Touchette coasts to victory in Alexandria

By Lesley Cadham
News* editor

It was another landslide victory in Alexandria for incumbent Mayor J.P. Touchette, who gathered more votes Monday night than both of his opponents put together.

A smiling but visibly exhausted Mayor Touchette turned up at the Glengarry Sports Palace to share in municipal election joviality about one hour after the final tally for the mayoral race was in. He collected 1,085 votes.

Challenger Bruno Massie, defeated by the mayor by 394 votes, joined jubilant winners and saddened losers about a half-hour later, but he did not offer congratulations to his successful opponent.

Mayoral candidate J.Y. Baker did notmake an appearance after his defeat by 750 votes was announced.

Incumbent Reeve John Cormier pushed out challenger Deputy Reeve Roger Lemieux by 235 votes. In the fight for the vacant deputy reeve's chair, Jacques Joly triumphed over newcomer Chloe-Ann Baker-Pelletier by 523 votes.

Incumbent Councillor Fern Séguin was easily victorious with the second highest number of votes and the two other incumbent councillors, Archie McDougall and Jean Larocque, both retained their seats.

New faces in councillor's chairs will be Michel Boisvenue, polling the highest number of votes of any councillor, 1,317, Bruno Lalonde and Claude Poirier.

The mayor was greeted at the arena by a low-key applause and a number of well-wishers, but all in all, the arena crowd of about 250 remained subdued.

Obviously delighted with the election result, he moved through the crowd smiling and laughing. But there was to be no after-election celebration for Mayor Touchette; he was exhausted and was going home to sleep, he said.

He later said, ''I had thought and hoped I would win, based on the last election. I thought I had done my job and I guess my record wasn't that bad...I realized I would have a slightly less majority this time, as a result of another contestant. But I don't do anything for the election (campaign) that I don't do all year-round, of course we work to get people out to vote and I guess that's the secret of winning.''

Mr. Massie told The News it was a ''good, honest race,'' but a little disheartened, he said he doesn't know whether he'll return to campaign in 1991.

''I thought it was time for a change, so I'm a little perplexed...it seems the people are just satisfied with what they have.''

Reeve John Cormier, calling his victory a ''tough'' one and the battle ''honest'' told the crowd, ''It takes one good Cormier to beat five Lemieuxs. We fought

Women led polls in Charlottenburgh

By Sue Harrington
News* Correspondent

It was ladies' night in Charlottenburgh Monday.

When the final polls were tallied in the township's municipal elections, former councillor Carol-Ann Ross added the reeve's job to her duty roster. And the first female head of council in Charlottenbugh's history, Mrs. Ross will be joined by Joan P. MacDonald, who outdistanced her male competitors by a healthy margin throughout the race for a seat on council.

The position of the trio running for the reeve's office was set with the first poll which reported — the Nov. 5 advanced poll — and remained the same throughout the evening. But is was not until after the 15th poll had been counted that Mrs. Ross allowed herself the taste of victory and excitedly announced, ''I did it; I did it!''

When all counting was completed, Mrs. Ross defeated her nearest running mate, businessman Laurier Poirier, by a solid margin of 629 votes, while developer Simon Villeneuve, who had run an aggressive campaign, lagged behind with 468 votes to Mr. Poirier's 988 and Mrs. Ross' 1,617.

One of the closest races of the evening was for the deputy-reeve's position. Former reeve, Ewen McDonald, and Councillor Larry Gordon appeared to be matching strides down the stretch, with Mr. McDonald's ''ahead by a hair'' stretching to a 112 vote lead at the finish line.

A disappointed Mr. Gordon, who received his greatest support from residents of the Glendale Subdivision where council has undertaken a $487,000 drainage and roads program, said he felt betrayed by the voters of Williamstown, his home territory. Although Mr. Gordon won one Williamstown poll, he was defeated by Mr. McDonald in the second, by a five vote margin.

''It's going to be tough,'' said Mr. Gordon. ''When you start working for the community at 16 and you work and work and work, this is very disappointing. However, I wish Ewen McDonald and the new council well for the upcoming term.''

Mr. McDonald, whose campaigning throughout pre-election days remained low-key, was given a large measure of support from electors in the Green Valley area, one of the last polls to report. Totals in the race were 1,566 for McDonald, a resident of the Glen Roy area and 1,454 for Councillor Gordon.

Deputy Reeve Bob Roth, who had lowered his sights to contest a seat on council and then had told the electorate he was withdrawing from

MacDonell win paves way to wardenship in '91

By Bruce Myers
News Correspondent

Lochiel Township voters returned their incumbent reeve to office for a third term, Monday night, while also electing two council veterans and a rookie to serve as councillors.

Reeve Ron MacDonell defeated challenger Maurice Jeaurond of Glen Robertson by a margin of 165 votes. This was Mr. Jeaurond's second unsuccessful attempt at unseating Mr. MacDonell, being previously defeated in 1982.

After only a few returns were relayed to the municipal office in Lochiel, it became evident that Mr. MacDonell was headed for his third term.

''I'm glad it's over,'' said a relieved Mr. MacDonell afterwards, ''I feel fantastic.''

The incumbent reeve attributed his victory to his many supporters throughout the township, especially his family.

With the clinching of his seat, the reeve is now assured the position of warden of the United Counties in 1991. He will be the first Lochiel reeve to hold that position since Gérard Massie in 1970.

''It's a great honor for the township to have a warden,'' commented Mr. MacDonell.

Mr. Jeaurond was not available for comment.

Incumbent councillors Ernie MacMillan, Maurice Montpetit and newcomer Peter MacSweyn took the three remaining council positions up for grabs.

Mr. MacSweyn of Dalkeith nosed out Glen Sandfield's Ernie MacMillan for the highest vote. A former employee of the Ministry of Transportation, Mr. MacSweyn said his knowledge of the community and township helped him in his quest for public office.

Glen Robertson resident Maurice Montpetit said he was ''really satisfied with the way the candidates worked,'' and commented that this was a very ''friendly'' election.

Mr. Montpetit claimed that his victory was ''almost not a win'' due to the close results. This will be Mr. Montpetit's third term on council.

Mr. MacMillan was also unavailable for comment.

Jean-Lucien Larocque was returned to the deputy-reeve's chair by acclamation.

Voter turnout for the township was 58 per cent, considered average for the municipality.

Vallance ousted by wide margin in Kenyon Township

By Janet Clermont
Staff writer

Finlay McDonell won the position of reeve on Kenyon Township council with a landslide victory over incumbent Wilfred Vallance Monday night.

The upset left Reeve Vallance, who collected 555 votes, behind by close to 400 votes while the challenging deputy reeve accumulated 925 votes.

It was a close race for deputy reeve between Councillor Donald Besner and former reeve Norman MacLeod. But the results trickled in, Mr. MacLeod secured the victory with 780 votes; only 84 ahead of Mr. Besner who collected 696 votes.

A total of 52 per cent of eligible voters cast their ballots at the polls.

Mr. McDonell, who was unable to contain his enthusiasm as the official results were posted at the township office in Greenfield, said extensive campaigning won him the election.

''I was hoping to win . . . I went through the township door-to-door to 85 to 90 per cent of the homes to see the ratepayers. I will try my best to serve them as reeve and I'm very thankful to them,'' said an elated Mr. McDonell.

Mr. McDonell, 59, said the ratepayers were concerned about the Kenyon Township Hall expansion and the present road system.

He is in favor of a 30x30 foot addition at a cost of about $100,000 over a two-year period. Tenders have been called for construction of Phase one — an estimated $195,000 40x40 foot addition.

Mr. McDonell also wants council to change its present upgrading policy on the road system.

Mr. MacLeod, who sat quietly as the polls came in, said his past council experience won him the deputy reeve post. He is the former reeve, deputy reeve and councillor for the township.

Although he admitted the race was close, he said. ''I'm quite satisfied with the results.''

Mr. MacLeod said his stand against an elaborate expansion of the township hall contributed to his victory.

Reeve Vallance and Councillor Besner were not present at the township hall as the results became official.

Posts for councillors were acclaimed by incumbent Joan Siwik and newcomers, Michel Lacelle and Gwen Morris.

Munro headed polls in Maxville

Four out of five potential councillors on Maxville Village council netted seats on council in Monday's municipal elections.

Dale Munro was the incumbent with the leading number of votes, 365, followed by Verna MacGregor with 290 and Allen Douglas with 277. Newcomer Shonna Ducross, collected 238 votes.

Candidate Michael Cowley-Owen was unsuccessful in his bid for a councillor's chair.

Reeve George Currier was acclaimed.

Village power cut off for hours

A small piece of metal jutting out from the top of a tractor-trailer truck turned the usually quiet centre of Williamstown into a restricted area and left 162 customers without electricity for about 10 hours last Wednesday.

A Central Canada Groceries truck delivering goods to MacDonald's grocery store shortly before noon hooked a utility pole guide cable, causing the pole to snap and sending a 575-lb. transformer crashing into the middle of the street.

No one was injured.

At the time there were concerns that the transformer's oil, which leaked onto the road, contained PCBs (Polychlorinated biphenyls) but Ministry of the Environment (MOE) Senior Environmental Officer Don Munro said Monday, the oil was almost completely PCB-free.

The transformer held 20 gallons of oil.

Transformers constructed prior to 1979-80 used an oil coolant which contained the cancer-causing agent but new models use a mineral oil coolant.

Access into the centre of town was blocked until about 10 p.m. while Ontario Hydro and Bell Canada crews worked on the lines and while the MOE carried out preliminary tests on the oil.

School-aged youngsters, attempting to cross through the closed-off area were chased away by Ontario Provincial Police officers who remained on site. Volunteers and firefighters helped to redirect traffic.

According to police, the accident occurred about 11:45 a.m., when the driver of the tractor-trailer truck began to pull away from the curb on Cty. Rd. 17 in the centre of Williamstown. OPP report that a half-inch piece of metal near the roof of the trailer hooked the guide cable and snapped the upper portion of the pole. The weight of the hanging conductor wires caused another pole about 300

Power lost for hours

ft. away to break and wires on a third pole another 300 ft. to the east, to disconnect.

The driver of the truck was James Code, 47, of Ottawa.

The Hydro crew arrived before 12:30 p.m. to find wires lying across Cty. Rd. 17 to the east of the four corners. The Williamstown Fire Department had already barricaded the area with fire trucks and vehicles.

Four Hydro trucks and three Bell Canada trucks were also at the site.

Williamstown firefighter John Parish, one of the first people at the scene, said his priority was to stop the transformer's oil from leaking into the storm drain, which empties into the Raisin River.

He poured ''kitty litter'' on the spill and plugged the pipe which carried water from the street to the river.

Though Hydro crew foreman Grant Fletcher predicted at 4 p.m. that power to Williamstown and to the Kraft plant on the Glen Road would be restored by 7 p.m., power was not fully returned until 10 p.m. But some customers were given an hour's relief, when power was restored from about 7:50-8:50 p.m.

Hydro was forced to cut power again because some customers were still experiencing problems.

OPP Const. Michael Mulhearn is investigating the incident.

Free trade fires up candidates

Monday (Nov. 21) is federal election day and five candidates are vying to obtain the MP's seat in Glengarry-Prescott-Russell.

Liberal incumbent Don Boudria has been challenged by Conservative candidate Roger Presseault, New Democratic Party candidate Helena McCuaig, Libertarian Party candidate Jean Serge Brisson and Canadian Commonwealth Party's John Feres.

Mr. Feres was unavailable for an interview. The Glengarry News learned he is out of the country.

Helena McCuaig: NDP

New Democratic Party (NDP) candidate Helena McCuaig knows the federal riding of Glengarry-Prescott-Russell has been a Liberal stronghold over the years. In the 1984 election, Liberal Don Boudria won the riding with a lopsided majority, leaving his closest opponent 10,000 votes behind.

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell is still a two-party race between Boudria, the incumbent, and his Progressive Conservative opponent Roger Presseault.

But for Helena McCuaig, a 43-year-old kindergarten teacher at St. Joseph's School in Alexandria, breaking the voting tradition is just one of the obstacles she faces.

"Traditionally, people vote Liberal or Progressive Conservative and one of the problems I face is trying to break the voter tradition," Mrs. McCuaig said.

Her biggest disadvantage, however, has been juggling her campaign schedule between her full-time job.

"I honestly don't have the time like the other candidates, but I'm pleased with the reaction, support and encouragement from the people I've met during the campaign," said the Glen Norman resident.

The major issue in the election campaign is the proposed free trade agreement between Canada and the United States, an issue which affects the majority of Canadians.

"I am definitely against free trade, but Canada also has to expand its trade base to other countries. At the present time, the Americans control about 80 per cent of our trade. The Americans can virtually close us down. We are a trading nation and if they want to put sanctions on our products, we won't have the power to retaliate," Mrs. McCuaig said.

Mrs. McCuaig is also concerned about the future of the agriculture industry in the riding. She says free trade is a threat to local farmers.

"As far as free trade is concerned, we're told the marketing boards will be protected. Therefore, the quota systems will stay intact. They are, however, allowing poultry and some milk products into the country from the United States. That will undermine the whole marketing board structure and that makes free trade an indirect threat to the agriculture sector," she said.

Married to Allan McCuaig and mother to five girls ranging from ages four to 22, Mrs. McCuaig said the Farm Credit Corporation must make an effort to assist farmers in dealing with high interest rates.

"We are looking for the Farm Credit Corporation to be a farm bank, rather than a monetary institution. With the present economic situation, we would like to see the interest rate drop to about eight per cent for farmers. The current rate is about 12 per cent. Money should also be available for people for start-up farming programs," Mrs. McCuaig said.

The New Democratic Party's official policy on abortion is pro-choice. Mrs. McCuaig expressed strong feelings against abortions, she also has mixed feelings over the controversial issue.

"I personally feel abortions should not be allowed, but we cannot turn our backs on the female population who decide to carry their children to term. There should be strong financial and emotional support. There should be proper day care structures and a guaranteed income for single parents.

"To outlaw abortions completely means back-street abortions will be done anyway. I am against abortion clinics being set up all over the country. I'm pushing hard to find out why we have so many abortions. Abortion is a symptom, not a disease or social malaise," she said.

She is the only female candidate of five hopefuls running in the Glengarry-Prescott-Russell riding. If elected, she is determined to raise concerns of women's issues to the constituents.

"The public's perception is that most women are homemakers and housewives. Women's issues are people issues. Just look at the pay scale. Just look at the major corporations and institutions as far as pay is concerned. The majority of the women are at the lower end of the pay scale and most of the promotions are still going overwhelmingly to men," Mrs. McCuaig said.

She says the New Democrats are pushing for a mandatory pay equity in both the public and private sectors.

"We must change the pension system, especially in the rural farming areas for women who aren't employed in the labor force. A lot of women work for their husbands on farms, but don't get paid. The pension structure is loaded against women who want to stay at home on the farm."

Because of limited time, Mrs. McCuaig said she has not travelled throughout the riding like her Liberal and Progressive Conservative counterparts.

While travelling through Prescott-Russell recently, she was surprised to see the lack of development along the Ottawa River, unlike the tourist area situated along Hwy. 2 toward Cornwall.

"The Ottawa River shoreline should be made into a tourist area. I was amazed at the little development that's been done in that area."

As far as environmental issues are concerned, the New Democrat candidate said steps must be taken against toxic waste producers, particularly in the event of a toxic chemical disaster.

"With all the toxic waste built up over the years, it's going to get worse. When we have a disaster, it is always the taxpayer who pays for the clean-up. Chemical waste producers should pay out from $4-$11 per ton and this money could be used for a disaster. It isn't the taxpayers who cause the disaster, so why should they pay for the clean-up," Mrs. McCuaig said.

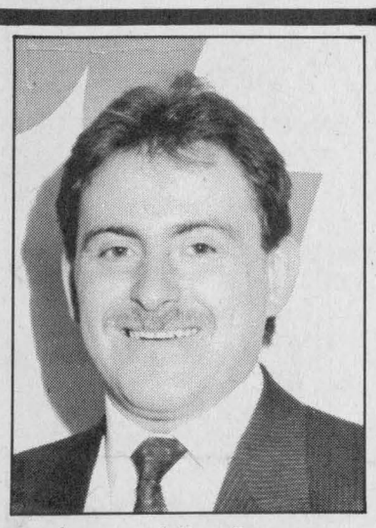
Though the Gallup poll has the New Democrats running third, she is still determined to make her mark in the election. But, she admits, it's difficult to change voters' beliefs because of the Gallup polls.

