Maxville in 2000: Will it be a ghost town or a prosperous village?

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

It is the year 2000. Much has changed in the village of Maxville. But is it a change for the worse or for the better?

According to Terry O'Reilly, economic director for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, the village does have a choice, its future is in its hands. How it shapes that future is up to it.

O'Reilly was one of four speakers at a special Maxville Chamber of Commerce symposium trying to glimpse at what Maxville will be like in the year 2000 and what issues will be critical to the town between now and then.

He painted two pictures of Maxville in the future, one of a shabby, run-down place with businesses closed and rubble on the sidewalks, the second of a bustling busy community using its chamber of commerce to help business grow.

In his one vision of the town, a storekeeper is closing his door on a customer, telling the person he is closed for the day. There is no extended hours for customers who only shop in town for small, last-minute items, and do all their major shopping elsewhere.

''They don't support the local store. They will go to Alexandria or Cornwall,'' the merchant says.

But O'Reilly said his first vision does not have to be the one that Maxvillians will be unwilling, or perhaps willing participants of in year 2000.

''Maxville will always remain a community unless it allows itself to decay and disappear,'' he told about 40 people attending the meeting at the Maxville curling club Thursday night.

Community residents need to determine which picture they want to bring about and how to do it in order to take control of their own destiny.

''We need a community that's proactively pursuing positive change,'' he said.

The proactive approach means having speakers at chamber meetings to share ideas with business owners, using creative marketing and merchandising, and creating a new Main Street image.

Maxville residents cannot sit back with ''apocalyptic hope'' that the town will have a savior, that something will miraculously happen to transform the community.

Ron McDonell, Lochiel Township reeve and warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, (foreground) listens and Don Boudria, MPP Noble Villeneuve and Counties Administrator Raymond Lapointe, were speakers at a symposium on what Maxville will be like in the year 2000.

The vision the people have for their town should be one collective vision, not 600 different versions of what the town should be, he said. And he added, town residents should not be too proud to acknowledge the town needs to change.

''We must be careful because pride can become deceit and deceit can become blinding.''

Don Boudria, MP for Glengarry-Prescott-Russell, said Maxville has the ''spirit'' to forge ahead and do well in the year 2000.

It is often said that Alexandria is the heart of Glengarry — ''Maxville is the soul.''

''Maxville, you have that special character which I guess you can associate with being the soul of Glengarry.''

He said the town has many positive attributes which should help to make it successful in the future. It has a sports facility, seniors home, is close to two major highways and has a strong cultural sense, exemplified every year by the Glengarry Highland Games held in town.

> ''Local government reform is inevitable''
> —Ray Lapointe, United Counties administrator

''Of course, that does not mean you have everything,'' he cautioned.

Assistance is needed from the federal government to help Eastern Ontario's poor economy. If the federal government finally agrees to provide help, Maxville could benefit from that assistance.

He also stressed the importance of a strong agriculture industry. If the agriculture industry is healthy, the spinoff benefits for other business sectors are enormous.

Ron McDonell, warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, said municipal governments in the future must be more receptive to change.

Municipal governments will face challenges on an increasing number of issues, including the environment, social services, and with high unemployment and the poor economy it will be tough to address those issues without placing a large financial burden on taxpayers.

Municipal politicians must also be more receptive to local government reform, he said. The issue is being studied by the provincial government and municipal politicians will either have to implement reforms themselves or have them forced upon them.

Ray Lapointe, United Counties adminstrator, agreed with McDonell.

''Local government reform is inevitable. I believe it will happen sooner or later,'' he said.

There are now 20 municipalities in the United Counties of SD¿G. With local government reform, that number will be reduced significantly.

He said there are 100 municipal politicans in the United Counties, providing government for a mere 55,000 people. That does not even include United Counties council, which has 37 members.

The city of Cornwall has a population of 45,000 and a council comprised of 10 politicians. Maxville has only one-fifth of Cornnwall's population, yet it has five council members, he said.

''So ask yourself, are we overgoverned?''

Noble Villeneuve, MPP for Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville, said soliciting government funding and approval for environment-related projects, such as sewer system upgrading will the one difficult task Maxville face in the year 2,000.

He also stressed the importance for a strong agricultural sector.

''Agriculture is under a lot of attack,'' he said. And for many farmers, ''if the neighbor goes, you could be the next one to go.''

Developer ponders legal action

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

The lawyer for an area developer is threatening legal action against Alexandria if it does not take over a street constructed by the company in the east end of town.

Alexandria council declined again last Tuesday to take over an extension of St. George Street after being told it is still incomplete and may cause problems for snow removal in the winter.

The street is being constructed by Les Investissements Demaca Inc., a development firm owned by former area MP Denis Ethier. Ethier needs to have the street taken over by the town before he can begin building in a neighboring subdivision of his.

The refusal, one of a number since the town was first requested to take over the street in May, has left the developer's lawyer, Pierre Aubry, contemplating court action against the town.

He said he would rather not take the issue to court. But if the town continues to delay, that is what he will do.

''We're not at the mercy (of the town) because we may have to take them to court. But in the short time, I'd like to speak to someone on council who can tell me why it is they didn't pass it on Tuesday.''

He added: ''We thought we might be able to get what we want without going to court. But if they are going to be difficult about it, we're certainly going to have to look at that option.''

The repeated delays have left Aubry and Ethier angry and frustrated.

''There's no doubt it's frustrating,'' Aubry said Thursday. ''Some members of council don't seem to understand the facts of the matter. That's why you have an insurance policy, to provide for these things.

''In the meantime they are thwarting Mr. Ethier's contruction plan. Without a street we can't get a building permit. So if they're trying to put him out of business, they are doing a very good job of it.''

He reacted with surprise when told council members did not believe the street has met the conditions of the subdivider's agreement.

''That's news to me. They've got a subdivider's agreement that's signed, they have a bond for the completion of the street.

''I don't know what their problem is. It doesn't make any sense to me.''

Ethier and Aubry have been pressuring the town to take over the street since spring this year.

Each time the issue is brought up at council, the takeover encounters a new roadblock.

For a while, the town had refused to take over the street, then when the town was ready to do so, the Alexandria Non-Profit Housing Corporation refused to take it over.

But last Tuesday night, the housing corporation was willing to relinquish ownership. In fact, Chairman Bruno Lalonde said he would be glad to let it go, but the town instead refused.

Lalonde said the housing corporation would eagerly turn over the street to avoid having to keep it clear during the winter. He said the street would be difficult to plow in the winter because the road has not been built up enough to reach the manholes.

Unless more gravel is placed on the road to bring it to the level of the manholes, the manholes would wreak havoc on plows trying to clear the street in the winter, he said.

Lalonde also brought up one other concern about flags along the street. And it was enough to spook council

Family violence centre setting up in Alexandria

by Andre Perrella
News* reporter

Victims of family violence will be able to seek shelter at a new home in Alexandria by next spring.

The federal government issued a news release Friday stating that it will provide a $295,000 loan to build La Montee d'Elle Centre de Ressource pour Violence Familiale S.D. & G.

''There is a need to provide a safe haven for women and children escaping violence in the home,'' said Elmer MacKay, minister responsible for Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CHMC) in the release.

The new home will offer emergency shelter and support to victims of conjugal violence in the United Counties. Service will be mostly in French, but the home will be available to anyone.

La Montee d'Elle will provide women and children comfort and help to recover from abuse.

''La Montee d'Elle will be a place where women and children can find sanctuary,''said Lee Frappier, the executive director of La Montee d'Elle.

''They'll have a safe place where they can find support and the resources necessary to help them build a new life for themselves.''

The five bedroom home will accommodate up to eight people. Although the location will remain confidential to protect victims from their abusers, a 24- hour crisis telephone line will be set up for the new home.

Frappier said women have already been calling her for help.

''Last year, when we were looking at the prospects of the new shelter, a lot of women called asking when the house will be built,'' she said.

Naomi's Family Resource Centre in Winchester, and Maison Baldwin House in Cornwall, are the only other two shelters in the United Counties.

Alexandria Police Chief Paul Deveau, a member of La Montee d'Elle's board of directors, said a shelter in Alexandria is needed. He said the police station received 23 calls to domestic conflicts so far this year and charged one man with assault.

And although few women file complaints with the police, many call seeking information about family violence and shelters.

''You know there's something going on,'' he said. ''But family violence is something that goes on for a while before the woman does something about it.''

Frappier said the problem is that women living in rural areas are isolated from help, unlike in a city.

''From my experience, rural areas are a little worse than urban areas,'' she said. ''Let's say there is violence in a house. The woman has nowhere to go. It may be more difficult for the woman to get out.''

She said arrangements will be made with taxi companies and volunteer drivers to provide transportation.

Deveau said the new home can also relieve overloads at other shelters.

Maison Interlude House in Hawkesbury turned away 10 women and children on Monday because of overcrowding. Maison Baldwin House and the Naomi's Family Resource Centre both exceeded their limits during the summer.

But Patricia Vibert, the executive director of the Maison Baldwin House, doesn't expect her clientele to drop.

''I think La Montee d'Elle will have enough to handle for itself,'' she said adding that there is a large enough population around Alexandria to keep the new home busy.

Celine Pelletier, the executive director of Maison Interlude House, says La Montee d'Elle might lighten her overload, but not by much.

''There are a lot of women who get no service,'' she said.

Women looking for shelter can call the Naomi's Family Resource Centre at 1-800-0395, the Maison Baldwin House at 938-2958, or the Maison Interlude at 632-1131.

Province taking serious look at building ethanol plants: Villeneuve

by Andre Perrella
News* reporter

Noble Villeneuve's dream to use surplus corn to create fuel ethanol could soon become reality.

The Ontario government has plans for an ethanol processing industry and Eastern Ontario is an ideal place to set up plants, said the Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville MPP Thursday.

''I can assure you that locations in Eastern Ontario will be put to the (Ontario legislature) floor,'' Villeneuve said at a Maxville Chamber of Commerce meeting discussing the village's future.

Villeneuve has been lobbying the provincial government for years to take advantage of Ontario's corn production to produce ethanol.

Ethanol is an alcohol made from distilling corn. It is then mixed with ordinary gasoline producing a cleaner and more efficient fuel.

''Carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide emissions are reduced by 35 to 40 per cent,'' Villeneuve said in a telephone interview.

The Ministry of Agriculture and Food is chairing a multi-ministry committee, including ministries such as environment, energy, and labor, to develop an ethanol program for Ontario.

Chris Horbasz, the senior policy advisor at the Ministry of Agriculture and Food, said pilot projects will be established once studies have been completed.

He added that Eastern Ontario is being studied. ''There's no question about it.''

Villeneuve said he will lobby the government to set up plants in Eastern Ontario, an ideal location for ethanol plants because of its accessiblity to major highways, rail lines, the St. Lawrence Seaway, and its large corn surplus.

"It's a new market for our corn," he said. "The Americans are using...two million bushels of corn a day in the production of ethanol."

He added that ethanol production boosted the price of corn in the United States by about 10 cents a bushel.

A bushel of corn can be distilled into about 11 liters of ethanol.

Horbasz said a plant which can produce about 10 million liters of ethanol a year, such as the one in Lanigan, Sask., can create up to 20 permanent jobs.

It is not yet known if the New Democratic government wants ethanol plants to be publically owned. But Villeneuve said Thursday a privately run ethanol industry would be much more profitable and efficient.

"The government cannot create wealth," he said. "All they can do is create bureaucracy."

from lending its support to the street takeover.

Aubry said the town and housing corporation are playing politics, and it is his client who is getting caught in the middle.

"It seems to me that everybody is playing politics right now and Mr. Ethier is caught in the middle."

And according to him, the town is not treating Ethier fairly.

"I don't understand it because if you look at the Ravco situation at the south end of town, Ravco was permitted to have building permits all over the place and the street is not dedicated."

"All these places are built, the condos are built, the duplexes are almost all finished, and as of a few weeks ago, I can tell you the street has still not been conveyed to the town.

"So how come these guys, who are from out of town, are able to get building permits? It's just not fair. The town is just not playing fair right now."

"We're not being dealt with even handedly."

Mayor Jean Paul Touchette, reached by The News Monday, works for Ravco in sales and was unable to comment on Aubry's claim that the company has received preferential treatment.

Touchette said it would be a conflict of interest for him to comment on the matter.

Councillor Archie McDougall, chairman of Alexandria council's planning committee, denied Ravco is getting preferential treatment.

"I think everyone has been treated equally," he said Monday night when contacted by The News.

Glengarry elderly, infirm will now get a lift

By Greg Kielec
News editor

Service for the elderly literally received a lift Thursday with the unveiling of a new, specially equipped van to provide transportation for seniors in Glengarry County.

The seven-seater van, complete with a lift for elderly who are confined to wheelchairs, was unveiled in a demonstration for its volunteer drives at the Alexandria branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

The $28,000 van, purchased with funding from the Ontario Ministry of Community and Social Services, will remain in North Lancaster and will be available to elderly and disabled residents in various parts of the county on set days of the week.

The van will be available for Martintown and Williamstown residents on Mondays, Glen Robertson and Dalkeith residents on Wednesdays, Alexandria and Kenyon residents on Thursdays and to Lancaster and area residents on Fridays.

Residents will be able to call co-ordinators in their area to request use of the van for shopping trips and medical appointments in Cornwall, Hawkesbury and Alexandria for a fee of $5 per trip.

The co-ordinators are: For Martintown-Williamstown, Connie Aubin at 528- 4229; Glen Robertson-Dalkeith, Tom and Diny Hagen at 874-2645, and Janet Kirton at 525-2543; Alexandria-Kenyon, Doreen Kingdon at 525-2751; Lancaster and area, Eileen Fourney at 347-2465.

The new service comes from a joint proposal from the Glengarry

Glengarry Outreach Services unveiled its newest service for Glengarry's elderly and disabled in Alexandria, Thursday — a new van, complete with hydraulic lift to provide transportation for shopping and medical appointments in the area. Pictured in the wheelchair on the hydraulic lift, is Lancaster Township Deputy Reeve Steve Preston, chairman of the sub-committee in charge of the van operations. Pictured behind him is Rick Gagne of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and Karen Paavila of the Day Away program. Behind them (from left) are Sharon Burnie-Gardiner, director of Glengarry Outreach Services; Debbie St. John-De Witt, head of the United Counties Alternatives to Institutional Care program; and Paul Deveau, Alexandria police chief.

county Outreach Services Committee and village of Lancaster made to Debbie St. John De Witt, project officer for the United Counties' Alternatives to Institutional Care program.

The proposal was one of a number submitted by the county at the request of St. John-De Witt, who also is head of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Developmental Services.

"It's very exciting for me to see the van here," St. John-DeWitt of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Developmental Services told about 30 attending the demonstration.

"I'm very pleased Glengarry County if so well serviced," she added.

Karen Paavila, founder and supervisor of the Day Away program, said the van service is something that will be much appreciated.

"We have so many seniors in Glengarry County, they really do need a lot of help," she said, prior to giving a demonstration on how to help people in and out of the van.

Speaking to the volunteers, she congratulated them for volunteering as drivers for the van, and said that providing the service will even benefit the younger volunteers because they will be assured of the same service in the future.

She had one key message for volunteers in helping partially disabled users get in and out of the van. "Don't do anything you're not sure of. If you are unsure of the situation, let your program co-ordinator know."

She added, that the volunteers will be more at ease helping the elderly with practice. "After the first couple of times, you will find it will go quite smoothly."

Alexandria Police Chief Paul Deveau, it will take a while for many of the volunteers to become accustomed of driving the van, especially if they never have driven a large vehicle.

"You're in for a treat when you get into a van," he told the volunteers.

He said they will find driving the van the same as the first time they learned to drive. "Every bit of driving that car was a conscious effort, none of it was automatic."

