KEMPTVILLE MAN GETS LASH AND TWO YEARS

A sentence of two years in the Kingston penitentiary with five strokes of the lash on entering and five more before expiration of sentence was the penalty given Oliver Cooper, 23, of Kemptville, by Magistrate John McCormick of Winchester on a charge of assault and beating, occasioning actual bodily harm. Cooper, who stated he was intoxicated, pleaded guilty to the charge. Evidence of Miss Mary Norton, 21, was that when entering the town on Saturday evening, the accused had struck her on the head with his fists as she passed him, knocking her to the ground where he again struck her. As she ran across the street she was again knocked down and received injuries to her head and face.

Evidence was given by Hubert Laws of Oxford township that he heard screams and saw a girl knocked down and a man run off.

In pressing the case for the Crown, Crown Attorney H. Atkinson of Brockville asked for a severe sentence with lashes which the magistrate imposed.

BADMINTON HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

A well-attended and enthusiastic annual meeting of the Morrisburg Badminton Club was held at the Club House on October 13th. Plans for the Club's activities for the ensuing year were discussed and the following directorate elected:

Honorary Presidents—J. D. McCrae, Geo. H. Challies.
President—Mrs. Hotson Meikle.
Vice-President—Mrs. J. S. Toshack.
Sec.-Treas.—W. R. Whyte.
Chairman Games Committee—Dr C. A. Louden.
Chairman Property Committee — E. Millward.
Chairman Social Committee—Miss Jean Meikle.

The Morrisburg Badminton Club held their first social get-together of the season on October 21st. A number of spirited games were enjoyed by the members and refreshmnts were served by the social committee.

CARLOAD TO BE SHIPPED TO THE WEST

Last Tuesday evening a committee representing all the churches of Williamsburg Township and Morrisburg met in the Agricultural Office and agreed unanimously to answer the urgent appeal for aid to the sufferers of the dried-out areas of Saskatchewan. Rev. R. D. Smith was appointed chairman and Rev. C. R. Cronmiller, secretary. Mr. Cronmiller spoke of driving through this area in Saskatchewan last summer and pictured the need for help.

It was agreed that the car would be loaded next Tuesday and Wednesday at the freight sheds in Morrisburg. A letter is being sent to all box holders throughout the township Trucks will call Tuesday and Wednesday for donations. Potatoes especially are asked for, but any vegetables that are not too perishable will be welcome. Canned goods and honey are good also. Those who live some distance back from the road would assist those who are collecting if they would put their donation at the gate.

A canvas is being made of the village of Morrisburg by the five churches, each church taking a section.

Men are needed to help load the car and also to go out on trucks. Will those who would like to volunteer for this service get in touch with the chairman?

This appeal has again shown the Township and Village united in its desire to answer the call of human need.

OFFER EXPLANATION FOR "PHENOMENON"

Hundreds of persons, many of them afflicted by illness or deformity, flocked for miraculous cures to the home of a 30-year-old paralytic woman, Cornwall where a statuette of Christ has been "weeping" since last Friday. Churchmen and a physician said the "phenomenon" could be explained naturally.

Leona Villeneuve, 30, said she believed the statuette was weeping in response to her prayers for recovery. The woman's physician, Dr. A. J. Aubin said he believed damp weather had caused moisture in her hot bedroom to condense about the head and shoulders of the image, producing drops having the appearance of tears.

Visitors to Miss Villeneuve's bedroom included people from northern New York state, many points as far west as Toronto, and for many miles north and east of Cornwall. It was estimated by members of the family that at least 2,000 people had visited the home in one day.

RIDING FOLLOWERS BOOM G. H. CHALLIES FOR LEADER

(Prescott Journal)

"The Morrisburg Leader is booming the selection in party circles of George H. Challies, M.L.A., for Grenville-Dundas, as the next Conservative party leader in Ontario in the event of Hon. Earle Rowe relinquishing the mantle and returning to the Federal arena.

While Mr. Rowe has as yet made no definite pronouncement as to his future intentions, it is felt that he would prefer to withdraw than continue in the provincial field, and The Morrisburg Leader is getting in the first gun in favor of the former provincial secretary. The name of George H. Dunbar, of Ottawa, who defeated Dr. J. H. Putman, in the recent provincial contest, is also mentioned in the event of Mr. Rowe retiring. Former Premier George S. Henry has repeatedly said that he has no aspiration to again head the party.

"In the event of Earle Rowe withdrawing from the picture and the selection of a new leader decide upon from present sitting Conservative members, we would certainly back The Morrisburg Leader's claims as will all newspapers in this section of the province, for the old historic St. Lawrence riding of Grenville-Dundas, which has given so many prominent statesmen to the country in the past, deserves such recognition in the future. The majority accorded Mr. Challies in the recent election, and the long association of Conservative tradition in this riding will likely also commend itself to the attention of the powers-that-be, who make and break the little kings.

GIRL IN MALE ATTIRE TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

While patrolling his beat in King street, Brockville at four a.m., Constable E. Forsyth took into custody a girl about 16 years old who was attired in men's clothing. The atention of the constable was attracted by her efforts to avoid the latter who found her hiding in the doorway of a store. She gave a masculine name when aprehended but was unable to keep up the disguise.

At the police station she revealed she had been living with her grandmother in Prescott and left that place two days ago. She claimed to have had trouble with her parents who reside in Moulinette. The girl was placed in the custody of C. A. Winters, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, and later was transferred to the Cornwall branch of that organization.

VERMONT DRIVER GETS YEAR IN JAIL

Acquitted on a charge of manslaughter, but found guilty on a criminal negligence charge by a Supreme Court jury at Cornwall, Arthur R. Marshall of Barre, Vermont, was sentenced by Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland to one year in jail, the term to start from the day of his arrest, May 31st last. Marshall was the operator of an automobile which crashed into an earth embankment at Morrisburg on May 31st. Miss Stella Reddick of Williamsburg, a passenger in the car at the time, suffered serious injuries and died about a month later in Cornwall General Hospital.

Evidence heard during the trial of Marshall revealed that he had been driving his automobile at a speed of 50 miles per hour. The machine plunged over a railway crossing and plunged into a large pile of earth which had been placed on the highway as the start of construction of a subway at the railway crossing. At the point where the accident occurred, there was a detour.

MRS. M. H. HART

(The Cobourg Sentinel Star)

The funeral was held at Morrisburg on Monday of Mrs. L. Bertha Hart, who in recent years made her home with Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Allison, King street, Cobourg. Well advanced in years, Mrs. Hart had not been in good health for some time and grave fears for her life had been held during recent months. She passed peacefully away on October 8th.

Mrs. Hart was the daughter of the late S. R. and Mrs. Loucks, and was born in Quebec. At an early age she went with her parents to Morrisburg, where she was married in 1888 to Dr. M. H. Hart, who practiced for a number of years at Prescott. About twelve years ago Dr. Hart passed away and Mrs Hart came to Cobourg to reside with her sister, Mrs. Allison. She was a member of St. Peter's Anglican Curch and was revered by all who knew her.

A service was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allison on Sunday evening which was conducted by Canon P. J. Dykes, of St. Peter's Church. Relatives and friends then proceeded by motor with the remains to Morrisburg where interment was made on Monday morning at St. James' Cemetery. The service at the grave was conducted by Rev. W. Holmes.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. O. F. Allison of Cobourg, and the Misses E. and M. Loucks of Morrisburg. Two brothers, Charles and John, of Montreal also survive.

HOSTAGE HEIRESS

By DAVID DRESSER

Janet Duane, millionaire's daughter, gives a party one night aboard her father's palatial yacht, anchored off Miami. Gregory Gason tricks her into being lef behind wih him when the guests are taken ashore. The only other persons aboard are a crippled wtachman and Janet's Negro maid. Meanwhile, "Dusty" Lanion, lawless adventurer, has laid plans to seize the yacht to carry arms and ammunition to Cuban revolutionists. Believing the boat to be deserted, except for the watchman, who has been bribed, Dusty and his mean are about to board her.

CHAPTER VII

A cathedral-like hush mantled the luxurious office on the seventeenth floor of a Manhattan skyscraper. There were deep carpets on the floor to absorb the footfalls of men and women as they obsequiously scurried to and fro to lay memorandums on the mahogany desk and to receive curt orders from the heavy man who sat at the desk. There were priceless tapestries on the walls, and the cumulative effect of silence and luxurious furnishing was to give the impression that here was a hallowed precinct.

Cyrus Duane had spent a great deal of money to achieve exactly that effect. It pleased him to sit alone at his desk in this magnificence and know that men leaped to obey when he lifted a blunt finger and pressed one of the buttons on his desk.

He was a man who gloried in the acquisition of power. Money meant little to him, except as it provided him the necessary leverage to control the destinies of peoples, of nations. He had more than enough money—he could never have too much power.

His heavy shoulders were hunched forward, and elbows were planted solidly on the polished desk top as he studied a paper which had just been laid before him. An intricate mass of detailed information concerning the movements of his merchant fleet over the seas girdling the globe.

An Urgent Message

A man entered and moved soundlessly toward him. Duane's efficient and colorless secretary, the only man who dared enter the inner sanctum without a summons.

