Debt rises on Sports Palace

By Michael O'Dwyer
News editor

"We don't expect recreational facilities to run at a profit, but to run at such a deficit is just not acceptable."

This was Alexandria Councillor Fern Seguin's reaction to the soaring deficit of the Glengarry Sports Palace during a regular meeting of council April 17.

The recently released auditor's report for the Town of Alexandria cited a 1989 Sports Palace deficit of $110,849, more than double the budgeted amount and last year's deficit of $53,799.

"The budget for this year seems to suggest the same amount of money will be needed. Before it is approved, I need to have some answers," Seguin blasted. He noted there are no additional programs in place to account for the deficit, no new efforts, such as draws and bingos, to try to do something about it.

Newly-installed Sports Palace Chairman Roch Major was unavailable for comment, however member of the board and past chairman Jean-Paul Touchette commented that the Palace is not the money maker that it used to be.

"All I can tell you is that when I left as chairman, there was $210,000 in the bank and we were making money," Touchette said, referring to the heydays when high stakes bingo supported the facility.

Sports Palace Manager Mike Depratto said Friday the discrepency in the figures is easily explained.

"The donations from the bingos were $20,000 to $25,000 lower, and one man on sick leave costs about $15,000 to replace him," Depratto said.

He said a hike in the price of utilities and a possible lull in ice rentals may also have been a contributing factor.

Depratto is requesting $80,000 in the 1990 budget from the three participating municipalities of Alexandria, Lochiel and Lancaster. He said, if approved, $30,000 would be used to recoup last year's loss, and $50,000 will be spent in operation.

"This loss is standard for a facility like this," he said.

Drugs:

Alexandria councillor wants to fight back with task force

By Michael O'Dwyer
News editor

The town of Alexandria is waging war on drugs.

What began last year as a joint venture with Cornwall has led to independent action in Alexandria to put an end to drug abuse.

The battle is starting small; its sole warrier is councillor Claude Poirier who represented Alexandria on the joint task force. But he says many more people are ready to help put an end to drug abuse.

"I have to form an Alexandria task force and decide who to ask for financing," he said, explaining that implementing education programs is a costly venture.

The task force will require a paid full-time coordinator, and other funds will be required for advertising and public awareness campaigns such as the anti-drug billboard campaign currently operating in Cornwall.

Because of the difficulty acquiring government funding for the joint project, Alexandria separated from the Cornwall force to address the drug problems in this district.

Poirier explained the mission of the proposed task force is to be a community action group to discourage the use of illicit drugs. It will also work toward reducing the risks associated with legal substances and encourage education and healthy lifestyle practices in the community.

His incentive is already arousing support from the local police and the business community.

Alexandria police Const. Jamie MacMaster said the drug use in town is not any more rampant than in other communities. However the majority of the crime is, in one way or another, related to drug abuse.

"We've had some substantial break and enters in the last couple of months. There was probably $20,000 worth of computer equipment stolen from Harmony Glen School and it's not going toward landscaping," he said.

"When there's no demand, there's no supply"

Const. MacMaster added communities can have all the law enforcement in the world, but the bottom line remains education and awareness. "When there's no demand, there's no supply."

Sheila Olson, businesswoman and past president of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, wants to get involved with the task force to help local businesses and the community as a whole.

"We don't realize how close (drug use) is and how it affects our community," she said, explaining that drug users are hard on local businesses.

"Money that's spent on drugs is not spent on our local stores, and when they have no money, they break into our businesses and homes to see what they can find to buy more drugs," she said.

Olson, Poirier, and other participants plan to determine what other communities are doing to curb drug abuse in their communities and conduct a media blitz.

"I think it's worth looking into because it (drug abuse) really is a scourge and it's in our schools," Olson said, adding many close their eyes to drugs but the problem is not going away.

Richard Rozon, principal of ESRG admits that while drug use in Alexandria is not limited to students, drug abuse does exist in Alexandria schools.

"A task force certainly would be a move in the right direction — anything that would make the community more aware of the dangers involved in drugs would be a positive element," he said.

He said there is not a serious drug problem with the students, but there is a small percentage of drug abusers.

"I would be interested in finding out more about what the town has in mind because we have the responsibility to promote good healthy habits," Rozon said.

George Rouleau director of the healthy lifestyles program at the Eastern Ontario Health Unit said the problem of substance abuse is becoming progressively more severe, and in rural communities like Glengarry, it

OPP dispatching for area to come from Ottawa

Glengarrians will soon have a new number to remember for emergencies — one the OPP say will get the proper police service faster.

This July, the provincial police will convert the existing Zenith 50,000 emergency dispatch system to a special 1-800 number which will summon the appropriate police force any time of day or night.

Sgt. Bob Dulmage, supervisor of telecommunications at the Long Sault detachment said Monday computer dispatch rather than the old voice transmission will speed up transmission and communication with the officers.

The whole district, which runs from West Carleton to the Quebec border will be operated through a central dispatch system in Ottawa from which all vehicles will be dispatched. Dulmage said every district across the province will have its own toll-free central number.

"Nothing was wrong with the zenith, but all it did was get you through to the closest OPP detachment that was open 24 hours," Dulmage said. "The 1-800 will always get you to the communication centre then they will dispatch to the area that is requesting provincial police service."

And he explained that outside each detachment there also will be a direct phone link to the dispatch centre. In case the office is closed or all the patrol officers are on the road, there will always be a link to the police.

The plan is a massive upgrade in technology from the existing system which was implemented in 1947. The dispatch centre will employ at least five radio operators and a sergeant at all times, and while the total cost of the plans is not yet known, Dulmage said it is "way up there."

You're simply the best:

Three citizens to be honored

One works with dreams, one with memories, and one with reality. But all share the common honor of being recognized as top contributors to the community of Alexandria.

Each year, the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce and the Alexandria town council give a panel of judges a mission to find the best residents Alexandria has to offer. Wading through a wad of nominations, panel members this year chose Patrick Leroux, Duncan MacDonell and Marc Lalonde as the youth, citizen and businessman of the year respectively.

The trio will be honored at a banquet on May 8 at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Patrick Leroux

Standing in the hallway of Ecole Secondaire Regionale Glengarry on Friday with textbooks clasped in his arms, Grade 13 student Patrick Leroux said receiving the award has revitalized him.

"It's spring, the winter's over and you always get depressed and this sort of gave me the feeling that everything I did was worth it," Leroux said with an engaging grin.

The would-be actor/writer keeps busy by composing plays that have been performed at his school and teaching theatre at Le Centre Culturel trois p'tits points in his capacity of administrative council member.

As well, Leroux is the president of Franco-Soleil at school and in doing so, enriches the lives of his fellow students. He was also a member of ESRG's Genies en Herbe team, and helped write the Sault Ste. Marie Blues, political satire of the Franco-Ontarian situation put to music.

Leroux received notice of his award in a slightly unorthadox manner. He heard it from a friend first.

He explains he had been vacationing in Cuba when he was chosen and hadn't yet seen the congratulatory letter when a friend congratulated him.

Duncan MacDonell

"It came to me as a complete surprise. It never occurred to me until the mayor arrived at the door a week ago Thursday," MacDonell said April 23 of his surprise at winning the award. "He had a letter in his hand and beaming from ear to ear and said: 'I have something here I think you're going to like.'"

The mayor was right — MacDonell certainly did like the notice that proclaimed him as the town's citizen of the year.

The energetic senior earned the honor through countless, selfless deeds that include founding and chairing the Golden Glens senior's club and helping to organize the upcoming Ontario Seniors Games for the tri-counties. And, at his own expense, he chauffeurs many seniors to and from medical appointments.

As well, with an empathy born of his wartime service, MacDonell assists Second World War veterans in obtaining disability pensions from the Department of Veteran Affairs. Furthermore, he works toward the preservation of the Glengarry War Memorial as chairman of the Glengarry Cenotaph Committee.

As one letter nominating Duncan MacDonell for citizen of the year says: "He is community minded, keenly aware of people less fortunate than himself and sincerely empathetic to others."

Marc Lalonde

"If all businesspersons of his stripe ... were as prosperous yet (as much) a down to earth guy who listens to all and willing to help his fellow man and woman, what a better place this world would be," a nominator wrote of Marc Lalonde. "In my estimation, he's one helluva guy and worthy of recognition."

This recognition reflects a number of years during which Lalonde tirelessly worked for his fellow Alexandrians. He sits on the board of directors of Mount Carmel House rehabilitation centre and is on the finance committee of St. Finnan's Roman Catholic Cathedral.

As well, Lalonde helped numerous families during his tenure as owner of the local IGA Store, long-time friend Hoppy Gallant said April 24. Gallant explained Lalonde often offered needy families financial assistance, free groceries or advice.

"He's a businessman par excellance," Gallant said. "This guy has put an awful lot back into the community."

This included entries in the annual July 1 parade at Lalonde's own expense and work with the Alexandria Lion's Club as a former member. He was also one of the founders of the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce and an early president.

Charlottenburgh park in the works as Glen Walter develops

By Sue Harrington,
News correspondent

Residents of the Glen Walter area will be drawn together by a 45-acre community park, D. W. Graham, a landscape architect from Ottawa, told Charlottenburgh Township council Monday.

The park, located on township owned land behind Precious Blood School in Glen Walter, was proposed as a number one priority in the Recreation Master Plan Study commissioned by the municipality in 1988.

Mr. Graham of D. W. Graham and Associates, explained that the site would be developed in several different phases as the properties adjacent to the parkland were populated.

Phase I will include the construction of a family ball diamond, located in the north west area of the site and a soccer field and another ball diamond in the eastern part of the park. This will allow residents of Glen Walter and of Bayview Estates to utilize the facilities upon their completion in 1991.

Recreation Director Brent Daigle said that although construction on the site would begin this summer, "the park will not be in a useable state until the latter part of 1991."

Cost of the first phase, in 1990 dollars, according to Mr. Daigle, would be $216,000. Half would be paid by Charlottenburgh, with provincial government grants hopefully providing a similar amount.

Phase II of the park could see a sliding area and development of the central part of the land. Proposals for this section include tennis courts, and a park building.

Further future ideas include an amphitheatre and change rooms, bicycle paths and footpaths, and a series of children's playgrounds. These would be located in areas with easy access and visibility from the housing surrounding the park.

Mr. Graham said the site was a most "interesting" one, with several good natural features.

"The site has certain aspects, lots of trees, the slope of the ground, etc. which lend themselves to different things."

For instance, the three natural ponds, located in the middle of the site will be used for winter skating rinks.

The sloping land in the western part of the propety will likely be used to create a sliding area, so that the park will have a year-round, rather than a seasonal, use.

When questioned by Reeve Carol-Ann Ross as to whether it will be necessary to bring in fill to the area, Mr. Graham said that the park could supply its own for its system of walkways and bike paths.

Access to the park was considered extremely important in its design, said the architect.

Mr. Daigle reiterated that the phases of the park would be geared to the development of the area, and would be completed as new subdivisions come into being. There are three new housing developments on land surrounding the park, currently in the planning stages.

"We're not looking at horrendous capital expenses at the moment," said Mr. Daigle.

Council accepted Mr. Graham's proposal for the parklands.

Glengarrians won't be seeing our esteemed sports editor Todd Hambleton around for a while. Instead, the 'voice of Glengarry sports' will be wowing the babes and catching some rays as he spends a few days in Florida on a well-earned vacation.

Florida will be just one stop in Todd's eastern seaboard grand tour, which started this morning and continues until May 7. But on May 9, he'll be back at work.

In the meantime, please keep The News informed of sporting events — we'll all be stepping in to fill the gap, though we can't hope to fill Todd's shoes.

is harder to detect.

"Being such a rural area, it's a little difficult to establish the gravity of the situation and the severity of the substance abuse. If you're not affected by it, there's a tendancy to deny the problem or ignore it", Rouleau said.

"This task force will definitely be useful. They've been useful where ever they've been implemented. They play a major role in contributing to prevention," he added.

Poirier said the fund-raising process is at a stand still until supporters from the whole of Glengarry are organized in a group.

"I can't request funds until we establish a group. We'd like to represent the whole of Glengarry, so we'd like the support of the people from the surrounding area. I'm very optimistic about this. Once the preliminary group is formed we'll start educating people as to what the situation actually is," Poirier said.

Those interested in becoming involved in the task force may contact Poirier at 525-3924 or by leaving a message at the town office.

dispatcher in Alexandria said Monday the new plan will not be without some problems.

"It will be a matter of education," he said. "People are still trying to remember to use zenith 50,000."

The toll-free OPP number has not yet been released. When the new communications system for the area goes on line July 13, police say they will conduct as massive a communication campaign as they can.

The Alexandria police department, which is currently being dispatched through the OPP Zenith 50,000 network, will not be involved in the new OPP communications project.

Acting Chief Paul Deveau said Tuesday that by the time the OPP begins their new system, the Alexandria system will have an independant radio system.

"By July 13 we will have our own system in place, a radio-telephone interconnect system," he said.

All calls to the police station will be radio linked to the officer on duty if he is out of the office, so residents will have a 24-hour immediate link with the town's officers.

Take a walk to foot clinic

Are the citizens in Alexandria interested in a foot care clinic?

Four out of five seniors over the age of 65 require foot counselling. Over the course of a lifetime, the foot is capable of travelling over 150,000 miles and is still not beyond repair at the end of that time.

The foot is the most abused part of our body.

People who may require foot care at a local clinic may have decreased mobility, vision difficulty, painful feet, thickened nails too hard to cut themselves, circulatory and diabetic conditions and decreased manual dexterity.

Extensive health teaching re foot care, skin care and shoe wear is offered by a nurse specialist in foot care.

Individuals, groups, or clubs, wishing to help financially sponsor the V.O.N. for a foot health clinic please call Marie Dalan at 525-1214 p.m. or 1-764-3099 p.m.

Handicapped workers get $225,000 boost

Some people in Glengarry and Stormont who find it particularly hard to find good jobs, the mentally handicapped, have been given a helping hand worth $225,000 so they may work.

The money, earmarked by the Canada Employment Centre in Cornwall will support 10 or 15 people under a program set up by the Roman Catholic Separate School Board and the Equipe Psycho Sociale of Alexandria.

This announcement came at the first joint meeting of the area employment advisory councils, a group of people involved in the education and employment needs of the five united counties.

The Canadian Job Strategy for the Developmentally Disadvantaged will reintegrate handicapped people into the labor force under close supervision and training.

Cornwall CEC Manager Dennis Thibeault's announcement of his plan was a high point on the agenda shadowed by monstrous cuts to other employment funding.

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Don Boudria, who attended the meeting with his Stormont-Dundas counterpart Bob Kilger, said the federal youth employment grant, Challenge 90, has been drastically slashed.

''They've been cutting back every year,'' he said. ''In 1986, we had $359,000, in 1989 there was $190,000, and this year there is only $88,000.''

Boudria explained that while last year 95 student jobs were supported by the grant, this year the number will dwindle to under 50.

The cuts in funding are occurring in the area because of alleged low unemployment. Presently the rural areas of Glengarry are in the same employment region as Ottawa so, said Boudria, unemployment figures for this area are inaccurate.

''Whenever you have a rural riding not too far from a urban setting you get this situation. In many cases those grants are needed in order for the young person to get a job at all. That grant can make the difference between hiring that young person and not hiring that young person,'' he said.

Not only did the regional employment representatives wrestle with the implications of cut funding, but an apparent block has also been placed on self employment incentive grants.

Administrative changes to education funding regions are pending, however, as Boudria explains, it is not an easy wait.

''It tends to put people one against the other. At the same time the government is making huge campaigns for employment and education, and then they take the jobs away. We've got to keep people in school.''

Mill Pond study now on hold

Although Alexandria has been struck off the list of an upcoming beaches study, there's still hope for the pollution plagued beach as a spin-off study is planned.

''Once the system has been set up, we can add any beaches or subtract any,'' Raisin Region Conservation Authority Manager Mike Lalonde said of a planned government-funded study. He explained that by investing some of its own money, the RRCA can capitalize on information from this study to separately investigate Alexandria Mill Pond.

''That'll make up for it (the exclusion),'' Alexandria Mayor Jean-Paul Touchette said April 24. ''But let's go for the provincial funds that are available.''

He said the town councillors will lobby the Ministry of Environment for funding.

The ministry just recently pledged a $52,000 grant under the Provincial Rural Beaches Program to the RRCA for its beaches study.

Using this money, the three-year study will investigate the duration, reasons and impacts of beach closures. It will end with recommendations for remedial measures to reduce the closures and improve water quality in beaches.

Initially, Alexandria Mill Pond was included on the RRCA grant application as one of three areas under the protection of the authority that would be studied. The other two are between Morrisburg and Long Sault, and Charlottenburgh, Lancaster and Glengarry parks.

However, Lalonde said when the MOE approval was received, the ministry indicated the grant might not be sufficient to cover all the areas the authority had outlined.

As a result, Lalonde said the authority will not include that beach in its final beaches list to the ministry.

Club Richelieu building skateboard ramps

Alexandria Island Park is going to look like a showplace for abstract sculpture this summer as three skateboard ramps take over the old tennis courts.

Starting in about a month, a number of Club Richelieu members will wield hammers and, under the direction of contractor Jean Lajoie, build one permanent and two portable ramps. The $8,000 to $10,000 project was approved at the club's Monday night meeting.

Some details have yet to be ironed out with the town council and its recreation committee, Lajoie said, but club members have already decided that the permanent ramp will measure 32 feet in width and 16 feet in height. The two portables will be of smaller proportions.

Lajoie added that he does not know how long construction will take; it depends on the dedication of the Club Richelieu volunteers.

The issue of skateboard ramps was raised last August when six Alexandria boys wrote a letter to town council. In the letter, the boys around the age of 12 years express their ''love'' of skateboarding but lament the absence of an approved track in Glengarry.

Then, reminding council that the nearest ramps are in Long Sault and Cornwall, they ask that consideration be given to an Alexandria ramp.

The letter is signed by Ryan MacDonald, Jeffery Gebbie, Jean Theoret, Brad McMillan, Jason Poirier and Scott Nielson.

Seniors Outreach program could kill handy van

By Anne Kukhta
News* reporter

A much-needed seniors outreach program in Glengarry County could send a proposed transportation service for people with restricted mobility to the slaughter house.