He said the drivers will sit four to five feet higher than they are accustomed to while in the van and the vehicle will be much wider and longer as well.

"It's going to be a completely different experience."

But as they continue to use the van, their actions will come naturally, he told the volunteers.

"These things will all come together.It will just be a matter of practice."

It was suggested by volunteers that flashing lights be acquired to warn traffic when the van is stopping to drop off a passenger, but Deveau warned the lights could be a potential hazard.

He said it could be dangerous for drivers to place their trust in the flashing lights to stop traffic. The only public transportation vehicle traffic must stop for when its lights are flashing, according to provincial law, is the school bus.

Reform support continues to grow despite lack of membership selling

By Greg Kielec
News editor

The Reform party is growing in the federal riding of Glengarry-Prescott-Russell. Copies of the party's information papers are being translated at head office in Calgary, to be shipped to Eastern Ontario and Quebec for politically dissatisfied francophones.

The number of members has slowly increased to 110, double the number at the constituency association's first full-fledged meeting in the spring. And according to members, they have not even started to actively solicit memberships.

As it inches closer to the next federal election and as the party profile raises, the membership will continue to increase, and members of the riding association will be focusing on the task at hand — raising funds and finding a candidate to run in the riding.

The constituency association will be meeting in Casselman Oct. 17 to ratify its constitution and soon will be kicking its membership campaign into gear in preparation for the next federal election.

The riding constituency won't be starting its search for a candidate until January, but it already has a rough game plan.

It wants to avoid a direct confrontation with the riding's incumbent MP Don Boudria, hoping instead to capitalize on voter dissatisfaction with the federal Tory party.

Taking on incumbent MP Don Boudria head on, on issues pertaining to the riding could be tantamount to political suicide, they concede.

But for now, party members are content to talk about the party's plans for a better Canada, how their party is the one needed to get the country back into order, how they would have politicians with integrity.

Sipping orange juice, relaxing in a comfortable, homey sitting room overlooking an intricately landscaped back lawn, two local Reform party members talk about a political party with vision — for itself and for the country.

Riding Constituency President Ross Shorthill, and Director Sam McCracken, admit that whoever the party chooses for candidate, it will be near-impossible for that person to unseat the popular Liberal MP.

"He has maintained a credible profile and he has done a good job," Shorthill said in an interview at McCracken's home Saturday morning in Glen Sandfield, northeast of Alexandria.

But they add, the Reform party has gained credibility as well. No longer is it being dismissed by critics as a fringe party.

In fact, Shorthill and McCracken claim, governments are even stealing planks from the Reform party platform to beef up their defense against the growing political movement.

"It's not being considered a fringe party when the planks are being integrated into existing government parties," Shorthill said.

He said there is a set process a party goes through when it is formed; first it is ignored, if it does not "go away" it is then criticized, and if it passes that hurdle its policies begin to be copied.

"We're already in step three, I think we've gone beyond the fringe," McCracken, an area businessman and retired military pilot said.

The task ahead will be a learning experience for the political rookies, hoping to capitalize on a restless voting population disenchanted with the government offered by the present mainstream parties.

"It's all new to me. I've never been involved in an election," Shorthill concedes frankly.

Shorthill said the association's main objection is to get a member into the federal parliament. But he added, that will be a "formidable" task.

"What we really would like to do is offer an incredible alternative."

The two take great pride in the fact the federal goverment's most recent constituational package proposes an elected senate be created, something that the Reform party has pushed for years.

It is something that governments have fought against for years. The government has realized it cannot fight it anymore, McCracken said.

"The Reform party is already starting to have its affect in Canada," he said.

He added, the federal government is moving closer to becoming a constituent assembly than it thinks. That is a step for the better, but also a step which the Reform party would rather have the distinction of taking for Canadians.

"We have to let the people decide what kind of a country they think we should have," said McCracken, quoting national party leader Preston Manning.

"It's the difference between the top down and the bottom up approach."

The two dismiss claims that the party is racist and anti-French. They say anyone who reads the party's policy will quickly realize that, adding that the majority of their association executive is bilingual.

In fact, the party is even hoping to expand into Quebec, to tap into the disenchantment felt by federalists there upset with the Tory government.

"There is an interest over there," McCracken said. "There's no question about that. How it's going to translate, I don't know yet."

But the party is against government funding for culture, and it believes Quebec should decide its future on its own and if it wants to leave Canada, the whole country be given a say in the matter through referendum.

They also add that the Reform party is a "grass roots" movement, and is a party of principle. It has not changed its policies, despite the criticisms it has received since becoming a national party, McCracken said.

"We have not changed to meet the climate. We have not been a weather vane."

Apple Hill store robbed of five cartons of cigarettes

About $200 worth of cigarettes were robbed from an Apple Hill shop during a break-and-enter early Monday morning.

Ontario Provincial Police Const. Donald Dell said two men broke in the Apple Hill Mini Mart at around five a.m. Monday. They were chased away by the store owner, but got away with five cartons of cigarettes.

No arrests were made and there are no suspects.

Man charged

One man was charged Saturday for not signalling a left-turn in connection with a three-car accident in Lancaster.

Police briefs

No one was hurt in the accident, said Const. Gilles Ruest of the Lancaster Ontario Provincial Police detachment.

Two of the cars were severely damaged.

Ruest said Malcom Cummings, 35, of Williamstown was driving his 1984 Buick south on Highway 34 near County Road 18 at around 3:30 p.m. Saturday. He turned into the next lane where Bruno Belanger, 61, of North Lancaster, was driving north with his 1989 Ford Pickup.

Cummings tried to veer away, but crashed with the Belanger's truck and hit the side a 1991 Ford TGL which Jessie Renwick, 71, of Vankleek Hill, was driving directly behind Cummings.

Both the Buick and the pickup were severely damaged, while Renwick's vehicle was moderately damaged.

Fender bender

A two vehicle accident Monday afternoon in front of La Caisse Populaire d'Alexandria resulted in damage to two vehicles.

Alan Blondin, 64, was driving his 1991 Honda station-wagon out of the bank's parking lot onto Main Street South, and was hit by a 1987 Chevrolet Celebrity driven by Andre Major, 32.

No one suffered injuries and no charges were laid.

Police cracking down

Police officers are cracking down on seat belt violators.

The Alexandria police department has joined forces with the Ontario Provincial Police in Maxville for the OPP's seat belt campaign.

The life-saving benefits of wearing seat belts while driving will be promoted as police issue $78 tickets to violators.

Alexandria firm on renaming of piece of Main

Alexandria council has decided to stick with the controversial renaming of a portion of Main Street, despite protests that the new name ignores the historic aspect of the street.

Council decided to rename a southern offshoot of Main Street to Tobin Street, after being presented a petition by street resident Carmen Leger, signed by a number of residents favoring the name change.

The street was named in memory of Murray Tobin, who Leger said was a popular street resident who was remembered mainly for building a winter slide for area children.

But while the name change pleased the street residents, it was not well appreciated by other town and area residents.

A number of council members said at last Tuesday's meeting that they received complaints about council's decision to name the road Tobin Street instead of the previously decided Old Military Road.

Reeve John Cormier said he was approached by a few people who complained council did not do its homework on the issue. And he said in the future, council should probe further into such issues before making a decision.

But he added, the proposed name changing had been detailed in the newspaper numerous times previous and people had ample opportunity to voice their opinions before council made its decision.

Councillor Fern Seguin agreed. "Possibly at the last meeting, maybe we went into it a little too fast."

Angus H. McDonell, a member of the Glengarry Historical Society, said in a letter to council last Tuesday that he has received several calls from people voicing opposition to the name change. "In fact some were uncomplimentary and irate."

He added: "As a longtime defendant of Alexandria and Glengarry heritage, I too was shocked."

He said that council did not make an informed decision when it overturned its decision to name the street Old Military Road.

"I am under the impression that you were not presented beforehand with documentary evidence that this name change should not be endorsed for historic and heritage reasons.

"Like many dissenters, I didn't take the proposal seriously due to the thought that you wouldn't make such a name change decision that would tarnish the cherished records of pioneer residents of the Military Road section of Alexandria's Main Street south end," he went on to say in the brief letter.

He said he would appreciate the opportunity to present records to council verifying the name Military Road should be retained. If that is not favorable, he suggested the name be changed to Cameron Crescent, in memory

Charlottenburgh votes to retain McNeely for clean-up

A trip to Charlottenburgh council's regular meeting, Sept. 10, paid off for representatives of the firm of McNeely Engineering Ltd.

Following a presentation by consultant Maurice Leger, council voted unanimously to retain McNeely to seek funding from the Ministry of the Environment (MOE) for a project to clean up wells and septic systems in Martintown.

Leger told council that water samples taken in the hamlet in 1990 and again in 1991 showed that 33 per cent of the wells had drinking water that was "unsafe." Eleven per cent were "doubtful," while five per cent could be considered safe.

33 per cent of wells considered 'unsafe'

The consultant explained that with such figures, application could be made to the Project Priority Evaluation Committee (PPEC) of the MOE, which could fund 85 per cent of the costs of the project, if it is approved.

The McNeely proposal to Charlottenburgh was that the firm would not charge the township to prepare its application for funding. If the project is approved, the MOE would prepare the terms of reference to which McNeely as the consultant, would be bound.

Leger indicated a private services study, to determine whether or not individual corrections of the wells would be feasible, would take in the neighborhood of a year to complete.

If individual corrections were not possible, then the study would be aborted and steps would have to be taken for the design and construction, (subject to MOE approval), of a facility which could take up to seven years to complete.

In asking for the patronage of the township, Leger told council, "The township of Charlottenburgh is a major client of ours. We want your business. We want to continue our relationship."

Council decided to appoint McNeely to prepare the necessary documents and reports to support its application for funding to the MOE.

In defending the decision of a direct appointment over the tendering process, Reeve Carol-Ann Ross said that such a method was becoming quite common.

"The MOE prefers it," said Ross. "Direct appointment expedites matters."

Councillor Don Kannon agreed that time was important.

"With whatever is in the ground now, it can only get worse," he said.

Court report

Alexandria man jailed for sex assault

An Alexandria man was sentenced to a year in prison on Monday for sexually assaulting and forcibly confining a woman, and for assaulting her boyfriend.

Serge Deguire, 26, was charged in January by the Alexandria police. He was sentenced at Cornwall District Court.

Judge Jean Forget also sentenced Deguire to three years probation beginning when his prison term ends.

The following are among the cases heard by Judge Rommel Masse in Alexandria provincial court on Thursday, Sept. 26.

Gloucester man placed on probation

A Gloucester man was been fined $300 and placed on four months probation for writing a bad cheque.

Joe L. Scott, 44, wrote a non-sufficient funds cheque in the amount of $135.40 to purchase dog food from a Charlottenburgh business.

In addition to the fine and the probation, Scott was ordered to pay restitution to the business in the amount of the purchase.

Man loses licence

A Chesterville man has been fined $400 and has had his driving privileges suspended for one year after pleading guilty to drunk driving.

William Wickholm, 32, was arrested on Aug. 31 at the Cameron's Point campsite. Breathalyser tests showed identical readings of 120 milligrams of alcohol per 100 millilitres of blood.

Judge Rommel Masse said he was imposing a smaller than normal fine to reflect the relatively low readings and Wickholm's limited ability to pay a larger fine.

Make waves over Global transmitter

The application by the Global Television Network to extend transmission facilities to viewers here is the least of the concerns of an area preoccupied with economic survival, let alone enhanced television viewing. Still, while TV owners have the opportunity, they should consider a note to the Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC), if only to remind themselves and others that it is the public, not the networks, which owns the space over which television waves must travel.

On the face of it, Global's move to set up a transmission tower in the Maxville area, and opening up its programing to rural residents here, is positive. These same residents, unlikely ever to receive cable, have historically had to put up with limited numbers of stations, uncertain reception, and a heavy dose of American network fare.

Global watchers here would still receive the American programming they're watching on American networks, but the Canadian carrier is subject to Canadian content regulations. As well, if Global is to be successful in its application, it will have to convince the CRTC that there will be some local programming, shows that feature people, places and events from here and elsewhere in Eastern Ontario. Other examples of these already being delivered by CBC and CTV, largely thanks to CRTC regulations, include Valley Farmer, Regional Contact, the popular Wayne Rostad series and others to name a few.

Viewers here have a very definite role in ensuring Global will deliver programming of this type, and not merely extending its existing Toronto-oriented programming (which is more American than Canadian in an aggressive Toronto media market). That's what the CRTC hearings are all about — to judge whether Global can use the public's airspace for profit, without having to deliver programs that can enhance and promote local culture.

Still, for any casual TV couch potato, Global's addition to Glengarry's airwaves is simply one more station. Given the fact that TV viewing is the number one activity here and anywhere else across North America and most of the world, it's difficult to see how Global can do anything but improve the enjoyment of that activity. It has an array of programs, perhaps one of the best sports anchor packages on the airwaves and seems to satisfy the glutinous appetite their present viewers have for American shows.

So it's obvious there's two very definite sides to Global's coin, and the CRTC hearings are one of those rare opportunities for viewers to exercise control over what they want to see, and it shouldn't be ignored or squandered. And if you favor Global's application, it will need all the support it can muster. If not, your representation will help block it.

Either way, the hearing is scheduled for Nov. 5, 1991. You can write a letter to the Secretary General of the CRTC (cite Global's application #911283000) and state clearly whether you are for or against the Maxville transmitter, and your reasons if you wish. It's advised that you make a copy of the letter, send it by registered mail to Global, 81 Barber Green Road, Don Mills, Ont. M3C-2A2. The original goes to the CRTC Secretary General, One Promenade du Portage, Hull, Quebec K1A-0N2. For the intervention to be admissable, it has to reach the CRTC by Oct. 15.

PSAC has a point, but who else agrees?

What is it that has prompted normally-passive civil servants to storm barricades, yell obscenities at colleagues crossing the picket lines and threaten to defy back-to-work legislation?

The answer doesn't translate to greed, bearing in mind the following: wage increases for Public Service Alliance employees have been cut steadily for eight years, with the highest increase in those years held to four per cent when inflation soared. And with a zero, three and three per cent increase over the next three years, with a government hiking salaries of MPs nine per cent and awarding bonuses to managers, there is room for sympathy for the cause of the workers — at least the lower paid ones.

That being the case, as we watch the government going through the processes of back-to-work legislation, signalling another failure in collective bargaining, where is PSAC's public support?

At least in times like these, we know where it's not. Unfortunately for PSAC, it won't be found at the end of unprecedented unemployment insurance line-ups, stalled because the clerk is out picketing.

Can our economic leadership woes sink any further?

And we think we've got troubles

After Thoughts

Joe Banks

There are a lot of troubled people walking around this country these days, some angry, some anxious and many more that are just plain sad. They are doing so much thinking, and by that process, worrying, about the country, that they really aren't spending much time thinking and worrying about much else, or even those less fortunate than themselves.

The constitutional reform package unveiled last week by Joe Clark seems not to have calmed the land the way it was intended to, but it's still early in the game. I'm one of the few people I know who have actually read the highlights of it, and I haven't seen anything — including the "distinct society" clause — that rubs me the wrong way. I have been a closet fan of a partially decentralized Canada for a long time, this being the only way the 26 million people or so flung across this ridiculously monstrous country realistically can relate to the people around them and the geography they possess. There are some concerns, like the possibility of the dismantling of national agencies that promote and preserve our myriad of culture and a healthy environment, but, like Quebec's premier, I like what I see so far.

This was one of the topics of conversation around the dinner table Friday night, at the annual Glengarry dinner of Child Haven at the curling club in Alexandria. Yet, for all of the hand-wringing, there was a surrealism to it; among our discussions about the future of an already privileged country, with the roast beef digesting, we were gathering to acknowledge the work of the Glengarry Child Haven support group, one that in its own modest way, goes beyond saving countries. It does something much more tangible; it keeps young Indian children alive.

