Forerunner To Subdivision ?

First steps to what could be the preparation for services to be supplied to a new village sub-division are being completed this week as an extension is added to the municipal sewer along Victoria East.

The project is being carried out privately under agreement with the village for its ownership to be turned over to the municipal system when complete. Well founded speculation is that the extension from Mill Street to the east end of existing Victoria is to accommodate furthering extension into a planned housing development. Ball Construction of Morrisburg is completing the contract let by H. S. Lannin Ltd.

Trenching for the new extension commenced Wednesday of last week and the entire project of installation of the main feeder line will probably be completed this week-end. Seen overlooking the excavation and installation in the right foreground is Dwight Lannin of the Lannin firm.

Dundas Exhibitors Rank High At Central Canada Ex.

Names such as Carscadden, Dawley, Henderson, Acres, Burton, Pallister, Lannin, MacGregor, all are well known names around the show rings at the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa and those names showed up on prize lists frequently once again this year.

Dwayne C. Acres of Osgoode was a top man in sheep and swine in the 50-year family tradition. Dwayne's sow entries took senior and grand championships and took three championships with Tamworth boars. In sheep, the Hampshire ewe class he dominated, taking a first, second and third.

Fred L. Carscadden of Russell entered his Fairbanks Leader Lucky in the all breeds best udder class at the Ex and took top prize against 26 competitors. Lucky, a six-year-old Holstein, won the same class at last year's Russell Black and White Show.

Other area Holstein exhibitors showing at the show and very pleased with the results, taking home ribbons and money were Basil Dawley of Winchester, Hugh Blaine of Mountain and Lorne Henderson of Brinston.

Malcolm MacGregor of Crysler, always a top contender for honours with his Guernseys, made an excellent showing at the Exhibition showing eight of his 85 head. Lloyd Walker of Winchester Springs was pleased with his showing. Harold Lannin's Lanwin Farm Herefords won many awards and made the work involved getting the animals ready for the show very rewarding.

A familiar name to Horse Show goers, Dr. W. A. Pallister of Russell showed well with horses in the harness show pony and lady's harness show pony. Dr. Pallister, as with many of the other exhibitors, will undoubtedly be showing his animals at the fall fairs in Metcalfe and Russell. Another name that came forward in the horse class was that of Ryan as Mrs. Frank Ryan's King's Gaiety showed well.

DUNDAS 4-H RESULTS

Merla and Marlene McMenomy lead the way for Dundas competitors by placing in the A group with their display and presentation of agriculture against six other counties. (See picture page 8).

In the judging competitions Larry Smith of Chesterville placed 12th among 202 contestants and Dwaine Davidson of Winchester 20th. The boys judged six different classes and then answered a quiz on general farm knowledge. In the intermediate grouping Francis Henderson of Brinston moved close to the top in a similar type competition placing 7th. There were no county senior entrants.

121 teams entered in the competition on Tuesday. Contestants heard lectures on various aspects of farming, in the morning, and in the afternoon were tested on their knowledge. Top finishers locally were Gwen Baldwin and Rodney Gilmer of the North Mountain Tractor Club who placed 16th. Ronnie Crowder and Lyman Holmes of the Williamsburg Calf Club placed 32nd, and the Dundas Tractor Club with Larry Smith and Lyle Slater finished 45.

In the Tractor Safe Driving contest Dundas' representatives Lyle Slater and Bill Zandbergen tallied a seventh.

FLOWERS AND FEATHERS

In the Poultry Show R. Richmire of Williamsburg won his class with a cavie, and an Asiatic Cochin Black Hen took its class for G. Brown of Cardinal. In Horticulture, Ronald L. Potter, of Kemptville, did well in his first Ex. showing, taking second, third and fourth place in artistic basket arrangements and second for an artistic arrangement of gladioli.

After Monday Accident

Donald Anderson In Serious Condition

Eight-year-old Donald Anderson is in the Intensive Care ward of the Ottawa Civic Hospital to-day suffering from a ruptured liver and possible other internal injuries. The slim red-headed boy is in little pain but doctors consider his condition serious and are watching his reaction closely to ascertain the extent of the damage which will dictate whether an operation will be necessary.

The victim of an unfortunate accident Monday afternoon at approximately 5 p.m., Donald has been given blood and has been receiving intravenus while under observation. He is expected to remain under intensive care for several days.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson of Fred Street, Winchester, Donald was on his way to mail a report for his father when the accident happened. He had gotten out of the car with his father on the east side of St. Lawrence near the United Church and was instructed to be careful going across the street. His father went to call at a nearby home. Donald apparently waited for the cars proceeding north but started across the street when they passed. As he crossed the southbound lane he was unavoidably struck by a car driven by Leon Marcellus of Chesterville.

Dr. G. Barton attended the boy and he was rushed to Winchester Memorial Hospital, from where he was almost immediately transferred by Vice and Craig ambulance to the Ottawa Civic.

Chief Les Whitteker of the Winchester Police investigated the unfortunate accident. Just a few months ago Donald's younger brother Stewart was seriously hurt in another accident involving a truck, but has completely recovered. Just a year ago Donald and his brother Wayne were pictured in the Press enjoying an ice cream cone on the diving board of the Anderson pool. In last week's Press Donald was one of the football players depicted on the front page.

Freeway Accident Takes Four Lives Saturday Night

Four people died in a car accident on the MacDonald-Cartier Freeway Saturday evening when the auto in which they were riding hit a concrete bridge abutment at Nash Creek.

Two of the passengers in the car were rushed to Winchester District Memorial Hospital in very serious condition but died before arrangements could be completed to transfer them by helicopter to a Montreal hospital. Dead shortly after their arrival were Mrs. Mary Jane Tarbell and Mrs. Catherine Connors, both of Hogansville, N. Y. Driver of the car, George Tarbell, died almost instantly as did another passenger, Mrs. Marcia Lyons. In hospital suffering from various injuries is Francis Connors.

