United Celebrated 174 Years' Service

Iroquois United Church celebrated its 174th Anniversary of Sunday, May 26.

The morning service was conducted by Rev. Brian Gee. The congregation was favoured by a song written by the Medical Mission Sisters - "God Loves a Cheerful Giver", and sung by the Junior Choir. The Senior Choir sang "Great is Thy Faithfulness" while Rev. Brian Gee introduced his sermon by singing Stainer's "God so Loved the World." The sermon was based, to a large extent, on this text.

An evening of music was enjoyed by the congregation and friends. The organist, Mrs. George Fowler, played several selections as a prelude, showing skill and expression worthy of the music. The Share Singers of Heckston were the main feature of the evening, and were enthusiastically received by the congregation. Their music contributed a sense of celebration and joy to the evening.

WHERE DOES CANADA GO FROM HERE?

Indications so far are that Canada will probably have another minority government situation unless the politicians can pull off some new situation to swing the voters all one way. That likelihood is about as far out as some of the great promises we will be inundated with on the hustings during the next few weeks.

On one hand we have the Liberals saying they were doing a great job under the circumstances prevailing in the world today, the Conservatives saying that if they were given a chance, they would straighten out all the problems we have in Canada, and Lewis and his NDP group taking a crack at both sides and saying that neither of the two larger groups are capable of running the country properly.

So far, however, the politicians have been fairly quiet in their approach...possibly because none of them have any easy solutions to the problems facing this country and just about every other country in the world. But until July 8th we can expect to hear how we might solve some of the evils of unemployment, high taxes, inflation and poverty. We might even hear the odd suggestion that there must be a better way of handling the unemployment insurance fund, monetary policies and trade with other countries so that Canada's products can be competitively sold abroad. If we can't be competitive, then we can forget the out-of-the-country markets of the world.

There has been a fair amount of silence on how to handle strikes such as the postal issue of a month back which saw just about all business disrupted. And the disruption isn't quite over yet. When the problem to be faced involves a fair number of votes then the politicans' attitude is that "we'd better leave sleeping dogs lie". How true!

We sincerely believe that every man and woman, willing to work, should be paid a fair wage for the labour. We don't believe in a man or woman working just long enough to have built up unemployment insurance benefits then sit back and draw until the benefits run out, then back to work for a while. There are jobs available in many parts of the country where employers can't find people to take on these vacancies. Yet the cost of keeping many people who won't work keeps increasing. We do believe in supporting those people who have worked and can't find a job, but who are at least willing to take whatever comes along until something better appears on the horizon. Fortunately there are still many people with pride who are in the latter condition or our country would be a lot worse off.

We all have a few pet peaves and when we get a chance to meet the candidates seeking office, we should take the time to talk with them and express our opinions on the issues that concern us. Getting an answer from them might help us make up our minds on who to vote for July 8th. And at the same time give our candidates some idea what is expected of them once they get into office.

All that any candidate will ask is that you give he or she a fair hearing and they are entitled to that, no matter what their politican affiliation.

AN ELECTION? WHO NEEDS IT!
by Bill Smiley

This week I'll deal with several topics, none of them related, but each of them an aspect of the peculiar world we inhabit in 1974.

Why do so many young people want to go into teaching? There's no real future in it financially, very little hope of finding a job after teacher training, and only an infinitesimal hope of becoming important, famous, or even notorious.

Yet the teachers' colleges keep pouring out thousands of eager and talented young people with a flaming desire to be teachers.

We had two openings for English teachers on our staff this year, and received a pile of applications up to your knees. And these aren't duds, who have been weeded out of the profession because of incompetence. They are the cream of the crop, highly qualified, many with some years of experience, some with extra degrees.

There's a certain amount of security in a teaching job, and the holidays are pretty good. But if you want security, go into the bank, and if holidays are your chief concern, go on welfare.

Teaching has its rewards and satisfactions, but it's a wearing, grinding life, physically and emotionally. I feel sorry for all those excellent young people trying so desparately to get a toe-hold in the profession. I wouldn't suggest to my worst enemy that he (or she) go into teaching.

It would be the equivalent of saying: "Get thee to a nunnery." Strangely enough, I like it. But then, I got into the game back in the days when there was a frantic shortage of teachers, and they were taking any old scruff who could stand up in front of a class.

Now, the election. If those idiots in Ottawa think anyone is happy about it, they're as far out of touch with public opinion as usual.

