Briefly

Watch for deer

WILLIAMSBURG -- Six collisions between car and deer have taken place in Dundas County in the last week, most of them in Williamsburg Township. Provincial police remind motorists to watch for the hazard that deer create along roadways, in the fall and at all times of the year.

Bar break-in

WILLIAMSBURG – OPP are investigating a break-in and theft at a Williamsburg bar. Police said Sidewinders was broken into on or before November 22, and stolen were liquor, cigarettes and coins from the pool table. Const. P. Robertson is investigating.

Choir performs

CHESTERVILLE -- Handel's Christmas Messiah, a centuries-old tradition, comes to Trinity United Church in Chesterville on Wednesday, December 10 at 7:30 p.m. The 44-member Seaway Singers, with director Michael Goodwin, will sing the cantata, including the Hallelujah! Chorus and Christmas carols. Also, the Renaissance Voyces will present music from the 16th Century. All proceeds from the $7 tickets will go toward Partners For Children in Development, a non- profit, charitable organization run by George Jacobson of Iroquois that supports a hospital, orphanage, school, daycare and skills training workshop in Central America. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance by calling 448-2580.

Vehicles recovered

CORNWALL -- Two vehicles reported stolen from Cornwall last month have been recovered in Stormont County. A 1988 Dodge Shadow was recovered November 23 along Lalonde Road in Osnabruck Township. Its wheels had been removed and the vehicle was totally burned. A second stolen vehicle was found the same day along Concession 6-7 in Finch Township. It was also destroyed by fire. Const. A. Garner is investigating both incidents.

Cheque it out

CHESTERVILLE — Despite the strike affecting Canada Post, recipients of old age security and Canada Pension Plan monthly payments will be getting their cheques on time. Michelle Simard, spokesperson with Canada Post in Ottawa said the cheques are at the Chesterville Post office and will be delivered today (Wednesday). Simard said local mail is still being delivered in Chesterville as well as local mail that is handled by private contractors who deliver the mail along rural routes.

Grits gather

CORNWALL-- A founding meeting for the Stormont-Dundas Provincial Liberal Association will take place Thursday, November 27 at Cornwall Royal Academy of Hockey on Fourth Street in Cornwall. The meeting is being held jointly by the SD&D and East Grenville Provincial Liberal Association and Cornwall, Cornwall Township and Charlottenburgh Provincial Liberal Association. Provincial electoral boundaries have been redesigned to mirror their federal counterparts, and will be observed in the next provincial election. The Stormont-Dundas riding will also include the city of Cornwall, Township of Charlottenburgh and Akwesasne. For more information, contact Denis Sabourin at (613) 346-5416 or Alana Lafave-Bissonnette at (613) 936- 2188.

Quilt winner

CHESTERVILLE -- Winner of the Widowed Support Group's recent quilt draw was Nancy Lefebvre of Crysler. The ticket was drawn by Alicia Hunt on November 16 in Chesterville.

Submission holds vision for future role of local hospital

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

WINCHESTER – A shift in focus toward increased single-day visits and enhanced partnerships and linkages with other service providers will allow Winchester District Memorial Hospital to continue meeting the needs of the people it serves. And by reducing its number of acute care beds and rationalizing programs and administrative services, the hospital can re-invest savings to attract new patient services to the area.

These strategies are contained in a submission drafted by the hospital and submitted late last month to the province's Health Services Restructuring Commission. The commission will be in Cornwall December 2 and 3 to explore options for the restructuring of health care services in SD&G and Prescott-Russell. While the commission visit will focus on the region as a whole, WDMH will be a part of their scope.

WDMH officials will make a presentation to the HSRC, based on the 16-page document submitted to the commission. The commission is expected to make its recommendations for health care restructuring for SD&G and Prescott-Russell in January.

WDMH chief executive officer Joseline Sikorski says she understands public concern about the upcoming process, but says people should not be fearful. She says the exercise is an opportunity to enhance the hospital's range of services.

"I think that people are concerned that there will be a hospital. They want to ensure there's going to be adequate health care services in the area, to know there's going to be a bed here if they need it. And that's certainly a focus I'm committed to – the ability to provide that service for the appropriate need," Sikorski said Thursday, adding the continued provision of acute care facilities is an important focus.

"We will continue in that role and I don't believe any Health Services Commission will take that away, because it's what a lot of rural hospitals provide, and can provide.

Nestle, SNC near dam agreement

South Nation Conservation and Nestlé are on the verge of establishing a close "collaboration" in the operation and maintenance of the Chesterville dam.

The possibility of a formal arrangement is very timely, with an audit of dam operations completed in October recommending that two persons be used on operation and maintenance procedures as a safety precaution.

SNC believes Nestlé might be able to provide a backup person to its own staff member when required.

With an intake of 600,000 gallons a day, Nestlé is by far the biggest user of water from the dam's headpond and the company has regularly expressed a willingness to share some of the costs and resources involved in guaranteeing the supply.

Collaboration with Nestlé would provide a number of benefits, SNC engineer Richard Pilon told authority directors during their monthly board meeting last week.

"Nestlé's close proximity to the dam and 24-hour plant operation would facilitate the provision of backup support to SNC during regular and emergency maintenance and repair procedures," Pilon said. "Response time in the event of emergencies would be greatly reduced."

Recount affirms Fife as Finch Twp. winner

MOOSE CREEK — It's official, Dennis Fife is the new councillor for Ward Two of the Township of North Stormont.

