Cornwall Stopped Vandalsm.

Just before Hallowe'en a round dozen of young fellows who had been acting in a disorderly way were rounded up and fined $1 and costs each or $4.20 in all. This seems to have excellent effect as the vandalism of other years gave place, this season, to a fantastic street parade and other harmless diversions.

MANITOBA INSANE ASYLUM BURNED

Patient Started Fire That Destroyed Government Institution at Brandon

Winnipeg Nov. 3—A gentle sweet-faced woman an inmate of the institution for many years, playing all afternoon with a box of matches she had secured while assisting in kitchen work at the noon hour causing this evening the destruction of the quarter-million dollar insane asy- of the Manitoba Government at Brandon and rendered six hundred inmates and a hundred attendants homeless. The fire was smouldering in the hospital for some time before it was discovered at 5.30 in the evening. Then smoke followed and the source was located but the flames spread with such rapidity that all the resources of the staff were directed to getting out the inmates and with success that although the magnificent building crowning the heights of Brandon hills was reduced to ruins, and not a life was lost. The new water works system to protect the buildings had not been completed, and the brigade had a mile and a half to run across the valley to the scene. Citizens followed in automobiles and assisted greatly in taking care of the inmates a number of whom were seriously injured in getting out. The military were called out and added to the asylum guards, preserved order among the screaming. threatening crowd who stood to the snow, their scant garments blown around their bodies by the cold wind. With precision, however the staff gradually housed them in stables, outhouses until the force of the fire was over. Here the militia was of great service in guarding the exits and preserving order.

Hon. G. R. Caldwell, a Member of the Cabinet, was in the city and arranged for the Armoury and Winter Fair buildings to be fitted up and to these commodious buildings shelterless throng was conveyed The problem of looking after them for the next few months is a serious one. There is another large asylum north of the city at Selkirk, but it is filled, and the new addition to it will not be completed for weeks. When it is ready three hundred can be accommodated.

The men, women and children were not lined up and taken out of the burning building, but were driven out in droves to a corral in barn back of the buildings. Some who had better control of themselves than others were allowed to assist in carrying out the furnishings, and they accepted the invitations with fiendish glee, rushing back into the flames unmindful of the heat or the terrible danger. They finally had to be pounced upon and escorted back to the main throng.

Bursar Cummings says not a life was lost, but this seems incredible. It was an hour an a half before the city firemen had the hose playing on the flames and in the meantime the stables, with their human occupants, were in grave danger from the high wind prevailing. The building was fully insured by the Government and will be rebuilt at once, workmen starting to-morrow.

Guards watched the inmates leave the burning structure. Some rushed to the river, others hide in the bushes, but, with the exceptions of twenty-five, all are rounded up. Many residents who had friends confined in the institution came over and are caring for them. The military will be under arms all night.

At 9.30 p. m. the west wing of the asylum, the last remaining portion, was all in flames, completing the destruction. The loss will be half-a-million dollars. Hon. G. R. Coldwell made the statement that as far as could be learned no life was lost. Some of the wandering ones in the first coufusion may have strayed back, but no guards knew of any missing. The asylum was erected in 1889 and had wings added at various times since. It contained insane from Alberta and Saskatchewan, as well as Manitoba, the new provinces not having any asylums built as yet.

Hematite In Hastings.

Belleville Nov.4.—Mr. Longriecker, who has been prospecting in North Hastings for iron ore, and testing his discoveries with a diamond drill, has struck a very large deposit of hematite about a mile north of Madoc village. Tests show from three to four millions of tons in the location which has not yet been fully explored. Transportation will be easy as the Grand Trunk Railway line from Madoc to Eldorado, which has not been used for several years runs close to the property. Development on a large scale will take place in the Spring when a large number of men will be employed and boarding-houses and suitable machinery will be erected.

The property was purchased from Mr. A. W. Coe, of Madoc, for $10,000.

GREATEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM IS "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"I Honestly Believe It," says Mr. Mills

Knowlton, P.Q., Oct. 12th, 1909.

