HENRY'S Shorthand School Ottawa, Ont.

No School in Canada offers a better training, or ensures a more successful future. Henry's leads all others, and ranks among employers as "THE SCHOOL OF HIGHER EFFICIENCY"—a fact borne out by more than 600 pupils who have, since January, 1913, left other Ottawa schools to come to it.

Therefore, it is not surprising that business men, in advertising for stenographers, should specially say, "Graduates of Henry's School preferred."

Late James I. Merkley, Dunbar

On Monday, May 5th, at ten a.m., there passed away to that Great Beyond an old and much respected resident of Dunbar in the person of James I. Merkley, having spent the past year with his daughter, Mrs. Donald McIntosh ,owing to the death of his only son, Ellery.

The deceased had been in poor health for the last few years but was suddenly attacked with heart failure and passed away very quickly and peacefully. He was a son of the late Jacob Merkley and Mary E Van-Allen, born near Dunbar, February 5, 1851.

The funeral service, which was held on Wednesday at one thirty p.m., at the home of his daughter, was conducted by his pastor, Rev. Morrison, Elma, assisted by Rev. Russell, of Williamsburg United church, the text being chosen from John 15: 1-3. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir which sang, "We Are Going Down the Valley One by One." He was laid to rest in the family plot at Mariatown cemetery.

The esteem in which the deceased was held was evidenced by the large number of friends which gathered at the home and followed the remains to their last resting place.

He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife, four daughters: Mrs. Simeon Beckstead, Morrisburg; Mrs. Donald McIntosh, Elma; Mrs. Willie Casselman, Rowena, and Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Iroquois, also a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ellery Merkley, and 14 grandchidren.

Among the floral tributes were a wreath from wife and daughter-in-law, pillow from daughters, a cross from grandchildren, and a host of flowers from friends and neighbors.

Friends attended the funeral from Morristown, N.Y.; Ottawa, South Mountain, Hulbert, Iroquois, Shanley, Cardinal and Aultsville.

The pall bearers were: G. F. Barkley, Bernice McIntosh, Iden Whitteker, Charles Bouck, Fred McMillan, and Elgin Herriman.

Two Lose Lives In Cornwall Canal

Emile Savard, 16, and Michael Guigmac, 16, of St. Alban's Que., deckhands of the Key line freighter, Keyvive, were drowned in Cornwall Canal at Lock 21, near Dickinson's Landing, yesterday.

Savard and Guigmac were riding a slender landing boom in preparation to make a landing. As the vessel entered the lock to attach mooring cables the boom snapped, hurling the boys into the water between the ship and the wall of the canal.

Owing to the fact that only a few inches of space remain between the vessel and the wall when the freighter is in the lock, rescue was practically impossible.

Too Young To Drive Cars

Huron Expositor.—Last week two provincial constables stopped every car on the road leading into St. Marys and asked to see the driver's license. That procedure will, in all probability, be followed on other roads. A driver under sixteen can hold no permit. He has no excuse; no recourse but to pay the fine.

In case of an accident on the road the owner of the car driven by a boy or girl under age is going to be entirely out of luck. Whether that owner's car was in the right or in the wrong, will not make any difference whatsoever. He can make no claim to secure damages and can make no defence against paying them. He will pay in either case.

But aside from accidents, the owner of a car who allows a person under age to drive it is simply courting a fine of ten dollars and costs, if arrested, and arrested the driver is going to be sooner or later.

Presented With Club Bag

Last evening the young people of town gathered in the Music Hall to do honor to one of their number, Mr. "Jimmie" Cramer, when he was presented with a handsome club bag on the eve of his departure for Toronto where he goes at this week end to take a position.

Welcome Moisture

During the past twenty-four hours this section has been receiving considerable moisture when a gentle rain has been falling almost continuously. In most cases seeding has been well advanced during the past couple of weeks of high temperatures, with the early grain now showing well above ground. Pastures needed the rain and will doubtless show much improvement.

Boy Scout Field Secretary Visits Local Troop

Field Secretary, Edgar T. Jones, of the Boy Scouts of Canada, paid an official visit yesterday to Chesterville First Troop when he gave a most interesting talk on the organization in the Rex Theatre, following the feature picture when scenes were shown of the world Jamboree held in England last summer. Slides were also shown of the trip of the Canadian Scouts through Scotland.