Talent Show Taking Shape

Entries for the talent show at Winchester's Trade Fair have been coming in at a good clip and fair officials are starting to smile about the way the whole show talent contest and exhibition of products and services has been shaping up.

Contestants with an eye to the $50 prize for the grand winner to be declared on September 24 of the three day Fair that runs from the 22nd and a chance to display the act that may lead to a shining career.

Chamber of Commerce committees in charge of the extravaganza report hopeful acts for the semi-finals on the first two nights of the show are coming in well ahead of expectations at this still early date and they take note that they still have the right to limit entries. Finals, of course, before expert judges will be held on the closing Friday evening, September 24.

Other entertainment for the Trade Fair is now being lined up and several well known personalities will be on hand. Booths are filling up rapidly and all predictions call for a new and attractive Trade Fair September 22-24 in the Winchester Community Centre.

The seventh annual Trade Fair gets underway Wednesday, September 22 and runs until Friday, Sept. 24th each evening, co-ordinated by the Winchester Chamber of Commerce.

Drought Over Gardens Growing Giant Vegetables

For several months the area was plagued with a severe lack of rain, and crops, gardens, lawns and pastures suffered through the extended drought conditions. But the rains finally did come and have been coming ever since. Some exceptionally heavy August rainfalls have slowed threshing and made the corn reach for the sky and the pastures to begin the long road back to normal.

Ample evidence of what the rain has done to increase the growing prowess of many plants and vegetables can be seen in the gardens. One good example of a flourishing garden is that of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Empey. The tomatoes are overflowing the vines in the huge variety and the carrots are the large type.

Two examples of the giant growths were brought into the Press Office on Tuesday. On display from the Empey garden were a tomato that measured 14 inches around the waist and 12 inches around the circumference, top to bottom. A really big carrot stood eight inches tall and was 8¼ inches around at its thickest.

Some vegetables!

Dundas Dairy Princess To Open Mountain Fair

Dundas County Dairy Princess Lois Stoodley will open the annual Mountain Township Fall Fair today and officially declare the big event underway.

What the Dairy Princess starts Fair officials hope will be one of the biggest and best ever to be held on the South Mountain Fair Grounds. Ready for winners in competitions that run from homemade jam to horse racing is a grand total of more than $6,000 in prize money.

The county Black and White Show, County 4-H Calf Clubs and Swine Clubs will hold their Achievement Days as part of the program and over 100 4-H'ers from all corners of the county will be in the ring hoping to impress the judges.

Horse races on the fast track that is in prime condition are always a feature of the Friendly Fair and this year race secretary John Thompson has lined up one of the best fields of horses ever. Race time is Friday afternoon, September 3rd.

Other featured attractions are, of course, the fun filled midway with all the trimmings and the Maxville Highland Band. See you there!

Full Program For Tri-County Planning Day

Dundas County farmers are invited to attend a Farm Planning Day on the farm of Morley Anderson, one mile north of Heckston on Wednesday, September 8, 1965. A special programme is being sponsored by the Dundas, Leeds and Grenville Soil and Crop Improvement Associations.

Through the Grenville Association, Mr. Anderson has been involved in various projects for the past eight years. His farm consists of 200 acres, 75 of which are tillable. The main dairy herd, consisting of 30 milking cows, has shown a yearly increase of 4,000 lbs. since the project was started. Many crops on the Anderson farm are hay, pastures, and corn, with considerabe birdsfoot trefoil being utilized.

INTERESTING PROGRAM

Wagon tours to various areas on the farm will commence at 10 a.m. on September 8. A special program including K. E. Lantz, Assistant Deputy Minister, Ontario Department of Agriculture who will be the guest speaker at 1 p.m. is planned. Tours will continue throughout the afternoon and there will be a special ladies' program on landscaping and flower arrangement in the afternoon.

Beginning at 8.00 a.m. will be a land clearing demonstration which will continue throughout the day.

Areas of interest will include a new pole barn, single headrail, tie-up stalls, nutgrass control, managed pasture acreage, supplementary pasture including Sudan-Sorghum and corn, birdsfoot trefoil demonstration and woodlot management.

Tourist Industry On Upswing Across Province

Despite inclement weather in the northwest region, Ontario tourist trade showed an over-all increase of 3.7% in accommodations and 5.3% in restaurant sales over 1964 for the two month period June 15 - August 15 this year.

All in all, tourist business is on the upgrade in Ontario as these and other figures indicate in a report by the Travel Research Branch of the Ontario Department of Tourism and Information.

Lion's share of the gain was won by the eastern area, with the Arnprior district scoring a 20.6 rise in occupancies and four percent. in restaurant sales.