Duane did not look up. "Don't bother me, Tooker," he grunted.

Tooker peered helplessly at the telegraph message he carried.

"Yes, sir," he breathed respectfully. "I have—that is—an urgent message, Mr. Duane." He laid the telegram on the desk.

"Will you never learn to attend to insignificant details yourself, Tooker? Time and again, I've told you not to interrupt me when I'm busy with my daily ship report." Duane pushed the telegram aside testily without looking at it.

"I'm sorry," Tooker murmured. "This is hardly insignificant, Mr. Duane. Your— daughter and the Fleetwing—they have disappeared."

"My daughter and? What are you blathering about?"

"The telegram, sir. It explains everything." Tooker pushed it in front of Duane again.

Cyrus Duane frowned as he grabbed up the sheet of paper and commenced to read. His frown changed to a look of disbelief, uncertainty, dismayed incredulity. He finished the message, then started to read it again, aloud, pronouncing each word with a terrible emphasis:—

"Your yacht Fleetwing has disappeared from anchorage and your daughter Janet cannot be located stop Please wire this office immediately if you wish any steps taken."

Chief of Police,
Miami, Florida."

"The — the Fleetwing? And — Janet?"

Duane's face went ashen. The yellow paper fluttered from his fingers and fell to the carpet. Then, suddenly, the huge man came to life.

"It's a hoax, Tooker! It must be a hoax!"

"No, sir." Tooker spoke firmly. "I've had Miami on long distance. The message is official."

"Wire Miami to get every available officer on the trail. The Coast Guard—boats—airplanes . . ."

Not a Joke

"Yes, sir. That's attended to, sir. There's another matter—" Tooker hesitated.

"Confound you, man!" Duane roared. "Have you lost your tongue?"

"Yes, sir. Ah, that is—no, sir," Tooker said firmly. "I've had two of Miss Janet's friends in Miami on the long-distance wire. A man has disappeared with her, sir. A Gregory Gason. They were together at a party on the yacht last night. Neither of them—ah—returned from the party."

"What?" Duane stared at Tooker blankly. "I don't undertsand."

"Nor I, sir," Tooker told him promptly. "Perhaps it's a joke of Miss Janet's, sir."

"A joke? You're an imbecile. Tooker! Yachts like the Fleetwing don't disappear at the wave of a hand. She has to have a crew. Engineers, navigators —" He made vague motions with his hands.

"Quite so, sir."

"Captain Coleman!" Duane suddenly exploded. "He's at the bottom of this. The scoundrel! The— the kidnapper! Get Miami on the phone, Tooker!

"Sorry, sir. I thought of Captain Coleman immediately. I have two wires clear to Miami, sir, but Captain Coleman has a perfect alibi for last night."

"You've checked up—?" Duane gurgled over the words.

"Yes, sir." Tooker's voice was firmly respectful. "You've always complained if I came to you with petty matters."

Planes to the Search

"Petty matters!" Duane choked.

"Quite so, sir. It wasn't until I received a report on this Gregory Gason from a Miami detective agency, that I felt it necessary to come to you."

"Who is he? What is he?" Duane roared.

"I have the complete report here." Tooker took a folded paper from his pocket. "This came over the wire a few minutes ago. The man seems to be a thorough knave, sir. Blackmail, stocks-promotion schemes, confidence game." He laid the paper before Duane.

"And Janet's gone off with a scoundrel like that!" Duane rose and strode across the room. Then back. "Get me Andrew Gale on the 'phone. President of Mammoth Air Lines. He owes me a favor. Get him on the 'phone!"

"Yes, sir." Tooker was unruffled. "We've been trying to get him. The girl hadn't got the connection through when I came in. There!" as a red light glowed on the huge desk. "I expect that's Mr. Gale, sir."

Tooker tiptoed out as Cyrus Duane bellowed into the telephone.

The result of his conversation with Andrew Gale was an immediate order for every Mammoth plane in the region of Miami to be thrown into the search for the Fleetwing. During the afternoon, Duane talked to several gentlemen in Washington, thundering forth demands.

Women Jurists To Have Lounge

Will Cost $2,500; 'Powder Room' Has Been Asked

Women who serve on New York County Supreme Court juries are going to have a $2,500 lounging room with every facility for their convenience, it was announced by John Ahern jury clerk for the court. Mr. Ahern said that plans for the room already had been prepared and that official approval was expected soon.

Two large circular mirrors were placed in a room assigned to women jurors on the fourth floor of the county court house.

Several Complained

The lack of adequate conveniences for women jurors has been marked since the first mixed panel was drawn, and since they began jury service several women have asked for a "powder room."

The proposal for a lounging room for them was sent to Samuel Levy, Manhattan Borough president, on May 27, Mr. Ahern revealed, and when it comes back with Mr. Levy's approval, it will be sent to the budget director for a final decision on an appropriation to cover the cost of the new installation. This, it was said, was confidently expected.

To Clean Spectacles

The best way to clean the lenses in spectacles is to polish them with a piece of fine tissue paper.

Take a piece about the size of a man's handkerchief and keep it for this purpose. The more it is used, and the softer the paper becomes, the better polish it will give.

Tasty Lunches At Home

You are a fortunate mother if your children are able to come home for lunch every day. The noon rest makes a break in what seems to them a long school day and sends them back refreshed for the afternoon session. The outstanding advantage in having the children home for lunch is that you can give them a hot meal consisting of the foods they should have. Though hundreds of thousands of children take their lunches to school in the form of sandwiches, this is usually a necessity and certainly not a preference.

What child wouldn't rather come home for lunch when mother puts a little extra time on meal planning and turns out delicious, hot dishes that satisfy and soothe? The following lunch dishes will make a hit with both the youngsters and the adults. Casserole of Salmon, delicately flavored, pink and golden brown—hot biscuits, light as a puffball—a simple green salad, and fruit—served with the grace that costs only a little thought and care. Such a luncheon gives new meaning to the old refrain "there's no place like home." This Casserole of Salmon is as easy to make and as economical as it is delicious.

And the baking powder biscuits are famous!

Casserole of Salmon

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup canned salmon, flaked
1 cup celery, diced
1 tablespoon onion, chopped
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted butter
6 to 8 unbaked baking powder biscuits, rolled ¼ inch thick.

Combine ingredients in order given. Turn into greased casserole; bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 minutes, stirring mixture twice during first ten minutes of baking. Place biscuits on top of salmon mixture after it has baked 10 minutes; return to oven, bake 12 to 15 minutes longer to bake biscuits. Serves 4.

Vegetable Mixture

½ cup fresh peas
½ cup celery, cut in strips
2-3 cup raw carrots, diced
1 medium onion, sliced
2 tablespoons butter
Salt
Pepper.

Cook vegetables together in small amount of water until just tender. Drain. Saute in butter and season with salt and pepper. Prepare omelet; turn out on platter. Place vegetables between folded layers. Serve at once. Serves 6.

Omelet

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
¾ teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
4 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored
4 egg whites, beaten stiff.

Combine dry ingredients and milk in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water, bring to scalding point (allow 3 to 5 minutes), and cook 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add butter. Cool slightly. Add egg yolks. Fold in egg whites. Pour into hot, buttered 10-inch frying pan. Cook over low flame 3 minutes. Then bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Omelet is sufficiently cooked when a knife inserted comes out clean. Cut across at right angles to handle of pan, being careful not to cut all the way through.

Baking Powder Biscuits

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
2-3 cup milk (about).

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll ½ inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with floured biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.

Eggs and vegetables which are so necessary in growing children's diet can be combined in an appetizing vegetable omelet.

Potato Crust For Meat Pie

6 medium-sized potatoes
2 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
Hot rich milk.

Peel potatoes and boil until tender. Drain, then shake over low heat until dry. Rice or mash thoroughly. Add butter, salt and pepper. Whip very light with sufficient hot milk to moisten suitably. Pile roughly over top of hot meat mixture in deep greased baking dish, and brush with melted butter. Re-heat and brown in a hot oven, 450 degrees F.

Note 1. Sweet potatoes may be used instead of white potatoes.

Note 2. For pies using potato crust, fill baking dish with meat mixture only to within an inch of the rim, before adding the potato crust.

Move to Preserve Treasures of Art

Loss of Great Masterpieces Will Be Stopped

The National Gallery fronting on Trafalgar Square, London, England, is reputed to hold the second or third finest art collection in the world. And within a few moments' ride are the Tate Gallery and the National Portrait Gallery.

No one pretends to place a value on the paintings and sculpture which are housed in these galleries. They have been built up by purchase and by donation and works of art, once acquired are never sold.

Criticized

In the past six months the directors of the galleries as well as the Government have been criticized severely for failure to preserve and maintain the art treasures in England. The Government has not challenged the critics and newspapers like the Times not only concede the truth of the charges but express the deepest concern for the future.

In State of Decay

It seems that the Government, the directors of the galleries and private individuals have been so intent upon adding to the national collections of art that little thought has been given to preserving the paintings already possessed. Thus many of the world's masterpieces are in peril of being lost. In the Tate gallery, for example, three Turner's valued at $75,000 each, are in an advanced state of decay. These paintings are. "Port Ruysdael," "Pilate Washing His Hands," and "Bay of Baiae."