A recount of the results of the November 10 municipal election was held on Monday, Nov., 24 at the Roxborough Township offices.

Roger Ouimet, who lost the election to Fife by seven votes was granted a recount by Roxborough Township council on Monday, Nov. 17.

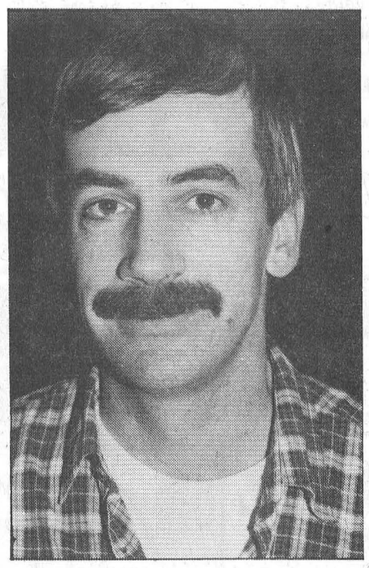
After a two-and-a-half-hour recount, the margin of victory remained the same at seven, although Fife's official vote total was 370 as compared to 371 on election night. Ouimet garnered 363 votes in the recount as compared to 364 on election night.

"It was very close," said Roxborough Township clerk-treasurer Mary McCuaig. "There were no objections to any ballot. Both candidates had one ballot removed from their total."

McCuaig said there were just 15 spoiled ballots among the total ballots cast in Ward Two.

"The election act has been cleaned up quite a bit," she said. "There is greater room for ballots to be accepted as long as they are clearly marked. Very seldom are ballots rejected for that reason."

In most cases the ballots that were rejected, the voter had selected more than one candidate for the position, McCuaig said. "Some ballots had a line through all the candidates."



Dennis Fife

Fife, a newcomer to municipal politics will represent Ward Two (Finch Township) on the council of the new Township of North Stormont. He'll be joined by Alton Blair, representing Ward Three (Roxborough Township), and Terry Ouderkirk representing Ward One (Village of Finch).

The new council, under the direction of Reeve- elect Archie Byers and deputy-reeve elect Floyd Dingwall, will meet for the first time as an official council on Friday, Jan. 2, 1998.

South Dundas has hurdles to clear in search for its new home

Rich Thorpe
Record Staff

WILLIAMSBURG — The new municipality of South Dundas is looking for a place to call home.

While the amalgamation of Morrisburg, Iroquois, Matilda Township and Williamsburg Township will take effect on January 1, 1998, the new township is still in negotiations with the Village of Morrisburg for use of its municipal building.

"We're still in negotiations with the tenant and the landlord," said South Dundas administrator Mike Waddell.

The Morrisburg Civic Offices also are home to the provincial court and Waddell said the new township offices would take up the entire space of the building.

"Right now Morrisburg has three staff and they share the building with the provincial court," he said. "We would need the entire building to accommodate our nine staff. There is not adequate floor space."

The provincial court in Morrisburg is in session approximately 80 days a year, depending on the caseload Waddell said. If the South Dundas municipal office is located in Morrisburg, there is a possibility that the court would be closed.

"That appears to be one of the main stumbling blocks at present," Waddell said.

"We want to work with (the court) and not lose that service to the area that is our number one priority," he said.

Although the countdown to amalgamation is drawing closer, Waddell is confident an arrangement will be worked out.

"I'm hopeful that this will be resolved very soon," he said. "As with any bureaucratic negotiations it takes time to get to the final stages."

Waddell said there is a possibility the Williamsburg Township office could be used.

"We will be looking at our other municipal facilities just to cover ourselves," he said. "Morrisburg and Williamsburg were identified as the two potential sites. We may need to use Williamsburg on an interim basis."

Mail strike won't derail snowsuit drive

Rich Thorpe
Record Staff

CHESTERVILLE — Organizers of the North Dundas Snowsuit Fund aren't going to let the postal strike stand in the way of their worthy project.

Chairman Bob Weagant told the Record Monday donations will be accepted at all banks in Chesterville, Winchester and South Mountain.

Traditionally, the North Dundas Snowsuit Fund receives most of its donations through the mail.

However, with mail service interrupted by the strike at Canada Post, Weagant wants the public to know donations are still being accepted by the group.

"Our campaign is geared to the mail," he said. "With the strike, we're trying to get the message out to the public that they can make their donations at the area banks."

The North Dundas Snowsuit Fund provides snowsuits for children of needy families in Chesterville, Winchester Township, Winchester and Mountain Township.

Weagain said that in 1996, 115 snowsuits were distributed to area children. Requests for assistance are handled through area social services agencies.

He anticipates the need will be the same this year, if not greater. In order to meet the demand, the group needs to raise between $4,000-$5,000, he said.

Tax receipts will be issued for donations. Anyone wishing to assist can contact Weagant at (613) 774-2887 during the daytime or (613) 989-2823 after 6 p.m.

WDMH readies for HSRC visit

A rural hospital doesn't take up a lot of dollars. They won't accrue a lot of savings by closing ours. They're more interested in us being more efficient."

The visioning process at WDMH started early this year, when the board of governors undertook a review of the hospital's current role, the needs of the catchment area and other strategies. In the summer, a consultant was hired to provide an outside perspective on a new role for the hospital. Ideas were consolidated through a Strategic Plan, a document drafted with community input that discusses a vision for the role of the hospital, as well as guiding principles, strategies for change, potential partners and implementing change.

