ATV crash kills local 7-year-old

HULBERT — A Hulbert youth died last week when the all-terrain vehicle he was driving left the road and struck a hydro pole. Seven-year-old Chapen Welsh was eastbound riding along Hulbert Road when the collision occurred on May 18.

Welsh was a student at Nationview Public School in South Mountain. He's been described as an energetic youngster with a passion for car racing. He was reportedly also very familiar with operating the ATV he was driving. He has an older brother and sister who also attend Nationview Public School.

Following the death, the Upper Canada District School Board sent councillors to Nationview last Wednesday. The funeral for Welsh was held last Friday at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg.

Welsh had been riding a Polaris 250 cc all-terrain vehicle. The accident occurred shortly after 6 pm when he was approximately 1.5 kilometres east of County Road 1. He was discovered a short time after his vehicle struck the hydro pole, and was airlifted to the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario, where he succumbed to his injuries.

OPP senior constable Al Lummiss said that Welsh shouldn't have been driving an ATV on a public road. "If you look at the Off-road Vehicles Act, it states that no one under the age of 12 should be driving an ATV unless on private property owned by the owner of the ATV under close supervision of an adult," he said.

Lummiss elaborated that it's illegal for anyone to operate an ATV on a public road anywhere in SD&G. While some municipalities have bylaws allowing ATVs on roads, in the United Counties they are strictly for use off-road.

Public roads are considered to be the area from fenceline to fenceline, meaning that it is equally illegal to ride an ATV on the shoulder of the road or in the ditch as it would be to ride on the paved surface.

Meet the leader

Conservative Party leader Stephen Harper was in Cornwall on Monday (May 24) where he spoke to a rally of more than 800 supporters at the Ramada Inn. He ended his speech raising arms with Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry candidate Guy Lauzon. Following the rally, he was swarmed by the national media in the hotel lobby.

Harper receives hero's welcome in SD&G riding

CORNWALL — More than 800 supporters overflowed the Ramada in Cornwall to meet Conservative Party leader Stephen Harper on Monday (May 24). It was standing-room-only to hear Harper reel off a series of indictments against his opponent Liberal Party.

"When I call the next federal election, it will be on a fixed election date," said Harper. He elaborated that he doesn't think prime ministers should have the power to time elections for their own benefit. And those were only Harper's warm-up remarks.

The Conservative Party chose eastern Ontario to launch Election 2004. On the first full day of the campaign, Harper spent two hours in Cornwall. Earlier in the day he'd been in Smiths Falls and on Sunday he led a rally in Brockville. Harper was working the Ontario ridings that he's most confident he can win.

The main thrust of Harper's 20-minute speech in Cornwall questioned the "accountability" of the federal Liberal Party. "Paul Martin wants us to forget that for 10 years he was finance minister," said Harper. "He sat on the right-hand of Chretien."

Kilger announces funding for job creation projects

by Chris Zabel
Press staff

MORRISBURG — MP Bob Kilger was in Morrisburg last week to announce two federally funded job creation projects that will create seven new jobs in SD&G. He brought the good news to the McIntosh Inn on May 21.

A total of $272,000 in funding will create two temporary positions with Seaway Valley Crime Stoppers in Long Sault, and five temporary positions with the local Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs (OFSC) district.

$272,000 in grants

"This type of project provides participants with practical work experience, which is a valuable asset for anyone looking for meaningful employment," said Kilger, MP for Stormont-Dundas-Charlottenburgh. "The government of Canada is proud to support projects that help unemployed individuals to re-enter the workforce."

Under the project, the OFSC will help five unemployed individuals in the Morrisburg area to enhance their work skills over a 47-week period. These employees will be used to improve the signage on snowmobile trails in eastern Ontario.

"We're getting comments from riders from outside of Ontario that they're frustrated with our region," said John Boals, OFSC district manager. "Riders say that our trails are superbly groomed, but they aren't signed well and people are getting lost."

There are 250 intersections on the 5,000 kilometres of snowmobile trails in the district, and Boals said there will be eight destination signs placed at each intersection. These will be signs indicating businesses and services in nearby hamlets and villages. Boals said riders from out of the area currently have no way of knowing where they can find places such as local gas stations and restaurants. "It's going to help out the small 'ma and pa' businesses," he said.

The five new employees will work out of the OFSC office in Morrisburg. They will also work on a global positioning system (GPS) map of local trails. Each sign installed will have a number code, matched with its GPS location. Boals explained that this will help emergency rescue teams find riders on the trails. Anyone with a cell phone will be able to contact emergency staff with the number from the nearest sign, and rescuers will know precisely where they are.

"Even for our own local riders, the improved signs will make their riding experience more pleasurable," said Boals.

Hospital gala this weekend near sell-out

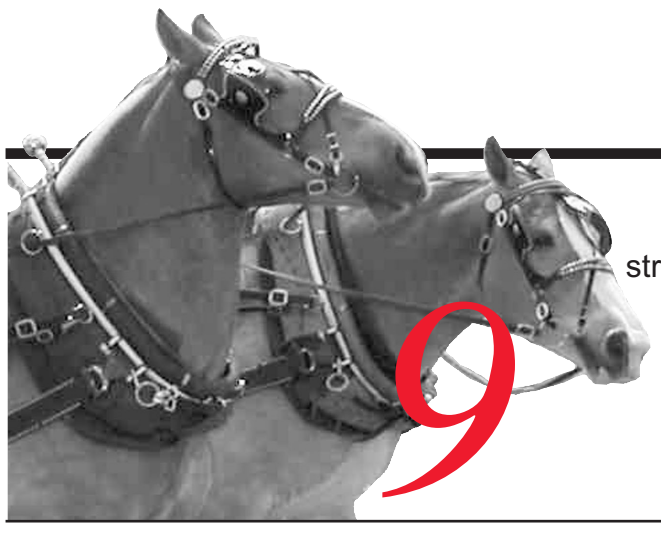

WINCHESTER — The annual Winchester District Memorial Hospital gala brings a glamorous shine to the Winchester Arena this Saturday (May 29). There are still a few tickets left for purchase, but the event is very close to being a sell-out. Don't miss a chance to dress up, enjoy yourself and support the hospital.

In addition to a fabulous meal catered by AJ's Catering, the gala's silent and live auctions have more than 90 items to bid on. Up for auction are numerous prints, crafts, quilts, golf passes, and cottage getaways. A day on the Rideau River with local master bass angler Ed Puddephatt is also one of the items on the block.

Cocktails will be served at 6 pm and dinner will commence at 7. The evening's musical entertainment is Lou Nelson, a Tom Jones tribute artist. His classic lounge tunes should have everyone in a good mood and singing along.

To purchase last minute tickets, call the WDMH Foundation office at 774-2420, extension 5296. Support the Renewing the Vision Campaign and treat yourself to a swanky night out. Last year's gala and auction cleared over $33,000 for the hospital.

MORRISBURG — The Business Improvement Association (BIA) hosted its first annual Community Food and Clothing Drive on Sat., May 22 in the Morrisburg Village Plaza.

The BIA ran the event in conjunction with the Village Sidewalk and Yard Sale. All food donations were donated to the South Dundas Food Bank. Clothing and stuffed animals went to Helping Hands, a second-hand clothing outlet which accepts donations if customers are able to afford it.

"We didn't get as much food as we had hoped for, but the clothing, we were really surprised," says Jane Ewing, BIA co-ordinator. The BIA collected over 30 garbage bags of clothing and two bags of stuffed animals. Although the event is over, citizens are still calling the BIA with more donations.

"We looked at it as a success, and hopefully next year we can grow, since this is the first year," says Ewing.

For more information, call Ewing at 543-4384.

Learn about your well

WINCHESTER — A new information program called Well Aware is hosting a well information night at Winchester's Old Town Hall tomorrow night (Thurs., May 27) from 7 to 9:30 pm. The meeting will provide rural residents with the opportunity to learn the facts they need to know about their wells, and their responsibilities as well owners.

Topics covered at the forum will include learning to maintain your well, how to seal an old well properly, reasons why you should regularly test your well water, information you need to know about septic systems, and how to protect groundwater sources in your area. There will be four guest speakers to help address these issues. A hydrologist will discuss how groundwater systems function. A representative from South Nation Conservation will talk about watershed and source protection. A speaker from the Eastern Ontario Health Unit will comment on safety and the importance of water testing. The other speaker will be a licensed well driller/pump installer.

Well Aware organizer Bill Barkley noted that Winchester was chosen to host an information session based on the recommendation of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

The Winchester meeting is one of the only ones in eastern Ontario. There is no cost to attend and refreshments will be provided. Participants do not need to register in advance.

Well Aware is a project of the Green Communities Association in partnership with the Ontario Ground Water Association. The project has received funding support from the Ontario Ministry of the Environment.

Federal election round-up, four candidates confirmed

WINCHESTER — As expected, the federal election call came on Sunday (May 23). In the riding of Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry there are currently four candidates declared, representing the Liberals, Conservatives, NDP, and the Green Party. The deadline for nominations to be accepted is June 9, so it is possible that some others could be announced before that time, either as independents or members of some of the fringe parties.

Voting day will be June 28.

Liberal MP Bob Kilger is hoping to win the riding for a fifth time. Kilger is currently deputy speaker of the House of Commons and was previously chief government whip for four years. His campaign office is located in Cornwall and can be reached by phoning 933-6006. The Bob Kilger campaign website is located at www.bobkilger.ca.

The candidate for the newly merged Conservative Party is Guy Lauzon. Lauzon ran for the Canadian Alliance party in the last election and has over 22 years experience in the federal public service. His campaign office can be reached at 937-3331 or toll-free at 1-888-805-2513. More information can be found at his website www.guylauzon.ca.

Elaine MacDonald is the local NDP candidate. She has been active in the labor community, serving as political action chair on the Cornwall and District Labor Council, as well as serving as co-chair of the Cornwall chapter of the Ontario Health Coalition. Her campaign office will officially open on Fri., May 28 in Cornwall. Call 938-7763 or visit www.sdsg-ndp.ca for further information.

Green Party candidate Tom Manley has a campaign office in Finch. Manley is the party's agriculture critic and ran for the party in last year's provincial election. The phone number of the campaign office is 613-984-1661. For more information visit www.greensofsdg.ca on the Internet.

Harper

Harper dwelt on the $100 million sponsorship scandal in the Liberal government. He pointed out a number of times that Prime Minister Paul Martin promised that inquiries would solve the scandal before an election was called. Harper went on to suggest that if another Liberal government is elected, the missing $100 million will never be accounted for.

"This is typical Liberal arrogance. That's how corruption happens, they think it's their money," said Harper.

The audience at the Ramada was attracted by a volunteer phone and e-mail network over the previous few days. On the main stage, Harper was introduced by Guy Lauzon, Conservative Party candidate for SD&G. Lauzon was flanked by Glengarry-Prescott-Russell candidate Alain Lalonde, Leeds-Grenville candidate Gord Brown, Nepean-Carleton MPP John Baird, and SD&G riding association president Julie-Anne Miller.

Harper touched on a series of positions that have long been planks in the former Progressive Conservative and Canadian Alliance platforms.

"We won't be banning health supplements, we'll ban child pornography," he said. "We'll create a registry for sexual predators, and scrap the registry for long guns." Harper said that instead of disarming citizens, the Conservative Party will re-arm Canada's military. "It's our obligation to do everything we can to defend and protect our men and women in uniform."

But the theme Harper kept returning to was what he called a lack of integrity and accountability in the current federal Liberal Party. He said that Martin became the Liberal leader by dividing his party, creating an atmosphere of fear and falsehood, "to hide a record of shame."

Harper kept referring to the sponsorship scandal as an example of Liberal arrogance. "This is how corruption begins. They think it's their money," he said, describing how the Liberal government treats the tax dollars of Canadians. Harper said that when high taxes are the defining characteristic of a government, it's time for that regime to be overthrown by the voters.

Kilger

In addition to the Government of Canada's contribution of $190,433, including $97,055 in participant wages, the OFSC will provide $78,248 for this $268,681 project.

CRIME STOPPERS

The other project Kilger announced was for Seaway Valley Crime Stoppers to hire two unemployed individuals for 48 weeks. "They're going to be very busy," said Crime Stoppers police co-ordinator Todd Quinton. Among the first duties of his new employees will be assisting with the organization of the annual provincial Crime Stoppers conference. The conference is taking place in Cornwall starting on May 29.

This is the first time the conference is being held in Cornwall. As many as 250 delegates are expected, including board members and police co-ordinators from 39 Crime Stoppers programs in the province.

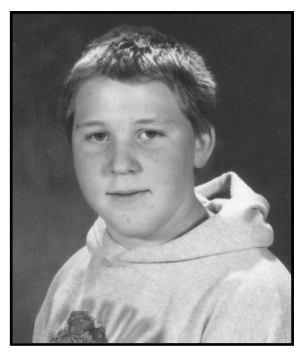

Quinton said that following the conference, his additional staff will tackle a variety of projects. The Crime Stoppers website will be updated to include a "most-wanted" section.