Mrs. Johnston, Metcalfe

Attended by many friends and relatives, the funeral of Mrs. Isabelle Cameron Johnston, widow of George Johnston who died at her home in Metcalfe last Monday after an illness which lasted six weeks, was held from her late residence to Metcalfe United church at 1.30 yesterday afternoon (standard time). Interment was made in Springhill cemetery.

The many beautiful floral tributes received from friends in Metcalfe and Osgoode where Mrs. Johnston was born, bore testimony to the high esteem in which she was held.

Mrs. Johnston had been a resident of Metcalfe for 35 years. She was a member of the United Church and was a Sunday School teacher for many years. She also took an active part in the Ladies' Aid Society.

The chief mourners were two stepdaughters, Mrs. Harold Persons. Duluth, Minn.; Mrs. Harold Little, Winnipeg; an adopted son, Clifford; two sisters, Mrs. C. Sutherland, Grimsby, Ont., Miss Jessie Cameron, of Metcalfe; and three brothers, John W. Cameron, Vernon; Daniel J. Cameron, Russell, and William Charles Cameron, of Saltcoats, Sask.

Autos Crash on King Street

Saturday evening about nine o'clock when the driver of an automobile bearing license No. NY 327 was attempting to park on King street he pulled toward the curb in such a manner that his rear mud guard caught the front fender on Morley Dillabough's car, giving it a slight twist, and causing some excitement. Slight damage was caused to both cars.

Husband: "Can you forgive the past?"

Wife: "Yes, if you can give me a nice enough present."

Reading

often proves to you the imperfection of your sight

When it becomes necessary to hold the book nearer to or farther away from the eyes—depend upon it something is wrong. The letters run into one another, or the eyes ache, when fatigue follows reading. The condition of the eyes should be investigated. This is advisable not only that your capacity for reading may remain good, but, also, because straining eyes are a direct tax upon health.

We have an equipment which, together with our experience, enables us to determine exactly the state and needs of your eyes.

Prescott Warehouse Burns

Fire of unknown origin partially destroyed a storehouse in the rear of C. D. Martin's hardware store on King street, Prescott, Tuesday night.

The building, of wooden construction, contained a quantity of paints and oils and the firemen worked under difficulty owing to the dense smoke and danger of explosions, but managed to keep the flames well under control, confining them to the one building.

The burned building is just behind one of the town's finest business blocks in which is noused a bank, several stores, offices, etc., none of which were damaged. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

CARD OF THANKS

To all the friends and neighbours whose sympathy and services were so kindly rendered in our time of bereavement, we desire to extend our sincere thanks.—Mrs. James and Mrs. Ellery Merkley, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald McIntosh.

Auger Appeal Dismissed By Unanimous Judgment

Unanimous dismissal by Second Divisional Court was the outcome Friday of the appeal filed by Louis M. Auger, former M. P., against the sentence of two years in the penitentiary imposed on him at Ottawa last March. Auger was convicted of the seduction of a young girl who visited his office in the Parliament Buildings at the capital, seeking a position in the civil service. There was no doubt, Chief Justice Latchford said, that the offence was committed and that Auger was the one who committed it, and there was adequate corroboration of the girl's story.

Bullet Fired Near Vernon Passes Through Auto

Cornwall Standard.—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O'Dair and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tilton had an experience on Saturday night which they would not care to have repeated. While returning home from Ottawa in Mr. O'Dair's car, and when about twenty miles from the Capital and nearing the Vernon section, they heard a report like the blowing-out of a tire. Mr. O'Dair decided to investigate after he had gone about half a block and stopped the car and got out, remarking that if any of his tires had gone he was surprised, as they were practically new. While looking over the rear tires, from where the report had apparently come, he heard two more reports back over a hill, and the party then realized that the car had been shot at. On looking it over they found a hole in either side of the canvas behind the seat, where the bullet had entered from the driver's side and passed out through the opposite side, making a jagged hole on both sides. After hearing the second reports the party saw the headlights of a car coming over the hill and it is supposed that whoever shot at the Cornwall people's car also shot twice at the second car, which passed Mr. O'Dair's car at such a speed that it was impossible to decipher the rear marker. When the Cornwall party recovered their equilibrium, Mr. Tilton recalled that when he heard the report he felt something whiz by the back of his head, and it was probably the bullet as it sailed through the car. It was very fortunate that none of the occupants of the car were leaning any further back on the seat, or one or more of them might have been injured, it not killed, as a check-up of the course the bullet took, measured by the position of the occupants, showed that it must have passed within a few inches of the back of their heads. The party was thoroughly alarmed and lost no time in getting clear of the district. As the second car did not stop, the Cornwall people were unable to learn whether any of its occupants were injured or not when the two reports were heard before the car came over the crest of the hill.