For many years I suffered from severe Rheumatism and the attacks were very distressing and prevented me from doing my ordinary work.

I tried many remedies and physicians' treatments but nothing seemed to do me much good, and I was becoming very anxious for fear I would become a permanent cripple from Rheumatism.

I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and this medicine has entirely cured me, and I honestly believe that "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Rheumatism Cure in the world.

E. E. MILLS,
Asst. P.M., Knowlton, Que.

"Fruit-a-tives" not only strengthens and heals the kidneys—but also regulates the bowels, improves the action of the skin—and thus keeps the blood pure and rich and free from uric acid which causes Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives"—the great fruit medicine—is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50; trial size, 25c; or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

$125,000 Fire In Gananoque.

Gananoque Oct. Nov. 3.—At 6 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the drying kiln of the Ontario Wheel Company's works. The kiln, which is situated at the back of the premises, contained very inflammable material and was soon a raging furnace despite the hard work of the firemen, who responded quickly to check the flames.

The main building, which is beside the kiln, soon caught on fire, and the local brigade called on Kingston for assistance. The Kingston brigade arrived about 9.30 and did much in checking the flames, although the fire was practically under control by 10 o'clock. The main building, along with its machinery and goods under construction is asmouldering mass, and all that remains of the wheel company's fine buildings is the two warehouses and boiler-room.

The loss is $150,000, but is covered by $125,000 insurance. One hundred men are thrown out of work.

GOOD POINTS OF ABERDEEN-ANGUS.

A well known breeder and feeder of Johnson county, Ill., says ever since he has been farming he has raised cattle and fed steers, but in 1906 he began raising and feeding the Aberdeen-Angus. He prefers this breed because of their great showing in the actual test of fattening and also because they have no horns, writes a correspondent of Country Gentleman.

At present he has 150, but as yet his herd is not in shape, as he says he is just learning and finds that it takes some years to accomplish just a little. The head of his herd (that is, his breeding herd) is a very fine animal, showing good breeding. He is kept in the stable and tied out in the sun on fine days; otherwise during the day he is tied in a long stable to a ring in a wire, allowing him the run of the stable, also access to water at all times. As soon as the calves come to breeding age he disposes of the males to prevent inbreeding.

His calves are allowed to run with the cows until they are six months old, at which time they are weaned at once. He never bothers with milking the cows after the calves are weaned, as he says his cow's udder will never spoil if no milk is taken from it at all, but if a little is taken at irregular intervals there is danger. He says, however, that their milk flow is very low when the calves are weaned. He is making that a point of labor saving, letting the calves suck until six months old, and having the cows low in milk at that time and never milking them at all.

His calves are mostly dropped in the spring, about the middle of March and the first of April usually, as near the same time as possible. In the fall they are fed well and kept in fine condition all the time. They are run on blue glass pasture until cold weather, when they are stabled, with freedom of lots in which plenty of fresh water is always provided. They are fed on shelled corn when small, and later on ground corn and bran, with some alfalfa. They also have access to some straw stacks usually. He believes in letting them have all the good food they will eat the first year or two. His cows are bred each year. The finest heifers are kept for breeders and the others fattened for the market.

His cows are kept in box stalls until the calves are able to get about, when they are turned out with the others. He does not keep the calves away from their mothers, as his pastures are not all near the barn. He says he has been making the mistake of breeding his heifers too young, thus stunting the animals somewhat, and he has come to the conclusion that it would be best to have the first calf dropped by a heifer three years old. During the winter he keeps his stock in warm stables, with water inside, keeping the doors open except when too cold, and a stack of hay or straw in the lot to which they have free access. His cattle and horses have separate lots. Every night and morning he feeds all they will clean up of ground corn in connection with alfalfa hay and shredded fodder.

Cause of Founder.