An awareness campaign will target schools in SD&G, giving students advice on how to handle instances of bullying. And another awareness campaign will work with seniors groups. Quinton said that many instances of fraud where seniors are victimized go unreported. "They feel embarrassed, so they don't report the crime. But they could call Crime Stoppers because our service is anonymous," he said.

In addition to the federal contribution of $81,737 including $39,648 in participant wages, Seaway Valley Crime Stoppers will provide $172,985 for the $254,722 project. Kilger announced both job creation projects on behalf of Joe Volpe, minister of human resources and skills development.

ATV

The investigation into the collision is continuing with the assistance of an OPP technical traffic collision investigator. The details surrounding why Welsh's ATV left the road are currently not known. The investigation will also look to discover whether Welsh was wearing a helmet at the time of the collision.

Local piper blessed by Dalai Lama

by Amanda Smith-Millar

WINCHESTER — It was a life changing experience for John Yourt of Winchester when he had the honour of playing for the Dalai Lama during his holiness' recent visit to Ottawa.

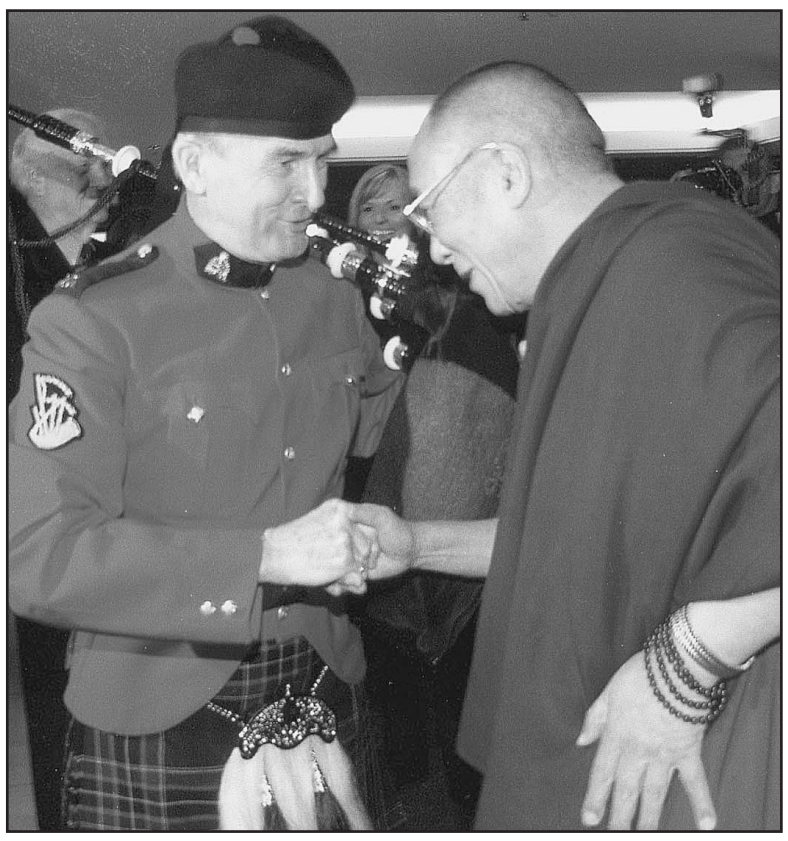

Yourt encountered the Dalai Lama on April 22 at the Canadian Club, an organization that hosts guest speakers of prominence. Yourt, a piper and civilian member of the RCMP Pipe Band and the duty piper for the Canadian Club, played at the opening for club's lecture with the Dalai Lama as the guest speaker. The Canadian Club is a luncheon/supper club which invites guest speakers to give lectures on issues concerning the country.

Originally, Yourt did not expect to get close to the Dalai Lama due to the massive crowds that surrounded him. "I did not think I would get close enough to shake his hand," he says.

However, Yourt says that when the Dalai Lama saw him in full Scottish costume and holding his bagpipes, he "made a beeline" across the floor to talk to the piper. Yourt also says that his holiness thanked the piper in his opening comments.

"When I was finished, I was on cloud nine," says Yourt.

After the piper played during the ceremony, he attempted to exit the room but found that someone was holding onto him from behind. "I felt a tug on the back of my belt," says Yourt, who initially thought one of the many security guards was behind him. "The security guy said, 'Don't walk too fast, the Dalai Lama has you by the belt.'"

Winchester's John Yourt shakes hands with the Dalai Lama at a Canadian Club luncheon on April 22 during his holiness' recent visit to Ottawa. Yourt serves as the duty piper for the Canadian Club and is also a civilian member of the RCMP Pipe Band.

For Yourt, another highlight of the night occurred when the Dalai Lama blessed the kata which Yourt's daughter, Anne, gave to her father in the hopes that his holiness would bless it. A kata is a white offering Tibetan scarf which represents friendship. In addition, the Dalai Lama gave Yourt his own kata and placed it on his bagpipes to bless his music.

Yourt plans to frame the gift along with his photographs and, eventually, give it to his daughter. "It's a family heirloom now," he says.

Although Yourt has previously played for other prominent figures, such as Alberta Premier Ralph Klein and former premier Michael Harris, he considers this experience to be the most important one. "He's the most famous world-class personality I've played for," says Yourt.

Yourt was particularly impressed with the Dalai Lama's personality. "He has a lot of kindness in his eyes," says Yourt, also noting that his holiness tends to laugh frequently. "He was very humble. Very humble, and sincere."

Yourt began playing the bagpipes in his teens and currently teaches private lessons. He is a major organizer of the annual Pipers and Pipe Bands Society's Winchester Indoor Games each May at the Winchester Public School.

School greening goes on

The front flower beds at Metcalfe Public School are looking good thanks to the volunteer efforts of staff and students. The group met on May 8 and worked hard all morning to put in new edging and to plant more greenery in the beds. By the time they were finished, the beds looked much better and ready for summer blooming. Thanks to Roger Gunthorpe of HMS Tropical Plants Inc. for the welcome advice and the donation of the edging. Council notes from South Dundas

Garbage problems

WILLIAMSBURG — The kinks are still being worked out of the new garbage pick-up routine in South Dundas. A new company took over the contract early in May and there have been numerous complaints about the service, mostly about the lateness of the pick-up.

There was some discussion at council about the delayed pick-up in the rural areas. Mayor Lyle Van Allen said he was sympathetic to rural resident who were worried about dogs or raccoons ripping open their garbage bags as they sit waiting for pick-up. He suggested that some sort of protective container should be allowed to prevent this problem. The garbage contract specifies that no tote boxes or other such containers may be used.

In some cases, small businesses had been getting away with putting out three or four bags of garbage, whereas the new contractor is sticking rigidly to the two-bag limit.

CAO Andy Brown and public works manager Hugh Garlough said that problems were being dealt with as they came in and that residents should feel free to call and voice any complaints. As the new contractor becomes more familiar with the routes, it is expected that most problems will solve themselves.

Grade the road

The issue of Carr Road came up again at the May 18 South Dundas council meeting. The road is currently a township road, but has not been maintained since amalgamation. The only use of the road is a local farmer accessing crop fields. The crop producer has repeatedly asked for some work to be done to improve the road.

Council had previously discussed this issue and decided to do nothing, though councillor Johnny Whitteker was vocal in his support for improving the road. This time around, Mayor Van Allen seemed more inclined to agree with his colleague.

"It's pathetic," said Whitteker about the current condition of the road, adding that as long as it is a township road he believes it should be maintained. Public works manager Hugh Garlough agreed the road is in terrible shape. "Spending $5,000 on it wouldn't make a difference," he noted.

Councillor Barkley was agreeable to seeing the road improved, but warned council that it would have to offer similar treatment to other little-used roads if ratepayers requested it. "Where do you draw the line?" he asked.

In the end, it was decided that the road should be graded to see what sort of improvement that makes.

New website

South Dundas has begun work on a new website. The new site will be database driven and designed for interactivity and e-commerce. The idea is to provide the many township forms and applications, and allow residents to fill them out and submit them online. Residents will also eventually be able to pay fees online.

The site will be designed and constructed by Baytek Systems. The cost is budgeted at $11,425, plus taxes and was included in the township's 2004 budget. The site will be completed and launched in early September.

Internet proposals considered

WILLIAMSBURG — South Dundas Township received four proposals from vendors interested in taking over the township's high-speed Internet system and continuing on with the BRAND project expansion. These four groups are the South Dundas Broadband Users Group, Ripnet Limited, Digital Networks and W3 Connex Inc.

The South Dundas Broadband Users Group's proposal has been coordinated by Corry Martens, Arden Schneckenburger, and Rob Bogle. The groundwork for the user group proposal was laid after the last public meeting on the issue. "A group of us decided that if it was open for anybody to bid on, then maybe we should bid," said Martens. The group consists of rural residents, farmers, and other business people. No details of the proposal can be made public at this time.

In accordance with the Industry Canada BRAND project, council has appointed a five-member committee to review the proposals. Called the South Dundas Broadband Commission, the committee consists of John Ross, John Walsh, Markus Sperling, Larry Empey, and township CAO Andrew Brown. The group met for the first time last night (Tues., May 25) to review and score the proposals. Each vendor will also be interviewed by the commission. The commission will recommend to council which vendor's proposal should be accepted.

At council's May 18 meeting, consultant Barrie Crampton of Lanark Network Associates explained that Industry Canada has given another extension to its deadline. June 1 had previously been set as the date by which the township needed to draw on some of the nearly $1.7 million in BRAND funding that was earmarked for rural wireless Internet expansion in South Dundas. Crampton explained that the deadline was extended because Industry Canada has seen that the township is making progress.

"I'd like to commend Mr. Crampton for moving the process forward and establishing such a good relationship with Industry Canada," said councillor Sandra Bailey.

Councillor Charles Barkley noted that he was worried about not being informed on the vendor selection process. He stressed that he didn't want council to be brought in to "rubber stamp" a decision made by the commission. CAO Andy Brown attempted to reassure him that he would receive all the pertinent information to make an informed decision. "The committee members are aware of council's priorities," he added.

The BRAND project format also requires that a qualified project manager be hired to oversee the implementation of the project. The search for this person will commence right away.

ATV info meeting

WILLIAMSBURG — South Dundas council and the OPP are working to organize a public information meeting on the use of ATVs. There is a great deal of confusion about where the machines can be used. Watch for advertisements in the local papers.

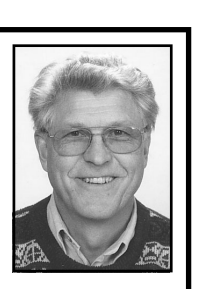

At council's May 18 meeting, sergeant Linda Bootsma reiterated that ATVs are not to be driven on the roads. The roadway is defined as fenceline to fenceline, so the ditch is not an appropriate riding venue either.

There have been some problems within the township with unauthorized people riding on farms. Council and the OPP hope to clear up the rules on where to ride at the information meeting.

Brinston sidewalk

WILLIAMSBURG — SD council had previously asked public works manager Hugh Garlough to report on how much it would cost to pave a sidewalk in Brinston. The area in question is a 210-foot span on the east side of the road, extending from the stop sign to the front of the general store. Garlough estimated the cost of asphalt paving for the sidewalk to be $4,000 to $5,000. Council passed a motion to proceed with the sidewalk paving.

Doors Open next weekend

METCALFE — Doors Open Ottawa, a collaborative effort by the City of Ottawa's Office of Cultural Affairs, Heritage Ottawa, and the Ottawa Regional Society of Architects (ORSA), will showcase 85 buildings during the third annual event, taking place on June 5 and 6.

This is a citywide celebration of Ottawa's architectural heritage — from Carp to Cumberland and as far south as Burritt's Rapids — inviting the public into spaces that are not normally accessible. Admission to the event is free and open to everyone.

Full profiles, including each building's history and the events planned during Doors Open Ottawa, can be found in the event guide that will be published on Thurs., June 3 in the Ottawa Citizen, as well as on the Doors Open Ottawa website at ottawa.ca/doorsopen.

METCALFE SPRING CLEANING

Metcalfe Village Cleanup is going ahead, but it has a new date: Sat., May 29 from 9 am to 12 noon. Allison MacLaurin, Azaira Desaulniers, and Katie Walsh are spearheading a drive to clean up parts of Metcalfe on Eldo Street, Victoria Street, Eighth Line Road, the pathway from Glen Street to Eldo Street, and the creek running through the village.

Anyone wishing to join the young volunteers and myself in the cleanup is invited to meet us at 9 am at the Metcalfe Town Hall. Following the cleanup, we will be providing hotdogs and drinks at 12 noon in Victoria Park. Call 580-2424 extension 30228 to register or for more details.

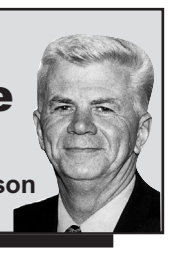

METCALFE SCHOOL CROSSWALK MEETING

Over 60 parents turned out last Wednesday night at the Metcalfe Town Hall. This was the monthly meeting of our Osgoode Ward Advisory Council. The main topic of the meeting was the dangerous situation of the school crossing in front of Metcalfe Public School and St. Catherines Catholic School.

The Eighth Line Road is a very busy road and it is extremely busy at this section. There are three schools near the crosswalk including Osgoode Township High School, as well as the seniors' apartments, the community centre, the curling club, the Lions Den, the fairground, and many residential properties.