The Liberals have had two shots at it, and have proved little except that they can't do much about anything. Their policy seems to be to cover the wounds with talcum powder when the patient is bleeding to death.

The Conservatives, in the last eighteen months in opposition, have not exactly set the House on fire, which might be the best and only way they could get the attention of the electorate.

The NDP has had the best of the deal in the last parliament, letting the Liberals pull their chestnuts out of the fire and squelching any possibility of a Tory blaze by voting with the government. The party has shown more politics than statesmanship, and an almost repulsive enjoyment of power.

This time around we need more than a shrug, a mumble, or a smarmy washing of hands. We need a government with the guts to govern. And the chances of getting it from the talent on display seems minimal.

Personally, I'd vote for Joe Stalin if he could do something about inflation, and I'm sure enough other people would to put him in the P.M.'s chair.

Last week I chanced to look at the price of a small can of bully beef. Seven ounces, 82 cents. This means, roughly, that a pound of that smashed-up mess of meat, gristle, fat, and the odd bit of bone, from third-rate cattle, costs about $1.85. There is something rotten in the state of Argentina.

I am utterly appalled by our grocery bills, and can't help thinking that there is a grand rip-off in there some where. The farmers aren't getting it, and the chain stores claim they aren't. But someone is.

My heart bleeds for the large family on a low income. The working man demands higher wages and is not even holding his own when he gets them. We're headed for a depression, chaps. Your dollar of a couple of decades ago is worth fifty cents today, and may be worth forty cents next week.

Now I'll turn my attention to something closer to home. And closer is the word. I can hear my grandbaby from all the way downstairs, bellowing with brazen lungs for his dinner.

He's a bonny baby. In fact, I say without prejudice that he's the handsomest boy baby I've ever laid eyes on. Huge dark eyes, and a grin that would melt a Mother Superior.

But his mother has some odd ideas. She has some good ones, too, like feeding him mother's milk, on which he is waxing into a butter-ball.

However, she wants to bring him up the way the Indians and Eskimaux do. Pick him up when he cries; feed him when he's hungry; play with him when he's bored. Never speak crossly or punish.

He's a "good" baby. Sleeps a lot, chuckles a lot, kicks a lot, plays with his hands. When his mother is around.

Twice in the last three days, I've offered to babysit, while his Mum went to a show. No problem. Baby sound asleep after a good solid dinner from the twin founts of life. And if he does wake up, ole Grandad can always amuse him with songs and witty sayings.

Thirty minutes after his Mum is out of the house, he wakes up. With bated breath I hear the first bleat. With despair I hear it build to a full-throated bellow that would suggest the imp is being martyred at the stake by the Iroquois.

Pick him up, dandle him, jig him, sing to him, talk my version of Chinese to him, always a great hit when Mum's around. No dice.

He wants grub, and I ain't plumbed right for it. An hour and a half of torture, changing diapers, blowing on his belly, kitching and cooing. Nothing works. His Mum comes home, whips out the equipment and the little devil is asleep in ten minutes, and sleeps all night.

So. Here are my predictions. Another minority government, a major depression, and a spoiled kid.

Watch Those Bike Rules of Road

Commissioner H. H. Graham reminds the cyclist that he is operating a vehicle and he has to conform to the same 'Rules of the Road' as the car driver.

As with a car, your bicycle must be in good working order and you must know your bicycle safety rules.

So, parents, before your youngsters get their bikes out of the basement, check them over and satisfy yourself that they're properly equipped and in good condition.

Make sure that the children know their safety rules - perhaps you could even give them a cycling test. If you are not sure of the rules, you local OPP detacment will be only too pleased to help you.

And cyclists, know how your bike works - remember it needs regular maintenance, the same as a car.

At this time of year, motorists should be particularly watchful for the inexperienced cyclist. Young children especially pre-schoolers, can be totally unpredictable - keep an eye out for them, and always expect the unexpected.

District Annual Meeting Of Dundas Institute

The District Annual Meeting of the Dundas Women's Institutes was held in the Memorial Hall, Brinston, on May 14th, with about 70 members attending.

The President, Mrs. Alfred Carkner of Elma, presided during the regular business of the meeting. Mrs. Fenton Hyndman, Mountain, acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Grant Becksted.

Mrs. Carkner introduced Mrs. Geo. McCaffrey of Russell, Provincial Board Director for Subdivision 1, and Miss Lorraine Holding, Home Economist of the United Counties.