''Right now everything is on a standstill,'' Carol MacDonald of the Glengarry Interagency said April 23 of a proposed handy van system, ''because if we do not get the local support for this program, we won't be able to provide this service, which really is a shame.''

Within the past couple of weeks, two of the seven Glengarry municipal councils have withdrawn their support of the van proposal, MacDonald said. In the case of Lancaster Township council, only a verbal approval had been advanced, but Lochiel council has cancelled $2,000 in funding.

Both councils have turned their allegiance to a seniors outreach program. This program is being organized by all of Glengarry's municipal councils.

''We sort of don't have anything going yet. It's just been such a gathering of information,'' said project chair and Lancaster Village Reeve Jennifer Charbonneau, on April 23.

However, a committee established by the councils to consider the outreach program is currently working on the details. Charbonneau said they plan to submit a funding appeal at the May meeting of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Council, asking for 20 per cent of an undetermined program capital and operating cost.

They are applying to the Ministry of Community and Social Services for the remaining 80 per cent of the capital costs and a further 70 per cent of the operating costs.

The remaining 10 per cent of the operating costs would be covered by user fees that would average about $2.50, Debbie St. John-de Witt said April 24. She is the project coordinator of the county council's Alternative to Institution Care program and she is helping the municipal councillors develop the outreach program.

The funding requests to the council and ministry will be accompanied by an outline of the service, Charbonneau said, starting with a meals on wheels program operating out of existing facilities.

For example, she said residents of the south of Lancaster Township, Lancaster village and Williamstown would be served out of Chateau Gardens in the village.

And later on, St. John-de Witt said, councillors hope to establish a transportation service in addition to the meals on wheels.

''I hope that whatever we do implement ... supplements what's already out there,'' St. John-de Witt said of the transportation idea. ''It's not meant to take away from what already exists.''

However, while it might not interfere with established programs, the councillors' transportation plan could quash the interagency proposal before it ever takes root.

GTL subsidiary beats new rules with PCB shipment

In a race to beat the clock, a Glengarry Transport Ltd. subsidiary has shipped the last dozen toxic PCB containers out of Quebec.

Now on their way to France, the containers have avoided a new law banning their export from Canada by just a few weeks.

The last of the containers left on April 18 from Senneterre about 450 kilometres northwest of Montreal for St. Vulbas, located near Lyon in France, a Sanivan spokesman said. Sanivan, owned by GTL, used the Montreal Port to transport the PCBs.

''To respect some contracts, we decided to ship some PCBs to France in April,'' Sauriol said.

He explained that clients had already paid for their PCBs to be destroyed abroad but starting May, an Environment Canada law will ban the export of all PCBs.

Once this law takes effect, Sauriol said Sanivan hopes to store in Senneterre PCBs that it would once have exported. He said the company applied to the Quebec government for authorization about a month ago.

Sanivan has developed a method of recycling these PCB transformers as they are stored, Sauriol said, but again have to wait for approval from the Quebec government.

Pair of collisions results in moderate damages to vehicles

A pair of collisions in Alexandria over the week resulted in moderate damages to all four vehicles involved.

On Saturday at 6:20 p.m., a 1988 Chevrolet van driven by Jennifer Dewar, 17, of Dalkeith, and a 1978 Chevrolet pick-up truck driven by Alfred Beauvais, 80, of 284 Main St. N. Apt. 12, collided in the Top Valu gas mart parking lot.

Alexandria police say the pick-up truck was parked at the pumps and the driver was opening his door to get out of the vehicle when the van pulled up to an adjacent pump and struck the door of the pick-up.

There were no injuries or charges laid.

On Wednesday at 3:45 p.m., a 1987 Chevrolet sedan driven by Florida Malette, 69, of 98 Lochiel Street and northbound on Sandfield Street, and a 1981 Oldsmobile sedan eastbound on St. Paul Street driven by Tracy Belch, 16, of 88 St. Paul Street, collided in the intersection.

Police briefs

Bike stolen

Alexandria police report that a 10-speed, blue CCM bicycle was stolen from outside Champions Roadhouse Friday while the bike's owner was inside the building.

Michael Willard, of 374 Boundary Road East, was inside the premises from approximately 12:15 a.m. to 1 a.m. When he came out, his bike was gone.

Bike recovered

Alexandria police have recovered what they believe was a stolen bike. The bike — a men's red 10-speeder — was found at the corner of St. Paul Street and Sandfield Street on Saturday.

Police don't know who's bike it is, but they say if it can be identified, the owners can pick it up at the police station.

Court report

The following cases were tried by Judge Reginald Levesque at Alexandria Provincial Court on April 19.

Mischief maker must abstain for year

A 28-year-old Alexandria man who was intoxicated while causing a public disturbance has been ordered to abstain from drinking alcohol for a year, as a condition of probation.

He was also fined $450 — $150 for each of three mischief charges — and ordered to pay $410 restitution.

As well, an additional fine of $1 was levied for causing a public disturbance because, as the judge explained, ''it's already been taken into account in the other offences.''

According to court evidence, Pierre Blais caused $400 damage by kicking two cars in Alexandria shortly after 10 p.m. on May 10, and another $10 by bending the back windshield wiper on a third.

Arresting Alexandria police say he was so intoxicated he could barely stand.

Employee steals from restaurant

A 23-year-old pleaded guilty to stealing from his employer.

Claude Seguin of Alexandria has since been discharged from the burger restaurant, but the crown attorney told the court that he stole about $300 from the company on Feb. 20.

Seguin admitted to breaking a window, entering and using a key hidden in the cash register to unlock a small cabinet containing about $300. The victims have withheld pay owed to Seguin to compensate for the theft and about $100 in damage to the window.

When the judge delivered his sentence, he pointed out that Seguin's breaching the trust of his employer was an aggravating factor, although not so serious to warrent an incarceration sentence often given in such cases.

Instead, Seguin was fined $500, plus a $50 surcharge.

Man again convicted of d&d

A 24-year-old from St. Andrews West was convicted for the second time in two years of driving a motor vehicle while his blood-alcohol level was more than the legal limit.

He has been sentenced to 30 days in jail, his driver's licence has been suspended for 18 months and he must pay a $35 surcharge.

According to court evidence, Lancaster OPP stopped Allen D. MacCrimmon on April 8 after 10 p.m. on County Road 18 in Charlottenburgh Township. They had followed him while he sped through an 80 km/hr zone at 110 km/hr, then drove through a stop sign and almost lost control of his car.

MacCrimmon was given breathalyzer tests and scored 171 and 172 mgs of alcohol in 100 mls of blood.

When he delivered the sentence, Levesque remarked on MacCrimmon's previous conviction, his higher breathalyzer readings and correspondingly dangerous driving.

RIDE violator fined $600

A 24-year-old Cornwall man was fined $600 plus a $30 surcharge for driving a motor vehicle while his blood-alcohol level was more than the legal limit. As well, his driver's licence has been suspended for a year.

Eric Paupst was stopped by a RIDE program on County Road 19 at about 1:30 a.m. on March 18, the crown attorney told the court. Noting the smell of alcohol, police administered a breathalyzer test and found Paupst had 160 and 178 mgs of alcohol in 100 mls of blood.

Not guilty of willful damage

After a trial in which he represented himself, Summerstown's Hector Giroux was found not guilty of a willful damage charge, but rather the judge maintained he was merely defending his property as allowed under the Criminal Code of Canada.

''I think all the witnesses are in agreement that Carol Terriah attended the residence of her sister and the accused on the 22nd of July of 1989. She was advised on that day to leave,'' the judge summerized. Terriah testified she had driven her sister to the house to pick up some personal belongings after the sister and her husband Giroux had a marital spat.

''When she refused to leave, the accused — after advising her he would take the bar to the car unless she left — did exactly that,'' the judge continued. ''It did the job, so to speak, in the sense that the person left.''

A headlight on Terriah's car, worth about $20, was broken by Giroux.

Man could work off sentence

A 27-year-old Alexandria man was fined $50 for willful damage, ordered to pay $50 in restitution, and placed on a year's probation.

''I want the victim to be compensated for his loss,'' the judge told Paul Duval. ''If you are to arrive at an arrangement with (the victim) to work off that $50, that's fine.''

Court evidence showed Duval and a friend had approached a Glen Robertson man at his residence in the evening of Sept. 11 for alcohol. The man refused and was subjected to shouting and banging from the two visitors.

The next day, the man found five cedar trees broken in half and a large number of flowers uprooted in his yard, for a total damage estimated at $50.

The following cases were tried by Judge Reginald Levesque in Alexandria Provincial court on April 12.

Drug holder discharged

A 23-year-old Cornwall man was given an absolute discharge on a drug charge.

Lancaster OPP had discovered about $20 worth of hashish in the possession of Calvin Hope on March 28.

Drinking and driving earns fine

A 25-year-old resident of Williamstown was fined $500, plus a 50 surcharge, for driving a motor vehicle while his blood-alcohol level was more than the legal limit.

According to court evidence, Jerome MacDonell was stopped at about 1:43 a.m. on March 26 by Lancaster police. The officers had noticed the car speeding and when they stopped it on County Road 27 in Charlottenburgh Township, they realized the driver was intoxicated.

As well as being fined, MacDonell's driver's licence has been suspended for a year.

$500 fine for Alexandria man

A 27-year-old Alexandria man was fined $500, plus a $50 surcharge, for driving a motor vehicle while his blood-alcohol content was higher than the legal limit.

As well, his driver's licence has been suspended for a year.

The crown attorney told the court Andre Gareau was stopped by Lancaster police at about 2:10 a.m. on March 25.

Smuggled smokes net fine

A New York man was fined $5,000 for a customs act violation.

Jody Swamp, 24, was charged with having in his possession on March 15 cigarettes that had been unlawfully imported into Canada. Members of the Cornwall RCMP apprehended Swamp in Lancaster Township.

Glengarry dairyman is Canada's gain

Glengarrians can be justifiably proud that one of their own, Murray Howes of Dalkeith, has assumed the top post as president of the Holstein Association of Canada.

Agricultural leadership is unquestionably one of the most difficult qualities to master these days. New pressures are cropping up all the time in the industry, not only in terms of prices, but technology, legislation and philosophy. Increasingly, the family farm is being turned into an "agribusiness," in response to major economic changes around the world. In order to survive in today's markets, producers have to alter their ways.

Murray Howes is taking over as president of the association while all of these pressures are funnelling down the pipe at once. Combine this with the widespread marketing and pricing changes slated for the summer of 1991 in his own industry, and it's easy to see he has his work cut out for him.

Still, anyone who knows Howes and is aware of his accomplishments as a local dairyman can attest to the fact that he is the best person in Canada for the job at this particular time. His work with 4-H, Junior Farmers, the plowman's association and the Maxville Fair Board is evidence that he has plenty of leadership experience under his belt — and plenty of selflessness.

The fact is, at a time when the country needs it, the Holstein Association of Canada's board of directors couldn't have made a wiser choice.

How bad is the drug problem around here?

Is there a drug problem in Glengarry County and its population centres?

The question begs an answer because it brings out a suspicion that many people — parents in particular — have harbored for some time. That is, that there is a problem, perhaps no more than other communities of comparable size, but a problem nevertheless.

But it remains only a suspicion.

In fact, what authorities don't know about the extent of abuse and the scale of drug dealing throughout the county and in particular in Alexandria vastly outweighs what they do know.

That's a very real problem.

Without a very accurate picture of how serious drug abuse here is, a program aimed at blunting the problem is no better than firing a shot in the dark. The success of efforts can't be measured because nobody knows how extensive, how damaging, drug trafficking and abuse throughout the county has become. And there are no accurate statistics kept to inform anyone, either.

Police know a large number of breaking and entering and related crimes are directly or indirectly drug-related. Junkies steal, fence and use the money to buy drugs. There have been operations in the county resulting in arrests of suspected traffickers. And SDG counties social services workers have seen the terrible end result of drug abuse. So have provincial court judges in Alexandria who weekly sentence offenders for drinking and driving.

Authorities quietly acknowledge that cocaine, crack, hashish, marijuana and even LSD have made their way onto the streets and into the hands of kids in Glengarry.

But until people like Alexandria councillor Claude Poirier, who is spearheading a Glengarry task force on drugs, know the extent of the problem they're trying to beat, the struggle to distract youth from the ugly lure of drugs is likely to be a losing one.

Still, he should be credited with being the first on council to attempt a solution to deal with the problem directly. In the least, his expression of concern may help to draw attention to a scourge affecting the very fabric and future of the community. It also demonstrates that drug abuse is everybody's problem, and thus indeed falls within the jurisdiction of a municipal council, as well as police commissions, school boards, social services and service clubs.

However, one of the first initiatives of the task force should be to get an accurate handle on the scale of illegal drug dealing and using here. The effectiveness of corrective actions hinge on knowing the basis for their need.

Backyard clean-up, a first-rate lesson

After Thoughts

Joe Banks

Frankly, I had a problem with Earth Day 1990.

I quietly resented the fact that merely a "day" was being shelled out for the environment, as if it was just another cause whose profile needed a boost.

We don't need an Earth Day, I thought. We need an Earth Millenium. The planet is so sick, (we need look no further than Lake St. Francis) a consciousness-raising exercise of a day in length is hardly a tonic. So many causes, I thought, get their air time, distracting people from those which really need help — like the environment.

Then I got a lesson in how to avoid such cynicism.

It came from two little girls, aged four and two, a garbage bag, a walk in the backyard and a gloriously sunny spring day. It was Sunday, April 22 — Earth Day.

Despite my resistance to Earth Day, I thought it might be a good opportunity to begin teaching the kids about keeping the earth clean and healthy. I applied the KISS principle — Keep It Simple Stupid — and we decided we would do a search and resuce for garbage strewn about our property and the neighborhood.

We divided what we found into two groups — stuff good for the earth, and stuff that's bad. Each time we came across something, the question "Is it good or bad?" would ring out and we'd answer the question in resounding unison, giggling as we went.

Items such as pine cones, leaves, small branches, tree bark, grass, an earthworm (which the two-year-old Andrea proudly displayed) were identified as "good" items and were allowed to stay where they were. Laura said the Earth "liked" those things.

But the "bad" items drew more intrigue. Chip bags, pop cans, cigarette packages, hundreds of pieces of styrofoam filler for packaging, laundry soap boxes — each was pounced upon and identified as if they were a wonderful treasure. They were clearly "bad" items because Laura said they were "gross" and killed the grass under and around them. The smallest trash hunter wanted to know where the bad garbage came from. When I told her people, including us, she couldn't understand. Bad things and people to her, were not yet related.

When it was all over, we had filled a garbage bag with bad items and talked about what we were going to do with it. When they found out it was simply going to be buried in the earth at a dump, not surprisingly, they were confused. They knew the stuff hurt the earth, and recycling, reusing and reducing wasn't yet part of their vocabulary or their practice.

Yet, they unwittingly taught me that our family had to start cleaning up our own act before we could be proud friends of the planet. So there will be more hunts, not only on Earth Day, mostly because they were fun and kept the kids amused. But more importantly, it gave them a starting point, a base upon which they could build ideas about the Earth and what is hurting it.

It has occurred to me that's all the proponents of Earth Day wanted any of us to do, since its beginnings 20 years ago.

And as we all know, where there's a beginning, there's usually an end. If my children are lucky enough to see the planet taken off the endangered species list, that will be an end well worth the modest investment in awareness anyone can make on Earth Day — and every day after that.

There is power in the media snowball

Pen Thoughts

Michael O'Dwyer

We don't inherit the land from our parents, we borrow it from our children.

I don't know who said that first, but whoever it was can take a bow. The reality that we are fast bankrupting our children is taking a painfully long time to sink in, but I think we're finally catching on.

It's not often that the media can be credited with doing something really special for the people of this world. But Earth Day, 1990 was one of those times. And I have designated myself as official back-patter for the whole lot of us.

The event began as a strictly American occasion. Thanks must go wholely to the media for generating this project from the depths of obscurity in the U.S. of 20 years ago to a major international event eliciting widespread support in more than 120 countries around the globe.

Not bad.

But someone always has to complain about something. I have heard that, once again, the media has mindlessly jumped onto another band wagon. Well, of all the band wagons we've jumped on, this has got to be the best. A little excess may be called for if we're going to do something about this little problem we have — the problem of survival.

I'm the first to admit that we are terrible bandwagon jumpers. And that's what happened this time. Earth Day 1990 was a classic example of the media snowball effect.

It slowly and uncontrollably grew until it was a monster with a life of its own. A week before the actual day, radio stations were declaring themselves the official mouthpiece of Earth Day, television stations devoted tremendous air time to the cause, and the print media was also caught up in the furor. No one wanted to be left out in the cold.

Oh well, the media is a business. It's not very admirable motivation for supporting something as important as environmental awareness, but it worked. The environmental message was drilled into the heads of millions of people last week.

On any other issue it would have been overkill. But the result, apart from a little despair at the state of destruction we have achieved, is that almost everybody turned their thoughts to what they can do to solve the problem.

One philosopher (I forget the guy's name) said the Earth would be a better place to live if we each tend to our own acre of land. That was the message of Earth Day: if we each do our little part, the problem will go away.

Well, almost go away. There is the odd industry out there which is not doing anything to solve the problem. It's just a little matter of a few million litres of toxic sludge into our rivers every day. But that too will change.

Sometimes our government is not very good at leading. But it is a very good follower. Our reps will soon see that if they don't do their part in putting a stop to the corporate pollution, we will kick them out on their collective butts. We have all the power in the world. It may take a little time, but what we say goes.

And in the past week we have said it loud and clear. The people have spoken, and there will be no trouble understanding the message. With the little nudge called Earth Day, our snowball will continue to roll until the destruction has finally been stopped.

We may return the borrowed land to our children with pride having treated it with care.

Other victims suffer from suicides

That's Life

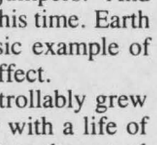
Lesley Cadham



A few weeks ago, I took a look at suicide and the possible causes and warning signs that accompany such a tragedy.

Shortly afterward, I received a letter from Mary, who asked to remain anonymous, and who is a "family survivor of suicide."

Her letter reminded me that there can be many victims when one suicide occurs, and I'd like to share it with you. Perhaps it can be of help.