Unless a way is found to restore these canvases they will soon be rubbish.

His Roman Nose

Vatinius of Beneventum, a cobbler, and favorite of the Emperor Nero, is said to have been owner of the biggest nose in history.

War Affects Chinese Wedding Customs

Shanghai City Hall, Famous For Massed Marriages, Destroyed

Because of the destruction of the city hall in Shanghai the municipal government announced this week that weddings could not be held in the civic centre which has long been famous for its massed ceremonies.

In the past, scores of "foreign-style" marriages occurred there daily, the dainty Oriental brides wearing smart, Western wedding dresses with long veils in preference to native costumes.

Marriages on Increase

Despite the carnage and chaos of war, marriages all over China are steadily increasing. Orthodox Chinese parents who have been holding out against their daughters marrying until the prospective son-in-law could at least afford to give his bride a dowry, are now glad to rush through the marriages. The heavy war casualties have greatly decreased the number of eligible youths.

Wedding ceremonies have been simplified immensely and where previously elaborate ceremonies, expensive gifts and lavish banquets were considered necessary, now the most economical rites are fashionable.

"Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself."

—Mary Baker Eddy.

LESSON IV

Christian Renewal — John 10:7-16; Titus 3:1-11

Printed Tet Titus 3:1-11

GOLDEN TEXT — "For the grace of God hath appeared, bringing salvation to all men." — Titus 2:11.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING

Time — The words of our Lord were uttered in October, A.D., 29. The Epistle to Titus was written shortly before the martyrdom of St. Paul, probably A.D. 66.

Place — Our Lord's words were uttered in Jerusalem. The Epistle of Paul to Titus was written from Rome to Titus who was residing in the island of Crete.

John Ruskin has well said. "There is no wealth but life." The question might well be asked by every man, in the quiet of an hour when he is alone with himself and with God: "What would I consider to be the richest, fullest possible life for myself, if I could have everything in the world I should wish to choose?" Then he might follow this question with another: "Is my life today as rich, deep, full, and satisfying as it can be?"

John 10:7-16. The central statement in this lesson assigned to us from the tenth chapter of John, as it relates to the general subject of our lesson for today, is found at the end of verse 10, "I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly."

The reason why Christ is able to bestow abundant life upon men is because, on the one hand, he delivers men from all those powers which rob them of life. He delivers from the power of sin, the power of Satan, and the power of death. He is able to do this because he lived sinlessly and can give victory.

The abundant life which we have in Christ extends into every sphere of our personality.

Our Lord came also to give us more abundant intellectual life. We can hardly imagine today the mental darkness of the world into which our Lord came.

More Abundant Life

Most of all, Christ is able, and he only, to give to men a rich, more abundant, overflowing spiritual life. He alone brings God into the life of man.

The epistle of Paul to Titus was written to him while he was working as a disciple of Christ and a laborer in the church in the island of Crete.

"Put them in mind to be in subjection to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient." The reference here is principally to Roman officers who were in authority in the island of Crete. "To be ready unto every good work." Good works have nothing to do with the certainty of our being saved, but good works certainly ought to be a part of the experience of everyone who is saved.

"To speak evil of no man." There is probably no greater sin among the children of God than speaking evil one of another, and this vicious habit the New Testament continually denounces. "Not to be contentious." Literally, this means not to be fighters. "To be gentle, showing all meekness toward all men."

"For we also once were foolish." That is, acting without understanding, stupidly, without discernment, which is a characteristic of every sinner. "Disobedient." Both to God's laws, and the laws of magistrates and rulers. "Deceived." As in 2 Tim. 3:13, either by the devil or by the false opinions of men. "Serving divers lusts and pleasures." With a sort of grim humor St. Paul here flashes a sudden light on what is called a life of pleasure, and shows what a slavery it really is.

"Living in malice and envy, hateful, hating one another." Are not hatred and envy the cause of nearly all murders, and most of the lies that people tell about others, and, ultimately, the cause of war itself?

"But when the kindness of God our Saviour, and his love toward man, appeared." Of course this is a direct reference to the incarnation of the Son of God, for God's love for the world was so great that he sent his only begotten Son. Until that time men hardly knew, and never knew in all the wealth of its meaning, that God in heaven loved sinners on earth.

Washing of Regeneration

"Not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves." All the good works done in righteousness, are worthy and commendable but they can never save us. "But according to his mercy he saved us." The mercy of God is simply his knowledge of our desperate need, and his delivering us from the fearful consequences of our desperate condition. "Through the washing of regeneration." Literally, our word regeneration simply means born again. Most commentators make the word washing to refer to baptism. However, baptism does not save us, but is a symbol of the washing away of our sins, which takes place when we are born again.

It is that gradual conforming of the mind, more and more, to that new spiritual world into which he has been introduced, the restoration of the divine image.

"Which he poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour." All the spiritual blessings of the new birth and of the new life are represented as flowing down to us from and out of the one fountain and well-spring of the love of God the Father.

Sinner Declared Just

"That, being justified by his grace, we might be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life." To be justified is to be declared just, and, in the epistles of Paul, it means that a sinner before the throne of holy God is declared just or righteous.

"Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I desire that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they who have believed God may be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men." Good works are simply doing those things that bring good and blessing to other people. There are good works on a strictly materialistic basis, such as supplying clothes, food, shelter, and relief in physical distress, ministering to the sick, and the lonely, and the impoverished; but there are good works on a higher plane, such as unfolding the word of God to those who do not know it, bringing comfort in an hour of tragedy, leading others out of darkness into light, ignorant men and women, praying with others and for others, faithfulness to those who need us, etc. That great passage in Tim. 3:16, 17 reveals the supreme spirituality of what we call good works, and no man can do good works unless he is a believer in the Lord Jesus. Notice especially the word "careful." The word implies two things: "Bring your brains to bear on these truths that are being thus constantly examined; bring them into your hearts through your minds, that they may filter into the shape the life. Carefulness means the occupation of the mind with the truths that produce holiness of life. And then, secondly, there must be a direct and continuous effort to increase our faith.

"But shun foolish questionings, and genealogies, and strifes, and fightings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain."

"A factious man." The word indicates a man who is determined to go his own way, and so forms parties and factions in the church. "After a first and second admonition refuse; Knowing that such a one is perverted, and sinneth, being self-condemned. The meaning seems to be that, after a first attempt to induce this person to desist from his perverse and self-willed conduct, Titus is to waste no more time on him, because he knows his efforts will be useless.

"It is a kindly fate that has not given us the gift of seeing ourselves as others see us."

—Will Durant.

Church Struck By Lightning

The picture was taken of the spire of St. Joseph's Church, Riviere des Prairie near Montreal, which was struck by lightning in an electrical storm. The first was not noticed till dark, being inside the metal-sheathed steeple. The upper blurr shows the smoke and flame coming out the top of the steeple, the lower blurr being the spotlight of the Montreal firemen, who got up inside the spire and cut a hole through the flooring of the compartment where the fire had been smouldering.

Roumanian Street-Criers Stage Protest March

Peculiarity of the streets of Bucharest are the Olteni—young men from the province of Oltenia—who carry big baskets of fruit through the streets, crying their wares as they go. But the cries got so loud that the authorities decided to restrict the noise in the same way as they curb the tooting of motor horns. The itinerant fruit-men resented this and staged a "protest" march.

Around The Dial

RADIO HEADLINERS OF THE WEEK

With FRANK DENNIS

Well, here we are back again with a little more gossip about the people you hear on the radio.

The other day we slipped into the studios of CFRB, and gum-shoed our way into a studio . . . and what do you think we found—Roy Locksley and an unknown lad. Roy tells us that the lad is Joseph Laderoute—a new comer to radio—and Joseph has one of the finest tenor voces we have ever heard. We understand that Joseph is taking the tenor lead in the Mendelssohn Choir Concert in the very near future. Laderoute originally comes from the Sault. Our best wishes to you, Joseph.

Grad Presentation

Another new voice to come on the air in recent programs is that of Jack Barkin. Jack sang in Toronto some years ago, at which time he started on a night club tour. Now he is back for the Grad Cigarette Broadcast. Congratulations are in order in Jack's case, for a week ago, the stork paid the Barkins a visit. Speaking of the Grad presentation over CFRB, the program is one of the finest yet presented—featuring two minutes of practically everything that could be broadcast—sport—comedy—drama—song—and music.

Some good friends of ours just breezed into town —Norman Harris and his orchestra. The boys were summer-jobbing it up north and now are located at the Palais Royale in Toronto—broadcasting over CFRB. Frankie Radcliffe, Harris's ace trumpeter, we take it is quite a lad. No sooner than he gets in town that he calls Dorothy Daly, local songstress, and it seems that they are that-a-way about each other. By the way, Dorothy's brother, Ran, used to play in the Harris organization about a year ago.

Paging Canadian Talent

Talking to Ken Soble, he tells us that Canadian amateur talent is far from running dry. Elimination contests are being run from local theatres at Galt, Guelph, Chatham, Brantford, Woodstock, Sarnia, Hamilton and other points west. The winners are heard on the Sunday noon amateur hour. Arrangements have been made for the ultimate winner to visit Hollywood for screen tests. Who knows—there may be another Garbo or Barrymore. We think this series of programs is really giving Canadian talent an opportunity. If any of our readers would like to compete, just write Ken Soble at CFRB, Toronto.

