School Board Nominations Monday

Nixon Says, "Seaway Valley Still The Forgotten Area"

"Seaway Valley is still the forgotten area," said Robert Nixon, Ontario Liberal Party Leader, "and is still isolated after 25 years of Progressive Conservative government."

Mr. Nixon was speaking to over 200 Grenville-Dundas Liberals at their annual meeting last Wednesday night at Cardinal. At the meeting in Cardinal United Church Hall, Walter MacDonald, of Winchester, was elected President succeeding George Brown of Cardinal.

Mr. Nixon went on to say it cught not be necessary to have to negotiate the highways, the byways and the roads of rural Ontario in order to reach the nation's capital. "Yet," he said, "this is what the Robarts government expects Seaway Valley residents to do."

Other prominent speakers at the meeting included Gordon Blair, M.P. for Grenville-Carleton in the Federal House, who took advantage of the opportunity to thank, once again, those who supported him in the last election, and re-affirmed that his door is always open to all residents of his riding.

Reeve Elliott of Winchester and Reeve Raina, Kemptville, also spoke to the large gathering.

Mr. Nixon was introduced by Carlton McInnis, of Morrisburg, and thanked by Patrick Beavers, also of Morrisburg.

Stops Over In Winchester

Robert Nixon, Liberal Leader in the Ontario Government, paid a brief visit to the Press Office last week. On his way to Ottawa, having addressed the Annual Meeting of the Grenville-Dundas Liberal Association in Cardinal the night before, Mr. Nixon and his executive Assistant John Morritt were joined by Walter C. MacDonald, President Elect of the local Liberal Association and a candidate in the last provincial election.

Questioned regarding the new school administration system coming into effect in January, Mr. Nixon expressed the view that centralization was good in principle, but that in Eastern Ontario the areas were much too large. He disagreed with the way it was being forced on the people without proper preparation. Mr. Nixon also saw the need for promotion of industry in Eastern Ontario.

Chesterville Board Chairman In Race

With nominations less than a week away, two men have announced that they will definitely seek a seat on the newly created Regional School Board. They are Lorne Thompson of Chesterville and G. H. Reynolds of Winchester. And the word making the rounds in the district is that there may be more bidding for the office.

Nominations for the school board position will be held next Monday evening in North Dundas District High School. The successful candidate who will be elected on Monday, December 2nd will represent the villages of Winchester and Chesterville, and the township of Winchester on the new regional board.

Mr. Thompson, Chairman of the Chesterville Public School Board ,has been associated with school trustee work for the last 25 years. He has been a member of a three-man rural board for seven years, eight years with the Township Area Board, and for the past 10 years has served on the Chesterville Board. In addition, he is a member of the Interim School Organization Committe for larger units of administration. An employee of Nestle Canada Limited where he is supervisor of electrical and instrument installations, he is married to the former June Sharpe of Winchester.

Well known businessman and farmer G. H. Reynolds probably seeks the office as one of the best qualified candidates. A former member of Council and Reeve of Winchester, Mr. Reynolds has had vast experience in the field of business and farming in the area. In addition he has previously served in various government capacities and has long been respected for his insight in financial matters pertaining to the work of municipalities and schools. As a former member and committee member of United Counties' Council he is well known in the school area and is particularly versed in the problems facing such an organization as a new regional school board.

He is married to the former Isobel Stewart and has a son, an honour graduate of Carleton University and presently a history specialist at Merivale High School, Ottawa.

All Winchester and district citizens are urged to attend the nomination meeting on Monday night.

Tourist Council Suggests Apple Festival Outlines Plans For Annual Meeting

An "Apple Festival" was one of the main promotional ideas suggested by Seaway Valley Regional Tourist Council at their general meeting on October 30. The well attended meeting was held at the Anchor Motel, Cornwall, with President Reg. Workman in the chair. In his report President Workman explained that the Council will most likely receive the full $5,000 grant again this year.

Since the now world-famous McIntosh Apple had its origin right in the heart of the Seaway Valley, Council agreed that an effort should be made to create more interest and an Apple Festival was suggested. The secretary was instructed to write to individuals and groups who should take a very special interest in such a promotion. Goups mentioned included Iroquois Lions Club; Williamsburg Township; Winchester Council; and St. Lawrence Valley Co-Op. Once some leadership is established and the "wheels" begin to turn, Council feels all service clubs, women's organizations and such will be eager to take an active part.

TOURIST FOLDER

Council agreed to continue with the Seaway Valley Tourist Folder and Map, making such changes and additions as are necessary. An "Insert Directory" will be included ONLY if local restaurants, motels, service stations, etc. make their wishes known immediately. If sufficient interest warrants such an addition, and enough money can be made available in this way, such an addition will definitely be considered.