"I think the Gallup polls should be outlawed. Gallup polls manipulate the population and it changes the perception of the people. I don't think we need them during an election."

And while it is expected to be an uphill battle to push out incumbent Don Boudria, she said she's enjoyed the experience as a federal candidate.

"I have enjoyed the election campaign and I would even come back to run in the next election. I would have more experience and I would know what to expect next time," Mrs. McCuaig said.

Roger Presseault: Conservative



"Misrepresentation" by the Liberal party has caused Canadians to question the free trade deal says Progressive Conservative (PC) candidate Roger Presseault.

Mr. Presseault has been campaigning through the Glengarry-Prescott-Russell riding in an attempt to alleviate any misconceptions about the effects of the deal. He claims that no residents in the riding had received a copy of the agreement until he began distributing the information.

"The Liberals are saying the free trade deal will take away your pensions and your citizenship and the flag that floats above. That is totally unacceptable.

"When the Liberal candidate (incumbent Don Boudria) was asked where, in black and white, it states this will happen, he couldn't prove it," he charged during an interview with The News, Friday.

Mr. Presseault has based the majority of his campaign on the free trade issue stating it would not affect agriculture, social services or the footwear industry. Mr. Presseault, Mr. Boudria and New Democratic Party (NDP) hopeful Helena McCuaig have mulled over the issue during every debate since the election was called.

Mr. Presseault, who seemed energized while discussing the agreement said, "If I didn't believe the trade deal was good for Canada I wouldn't be running. We will be creating more jobs. Of course there will be a period of adjustment."

When asked to comment on concern that Canada cannot compete with the U.S. he claimed, "Canada is already competing with the States. We are 80 per cent free of tariffs, are we more American for that? Certainly not. I have faith in Canadians. We can compete."

Mr. Presseault stressed that a clause in the agreement states that the deal can be abolished with a six-month notice.

"How can you say no to something that you haven't tried," questioned Mr. Presseault.

He claimed that the government is conducting studies to determine the effects the deal will have on Canadian industries and the economy and will implement programs to help businesses adjust.

The PC candidate was also asked how he would tackle the weed problem on Lake St. Francis, if elected.

"I'm glad you asked me that. Mr. Boudria says clean it up. But where do perch migrate? In the weeds. If you remove the weeds you can kiss the perch industry on Lake St. Francis goodbye. Some of the weeds can be taken out. The government is committed to cleaning the lakes."

He claimed that in the last four years, the PC government has spent $2.5 billion to stop acid rain and $110 million was slated for the clean-up of the St. Lawrence River.

"The PC government has done more in the last four years than the Liberal government has in 20 years."

He said the Liberal party has accused the government of cutting Environment Canada's budget. He claims the prime minister has increased the budget by 13 per cent in the last four years.

"They (Liberals) are asking for the resignations of ministers who make mistakes. If our government had done the same there would be no Liberal Party. John Turner and the deficit was their first mistake," he added.

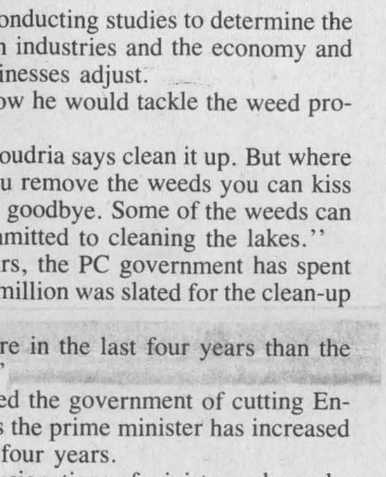
Mr. Presseault also claimed that his government has done a great deal for the farming industry. He said the PC government spent $10 billion since 1984 on the farming industry and has reduced interest rates of the Farm Credit Corporation from 16 per cent to 12.5.

The PC candidate, a 30-year-old Hawkesbury native, has stated on numerous occasions he is personally against abortion, having two children of his own, Marc Andre, 4 and Sophie, 2.

He is the former special assistant to the Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs and the minister responsible for Canada Post Corporation.

The candidate attended Hawkesbury High School and later received a business administration certificate from the University of Ottawa.

Jean-Serge Brisson: Libertarian



Lower taxes, less government interference, legal reform and freedom of trade have been some of the issues emphasized by Libertarian Party candidate Jean-Serge Brisson.

Party Leader Dennis Corrigan and Glengarry-Prescott-Russell candidate Jean-Serge Brisson were in Alexandria and interviewed by The Glengarry News Saturday.

Mr. Brisson, a 34-year-old Embrun native, feels that Canadians are "too heavily taxed." His party's solution is to eliminate taxes on annual incomes of $10,000 or less and tax only 20 per cent of incomes over $10,000. The party would also abolish all indirect forms of taxation and sales tax.

When asked where funds for Canada's social programs would come from, Mr. Corrigan interjected and said he would cut back on employment and welfare funds and abolish Canada's day care, foreign aid and regional development programs.

When asked to comment on the effects the free trade deal would have on Glengarry farmers Mr. Brisson said, "They (Glengarry farmers) are facing the same problems as eastern Ontario farmers. Farmers are too dependent on the government. If they were not taxed so heavily then they would not need to borrow so much money."

He added that the Libertians are in favor of free trade and believe the deal would not affect the farmers.

The party also wants to work at reducing the national debt to "relieve the pressure it causes on the economy." The party is proposing a four-year program for the sale of crown corporations and other commercial assets including Air Canada and Canada Post Corporation.

Mr. Brisson, who has been involved with the party for eight years, believes the government's purpose is "to protect individuals rights."

The party platform states "we aim to decentralize power... to the people of Canada. We need to limit the government's role to one of serving the Canadian community rather than ruling it."

The Libertarians also propose a simplication of Canada's legal system. Non-violent offenders would be required to "make good their wrong" to the victim or society and would be kept in custody if they refused.

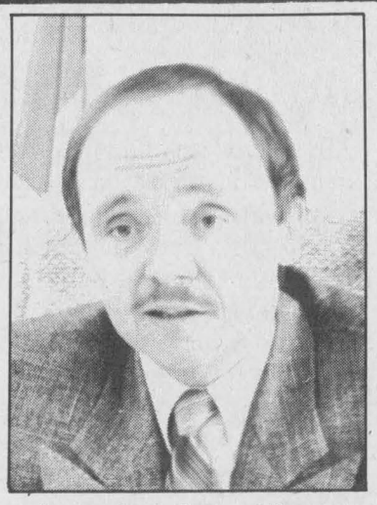
The party's stand on abortion is pro-choice however Mr. Brisson stated he is personally against it.

The candidate attended Embrun Secondary High School and owns a radiator repair shop in Embrun.

The party was formed in 1979 and has 88 candidates running in eight provinces and a membership of 1,300.

Mr. Corrigan, 41, was first elected party leader in 1984 and was re-elected in 1987. He resides in Toronto.

Don Boudria: Liberal



The bottom line of this year's election, free trade, is first and foremost on Liberal incumbent Don Boudria's mind; free trade will be detrimental to Glengarry and to Canada, he says.

"Under the trade deal — I don't want to make it any worse than it is, the deal's bad enough already — we have protected our supply management systems. However we have not totally exempted them from the trade deal. Basically, the Conservatives say that supply management will remain totally untouched. Well that's not true, that's totally inaccurate. It is undermined," said Mr. Boudria in an interview in Alexandria, Saturday afternoon.

The incumbent, who is just finishing his first term as Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP pointed out that the while milk will remain on the import control list, milk products such as ice cream and yogurt, which are protected only by tariffs, will be fair game.

The Conservatives promised to add these items on the import control list but "just because the government has said that doesn't make it so," he said.

"The Americans say that if you change that (add those items to the list), you're in contravention of the standstill clause of the free trade agreement. The minute we finished negotiating the agreement and the minute we signed it in both nations, we agreed that until it comes into effect, we would act as though it already was," he said.

Also not covered by the import control list, even though they are articles which contain milk, are foodstuffs containing less than 50 per cent milk by weight, he said.

"As you reduce tariffs on say, cake mix, and the U.S. cake mixes use American milk which is not produced under supply management which is cheaper, and say there is a company in Canada which is producing the same product using milk which is under supply management and is more expensive, well then obviously, the American product is going to displace the Canadian one. So it's not true to say that milk has remained untouched by the trade deal," he said.

There are about 340 milk producers in Glengarry.

And chicken producers will suffer similar consequences, because chicken in items such as pies and T.V. dinners, will not be supply managed unless they contain more than 50 per cent chicken. Keep the amount of chicken down to 49 per cent and add an extra one per cent mashed potatoes and supply mnagement goes out the window, he said.

"Also, for some mind-boggling reason we have surrendered 6.3 billion kg of chicken quota to the Americans. Why did we do this?" he asked rhetorically.

Simply put, he said, the government decided to issue short-term import permits to the U.S. should Canada not be able to meet it's own need for chicken. The government averaged out the total amount of import permits over the last five years; it came to 6.3 million kg.

"So we have a guarantee to the U.S. that they would be able to send us 6.3 billion kg. The problem with that, not just according to me, but according to the chicken producers, is that if you guarantee them that (6.3 billion kg), it then becomes part of the basic quota. It effectively means that you have given them 6.3 billion kg of our production. There's no other way of looking at it according to them (chicken producers) and I think they're right."

When asked whether there is a good side to the Canada-U.S. free trade deal, he responded, "If there is, it's not for my riding."

He punctuated his statements with a reflection: The Conservative government has boasted that free trade will create jobs for Canadians, but how many jobs will be lost and how many Canada-based companies will leave Canada to set up shop in the U.S.?

Mr. Boudria is also concerned that Canada will be left out in the cold if ladies and girls footwear import quotas are not extended by two years, to give Canadian, and in particular, Glengarry footwear producers a chance to bring themselves technologically up to date.

Several jobs were lost locally when men's and boy's footwear quotas were removed in 1986, which he blames on the 30 per cent loss of market share in Canada.

And under the Conservative government, Eastern Ontario lost recognition as an economically depressed area. For this reason, regional development grants are no longer available for this area; under a federal Liberal government, Eastern Ontario would be one of many regions to share a $1.5 billion budget.

But even if Liberal leader John Turner doesn't succeed in his quest for the prime minister's seat, Mr. Boudria said he (Boudria) will continue to ask the Conservative government for good things for his riding.

"I think I've succeeded in getting a number of things thrown my way," he said.

Like the Glen Robertson post office, which closed down temporarily because of personnel problems; greenboxes were installed outside the old post office and Mr. Boudria takes credit for eventually re-opening the office.

He's also bought time for rail commuters who were, about two years ago, faced with the possibility that CN Railway was going to close the line from Montreal to Ottawa which passes right through Glengarry.

At the time, CN was contemplating closing down a number of its lines; Mr. Boudria caught wind of the plan.

He and the local Save the Train Committee may only be holding CN at bay he said, but keeping the line open so that freight traffic and VIA Rail passenger trains can use the line is a major accomplishment, he believes.

Mr. Boudria also stepped in when Canada Post was considering installing greenboxes or supermailboxes for postal customers living further than a quarter-mile from the Alexandria post office. It would have meant that some town residents would no longer have been privileged to rent lock boxes in the post office at an "insider's" rate of $6.74 a year; they would have had to pay the outsiders rate almost four times the amount.

Subsequently Canada Post scrapped the plan to establish the new boundary and will handle a problem of lock-box shortages in other ways.

Mr. Boudria is a Sarsfield resident whose final decision to seek a seat in the House of Commons was spurred by his son, Daniel. The story is a long one, but the bottom line, said Mr. Boudria, is that Daniel told him he could win the election. He ran and the rest is history.

Mr. Boudria, 39, was born in Hull and received his education at high schools in Cumberland and Embrun and at Eastview High School and Woodsworth College, University of Toronto.

In 1966, he joined the federal government and held several positions during the next 15 years. In 1976, he decided to taste municipal politics and was elected councillor for Cumberland Township. He remained there until 1981, when he was elected MPP for Prescott-Russell.

As MPP, he assumed various critic responsibilities; Ministry of Government Services, Community and Social Services, Consumer and Commercial Relations.

As MP, he is currently critic for Public Works and Government Operations and associate critic of agriculture for the official opposition.

From 1985-87, he was chairman of the Ontario Liberal Caucus and previously, from 1984-85, deputy chairman.

There are few cracks evident in Don Boudria's armor

In the course of an interview broadcast by CTV last week, Prime Minister Brian Mulroney openly wondered if Canadians wanted to be governed by the likes of "Nunziata, a Boudria or a Copps," referring to the Rat Pack's sometimes shrill attacks on the government and its policy over the last four years.

Apart from Mr. Boudria's record as this riding's MP, anybody who can draw the ire of the PM — as he has a number of times — can't be all that bad.

Simply put, Don Boudria has got under the skin of the PM and his cabinet members and, left his colleagues and other Canadians with a secure feeling, that amidst political history's largest majority, here is a streetfighter who's prepared to take on the big guns. But in the one term Mr. Boudria has served Glengarry-Prescott-Russell, he has come to mean much more to constituents.

Indeed, with just days to go before the election, it's difficult to find any fault with Mr. Boudria's record, despite any detailed examination of his duties and actions in the riding over the last four years. He's well-known for his hard work and his attention to detail, researching the facts before acting on an issue, and listening — a key element for an effective politician.

He has maintained an above-average record despite the almost overwhelming majority of the Conservatives over the last four years. In fact, he was the only MP in Parliament to change his mind on abortion, a move which has angered some constituents and pleased more. It was, just the same, a decision not many others would have made out of risk of political backlash.

His position on the free trade deal, which mirrors his leader's view, is really the only area where his stand is open to argument. All of the reasons he has given in the course of this election campaign for opposing the deal can be countered by some very convincing facts. His comment at last week's debate at Glengarry District High School, that the nation "can't compete with a country 40 times our economic size without coming out the loser," ignores practically all of Canada's business spokespeople who believe they can compete very well given a level playing field.

It's true there are a number of jobs in the riding which rely on textile, clothing and shoe manufacturing — areas which could be adversely affected by free trade. But there are also companies here which can benefit if they choose, and given the right conditions for expansion.

However, the pro-free trade lobby in this riding has been practically non-existent; Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette, himself a well-known local Liberal, dairy farmers and a few industry spokesmen have spoken against it. Few have spoken for it, so in a realistic and political sense, Mr. Boudria has no choice but to follow the party line and listen to the people.

But if there are obvious cracks apparent in the Boudria armor, his opponents have failed to find them.

He has identified specific needs in the riding, needs which he has been actively working for since the last election. Some have paid off. His inquiries and participation in the local Save the Train effort have helped the local committee keep VIA Rail and CN on guard. And he played a key role in ensuring the Glen Robertson post office remain re-opened, and has most recently been involved in preserving services at the Alexandria office.

Indeed, if Don Boudria has managed to do the above and more under a Conservative majority, constituents may be wondering what he would do as an encore — under a minority.

And, there is a good possibility that, if the Liberals win this election, Mr. Boudria would land a cabinet post. This is no guarantee the riding would be helped by such a prospect, but, like chicken soup, it couldn't hurt.

We'll find out this Monday night.

A policy of objectivity for newspaper advertising

Readers of The News will notice there is no advertising from Conservative candidate Roger Presseault, in this week's edition.

The temptation may be to blame us for this, but we wish to point out this newspaper did not receive advertising from the party until two hours after the regular advertising deadline, Monday night.

As well, all ads were required to be prepaid. That policy was made clear to all parties involved. An offer to pre-pay the ad was not made by party organizers until 11:30 a.m., Tuesday, over 20 hours after the newspaper's regular deadline.

The Glengarry News strives to maintain a policy of objectivity in accepting all advertising.

AFTER THOUGHTS

Joe Banks

I'm still waiting.

Free trade has stolen the limelight this federal election time around, but our local candidates — or the national ones for that matter — have yet to light on the "T" word, that penalty we all have for living in a democratic, benefits-plump society.

Taxes.

There was a time, although I don't personally remember it, when politicians promised to keep taxes low. One can only suppose that promise went the way of the dodo bird when voters began to see that income taxes weren't being kept low, despite their politicians' best pledges in the heat of a campaign.

Today, the strategy is anchored in promises to spend more and save less. Even our taxes are taxed. Looked at your telephone bill lately? Cable television subscribers are taxed for services to the tune of 25 per cent by federal and provincial taxes. Income taxes have driven middle-income earners to tax experts, in the hopes of finding a way out of a deepening quagmire.