From down below the border comes word that Murray MacEcheran, Toronto trombonist who joined the ranks of Benny Goodman's Swingeroos has left that musical organization to join Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra. This brings a couple more of Toronto's musicians together. Glen Gray, if you recall, some years ago formed his band in Toronto and played at the Casa Loma when it was turned into a hotel.

Two-Piano Team

Just spoke to Lou Snider of the famous piano team of Snider and Ross. He informs us that they will put on a fifteen minute program over the CRCT, Commission and Mutual networks on Thursday, October 28 at 8:15. We recall the first time these boys played their first two piano program and we are really tickled with the progress they have made. They are also heard on the Grad Cigarette Show on Friday evenings with Roy Locksley's orchestra.

From down below came the inauguration of the 12th consecutive season on the air of the "Voice of Niagara" program, featuring the Carborundum Band and age old Indian legends related by Francis D. Bowman. This is one of the pioneer commercial programs. The programs are heard from 7.30 to 8.00 Saturdays over the CBS web.

Listeners who are great followers of series such as Ma Perkins, the Goldbergs and others will certainly appreciate Columbias new series entitled "Jenny Peabody," heard every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3:30 p.m. The programs will originate from the Chicago studios and will feature a distinguished cast headed by Mento Everitt, well-known character actress.

Descriptive Music

Victor Bay's new program is causing a deal of comment. This new series is devoted to music describing all manner of worldly subjects under the direction of Victor Bay, brilliant young CBS conductor, with David Ross, Hollace Shaw and other stars. The program is aired Thursdays over the Columbia set from 10:00 to 10:30.

W. M. S. MEETING

The western section of the Dundas-Grenville Presbyterial met for the annual meeting in the Roebuck United church on Tuesday morning and afternoon. Over 100 delegates registered, representing the various Womn's Missionary Societies within the section. Mrs. Margaret Davidson of Roebuck convened the registration

Mrs. W. J. Kerfoot, Prescott, presbyterial vice-president, presided throughout the convention with Mrs. Hugh Adams of Johnstown as secretary. Mrs. Herman Throop, Maynard, conducted the devotional period. The names of the retiring officers were listed by Mrs. Rose Earl of Winchester, convener of the nominating committee, and read by Mrs. Kerfoot. A brief report of the executive meeting held at maynard was given by Mrs. Kerfoot who asked that the members increase their support and donate generously to the fund covering the attending officers' expenses. Mrs. John Henry, Roebuck, cordially welcomed the delegates to which Mrs. Scobie of Prescott replied.

Encouraging Reports

Encouraging reports were given by the following on the work of the various societies during the past year: Crystal Rock, Mrs. Wilfred Dukelow; Cardinal, Mrs. John Jackson; Johnstown, Mrs. Curry; Maynard, Mrs. Parry Evans; Pittston, Mrs. Roy Leizert; Mainsville, Miss Clayton; Prescott, Mrs. Morley Earl; Roebuck, Mrs. Raymond Whitney; Shanly, Mrs. A. W. Seaton; Spencerville, Mrs. Gilbert Peterson; Ventnor, Mrs. W. A. Gamble. Mission Circles, Mission Bands and Baby Band reports were presented by Mrs. Perkins, Prescott; Mrs. Shaver, Prescott; Mrs. Marlatt, Johnstown; Mrs. S. J. Tripp, Spencerville; Mrs. E. Adams, Shanly; Mrs. George Dukelow, Roebuck; Mrs. Harold Small, Spencerville. All these reports showed an increase in activities, including the sending of numerous bales of clothing to Western Canada.

During the past year most interest speakers visited the section in the interest of the issionary enterprise including Rev. Gordon Newman and Mrs. Newman, returned missionaries from Japan, now residing at Yarms, Que., Miss Edna Brown, missionary nurse, of Ethelbert, Man., Mrs. R. Peterson of Brinston and Miss E. Mitchell of Toronto. In memory of the late Abraham Newman, whose death occurred recently, two minutes of silence were observed.

Mrs. John Jackson of Cardinal, delegate to the eleventh annual convention of the Montreal-Ottawa Conference branch held at Cornwall,gave a very interesting report. The next convention will be held in 1939. Mrs J. Holt Murlay, Prescott, brought the closing thoughts of the morning session.

Miss MacKenzie of Montreal, missionary in the Church of All Nations, Miss Edna Brown, Missionary nurse, Ethelbert, Man., and Mrs. R. Peterson, president of the Dundas-Grenville presbyterial, were the speakers at the afternoon session. Mrs. A. W. Seaton conducted the devotional period.

An interesting feature of the afternoon session was the introduction of two members who had joined the Roebuck W.M.S.. forty-seven years ago, namely, Mrs. David Baker of Cardinal and Mrs. Thomas Goodin of Roebuck. The different departments of the missionary work were discussed briefly by the following: Associate Helpers, Mrs. E. H. Mills, Crystal Rock; C.G.I.T., Mrs. F. B. Newan, Spencerville; Community Helpers, Mrs. Morley Earl, Prescott; Christian Stewardship,Mrs. W.S.L. Merrill, Morrisburg. Mrs. W. S. Johnston and Mrs. J. J. Shaver, Prescott, with Ida Elliott as accompanist, rendered a vocal duet.

Miss E. Brown addressed the meeting on her work among the Ukrainians and Miss MacKenzie told of her work among sixteen nationalities. Mrs. R. Peterson in her brief discourse announced that a handbook for W.M.S. use was being prepared and would be ready in the near future; that the Dominion board decided on direct allocation for next year; that the Montreal-Ottawa branch is asked to raise $87,000 in 1938 of which the Dundas-Grenville presbyterial is allocated for $7,500

On behalf of the convention Mrs. Kerfoot extended words of appreciation to the Roebuck society, to the speakers and to all those who contributed to the success of the gathering. Rev. W. W. Jones, Cardinal, closed the convention.

The members of the Roebuck society served dinner in the church hall to the delegates.

TWO YOUTHS ADMIT CHARGES OF THEFT

Pleading guilty to three charges of theft, Garnet Beaupre, 20, and Wesley Beaupre, 17, of Williamsburg township, were remanded one week for sentence by Magistrate P. C. Bergeron at Cornwall. The young men admitted breaking into the general store at Grant's Corners, near Cornwall, where merchandise was stolen, and also the theft of two automobiles.

The men were apprehended on Saturday following a six-day search of the three counties by provincial police. It was at first believed that the youths were implicated in the attempted bank hold-up at Cornwall a couple of weeks ago, but neither tallied to the description of the hold-up man. Police are still searching for a man in a brown windbreaker who entered the Cornwall branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and, after demanding the money in the teller's cage, fled when the teller asked him to show his gun.

KEEN COMPETITION IN PLOWING MATCH

The weather man was somewhat unkind to the officers of the West Dundas Plowmen's Association when they staged their annual plowing match last week on the farm of J. N. Bouck, 3 1-2 miles south of Brinston. A cold rain, at times a downpour, did not dampen the ardor of the contestants for their plows. Twenty men and boys took part in the seven classes. It was gratifying to the directorate to see the number of local plowmen who competed for the prizes set apart for their class, open to men and boys of Dundas county.

The ladies of Matilda Women's Institute with Mrs. H Bush, Mrs.

The ladies of Matilda Women's Institute with Mrs. H. Bush, Mrs. Cecil Locke and Mrs. Lena Clark in charge, donated lunch for the contestants and officials

The afternoon cleared, and a large crowd witnessed the contestants, deftly and with great care, placing their furrow at the proper depth, angle and as straight as a gun barrel. W. H. Graham of Morrisburg, agricultural representative for Stormont & Dundas assisted the officials in making arrangements Mr. W. A. Wallace of North Gower was judge.

In the evening John Thompson presided at a banquet in Matilda Memorial hall. After the dinner he called upon Thos. Johnston, reeve of Matilda township and Rev. E. C. Lacey of Brinston for addresses. Mr. Wallace, the judge, outlined the characteristics of a well plowed land, and congratulated the West Dundas Association upon the success of their match. Wm. Marshall proposed a toast to the ladies of Matilda Women's Institute, who catered for the banquet, replied to by Mrs. O. A. Irvine, president.

W. H. Graham, after reading the names of the winners of the various events, presented the following:

CHARLES EDWARD WATSON

The death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dalton Saddlemire, Glen Becker, on Friday last, of an old and respected resident in the person of Charles Edward Watson. He was the oldest son of the late John Charles Watson and his wife, Julia Ann Casselman, of U.E.L. descent and was born at Froatburn on April 15th, 1853. In 1881 he married Emma Morrison of Osnabruck township, who predeceased him in 1924 In 1926 he was married to Agnes Empey, who died in 1934.

The late Mr. Watson was a man of Sterling qualities and was a kind husband and loving father. He had been failing for the past year, but was able to be about until two days before his death when he suffered a slight stroke, and along with his weakened condition never rallied but slept peacefully away at 4.15 o'clock on Friday morning.