Laminitis, or founder, is most commonly caused by overfeeding while the horse is idle in the stable; also sometimes by overwork or hard driving on macadamized roads. It is most common in the fore feet, causing feverish conditions, pain and tenderness. The feet are hotter than usual and are frequently moved. The pulse and breathing are quickened. It is a serious matter and should be treated by a veterinarian. The shoes are removed, the feet poulticed and a dose of physic given. Some cases recover, while in others the injury takes some permanent form like slight lameness, dropped soles or pumiced feet.—American Cultivator.

Robbers Ransack Prescott Offices

The office of James S. Elliott & Son's carpet factory, George street, Prescott, was entered Tuesday night, and $19.68 cash was taken from a drawer in one of the desks. The burglars entered through a rear window, and ransacked the main office, scattering books and papers. The drawer from which the money was taken was the only one that was locked, and being unable to force the lock the burglar cut the bottom out of it with a jack-knife

This is the fourth burglary within two weeks, and all have apparently been commited by a local cracksman who has had opportunities of studying the premises. The other places entered were Pinsonneault's Photo studio, Henderson's dry goods store and McPherson's hardware store, small amounts being secured at each place.

Mr. A. D. Harkness, of Irena, Receives Appointment

Mr. A. D. Harkness, of Irena P. O., Dundas County, has been appointed by the Hon. Jas. S. Duff to be superintendent of the Government's Experimental Farm at Jordan Harbor, in succession to the late Harvey S. Peart, who died some months ago.

With this appointment is announced a slight change in the policy of the Minister of Agriculture with regard to the management of the Jordan Farm. Formerly it was in charge of a director, who was responsible for all the work carried on. It is now proposed to place it under the immediate supervision of the Director of the Fruit Branch of the Department, Mr. P. W. Hodgetts, who will visit the farm once a week or as often as is necessary to keep closely in touch with the scientific and other work being carried on. Mr. Harkness will be the resident superintendent. It is believed that this policy will not only keep the department in closer touch with the farm, but also result in increased usefulness.

In Mr. Harkness the Government believe they have secured an excellent man for the position. Since taking a course at the Ontario Agricultural College he has been one of the most prominent fruit growers in Eastern Ontario. He was one of the first to adopt spraying and other scientific methods and has continued consistently in this line. As a consequence he has built one of the most successful commercial orchards in the eastern part of the province—a good recommendation for his future work, as it is the desire of the Minister, while not neglecting the experimental side, to give as much attention as possible to the commercial aspect of the work. For many years Mr. Harkness served as a director of the Ontario Fruit Grower's Association and he is widely known as an institute speaker. Moreover in the selection of an Eastern Ontario man it is intended to further emphasize the fact that the farm is a provincial and not a local institution. Mr. Harkness will commence his new duties at once.

The bridesmaid was artistically dressed in pale blue silk lola crepe and carried a boquet of white carnations. The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of Mr. Scarfe to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Sadie Copping, of Ottawa, cousin of the bride. After the ceremony a great number of friends sat down to a suptuous repast.

The happy couple left for a trip of a few weeks to Montreal and Sherbrooke, Que. On their return they will occupy their new parsonage, Dundella, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd were the recipients of many beautiful presets. All their many friends join in wishing them many hearty congratulations.

THE FAT GODDESS.

A Picture That Jarred the Nerves of a French Art Patron.

M. Durand, a French picture buyer of a century ago, had little wisdom as a critic, and his ambition, compounded equally of childlike vanity and genuine benevolence, was to figure as a patron of youthful genius.

One of the earliest commissions he bestowed was upon a young artist who selected for his subject a scene of classic mythology, in which the assembled gods were depicted upon Mount Olympus. When it was finished M. Durand was invited to the studio to inspect it. His face clouded as he gazed.

"Young man," he declared, "you have not treated me fairly. It is true I do not pretend to know everything about art, but I am not a fool, and I know that gods and goddesses should be no less noble than kings and queens. These people of yours are not even aristocrats! Madame, my wife, does not pretend to be a fine lady, yet when I put my two hands around her waist it is by an inch only that they fail to meet, and as for Juliettte, my daughter, she is as slender as a needle. Look now at that big, clumsy woman in a loose gown who you say is queen among the gods! She has no figure at all. She is all the way down the same. Pouf! Call her a lady and a goddess—she who is without stays and without waist! Mme. and Mlle. Durand would make a mock of her, your Juno! Pouf! She is a peasant, a pillow, a pig!"