MEMBERSHIP

Although membership fees have been raised from $10 to $15, there has been a steady increase in membership and one Director predicted the record 216 will be passed.

MP's WORK APPRECIATED

Council agreed a letter should be forwarded to Gordon Blair, M.P. for Grenville-Carleton, complimenting the government on its research program underway at Fort Wellington. More promotion was needed, the members felt, and the communication to Mr. Blair will also request a substantial increase in the supply of up-to-date mat-

Farm Business Course Attracts 45

Farming is a business, and a "Business of Farming Course" is being offered in the counties of Dundas, Stormont, Grenville, Russell and Carleton to farmers who live within commuting distance of North Dundas District High School.

This course will be given under the Ontario Manpower Retraining Program in co-operation with the federal Department of Manpower and Immigration. Operating in the evenings, the course will last 20 weeks and commenced last Tuesday evening.

Subjects covered include soils and fertilizers; field crop production, animal husbandry, agricultural mathematics, farm business management, farm mechanics, welding, horticulture and communications.

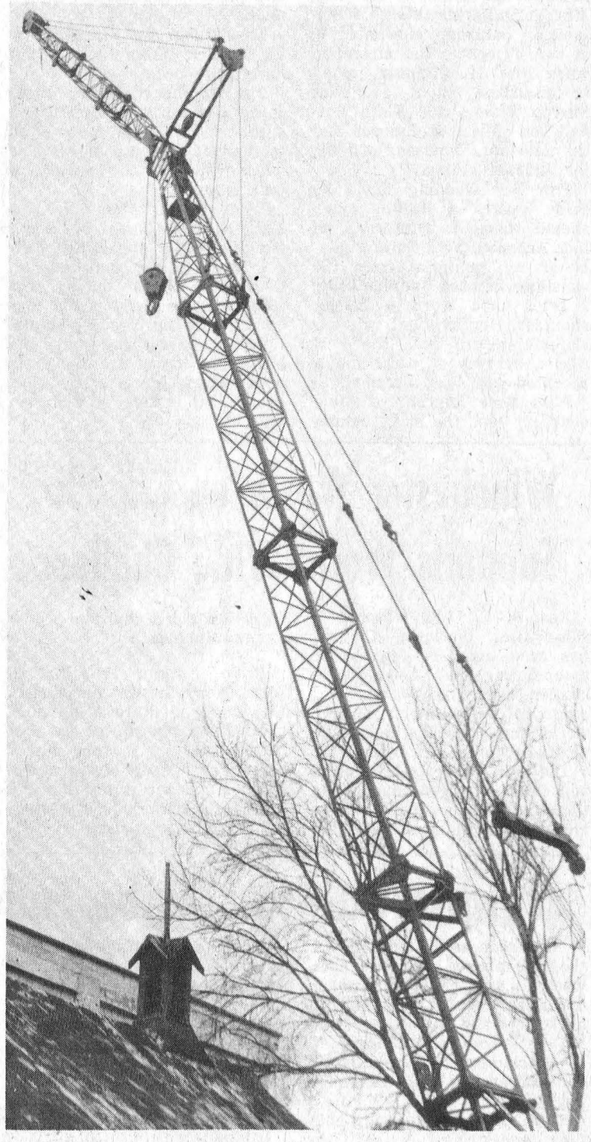
LOCAL SUPERVISOR

Malcolm MacGregor, a graduate of Ontario Agricultural College and a well known successful area farmer, is the course director, and Mr. MacGregor has informed the press that 45 have registered for the course.

Classes run from 4.00 p.m. to 10.00 p.m. five nights a week, and those participating will receive living allowances from the Department of Manpower and Immigration, varying from $35.00 per week for a single person with no dependents to $75.00 per week or more for those with three or more dependents.

VALUABLE TRAINING

Where similar courses have been offered in the past at other centres, participants have been well satisfied with their newly acquired learning and have put it to good use in operating their farms.



How High The Crane?

Silhouetted against the cold autumn sky, this huge crane is busily engaged in securing three new "holding tanks" in place at the Ault Milk Plant in Winchester. Having taken over the milk processing plant at Kemptville, more storage space becomes an urgent factor and the three 40,000 pound tanks will alleviate the problem temporarily.

The crane, by the way, is approximately 150 feet high.

THE NEWS in Brief

COC Banquet Tuesday Night

Guest speaker for the Chamber of Commerce meeting next week will be from the Planning Branch of the Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs. It is timely that such a qualified speaker should speak to Winchester businessmen at this time when much thought is being given to proper planning and zoning. Winchester is currently enjoying both a housing and industrial upswing and Chamber members will be listening attentively to suggestions from government level.