There are scores of other things we're taxed on, of course, but the federal tax seems particularly obscene because of the enormous debt governments have built up. Will a change of parties help? Would a knight on a shining white charger pledging lower taxes be successful?.

Hardly. Wood Gundy, one of Canada's leading brokerage firms, says a tax hike is imminent because the federal government's finances are in such terrible shape. So what else is new?

"The steadfast avoidance of the deficit issue by all three political parties belies an inevitable reality — the Canadian electorate faces a round of tax increases, possibly as early as the next budget," the company has said in a recent newsletter.

The question has suddenly become how much each party intends to hike the deficit, not which programs have to be cut or how taxes can be decreased without reducing essential services. Even with the billions promised by all three parties, however, Wood Gundy says even this isn't the most depressing news because the promises amount to rhetoric.

"A far more serious threat to the fiscal outlook is posed by the impact of climbing interest rates on the cost of financing the mountain of accumulated public debt," the report said.

So what are the prospects? The Conservatives are intending to introduce a tax reform measure that would extend sales tax to an aray of so far largely undisclosed products. It's a pretty good probability that means food items and the like. The desired effect is to tax more items at a smaller rate per item.

Sounds like a decent idea, that is, until the young couple sees a $10,000 sales tax bill on the new house they just bought.

John Turner hasn't mentioned taxes except to say he wants to look at the books before he forms an opinion of how to finance his campaign promises.

Well, Wood Gundy knows what kind of condition the country's finances are in. Most Canadians know about the deficit. Just what is it John Turner is expecting to see when or if he's elected PM?

And Ed Broadbent uses the term "deficit management" to rationalize increasing the deficit for more programs. He advocates taxing heavily the big corporations, and more credits to the poor and lower income earners. Economists say this would drive those big corporations out of the country to the U.S., where tax breaks are a favorite device of the government. At any rate, it's difficult to believe the deficit could go much higher under an NDP government without severe pressures on the economy.

So for the "ordinary" Canadian, what's left? Mike Wilson says he won't tax dental care. How far down the list is that in the tables of elimination?

Maybe, just maybe the politicians would go a long way in easing the tax burden if they'd simply 'fess up to the problem. There's at least one of them in the country. A chap by the name of Bruce Glass, running for the Liberal party in Victoria-Haliburton riding, was quoted in the Minden Times as admitting that no political party "is going to put a serious dent in the $28 billion deficit until the public is ready for it." To illustrate his point, he asked if anyone in the audience present at this particular all-candidates meeting would be willing to give up all their New Horizons money or the grant for the local municipal airport.

Not a soul raised a hand.

Mr. Glass went on to say that these "frills", which are not essential, would be the things that would have to be cut if a government wished to reduce the deficit.

He added, optimistically, at some point this will happen. But he doesn't believe the public is ready for it — yet.

Truer words were never spoken. All we have to say is: "Enough is enough."

—I'm ready. And still waiting.

Voting is a privilege not to be taken for granted

LIFE WORTH LIVING

Rev. Colin MacDonald

Well, here we are, "bushed" after the American elections, and now we "turner" attention to the Canadian voting. Of course, in between we have had the municipal elections. I don't think that I've had to put this many "X"s on a love letter!!

Yet for all we might complain about the time that it takes to cast our ballots, would you really have it any other way? As a nation, we have a great freedom and privilege in being able to vote for those people who we feel will represent us well at all three levels of government, as well as our boards of education. It is a privilege that we share with few other nations on earth, and we dare not take it lightly or for granted. The chance to be able to vote is a gift, and all gifts are given to be used, not forgotten.

It is so in our civic life; it is so in our faith life.

Mind you, as a follower of Christ, I have no ballot. But then again, can you think of a better candidate? As Christ said to His first disciples, "You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit and that your fruit should abide," (John 15:16a). Those whom Christ calls are chosen. We are chosen not because we are special, or because we are somehow better than others, or because we are purer than

The power and the press

THAT'S LIFE

Lesley Cadham

As reporters for a small newspaper, there are only usually two of us sharing the responsibility for covering most news events. So through nothing more than coincidence, we often find ourselves on a "beat," reporting on a number of similar subjects.

Janet Clermont, for example, always seems to be on evening shift when 4-H banquets or corn roasts take place. She's become well-known in 4-H circles, and I, in the past two weeks, have become a familiar sight to Ontario Hydro crews.

The elements and grocery trucks have been playing havoc with Hydro poles and lines of late, and I, of course, have been on the scene to capture the mischief on film.

I guess you could say that downed Hydro lines have become my "beat," a fact that I'm not entirely in love with because there is a certain amount of danger involved in hanging around wires which carry up to 16,000 volts.

Two weeks ago Wednesday, I stopped on the King's Road near St. Raphael's in the midst of a small snowstorm, to photograph downed lines. I shuffled through the snow to get close enough for a good photo and oblivious to danger, snapped away and shuffled back to my car, waving at an OPP officer as I passed through the barricade.

An hour later, the OPP came knocking at The Glengarry News' door to let me know that what I had done was very foolish; that wet snow acts as an excellent conductor of electricity up to several hundred yards.

No one stopped me, I said.

Then last Wednesday in Williamstown a half-inch piece of metal sticking out of the top of a grocery truck hooked a guy wire supporting a Hydro and Bell pole and snapped it in half. The scene, as it was replayed to me by witnesses, should be re-enacted for film and aired on "Goofs and Blunders." The Hydro pole snapped in half and the stress of the falling wires snapped a pole at the next corner, in turn pulling the wires off a third pole about 200 ft. away on the other side of the road.

Though I live in the hamlet, I missed most of the real excitement and only arrived in time to find crews busily repairing the damage.

Going hand-in-hand with broken Hydro poles was, of course, an absence of electrical power in the hamlet. By the time I returned to Williamstown that night, seven hours after the accident, it was warmer outside than it was inside my house and I had to stumble around looking for candles.

I should have known to keep them within easy access because the electricity goes out at least twice a week in Williamstown (okay, maybe I'm exaggerating a bit). It wasn't something I worried about much in the city.

Flushing or showering during electrical outages wasn't something I worried about either.

But in the country, when your water is carried from the well by an electrical pump, a power failure also means no water. You get one flush if you're lucky and one shower if you can wash at the speed of light. A shock to the city slicker.

But I'm learning.

Life after shoulder pads

WORD SKETCH

Sybil Carello

Acording to fashion reports, women don't want to give up their shoulder pads.

Ever.

It appears there's a growing number of women who've convinced themselves that under the right lighting conditions — and shoulder pads, they bear a striking resemblance to Dynasty's Linda Evans.

Indeed, women's rigor mortis grip on this thing that goes bump in the shoulders has left fashion designers slumped over their drawing boards, fearing the worst. And well they should. As of this writing, all the fashion darts point to an out of control accessory monster.

Once the exclusive feature of tailored suits and football jerseys, shoulder pads now command front row attention. Clotheshorses at large with their love of the behemothic have boosted shoulder pads into every facet of ensembling — from business to pleasure.

No more is less, more. Now, more is definitely more. Dressmaker: (trembling from the effort to control her outrage) But madame, be reasonable. These thick, frightfully ugly, fire-resistant shoulder pads will look unsightly peeping through the Brussels Lace around the neck and shoulders of the dress. Please won't you reconsider?

Stoop-shouldered-client: (trembling from the effort to control her hysteria) It's my wedding, my dress. I want them in. I want shoulders like Mad Dog Vachon.

And so it goes. But you know it's not all unbearable fun and lightness. There are some gray areas, some moments of painful discomposure.

One of these moments is the direct result of wearing free-form shoulder pads hung by a bit of velcro. But velcro isn't a wonder hook. Sooner or later things get out of line. This nomadic bent spells trouble for fashion accessorizing.

In fact, behavioral scientists theorize that its darn near impossible to impress, never mind influence the serious, tight-lipped decision makers of the world while indiscreetly adjusting two 12-inch bolsters which have lumped their way to the back of the neck creating an instant mutant look.

If this isn't scary enough, consider the danger of layered padding or what I call the Strawberry Shortcake Principle. This happens when one wears a camisole with a built-in down-filled pad under a blouse with a moderate size fibre-filled pad, under a suit with another built-in cotton-batting pad under a coat with a really really big foam pad.

St. Raphael's parishioners seek names of veterans

To the editor:

Remembrance Day is still observed by the laying of wreaths at cenotaphs and legion parades, but the numbers who turn out to pay tribute become smaller as most of the surviving veterans of the First World War are now in their 90s and those who served in the Second World War are of, or nearing pension age.

For a younger generation who has only known peace, it is getting harder to remember the sufferings and supreme sacrifices made by those who fought in two world wars. God help us if we ever forget!

The parishioners of St. Raphael's are in the process of erecting an honor roll plaque with the names inscribed thereon of the veterans who served in both world wars. To date, we have made up a partial list but we are certain that there are many more.

Therefore, we are seeking the help of your readers both in North America and abroad to help us complete the following list by forwarding names of relatives or anyone known to them from St. Raphael's parish who have served their country, to: Bernie MacCulloch, RRk#1, Apple Hill, Ont., K0C 1B0.

In the First World War we have documented Philip (Don Jim) MacDonald, Allan Rory MacDonald, Donald John MacMillan, Duncan Grey and Claude Nunney, all killed in action; Allan John P. MacDonald, Duncan J. (Farmer) MacDonald, Donald (Farmer) MacDonald, William D. MacDonald, Danny Duncan Ranald MacDonald, Alex Duncan Ranald MacDonald, Lawrence (The Square) McDonell, Alexander Lagrois and Henry O'Donovan.

In the Second World War, documented are Sylva Joanette (killed in action), John Emburg, Gordon Pigeon, Robert J. McLaughlin, Jack McLaughlin, Archie J. (Big Angus) MacDonald, Angus John MacDonell (killed in action), Wallee MacDonell, Hughie (Rory The Brown House) MacDonald, Lloyd (Rory The Brown House) MacDonald, John McDermid, Donald Angus McDermid, Albert Renaud, Archie (Allan Alex) MacDonald, Francis (Allan Alex) MacDonald, Fred Lajoie, Ranald (Danny Allan) MacDonald, Donald (Dan Allan) MacDonald, Warren MacGillis, Lawrence J. (Duncie Austin) MacDonald, Douglas MacDonald, Charles (Little Archie) MacDonald, Willie Tyo, Angus Joseph (Allan Rory) McDonald, Hughie (Allan Rory) McDonald, Tommy Dorie, Arthur Dorie, Andy Primeau and Jack (John R.) MacDonald.

Thank you,

Those who served should be actively remembered

To the editor:

Further to your editorial comments re the Remembrance ceremony at the cenotaph:

How many of the individuals named on the plaques are now forgotten, even though we intone, "At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we will remember them."

I suggest that The News publish those cenotaph lists each Remembrance week, on the front page. As well, one or two of the persons could be featured each year, making us aware of our loss and of their sacrifice.

Instead of holding the ceremony on Sunday, could it be held on a school day so that schools could participate? The high school is adjacent to the cenotaph; surely co-ordination with it and other schools would be easy. Student participation would benefit the ceremony in many ways; participation would benefit the students in many ways.

Also, the legion might co-operate further with the schools in fostering research of the individuals named on the plaques. This would be an excellent history assignment for the students, and the legion would benefit by acquiring the information before it is lost forever.

Glengarry's only Victoria Cross winner is virtually forgotten. Why? The town of Latchford in Northern Ontario has named a bridge at the highway entrance to the town in honor of their Victoria Cross winner, thereb proclaiming their pride. Last week's Auld Lang Syne section listed the names of two Glengarry winners of the Military Cross — another area for research and recording.

The military facet of Glengarry's heritage need not be lost, or ignored.

Senior citizen lists the Communist Rules of Revolution

To the editor:

Please re-print my letter, published in an April, 1982 issue of The Glengarry News.

At this time in 1988, my warning and message is truer than ever. When you question the immorality we are living in now, everyone replies, "It's the times." Yes, it is; now you've put your finger on the cause of these times!

Thank goodness we have a few honest-to-goodness backbone Canadians who aren't afraid to speak out against the Trudeau Communistic administration. I simply had to write to commend Bob Roth on his writing "Trudeau's emergency law."

I am a senior citizen confined to my home but for years I've tried to tell people who we have ruining our country.

I have a clipping from the Cornwall Standard Freeholder back in the '30s. Wonder if you ever read it? Possibly you have but I will send along excerpts from it.

In May 1919 at Dusseldorf, Germany, the Allied forces obtained a copy of some of the Communist Rules of Revolution:

A. Corrupt the young: get them away from religion; get them interested in sex; get them superficial and destroy their ruggedness.

B. Get control of all means of publicity: 1. Get people's attention off the government by focussing attention on athletics, sexy books, plays and unmoral movies. 2. Divide people into hostile groups, by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance. 3. Destroy people's faith in natural leaders by holding them up to contempt, ridicule and disgrace. 4. Always preach true democracy but seize power as fast as ruthlessly possible. 5. Encourage government extravagance, destroy credit, produce years of inflation with rising prices and discontent. 6. Incite unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster a lenient and soft attitude on the part of the government toward such disorders. 7. Cause breakdowns of old moral virtues — honestly, sobriety, self-restraint, faith in the pledged word.

C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext; with a view to confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

That is quite a list isn't it?

Oh, that Canadians would only stop and think how many of those rules are being carried out in this nation today!

I only wish these rules could be published and republished across Canada.

All power to you in your column.

Mrs. Marjorie Macpherson,
Maxville.

Don't take voting privilege for granted

others. We are chosen because Jesus knows that we need Him. We are broken, for we have distanced ourselves from God. We are fragile, because the lures of the world tempt us.

It is Christ who seeks to heal that brokenness by bringing us back into a relationship with God. It is Christ who strengthens our fragility by offering us fullness of life. And this is healing and strengthening that come to us not because we ask for them, but because Christ sees that we need them. He offers them as a gift, freely and without reserve, for those who will accept them.

As most of you probably already know (this being small-town Ontario), our family has just received the gift of new life in little Gillian, our daughter and a new sister to our other children. As I spend time with her, I am reminded time and again of the new joy and the new responsibility that we have been given. She is indeed a gift, as are our other children, Peter and Claire. But as I look at our baby, I can only think about the perfectness of God's wisdom in sending His only Son as an infant, that He might partake fully in our life, and that we might have fullness of life and of hope through the Son. Jesus fully knows our brokenness and our fragility, for He has trod this same path before us. And He has chosen us to follow Him along that path, that we might fully come to know Him and to be like Him.

May we accept that we are chosen. And may we go forth and bear fruit for Christ, fruit that will last.

Thanks be to God.

— Amen

Municipal election results

No new trustees elected to board

Voters also chose representatives on the SD&G county and separate school boards during the municipal and school elections, Monday.

There are no new names on the list of trustees representing Glengarry county board of education schools.

Monday night's election results put Art Buckland back in his trustee's seat, representing Charlottenburgh Township. He defeated newcomers Dr. Howard Thaw and William Fielding.

Sam J. McLeod was acclaimed English-language representative on the county board for the townships of Kenyon, Lochiel and Lancaster and Lancaster Village and Alexandria. Lusia Jasiewicz also won by acclamation the post of English trustee for Maxville and Roxborough Township.

Micheline Ouellette had also been acclaimed to her post as representative on the French Language Education Panel for the townships of Charlottenburgh, Lancaster, Lochiel and Kenyon.

And Jean-Marc Boisvenue and Bernard Besner retained their seats on the French section of SD&G Roman Catholic School Board.

Mr. Boisvenue of Alexandria, who defeated Nicole Bourgeois of Maxville, will represent Maxville, Alexandria and the townships of Cornwall and Roxborough.

Mr. Besner of North Lancaster represents the townships of Lochiel, Charlottenburgh and Kenyon and Lancaster Village. He defeated Pina Stante of Glen Robertson.

A number of trustees for the separate school board's English section were acclaimed: Ron Eamer for the townships of Lancaster, Charlottenburgh, Kenyon and Lochiel and Lancaster Village, and Terrance Wheeler for Maxville, Alexandria and Roxborough and Cornwall townships.

a clean battle. Let's work together to get this town rolling again.''

His success in this election has inspired thoughts of running for the mayor's seat next term, he said.