That's really the singular purpose of Child Haven International, the love of Fred and Bonnie Cappuccino of Maxville, people who have become benevolent folkheroes for their caring and hard work. And the irony of the evening, I'm sure was not lost on many of us, including Mr. Himachal Som, deputy high commissioner for India in Canada; with that singular, ambitious goal, our own problems of keeping a blessed country together were perhaps not as onerous as we'd been believing all along.

In the ghettos and slums of India's most volumnous cities, children disappear fairly routinely. Their parents, too overburdened with the rigors of raising the other children, have little recourse when it happens, so over-taxed the social nets and law enforcement agencies are. Many of the children will either raise themselves on the streets, or become child-slaves, often sold on the black market. In a country of overwhelming millions where humanity surges through streets too crowded to hold them, missing children are easily engulfed.

Child Haven, with its shelter programs supported by volunteers, tries to make a difference. Fred and Bonnie Cappuccino are the first to admit it may be a very small difference, but they hope the seed will take root, and that their quiet intentions soon become big-scale deeds.

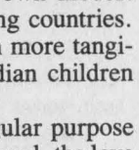
By providing donated, supervised shelter and steady meals among the most impoverished cities of India, for the most needy in that society — the children — Child Haven inspires others to think in a like-minded way. That's where its potential is, in that example to others, that caring is a worthwhile venture where rewards reap benefits greater than any others offered in the material world.

Perhaps as Canadians watch the fate of their country unfold in the months to come, that message will spread, especially if we seem determined to fritter away a very privileged place in the world.

Ratepayers need government access

News to me

Greg Kielec



This year's Local Government Week is Sept. 30 to Oct. 5. And it is the perfect opportunity for area residents to learn more about how their local government is run.

Being an election year, people should put even more effort into learning what their government does for them. And according to a provincial government press release, now is the perfect time to determine how your tax money is being spent, how local government services are delivered or what the future holds for your community.

But how can that be done? Can taxpayers find out everything their local governments are doing just by attending a meeting or stopping by at the local office?

Just how responsive are our local governments to ratepayers' needs? And just how easily can access by obtained?

The Ontario Ministry of Municipal Affairs stresses how important it is for ratepayers to learn about their local government. But unfortunately, the ministry's dedication to more open and accessible local government only goes as far as the writing on the pamphlets, brochures, posters and press releases.

In the press release, the ministry is even thoughtful enough to suggest story ideas, such as how people can affect the decision making process in local government.

It sounds good on paper. But unfortunately, the ministry does not either know or care that all of Alexandria council's committee meetings, the time at which most decisions for council are made, are closed to the public and media.

The province also must not know that all the board meetings for another important public institution in Alexandria are closed to the public, even though members of the board are taken from the public at large. That government body is the Glengarry Memorial Hospital board.

The province also does not know or care that another vital Alexandria organization, the Alexandria Non-Profit Housing Corporation, which spends thousands of dollars overseeing low income and seniors housing in the town, has all its meetings behind closed doors, out of the eye of the public.

Alexandria council, Glengarry Memorial Hospital, and the Alexandria Non-Profit Housing Corporation all have one thing in common — they are all funded with our tax dollars. That is about as far as the general public involvement goes.

So when all the Municipal Government Week rhetoric is said, and when the province's share of evangelization promoting public involvement in local government is done, will anything have changed? Likely not.

Glengarry residents will still be unable to see what health care decisions are being made to utilize their tax dollars at the Glengarry Memorial Hospital board.

The thousands of dollars spent by the Alexandria Non-Profit Housing Corporation will just be tax money spent by another quasi-government body, with no input at all from ratepayers other than the few elected to the board.

And decsions and proposals will still come to the Alexandria council table from somewhere deep within the recesses of the local government process, far out of the public's view.

The province is correct in urging ratepayers to get involved in their local government process. But it is incorrect in implying that better local government can be provided simply through more involvement from the community.

The best thing area residents can do this Local Government Week is to sit down and think of ways their local government can become more open and responsive to them, write them down on a piece of paper, and send it to the provincial government.

The exercise will give area taxpayers a chance to see just how serious the province is about increased involvement in local government. Whether the politicians are willing to follow the rhetoric with action remains to be seen.

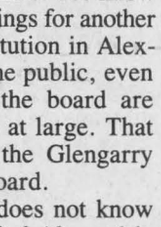
That's Life

Lesley Cadham



Life's funny.

One minute you're flipping through the TV Guide trying to decide whether to watch Sunday Night at the Movies or one of the many season debuts, and the next minute you're lying on an operating table being told by an anesthesiologist to take a deep breath, that this won't hurt a bit.

But it always hurts. In fact, you've got to brace yourself for the pain of hellfire itself when they tell you "it may hurt a little." And when they tell you straight out that what they are about to do will be uncomfortable, you do what any normal person would: You roll off the table and run for your life.

I still haven't figured out which is the lesser of the two evils: the affliction or the cure and its many forms.

But there I lay, on a cold steel table listening to a witty anesthesiologist tell me it wouldn't hurt, and wondering what it would have been like to spend a quiet evening at home with a Coke and the television remote control in hand, like I'd planned.

Alexandria's heritage ignored

In the Glens

Angus McDonell

Alexandria town council has just discarded the historic name of "Military Road" that at one time was the town's southern border as it was considered confusing to people looking for Main Street residents. It was suggested by Councillor Fern Seguin that the name "Cameron" could be a suitable name replacement in memory of a pioneer distinguished citizen, Mr. Cameron, who built the home the Tobins occupied in the 1950s. That, too, was defeated in favor of Tobin Street petitioned by citizen Carmen Leger. Her plea to name the street Tobin was made to honor the late Morley Tobin who is remembered by residents for erecting one winter a large slide for children in the area.

Now folks, especially those of you who stand up to be counted against any changes in the historic heritage of Alexandria and Glengarry, we will relate the saga of the Cameron family history to be compared with Morley Tobin building a toboggan slide one winter down the hill to the pond on what is now Park Street.

Alexander Cameron was popularly known as "Sandy" Cameron throughout his life. His property was located west side Military Road opposite the Central cheese factory.

Sandy Cameron was a building contractor and among his master carpenters was Isaac Boisvenue, father of Donat and Rene Boisvenue widely known Alexandria skilled carpenters who followed in their father's footsteps.

Sandy Cameron built his own home. Drive by and note the difference in the shade and size of the bricks that he made in his own shop as compared with the Vankleek Hill bricks of that longgone era.

Sandy Cameron married Anna "Sandy Angus" McDonell of historic Lake Shore, east end, Loch Garry Lake. They were blessed with five children: Rita, John, Angus, Isabell and Vincent. They lived in the home Sandy Cameron built and despite his contracting business and family responsibilities he found time to serve Alexandria in civic affairs.

Following successful local enterprises, Sandy Cameron's construction creditability enhanced his reputation hence he was assigned by the Bishop of Alexandria Diocese in 1912 to erect a new church across the road from the Greenfield parish chapel. The church was named St. Catherine of Sienna.

Sandy Cameron's efficient skills and architecture knowledge led to his further contracts with the Bishop to build the Greenfield parish rectory beside the church and then move on to Maxville and build the parish church named St. James.

Having built two churches and a rectory, Sandy Cameron continued in major construction by being awarded the contract to build an additional wing to the Ontario Hospital in Brockville. (At this point, folks, compare the foregoing achievements to building a toboggan slide on what is now Park Street in Alexandria.)

Midway through the Brockville Hospital contract, Sandy Cameron was stricken by cancer. Not only was he crippled physically but also his absence from supervising the construction contract led to financial failure and subsequently death.

But Sandy Cameron's name and heritage lived on. Enriched by the success of his children in their chosen lifework and music, the latter Sandy Cameron's favorite way of relaxing at home with his family.

Eldest daughter Rita, in her nursing career maintained her aptitude as a pianist. John, with Ford Motors, continued his fondness of violin music and he was a popular entertainer at Glengarry social gatherings in Detroit. Angus was a piper and among the members of the reorganized Glengarry Pipe Band by Pipe Major Angus D. (Angus Katie) McDonald, a feature of 1931 Saturday night box lacrosse games at Chisholm Park, now Alexandria town offices.

Isabell and Vincent, "Vince," were popular members of the Reader wants relative info

To the editor:

I am looking for anyone who may have information about my mother and her brothers and my grandparents.

My grandfather was Francis James Lascelle, born in East Hawkesbury in 1875. My grandmother was Margaret Maggie MacKinnon, born in Kenyon Township in 1865. They were married Dec. 28, 1897 in Vankleek Hill.

My mother is Catherine Harriet Lascelle, born June 1901 at St.Alexander Church in Lochiel. Brothers are John Joseph Lascelle, born April, 1904 and Daniel John Lascelle, born June, 1906.

I have been told that they moved away from Alexandria in about 1914 to a place called Markstay, near Sudbury, Ont.

Takeover of MOW welcome news

To the editor:

I would like to correct two inaccurate statements that appeared in the September 25, 1991 edition of The Glengarry News. Both concern Meals on Wheels. In paragraph two of the first editorial on page 4, you state: "In fact, a lack of volunteer help is what led to the Alexandria program's demise last February, after a short three-month run." On page three, under the heading "Alexandria Meals on Wheels is on the road again," you further state: "After Glengarry Outreach services ceased operation of its Alexandria Meals on Wheels program . . ."

To correct the first cited statement, the initial Meals on Wheels program ran for six years, not three months. As for the second correction, the original Meals on Wheels program was never operated by Glengarry Outreach Services, nor by any other organization.

In 1985, two concerned citizens saw a need for a Meals on Wheels program in Alexandria. With an initial financial contribution from the Alexandria Lions Club to buy equipment; with the constant co-operation of the Glengarry Memorial Hospital, in particular its Dietary Supervisor; with the loyal services of several dedicated volunteers (they were never paid for their gas or their time!), tasty, nourishing meals were delivered twice a week, for six years, to those who needed them.

In February 1991, for a variety of valid reasons, the program was temporarily discontinued. It has now been re-instated, with some changes, by Glengarry Outreach Services. This is most welcome news to all concerned, and they are wished every success in this undertaking.

SD&G Separate School Board commended

Editor's note: The following letter was sent to the SD&G separate school board commending it for mandating purchasing forward control buses.

To all concerned:

This is a letter to thank the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Roman Catholic School Board for your ability to see the future and to act on it.

We were overjoyed to hear of your decision to mandate the purchase of forward control buses in your district.

As far as we know, yours is the first school board to take this stand and you are to be commended for your concern for safety and your foresight.

Since our daughter's death last January we have been trying to achieve the same result as you. Hopefully your wise choice will help other school boards take the same position to ensure the utmost safety for our precious future.

Our heartfelt thanks and eternal gratitude are yours.

Life only grants us so many tomorrows

Surely it would have been more pleasant, if not less frightening, and I wouldn't have been noticing with embarrassment that I'd forgotten to wash a smudge of soot off my foot from earlier in the day.

I wouldn't have been lying there wishing I had done things I'd been meaning to do, like calling back a good friend, or patching up a disagreement with a best pal, or visiting my dad, or getting my files organized.

It doesn't matter that your better senses tell you you'll live through the surgical procedure and that the form they made you sign absolving themselves of any responsibility in the event of your death was only a formality; the possibility of death still looms like a dark shadow in your mind.

"I have to make a phone call," I told the nurse preparing me for surgery. She looked surprised if not a little annoyed and refused to let me leave the room.

There was a phone call I really wanted to make, but it was too late. For now anyway. I shouldn't have waited so long.

I should have spent a weekend at a ski resort, sitting by a fire and sipping hot rum like I'd always dreamed of doing. I should have worked harder on the book I wanted to write. I should have been a better friend. I should have . . .

I awoke ordering unseen people to stop the surgery, that I wasn't asleep yet. But an omnipresent pain told me it was already over, and a nurse was asking me how I felt.

"Let's go shopping," I said. When they told me to move myself from the stretcher back onto my bed, I retorted, "Surely you jest."

They weren't jesting, they replied, and I'd better get moving before I fossilized right where I lay. I moved.

I knew I'd made it.

Sometime in the haze of the next day, I vaguely remembered an old friend's favorite motto: "Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow. And never do tomorrow what can be put off until the day after."

Sometimes there are no tomorrows. Sometimes, we run out of them. We only get so many to play around with.

A few years ago, I wrote a column about a little story called "The Station," in which someone was always waiting for that big day that would make them happy. But the day comes and goes, and they await yet the next grand event that will surely bring happiness.

They have failed to see that the most precious moments, the ones that held most promise of happiness, were those that were happening while they were waiting. And they missed them.

We mustn't wait.

We must, within our realm of feasibility, do the things we've been meaning to do. Now.

Heritage ignored

younger fry. "Vince" at the piano or with an accordian, rated among the all-time great Glengarry musicians, so much so that Father John McPhail would spend an hour or two alone with "Vince" practising with his violin before a St. Andrew's concert or similar entertainment.

Vince Cameron progressed from the local Massey-Harris dealer to Eastern Ontario-Western Quebec sales manager and later in the Maritime provinces with headquarters in Moncton.

That move to Moncton closed the Sandy Cameron home. But not the end of family tradition. Angus Cameron's third generation son, Ian Cameron, with his father's pipes became a piper and was the founder of the Harriet MacKinnon Book store, Main Street.

By refusing to continue the heritage name Cameron, town council exhibited another classical example of the "Johnny Come Latelys" who don't know Glengarry and Alexandria heritage history and refuse to listen to authentic facts.

FENEXPERT turned the DUOLOK™ energy glass option into a wholehearted adoption.

It's now official. Fenexpert has made Duolok™ Energy Glass part of the family as an essential component in all of our factory-sealed, double-pane windows. The new kid on the block uses low-emissivity glass and inert argon gas as an insulator barrier between the panes to deliver the kind of proven, double-barrelled energy savings that really do make a difference.
Fenexpert is proud to be the first to adopt the Duolok™ process – lock, stock and barrel. You'll get the benefits of Duolok™ Energy Glass in every Fenexpert factory-sealed, double-pane window we make... and at no extra cost to you.
Fenexpert's Duolok™ Energy Glass. It's just like one of the family now.

Art group gets great weather

Glen Norman
Audry Cober
525-1266

It was a pleasure to go driving through the Glen this weekend. The trees are in full color and really beautiful.

Lodge News

Last Tuesday Sept. 24, six art class students and their teacher Winnie Williams ventured out on a trip to take a few scenic pictures.

The group met at the Lodge at 10 a.m. and drove to Hawkesbury. After a brief stop at the mall, they enjoyed a nice dinner. Gifts were presented to Winnie Williams in appreciation of the many hours she spent guiding paint brushes in the right direction. Muriel Moore was also presented with a gift for the weekly use of the painting room at the Davidson Moore Lodge.

Short stops were made along the way through Grenville, Quebec and up to the Laurentians to enjoy the fall colors. Muriel Moore, having lived in Kilmar (a mining district) for 20 years, pointed out various places of interest, such as churches, schools and townsites, former lodgings and lakes, en route to Harrington, Bell Falls, Avoca Pointe-Aux-Chenes, Calumet. They arrived home around 4 p.m.

Everyone enjoyed the outing and hopefully captured some interesting pictures on film for next year's paintings.

North Lancaster news
News from Ecole Ste-Thérèse

On Tuesday, Sept. 26, the school staff gathered for a buffet lunch at Ecole Ste-Thérèse to welcome Father David Ostler and bid farewell to Mme. Pierrette Rose, who has been the school secretary for the past 15 years.

Words of thanks and praise along with good wishes were expressed by the staff who offered Mme. Rose a flower arrangement as a token of their appreciation.

Mme. Rose then toured the classrooms accompanied by principal Jean Pierre Bourdeau, where she was presented with original and touching cards of thanks, which had been hand drawn and signed by the pupils.