The submission to the HSRC is based on that strategic plan, while taking into account the province's Rural and Northern Hospitals Framework policy, which acknowledges a difference in needs between smaller hospitals in rural areas and larger hospitals in cities.

"We will continue in that role and I don't believe any Health Services Commission will take that away, because it's what a lot of rural hospitals provide, and can provide. A rural hospital doesn't take up a lot of dollars. They won't accrue a lot of savings by closing ours. They're more interested in us being more efficient."

- WDMH CEO Joseline Sikorski

The submission identifies the hospital's role as continuing to include full-time emergency services, a full range of internal medical and surgical care, birthing services, continued chronic care and pastoral care.

Sikorski stresses a shift in focus to ambulatory care, which means non-overnight patient stays, does not mean the level of care offered would be any less, and would not turn the hospital into a clinic. It's a change in the way things are done, she says, whether it's in day surgery or other treatment.

With advances in medical technology such as the minimally-invasive laparoscopic surgery, and non-critical activities such as bloodwork or paperwork done prior to the visit, procedures that used to require an overnight stay can now be done during a daytime visit, meaning the high-end cost of an overnight stay is gone. Identifying the necessary number of beds and reducing to that number will allow WDMH to reinvest dollars into new services to fill gaps, Sikorski says, new services such as orthopaedics, opthalmology, rehabilitation, mental health outpatient programs and palliative care.

"In fact, we would grow in a different way by enhancing the number of services people would get closer to home. If we put the money into beds we don't need, then we don't have money for other services," she says, adding a reduction in acute care beds would be done in such a way as to match the need, and that capacity to reduce exists right now. The support of a patient's family is also recognized as a critical component.

"That means stepping out of an old view of beds as an important factor. It's really the provision of services. That's the key."

An excellent example of what is both ambulatory care and a new service, Sikorski says, is the possibility of bringing chemotherapy to WDMH to treat cancer patients. The hospital has applied to be a satellite centre for Cancer Care Ontario. If approved, the hospital would offer chemotherapy, supervised by medical oncologists in Ottawa but delivered in Winchester by formally trained local doctors.

The hospital's submission to the HSRC acknowledges that the number of acute care beds can be reduced from the current 54, but the hospital's focus can remain in acute care at the same time. "Seventy-five per cent of of actual activities in hospitals, by benchmark standards, are ambulatory. So why wouldn't we want to position ourselves for the future?" Sikorski asks. "We're not doing any less, we're just doing it differently."

The submission notes it is important that savings achieved through bed closures remain with the hospital for reinvestment in other services, and acknowledges capital funding would be necessary to adapt WDMH for a restructured health system. It asks the HSRC to support 70-per-cent funding from the Ministry of Health for that purpose.

It would also make sense to slightly reduce the number of chronic care beds at WDMH, Sikorski says, but at the same time initiate some form of daytime care program for seniors.

As far as linkages, the submission envisions WDMH as part of a regionally-integrated health care system, providing a seamless continuum of care. It lists an extensive number of current links, and notes a commitment to the pursuit of further partnerships and alliances, program by program, as appropriate for the needs of the community and as viable within resources.

While the rationalization of programs and administrative services with Kemptville District Hospital is contained in the submission, it is also indicated WDMH does not wish to join the Ottawa Valley Hospital Alliance, as has KDH, which would mean a full corporate merger with no flexibility for partnerships between members. Also, a change in referral from predominantly the Ottawa General to the northwest end of Ottawa, as would be necessary as an OVHA member, would not be convenient for the local population, the WDMH submission states.

The submission refers to The Ottawa Hospital, CHEO and Cancer Care Ontario as targets for linkages, and collaboration with Tri-County Mental Health Services, Cornwall General Hospital and the Royal Ottawa Hospital to ensure a satisfactory network of mental health services.

Department should be notified before brush burning, chief says

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

CHESTERVILLE – Farmers and others who burn brush and debris in the countryside should notify local fire departments ahead of time to avoid unnecessary fire calls, says Chesterville Fire Chief Ross Casselman.

Casselman made the comment moments after returning from a false alarm in Williamsburg Township Thursday morning.

The Chesterville department was called to a field east of Dunbar late Thursday morning after a passerby noticed smoke. The department arrived to find a small fire under control, at the hands of a farmer burning brush, which is perfectly legal.

But Casselman notes every time the fire trucks are called out, money is spent and firefighters are pulled away from their work. In this case, the Chesterville Fire Department will bill Williamsburg Township for five firefighters at $15 an hour, $225 for the use of the van and $350 for the use of the pumper, totaling $650.

Casselman suggests local townships should make it a bylaw that people who burn debris should notify local departments beforehand. He says the departments should be notified, and the burner should keep an eye on the fire, and call the departments themselves if the fire gets out of control and help is needed. Also, water should be kept on hand when burning is done.

He said for example, another local farmer had called him last Wednesday night and told he planned to burn brush in the near future, and told him not to send the department unless he called for help himself.

If notified ahead of time, the department will know it is a case of debris removal if a call comes in, and may check it out by sending only a car if an emergency call comes in from another party.

Casselman adds while the burning of such debris is allowed in rural areas, it is not permitted within village limits.

SNC, Nestlé close on dam

In addition, with machine shops and millwrights on the premises, Nestlé can offer equipment repair and expertise which now must be sought elsewhere, costing time and dollars.

Pilon said the possibilities have been explored at the local level and must now be endorsed by Nestlé's "higher-ups".