Christmas decorations, Christmas store hours, and the coming Santa Claus Parade will all come up for discussion and finalizing of plans.

The meeting is being held on Tuesday evening, November 19th, with dinner at 7:00 p.m. Location is the Country Kitchen and all members are expected to be out for this one.

Increase In Hydro Rates

"Hydro," says Ontario Hydro Chairman George Cathercole, "is caught up in a most disquieting inflationary phase and has been forced to increase wholesale rates to the Municipal Electrical Utilities it serves with power."

Mr. Gathercole reminds customers that even though an increase is necessary, Hydro is still a very cheap servant. The residential customer of a municipal utility, he says, pays an average of $80 a year for his power, a service available around the clock, 365 days a year. This is about 22 cents a day.

The announced increase which becomes effective January 1, 1969, varies slightly from one municipality to another, but the average across Ontario is 4.5 per cent.

Venturers Collect 2800 Coat Hangers

Eight Winchester Venturers canvassed the village last Saturday collecting wire coat hangers and residents responded with kindness that was greatly appreciated by the young senior scouts.

During the day the Venturers collected over 2800 hangers and the sale of these to a local dry cleaning establishment realized $42.00.

Venturers receive very little financial help from scouting organizations and must necessarily raise their own money. Thanks to the co-operation of Winchester people the dwindling fund has been replenished.

Crack-down On U.I. Abusers

The Unemployment Insurance Commissioon will be launching an intensive educational programme to inform Canadians of their rights under the Act as part of the new crack-down on fraud against the fund.

As a result of a consultants' study which used scientific methods, a new technique has been designed to curb fraud. In a recent news release Commission officials point out that the basic concept is that all insured Canadians are entitled to benefits and everyone will continue to receive his full entitlement and best possible service.

"Unemployment insurance," said the Chief Commission, "is the right of every Canadian, and maintaining this right will be our first consideration. We are only seeking to stop the relatively small percentage of defrauders."

For her wedding trip the bride donned a rose wool dress with black accessories. The couple will reside at Spencerville.

erial for distribution at all tourist outlets. President Workman predicted that with such additional promotion attendance at Fort Wellington might easily reach the 100,000 mark.

Many other promotional ideas were considered including Sportmen's shows, bumper stickers, and decals. Miss Germaine, speaking for CFML Radio (French) Cornwall offered one-line fillers during the summer months free of charge, and the Tourist Council hoped similar offers might come from other radio and TV media serving the area.

Another interesting suggestion came in the form of a proposal that the Parks Commission allow bulletin boards and other forms of advertising to familiarize tourists with other interesting parts of the Valley. "Everybody promotes Upper Canada Village," said President Workman, "we would like Upper Canada Village to promote the entire area as well."

Winchester Remembers With Impressive Services

Fifty years ago the war "to end all wars" came to an end, and last Sunday, in an impressive ceremony at the Cenotaph, Winchester residents remembered the fallen and paid silent tribute to their memory.

Winchester Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, Winchester Venturers, Scouts and Cubs marched to church service at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at 11 a.m., and following the service marched to the Cenotaph located on the hospital grounds. People of all faiths joined in the commemoration ceremonies and with bowed heads and heavy hearts remembered the gallant Winchester and district men who had made the supreme sacrifice in two world wars.

A chill autumn wind swept across the hospital grounds as the notes of the "Last Post" echoed through deserted Winchester streets.

Prior to the ceremony many wreaths had already been placed including the following:

In memory of Lieut. George Utman, presented by Mrs. Ella Utman and family; in memory of Fte. Robert Bilow and Gunner F. F. Woods, presented by Mrs. Ruby Bilow; in memory of Cpl. Creighton Robinson, presented by Mrs. C. R. Robinson and Mr. Wm. Robinson; in memory of Ft. Sgt. Lyle Thompson, presented by Mrs. Mabel Baxter and family; in memory of Pte. Howard Billings, presented by Mrs. H. Billings and family; in memory of Lieut. Arnold Casselman, presented by Mrs. A. Casselman and family; Winchester 100 Club; Winchester Lions Club; Winchester Women's Institute; Winchester L.O.L. No. 862; Winchester L.O.B.A. No. 817; Winchester Ontario Hydro; Winchester United Church Women.

Mrs. Mabel Baxter laid the wreath representing the mothers, and Reeve George Elliott the village of Winchester. Others officiating at the wreath-laying ritual were Councillor Garfield Baker for Winchester Township; Susan Boyd for the NDDHS Student Council; Crystal Knapp and Marion Lobb for Winchester Public School; Mrs. Ruth Pemberton representing the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Royal Canadion Legion, and Frank Gannon on behalf of the Legion.