Due to a re-organization of secretarial staff alloted to schools in the French section of the Board, Mme. Rose has opted to remain as secretary at Ecole St. Joseph, Lancaster, which has been her base school for the past 21 years. Good luck and many thanks.

On Friday, Sept. 27 Father Ostler gathered the pupils in the school gymnasium for a short ceremony entitled New Beginning, A New School Year. Prayer centred on the theme: Let us be thankful for the many talents of our leaders in education in our community and in our students.

On Tuesday, Oct. 1, Father Ostler will be visiting the classroom in order to meet the students on a more informal basis. A mass of Thanksgiving will be celebrated on Thursday, Oct. 10 in St. Margaret of Scotland Church in Glen Nevis.

Pupils in Grades 7 and 8 are busy collecting articles and interviews for the first edition of the school newspaper ECHO-NORD which should be published soon.

Here are the students of the month of September: Pre-kindergarten — André Leroux; Grade 1 — Pierre Luc Legros; Grade 2 — Claudia Ravary; Grade 3 — Mathieu Claude; Grade 4 — Caroline Desjardins; Grade 5 — Mélanie Claude; Grade 6 — Eric MacDonell; Grade 7 — Debbie Amstutz; Grade 8 — Donald Roy.

Maxville Meals on Wheels going strong after 17 years

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

It has been another "good year" for the Maxville Meals on Wheels, according to co-ordinator Phylis Bertenshaw.

And it has been another year of good meals for the 40 clients within a 10-mile radius of the village who are benefitting from the service of the program's 80 volunteers.

The program provides meals twice a week to elderly shut-ins who have a difficult time or are unable to cook for themselves. The meals, which include soup, meat, potatoes, vegetables and dessert, cost $2.75 each.

The program received Ministry of Community and Social Service funding in 1988 which allowed it to expand its service to Avonmore, Moose Creek and Apple Hill.

Bertenshaw said the program is successful not only because it delivers hot meals to those who need them, but because it allows volunteers to check-up on meal recipients and gives the recipients a chance to socialize.

Some of the program's volunteers are retirees. Others take time out of work to deliver meals.

Bertenshaw said the volunteers are very dedicated. She cannot remember one instance in which a meal was not delivered, even during winter storms.

Wolf believed to have killed Lochiel farm animals

The recent killing of a goat and chicken in Lochiel Township has a farmer thinking wolf.

Lochiel vegetable and poultry farmer Gwen Whone, 82, said her dog was frantic for days after what is believed to have been a wolf killed her goat and four of her chickens.

A large animal slashed the 100-lb. goat's neck on Monday night, Sept. 23. One chicken was also killed while three others appeared to have been frightened to death.

Whone reported the incident to the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources.

"They're not quite sure if it was a wolf," Whone said. "But it was a big beast. My dog was frantic. It was crying."

Whone's son Grant, 48, said he saw three-inch paw-prints. "To me, it must be a wolf," he said.

Their 100 acre farm is located on First of Lochiel. They own 50 chickens. The goat was used mostly for personal milk consumption.

Conservation officer Bert Van Wout of the Cornwall branch of the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources is investigating the killing. He too believes it was a wolf or a wild dog.

"It certainly was a canine," he said. "The way the goat was killed, the puncture made in the neck, was indicative of a dog or a wolf."

Van Wout saw no signs of the beast being infected with rabies.

He will continue investigating the killing.

According to Van Wout, such attacks are reported from Lochiel about six times a year.

Area seniors' homes boast many new residents

Just for Seniors

By M. L. Monique Keeler

Hello everyone! September is here and looking out the window we can see the leaves changing color. It reminds me of a symphony orchestra readying themselves to enchant us with their beauty.

Everyone at our homes is doing well and cheerfully getting ready for the fall and winter ahead. Routine is the key word here. It's nice to get back to our programs of exercises and to see our volunteers back to their tasks of bingo calling. The St. Finnan's CWL provides us with callers and trust us, we are delighted to have them come back.

We recently had our giant garage sale on the veranda of the Palace and the weather and the response from the community was very good. Thank you to all those who donated times for the sale and who gave us a helping hand. All proceeds go to the seniors' activity fund.

We would like to welcome Alice Jelly to the Villa. Alice originated from Brockville and has lived in Alexandria for some time. She is a wonderful help in all our programs and participates fully into all our activities. She loves to knit and play bingo. She makes a good student and studies hard. Welcome, Alice!

Mrs. Marie Gutierrez is also a newcomer at the Villa. She hails from Montreal and has lived with her daughter in Cornwall prior to moving in with us at the Villa. She loves to play cards, bingo, bowling and crafts. She is friendly and seems to be adapting well to her new surroundings. Welcome Marie, it's great to have you part of our family.

Diane Ouimet has just moved in at the Villa and is also adapting well. She is a cheerful person who is always willing to give a helping hand and takes part in our activities. She was born and raised in Alexandria. She works at ARC industries and attends school daily in a community program. Bienvenue, Diane.

At the Palace, we have two new residents. Mrs. Albertine Seguin is also a native of Alexandria. She has four sons and one daughter. She is a card player and does a fine art work on pillow cases. We're glad to have you with us, Madame.

Hector Duchenes has come to live at the Palace at the beginning of August and is often seen sitting out on the veranda of the Palace. He enjoys visiting and relaxing with the others. He enjoys a good game of cards so we'll have to set him up with a few partners. Welcome and I hope you'll enjoy your stay with us.

This month we have no birthdays but we're still going ahead with a party. We'll use the excuse of celebrating fall. We enjoy our times together with music playing and a bit of dancing. Last month, August we had eight birthdays: Brian Laflamme, Mrs. John St. Germain, Mrs. Marie Gutierrez, Mrs. Alma Trottier, William Roussin, Mrs. Kate Hutchinson, Alice Jelly, Mrs. Ethel MacDonell. Happy birthday was had by all!

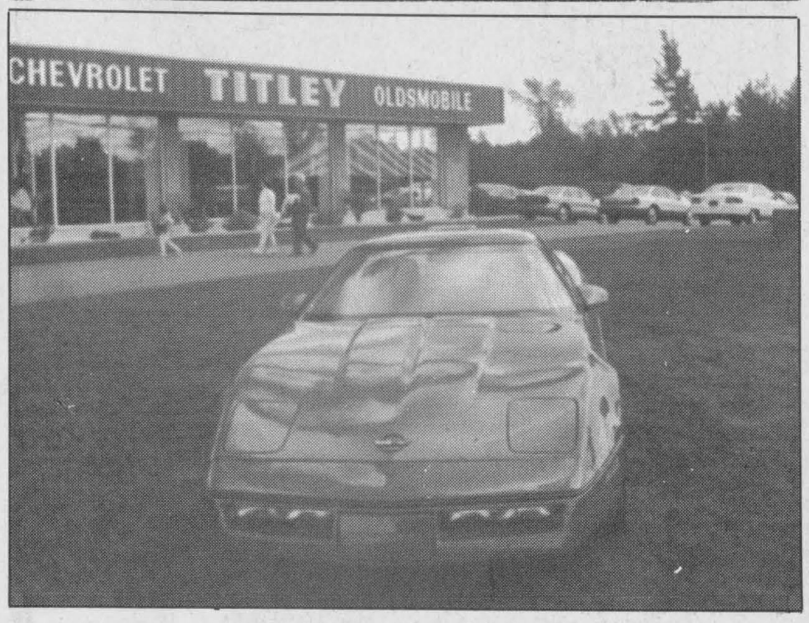
Our cooking class made apple muffins and everyone enjoyed them with tea afterwards. The class consists of eight people and the tea party served 15 people. We call our group Resident's Choice.

Crafts class is always a fun time. This week the residents made a wee farmer's wife out of J-cloths. These are trimmed and then a magnetic strip is glued on the gack to decorate a fridge or a metal cabinet.

Our coffee group gathered at La Tulippe Restaurant recently for coffee and muffins. This group enjoys trivia questions and we had many good ones to ponder. Example, in the cake category: a squirrel's cake — answer — nut cake. In the flower category: worn in the hair at a wedding — answer — Bridal Wreath. This club has seven members and we have loads of fun.

Our bowlers and sandbag players are striving to keep their average and although, we may go off some week, usually the next week we're back to our usual. We usually bowl to the music of the fiddlers but recently, we had some good Irish tunes and some Irish humor on tape. Quite entertaining!

It's also time to put or garden tools away and clean up the garden plot. We'll have it nice and ready for spring 1992 . . .



New in '92

New 1992 cars were not the only highlight at Roy's Pontiac Buick Cadillac Inc. in Green Valley Thursday night. The show also featured performances by popular country music singer and television personality Wayne Rostad, pictured top. The tent at Roy's was packed for Rostad's trademark performances, and as usual, Rostad did his best to get acquainted with the crowd and get it involved in the musical celebration. Pictured below, crowds at Titley Chevrolet Oldsmobile Inc. in Alexandria, had a chance to view a rare 1991 Corvette ZR1 high performance coupe as well as view the new line of Chevs and Olds at the dealership Sept. 20.

New flea market opens in area

By Andre Perrella
News* reporter

Owners of a new flea market in St. Isidore de Prescott hope to attract local residents who cross border shop in the United States and Quebecers who drive into Ontario for lower gas prices.

"We need a flea market in this area," said Normand Denis, the president and founder of 417 Marche au Peuce. "We have space and we want to offer prices as good as in the United States."

Vendors will sell everything from fruits and vegetables to leather shoes and designer clothing. Denis said he does not yet know exact prices except those at the foodstand his company runs.

"We're selling hotdogs for one dollar a piece, coffee for fifty cents, pop for 75 cents," he said.

Proprietors hope low prices will lure in business from bargain hunters and cross border shoppers.

"Everyone goes to the United States," co-proprietor Bernard Villeneuve said. "We could keep them here and they could spend their money in Canada."

Owners are also targeting Quebecers who drive by looking for cheap gas prices.

'Quebecers stop by St. Isidore," Villeneuve said. "As long as they're here, they might as well stop by the flea market and buy things."

The flea market consists of two buildings located off Exit 51 of Highway 417. It is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every weekend as of this Saturday.

It took two months and about $700,000 to prepare. Most of the money was spent on a new 2,200 square meter building.

About three-quarters of the 175 indoor and 200 outdoor vending spots have been rented out for about $280 each.

Other than individual vendors, the flea market will employ about 20 people.

Proprietors are planning a grand opening for the middle of November. Local celebrities, media personalities and politicians will be invited.

The owner of a new flea market in St. Isidore is hoping for big things with his venture, including taking back some of the business that has been lost to cross-border shopping. Pictured above, Don Boudria, Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP, and Noble Villeneuve, MPP for Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville help open the new business with a ribbon cutting recently.

Ste. Marie's church is again offering daycare services during mass on Sundays. This year the daycare will be held at 9 a.m., at the same time as the children's catechism is being held.

This is a good opportunity for families to come to church — older children can attend catechism while the younger ones can be babysat by two teenagers and two adults.

The 11 a.m. mass will have the choir singing and Deanna Poirier will again play the organ.

Trudy Flemming is extremely pleased to announce the arrival of her sixth grandchild and fourth granddaughter on Sept. 11, 1991, weighing 7 lbs. 10 ozs. at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. She joins her cousins — Tanya, Christopher, Eleni, Danica and her brother Andrew. Parents Cathy and Philippe are doing well.

Saturday, Sept. 28 was hazardous waste collection day for residents of Charlottenburgh Township.

Despite a rainy, cool day many Green Vallians brought their hazardous wastes, such as motor oil, solvents, paint, batteries, etc. to the Glen Walter fire station to be disposed of and/or recycled by Chem-Tech Co. In.

Thanks is sent out to the public liaison committee of Charlottenburgh and to all volunteers who helped out for such a good cause.

Green Valley parishioners Aline and Bruno Lalonde have returned from yet another trip recently. The couples, along with 42 people from around Quebec, flew from Dorval to Los Angeles where they began a bus tour which went more than 3,000 miles.

The trip was conducted by a wonderful, fun-loving guide, Louise Fortin, who knew all the ins and outs of the tour.

The tour included places such as Disneyland, Sonvang, San Francisco, Las Vegas, the Grand Canyon, Tiguana in Mexico and San Diego.

While at the Grand Canyon, Bruno and Aline took a helicopter ride down to the bottom of the canyon. Aline says it was very exciting and that the canyon has to be one of the biggest wonders of nature.

Optimist news

On Saturday, the Green Valley Optimist club held its annual dinner/dance in honor of the new year and new executive.

Following a cocktail hour a delicious supper was served. The supper was followed by the official ceremonies, emceed by Rejean ''D. John'' Menard.

Lucien Beriault, past president, gave his thank-you speech and then passed on the gavel and bell to the new president Marcel Brunet. Maurice Sauve, general governor for Zone 6 of the Optimist organization, then took the stand and swore in the new executive for the 1991-92 year.

Following the formalities, a dance was held with music supplied by Station to Station.

The Green Valley Optimist Club is very proud to be the parent club of the new Martintown Optimist Club.

The club was formed last week by Green Valley Optimists and their executive consists of: President George Rouleau, vice-presidents Henry Kinloch and Gary Peters, Secretary Lilianne Rouleau, Treasurer Lorraine Berry and directors Luc Payette, Rick Paquette, Heather Flaro, Mary Periard, Valerie Groleau and Gene Butler.

The GV Optimist Club is pleased to announce that as of today, 21 couples have registered for dance courses being offered at Ste. Marie's school on Sunday evenings. Anyone else who'd like to learn to dance may call Lucien or Lorraine Beriault.

At this time, members extend thanks to past-president Lucien Beriault and his executive for the excellent work they've done in our community over the past year.

Lucien thanks everyone for their help over the past year and wishes good luck to new president Marcel Brunet.

Community based policing coming to Glen, township

Glen Robertson
Janet Marr
874-2429

Constable Les Howard will be staffing the OPP's Glen Robertson office several days a week as well as patrolling the village and the township on a regular basis. Community based policing — the way it used to be when a constable patrolled a beat on foot — is returning across Ontario.

Constable Howard will be meeting with a steering committee from the village to discuss where problems are perceived to be and what can be done about them, and will soon have a school visiting program.

He is a 25-year veteran of the OPP who has served from Northern to Eastern Ontario, is the father of two children — Joseanne, in school in Ottawa, and Michael at Vankleek Hill School, and is bilingual, articulate and charming in manner. He is also a policeman and tells me that October is ''buckle-up'' month when seat belt use will be enforced across Canada — including the village.

To contact the OPP, phone 1-800-267-2677. Constable Howard hopes there will be a local '874' number soon that he can answer when he is in the Community Centre, but the 800 number is answered all the time.

Ice Wars 91-92: Battle for the St. Lawrence begins Friday

Glens need big guns to succeed

Team: Alexandria Glens
Coach: Kirk Anderson
1990-91 Record 25-8-1=51 pts. (1st place)

They're back: Two-thirds of the top scoring line in Junior B return as Serge Bellefeuille and Marc Sauve are back for another assaault on league goalies.

Sauve, last year's scoring champion, is the Glens' new captain.

Two defensemen return from last year's Glens team that surrendered the fewest goals in the loop, Benoit Frappier and Danny Levert.

Up front, Sauve and Bellefeuille are joined by Andrew Sauve and Pat Ravary.

General manager Archie Stewart, who at one point had given up the GM duties earlier this summer, is back to try and build a fifth division winner in the last six years.

Additions: Kirk Anderson takes over as head coach after serving as an assistant in charge of defensemen last year. The Avonmore resident has previous junior coaching experience with the defunct Chesterville Flyers.

Patrick Lamarche, who had a 60-save performance in the pre-season, begins the 91-92 campaign as Alexandria's number one goalie. Actually, with fellow backstop Alain Marleau leaving the team on the weekend, Lamarche is the only puckblocker signed for the time being.