The funeral service was conducted on Sunday last at the home of his daughter, and was largely attended, Rev. C. A. Adey officiating, who spoke very feelingly. The hymns sung were: "Forever with the Lord"; "Nearer My God to Thee." The choir was under the direction of Mrs. Robt. Merkley, Miss Rose Hill rendered very effectively "Sometime We'l Understand."

He leaves to mourn, three daughters, Mrs. C. O'Shaughnessy, Morrisburg; Mrs. Edwin G. Vincent, Massena, N.Y. and Mrs. Dalton Saddlemire, Glen Becker; also nineteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The pall-bearers were Allan Beckstead, Merton Saddlemire, Stanley Saddlemire, Malcolm Froats, Lindsay Barkley and Mike Casselman. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery, Morrisburg

HONORED GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. N. Robertson, whose marriage took place on Sept. 21st, were guests of honor at a reception and miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Robertson's grandmother and uncle, Mrs. G. W. Carruthers and Harry Carruthers, Williamsburg, on Saturday evening. The shower was arranged by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Harry Carruthers.

About 70 guests were present and spent a pleasant social evening. At twelve o'clock an address was read by Mrs. Frank Whittaker, and some lovely gifts presented to them. Both Mr. and Mrs. Robertson responded to the address and presentation, after which lunch was served by Mrs. Harry Carruthers assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Carruthers, Miss Marjorie Warring and Miss Helen Warring.

WINCHESTER HONORS LATE MRS. A. TIMMINS

Impressive tribute was paid to the memory of the late Mrs. Andrew Timmins, "Winchester's grand old lady," at the funeral service which was held in the United Church, and conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Atchison, assisted by Rev. A. D. Turner of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. D. W. Summers of the Wesleyan church.

The pastor in his sermon, referred to Mrs. Timmins as a citizen who had lived a true Christian life and who had left a splendid example to be followed. "Her life was long and useful, and will be remembered by the present generation as a lovable, kind-hearted and charitable Christian lady." A great throng had assembled to pay their last respects to a highly esteemed citizen.

During the service the choir led in singing under the direction of Prof. F. Johnston, while Mrs. Percy Durant sang as a solo "Shall We Meet Beyond the River"

Following the service, burial took place in Maple Ridge cemetery.

Among the many floral tributes were pieces from the Womens Missionary Society, the staff and salesmen of Melvin's garage and the D Melvin Company.

The late Mrs. Timmins passed away on Thursday of last week following a brief illness. She was in her 102nd year.

SHAVER—DILLABOUGH

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the United church, Winchester on Tuesday of last week when Beatrice Eleanore, eldest daughter of Mr chester became the bride of Arnold Roy only son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shaver of South Mountain.

The bride was dressed in a gown of transparent blue velvet made on long lines with accessories to match. She wore a shoulder bouquet of roses and maidenhair fern.

Miss Lola Sullivan of South Mountain was bridesmaid. She wore a blue satin dress with accessories to match. Mr. Bert Nesbitt, Richmond cousin of the groom, was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding party motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dell, 142 Baywater avenue, Ottawa, where a reception was held. The couple then left on a motor trip to Montreal.

For travelling, the bride wore a black satin dress with matching accessories. On their return, Mr and Mrs. Shaver will take up residence in South Mountain.

MRS. GEO. I. KERR

The community was grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. George I. Kerr, of South Miami, Florida, on Saturday. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Asa Beach of Iroquois. Mrs. Kerr, formerly Mary May Beach, married Chester Casselman, general merchant of Chesterville who predeceased her a number of years ago. After Mr. Casselman's death, Mrs. Casselman was postmistress and telegraph operator for 30 years. She was a valued member of the United Church and an active worker in the various organizations of the church. She moved to Miami seven years ago and soon after married George I. Kerr.

Surviving, besides her husband, are three sisters, Mrs. William Gillespie, Toronto; Mrs. Eleanor Beach, Miami, and Mrs. Allen McInnis, of Iroquois.

WILSON—BRYAN

The marriage took place quietly Saturday afternoon, October 16, at three o'clock, at the Manse, Aultsville, of Helen Margaret Bryan daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Bryan, to Delmer Hugh Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson of Williamsburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Howe.

The bride looked charming in blue satin back crepe. She wore hat, gloves and shoes to match and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart Roses and fern. The bride was attended by Miss H. Linnex. The groom was attended by his brother, Cecil Wilson.

After the marriage, the young couple returned to the bride's home where supper was served to the immediate families, including the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Bryan, aged 93 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will reside in Williamsburg.

THIS FRIDAY and SATURDAY, OCT. 22-23—A DOUBLE BILL

1st Feature "RANGE DEFENDERS" Your action loving trio, Bob Livingston, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune, rides the bullet-riddled trail to solve the mysteries behind secret outlaw plans to destroy the west.

Also "THE AFFAIRS OF CAPPY RICKS" starring Walter Brennan with Mary Brian, Lyle Talbot and Frank Shields. It's a brand new role for the man of a thousand faces. Another jovial jaunt with Peter B. Kyne's wily old salt.

NEXT MONDAY and TUES. and WED., OCT. 25-26-27

"SOULS AT SEA" The grandest of adventure pictures with the grandest of star names—Gary Cooper, George Raft, Frances Dee, Olympe Bradna and Henry Wilcoxon, with a supporting cast of thousands. A slave ship locked in battle with a British ship of the lines—a great fire, burning half Liverpool—the flaming death of the great winged glory of a ship which was the "William Brown"—the strongest trial scenes ever filmed—these are but a few highlights of the story, taken from court records and the dusty files of history.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28th

...."HOTEL HAYWIRE" with Leo Carrillo, Lynn Overman and Mary Carlisle. A grand comedy that will keep you in stitches—see the adventures of Mr. and Mrs. Parkhouse who consult Zodiac to solve their squabbles.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29—30

"RUSTLER'S VALLEY" with Bill Boyd, George Hayes, Russell Hayden and Stephen Morris. Action and plenty of it is the keynote of another of the Hopalong Cassidy stories. Also, the first chapter, River Pirates, of the grand serial, Jungle Menace. A picture packed to the hilt with drama—romance—humor—besides a treasure-trove of thrill-a-minute action. With Frank Buck, the biggest name in jungle adventure—Sasha-Siemel. The Tiger Man, who kills wild beasts with a spear, Reginald Denny and Charlotte Henry. A story that's dynamic—that screamed to be screened.

Takes 166 Feet

One thing to be remembered in connection with the changed speed limit is that at 35 miles an hour a car can usually be stopped in about 95 feet, while at 50 miles an hour it requires 166 feet.—Toronto Star.

Couldn't Happen Here

Two special nurses deserted a five-year-old boy in an oxygen tent in a Massachusetts hospital because, it being an insurance case, they might have to wait some time for their wages. Our Canadian nurses are, we think, made of better stuff than that. —Brockville Recorder and Times.

Testing-Time For the League

London Free Press: It is easy to see the difficulties in the way of definite League action in the present crisis, but there is not the slightest doubt that if no action other than a protest against bombing is taken against Japan at a time when world opinion is unprecedently unanimous the League might as well close up shop and sell the Geneva palace to the armament manufacturers.

The Greatest Danger

When you examine 700 highway accidents and find that 255 of them occurred on straightaway stretches and only 125 at admittedly dangerous curves, you do not have to go far to find the only possible explanation, which is excessive speed. Barring a few plain lunatics, the very great majority of drivers take such hazards as bad curves, hill crests, etc., with a certain degree of caution. But the wide-open modern road, properly surfaced, marked and banked, is too much of a temptation for a multitude of people who are in too much of a hurry even to think. That is why the majority of accidents for them—Montreal Star.

Cooking Exclusively Canadian

Some visitors, endowed with culture and enriched by experience, have expressed astonishment, with all the kindness in the world, that the ordinary cooking of our hotels includes nothing that is specifically Canadian. It is impossible to deny the fact. In the very expensive hotels and restaurants it is cooking called (in Europe) international that prevails—costly dishes, often excellent, that are found identically in London, New York, Berlin, or in the Antipodes. In the moderately priced places it is the ordinary American cooking that is eaten everywhere. Finally, the French, Italian and German restaurants serve their specialities. Canadian Cooking? Nowhere. Certainly it is not a matter of being fanatical in the matter of cooking more than anything else. But would it not be possible, at least in the restaurants that do not specialize in certain types, to include some local dishes in the programme? Some of them are so good. — La Patrie (Montreal).

How Free We Seem

The Duke of Windsor is reported to have made a promise to refrain from giving any public speeches during his projected visit to the United States, and, according to a London dispatch, a stipulation to this effect was given before the British cabinet would give its consent to the tour.

We wonder, when Edward was sailing away on a destroyer from England, and England's throne, whether he thought that he was sailing away to freedom. If so, he must be sadly disappointed. He has escaped from the routine of kingship, but he can never escape from the political results of his birth. Whether he be a king or not, he cannot be free until the day of his death, unless the British constitutional monarchy ceases to exist.

It was Browning who wrote: "How free we seem, how fettered fast we are!" and Edward might well reiterate the thought, with a definitely personal application. — Hamilton Spectator.