Mrs. Carkner reported that her two years as President had been busy years as they had coincided with many celebrations of the 75th Anniversary of the founding of the W.I. Also she had attended all 4-H homemaking club achievement days in the County. She spoke on the theme "Together we Work; Together we Achieve" and urged all members to make their own special contribution to this achievement.

Mrs. McCaffrey, commenting on the reports, congratulated the women of Dundas on the amount and variety of work they had achieved during the previous year. Miss Holding, giving her last report to Dundas W.I. s, commented on the three courses they had participated in recently: i. e. Sewing with Knits, a Tailoring Course, and a Food Forum. She hoped we would enjoy the courses on Creative Stitchery and the Nutrition Workshops which are being planned for later this year. She also thanked the W.I. Branches for their help in sponsoring 4-H Club activities.

After a delicious Smorgasbord style lunch served by the Matilda W.I., the head table guests were introduced by Mrs. J.G. Woods of Williamsburg. These included the Rev. Dr. Lester Joyce, Dundas Dairy Princess Miss Nora Fawcett, Mrs. Smith, President of Stormont District W.I. and Matilda Reeve Mr. Mahlon Zeron and Mrs. Zeron. The ladies at the head table were wearing corsages donated by Muriel's Flowers, Winchester, Diana's Flowers, Morrisburg and Durant's Flowers and Gifts, Chesterville. Mr. Zeron brought greetings from the township and told how the W.I. had helped to build the Matilda Community Hall many years ago.

During the afternoon, the Branch Presidents gave highlights of the activities of the branches. Mrs. McCaffrey reported on the work of the Provincial Board. 67,000 women and girls had taken part in the various short Courses. This coming year emphasis is to be put on proper Nutrition as surveys have revealed serious weaknesses in Canadian diets. W.I. members are invited to visit the Erland Lee Home, now ready for visitors. She also said the F.W.I.O. had given $2,000 to the Lady Aberdeen Scholarship Fund.

Among the resolutions sustained at provincial level was one asking for legislation prohibiting snowmobilers from bringing damage suits action for damages sustained while crossing private property and another asking the Jan. 11th be declared "Sir John A. MacDonald Day".

A tea in honour of Mrs. Harvey Noblitt, Provincial President, will be held at the Nepean Sportsplex on June 5th. and a workshop on resolutions at Russell on June 25th.

Prizes for attendance, a box of cheese given by Aults, Winchester, and a package of towels donated by Caldwells, Iroquois, were won by Miss Olive Gibeault of Morewood, and her mother Mrs. Armand Gibeault. The oldest member present, Mrs. Mel Dillabough was given a gift.

Both morning and afternoon business sessions were lightened by interludes. In the morning, Winchester W.I. mused on the difficulties of producing entertainment for the District Annual. We are glad to report that the suicide induced by (the difficulties) was only theatrical, and both Mrs. Ralph Johnstone and Mrs. J. Lemmon will hopefully be helping in future meetings. In the afternoon, Morewood gave readings on the theme of Mother's Day, a day so close to everyone's heart.

To close the meeting, Mrs. Hugh McMillan thanked those present, who had made the meeting a success and invited the ladies to Elma in 1975.

The slate of officers for 1974-75 is as follows: Past Pres. Mrs. Alfred Carkner, Chesterville; Prs. Mrs. J.G. Woods, Williamsburg; 1st Vice. Mrs. J. Lemmon, Winchester; 2nd Vice. Compare Federal And Provincial Budgets

Having recently dealt at length with most aspects of the 1974 Ontario Budget, many of my readers might be frogiven for questioning the need for another column on the subject. Since then, however, something has been added -- a Federal budget. The introduction of Finance Minister Turner's budget has triggered the national election campaign which is now upon us, but its not the political consequences that I wish to discuss here.

I said in an earlier column that a properly prepared budget defines broad social and economic goals and sets out fiscal measures to achieve them. I think it is interesting and even important to compare the Provincial and Federal budget within this context.

The over-riding concern of industrialized societies today is inflation. This is so in Ontario and throughout Canada, and will undoubtedly be the central issue of the election campaign. It is also undoubtedly true that no single government can, by itself, insulate its citizens from inflationary cause and effect. Many of these are international in nature. We do import a certain amount of inflationary pressure from abroad and we have little or no control over it.