Nevertheless he was convinced by infinitely tactful explanations that the wasp waist was unknown in classic antiquity, even to goddesses. It was with proud complacence that he finally accepted the picture and the knowledge that the sovereign lady of Mount Olympus had never attained the heroic compression achieved by Mme. and Mlle. Durand.

A GEOLOGIC PHENOMENON.

Raised Beaches and Caves of the Island of Arran.

The island of Arran is one of those places on the west of Scotland where the geologic phenomenon known as a "raised beach" is very apparent. All along the coast there are evidences that the land has been considerably elevated at some period of the world's history. One of these proofs is the presence of caves of various sizes formed by the action of the waves in the past, but which are now well above the present high water mark. The farmers use some of the larger caves as shelters for sheep in stormy weather.

In a remote corner of the island one of these caves has been converted into a human habitation, where a family of several persons dwell in absolute seclusion. Their occupation is the gathering of whelks, an employment which is said to afford but a precarious livelihood. As the gathering of the shellfish can only be done at low water and as the fishers have no boat or other occupation, they have ample leisure to enjoy the pure air and bask in the sunshine.

Except for the drip from the face of the high rocks above, which is skillfully diverted, the cave is absolutely dry. The interior is shaped like a triangle, the floor forming the base. Save at the sides there is ample room to stand upright and move about inside. Besides the beds and cooking utensils, the cave contains many articles of various kinds, giving the interior quite a homelike appearance. The apology for a fireplace is some way back from the entrance, through which the smoke finds its way outside.—Wide World Magazine.

Obituary Gems.

When John Sherman of New Haven, preacher, mathematician, almanac maker and father of twenty-six children, heard of the death of his good friend Jonathan Mitchell, a Harvard pastor, he explaimed (after due thought and many poetic pangs):

Here lies the darling of his time.
Mitchell expired in his prime,
Who four years short of forty-seven
Was found full ripe and plucked for heaven.

When Thomas Dudley, father of the first American poetess, Anne Bradstreet, came to his deathbed, says the South Atlantic Quarterly, he showed where his daughter had received her surprising gift by composing such farewell lines as:

Dim eyes, deaf ears, cold stomach shew
My dissolution is in view.
Eleven times seven near lived have I,
And now God calls I willing die.

A Mother Of 23 Children Dead

The body of Mrs. T. Lachapelle 50 years of age, wife of the proprietor of the Lachapelle hotel, Embrun, was found drowned in the Castor River about 7 o'clock Saturday, directly opposite to the hotel. Mrs, Lachapell had been in ill health for the past two years and recently was very sick, but had recovered and was in unusually good spirits Friday. She was seen about six o'clock that morning and appeared to be acting as usual. The case, however, is thought to be one of suicide as the circumstances are such that it scarcely could have been an accident. She is thought to have been mentally deranged as a result of her illness Mrs. Lachapelle was a mother of twenty three children, ten of whom are living. One daughter, married, is the wife of Peter Gagne, at South Indian, and another, Corinne is a wife of Mr. Benoit, a tinsmith at Embrun. One son, Thomas, is a prosperous farmer of Embrun. The The rest of the children are living at home. Mr. Lachapelle has kept hotel in Embrun for the past 28 years. There will be no inquest. The funeral took place on Monday after the arrival of the train from Ottawa.