THE EMPIRE

The Great Shrinkage

The Government must secure all possible information regarding the shrinkage of population with which, according to experts, this country and a great part of the civilized world are threatened in the immediate future. Light is required on its causes and probable effects. They should be studied scientifically with the fullest array of evidence available. . . . Experts forecast that, unless the forces at work can be radically altered, population in the near future will decline rapidly. In this country, according to these prophets, it will fall to about 30,000,000 at the close of the present century and in a hundred years' time to 5,000,000. —London Daily Mail.

The Urge to Write

A high and official voice has declared that sixty-five thousand million letters are written throughout the world in a year, which means that the average individual output is roughly thirty-two (an uninspired calculation, because the world population includes babies and illiterates). Even these statistics leave out many things. They do not include the mysterious drum-beats of the jungle post or, certainly, the romantically bottled missives of shipwrecked sailors. But the official figures are still very impressive. One might have thought that with the telephone everywhere and television round the corner this spate of letters might have been curbed. Not at all; the people of the United States, renowned for progressiveness, write more letters than any other nation in the world.—Manchester Guardian.

Joe Louis the heavyweight champ is travelling all over the continent with his Brown Bombers. He now plays each game its full length on 1st base. Joe's manager thinks this is the best idea any champ has hit on to keep fit physically.

Louis, who has teh courage of his convictions refuses to edorse any product unless he actually uses the article. In his own inimitable way he's really trying to do tihgsn on the right and at that rate should go far.

Did you know that Bobby Wallace, manager at Cincinnati, and Connie Mack are the two oldest managers in the National and American league, respectively?

Think these over till next week. What is the name of the big-time baseball star whose mother cannot speak one word of English?

Are you able to name the wrestler who has had his nose broken 23 times?

Speaking of wrestling Jack Corcoran is starting his fall shows in a big way in Toronto these days. He promises bigger and better matches than ever before (if possible.)

Well gang we'll see you at the ringside and don't forget to answer those questions above. Watch for the answers next week.

So long!

Colonies Given Trade Benefits

Canada Gazette Pubishes Special Edition on Concessions

OTTAWA, — Trade concessions to several British colonies, protectorates and mandated territories are announced in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette.

Some of the concessions are to fulfil undertakings in the Canada-United Kingdom agreement and the other to carry out the spirit of the trade agreement with Australia which has been extended and amplified.

Retroactive to Sept. 1st, when the renewed Canada-United Kingdom trade treaty came into force, benefits of the British preference have been given to Malta and most favored nation treatment has been extended to all the non-self-governing colonies and protectorates, the mandated territories of Togoland, the Cameroons, Tangankika, territory and Palestine.

RECEIVE BRITISH PREFERENCE

From Oct. 1st, when the continuation of the Australian agreement became effective, Papua and Norfolk Island receive the British preference together with special preferences given Australia, Naura, mandated to Australia, gets the British preference.

The Gilbert and Ellice Islands and the British Solomon Islands protectorate in the Pacific also receive the British preference as from October 1.

With most of these countries trade is small. In the past fiscal years, however, exports to Palestine were $274,000 and imports from there $59,000.

The largest item of Canadian imports from Palestine was oranges valued at $12,000. Oranges already come in free from Palestine in the first four months of the year and are not affect-

Calendar Reform Systems Narrowed Down To Two

League of Nations Has Them Under Consideration—Wants Confusion Cut Out of Calendar.

Something is to be done, at long last, about the confusion and chaos of our out-of-date calendar, says Pearson's Weekly.

Europe, Egypt, Northern India, and China all have different calendars, which differ by as much as 800 years!

Our own present calendar is based on that of Julius Caesar of 48 B.C. In 1582 Pope Gregory XIII discovered that the calendar had an error in it, which, by then, had accumulated to 11 days. He amended this, and his rectified calendar is the one we now use.

In addition to the confusion caused by having several different calendars in use in the world at the same time, our own calendar from year to year causes quite enough confusion to statisticians and to business generally.

Easter In Different Quarters

Compared with 1936, the first quarter of this year has 3 less working days than the corresponding quarter last year; the second quarter has two more; Easter is not only in a different month, but in a different quarter!

This means that all comparisons of quarterly or even monthly figures between the two years will be misleading.

200 Schemes!

But it is not only these two years of our calendar which have caused trouble. Every year is as bad. Fluctuating Easter and Whitsun cause trouble and loss to sports and sports-wear shops, and to holiday resorts.

Now an international effort to reform the calendar is being made. Two hundred different schemes for calendar reform have been submitted to the League of Nations, and by careful sifting the number has been reduced to two.

The matter is being pressed as urgent, for it is desired to start the new calendar on January 1st, 1939. The date is particularly apt, for it is a Sunday, and so would cause the least possible interference in business.

The two systems now under consideration are as follows:

That pressed by the International Fixed Calendar League of America is to divide a 13-month year into equal months of 28 days each. The new month thus created is to be called Sol, and will be placed between June and July. The odd day will be called Year Day, and will follow December 28th as a National holiday.

Every month will start on Sunday, and each day in every month will be the same date year after year.

"Year Day"

The other system, sponsored by Lord Desborough, and named the Desborough Calendar after him, is less revolutionary and therefore more likely to be chosen.

It has a twelve month year, divided into equal quarters. Each quarter is made up of one month of 31 days, followed by two months of 30 days each. Every month has 26 working days. Every day will be the same date every year (as in the other calendar), and Easter Sunday will be fixed as April 8th.

The odd day, to be called Year Day, will come at the year end as a national holiday, and will not count in the calendar. Leap Year Day will get the same treatment, except that it will be placed between June and July as a national holiday.

Will the nations adopt it?

Can January the First, 1939, see the confusion cut out of our calendar?

Men over six feet six inches in height are technically known as giants.

Apartments In Sweden Feature Sunny Balconies

Modern Flats for Workers Have Sunshine Rooms For All Weathers — Gaily Flowered

One of the enchanting things the visitor to Stockholm first notices, is the typical Swedish balcony, gaily flowered and furnished for living.

Blocks of modern flats for workers in the heart of the city and small houses in the surrounding garden villages all have sun-facing balconies, planned for comfort and privacy. Their flowing planes, painted pure white, have a look of seagulls' wings.

.... HOOD-SHAPED SUN-BLINDS ....

Bright sun-blinds and flower boxes shine against the white. Most of the sun-blinds are hood-shaped with scalloped borders, and different bright colours are used for neighboring blocks of flats. The contrast of tangerine, cherry, peacock and apple green gives a light-hearted sparkle to the buildings.

The flower boxes are charming, too. You see a harlequinade of petunias, marigolds, fuchsias, scarlet geraniums laced with white petunias and pots of those curiously decorative Victorian flowers — gloxinas and plump coral-red begonias. Cacti gardens are cherished in the sun-trap extensions to the living rooms, which are a feature of the small houses.

A FILL OF SUNSHINE

Sun-rooms and built-out balconies alike are most sensibly furnished for living, so that the owners can have their fill of sunshine and fresh air on fine days. And how many days there are in the year when one can sit out in comfort in a well-planned sun-trap. We don't make full use of ours in this country!

Meals are taken in the Swedish home in these sun-trap rooms, or on the balcony in summer. A very light round table of birch, and chairs to match, are the favorite furnishings. The lady of the house has her sewing corner in the sun, complete with sewing machine, low-slung modern chair, and elbow-high table.

Should Milk be Added Before or After?

English Tea Drinkers Debate The Question

Until a recent controversy started in English newspapers many tea habits were without explanation. Like so many other things English, a thing was "done" or "not done"—and that was that.

For instance, the addition of milk to tea. There have always been two schools, each firm in the belief that milk should be poured into the tea-cup before the tea—or, that milk should be poured into the tea.

Two Schools of Thought

Neither school knew nor cared, or troubled to inquire why it adhered to the favored practice.

Now, a correspondent who favors following the tea with the milk offers what seems to be a sound reason. She reasons that when the milk is put in first it is slightly cooked by the hot tea and thus may impair the fine flavor of the beverage. On the other hand, she points out, when the milk is poured last the tea has lost its first heat and the flavor remains unimpaired.

The Famous Pair Will Visit America

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, now in Paris, are soon to pay a visit to the United States. The British Cabinet is understood to have granted the Royal couple permission to make the 3,000 mile journey "reluctantly."

Commentary on the Highlights of the Week's News . . . by Peter Randal

France Arms the Border

The Franco-Spanish frontier is quietly but swiftly being militarized this week in preparation for any situation that may arise from Italy's refusal to withdraw her "volunteers" from participation in Spain's civil war. If Premier Mussolini continues to defy efforts to turn the civil war "back to the Spaniards", France backed by Britain may take "really strong action", calling classes of her vast reserve army to the colors as a defense gesture. The French Government thinks that as matters now stand, the southern frontier is no longer secure. Several authorities on international relations are of the opinion that Mussolini is stalling, and will continue to stall until, as he thinks will happen, the Rightist army in Spain gains the ascendancy.