This is not the same as saying that there is nothing at all that we can do about it. People, throughout the country that are asking for, even demanding government action evidently believe and expect that governments can do something. And so we can if we act together. The greates upward pressure on the consumer price index over the past many months has been in three areas - food, housing and services. These are areas where innovative and imaginative use of fiscal tools at our disposal can enable govemments working in concert to slow down if not turn the tide of this relentless problem.

I have already detailed the anti-inflationary measures taken by the Provincial Government in the budget; measures to offset effects of inflation on low income earners and pensioners like sales tax exemptions, free prescription drugs, increased tax credits, guaranteed annual incomes for senior citizens, blind and disabled; measures to restrain inflation such as pioneering legislation at stabilize land prices and encourage Canadian ownership of real estate; measures to share resources with municipalities; to stimulate supply and many more. These fiscal measures can make the economy respond positively to forces which threaten to undermine it.

What of Mr. Turner's budget? How does it attack the same overall problem?

First of all, it is not anti-inflationary at all, it is expansionary and in a very big way. Federal expenditurs would increase by 22% this year, considerably more than the economy as a whole. (Since 1968, Federal Government spending has grown from around $12 billion a year to a projected $29 billion in 1974-75 - an increase ot 140%). While Ontario will take in approximately $336 million more than it spends (and thus reduce the Provincial debt), the Federal Government will spend over $2 billion more than it will receive. In order to make ends meet, they quite likely will have to go into the market place at a time of rising interest rates and tightening credit.

Those minor measures which would offset the effects of inflation such as the exemption on interest earned up to $1,000 and the registered home ownership plan exemption would cost the Ontario treasure $40 million because of the drop in its share of the revenue from personal income tax. This means that Ontario would be financing 23% of these reductions.

There is nothing in the Federal budget to relieve the plight of municipalities and their dependence on property taxes. There is nothing for small businessmen. There is nothing for senior citizens. Since a majority of pensioners do not pay income taxes, they, along with many others in the same circumstances, will not be eligible for even the modest $50 tax cut the budget did provide.

It should not be difficult for anyone to understand why the Ontario Government is disappointed in the Federal budget. While we are trying at the same time to live within our means and meet our own responsibilities, Mr. Turner is gong in the opposite fiscal direction. It is unfortunate that an opportunity for effective Federal-Provincial co-operation and consultation has apparently been missed. Had the Federal statement amplified and augmented those in those initiatives begun in Ontario's budget, the overall effect on the inflationary spiral would have been far greater than Ontario acting alone could achieve.

Your family's health is your most important possession.

This is what Ontario is doing to help you protect it.

Most of us get sick or have an accident at one time or another. And left to our own resources, serious illness could often cripple us financially.

So the government here in Ontario has developed a plan to provide health care for everybody, any time it's needed.

That plan is called Ontario Health Insurance Plan – OHIP. (The "H" stands for "Health," not "Hospital.") The Plan is administered by your Ontario government for us, the people of the province, who pay into it regularly so we can benefit when we need it.

How does the Ontario Health Insurance Plan work? Like this:

First, you apply for coverage – on a "Group" basis where you work, or you can pick up an application form at any bank, hospital, or OHIP district office.

Next, you'll pay modest premiums to cover yourself and your family towards the time when health care is needed.

People on welfare, students, and others whose incomes fall below a certain level, are eligible for assistance in paying their OHIP premiums. No one is excluded for lack of money, but you must apply for such premium assistance.

Benefits include: physicians' services • standard ward hospital accommodation • X-rays • laboratory tests • drugs required in hospital • operating and delivery rooms • radiotherapy • chiropractic, osteopathic, and chiropodist services • eye examinations • occupational therapy • physiotherapy • speech therapy • nursing and medical care in nursing homes and homes for the aged • Home Care service • ambulance • certain dental surgery. Payments may cover costs entirely or only in part, depending on the nature of the claim.

But remember: Membership in the Ontario Health Insurance Plan is not automatic – you have to apply for it. And be sure to carry your identification card or OHIP number at all times.

If you would like more information, visit any OHIP district office. Or write to:

Our Weather Is Wetter Than Normal

Your suspicions are correct. The weather in the Ottawa area is wetter than normal, especially compared with last year and the disastrous crop year of 1972, according to Stuart Edey, an agroclimatologist with Agriculture Canada's Agrometeorology Research Service.

Rain was reported on 11 of the first 15 days of May with a total accumulation of 3.23 inches. The long-term average for this period is 1.04 inches. During the first 15 days in May last year, rain fell on nine days with a total accumulation of 1.66 inches compared with 1.19 inches in six days in 1972.