Dear Lesley,

I read with interest your column on suicide. Unfortunately I found out first hand just how prevalent suicide is today. Two years ago my younger sister committed suicide. She was 29. She was my only sister.

The pain, the grief and the guilt has been overwhelming. About six months after my sister's death, I was becoming very concerned about my own mental and physical health due to my inability to cope. I then began to also worry for my mother's health. I began a long slow search for help. My determination paid off when I found a self-help, non-profit group in Montreal where I was able to start my healing and acceptance of my sister's death. It's an ongoing process.

After mom and I attended the group for a year, I decided to start a group on the West Island of Montreal, in Pointe Claire. This has been in existence since September. The name of our group is Family Survivors of Suicide (F.S.O.S.). It is for family members. There are so many whys to suicide, and to be able to have someone who understands how you are feeling, to talk to, has been a big help to most or all of us.

I live in the western end of Quebec and would be willing to talk with others who have lost a family member to suicide. If we find that there are a few of us who want to talk, we could start up a small group in this area.

In the Montreal group there are members who have lost a loved one very recently and someone who lost a child 20 years ago. Even she feels better since talking about a subject that others assume has long since been forgotten. The pain becomes easier to live with, but the sadness and the questions never entirely leave.

If someone would like to talk, they could call me, Mary, at 514-269-2742 (Quebec).

Mary mentioned that if enough people in the area of Riviere Beaudette, Alexandria and Lancaster are interested in talking with other people who have shared the grief of suicide, she'd like to form a group here.

Also, there will be an open meeting — "Suicide in the family — it could happen to you" — on May 3 at 7:30 p.m. in Montreal. It will be held at the McGill School of Social Work, 3506 University Street.

Canadians leaving with the geese

In the Glens

Angus McDonell

We were sitting in the den Sunday afternoon browsing through the press. Bea broke the silence by wondering out loud: "Do you think Jim and Laura Mary (Hill) are on the road back to Williamstown or are they still in Lake Wood Park?" Answer, "Just wait for a phone call, they are due anytime now."

That question reminded me of many years ago when, as our U.S. neighbors would say, "like the geese the Canadians are leaving every morning." That was the prevailing custom but how travel times have changed.

Most Canadians now literally fly both ways like the Canada geese. However, we found it interesting to review long gone pleasant memories of motor travelling back from a Florida winter home by turning over the pages of a 1973 diary to April 7. We trust that you, too, may find the record of some interest.

Saturday, April 7: Temp. 60 going to 80 . . . winds from s/e . . . (trade winds in our public school teaching) . . . called on Caddells, Mrs. Caddell the former Ann Weir, Jim's sister . . . got a generous supply of grapefruit and oranges for Jim and Anna and ourselves . . . insisted we stay for supper . . . delightful p.m. . . . tearful goodbye.

Sunday, April 8. Heavy rains at 2:30 a.m. 64 to 72 today . . . attended 9 a.m. mass at St. Mary's . . . picked up Mtl. Star . . . breakfast over started packing . . . the dear Olds Lady (Olds 98) has a trunk slightly smaller than pickup truck, finished at 4 . . . final clean up . . . supper guests of first door neighbors the Brays . . . more showers possible . . . hope it's nice in a.m. Plan to leave at 6.

Monday, April 9, up at 5 . . . ready to leave at 6 . . . Brays over to bid adieu, on I-95 at 6:20 . . . (Interstate highway built then in most areas, now complete from New Brunswick-Maine line to Key West by adding #1 below Miami). I drive first 125 miles . . . breakfast and gas at Jacksonville, Fla. . . . Bea's turn at the controls . . . for next 100 miles across s/e Georgia, then off I-95 to old road leading to Savannah . . . via harbor bridge spanning Savannah River to South Carolina. Via #1 and 3 through the cotton fields and plantation villages to Florence . . . now 4 p.m. Call it a day . . . up early and after 559 miles off the road early . . . no vacancy at Day's . . . downtown Florence to Colonial Court . . . pleasant room and dining lounge at off season rates . . . $10.40 . . . first day total cost not counting a couple of nightcaps, $25.12.

Tuesday, April 10: Up at 5:30, bright but a cool 48 . . . coffee (homemade) in room . . . at 6:15 on I-95 . . . beautiful drive through pine groves to attractive farmlands in North Carolina . . . breakfast at Hornes, Fayetteville, 7:30. Gas and oil away at 8:30 . . . a noon hour rest in the tobacco country near Richmond, Virginia . . . on to Alexandria, Va., not Glengarry . . . half around Washington . . . 95 to Baltimore then northwest to York, Pa. Now 4:30 p.m. 511 miles, checked into a class motel . . . hope to be home late tomorrow.

Wednesday, April 11: Up at 5:30 . . . coffee . . . away at 6:30 . . . bright a.m. but a cool 35-40 . . . breakfast at Frackville about 50 miles north of Harrisburgh. On through the grades and valleys of the Allegheny Mountains to Syracuse . . . lunch at 12:30 on to Watertown and tax free shop at Ivy Lee . . . got a Teachers Highland Cream to go with the one from Vero Beach behind the spare tire and Bea's camouflaged Philodendron . . . waved through the Customs and back on our way to Cornwall and home. Lloyd Kennedy our good Samaritan had the house spick and span. We are both very tired after 1,580 mile drive.

Thursday, April 12: Awake at 8

Glengarrians band together for the heart

To the editor:

I would like to thank The Glengarry News for supporting the Heart and Stroke Foundations fight against heart disease and stroke.

And once again residents of Glengarry County have shown they have big hearts as they dug deeply into their pockets during our annual fundraising drive held in February.

The final total shows that $35,342 was collected during the door-to-door canvass. This compares very favorably to our 1989 total which was $28,339.

The dedication of the captains, canvassers and volunteers as well as the generosity of the contributors was overwhelming. I would like, on behalf of the Glengarry Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario, to thank each of you. Your time, talents and dedicated concern are sincerely appreciated.

Incorrect and alarmist statement confuses picture

To the editor:

I should like to point out an inconsistency between the cartoon in the Glengarry News of April 11, 1990, and the editorial report on the same day, both on the subject of the discharges from Courtaulds to the St. Lawrence River.

If the editorial quotation of 11.3 million litres of (very dilute) effluent discharged to the river is correct, then the cartoon comment that a football field would be covered with sludge to a depth of six feet is not correct, since, depending on the type of football which your cartoonist plays, that would amount to between 9.8 and 12.6 million litres of sludge. Clearly the cartoonist is confusing sludge with very dilute effluent, and once again we have a situation where incorrect and alarmist statements confuse the environmental picture.

Missing Life Worth Living's meaningful words

To the editor:

My family has seen to it that I have had an annual subscription to The Glengarry News ever since I moved from Glengarry in the early 50's. The arrival of the paper is always a treat and I read it very carefully and am kept up-to-date on the goings-on of my beloved home community.

I am missing, however, the excellent Life Worth Living column that was contributed to by local pastors and more recently by the Reverend Gordon Smyth of Perth, Ontario. I believe Dr. Smyth has recently passed away if my memory serves me correctly.

May I suggest that this column be re-activated? I know everyone is busy, but I also know how meaningful it is to have a word from the Word for our daily living. At Christmas we all love to be reminded of the amazing birth of the Babe in Bethlehem, but how much we all need to be reminded of the glorious Easter message when He conquered death, the grave and rose victorious so that we too might live. Only the Christians have a living Savior and leader; all other of the world's religions have leaders who are buried in a grave or tomb.

At this sacred season of the year, I'd like to see my home town paper reinstate the living message of God's good news for all to ponder, and then that it might again be an ongoing feature in future publications.

Yours very sincerely,
(Miss) Ruby I. Hay,
New York, N.Y.

Leaving with geese

to hear old friends General Grant and Ernie Calcutt with CFRA news and sport commentary . . . what a great feeling! We missed Tuesday's blizzard . . . Lloyd said "we could not have made it." Hilda (Mrs. Hugh McKinnon) Bea's sister invited us up for supper along with Ron, Susan Lajoie and baby, home by Jim and Ann Weir's with grapefruit and oranges.

We encourage your participation

One of the best-read features in The News is the Letters to the Editor. We encourage our readers to write, and those who do might consider the following helpful.

•While the newspaper generally covers what is, letters to the editor comment on what ought to be.

•Letters to the editor carry opinions of the reader, often unpredictable but usually commenting on thoughts of readers who haven't been moved to write.

•Writing the letter is best to occur when the urge is felt to respond to an editorial or news story. Don't wait until feelings have calmed down, but write it while feelings are the strongest.

•Letters should be brief and focused on a single point. A letter to the editor with approximately 200 words is a good guideline to go by but certainly not a rule.

•Address the letter with "To the Editor" and end with a handwritten signature. Include an address and telephone number so I may contact you if necessary.

•If a letter to the editor is not published, it may be for one of these reasons.

(a) it has found its way into the hands of a reporter who has been assigned a story based on the concern expressed in the letter.

Thanks for fashion support

To the editor:

The Glengarry South Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society would like to thank the public for the great success of our fashion show held on April 7, 1990 at St. Mary's Hall in Williamstown.

We would especially like to thank Lalonde's Ladies Wear, Alexandria for all the extra effort they made on our behalf.

The Canadian Cancer Society is presently conducting their April Campaign, and funds collected will contribute to cancer research, patient services and public information.

Again, many thanks for your support.

GMH recognizes volunteer week

In recognition of volunteer appreciation week coming up April 22-28, administrator Jerry Adams brought greetings on behalf of the hospital to the auxiliary general meeting on April 18. The meeting then opened with prayer, and President Vivian DaPrato announced that the auxiliary has sponsored the addition of two names to the In Memoriam Book in remembrance of deceased members Marjorie MacRae and Alexandrine Lajoie Deschamps who passed away in February.

At the February 28 general meeting, an amendment to the bylaws was approved to increase membership fees to $5 regular, $10 affiliated, and $50 life which can only be obtained by members who are active or have been active in the past.

Under the supervision of the pastoral care co-ordinator Thérèse Whelan and project convenors Kathe Persicke and Christina MacPhail, the auxiliary now has a starter library for the benefit of pastoral care volunteers and the hospital staff. Approximately 25 books and several video cassettes are stored in two wall units in the quiet room.

A pastoral care course will be given at GMH in French starting April 24 and continuing for six consecutive Tuesdays. H.A.A.O. President Elma Howald will be in attendance at the spring conference on April 25 at the Cornwall General Hospital and 18 of our members are registered to attend.

The GMH 25th anniversary dance and midnight buffet will take place at the Bonnie Glen on May 12. Tickets will be on sale at $25 per person and can be obtained from Jerry Adams, Gwen Morris, or at the gift shop. Also watch for 25th anniversary souvenir items, such as mugs, glasses, spoons, etc., to be on sale at the gift shop in the near future.

The strawberry tea will be held in Alexander Hall on June 9; entrance at the door will be $3 for adults and $2 for seniors and students. Janet Graham, ticket convenor for the $1,000 draw reports that tickets are available at several business outlets and are being sold by auxiliary members. Tea convenor, Jo-ann Trottier, has called a meeting for May 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria for her convenors. In the meantime, if any members wish to help, please call Jo-ann at 525-3039.

Town firefighters trade fires for dirt

Forget the flowers and candy for Mother's Day. Why not give dear old Mom something really special and have her car washed by some men who really know how to handle a hose?

On May 12, the day before Mother's Day, members of the volunteer Alexandria Fire Department will switch from fighting fires to fighting dirt as they hold their first car wash.

It runs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the town fire hall and while you relax with a coffee that has been donated for the event, the firefighters do all the work. For $4, they'll wash the outside of your car, another $2 and they'll clean the inside of your windows, and again for $2, they'll vacuum the inside, including carpets and seats.

And while mom and dad are busy drinking coffee and the fighters busy cleaning, the kids can fill out tickets to become fire chief for a day.

Proceeds from the wash will go into a fund for a new tanker for the department. A tanker is the vehicle that contains 2,000 gallons of water and is used at all out of town fires in the absence of hydrants.

The tanker fund already has some money in it. When the town sold its old fire truck, the $4,000 from the sale was deposited in the fund. As well, area merchants, in particular Lalonde General Store and B&B Food Market, have donated about $10,000 raised through the sale of Nevada tickets.

MacEwen helps Cancer Society

MacEwen Petroleum, noted supporter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation in the three counties, has just added the Canadian Cancer Society to the list.

The fuel company announced April 12 they will join forces with the SD&G unit of the Canadian Cancer Society in the fight against cancer. MacEwen will donate one cent for every litre of gas sold on Saturday April 28 at their stations in the three united counties.

John Irvine, fundraising chairman for the local unit of the Cancer Society expressed appreciation to MacEwen's for their community spirit and urged all the residents to help fuel the fight by filling up their gas tanks on April 28.

Marc Guindon with MacEwen said joining the Cancer Society campaign will be a booster for the MacEwen outlets as well.

"It's one of the steps MacEwen has been taking in community involvement. It's a good way to channel a promotion to a cause that's worthy, and it's good for our outlets as well. They like to see the money stay locally, and it's a sense of pride for them," he said.

Guindon estimated the fund drive will accumulate at least $600 and possibly three or four times that amount, depending on the volume of fuel sold.

Canvassers beat record

It's been a banner year for the Glengarry chapter of the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario.

During the foundation's annual fundraising drive in February, Glengarrians gave generously to the tune of $35,342 — a whopping 24 per cent more than last year's total of $28,339.

"I think maybe it was because we were a little better organized," campaign chairman Ambrose MacDonell said of this year's bonanza. "I had the same number of volunteers but it's to get to all the areas," which they did more successfully this year.

The money raised will be amalgamated in the provincial kitty, as happens with all other Heart and Stroke fundraisers in Glengarry, including the upcoming Great Glengarry Duck Race.

Ducks are currently for rent in a number of local businesses and are raring to go for the May 6 race down the Garry River.

4-H'ers get awards

The 4-H achievement night at Iona Academy last Wednesday night was like a gathering of clans.

The evening was an opportunity for the clubs from Bainsville, Dunvegan, Martintown, Maxville, and Picnic Grove to recognize the accomplishments of their members and enjoy some home grown entertainment which included one skit by the Dunvegan group called the "travelling Willburys."

Anne Donkers of Picnic Grove was awarded her five year leader certificate, and Allison Main of the Bainsville club captured her four-year leadership pin.

Martintown's Carla Wood was awarded a print for completing 24 4-H projects. For completing 12 projects, Becky MacNaughton of Picnic Grove and Carolyn McDonnell of Martintown received desk pen sets. Six project trillium pin awards went to Jana Hallberg of Bainsville and Jillaine Jurchuk of Picnic Grove.

Alexandria council briefs

The following are among the items discussed by Alexandria council during the regular meeting of council on Tuesday, April 17.

Main Street crossing gets a fix

CN Rail has noted that the railway crossing in Alexandria is in pretty poor shape and that they intend to repair it this spring.

CN has agreed to pay for the needed work. However, Claude Savard with CN suggested the installation of the rubber mud rail "Epflex", similar to the crossing at Green Valley, be installed at the town's expense. This rubber is frequently requested for its elasticity and smoothness of rolling.

The cost of the rubber for the crossing, including tax, is $13,516.

After the laughter subsided among councillors, they decided to see if the upgrade would be 90 per cent covered by the governmental Connecting Agreement.

United Counties bucks relocation

The agriculture advisory committee notified Alexandria council and agriculture and food Minister David Ramsey that it intends to recommend the United Counties Council oppose the relocation of agricultural engineering services in the five counties. If the resolution is supported, it will be forwarded to the minister, deputy minister, conservation authorities, and neighboring municipalities.

If the relocation policy goes through, farmers will no longer have the benifit of personal on-farm engineering advice. And the job of local agricultural engineer Glen Slater will be terminated.

Students receive Holy Communion

Historic St. Finnan's Cathedral was the setting for First Holy Communion on Sunday when Rev. Bernard Cameron celebrated the high mass at 11 a.m.

Thirty-three young boys and girls from Laggan School, Alexander School and St. Joseph's Annex were supported by their teachers, family and friends and other parishioners as they made their first holy communion.

St. Finnan's Senior Choir sang the High Mass, directed by Sister Catherine Cameron, with the accompaniment of Christena MacDonald on the organ. Father Cameron gave a very impressive homily and congratulated the teachers, children and parents and asked the parishioners to pray for these children for their future lives.

Fr. Cameron presented each child with a certificate while Elsie MacLean, president of the CWL presented each with a lovely rosary on behalf of the CWL. Alexander and Laggan School children were instructed by Gail Terry while the St. Joseph School students were instructed by Mary MacDonald. The CWL hosted a lunch in the Alexander School following the church service.

Alexander and Laggan School children were: Kevin Bellefeuille, Simon Frei, Jean Levac, David Lorkovic, Tony Nussbaumer, Steven Persons, Connie Quesnel, Luc Rochon, Jennifer Sauer, Denis Sauve, Lee Villeneuve, Kris Lepage, Brian Barclay, Penny Quenneville, Nicholas Quenneville, Alana Shepherd, Steven Robinson, Jason Robinson and Eric Lajoie.

The St. Joseph's students were: Dennis Chenier, Angela Marie Cullen, Beth DePratto, Patrick Etherington, Andre Kelly, Christopher Ladouceur, Norman MacDonald, Patrick Picard, Lindsay Sabourin, Brian Van den Oetelaar, Beatrice Bommer, Matthew Legroulx and Christopher Lavoie.

Footloose WAAF kicked up heels in war

By Anne Kukhta
News* reporter

While the Second World War skies exploded in an extravaganza of dogfights and fear of the spidery swastika reigned, a young Canadian orphan was fighting for her own freedom.

Doris Seeley remembers lying in bed outside of London, Eng., as a teenager, listening to German planes drop bombs in a checkerboard around London. But instead of being afraid, Seeley saw the war as an escape.

Now an Alexandria resident, Seeley hated her home with an aunt and grandfather who had taken her in at the age of 10 when both of her parents died of pneumonia in Brampton, Ont. Other British relatives claimed her three sisters.

As Seeley says, they "took me because I was the oldest and they thought I'd be the least trouble. But I turned out to be the most trouble — I was a little bit rebellious."

In particular, she was taxed by laconic meals at which she was allowed to speak only when spoken to and confined to an empty social life broken only by three Church masses every Sunday.