Stephane Nadeau joins vets Frappier and Levert on the blueline.

Up front, newcomers include the small but skilled Trevor Duhaime, Windsor native Marc Deschamps, former Hawkesbury Hawk Pascal Joanette and Pat Lariviere, who impressed with his gritty play.

With a shorter camp period, team officials had much less time to determine which rookies would fill out the line-up. Pivot Jamie Nelson played well in the final two exhibitions, and may take the job as third-line centre.

Rebel goalie Jim Kenney sprawls to make save against Glens' Pat Ravary (in net). Rebs and Glens will open the Junior B regular season Friday.
Staff photo — J.L. Lefebvre

Others on the bubble include Ricky Latreille, Dean Seguin, Steve Poirier and Luc Sabourin.

Departures: Peter DeRooy has given up bench duties in Alexandria to take a similar job in Winchester, which is closer to his home in Chesterville.

In the playing ranks, veteran forward Glen Campbell and former captain Luc Decoeur have graduated. Jason Boyer has hooked up with the Hawkesbury Hawks and Luc Francoeur is attending school in Ottawa.

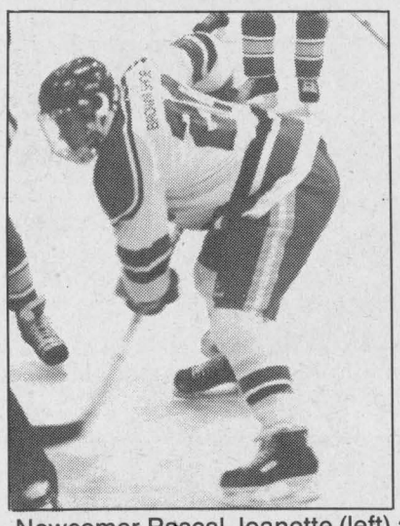
Other losses include the goaltending tandem of Marc Juneau and Brad Dillabaugh, 26-goal man Martin Amyot, Mike Sauve and Stephane Lacelle.

Coach says:"We really need to shore up our defense. There will be changes (on defense) and the players playing there for now know that.

"I'm sure with our forwards we'll skate with any team in the league. We've got two good, strong lines . . . and the third line of Pat (Ravary), Pat (Lariviere) and Jamie (Nelson) scored four goals the other night even though they're supposed to be a checking line.

"I'll be playing Serge (Bellefeuille) and Marc (Sauve) with Marc Deschamps on the top line. Pascal (Joanette), Andy (Sauve) and Travis (Duhaime) will play together in what should be a speedy line.

"We'd like to come out of the gate fast and make the playoffs, that's all."



Newcomer Pascal Joanette (left) and Marc Sauvé should score plenty of goals for the Glens.
Staff photos — J.L. Lefebvre

Rookie to watch: Travis Duhaime. Duhaime certainly didn't look out of place in the pre-season, and despite his size, he hasn't shied away from anyone. He worked the point on the power play and seemed comfortable working as a man-advantage quarterback.

Pascal Joanette isn't what you'd call a typical rookie, but opposition coaches will have their hands full with the Glen Robertson native.

Prognosis: Repeating as St.Lawrence champs, either in the regular season or the playoffs, will be a tough chore for the Glens as the rest of the league seems to have improved immensely.

Alexandria should score plenty of goals and if they can find a way to keep the puck out of their own net, they'll certainly challenge for top spot. A lot will depend on the success of the current search for blueline help.

Young Rebels set sights on playoff spot

Team: Char-Lan Rebels
Coach: Randy Larocque
1990-91 Record:11-23-0=24 pts. (5th place)

They're back: Last year will be a distant memory for the Rebels for the simple reason that hardly any one from that club is still around to remember.

Coach Randy Larocque returns for a second season behind the bench. After some early speculation, president John Chafee is also back.

On the ice, hardly anyone is on a first-name basis. Returnees are captain Greg Wylie and defensemen Bobby Bowles and Derek Duchesne.

Additions: This is a last-place club with only three returning regulars so new faces are even more plentiful than is the norm in Junior B hockey.

Terry Hart has come aboard as an assistant to head coach Randy Larocque. Hart joins the team from the South Stormont minor program where he coached the midget team last year.

Goaltender Jim Kenney has been signed after attending the camp of the Massena Americans. He'll start the season as the team's number one backstop.

On the blueline, newcomers are Pat Carriere, who was in Alexandria's camp a year ago, Kevin Duchesne and Colin Cameron.

The forward unit is almost completely revamped. Chris Petry and Shane McDonell, who spent some time with the Rebs last year, have made the team. Rookie forwards also include John Gallinger, Derek Ryan, Dan Desjardins, Dan Brisson, Danik Roy, Todd Cameron and Terry O'Farrell.

Another forward, Randy Gebbie, may sign with Char-Lan as early as today after spending training camp with the Glens.

Departures: Pick a player, any player. Among the most notable of players not returning are the team's top three goal scorers; John Edgerton (36 goals), Matt Germain (35) and Trevor Bowles (20).

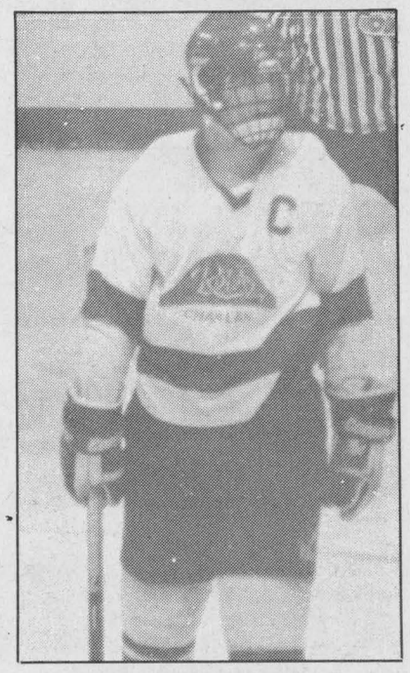
Other double-figure goal scorers lost are Marc Beaudet, Denis St. Jean and Ron Lefebvre.

Goalies Matt McKenzie and Josh Harrington have also moved on.

Coach says:"I feel pretty good about the kids we've selected. We've had a few injuries that have made it difficult to evaluate (the team) but overall I'm pleased.

"I'm happy with the goaltending (and) I think our defensemen are pretty sound. I wouldn't mind a sharpshooter up front.

"(With such a young team) we'll have to live through the mistakes . . . the mistakes I can live with. It's the penalties we're taking that we're not going to live with very long."



Captain Greg Wylie (above) and Jim Kenney will be key Rebels in '91-92.

Rookie to watch: Terry O'Farrell. The local product is a first-year midget-aged centreman who has impressed in camp. Not overly big, O'Farrell seems to have a nose for the net, and was Char-Lan's top marksman in the pre-season.

Other rookies who caught Larocque's eye were Shane McDonell, Colin Cameron and John Gallinger.

Prognosis: Larocque and Chafee both want a solid, disciplined hockey club to offset a lack of offensive punch.

The youth of the team means that it may take a few games to fully realize the immediate potential of this team.

Larocque is gunning on a playoff spot and he'll be relying heavily on his goaltending and defense to deliver one in a very competitive St.Lawrence Division.

Lions, Hawks, 73's to provide tough opposition

Team: Winchester Hawks
Coach: Peter DeRooy
1990-91 record: 21-10-3=49 pts. (3rd place)

New coach DeRooy takes over a team that finished only two points out of first last year, and seems to be a rough consensus among league coaches for top honors this season.

The Hawks have added former Char-Lan Rebel Matt Germain, who notched 35 goals last year, to their line-up. Kevin Tallman, a 54 goal man last year for Kemptville, is another big acquisition that is sure to bolster the Winchester attack.

The acquisition of Tallman was an important one for the Hawks since top scorer Todd Marcellus was lost to the Junior A Massena Americans.

Other returnees include team captain Doug Armstrong and goalie Eric Sakalauskas.

"This is a top-notch operation and the players seem to be responding," said DeRooy in the midst of his first Winchester camp. "This should be a fast-skating team with real scoring power."

DeRooy is used to success after a championship-filled stint behind the Glens' bench, and he's hoping to continue that tradition with his new club.

Team: Morrisburg Lions
Coach: Doug Casselman
1990-91 Record: 13-21-0=22 pts. (4th place)

The Lions have been lighting the lamp often in the pre-season and should continue to be a high-scoring club, even for Junior B, in the regular season.

Morrisburg has added some muscle to last year's line-up which specialized in smallish forwards.

Rob Casselman and Mike McAllister should lead the club offensively, with help from Andrew McEwan and Craig Villeneuve.

Key losses from last year's club include captain John Morrow, Chris Van Bridger, Tom Johnston and goalie Daryl Kiviaho.

Dennis Villeneuve starts the season as Doug Casselman's number one goalie.

"We've plugged some of the holes from last year," said Casselman. "We've added a lot of strength and our defense should cut down our goals against (over seven a game last year) by a goal or two."

The Lions should join Kemptville, Alexandria and Winchester to make the battle for top spot at least a four-team race.

Team: Kemptville 73's
Coach: Lindsay Selleck
1990-91 Record: 24-9-1=49 pts.

The graduation of overager Kevin Holmes, the team's top scorer a year ago, and the defection of Kevin Tallman to Winchester represents the loss of 116 goals from last season's league-leading offence.

Coach Lindsay Selleck hopes that returning vets Jason Quesnel, Kirk Tallman, Dave Vactovec and Steve Regan will help create a base of experience to build the team around.

Returning netminders Craig Boassaly and Peter Spezaile give the 73's arguably the best goaltending in the division.

Selleck is excited about the arrival of a pair of mature rookies, Trevor Mikus and Dale Wilson, players he believes will finish in the top 10 in scoring in their first seasons.

"We're a fairly small team, but we're above-average I would say. The only thing I'd like to do at this point is shore up the defense," said Selleck.

Like last year, the 73's should be in the thick of things from beginning to end.

Char-Lan Crusader junior and senior cagers are 2-0

The Char-Lan Crusaders upped their record to 2-0 with an easy 58-15 win over the Tagwi Warriors in SD&G junior girls basketball play last Thursday.

The contest was never in any doubt as Char-Lan held Tagwi's offence to a single basket in three of the four quarters, and to only four points in the entire second half.

Cathy Pilon topped the Crusaders on the scoresheet with 14 points while Angela Smith added 12. Tania McClements, with 10, and Kelly Lariviere, with eight, rounded out a well-balanced Char-Lan attack.

Jody Cain managed six points to lead all Tagwi scorers. The Crusaders play at North Dundas on Friday.

In the senior half of the Char-Lan-Tagwi doubleheader, the Crusaders built a 52-19 three-quarter time lead in cruising to a 60-34 victory.

Despite spending the entire fourth quarter on the bench, Karen Arnott, with 28 points, and Sharon Huizinga with 12, led the Char-Lan offence on the way to victory.

Cheryl Proctor added eight points for Char-Lan while Julie MacDonald had six.

Tagwi used the absence of Char-Lan's Twin Towers in the fourth quarter to display some of the abilities of their own players as Tagwi won the quarter 15-8.

Kristi Poirier had 16 points while Julie Crites added 10

Gael seniors still unbeaten after GV win

The Glengarry Gaels senior basketball team won the second game in a row to start the season by beating the General Vanier Vikings 25-22 last Tuesday in Cornwall.

Kathy Van Loon led the way offensively with eight points for the Gaels who built a seven-point half-time lead. Renata Clingen added seven points for Glengarry, while Carolyn Cameron had three.

Shelly Flaro led Viking scorers with seven points.

The Gaels hosted Seaway in their third game of the year yesterday.

Juniors 1-1 after loss

The junior Gaels continue to turn in football-type scores, this time a 24-16 loss to General Vanier.

The difference in the game was the play of GV's Erynn Blackadder, who scored 14 of her team's 24 points.

A similar performance was turned in by Glengarry's Anne McCuaig, who netted eight points for her team. Miranda Burgess was the next on the Gael scoring list with four points.

Pre-season wrap

Glens 6 Rebels 5

Third-period goals by Pat Lariviere and Travis Duhaime broke a 3-3 tie and gave Alexandria the win on Saturday at the Charlottenburgh Recreational Centre.

Char-Lan captain Greg Wylie narrowed the margin to 5-4 with 9:48 left in the third, but Pat Ravary answered a minute later with his second tally of the night.

John Gallinger scored with just a little five minutes left, but the Rebels couldn't put the equalizer past Alexandria goalie Pat Lamarche in the time remaining.

Pascal Joanette and Jamie Nelson scored the other Glen goals while Chris Petry, Terry O'Farrell and Danik Roy found the back of the net for Char-Lan.

Lamarche was the big story in the game, stopping 60 out of 65 shots directed his way.

Lions 9 Glens 6

The Glens took early first-period leads of 2-0 and 3-1 on home ice last Friday, but couldn't hold back a strong Morrisburg offensive attack, which scored three times in the first and four times in the final period on the way to the win.

Mike McAllister was a nightmare for the Glens, caging five goals and adding an assist to pace the Lion attack.

Serge Bellefeuille and Pat Ravary scored twice for Alexandria, with singles going to Pascal Joanette and Andrew Sauve.

Rebs 8 Glens 8

Defenceman Pat Carriere scored his second goal of the game with 1:32 remaining in the third period to give the Rebels a 8-8 tie with Alexandria in a pre-season game played last Tuesday. Alexandria's Travis Duhaime had scored just over a minute before with what seemed to be the winning goal at the time.

Danik Roy also scored twice for the Rebels, with single markers going to Todd Cameron, Derek Ryan, Bobby Bowles and Shane McDonell.

Alexandria got a pair of goals from Duhaime, Pascal Joanette and Serge Bellefeuille. Eric MacSweyn and Andrew Sauve had one each.

Lions 6 Rebs 2

On Sunday at Cornewall Civic Complex, Char-Lan allowed three third-period power play goals to turn a close game into a comfortable Morrisburg win.

In addition to penalty woes, Char-Lan had to fight injuries and fatigue in the third frame after playing their third game in three nights.

Hawks 12 Rebs 2

The Winchester Hawks served notice that they'll be a force to be reckoned with this year by rolling past the Rebels 12-2 on Friday night.

Rookies John Gallinger and Terry O'Farrell scored the Char-Lan goals.

Junior Gaels continue huge offensive surge

The Glengarry junior boys soccer team has stretched its winning streak to five games with a 11-0 pasting of the St.Joseph's Panthers last Wednesday in Cornwall.

The easy win came on the heels of an 8-1 win over Rothwell-Osnabruck two days before, making the Gael offense more dangerous of late than juggling machetes while blindfolded.

Jason Libbos and Randy Lavigueur each netted hat tricks for Glengarry in the win over St. Joe's, with single goals being provided by Kent O'Shea, Steven MacIntosh, Matthew Steiche, Wade MacNaughton and Liam Kemp.

The Gael juniors now sport a 6-1 record and will play next on Monday against county rivals Char-Lan.

Seniors win sixth in a row

The seniors remained unbeaten and unscored upon by beating St.Joseph's 3-0. The senior Gaels have notched 24 goals against their opponents while continuing to keep their rivals off the scoresheet.

In the latest triumph, Jamie Nelson, Andrew Lucking and Robert Meth tallied against the Panthers to provide the offense.

The win sets up a possible battle ot the undefeateds for next Monday when Char-Lan will visit ESRG-GDHS. The Crusaders are 5-0, but will play Rothwell-Osnabruck tomorrow before taking on the Gaels. Glengarry defeated R-O last week by a 4-0 score.

Caisse Pop Glens win big in exhibition

The Alexandria Caisse Populaire Atom Glens were impressive in their first game of the year, a 15-0 exhibition win over Hawkesbury at the Billy Gebbie Arena on Sunday.