At the meeting, we had city traffic staff, constable Mark Scharf from the Ottawa Police, as well as the principals of the two elementary schools. It was a great meeting, which lasted two and a half hours. We have some solutions to the school crossing problem, which we will be bring back to the community at a later date.

O-YA GALA ON MAY 29

There's still time to get your tickets for the O-YA Gala on May 29. The evening will include a gourmet four-course dinner by Tulips and Maple, a martini bar, a live dance band, a production of commedia del'arte by area youth and a wide selection of items for live and silent auction. For tickets call 826-3182.

GREELY GARDENERS

The Greely Gardeners Group will be holding its annual plant sale on Saturday (May 29). They're advertising great deals, with all plants selling for between 50 cents and $5. The sale will be held from 9 am to 1 pm at Andrew Shields Park on Old Prescott Road in Greely. For more information call 821-1847.

Leos, shop students team for bunkhouse fundraiser

WINCHESTER — What's a bunkie? It's a small version of what might be called a bunkhouse on a ranch. The North Dundas Leos have teamed up with the NDDHS Grade 12 construction technology class and Lannin's Tim-br Mart to raffle a 11 by 12-foot bunkie.

Win a bunkie!

Lannin's supplied the materials at a reduced cost and the technology class is constructing the building as an end-of-term project. They have been working on it for about two months. The Leos are in charge of the raffle. The money raised will be used for projects at the high school. An ongoing project for the Leos has been the replacement of school lockers.

The building could be used as a pool shed, a playhouse, or a garden shed. Some of the students working on the building suggested it was a party shack or would make a deluxe ice fishing hut. Construction is nearing completion, with only the siding and a few minor details left to go. The bunkie will be on display at Lannin's for anyone that wants to drop by to have a look.

Tickets are $5 each and can be obtained from the Leo members, Leo advisor Dwayne Holmes, the school office, the parent council, and Lannin's Tim-br Mart. Tickets will be available at the Leos' barbecue in front of Andy's Foodland in Winchester this Saturday (May 29). The draw will be held on June 25 at 11 am at Lannin's.

Golden Years hears story of cheese factory construction

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Golden Years Society held its spring meeting and potluck lunch on May 20. There were 74 members present, three of them being new members, and two guests were present. Rev. Thurland Brown said grace before lunch was served.

Bob Carkner gave an interesting talk about his experiences in India from when he was there helping locals set up a cheese factory.

Anyone interested in the bus trips Golden Years is planning in 2004 can contact Orma Earl at 774-2824 or Muriel Roech at 774-2338. There are still seats available.

The Golden Years group is still welcoming new members. Get in touch with Betty Cooke at 774-3028 or Roberta Giberson at 774-4273.

Animated storyteller

Metcalfe Public School held a mesmerizing storytelling event on April 26. This event for the younger grades, organized by teacher Aleksandra Mumdzijan, is a precursor to public speaking. Students are required to tell the story from their favorite book without using the text. Pictured is Justin Marian, a naturally superb storyteller. You haven't heard the last of him yet! A special thanks to Barb Defalco, a retired Metcalfe teacher who returns year after year to judge the event.

Charges laid

MORRISBURG — Following an investigation by police into a domestic incident that occurred in Morrisburg on May 24, a 28-year-old Morrisburg man will be facing a charge of assault. He will appear in provincial court on July 12.

Car thief caught

GLEN STEWART — An investigation into the theft of a 1991 Pontiac Bonneville in the Glen Stewart area of South Dundas Township on May 23 resulted in the arrest of a 16-year-old South Dundas male.

The youth has been held in custody for the purposes of a show cause hearing in connection with charges of theft under $5,000, breach of probation, and failing to comply with the conditions of an undertaking.

Tools stolen

NORTH DUNDAS — Police began an investigation into a theft of tools from a County Road 3 property in North Dundas Township on May 22.

During the week, an entry into a barn at the property resulted in the theft of a Polyquip power washer, blue in color, with a Honda engine. Also taken were a Husqvarna chainsaw and a Stihl chainsaw. Constable P. Barkley is investigating.

Council notes from North Dundas

Library update

CORNWALL — The SD&G County Library board is still contemplating the fate of the South Mountain branch. At the beginning of May, representatives from the Friends of the South Mountain Library met with the board to make a case for keeping the branch open. "Friends" groups from Maxville, Moose Creek and St. Andrews made similar pleas for their libraries.

Councillors heard the regular report of the library board at the May 17 meeting of United Counties council. A report is still in the process of being assembled following the first round of presentations from the Friends groups.

Good news from the library board is that the launch of its new computer system was successful. All 19 branches held open houses on May 15 to showcase their more efficient computer facilities.

North Dundas Mayor Alvin Runnalls said he managed to visit four branches during the launch. Runnalls is also a member of the library board. He said the only problems with the new system are at the South Mountain and Morewood branches, where the high-speed Internet connections were poor. He said he hopes the improved Internet service at branches will boost use of the facilities.

Runnalls also mentioned that when he was in Ottawa last week meeting with eastern Ontario MPPs from the region, he had the chance to talk to Minister of Culture Madeleine Meilleur. He invited her to visit North Dundas for a library tour.

The library board is making a deliberate effort to increase its marketing efforts, in recognition of the volunteer work being done by the Friends groups. A follow-up meeting with all the Friends groups is being planned to allow these volunteers to network, share ideas, and further define how they can work with the library board.

Four library branches were narrowly saved from closure on April 1 when the library board decided to postpone its decision until the end of the year to provide additional time for review. It will be decided in the fall whether or not the branches will close at the end of December.

Clean rivers

Mayor Alvin Runnalls hopes that some of the work being done by the St. Lawrence River Institute could be of assistance in protecting the South Nation River. Last week he was in Cornwall taking part in the 11th annual international conference on the St. Lawrence River ecosystem.

Runnalls took part in the two-day event as part of his role as a board member of the St. Lawrence River Institute. "It was a good conference, although many of the presentations were highly technical," he said, describing the research that was presented.

The issue that most attracted his attention was pesticide runoff into the river. He emphasized that agriculture has come a long way in the past few years in reducing the amount of pesticide used in farming. Runnalls added that much of the research on runoff into the St. Lawrence River would also be applicable to the watershed in North Dundas. "Maybe at some point, there will be some benefits spill over to South Nation," he said.

The St. Lawrence River Institute of Environmental Sciences, located in Cornwall, was established in 1994 as a community partnership involving government, education, the private sector and the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne. Its mandate is environmental research and education with a focus on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River ecosystems.

Tax break

A tidbit of good news for North Dundas homeowners is that the township's tax rate will be an additional 0.7 per cent lower than anticipated. It was reported to counties council last week that a shift in ratios between tax classes will benefit all six townships in the United Counties with this modest reduction. The benefit to residential ratepayers is balanced by an increase to the companies owning pipelines passing through SD&G.

When North Dundas passed its budget at the end of April, the tax rate was cut by two per cent. This latest news adds up to a 2.7 per cent cut. Runnalls commented that, seeing how the United Counties receives almost 40 per cent of the municipal tax bill, it's nice to see money flowing back to the townships.

No need to panic over poor school rankings, says trustee Pietersma

CHESTERVILLE — Last week the Fraser Institute, a Vancouver-based think tank with a conservative bent, issued its ranking of Ontario elementary schools, which were published in the Ottawa Citizen. The institute uses standardized test scores compiled by the Ontario Education Quality and Accountability Office (EQAO) to produce its report. Local schools, for the most part, did not achieve stellar results.

Many educators doubt the usefulness of this sort of comparison. "Inside the board, we don't pay any attention to the rankings at all," said Upper Canada School Board trustee Greg Pietersma. "Personally, I haven't even looked at the results," he claimed.

To achieve the rankings, the schools are given a score out of 10, based on a combination of factors including Grade 3 and 6 standardized testing results, the gender gap in reading and math scores, and the percentage of students who failed to meet the provincial standard on the exams.

Most local schools got results of between three and six out of 10. The highest scoring local school was Morewood Public School with a score of 8.5. A few of the other local scores were Winchester Public School at 4.7, Inkerman at 3.4, Nationview at 5, and Elma at 6.5.

Pietersma pointed out that the EQAO testing was not designed for this sort of comparison. In fact, the EQAO does not willingly provide its test results to the Fraser Institute, forcing the organization to use the Access to Information Act.

"The EQAO is a useful tool to monitor the delivery of curriculum," said Pietersma. He also pointed out that schools which have low test results are examined to determine why, and given extra assistance if needed. But as far as ranking one school against another, there are too many factors that the EQAO test results can't demonstrate.

The EQAO tests offer a snapshot into a particular week at a school. "What if the school has recently experienced a tragedy? How would that affect the test results?" asked Pietersma. The test also can't take into consideration social factors which might affect scores, such as family income or English as a second language.

For parents to really get a sense of how their children's school is performing, Pietersma recommends they get the school's overall marks over several years. Parents can contact a school's principal or the school board to obtain this information. This longer-term look is also the best way to compare two schools.

Feeling snippy about weeds?

The warm wet weather has brought our dreams of spring into reality. Many of us have planted our gardens and shelled out more than we care to admit at the local nurseries. Unfortunately this bounty of growth isn't limited to the flowers and the vegetables.

The rain that turns lawns to a deep luscious green also makes them rise like a well-yeasted bread, necessitating frequent trips with the lawn mower. Weeds often grow faster than the seeds you've sown in your garden and flower beds, making weeding a chore not to be shirked. And if, like myself, you sometimes have trouble distinguishing the desirable from the undesirable, straight garden rows and plant markers or stakes in the flower bed can be a valuable tool.

After purchasing a house a couple of years ago, I noticed that leafy green plants appeared in the flower beds in the spring. They were unfamiliar to me, but there were a lot of them and I assumed them to be some sort of perennial. They grew and grew, reaching about five feet in height. I couldn't wait to see what sort of blooms they had, because the foliage was lush and impressive. The blossoms turned out to be tiny and unspectacular and I pulled all the plants out shortly after the first one flowered. It was definitely a weed in my book.

The distinction between flower and weed is really up to the gardener and can depend on location. An aunt visiting from Alberta reports that shasta daisies are frowned upon in her neck of the woods, because they cross-pollinate with ox-eye daisies, which are considered a noxious weed there. You can purchase milkweed and goldenrod seed for your butterfly garden, but many green thumbs around here would tell you these are weeds for sure. For the most part, it's up to you.

I have to confess that I don't really mind dandelions that much. Oh, it's not like I encourage them, but I admire their cheery blooms and grow-anywhere stubbornness. Besides, little kids love to pick them. They can be used for eating and herbal remedies, which is why they were imported to North America in the first place.

I've given up the dream of a perfect weed-free lawn. I don't want to use chemicals to achieve what I feel is basically a false ideal anyway. And you know what? Without the pressure of dandelion-killing, I enjoy my lawn much more. I'm content to have my front yard full of creeping Charlie that would send a lawn purist into conniptions. It needs to be mowed far less than grass, which is a plus in my mind.

There's a far worse foe to fight at my house. I reserve my full weed-hating wrath for a plant that I never even knew existed until I moved to the Winchester area. Wild parsnip is an invasive weed that is dangerous beyond its ruin of a perfect bocci ball or croquet pitch. The combination of the plant's juice with sunlight can cause photodermatitis, which manifests as blisters and red sunburn-like areas on the skin. A bad incident can leave scarring that can remain for years. The symptoms are often confused with poison ivy.

I found this out the hard way, by getting the blisters on my legs after kneeling on a freshly cut lawn beside a flower bed. Wild parsnip grows in the ditches beside the roads, and along creeks in this area. Many people who I've talked to about it know nothing about the injuries it can cause.

It has become worthy of my attention. It encroaches on my lawn from the ditch beside my property. I despise it more than thistles, more than burdock. We all pick our battles, I guess. Consider yourself lucky if you only have dandelions.

SD&G a Conservative priority

Stephen Harper chose eastern Ontario earlier this week to launch his campaign to become prime minister. Within hours of the election call last Sunday afternoon, 400 excited supporters packed the Brockville Legion to hear the Conservative Party leader's first stump speech in the five-week campaign.

On Monday morning he made a whistle-stop in Smiths Falls, and then it was on to a full-fledged rally at the Ramada in Cornwall. Harper began Election 2004 by visiting the three ridings in Ontario that he's probably most confident he can win. Winning seats in Ontario is the Conservative Party's first priority.

Winchester, Canada
by Chris Zabel

Harper attracted a huge crowd of more than 800 to the Ramada. Describing the federal Liberal Party in terms of a "culture of corruption," he had to suppress cheers and applause from the audience.

The lines that were really killing the crowd centred on the $100 million sponsorship scandal within the Liberal government. Harper compared evidence of money being lost against the concept that Liberal values are Canadian values. His theme is Demand Better.

"Waste, mismanagement and corruption are not Canadian values," said Harper. He also recommended new slogans that the federal Liberals could put on shirts, such as "Tax me, I'm Canadian" and "Waste my money, I'm Canadian."

Harper has some comedy in his speech, in these early days of the campaign, although that's not what's getting party members excited. Harper brings a huge amount of energy to a rally.