Campaigning For Colonies

With the publication of a new illustrated weekly, "Colony and Home," Germany is launching an intensive campaign of propaganda in a drive to regain "lost colonies." A series of mass meetings will be held, sponsored by the National Socialist (Nazi) party and the Reich Colonial League which has 50,000 members in Berlin alone. The campaign serves to make the German people more and more conscious of their unfortunate lack of imperial possessions, and is developing the question into a major issue. The world is to know that Germany means business.

To Equal Peak Year

It is expected that before the end of 1937, Canada's tourist trade for the year will be equal in volume to the peak of 1929. Speaking to the Maritime Board of Trade, D. Leo Dolan, Chief of the Canadian Travel Bureau, declared that this year's total may reach the sum of $300,000,000. He urged that fish and game resources be conserved in the interest of the tourist industry, as well as for the benefit of resident Canadians.

Italy's Four-Year Plan

In the late twenties, it was Russia with her Five-Year Plan. More recently came Germany with her scheme for intensified development of her resources. Last week Italy instituted a Four-Year plan for economic independence, with the government declaring that the relative scarcity of raw materials, minerals and other products makes such a program necessary if the country is to achieve equality with nations having greater resources at their disposal. Mussolini's plan is to make Italy entirely free from dependence on other countries for supplies "without constituting an economic challenge to her neighbors", authoritative spokesmen state. Some sort of a trade war, however, is likely to result.

"Unity Is Empire's Need"

Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Federal Conservative leader, warned last week that the British Empire cannot hope to remain intact unless a greater amount of co-operation and a stronger sense of unity is developed. "Where there are hundreds of millions of people in the world clamoring for land and where you have one seventy-fifth of the world's people occupying one seventh of the land, you have danger," he pointed out. "We must learn to coordinate our efforts as a united people." As it is now, Canada knows little, for example, about Australia, and its problems. Australia may know less about us; but it is our business to get to know each other.

No More "War Risk" Policies

Lloyd's of London last week stopped writing "war risk" policies, not only for China and Japan, but for anywhere on earth. Joined by all other British insurance firms of consequence, they announced that "the writing of war risk insurance on land has become in fact little more than a gamble, which plays no part in insurance, when rates are based on scientific application of the law of averages as ascertained through experience."

The British insurers believe that they have made "a substantial contribution to the cause of world peace, explaining that property owners unable to take out war risk policies will be forced to start "working for peace."

Migration to Dominions

Creation of a corporation "to initiate, consider and aid the carrying into effect of schemes for all forms of useful activities inside the British Empire, migration and development was urged at the Empire Migration Conference, meeting in London, England. Believing that the time is ripe for resumption of migration from the Old Country to the Dominions, the Conference asked that representatives of the Dominion Governments be invited to consider beginning work on the scheme. It was suggested that migration be aided financially.

More Brown Shirt Girls

BERLIN.—A half million 10-year-old girls were mustered into the League of German Girls this week, donning Hitlerism's brown uniform for the first time. Each girl must undergo an athletic examination before admission.

To Export Thatcher Wheat

WINNIPEG. — The Board of Grain Commissioners announced this week that it was arranging, in collaboration with the Canadian Wheat Board, for shipment of commercial quantities of Thatcher wheat to United Kingdom and Continental millers willing to cooperate for a trial run of this wheat in their mills.

About 30,000 bushels of wheat will be involved. The announcement said: "This is being undertaken to confirm the laboratory findings that Thatcher wheat, which has proven rust resistant, is eligible for grading as No. 1 Northern Manitoba grade as being equal in quality to Marquis wheat."

Air Battles In Spain

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier.—Spanish insurgents and Loyalists fought for supremacy in the air this week-end. Nearly 350 war planes were engaged on the northern fronts and thirty were reported to have been shot down.

On the Aragon front, where a fleet of eighty loyalist planes atempted to wipe out the insurgent stronghold of Saragozza, a squadron of new Italian ships entered the dog-fights.

Alberta Prepares Case

OTTAWA.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King has intimated to the Alberta Government and other interested parties that any representations they may wish to make to the Federal Government with respect to Alberta legislation referred to the Governor-General, should be in writing, he told a press conference.

The Alberta Government has advised the Prime Minister that a brief is being prepared and representations are also to be made by the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and by the daily newspaper publishers.

Ontario's Liquor Profits

TORONTO.—Ontario Liquor Control Board profits for the year ended March 31, 1937, were $8,960,600. Profits in the previous fiscal year were $7,862,719, the increase being $1,097,981. Profits on liquor store operations were $5,869,206. The rest of the $8,960,600 is profit on beer sold through warehouses and beverage rooms and on wines sold through wineries.

Russia Prepares For Election

MOSCOW. — Campaign for a full vote of nearly 100,000,000 electors in the December 12 election to choose Soviet Russia's new Legislature swung under way this week. First posters appeared urging everybody to vote.

A two-chambered supreme Soviet is to be chosen in the direct and secret election for a nationwide Legislature.

The Soviet of the union will have 569 members, elected on basis of population; the Soviet of nationalities will have 574 members, elected on a geographical basis.

New Belgian Pact

BRUSSELS. — A cherished dream came true for Belgium this week — her home as a nation to stand aside from quarrels of major western powers and carry on an independent policy.

Acceptance of Germany's declaration pledging recognition of Belgian inviolability marked the realiztion of these hopes. The declaration followed similar ones by Great Britain and France, and left the way open for Belgium to continue faithful to her obligations as a member of the League of Nations.

The Reich pledge, however, places upon Belgium the responsibility of strengthening her defenses in order that her territory may not be used against Belgium's will, as a base for military action by other powers against Germany. Belgium accepts that responsibility.

The Duke In Germany

BERLIN.—The Duke of Windsor's motor trip to Croessinsee Castle, where future Nazi leaders are trained, was like a triumphal procession this week. In every ha[illegible] and village crowds of natives stood cheering and shouting "heil" as he passed in Reichsfuehrer Hitler's new Limousine, a glorified house-trailer, equipped with a bar, kitchen, telephone and other conveniences.

Oxford Receives $5,000,000

LONDON. — Total benefactions of Lord Nuffield, millionaire automobile manufacturer, came to around $50,000,000 with announcement of a gift of $5,000,000 to Oxford University.

The money is to be used for a new college. In addition, he gave the University $1,000,000 for medical research and the money for a site for the new building, valued at $500,000. The new college will be devoted to social studies.

Chinese Dislike Drinking Coffee

Wil Not Buy the Beans For A Penny A Pound

A little-known peculiarity of the Chinese is their dislike of coffee. Yet down in South America, thousands of tons of good coffee beans are used for stoking railway engines, burned on rubbish dumps or thrown into the sea, in order to keep up the price of the product.

Such beans have been offered to Chinese merchants for a few pennies a pound, but the offer was not snapped up. In the United States matters are just the other way round. Large sums have been spent in trying to persuade the ubiquitous coffee drinker to turn to tea. This is having some success, but the American still prefers coffee.

OTHER NATIONS DO

Ireland drinks very little coffee but her consumption is more than five times that of China, although China has more than 300 people against about four million in Ireland.
people against about four million in Ireland.

The Danes consume more coffee than any other nation — more than 16 pounds per head in the course of the year. Each Swede drinks about 15 lbs. each Norwegian about 12 pounds. And then come the Belgians, the Americans, the Dutch, the French and the Swiss.

Used To Wake Up With A Headache

Now Fresh and Lively Every Morning

Here is a man who woke up every morning with a dull headache. Then Kruschen transformed his days. Read his letter:—

"I used to wake up in the mornings with a dull headache. A year ago, I started taking Kruschen Salts regularly. Today, I wake up fresh and lively and can do my day's work without any exertion. I can recommend Kruschen for anyone suffering from headaches and constipation, and for putting new life into you. I intend to continue with Kruschen for the rest of my life."—E.P.

Headaches can nearly always be traced to a disordered stomach, and to the unsuspected retention in the system of stagnating waste material which poisons the blood. Remove these poisons—prevent them from forming again—and you'll never have to worry any more. And that is just how Kruschen Salts brings quick and lasting relief from headaches.

HAVE YOU HEARD

Wife — "I'm afraid Oliver, that you do not love me any more — at least, not as much as you used to."

Husband — "Why?"

Wife — "Because you always let me get up to light the fire now."

Husband — "Nonsense, my dear! You're getting up to light the fire makes me love you all the more."

It is well that a man be not wise in his own conceit, nor make the mistake of taking the conceit of others for wisdom.

He — "You've been out with worse-looking fellows than I am, haven't you?"

She did not reply.

"I said you've been out with worse-looking fellows than I am, haven't you?"

She — "I heard you the first time. I was trying to think."

Ever notice that the fellow who is always in a hurry is usually late.

Husband — "Have you ever wondered what you would do if you had Rockefeller's income?"

Wife — "No, but I often wondered what he would have done if he'd had mine."

Opinions are like watches — no two are ever alike, and each man swears by his own.

Clerk — "Mr. McPherson, how about buying the latest atlas?"

Mr. McPherson — "Not noo, mon; I'll wait until the affairs in Europe are more settled."

Some folks insist on figuring life like a custard pie, if the crust is good, the filling will get by.

"What does the bride think when she walks into the church?"
"Aisle. Altar. Hymn."

