives you an idea of what local residents were going through on April 21, 1934. The photograph, submitted by Mrs. J. Sanderson of Toronto, shows Mrs. Anderson's grandfather Donald H. Dewar. If you have any old photographs of scenes around Glengarry, please drop them off at The Glengarry News office, Monday to Friday during regular business hours.

AUDITOR'S REPORT 1984

To: The Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh

We have examined the consolidated balance sheet of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh as at December 31, 1984 and the consolidated statement of operations for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these consolidated financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh as at December 31, 1984 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting principles prescribed for Ontario Municipalities on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of Consolidation

(i) Consolidated Balance Sheet

This statement reflects the assets and liabilities of the revenue fund, reserve funds, the capital fund and includes the activities of all committees of Council and the following local board, which is under the control of Council:

Committee of Adjustments

(ii) Consolidated Statement of Operations

This statement reflects the consolidated sources of financing and expenditures of the revenue fund, reserves, reserve funds, and the capital fund of the municipality and those local boards described in note 1(a)(i).

(iii) Non-consolidated Entities

For those municipal enterprises of the municipality which are not consolidated, the "Consolidated Balance Sheet" does not reflect their assets or liabilities except to the extent of amounts due to or from those entities. The "Consolidated Statement of Operations" does not reflect their revenues and expenditures.

The entity which is not consolidated is:

Martintown Hydro Electric Commission

(iv) The taxation, other revenues, expenditures, assets and liabilities with respect to the operations of the school boards, and the County of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry are not reflected in these financial statements except to the extent that overlevies are reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet" as "other current liabilities."

(b) Basis of Accounting

(i) Sources of financing and expenditures are reported on the accrual basis of accounting with the exception of principal and interest charges on long term liabilities which are charged against operations in the periods in which they are paid. The principal and interest charges are not accrued for the periods from the dates of the latest instalment payments to the end of the financial year.

(ii) The accrual basis of accounting recognizes revenues as they become available and measurable; expenditures are recognized as they are incurred and measurable as a result of receipt of goods or services and the creation of a legal obligation to pay.

(b) Basis of Accounting (Continued)

(iii) Capital Outlay to be Recovered in Future Years

The historical cost and accumulated depreciation of fixed assets are not reported for municipal purposes. Instead the "Capital outlay to be recovered in future years," which represents the outstanding principal portion of unmatured long term liabilities for municipal expenditures or capital funds transferred to other organizations, is reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet."

2. OPERATIONS OF SCHOOL BOARDS AND THE COUNTY OF STORMONT, DUNDAS AND GLENGARRY

Further to note 1(a)(iv), the taxation, other revenues, expenditures and overlevies (underlevies) of the school boards and the County of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry are comprised of the following:

	School Boards	County
Taxation and user charges	$1,520,359	$273,398
Grants		280
	1,520,359	273,678
Total amount payable for current for current year	1,520,281	273,731
Overlevies (underlevies) for the year	78	(53)
Overlevies at the beginning of the year	NIL	411
Overlevies at the end of the year	$ 78	$ 358

These revenues and expenditures are not reflected in the "Consolidated Statement of Operations."

The overlevies at the end of the year are reported as other current liabilities on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet."

3. CONTRIBUTIONS TO UNCONSOLIDATED JOINT BOARDS

Further to note 1(a)(iii), the assets and liabilities of unconsolidated joint boards have not been consolidated and are not reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet," except to the extent of the long term liabilities to be recovered from general taxation.

The operations of these joint boards have also not been consolidated. The "Consolidated Statement of Operations" include only the following contributions made by the municipality to those boards:

Cornwall Regional Airport Commission	$3,556

The municipality is contingently liable for its share, which is approximately 15%.

4. LIABILITY FOR VESTED SICK LEAVE BENEFITS

Under the sick leave benefit plan, unused sick leave can accumulate and employees may become entitled to a cash payment when they leave the municipality's employment.