So as soon as she turned 18 in 1942, she enlisted in the Royal Air Force as part of the grounded Women's Auxiliary Air Force.

In doing so, she not only escaped her intolerable family life, but by joining the motor transport section, also found a way to achieve one of her greatest desires at the time — to learn to drive.

"I felt really patriotic," Seeley said. "I wasn't thinking of the danger part as much as doing my duty and going out there and doing my job."

She started with four weeks of basic training, suffering intense physical and disciplinary tests, at the end of which Seeley says "you're just about dead."

Six weeks of training in the motor transport course followed, half the time spent — to Seeley's delight — driving and the other half learning about engines.

"The mechanics used to stand there and just love it when women got into the grease pit," Seeley fondly remembers. "We really did a man's job because they were short of men."

Motor Transport duties included night shifts, which each driver took in turn. And because of the blackout orders in England to mask villages during the war, no headlights were allowed.

It was during such duty that Seeley experienced her one war tragedy. While driving an ambulance, she ran over and killed an unseen cyclist.

"It's the only serious thing that happened to me but it was serious enough," Seeley says quietly.

But night duty also brought some of Seeley's most enjoyed experiences.

She tells of driving police to one of the WAAF barracks one night. On arrival, she was surprised to find a sheepish Canadian who had been found under one of the WAAF's bed. She remembers joking with him about "letting our (the Canadian) side down" before driving him to the lockup.

It was also during her nighttime duties that she had some of her own romantic liaisons as she triumphed over unexpected night calls that spiked dates.

Undaunted, Seeley said she would do her run, then disconnect the speedometer under the dash in deference to a mileage report she was required to fill. Then, unclocked, she would merrily rush off to see her beau.

However, despite her precautions, her hijinks were detected. Years later, she ran into an officer who had kept track of the vehicles and discovered he had known her secret all along.

"He said to me: "Canada, I know what you were up to — I knew by the amount of gas you used that you used more mileage than you used to put on your report," Seeley recounts with a delighted laugh.

For Seeley, war time was romantic with numerous dances, frequent dinners at restaurants to escape the unpalatable mess rations, and abundent suiters.

In particular, there were the favored American soldiers who Seeley recalls had earned a saying from the English: They're overpaid, they're oversexed, they're over here.

"We girls used to like to go out with the Amercians," she remembers. "They knew how to treat a lady. Of course, they had the money."

Backed by their sizeable sawbucks, the American soldiers sent the WAAFs invitations to dances, sending a transportation truck to the station to escort them.

"They used to have a spread of food there you wouldn't believe, stuff you wouldn't see in England in the war years. (There was also) big band music — we'd dance all night," Seeley says dreamily.

"I felt really patriotic... I wasn't thinking of the danger..."

As she speaks, the years fade away and instead of a refined, elegant woman with snowy hair and gentle wrinkles, you can almost see a cheeky 18 year-old in a pretty frock dancing with a rakish American soldier.

"But the Canadians were well liked, too, by the English people," Seeley interrupts the image with a defence of her countrymen. "All though Europe, I think the Canadians were better liked than the Americans."

Seeley certainly did because despite her admitted fondness for American soldiers, it was a Canadian who eventually captured her heart.

Doris Seeley in her battle dress about 1945 and, insert, Seeley today in her Alexandria home.

Seeley met Carl shortly after her first posting. A would-be pilot "who had got too rambunctious and cracked up a plane and was grounded" while training in Canada, he had taken a motor transport job to get overseas.

They kept in touch, but it wasn't until after Carl spent 11 months as a prisoner of war that the footloose WAAF accepted his marriage proposal.

Then, with the end of the war, Carl returned to Canada one week after the wedding. Six months later, Seeley followed and they lived in Montreal until retiring to Alexandria six years ago.

Returning to civilian life was hard, Seeley says, because "there's a certain bond you form with people in the service."

Joining the legion with her husband helped. And although he passed away a few years ago, Seeley is still a member, although now of the Alexandria chapter.

While she was president of this chapter, Seeley formed what is now the Glengarry Cenotaph Committee, which is dedicated to the preservation of the Glengarry memorial.

As she speaks of the sacrifice of Glengarry veterans whose names are on this cenotaph, the calm, collected woman who has spent the previous hour reciting humorous anecdotes unexpectedly cries.

As she collects herself, she quietly says, "I think it gets worse, really, because when you're younger, you don't spend to much time really thinking about these things. But when you get older, you think about them more."

Obituaries

Adrienna Ouimet

Adrienna Ouimet died at the Maxville Manor on April 11, 1990. She was 91 years old.

She was a daughter of the late Alphonse Hamelin and his wife Josephine Latour. She was the widow of Fortunat Ouimet.

She was predeceased by five brothers Oscar, Rosaire, George, Henri and Roderick Ouimet and by one sister Gilberte Ouimet. She is survived by many nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held on April 14, 1990 from the Co-Operative Funeral Home, Alexandria to Sacred Heart Church where Rev. Roger Desrosiers conducted the funeral mass. Burial will be in St. Isidore later in the spring.

Pallbearers were Andre, Jocelyn and Stephane Ouimet, Claude Taillon, Gilles Allard and Lucien Hamelin.

Alphonse Bourbonnais

Alphonse Bourbonnais died at the Glengarry Memorial Hospital on Friday, April 6 at the age of 79.

Mr. Bourbonnais was from Glen Robertson and formerly of North Lancaster. Predeceased by his parents Alderic Bourbonnais and Delima Valade, he was the husband of the late Orvette Latour. Musically inclined, he was well known in Glengarry for his virtuousity on the violin.

He is survived by daughters Dianne (Mrs. Real Normandin), Ghyslaine (Mrs. Denis Normandin), both of St. Georges, Que., Rejeanne (Mrs. Gilles Collins) of British Columbia, and by sons Andre Bourbonnais and Denis Bourbonnais both of St. Georges, Que. and Jacques Bourbonnais of Mount Carmel, Que. Fourteen grandchildren also survive.

Also surviving are brothers Joseph Bourbonnais and Louis Bourbonnais of North Lancaster, Jean Bourbonnais of Green Valley, and by sisters Rose (Mrs. Joseph Cuerrier) of Valleyfield, Que. and Rita (Mrs. J. P. Cardinal) of Rocky Mountain House, Alberta.

He was predeceased by three brothers Osias, George and Antoine.

The funeral service was held from the Morris Funeral Home in Alexandria to St. Margaret of Scotland Church in Glen Nevis for mass of Christian burial celebrated by Rev. Witold Mazurkiewicz. Interment was held in the family plot in the parish cemetery.

Joseph Jeremiah Bergeron

Joseph Jeremiah Bergeron passed away suddenly at his home at Williamstown on April 9, 1990. He was 79 years of age. Born at Munroe's Mills, the son of the late Joseph Bergeron and Corine Côté, the family moved to Williamstown and Mr. Bergeron remained a resident of that community until the time of his death.

He was predeceased by his first wife Aldea Cardinal in 1936. To mourn he leaves his wife Ella Mae Willard and nine children: Joseph Alfred (Johanne Hébert) of Sorel, Que., Eileen (Mrs. Bernard Lalonde), Cornwall, Donald (Darlene Massie) North Lancaster, Alcide (Connie Markstrum), Victoria, B.C., Jean (Mrs. Hubert Quesnel), Lancaster, Margaret (Mrs. Leo Seguin), St. Isidore, Mary (Mrs. Andre Lacelle), Glen Norman, Anita (Mrs. Wayne Brunet), Hearst, Bernice (Mrs. Rolland Dubeau), Kingston. He was predeceased by three children — Ernest, Edith and Muriel.

Twenty-eight grandchildren and seven great grandchildren survive as do two sisters Aglaée (Lily), Mrs. Albert Taillon of Cornwall and Marie Mockett of Manotick. Six brothers, Arthur, Xavier (Pete), Hector, Ovila, Alcide and Alexandre, and five sisters Auria (Mrs. Lucien Periard), Yvonne (Mrs. Albert Gauthier), Odile (Mrs. Henry Lafave), Hermine (Mrs. Carson King), and Elizabeth Bergeron predeceased Mr. Bergeron.

The body rested at the Morris Funeral Home, Alexandria, from Wednesday, April 11 to Friday, April 13. A service was held at St. Mary's Church in Williamstown at 11 a.m. on Friday, April 13 and was officiated by Rev. Thomas Villeneuve. On Monday, April 16 a funeral mass was held in St. Mary's Church. The interment will take place in the parish cemetery later in the spring.

Pallbearers were grandsons Gary Lalonde, Robert Brunet, Michael Lacelle, Marc Bergeron, Ernest Seguin, Dominic Dubeau and Brian Bergeron.

Inez McPherson

A native of Harrison's Corners, Stormont, and resident of Glengarry for much of her life, Inez McPherson died at Glengarry Memorial Hospital on April 8, 1990. She was 79 years old.

Wife of John David McPherson, she was born Jan. 15, 1911 to George (D.D.) and Anna Grace McDonald.

She moved to Alexandria in her youth, and after her marriage spent much of her life teaching at grade schools in Cornwall, McCrimmon, Kenyon, Alexandria and some one-room school houses.

After her retirement she made many return visits to the schools at which she had taught, to give the odd requested art lesson.

Art and children were the two biggest loves of her life.

She is survived by two sisters: Ethel Edgely and Lera Quig. Brothers Stuart and Garnet predeceased her.

Also mourning her death are daughters Heather Mitchell, Bonnie MacDonald and son David McPherson.

Mrs. McPherson also leaves behind six grandsons, two granddaughters, three nieces and six nephews.

Funeral services were held at St. Finnan's Cathedral in Alexandria on April 11. Rev. Gary McDonald, Msgr. D. B. McDougald, Rev. B. Cameron and Rev. Charles MacDonald officiated.

Iona students get Norwegian pen pals

St. Raphael's
Cathie MacDonald
525-1174

Info Iona

Students of the Week are: Lynn MacDonald of Grade 2. She is the daughter of Allen and Lucille of North Lancaster. Stephanie Hagen of Junior Kindergarten. She is the daughter of Johann and Brunhildo of North Lancaster.

Andrew James McAllister was born at the Ottawa General Hospital on April 18. He is the son of Principal Ron and Marilyn McAllister and a brother for Martin. Neither the staff nor the students knew of the coming birth. Best wishes to all.

Iona students participated in a volleyball tournament at Glengarry District High School. It was organized by the Alexandria Optimist Club. Iona students were sponsored by the Lancaster Optimist Club. The team placed first in the C division finals. Players included Raymond Bissonnette (captain), Jenny Maisonneuve, Tommy Pilon, Jaime Claude, Shamus Marleau, Martine Dorval, Martin Stadelmann, Lesa Poulin, Douglas McCorkell, Tabatha Smith and Michael Bissonnette. Their coach was Ron Lajoie.

The Grades 5 and 6 of Mrs. Lynda MacDonald's class initiated a pen pal exchange with a Grade 7 class from Lillestrom, Norway. They sent their first letters in the fall and were ecstatic when they received their replies. They were surprised by some of the questions, such as are you a boy or girl, since they were unfamiliar with some of our Canadian names. In the replies to them they enclosed maps of our region to help them understand where they live within Canada. They also included a large Canadian flag and Canadian pins.

Winner of Sunday's euchre party for the women were Eileen Charlebois, Dorina Theoret, Gisele Titley and Marie Claire Campeau. For the men, Roger Brazeau, Les Atchison, Leo Goulet and Adrien Campeau. The 50/50 winners were Lillian St. Onge, Marie Claire Campeau, Lillian McDonald, Gisele Titley, John Hugh Sloan and Betty Chisholm. Clifford McDonald won the door prize. Next euchre party will be May 6.

Well folks, I think spring has finally arrived. I noticed that a robin has started to build a nest in the big old tree in our back yard. I hope nobody tells the cat what is going on or it will be goodbye bird.

According to the Old Farmer's Almanac, the spring weather will be cool and wet. Summer is to be unusually warm this year and the fall will set in early but we are to have a spell of Indian summer. We'll just have to wait and see.

Birthdays this coming week are Ken Moore on April 29 and Frances Leroux April 27. Best wishes to both of you on your special day.

Lodge News

Visitors with Fidele Brunet were his son Gilbert and grandson of Lachine, Que. Also Albert Lanthier of Glen Robertson.

Mr. Patrick spent Saturday with his son Jack and family.

Muriel Moore visited her brother Al Davidson and family in Ottawa. While there she attended the funeral of her cousin Clayton Sharf of Renfrew who succumbed after undergoing a lung transplant.

This is all the news for this week. Have a nice week and get out and enjoy this nice weather.

Thrice denied

St. Peter (John Hope) denies Jesus Christ for the third time when approached by the maiden (Reina Morrison). Reina and John were performing in the Easter Passion play Good Friday at the Church on the Hill.

Wanted: Char-Lan students of 1910-1920

Williamstown
Sue Harrington
347-2279

Wanted, not dead, but alive: former students who attended Williamstown High School in the period between 1910 and 1920, in order that today's scholars may talk to them about their impressions of school life in those days.

As part of the Char-Lan D.H.S. Heritage Committee's task in bringing together the historical memories of our school, a dinner is planned to honor these "senior" students. If you are one, or know of someone who is, please call the school (347-2441) and tell Mr. Gilmour or Mr. McLachlan, so that this project can get rolling.

In the meantime, all of the rest of you (and the earlybirds as well) are invited to a kick-off wine and cheese party, to be held at Char-Lan on Friday, June 8, at 7:30. "Kick-off for what?" you are no doubt asking.

On Tuesday evening the Char-Lan alumni organization was officially formed, with Robert McDonell being elected as "interim" (his words!) chairman; John Chafee as vice-chairman, and Micheline Bougie, as secretary. It was decided, that in order to get some seed money to fund all the proposals of the Heritage Committee, a wine and cheese would be a pleasant way to go about it. The evening will be open to all who either attended Char-Lan, taught or worked at Char-Lan, are married to or are parent to Char-Laners. And although not on the scale of a school reunion, the evening would serve to bring old friends together for a laugh at a memory or two.

Details on tickets, etc. will be forthcoming in this column. Meanwhile, save June 8 on your calendar!

I promised you finer details on Williamstown Public's Fashion Show being held tonight (Wed.) in the Char-Lan High School Cafetorium, and Lynn Lafave of the WPS School Committee was kind enough to oblige.

The show gets under way at 7 p.m. and tickets, if you haven't already got yours, can be bought at the door.

Fashions being shown are supplied by Reitmans, Zellers, and Foot Locker, and the models, are of course, students representing all the grades in the school.

Based on former shows, tonight's another evening not to be missed!

The students of Char-Lan's Band, under the direction of Dave Irwin, put on a marvellous concert for the members of the Glengarry Community Club recently. News of the group's success filtered my way from a variety of sources, not the least from Charlie Heath, who said the club enjoyed the entertainment immensely, and that it was a great finale to a great pot luck luncheon.

At the Glengarry Club's open euchre held April 9, Ileen Latreille, Ann Lalonde and Kay Theoret were the ladies' winners, while Adelard Sauvé, Donald MacGregor and Lyall Gibson won for the gentlemen.

Clarice MacPherson won the special draw for an Easter ham, and Rosabelle Sauvé won the door prize.

50-50 winners included Mary Rose Pilon, Lyall Gibson, Ivan Clark, Rosabelle Sauvé, Helen Giroux and Viola Lauzon.

Dorothy Roy and Betsy Robinson were honored at the club's April birthday party held on the 18th. Clarice MacPherson made the birthday cake for the occasion.

Card winners were Dorothy Sharpe, Alice Portant, Lyall Gibson, and Bill Edmunds. Alice Portant won the door prize.

50/50 prizes went to Florida Legroulx, Joyce Lalonde, Viola Lauzon and Donald MacGregor.

Raffle winnings went home with Lita Gibson, who won a pair of slippers donated by Violet Lauzon, and with Dorothy Roy, who won a pair of mitts given by Therese Welcher.

Could be a bit of a conflict tonight at Char-Lan. Not only is the fashion show beginning at 7 p.m., there is a special presentation on substance abuse being offered at the same time.

The Lancaster Optimist Club, in co-operation with area schools, will present "Choices," a 45-minute sound and light show produced by the Motivational Media Corporation. The show uses music from New Kids on the Block and a variety of TV celebrities to emphasize the value of choosing a healthy, drug-free lifestyle.

This presentation will be held in the school's gymnasium.

There's a new dog on the block. "Sam," a dalmation, can be spotted around the Blackers' place, just a leap or two from the fire station. Sure adds to the scenery!

The next meeting of the Green Thumbs' Horticultural Society will be held on April 30, beginning at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's Centre.

Speaker for the evening will be George McKiel, who will talk about "birding."

Members are asked to bring their posters for the flower show.

The results of the Canada-wide math contest, sponsored by the University of Waterloo, and written by Char-Lan students, have been announced.

In the Fermat Contest, for the students in Grade 11, the Char-Lan team placed 15th among the schools in Zone 66 in Ontario. The team is made up of the top three students: Zachary Harrington, 82; Wendy Woollven, 72.25; and Eric Malo, 62.75.

In Grade 10, the Cayley contest, the team placed 22nd, and is comprised of Terry O'Farrell, 81.25; Sean O'Farrell, 66.75, and Chris Benton, 59.25.

Both Terry and Zachary placed in the top 15 percentile of students writing the test and their names appear on the zone honor roll.

We congratulate the students and their excellent math teachers on yet another good showing.

The Euclid contest for students in Grade 12 will be written this week.

Attention all residents of the 4th concession! You've got yet another address! Two weeks ago you lived on the 4th; last week your homes were located on Briar Hill Road; and today, and hopefully for good, you live on Maple Road.

That's right. At last evening's council meeting, Joan MacDonald interceded on your behalf and suggested that you would rather live on MacNaughton Road than in a briar patch. However, the suggestion proved to be a thorny issue: apparently naming roads after residents is not encouraged, so in the end the decision was made to call your road, "Maple."

Hope you like it, because council has now accepted the road changes proposal and no more input will be received!

Congratulations are extended to Stuart Phillips, a sergeant in the Kiwanis Squadron 325 Air Cadets. Stuart has been chosen to attend a senior leadership course for six weeks this summer in Cold Lake, Alberta. As there is only one representative for the area, this is quite an honor, indeed.