The three Stephen Harper buses were supposed to arrive at the Ramada in Cornwall at 12 noon. For the following 40 minutes, riding organizers were hard-pressed to keep the "greeting committee" under control. The front desk staff at the Ramada were legitimately complaining that there was far too much cheering going on for them to be able to receive guests.

"Can we keep the Thunder Sticks quiet until the leader arrives. They have to answer the phones," said Judy Bobka at 12:30 after Harper's bus had rolled through the parking lot. Bobka was completely in her element in her role as outreach co-ordinator for the day, controlling a crowd of about 100 who were packed into the Ramada lobby.

Thunder Sticks are the very latest innovation in campaign rally items. They're foil-wrapped wiener-shaped balloons that make a hell of a racket when you bang them together. These ones read Stephen Harper 2004. There were 25 members of the local Conservative youth wing in the front lobby of the hotel who kept the thunder rolling for a solid 10 minutes after Harper arrived in the building.

When Harper and his wife Laureen eventually arrived in the lobby, everyone went insane and his arrival on the main floor of the rally was an adrenaline-pumping affair. The jam-packed audience of party stalwarts loved every minute of Harper's speech. SD&G candidate Guy Lauzon was also at the heart of the rally, standing on the stage beside fellow Conservative candidates Alain Lalonde and Gord Brown, and MPP John Baird.

Harper thrilled his crowds in eastern Ontario, but the rally in Cornwall was special because he took an extra half-hour to meet with the grassroots. Following the speeches, there was a Canadian beef barbecue being served in the meeting room next door. Stephen and Laureen met everyone in the room. The media had the chance to witness that Harper likes his burger without ketchup. And Lauzon had the opportunity to introduce the leader to a large number of the volunteers who laid the groundwork for Harper's visit.

This may not be the last Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry sees of the Conservative Party leader. During his visit, he mentioned a kinship with the riding of Kingston and the Islands. Harper gave special mention to "the riding of John A. Macdonald," as well as to the Kingston Penitentiary. He suggested that the Kingston facility could soon be home to a number of Liberals. Kingston was a theme in Harper's speeches, although his kick-off tour didn't reach that far west. Chances are he'll be back.

A field day was to be held in Morewood at the beginning of June by the baseball team. Athletic contests were to be held between the students of Morewood, Finch, and Avonmore high schools. This was to be followed by a league baseball game between Morewood and Inkerman. Tea was to be served throughout the afternoon and a concert was to take place at night.

1944

The Mulloy schoolhouse at Mountain, S. S. No. 10, was completely destroyed by fire. The blaze began in the cloakroom, and while much of the classroom's contents were removed to safety, the structure itself was ruined. The school had been erected in 1870 and there was already talk of rebuilding. At the time of the fire, the school had 22 pupils and the teacher was Miss Irene Brown. The loss of the school was estimated at $5,000, and $3,500 in insurance had been carried.

1954

The Winchester High School Cadet Corps, No. 181 had come through its annual inspection day with flying colors. The group's showmanship was enhanced by new uniforms for the young men, and the smart outfits for the young women. The day's events included drills, rifle calisthenics, band numbers, and displays of first aid, knots, and telephone communications. The SD&G Shield, presented every year to the most proficient cadet on parade, was awarded to George Pollack, a Grade 10 student. Similarly, Carol Ault was awarded the W.A. Servage Silver Plate Award as top female cadet.

A popular Winchester business had changed hands. Flora's Lunch and Bowling Alley (where Sutton's Restaurant is located today) was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Symonds of Moose Creek. The business was to continue as a restaurant and bowling alley, with the new owners planning some remodelling and the installation of air conditioning. Flora's was originally established in 1896 as a grocery store.

Vernon's Circle V Flying Club had recently toured the Air Canada maintenance base at Dorval. The group was preparing for an open house at its airfield in Vernon in June. The open house was to include a Saturday night dance in the hangar, a Sunday breakfast at the airfield, and Sunday afternoon flying demonstrations and visiting planes.

Arson was suspected in a pair of barn fires that burned simulaneously south of Winchester. Firefighters from the Winchester and Chesterville departments battled the blazes, which were located on the farms of Robert Holmes and Ersol Holmes. The barn of Robert Holmes contained a tractor, snowmobiles, tools and other machiney. The barn of Ersol Holmes contained hay and grain. Other recent area fires were also being profiled to see if there was an arson pattern.

The OPP was preparing for the possibility of a neo-Nazi rally on a piece of property near Metcalfe. The same open field had served as the base for a gathering of right-wing extremist groups in 1990. That rally attracted 160 skinheads from Canada and the U.S. and the group erected a plastic sheeting barricade and a fence to keep prying eyes out. While Metcalfe had been tagged as the possible site for the new rally, police confirmed that the groups were well known for their deception and the true location would likely not be known until shortly before the event.

Letters To The Editor

Liberals tend to flock together

The Editor:
In good faith, Ontarians accepted Liberal leader Dalton McGuinty's promises and claims that he could manage the province. To date, he has broken almost every commitment he made to us, claiming he did not know the status of the economy.

After the negative response to his budget, his response was to challenge Ontarians to work with him. Which McGuinty? The election promisor, or the promise breaker?

Prime Minister Paul Martin has stated he supports McGuinty's budget. This shows deceit, and a lack of respect for the voters who elected this government.

It was Martin's decisions as federal minister of finance that stripped money from Ontario's health care system.

The Harris/Eves governments increased health care spending by 50 per cent over their 10 years in office! Not enough to make up for what Paul Martin removed!

Martin promised the details of the Adscam before an election. Promise broken! He says he did not know anything about these dealings. He should have known, just as McGuinty should have known what was going on in Ontario!

My grandmother used to say "birds of a feather." She never completed the statement because it was not necessary!

Do we really want these birds in power in both Ottawa and Ontario? Every vote in every riding will be critical. Martin believes that Conservative Party leader Stephen Harper will not live up to his promises. Do you believe that Martin will?

"Birds of a Feather!"

Maple Ridge staff commended

The Editor:
I don't think people realize just what a super staff there is at Maple Ridge who work diligently with the kids.

Last night (May 12), I attended the spring concert at Maple Ridge Senior Public School where the band performed a variety of numbers. A couple students performed solos, followed by a very inspirational play entitled GEL performed by a group of students. These kids have three very thoughtful and devoted teachers who should receive thanks.

First, Colleen Howard who is in charge of music. Colleen works with these kids providing them the opportunity to learn to read music and play instruments. The kids compete in Cornwall annually at the Kinsmen Music Festival and every year they come home with medals. I watch her with amazement. The commitment and extra time spent is endless. It was so obvious that our kids were very proud to be showing off their talents, they were just beaming last night. My daughter is part of the school band and from the view of a parent who sits in the audience to hear these kids play, well my heart was bursting with pride, while a tear was in my eye. Without the dedication of Mrs. Howard, she wouldn't be in the band or playing an instrument. Colleen has taught it all and I give her an A+.

Then, we move on to Suzanne McMenomy and Daphne Wyermars who both work equally hard with the kids. The play written by Suzanne and Daphne and was based on the Grease theme. (Remember way back; grease went into the hair. Well, in today's world its GEL). The story was about a boy who was dealing with the peer pressure issue and who didn't work to his full capacity and had put himself at risk. It was so very obvious from watching the play, the kids had just a wonderful time performing, while at the same time learning yet another lesson about life. The lesson was about working hard to get where you want to be; it isn't just handed to us. These two worked with the kids during breaks and after school for weeks in order to bring it to reality.

I work in the city, and like a lot of other parents, don't very often get to attend the daytime performances that take place, so it was just great to be able to go to a 7 pm performance which, without the consideration of these three teachers who willingly gave up their personal time to show off our kids, wouldn't have been feasible either. So thank you ladies; you also deserve medals.

'Thumbs up' to Winchester Flooring

The Editor:
I would like to thank Winchester Flooring, a new business in your community, for all its support and financial help over the last 11 months while my family endured great hardship due to loss of income due to stress and job injury.

I appreciate all the help, even though no one else thought we needed or were eligible for assistance. When my insurance through work and government denied my claim, local assistance was denied. Mr. and Mrs. Mainville and family helped us with groceries and a loan to help us stay afloat.

Thanks again to Winchester Flooring. You earned the Good Samaritan award along with our greatest respect, and I wish much success in your new business.

Hallville RA raises over $300

by Amanda Smith-Millar

HALLVILLE — A car wash which took place last Saturday has raised funds towards the new recreation facility plan in the Hallville area.

The Hallville Recreation Association (HRA) raised $255 through their car wash at the Hallville rink, plus $51 from the barbecue at the wash.

"What we're trying to do is develop 11 acres of property to put in a soccer field and baseball diamond," explains Mary Cook, treasurer of the HRA.

The decision to install the diamond and soccer field came from a survey done in the local area last year. "We made our decision based on the community's wishes," says Cook.

The cost of installing the facilities is especially high because the area must be tile-drained before construction begins. According to secretary Robyn Beaudry, it will cost approximately $10,000 to have the 11 acres tile-drained. To date, the HRA has raised approximately $5,000 towards the project.

After the facilities are built, the HRA plans to rent them out to groups in the way the South Mountain fairgrounds are rented. This will raise significant funds for the HRA and make Hallville a hub of activity.

"I think we're kind of accessible," says Cook, saying that Hallville is close to Kemptville, Winchester, places that may have groups which could rent Hallville's facilities.

Although the HRA has four executive positions, only two -– the treasurer and secretary -– are filled. The lack of volunteer assistance makes fundraising for the community project challenging. In addition, the HRA deals with other Hallville events, such as the winter carnival.

Cook says that the HRA used to have "quite a large volunteer base" but vandalism discouraged the group. Many volunteers, as Cook puts it, "just got burnt out."

Cook and Beaudry were preparing for their meeting on Tues., May 25. They hoped to elect a new president and vice-president and recruit a new volunteer base. To prepare, the team distributed 250 flyers in the Hallville area and spread news of the meeting by word-of-mouth. For more information, call Mary Cook at 989-2212.

Students relay to fight cancer

NDDHS Notes
by John Irven

MAPLE RIDGE — Everyone that attended the Relay for Life at Seaway High School had a blast. It was a lot of fun staying up all night with friends and family. There was terrific live entertainment and it felt really good helping the cancer research cause. A total of $40,000 was raised in this well-planned event.

Meagan Kittle, minister of athletics at NDDHS, is organizing the school's Hoops for Heart fundraiser that will take place on Thurs., May 27. Students participate by collecting pledges from family and friends. They can either play three-on-three basketball or they can walk, run, or in-line skate around the school for the afternoon. This fundraiser gets students active while they are raising money for the Heart and Stroke Foundation. North Dundas students are making a valuable contribution.

This Friday is Spring Carnival! There will be rides, games and other activities in which students can participate. This day is much anticipated by everyone. There will be Air Bounce rides, a Battle of the Bands, and a variety of entertainment in the event square. Students will even be able to throw whipped cream at their teachers. The Peer Helpers are holding a charity barbecue and the food preparation class will be providing ice cream treats from the Devil's Dairy Den. There will also be a water area for those students that need cooling down on a hot day. After this exciting day, Ambush will perform at night. This will be a big night and tonnes of fun is guaranteed.

The student council for the next school year has been elected and it looks like a good group. Voting took place last Friday, revealing who the current students believe will do a great job next year in each of the eight positions. It is really amazing how quickly the year has flown by.

Shepherd Talk

by Rev. Anita Goulet

Don't take God for granted

As I write this, I am enjoying a quiet day at home, in the middle of the spring season. This is a time of year when I enjoy taking walks and observing nature's rebirth, listening to all the sounds of nature: things I tend to take for granted the rest of the year.

Nature speaks of God's glory and the heavens declare it. I can't say the same of all human beings. Many fail to speak of God's glory, some ignoring Him as creator of all things (John 1:3). Yet God, in all His goodness, allows His sun to rise on the good and evil, and sends His rain for the righteous and the unrighteous.

Like myself, you may have asked yourself, "What does such a loving and caring God expect in return?" Revelations 14:7 gives one of the answers: "Fear God and give Him glory, for the hour of His judgment has come; and worship Him who make the heaven and the earth and the sea and the springs of waters."

Safe to say that we need to render to God the glory due to His name. As we are reminded of nature's rebirth, we should also be reminded of our need for spiritual rebirth. Being born again, Jesus lets us know, is crucial to our seeing the Kingdom of God, and our being born of water and of the spirit to our entering the Kingdom of God (John 3:3,5).

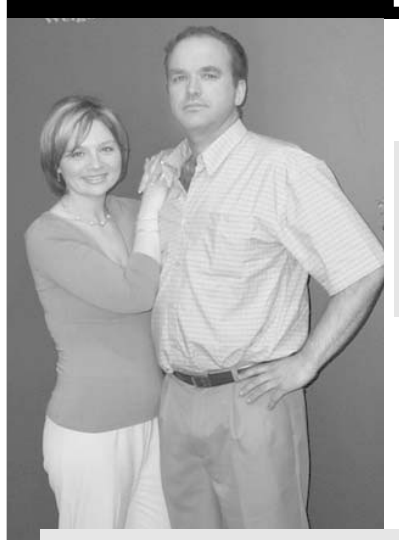

This is not something that should be taken lightly if we wish to bask in God's glorious presence for all eternity. Let us not neglect worshipping God in spirit and in truth, for God seeks such to worship Him.