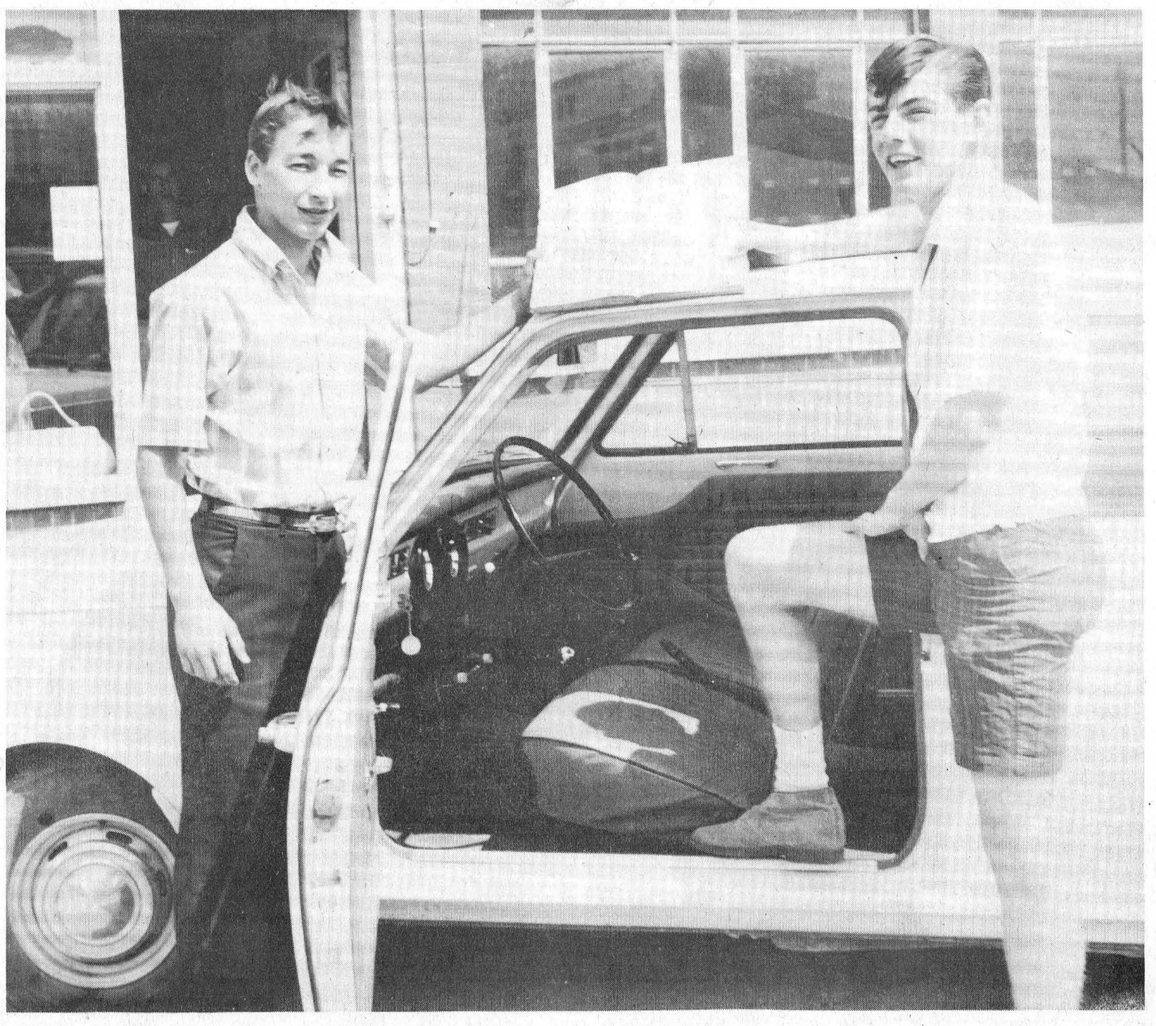
An advance of 6.5% in accommodations and 6.6% in restaurant revenue was attained by Southern Ontario, with bad weather contributing to a drop of 3.2% in occupancies and a slight gain of 1.7% in restaurant business for Northern Ontario.

Tallies for other districts surveyed, in the order of accommodation and restaurant returns second were:

Huntsville, 2.7% and 12.5% advances; Kitchener, 4.6% and 15% increases; Kenora, 1.2% decrease and 3.3% gain; North Bay, 5.2% decline and no change; Napanee, 1.8% rise and 3% drop.

Teenagers Exchange Visits For Summer Fun, Education

Take two 17-year-old boys. One is French, the other English speaking. They've never met, each has only a very halting knowledge of the other's language — just that learned in school. They know nothing of each other, their meeting was arranged by an organization known as Visite Internationale which provided for the boys to exchange one month visits this summer between Winchester and Laurierville, Quebec.



What have they got in common? Well, lots of things of course — sports, school, enthusiasm, and other interests such as — girls, maybe? Yes, girls.

Jean Dennis Morrissette, son of Monsieur and Madame Sylvere Morrissette, and David Acres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Acres, became close friends over their summer together and considered it an education in the learning of each others' language, habits, traditions and mostly a fun filled adventure.

David is a Grade 12 student at NDDHS taking an Arts and Science course, and Jean Dennis a classics student with four languages, Greek, Latin, French and English, part of his course. Mr. Acres is owner of Patz Farm Service in Winchester, and Mr. Morrissette manager of the Co-Op Store 250 miles away in Laurierville. Both boys have younger sisters with Jean Dennis meeting Susan and David being introduced to Lucie on their exchange visits. While in Winchester Jean Dennis took his first venture on water skis, and in Quebec introduced his new friend to tennis. Of course they had other interests that they don't say too much about but every teenage boy has that single interest in common—girls?

Jean Dennis and David are ready to go in the photo and are just checking the French-English dictionary to make sure they don't get their lines crossed. Femmes? Ya man.

It was a profitable summer for both boys in many ways and both hope it can happen again. A summer of fun started what will obviously be a lifelong friendship and fond memory. And how about the girls?

Weary Warriors Whipped

Some top relief pitching by Ed. Renwick and a triple with the bases loaded in the bottom of the sixth inning by Gord. Fairbairn broke the feathers of the Winchester Warriors and Brinston goes on into the final round to play in the Dundas Intermediate League against Iroquois.

Warriors jumped off in control of the game taking a commanding 7-3 lead by the top of the sixth. Then the defence fluttered and with none out Brinston had three men on base. That was it for starter Gerry Tansley and Doug. Milne came in to try and stem the tide. The inning ended 9-7 and the game 11-7.