Two Head-On Collisions Week End Near Ottawa

Ottawa.—Two head-on collisions between motor cars, both at sharp turns on highways near Ottawa, caused serious injuries to eight persons over the week end. All the occupants of one car in each case were injured, while those in the other car escaped unhurt.

As a result of the first accident, late Saturday night at Stanley's Corners, 15 miles west of here, Gertrude Armstong, 22, was so severely cut by flying glass that she lost the sight of one eye. Three companions suffered cuts and bruises.

Flying glass was again responsible for injuries to the four occupants of an automobile that collided with another car on the Prince of Wales Highway Sunday.

Thousands View Blossoms

Niagara Falls.—With the multitude of fruit orchards throughout the Niagara district in full bloom, visitors by the thousands, motored about the countryside to see the "Garden of Canada" at the height of its beauty over the week end.

When the traffic was at its height a count kept at Grimsby showed that 2,465 cars passed a given point in one hour. This record was kept on Highway No. 8. In addition to the above count, it is estimated that close to 1 000 cars passed over the ridge road on the escarpment top during the same period and all previous records for the road were broken. In the early part of the day, eastbound traffic was running 50 cars to one, as compared to westbound, while in the late afternoon and evening the reverse was seen. Not a single serious accident was reported to the police during the day. Traffic jams were worst at Grimsby.

Egg Prices Firm

A slightly firmer tone in egg prices throughout Canada is shown by the telegraphic market report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture for the past week. The feeling that storage holdings would be light induced active buying, the British Columbia price rising one-half cent.

Producton is increasing, for the first time this season Winnipeg reports receipts running about the same as last year. Receipts in Saskatchewan are also heavier, but Calgary reports a falling off. Indications are that the peak of production has been passed at the coast. Ontario and Quebec are holding up well. Prince Edward Island has a substantial surplus but this is being taken up by the shortage in supply in New Brusnwick and Nova Scotia.

Home Canning Fully Described in New Booklet

Bank of Montreal Issues Valuable Handbook for Thrifty Housewives.

Did you know that meats and vegetables can now be canned and put away for winter use just as successfully as fruit? This is one of the most useful and remarkable discoveries of recent years, and the process is fully described in a handbook covering the whole field of home canning now being issued for free distribution by the Bank of Montreal.

In recent years the Bank has issued a whole series of handbooks for farmers. The latest booklet, entitled "Home Canning," is addressed particularly to housewives on the farm, and should help materially not only to solve the problems of canning, but to widen its range and add to the prosperity and health of rural families.

Few people realize, perhaps, the progress that has been made in recent years in storing away the products of the summer season for use in winter. There are those who can remember when jam was the only preserve. Then came the preservation of whole fruit in syrup. It was only four years before the war when methods were discovered for the canning of non-acid vegetables and meats, and now there is hardly any perishable food which cannot be stored away in times of plenty for use when need arises.

The question as to whether or not canned products are healthful naturally arises. This booklet dissipates any doubt there may ben on that matter. It shows not only how the essential vitamins and other healthful qualities may be retained in preserved foods, but how they may be made to retain their original freshness and thus contribute materially in the preservation of health through diet.

Everybody knows nowadays that a plentiful supply of fruit and vegetables is necessary to a healthy diet. Many families, however, have no quick and easy access all the year round to fresh products. They usually have to go without fruit and vegetables in winter, which makes for monotony of diet and is expensive from the health standpoint, or they have to buy fresh and canned fruits and vegetables, which generally results in going without. The better way, as described in this booklet, is to provide a supply of home-grown, stored and canned products, which yield good returns in money and in family health, and incidentally proves mighty convenient, since ready-to-serve food is always on hand.

To show what a wide range of food products may now be stored, the following are some to which the directions in this booklet apply: Tomatoes, string beans, peas, corn, greens, asparagus, carrots, beets, rhubarb, berries, cherries, plums, peaches, pears, chicken, beef, pork, soup and fish. The containers to be used are glass jars and tin cans, the later sealed without solder, thus being free from the danger of poison, which is described as " a hangover from the days when soldered cans were used."