Noting that involvement by the company in maintaining the dam has been discussed for years, SNC chair Denis Perrault welcomed news of an imminent agreement.

Directors passed a motion authorizing staff to negotiate a "suitable arrangement" with Nestlé. In response to the audit, they passed a second motion to establish general safety procedures at the dam, and are hopeful it will be in collaboration with the company.

Undertaken by Ottawa Engineering Limited, the audit found the dam is being operated properly and is meeting its mandated requirements which include: Dilution of wastewater discharges and preserving of downstream water quality; maintenance of a minimum water level upstream, and provision of instream flow to facilitate fish spawning and migration.

However, the auditor offered several recommendations designed to improve safety, including purchasing special equipment and establishing certain procedures, such as using two persons to service the inside of the sluice gate and to install and remove stoplogs.

Faith still unbroken

Every year in November, communities across eastern Ontario join local veterans in paying a sombre remembrance to those who laid down their lives for us in times of war.

But it's sad to report that as the haunting reverberations of The Last Post fade for another year, we are left with reports of two disrespectful acts involving Remembrance Day, one in Chesterville and another in Morewood.

In Chesterville, a poppy tray and its contents were stolen from a restaurant during the week leading up to local Remembrance Day services. And in Morewood, two youths were observed on Thursday going into the fenced cenotaph with a shovel and an axe and destroying 14 wreaths and crosses that had been laid there during Remembrance Day ceremonies two days before.

It is obviously unknown who took the poppy tray and its contents from the Heritage Cafe. But whether it was some youth who grabbed it as a lark or an adult who felt they needed the tray's contents more than the Legion, there is no excuse for such an act.

And in Morewood, it is a shame those two youths didn't recognize the wreaths and crosses as solemnly-borne tributes, but as meaningless trinkets to be toyed with for a cheap thrill.

It will be a sad day indeed when poppy trays cannot be left in local businesses before Remembrance Day for fear of theft, or when wreaths and crosses cannot be left at cenotaphs after ceremonies for the community to observe and enjoy.

These two incidents of disrespect, if nothing else, illustrate exactly why it is important we continue to mark Remembrance Day each year, why it's important our schools deliver that message, our media, our Legions; all of us as a community. And sooner or later, such poppy stealers, wreath wreckers and others like them will hopefully understand what this observance is all about, what the real story is behind it.

Yes, it is sad to think there are those in the community, of whatever age, upon whom the concept of homage is lost. Surely, if they understood the history of Canada's contributions in times of global need, they would have the sense to show some respect.

The two world wars and the Korean War all happened long ago and far away, but their impact was felt right here at home; it is still felt today. The legacy of Canada's contribution lives in the freedom we enjoy today as a nation, and in remembrance of those who gave their lives. We can see this legacy on the faces of our veterans and their families as they march on local monuments every year.

As ignorant and discouraging as these two acts were, they will never take away from, nor will they overshadow the commitment with which we continue to remember those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

Pre-Yule Cowslips and Cowflops

By Robin Morris
Dubious Achievements Editor

Well Gentle Reader, here we are. It's now less than a month to Christmas and Sony, Nintendo and Sega still haven't introduced their new wonder 512-bit video game systems; they haven't contrived their artificial shortages designed to drive up prices through parental gift angst and with less than 30 days before Greedfest, there is no wonder toy, no Tickle My Elbow or whatever it was last year, to cause rioting at malls across the U.S. So with relative piece of mind still reigning on the eve of Advent, let's indulge in some pre-Yule Cowslips and Cowflops before things get too hectic with all that serious mall crawling of the next few weeks. And if I don't get the chance between now and the 25th, yeah, yeah, yeah, compliments of the season to you, too, bud.

First off a Cowslip to Quebec's Oleo Cops for raiding that store in Alma Monday and carting off 300 tubs of butter-colored margarine. Can't be too safe now, can we? It's not that I support Toronto's Unilever, which imported the ghastly stuff from the States and which still has a stash of it hidden somewhere in the Unique (but not Distinct) Province to the east, but enough's enough already. Ontario did away with its margarine coloring regulations almost two years ago and dairy farmers have never had it better. Let's face it. Margarine's margarine and despite all the phoney health scares its manufacturers have tried to create, it's still not butter. And never will be. And whether it's the color lard, a Day-Glo banana or the soft creamy yellow of a natural food, Canadians, even those who are Uniquely (but not Distinctly) Different no longer need to be protected from it.

And since we're getting into the spirit of the season, let's give a Cowslip to the University of Ottawa GeeGees, who made it to the Canadian college football championship before losing to the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds Saturday afternoon in Toronto's SkyDump. How the GeeGees manage to field winning teams year after year remains a mystery. The team is ignored like no other in the nation. The only time they draw a crowd is for the Panda Game, and then they're too drunk to know what day it is, let alone what game is being played. U of O doesn't have a stadium, it doesn't have a campus to speak of, and yet it consistently puts together a winning football team. So congrats to the Grey and Garnet but tell me, what the &8*#@!'s a GeeGee?

*****

And in a less generous vein, a Cowflop to the Canadian Senate, that House of Sober Second Thought and Drunken Sailor Indifference to Taxpayers. The Senate is fighting back against allegations that its members collect their $64,000 a year (plus $10,000 in expenses) showin'-up money even if they rarely show up for work. Now the Senate has launched a pre-emptive strike against claims that its members are nothing but out-to-pasture troughers by producing a booklet of easy to repeat statements on its true worth to Canadians. For instance, Senators don't knowingly harm animals, except for what it is alleged they do to the canine population when they should be working. They don't support martial law, unless it is proposed by the party which holds a majority in the Senate, and none of them has ever been convicted (and the operative word is convicted) of a crime.