"As the long-term monthly rainfall average for May is 2.75 inches, we have already received rainfall well in excess of the average amount. On this premise, the prospects would be for a somewhat drier period for the last half of May. This two-week period may prove very critical for this crop year," Mr. Edey said.

June is ordinarily a wetter month than May, both in number of wet days and total rainfall. In June last year, rain fell on 16 days with an accumulation of 5.41 inches. In June, 1972, rain fell on 15 days with a total rainfall of 5.49 inches.

"If June, 1974 follows the same pattern, it will dramatically emphasize the importance of the final 15-day period in May for seeding operations this year," he said.

Mr. Edey emphasized that, from a climatological standpoint, the weather to date in 1974 has little in common with the sequence of weather events that made the 1972 crop year such a disaster for the farmers in eastern Ontario and western Quebec.

Our present situation should not be compared with either the 1972 or 1973 growing season since both were different, each with its own particular turn of events.

"Predictions of gloom and doom at this point are not warranted and should be discouraged," Mr. Edey said.

Jim McDonald Seeks Liberal Nomination

Grenville-Carleton Liberal Association is pleased to announce that Jim McDonald is seeking the Liberal nomination for the forthcoming election. Mr. McDonald is currently executive assistant to the Solicitor General, Warren Almond.

Originally from Toronto, Mr. McDonald was educated at Glendon College, Carleton University and the University of Sussex, where he earned a Ph. D. in Political Science. In 1971 he was selected for the Parliamentary Internship programme, working with both the Liberal and Conservative parties. On announcing his intention to seek the Liberal candidacy for Grenville-Carleton, Jim McDonald stated, "The central issue of this election campaign is leadership. In these problem-ridden times, Mr. Trudeau's proven record of leadership capabilities stands in stark contrast to Mr. Stanfield's indecisiveness and inability to unite even his own party".

TODAY'S HEALTH

Alcohol abuse creeps up on you

by David Woods

Oscar Wilde said that work is the curse of the drinking classes. What he couldn't have foreseen was that this piece of wit would ring rather hollow in 1974.

Today, more people are drinking more. When the province of Ontario lowered the legal drinking age from 21 to 18, it increased the number of drinkers by eight per cent.

In Ontario, alcohol plays a part in half of all auto accidents, accounts for hundreds of thousands of man-hours annual absenteeism from work, and for more than 10 per cent of all hospital costs.

This is not to suggest that anyone who takes an occasional drink is on the road to ruin. But the step from regular or heavy social drinking to a dependence on alcohol is not all that steep.

There are three main reasons why people are drinking more — in Canada, about 30 per cent more than they did 25 years ago. Alcohol is cheaper (in relation to income) than it's ever been; real or imagined social pressures persuade people that they need some kind of drug — and alcohol is a socially accepted and legally available one; and thirdly, the brewers, distillers and vintners aim at convincing us that it's fashionable to drink. Look at all those bronzed canoeists and balloonists quaffing in the ads.

But in reality, in Ontario today, close to 300,000 people drink enough alcohol to endanger their health. What that means is a daily intake of about nine ounces of spirits — or the equivalent in beer or wine.

Alcohol abuse exerts a tremendous toll on life and health in our society, contributing not only to diseases like liver cirrhosis, peptic ulcer and pneumonia, but also to car and fire accidents, family breakups, and suicide.

While the effects of drinking vary from individual to individual, experts in alcoholism say that it is not the type of beverage or the mixing of drinks, but the total consumption of absolute alcohol that really counts. It's also a matter of personality and attitude.

Dependence on alcohol can creep up on the social drinker. Rather than drinking with friends and with meals, he begins to view drink as a relief from tension, as a regular part of his daily routine — as a social crutch.

Soon, he becomes a gulper rather than a sipper, and finds that it takes increasing amounts of alcohol to achieve the same effect. He begins to take a 'belt' alone, and at more frequent intervals.

Of course, not everyone makes the step from casual drinking to reliance on alcohol. But Ontario's Addiction Research Foundation points out that certain characteristics mark the alcohol dependent person. Among them: inability to take family responsibility, lack of self-discipline, pre-occupation with oneself, feelings of sexual, social or parental inadequacy, negative attitudes towards authority, and limited interests.