Better stay out of the CF-18s, though, Stuart!

Next time you're in Cornwall, eat locally. Gordon MacDonald is the owner of Malts 'n More, a fast food restaurant on Montreal Road, near Courtaulds, in fact where the Dairy Queen used to be.

You're bound to meet up with the Williamstown crowd, and guess what? The meat for the hamburgers comes from Alex's!

Good luck, Gordie, on your new venture!

We're pleased to hear that John Troost has now recovered enough from the burns he received to have been released from the hospital, and is now home in Williamstown.

Challenge tossed out to makers of lunches for Hawkins dance

Martintown
Ruth Lafave
528-4374

I would like to start the week off by welcoming a few people to Martintown. They are Carlyon Colpitts, Arthur Massia and Diane and Gilles Gratton. I also have a few birthday wishes. To Joshua Grimes who turned nine on April 16 and Lionel Cyr who turns 31 on May 4. Best wishes to you both.

Denise and Lionel Cyr have company from New Brunswick. Denise's mom, Doreen Lamarre, arrived on April 11, and will be visiting for approximately one month. Enjoy your visit Doreen.

June Lalonde gave Easter dinner for her family. She had her daughters Angie and Yvette over along with their husbands Collin and Brian and their children. Her son James was home from Germany with his wife Anne. June had not seen James for, I think, three years. Now, every year, June gives a lovely meal followed by mouth watering homemade pies. She usually makes apple, pumpkin and some other type of pie and every year Collin and Brian ask for lemon or coconut cream pie, which of course she did not make. This year she thought she would fool them both and made these pies. Well, they finished their main course and dessert was next. She asked the boys which type of pie they wanted and her joke backfired. The boys replied that they would have whatever she had made. Next time you have them over June, don't even bother to ask them if they want dessert. Let them bring their own. They knew all about your plan to fool them.

James and Anne's visit was short this time around but they will be visiting again soon. It will be nice to see you both again.

Tickets for the upcoming Sadie Hawkins dance and boxed lunch auction to be held at the community centre on May 12, are available from all committee members, Jessie's Haircare and Nell's General Store. They cost $3 per person.

Norm Laflamme, from Nell's, would like to challenge all the gentlemen who will be making the boxed lunches. All you have to do is register at the store. The registration fee is two dollars. The man who makes the best lunch will win half of the total registrations and the other half will be donated to the centre. So come on guys and take the challenge. You don't have to be a gourment cook, just use your imagination. You can make anything that can be eaten, i.e. chicken, salads, cold cuts, sandwiches . . .

That is the extend of the happenings for this week, see you soon.

Junior Ag program offered this year

Agricultural training for young people as well as summer help for farmers will be provided through OMAF's Junior Agriculturalist Program once again this year.

"The Junior Agriculturalist Program is a great opportunity for students to find out what the work on a farm is all about," said Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Food, David Ramsay. "This enables them to acquire experience in farm practice, while helping farmers during the busiest months of the year."

Under the program, young people between the ages of 15 to 24, with no farm experience, get the opportunity to work on a farm for eight weeks. They receive $35 a day and have every second weekend off. Host farmers provide room and board and contribute $17 a day to the Junior Agriculturalist training fund. The program is open to any type of full time operation.

Twelve students are also hired as supervisory staff to administer the program in the field. At the beginning of the season, they recruit and help young participants set up goals and develop a training plan for each student, with the host farmers.

Last year the program was very successful, with 130 students working primarily on livestock oriented farms, and also on crop and fruit and vegetable production farms throughout the province. The Junior Agriculturalist Program has been running for 19 years and it has proven beneficial to both the participating farmers and students.

The program starts June 25 and runs to August 17. Applications are now being accepted. Application forms can be obtained at local OMAF offices, Canada Employment centres, high school guidance offices and agricultural employment centres. For more information, contact Bev Lawn, Rural Organizations Consultant, at (519) 767-3517.

Mystery bunny showers village with Easter treats

Maxville
Gordon Winter
527-2888

Yes Virginia, there is also an Easter bunny as well. On Easter Sunday, a large pink one deposited a little package of Easter eggs on the verandahs of many homes and scheduled her walk about town to be present when our four church congregations came out.

It was a delightful idea and although by this time, some of our readers know who was behind the idea, we shall keep Maxville's Easter bunny nameless. However we do thank her for her generosity of time and Easter eggs and in spreading the spirit of rebirth at Eastertime.

Katrina and Jakob Schmid and Anna Maria have had visitors from Switzerland. They were Ester and Rudolf Wehrli, good friends of the Schmids.

Enid and Don Bond had their three sons home for Easter. Jeff from Brampton had his fiancee with him and Steve and Murray were home for the holiday as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McKinnon, Toronto, spent a few days at Eastertime with his mother, Ethel McKinnon.

Lillian MacIntosh, Montreal, was home with her brother Robert and Carolee and family.

Mrs. O. F. Villeneuve enjoyed having her granddaughter Lore Villeneuve from Toronto with her for Easter.

Elizabeth and Dan Roy and Matthew, Peterborough, spent Easter with her mother, Evelyn McColl.

There is another lovely lady at the Manor about to celebrate her 100th birthday. She is Margaret Whiteford, formerly from Allan's Corners, east of Ormstown, Que. Mrs. Whiteford was a practising nurse for many years and has been a most gracious Manor resident for several years.

Although Mrs. Whiteford finds it difficult to realize she has reached the century mark, she has her framed greetings from the usual dignitaries hanging on her wall and has the best wishes of her friends for continued peace and contentment.

George Harrison, Whitby, was an Easter visitor of his grandmother, Florence McNaughton.

Julie Danskin wishes to remind those who buy grandstand tickets for the Highland Games that the system has been changed. Many of the best seats have already been sold so those interested must call on Mrs. Danskin in her store as soon as possible to buy their tickets.

At the Games next summer each one of us will probably have new neighbors on the grandstand and will have opportunities to visit with others we have usually seen from a distance.

Malcolm Grant was telling me that in the midst of the snow storm we had a couple of weeks ago, that he was thinking back 45 years when he had planted a field of grain on the same date.

The next day, after the snow, I saw Mr. Grant's neighbor, Bernie Villeneuve, out shovelling off his walk and it may have been my imagination but I think I could hear Bernie mumbling "Why didn't we stay in Florida until spring finally came?"

In the last issue of the Alumni News of the Ontario Agricultural College, the death was announced of John M. Tait. Mr. Tait was a science teacher in our high school for the year 1940-41 and had been living in Walkerton.

Lorna and Gordon Winter were in Cookstown, near Barrie, last week where Mr. Winter represented the Ontario Horticultural Association at the annual meeting of District 16. He also fulfilled the same duties in Perth for the District 2 annual meeting last Saturday.

Congratulations go out to students at St. Bernard's School. The Senior Girls' team won the county broomball tournament as did the Junior Boys' team.

Spring is officially here. The dandelions are blooming at the Post Office.

The maple syrup season is about over although the frogs are still silent. From all reports, it has been an excellent year for the syrup producers.

We welcome home for the summer Julie Williams and her roommate, Laura Van Loon, Greenfield, who have been first year students at the University of Guelph.

Ross Conners was in Guelph last week to attend a meeting of the Master Gardeners' co-ordinators. He was able to offer a ride home to daughter Terry from Waterloo University and older daughter Cathy from Toronto's Ryerson College.

Robert Williamson, Lahr, West Germany visited Helen and Ian MacRae over the Easter weekend. Presently on a three-month course with the Canadian Armed Forces at Chatham, N.B., Robert will return to Lahr on June 8 to rejoin his wife Mavis and children, Jason and Colleen.

Other members of the family home with Mr. and Mrs. MacRae were Patsy and Michael Ladouceur and boys and Karen and Angus Chisholm and their three children.

Margaret Dingwall had almost a full complement of relatives home to help her celebrate her 90th birthday on April 21. Her older sister Anna from Ottawa and her younger sister, Isabel Kerwin from St. John, N.B. were in attendance as were her nieces, Elizabeth Kerwin, St. John, Barbara Dingwall, Toronto, Margaret Goodman, Montreal, Isabel and Keith Wilson and John, Kemptville and cousins Jean and Bill Boa, Cornwall.

Peggi Calder, president of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society sent in the following item.

Recently, the Canadian Cancer Society presented Gordon Winter with a certificate of appreciation and a 10-year service pin in grateful recognition of his many years of service as treasurer of the former Maxville branch.

Last year, the Maxville branch joined Lochiel Township and Alexandria to become the Glengarry North Branch of the SD&G unit of the Society.

Tomorrow (Thursday) at the Sports Complex, there is a workshop entitled Volunteers involved with Seniors, sponsored by the Council on Aging with Jessica MacPhadden as the guest speaker. This runs from 1:30-4 p.m. and then at 6 p.m., the volunteer recognition banquet and awards' presentations will be held.

On Friday from 3-4:30 p.m. at the Manor, there will be a workshop entitled "Pastoral Services for the Cognitive Impaired" led by the Rev. Arty Van Bruchem, co-ordinator of pastoral services and Helen Baker, RN.

Finally to close Volunteer Recognition Month, on the 30th, there will be a "We Thank You" tea sponsored by the Manor residents and beneficiaries of the Seniors' Outreach Services' Program. The tea will be held from 2-3 p.m. and all volunteers at the Manor will be warmly welcomed.

The Glengarry Curling Club here in Maxville held its "Last Chance" Bonspiel on April 13 and 14, sponosred by the local Home Hardware store, operated by the Shields family. Convenors were Don Bond and Helen MacLeod, 48 teams participated and Erwin Shields presented the trophy.

The winners of the draw for the Wheelbarrow of Garden Supplies at the Last Chance Bonspiel at the local curling club was Hugh Eadie of Winchester.

The first meeting of the Maxville and District Horticultural Society in 1990 was held last week on the usual date of the third Wednesday of the month with Andy Code, officer with the Raisin River Conservation Authority as the guest speaker.

Mr. Code gave a most interesting, illustrated talk on the Cooper Marsh west of Lancaster, off Hwy. 2. There are board walks through the wetlands to take observers for first hand viewing of the flora and fauna of this habitat. The 45 in attendance were all motivated to visit this site in the near future.

President Tom Boyle also gave details of the annual OHA convention at York University on June 19-21. With the theme the environment — let's face the facts, and an excellent program of speakers and workshops planned, the convention is expected to attract at least 700 delegates from across Ontario.

This society is encouraging a good representation at the convention.

At the time of writing this column last Friday your correspondent took a few minutes to check the activity at the bird feeders. With the impending showers, there were almost as many species feeding as during the winter. The last of the cracked corn and the oil sunflower seeds were attracting grackles, starlings, red-winged blackbirds, cow birds, English sparrows, juncos, chickadees, blue jays, grosbeaks, gold and purple finches and a pair of mourning doves. It is interesting to note that the doves have paired now and are appearing in this manner.

I am also wondering if we will have more of these species stay for the summer and in larger numbers for those who habitually stay.

Seventy years ago, R. G. Jamieson bought property from Duncan McMillan on the west side of his Corner Store. Later, the two apartments adjoining the store, were remodelled from a warehouse the late Mr. Jamieson had on this site.

It is interesting to note that the old post office had been on this property. It was probably destroyed in the fire of 1915. The McKay block which housed the post office for many years afterwards was built in 1921.

Grade 7 and 8 Laggan students are off by bus to the sunny south

Dalkeith
Jean MacLennan
874-2385

This week we have a few Easter visitors that were missed last week.

Janice MacIntosh had Ella MacSweyn, Dunvegan, Kent, Marilyn MacSweyn and sons, Laggan, Margaret and Lyle MacIntosh and family of Cumberland.

Daphne Trollope of Toronto, a long time friend of Jean Bush visited for the long weekend with Jean and Dennis Bush.

Early this week the crew from D&G roads department cleaned the debris off the sidewalk and roads and gives the village a really neat look.

On Monday, April 23, Albert Lajoie marked his 80th birthday. I really expected to see the flamingos on the lawn, but maybe they swam down the Spring Creek! Happy birthday Albert!

Last week Bruce MacKenzie, Thunder Bay, Ont. and Allister MacKenzie, Ponoka, Alta., were visiting their sister, Anne McNaughtan and family of Dalhousie, Que. They also stopped in to see Ken and I.

Kathleen Fleming, Bury St. Edmund, England, is spending some time in Canada with her sister Anne, and John Strudwick.

Yvette and Gerard Goulet, accompanied by her brother Lucien and his wife Marie-Claire Brunet, St. Eugene, enjoyed a few days at Ste. Agathe, Quebec.

Again this week there are residents off to the hospital. Havelock Denovan is recovering nicely in Cornwall, Vincent MacPherson is in hospital in Alexandria. Best wishes to both of you.

On April 20, Mary Terry, sister-in-law of Melvin and Phyllis Terry celebrated her 100th birthday. Now a resident of the Prescott-Russell residence in Hawkesbury, she received family and friends that day and was also the recipient of many plaques.

The Grades 7 and 8 from Laggan School are on their excursion to Florida.

They left on Thursday, April 19 and will visit many attractions both on the way to and from Florida. While in Florida they will camp at Disney World's Fort Wilderness Resort. It is a great experience for the children and I hope the adults with them have good earplugs.

Last Thursday, April 19 was the last euchre for the winter season at Laggan.

Early in the evening there was a pot luck supper and, according to reports, it was not "pot luck." The card players bring the food and they are to be commended for such a lovely and scrumptious array of foods.

Now, on with the winners: Ladies' first Margaret Cadieux, and second Aline Charlebois. Gents' first Adelard Sauvé, and second Norman MacLeod.

The door prize was won by Ella MacSweyn. The convenors for the night were the Laggan Recreation Association.

New executive named for McCrimmon WI

Glen Sandfield
Lorna Chapman
874-2408

It was with regret that the community learned of the recent death of good friend and neighbor Clifford Bickerstaff. He and his family have been a part of Glen Sandfield for many years, beginning with his purchase of the general store from John Fraser.

His ready laugh and warm friendly manner made him welcome where ever he went. He was always available for a little chat at the mailbox in the morning. Many will miss him and grieve at his passing. Our sincere sympathy to Eleanor Bickerstaff and his daughters Janet and Lois, and other family members.

A reminder that the ladies of St. Martin of Tours Church in Glen Robertson will be having a tea and bazaar in the parish hall on May 5. The time would be 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., I expect.

The recent card party in the community centre in Glen Robertson had 15 tables in play. Lucky winners were: Wilfrid Cuerrier, Adrien Campeau, Rolland Menard, Florence Montpetit, and the skunk winner was Cordelia Trottier. Fern Rozon won the door prize. The three draw prizes went to Viola Hope, Maurice Montpetit and Mathieu Charlebois. Next party will be on May 1.

McCrimmon WI has chosen a new slate of officers.

The annual meeting took place recently in the township hall at Lochiel on April 19. The roll call was sing or say or pay 25 cents, and renewing of memberships for the coming year. One of the sayings was "nothing contributes more to peace of mind than having no opinion whatever." Others ranged from a selection from the Heritage Book, through poems to jokes. The minutes read by Estelle Brazeau brought up the subject of McCrimmon's 75th anniversary tea at Laggan School in June.

After a favorable financial report given by Helen MacLeod, several announcements were made. May 7 to 13 is Pitch In Week when the members agreed to choose a place or places and clean it up of rubbish. Roadways, church lands, playgrounds and school yards, driveways; all were mentioned as possible targets. All checked off on the poster what places they would do.

The annual meeting will be Wednesday, May 30 at St. Andrew's Church, Martintown, with Picnic Grove as host. Registration will be $2, lunch $7 and check in time from 9-9:30 a.m. A prize is required of each branch for the annual meeting. May 3 is the date for the program meeting at Lochiel Township Hall at 9:30 a.m.

Marguerite McGillis commented most ably on the motto — A little encouragement can spark a great endeavor.

Betty McDonald reported on the workshop on waste management she had attended and had a fund of information for the group. A whole list of environment friendly cleaning materials were discussed. The best things to use for household chores are our old friends baking soda, vinegar, washing soda and ammonia and borax, all of which are user friendly. These things do not hurt the environment and work as well as those very expensive harmful cleaners. Salt and vinegar paste will do a super job on copper bottomed pots one lady said. Using no phosphate soap for the washing, turning off the water while brushing teeth (and salt or soda will clean them just fine), not rinsing dishes under running water and using less water on our lawns in summer all help to save energy. Sorting waste, recycling and reusing are all ways to be a part of the solution of garbage disposal. Composting not only cuts down on garbage going to the landfill site, but will beef up your garden soil with all sorts of wonderful organic material, and improve the soil quality of the garden. Mrs. McDonald said that 1990 will become known as the Turn Around Decade, and we all hope so!

The annual meeting began by the officers vacating the chairs. Mrs. W. R. MacLeod conducted the election ceremony with the ease of one who has done it many times before.

The new slate of officers follows: president, Mrs. Gerald McGillis; vice-president, Mrs. Cameron McDonald; secretary, Mrs. Lynus MacPherson; treasurer, Mrs. Alex D. MacLeod; P.R.O., Mrs. Charles Chapman; program, Mrs. Angus MacLennan and Mrs. Charles Chapman; district director, Mrs. John Fraser; alternate Mrs. Charles Chapman; directors Mrs. W. R. MacLeod, Mrs. E. Clingen, Mrs. R. Paige; auditors Mrs. Leslie Calvank and Mrs. Campbell MacDonald; lunch convenors Mrs. Campbell MacDonald, Mrs. Munro MacCaskill, Mrs. John Fraser and Mrs. Keith MacMillan; the Nominating Committee Mrs. John Fraser, Mrs. Hugh Allen McDonald and Mrs. Roy Barton.

A monthly draw has been started to raise money for the Women Feed The World project, and the lucky winner of the prize was Mrs. A. D. MacLeod. Mrs. M. Crowley kindly donated the prize of a lovely wicker basket filled with a variety of jars of jelly and james.

The convenorships are as follows: agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. Angus MacLennan; education and cultural affairs, Mrs. Jim Campbell; family and consumer affairs, Mrs. S. MacCrimmon; resolutions, Mrs. E. Clingen; program coordinator Mrs. Cameron McDonald. The next monthly meeting will be at the hall in Lochiel on May 17.