Nicolas Prieur led the swarm of scorers for Alexandria by netting four goals. Nigel Newland and Gregory Lalonde each had a hat trick while Gyslain Valade scored twice.

Timothy Van Overbeek, Ryan Neilson and Guillaume Ouimet had the single markers for Alexandria while Eric Leroux had four assists.

Alexandria scored three times in the first and second periods before pouring it on for nine tallies in the third on the way to the win.

C-L wins a close game

The Char-Lan Crusaders haven't been nearly as overwhelming as Glengarry so far this year in senior boys soccer play, but the results have been the same; they haven't lost a game yet.

Char-Lan picked up its fifth win in as many games, and its third by a one-goal margin, when they defeated North Dundas 3-2 last Wednesday on home field.

For the fourth consecutive game Innes Fraser booted one in for the Crusaders, with other tallies going to Dave MacDonald and Jeff Robertson.

Char-Lan travels to Ingleside tomorrow to take on Rothwell-Osnabruck and will be in Alexandria Monday for a showdown against Glengarry.

Juniors split

The junior Crusaders lost their first game of the season last Wednesday when they fell 6-2 to North Dundas. Scott Giroux scored both goals for his team in the loss.

Gary Benson, Ian MacDonell and Brian Deschamps got Char-Lan goals in the other game of the afternoon, a 3-2 victory over Cornwall Collegiate.

The Crusaders are 4-1-1 after six games, and like the seniors will play R-O tomorrow and Glengarry on Monday.

Hockey league news

The Kinsmen Border League has set Oct. 10 as the official deadline for registrations for the 1991-92 season.

Late registrants will be charged an additional $25. A $100 deposit is required along with a name, phone number and position to be played when registering.

The player draft will be held on Oct. 10 with league play getting underway a week later.

While on the subject of hockey leagues, here's a reminder that the Soulange league is under way again.

The league, which plays its games on Fridays and Sundays in St.Polycarpe, features several players from the Alexandria area.

Seaway chalks up win, tie

The Seaway Valley Miller's Funeral Home Bantam AA Rapids took three out of a possible four points in games played this weekend.

On Saturday, the Rapids tied Gatineau Ambassadors 5-5 as Chad Duguay scored twice for Seaway, including the tying goal with 7:01 remaining in the third period.

Also scoring for Seaway were Ewan Thompson, Kelsey Lemire and Troy Brownell.

On Sunday, Brownell scored twice to lead the Rapids to a 6-2 victory over the Rideau-St.Lawrence Kings. Other scorers were Duguay, Thompson, Joel Menard and Chad Beauregard.

Golf ace

The ultimate golf shot for pro and duffer alike happened last week for a local golfer at the Heritage Golf Course in Lancaster.

Fraser Point's Marv Sparey scored a hole-in-one on the course's 155-yard par-three number five hole last Tuesday.

The ace was witnessed by Peter Leslie and Ruby Caswell.

"Night of zeros" as sponge puckers begin a new campaign

The Ladies Sponge Puck League is underway again for another season, and shutouts were the order of the day for games played last Wednesday at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

In the early game, Art Benton got goals from Tracy Belch, Debbie Nadon and Ginette Lalonde in posting a 3-0 victory over M&D. Nathalie Theoret recorded the shutout for Art Benton.

In the next contest of the evening, Titley and SunLife played two scoreless periods before Titley exploded for three goals in the final frame. Scorers for the winners were Shirley Hay, Lynn Lalonde and Bridgette Cameron. Cathy Wensink recorded the zero in goal.

It was all Tapis Richard in the final game, with seven different scorers notching goals in a 7-0 win. Sue Stewart, Helen MacDonald, Mary Nixon, Cheryl Rigby, Dawn McDuff, Brenda Golden and Ann McMillan scored the Tapis goals.

McDuff and Elaine Oetelaar each had a pair of assists for the defending league champions while Ann-Marie Vansleewyn was flawless between the pipes in getting the shutout.

Local riders turn in top results

Lancaster's Ika Rek, riding on JP Irish Imp, claimed first place at the Arabian horse provincial championships two weeks ago in Markham, Ont.

Rek, an instructor at Lancaster's Edelweiss Riding Academy, was judged the top in her class by three judges at the Sept. 14 championships.

Rek qualified for her first trip to the provincials by competing in shows in Toronto, Ottawa and Quebec.

In the competition, Rek and the other five riders in her class compete together in performing specific routines. The judges watch the horses closely to determine scores based on grace, obedience and the overall brilliance of the animal.

Meanwhile, in other equine news, a young local rider did very well in a 25- mile trail ride held this past weekend.

Eight-year-old Katie-Jo MacFadden-Willard of Dalkeith won two ribbons even though she has only been competing for a few months.

Riding on her pony Windy, MacFadden-Willard claimed 10th place in the lightweight division and third in the junior division.

Tagwi wins weekend tourney

The Tagwi junior boys volleyball team made a huge impression at a weekend tournament held at La Citadelle by knocking off a succession of larger schools on the way to taking the title.

The Warriors capped the weekend by defeating Brockville Collegiate 12-15, 15-6, 15-10 in the tournament final.

In round-robin pool action earlier in the tournament, Tagwi posted wins over Carleton Place 15-11, 15-10 and Cornwall Collegiate 15-12, 15-11. Their only loss in the preliminaries was to host La Citadelle who edged the Warriors 15-13, 15-13.

Tagwi got its revenge in the playoffs against the Patriotes by posting a hard-fought three-set victory, 15-10, 11-15, 15-10.

In regular league play at home on Friday afternoon, Tagwi defeated Seaway 15-9, 15-7, 12-15.

Seniors sweep six sets

The defending SD¿G senior volleyball champion Tagwi Warriors got their season off to an impressive start by winning all six sets from their visitors on Friday.

Tagwi started off by dropping Rothwell-Osnabruck three straight 15-3, 16- 14, 15-5. The Warriors then turned the trick again against the Seaway Spartans by winning 15-2, 15-2, 15-0.

The Warriors are in action today at a tournament at La Citadelle.

Peewee champs

Peewee soccer champions Laggan are: (front) Pietter Funnekotter, Matthew Fraser, Ewen MacKinnon, Mark Laferriere, Scott McFadden, Jeff St. Denis, Kevin MacDonald; (middle) Daryl McIntosh, Bobby Van Drunnen, Jeremy McNaughton, Kent MacCrimmon, Margie Laferriere (coach); (back) Danny Van Drunnen, Jeremy Dubeau, Joseph Sugden, Craig Calvank, Dean MacGillivray, Andrew Fraser. Absent are Andrew Sugden, David McCuaig and Kurt MacSweyn.

V-ball Gaels split to open year

The Glengarry senior boys volleyball team won a game, and lost another to open the SD¿G season.

Playing last Tuesday at Cornwall Collegiate, the Gaels beat the host Raiders in a comeback win. After dropping the first set 15-9, Glengarry rallied to win the final two sets 15-10, 15-5.

In the other senior match, the Gaels were beaten 15-7, 15-6, 12-15 by St.Lawrence. Glengarry's win in the third set represented the only setback on the afternoon for the Saints who swept CCVS.

The juniors participated in the same tourney but could only manage one set out of six (taken from CCVS) against the junior Raiders and Saints.

Glengarry sees action today when they travel to La Citadelle to participate in a tournament

Bull moose spotted passing through village

Maxville
Gordon Winter
527-2888

A few days ago, a big bull moose invaded the northern fringe of the village. Leonard Hill saw the animal cross from the public school grounds into his back yard in the MacEwen subdivision and then travel eastward through Bill Kippen's corn field. Mr. Hill is an experienced outdoorsman and recognized the moose as a very large one as well as being a male with its large antlers. By this time, the photographs taken should be available for viewing.

At the 40th anniversary party for Oris and Bert Beaudette on Sept. 8, special guests included Mrs. Beaudette's parents, Matthew and Stella Maloney, St. Andrews, who are 63 years married and who joined in and danced the first dance with the celebrating couple. Mr. Beaudette's father, Alex from Bonville, also enjoyed dancing and he was on his way to Toronto for a two-week holiday.

Oris was especially pleased to have her sister, Sister Hilda Maloney, from Peterborough, present for the event.

Edythe and John Coleman have had their daughter, Shelley, and Jack Hone home from St. Monica, California as well as their other daughter, Debbie, and Richard Silk with Joshua, Sara and Shannon from Russell.

Hilda and Peter Alex MacLean entertained all these relatives at dinner along with her sister Doris and Ted Burwell from Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman accompanied the Hones home to California.

Weekend guests with Mr. and Mrs. MacLean were Roxy and Clarence Ferguson from Omemee and together they enjoyed an evening in Cornwall at the Legion hall where they visited with friends associated with the SD&G Highlanders.

We must recognize Glen Runions from Martintown, as a near native, and the son of Alma and Hector Runions from south of the village. Glen is a devoted worker for conservation and anti-pollution and expresses his opinions very clearly in letters to the editor. Also, on his days off from his employment at Domtar, Mr. Runions speaks to students in their classrooms and brings to them his messages for improved lifestyles. We thank you, Glen, for these good works.

You will be reading elsewhere in this paper about the excellent meeting held last Thursday evening which was organized by our newly formed Chamber of Commerce. The meeting set the stage for a promising year ahead and the interested audience in attendance indicated good support for the work of the Chamber.

This is a small point but I wonder how readers felt when they saw our village called a hamlet in an advertisement for a local property. There is nothing wrong in being a hamlet but we are larger and more active than that.

The old Orange Hall on Main Street was once a meeting place for many and has seen many changes over the years. Now owned by Norman Warner, Cornwall, the front part has been occupied by Jeannette Scott for her sewing business. Now renovations are moving back for Mrs. Scott's growing as well as for a new business Mrs. Scott's daughter, Cheryl, is planning on opening a hairdressing salon in part of the front so the renovations are being made to accommodate both businesses.

Father Lebrun and his parishioners were beaming after their very successful harvest supper. The count stands at 705 for paid dinners served with over 30 young children receiving theirs free of charge. As well, the diners all showed contented smiles on their way out of the dining hall.

The winners of the draw were as follows: Dale Smith won the top prize of $200, Lucille Desjardins, Monkland received the $150 prize and Marlene McCuaig was satisfied with hers for $100.

The fall auction sale of plants and vegetables at the September meeting of the Horticultural Society was once again very popular with bidders from far and wide and new members gained.

Barbara Graham, assisted by Ross Conners, provided the auctioneering services, and brought in $264 for the society's treasury.

A letter addressed to the Chamber of Commerce is seeking information on the relatives of Gwendolyn Reed from Hamilton. Mrs. Reed writes: "My grandfather Alex McGillivray worked his way out to Manitoba by working on the railway as far as Winnipeg and settled in Manitou before it was a town. A year or two later, my grandmother, the former Catherine McCrae (McRae?) and her eldest son came out to Emerson and it was by ox cart part way."

I will be pleased to relay any information I receive to Mrs. Reed. She believes her grandparents came from Maxville prior to 1882. I am wondering if there are relatives in the Kirk Hill area.

In his request for volunteers to form a Canadian Red Cross unit here in the village, Grant MacGillivray has outlined the measures that would be taken in the case of a major emergency. There would be a reception centre at the arena with a reception desk and an information desk to handle all calls.

If you are interested in assisting Mr. McGillivray to organize a unit, please call him at 527-2754. However, Mrs. McGillivray took sick last week and Mr. McGillivray may be occupied with visits and care for her for a time. Best wishes go to Mrs. McGillivray for improved health.

Last Thursday evening, the public school staff held an Open House with no children present. This would enable more candid discussion with teachers. The large numbers of cars outside indicated a very large attendance. There was also a display of discovery toys and reading material.

A record crowd of euchre players enjoyed themselves at the regular party on Sept. 23. Lucien Theoret was the biggest winner and took home to Alexandria second prize money and two draw prizes. Lawrence Thauvette, Moose Creek led the gentlemen with top score and Alex Tittley, Laggan, came in third.

Alice Richer had top score for the ladies, followed by Marie O'Brien, Monkland and Dorina Theoret, Alexandria.

Ken MacLeod from Dunvegan won the door prize.

Other winners in the 50-50 draw were Onagh Ross and John Lapierre, Martintown, Fraser McMillan, Moose Creek, twice, Florence Harkin, Apple Hill, Jessie Renwick, Vankleek Hill, Norbert Ryan, Casselman, twice, Muriel McMillan, Avonmore, Nina Ryan, Fenaghvale, Hugh Lecuyer, Riceville and villagers, Gloria Rolland, Margaret Michaud and Bertha Lalonde.

The next euchre is Oct. 7 at 8 p.m. in the Anglican Church Hall.

At its regular meeting of Tuesday, Sept. 24, the school board endorsed a recommendation from an interview panel that Garry Atchison be appointed acting principal at Martintown Public School during the absence of Clarence Adams. The interview team was comprised of Trustees Art Buckland and Sam McLeod as well as of Director of Education Jim Dilamarter and superintendents Gerry Samson and Colin Vickers. Five candidates had applied for the position.

We all extend our congratulations

Raisin River Country

'Bison' makes debut up William Street

Williamstown
Sue Harrington
347-2279

It's common knowledge that there are beefalo on the outskirts of town, but I hazard a guess that bison in Williamstown have been liimited to American nickels. Until Friday, that is.

If you happened to be out and about the village on that afternoon, you would have noticed a single bison lumbering up William Street. Actually ''lumbering'' is not the right word, for I'm told this beast can be mighty speedy when it wants to. But given the new road work on William Street and the fact that the bison's destination was a red brick house just a ilttle way up the street, I'm sure that a respectable pace was maintained. After all, even bison must watch out for ''children being children!''

This bison was on its way to Marilyn and Gil Cook's house, being driven by their son Jim. And to shatter the myth, it isn't an animal at all, but rather a new light armored vehicle being used by the Canadian militia. I guess to most of us without army ''gen,'' it would be called a tank. It is capable of carrying 11 people, and is amphibious. (No, it did not go for a dip in the Raisin... that little manoeuvre is limited to ambulances!)

The vehicle passed through Williamstown on its way to Cornwall where it was part of a display held at the armories, a recruitment campaign by the SD&G Highlanders.

As well as Jim Cooke, other Williamstowners in the militia who took part in the weekend event included his sister, Nancy, Nelson Nicholson, John Edwards, Matthew Eamer and Brent Lafave.

The revenge of the meetings is devouring all our spare time these days, it seems. I have a string of them to report to you, so don't you dare skip this part of the column!

A twin bill on Monday, Oct. 7. On that evening, the Char-Lan DHS Heritage Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library. Anyone in the community with an interst in preserving the heritage of Char-Lan or of the old Williamstown High School, is invited to attend.

Later that same evening, at 8 p.m. at the little hall at St. Mary's, there will be a meeting of all the Block Captains of the Neighborhood Watch in Charlottenburgh Township. The committee will give an update on its progress during the past six months, and discuss any concerns residents might have.

This Thursday evening, Oct. 3, at 7 p.m. will be Grade 9 Family Orientation evening in the Char-Lan cafetorium. All parents of Grade 9 students, and all parents of students new to the school this year are invited to attend.

Included in the program will be brief talks by professionals on such subjects as parenting, alcohol and drugs, behavior, student involvement in school activities, attendance, the road to graduation, and the school and the home as ''partners in your child's education.''

Meet the creature night (as the children laughingly reported) was held last Thursday at Williamstown Public School, when students introduced their parents to their teachers, showed them their desks, their papers on the bulletin boards, etc.

The school staff was introduced and special programs for the school year were outlined. New to Williamstown Public this year are Roger Lafontaine, Core French teacher, and Donna MacNaughton, Teacher's Aid.

In an attempt to inculcate organizational skills at an early age, all students at the school have been given an agenda book where they record their homework, coming events, materials needed, etc. Parents have been asked to check the agenda and to sign it weekly, so they may be party to their children's tasks.