Rev. A. J. MacDonald officiated at the Cenotaph service, assisted by Rev. Wm. Inglis and Rev. R. L. LeRoy.

Ontario Safety League Endorses Pedestrian Protection

"Not seen until too late" is the epitaph on countless men, women and children struck down at night as they walked on streets and highways.

Such is the declaration made by Ontario Safety League in its endorsation of the "Reflecto-Tag."

Extra protection for nighttime pedestrians is easy to come by, says the Safety League. It consists of a simple device that makes drivers aware of the presence of a pedestrian from a considerable distance.

The small tag is pinned inside pocket or purse. During the day it remains out of sight. After dark it is pulled out and allowed to dangle by a short string as the wearer walks along. It increases his or her visibility almost magically.

The "Reflecto Tag" is coated with literally thousands of glass beads, too small to be seen individually without a microscope, but whichever way it turns, it reflects light back, in a narrow cone, to the source of illumination. Thus the driver sees a brilliant sparkle reflected from his headlights, from a Reflecto tag hundreds of feet beyond the point where the pedestrian ceases to be visible.

The tags cost only 10 cents, in quantity, and the Ontario Safety League and other organizations across Canada, hope that community organizations such as service clubs will get them to distribute where they are most needed — e.g. Senior Citizens clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides.

Particulars may be obtained from the Ontario Safety League, 208 King Street West, Toronto 1.

IN MEMORIAMS

COONS—In loving memory of Floyd Coons, who passed away November 22nd, 1967.
—Wife Mildred and family. 28p

COLQUHOUN—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, George Riley Colquhoun, who passed away one year ago on November 15, 1967.

Today recalls the memory
Of a loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of him today
Are those who loved him best.
The flowers we place upon his grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who lies beneath
Will never fade away.

Planning The Future

R. D. Fulton, representing Queen's University, has apparently convinced four N.D.D.H.S. students that following graduation Queen's offers the "most."

The occasion was the University Information Program held at North Dundas last week. Thirteen Ontario Universities were represented and 160 students from Osgoode Township High School, North Stormont and Mountain District joined their fellow students at NDDHS.

Mr. Fulton is a former Chesterville man who, following many years' service with the R.C.N., has channelled his talent into the education field.

Grant Creighton Heads Winchester Hockey Club

Winchester Hockey Club has a new president this week. At the Club's annual fall meeting Saturday evening Grant Creighton took over the chairman's gavel from George Hanes. Accepting the position Mr. Creighton congratulated his predecessor on outstanding service to the hockey program. Additionally, he challenged more parents and young men not too far removed from the very same hockey program to return to it and offer their services.

The complete slate of officers with President Grant Creighton is: Vice president, Edwin Duncan; secretary, Mike Dukelow; treasurer, Jack Hume; and directors George Hanes, Elzeon Raistrick, Keith Guy and Laurie Summers.

Winchester minor leagues this year will be in a new section. Locals will be playing against Kemptville, Osgoode and Richmond in league competition. With registration planned for this Saturday, some teams may be renting ice in other communities to give the boys a bit of early going on the blades.

Anticipation is that Atom, Pee Wee, Bantam and Midget teams will be run in district league competition, with Town League play set up for all of the younger players on a twice weekly basis. Each team should get a minimum of two hours' ice time each week.

It appears that only the Atoms with Coaches Elzeon Raistrick, Rae Imrie and Keith Guy will be back with the same management. Other familiar faces may appear but with new teams.

Boys 6 to 16 Registration For Hockey Friday Night

If you are between the ages of 6 and 16 and want to play minor hockey this year in Winchester, you have a date Saturday morning. First step to getting on the ice is registration of all players and that will be the job between 10 and 11.30 Saturday in the Legion Hall.

Club officials will be on hand to accept all registration sheets and iron out any problems that may arise. Registration sheets should be available now in all district public and high schools. These can be picked up and signed ready to be handed in on Friday. Boys in outlying areas such as Morewod, Inkerman, Winchester Springs, South Mountain and Mountain are welcome to join the program.

Cost-wise, the registration will be $2 per player with a maximum of $4 registration fee to a family. This charge helps defray insurance and equipment costs.

Lack of a registration sheet should not discourage any young hockey aspirant. Bring along Dad or Mom on Saturday morning, let them sign the sheet and turn in your two dollars, and the problem will be solved. Note this year there is no necessity for a school teacher to sign the registration sheet. However, a parent must sign each boy's sheet.

Minor Hockey registration on Friday evening from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

Winchester Ties Morrisburg 4-4

Winchester's entry in the St. Lawrence Junior B Hockey League held the strong Morrisburg team to a 4-all tie in last Sunday's scheduled game.