*****

A Cowflop to British General Sir Hew Pike, for claiming last week that the introduction of women and gays into the Canadian military has rendered our army unfit as a fighting force. Piker the Pommie's got it all wrong. It's not that our Forces are all nancy boys, although the last-minute substitution of the Vandoos for the kilted Seaforth Highlanders as the honor guard for the collection of military strongmen, fascist dictators and Marxist crackpots masquerading as statesmen at the APEC summit in Vancouver shows that our government is a tad skittish on the subject. It seems that our problems, at least according to a story in Monday's Citizen about the snafus during a simulated attack on National Defence Headquarters and other military installations in the National Capital region earlier this year, stem from a lack of good coffee, adequate daycare and conflicts with night school scheduling. And from a briefcase-toting officer corps that wouldn't know an AR15 from an RRSP. And take a look at what those hetero good old boys achieved in Somalia.

A Cowslip to Canada Post's musical negotiators during last week's punch up at a Hull hotel. According to a CBC reporter who witnessed the scene, two CPC negotiators threw a CUPW negotiator to the ground and then knocked him down again when he tried to get up after going to their room to see why they were failing to answer their phone. It seems CUPW wanted to talk about the strike, but the CBC report indicated that the corporation's top men had been drinking and there was a guitar propped up against the wall during the altercation. All I want to know is what song they were singing before being so rudely interrupted. Could it have been Wait A Minute Mr. Postman? Another high note in Canadian labor relations.

*****

And lastly a Cowflop to the Royal Bank for its latest series of TV ads showing its managers involved in the community and earnestly telling bank employees that the Royal has built its business one customer at a time. The ads are just as odious as the Bank of Montreal's highjacking of Bob Dylan's Blowin' In The Wind to legitimize the replacement of people with automated tellers. Shouldn't those ads read "Canada's banks built their billion-dollar profits one service charge at a time"? Just asking.

Letters To The Editor

Economic development must be top priority

To the editor:

As a former City of Cornwall, director of Economic Development, with 20 years of senior municipal management and community economic development experience, I have watched with professional interest the election statements of candidates seeking election to either Cornwall City council or election to one of six newly-amalgamated township councils in the united counties of SD&G.

All candidates either stated or implied: economic development must be a top municipal priority, and most candidates confirmed: there is an urgent need to take a more proactive and aggressive regional approach to economic development. Who can disagree with this?

I commend the current efforts of the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce Economic Renewal Committee in this regard and hope they succeed, however, let us not forget, it is the sole responsibility of the newly elected municipal councils to take this bold initiative and make economic development their number one priority. Council must direct their respective economic development staff to work together towards this worthy objective and not waste further time by working independently of each other, and more importantly, curtail staff from performing non-essential economic development functions.

Again, it is the electorate's responsibility to ensure that our newly elected politicians fulfill their election promises to change the present methodology and programs of the two municipally funded and independently controlled economic development organizations.

It is time for all parties to work together and maximize fully on the current efforts of the Cornwall Economic Renewal Committee and Team Cornwall. our socio-economic prosperity surely depends upon our ability to work together and immediately change the current practice of working independently of each others efforts.

It is time to change our current economic development direction.

Going to high school was a whole new experience for me after the one-room Frood school. The high school in Chesterville had been built on a three-acre lot south of the public school in about 1912. It was a big square brick building with a wide centre hall, two stories high with a generous basement. First and Second Forms (now grades 9 and 10) were on the first floor and Third Form on one side of the second floor. A small room for Fourth Form and the teacher's room, occupied the other side. The commercial classes were held in part of the upper hall. The pupils in all forms stayed put and the teachers rotated.

The pupils came from the village, the southeast corner of Winchester Township and the northeast corner of Williamsburg Township. There were two other high schools in our township, at Winchester and Morewood.

You can imagine how I felt, one of the youngest in a crowd of 100 or so pupils, where I knew only a handful of them. I think there were only three of us newly arrived from S.S. No. 10.

We had four teachers that first year: Glenn Steinberg, principal and mathematics teacher; Mary Costello teaching English; Mabel MacKay for Latin and French; and Hazel Gardiner for sciences. Quite a few subjects were absolutely new to me: algebra, Latin and French. These languages were strictly grammar and writing; Miss MacKay from Renfrew County I think, made no attempt to teach French conversation, probably it wasn't on the curriculum.

I walked to school, a little over a mile. My parents thought I should have a hot dinner, so they arranged for me to go to Helen Moad's at noon. Helen lived with her brother John, who had a large garden and a pigeon coop at their home on Victoria Street. I remember the occasional meal of roast squab (young pigeon), and being surprised how little meat there was on these birds except on the breast. The next year I took dinner at Mrs. Richard Cramer's, who used to live next door to our farm, and then lived in the Henderson house on Main St., where the drugstore is today. My memory there focuses on the custard sauce that Mrs. Cramer always poured over her desserts. I didn't much like it, nor did I greatly enjoy it when I met it in England many years later. I now realize that custard sauce can be either very good or rather tasteless.