Throughout the year the Warriors have had a problem getting fans out to their games and the semi-finals were no exception. Four spectators sat on their side of the field during their final game. Faithful fans Elaine Clarke, Brenda Brown and Mrs. Wilfred Lannin and daughter along with another fan who was standing behind the bench were the only spectators following Winchester to Brinston for the final game.

Keith James again won the feature race, but he had to battle Bob Zeigler all the way.

On Monday night, September 6th, two 50-lap championships for Jalopy and Figure 8's will be held. On the same card there will be a half-hour of fireworks.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Thor Andersen, a farmer who works for himself and makes $4,000 a year.

The Andersens are both aged 45 and have no family. If Thor's earnings continue at $4,000 a year until he reaches age 65, he can look forward to a retirement pension of $83.33 a month from the Plan. This, plus the $75 each Mr. and Mrs. Andersen will receive from Old Age Security, will give them a total of $233.33 a month—equal to 70% of Thor's previous average earnings.

If Thor becomes disabled anytime after 1970, having contributed until his disability began, he will get a disability pension of $87.50 a month. This will continue until he becomes 65 when he will receive his retirement and Old Age Security pensions.

Should Thor die anytime after 1967, having contributed until his death, his wife will receive a widow's pension of $56.25 a month until she becomes 65. From then on she will get $125 a month—$50 from the Plan and $75 from Old Age Security. At the time of Thor's death Mrs. Andersen will be entitled to a lump sum payment of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Thor, in a particular year, have self-employed earnings of $4,000 you will pay $122.40 in instalments, in the same way you pay income tax.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada,
The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

Metropolitan Opera Coming To Ottawa

The Theatre Foundation of Ottawa announced late last week the signing of a contract to sponsor the Metropolitan Opera National Company at a Canadian premiere at the Capitol Theatre on December 3rd, 1965.

The U.S. premiere of the newly-formed company will be held at Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana on September 20. President Johnson and Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy are expected to attend.

After its initial production in Ottawa the company will later play Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver.

The three operas to be sung by the Met. are Madama (note: this is the correct spelling) Butterfly by Puccini; Cinderella by Rossine, and Carmen by Bizet.

The gala night performance of Madama Butterfly should prove to be the highlight of the capital's theatrical season. Representing the Metropolitan Opera at the Canadian premiere will be Rudolf Bing, general manager, and Rise Stevens and Michale Manuel, co-managers of the Metropolitan National (touring) Company.

Rev. Dr. Harry Rodney Poses Questions For St. Paul's W.M.S.

Rev. Dr. Harry Rodney asked two questions in an address to the Senior Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

The well known speaker asked "What has the Christian Church to offer us today?" and "What can we do to encourage others who are losing their hold on life, and faith in God?"

The words which the Christian Church have to keep men on their feet and put the stars back in their skies are Faith, Hope and Christ. Christianity is a call to a great faith, a life filled with Peace and yet an unrest to greater things.

Mrs. A. Suffel introduced the speaker who was later thanked by Mrs. W. McKercher.

There was a good attendance at the Thank Offering meeting presided over by the president, Mrs C. R. Robinson. During the meeting Mrs. R. Empey made herself an Honorary Life Member. She also gave an "In Memoriam" for her sister, Miss Eula Currie of Preston. Mrs. R. Ledgerwood presented certificates for the donations. Mrs. Empey's daughter, Mrs. Elmer Robinson of Macouche, Que., presented the pin emblematic of the life membership.

Musical entertainment was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Robinson who sang "How Great Thou Art." Rev. George Cawfield of Winchester Baptist Church pronounced the Benediction.

An invitation was extended to all present to adjourn to the Sunday School rooms for lunch and to view the panel made by Miss Emma Gardner, which was on display.

Mrs. Ledgerwood and Mrs. Hugh Wilson convened the lunch. Mrs. M. Rielly of Morrisburg moved a vote of thanks.

Hydro's New Look

First all white Hydro trucks have made their appearance in the Eastern Ontario area at Winchester and Perth. A radial-arm derrick vehicle has been put in use by Winchester R.O.A. manager Al. Beardsall and his safety award winning staff.

A similar truck with the elaborate equipment necessary for to-day's complex line work was also delivered to the Perth headquarters. A modified pick-up truck on the white motif is now in use in Kingston. Within a few weeks more of the all white vehicles will be delivered to Hydro headquarters at Ottawa, Lancaster, Lakefield and Cobourg.

The new colour scheme replaces Hydro's familiar red trucks and is part of the new corporate identity program announced in mid-June. The new white trucks also bear the new Hydro symbol which links the letter O and H — for Hydro in Ontario — and tilts the letters so that the symbol resembles an electric plug. The symbol colours are vermillion and orange.

The complete colour change for Hydro's vast fleet of service and other vehicles across the province is expected to take upwards of three years to be completed.—Ontario Hydro Photo.

DEVELOPMENT OF OPEN GREEN SPACES IN OUR CAPITAL

(Fourth in a series)

Previous articles dealt with the reasons Ottawa, our National Capital, means so much to the nation as a whole and describe some of the work of the National Capital Commission in developing Ottawa and the 1,800 square mile National Capital Region.

All who visit the National Capital notice the abundance of open green spaces in the cities of Ottawa and Hull. It could be said that the NCC practices "open-space therapy", offering visitors — who come from all over the world — fresh and restful spots on the banks of Ottawa's watercourses.

The city of Ottawa itself does everything possible to preserve the huge elms and maples which adorn its streets and avenues. They complement the NCC's parks and floral displays, the green surroundings which led characteristic style to any building. The NCC is determined that our National Capital will never become a jungle of asphalt and concrete where man loses his precious contact with nature. On the contrary, the master plan takes advantage of the "charm of its large wooded vistas, its picturesque canals and falls, the grandeur of its parks and monuments".