This is Winchester's first year in the league and the young players appear to have some outstanding talent. As yet inexperienced and lacking practice facilities, their efforts Sunday served as notice they will be a tough team to beat.

Both teams played a rugged brand of hockey with Morrisburg picking up 14 penalties and Winchester 11. Supplying the scoring punch for Winchester were Dave Casselman, Fred Lobb, Dwain Cinnamon and Ray Armstrong.

This Sunday Winchester will play Metcalfe. Game time is 2:00 p.m. at Morrisburg arena. Metcalfe, with many new players, have yet to win a game this season.

Clifford Warren was best bowler last week at the Lanes. Cliff rolled a 303 for the best single of the week, and then went on to add singles of 241 and 246 to also take high cross honours with 790.

Community League

Clifford was undisputed champion of his league but he had to be at his best to outscore his wife Beatrice who rolled a cross of 711. Other top scores were: Arn Stobo 696, Bob Levere 662, Ken Cleland 645, Earl Graves 633, Edna Empey 629, June Kerr 613, Norm Tinkler 597, Janet Holmes 592, Keith Guy 550.

Glamour Girls

Glamorous? Yes! Bowlers? Well! High cross, 568, rolled by Joyce Angus. High single, Ruth Pemberton 222-549.

The Bitter With The Sweet

Winchester's current sweet era of growth was slightly tempered last week with a bit of a bitter pill. At a time when the town has taken on renewed vigour and with the outlook better than it has been for many years unofficial announcement arrives from Canadian Pacific Railways that the Winchester station will soon become an "ex" facility. And that was not all. The recommendation to Council that the Community Centre be closed was not particularly palatable.

CPR which, as yet, has not made an official announcement concerning the fate of Winchester station, chose to butter up the population with a camouflage attack in the way of a sizeable advertisement in this and other newspapers explaining a brand new service. The advertisement was something like the old con game where the poor little cousin on the north concession is led to believe that the sun shines all the time, and that there really is a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

Not so! CP is a big, big corporation. Its decision to shut down small stations applies not only to Winchester. The company is virtually out of the passenger business. Matter of fact it has been a long time since a passenger train even stopped in Winchester. Add to this economics and CP will tell you, figures to back up their statements, that stations the size of the one in Winchester are just not practical. The actual service, the importance to the community's growth, etc. etc. do not really enter the question when the boys behind the big desks in head office decide to make the chop.

There really is not too much anyone can do. Approval must be first obtained; but to-day this is almost a formality. And there is no arguing the service the company will employ to satisfy its customers. The fact remains that Winchester, despite increased freight usage in the future, despite more and more express each year, despite the need for immediate rail service, is just one more town feeling the bite of big business. No doubt there will be official opposition to this latest CP move. There should be. But it will be to little avail.

Canadian Pacific came to Winchester 84 years ago when the booming village was changing its name from West Winchester to Winchester. Today the name is the same, the village is on the move, and CP is pulling out. It is rather an ironic twist of fate and should be a sharp reminder that the times are indeed changing very rapidly.

The other pill, although hard to swallow, must be accepted in the understanding that a new Community Centre is on the way. Each business and each citizen can hasten this day by helping out in a variety of ways. It will take dollars and it will take work. The Community Centre is important to the community both financially and from a recreational standpoint. There must now be no delay in getting on with the program of raising monies leading to the actual construction of the new building.

In the meantime, there may be some argument around here as to Canadian Pacific "serving you in so many ways."

Can Bilingualism Work?

The fact that most of us would like to be fluent in both French and English is no assurance that bilingualism can work efficiently in Canada.

More and more we hear of total immersion classes in French, more conversational courses in schools, and night classes a couple of times a week in different cities and towns across the country. But adults, at least most adults, although conscientious are not about to become totally bilingual. All the courses in the world are of little use if the language is not put to use on an almost daily basis.

And the fact of the matter is that even in Quebec more and more English is being spoken because of the necessity of communicating not only with other Canadians but with other countries. Montreal, at the present rate, could be totally English speaking in the next decade or two. And a recent television program pointed out that few people really cared.

Being bilingual is an asset but it is not apt to become a total necessity. And if total bilingualism is the only answer to this young nation's survival then the start should be made with the five year olds in all provinces, not with the 50 year olds. Nearby Renfrew county has been designated a bilingual area because it is included with Ontario counties in which more than, 10 per cent. of the populaton speak French. The Renfrew Advance points out editorially that for official purposes French speaking persons will be entitled to use their own language. Since more persons in Renfrew County do not speak French, any sizeable demand for use of French by citizens, employing their rights, could bring hurried calls for interpreters. Can you imagine the confusion the average federal civil servant here would be in if he had to answer a question posed in rapid French?