But Mr. Lemieux, edged out of council, was initially bitter about the outcome. He said it seemed ''fairly obvious that people want some opposition to J.P. (Mayor Touchette) and maybe I've become too close to him. Maybe people see me as a yes man.''

He's not a hand-shaker and a back-patter, he continued, calling himself ''low-key.'' But later he swallowed any bitterness he may have felt and said, ''John, I have always considered you my friend. Let me say thank you to the fine people of Alexandria...the help from my wife Jacqueline, my family and all my friends has touched me beyond words. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.''

Great with a ''capital G'' was used to describe the new deputy reeve's feelngs.

Mr. Joly said, ''With this result, it means people have put their confidence in me and I'm going to work even harder for the betterment of our town. I'm sure we can make a good team.'' He later publicly thanked Mrs. Baker-Pelletier for a ''good, clean campaign.''

And Mrs. Baker-Pelletier told the crowd, ''I'll be out there in three years again, maybe a little lower (vying for position as councillor) but I'll be out there. I think you need a woman in there (council).''

Roger Menard tops polls in village

A Lancaster Village service station operator was the most popular among voters, collecting 226 votes of a possible 619 during the municipal elections in the village Monday.

Roger Menard, along with newcomers George Baker and Richard Anderson, join incumbent Janette Abbey as councillors for the next three years. Jennifer Charbonneau was acclaimed as reeve.

A first-time candidate, Mr. Menard wasn't concerned where he'd finish in the race among five candidates.

''If I finished in the top four positions I would be happy. Anywhere over fourth place would be a bonus,'' Mr. Menard said.

Mr. Menard said his involvement in various organizations in the village was the key to his popularity among the voters.

George Parker, who finished fifth in the race with 97 votes, was disappointed he wasn't elected, but enjoyed his experience as a candidate.

''All the people who ran were good candidates and I'm sure they will do a good job for the village. It was a good election and I may run in the future,'' Mr. Parker said.

Mrs. Abbey finished second with 214 votes, while George Baker was third with 173 and Richard Anderson fourth with 149.

Mrs. Abbey, a veteran on council for eight years, was elated to be re-elected for another term. But she was disappointed with the low turnout of voters.

Only 46 per cent of eligible voters went to the polls.

''I'm very pleased to be back for another term and I think we'll have a good group of people on council. I think some of the people may have got confused with the upcoming federal election and that may be why there wasn't a good turnout of voters,'' said Mrs. Abbey.

George Baker, a Lancaster Village resident only office years, is looking forward to the challenge in his first term on council.

''I'm a newcomer and I am pleased with the result. I guess people were pleased with what they heard about me at the candidate's meeting. I am looking forward to the challenge,'' he said.

Richard Anderson, who attended numerous council meetings the past year, was extremely pleased with his win and is looking forward to his term as councillor.

Upset sees newcomer defeat Vaillancourt

Newcomer Stephen Preston won the race for the deputy reeve's post at Lancaster Township council defeating Councillor Richard Vaillancourt during the municipal election Monday night.

Mr. Preston finished 95 votes ahead of Mr. Vaillancourt, who collected 655.

Leading in the polls for the position of councillor was incumbent Roch Major with 810 votes followed by incumbent Roger Brazeau with 750 votes and newcomer Janet McDonald with 738 votes.

Unsuccessful candidates were Gilles Glaude, 537, Joanne Stevenson, 355 and George Stante, 153.

Women led polls all night in Williamstown

the race for personal reasons, jumped back into the campaign pool two weeks ago with enough of a splash to land himself in the number two spot among the six hopefuls for council.

Mr. Roth, who finished with 1,449 votes to Mrs. MacDonald's first place 1,686, was just four votes ahead of third council member, Don Kannon, with whom Mr. Roth had teeter-tottered all evening.

Incumbent Edgar Prevost missed out on his bid for election, finishing with 1,256 votes, behind Mr. Kannon whom he had challenged at various check points throughout the race. The popular Mr. Prevost, who had served a year on council, replacing Paul Rozon who died in 1987, was subdued by his defeat, but remarked stoically, ''I gave it a good shot, but we can't all win.''

Melvin Lafave in his first bid for office, finished fifth with 763 votes, while veteran campaigner, Lorne Barclay rounded out the field with 671 votes.

''I didn't get in, but I'm sure not going to die over it,'' commented Mr. Barclay.

Mrs. MacDonald, whose poll-topping results of 1,686 votes were apparent after just eight stations had reported, expressed great delight at the election outcome. ''I'm honored, very pleased and I'm excited,'' said the beaming Char-Lan High School English teacher.

The Williamstown area Mrs. MacDonald said she was anxious to get to work on some of her priorities, citing, as she did throughout her campaign, waste management as her number one concern.

''I also want to do something for the senior citizens in our area, something to keep them here so that they don't have to leave the community. I think we can do a lot for them.''

Due to the late hour when the final results were announced, candidates did not make the traditional acceptance speeches, preferring to remove friends and relatives who had gathered during the evening at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre to wait for the results, to various victory parties throughout the township.

A delighted Mrs. Ross commented that though she thought she might win, she didn't think it would be by such a large margin. ''I hope this new council will be able to work together as harmoniously as the last one did,'' said the new reeve. ''No matter whether we disagreed on the issues, we were always friends.''

Mr. Villeneuve said this would be his last bid at the municipal level of politics, but said he might think about running again, provincially.

''I'm pleased with the council that's coming in,'' said the outspoken Mr. Villeneuve. ''It has a lot of experience and I think that most of the concerns I had will be eliminated with this group.''

Mr. Poirier, who hinted he felt the French vote was split between him and Mr. Villeneuve, left the hall before making a statement to the press.

The referendum question, asking residents if they were in favor of more time and money being spent to implement French language services in the township, was answered negatively by 2,043 voters. Residents in the Green Valley and Glen Walter areas appeared to favor more services in French.

A total of 998 people votes ''yes'' to the question.

School board results, which were not finally tallied until past midnight, returned incumbent Art Buckland to the S.D.&G. County Board of Education. Mr. Buckland received 907 votes to 301 for Dr. William Fielding and 296 for Dr. Howard Thaw.

French separate school board trustee elected was Bernard Besner, who defeated Pina Stante, 1,780-447.

Clerk Treasurer Marcel Lapierre reported that 50.38 per cent of the approximately 6,100 eligible voters in Charlottenburgh came out to vote, up slightly from the 48 per cent who exercised their franchise in the 1985 municipal elections.

Correction

On page 9 of the November 9, 1988 edition of The Glengarry News, it was erroneously reported that Peter MacSweyn, a candidate for Lochiel Township council, was a member of St. Columba Presbyterian Church in Kirk Hill. Mr. MacSweyn is a member of the Kirk Hill United Church. The News apologizes for any confusion this might have caused.

Township of Lancaster
Council Briefs

The regular meeting of Lancaster Township council was held at the township office in North Lancaster on Wednesday, November 2. Reeve Bernie McDonell was absent. The following are among items dealt with by council.

Letter sent to petitioners

Council voted to send a letter to the seven petitioners who are against the Green Valley sewer project, asking if they would reconsider their position.

Seven residents with property on Lefebvre and Gabriel streets in Green Valley sent a petition to council about one month ago stating they were opposed to the $2.2 million project. Landowners with objections to the project can apply to the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) for a hearing which could delay the project for about one year.

Deputy Reeve Charlie Sangster said, "I think they (the petitioners) are way out in left field. They are getting $20,000 worth of work done for a couple of thousand."

The group is opposed because they feel their present systems are already adequate and their land was unfairly assessed.

"If they don't need it today they are going to need it before long. I bet their property value would go up by $15,000 the next day," added Mr. Sangster.

Council has the option of changing the service area to exclude the opposed landowners. If the township decides to change the boundaries, another proposal must be sent to the OMB.

Construction is scheduled to begin in July and continue until December 1989.

Severance approved

Council approved a land severance for Bruce Patterson of Metcalfe who owns property at Westley's Point.

Mr. Patterson attended the meeting to request that his 14,900 sq. ft. lot be divided into two lots; 5,000 sq. ft. and 9,900 sq. ft.

Before the severance was granted the landowner had to obtain approval from the Ontario Health Unit.

Under the township's zoning bylaw, the minimum square footage required to create a lot is 22,000. An amendment will be made to the bylaw following a public meeting early next year, at which time residents can voice objections.

Free trade key subject at federal debate

By Janet Clermont
Staff writer

Post office closures and the effects of free trade on local farmers were the key issues at a federal all-candidates debate at the St. Isidore Arena Wednesday night (Nov. 9).

Local farmers and members of the Canadian Postmasters and Assistants drilled the four candidates with questions about agricultural quotas and the government's plans for rural post offices.

About 350 people attended the debate which was sponsored by the Glengarry-Prescott-Russell federations of Agriculture.

Progressive Conservative candidate Roger Presseault assured the crowd that the free trade deal would not be detrimental to the farming industry because agriculture quotas are not touched by the deal.

"We did not sell out Canada. This is a hell of a good deal for Canada." Mr. Presseault added.

He said a lot of the farmers in the riding did not receive copies of the agreement and did not fully understand the deal.

Liberal incumbent Don Boudria said the agreement was "an important deal. They surrendered a lot and gained very little."

Mr. Boudria told the group that the Canadian Federation of Agriculture did not support the free trade deal.

New Democratic Party (NDP) hopeful Helena McCuaig said the deal would affect agriculture, adding that Canada needs a "comprehensive policy that covers farmers at all times. The Farm Credit Corporation has become another bank. It should have about an eight per cent interest rate. We need some type of stabilization program for farmers."

Mr. Presseault claimed that the PC government has lowered the borrowing rates at the credit corporation from 16 per cent to 12.5.

"It was out of money when we came into power and we brought them out of debt. My government has done a lot for the farmers," he added.

However, Mr. Boudria reminded the farmers that it was the Liberal government who set up the credit corporation about 30 years ago and "was not something invented by the Conservatives."

Libertarian candidate Jean-Serge Brisson said farmers are too dependent on the government.

"If the government didn't take so much in taxes it would reduce dependence on the credit corporation. There is no incentive for farmers to make a profit because they are so over-taxed," said Mr. Brisson.

The PC candidate, assistant to the former minister responsible for Canada Post Corporation was "drilled" over rural post office closures.

Members of the Canadian Postmasters and Assistants reminded the PC hopeful of the 63 female workers and 13 male employees in the 42 post offices in the riding who would lose their jobs if the offices were closed.

Mr. Presseault said in an interview after the debate on Thursday, "There is no such thing as post office closures."

He added that Canada Post is a crown corporation and the government has no control over its daily operation or management affairs except when a strike occurs.

Mr. Boudria said the post offices were in danger of being closed under the PC government and told the crowd that 83 per cent of the 10,000 employees of Canada Post's rural operations are female which would result in "the largest single firing of women" in Canadian history.

Mrs. McCuaig charged that "it was the Liberal government who began eliminating door-to-door services...I'm looking at you and you're saying where is the alternative and the alternative is with us," she said.

Mr. Brisson did not comment on the postal issues.

Shoulder pads

Well goodness, all you need now is a machine gun, a half-chewed cigar and someone to call Godfather. I mean this is beyond padding, beyond buffoon.

Believe it or not, there are natural routes to capturing the essence of a large ape. For instance one might investigate the sinew-building possibilities of life as a rickshaw operator or a piano mover. Or, you can haul babies to and fro in snuggle carriers. No babies of your own? Borrow some from friends and neighbors. Do the butterfly stroke whenever you find yourself in water up over your head. And instead of doing bench presses, try pressing benches. Last — but not least — throw all caution to the four winds and become a professional French baguette maker.

Finally, if some of these largely experimental alternatives seem out of the realm of possibility, and all kidding aside, this is the case for some, repeat this daily mantra: There is life after shoulder pads. There is...

Court report

The following are cases dealt with by Judge Reginald Levesque in Alexandria Provincial Court, Nov. 10.

Fined for indecent act

An Alexandria man was fined $100 after pleading guilty to performing an indecent act.

Dennis Deschamps, of 68 Main St., was arrested by Alexandria Police, Oct. 16, after he performed an indecent gesture toward two persons in a vehicle.

The young man was crossing Main Street when he made two indecent gestures to passengers in an oncoming vehicle.

The offender was given 30 days to pay the fine.

Assault nets probation

A Martintown man received a suspended sentence and was placed on probation for one year after pleading guilty to assault.

James Pratt of Dundas Street was arrested by Lancaster OPP in Charlottenburgh Township, June 17, after police received a complaint that an individual had been assaulted.

The investigation revealed that Mr. Pratt became involved in a dispute outside his home with a neighbor. During the dispute, the offender struck the victim in the face.

The victim was not injured in the altercation.

MOE confirms PCB storage

By Janet Clermont
Staff writer

A Ministry of Environment (MOE) investigation recently confirmed that PCB wastes were stored illegally at a site on the Glen Road in Charlottenburgh Township.

Inspector Dave Kerr of the Kingston branch said Monday, results from over 100 soil and liquid samples showed traces of PCBs. Mr. Kerr would not comment on the volume of the contaminant.

''All I can say is there were PCBs found in several containers including five-gallon pails, storage tanks and 100-gallon drums,'' he revealed.

An investigation was launched in mid-October on the storage site located on lots 11 and 12 Conc. 3 after the MOE received an anonymous tip. The land is owned by Robert Laframboise and is leased to Cornwall Factory Surplus. The site is located about 1.5 km east of Cornwall.

A warrant was issued Oct. 14 in Cornwall Provincial Court allowing the ministry to enter the property and confiscate documents from the Cornwall business.

The manager of Cornwall Factory Surplus was contacted by The Glengarry News on Monday, but would not comment on the investigation or release his name.

for PCBs in the surrounding area.

A residential area is located within 1 km of the site.

Mr. Kerr said that the storage site has not been closed off nor have operations ceased. He explained that the ministry has no authority to shut down operations at the site.

He added that the ministry will continue to investigate how the PCBs arrived on the site and where the contaminants came from.

MOE Senior Environmental Officer Don Munro of the Cornwall branch said Monday, transporting of PCBs is a ''lengthy process'' which the ministry oversees.

''There are specific ministry guidelines that must be followed on how PCBs are dealt with. Hauling must be done with a special vehicle by a licensed hauler. The route must also be approved by the ministry.

Another option is for the MOE to declare the location a PCB waste disposal site, explained Mr. Monroe.

He said that if that happens, the company would have to operate under ministry guidelines which include keeping records of all transfers and following proper transporting procedures.

''We're not saying anything. The ministry has their report,'' he said.

Mr. Kerr said the owners and operators met with the abatement section of MOE, which instructed and supervised the clean-up last week. The investigations and enforcement branch will now determine whether charges of ''management of PCB wastes without approval'' will be laid.

The ongoing investigation will involve gathering soil and ground water samples at the site. Should these samples reveal traces of contamination, the ministry may begin testing

The bicycle was taken sometime between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. on Nov. 2.

The value of the bicycle is unknown.

Impaired driving

A Cornwall man was charged with impaired driving after he lost control of the vehicle he was driving on Hwy. 401 near Summerstown Road, Nov. 6.

Gerald O'Neil, 51, was westbound in a 1988 Nissan coupe when the vehicle struck a guard rail and collided with the median.

Damage to the vehicle was severe.

Escaped injuries

A Cornwall woman escaped injuries after she failed to turn the vehicle she was driving and skidded into a utility pole on Cty. Rd. 19, Nov. 5.

Sandra Lunan, 32, was charged with ''failing to drive in marked lane.''

Ms. Lunan was westbound in a 1988 Ford coupe when the accident occurred. Damage to the vehicle was moderate.

Followed too close

Richard Jorgensen, 24, of Trenton, was charged with following too closely after the vehicle he was driving collided with the car in front of him, Nov. 7.

Mr. Jorgensen was westbound in a 1979 Chrysler coupe on Hwy. 2 in Glen Walter when his vehicle collided with a 1987 Hyundai sedan driven by John Dempster, 34, of Lot 24 Conc. 1 in Lancaster.

Damage to Mr. Jorgensen's vehicle was severe while damage to Mr. Dempster's car was light.

No charges were laid. Damage to the vehicle was severe.

Video available on Ontario airports

The Ministry of Transportation has released a new video tape on airports in Ontario entitled ''Gateways to the Future.''

The 25-minute presentation describes the role airports play in attracting business, fostering economic growth and delivering much-needed goods and services.