C. Lee Won the Guess

During the Canadian National Exhibition the Weston Shoe Co., Limited, of Campbellford, had their spring samples at Toronto and held a novel contest which aroused a good deal of interest. Ten prizes were given for the ten shoe men most successful in choosing out of their one hundred and twenty spring lines the most popular twenty-four. The one who stood first, Mr. C. Lee Casselman, of Chesterville, chose nineteen out of the twenty-four, which is surprisingly good, and shows excellent judgment on his part. The following came later in the order named :—B. Brown, Crediton ; J. J. Butler, Haileybury; W. E. Halpin, Smith's Falls ; Geo. Mills, Norwood ; J. McClennan, Palgrove ; W. Williams, Acton ; W. G. Monet, Port Perry ; W. G. Pink, Toronto ; R. J. Drysdate, Hensall. There were no restrictions. The contest was open to any in the retail shoe business. The samples were much admired, especially the new Columbia and Alberta lasts, and it looks like big business for the coming season.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Democrats Swept Into Power

Elections held throughout the United States Tuesday resulted in a political convulsion of far-reaching extent, similar to the famous tidal wave of 1882, and even more widespread in its effects.

The National House of Representatives has been secured by the Democrats, who will control it by a safe working majority after the 4th of March next, reversing the present Republican majority of 43. Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri has announced his candidacy for Speaker to succeed Speaker Cannon. The United States Senate will have a reduced Republican majority as a result of legislative electtons held in many States.

Canadian Verse

THE SUN CUP.

By Archibald Lampman.

[Archibald Lampman is the best known name in Canadian literature, and the poet has achieved fame wherever the English language is spoken. He was born at Morpeth, Ont., in 1861 and died at Ottawa in 1899.

The earth is the cup of the sun,
That he fil'eth at morning with wine,—
With the warm, strong wine of his might
From the vintage of gold and of light,
Fills it, and makes it divine.

And at night when his journey is done,
At the gate of his radiant hall,
He setteth his lips to the brim,
With a long last look of his eye,
And lifts it and draineth it dry,—
Drains till he leaveth it all
Empty and hollow and dim.

And then, as he passes to sleep,
Still full of the feats that he did
Long ago in Olympian wars,
He closes it down with the sweep
Of its slow-turning luminous lid,
Its cover of darkness and stars,
Wrought once by Hephæstus of old
With violet and vastness and gold.

Milady's Mirror

If you would keep your looks beyond their natural limit practice self control. Nothing so quickly wrecks the nerves, hence the looks, as letting oneself go.

It may be easier to fly into a rage at trivialities, to pucker the face with worry or to shake with fear, but the woman with regard for keeping young learns to quell these emotions in the interest of nervous force.

Have you ever stopped to consider what unchecked anger takes out of you? Leaving consideration for your victim or a regard for conventions out of the question, "getting mad" weakens one physically and mentally, and nerves suffer.

Have you never said "I feel as weak as a rag" after indulging in a temper? The next time you make that remark put the blame in the right place. Learn that rage is weakening and aging and you will have taken a long step toward self control.

Cowardice as an emotion is debasing to the soul. It is also wrinkling to the flesh and destructive of nervous force. The woman who lives in a tremor of fear, getting into an equal panic whether she sees a mouse or a murderer, who lies awake half the night listening for possible marauders, who gets pleasure in nothing through her insensate fear of horse, motor, canoe or yacht, is the woman who will soon look her years—and more.

If nervous peace is to be yours keep a grip on your emotions. Love not nor hate not, fret not nor fear not, envy not nor rage not—to excess. Better a colorless character than a wornout body—if the choice must be made. The mistake lies in thinking emotions controlled are emotions lacking. One makes for strength so surely as the other is a sign of weakness.

A White Throat.

At this season the girl who has gone collarless the summer through is beginning to be anxious about the state of her throat. The day of drastic treatment is at hand if her neck is to look well in winter. The skin is browned from exposure to the sun.

To whiten it rub it each night with lemon, letting it stay on all night. If there are rough places in the skin it can be gone over with a fine pumice stone dipped in lemon juice.

In the morning rinse off with warm water in which a little almond meal has been dissolved. This whitens and smooths the skin.

A more decided bleach is made from eight ounces of alcohol, four ounces of rosewater and a teaspoonful of tincture of benzoin. Saturate a thin piece of linen in the liquid and pin around the throat and let it stay on for an hour. Then massage with a good cucumber cream.