There are directions for both cold packs and hot packs, and also not only for the ordinary methods of processing by heat, but also for the use of that extremely valuabe little invention, the steam pressure cooker, which is especially valuable in the canning of meat and vegetables and is useful all the time for cooking.

Summing up, this booklet shows how canning can give summer food in winter! how the fresh-meat-in-hot-weather problem can be solved; how food that would otherwise be wasted can be saved; how feed can be saved by killing and canning chickens, pigs and calves when they are ready; how the housewife may always have at hand food for unexpected company or for busy days; and how the food bills may be reduced.

Free copies of this booklet may be obtained at the local branch of the Bank of Montreal.

Never Was the Bible More Widely Read

The British and Foreign Bible Society announced a year ago that in the twelve months then ended it had distributed more Bibles than in any of the previous one hundred and twenty-four years of its existence. It had sent out from the Bible House in London to all parts of the world no less than 11,399,540 volumes containing the whole or portions of the Holy Scriptures. It had published or circulated no less than 618 translations of the Scriptures into languages other than English, including 146 complete Bibles, 150 complete New Testaments and 322 integral portions of the Bible.

The Canadian Bible Society, auxiliary to the British and Foreign Bible Society, has given evidence in its report of its operations in the year ended February 28 last that the demand for copies of the Scriptures among the people of Canada and Newfoundland continues to be great. Indeed, the records of the organization, formed some twenty-six years ago to distribute the Scriptures, without note or comment, to all who will receive them, show that the demand has more than tripled in that period. In 1928 no less than 506,897 volumes were supplied to readers, and last year distribution amounted to 479,371 volumes, of which 391,580 were in English and 87,791 were in other languages.

No other book ever travelled so far as the Bible travels, and no book is read by so many people of different color and custom and language, one writer has said. Never in history, said the report of the British and Foreign Bible Society, in 1929. have the Scriptures been read so widely as to-day, never have they been so manifestly studied, and never have they had more power in the lives of men. These are hopeful signs, and the continued and growing demand for the Holy Scriptures in Canada speaks well for the future of the Dominion.

The Control of Garden Insects

Experimental Farms Note.

The most of the common garden insects are not hard to control, if one gives the matter a little attention and is willing to invest in a small amount of equipment. Though many people do not know all the common garden insects by sight, indentification is not necessary. In most cases, all one has to determine is whether the insect eats the leaves or stems of the plants, or merely sucks the juice without eating the plant tissue. The former class may be killed by putting a stomach poison such as arsenate of lime, Paris green or arsenate of lead on the leaves where it will be eaten by the insect; and the latter class by using some substance such as kerosene emulsion, tobacco extract or pyrethrum powder which kill either by contact or by the fumes given off. Insects are more voracious feeders when young than when nearing maturity, and are also more easily killed. It is therefore important to apply the remedy as soon as possible after the insect is observed or thought to be present.

For the small amount of spraying that is to be done about the ordinary garden, an expensive sprayer is unnecessary. The ordinary quart-size hand sprayer, such as is commonly used for spraying fly-oil on cows, is large enough. These cost from 60 cents to $1.00. A better grade with a brass or glass tank can be bought for $1.50. They are usually carried in stock by hardware men and by seed men.

Arsenate of lime and Paris green will burn the foliage of many plants unless applied in weak mixture. Use about three level teaspoonfuls of arsenate of lime or one small teaspoonful of Paris green to 2½ gallons of water and always add about three teaspoonfuls of air-slaked lime to guard against burning. Arsenate of lead is sometimes hard to obtain, but it is the safest poison of the three. It will not burn when applied in any strength. Hellebore is the safest stomach poison to use where fruit or other garden products are to be used a short time after being sprayer. The volatile oil which is the poisonous principle of hellebore soon evaporates when exposed to the air, and the remaining powder is then harmless. Apply as directed on the container.

When commercial tobacco preparations cannot be bought, steep one fig of twist tobacco in one quart of hot water for three hours. It the water evaporates, add sufficient to make one quart of solution when finshed. Apply as a spray without diultion.

Excellent bulletins on the control of insects may be obtained free on application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, or to the Superintendent of your nearest Experimental Station.

Paralytic Cripple Regains Use of Limbs

Hamilton.—Physical disability forgotten in the excitement of again meeting his sister, whom he had not seen for 20 years, Charles Elgie of Hamilton, paralyzed for a year because of a spinal growth, walked across a room to greet her. His ailment has almost entirely disappeared.