The film explores the impact of aviation on the provincial economy. More than 24 million passengers travel through Ontario airports each year, including three million tourists. It is estimated the aviation industry generates two per cent of Ontario's Gross Provincial Product.

The Ministry of Transportation of Ontario's (MTO) program for the development and operation of municipal and remote northern airports is also described.

''Gateways to the Future'' is available in both English and French through MTO's Aviation Office at 1201 Wilson Avenue, Downsview, (416) 235-4049.

Ecole Ste-Therese youngsters remember those who gave supreme sacrifice

NORTH LANCASTER
Diane Roy
347-3553

Last Friday (Nov. 11) students from all grades gathered in Ste. Thérèse school gymnasium to pay tribute to our Canadian war heroes either by poems, readings, presentations and musical numbers appropriate to Remembrance Day. Congratulations to director Jean-Pierre Bourdeau and his teaching staff for stressing with our children the great privilege of being a Canadian.

Youth appreciation

Following the touching Remembrance ceremony, the Optimist committee members for Youth Appreciation Week, Bernard Larocque, Bernard Besner and Maurice Desautels were on hand to present honor certificates to two students of each grade level who during the week showed the most progress in their school work or were outstanding in qualities established by their teachers.

Deserving recipients of such special certificates were: Claudia Ravary and Matthew Poirier, pre-kindergarten, for knowing well the class routine; Mélissa Dupuis and Mathieu Glaude from kindergarten, also for their good knowledge of class routine; Robert Brouillet and Philippe Legroulx, Grade 1 for their stability and effort; Jean-Yves Campeau and Christopher Corput, Grade 2, again for stability and effort; Steven Castonguay and Jean-François Parisé, Grade 3 for their creativity; Gérald Goulet for his progress and Laura Patrick for her effort and progress, Grade 4; André Hébert and Anik Samson of Grade 5 for their conduct; Sonia MacDonald and Isabelle Joanette of Grade 6 for their exemplary conduct; Brigitte Valade and Stéphane Boucher of Grade 7 for their politeness and Annabela Oliveira and Sophie Bombardier, Grade 8 for their respect and politeness.

Sincere congratulations! For lunch, all students were freely treated to hot dogs, beverages and desserts served with a smile by members of the North Lancaster Optimist Club. Thank you Optimists for your reliable encouragement.

Optimist French literary essay

North Lancaster Optimist Club is sponsoring again this year the French literary essay contest entitled: ''Freedom, our most precious heritage,'' for area francophone high school students. By Dec. 15, a panel of qualified judges will determine the winners and the best essay will become eligible at the district level along with the winning entries of other local Optimist clubs. Every participant is a winner at his or her local Optimist club level.

At the international level, bursaries of $5,000, $3,000 and $2,000 with trophies will be awarded to the first three winners. For detailed information and general rules, interested students should immediately contact members of the Optimist committee: either Bernard Besner at 347-2570, Pierre David at 347-7182 or Donald Roy at 347-3553. Good luck to each participant.

ESRG-GDHS honor roll

Upon a visit last week to ESRG-GDHS, I was happy to read several familiar names of North Lancaster students who proudly figure on the high school's honor roll.

Congratulations and continued success to the following who obtained a recent honor average of over 75 per cent: Jean Vaillancourt, David Carrière, Stéphane Elie, Stéphane Décoste, Soni Mundi and Patrick Ravary, Grade 9; Annelise Shipton, Dominique Faubert, Nathalie Joanette, Dominique Roy and Patrick Campeau, Grade 10; Marjolaine Besner and Myriam Dubois, Grade 11; Sylvain Faubert, Julie Carrière, John Maville and Paul Shipton, Grade 12, and Heather Ann Campbell and Mark Shipton, Grade 12 (special subjects).

New mass hours

Since Father Witold's health has improved, the return of two Sunday masses becomes effective this Sunday (Nov. 20). From now on masses will be at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. on Sundays while the Saturday evening mass remains at 7:30 p.m.

Condolences

Sincere sympathy goes out to Donat and Cecile Ouimet of RR1 North Lancaster on the sudden loss of their 43-year-old son, Paul Ouimet of Ottawa on Nov. 6. The funeral mass, officiated by Father Guy Paiement of Montreal and by Father Witold Mazurkiewicz, was held last Friday in Glen Nevis church followed by burial in the parish cemetery. Our thoughts and prayers are with the bereaved family.

Union Culturelle winners

Last Sunday evening at Ste. Thérèse school, a large crowd socialized at the annual card party sponsored by the ladies of North Lancaster's UCFO. Lucky winners of a most enjoyable evening were Jean Marleau (10 games) and Gloria Poirier (eight games). Door prizes were won by Alcide Campeau, Angeline Poirier, Beatrice Labelle, Edouard Menard and Emile Pigeon. Skunk prizes were given to Madeleine Menard and to Rémi Campeau. Happy winners of the two grocery boxes were Gisèle Giroux Besner and brother-in-law Guy Besner. Grand winner of the superb hand-quilted bedspread was Anna Gaigg of RR2, Green Valley. President Florence Claude and all members are most grateful to each participant for the successful evening.

New business

On Saturday (Nov. 12), I was happy to travel to La Prairie, Que., with my mother Lucille Poirier and her husband Ubald Poirier of Alexandria to the official opening of ''Les Vignes du Seigneur,'' an enterprise where clients can buy the necessary apparatus and natural products to make their own wine, beer and liqueurs. Proud owners of the outlet are Lise and Gilles Lacombe. The latter is a native of North Lancaster and the older son of the late René Lacombe and your correspondent's brother. Friends and relatives are wishing success and a bright future to the enterprising couple in this increasingly popular business in the neighboring province.

Wedding congratulations

Best wishes of happiness to Sylvain Gareau, son of Germain and Marina Gareau of our village who was wed to Valerie Wilson of Hamilton last Sept. 9. The couple is working in Toronto and residing in Etobicoke, Ont.

Anniversaries

A most happy 20th wedding anniversary to neighbors André and Hélène Décoeur today (Nov. 16) and special birthday wishes to three-year-old Mathieu Glaude on Thursday, Nov. 17.

Optimist breakfast

Wives and children of several Optimist members were pleasantly treated to a delicious breakfast by their gracious husbands and fathers last Sunday morning at Robin's restaurant. The popular family event is bound to become a monthly custom. Hats off to you dear North Lancaster Optimists!

Now folks, brace yourself for Canadian history next Monday! It seems that election season is stealing the limelight from Christmas . . .

Recently deceased Glen Robertson resident remembered with a poem

GLEN ROBERTSON
Colette Sauvé
874-2076

Carolyn MacDonald was called home last Wednesday. The funeral service was held last Friday in St. Martin of Tours Church and was conducted by Father Denis Lefebvre and our former pastor, Father Denis Vaillancourt. She leaves to mourn her death her dad, John A. MacDonald; three brothers, Danny, Brian and Donald John, all of Glen Robertson and one sister, Joan (Mrs. Gerry Faubert) of Cornwall.

To ease the pain of all those who will miss her, I dedicate this poem which is entitled ''More love and beauty there'':

When loved ones cross the sunset sea,
God never meant that there should be
Lonely hours of sorrow for
Those who are left upon the shore.
For if he filled this world of ours
With love and stars and fragrant flowers
How can we doubt his tender care
Will give more love and beauty there?

Our sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Martin Wylie who died recently. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Wylie. Also, our deepest sympathy to Marguerite and Georges Gauthier and the family on the recent loss of his brother who lived in Abitibi.

St. Andrew's concert Friday night

By Angus H. McDonell

An advance appraisal of the Glengarry Highland Society St. Andrew's concert program to be held this Friday night in the Glengarry District High School-Ecole Secondaire Regionale Glengarry auditorium rates among the most entertaining ever staged in the 170 years since the founding of the Society in 1818.

The cast is mostly Glengarry talent supplemented with a special number rendered by representatives from Glengarry's Scottish counterpart, historic Cape Breton.

The curtain-raiser will be the traditional rousing welcome by the Brigadoons and it is expected veteran Jackie Smith will be back again after a lengthy recuperation from a heart problem that caused his absence this time last year.

Rae MacCulloch and her dancers will be in attendance marking another milestone in the lengthy prestigious teaching career of the one time Grant lassie.

Among the recently reorganized Highland Society objectives is to maintain heritage customs by having Glengarry youth of grade-school age participate in annual St. Andrew's concerts to thus become acquainted with the traditional music, song and dance of their ancestors. Last year Alexandria's Alexander School introduced this plan and this year the Laggan Public School instrumental group will represent the youth program.

There will be plenty of violin music by the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel and the Glengarry Old Time Fiddlers plus Cape Breton airs by Sandy McIntyre of the Cape Breton Symphony accompanied by George McInnis. Rev. Ian MacMillan will join his colleagues by step dancing.

There will also be a variety of soloists notable the Morris family. This group is the family's third generation contributing to St. Andrew's concerts. Their grandparents Michael and Grace Morris were with highland casts before World War One, then their children, Grace, Ida, John and Howard carried on the tradition and for some years the children of Howard and Gwen Morris filled that role with class entertainment.

Mrs. Geraldine Tibbals (Anna Margaret MacDonald's sister) will add to the soloists and with a variety of Gaelic and English lyrics the Glengarry singers should be popularly received. There are Milton and Marvin MacDonald, J. P. Touchette, Ken McKenna, Brian MacDonell, Brent Beaudette and John Vipond. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Ann McKenna.

The Glengarry Pipe Band directed by leader Colin MacLellan will close the first part of the program and then after a brief intermission open the remaining numbers. Incidentally a hearty round of applause should greet the pipe band as they are the Grade 4 champions of North America and now rank at the Grade 3 level.

The program opens at 8 p.m. and there are no reservations; however 600 seats will be available to accommodate the expected sell-out crowd.

Lancaster Village

Council Briefs

The regular meeting of Lancaster Village council was held at the village office, Nov. 2. The following are items dealt with by council.

Complaints of messy yard

Council has received a number of complaints from village citizens over the appearance of a local resident's property.

The complaints stem from the untidy appearance of the property of Bruce Knox, who resides on High Street.

"We've had a number of complaints about the unsightly appearance of his yard and property. There are complaints he has too many dogs on his property and his yard is messy," Reeve Milton MacDonald said.

Mr. MacDonald said he has talked to Mr. Knox in the past about cleaning up his yard, but nothing has been done to correct the problem.

Council recently sent a letter to Mr. Knox's solicitor, advising him of the complaints in hopes of persuading Mr. Knox to clean up his property.

"It's been a continuing problem and I hope Mr. Knox will make an effort to clean his property," Mr. MacDonald said.

Renews insurance policy

Council passed a motion to renew the village's insurance policy for 1989 with the Frank Cowan Company Ltd., which is represented locally by Rozon Insurance Brokers Ltd.

Lloyd Rozon, proprietor of the local insurance firm, attended the council meeting to discuss the new insurance policy proposal for the village.

Council also received a bid from OME Brokers Ltd., an agent for the Rural Ontario Municipal Association (ROMA).

"I think Mr. Rozon broke down his policy pretty good and I would have to lean toward his company. I think his policy gives us good coverage and he's also a local business," Councillor Jeanette Abbey said.

Mortgage dwindles down

After opening its doors in 1985 at a cost of $60,000, Smithsfield Hall could be paid for by next spring.

Councillor Ron Sinnott, a member of the Lancaster Recreation Committee said "We only owe $5,000 of the $60,000 it cost to construct the building. We hope to have the building paid for by the spring. We are all very proud of the fact we only owe this small amount and it will be paid for in such a short period," Mr. Sinnott said.

Money raised to pay off the building's mortgage has been done through fundraising events and rental of the hall.

Mr. Sinnott also said a tile floor will be installed in the near future at a cost of about $2,500. There are also plans to expand the building.

Bylaw officer needed

Council members agreed a bylaw enforcement officer should be hired in the near future.

"The village needs someone to enforce bylaws and there's really about five jobs involved with the position," Councillor Ron Sinnott said.

Some of the responsibilities of a bylaw enforcement officer include the issuing of dog tags and fines and the enforcing of municipal bylaws and property standards.

"We really need someone to issue building permits and to take care of other areas such as animal control because the village is growing," Reeve Milton MacDonald said.

The new council is expected to hire a person for the position.

Glens cling to first following wins

By Peter Conway
Sports editor

The Westport Rideaus entered Sunday's interlocking Rideau-St.Lawrence Division game with the Alexandria Glens with a third-place record in the Rideau Division.

After only 20 minutes at the Glengarry Sports Palace, the Rideaus looked more like a last-place club. The Glens erupted with 10 first-period goals and went on to post a convincing 13-4 win over a hapless Westport club.

Sunday's victory, coupled with Saturday's 5-3 road-win over Cardinal-Spencerville, improved the Glens' record to 7-3-2 and a one-point lead over second-place Char-Lan in the battle for first place.

With a 10-0 advantage after the opening stanza, it put Glens' coach Peter DeRooy in an unfamiliar, but satisfying position.

"I have never been in a situation where I have been ahead 10-0 after one period. I thought we played a hell of a first period. But, what do you tell your players with a 10-goal lead? It's difficult to motivate the players and I'm sure it was hard for the players. When you have a big lead, the players try to make the perfect plays," DeRooy said.

DeRooy was particularly pleased with the effort of forward Mike Sauvé. The second-year player has had problems scoring early in the season, but broke out of his slump with a three-goal performance.

"I was glad to see Mike break out of his scoring slump. He skated well with the puck and it was his best game of the season. The whole line (Scott Barnes, Marc Sauvé) played well. Barnes had been the only player scoring recently, but Marc Sauvé also played well and I was happy with his performance."

Another player who turned in an impressive performance was rookie defenceman Daniel Levert. Still a midget-aged player, Levert scored twice in the lopsided win.

"Daniel is getting better every week and I'm really happy with his effort in recent outings," said the Glens' coach.

Andy Meth and Scott Barnes also contributed a pair of goals each, while singles went to Francis Marleau, Glen Campbell, Paul Gauthier and Stephane Lacelle. Barnes also collected four assists.

Chris Skroyna paced Westport with a pair of goals, while Derek Zarzicky and Robert Parslow added singles.

FROM THE SIDELINES

Memories from the past

After recently watching a Canadian College football game on the tube, it conjured up memories from the past. It was in the mid '70's when I first made the trek from Vankleek Hill as a member of the Vankleek Hill Collegiate Institute junior football team to face rival Glengarry Gaels.

At VCI, members of the football team always looked forward to playing the Gaels. It was fierce but friendly rivalry. Personally, there was always some extra incentive for me against the Gaels.

At the time, I had relatives attending GDHS and I don't have to remind you of the needling that went on after the games, win or lose.

Students looked forward to Friday afternoon. It meant an afternoon of high school football. At VCI, and I'm sure at most high schools, pep rallies were held. As a player, it was an unbelievable feeling to be introduced in front of the student body in the gymnasium at noon the day of a big game.

VCI's student body of about 550 or so, parents and friends, lined the football field. VCI wasn't the largest school in the league at the time, but it fielded competitive teams.

There was something special about high school football in various communities. Residents of Alexandria, Vankleek Hill, Maxville, Williamstown and Hawkesbury came to cheer for their favorite team. There wasn't a more enjoyable way to spend a fall afternoon.

Well, now that football no longer is a part of the interscholastic high school sports calendar in SD&G schools, those of us who played or watched the sport over the years still cherish the memories.

Memories? Playing on a soaked, mud-covered field in Maxville against a formidable team coached by Don Bond, or beating a heavily-favored Char-Lan squad in a semi-final game in Williamstown.

Those are only a couple of special moments I remember about high school football. But perhaps the thought and preparation of beating the Gaels and coach Stanley Fraser is one of the things I enjoyed. It was always a war against the Gaels.

Stanley was an extremely dedicated coach on the gridiron.

As an opponent, we respected Stanley. It seemed as if he had coached the Gaels forever. His clubs were always well prepared and even in defeat, it was a struggle to the final gun.

Having been employed at this newspaper just over five years, I saw Jean-Yves Jeaurond succeed Stanley as the Gaels' senior football coach.

Jean-Yves also enjoyed success on the field and carried on the winning football tradition at the school. And I'm sure, like a lot of us, Jean-Yves misses football at times.

I enjoyed talking to Jean-Yves after a game as a reporter. But most of all, Friday afternoons in the autumn, watching players bang heads, was something special. Football was a big part of high school life.