Take It For What It's Worth.

Pork is not commonly reported to be a hygienic food, and assuredly it has no aesthetic associations. It is therefore somewhat surprising to hear a diet of pork recommended to the beauty seeker. Such is the latest dictum, however, and in proof of its wisdom we are asked to note the clear, velvety skins of the country girls with whom pork is a staple article of diet. Pork is supposed to produce this velvety effect by supplying oily matter to the skin. It acts as a sort of natural cosmetic and is much less expensive than the creams city women employ to counteract the harshness and dryness of their complexions. In the absence of pork bacon is recommended.

The Curse of Red Hair.

Even Titian did not succeed in removing the curse from red hair, for it is variously accused of causing anything from temper to freckles. And now comes an English scientist who is trying to blame it for shortness of stature. By a system of statistics all his own he has figured that among boys and girls at the age of fourteen the shortest invariably have red hair. Among girls those with black and blond hair take first place in height, and among boys the light browns are easy winners. The figures look conclusive, but those who do not like them may reflect with Mark Twain that all statistics are watered stock.

Use a Medicine Ball.

A medicine ball is a good possession for any one shut up in an office all day. A few minutes spent in throwing it will send the blood coursing through the veins. Fencing and bowling are both admirable sports for those who need exercise, and every office worker should seek out some opportunity of practicing them. And in any case she ought to do all the outdoor walking she can get into the day without overwearying herself.

To Restore Fair Hair.

When fair hair begins to lose luster it is a good plan to apply olive oil liberally, comb the hair thoroughly and then to expose it for some hours to the direct rays of a warm sun. The exposure may be repeated on the following day, and on the third day the hair may be washed if deemed necessary with warm soap lather and be rinsed.

A WHALE IN A HURRY.

The Truthful Mariner Tells How Fast the Big Fellow Went.

"Sometimes you can put an iron into a whale and he won't splash on the surface, but will start off like a rocket or perhaps will go right down and you have to cut loose and lose your line and irons," said the truthful old mariner.

"We were lying becalmed one day off the Cape of Good Hope. By and by we saw two or three whales coming up to blow about two miles away.

"The captain called the watch up, and a couple of boats started for the whales, which were lying still, as if sunning themselves. We raced with the other boat and got ahead, for my men were lithe and tough, and by and by we got alongside of one of the big fellows. The steering oar was pulled in, the oars were packed—that is, piled in so that they couldn't strike the water—then an iron was thrown into the floating island.

"The whale lay still for a moment, as if struck with amazement that any one should dare to touch him. Suddenly he made up his mind what to do. He started off like a locomotive, the rope whizzing around in a way to astonish a landlubber. When the rope was out we were rushing by the captain's boat like mad.

"All we could do in that double ended boat was to sit still and see her go through the water. I candidly believe that we went at the rate of a mile a minute, and the water was a very wonderful sight. It reminds me, now that I think of it, of Poe's description of the interior of the maelstrom, where the water went round so fast and was so black that it must have seemed like a wall of polished ebony.

"The pressure downward piled the water up on both sides of us so that it seemed to be at least three feet higher than the edge of the boat, but it couldn't run in, for we were going so fast it hadn't time.

"Every one's eyes were blurred with the wind, which seemed to be blowing a hurricane against us. It looked as if the whale would never get tired out, and we were going to sea at an amazing rate. The ship went away as if by magic, and we had lost sight of the other boat. Finally the line all at once slackened.

"The whale hadn't stopped and, for all I know, is going ahead at the rate of a mile a minute still, but the iron had come out.

"We rowed back to the ship, and as we came along the captain called over the rail:

"'Where's the whale?'

"'Oh,' said I, 'the iron melted out, he went so fast.'

"'Just what I thought,' said the captain, and that night we all had plum duff and grog."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Silver Lining.

In life troubles will come which look as if they would never pass away. The night and the storm look as if they would last forever, but the coming of the calm and the morning cannot be stayed.