Quite a few kids boarded in the village during the week, because of the distance from their homes. Of course, most of the teachers boarded, too. They were single, couldn't afford cars and public transportation was limited. Their salaries, except for the principal, was no more than $1000. During one winter I got a regular ride with my neighbor cousin, Graham Smith. He drove a sleigh drawn by a mule which he stabled for the day at James Johnstone's on Victoria Street (where Floyd Bradford lives today). Two of our teachers, Miss MacKay and Miss Gardiner, boarded at the Johnstone's. Another teacher, Alphonse Laforet lived with his wife in an upstairs apartment in the Fulton Block.

I remember my high school days much better than my public school days. There would be one or two new teachers every year but I will mention only a few of them. First, was Glenn Steinberg, who was a good teacher but left the next year, perhaps because he was getting divorced. He later taught for many years at the Ottawa High School of Commerce. I got to know him in his retirement because his second wife was a cousin of mine, Willa Ellis.

Jennie McDowell was principal when I was in Senior Third Form. (We spent two years in Third Form, now grades 11 and 12 with the curriculum alternating from year to year.) I thought she was a marvellous history teacher. She acted out many episodes of Ancient History and her dramatic style helped to make history a life-long interest of mine. However, because she had difficulty with discipline in her classes, she left after one year.

Archie Crowe was a character. He was a great story-teller and often spent a whole algebra period spinning a tale, like one I remember, about the man who won a fortune at the Monte Carlo casino. In the junior classes, he didn't hesitate to use the yardstick. He was fired at Christmas and was replaced by Ruth Kitching, who did a good job even though mathematics was not her specialty.

Hilda McNeely was very popular with the girls because of her stylish wardrobe. She seemed to have a new outfit every day.

I mentioned in an earlier column how the Protestants kept a tight control over the public schools in the rural areas. There was an elementary separate school in Chesterville, which many of the Catholic children attended. It was different at the high school level because there were no Catholic high schools. A compromise allowed one of the four teachers to be Catholic and also two of the eight trustees. I don't recall any trouble because of religion at either school level. People expected the Protestant teachers to be active in their church and to teach a Sunday School class, instead of leaving town for the weekend.

Although we had a large schoolyard, I don't recall very much in the way of sports. A softball diamond was used regularly. We had some cadet training and learned to "form fours" and to march after a fashion Mr. Laforet introduced football later.

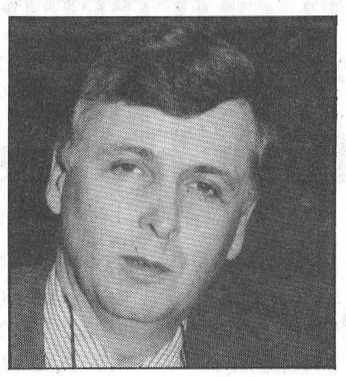
In the basement on the boys' side there was a large ladder with polished steel rungs suspended from the ceiling. We had a lot of fun swinging on that ladder during rainy or cold days. Miss McDowell put us through our calisthenics in that basement. That year the whole teaching staff was female. We boys used to marvel at Miss McDowell's naivete, because during our gym class she would place her keys in our urinal, a horizontal trough.

To my everlasting regret I never took any of the commercial classes. I could have greatly benefitted later from typing and perhaps even shorthand. My father-in-law, a senior civil servant, told me how handy it was to be able to take down shorthand notes. But the commercial courses were considered by the boys to be sissy; they were only for girls who were planning a secretarial career.

Not many pupils made it all the way through to Fourth Form (senior matriculation or grade 13 today). They started dropping out after a couple years of high school or when they reached the compulsory age for attendance, at 16 years.

Interim director appointed

CORNWALL - The members-elect of the new District School Board #26 are pleased to announce that, at their initial caucus meeting on November 22, 1997, James Dilamarter was appointed interim director of the new board. Dilamarter is currently in his 10th year as the Director of Education with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Public School Board.



James Dilamarter

This appointment has been arrived at through mutual consent. Dilamarter, in accepting this position, said that this decision by the new board respected his requests completely. He indicated that he will be retiring at the end of his current contract (August 1999). His stated intention was not to apply for the directorship of the new board but to seek a mutually satisfactory arrangement that would reflect his desire to serve the board in some worthwhile capacity and to support the needs of the board at this time. It is his belief that whoever assumes the directorship must accept a commitment that goes beyond the 1999 school year.

Dilamarter's first responsibility will be to organize the process by which the new board will select its Director of Education. He will also be responsible for the overall administration of the new board until the new director assumes his responsibilities.

June Timmons, interim chair of the District School Board #26 expresses her satisfaction with this decision and believes that this appointment will facilitate the director-selection process while allowing for the maintenance of service to the communities of the new board.

Legion News

While holding meetings with the village council to have the cenotaph moved to the park on Queen Street the Legion submitted a request to have the park named "Veteran's Memorial Park" in honor of those who gave their lives in the three wars. Well, finally it is official and in the future there will be a sign displaying the name. At this time I want to thank the village council for their support by making this possible.

If you have not received your 1998 membership card contact either Gord Machardie at 448-1050 or Randy LeClair at 448-2970.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Support was appreciated

To the editor:

On behalf of the teachers in all the schools in SD&G, I would like to thank the many members of the public who supported us during our recent political protest. It was a difficult decision for everyone who was out on the line but one in which we committed ourselves to our goal.

The encouragement, assistance and support you gave us reminded us of our key role in the community and of the reasons why we are fighting to preserve public education.