The Advance explains the interest in the two languages and states: "This is all to the good but we remain skeptical about the results." Dr. H. H. Stern of the Ontario Institute of Studies said recently that a second language is best learned at an early age but adults could succeed. He said the educational authorities really don't know the methodology for teaching languages — and they need to know.

If we do not produce students fluent in French from five years of high school how are English Canadians going to achieve the standards set for a bilingual federal government, among other things, by attending part-time courses. All the good will and incentives in the country will not produce enough bilingualism so that Canada can be thought of as bilingual.

The ideal is great but, as the Advance points out, it must be obvious that our French language can never be more than a token of our founding nations.

SUGAR AND SPICE

Good Old Skinny Wyonch

It's deer-hunting time again, and though I've never been known as The Deerslayer, I have been under attack. The worst deer hunter in the whole entire world has come out in print charging that I am the worst deer hunter in the world. I'll go for second worst, but I'll not be slandered like that.

All I can say is that "Skinny Wyonch must have the gout again." As I've pointed out before, this was the greatest one-line filler ever used in the newspaper business.

A filler is a little item used in newspapers to plug a hole. They can run up to ten lines, but they can't be any shorter than one. When we were desperate for a one-liner to fill a hole on the front page one time, we stuck it in. "Skinny Wyonch has the gout." And he did. He couldn't even sue us. Next time we were frantic for a one-liner, we inserted, "Skin Wyonch has the gout. Again." And he did.

Now, probably suffering from gout, he has written a scurrilous article in which he beats around every conceivable bush, including the mulberry, (and I wouldn't be surprised if he'd been into the mulberry, which would give him the gout) trying to suggest that I am a worse deer hunter than he.

This is not only like the pot calling the kettle black. It is like one politician claiming that his opponent is a bigger liar than he is.

Skinny now sits in my old editorial chair, once occupied by the second worst deer hunter in the world, now by the worst. In a recent article, gout-inspired obviously, he recalled the time we'd gone hunting together.

As far as it was in his nature, he told the truth about me. He said I had no sense of direction in the bush. Well, any damn fool can get lost in the bush, and thousands do every year. That proves nothing.

He said I didn't know how to chop wood. So what? I didn't hire on as a wood-chopper. He said I fell in the lake every time we climbed into the skiff to cross the bight to the island. Some of those pansies along were afraid to get their feet wet, just because it was November.

And he suggested that I put 3.55 rifle shells in John Desjardins 32 rifle. That's a lie. It was Teemy Wright's 30.30.

But it's incredible how feeble his memory has become (possibly gout-induced) about the important things. He didn't mention that he never once fired his gun at a moving target. He shot at a tree once and very nearly hit it. But I actually fired twice at a deer, about 40 seconds after he had disappeared into the cedars. I think it was a deer.

It has not seeped back into his consciousness how I solved the food problem. We were stormbound for four extra days on a desert island. The others, eating like hogs, wanted to cook that last roast of beef. But I was in charge of food rationing. When I finally decided to unwrap it, it turned out to be five pounds of cheese rather than beef, but nobody starved. Some of us have foresight; some hindsight.

And he's completely forgotten that trip home from the island, after ten days of 40-mile-an-hour wind and snow. "My wife'll kill me." was the plaintive whimper. I knew it was too late for that. I knew mine would boil me in oil.

But at their urging, these manly hunters, we took off into the pitch-dark, in a snowstorm, 12-foot waves, a leaking boat, five deer on the top deck, and the electric pump on the bummer.

They lay in their bunks, green and groaning, while the old fighter-pilot, the well-driller and the middle-aged guide saved their skins.

No sense of direction indeed. You should have seen me steering through that black snowstorm, while John got up on the pee-deck (no poop-deck on this boat) to take a look into the nothing, and Teemy manned the pumps.

I don't mind him, gout-oppressed, trying to bolster his ego. But I resent it when he shows no gratitude for the people who saved his life.

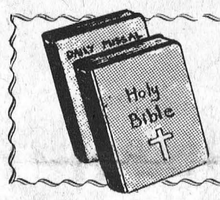
The Column Seventh

Most of us are aware that the mid point between the equator and the North Pole is the 45th parallel. How may of us, though, realize that this important location runs smack through our Seaway Valley area. A quick look at a detailed map shows Ingleside as the precise point. With this in mind the Seaway Valley Tourist Council wants the spot appropriately marked. The Council, conscious of the need to continue the promotion of tourism and in helping to provide more attractions believes such a situation offers the Valley another unique place to go and see. Not that there would be much to see. But an appropriate marker and explanatory sign could tell interested tourists of the significance of their being at the exact mid point between the extreme hot and the extreme cold of the earth. A great place to take a picture. Add to this a concession or two and you have what Tourist Council believes another source of revenue. It is worth some support from private and government agenices. The location, according to the Tourist Council, could be near the entrance to the Long Sault Parkway...a most beautiful area for scenic value and easy to get to for campers and others staying over night. This suggestion offers all sorts of possibilities and the Council is hopeful that something will be developed before the next summer season arrives.