GILBERT WINS

Nationalist Candidate Returned in Bye-Election by Majority of 242

Drummondville, Que, Nov. 4 —Complete returns of yesterday's bye election in Drummond and Arthabaska show a total majority of 242 for Gjlbert, the Nationalist candidate, Mr. Gilbert received a majority of 209 in Arthabaska and a majority of 33 in Drummond.

In the bye-election in Drummond and Arthabasca the Nationalist won. Gilbert's election over J. E. Perrault, the Liberal candidate, will likely be by nearly 300 Returns are hard to confirm in the widely scattered district. This is, however, in the face of the loudly predicted 1,000 victory for the liberal candidate. Gilbert's win is indicative of the antagonism of the French Canadians for the naval policy or any thing that scents of Imperialism The result came as so great a surprise to Liberals and Nationalists alike that it was received in Victoriaville in silence not a cheer evincing the triumph of the victors, while the Liberals were plunged in a thoughtful dejection. All predictions of the vote went contrary. In neither Drummond nor Arthabasca did the Government secure a majority. Drummond, that traditional home of Liberalism, made a volte face and instead of the hoped for 500 majority for J. E. Perrault, gave 60 for Gilbert. Arthabaska went about as expected, giving 125 for Gilbert. These figures, however, will be considerably altered when the offical returns come in from the widley scattered polling districts.

Smith's Falls Man Held Under Bail.

Smith's Frlls, Ont., Nov. 4.—The charges against Leslie Pursell, of Smith's Falls, for obstructing a peace officer in the discharge of his duty and a wilful destruction of property were heard today by Police Magistrate Sparham. The case occupied the court all day, and at the conclusion of the evidence Pursell was committed for trial. Bail was accepted in his behalf for $700 in two suretics of $300 and $400 respectively.

It will be remembered that two or three weeks ago an agent of the Petre Manufacturing company, of Toronto, and Bailiff Buris, of Perth, went to Purcell's shop to execute a lien held by the company against Purcell. The men claim that at the point of a revolver he refused to allow them to enter, and while they were telephoning for a police at a near by store an explosion occured in Pursell's shop, which wrecked the machinery. He disappeared at the time, but was arrested later.

Clever Work Done In Toronto General Hospital

Toronto, November 2—An extremely interesting operation was performed at the general hospital this afternoon. The operation was the very rare one of the "Transfusion of blood," and the patient was a young man from Sutton, Ont, named Norman Allen, who while working in an ice house with a chisel bar accidentally gashed his leg below the knee, severing the main artery and causing a tremendous loss of blood. The wound was treated at the hospital, but the loss of blood has been so great that his recovery was despaired of. As a last resort Allen's young brother offered to give him enough blood to restore his system to health. This afternoon the two young men were brought to the operating rooms and at least sixty or seventy men looked on while the operation was performed at least a quart of blood being taken from the younger man's arm. According to the hospital authorities both men will recover.

Throughout Canada there were 42 charges and 18 convictions for murder; for attempted murder, 28 charges and 14 convictions; manslaughter 38 charges and 24 convictions.

One Dead; Two Injured.

Niagara Falls, Ont. Nov. 4—One man dead and two injured is the result of the collapsing of a ladder at the Ontario Power Company's new works below the bank this morning. Three workmen employed as riggers were climbing a ladder together the first being Benjamin Philips who was followed by Wm. Dashney, then Richard Misener. When they were up about thirty-five feet one of the uprights of the ladder gave way and all three men were precipitated to the rocky floor in a heap. When help reached them it was supposed all three were dead. It was found that Dashney had his skull crushed in and with the other two men he was hurried off to the hospital. Dashney died as he was carried into the hospital. Philips received severe scalp wounds, general contusions and cuts on the body and limbs; also slight internal injuries. Misener received a bruised and lacerated leg and several minor cuts on the body. The men, it is said went up the ladder on their own account. All three were well known here. Dashney formerly kept Queen's Park Hotel, and at the reduction of licenses he was one of the unfortunates ones. He leaves a wife and three small children.