The only way to be sure that you're not headed for a drinking problem may be to ask yourself some pretty searching questions: Why do you drink? When? How much? And how much more than, say, a year ago?

Above all, don't fall into the trap of thinking that you can't possibly be an alcoholic — or be moving in that direction. It doesn't take 25 years; it can take only a year or two. Sometimes less.

In Ontario, one adult in 10 is a problem drinker. If you can't drink in moderation you'd probably be better off not to drink at all; moreover, if you need a drink, better start asking why.

David Woods is a former editor of Canadian Family Physician magazine. He has served on the medical staff of four medical publications, and written for several others in Canada and internationally.

Welcome To Attend The CNIB Annual

Dr. R. J. Flindall, Chief of the Retinal Unit, University of Ottawa and a specialist in treating deseases of the retina, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Dundas County Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind on June 5, 1974. Because Diabetic Retinopathy, which can be treated, is the major cause of blindness in people between the ages of 50 to 70 years, a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this meeting and hear Dr. Flindall's talk. The charge is $2.75 a plate. The dinner will be held at the United Church hall in Winchester at 7 p.m. on June 5. It is not a fund raising dinner.

Anyone interested in hearing Dr. Flindall's talk, as well as reports on CNIB activities and Mr. Everett Rush, baritone, who will entertain, should get in touch with the nearest member of the CNIB board. The board's executive needs to know how many people will be attending the meeting because of ordering the dinners. Convenient contacts would be Mr. Howard Biccum, Chairman, Winchester, 774-2410 or 774-3233; Mr. John S. Corbett, Morrisburg, 543-3300; Mrs. Eric Casselman, Chesterville, 448-2352; Mrs. Garnet Empey, Iroquois, 652-4258; Miss Nina Casselman, Williamsburg, 535-2252; Mrs. Russell Suffel, Inkerman, 989-5431.

Big Fish Contest Is Now Open

The Big Fish Contest, conducted annually for the past 15 years by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, is now open and will run until November 17th, 1974. The Cash Awards total $3200.00 and range from $100.00 for the biggest fish in each of the eight eligible species to $10 for the 15th prize. In addition, all fish that meet the minimum weight requirements for the species, qualify for a special Anglers Certificate. The contest is run in co-operation with Molson's Brewery (Ontario) Ltd. who have provided anglers to date with over $45,000 in cash awards.

The game fish eligible for entry in the contest are Rainbow Trout, Speckled (Brook) Trout, Lake Trout or Splake, Walleye (Pickerel), Northern Pike, Largemouth Bass, Smallmouth Bass and Maskinonge. Entry forms must be accompanied by a clear side view photograph of the fish. Scale samples are requested, if possible, and these are sent to the Ministry of Natural Resources for study. Scales submitted over the past years have provided the Fisheries Department with valuable information on our Sport Fish.

Entry forms are available at convenient locations throughout the province and can also be obtained by writing to The Big Fish Contest, Box 480, Richmond Hill, Ont.

Increase Wage Supplement

An increase in the wage supplement from the present 3% to 8% was announced recently by Dominion Textile Limited. This increase will be effective May 13, 1974 for all hours worked by unionized employees in its Quebec and Ontario plants.

This decision was reached after consultations with the company's principal unions, the C.S.D. and U.T.W.A.

In making this announcement the company stated: "It has become apparent that our original supplement which took the form of a lump sum payment prior to last Christmas and a continuing 3% from January 1st, 1974, would not be sufficient to compensate our employees for the loss in purchasing power which they are likely to encounter before contracts are renegotiated".

Presbyterian Presbyterial WMS May Rally

Brockville Presbyterian Presbyterial W.M.S. May Rally was held in Cardinal in St. Andrews & St. James Church. The theme was "Mission is Love".

The president, Mrs. Edith Adams was in charge, assisted by Mrs. D. Carlyle recording secretary and Mrs. E. Torrance corresponding secretary.

Devotions were conducted by Chesterville Auxiliary. Scripture was read from Ephesians 4 verses 1 to 16 followed by prayer.

"A Mission on our Doorstep" an interesting story was told by Westport Auxiliary. A bus load of young people from a Presbyterian Church in Detroit, Michigan, were travelling in the area when their bus broke down. Westport opened up their church and supplied board and lodging until repairs which could not be obtained in Canada were brought from the States.

Beautiful banners were displayed and letters read from the young people received on their return home. Westport is to be commended for responding so quickly and generously when a mission was dropped on their doorstep which once again proves we do share one another's burdens.