There are three very important meetings of particular interest to Winchester citizens next week. And an all Canadian effort should be made to attend all of them. We refer to the Regional School Board nomination meeting on Monday evening in North Dundas District High School, the Winchester municipal nomination meeting next Thursday evening in the Town Hall and the Fall banquet meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening. Each meeting plays a significant role in the successful life of the community. Men and women who are genuinely interested in the prosperity of Winchester and the area will be present.



Meditations . . .

by REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Matthew 5:4: "Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted."

Here are words of real comfort. Through past ages men have thrilled to these words. The reason for this is evident. This world is filled with grief and sorrow. Mourners are weeping all over this world every moment of every day. Loved ones are torn away from us, family circles are broken, and with it many hearts are broken. We live in a vale of tears. No one escapes mourning.

The hope of comfort amid tears and mourning, does not remove grief, but tempers it. Of it the apostle writes: " . . . that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him."—I Thess. 4:13-14. To lose loved ones without any hope is to lose them eternally and without any comfort. Only those who die in the Lord, as confessing believers, leave mourners with hope and comfort.

At this point one may rightly ask: But is this the meaning of Jesus' words in this beatitude? It is evident that it cannot refer to being comforted regarding the loss of loved ones. It is the mourners who shall be comforted. That comfort is future, not present. Besides that, not all men are mourners all the time. Some mourn only rarely and for a very short time. Our Lord could not have in mind the mourning and grief occasioned by the losing of loved ones. It would be entirely out of keeping with Scripture for anyone to mourn continually for the loss of a loved one.

We must ask another question, that is, for what other reason, aside from losing loved ones, would a person mourn? And what makes this mourning so serious that one is declared blessed who has the hope of being freed from it? An answer is not difficult to find. When Jesus spoke the beatitudes, He was not speaking of different classes of men but of the same men. The poor in spirit are also the mourners. They mourn because their life is not what they desire it to be before God. Of it the apostle Paul wrote this way, "For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do . . . O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?"—Romans 7:19. 24. Here the apostle explains the real cause for a believer's grief and mourning.

How can such people be called or considered blessed? Wherein lies this blessedness? It is evident that this blessedness is a present reality but not a present experience. Those who are truly sorry for the sins they daily commit, are those who also strive to serve God acceptably. That is precisely why they feel so sorrowful. They come so far short. But they walk with God to the best of their ability and their destination is the Father's eternal home. Arriving there they will be free from all tears for they will be free from all sin. That blessed comfort is theirs in this life, and in Christ Jesus is theirs eternally. The important question is: Are we such mourners? Are we acquainted with such godly sorrow for our sins? Then we too are blessed indeed!

RESIDENTS SADDENED

Former Inkerman Man W. L. "Les" Brown Dies

Winchester and surrounding district residents were saddened to hear of the death of W. L. (Les) Brown, of North Bay. Mr. Brown was well known in Winchester since he was a Past Master of Henderson Lodge No. 383, A.F. and A.M. His association here resulted in Mr. Brown becoming an affiliated past master with North Bay Lodge No. 617. He was also in the St. John's Chapter, Royal Arch Masons and was past Grand Superintendent of the new Ontario District 15. He was also a member of the Rorab Shrine Club.

Born at Inkerman in 1905 he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Brown, and received his elementary education there. He graduated from Winchester High School, attended Ottawa Normal School and later graduated from Queen's University majoring in mathematics and physics.

In 1927 he married the former Aleta McVean of Smiths Falls, who survives, along with one son, Ray, of Niagara Falls. Also surviving are three grandchildren; a brother, Ray, of Inkerman, and three sisters, Miss Helen Brown, Ottawa; Mrs. Gladys Keller, Ottawa, and Mrs. Bernard Whitteker, Williamsburg.

Mr. Brown arrived in North Bay in September 1941 as a mathematics and science teacher in the technical department of North Bay Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, now known as Algonquin Composite School. In 1949 he transferred to the general department and in January 1951 was appointed vice principal.