As the summer holiday season approaches, let us be careful that we do not forget God or any of His blessings.

May God bless you with a safe and pleasant summer filled with His richest blessings.

Elinor Jordan takes WDMH Auxiliary reins at annual meeting

by Marj Phillips

WINCHESTER — In the conference room at Winchester District Memorial Hospital, 21 people gathered to attend the monthly and annual general meeting (AGM) of the WDMH Auxiliary on May 13.

The highlights of the monthly meeting included the following:

Jim McVey presented the HELPP Lottery report. His committee put in 90 hours in April and are selling tickets most weekdays. He has done a great job in adding momentum to this venture and it is beginning to show a nice profit. He needs a few more people to help out. Anyone interested in helping should get in touch with him or leave your name at the Gift Shop.

Correspondence items reminded us of the President's Luncheon which we are hosting in Chesterville on May 20. Joan Garrow will speak on behalf of the hospital. There is a student award available to a worthy high school student entering a health-related field of study. The deadline for the photo contest for the HAAO is June 30.

New executive

Joan Farlinger (left), past president and treasurer; Elinor Jordan, president; Rose Campbell, twice past president; Dawn Oulette, vice-president and secretary; and Marj Phillips, hospital foundation and board representative.

Last, but not least, was confirmation that Joan Farlinger had been accepted as a Life Membership Award candidate.

The hospital spokespeople Joan Garrow and Lynne Wilson brought us up to date with the ongoing capital planning. A detailed use of the "contact us" link on the hospital's website (www.wdmh.on.ca) makes it possible to send e-mails to patients. A new role of the volunteers will be to deliver them to the patient. The Gala Night at the arena is on May 29. The cost is $65, out of which $25 may be tax deductible. This is a fun-filled fundraiser evening.

To sum up the committee reports which were given, it might be noted that a total of almost 700 hours was given during the month of April. A very special thanks to Ileen Robinson for her many years of reliable service in caring for the auxiliary smocks.

After a short coffee break the AGM was under way. This meeting is traditionally an opportunity to take stock, give thanks to those who make everything possibile, close one year and prepare for the next. This was all accomplished!

The auxiliary thrives due to its dedicated members. All units and committees gave a report. Dorothy Houze, chair of special events, did a successful job in organizing the bazaar in October and the dessert and card party in April. The Gift Shop continues to provide a service to patients and is a wonderful little shop to purchase many interesting items. The Sunshine Circle, under Ethlewyn Carkner's care and direction, provides our long-term patients with many hours of music, fun and stimulation. Thanks to the monthly help of Doris Cross, Choral Group, the Savony, their pets — Dover, Tattle and Lark — and Sharon Vanderveen and Judy Rombough, as well as others who make this possible.

Hilda Vandekemp, volunteer coordinator, reported a total of 3,747 hours. She also collected 248,819 pennies ($2,488.19) this year through her Pennies for Oma boxes.

Dorothy Houze, with the help of Rita and Archie, works contiuously at the In Memoriam Fund. A special word of thanks to Joan Farlinger for agreeing to take on the role of treasurer.

The final item was the introduction of the new slate of officers for 2004-2006. Rose Campbell, twice past president and dedicated auxiliarian, was disappointed she didn't have a gavel but rose to the occasion to swear in the new slate of officers. They are past president and treasurer Joan Farlinger, president Elinor Jordan, vice president and secretary Dawn Oulette, foundation and board representative Marj Phillips.

The following meetings will take place on June 10: 10:30 executive board, 11:00 purchasing, 11:30 bazaar, 1:30 auxiliary. All are welcome.

WI plans summer get-away

by Cathy Groves

CHESTERVILLE — Over 50 members of the Dundas Women's Institute and eight guests attended a special meeting on May 4 held in Chesterville at the Trinity United Church Hall. This was the 99th annual meeting of the Dundas District Women's Institute.

After morning muffins and coffee, thhe meeting began with the normal opening Ode and Mary Stewart Collect, and with a rollcall. Then provincial advisory council member Susan Robertson was introduced.

Robertson the group that many resolutions had been sent to the government, mostly concerning the BSE beef crisis which is presently ongoing. She made a speech and mentioned that the financial auditors must change their names to "financial examiners." She also mentioned that a new category called the WI Alumni had been made for members over 75 years of age with 20 years membership. These members would have a decreased fee.

A memorial service for members who has passed away before March 31 was held and Mary McMillan was honored with a white rose. Since Matilda's WI is disbanding, they also mentioned member Mary Groniger, with a talk about her contributions to the group.

We all enjoyed a wonderful lunch with many choices of homemade items, and afterwards enjoyed some musical items played by Carruthers and Friends. The group enjoyed a presentation by OPP senior constable Al Lummiss who spoke about the need in his organization for safe, stuffed bears for children in need after traumatic incidents. Also, small quilts for older people would be appreciated and all may be dropped off at the local OPP office. A basket of handmade teddies was then given to him.

We then enjoyed an explanation of this year's summer trip which will take place in the Golden Horseshoe, which is the area from Toronto to Niagara Falls. The trip will take place July 21 to 23. It will include stays at the Stoney Inn in Hamilton, the Dutch Mill Gardens tour, shopping at the Penn Centre, attending a "Thom Foolery Show," and then at the end, a stop at the Waterloo Market. The all-inclusive trip will cost only $299, and a deposit of $50 by June 1 will save you a spot.

The Tweedsmuir History book was discussed and it was agreed that a new binder would be purchased to hold all the sheets so that its preservation will be assured.

Florence Hoople presented the treasurer's report for the district and said copies would be sent to all branches next week. The Rose program will be sending out invitations to four members at each branch to attend training sessions coming to our area soon. We also heard that the War Stories Book will be ready to release this fall prior to Nov. 11.

We received a copy of the FWIO April board meeting highlights, which included congratulations to the Penage Road, WI which won the membership incentive award by having 10 new members enrolled. We all will be getting five membership recruitment packages.

During the day, draws were made for the wonderful flower centerpieces on each table. These were personally made by new member Sheila Munroe. We also heard many new mottos with a touch of humor that were very much appreciated. One was, "Learn to laugh at yourself and you'll have a lifetime of happiness."

Players present profits

The Dundas County Players distribute money raised during every theatre season to local charities. The Dundas County Easter Seal Society was selected as one of the recipients for the profits from last season and Dundas County Easter Seal treasurer Gary Annable gratefully accepted a cheque for $350 from interim DCP president Tammy Walkden on May 13. Annable pointed out that all money raised in Dundas County stays within the county to assist the more than 20 local families that require Easter Seal support. Press Photo — James

Glendon & Muriel Froats 50th Wedding Anniversary

On June 12, 2004, Glen and Muriel Froats will celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary. The focus of their life has always been their family and friends. The greatest gift we could give them is to surround them with everyone who has been a part of the last 50 years.

We therefore invite you and yours to an Open House and Family Reunion to help us celebrate. Because we don't want to miss anyone we will count on you to get the word out to those who might want to attend. From newborn to most distinguished – we truly want to make this a family affair.

The celebration will take place Saturday, June 12, from 1 to 5 pm at the Vernon Community Centre, 7950 Lawrence Street, Vernon, Ontario, 613-821-3622.

Glen and Muriel do not know about this event and we hope to keep it a surprise.

If you have any questions, please call Kerry in Greely at 613-821-0451 or Kim in Toronto at 905-452-1071.

No gifts please. Instead we would ask that you make a donation to the charity of your choice.

South Mountain horse pull attracts top teams

by Amanda Smith-Millar

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Despite the sometimes overcast sky, Saturday on the May long weekend was a perfect time to have the Lanson Hyndman Memorial Horse Pull competition. The event, which was started approximately 30 years ago, was renamed this year in honor of the late Lanson Hyndman, a great supporter of the horse pull.

Two horses in the light division (3,300 pounds or less) pull blocks at the Lanson Hyndman Memorial Horse Pull on Sat., May 22. Although the event has been running for over 30 years, it was recently renamed for the late Lanson Hyndman, a long-time supporter of the event and a friend of many. Photo — Smith-Millar

At the event, teams of two horses are registered in either the light class (3,300 pounds and under) or the heavy class (over 3,300 pounds). The teams compete by dragging weight behind them — large concrete blocks which are stacked on top of each other. At the end of each round, the weight is increased by adding more blocks.

"They pull the weight 15 feet and it's a process of elimination," explains Judy Storing, an organizer from the Eastern Ontario Draft Horse Pulling Association. In order to win the horse pull, a team must pull the most amount of weight the farthest.

"It's at the judge's discretion to decide how much weight he wants to put on," says Murray Hyndman, a long-time organizer.

Horses that participate in pulls are specifically trained for the event. Arlene Preston, event announcer and organizer, says that horses are exercised two to 12 hours on specific days in order to build the necessary muscles.

Preston was pleasantly surprised at the quality of horses at the competition. "There were five teams on the last load. There's usually only two," she says. "It was an excellent horse draw. It was one of the best you will ever see."

The event saw 11 light teams and 23 heavy teams registered. Competitors and their horses came from as far away as New Hampshire and eastern Quebec, as well as the entire Ottawa Valley and western Ontario.

"This one was exceptionally well-attended," says Preston, partly attributing the high numbers to the passing away of Lanson Hyndman. "He was very well-known and respected. He was very much a people's man," says Preston, who also delivered an opening speech about Hyndman.

RESULTS

In the light division, Kenny Greer from Mountain came in first with his team pulling a weight 10,400 pounds a distance of two feet, eight inches. He also won for having the best-dressed team.

Steve Saunders from Cameron earned second place with his team pulling 10,400 pounds a distance of two feet, one inch, making a mere seven inches the deciding factor between first and second place. Keith Hobden of Lindsay earned third place with his team pulling 9,900 pounds a distance of 10 feet, two inches.

In the heavy division, the Chauvette brothers from Princeville, Quebec took home top honors when their team pulled 13,000 pounds a distance of six feet, two and one-half inches. In second place was Michael Chauvette of Richelieu, Quebec. His team was also named the best-dressed.

The third-place winner of the heavy division was David Binns of Owen Sound. His team pulled a total of five feet, six and one-half inches.

Cash croppers spend money like water

by Roy Hofhuis

WINCHESTER — The 4-H Young Cash Croppers Fields Crops Club spent the night of May 12 with the Dundas Junior Farmers at Weagant Farm Supplies. The 4-H members were guests at the mock auction held by the Junior Farmers. We bid on items like new and used tractors, skid steer loaders, farm machinery and office materials such as pens and hole punches.

Most items were overbid. Overbidding ranged from 50 per cent to 3,000 per cent. Prizes were given out to the first, second, and third-place winners who overbid the least, and to the person who overbid the most.

The club thanks Bob Weagant, the guest speaker for the meeting. He talked to us about his business. We also thank Hugh Fawcett our auctioneer, and the Junior Farmers for letting us take part in the auction.

The club had a lot of fun at the meeting and looks forward to the next meeting at Cliff Metcalfe's test plots on June 2.

Club is walking on the wild side

by Jessica Vanderlaan

ELMA — The first meeting of the new 4-H outdoor club called A Walk On The Wild Side was held on April 3. The meeting was organized by leader Elizabeth Vingerhoeds and youth leader Emily Vingerhoeds.

At this meeting there were seven members present: Anna Moat, Crystal Lillico, Christina Lillico, Josh Vanderlaan, Josie Vanderlaan, Jessica Vanderlaan, and Kaitlyn Vankoppen, plus the two leaders Emily and Elizabeth Vingerhoeds.

The meeting started off with the 4-H pledge and business. Also we received a booklet made for each member listing everything we will be doing in this club. Then officers were elected. Crystal Lillico was elected president, Josh Vanderlaan vice-president, Kaitlyn Vankoppen secretary, and Jessica Vanderlaan and Christina Lillico as press reporters.

Then we went on a hike and learned about igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks. We also learned about trees, animal tracks, and things that grow on rocks or trees such as moss, algae, and fungi.

Then the group went to Gord Moat's house and he showed us how to take syrup from the trees, then how to get it ready for eating. For a snack we had wonderful pancakes made by Gord's wife along with maple syrup and juice.

We had a great day and would like to give a huge thank you to the Moat family for the great maple syrup demonstration and delicious pancakes.

Exotics sold at auction

by Amanda Smith-Millar

SPENCERVILLE – The fairgrounds were filled with the grunts, neighs, squeaks, and stompings of hundreds of animals at Hunter and Theresa McCaig's second annual exotic animal auction on Sat., May 23.

The animals bought and sold at the auction included baby yak, wallabe, snakes, miniature horses, lemurs, and a wide variety of other creatures. Two hundred and eighty-four head of hoofstock were sold. "We had everything from angora goats to zebras," says Hunter, who was pleased with the large turnout of animals.

Prior to the event's start, owners consign their exotic animals to the auction. After the animal is purchased, Hunter and Theresa take a percentage of the purchase price. The percentage varies from animal to animal.