A lifelong dream was realized by Shawna Dunbar Saturday afternoon as the Winchester Townshp artist officially opened Spruce Bough Studio and Gallery. Shawna was assisted in the ribbon-cutting ceremony by her mother, Margaret, left, and father, Wayne, right, and contractor Henry Berkers of South Mountain, who snipped the ribbon. Work on the gallery-studio, located at 13946 Limerick Road, was started April 29.

Gallery opening achieves young artist's lifelong dream

LIMERICK ROAD - Shawna Dunbar achieved a lifelong dream when the ribbon was cut here Saturday afternoon officially opening Spruce Bough Studio and Gallery.

The gallery is in a small, cottage-style building located in a grove of spruce trees behind the home of her parents, Wayne and Margaret Dunbar, at 13946 Limerick Road (just west of the Winchester-Finch Township Boundary Road) and is filled with Shawna's own art, crafts produced by local artisans and such gourmet and specialty food items as dried fruits, trail mix, mulling spices, cookies, brownies and candies.

Shawna, 21, has made drawing and painting her life's work and her talents are on display throughout the quaint gallery, which was constructed of recycled materials. The main door is from the early part of the century and the natural wood floor was created by her father and a friend. A cozy loft hideaway serves as her office.

Pencil sketches are Shawna's preferred medium, especially for portraits. She uses water colors for her lifelike paintings of animals and is now tackling oils.

Many of her nature studies can be composed just by glancing from the windows of the gallery.

Shawna does commissioned portraits, preferring to work from photographs, either supplied by customers or taken at her studio. Pets and children are her specialties for this form.

The frames for her paintings and drawings are hand-crafted by her father and her mother and sister, Tammy, also produce crafts and gourmet food items, making the gallery a "family affair", she said shortly before Saturday's ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Chesterville Public School notes

Chesterville Public School will be implementing the new provincial report card this year, which is standardized across the province. Students will receive letter grades based on provincial expectations. Report cards will go home Monday, December 1. Parent-teacher interviews will be held Wednesday, December 3 in the evening, Thursday, December 4 in the evening and Friday, December 5 during the day. Please note that December 5 is a PD Day and there are no classes.

School council members are participating in a forum today (Nov. 26) at Tagwi Secondary School in Avonmore. CPS principal Glenn MacLeod will be one of the presenters at this board-wide information night.

Grade 5 and 6 students participated in a simulated archaeological dig recently at the Chesterville Heritage Centre. Thanks to Anne Thomson-Gaillard for organizing this very-worthwhile event.

Grades 4, 5 and 6 will present a Christmas Concert for family and friends on December 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The North Dundas Childrens Christmas Fun Committee will be pleased to accept any donations of non- perishable foods or cash to help those in need. These may be sent to the school, which will ensure the committee receives them.

The CPS basketball team will wear its new uniforms to compete at the county tournament in December.

CPS will have a float in the Santa Claus Parade the morning of December 13. Volunteers are needed! Any help with the float would be gratefully accepted. Call Kathy at 448-2224.

Wayward chicken settles nicely into comfy, new adopted home

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

DUNBAR – The chicken that darted homelessly through the streets of Chesterville last week has encountered a very lucky break indeed.

After being on the lam for up to a week in chilly temperatures and dodging traffic and other hazards, the misplaced poultry is now resting comfortably in a friendly environment, complete with food, water and lots of company.

Photographed in last week's Record while on the run November 13, the black and silver-colored chicken had strutted helplessly throughout the village, evading initial attempts at capture by well-minded citizenry. But the bird was finally collared on the weekend, and graciously spared from a - shall we say, gastronomical fate – and turned over to a Dunbar-area resident who has a history of helping animals in need.

Lucky is now one of a collection of animals in the small but cozy barn of Virginia Abbott. And Abbott says the bird is adjusting to its new home quite nicely. Appropriately, the new guest has been named Lucky.

"She's pretty friendly, and she seems to be happy here," Abbott says of Lucky. "She was so hungry, the poor thing. And I'm amazed she didn't get hit by a car."

Abbott explains Lucky was captured by Maggie and Hubert Curran, friends who knows that wayward animals can find refuge in the Abbott barn. Abbott brought Lucky to her new home in a cat cage last Monday.

"She seems to like it here. She's got lots of company," Abbott says. And what company indeed - Lucky is now one of eight hens who call the barn home, along with Sir Peach, a very dignified rooster, Gypsy, a horse originally intended for the slaughterhouse, Catherine, a goat that was mistreated by other animals at a goat farm and a pot-bellied pig that wore out its welcome at another family's home.

"We try to take (unwanted) animals when we can," Abbott says. "I don't mind taking animals that people don't want, as long as someone doesn't give me an elephant or something." There is also a selection of dogs and cats on the Abbott farm, and a goldfish for good measure.

While Lucky was not interested in approaching people during her past life on the streets of Chesterville, she has become rather comfortable in the Abbott barn, socializing freely with the other animals, catching up on missed meals and even perching on Gypsy's back. Lucky did get into a "tiff' with one of the other hens, Abbott says, but they seem to have worked out their differences.

"She's got beautiful coloring," Abbott says, holding Lucky in her hands and stroking her gently. "She's almost like silver." Lucky is still a little undernourished, but won't be for very long, thanks to the caring gestures of the Abbott family.

Abbott's son David notes that Lucky approached him when he was holding some feed. And Lucky truly is a lucky bird, adds her daughter Pauline.