Students looked forward to football in the fall. It was what high school was all about for some kids. Sure, the academic factor was the reason for attending school. But football was the required motivation for some kids throughout their high school career.

Because of lack of interest, budget cuts or any other reason, high school football died in the area a couple of years ago. And it won't be back in the future. At least we have the memories to cherish.

Another success

The annual Maxville and District Lions Club's recent Football Night was again a success. The Lions Club do a great job with this project year after year.

Dave Findlay and the rest of the club's organizers deserve a pat on the back for giving the Ottawa Rough Riders Football Club their support throughout the past 10 years it's been held.

Keep up the good work Maxville Lions Club!

Loyer, McDonell record hat tricks

The Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, home of the Char-Lan Minor Hockey Association, was forced to cancel all scheduled games on Nov. 9 because of a power outage caused by an accident in Williamstown. The results of games played during the rest of the week are given below.

Bantams

The trio of Kirk Pennell, Adam Lefebvre and Kurtis Latreille combined to provide the scoring as the Bantam Rebels dropped North-Glen-Stor, 3-1. Paul Jackson had the goal for N.G.S. in the Nov. 13 Lower St. Lawrence league game played in Finch.

Atoms

Char-Lan Rebel Atoms played home and away games against Massena this week, tying one and losing one. Kelsey Lemire had Williamstown's goal in the 1-1 draw, while Darrell McDonell notched a pair in Rebels' 4-2 defeat.

Alexandria blanked Char-Lan, 2-0, in a Lower St. Lawrence league game played Nov. 12.

Novice

Hat-tricks from Stephane Loyer and Kent McDonell and a single from Jamie Lemire, powered the Claude Nunney Novices to a 7-2 victory over South Stormont. Gerry Goulet was the man in the nets for Char-Lan.

House League

In what was described as "just a great game," Alexandria Pizzeria nipped Char-Lan's Lancaster Pharmacy, 2-1 in Peewee House league competition. Kyle Anderson and Pierre Lauzon scored for the visitors, while Julien Menard hit the mark for Char-Lan.

Novice

Dean Fraser fired a hat-trick as Curry Hill Lumber dropped McCuaig Plumbing, 3-1, in a game played Nov. 12.

Williamstown Fire Department defeated Rozon Insurance, 3-2 in a squeaker on Saturday.

Powerplay helps Athens

By Peter Conway
Sports editor

Char-Lan Rebels' penalty-killing unit hasn't had much work in recent games in the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League.

The club has been disciplined on the ice and shied away from the penalty box. That was, until Saturday night. The visiting Athens Aeros scored three powerplay goals en route to an entertaining 5-5 draw at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, Saturday night.

The Rebels picked up five points with a pair of wins and tie over the weekend and trail divisions-leading Alexandria Glens by a point in the battle for first place.

The Rebels led 2-1 after one period on goals by Tom Reno and Kevin Poapst, while Ed Palmer, with his first of two, tallied for Athens.

Athens went ahead 3-2 early in the middle stanza on powerplay goals by Palmer and Jeff Seed. Gilles Lafrance brought the Rebels even with his first goal of the season.

But the Aeros took a two-goal lead into the third period when Seed scored his second of the night and Steve McLean struck on the powerplay.

"It was an entertaining game and pretty even, but we picked up five penalties in the second period and Athens scored three powerplay goals. Our specialty teams fell apart," said Rebels' Manager John Chafee.

The Rebels drew to within one goal early in the third period on a goal by Ronnie Lefebvre. Then, with just over two minutes left in regulation time, Mathieu Germain sent the contest into overtime after he was set up by Kelly Primeau and Roddie MacKenzie. It was MacKenzie's fourth assist during his night's work.

Both clubs managed only one shot each in overtime, but the Rebels could have won the contest as Germain's shot hit the crossbar.

Loses in volleyball final

St. Joseph's Secondary School captured the SD&G junior boys A volleyball championship over Tagwi Secondary School in straight games last Wednesday, but Tagwi coach Joe Stelmach says he's satisfied with his team's performance this season.

"Overall, I'm satisfied with our season. The team I coached had a good attitude and were a very coachable bunch of kids," Stelmach said shortly after his club's defeat in the final.

Though St. Joseph's won 15-9, 15-7, and 15-6 in straight games, Stelmach said the two clubs were fairly even on the court.

"I think both team were fairly even, but we didn't attack as well today (Wednesday) as in the past. We weren't sharp with our spiking. St. Joseph's spiked a lot better. The floor play of both teams was good, but it came down to St. Joseph's executing better than us," Stelmach said, who'll now turn his attention to coaching boys basketball.

Tagwi finished in first place in their division following the regular-season schedule and gained home-court advantage for the championship game.

At an earlier tournament in the season, Tagwi lost the opening game to St. Joseph's 15-7, but rebounded to win the next two games by scores of 15-11 and 15-3.

St. Joseph's earned a trip to the final following a three-straight semi-final victory over General Vanier Secondary School.

Atoms tie South Stormont

Alexandria Caisse Populaire Atoms skated to a 2-2 draw against South Stormont on home ice in a Lower St. Lawrence Hockey League contest, Sunday.

Jean-Joel Trottier and Scott Nielsen were the marksmen for Alexandria, while assists went to Chancey Lajoie and Joel Menard.

At the Glengarry Sports Palace, Saturday night, Alexandria blanked Char-Lan 2-0. Jean-Joel Trottier sparked the attack with one goal and an assist, while Eric Hagen rounded out the scoring. Julien Oetelaar and Roch Lavigne shared the shutout between the pipes.

In a game played Nov. 10 at Maxville, Alexandria dropped a 3-2 decision to North-Glen-Stor. Alexandria's goals came off the sticks of Jean-Joel Trottier and Mark Laferriere.

Alexandria's record in the Lower St. Lawrence Hockey League is four wins, three losses and three ties.

Knights win two league games

Stephane Boisvenue and Guy Lauzon scored once each and added an assist to spark the Alexandria Knights of Columbus Novice hockey team to a 4-1 win over South Stormont, Sunday.

Jason Poirier and Sylvain Campeau rounded out the scoring. Greg Lalonde picked up a pair of assists, while single helpers went to Kurt MacSweyn and Andrew Bowen.

Lee Charlebois was the lone marksman for South Stormont.

In an exhibition game on Nov. 12 at Vankleek Hill, Alexandria and Vankleek Hill skated to a 4-4 draw. Jason Poirier led Alexandria with a pair of goals and one assist, while Kurt MacSweyn scored once and set up two goals. Greg Lalonde completed the scoring, while Ryan Neilsen had a pair of assists and Stephane Boisvenue one assist.

Kevin Cadieux led Vankleek Hill with two goals, while Francois Turpin and Robbie Rutherford added singles.

In a league contest on Nov. 10 at Maxville, Kurt MacSweyn fired a pair of markers to spark Alexandria past North-Glen-Stor 3-1. Stephane Boisvenue chipped in with a single marker. Jason Poirier had two assists, while Tammy MacSweyn had one.

Eric Bourgeois was the lone goal scorer for North-Glen-Stor.

Paquette scores four in win

Andre Paquette fired four goals to spark Maxville in a 9-5 victory over Lancaster in the Border Hockey League Sunday.

Brian Wensink and Willie Kippen chipped in with a pair each for the winners, while Denis Verville added a single.

Lancaster's goals came off the sticks of Sandy MacLennan, Rob Roy MacDonell, Tim McDougall, Glen McKay and Gerry Blanchette.

In Sunday's other game, Frank St. Pierre scored three times to lift Green Valley past Glen Nevis 13-4. Scoring two each were Leo Seguin, Andre Cholette and Paul Seguin. Singles went to Norman Seguin, Leonard Seguin, Luc Sabourin and Mike Gauthier.

Stephen Stewart led Glen Nevis with two goals, while Joey McRae and Robert MacDonald added singles.

Two games were played last Thursday night. Gerry Leroux's pair sparked Maxville to a convincing 7-2 win over Green Valley. Singles went to Luc Lalonde, Willie Kippen, Andre Paquette, Brian Wensink and Ron Besner.

Leo Seguin and Leonard Seguin replied for Green Valley.

In the other contest, Lancaster skated to a 9-6 win over Glen Nevis. Mike Lapensee sparked the winners with two goals, while Sandy MacLennan, Mike Mulhern, Gerry Blanchette, Rob Roy MacDonell, Millan MacPherson and Glen McKay added singles.

Replying for Glen Nevis were David McKay, Joey McRae, Mark Titley, Stephen Stewart, John MacSweyn and Findley McLeod.

place,'' said DeRooy.

Barnes tallies three

Scott Barnes scored three goals in the club's win in Cardinal, Saturday night. The Glens jumped out to a 2-0 lead after the opening stanza and increased the lead to 4-1 after two periods.

What looked like a comfortable lead, disappeared in the third period as Cardinal scored twice to pull to within one goal.

''We had them 4-1, but we took a rash of penalties and made it hard on ourselves. But give Cardinal a lot of credit because their players never gave up and they got back into the game in the third period with their powerplay,'' said the Glens' coach.

Also scoring for the Glens were Andrew McCormick and Stephane Lacelle. Anthony Gilmour scored twice for Cardinal, while Dave Perry added a single.

Though Cardinal has a losing record in the Rideau Division, DeRooy says his club can't take any opponent lightly.

''It doesn't matter which division the clubs are in. You can't take anyone lightly in this league. We beat Westport easy at home and I'm sure it will be a tougher game for us on their rink,'' he says.

Glens' Notes: The Glens host Winchester at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Friday night and then travel to Westport on Sunday for a matinee encounter.

After losing to cellar-dwelling Winchester two weeks ago, DeRooy says his club is looking forward to Friday's game.

''The players haven't forgotten about the loss in Winchester a couple of weeks ago and I'm sure they'll be ready for Winchester, Friday evening.''

Andrew McCormick sat out Sunday's game because of a one-game suspension he was assessed for a fighting altercation in Cardinal, Saturday night.

Forward Andre Lapensee dressed against Cardinal, making his first appearance of the season. He has missed the early part of the campaign because of shoulder surgery. He didn't play Sunday, however, because the shoulder was sore. He's expected to skate this week at practice and he may play on the weekend.

Powerplays help Athens tie Rebs

on Friday night with an 8-2 win over the Lions in Morrisburg. The third period was added to a previous contest played Nov. 5 in Williamstown. At the time, the Rebels led 6-3 after two periods, but the contest was suspended after the lights went out.

A league decision last week ruled that third-period goals in Friday's game would be added onto the score of the suspended game.

''We outscored Morrisburg 3-0 in the third period and that was added onto the incompleted game. It was a good weekend for us and we're very satisfied we picked up the five points,'' said Chafee.

Kevin Poapst led the Rebels with four goals, while Mathieu Germain scored a pair and singles came from Blake McDonell and Daryl Menard.

Morrisburg's goals came off the sticks of Robbie Whitteker and Jason Smith.

Rebels' Notes: The Rebels host Gananoque Platers at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre, Saturday night. The club travels to Athens Sunday night to face the Aeros.

Chafee says motivation shouldn't be a problem for the players against Gananoque.

''When we played at Gananoque, we had a bad second period and we were embarassed because the Platers scored seven goals against us. I think the boys will be ready to play.''

The club has lost the services of veteran defenceman Chris Leblanc because of his difficulty juggling work and hockey.

''It's unfortunate Chris won't be playing with us, but he told us he's had trouble getting time off from work to play. He had only played about three games this season. Chris was a good team player and we'll miss him,'' said Chafee.

Darin Menard dressed Friday night in Morrisburg, but didn't finish the game because of a sore knee. Chris Villeneuve reinjured a tender ankle Friday night also, but he could be back in the lineup this weekend.

Carriere records third shutout

Roger Carriere recorded his third consecutive shutout to spark the Lancaster Rovers to a 2-1 win over Cornwall F.I.S.T. in a Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League contest, Monday night.

Alan Brown scored both goals for the Rovers. The victory lifted the Rovers into a first-place tie with the Glengarry Stars.

The Stars got a pair of goals each from Lyndon McNaughton and Jeff Lowe in a 6-1 win over defending league-champion Cornwall Strikers.

Don Pidgeon and Darrell Hay completed the scoring for the Stars. Bogdan Bojocek ruined Stephan Roman's shutout bid.

Greg Cooper's two goals lifted the Avonmore Pacers to a 4-4 draw against Cornwall F.I.S.T. Singles went to Howard Saunders and Les Bradshaw.

Guy Carriere scored twice for F.I.S.T., while Tim Snyder and Jason Kilger added singles.

In the final contest, St. Lawrence College blanked Char-Lan United 3-0.

Sauvé scores

Sultan Drugs Bantams squandered a 3-0 lead and went on to lose a 6-4 decision over Cornwall in a Lower St. Lawrence Hockey League contest at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Thursday night.

Patrick Sauvé sparked the Alexandria attack with a pair of goals and one assist, while Randy Gebbie and Stephane Pilon chipped in with singles.

Bantam club holds on for victory

Sooter Photo Royals dropped a pair of games recently, but did manage a victory in Minor Bantam "AA" play.

In Tuesday's action at the Richmond arena with the Ottawa Valley Titans, the Royals hung on to squeak out a narrow 4-3 victory. First period goals from Geoff Hare assisted by Patrick Campeau, and Pierre St. Jean from Kevin Duchesne and Robbie Domanko, gave the Royals the lead before the Titans connected on a goal from Yakubuski in the second.

The teams exchanged third period goals with Trevor Thompson and Jordan Hart connecting for the Royals, and O'Connell and Lacasse replying for the Titans. Royals outshot the Valley 20-13 with Trevor McMillan in the Royals goal, outstanding on numerous occasions.

In Saturday's play at the Civic Complex, the Sooter Royals blew a two-goal first period lead in losing 3-2 to the Cumberland Barons. First period goals by Hare from Thompson, and Campeau from Hare stood up until midway through the second period, when the Barons evened the count on goals from Lacombe and Decarie.

A late third-period goal by Riopelle gave the Barons the lead for the win. Royals outshot their opposition 21-12. Yves Leger in the Royals net provided some key stops.

In a return visit from the Valley Titans, Sunday, at the Maxville Sports Complex, Sooter Royals came out on the short end of a 5-3 decision with Steve Lacasse getting a hat trick, and Lawrence Brennan adding two for the Titans' victory.

The teams exchanged first-period goals with Domanko connecting for the Royals from Travis Duhaime and Corey Maxam, and took a 2-1 lead in the second period on a goal by Maxam from Thompson and Hare.

Four unanswered third-period goals by the Titans were more than enough to bury the Royals despite outshooting their opposition 32-17. Trevor McMillan handled the goaltending chores.

Very best wishes are extended to Joyce Ferguson, who is in an Ottawa hospital, for a speedy convalescence.

* * *

Sympathy is expressed to Marjorie and Gralton MacPherson in the death of their brother-in-law, Bert Renfrew of Cornwall. The late Mr. Renfrew was a good friend of this community and contributed much while he lived here.

It has been said before and is worth repeating that it is always good to have former residents back for visits. This time is was Helen and Donald McEwen, Campbellford and Violet and Dr. Don Gamble, Metcalfe.

If anyone is interested in owning a five-month-old pup, a cross between a Shepherd and a St. Bernard, your correspondent may be contacted for information. It is a female and a good size so would be ideal for a country home.

Richard Burton Sr. phoned to announce the arrival of the evening grosbeaks at his farm south of Maxville. I suggested that he feed them well so that they would stay there. These are lovely-looking birds and would be more welcome at our feeders if they did not fight so much, if their appetites were more delicate and if they came in smaller numbers.

Mr. Burton also reported having juncos. These little slate-colored birds are ground feeders so should be fed there with small seeds in order to encourage them to stay around.

Since my last column, the gold finches have come back to our feeders. The expensive black niger seed is best to attract them.

The date for the next Manor euchre in last week's paper should have been Nov. 17 instead of Nov. 18. These euchres have always been held on Thursday evenings and this one, tomorrow (Thursday) evening will be the last of the season.

* * *

Mechanic Street West is all nicely paved now, the curbs have been in for a while and the sidewalks have also been laid. The sidewalk runs all the way on the north side of the street and one on the south side from Main Street to the community hall apartments is an added improvement.

These apartments are ready for the tenants but will not be used until the sewage system is in operation.

It appears that the last piece of sewer pipe for this fall was laid last week from the post office up to the corner. Streets are in pretty good shape and if the weather holds, more of them should receive their first coats of pavement.