At Saturday's auction, the McCaigs had more animals registered to be sold than the previous year. Eighteen to 20 staff members helped the event to run smoothly.

"It was a huge process, bigger than last year," says Theresa.

Hunter McCaig is an auctioneer by trade and owns Rideau Auctions Incorporated, located in Winchester at the corner of Highway 43 and County Road 31. Hunter does at least one car auction per week and does the exotic animal sale as a hobby once per year.

"We go to a lot of these (exotic animal) auctions all over the country," says Theresa. "With Hunter being an auctioneer, he wanted one day to have his own."

At the auction, no carnivores are allowed. "Carnivores are so hard to handle and I don't want anyone to get hurt," says Hunter, adding that the rules, regulations and transportation restrictions for carnivores makes auctioning them a cumbersome process.

The Spencerville fairgrounds has been the location of the auction for the past two years and will most likely be the host site for the 2005 event. For more information, call Hunter or Theresa at 774-7000.

Sample Celtic flavor at market opening

CHESTERVILLE — The Chesterville Farmers' Market will open its doors on Saturday (May 29) at 8 am for its second season. The market, located in the Exhibition Hall at the Chesterville Fairground, will be open from 8 am to 12 noon every Saturday morning until Oct. 16.

Special guests on opening day will be Celtic Circle, an Ottawa-based group which will offer its musical talents performing reels and jigs.

This year's market will see several new vendors displaying their goods. Additions to the market will include maple syrup, stained glass, and custom cake decorating, as well as a light breakfast menu. These new items will be in addition to the delicious baked goods, jams, jellies and fresh produce available last year.

The market is always looking for new vendors and anyone interested should contact Shaun Funk at 448-4308. Market space is available at $250 per season or $15 for one day.

New this year, is the inclusion of a performing arts program in which local talent will entertain visitors to the market. As well, a community table will be available to local organizations, free of charge, so that they can promote their club/activity or conduct fundraising. For further information on the performing arts program or the community table contact Philip Labossiere at 989-2229.

Lewis will lead Devils into East Regional meet

Regional reps

North Dundas District High School is sending six athletes to the 2004 East Regional Track and Field Meet in Belleville this week. Travis Froats (left), Chad Kennedy, Bailey Lewis, Tyler Fawcett and Brian Cummings will be joined by Phil Jutman (missing) in representing SD&G and EOSSAA in competition against the top qualifiers from schools located east of Toronto.

Press Photo — Van Bridger

MAPLE RIDGE — Senior sprinter Bailey Lewis extended her winning string with a triple gold-medal performance at the 2004 edition of the EOSSAA track and Field Meet.

Lewis, who earned top senior athlete honors at the 2004 SD&G championships, won all three of her events and shattered a 29-year-old record in the process as she and five other members of the North Dundas District High School Devils track team qualified for the 2004 East Regional showdown in Belleville tomorrow (May 27).

Even a false start in Wednesday's (May 19) 400 metres couldn't stop Lewis from setting a new standard in the event. The Inkerman runner recovered for the second gun and blazed to victory in a time of 56.96 seconds. Janet Dick of Cornwall established the old EOSSAA record of 57.3 in 1975.

The Grade 12 student won the 400-metre hurdles on Tuesday (May 18) in a time of 1:05.23. Her hat trick included a gold-medal effort of 25.30 in the senior 200 metres.

Three other Devils also earned gold medals competing in a field of 1,500 athletes at the Terry Fox Athletic Complex in Ottawa.

Senior Brian Cummings, junior Tyler Fawcett and midget Phil Jutham also collected top points. Junior field specialists Chad Kennedy and Travis Froats also earned berths on the East Regional squad.

Devils coach Julie Green was certainly pleased with North Dundas showing against the best athletes in eastern Ontario.

"It is great to have sprinters, distance people, hurdles and throwers all qualify at EOSSAA," she said.

The coach feels that it looks very good for NDDHS at the East Regionals because anyone finishing in the top four at EOSSAA stacks up very well against the next level of competition. "If you are first out of EOSSAA it can mean a top four finish at regionals and a trip to OFSAA."

Green noted that 17 of 18 Devils made the final round at EOSSAA and established PBs doing so.

"Everyone else who competed had PBs across the board. For example Jen Marcellus ran the 800 metres, 1,500 metres and 3,000 metres and lowered her times in all three. She dropped her time in the 3,000m from 13:24 to 12:43 (ninth in the final) which is amazing. Everyone stepped up and really competed," said the coach.

GOLDEN DEVILS

Joining Bailey Lewis on the top of the medal podium were midget Phil Juthman who won won the 100-metre hurdles (15.36), Tyler Fawcett who finished first in the junior 110-metre hurdles (14.51) and senior Brian Cummings who claimed top honors in the 200 metres (22.62). All three bettered their seed times: Juthman seeded 15.46 won in 15.36; Fawcett seeded 15.53 won in 14.51; Cummings seeded 24.23 won in 22.62 seconds.

"Everyone looked very good winning their events," offered Green.

Also qualifying for the East Regionalmeet were Chad Kennedy, who was third in the junior 3,000 metres (10:43 seed - 9:49.71 final), and Travis Froats, who finished fourth in the junior javelin (44.60 m seed - 46.02 m final).

Hawks promote from within: Murdoch head coach

WINCHESTER — As far as the Winchester Hawks Hockey Club executive and coaching staff is concerned there is just one direction for them to take as they map their course for the 2004-05 Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League season — up.

"We would be destined for failure if changes weren't made," is the way returning assistant coach Tylor Copeland feels. "We have warmed last place for two years. Now is the time to move up."

Copeland, team president Jason Wagner and general manager Craig Smith all agree they must upgrade the product they put on the ice. That said there is still a very familiar look to composition of the 36-year-old hockey club.

With last Wednesday's (May 19) announcement that Morewood's Dale Murdoch will be the team's head coach for the upcoming campaign the Hawks bench crew, who finished the 2003-04 campaign, will all be back on the job come September. Only their seniority will change.

Murdoch, who came on board as an assistant coach after the Hawks dismissed Dominic Menard, is the new head coach.

Doug Armstrong, who started the year as Menard's assistant and finished as the bench boss, will be back as an assistant.

Copeland returns as an assistant having worked formerly with Dave Corkery and Armstrong.

Both Armstrong and Copeland are former Hawk players who also skated in the Central Junior "A" Hockey League.

Murdoch brings with him a very impressive resume as the coach of four North Dundas Midget "B" Demons squads. He guided Demons to four first-place finishes, three UCMHL East Division titles, one UCMHL East/West championship, a Regional Silver Stick banner and a berth in the International Silver Stick tournament.

Murdoch says he is anxious to take charge as head coach. He has served the club as an assistant under both Corkery and Armstrong.

"Obviously we have to change things up. We won just eight games last year. That won't do, not good enough. I have to say our goal as a team is to make the playoffs. And we have been active in scouting and contacting new players and are developing relations with a couple of Central (CJHL) teams. So we have been working to improve the club." explained the new coach.

Murdoch feels it is a positive step bringing Armstrong and Copeland on board. "I have worked with both Doug and Tylor and feel we know each other fairly well."

General Manager Craig Smith said the service rendered by Murdoch, Armstrong and Copeland during last year's turbulent season earned them the opportunity to start from scratch.

"Doug did a lot of work to keep the team going. Dale and Tylor also were dedicated to helping out. And it is a bonus that they are all local and know the local players," he said.

Hawks Hockey Club president Jason Wagner (left), assistant coach Tylor Copeland, head coach Dale Murdoch and general manager Craig Smith are currently working on an improved Winchester team for the 2004-05 Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League season. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Murdoch feels there are several members of the Midget "B" team that have the talent to move up, but must prove they can play at the junior level. He also noted that the teams' local players are now two and three year veterans which will give him a solid base to work with.

The Hawks lost long-time defenceman Bill Henderson and forward Brad Casselman to graduation this season but have locals Shawn Smail at forward; Travis Rowe and Kelly "Rubber" Beckstead on the blueline and transplanted New Brunswicker Robyn Sadler coming back for their final seasons.

The coaches agree they must work on the offensive side of the game and bringing in players who can finish around the opposition's net will reenforce the club's local content.

"We need a veteran goaltender. That's top priority. After that let's just say we have plenty of openings on the roster," noted Murdoch.

"We have a fresh look on the executive, new people who seem keen to make the team better. Now it's time for a championship," added Copeland.

New Hawk president Jason Wagner reported the organization is on solid financial footing and will concentrate their next fundraising endeavours around the 2004 Winchester Dairyfest. "We are running the ball tournament again and it has always been a big fundraiser for us. And we have some other things in mind, for sure."

The 2004-05 Winchester Hawks training camp will open during the first week of September.

North Dundas wins SD&G rugby title

MAPLE RIDGE — Robyn Carriere, Emily Vingerhoeds and kicker Mallory Blaine provided the points as the North Dundas District High School Devils whitewashed the St. Joe's Panthers 12-0 to claim the 2004 SD&G girls high school rugby championship.

Carriere, a rookie playing a wing position, counted one of the Devils' two tries as North Dundas posted their 12-0 win in Cornwall on May 20. Vingerhoeds, a third-year fullback, crossed the line for the other while Blaine booted one convert to complete the scoring. It was the first try of the season for both girls.

"Since they lost that 5-0 game to Vankleek Hill the girls haven't lost and have outscored the opposition 50-0," explained coach Scott Reaney. "This is the year for them. We have several girls graduating so we have a veteran team."

North Dundas joins five other board representatives at EOSSAA today (Wed., May 26) in Napanee.

Senior Devils come up empty

MAPLE RIDGE — Offence was a problem for the North Dundas District High School Senior Devils. Facing the La Citadelle Patriotes in the 2004 SD&G "AA" girls high school soccer championship match the home side wasn't able to find the back of the Pats' net and wound up losing 2-nil.

The May 21 title match was scoreless at the half. With five minutes left Sophie Chartrand made a nifty move around a fullback and ripped in a sharp-angle shot from deep in the corner to make it 1-0. With 30 seconds left the Pats iced the championship bouncing a shot in behind keeper Erin Klimas, who played a stellar game.

North Dundas drew a bye while St. Joe's eliminated the Seaway Spartans to make the title match.

Veteran mids Sara Volks and Kaley Cochrane didn't play in the final but Devil coach Kevin Bell said that was no excuse.

"St. Joe's deserved to win. They outplayed us and some of the girls are taking it (loss) pretty hard. It would have been nice to win it because Emma Bowie, Teri Lacelle, Kaley Cochrane and Sara Volks are all graduating," explained the coach.

The five archers from the North Dundas District High School boys' team won the championship in the Olympic division. This marks the fourth year in a row that NDDHS archers have returned with the OFSAA banner. The girls' team won the bronze medal. For full coverage of the tournament, see next week's issue of the Press.

Geurts drives in Ware, Sox rally for win at home

WINCHESTER — A couple of the new faces in the lineup made huge contributions for the Winchester Sox as they rallied for a 4-3, seven-inning victory over the Sundevils.

Winchester native Jeremy Geurts, a former Sundevil, came through with a clutch fielder's choice in the bottom of the seventh to drive in catcher Matt Ware with the game-winning run as the Sox opened their home season at Morgan Field on May 19 with the late rally.

It was the second win in as many starts for the National Capital Baseball League Sox, who missed the Tier II playoffs in 2003.

Winchester manager/coach Owen Shortt, who had the Sparky Anderson intensity going during his multiple visits to the field, described the 4-3 win as a playoff-type game.

Sundevils starting pitcher Yosh Norkoski singled and scored the game's first run in the top of the first. Winchester counted twice in the bottom of the fifth to make it 2-1, but needed seventh-inning runs by Ware and Matt Peters to pull a win out of the fire.

Veteran Gregg Griffith got the start and worked into the sixth before leaving with the bases loaded, nobody out and clinging to a slim 2-1 lead. Lefty Jeremy Geurts was called in and finished up. Geurts was on the hill when Blake Claydon and Chris Wallace touched home for the Sundevils but Griffith was charged with all three runs.

Geurts got out of the jam thanks to a wild bases loaded run down that produced two runs but also an (2-4/3-6-3) inning-ending double play. The twin kill started when the Sundevils tried to steal home with the sacks full and nobody out.

Geurts was under more pressure in the top of the seventh when he issued a pair of walks and a single to juice the bags with just one out. Thanks to a sharp snag by short stop Thorin Gault and a nifty, back-peddling catch on a high fly ball in shallow left field by third baseman Shawn Smail, Geurts quelled the uprising and brought his team to the plate down 3-2.

Matt Peters singled to lead off the Winchester seventh. Josh McLean sacrificed (4-3) the runner to second. Ware followed by reaching on an infield error. Shawn Smail plated Peters when he drilled a string down the first-base line. Kent then drew a one-out base on balls to load them up.

Winchester pitcher Gregg Griffith (#30) and catcher Matt Ware met on the mound to discuss pitch selection during a 4-3 come-from-behind win over the Sundevils last week (May 19). Press Photo — Van Bridger

After taking the first two pitches from the Sundevils' third pitcher, Shawn Scolli, Geurts put a hard ground ball into play which delivered Ware from third with the deciding run.