Rev. and Mrs. Currie of Lansdowne showed beautiful slides on their recent trip to the Holy Land. In their commentaries they told of Jerusalem and the conference on the Holy Spirit when 4000 people of all ages from 40 countries attended.

The meeting adjourned at 12:15 and Morewood had charge of partners for lunch which were chosen by matching flowers.

A delicious lunch was served by the Cardinal ladies. During lunch hour Mrs. G. Forrester, retiring president, was presented with an Honorary member certificate and Cardinal, her home Auxiliary, with an Honorary member pin.

Following lunch a hymn sing was enjoyed conducted by Mrs. Mawhinney with Mrs. Helen Steinburg at the organ.

The afternoon session opened with prayer by Mrs. C. Robinson followed by a hymn. Miss M. Boyd, Educational Resource Consultant, Ottawa, in her brief remarks gave a few thoughts on how our meeting could be improved.

Offering was received by Iroquois Auxiliary and dedicated by Spencerville.

A beautiful solo "Along the Road" by Mrs. G. Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Steinburg was enjoyed.

Splendid reports by Miss Mildred Lorimer, Mrs. George McIlveen and Mrs. William Brown, delegates to Synodical in Montreal were given. Two thought provoking skits followed by discussion concerning contributions to Missions in other countries was given by Morrisburg ladies.

On September 19th, Planning Committee will meet in the morning and the executive at 1:30 in the afternoon in Morrisburg.

Courtesies were given by Mrs. Russell Milne, Kemptville.

An invitation for 1975 was extended by Winchester for the May Rally.

Hymn 508 and prayer by Lansdowne closed a very inspiring Rally.

Citizens and Merchants of Morrisburg, together with numerous clubs and associations co-operate to organize a calendar of events which will fascinate everyone.

Old Home Week '74 will feature a Midway which will be continuous during all activities. Other events will include helicopter rides, Grand Prix Wrestling, The Red Cap Aerobatic Team, Tournaments of different natures, the famous Fort Henry Guard, Concerts, a Fiddling and Stepdancing contest, numerous barbeques and an Antique Car Parade.

On Sat., June 29, the Old Home Week Committee will present"Drums Along the Seaway." This event commonly referred to as The Battle of the Drums, comprises a number of excellent marching bands in a competition. "Sportswear For All Seasons" and Know your Knits" were exhibit topics explained to the audience at Achievement Day for Dundas West 4-H Homemaking Clubs. The clubs met at Nationview Public School, South Mountain, on May 25th. Girls commenting on the exhibits were Janet Blom of Mountain #1 club, Janet Percival of Hallville Club, Louise Backes of South Mountain Club and Lori Small of Matilda #1 Club.

During the afternoon, each club also modelled the sportswear garments which they had made from knit fabrics to complete the project. "A Knit Knot Bazaar" was the theme used by Mountain #2 Club for their Fashion Review. Commentator was Jo-Ann Ransberry. Matilda #2 Club members, introduced by Lorna Strader, used various pieces of sports equipment to show how their outfits could be used during many seasons.

One of the highlights of the Achievement Day was the presentation of County Honour Awards to members who have completed sic Homemaking Club Awards. These girls were Evonne Kolff, Karen McInnis and Joyce Stewart of Matilda #1 Club; Lorna Strader of Matilda #2 Club; Janet Blom and Anita Gibson of Mountain #1 Club and Linda Simzer of Mountain #2 Club. For five years of leadership, Mrs. Franklin Milne, leader of Mountain #2 Club, received a certificate from the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs.

Mrs. Grace Strader on behalf of Dundas District Women's Institutes extended greetings and congratulations to all the girls and leaders for their work during this project.

During the day's activities, Home Economist Lorraine Holding was assisted by Mrs. Alison Murray of Martintown.

Many of Dundas 4-H Homemaking Club members are now busy with the Garden Project - Use of Vegetables. Achievement Day will be on Aug. 14th. The Fall project will be "A World of Food in Canada" which studies the foods and customs of Canada's ancestors.

IN MEMORIAM

MONTGOMERY - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Jerry Montgomery, who passed away May 30th, 1973.
It is sad to walk the road alone
Instead of side by side;
But to all there comes that moment
When our road of life divides.
You gave us all years of happiness
Then came sorrow and tears;
But you left us beautiful memories
We will treasure throughout the years.
Always remembered by his wife Ella and family.