The liability for these accumulated days, to the extent that they have vested and could be taken in cash by an employee on terminating, amounted to $87,761 (1983 - $79,925) at the end of the year. An amount of $20,000 (1983 - $8,000) has been provided for this past services liability and is reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet." An amount of $12,000 (1983 - $8,000) has been provided for in the current year and is reported on the "Consolidated Statement of Operations."

5. NET LONG TERM LIABILITIES

	1984	1983
(a) The balance of net liabilities reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet" is made up of the following:
. Total long term liabilities incurred by the municipality including those incurred on behalf of school boards, other municipalities and municipal enterprises and outstanding at the end of the year amount to	$ 685,117	$ 763,643
. Of the long term liabilities shown above, the responsibility for payment of principal and interest charges has been assumed by unconsolidated local boards. At the end of the year, the outstanding principal amount of this liability is	(70,000)	(103,000)
. Of the long term liabilities shown above, the responsibility for payment of principal and interest charges for tile drainage has been assumed by individuals. At the end of the year, the outstanding principal amount of this liability is	(615,117)	(660,643)
. Net long term liabilities at the end of the year	$ NIL	$ NIL

(b) Approval of the Ontario Municipal Board has been obtained for the long term liabilities reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet."

6. MUNICIPAL EQUITY (OR DEFICIT) AT THE END OF THE YEAR

	1984	1983
(a) The balance on the "Consolidated Statement of Operations" of municipal deficit of $(378,132) (1983 - $(296,763)) at the end of the year is comprised of the following:
. for general increase of taxation	$ (31,004)	$ (82,627)
. for general reduction of user charges	7,920	4,812
	(23,084)	(77,815)
. acquisition of fixed assets to be recovered through taxation or user charges	(329,287)	(169,248)
. acquisition of fixed assets to be financed from the proceeds of long term liabilities	(25,761)	(49,700)
	(355,048)	(218,948)
	$(378,132)	$(296,763)

(b) Approval of the Ontario Municipal Board has been obtained for the pending issues of long term liabilities and for those commitments to be financed from revenues beyond the term of Council except for the cost of the land in the Purcell Subdivision which amounts to $133,206.

7. RESERVES AND RESERVE FUNDS

The total balance of reserves and reserve funds $311,036 (1983 - $301,385) is made up of the following:

	1984	1983
Set aside for specific purpose by Council
. for acquisition of fixed assets	$ 2,000	$ 2,000
. for working capital	230,000	230,000
. for sick leave	20,000	8,000
	252,000	240,000
Set aside for specific purposes by legislation, regulation or agreement
. for park purposes	7,327	5,827
. for loans under the Ontario Home Renewal Plan	51,711	55,558
	59,038	61,385
Total	$311,038	$301,385

8. CHARGES FOR NET LONG TERM LIABILITIES

The charges for long term liabilities assumed by the non-consolidated entities or by individuals in the case of tile drainage loans are not reflected in these statements, 1984 - $157, 665 (1983 - $146,931).

9. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

The municipality is contingently liable for long term liabilities with respect to tile drainage loans and to those for which the responsibility for the payment of principal and interest has been assuemd by school boards. The total amount outstanding as at December 31, 1984 is $685,117 (1983 - $763,643) and is not recorded on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet."

10. CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

The municipality has entered into contract to lease equipment as follows:

	Monthly lease	Total lease
Three-year lease - ending September 1985	$2,050	$20,500
- ending December 1986	366	8,784
- ending December 1986	3,110	55,980
		$85,264

11. TEMPORARY LOANS

In our opinion, Section 190 of the Municipal Act has not been adhered to. This section limits the municipality to borrowing an amount not in excess of 70% of its current uncollected revenues.

12. ANALYSIS OF CAPITAL OPERATIONS

"Unapplied capital receipts (or capital operations not yet financed)" represents the "net" position of all capital projects which is the summation of the following two types of projects:

i) those where incurred costs are greater than financing, and
ii) those where the financing is greater than incurred costs or those where financing has not to date been assigned to a project.