Winchester's first two runs didn't come until the fifth frame. Chris Hart drew a lead-off walk. Glen Annand was next up and he followed with a free pass. Matt Peters struck out. Josh McLean subbed in at DH for starter Robyn Sadler and belted a long towering fly ball to centre field to score Hart. A misplayed hit by Ware scored Annand to put the Sox up 2-1.

"Although it didn't show on the score sheet Josh McLean had two key at-bats, to score a run in the fifth and advance Peters in the eighth. I also liked the way Gregg (Griffith) threw and the job Jeremy (Geurts) did coming into the game," explained Shortt.

Griffith was charged with three runs, two hits and one walk. He struck out five. Winchester counted four runs on five hits and four walks.

Winchester and the Stingrays were rained out on Monday (May 24). The Sox will host the Diamondbacks at Morgan Field tonight (Wed., May 26) at 8 pm.

SOX OPENING LINEUP

Panthers, Cougars undefeated in senior league

WINCHESTER — Justin Comeau and Dean Moore cracked in the winning goals as the Cougars and Panthers matched victories to remain tied for first place in the three-week-old North Dundas Senior Co-Ed Ball Hockey League standings.

Comeau snapped in both goals as the Cougars (2-0-1) doubled the Wildcats (0-2-1) 2-1 in one of three games played on May 19. Both of Comeau's shots found net in the early stages of the game. Nolan Winter assisted on the first at 26:50 while Christine Stewart assisted on the second at 21:20.

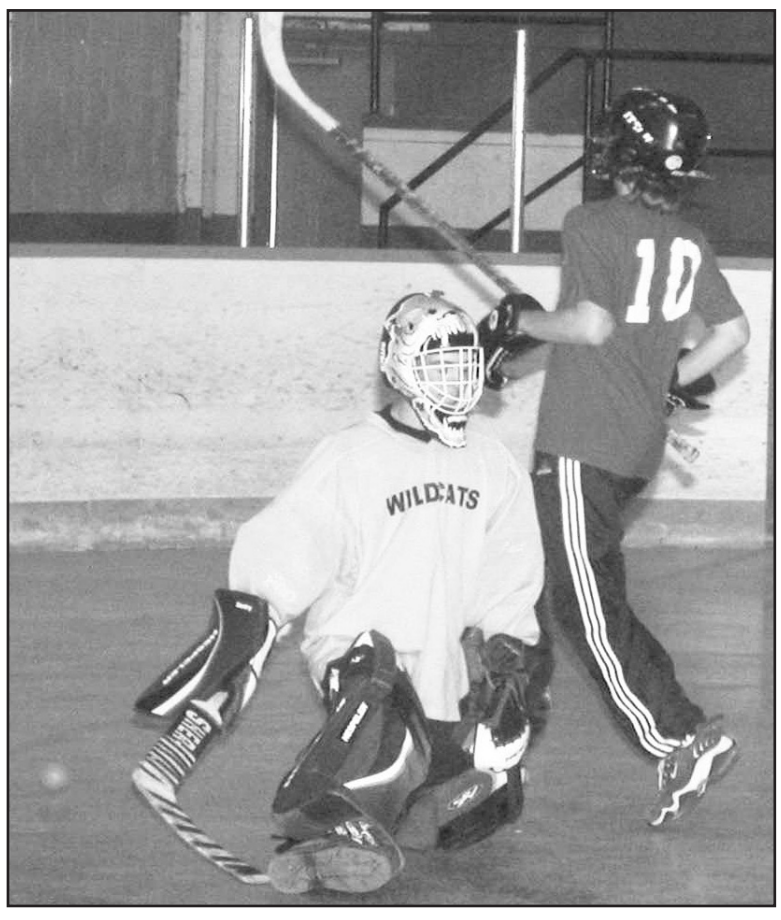

Andrew Hutt (unassisted at 11:10) was the lone Wildcat to beat Adam Schofield.

The Panthers (2-0-1) kept pace with the Cougars thumping the Lynx (1-1-1) 6-1.

Jeremy Leblanc (from Wes Robinson at 29:13) was the only Lynx to score against the Panthers' defence. Brittany Beckstead and Steve Johnson paced the winning attack potting a pair of goals each. Brent Holmes and Dean Moore (his fifth of the season) added the singles. Justin Thompson (2), Michael VanGurp, Kaitlin Kelly, Kaitlin Beckstead, Holmes, Johnson and Moore all collected assists.

Patrick Laplante posted the shutout in the third encounter as the Lions (1-1-1) blanked the Tigers 5-0. Bobby Little's first of two unassisted markers came at 32:31 and stood up as the deciding shot. Ryan Hay also counted two goals while Matt VanDelst picked up a single. VanDelst (2) and Ryan McRae set up goals.

The Panthers (2-0-1) and Cougars (2-0-1) are tied for first place with five points. The Lions (1-1-1) and Lynx (1-1-1) are next with three points. The Tigers (0-2-1) and Wildcats (0-2-1) are in the final group of two with one point each.

Wildcat goaltender Brian Hillis allowed just two shots to elude him during a North Dundas Senior Co-Ed Ball Hockey League game played on May 19. Unfortunately, that was all the Cougars needed for a 2-1 victory. Cougar forward Justin Comeau (#10) counted both markers as his team improved to 2-0-1 and remained tied for first place with the Panthers. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Blues battle for first place

CHESTERVILLE — Sandy McCadden's fourth goal of the season, set up by Courtney Barkley and scored 9:32 before the final buzzer, prevented the Blues from being knocked out of first place.

The McCadden marker pulled the first-place Blues (2-0-2) into a 4-4 tie with the second-ranked Team Green (1-0-3) in the opening game of the Chesterville/Winchester Ladies Ball Hockey League twin bill on May 20.

In the other half of the doubleheader, third-place Yellow (2-1-1) handed the Reds (0-4-0) their fourth loss in as many starts. Green was the aggressor in period one ripping into a 3-0 lead on goals by Kim Elliott (from Sandra Brunner at 18:40), Tanya Copeland (from Patti Hall at 15:41) and Brunner (from Julie Cyr at 11:58). Elliott (from Katie Hoogeveen at 10:50) snapped in the final Green goal as they carried a 4-2 lead into the final frame.

An unassisted shot fired by Laura McDonell at 13:23 of period two put the Blues on the board. McDonell then teamed up with Sandy McCadden and cut the deficit to 4-2 with 2:20 left in the same frame.

Jackie Morris used a relay from Kerry Kennedy to get the Blues to within a goal at 4-3 at 14:06 of the third. That play set the stage for McCadden's tying goal at 9:32.

FOUR FOR VOLKS

Sara Volks scored three of her team's six goals and picked up an assist on a fourth marker as Yellow ripped the Reds 6-2.

Jenny VanGurp (from Angie VanGurp at 0:45) scored to put the Reds up 1-0 in the first frame. Noreen Joyce (from Holly Plumb and Jenny VanGurp) netted her team's second goal with two seconds left in the second session but by that time Yellow was up 3-2. Three third period goals salted away the 6-2 win and pushed Yellow over the 500 level.

Volks (3-1-4), Kim Perry (1-1-2), Laura Shay (1-1-2), Joanne McMillan (1-0-1), Meghan Shay (0-2-2), Jess Lynch (0-1-1) and Steph Byvelds (0-1-1) collected points for the winners.

Planck perfect at speedway

CORNWALL — Cornwall Motor Speedway had to battle the weather-manlast weekend but promoters were able to get two of five features run. And for the second straight week Dale Planck grabbed the checkered flag.

Planck started 12th in the first of two scheduled 20-lap features on Sunday (May 23) night and powered his way through the field and took the lead after a classic five-lap battle with Chris Jones. He finally used a lapped car as a pick on lap 17 to seal the win. Jones settled for second followed by Dan Jalbert who started on the inside pole. Stephane LaFrance was fourth with Luc Plante grabbing a top-five finish with a final burst of speed on the last circuit. The second 20-lapper was rained out.

The Pro Stocks also managed to get their 20-lap feature run before a final downpour put an end to the proceedings. Joey Ladouceur went wire to wire for his first win of the year. Marc Therrien with a couple of late race passes was second in front of Mitchell Jock, who charged from an 18th starting spot to finish third. Travis Back and Michel Dupuis rounded out the fast five.

The second 20 and the Semi Pro and Rookie features will be run beginning at 6:45 pm Sunday (May 30) before the regular race program. That will be followed by a special 50-lap Mr. Radiator series event for Pro Stocks, plus regular features for Modifieds, Semi-Pros and Rookies.

AT THE WIRE

Modifieds (20 laps): 1. Dale Planck; 2. Chris Jones; 3. Dan Jalbert; 4. Stephane LaFrance; 5. Luc Plante; 6. Laurent Ladouceur; 7. Kyle Jacobs; 8. Ray Hoard; Perry Francis; 10. Mark Hitchcock; 11. Stubbings continues to shine, scores four more goals

Eric Henry (#7) and Emma Hanson (#3) of the Black Panthers join Wildcats Brandon DeJong (#5) and Dylan Fawcett (#19) in chasing down the ball during a North Dundas Junior Co-Ed Ball Hockey League game last week (May 19). Josh Stubbings counted all four goals for the Panthers who rallied to tie the game 4-4.

Press Photo — Van Bridger

WINCHESTER — Josh Stubbings continued his torrid goal-scoring pace cracking in four more as the Panthers battled the Wildcats to a 4-4 draw in North Dundas Junior Co-Ed Ball Hockey League action last week.

With his four latest markers, Stubbings clamped down on his hold on top spot on the scoring race. After just three games he has counted 10 goals.

The Panthers were trailing the Wildcats 3-0 when Stubbings started scoring. There was 15:15 left in the May 19 contest when he scored his first goal on an unassisted play. His second at 13:56 was set up by Kyle Greer. His third was unassisted at 3:04 and his fourth and tying shot was engineered by Emma Hanson 2:11 before the final buzzer.

The Wildcats received two goals and an assist from Jeff Picco (5-1-6) who stands second in the scoring parade with six points. Derek Hutt and Dylan Fawcett also scored. Hutt and Brody Arthurs each picked up an assist.

The Cougars used Eric Labreque's second goal of the game, scored unassisted 3:23 before the final buzzer, to break a 2-2 tie and defeat the Tigers 3-2 in the other half of the Wednesday night twin bill.

With three games in the books, the Panthers (1-0-2), Wildcats (1-0-2) and Cougars (1-0-2) are tied with four points. The Tigers (0-3-0) are still looking for their first point.

Labreque (unassisted at 27:14), Kelly VanDelst (from Michael Perras and Mark McRae at 16:39) and Labreque (unassisted at 3:23) were the Cougar scorers.

Peter Klein-Swormink (from Jeremy Rose at 13:57) and Emma Fraser (from Klein-Swormink at 6:30) recorded the Tiger markers.

Small Blocks even score, Jacobs wins in photo finish

BROCKVILLE — After two weeks of racing at the Brockville Ontario Speedway the Small Block and Big Block Modifieds have each scored a victory.

Akwesasne's Kyle Jacobs came up with the equalizer holding off a hard-charging Steve Poirier by a millimetre at the finish line with his 358 engine taking the 30-lap Modified feature Friday (May 21) night at BOS. Jacobs not only took the $2,000 first place money, but an additional $300 track bonus available for small blocks that can beat the 454 cubic inch big blocks and $100 sponsor bonus for top finishing small block for a total $2,400 payday.

Jeff Sykes, also driving a small block, led the first 20 laps. Jacobs finally got past and pulled into a small lead. Poirier, the opening week winner, worked his way through the pack and then with five laps to go launched an all-out challenge for top spot. Poirier pulled along side on the final turn, but despite scraping the front straightaway wall, Jacobs managed to hold on for the win. Sykes ended up third, Danny O'Brien fourth and Pat O'Brien fifth.

The other highlight of the evening came on a lap five restart in the Street Stock main event. Sheldon Hoogwerf was bumped into the wall causing a 12-car pile up with Adam Turner's ride launching into the air and landing on Hoogwerf's roof. All drivers came out of the scary mishap okay, but the Hoogwerf car was totally destroyed. With less than half of the 26-car field running in the final half of the race, Dave Austin grabbed the victory followed by Dana Aikins and Clay MacNamee.

Lance Willix took over the lead with just a lap remaining to capture the 20-lap Sportsman event. Jason Potter who led most of the race settled for second followed by Marcel Pecore, Ben Tucker and Kyle Dingwall. Hallville's Kees Van Winden finished 10th.

Dave Blue captured the 12-lap Rookie race by passing Gerry Oszczakiewicz in the late going. Brad Kirkland was third, Joseph Banks fourth and Chris Riddell fifth.

Brockville Ontario Speedway's new go-kart track is gearing up for its season opener tonight (Wed., May 26). Admission for spectators is free.

Darling, Dagenais lead Attack to first victory

WINCHESTER — Dagenais and Darling provided the offensive power as Black Attack calmed Blue Thunder 10-7 for their first win of the young Dundas Men's Roller Hockey League season.

Francis Dagenais found the Thunder net five times and drew a pair of assists, and Robbie Darling fired in four goals in the May 20 victory.