For 12 months Elgie was a cripple and during that time never once dared to put a foot to the ground. Scotland Yard, thousands of miles away, was appealed to for information regarding the sister, Mrs. Alice Burton, and it was learned that she was residing at 317 Bartlett avenue, Toronto. Unheard of for 20 years, she thought her brother dead.

"I was so surprised to see her again that I just stood up. That's all I can say, and I don't know how it happened." said Elgie.

Elgie saw service in France. He lived for some time on the Pacific coast and while there he lost track of his sister.

Big League Baseball May Become Night Game

Night baseball will probably be the next sporting innovation and it would not be surprising if we should live to see the day when most games will be played after the sun goes down. A few days ago in Des Moines, Ia., a league game was played by artificial light between Des Moines and Wichita in the Western League and the almost unanimous opinion of those who saw it is that it was an unqualified success. That the ball can be seen as well by players and spectators as in the daytime is no longer a question. The only problem is whether the people will want to have their baseball at night. For generations they have been used to having it in the daytime, and it might be as difficult to get them to turn out to night games, after the novelty has worn off, as to get them to go to the theatres in the morning or to spend Sunday afternoon in Church. We are inclined to think not. We know that the tremendous popularity for dog racing, wherever it is legalized, is that the races are held at night and that the average working man whose time is occupied between eight in the morning and six in the evening has a chance for his bit of sport.

Tremendous Opening Crowd.

The Des Moines game, which marked the opening of the season, was played before a crowd of 10,000 people, and with one exception was the largest baseball crowd in the history of the city. Many people came from a distance, attracted, no doubt, mainly by the novelty but also attracted by the knowledge that they could spend an hour or two getting to Des Moines and an hour or two getting home and yet not lose any time from work. Eleven runs were scored in the first inning by Des Moines, which eventually won the game by 11 to 6. But all the runs were made as the result of solid hitting and wild pitching. There was not a play spoiled by the light or lack of it. Everything that happened might just as well have happened on a fine summer afternoon, and no player offered the artificial illumination as an excuse for his work. Only one fly ball was misjudged. In fact, in the special accounts of the game which we have read only one complaint was made and that concerns the netting to protect the spectators in the stands. The light is powerfully reflected off the wire and bothers the spectators rather than the players. This would seem to be a detail which could be remedied easily.

Light Cost $25.

The playing field was illuminated by lights on the top of six galvanized steel towers, all of them erected outside the playing field itself. Two of them were behind the home plate, one each behind first and third base and the others behind right field and left field, respectively. It is estimated that at current rates the lighting cost $25 for the evening's sport. The towers cost about $20000.

Why He Puffed.

The train was pulling out of the platform. The old gentleman was just settling down comfortably. Suddenly the door burst open, and a young man tumbled into the carriage and seated himself, panting and puffing, opposite the old gentleman.

The latter looked on with obvious disapproval.

"You must be very unfit, young man," he said, after a while. "Why, when I was young I never panted and got out of breath like that after a run."

"Perhaps not," returned the other, regaining his breath a little. "But I missed this train at the last station."

News and Information For the Busy Farmer

Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Crop Diversity Helpful.

Dr. G. I. Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, in a recent address said that the recent gloomy talk about the price of western wheat was of minor concern to Ontario, where a diversity of products is grown and where it is possible to make a choice among half a dozen lines to specialize. The time has not yet come when the acreage of any crop can be regulated and an assurance given of highly remunerative prices. The element of chance must be reckoned with in farming as on the stock exchange. Were it possible to fix the price of wheat at cost of production plus twenty per cent there would be a rush to grain growing with a resultant surplus in a few years that the world could not use.

Stresses Home Markets.

In his first public statement, Mr. Jas. B. Fairbairn, newly appointed Deputy Minister of Agriculture, gives expression to the following views:

"My thought is that we should stress Ontario products. We should try to create in the minds of all housewives the desire to purchase Ontario products. She should also educate the dealer. We need the co-operation of city people, the Manufacturers' Associations, Chambers of Commerce and service clubs. We have to stress before these bodies the fact that in order to bring about a reorganization of methods, we have to encourage them to think of Ontario products. My main thought is going to be to stress the purchase of Ontario farm produce. I want to stabilize the home markets for the Ontario producer. We have the very best quality of fruits and vegetables that can be produced anywhere."