The NCC owns and maintains five parks in Ottawa and Hull and through an agreement with the city of Ottawa, it is responsible for the upkeep and care of 13 other municipal parks, including Rockcliffe Park. The open green spaces also include large tracts of land on which more than 140 Federal Government buildings are situated. The grounds are designed and maintained by NCC landscape architects and gardeners.

The National Capital Commission also looks after the planting and cultivating of most of the flower beds which adorn the Capital from early spring to the first snows. Its gardeners attend to 600,000 crocuses and close to a million daffodils. For many years now, the Canadian Tulip Festival in Ottawa has been attracting thousands of tourists. It is sponsored by the Ottawa Board of Trade in co-operation with the NCC and holds its official opening every year at the Garden of the Provinces, an NCC park symbolic of Canada's Confederation. About one million tulips arranged in flowing masses along the parkways and in the parks, make Ottawa the "tulip capital of America". Thousands of annuals following the tulips also are the responsibility of the NCC and provide a year-round symphony of colour in Canada's Capital.

Open space within the capital is further enhanced by exceptionally broad rights-of-way for driveways and parkways. At the present time, there are 21 miles of such parkways in the Ottawa area. To that must be added the Ottawa River Parkway which is on the way to completion and will run beside the river for a distance of about six miles, with overlooks and parking areas that will offer sightseers a panoramic view of the Ottawa River and of the Quebec shoreline. It will be the scenic approach to Parliament Hill from the West. The Commission also owns another 30 miles of rights-of-way for future use.

"Dear Charlotte's" Plea

Dr. Charlotte Whitton read a prayer on one of her recent "Dear Charlotte" programs which she said she was adopting as her own "as the plea of an aging spinster in public life, even though some of my former colleagues in council might say that my prayer hasn't been answered."

The prayer, written by an unnamed Mother Superior, was quoted by Thomas E. Dewey of New York:

"Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older, and will some day be old.

Keep me from getting talkative, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details — give me wings to get me to the point.

I ask for grace enough to listen to the tales of others' pains. Help me to endure them with patience.

But seal my lips on my own aches and pains — they are increasing and my love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible that I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a saint — some of them are hard to live with — but a sour old woman is one of the crowning works of the devil.

Make me thoughtful, but not moody; helpful, but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all — but Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end."

The Big Killer

6,000,000 cars will be on the road over the Labour Day week-end. That is more than half the number of motor vehicles produced by Canadian manufacturers since 1904. In addition of Canada's seven major holidays, the Labour Day week-end is well in the lead as the creator of deaths on the highways.

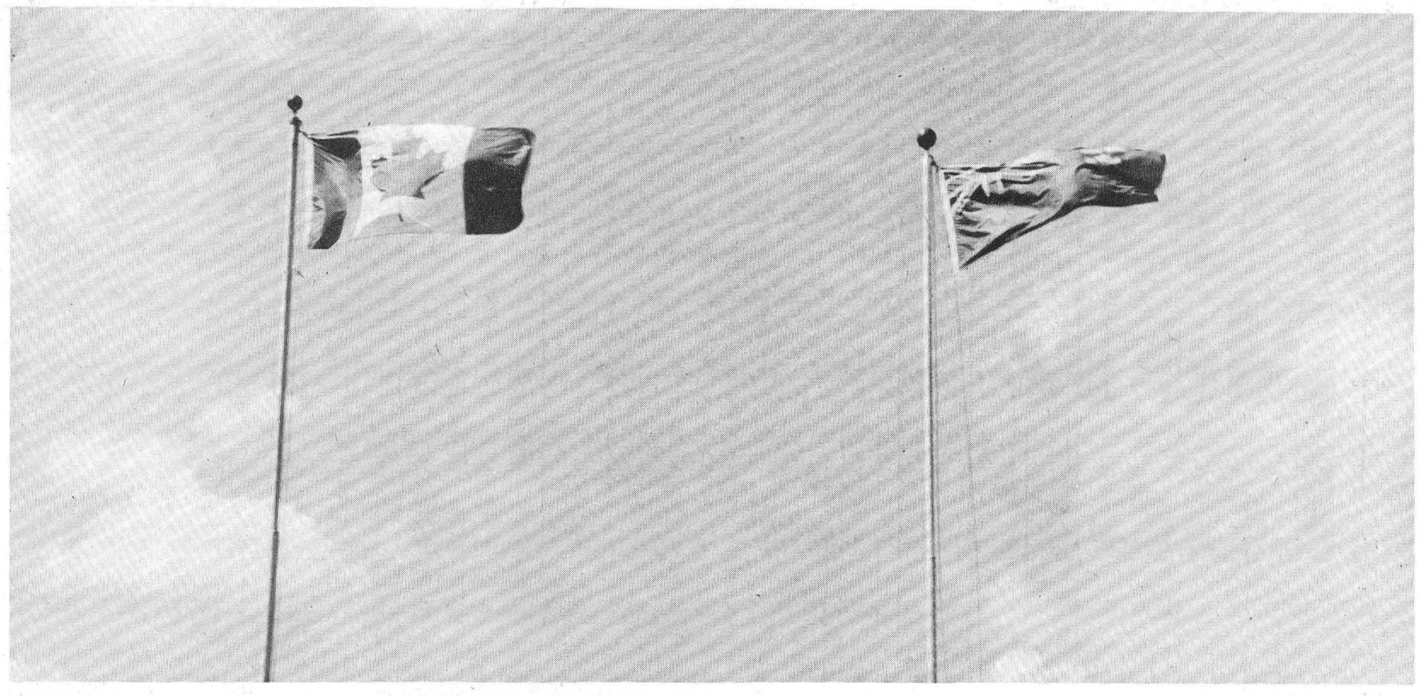
Canada has more than 500,000 miles of surfaced roads and streets — on these thoroughfares 61 will probably be killed this week-end. What it means is twelve cars to a mile or one accident to every 800 some odd miles of road. If a dozen cars occupied each highway or street mile it would be safe to say that few accidents would occur. Unfortunately cars tend to gang up.