What a great idea! I'm sure that some of the OAC teachers at Char-Lan are wishing such a scheme existed back in the formative years of some of their current students. Some of the parents, too!

Tuesday was an exciting day for the Vogels, when daughter Ursula arrived home from Cold Lake, Alta. for the first time since her departure three months ago.

While home, Ursula will attend the wedding of her brother Paul to Linda Fisher, which will take place this Saturday in Ashton, Ont.

The Friendly Neighbors' Open Euchre of Sept. 26 produced some new names among the winners — always a welcome phenomenon for social news correspondents.

Ladies champs included Rita Lauzon, Freida Ouderkirk, and Alma Gibbard, with the skunk going to Beatrice Labelle.

Clifford Locey, Donald MacGregor and Leopold Lauzon were the gents winners. Alex McDonell won the skunk.

Door prize winner was Austin Abrams, with 50/50 prizes going to Freida Ouderkirk, Emily MacDonald, Dorothy Roy, Beatrice Labelle, Rita Lauzon and Beatrice MacDonald.

By the time Tracy Runions leaves Char-Lan High School, she'll be a celebrity in her own right. Last week Tracy, the school's student reporter, had an exclusive interview with CJOH's Carolyn Waldo.

This week, Tracy, along with fellow OAC student Eric Malo, was interviewed by Sue Prestige of CBC Radio's Ontario Morning. The couple is expected to be heard on Thursday or Friday morning of this week. Try to tune in!

* * *

The September meeting of Picnic Grove Women's Institute was held recently at Cooper Marsh, with a good number of members attending.

The ladies walked around the nature paths, which were ablaze with color. At the duck blind, they spotted Canada Geese, Great Blue Herons, several species of ducks, and Bitterns.

Unfortunately the ladies, who were expecting to hold their meeting at the new educational facility, were only able to see the building for a few minutes, as other visitors pre-empted them. Through the kindness of Wendy Rozon, last minute arrangements were made to hold the meeting in the boardroom at Rozon Insurance.

Four members of Picnic Grove attended the PRO meeting in Avonmore, and several more will attend the area convention to be held in Kemptville on Oct. 22.

Eat up your carrots or wipe off your specs — Friday night is turkey shooting time in Williamstown. Between the hours of 8 p.m. and midnight, Oct. 4, adults can bag themselves a Thanksgiving turkey at what seems to be becoming an annual event at St. Mary's Centre.

Plan to attend the turkey shoot, win a prize or two, and have a lot of fun. Proceeds will go towards the centre.

P.S. to Helen — Files are great, provided one remembers to put the information into them! My apologies for not getting this in sooner.

There was some excitement at Campbell and Alison Murray's house this weekend when Sandra came home with a beautiful new ring on that left hand. Wishing you all the best, Sandra on your engagement to David Fawcett of Winchester. And David congratulations, you are marrying into such a warm and loving family. I believe the wedding date will be May 23/92.

We now have an Optimist Club in Martintown with 30 chartered members. District Governor, Paul Labelle of Hawkesbury, presided over our election of officers with the help of Lt. Gov. Maurice Sauve, Lucien Beriault, Marcel Brunet and Andre Menard of Green Valley. Congratulations and best wishes to: President George Rouleau; vice-presidents Garry Peters, and Henry Kinloch; Secretary Lillian Rouleau; and Treasurer Lorraine Barrie. There are six directors: Heather Flaro, Rick Paquette, Valerie Groleau, Mary Periard, Luc Payette and Jean Butler. Richard Lapointe will be in charge of membership, Marilyn Peters — fellowship, Frances Payette — essay contest at high school, Luane Doyle — just say no program, Heather Flaro — oratory in elementary schools. Lorraine Lapointe will be in charge of program and I will be on publicity.

Thanks so much for everyone's involvement so far, and we have lots of work ahead but we have lots of blessings and promises of help from the community. We all know we need these caring people to work together with the youth and the schools for a better future. They certainly have my blessings.

Next meeting will be Thurs., Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Martintown Community Centre. Everyone is welcome, we can use more members and helpers feel free to come out and join us.

In Memoriam

McCRIMMON, Duncan — In loving memory of a dear father, who passed away October 2, 1973.
There was no time to say goodbye
The day you went away;
Gone are the good times we used to share
But in our hearts you're always there.
—Sadly missed by Christina and Russell. 40-1p

QUESNEL — In loving memory of a loved mother Mrs. Angeline Quesnel who died October 6, 1988.
From hospital bed to heavenly rest,
God took her home to be his guest,
I lived in hope and prayed in vain
That she would soon be well again;
But God decided we must part,
He eased her pain, but broke my heart,
And while she rests in peaceful sleep,
Her memory I will always keep.
—Forever remembered and missed by daughter Rita and son-in-law Jean Guy Carriere. 40-1p

Cards of Thanks

ANDREWS-SMITH — We would like to express our thanks to our parents, bridal party, friends and relations who shared our special day, Sept. 14, with us. Your beautiful presents and gifts of money were received with the same love and happiness as they were given. Our memories will be many and our thanks forever.
—Susan and Paul. 40-1p

ST. JOHN — I wish to sincerely thank all those who remembered me in the passing of my husband John R. St. John at Foot Hills Hospital, Calgary, Alta.; for the cards and phone calls. Your kindness will always be remembered.
—Mrs. Jean St. John,
Calgary, Alta. 40-1p

MUNRO — Our very sincere thanks to all, our family, relatives and friends, for making our fortieth anniversary such a happy occasion. Thanks to all for the good wishes, cards, and lovely gifts.
—Sincerely, Gordon and Lillian Munro,
Williamstown. 40-1p

JAMIESON — My sincere thanks to all the dear friends and relatives who visited, sent cards, brought gifts, etc. Special thanks to those who prayed with and for me during my extended stay in Glengarry Memorial Hospital. Thanks also to doctor, nurses, and staff for the tender loving care!
—Hazel Jamieson. 40-1p

SEGUIN — Kevin and I would like to take this opportunity to thank friends, neighbors and relatives for this wonderful day and beautiful gifts on Sept. 7. Special thanks to the Lobb and Seguin family and the friends for helping us with the preparation and making this day memorable.
—Love, Rita and Kevin. 40-1p

MacDONALD - THOMPSON — To all our friends, neighbors and relatives we thank you for all the generosity that you have shown us. Special thanks to Carole MacDonald and Shelley McLeod for organizing the mixed party. Thanks also to all the ladies who furnished the lunch.
—Kathy and Dale. 40-1p

McRAE — The family of the late Shaun Arthur McRae extend sincere thanks to our Glengarry relatives and friends for expressions of sympathy, acts of kindness, and thoughtfulness during the recent loss of a loving son and brother. We appreciate the thoughtfulness of those who made many telephone calls, their prayers, the cards of sympathy, and charitable donations in his memory to the Cancer Society and Leukemia Research Fund. Thanks to Rev. Pat MacDonald, the organist and choir, the pallbearers, and the UCW for the lovely lunch served after the burial. Special thanks to Shaun's cousin and best friend Ian MacCuaig, for his efforts in organizing the memorial service. Your kindness will always be remembered.
—His loving sister, Janna McRae Stephan. 40-1p

BLAIR — I would like to exprss my sincere thanks to those who came out to my farewell party a few weeks ago. Special thanks to Catherine Kippen and the Kenyon Agricultural Society, Connie Blaney and the Glengarry Highland Games Committee and the staff of the Laggan Public School who really made the night extra special. All is going well in the North. Thanks again
—Erin Blair.
P.S. It's snowing as I write this! 40-1c

THANK YOU
Special thanks goes out to Rej Julien (DJ) who supplied the excellent music for the Lancaster Friends for Friends dance on Sept. 7, to aid Jim and Myrna Aitken, also to Don Dowbiggin (Green Dreams) for donating the cups, cutlery and plates for the buffet. 40-1p

Cards of Thanks

STEWART — We would like to thank the Glengarry Club of Ottawa for the super farewell party held last Friday evening. Special thanks to the Brigadoons, Clansmen, Strathspey and Reel, John MacCaskill and Ewen Campbell for their excellent music. Also special thanks to all who attended and helped make this such a successful party. Your generous gifts will always remind us of the good times we have had together.
—Walter and Margery. 40-1p

VANDER WIELEN — Thanks to Moose Creek and Maxville Fire departments, also neighbors and friends who helped out on the night of the barn fire.
—Vander Wielen family. 40-n/c

MAHER — Thanks to Glengarry Memorial Hospital and ambulance attendants, for many visits and cards while in hospital and at home. Last but not least — to my wonderful neighbors for so many things.
— Gratefully, Alice Maher. 40-1p

MacNAUGHTON — I would like to thank everyone who phoned, sent me cards and visited me while I was a patient in the Ottawa Heart Institute.
—Clifford MacNaughton. 40-1p

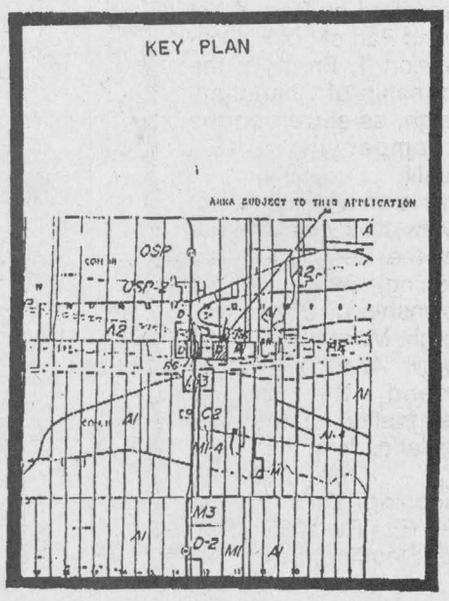
NOTICE OF THE PASSING OF A ZONING BYLAW
BY THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh passed bylaw 48-91 on the 23rd day of September, 1991, pursuant to Section 34 of the Planning Act 1983.
AND TAKE NOTICE that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect to the bylaw, by filing with the Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh no later than the 22nd day of October 1991, an appeal setting out the objection to the Bylaw and the reasons in support of the objection.
AN EXPLANATION of the purpose and effect of the bylaw describing the lands to which the bylaw applies, and a KEY PLAN showing the location of the lands to which the Bylaw applies, are attached as an explanatory note. The complete bylaw is available for inspection at the Municipal Office during regular business hours (8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.).

EXPLANATORY NOTE TO BYLAW 48-91

The lands affected by this rezoning may be described as Part of the east 1/2 of Lot 13, Concession 2, Front, in the Township of Charlottenburgh, as shown on the accompanying KEY PLAN. This is an amendment to Bylaw 12-83, as amended, the Restricted Area (Zoning) Bylaw for the Township of Charlottenburgh. More specifically, Bylaw 48-91 serves to amend the zoning designation on the 10.6 acre subject property adjacent to Hay Road from the "D-Future Development Zone" to the "M1-General Industrial Zone".



THE EFFECT of this amendment serves to facilitate the establishment of a small machinery plant, which would produce steel and cast iron sleeves used in electric motors.

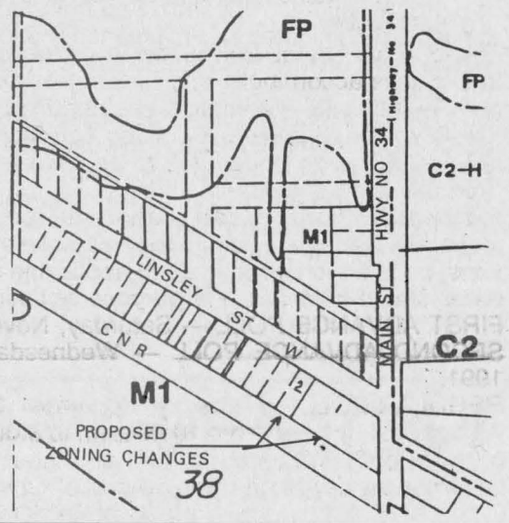
PUBLIC MEETING

TOWN OF ALEXANDRIA
CONCERNING PROPOSED ZONING BYLAW AMENDMENTS

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria will hold a public meeting on Tuesday, October 22nd, 1991 at 7:30 p.m. at the municipal office to consider two proposed zoning bylaw amendments, under section 34 of the Planning Act.

The Proposed bylaw amendments would firstly, redesignate land described as part of Lot 1, Plan 6 Town of Alexandria from its current Restricted Industrial (M1) designation to a Highway Commercial-Special Exception (C2-1) designation. The zoning bylaw would legally permit the existing automobile service station and convenience store to operate on the above mentioned property and secondly, redesignate land described as Lot 2 and part of Lot 1, Plan 6 Town of Alexandria, from its current Restricted Industrial (M1) to Residential First Density (R1) designation. This zoning bylaw would legally permit the existing single family home to remain as legal conforming.

Any person may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendments. Additional information relating to the proposed amendments is available for inspection at the Town Office during regular office hours.



Dated at the Town of Alexandria this 27th day of September, 1991. Subject properties being lots 1 and 2, plan 6 Town of Alexandria.

NOTICE OF THE PASSING OF A ZONING BYLAW

BY THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh passed bylaw 47-91 on the 23rd day of September, 1991, pursuant to Section 34 of the Planning Act 1983.

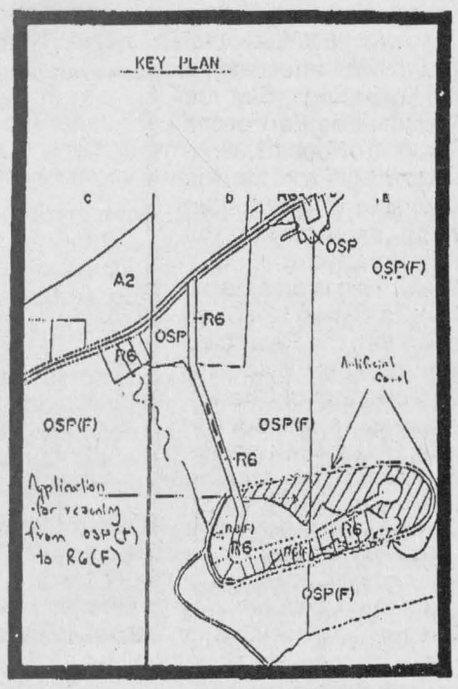
AND TAKE NOTICE that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect to the bylaw, by filing with the Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh no later than the 22nd day of October 1991, an appeal setting out the objection to the Bylaw and the reasons in support of the objection.

AN EXPLANATION of the purpose and effect of the bylaw describing the lands to which the bylaw applies, and a KEY PLAN showing the location of the lands to which the Bylaw applies, are attached as an explanatory note. The complete bylaw is available for inspection at the Municipal Office during regular business hours (8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.).

EXPLANATORY NOTE TO BYLAW 47-91

The lands affected by this rezoning may be described as Part of Lot D and Part of Lot E, Concession 1, Front, in the Township of Charlottenburgh, as shown on the accompanying KEY PLAN.

This is an amendment to Bylaw 12-83, as amended, the Restricted Area (Zoning) Bylaw for the Township of Charlottenburgh. More specifically, Bylaw 47-91 serves to amend the zoning designation or the subject lands from the "OSP (F) - Open Space (Flooding) Zone" to the "R6 (F) - Rural Residential (Flooding) Zone".



THE EFFECT of this amendment serves to facilitate the completion of residential development on those lands bounded by artificial canals within "Treehaven".

PUBLIC MEETING CONCERNING A PROPOSED OFFICIAL PLAN AMENDMENT TOWN OF ALEXANDRIA

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria will hold a public meeting on Tuesday, October 22nd, 1991 at 7:30 p.m. at the Municipal Building to consider an amendment to the Official Plan under Section 17 of the Planning Act.