Easter Hat Parade Great Fun

The 39'ers met at the Church on the Hill Hall in Alexandria on April 18 for their monthly luncheon meeting. This month it was a pot luck dinner and the fine aroma met people at the door whetting appetites beforehand. There were any number of salads, and main course dishes to please the most sensitive palate. As usual it was impossible to sample everything, though some made a gallant try. Then the well filled dessert table awaited the diners' pleasure, making it very difficult to make any one selection.

Greetings were sung to the birthday celebrants and while the tables were being cleared, Mrs. Muriel Moore led a sing-song beginning with the 39'ers theme song, with Mrs. Bessie MacLennan accompanying the singing. She stayed put at the piano for the hat parade and the contestants marched in to the tune of Easter Parade. The judges Muriel Moore, Frank Hamilton and Chris Gill had had a tough job of picking out the prettiest, the most original and the most unusual hats. I will list the winners' names next week. It was all in the spirit of fun and everyone had a great time. Gerald McGillis was the only man brave enough to enter the contest, so he received a grand round of applause at his entry.

The group was pleased to welcome John Burnet and Dot Burnet back from Florida. Elizabeth Groot has arranged a trip up to Ottawa for a sightseeing tour of the Tulip Time display in May. Details will be sorted out about where the group will visit. Watch this column for more information. Bingo and cards filled the rest of the afternoon. Mrs. Burnet took out craft materials for bazaar projects and much of it was collected by the members. Forms for the senior games were on hand with dates and phone numbers. Marguerite McGillis has the letter with the names and numbers. The social time is always enjoyed and this day was no exception.

Sewer project to begin this year

Green Valley
Helene Quesnel
525-3303

An open house/information meeting was held at Ste. Marie's school on Thursday (April 19) to discuss the Green Valley sewer project. Staff from the consulting engineer's office was on hand to answer questions and a listing of revised estimates of net cost to each property was available for review. At 7:30 p.m. a short presentation was made summarizing the proposed schedule of events for construction this year.

Yes, Green Valley — believe it or not — the sewer project is supposed to start this year.

Next Sunday (April 29) at 1 p.m. the Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association is having its awards day at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Many Green Valley hockey players will be bringing home hardware they've earned for the hard work put in to their hockey teams.

Hope winners will give me a call so I can put their names in next week's column.

This week is secretary's week and Wednesday is Professional Secretaries' Day.

Hope bosses remember to compensate their secretaries this week and if they don't or forget they should be reminded!

Gerard and Jacqueline Leger have their daughter, Anne-Marie, son-in-law Richard and grandchildren Genevieve and Charles visiting with them from Isla, Wash.

They arrived on April 11 and will stay till the 28th. While here they are visiting with friends and relatives.

Green Vallians are asked to be at the church next Saturday morning with rags, rakes and brooms in hand.

The goal of this gathering is to clean up the church yard and windows. This was done last year and close to 40 people showed up to lend a helping hand. Let's hope it's as successful this year.

Richelieu Club members will be selling bread at church next Sunday.

The bread blitz is held annually to raise money to help out youth organizations and youths in need throughout the county.

The Dorés had two days of celebration last week when Claudette celebrated her birthday on Wednesday (April 18); Claudette and husband Henri celebrated their anniversary the next day (April 19).

Happy birthday to Derek St. John, 11, on April 22, to André Lefebvre, 17, on April 27 and to Jacqueline Leger on April 30.

Congratulations to Claude and Gracia Seguin who boast 25 years of marriage, April 19. Gracia's four sisters and brother surprised Claude and Gracia with a party on Saturday night. When the couple returned from having supper out they found their basement full of people waiting to surprise them.

Optimist News

The Optimist Club held elections for a new executive for 1990-91 last week with results as follows: president, Lucien Beriault; secretary, Donald Menard; vice-presidents, Marc Brunet and Marcel Brunet; directors for two years, Daniel Lefebvre, Norman Menard and Bernard Brunet; directors for one year, Marc Delorme, Richard Viau and Denis Martin. Denis will also act as treasurer. The new executive begins its role on Oct. 1 when the Optimists begin a new year.

A group of nine students from Grade 8 at Ecole Ste. Marie represented the club in the Alexandria Optimist volleyball tournament held last Saturday. In the preliminary round, the team lost two games against Vankleek Hill, split games with Alexandria and lost two games against Hawkesbury. In the semi-finals, they beat Alexandria two games to one but lost in the "C-D" finals to Iona three games to one.

Fifty-five people went home smiling from the eighth annual Alexandria Lions "Club 555" draw Friday night at the Sports Palace. The first 52 names to be drawn pocketed $100 — the price of the ticket. The next three winners lucked into some new wheels. Pictured above, from left to right, are Rene Jeaurond, seller of winning ticket to Gerald Ouellette of Alexandria for the Sunbird supplied by Roy's Garage. Denis Beaupre of RR#2, Williamstown, won the Ranger supplied by Glengarry Ford. To his right stands Marc Leblanc, president of Alexandria Lions Club. Gaetan Ravary sold the winning ticket to Cornwall's Ray Byers (absent) for the Cavalier supplied by Titley Chev-Olds.

150th birthday marked in fashion

Dunvegan
Marion Loewen
527-2284

The Women's Association of Kenyon Presbyterian Church celebrated the church's 150th anniversary on Wednesday night with a fashion show at the Maxville and District Sports Complex. A large crowd came out to view the Montreal based Margaret Ann Fashions.

At half-time, coffee and tea and many delicious sweets satisfied everyone's sweet tooth and then it was back to the show.

Many lovely door prizes were given to the lucky winners. All in all, it was a highly successful evening, and seemed to be enjoyed by all.

The April meeting of the Kenyon WMS was held at Mrs. D. J. Hartrick's home.

The Easter worship service was convened by Mrs. Hartrick assisted by Eizabeth Stewart, Eileen Campbell, Darlene Wild, and Marjorie MacMillan.

Mrs. Malcolm Grant gave an interesting lesson on Protestantism in the Philippines, followed by a social hour.

Dunvegan's Women's Institute

The Dunvegan WI held their annual meeting recently and reports were given by the program co-ordinator, the Tweedsmuir history convenor, the public relations officer and the resolutions officer.

The meeting opened with a spring poem read by Mrs. Dan MacRae and the roll call was answered by payment of fees.

The treasurer reported a very successful financial year and members were pleased that $112.30 had been raised for Pennies for Friendship.

Mrs. Dan MacRae was chosen to be election chairman and Eunice Nixon acted as secretary. The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Nixon. The following slate of officers was chosen for the year 1990-91.

Past-president, Ann Stewart; president, Peggi Calder; vice-president, Marion Loewen; secretary, Joyce MacKinnon; treasurer, Margaret MacLeod; district director, Joyce MacKinnon and alternate Eunice Nixon; public relations officer, Isabel MacLeod; curator, Flora Chisholm; program co-ordinator, Marion Loewen; convenors: agriculture and Canadian industries, Mary Fraser; education and cultural activities, Eunice Nixon; family and consumer affairs, Ruth Alderson; citizenship and legislation, Catherine MacRae; and resolutions, Flora Chisholm. The branch directors were: Catherine MacRae, Rhoda MacRae, and Sheila Whealon. Nominating committee was Peggi Calder, Eunice Nixon and Joyce MacKinnon; auditors: Carolynn Deneault and Sybil MacPhee.

The delegates to the district annual being held at Williamstown on May 30 are Peggi Calder, Joyce MacKinnon and Flora Chisholm.

Home for Easter to visit their parents Ian and Mary Lundie were Marshall Lundie, and his sister, Fiona and Scott Kennedy and baby Timothy, all from Ottawa.

Muriel Stewart was in the village visiting Mary Fraser for Easter and enjoyed the family gathering.

Good Friday guests with Barbara Ladouceur and Marion Loewen were Peter and Pat Melissis of Pickering and Bill Bartlett of Ajax.

There have been a few people who recently turned a year older. To start, with my brother-in-law Dwight Murray on April 18, Connie Lacroix on the 20th, Paul Deveau on the 21st. On April 22 Gaby Sauvé, Gertrude Lapierre and Louis Cartier all celebrated. Allan Fobert was born on the 23rd.

I will mention a few ahead of time to try to get past my birthday book, which as you can see has passed me on a few occasions. Alfred Wilmot will celebrate his birthday on the 27th, Diana Murray on the 28th, Kimberly Devlin on the 29th, Rosemarie Major on May 1, and also Edna Berry on the same day.

Just a reminder, on Sunday, April 29 there will be a pancake breakfast served up by the Knights of Columbus from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at St. Anthony's Hall.

A last note that there will be a public meeting held on Sunday, April 29 at St. Anthony's hall. The topic is a neighborhood watch. The guest speaker is Constable Leslie Howard. And the meeting will start at 2 p.m. We hope to see a good crowd there.

Charlottenburgh captures Glengarry hockey title

In the end, Charlottenburgh had too many offensive weapons for Lochiel to cope with.

Charlottenburgh wrapped up The Glengarry News Cup final against Lochiel Saturday night winning Game Five 9-3 and the series four games to one.

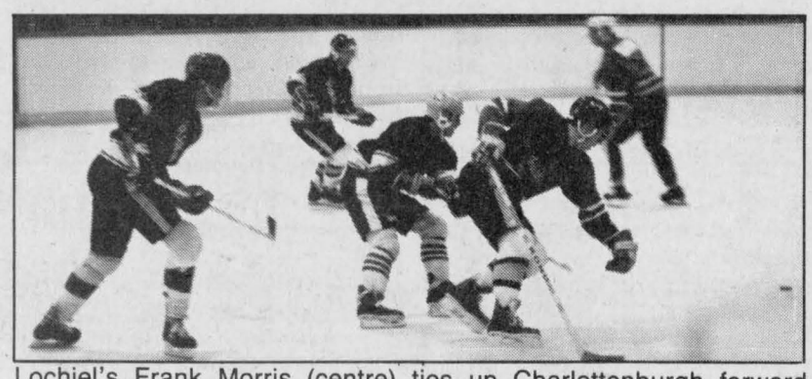
On Friday night Charlottenburgh moved into a position to end the series, scoring a come-from-behind 8-3 win to move ahead three games to one.

Charlottenburg's already high-scoring lineup — which included Char-Lan Rebels present (Darin Menard, Daryl Menard, Jamie Latreille, Wes Jurchuk, Matthew McKenzie) and past (Rod McKenzie, Brent Laplante) — was bolstered on the weekend by the return of Murray MacDonald, Dwayne Spink and Neil Sandilands. The trio had missed the earlier games in the series, playing for Smiths Falls Rideaus in the Hardy Cup senior hockey semifinal in Nova Scotia.

The amalgam was too much for a game Lochiel squad to handle.

They played tough against Charlottenburgh Friday and led 3-2 going into the third period. Charlottenburgh won the game with six unanswered third period goals. Murray MacDonald's unassisted goal tied the contest 3-3 with 14:34 left. MacDonald scored his second of the game teaming up with Mike MacDougall putting Charlottenburgh ahead to stay with 11:22 to go.

MacDonald wound up with two goals and two assists in the game. MacDougall and Dwayne Spink each scored twice for the winners, with singles notched by Jamie Latreille and Daryl Menard.



Lochiel's Frank Morris (centre) ties up Charlottenburgh forward Dwayne Spink (right) in Game Five of The Glengarry News Cup final series Saturday night. Charlottenburgh won the game, 9-3, and the series, four games to one.

Eric MacSweyn, Frank Morris and Willie Kippen scored for Lochiel, which trailed 2-0 early in the first period but tied the game 2-2 before the end of the period and went ahead 3-2 early in the second stanza.

It was the second straight game in which Charlottenburgh rallied for the win. With the series tied at one game apiece a week ago, Charlottenburgh

Glens facing elimination in Game four tonight in Renfrew

By Todd Hambleton
Sports editor

The mission: beat the Renfrew Timberwolves in the next four games and win their first ever Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League championship.

Naw, scratch that.

For the Alexandria Glens it's first things first and down three games to none in the final, the first thing is to try to win one game against the Valley Division powerhouse.

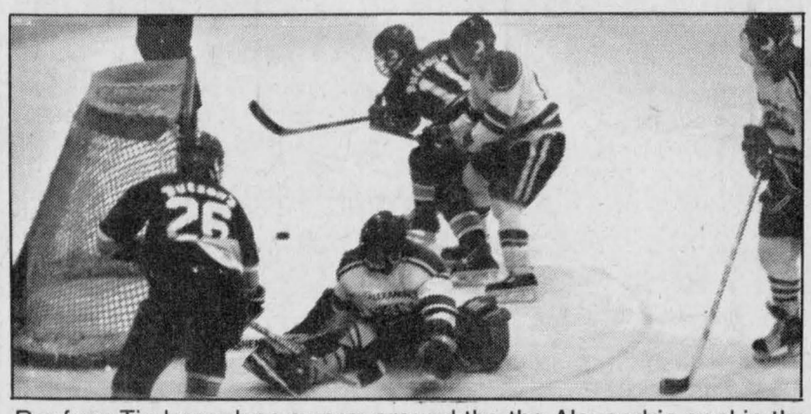
"We'd like nothing more than to make them (Timberwolves) have to come back to Alexandria and play a fifth game," Glens coach Pete DeRooy said. "But that's a pretty tough task right now. They're a very good team."

When we last left you, Glens were basking in the glory of capturing the St. Lawrence-Rideau conference championship. But they can cram a lot of hockey into a week and with three straight losses, Glens are at death's doorstep. They're expected to slink through the vestibule tonight (Wednesday, Game Four, Renfrew Arena, 8 p.m.).

"We're really hoping to put them away Wednesday," Renfrew coach Dave Moore said. "When we beat Alexandria two years ago we won it here (Glengarry Sports Palace) so this time it would be nice to wrap it up in front of our home crowd. We've got a big party planned for after the game."

Co-head-coaches Dave and brother Paul Moore are quite confident they'll be able to bash all night long. You would be too, if you had the lineup they have to work with.

The Glens are really up against too powerful a force in this series. The Renfrew club is stellar from top to bottom, from the goaltending position on out to the fourth line. "We feel confident with any one of our four lines out there on the ice," Paul Moore said. "I think our depth is what gives us an advantage over a lot of other teams."



Renfrew Timberwolves swarm around the the Alexandria goal in the third period Sunday night. 'Wolves won the game 11-4, lead the series 3-0 and can wrap it up tonight. Staff photo — Todd Hambleton

'Wolves have also gotten superb goaltending in the series and good work from their defensive corps. The Moores credit the team's long-term success (they've won their division four years in a row) to its ability to have players return from year to year.

This year's club boasts eight holdovers from the 1988 championship team. And, there's just one rookie on the club.

That stability has keyed the success of their biggest weapon — the powerplay.

It looks like something out of the Central Junior A Hockey League. In fact, it seems like there's a little bit of a Pembroke Lumber Kings influence in it, their CJHL neighbors to the north.

"It's the Renfrew Timberwolves powerplay," Dave Moore said emphatically with a just a trace of feigned irritation in his voice. "We work very hard on it all year. We've got guys who've been here four years, and the powerplay has been pretty much the same during that time. They all know where each other will be — it makes it a lot easier to set up plays."

Renfrew scored four powerplay markers in its Game Three 11-4 romp Sunday night in town to take the 3-0 series stranglehold. The game was close in the first period with Renfrew holding a 3-1 lead when Alexandria had a two-man advantage late in the period. But Glens came up empty. "We definitely had some chances that we missed," DeRooy said. "Had we scored it may have turned the game around."

But not likely. Because Renfrew keeps coming at you. In the second period they continued to pepper Glens shellshocked goaltender Mike Shipticki scoring three times to take a 6-1 lead to the third period. The onslaught continued in the third with 'Wolves outscoring Glens 5-3.

Alexandria got a two-goal performance from Glen Campbell with singles going to Mike Sauve and Martin Hughes.

"We have no reason to hang our heads," DeRooy said. "We're not going to call it quits; we'll give it our best shot the rest of the way."

DeRooy also says he knows the real secret to Timberwolves' success. "They've got four players from the Renfrew area and eight or nine from Ottawa — maybe more.

"I suspected it and it was confirmed when I talked to their radio announcer (a Renfrew radio station broadcasts 'Wolves contests) before

Glaude first overall at club gymnastics competition

North Lancaster's Suzanne Glaude made her first gymnastics club competition one to remember Saturday.

Glaude won three events and was first overall in the Senior B division at a recreational-competitive meet in Belleville.

Glaude won the vault event with a mark of 9.37 (out of 10), was first in floor routine (9.35) and captured top spot on the uneven bars (9.2). She was third on the beam with an 8.8 score.

There were 12 competitors from club teams throughout Eastern Ontario in the Senior B division.

Glaude, 16, was competing for the Cornwall Gymnastics Club.

Glaude will lead five Glengarry Gaels gymnastics team members into the high school provincial championships (OFSSAA) in Ottawa this weekend. Glaude was a gold, silver and bronze medal winner at last year's provincials in Waterloo.

Gaels, C-L Crusaders, open high school soccer season with pair of wins

The Glengarry Gaels senior girls soccer team has picked up where it left off a year ago. Gaels recorded a pair of wins Thursday at Rothwell-Osnabruck High School in Ingleside in an SD&G Athletic Association regular season opening tournament.

Gaels — setting out in defence of the eighth consecutive SD&G championship trophy they won last spring — haven't lost a tri-county league regular season or post season contest in three years.

With that streak on the line against Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers, Glengarry got a pair of goals from Caroline Cameron and singles from Therese Marion and Carmen Lajoie in a 4-0 decision.

Sophie Seguin, a Grade 9 student playing in goal in her first high school game, recorded the shutout.

"She was a little nervous before the game but she played well," Gaels coach Marc Sauve said. "She's playing on the senior team because we think she can be a strong five-year player on the club."

Gaels have a tradition of grooming long-term netminders. Jocelyne Roman was a three-year starter on the senior team before graduating last spring; Betti MacLeod preceeded Roman playing goal on the senior squad for four campaigns.

Beat Cornwall

In their second game, Gaels got past Cornwall Collegiate Raiders 3-1. Kelly Lavigueur fired a pair of goals to spark the Glengarry attack.

Bridget Cameron notched the other Glengarry marker.