Other holidays average well below the Labour Day week-end toll. They include 25 for New Years, the least; 35 for Easter; Victoria Day, 42; Dominion Day, 45; Christmas, 50, and 52 for Thanksgiving.

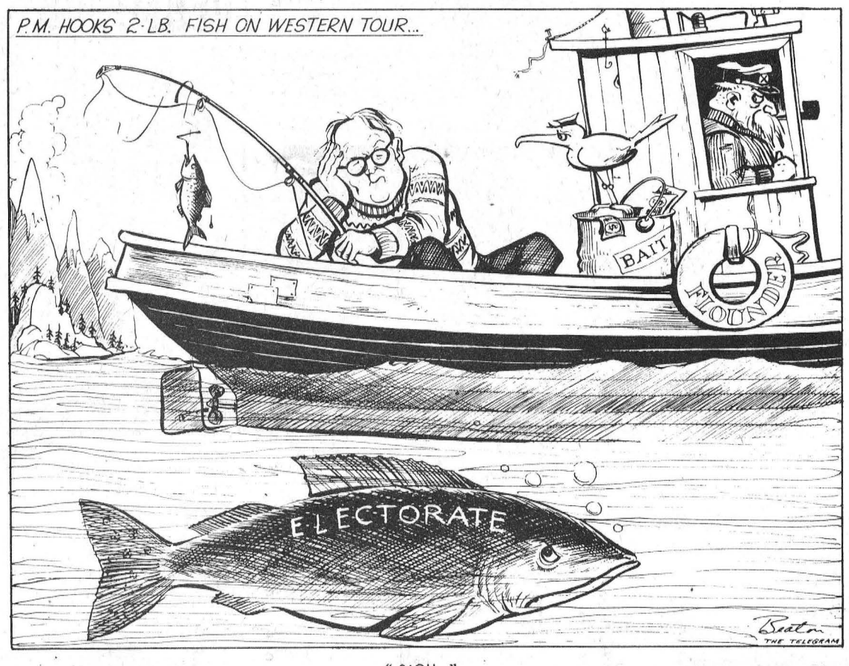
Concentration of the fast moving traffic on main arteries and around cities can be expected to produce major traffic jams and extremely hazardous conditions. Every driver should be watchful of signs of potential danger and be ready for split-second action to avoid them.

Major causes for the accident toll, says the Canadian Highway Safety Council, are the urge for dominance, urge for speed, reluctance to give right of way to other drivers, failure of correct use of driving procedures and failing to use features designed to help avoid mishaps and lack of attention to driving.

Be a careful driver alive — not a statistic.



United We Stand



"SIGH..."

The Seventh Column

The school signs take on new meaning across the country next week when thousands of primary and secondary school youngsters make their way back to the grind for another semester. Motorists must take note of this as a lot of young innocents will not. Please, obey the signs and drive carefully on all streets.

If you're over 35 and under 55 you have the essential qualifications for being middle-age. Actually middle age is one of man's least troublesome chronic ailments, once he faces up to the diagnosis and learns to relax and enjoy it. Writing in a week-end paper Hal Boyle points up a few of the better known characteristics of middle age: You probably are middle aged if . . . you groan loudly when your wife sits in your lap . . .no neighbourhood youngster calls you by your first name any more . . . the only dance you can do is the fox-trot, and you'd rather not do that . . . you read the daily medical columns and you recognize all the symptoms . . . you are always waging a battle against some bad habit you are trying to give up . . . at a cocktail party you no longer talk to strange women until you are steeped in your third martini . . . you'd rather pay to have your car washed than do it yourself . . . you could probably still reach down and touch the floor without bending your knees, but why should you? What does it prove now? . . . Falling autumn leaves don't stir you to pensive thoughts, you just fret because you're the one who'll have to rake them up . . . Well? ? ?

Tears! Tears! After reading a couple of reports in neighbouring daily newspapers over the week-end we were not sure whether we would have a job to go to Monday morning. Seems our "woes" have been presented to Bud Drury who also holds down the tab of Industry minister in the Federal government. Poor old Grenville-Dundas is fading away into obscurity, the farms are dying off, the towns are withering up and our population is down to almost nothing. At least this is the way some people apparently like it or see it and are gullible enough to let this kind of misleading propaganda be spread. Let's get the facts straight. Like a million other rural areas our population increase is not setting the world on fire, nor is it falling apart. Our farms are both good and bad. At least five of the eight incorporated villages and towns in the riding are experiencing increases in population. Industry is not completely at a standstill — Capital Concrete, Caldwells, RCA Victor, Ault Milk Products, Seaway Chemicals, the District Memorial Hospital are a few good examples of "going ahead." Of course we could do with more. But let's try and get it on the premise that we have something to offer new citizens and new industry other than a declining population in a disaster area. It's far from that around these parts and the quicker quite a few people get this through their collective heads the better.

It took a night of toil for about 30 workmen, under the direction of chief groundskeeper Eddie Friel, to change the Coliseum at Ottawa from a show-ring into a concert setting for the Victor Borge Show. In less than 12 hours from the last horse show to rehearsal of the Borge Show, Friel and company had to: Darken the coliseum windows, take down the railings, grade the arena and lay about 1400 square yards of nursery sod; put up a pre-built stage, install a new sound system, arrange and number 2,000 chairs. "It's just another job," commented Eddie, who failed to tell us about the biggest task of all —getting rid of the smell!