The late Thomas A. Edison was showing a party of friends over his beautiful summer residence, equipped with many labor-saving devices. One exception, however, was a turnstile so stiff that it required considerable strength to force a passage.

One by one his guests pushed their way through. At length one of them ventured to say: "Mr. Edison, why do you have everything so perfect except this awful turnstile."

"Ah," replied the host, his eyes twinkling. "Everybody who pushes that turnstile around, pumps eight gallons of water into the tank on my roof."

At breakfast one morning, the town bachelor noticed some hand-writing on one of his three-minute eggs. Examining it closely he made out the following message: "This egg was packed by a girl who is prepared to marry the man who notices this message. She is said to be the prettiest girl in this neighborhood."

He wrote: "I would like to correspond with you — object matrimony."

Several days later he received a reply: "I am flattered by your offer, but I am now married and have three children."

"Human nature is an odd mixture of credulity and incredulity," remarked a lecturer. "If you tell a man that there are two hundred and seventy billion stars, he'll accept your word for it. But if you put up a sign "Fresh Paint," he's never satisfied until he proves it is fresh.

THE BETTER THINGS

There's beauty all about us here,
And he is wise who finds it;
There's ugliness that can't be helped
Let's pass it by, don't mind it!

Fall Fertilizing Aid to Pastures

A Benefit Which More and More Farmers Are Recognizing

The value of the application of fertilizers in the fall to pastures and alfalfa, and particularly to permanent pastures, is becoming more generally recognized. The fertilizers used for this purpose, being composed of phosphates and potashes, do not leech from winter snows and rains, and the plant food they supply is ready to give the desired results with the first growth in the spring. Further, the fall application is a saving of time in the spring when so many other farm operations demand attention. The application may be made either before or after the freeze-up.

The specially balanced fertilizers for this purpose recommended by the Provincial Fertilizer Boards are 0-12-6, 0-12-10, 0-12-15, 0-16-6, 0-16-10 and 0-16-12, to be applied at the rate of at least 300 pounds per acre. It would be wasteful to apply a complete fertilizer in the fall, that is, one containing nitrogen in addition to the phosphoric acid and potash, as most of the nitrogen would be lost by leeching or ammoniation before plant growth had started in the spring.

Great Britain Gets Canadian Eggs

Exports of Canadian eggs to Great Britain in the export season which started recently are expected to aggregate in the neighbourhood of one and one-quarter million dozen eggs. The export season extends from the middle of September to the latter part of November and at the end of September about 9,000 cases—3,240-000 eggs—had gone forward.

The export trade at this season is made up of eggs laid in the spring which are held under refrigeration until shipping date. Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario are the chief exporting provinces, with Quebec and Alberta making smaller shipments.

Not Thinking of Retirement

Official denial of a rumour circulated in London following the close of the International Scout Jamboree in Holland, that Lord Baden-Powell was contemplating retirement as World Chief Scout, was made by Mr. J. F. M. Stewart of Toronto, upon his return from the Jamboree, where he acted as official head of the Canadian Scout contingent. Mr. Stewart is Chairman of the Executive Board of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts' Association.

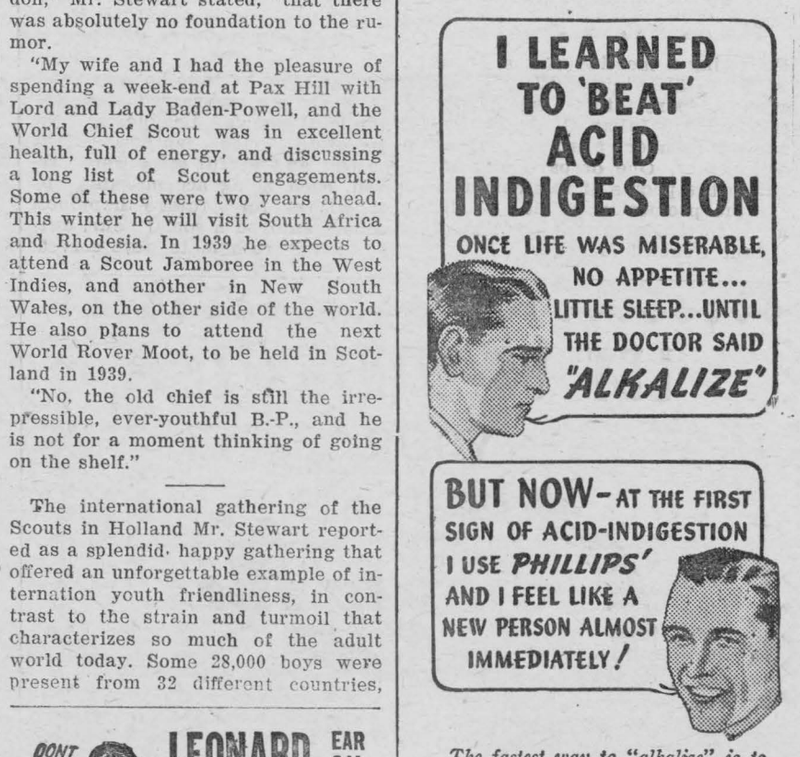

"It was officially announced by the Imperial Scout Headquarters in London," Mr. Stewart stated, "that there was absolutely no foundation to the rumor.

"My wife and I had the pleasure of spending a week-end at Pax Hill with Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, and the World Chief Scout was in excellent health, full of energy, and discussing a long list of Scout engagements. Some of these were two years ahead. This winter he will visit South Africa and Rhodesia. In 1939 he expects to attend a Scout Jamboree in the West Indies, and another in New South Wales, on the other side of the world. He also plans to attend the next World Rover Moot, to be held in Scotland in 1939.

"No, the old chief is still the irrepressible, ever-youthful B.-P., and he is not for a moment thinking of going on the shelf."

The international gathering of the Scouts in Holland Mr. Stewart reported as a splendid, happy gathering that offered an unforgettable example of internation youth friendliness, in contrast to the strain and turmoil that characterizes so much of the adult world today. Some 28,000 boys were present from 32 different countries, and only the happiest fraternizing characterized their two weeks of camping together.

The Canadian Scouts made an excellent impression, and very creditably represented the Dominion in the various reviews. In the great opening march past before Her Majesty Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and Lord Baden-Powell, Canada had the honour of leading the British Empire section of 8,000 boys, the largest division of the review. The next largest visiting contingent was the French, whose 2,000 Scouts made a splendid appearance.

The fastest way to "alkalize" is to carry your alkalizer with you. That's what thousands do now that genuine Phillips' comes in tiny, peppermint flavored tablets—in a flat tin for pocket or purse. Then you are always ready.

Use it this way. Take 2 Phillips' tablets—equal in "alkalizing" effect to 2 teaspoonfuls of liquid Phillips' from the bottle. At once you feel "gas," nausea, "over-crowding" from hyper-acidity begin to ease. "Acid headaches," "acid breath," over-acid stomach are corrected at the source. This is the quick way to ease your own distress—avoid offense to others.

THREE CARS CLASH ON MAIN STREET

Friday, shortly before noon, three cars crashed at the intersection of Lock and Main St., Morrisburg, causing considerable damage.

The accident happened as the driver coming from the East, putting his hand out to indicate the direction of his route, pulled to the South side of the road, intending to enter Lock St., and found that one car was parked and another was stopped, awaiting his turn to enter Main St. This blocked the way and the car coming from Main St. had to stop.

Another car coming from West on Main St., applied his brakes in order to avoid hitting the first car, and skidded on the wet pavement, going from one side of the road to the other. Before this car was brought to a stop, it had side-swiped two other cars, doing considerable damage, as well as some damage to an awning in front of the Cameo Theatre.

That more accidents have not occurred at this particular intersection, which is one of the most dangerous in this district, is nothing short of a mystery.

Cars are permitted to park at the extreme Northern end of Lock St., as well as at the entrance from Main St., blocking the view from both directions. This is a condition which invites disaster, and one which was, in our opinion, undoubtedly responsible for the accident.

The writer, whose shortest route home from his office is by way of this intersection, has for years, in order to avoid an accident, has for order to avoid an accident, never failed to go completely around a block, in order to enter Main St. at a safer point.

Unless some move is made to direct and safeguard traffic at this intersection, more accidents are, without a doubt, inevitable.

COLQUHOUN—BOURETTE

Fr. R. J. Coyle officiating. The witnesses were Miss Mona Barr and Mr. Joe. Bourette.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Colquhoun motored to Montreal. They will reside in Morrisburg.

On Tuesday evening, prior to her marriage, the bride-to-be was tendered a shower, sponsered by the Catholic Women's League, at the home of the bride's mother. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received, each being accompanied by best wishes for future happiness Members enjoyed a social hour, during which refreshments were served.

LET US WINTERIZE YOUR Car

Is your car ready for the first biting blasts of winter? Remember — an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure, and you can save yourself a lot of needless expense by winterizing your car now. Transmission and differential should be drained of summer oil and refilled with fresh clean lubricants suitable for winter performance. Winter grade oil should be placed in the crankcase, antifreeze in the radiator; chassis lubrication should be checked — there are many ways in which you can save future expense by preparing your car now for winter weather.

Let us winterize your car for you today — you will be well satisfied with our prompt, efficient service.