The proposed Official Plan Amendment would change the designation of approximately 0.89 acres (38,768 sq. ft.) of land, Lots 2, 3, 4 & Part of Lot 1, Registered Plan No. 6, more accurately described as Parts 1, 2 & 3, Plan 14R-3566, from 'Industrial' to 'Industrial-Exception'. The Official Plan Amendment is required in order that the owner of the existing single family home may obtain a severance on a property which houses both a single family home and an automobile service station along with associated accessory uses such as a convenience store.

An Open House will be held prior to the Public Meeting (from 4:00 - 6:30 p.m.) in the Council chambers. Municipal staff will be available to meet the public and answer questions.

Any person may attend the Public Meeting and present a written or verbal representation either in support of, or in opposition to the Official Plan Amendment.

Additional Information relating to the proposed amendment is available at the Clerk's office during regular business hours.

Dated at the Town of Alexandria this 27th day of September, 1991.

NOTICE OF THE PASSING OF A ZONING BYLAW

BY THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF CHARLOTTENBURGH

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh passed bylaw 36-91 on the 23rd day of September, 1991, pursuant to Section 34 of the Planning Act 1983.

AND TAKE NOTICE that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect to the bylaw, by filing with the Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of Charlottenburgh no later than the 22nd day of October 1991, an appeal setting out the objection to the Bylaw and the reasons in support of the objections.

AN EXPLANATION of the purpose and effect of the bylaw describing the lands to which the bylaw applies, are attached hereto as an explanatory note. The complete bylaw is available for inspection at the Municipal Office during regular business hours (8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.).

EXPLANATORY NOTE TO BYLAW 36-91

The lands affected by this rezoning may be described as Part of the West 1/2 of Lot 13 and Part of the East 1/2 of Lot 14, Concession II, Front, also described as Part of Parts 10, 11 and 15 on Reference Plan 14R-1373, adjacent to Summerstown Road (County Road #27) and south of the 401, in the Township of Charlottenburgh, as shown on the accompanying KEY PLAN.

This Bylaw 36-91 serves to amend Bylaw 12-83 as amended, the Restricted Area (Zoning) Bylaw for the Township of Charlottenburgh. More specifically, Bylaw 36-91 serves to amend the zoning designation on the 24.5 acre subject property from the "D-3" - Special Future Commercial Development Zone" and the "A1 - Rural Agricultural (Prime) Zone" to the "C2 - Highway Commercial Zone".

THE EFFECT of this amendment serves to permit the construction of a proposed service station, which will include such amenities as a motel, restaurant, and store, to serve the needs of both local residents, and trucks and automobiles travelling on the 401. Development at this location will be subject to Site Plan Control, which will address such issues as parking, the location of all buildings, drainage, etc.

Fall activities commence at St. Andrew's

Lancaster
Janice Montreuil
347-7464, 347-2420

Lancaster library will hold a reading program party on Saturday, Oct. 5 between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. for the 42 boys and girls who participated in the program over this past summer. Games will be played and refreshments served.

* * *

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Youth Group will begin its fall season with a general meeting to be held at the manse on Saturday, Oct. 5 at 7:30 p.m. All young people, Grade 8 and up, are encouraged and invited to attend. This year the group plans to have a few more discussion evenings with guest speakers and films.

* * *

If you missed out on the Apples and Art Studio Tour last Sunday, you still may enjoy this unique event this Sunday, Oct. 6 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. If you need a brochure with a map, call Janice at 347-7464.

* * *

Knights of Columbus No. 8715 Lancaster will hold a Thanksgiving bingo on Sunday, Oct. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Joseph Centre in Lancaster. Admission is $1 each and extra cards are available. Prizes are ham and turkey. All are welcome. The group would also like to remind everyone that Sunday, Oct. 20 it will be holding a community breakfast.

Fall activities have begun at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in South Lancaster. On Sunday, Sept. 15, the Sunday School commenced with the commissioning of the teachers during the worship service. On behalf of the congregation, Rev. MacMillan extended his thanks and appreciation to the following people for dedicating their time, talents and energy to the work of the church school: Superintendents Alex Cumming and Connie Ferguson, Music Director Mary Cumming, Teachers Angela Smith, Rahel Meier, Sarah Pattingale, Tammy Werely, Wilma Ogilvie, Denise McClements, Alex Cumming and Connie Ferguson, and Treasurer Elizabeth MacLachlan.

On Sunday, Sept. 22 a large congregation enjoyed the Convenant Community Players who presented the "Good News" message in drama. The players were well received and their message was an inspiration. At the conclusion of the service, John Fourney made a presentation on behalf of the congregation to Charlie Thompson for the hard work put into renovating the kitchen. Afterwards, a time of fellowship was enjoyed in the church hall where everyone had the opportunity to see the completed kitchen. For those of you who have not had the chance to see the new kitchen and if your taste buds could use a treat, keep Saturday, Oct. 19 open and attend the harvest supper which is being held. More details in the coming weeks.

It was great to see so many at the first fall meeting of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Women on Sept. 18 at the home of Elizabeth MacLachlan. A warm welcome was extended to two guests — Mrs. Martha MacMillan, mother of Rev. Ian MacMillan, from Cape Breton and Mrs. Peggy Humbert, sister of Marion Thompson, from Alberta. During the business meeting, the project committee chairman, Aggie Petrie, reported that the bake sales held in June and July were most successful. She thanked everyone who helped with donations of baked goods and the refreshments for the lawn social and expressed thanks and appreciation to the residents and visitors to Lancaster and area for their generous support.

The next event being organized is the 204th anniversary of St. Andrew's on Oct. 20 at which Rev. Douglas Henry will be the guest speaker. The annual Christmas bazaar and luncheon will be held on Saturday, Nov. 30 and it was noted that this will be the 20th bazaar the group has sponsored. President Audrey Pasco gave a report on the board of managers summer projects and informed the group that the church roof repairs were completed, the thermal windows were installed in the sanctuary and the kitchen renovations were almost complete. It was also noted that the church doors had been refinished with the generosity of Mrs. Sarah Cameron.

A fall turkey supper, open to the public and to be held on Saturday, Oct. 19 was suggested and approved. The group also chose the study theme for 1992 which will be Living Values and Changing Times. Following the business meeting the group participated in the mission study on El Salvador, one of the Central American countries featured in the study for this year. At the conclusion, refreshments were served by hostesses, Elizabeth MacLachlan, Isobel McCuaig and Pat Carter. The St. Andrew's Presbyterian Women extend an invitation to all ladies to attend the monthly meetings.

Another Legion Week has come and gone and Royal Canadian Legion Branch 544 Lancaster President Betsy Robinson extends thanks to those comrades that supported the branch last Sunday at the wine and cheese party, as well as those who came out on Monday evening to hear Don Boudria, MP.

Thanks is also sent to those people who drove the patients to and from Chateau Gardens so they could have a bit of entertainment and sing to the music provided by Eric Newman as well as enjoy the refreshments provided by the ladies auxiliary. An enjoyable evening was spent at Alexandria Branch 423 during the week. Many thanks to the hard workers and the support of those people attending the Friday evening casino night which was such a success. Music provided by Bruno Pinard on Saturday afternoon was enjoyed by the many visitors and members who came.

The St. Lawrence Women's Institute held its monthly meeting at the home of Ileen Latreille recently. The theme was citizenship. The roll call was The responsibilities of the Canadian citizen. The motto was Buy Canadian. The program was Proud to be a Canadian by Henrica Wetering.

After the presentation, games were played and lunch was served by Dorothy Seguin and Ileen Latreille.

The Jolly 50's Seniors Club had caterer Bev Poirier serve dinner to 41 members who will not be going on the bus trip on Oct. 1. A special draw was held and cushions donated by Henrica Wetering were won by Olive Fitzhugh. Doilies donated by Florida Legroulx were won by Doreen Leroux. Slippers donated by Ileen Latreille were won by Florence Bennett. Fifty-fifty draw winners were Emily MacDonald, Viola Lauzon, Ileen Latreille, Dorothy Roy, Theresa Welcher and Janet Johnson. All then enjoyed card games.

The group recently held its birthday party for August and September. Winners were as follows: Ladies high — Rita Lauzon and low — Barbara Shaw. Gents high — Emery Brodeur and low — Bill Edmunds. The door prize was won by Alma Gibbard. Fifty-fifty winners were Walter Pilkington, Theresa Bourdeau, Elizabeth Wilcox, Laura Seguin, Anna Verkuylen, Betsy Robinson, Beatrice MacDonald, Joyce Lalonde and Cecile Legroulx.

The birthday cake was made by Henrica Wetering. Celebrants were Rita Lauzon, Graham Thompson, Viola Lauzon, Doreen Leroux, Agnes Bissonnette, Olive Fitzhugh, Lorraine Plue, Eva Collette and Lyle Gibson. Doreen and Adrien Leroux were wished a happy 63rd wedding anniversary by the Jolly 50's.

The group also held an open euchre recently and winners were as follows: Ladies high — Mary Rose Pilon, second — Cecile Legroulx and low — Catherine Welcher. Gents high — Lucien Theoret, second — Tony Wetering and low — Bill Edmonds. The door prize was won by Annette Chretien. Fifty-fifty winners were Reina Major, Ileen Latreille, Oliver Legroulx, Beatrice Labelle, Alda Major, Alice Portent and Rita Lauzon. The next open euchre will be held on Monday, Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. in Smithsfield hall, Lancaster. All are welcome to attend.

Lancaster and District Non-Profit Housing Inc. was very pleased to receive the donation of a piano for the common room of Glen Cairn Lodge from St. Andrew's United Church in Bainsville. Members of the congregation even delivered the piano to the lodge and placed it in the desired location, with thunderous applause from a group of the tenants gathered in the common room.

* * *

Ladies Auxiliary to Branch 544 Lancaster Legion held an open euchre on Sept. 23 and winners were as follows: Ladies high — Ileen Latreille, second — Dorothy Roy and low — Alice Bellis. Men's high — Jim Fourney, second — Alex McDermid and low — John Krol.

Enter The Glengarry News' logo and slogan contest and WIN

$250.00 (best logo)
or
$100.00 (best slogan)

Help us prepare for our 100th year of continuous publication throughout 1992 by designing a logo, writing an appropriate slogan, or both! The logo will be used on Centennial year souvenirs and on our masthead on page 1, or anywhere else we'll need it.

Rules:

(1) Submitted logo to be in black and white only.
2) Logo should be a horizontal format, complementing the newspaper's existing masthead published on page 1 every week. (See masthead below)
(3) Slogan will be judged separately from logo and should be approximately eight words or less.
(4) Winning entries become the property of The Glengarry News.
(5) Staff of The News and their immediate families are not eligible to enter.
(6) Logo criteria: Must reflect the 100 years of service and history of The Glengarry News.
(7) Slogan criteria: Can relate to the paper's Centennial, but ideally, it should be suitable to be used beyond 1992.
(8) Submission deadline: Friday, Oct. 4, 5 p.m.
(9) Winners must be willing to be photographed for promotional purposes.
(10) Decision of judges are final.

McCrimmon WI delegates learn about plight of Akwesasne Indians

Glen Sandfield
Lorna Chapman
874-2408

Maurice Menard along with his mother Annette Menard, flew to New Brunswick last week to visit Sister Louise Menard of St. Antoine's town.

They were very well received at the Moncton Airport with Sister Louise and friends, to meet them and had arranged to have a vehicle to visit while they stayed with Sr. Louise for five days.

During their stay in New Brunswick, they visited the Acadian Coastal Region where they went to Moncton, Saint Paul, Adamsville, Rogersville where the National Monument is located, Buctouche, Richibucto, Chatham, Neguar, Tracadie, Caraquet and the Acadian village.

They also wish the best to all the Acadians for their kindness and friendship.

Also the best of love and special thanks to Sister Louise Menard for their nice stay at New Brunswick.

We've great news folks. The Outreach Service van will be available for this area on Oct. 16. (That's on a Wednesday.) Anyone needing to use this service is asked to contact Dini Hagen at 874-3645 or Janet Kirton at 525-2543. First to be served will be seniors and handicapped persons and a ramp has now been installed for wheelchairs. The charge will be $5. This is for your convenience, and can be a really valuable service in the community, but you must call in and let the organizers know of your need.

The two delegates from McCrimmon WI, Lorna Chapman and Betty McDonald attended the public relations officer and programmer's workshop on Saturday last in Avonmore. Fifty ladies registered and all expressed their delight of the well-given sessions. There were two each for both categories, and a wealth of helpful literature was available for home study.

The guest speaker in the afternoon was Henry Lickers from the Akwesasne Indian Reserve near Cornwall. He is a scientist, has his BA in science and geography and has studied in universities both here and outside of Canada.

Mr. Lickers spoke of the poor image many people hold of the Indian people and how it is not only untrue but unjust as well. As an environmental scientist, he has been for the past nine years director of the Mohawk Environment Council, and had been prominent in fighting pollution in the St. Lawrence River and land pollution on the reserve. Because of the problems caused by the changing landscape and loss of wetlands due to the St. Lawrence Seaway, the native peoples have lost home industries and thus their livelihood.

Swamps are needed to grow sweet grass and black ash trees for the making of baskets. They are shipped worldwide and are much desired products. Rice no longer grows in great abundance, cutting their harvests and income again. Cattle cannot be raised because of the obnoxious fumes from Cornwall. They used to be good farmers, they have lost that too, since the cattle die in about six or seven years.

He showed a video called the path ahead, which will be shown on PBS this fall. The second part of the series will be on TV also, probably shown in two parts. The native people's creed is that the land is greater than ourselves, they aren't caretakers for the land but are part of it, and all nature. PCBs are very evident in the river, so no fish can be eaten. Thousands of farming acres have been reduced to zero.

To make a living, men came from the United States and suggested that gambling would be a boost for their economy, and this caused a split in the community because while some supported the idea, many others did not. It resulted in Mohawks fighting Mohawks, a deplorable situation. We can inter-relate as friends, and the Great Lakes United, the Sierra Clubs and Greenpeace have all joined forces to fight this pollution.

He said native people consider themselves to be the younger brother in the scheme of things, for if he goes, the earth will still go on and will he even be missed? This gave everyone food for thought.

Keep on the lookout in December or January for his video The Path Ahead, it is very interesting and informative. Seldom do we get to see a real down-to-earth look at the heart of the native people's dilemma, and their outlook on its solution. It is anything but another boring documentary. Certainly everyone who saw the first part will be especially anxious not to miss the second part. This is one meeting that was a great success all 'round!

Bessie MacLennan accompanied Lorna Chapman to Maxville on Sunday evening to hear the Osgoode Township Male Choir of 50 voices. It was hosted by the Moose Creek Knox Presbyterian Church at St. Andrew's Presbyterian in aid of the Moose Creek church's building fund. The church was filled, and they were not disappointed. Some of the songs were familiar, some spirituals and others new to the listeners, but they were all sung as a perfectly tuned choir, with great expression, perfect timing and diction. Those who were there surely were blessed by this wonderful flawless performance.

A family get-together was held on Sunday afternoon at the Glen Sandfield hall to celebrate the 25th anniversary of Rita and Grant MacLennan. A sumptuous buffet luncheon was followed by music on the violins of Beverly MacQueen, Linda MacNaughton and Isabel MacLennan, accompanied by their sister Doreen Howes. A brief sing-song was led by Lorna Chapman accompanied by Bessie MacLennan. Among the guests were folks from Ottawa, Montreal and area friends and relatives. Congratulations to you both on this happy occasion.

The 39'ers met at the Church on the Hill for their monthly luncheon meeting with more than 40 members present. After the meal Gerald McGillis played his fiddle, accompanied by Pat Hauser, Nancy Campbell and Lorna Chapman presented a musical skit — Oh No John, No John, No!, which drew lots of laughter from the group. Christmas dinner will be on Dec. 11 this year. Nov. 3 is the Ottawa trip date.