And while we are jotting down a few words about shows and exhibitions don't forget that the best little Fairs in the world get underway in this district this week. Fine programs have been lined up at South Mountain, followed by equally excellent presentations at Russell and Metcalfe, not to mention a host of others including Chesterville's annual effort which wound up yesterday. For an hour or three of good solid entertainment why don't you do yourself a favour and visit these rural exhibitions this year? You'll enjoy every minute.

Aged Honeymooners

Things are rather at sixes and sevens around here today. It's Second Honeymoon time, and the Old Battleaxe and I are flying around in a tizzy of preparation.

The fact that we'll have an 18-year-old son along for part of the honeymoon trip won't slow us down. He can find a girl of his own. The main thing is to get out of town for a while.

This business of running a summer hotel with the lowest rates on the continent can prove trying. The clientele has been of the highest class, but the whole enterprise has its drawbacks. Not only do the guests expect you to stay up all night with them, but their children, who happen to be your nieces, nephews and other small buddies, expect you to be on deck at 7 a.m. to tell them: where the cereal is; how you turn on the lawn sprinkler; "Are we going swimming soon, Uncle Bill?"; and why Daddy was so grouchy when they tried to wake him.

And there are other things. Next year I'm going to buy barbecue charcoal by the carload. I've cooked so many steaks and hamburgers I can't look a steer in the face. The manager of the local booze emporium told me the other day he'd give me a summer job next year, because I'm in there every day anyway. I've slept on a chesterfield in the living room, a couch in my study, a mattress on the attic floor, and half-reclining lawn chair, but I haven't been in my own bed in a month.

Oh well, it's all part of the game, and we enjoy having them. However, I do think it's a bit much when they start making reservations for next year, and assuring us they'll recommend the place to all their friends, because of the low rates, excellent cuisine, free drinks, and nightly entertainment (no cover charge).

At any rate, with nobody booked for this week, our wedding anniversary coming up, and daughter safely off to camp with enough clothes to go to Europe, and a bag of fruit, candy and cookies she could scarcely lift, we're getting ready for The Trip.

First leg of The Trip will be up the Great Lakes, and I quote from the folder, " . . . long, lazy, brilliant days . . . cool nights with stars swinging low . . . sky-blue waters . . . etc." Actually, wel'll have only one and a half of those long, lazy days, but two of those star-swinging nights. It'll rain. I'll give odds. Eight to one.

We're going on a passenger steamer known as Hugh's Boat. It used to belong to a steamer service line, but since son Hugh obtained a job this summer as Entertainment Steward, it has become known far and wide as Hugh's Boat. After all, he has a pretty important position. He's listed on the directory of feature services with the Barber, Handy Shop and Motion Pictures.

I've promised to help him entertain the passengers by rendering my famous version of a drunk singing, "I Belong Tae Glasgie". He was reluctant to impose on my good nature, but I brushed aside his repeated protests.

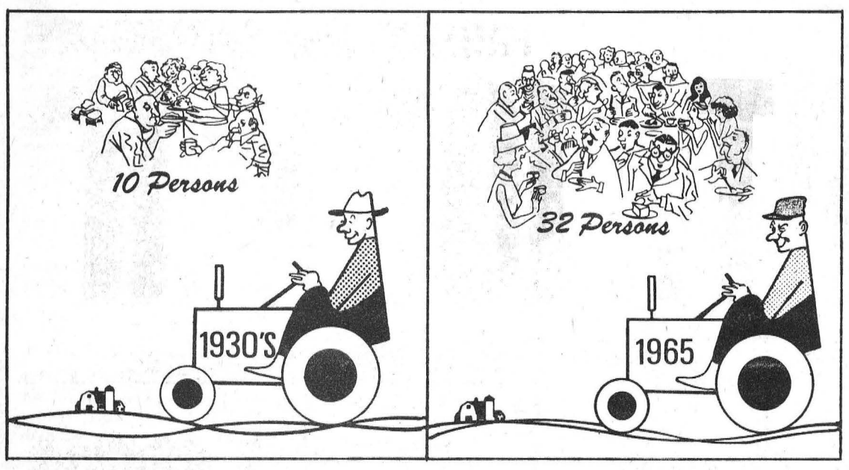
His mother has promised not to embarrass him by telling him, in front of the passengers, that he needs a shoeshine, that he's not playing that piece in the right key, that he left his room in a mess last time he was home, or that it's high time he was in bed.

Second leg of The Trip will be by car, around the top of the Lakes. We've left nothing to chance. I've borrowed sleeping bags from our music teacher, a tent from our minister, and money from our bank manager. We have a road map. It's an oldish one, 1954, but why worry about that!

Well, bon voyage, and if you'll excuse me now, I'll get out in the backyard and have another practice go at putting up the preacher's tent.

It's a pretty religious tent, I expect.

Every time I get it up, it sinks to its knees in an attitude of prayer.



The Changing Farm Picture

Increased productivity of the Canadian farm worker enables him today to produce food for 32 persons as against 10 in the 1930's. Canadians spend only 25 per cent of disposable income on food compared with 30 per cent in Britain, 45 per cent. in Italy and 60 per cent. in the Soviet Union.

Of Many Things

By AMBROSE HILLS

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

The interest of the man who produces is opposite to that of the man who consumes. One wishes to sell high, the other to buy low. Thus their interests are poles apart and cannot be reconciled.

Society gains from this difference. Producers vie with each other to meet the requirements of the consumer — and we are all consumers a large part of the time.