Current Crop Report.

Many fields of fall wheat are being ploughed up in Brant, according to a recent crop bulletin issued by the department, Sufficient hay to carry all stock to grass is indicated in Bruce. In Dundas American buyers have been active and a number of grade cows have been sold for from $85 to $100. The top bull at a sale in Carleton brought a price of $225 whole 250 stocker cattle were sold at the same sale. A large acreage of potatoes has been set out in Elgin. Cold weather has effected little injury in Essex County except to tobacco plants, some of which are frozen. A poor growth of fall wheat and meadows in Haldimand has resulted in the ploughing up of several fields Many clover and fall wheat fields in Middlesex are said to be practically worthless.

Profits in Dairying.

A dairyman in Oxford County. Albert Siple, who keeps a herd of from 17 to 18 Holstein cows on his 70-acre farm and a strict account of the revenue obtained from all sources making use of the milk produced, has just compiled some interesting figures covering the past four years which strengthen the argument so often advanced that the dairy farm offers a safe investment, provided the cows kept are of the breed and blood lines likely to give good results at the pail. In 1926, 17 cows in the herd produced 219 980 pounds of milk, an average of 12,940 pounds. The total receipts amounted to $4,034.87, an average income per cow of $237.34. In 1927 the same number of animals averaged 12,459 pounds per cows, and the proceeds amounted to $4 157.61, averaging $245.15 per cow. In 1928 18 cows average 11,547 pounds of milk and an income of $230.01. In 1929 the original number of cows, 17 head, averaged 11 371 pounds, and gave a revenue of $226 per cow.

Fewer complaints would be heard relative to the unprofitableness of dairy farming if the production of herds in Ontario could be raised from the average of less than 4,000 pounds to anywhere near the standard set by Mr. Siple.

Honor Retiring Official.

Heads of the various branches of the Department made a presentation on the last day of April to W. Bert Roadhouse, former deputy minister, on the occasion of his transfer to the position of chairman of the Agricultural Development Board. Mr. Roadhouse recalled that when he became Deputy Minister 18 years ago, the Department's expenditures were in the neighborhood of $750,000 annually whereas at the present time they are approximately $3,000,000, apart from capital expenditures. The board of which Mr. Roadhouse now takes charge, has loaned more than $27,000 000 to the present time.

Soy Beans More Popular.

Soy beans are coming more and more into use as an annual hay crop. For this purpose soy beans should be sown early in May at the rate of one and one-half to two bushels per acre, and the crop cut when the pods are about half grown. The seed may be sown with a grain drill in the same way as field peas. Any soil which grows corn well will produce a good crop of soy beans. They produce a large vield of palatable hay which is very rich in protein. The only objection to the use of soy beans at the present time is the high price of seed.

Soil Survey.

In 1914 soil survey work was begun in Ontario and has been carried on ever since. Based on the preliminary soil survey of south-western Ontario, permanent soil experimental fields have been located in Welland, Norfolk and Wellington counties. The oldest soil fertility plots have been under experiment for 14 years while the most recent plot in Norfolk has been under experiment for nine years.

The Apple and the Orange.

In a season when apples are abundant and the prices are low it might be thought that sales would increase and that this fruit would take its rightful place on the market. The orange and the grapefruit, which are rivals of the apple, are this year scarce and comparatively high priced, yet the importations are heavy and they are prominently displayed in shop windows. Does the popular taste run to oranges or is there a failure on the part of the apple producer to push his sales?

Of General Application.

A townsman in Western Ontario recently wrote to the Ontario Agricultural College asking whether the Provincial Corn Borer Act had any application in cities, towns and villages. Professor Caesar, who is in charge of the enforcement of the act, replied emphatically as folows: "Growers of small plots of corn in villages. towns and cities must remember that the act applies to them just as much as to the farmers, and that sometimes their corn is more heavily infested than the corn on farms. All corn stalks on these plots and all coarse weeds alongside them must be gathered and burned as soon as they are dry and the ground then spaded or ploughed."

Have You Renewed Your

Motor Vehicle Operator's License?

IF you are operating a Motor Vehicle in Ontario, you are breaking the law unless you are the holder of a 1930 Chauffeur or Operator's License.

Traffic Police are now apprehending motorists for the purpose of examination of licenses.