The Thunder led 3-1 after a period and 5-3 after two stanzas, but faded in the final frame as Black went to the attack and rammed in seven goals. Dagenais keyed the comeback connecting four times in the third. Darling (2) and Scott MacKinnon supplied the other markers. Justin Heuff, Steve Beehler, Justin Heuff, MacKinnon and Dagenais all picked up pairs of helpers. Cory Villeneuve posted the win.

Kelly Beckstead (1-4-5), Bill Henderson (2-2-4), Brian Shaver (2-2-4), Gary McInnis (1-0-1), Andy Thompson (1-0-1) and Kevin Markell (0-1-1) provided the Thunder points.

The win improved the Attack's record to 1-1-0 and dropped the Thunder's to 0-2-0.

LIGHTNING PERFECT

White Lightning (2-0-0) got the game-winning goal from Dave Summers with just 10 seconds left on the clock as they nipped Orange Crush (1-1-0) 8-7 in a first-place battle in the other half of the Thursday night twin bill.

Lightning led 3-1 after a period and 6-4 after two sessions. Justin Elliot tied it up 7-7 for the Crush, connecting from Chad Galipeau 28 seconds before the final buzzer, but 18 seconds later Summers took a feed from Steve Mattice and fired into the back of the Crush cage to hand Lightning the 8-7 win and first place.

Summers (3), Mike Thompson (2), Devon Cinnamon (2) and Mattice counted goals for the winners. Matt McBean (3), Mattice (2), Summers (2), Mike Thompson and Chris Thompson drew assists. Colin Baker-Stephens posted the win.

DMRHL scoring leader Justin Elliott added two goals and three assists to his total. Chad Galipeau (2-1-3), Liam Tyrell (2-1-3) and Robert Thurler (1-1-2) also contributed points.

Golf tournament set to go

WILLIAMSBURG — Organizers urge golfers to "Catch the Spirit" and register for the 2004 Dundas County Heart and Stroke Foundation golf tournament today.

The event will be held at the Cedar Glen Golf Course on Sun., June 6 and participants must register by Fri., May 28. Call Cedar Glen at 535-2323 or 888-861-0660 to enter.

The theme of the day is "Catch the Spirit" and the four-player scramble features 18 holes of golf, dinner, a chance for prizes, and fun for $60.

If players wish, they may seek sponsors (forms are available at area golf courses). A minimum of $70 covers golf and dinner, with tax receipts issued for each sponsor amount of $10 or more.

Tee-off times are scheduled from 11 am until 1 pm. Call Steve Thompson at 613-543-3134 for more information.

Sox defeat Iroquois

WINCHESTER — Joshua Freake pitched two and two-thirds innings of one-hit ball as the Winchester Minor Black Sox extended their 2004 Upper Canada Little League Baseball record to a perfect 4-0.

Win number four, registered at Sox Park in Winchester on May 19, was a 12-5 three-inning victory over Iroquois.

Freake, working with catcher Brandon Stewart, struck out seven and served up one hit before the visitors got to him in the top of the third frame. After retiring the first six batters he faced, five by strikeout, Freake issued four walks and a single before getting out of trouble. But the five runs Iroquois counted weren't enough to catch the heavy-hitting Sox.

Craig Christophersen walked and rounded third on a double by Brandon Cousineau who made it 2-0 on a Slater Koekkoek double.

Winchester added four more runs in the bottom of the second to take a more comfortable 6-0 lead. Freake led it off with a double and was followed by an error-assisted home run by Cousineau, a home run by Koekkoek and a single by Stewart who was the last runner to touch home. Austin Carruthers (single) and Kirk Heinke (walk) were left on base.

Iroquois closed the gap to 6-5 in the top of the third only to give up six runs to the Sox in the bottom of the frame. Christophersen (walk), Cousineau (double), Koekkoek (single), Stewart (double), Carruthers (double) and Henike (walk) all plated runs.

Cousineau and Koekkoek both went three for three at the plate.

Meaghan Mackler (left) and Lindsay Johnston both passed gold level tests at the May 1 test day at the Morrisburg arena. Mackler completed her gold level in dance and Johnston earned a gold level in skills. The two skaters were presented with plaques commemorating this achievement.

Double gold for WSC

MORRISBURG – Two Winchester Skating Club members passed gold level tests at a spring test day hosted by the Morrisburg Skating Club on Sat., May 1. Meaghan Mackler passed the Viennese Waltz and Silver Samba to complete her gold level in dance. Lindsay Johnston earned her gold level in skating skills.

The gold test level represents the ultimate achievement for skaters in Skate Canada's test stream program. WSC skaters have earned a total of four gold tests in the 2003-2004 season. Katrina Loggie earned her gold skills in January and Lindsay Johnston passed her gold interpretive in March.

Four golds is an amazing accomplishment considering, in recent years WSC has had only one other gold test passed (Jennifer Larmour, dance 2002-2003).

Tests passed by WSC members in Morrisburg are as follows:

TEST DAY WRAP UP

Leah Ann Smith: European, Jr. Bronze Freestyle Elements and Program.

Hilary McQuaid: Harris Tango.

Jessica Calder: Killian.

Lindsay Johnston: Gold Skills, Sr. Bronze Freestyle Program, Blues.

Meaghan Mackler: Viennese Waltz, Silver Samba.

Elizabeth Gibson-Crowder: Preliminary Skills, Canasta Tango.

Alicia Angus: Preliminary Freestyle Program, Preliminary Skills.

Taylor Shelp: Jr. Bronze Skills.

Samantha Shelp: Preliminary Freestyle Elements.

Greely Lions

Osgoode Township Home Support and the Winchester District Memorial Hospital shared in a donation of $25,000 from the Greely Lions Club. This amount was the proceeds from the annual dinner and dance held at the Greely Community Centre on April 17. From left: Greely Lions president Leo Noiles; Pat Curran and Vera Mitchell from Osgoode Township Home Support, Lynne Wilson and Terry MacLellan from WDMH and Greely Lions Dinner Dance chairman Willis McKeown.

Williamsburg seniors meet

by Jean Casselman

WILLIAMSBURG — The regular monthly meeting of the Williamsburg Seniors was held on May 18. A delicious potluck noon buffet was enjoyed by 21 members and one visitor.

Following the dinner, Bea McRae introduced the guest entertainer, Paul Whitteker with his violin. He played several toe-tapping numbers and was thanked by Bettie Locke.

After the entertainment, president Evelyn Whitteker opened the meeting with O Canada, with Hilda Garlough at the piano. The usual reports were given and the business completed. Following adjournment, cards were enjoyed during the afternoon.

EUCHRE RESULTS

The winners at the Williamsburg Seniors' euchre on May 12 were as follows. The White Cards were won by Jean Sutton, and Eldon Turner. The Yellow Cards were won by Evelyn Schwerdtfeger, Graham Pemberton and Bev Kropp.

Bertha Christie and Lorraine Tupper were the door prize winners. The draw was won by Bob Dawson (2), Gladys Kyle, Dwain Hess, Audrey McLaren and Campbell Robertson.

The next euchre will be held today (Wed., May 26) and everyone is welcome.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS – The family of Russell Morrow wishes to express our appreciation to all the people who helped him when he was so ill, the Ottawa General and Civic Hospitals' doctors and staff, the W.D.M.H. doctors and staff who treated him with kindness, as did the staff at the Hartford where he stayed for a short time. Special thanks to all who provided transportation, made phone calls and visits, gave donations, sent cards, flowers and food. The caring of friends, neighbors and relatives have meant a great deal to us. Thanks to David Lapier for his help and all the extra things he did at this sad time.
– Sincerely, Doreen, Rick and David Morrow and families

Notice to Residents and Property Owners Regarding Noxious Weeds

The main purpose of the Weed Control Act is to reduce the impact of noxious weeds on the industries of agriculture and horticulture. Primarily this act applies to agricultural and horticultural lands that generate income or other benefits to agriculture; this excludes lawns, gardens, and private areas for personal enjoyment and leisure.

Under the Weed Control Act, RSO 1990, Chapter W.5 Sections 3, 13, 16 and 23, you are requested to destroy all noxious weeds on your property.

In Urban Areas - Sections 3, 13, 16 and 18 do not apply to noxious weed seeds that are far enough away from any land used for agricultural and horticultural purposes, as they do not interfere with that use.

All properties within the Townships of North and South Dundas are hereby requested to be in compliance with the Weed Control Act by the 30th day of June 2004 and throughout the season.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OPEN AIR BURNING

Residents are advised that the Township of South Dundas Bylaw No's 1999-19 and 2004-14, being bylaws to prescribe the precautions and conditions under which fires may be set in open air, is in force.

In part, this bylaw requires residents to obtain a permit prior to any open air burning. Permits may be obtained at the Municipal Office – 48 to 72 hours notice is required before burning takes place.

Open Air Burning as defined in the Ontario Fire Code 2.6.3.4 is not permitted within the hamlet areas (i.e. Morrisburg, Iroquois, Williamsburg, etc.)

Open Air Burning includes campfires, burning of garbage, brush, leaves, outdoor type fireplaces, etc.

For further information please contact the Municipal Office at 535-2673 or 1-800-265-0619 during regular office hours.

Card of Thanks

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to family, friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy during the loss of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Fred Christie. Many thanks for the food, flowers, cards and in memoriam donations. Thank you to Sutton's for the dinner Friday and to the ladies for the lunch following the service. Thank you to Doris Cross for the music, to the pallbearers and to the Winchester Funeral Home. Thank you to the doctors and nurses at Winchester District Memorial Hospital for their excellent care over the years.

A very special thank you to Rev. Carol Bain for her comforting words during the service and for her support in our time of loss.

OBITUARIES

Emerson Carr

Emerson Carr of Winchester died on May 16, 2004 at Dundas Manor Nursing Home. He was 89.

He is survived by his wife Irene (nee Livingston), whom he married on July 29, 1936 at the Williamsburg United Church Manse. He is also survived by his children Baden (Christine) Carr of Brockville, Sheila (Alan) Crowder of Boucks Hill, Sharon Roworth of Prescott, Sandra (Bill) Casselman of Napanee, and Faye (Dean) McCurdy of Iroquois.

He will be fondly remembered by 10 grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandson. He was very fond and proud of them all. He is survived by sister Audrey Moke of Morrisburg, and brother Francis (June) Carr of Ottawa. He will be remembered by his nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by brothers Dwain and Ralph.

A lifetime resident of the area, he was born to the late Carrie (nee Merkley) and William Carr on May 9, 1915. He made his living as a farmer and a carpenter. He loved hunting and fishing and being outdoors, and was very fond of his cat after he retired.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on May 18. The funeral was held at the funeral home on May 19 with Rev. Doug Carnegie officiating. Interment was at Grantley Cemetery. The pallbearers were Doug Disheau, Debbie Disheau, Scott Casselman, Larry McCurdy, John Giles, and Cindy Emery.

Donations to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be appreciated by the family.

Alice Casselman

Alice Casselman of Chesterville died on May 18, 2004 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. She was 82.

She is survived by husband Hubert Casselman, whom she married on Sept. 3, 1941 at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Williamsburg.

She was born to the late Arthur Whitteker and Martha (nee Barkley) on Aug. 4, 1921 in the former Matilda Township.

She is survived by children Irene Casselman (Mike Else) of Winchester, Earl (Claudette) Casselman of Winchester, Judy (Wayne) Rowe of Stittsville, Linda (Mitchell) Rodier of Orleans, Barbara (Joe) Pasqua of Kanata, and Brenda Casselman of Blossom Park.

She is survived by brothers Paul (Dorothy) Whitteker of Williamsburg and Garnet (Yvonne) Whitteker of Paris. She was predeceased by sister Ada Hanson and brothers Lloyd and Ross Whitteker.

She is also survived by nieces and nephews. She will be fondly remembered by seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

She was a lifetime resident of the North Dundas area, having lived at her last address for 31 years. She was a member of the North Dundas Seniors Group. She enjoyed playing cards, bowling and gardening.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on May 19. The funeral was on May 20 with Rev. Mark Ehlebracht officiating. Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery in Chesterville.

Pallbearers were Rodney Casselman, Rhonda Casselman, Rachel Casselman, Michael Casselman, Tracy Pratte, Matthew Rodier and Amanda Rodier.

Frederick Wilbert Christie

Frederick Wilbert Christie died peacefully in Winchester on May 20, 2004. He was born in 1923.

He is survived by his beloved wife Marion (nee Rooke); son Michael and daughter Betty Anne, both of Winchester; and daughter Margaret of Ottawa.

He is also survived by two granddaughters, Ashley Christie and Cynthia Misener; and sister Mary Thompson. He was predeceased by brother John. He will be sadly missed by many nieces and nephews, neighbors and friends.

Visitation was held at the Winchester Funeral Home on May 21. The funeral service took place in the chapel of the funeral home on May 22 with Rev. Carol Bain officiating. Burial followed at Maple Ridge Cemetery in Chesterville.

The pallbearers were Harold, George and Paul Thompson; John Monahan; Bruce Pelkey; and Cynthia Misener.

For those wishing, donations to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be gratefully acknowledged by the family.