It seems to me that some members of the co-operative movement go wrong when they are blind to this fact of life. They promote the idea of a Ministry of Co-operatives to advance the cause of both consumer co-ops and producer co-ops, as if they were not in conflict.

Another anomaly is the claim by some producer co-operatives that they provide "Service at cost." At whose cost? I believe farmers, in particular, must wonder at this service-at-cost claim. Certainly it is hard to visualize a society in which everyone sells to the farmer at cost while he, as a producer, hopes to continue to sell at a profit. Inasmuch as consumers vastly exceed farmers in number, it is clear that they soon would be demanding "produce at cost", and farmers would go down the drain with all others who practice service for profit.

It is often highly unpopular to say anything that could be construed as criticism of the co-operative movement. The co-operative principle has great merit. Yet when those who espouse the present set-up of producer and consumer co-ops go overboard, someone needs to throw some light on where their arguments could lead us.

The co-operative business is big business today and growing by leaps and bounds. All co-operatives, producer and consumer alike, are allowed special tax privileges. And through a system of crediting dividends to members but retaining for them further development, the co-ops as an average pay six per cent. corporation tax against fifty-two per cent. paid by the firm they compete against. It is easy to see where profit-motivated business will get off at in the next forty or fifty years. Where will the taxes come from then? I believe there are many people in the co-operative movement itself who feel that they should be carrying a fairer share of the cost of running the country.

Quick Canadian Facts

The lakes and rivers of Canada cover an area of 291,571 square miles, an area considerably larger than that of the province of Alberta.

In the 15-year, 1950-1964 period spending by all governments in Canada rose from $290 per capita to $760 per capita.

The world's only flock of greater snow geese, which summers in Canada's north and which once was down to 3,000 birds, now numbers about 90,000.

North Russell Women's Institute Adapt School For Meeting Hall

North Russell Women's Institute met in their new home for the first time at their August meeting. The Institute purchased the North Russell School recently for their own meeting place.

It was the grandmothers' meeting and was well attended and enjoyed. Several great grandmothers were in attendance. Four generations were present in the persons of Mrs. Herbert James, Mrs. Clelland Hamilton, Mrs. Clarence Prescott and Debbie Prescott. An honorary member, Mrs. Fred Shelp, was also present.

Corsages were pinned on the grandmothers and many prizes awarded.

Readings for the occasion were given by Miss Ella Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Morrice, Mrs. Percy Graham. Members were all reminded that the regular meeting will be held in the new location on September 14.

Articles on display had been exhibited at Navan Fair.

Gold Medalists

Twelve Ayrshire cows owned by Ontario breeders have recently qualified for Gold Seal Certificates by producing 100,000 lbs. milk or more. The certificates are given in recognition of meritorious lifetime production achievements. The cows are all on official R.O.P. test and all have been milked on practical two times a day milking.

In Eastern Ontario Ian A. MacGregor of Russell and H. J. Kittle and Sons of Chesterville have both been awarded Gold Seal certificates. The MacGregor cow is homebred Brooklane Millie, classified as Very Good. Ivy Lodge Pepper's Brownie, a Kittle home-bred cow, has also qualified.

Poster Contest

A farm safety poster competition will give Carleton primary students a chance to win prizes and instill upon their minds the need for safety.

Co-sponsored by the Carleton Farm Safety Council and the Agricultural Societies of the County, the pupils will be invited to enter the competition through their teachers. Winning posters from each school will be on display at the local fall fair in the autumn.

The theme to be used for each poster is the 1965 Ontario Farm Safety Council theme, "Be Fall Free In '65."

Be sure to look for the interesting display at Carp, Richmond and Metcalfe Fall Fairs.

4-H'ers Shine At 'Ex'

Carleton County 4-H members gave an excellent account of themselves in the Junior Judging competition at the Central Canada Exhibition. There were 50 4-H members from the county participating in the judging events.

Twelve members placed in the top 20 of the junior section. High placed juniors were Wilbert Paul, Carp, David Caldwell, Caro; Brian Cathcart, of Stittsville; Ron Stinson, North Gower, and Robin Kennedy, Dunrobin.

In the intermediate division Nancy Rivington of Carp and Don Caldwell from the lame location attained best scores for the county. The best senior scores were achieved by Barrie Tripp, Kinburn, Keith Hobbs of Stittsville and Richard Fraser of Ottawa.

Camp Delegates Hear Lectures

All Carleton delegates to the 4-H Club Camp spent a day at the Central Experimental Farm and heard lectures on farm woodlot management, soil fertility, dairy cattle, and cereal research. Following the talks they answered a questionnaire based on subject matter they had heard.

Results are based on total standing of the two team members representing each club. The best teams were from Stittsville Calf Club, East Carleton Corn Club, Richmond Calf Club and the Rideau Valley Calf Club.

Metcalfe 4-H Class Pigs, Cattle

Larry Campbell gave pointers on judging of pigs at the August meeting of the Metcalfe 4-H Club. The meeting was hosted by Earl Quinn.

Members judged a class of Holsteins. Scott Argue gave some important facts on grain crops. Also discussed were plans for the tie-up at Metcalfe Fair.

At the meeting's close Norma McKeown thanked the host and treats were served by Myra Quinn.

Extend Deadline

Unfavourable weather has been the experience in many parts of Ontario and the time for entering the Farmstead and Rural Improvement Centennial project has been extended for one month.

Deadline that was originally September 1 has now been extended to October 1.

Thousands of dollars have been made available for the project that, it is hoped, will encourage rural people throughout Ontario to spruce up their properties in preparation for Canada's Centennial.

In Dundas the Dundas Women's Institute will co-ordinate the project with the support of the County Federation of Agriculture.

The province-wide competition is open to all farmers. All farms entered in the competition will be inspected this autumn with the final judging taking place during the fall of 1966.