In case of accident, traffic officers or police will immediately call for your license card. Be sure you have it with you whenever you sit behind the wheel. It is prima facie evidence that you are qualified to operate a car. Its absence will render you liable to a fine and also may be interpreted to mean that you are not a competent driver! Do not lay yourself open to inconvenience and needless blame.

Application forms for new or renewal licenses may be secured from the Department of Public Highways, Motor Vehicles Branch, from any of the Department's Agents throughout the Province, or from any Licensed Garage. If you seek a renewal, have your license card of 1929 with you. If you have lost it, a duplicate will be issued by the Department on payment of 50 cents.

New and renewal Licenses are issued by the Department or any issuer of Motor Vehicle Permits. There are one or more issuers in every county. The fee is $1.00.

Applicants for new licenses must undergo examination which the issuer will arrange. The fee for an examination is $1.00.

Carefully preserve your License. Have it in your pocket every time you drive. Produce it whenever called upon by an officer of the law. Do not allow anyone who does not possess a Chauffeur or Operator's License to drive your car.

Strawberry Surprises

By Etta Bitta Pye.

During the strawberry time do not limit your tasties to strawberries and cream, strawberry shortcake and strawberry pie. They are all delicious, but serve also an occasional surprise strawberry dish. The delightful smiles it will produce will more than repay you for your pains. Here are two that are paticularly delicious:

Strawberry Loaf

2 cups strawberries, halved
12 marshmallows, finely cut
1-3 cup sugar
1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
1 pint, minus two tablespoons, boiling water
1 cup cream, whipped

Combine strawberries, marshmallows and sugar, mixing well. Let stand at least one hour. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill. When slightly thickened, beat with rotary egg beater until of consistency of whipped cream. Fold in strawberry mixture and cream. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve in slices. Serves eight.

Strawberry Whip

1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup strawberry juice
1 cup strawberries, crushed and drained
1-3cup sugar

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add strawberry juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, beat with rotary egg beater until of consistency of whipped cream. Fold in strawberries and sugar. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Serves eight.

SALMON LOAF

1 tablespoon lemon juice
Cayenne
1 teaspoon salt
1 lb salmon
2 small eggs
2-3 cup chopped celery
1½ cups bread crumbs
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup evaporated milk

Add lemon juice, cayenne and salt to boned, flaked salmon, then beaten eggs, celery, bread crumbs, baking powder and milk. Shape into a loaf and place in an oiled baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350F.) until brown and firm. Serve with medium white sauce or egg sauce. Yield: 5 servings.

HOME CANNING

Some Water Facts

Five years production of soil moisture and crop production by experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture disclose some interesting observations as to the relation between water and crops.

It takes 39.84 tons of water to produce 1 bushel of wheat; 21.8 tons of water for 1 bushel of oats; 1,106 tons of water for 1 ton of corn ensilage; 1,370 tons of water for 1 tons of sunflower ensilage; 2,326 tons of water for 1 ton of first-cut Brome hay; and 1,222 tons of water for second-cut Brome hay.

More water is used to produce a bushel of grain from stubble land than from summer-fallow; and the latter always contains more moisture —this is a unique crop paradox.

To convert into vapour enough water to give one inch of rainfall over 640 acres of land requires as much heat as would be produced by the combustion of 5,000 tons of coal.

Nature's way of making rain for the world supply is through evaporation, which is caused by the sun at a rate of 16,000,000 tons of water converted into vapour every second.

June, July and August, the dry months at the Pacific Coast, are the "shower" months on the prairies.

Summer-fallow will conserve from 25 to 35 per cent of rainfall moisture on the soil. The earlier summer-fallowing is done the better the results.

Weeds rob grain crops of needed moisture, and their presence in fields always results in lowered grain yields.

It is not the amount of rain that falls, but the amount which is stored in the soil as moisture which counts. In some years despite heavy rainfalls crop yields are light because of the small amount of moisture stored in the soil.

There is no way yet by which the amount of rainfall for a coming season can be forecast with any degree of certainty.

"How would you like to hear your little ones howling for bread?" demanded the beggar.

The harassed family man sighed.

"It would be heavenly," he said. "At present they do nothing but howl for chocolates."

Have You Read It.

"To-morrow night," said the evangelist, "I'm going to talk about liars. Before the service I would like everyone to read the 17th chapter of Mark."

The following evening at the beginning of his remarks, he said, "My subject to-night is 'Liars.' How many of you read the 17th chapter of Mark?"

More than 200 hands went up.