Maxville and District Lions Club has a 50-50 draw running this fall. The first three winners were Annie Wensink and John Coleman, village residents and Andre Currier from Dyer. The pot is smaller this year with the winnings so far ranging from $35 to $41.

* * *

It was appropriate that all our places of business were closed on Remembrance Day from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. However, it is hoped that next year the hours of closure and the time of the ceremony at our veterans' monument will coincide.

* * *

Our public school has purchased a most interesting, informative and educationally sound magazine entitled "The Monthly Max." Congratulations to all the students and teachers involved with it. There are 16 pages of stories, sketches, cartoons, teacher write-ups, events, interviews, puzzles and a question-and-answer column.

The newsletter from the school indicates that the grades 4, 5 and 6 classes visited the Museum of Natural Sciences in Ottawa with their teachers Judith Welland and Joan McKay.

The official opening of the new addition to the school will be held on Nov. 24 at 1:30 p.m.

Volunteers to assist individual students with reading in the grades 4 and 5 class are needed. The most important qualification of the volunteer should be a desire to encourage reluctant readers to read for enjoyment.

The next meeting of the Manor auxiliary is Monday evening at 8 p.m. at the Manor.

Maxville war veterans' service

A very impressive service was conducted at the Maxville war veterans' monument on Remembrance Day at 2 p.m. The Cornwall Sea Cadet Band led the color party to the site and was responsible for appropriate music at different times in the program.

Sea Cadet Officer Vincent Jasiewicz was master of ceremonies. The Rev. Father Rejean Lebrun and the Rev. Frank Bailey each spoke and offered prayers. Councillor Allan Douglas represented the Village of Maxville and spoke briefly.

After two minutes of silence, Joseph Rolland read "In Flanders Field."

An abundance of lovely wreaths were laid at the base of the monument. For the Federal Government, Mary Ann Boudria, representing her husband, Don Boudria, was first, followed by MPP Noble Villeneuve, representing the provincial government. Ann Michaud, mother-of-the-year placed her wreath, Maxville War Veterans' wreath was laid by Seargeant-at-Arms Arthur Durocher, the one for the Village of Maxville by Allan Douglas, the Township of Roxborough's by Reeve Donald Cumming, the Township of Kenyon's by Reeve Wilfred Vallance, the Moose Creek CWL's by Anne Vander-Wielen and the Maxville Firefighters' by Ray Charbonneau. Others were placed by individuals representing organizations and in memory of individuals. These included representatives from the Bank of Nova Scotia, Royal Canadian Sea Cadets, St. Bernard School, Maxville Boy Scouts and the Jasiewicz family. Others were Velma Franklin, Grace Doth, Alojzy Kowalski, Carole Paquette, Edith Kiteley, Edgar Currier and one by Joseph Rolland in memory of the unknown soldier.

At the end of the ceremony, the band led the color party to the Maxville and District Sports Complex where all those in attendance were invited for refreshments.

Young at Heart euchre

This last euchre of the season, held on Nov. 7, saw King Dan MacRae lead the men followed by John McMaster, another frequent winner from Laggan. Mr. McMaster was a 50-50 draw winner as well. George Jackson from Monkland took third prize money.

For the ladies, Margaret Cadieux, Alexandria, had top score followed by Gladys Barton from Vankleek Hill and Gloria Rolland.

Flora Chisholm, Dunvegan had her ticket drawn for the door prize. Another Dunvegan resident, Kenneth MacLeod was twice lucky in the 50-50 draw with the other winners being Jean Smith, Vankleek Hill; Ranald McPherson, Alexandria; Marie O'Brien, Monkland; Ada Johnson, Finch; Clare Markell, Lunenburg; Margaret Michaud and her mother-in-law, Ann Michaud.

The gang will be getting together again next spring and in the meantime have a good winter. Thanks also to those who supplied your correspondent with the results of the euchres every two weeks.

Members of La Vie Montante met for their monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Presiding was Isidore Secours as animator and Sister Rita Quesnelle as spiritual counsellor. Father Raymond Dumoulin was ready to help with every question asked as was Sister Jeanette.

Correspondence was read by Irene Menard and Thérèse Lortie gave the financial report. Cards of sympathy were sent as were get-well cards. Members also reported a few visits to the sick who are in hospital and nursing homes.

The meeting mass was celebrated by Father Raymond with members as celebrants. Sunday, Nov. 28, members will have their mass at 9 p.m. They will be in charge of the special ceremonies and readings.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 13 in the parish hall.

Don't forget, Bible study courses are given the first Thursday of every month at 2 p.m. at the convent. Next session: Dec. 1.

A reminder

Daughters of Isabella will meet today (Wednesday) at the Knights of Columbus hall at 8 p.m.

* * *

Come and meet our new regent, Suzanne Vaillancourt of Green Valley. A good hand of applause to you Suzanne, for work well-done on Sunday at the installation of officers. A thank you also to Fernande Montpetit for the good breakfast. Bravo to both of you.

Hospitalized

Gérard Léger of Green Valley was in Hotel Dieu recuperating after surgery last week. Parishioners send you their best wishes for a speedy recovery.

Election

I hope you went out to vote Monday. If not, next Monday (Nov. 21) is the federal election. Try and get out to vote.

Correction

In my column last week there was an error. Wilfrid and Raymond Cuierrier weren't father and son; they were two brothers, the eldest and the youngest of a large family. Both birthdays were on Oct. 24 and they had 24 years difference in age. Thank you.

* * *

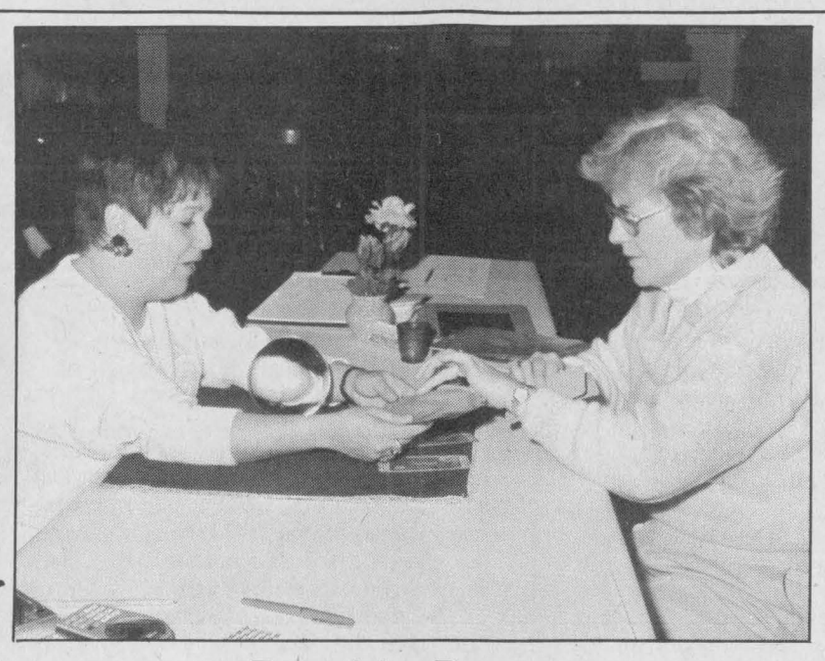
These days there is lots of talk in the air about the elections. After the elections, Christmas will not be far behind.

It seems like yesterday that we finished 1987 Christmas preparations. Gee, the time flies!

And if you want to keep busy, think about taking my column over for a while and you'll see how fast it goes by. By the way, anybody interested in taking this column after the holidays, I'm ready to give it up for a while. A new face sometimes is good. I love writing my column but it's time for a break. So just give me a buzz.

Hairstylist

Lise Lefebvre received her hairstylist's diploma in October, 1988. She is the daughter of Gerald and Rhea Lefebvre of Green Valley and is currently working at St. Laurent in Cornwall Square in Cornwall.



Psychic Powers

A Psychic Fair was held at the Bonnie Glen, Nov. 6. Psychic Nicole Staver of Montreal, who specializes in astrology, numerology and crystal ball reading was one of the consultants who took part in the fair. Mrs. Shaver, left, is involved in a numerology session with Moira Juillet.

W MacKinnon
527-2348

A successful canvass in support of the Canadian Bible Society was reported at the Maxville-St. Elmo branch meeting held in St. Andrew's Church, Maxville, on Sunday evening (Nov. 13). The St. Elmo unit reported an increase in contributions of more than 25 per cent from last year's contributions, with a number of calls to be made in the St. Elmo East area. District Secretary, Rev. David Oliver of Montreal, gave an interesting report of his recent visit to New Guinea and showed slides of the island and its people and the work of the bible society on the island of New Guinea.

* * *

St. Elmo friends express their best wishes to Joyce Ferguson who is a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital following surgery last week. We hope you have a speedy recovery from surgery, Joyce, and an early return home from hospital.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Alex R. McKinnon of St. Elmo East have with them this week their daughter Diane Brocklehurst and their grandson Trevor of Calgary, Alta.

Belated congratulations and good wishes to Donald S. Kennedy of Markham, Ont., who recently celebrated his birthday anniversary of four-score years. Donald's parental home was on the Kennedy farm three miles east of St. Elmo at the "three bridges" on the Scotch River, and he is very much interested in the news of folk in his home community according to his sister-in-law, Betty Kennedy of Dunvegan, who visited for a few days last week with Donald and his wife Ethel.

On behalf of the Lodge and people of Glen Norman, deepest sympathy is extended to Donat and Cecile Ouimet and son Robert and family on the passing of their son and brother, Paul.

As you realized from last week's write-up vinegar is good for many uses besides pickling and sprinkling french fries. Vinegar is a time-honored remedy for wasp stings, bruises, chapped hands, sunburn and hives. It relieves the itching of mosquito and other insect bites. Apply full-strength unless area is raw.

For use in ovens, dampen a cleaning rag in vinegar and water and wipe out the interior. This will prevent grease build-up; showerhead — to unclog, soak in diluted white vinegar overnight, or put some vinegar in a plastic bag, tie it around the showerhead, and leave on overnight; no-wax vinyl flooring — to clean and shine, add a half-cup white vinegar to a half-gallon of warm water.

Happy birthday to my son Michael who will be 22 years old on Nov. 19, and my cousin Allan Willard the same day and to Jack McDonell and his wife Brenda, both on Nov. 24.

* * *

If all the people who have no idea where they go to vote don't find out in time, there will be lots of votes lost. Over the weekend I was still hearing people say they didn't know if they were to go to Glen Nevis, Green Valley or North Lancaster.

Council briefs

The regular meeting of Alexandria town council was held at the town office on Tuesday, Nov. 1 at 7:30 p.m. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

Next meeting Nov. 22

The next council meeting will take place on Nov. 22, after the municipal election. It will be the last meeting of the 1985-88 Alexandria town council and will be comprised of regular business and the inaugural meeting.

The new council takes over after the beginning of December.

New street dug up

Council members jested that they couldn't stand to see a grown man cry, when the subject of digging up the newly-reconstructed Sandfield Avenue was unearthed.

Public Works Superintendent Jean Guy Levert seemed distressed when council discussed a water pipe which broke, forcing the Public Utilities Commission workers to dig into the new pavement.

Sandfield Avenue was the recipient of approximately $100,000 of reconstruction during the summer, carried out by the Town of Alexandria and Township of Lochiel. A sidewalk was installed on the west side of the street and curbs were installed.

The street had not looked that good in years.

It will cost about $300 to re-pave the 10'x10' section across from Ecole Elda Rouleau.

Helping entrepreneurs

Alexandria Clerk/Treasurer Leo Poirier and Bylaw Enforcement Officer Brent Caskenette will take part in an orientation meeting with the Ministry of Industry, Trade and Technology tomorrow.

The ministry feels that the town employees are the ones who have the most contact with the public and can provide basic information to people who own a small business or are looking to start one up.

No approval needed to move gas

The Ministry of the Environment (MOE) and the Town of Alexandria say approval is not needed from them for the transport of anhydrous ammonia gas from the Carnation plant in town.

Harvex Agro-Mart had notified MOE of its intentions to purchase anhydrous ammonia from Carnation which used it in refrigeration equipment.

Senior Environmental Officer Don Munro told The News last week that because Agro-Mart is purchasing the gas for re-use, it will not be classified as waste and therefore does not need MOE approval. The company must, however, comply with the Dangerous Goods Act when transporting the gas.

Anhydrous ammonia gas can be toxic, he said, but if handled properly, it won't cause a problem.

Alexandria town council became involved in the matter when MOE discussed it with town Clerk/Treasurer Leo Poirier. Mr. Poirier brought it up to council, which said there was no bylaw to control the transportation of dangerous goods.

Deputy Reeve Roger Lemieux said he preferred to see MOE give permission if it was needed.

"We can't give permission or not give permission . . . if anything happened and they had a letter saying that we gave permission . . . " he said.

Council decided to instruct Agro-Mart to notify the Alexandria police and fire departments of when the tanks will be moved so they can be on standby.

Last Wednesday will long be recalled as "T-day"

WILLIAMSTOWN
Sue Harrington
347-2279

Strange things have fallen from the skies throughout the ages: stars, dirigibles, saucers, plain old precipitation, and, of course, cats and dogs. But the strangest deposit on the streets of Williamstown occurred on Wednesday, or "T-day" as it will long be remembered. Transformer Day — the day 575 lbs. of electrical stuff toppled to the earth and burst open, leaving nasty things on the pavement and toxic rumors seeping throughout the countryside.

The day the transformer fell and left Hydro poles bending like weeping willows began quite normally. Monique Major was pumping gas at the four corners and Alex MacDonald's Groceries was receiving a shipment of foodstuffs. Meanwhile, over at St. Mary's Centre, the mothers were arriving at the Charlottenburgh Nursery School to pick up their children who had just been dismissed.

It was 11:45 a.m. Monique had finished filling 'er up and had gone inside Ernie's. The grocery delivery truck had also finished filling up, (Alex's), and was pulling away from the curb. But for some inexplicable reason, the truck decided to take a little bit of Williamstown with it as a souvenir. A guy wire? Strange memento, but in this day and age, anything goes.

The mothers were near the intersection. Francine McDonald, Ann Thaw, Ann Thompson, and Ginny Winn. Ginny, with son Douglas and his friend, Robert Johnson, was just coming through the intersection, when the pull from the wire caused a domino effect on the Hydro poles. "It was absolutely terrifying," said Ginny. "The transformer crashed right in front of me. I don't even remember stopping the car, but obviously I did."

For the rest of the day and most of the evening the transformer formed a wall dividing Williamstown into East and West. Traffic was rerouted via Finney's and MacGillivray's Bridges and pedestrians picked their way across the railroad bridge.

Firetrucks, police cars and Hydro fleets declared the village out of bounds. The high school let out early, the bank didn't open, and the recreation centre was idle.

It was truly a miracle that, despite the inconvenience of being powerless, we will be able to look back on the incident without horror. For despite what might have been, no injuries were suffered by anyone.

Did you happen to notice the article in the Freeholder about the accident? Its references to "downtown Williamstown" in one part and "the downtown core" in another, made us sound quite citified! I had to laugh.

There were big doings at the high school this week. Or was it the public school? Actually, it was a little of each. In what is a first for the SD&G County Board of Education, Williamstown Public School and Char-Lan High School are sharing a facility to the extent of housing a classroom.

The official opening of the new kindergarten and pre-kindergarten classrooms which have been created out of old shop rooms at Char-Lan, took place last Tuesday. Unfortunately news of the event was not made public and many of us who might have attended, missed out.

Jim Dilamarter, director of education, Joe Gunn, chairman of the SD&G County Board of Education, Marc Schaefer, superintendent for area schools, and Art Buckland, school board trustee, were present for the ceremonies, along with Brian McKinley, principal of Char-Lan and Williamstown Public School principal, Brian Loucks.

Grace representing kindergarten and Melissa from pre-kindergarten cut the ribbon, announcing the project officially open.

Mr. Dilamarter cited the project as an example "of the excellent working relationship between the two schools. This is an excellent facility," said Mr. Dilamarter, pointing out that it is the largest kindergarten room in the SD&G system, the size of 2 1/2 to three regular classrooms. It also has its own entrance and own washroom.

Williamstown Public's school committee received some compliments from the director. "There's a great school committee out there," said Mr. Dilamarter. "They served great refreshments."