LIVE STOCK, POULTRY and HORSE SHOW

Ottawa, Jan. 16-20 '11

The purpose of the show is to give to the farmers of Eastern Ontario the results of the practical experience of those who have made a close study of the breeding, feeding, rearing and marketing of the classes of live stock and poultry most profitable to the farmers. This is accomplished by having at the show high class exhibits of Horses, Beef Cattle, Dairy Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultsy and Seeds, and by supplementing these object lessons with addresses by experts in which they tell how the best can be produced profitably.

Many who have attended past Shows say they got pointers worth many times the money and time expended in attending.

Mayor Unseated.

Dr. J. S. McCallum Mayor of Smith's Falls has been declared disqualified and unseated by a decision of the county judge at Perth In 1909 Mr. McCallum purchased from M. Ryan of that town 400 bags of cement which he proposed to use in the construction of the business block for which Ryan by a verbal agreement held a contract. The building is not yet built or even started.

In June last as head of the corporation, Dr. McCallum executed an agreement with a Belleville firm for the construction of granolithic walks. Shortly after this Ryan informed the contractor that the Mayor had some cement he wished to dispose of. The Mayor also offered the cement, no price being mentioned. The contractor accepted the offer and took delivery from the Mayor's storehouse. On Oct. 1 a writ was served and heard in chambers on the 3rd inst. Dr. McCallum the respondent alleged that the cement had been resold to Ryan and that Ryan sold to the contractor, since he had decided to use brick rather than cement in his proposed building. On this rested the defence. The doctor it was claimed was merely acting as agent for an undisclosed principal. It was shown, however that there was no record of such a sale to Ryan, either by entry or delivery. Further it was Dr. McCallum who carried on the whole transaction with the contractor. It was he who rendered the account for the cement upon final delivery, he who made the rebate in price for the bags which he instructed the contractor to return to Ryan, who dealt in that kind of cement he who receipted the account and receivhd and cashed the cheque, keeping the money and making no entry in the matter.

Under the Municipal Act section 80, and upon the evidence adduced the judge held that the application for disqualification should prevail. Hence, Mayor McCallum was declared unseated and ordered to pay the costs.

The residence of the Customs Officer at Aultsville, Mr. Durham Cook, was invaded about the first of July by a swarm of honey bees. Having lighted on the roof of the house, a small opening two inches long by half an inch wide in the shingles allowed them excess to the cornice. There the industrious bees labored hard to put in store a fine lot of honey for their winter's supply. Mr. Cook thought he had a right to some of the honey, but did not know how to proscure the prize. His neighbor, Mr. A. Fetterly, who is ever ready to give a helping hand, volunteered to take the job in charge, Securely veiling his face, with a pair of winter mitts on his hands he mounted the ladder with a torch. After removing some of the shingels he was assisted by post Master R. H. Hanes, and they cut an opening which exposed the honey to view. A call was made for pans which were filled with honey, about 60 or 70 lbs, of pure honey being secured.

Sad Death At Smith's Falls.

Smith's Falls Nov. 4.—A death under peculiarly sad circumstances occured here last evening when Miss Alice Ward a well known young lady passed away. A couple of months ago her brother Mr. Walter Ward a prominent citizen, was stricken with paralysis his illness proving a great grief to his sister. A few weeks ago he was taken to a sanitarium in Toronto for treatment but his condition did not show much improvement and on Monday Miss Ward went there to accompany him home arriving here yesterday afternoon. From the moment of the return the sister was completely prostrated and yesterday morning she sank into unconsciousness lingering in that condition until six o'clock in the evening when she breathed her last.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Russell Ward a member of one of the oldest families in Smith's Falls. She and her brother who lived together were the last surviving members of the family. Miss Ward's sudden death has caused much sorrow throughout the town.

Is the reason—'tis the best Sir.
There they to sell,
The plain facts tell,
And you must do the rest, Sir,

Yet never urge to buy Sir,