Upcoming games

Junior Gaels — also winners of the SD&G championship trophy for the last eight years — swing into action at home this afternoon (Wednesday).

Junior and Senior Gaels will play host to three schools — Char-Lan Crusaders, General Vanier Vikings and Tagwi Warriors — as regular season action continues.

Senior Crusaders win twice

Char-Lan Crusaders are off to a good start, winning their first two games in Ingleside Thursday.

They needed a come-from-behind effort to win their opener, 2-1 over Cornwall Collegiate Raiders. Raiders scored in the first half and led 1-0 at the intermission but Julie MacDonald scored a pair of second period goals lifting Char-Lan to the win.

Crusaders got shutout goaltending from Cheryl Proctor in a 2-0 win over Lancers.

Cynthia Laframboise and Ann Racine each scored once.

Both Crusaders squads are in action today in Alexandria.

Stars win indoor title

The thing about a two-games, total goals playoff series is that the first-game winner carries a lead — and mental advantage — into the second matchup.

So when Andre Chenier collected his own rebound off the end wall and drilled a belt-high 25-footer past the Cornwall F.I.S.T. goaltender 15 minutes into Game Two of the Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League final Monday night in Williamstown, it gave Stars a 1-0 lead but, much more importantly, a 4-2 lead in total goals (Stars won Game One two weeks ago 3-2).

What was staring F.I.S.T. in the eye was the virtually impossible task of coming back against a defensive-minded team with the likes of Darrell Hay, Lyndon MacNaughton and Herbie Maley playing the fullback position.

Stars Brian Cameron dumped the defending league champs into a deeper hole scoring to make it 2-0 (or 5-2) a minute before the halftime break. It was the final goal of the game and series.

F.I.S.T. could only muster a few scoring chances thereafter, and when they did, top goalie trophy winner Jeff Lowe was there to turn them away.

The win capped a great week for

No sports slow season

Todd Hambleton
Sports editor

A few months ago, this seemed like the perfect time to take a vacation. After all, everything slows down (in the sportsworld) in the dreary, mucky early spring months.

Back then there was hockey and more hockey, figure skating, basketball, power lifting, tournaments galore, playoff series', soft puck, all-star games, pick-up leagues, Junior Farmers Winter Games, bonspiels and broomball.

Give a sports writer a break.

Heck, there was even indoor soccer and outdoor broomball.

But sports seems to always be in season around here. The anticipated dead zone didn't materialize. There is no slow period.

What there is is lots of muck and not much grass in the fields but high school soccer has started up.

It's 60 degrees outside but there's still ice in the arena, and junior B hockey and Glengarry Cup finals being played.

There's golf and gymnastics, badminton and ball hockey, track and field and the ubiquitous curling, hockey and broomball banquets.

So the timing could have been better. But plans are plans and I'm outta here. See you in a couple of weeks.

Large field participates in bonspiel

A total of 48 teams participated at the Glengarry Curling Club (Maxville) "Last Chance Bonspiel", held April 13 and 14.

The bonspiel was convened by Donald Bond and Helen MacLeod, and sponsored by Shield's Home Hardware. Trophies were presented by Erwin Shields.

The winning teams are as follows: Two-Game High: Elizabeth Marjerrison (skip), Adeline Proudfoot, Mary Marjerrison and Alice Ferguson; Dale Munro (skip), Brenda Munro, Betty McKibbin, and Stewart McKibbin; Thomas Bill (skip), Norman Ferguson, Elaine Villeneuve and Albert Villeneuve; Wayne Armstrong (skip), Marilyn Armstrong, John Lyon and Brenda Lyon.

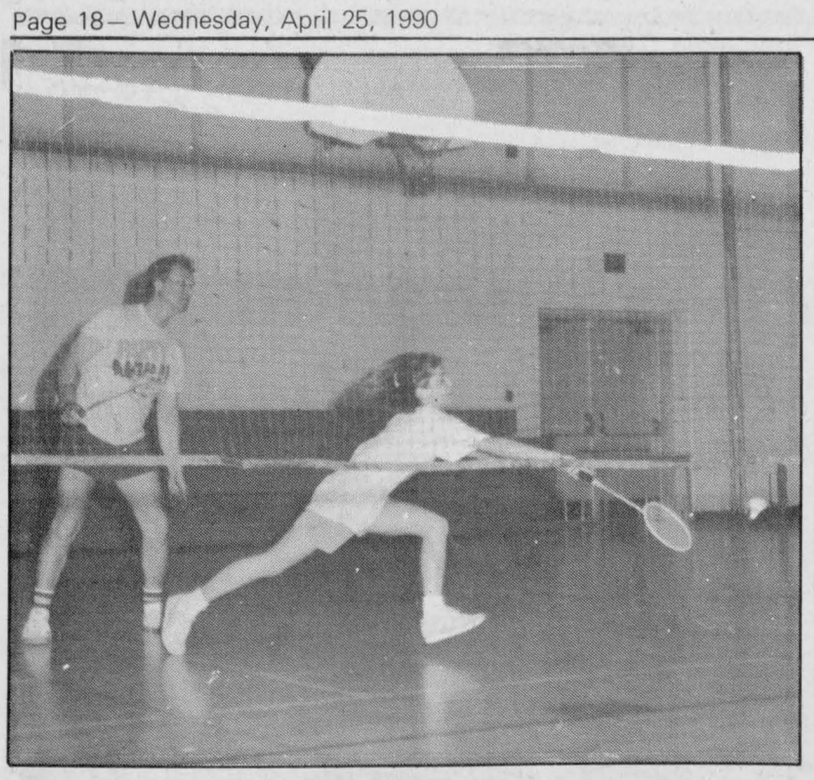
One-Game High, Second Game: Walter McIntosh (skip), Donald Christie, Diane Christie and Lyma McIntosh; Rene Daoust (skip), Ross Conners, Donald Clark and Carol Libbos; Janette Abbey (skip), Marilyn Connor, Shirley Picard and Marlene McDonald.

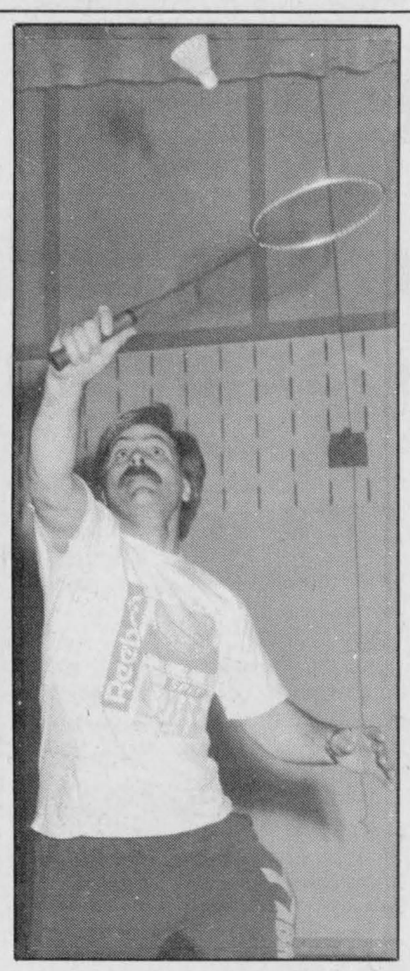
One-Game High, First Game: Herb Holmes (skip), Ubald Cardinal, Hugh Fisher, and Doug Clark; Wallace MacKinnon (skip), Stan Goodman, Connie Goodman and Dona Addison.

Sansom qualifies for seniors bridge finals

Martintown's Charlotte Sansom was one of the winners at the Ontario Senior Games, Glengarry County division, Contract Bridge finals held at the Alexandria Legion Hall April 4.

Sansom was inadvertently omitted from the list of qualifiers in last week's story.





Fred Kalau and Kris Struthers (above) try to keep this point alive in a Williamstown recreational badminton league match Wednesday. Rheal Struthers (left), goes for the smash. The league recently expanded to playing twice a week. Oh, Rheal Struthers and partner McLachlan won this particular game.

Williamstown badminton league takes flight twice a week

A low-profile sport has caught on big in Williamstown. The once-a-week recreational badminton league at Char-Lan District High School expanded to two nights recently when the number of participants significantly increased.

"We've had some good years in the past but we haven't had this many players before," said organizer Amy Ward, who estimates that 60 to 70 people now play in the league — in the gym from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday nights — on a regular basis, with up to 40 on any given night.

"It's a good recreational sport and it's something different," said Ward, who has organized the league since 1972.

She said the arena strike in January, that abruptly ended hockey and broomball season for the area's youth, was a factor in the badminton loop's growth. "We've had more teenagers sign up this year," Ward said. "That's been the big difference. Badminton has provided an alternative for them."

The league is strictly for fun. There are no playoffs, no trophies, "you just come to play when you wish to," Ward said.

Because of the increase in numbers, for a nominal fee players have the use of the court for one match then must surrender it to the group-in-waiting. "It seems to work fairly smoothly that way," Ward said. "We've had people from all over the county come out to play this year."

The high school provides the use of the gym, the nets and the racquets.

The league is mixed and for players 14 years of age and up. It's in operation from September until the end of May.

Alexandria Curling Club holds final 'spiel

The final bonspiel of the year at the Alexandria Curling Club was held Friday and Saturday. Thirty-four teams participated in the event, sponsored by Labatts.

Joan Ryan and her rink of Brian MacLeod, Mary Van Loon and Larose Graham captured top honors while the runner-up rink was the team of Michel Lacelle, Keith McDonald, Walter McIntosh and Dianne Christie.

The one-game high event was skipped by Ian McKay along with team members Denise Laperle, Doug Jones and Dorothy Graham.

The third-place team in total points belonged to the rink of David Fraser, Margaret Anderson, Helen MacLeod and John Keith MacLeod.

One-game high runner up squad was the rink of Dougal MacLeod, Karen Hincke, Mario Riggio and Colleen Kennedy, while the fourth-place team in total points went to the rink of Gerry Deguire, Karen Paavila, George Goulet, and Cecile Gauthier.

Bonspiel convenors were Gordie and Peggy Lafave, while Bonnie MacDonald and Joy Clinton were the kitchen convenors. The barbecue steak supper — which was enjoyed by all — was under the direction of Claude Nadeau, Joan Ryan and Art Craig.

Mike Gibbs and Blue Jeans supplied the evening's entertainment.

Members are reminded that trophy night is May 5. The Brigadoons will be playing.

Senior Games deadlines are approaching

Three more deadlines are on the horizon for the Ontario Senior Games. They are for Euchre, Darts and Floor Shuffleboard. The deadline for the submission of applications in each event is May 13.

All applications should show the full name, address and telephone numbers of the two partners; either two females, two males or one female and one male. And a special note for the euchre event: since a large turnout is expected for progressive euchre, indicate on your application whether you wish to play in the morning or the afternoon.

Please send the completed application to the following address:

Euchre — Ontario Senior Games, P.O. Box 308, Long Sault, Ont. K0C 1P0. Darts — Ontario Senior Games, c/o Royal Canadian Legion, P. O. Box 1083, Cornwall, Ont. K6H 5V2. Shuffleboard — Tom Mills, R.R. 3, Mountain, Ont. K0E 1S0.

The entrance fee of $1 per person will be collected at the time of each event. For euchre this will be May 23, at the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 297, in Cornwall at the corner of Cumberland and Second Sts. Darts will be held on May 30, also at the Royal Canadian Legion at the above address, time will be 1 p.m. Shuffleboard will start at 10 a.m. on May 31, at the Knights of Columbus Hall on the corner of Amelia and Second Sts. in Cornwall.

As one co-ordinator puts it "get together, find two players to represent you and send them along to Cornwall for a day of recreation and to make new friends."

Stars capture Char-Lan Indoor Soccer league crown

Glengarry Stars indoor version: on Friday in Cornwall, Stars rallied to beat Rudi Payer Sport 5-3 in the Challenge Cup "Super Series" final.

The contest was tied 3-3 with a minute left in regulation when Scotty McDougall and Steve Cameron scored giving Stars the win.

Cameron scored twice for Stars, who trailed 2-0 at the half. Donald Pidgeon and Herbie Maley also scored.

Travis Giroux (two goals) and Roy MacDonald struck for Rudi Payer Sport.

Stars' semifinal 4-3 win Wednesday over Courtaulds was also dramatic. Herbie Maley's second goal with 30 seconds left in the second overtime period was the winner.

Rudi Payer Sport advanced to the final with a 2-1 win over Lancaster Rovers.

Chris Smith and Roy MacDonald tallied for Rudi Payer Sport; Allan Brown replied for Lancaster.

The tournament pitted the top two teams from the Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League against the top two clubs in the Cornwall indoor loop.

Strikers win consolation

Cornwall Strikers are the Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League consolation champs, wrapping up their two-games, total goals series against Avonmore Pacers Monday with a 2-1 win. They take the series five goals to three.

Ken Villeneuve had scored to give Pacers a 1-0 first half lead,

Awards presented

Individual awards were presented at Jack Delany's Pub after the championship games. In addition to top goaler Lowe, recipients were Allan Brown (top scorer, Lancaster Rovers), and Gareth Pye (league most valuable player, Char-Lan United).

The regular season champs shield goes to Lancaster Rovers.

King George Hockey Club returns from European tour

(Editor's note: The King George Hockey Club recently returned from their third European tour in the last four years. Here are some notes from their experiences, compiled by team general manager John Marjerrison.)

On three separate occasions since 1986 local hockey players from Maxville and area have travelled in March to Europe for "Challenge Hockey Games." The King George Hockey Club has played nine games in Scotland, England, Holland and Wales. All of the games have been competitive and exciting.

It's a very different feeling playing in another country. When "O Canada" is played before a game it gives you a strange, very eerie sense of excitement. You never really know what to expect from the opposition. Sometimes crowds have been in the hundreds, occasionally over 1,000 and once over 3,000. The fans really get into the games; people really love hockey in Europe.

The fans have never left disappointed, and in more than half of the games there was more than 1,000 people in attendance.

Forty-seven fellows have travelled under the King George colors. The following people have been on all three trips: Don Munroe, John H. Marjerrison, Brian Benton, Ewan MacLeod, Larry Harrison, Robert Hope, Randy Larocque, Bruce MacDonald, Cecil Chisholm, Anthony Chisholm, and Glenn Campbell.

Brian Wensink, Kevin MacPhail, Garry MacQueen, Perry MacConnell, Terry Hebert, Phil Harrison and Bill Shields came on two of the trips.

Hockey is part of the Canadian Dream. Whether you are playing hockey at 10, 20 or 50, you still want to score the big goal or make the big play. Hockey brings out the kid in us all. All of us who have travelled the 25,000 miles or part of it have given it 110 per cent while on the ice. There's a lot of 40 year-old kids in Glengarry.

As one of the coordinators (Don Munroe is the other), I would like to share four of the countless highlights of our travelling. The first is a non-hockey highlight. Our team was fortunate enough to meet the Lord Provost (Mayor) of Edinburgh, Scotland, and tour the Council Chambers. This was a dream come true for a history lover like myself.

The second high point would be a come-from-behind tie with the Medway Bears, from outside London, England. They were ahead four goals going into the third period and had not been beaten or tied all season.

The last two highlights are from Cardiff, Wales. On one trip we played their team in front of over 3,000 fans and received a five-minute standing ovation at the end of the game. On our latest trip we played Cardiff again. They had just been crowned Heinekin Division champs and were the best team in the British Isles. With the score tied midway through the third period I was unbelievably proud. It's amazing what over-the-hill Canadians can do. Again we received a standing ovation at the end of the game. Glengarry can be proud of its sons.

Editor's note: King George's game against Cardiff Devils Ice Hockey Club was a big deal in a town where hockey is a big business. Marjerrison reports the game was advertised on the radio beforehand. In a glossy 10-page colored program, Marjerrison is quoted by Andy Weltch of the South Wales Echo in a preview story. Here is the March 13 article:

The King George Oldtimers from Ontario are here for tonight's special midweek challenge, a different brand of opposition for the Devils.

The Canadians from the village of Maxville have a tremendous amount of experience between them, and we can expect to see some slick passing with no body contact.

In '86, they lost 13-5 to Murrayfield, 13-6 to Oxford City Select, and tied 12-12 with Medway Bears.

In '88, they beat Edinburgh Oldtimers 11-2, Glenrothes Jets 19-1 and lost to Cardiff 13-9.

After the superb St. Patrick's Day reception the Maxville team received in the Welsh capital last time, they specifically requested a visit to Cardiff again this year.

Tonight's game comes as part of a three-day stop-over in the city, for the side whose players average age is around 34.

On their last visit, the Wensink brothers John, Brian and Ken MacDonald were among the top names on the team.

For the 1990 trip, manager John Marjerrison says "Our team is again led by Brian Wensink. Hanson played senior hockey in Nova Scotia, and John MacSweyn, a 253 lb. centre, was a top scorer for the Alexandria Glens junior team.

"Our defence is anchored by Don Munroe and 240 lb. Robert Hope, who may be the fastest skater on the team. Brian McKenzie, a 225 lb., full-blooded American Indian, also plays defence. Randy Larocque is our iron-fisted coach.

"The rest of the team is made up of players from various junior levels."

Play in Detroit

Three area hockey players will be making the trek to the Motor City to compete in a prestigious peewee summer hockey tournament at the end of the month.

Martin Boisvenue and Ryan MacDonald, of Alexandria, and Joel Trottier of Green Valley, will skate for the Ottawa 67's Minor Hockey Association minor peewee team at the Little Caesars Pizza Tournament in Detroit from April 26 to 29.

The three players were all invited to play for the Ottawa team. They were teammates over the winter, suiting up for the Seaway Valley Minor Hockey Association AA minor Peewee Royals, based in Cornwall.

News Cup award winners

took the wind out of Lochiel's sails rallying from a 6-2 third period deficit to win 7-6 in overtime and take a 2-1 series lead.

There were no dramatics in Saturday's finale. Charlottenburgh bolted to a 2-0 end-of-one-period lead and were in front 5-2 after the second frame. Jamie Latreille and Dwayne Spink each fired a pair of goals, with singles going to Brent MacDonell, Darin Menard, Daryl Menard, Rob MacDougall and Neil Sandilands.

Willie Kippen had a pair for Lochiel; Mark Titley got their other goal.