Members of the school committee include Chairperson Cathy Millar, Vice-Chairperson Kathy Rawnsley, Secretary Rhea Noseworthy, Treasurer Lynn Lafave, and ad-hoc members Nora MacMillan, Barbara McLean, Mary Smith and Lorraine Lauzon.

English kindergarten and pre-kindergarten teacher is Mrs. Katherine O'Farrell, while Mrs. Lynne Barton teaches French kindergarten.

November's birthday celebrants are mainly female it seems. At least those honored at the Friendly Neighbors Club last Thursday outnumbered the gents, six to one.

Christena Grant, Emily MacDonald, Beatrice Labelle, Estelle Brazeau, Marie Warden and Catherine Gourlay were the lady candle-blowers, while Hector Leblanc held up the men's side. Edith Abrams baked the November birthday cake.

Catharine MacDougall, a guest, was also wished happy birthday.

The wealth was shared at the party and those a little richer when the day ended were Gilberte Marsh, Viola Pilon, Isobel Larocque, Roger Pilon, Rena Major, Daphne MacDonald, Mildred O'Connor and Martin Van Sleeuwen.

Eleanor Gibson and Joan Abrams won the door prizes.

In cards, the winners were Gilberte Marsh, Mildred O'Connor, Roger Pilon and Austin Abrams.

She hasn't the time to join clubs these days, but we wish her happy birthday anyway. Penny Cavell celebrated on Monday.

Corrie and Arnold Flipsen, who are celebrating their 32nd wedding anniversary this week, have already received gifts from two of their children and their spouses. Yes, it's two more grandchildren for the Flipsens, bringing the total now to a dozen.

Young Nicholas was born on Oct. 27 to Michel and Myra Flipsen who are living in Ottawa, and early in November Emmy and Martin Sommers had their third child, a son, Steven.

Congratulations to all!

We are all sorry to learn that Marjorie Martin is once again in hospital. Our thoughts are with her at this trying time.

New school

Christmas concert a month away

MARTINTOWN
Lorne MacDonald
528-4378

Hopefully by this time everyone has purchased a ticket for the fundraising dinner and dance at the community centre on Saturday evening. At this time I do not know the results of the municipal elections, but it sure would be nice to see all the candidates who are making so many promises and who claim to be so concerned about our community, put their words to action and purchase a ticket. The same holds true for the federal politicians. I know of one politician who is going above and beyond for this event and that's (Reeve?) Carol-Ann Ross, who is donating her time and efforts to catering this event, which will feature a hot and cold buffet with roast beef, salads, potatoes, gravy, cold cuts, veggies, cheeses, pickles and desserts. Cocktails are from 6:30 p.m. and dinner is at 7 p.m. The dance gets under way at 9 p.m. featuring Blackwater. Everyone is welcome. The recreation committee is still in search of volunteers, if you can help, call Don Ross at 528-4801 days or 528-4635 evenings.

Don't forget about the huge craft sale and tea taking place next Saturday at the community centre from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. I'm of course referring to the annual One Stop Christmas Shoppe. There will also be a raffle for a craft basket with over $200 worth of items in it. Tickets can be purchased from Mary Rankin, Linda Howes, Bev Runions, Carol-Ann Ross, Anita Goudie, or at the sale up until draw time at 3:30. Anyone wishing to book a table to sell crafts please contact Anita Goudie at 528-4405.

If my column this week sounds Christmas-y, a look at the calendar will reveal as of today (Wednesday) there are only 39 days left until Christmas! Santa Claus is going to be a very busy person in the upcoming weeks and will pay two visits to Martintown within a week. He will visit the public school's Christmas dinner at the community centre on the 15th of December and Santa will be receiving children at the fire hall on Sunday, Dec. 18 from 1-3 p.m. Speaking of the school's Christmas dinner for the children, anyone who wishes to donate food or money can do so by contacting the school at 528-4423. Dec. 14 is the school's Christmas concert, which will feature the operetta "Where Was Santa." If you're having a hard time getting into the Christmas spirit, this concert is guaranteed to get you there.

The Martintown Fire Department is once again holding its very popular Christmas dance on Dec. 3 featuring McMartins Fiddle. Proceeds from this dance are used to purchase equipment for the department. Everyone is most welcome to attend.

Remembrance Day message

Students from Martintown Public School gathered in the school's auditorium Friday morning for a Remembrance Day service. Junior kindergarten student Emilie Higginson and senior kindergarten student Matthew Heemskerk place a poppy under the school cenotaph.

First, I would like to thank Anna Margaret MacDonald for writing last week's column. Jim, the kids and I went to Windsor to visit my family and enjoyed ourselves very much.

For further information call Gisele Lemay at 932-4403.

The winning men were Victor Lafleur and Leo Clouthier and John Fraser had the low. The door prize went to Jeanette Crevier. The next meeting will be the Christmas dinner at Robin's Restaurant on Dec. 7. The draw for the quilt will be held then.

Cenotaph donars come through

The Glengarry Cenotaph Committee has reached its goal of $2,500 in donations to help in effecting repairs on the Glengarry War Memorial.

Campaign treasurer Doris Seeley said Friday the $2,500 — half of the estimated $5,000 repair cost of the cenotaph — was raised as of last week, but additional donations this week are expected to increase the final total.

The plans haven't yet been discussed, but extra funds, combined with a new fundraising drive, could be used toward the installation of lights to allow the war memorial to be seen at night.

Christian Women's League enjoys crafts, songs

GLEN SANDFIELD
Lorna Chapman
874-2408

Pebbie MacMillan, Eileen MacGillivray, Bessie MacLennan, Lorna Chapman, Wanda Hay and Sheila Graham all attended the Nov. 7 meeting of the Lachute-Laurentian Christian Women's Club at Villa Mont-Joie in Lachute.

After dessert and coffee, the group of 115 enjoyed listening to Vera O'Shea of Country Corner in Hawkesbury as she introduced her many beautiful silk flower and dried floral displays. Christmas ornaments, some of wicker and flowers, charming decorated straw hats, wall hangings with floral colors matching dishes or curtains, centrepieces and candleholders, delighted everyone. They are all one-of-a-kind and handcrafted. Hot glue is used with these arrangements of washable polyester flowers which are practical as well as beautiful. Mrs. O'Shea teaches crafts and will show her students how to tie the beautiful bows featured in almost every item.

Helen Honeywell of Willowdale was the gifted soloist. Her selections "Second Hand Rose," and "Why Have You Chosen Me" were sung in a mellow, throaty voice, which attested to her extensive musical training. She totally captured her audience with her warmth and humor, as she spoke on "Threads of Wisdom." Mrs. Honeywell told of her experiences as an outstanding musician and an accomplished actress. She spoke with wry humor and sincerity, of her family, and her work in the church. There was great heartbreak in her life as well. Since she became a Christian and knows Jesus, she has great joy in people and her family and uses her music, with generosity, for Him. She performs on radio and television before 3,000 people, and just loves every minute. It certainly shows. Lorna Chapman was delighted to be the winner of a pretty dried flower arrangement, done by Mrs. O'Shea and given for a little contest. The group happily clustered around the craft table at the close of the meeting, to admire the display.

Sincere sympathy is offered to the family and Mrs. Royce Fralic, upon Mr. Fralic's recent death which occurred after a prolonged illness.

* * *

Sunday visitors with Bud and Lorna Chapman were Wendy and Dianne Chapman of Verdun and Ross Martin of Westmount, Que.

* * *

Recent visitors with Ron and Christina MacLachlan were Murray, Alida, Haley and Cheri MacLachlan of Ottawa.

Couple enjoy gift weekend

Margo and Arnold MacRae accompanied their niece Phyllis MacMaster to Milton for an enjoyable visit. While there, she drove her aunt and uncle to see Bill and Ann Fraser. The following day, they all drove to see Hanover Stuart and Freda MacFadden. On the Sunday, they all returned by way of Clinton, where they stopped in to visit Margo's uncle Hubert Hodges. This delightful weekend was a thoughtful gift to the MacRaes from their niece on the happy occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary earlier this fall.

UCW Remembrance theme

The Glen Sandfield UCW met last Wednesday at the home of Margo MacRae. The theme of devotions was Remembrance.

After welcoming the members the president opened with a poem, "They Do Not Die" by T. B. Aldrich. The scripture came from Ephesians 6:10-17 and was read by Christina MacLachlan.

The meditation, Remembrance Day, was taken from Amy Bolding's book, "Please Give a Devotion." It speaks of the great sacrifice of those who died during the wars. Most of all, it stresses the need for love among people. It speaks also of the sorrow and hardships caused to so many innocent people by the cruelties of this dreadful plague: War. We must never forget their sacrifices and strive to stop the conflict and never allow it to happen again. Readers of the meditation were Bessie MacLennan, Della MacDonald, Isobel MacLennan, Nan Campbell, Eleanor Bickerstaff, Margo MacRae and Marjorie McCaskill.

Della MacDonald led the closing prayer.

The business portion opened with the UCW members purpose. An invitation by Gail Kronwald to the group to have the December luncheon meeting at her home was extended. The date is to be Dec. 7 at 12:30 p.m. The minutes, read by Christina MacLachlan and the financial report, given by Margo MacRae, were accepted as read.

The members expressed a wish to place a memorial plaque in the church to honor a loyal member and friend, the late Gladys MacRae.

The shut-in list was revised and members realized that several of the recipients have passed away; the list is now the shortest it has been in a long time. The treasurer and the group established the list of donations for the coming year. In lieu of blinds, a special wax is to be applied to the sun-faded pews, which is said to be very effective in protecting the finish of wood exposed to the sun.

The meeting had such a full agenda, the election of officers will be postponed until the February meeting.

Personal

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need. To you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg you to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. This novena has never been known to fail. It is said for nine consecutive days. Thank you to St. Jude A.M. 46-1p

MAY the Sacred Heart of Jesus be praised, adored and glorified throughout the whole world forever and ever, Amen. Thanks to St. Anthony. Say this prayer for six days and you shall obtain your favors. B.B. 46-1p

THANK you Sacred Heart of Jesus for favors received, also a cure. C.S. 46-1p

NOTICE

OF PUBLIC MEETING CONCERNING PROPOSED OFFICIAL PLAN AND ZONING BYLAW AMENDMENTS

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Lancaster will hold a public meeting on the 14th day of December, 1988 (Wednesday) at 8:30 p.m. at the Township Office in North Lancaster, to consider a proposed Official Plan amendment under Section 17 of the Planning Act and a proposed Zoning Bylaw amendment under Section 34 of the Planning Act.

The proposed Official Plan amendment and Zoning Bylaw amendment have two purposes. The first purpose is to delete the specific lot area and frontage requirements from the Shoreline Residential policies in the Official Plan. The Zoning Bylaw amendment will reduce the minimum lot frontage from 46 metres to 30.5 metres for the Shoreline Residential Zone. These changes affect all lands which are designated and zoned as Shoreline Residential.

The second purpose of the amendments will be to redesignate and rezone a specific property to Shoreline Residential. The specific property is owned by Guy Jasmin and is located in part of Lots 10 and 11, Concession I in the Township of Lancaster as shown on the attached key map. The proposed amendments would permit the development of this land for a residential subdivision. The land is presently designated Rural Marginal in the Official Plan. The land is adjacent to the St. Lawrence River and Sutherland Creek is the eastern boundary of the property. The land abuts the service road to the north and the lands to the west are shoreline residential. The subject property would be developed by a plan of subdvision. The property is presently zoned Rural Marginal in the comprehensive Zoning Bylaw. The proposed amending Bylaw would rezone this land as Shoreline Residential.

ANY PERSON may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed amendments.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION relating to the proposed amendments is available for inspection at the Township Office in North Lancaster during regular office hours.

DATED at the Township of Lancaster this 9th day of November, 1988.

Parade update

Final plans are now being made for the 30th annual Lancaster Santa Claus parade to be held on Saturday, Dec. 3 at 1 p.m. Parade organizer Rej Julien and his committee recently met and some exciting news of new trophies was disclosed to your correspondent. The first is a large trophy for youth group achievement and is in memory of Ron Kelly, donated by Cornwall Motor Sales. This opens a lot of possibilities to local guide or scout troops, 4-H clubs, church young peoples groups or to any organized youth group to participate and try to win this beautiful award. The award is to recognize the best youth group float entry. The next new award is from Pattingale Bus Lines and is for the best school entry, so come on, area schools, put your thinking caps on and come up with a float that will win your school this trophy. Last but not least is in the equestrian category; the Alex MacDonald Trophy for best horse and rider. Along with this trophy, for this year only, goes an original framed print by Gilles Givogue, a handicapped painter from Cornwall. Mr. Givogue invites all area horse-persons to enter this year's parade as the painting is truly magnificent. There will also be cash prizes as well as trophies for best float, best out-of-town float, most original float and best clowns. For info on how you or your group can enter the parade, call Lancaster Legion at 347-3286. This year's theme is "A Christmas Carol."

Alice Leger is in charge of costumes for the Lancaster Santa Claus Parade. She is hoping that area mothers will encourage their children from age five and up to enter as there are prizes for each child who takes part. The costumes are provided to the children free and all you have to do is call Alice at 347-2415 and make arrangements to pick up your costume. There is even some choice as to what kind of costume you can wear. Sign up now; it's fun.

Chief Gene Picard of the Lancaster Fire Department, his fellow firefighters and all the goblins, ghosts and witches, etc. said they sure appreciated all the donations which helped make the sixth annual kids Halloween party a success. Judging by the amount of goods consumed — 350 bags of goodies and popcorn and the 470 hot dogs — a good time was had by all. A big thank you to Lancaster Township, Lancaster Village, Lancaster Recreation Committee, legion branch 544, legion fraternals, Knights of Columbus No. 8715 and a number of local businesses. Lancaster Fire Department will be looking for new applicants to fill some vacancies as volunteer firefighters. Anyone interested can contact Gene at 347-3582. Don't forget the Firemen's annual ball to be held at St. Joseph Hall, Lancaster on Dec. 10. There will be a live band and a buffet lunch. Come and bring your friends and have a ball. For more info, call Gene.

The former United Church members who have been worshipping each Sunday at Smithsfield Hall held a luncheon meeting last Sunday to evaluate and determine their future. At that time, it was agreed to stay together and a Steering Committee was formed with Joyce Lalonde, secretary; Tom Demster, treasurer; Stan and Anne Chaddock and Walter Pilkington.

It was decided that the name "Community Protestant Church" would be used and steps taken towards its legal incorporation and possible affiliation with the newly-forming Congregational Church. Various religious symbols are also being considered for use at this time. The members have missed their participation in community outreach during these past two months; to date it has only been their harvest table offerings to a local family. A great deal of enthusiasm was expressed for a once-a-month Sunday evening vesper hymn sing at Chateau Gardens Nursing Home, as well as a Christmas Eve service to be held there. The secretary was asked to request permission from the nursing home accordingly. The group is not in hiding but endeavoring to be faithful to God's purpose for them. Their activities and services will be made known to the public and a warm welcome to sing God's praise is extended to all.

Williamstown has its moose and now South Lancaster has a raccoon! Not as big to be sure, but could be just as scary. This fellow hangs out at Rej Julien's place on Hwy. #2 and he can open doors. Mrs. J. is a bit nervous and has been known to climb chairs to get out of his way. He is so tame Rej can hand feed him and at least once a day the little bandit comes for a handout, pokes around in Rej's house and then goes on his merry way.

Lancaster Public School

The school band from Lancaster Township Public School was invited to play at the Ontario Principals Association Conference at the Holiday Inn in downtown Toronto on Thursday, Nov. 3. Present at the conference were representatives Chris Ward, minister of education; Mr. Dilamarter, director of education; Joe Gunn, board chairman; Mrs. Susan Adams, board member and 250 principals from all across Ontario. The students put on a 20-minute concert and were very well received. On Wednesday, Nov. 9, Mr. Dilamarter visited the school and presented each band member and Mr. Nowickyj with school board pins. These pins are presented to those who the board recognizes as having made a contribution to the SD&G County Board of Education and was a very unexpected but appreciated award. While in Toronto, the students visited the CN Tower, the Royal Ontario Museum as well as the Eaton Centre. The students had a very enjoyable excursion. The band has been invited for a repeat performance at CCVS in Cornwall on Friday, Nov. 25. They will perform in front of SD&G elementary teachers present for a professional development day. Remembrance Day services were held at the school with all our students participating in some way. Poems written by the students were read, the Grade 2s suggested ways in which we can remember and trumpeters played The Last Post and Reveille.