"Those who raised their hands will pay particular attention," said the evangelist. "There is no 17th chapter of Mark."

SUNSHINE FOR BABIES

The baby should spend a large part of his life out of doors in the fresh air and sunshine. The baby needs fresh air and sunshine in order to build up a strong and resistant body.

Not only are sunshine baths pleasant, but they bring to the baby something he needs. One definite good resulting from the sunshine is that the action of its rays upon the body of the baby prevents rickets.

Sun baths should be taken regularly each day, and, as the weather grows warmer, these should be taken out of doors rather than in front of the open window.

There is a right way to take sun baths, and this way must be followed or harm will result. On the first day, the hands and feet are exposed for five minutes. Next day, the time is ten minutes, and so five minutes a day are added until the bath lasts for an hour.

As the time is increased, so should there be an extension of the area of the body which is exposed to the sun. On the second day, expose the legs below the knees, then the whole leg, after that, the abdomen, and, lastly. the chest, front and back. On the day each area is first exposed, the time of exposure is five minutes, and this period is increased by five minutes each day for each part until the whole body is given an hour's sun bath daily.

The baby should not have his sun bath just before or after a meal. In the really hot weath, his sun bath should be before eleven or after three so that he may not be exposed to the mid-day sun.

In addition to the good that comes directly in the suns rays, there is no doubt that the exposure of the body to the air—the air bath—is of benefit to the child.

Taking the sun bath out of doors or in front of the open window gives the baby the benefits of both the sun and the air at the same time.

The ancients worshipped the sun as a god. We today should appreciate and use the sunshine as a giver of health.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

"Stephen," said the parson, "the last time I met you you made me the happiest man in the parish, because you were sober; but today you make me the most miserable because you are drunk."

"Ye-es," said the impenitent Stephen; "but you see today it's my turn to be happy."

The rector was on his way to church when he met the gamekeeper. "Ah," said the rector, "how is it that I never see you at church?"

"Well," said the gamekeeper, "you see, sir, I don't want to make your congregation smaller."

"What do you mean?" the rector said sharply.

"Well, you see, sir," the keeper said "if I came to church some of the others would go poaching."

Mr. Earl Casselman, who has been on the local staff of the Bank of Montreal for the past couple of years, was last week transferred to the branch of the same institution at Wales.

The anniversary services of Chesterville United church will be held on Sunday, June 1st, when Rev. McRae will be the special preacher morning and evening. A supper and concert is being arranged for Monday evening following.

Cornwall Standard.—The fire department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silmser, 35 Third Street, East, yesterday morning at 7.20 o'clock, when a small blaze broke out in the kitchen when the coal oil, which Mrs. Silmser was using to light the stove, ignited. Little damage was done to the house, but Mrs. Silmer suffered slight burns about the face and head and a young boy, who was standing near the stove, also was burned about the face, but not seriously.

The Chesterville I. O. O. F. Quartette sang two selections at the annual church service of Avonmore Oddfellows and Rebeccas, commemorating the 111th anniversary of Oddfellowship. There was a very large crowd in attendance which completely filled the Presbyterian church where service was conducted by Rev. A. D. Sutherland, B. A. There were Odd- and Rebeccas present from many of the neighbouring lodges including a delegation from Ottawa lodges.

Plan Broadcast R-100 Arrival

Montreal.—The story of the epic trip of the R-100, giant British dirigible, from Britain to Canada, will be heard in the most remote corners of Canada, as well as outside of the borders of the Dominion, through the medium of Canadian National Railways and associated radio stations in 20 cities, it was announced by E. A. Weir, director of radio for the Canadian National System, who has the arrangements in hand at the request of the British air ministry.

When the R-100 crosses the Atlantic Ocean and comes within reach of Canadian Broadcasting stations, her story will begin. As she approaches St. Hubert airport, near Montreal, the tale of her progress will be told by two Government announcers stationed in the top chamber of the mooring mast. Their voices will be carried to Montreal where, from a special switchboard of the Bell Telephone Company, they will be relayed to the radio broadcasting stations throughout Canada.

Payne Valley

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our death mother, Mrs. J. A. MacLean, who passed away May 31, 1925.
Sleep on, dear Mother,
And take thy rest,
We loved you well
But God loved you best.
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger,
Never shall our memory fade
Where we laid our Mother dear
Five long years ago this May.
Ever remembered by daughters,
Greta, Verna and Jessie.