Award winners

Charlottenburgh took three of the five individual award trophies presented at the series' conclusion.

Charlottenburgh defenceman Rod McKenzie was selected The Glengarry News Cup most valuable player.

The top scorer trophy went to Darin Menard, who wound up with 16 points in the tournament.

Brent Laplante was recipient of the top defenceman trophy.

Lochiel trophy winners were Willie Kippen (most gentlemanly player) and Alain Giroux (top goaltender).

UP TO $100. Rebate* on Goodyear Dyna Torque Radial Tires

There's a reward for choosing Goodyear's best tractor tire.

It's a consumer rebate on selected Dyna Torque Radials you buy between March 12 and June 30, 1990. Direct from Goodyear.

Dyna Torque radials cost a bit more than ordinary bias ply tires, but they're worth it. You get improved traction in the field, and that saves you time and money. Tests have proved it. Tests also prove that tractors equipped with Dyna Torque radials save up to 9% on fuel bills over conventional tires.

So your reward for buying Dyna Torque Radials is more than just the rebate being offered. You save significantly over the life of the tire. And you know you need all the help you can get.

*On selected sizes only. Allow 6-8 weeks for processing. Rebate effective on a maximum of 8 tires.

Glens facing elimination tonight in Renfrew

the game. It's tough to beat a team like that when they're paying players. How can we compete?

"I'll bet they have a helluva big budget. We could build a team like that too, but how many fans are you going to put in the rink if you don't have local players?

Lose 4-3 in double OT

Although Glens were blown out at home (11-4) in Thursday's opener, Sunday's game was the only one of the series so far that really was no contest.

In Game Two in Renfrew Friday, Alexandria had a golden opportunity to tie the set 1-1 and regain home ice advantage, but they lost a heartbreaking 4-3 decision in double overtime.

Jason McKechnie's goal 6:17 into a second sudden victory overtime period ended the proceedings.

After a scoreless first period, Glens stunned homestanding Wolves scoring three goals three minutes apart midway through the second period to take a commanding lead. Scott Barnes, Glen Campbell and Martin Hughes connected to put Alexandria in front.

Renfrew made its move in the third stanza, scoring with 14 minutes left, nine minutes left and 1:28 to tie the contest 3-3 and force the extra stanza.

"Had we won that one, it might have been a different story tonight (Sunday)," DeRooy said.

Coach Dave Moore said his troops were sluggish and fatigue was a factor. "I don't want to make excuses," said Moore, but... "but our guys were very tired because they got off the bus so late the night before (after Game One). It took them a while to get their skating legs."

Renfrew wins opener

It took Renfrew a while to get their skating legs in Game One in Alexandria Thursday night. The contest was tied 3-3 midway through the second period and Alexandria was enjoying (not quite) a two-man advantage when Renfrew's Mike Lawrence scored a pair of goals to break the game open.

Renfrew led 6-3 after the second period. Glens got two goals each from Craig "Zeus" Johnson and Marc Sauve.

Glens were outshot 38-30.

Upcoming games?

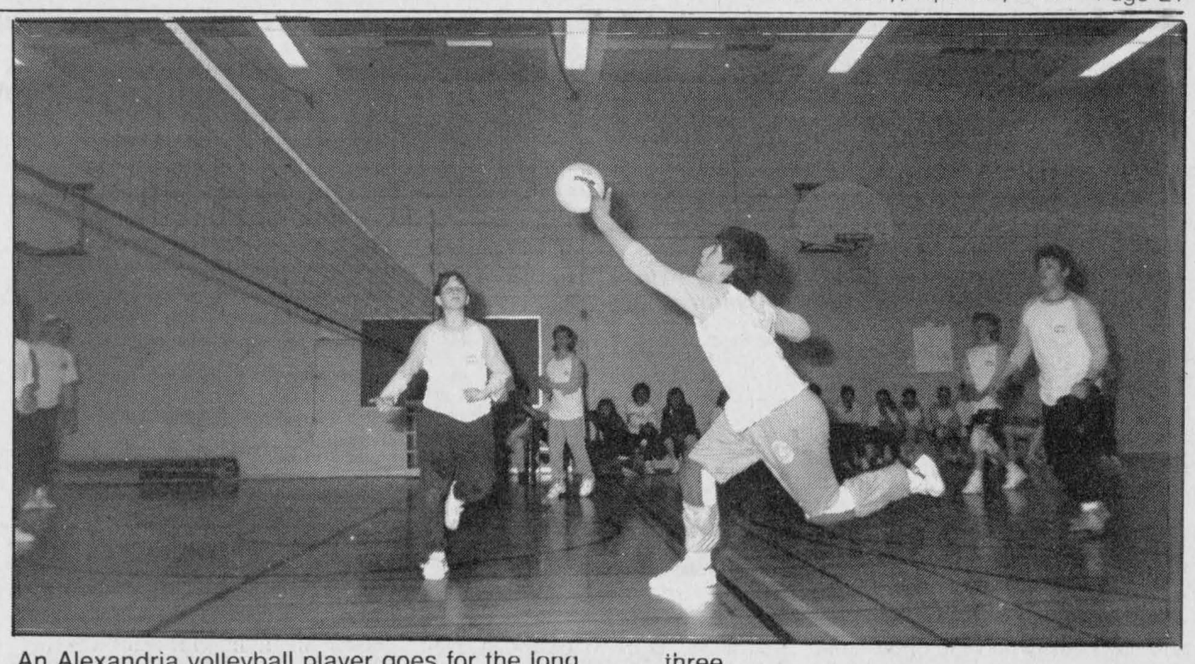
If Alexandria can prolong the series with a win tonight, Game Five will be played tommorow night (Thursday) in Alexandria beginning at 8 p.m.

Game Six is scheduled for Saturday (7 p.m.) in Renfrew; Game Seven would be Sunday in Alexandria, starting at 7:15 p.m.



An Alexandria volleyball player goes for the long shot in the optimist Club tourney bout with Green Valley. Green Valley took the round two games to three.

Cards of Thanks

STEWART — The family of the late Hugh J. Stewart wishes to extend heartfelt thanks and appreciation for many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, floral offerings, charitable donations and food received from neighbors, friends and relatives; the pallbearers, Dr. Jaggassar and Maxville Manor for all their kindnesses. Special thanks to the Brethern of Masonic Lodge, the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 423, Alexandria, Rev. Mr. Wild and Munro Funeral Home and to all who came to pay respects and attend the funeral and to organist Angus McQueen during our recent bereavement of a dear brother and loving uncle.
—Barbara McDonald, Shirley, Wayne and Larry Weir. 17-1p

THAUVETTE — Many thanks to my family, friends, relatives and neighbors for cards, gifts, flowers and prayers and phone calls while I was a patient at Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall. Special thanks to Dr. C. Lalonde, Dr. B. Taillon, Father Haille, Father Kelvin Maloney and the Sisters at Hotel Dieu, also the nurses and staff on 3rd floor north. It was all greatly appreciated.
—Leila Thauvette. 17-1p

McLEOD — We'd just like to thank all our family, friends and neighbors for all their help and donations at the Benefit Dance and for being there and during our situation over the past months. As well to all the people who helped organize and make the lunch. It was really appreciated. Hats off to the people of Glengarry.
—Shelley and Cameron (Rosey) McLeod.17-1p

OUIMET — We would like to thank all family, relatives, neighbors and friends for their great acts of kindness and sympathy at the time of the death of aunt Adrianna Ouimet. Special thanks to Dr. Jaggassar and the Maxville Manor and staff for their excellent care. Also thanks to Rev. Desrosiers and the Co-Operative Funeral Home.
—Gérald and Annette Ouimet. 17-1p

CANADIAN Union of Public Employees, Local 3089 — The members of CUPE Local 3089 would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to the business people, friends, neighbors, relatives, families and to all those people who assisted and supported us during our strike/negotiations with the Township of Charlottenburgh. We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to Ron Eamer who as the mediator strived to help us in achieving a settlement between Management and Union, to all who attended the Council Meeting of March 6, 1990 requesting that Council settle the strike immediately, and to all who posted our posters, handled negotiation status reports/petitions. A special thanks to Bernie McDonald who presented to Council the petition in support of Arbitration, and to all the people who visited with us, supported and expressed their concerns to us on the picket line. The members are very grateful for all money donations and for the generous amounts of food/goodies brought to our members by the public, friends and relatives. Thank you. 17-1c

HENRY — My sincere appreciation and thanks for the lovely cards, letters and gifts I received while a patient in Reddy Memorial Hospital and the Montreal Convalescent Hospital. Very special thanks to the relatives and friends who visited me.
—(Mrs. Harold) Penelope Henry,
Montreal. 17-1p

BERGERON — We would like to thank all relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement. Your visits, flowers, cards, masses and food were greatly appreciated. Special thanks to Father Tom Villeneuve, Father Halley, Sister Anne, Dr. Smith, the Ladies Guild, Ron Munro and pallbearers. Also we would like to take this opportunity to thank Pat Carpenter and Roseanne Carr for their weekly visits and loving care over the past six weeks. Everyone's support and comfort will long be remembered.
—Ella Mae and family. 17-1p

MacLENNAN — I would like to thank my relatives, neighbors and friends for gifts, cards, telephone calls and visits while I was a patient at the Glengarry Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Jaggassar and the nursing staff.
—Roderick MacLennan. 17-1p

In Memoriam

MacMILLAN — In loving memory of Annie (April 29, 1987) and Angus MacMillan (March 23, 1986).
Never more than a thought away,
Quietly remembered every day.
—Janet Sanderson and Margaret Marsh.17-1p

MacGREGOR — In loving memory of Wilma, wife, mother and grandmother, who passed away April 28, 1985.
Beautiful memories are wonderful things,
They last till the longest day,
They never wear out, they never get lost,
And can never be given away.
To some you may be forgotten,
To others a part of the past,
But to us, who loved and lost you,
Your memory will always last.
—Always remembered by Cameron and family. 17-1p

In Memoriam

CONSTANT — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Evelina Constant who passed away May 1, 1989.
A year has passed, but your memory is still fresh in the hearts of your beloved family.
—Always remembered with love, daughter, grandchildren and great grandchildren. 17-1p

MacLEOD, Mabel J. — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother who passed away April 29, 1988.
Never more than a thought away,
Quietly remembered every day.
—A. D. and Gail MacLeod, grandsons Matthew and Michael MacLeod, Donna and Randy Cameron. 17-1p

MacLEOD — In loving memory of a dear sister Mabel J. MacLeod who passed away April 29, 1988.
Too dearly loved to be forgotten.
—Annie MacLeod and Christena MacLennan. 17-1p

ROBINSON — In loving memory of a dear husband John who passed away April 29, 1986 and son Gerald who passed away April 23, 1985.
Long days and nights he bore great pain,
To wait for a cure but all in vain,
Till God above saw what was best,
And took him home with Him to rest.
—Lilly and family. 17-1p

MORRISON — In memory of a dear brother and uncle Lewis Angus Morrison, who passed away on May 2, 1989.
Always in our thoughts.
—Love Sarah, Billy and Mike and Darlene. 17-1p

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF KENYON NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING

The Council of the Corporation of the Township of Kenyon intends to consider an Official Plan Amendment and a Zoning Bylaw Amendment. Pursuant to Section 17 (3) of the Planning Act (1983), Council will hold a Public Meeting on MAY 2ND, 1990 to outline the content and effect of the Amendments. All those interested are hereby invited to attend the meeting and express their view on the Amendments.

PURPOSE OF THE AMENDMENTS

The amendments propose to redesignate certain lands in part of the west half of Lot 1 and part of the east half of Lot 2, Concession 1 so as to permit the expansion of the existing Mobile Home Park. The proposed expansion would add approximately 33 mobile home sites to the existing park operated by Mr. Real Gauthier.

At the same time, the amendments will clarify the area to which the amendments apply and the method designating a Mobile Home Park on the land use schedule.

EFFECT OF THE AMENDMENTS

The amendments will permit the lands redesignated to Mobile Home Park to be developed in a manner which would allow expansion of the existing Mobile Home Park.

PUBLIC MEETING PLACE

Township Office, Greenfield, MAY 2ND, 1990 at 7:30 p.m.

For further information, or to review a copy of the amendments being considered, contact Mary J. McCuaig, Clerk-Treasurer, Township of Kenyon, Greenfield, Ontario or phone (613) 527-2090 during regular business hours.

TOWN OF ALEXANDRIA

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria passed bylaw No. Z-12-90 on the 17th day of April, 1990, under Section 34 of the Planning Act.

And take notice that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect of the bylaw by filing with the clerk of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria not later than the 16th day of May, a notice of appeal setting out the objections to the bylaw and the reasons in support of the objections. The purpose of this bylaw is to amend bylaw No. 2046 by rezoning the lands described as Park Lots 8 & 10 Plan No. 2 (Part 1 on registered plan 14R-2674) Town of Alexandria, from its existing ''Highway Commercial (C2)'' to ''General Commercial Special Exception (C1-4)''. This bylaw will not only provide the existing building uses to comply, it would also provide for a bakery to locate within the existing building.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TOWN OF ALEXANDRIA

To the members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria

We have examined the consolidated statement of operations of the Corporation of the Town of Alexandria for the year ended December 31, 1989 and the consolidated balance sheet as at that date. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly the results of operations of the Town for the year ended December 31, 1989 and its financial position as at that date in accordance with the accounting principles disclosed in note 1 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 1989

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The consolidated financial statements of the Municipality are the representation of management prepared in accordance with accounting policies prescribed for Ontario municipalities by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs. Since precise determination of many assets and liabilities is dependent upon future events, the preparation of periodic financial statements necessarily involves the use of estimates and appproximations. These have been made using careful judgments.

(a) BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION

(i) These consolidated statements reflect the assets, liabilities, sources of financing and expenditures of the revenue fund, capital fund and reserves and include the activities of all committees of Council and the following municipal enterprise which is under the control of Council:

Town of Alexandria Public Utilities Commission - Waterworks System

All interfund assets and liabilities and sources of financing and expenditures have been eliminated with the exception of loans or advances between the reserve funds and any other funds of the Municipality and the resulting interest income and expenditures.

(ii) NON-CONSOLIDATED ENTITIES

The following municipal utility and board are not consolidated:

Alexandria Hydro Electric Commission
Palais des Sports Glengarry Sports Palace Board

(iii) ACCOUNTING FOR COUNTIES AND SCHOOL BOARDS TRANSACTIONS

The taxation, other revenues, expenditures, assets and liabilities with respect to the operations of the School Boards and the United Counties of Stormont Dundas and Glengarry are not reflected in the municipal fund balances of these financial statements. Overlevies (underlevies) are reported on the Consolidated Balance Sheet as "other current liabilities" ("restricted other current assets").

(iv) Trust funds and their related operations administered by the Municipality are not consolidated but are reported separately on the "Trust Funds Statement of Continuity and Balance Sheet".

(b) BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

(i) Sources of financing and expenditures are reported on the accrual basis of accounting with the exception of principal and interest charges on long-term liabilities which are charged against operations in the periods in which they are paid.

(ii) The accrual basis of accounting recognizes revenues as they become available and measurable; expenditures are recognized as they are incurred and measurable as a result of receipt of goods or services and the creation of a legal obligation to pay.

(iii) Fixed Assets

The historical cost and accumulated depreciation of fixed assets are not reported for municipal purposes. Fixed assets are reported as an expenditure on the consolidated statement of operations in the year of acquisition.

(iv) Capital Outlay to be Recovered in Future Years

"Capital outlay to be recovered in future years", which represents the outstanding principal portion of unmatured long-term liabilities for municipal expenditures or capital funds transferred to other organizations is reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet".

Travellers busy on weekend

St. Elmo
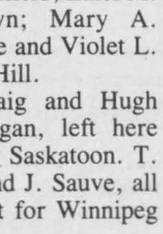
W. MacKinnon
527-2348



Friends and neighbors express their sympathy to John and Margaret Billinghurst in their loss by death on Tuesday, April 17 of John's brother, Arnold, at his home in Parry Sound, Ont. John and Margaret were in Parry Sound for the funeral last Thursday afternoon.

Birget Braun of Munster, W. Germany, is visiting for a few weeks with Andres and Christine Estermann of St. Elmo west. Best wishes to Birget Braun for a very interesting and enjoyable holiday in Canada.

Gordon Church WMS will meet on Thursday, April 26 at 8 p.m. in the church hall at St. Elmo.

* * *

On Sunday, April 15 an interesting and enjoyable afternoon was spent at the Home Trade Show at the Lansdowne Park Civic Centre, Ottawa, by Hugh Fisher, Allan Moak, Gary, Jean and Reid Ivens. This much travelled group of friends visited Fulton's Sugar Camp at Pakenham, Ont., on the afternoon of Sunday, April 22 and joined the large crowd of people who were there for a very pleasant outing of outdoor activities with lots of good food.

Among the guests for an Easter dinner on April 15 of family and friends at the home of André and Mary Ellen Villeneuve of Athol was their neighbor Hugh Fisher.

Congratulations to James Campbell and his team of curlers in the mixed curlers evening draw "B Division." This winning team of curlers were James Campbell, skip, Martine McDonald third, Ken Wild second, and Darlene Wild, lead. For the MacLeod Draw for vice-skips in March James Campbell was lead, Albert Villeneuve second, Brian Campbell third and Rene D'Aoust, skip, and were the winners of this men's draw.

PITCH-IN WEEK May 7-13

Schools, organizations and communities throughout the province are encouraged to order free, especially imprinted garbage bags being made available by NOVA Corporation of Alberta to undertake clean-up, beautification and recycling projects during PITCH-IN WEEK which will take place May 7-13, 1990.

"We are asking participants in this year's PITCH-IN campaign to, if possible, separate the waste which they collect into recyclable and non-recyclable materials and place it in especially marked bags," states Charles Alexander, President of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters.

PITCH-IN WEEK is a program of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters in co-operation with PITCH-IN CANADA, the Ontario Ministry of Environment, NOVA Corporation and a number of local municipalities throughout Ontario. Organizations wishing further information on how they can obtain garbage bags should contact PITCH-IN ONTARIO, 500-6 Adelaide Street East, Toronto, Ontario, M5C 1H6.

Parade to commemorate Battle of Atlantic

Lancaster
Janice Montreuil