He became principal in 1961 and continued to direct the activities of the school until his retirement in 1965. Following his retirement he was urged to return and teach Grade 13 mathematics. His great contribution to the field of education prompted the institution of the W. L. Brown Trophy, presented each year to the boy and girl contributing the most to leadership in the Students' Council and extra-curricular activities during the year.

He was, for many years, captain with the Cadet Services and received the Canadian decoration for long service. In addition to his work in connection with the school, Mr. Brown served as chairman of the Board of Stewards at Trinity United Church and was a former choir member.

Funeral services were conducted at Trinity United Church at North Bay. The body rested at Armstrong Funeral Home, South Mountain, where burial service was conducted by Mr. Mervyn Brown. Interment took place at South Gower Cemetery.

N.D.D.H.S. Rams Again Champs

Led by Stephen O'Donahue and George Ennis, NDDHS Rams defeated Seaway by a 4 to 0 score and this victory gave the local boys another championship.

On the season's play, Rams won 4, tied 1 and lost 1. Only two goals were scored against the team.

Ram's correspondent Dave Thompson predicts the North Dundas boys will repeat again next year.

Staff News

Results are coming in for courses taken during the summer vacation by the teachers at NDDHS. The following teachers have reported spending from two to seven weeks at school during the holidays: Mr. E. Bowman, Mrs. C. Baekekhee, Mrs. B. Quinn, Mrs. M. Fetterly, Miss V. Bentley, Mr. L. Trillo, Mrs. L. Smith, Mr. G. D. Graham, Miss A. Henderson, Miss C. Cornwall, Mr. R. Doering, Mr. T. MacLean, Mr. D. McGahan, Mr. J. Jaimet, Mr. H. Craig, Mr. D. Mitchell, Mr. A. Gowanlock, Mrs. L. Allison, Mr. W. Sherwood, Mr. F. Brown and Mrs. A. Hill.

Some of these were attending Queen's University beginning or completing their O.C.E. course in teaching. The others were at various universities working at improving their teaching qualifications, becoming specialists in their field or acquiring more skills and knowledge of their subject matter.

Courses studied included: History, Home Economics, Accounting Theory, Philosophy, Administration of Education, Mathematics, Chemistry, English, Geology, Geography, Latin, Psychology, Audio-Visual Aid, Vocational Specialist, and Principal's Course.

Eleven of the above teachers reported that they are currently engaged in University courses at Ottawa. They are attending lectures one to three evenings a week in an effort to improve their qualifications as secondary teachers. This group also includes Miss B. Pavelick and Mr. H. Edwards.

Subjects being studied include: Physics, Accounting, American Government, Public Administration, Psychology, Economics, Sociology, Mathematics, Human Relations, Business Administration, Computers, Commercial Law, Economics and Advanced Electrical Circuits.

Education for the modern teacher seems never to end.

In addition to regular duties, some teachers are teaching subjects to the Night Class students.

Because of the large number of after school activities and staff participations, it is very difficult to plan a special evening event that does not conflict with the many variations.

Mr. H. Manchester, Mr. J. Kitchak, Mr. M. LeMay, Mr. F. Brown, Mr. N. St. Louis and Mr. C. Ward attended a dinner and business meeting of District 27 of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Association on Friday night. The meeting was held held at the Holiday Inn at Hawkesbury.

On motion of Mr. Frank Brown the district was divided into two groups consisting of Prescott and Russell counties, and Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry counties. These two districts will parallel the new area School Boards which take over in January 1969.

The meeting was called primarily to review changes in the O.S.S.T.F. Constitution. A new Constitution was proposed and will be voted upon at a later date.

Grinds! Mixes! Delivers!

The Gehl Mix-All, with economy plain feeder and exclusive crusher-feeder attachment, grinds, mixes and delivers the most uniform on-the-farm feed.

Here's proof: Samples of feed grains, ground by Gehl and competitive mills, were compared in a "sieve-shaker" analysis (a grinding uniformity test used also by commercial feed manufacturers). In test after test, Gehl samples were the most uniformly ground. And, the more uniform the grind, the better the mix!

In the Mix-All hammermill, 66 thin, alloy-steel hammers cut . . . not pound ingredients on a big grinding surface for faster feed flow with reduced "fines." Come on in for a close-up look at all the Mix-All features, including the swinging auger-feeder.

No Luck, No Buck

When a frightened buck charged into a car driven by Thomas Cecil Lafleur last week on the highway near Morrisburg, damage to the car was costly. Mr. Lafleur, a resident of Riverside Heights and a Security Officer at Upper Canada Village, was puzzled to learn his insurance did not cover an accident of this nature.

Still more confusing the fact that, the deer killed on impact, became the property of the police.

For a perplexed Mr. Lafleur no luck and no buck.