Abbott thinks Lucky may have fallen off the back of a truck en route to a slaughterhouse, or maybe is a pet that escaped its owners. If Lucky's original owner comes forward, Abbott says she will gladly return the bird. But for the time being, Lucky will enjoy her new surroundings, and her new friends.

And it seems Lucky is not ungrateful to the Abbotts for their kindness. She's presenting large, brown eggs as gifts, the first of which was found lovingly laid on a workbench in the barn. Lucky's eggs are larger than those laid by any of her barnmates.

"She's been laying eggs since she came here," Abbott says. Maybe it's her way of saying thank you."

Milk results by phone

ALFRED -- Because of the postal strike, milk quality results for dairy producers have not been mailed from the University of Guelph. Dairy producers wishing to get their current results may do so by contacting Roger Pommainville, at the OMAFRA's Alfred Field Office, 1-800-465-9974 and leaving their name, producer licence number, telephone and fax number. Results will be transmitted within one working day of the request.

Driver charged

WILLIAMSBURG -- A 21-year-old Montreal man faces a number of charges after a vehicle failed to stop at a RIDE spot check along Hwy. 31 near Williamsburg shortly after midnight Saturday. The driver was charged with possession of stolen property over $5,000, dangerous operation of a motor vehicle, failing to stop for police and driving without a licence.

Drug charge

WILLIAMSBURG -- An 18-year-old Williamsburg Township man will appear in provincial court in Morrisburg December 9 to face charges of possession of a narcotic for the purpose of trafficking and obstructing a peace officer. The charges resulted from an investigation by provincial police on November 21.

Notes from the CWL

The ladies of St. Mary's C.W.L. Chesterville met for their monthly meeting at 7 p.m. on November 4. Mass was celebrated by Fr. Bill Nugent. Plans for the Christmas tea and bazaar were finalized.

The tea and bazaar took place on Sat., November 22 from 10 to 12 noon. Winners of the door prizes were Gina Porteous, decorated photo album and Cecile Desormeaux won the Christmas stocking.

The next meeting will be on December 2 at 7 p.m. and will be preceded by mass and a pot luck supper. Members are asked to bring a gift suitable for a shut in and also a tree ornament for exchange.

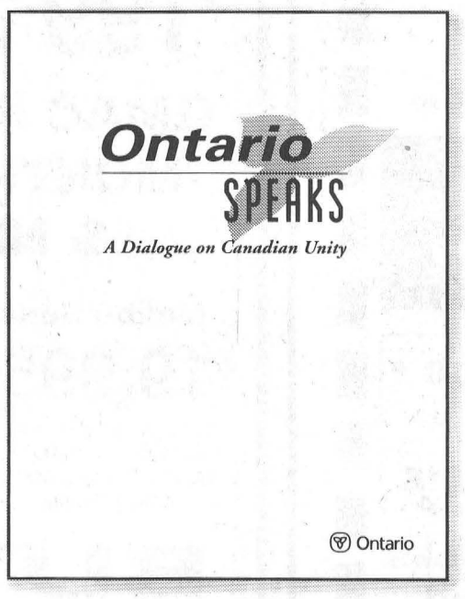
This is your opportunity to have your say on Canadian unity - on Ontario's role, and Canada's future as a nation.

In the days ahead, watch for your copy of Ontario Speaks: A Dialogue on Canadian Unity. It includes a brief questionnaire asking you for your opinion on ways to keep Canada united and strong. We need your responses by December 15, 1997. They will be included in a report to be released in the spring.

You have five different ways to have your say:

1. Mail back your completed questionnaire to us postage-free. In the case of a postal service disruption, you can return it to your local MPP's office.
2. Fax it to us at 1-888-258-1940.
3. Call us at 1-800-695-4045 to answer our questionnaire by phone (TTY: 1-800-263-7776).
4. Visit our Web site at www.ontariospeaks.com to reply to an online version of our questionnaire.
5. Call your Member of Provincial Parliament. For information on how to reach your MPP, call 1-800-668-2727 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday (In the Greater Toronto Area, call 416-321-3000).

Please note a postal service disruption could affect delivery. If you would like to obtain a questionnaire quickly, contact your local MPP.



Aussi disponible en français. Veuillez appeler votre député provincial. For a copy of the questionnaire in French, Chinese, Portuguese, Italian or Oji-Cree, please call your MPP.

The Melville Boys are coming to Winchester. Rehearsals are now underway for the Dundas County Players' production of the Norm Foster dramatic comedy, about two brothers, Lee and Owen Melville, whose plans for fun at their lakeside cabin are thrown into disarray by the arrival of two sisters, Mary and Loretta. The play stars Matthew Defalco, left, and Ray Besharah as the Melville boys, and Lauree Laing (seated) and Tammy Walkden as the sisters. The play, directed by Gail Bailey, will be shown at 8 p.m. at the Winchester Community Centre November 27-29 and at 2 p.m. November 30. Tickets are $8 and are available at Stedmans in Winchester and Al-Mor in Chesterville.

THANK YOU

SD&G holds hazardous waste day

On Saturday October 25, 1997, the United Counties of SD&G and the city of Cornwall participated in a Household Hazardous Waste Challenge. The challenge was to determine which municipality could divert the most toxic waste from local landfill sites.

The SD&G Green Team organized drop off sites for hazardous waste in Stormont and Glengarry counties which were funded through municipal and corporate sponsorship.

The city of Cornwall and Dundas county opened their permanent sites on the day of the challenge in order to participate.

Based on the total households participating at the collection, the Township of Roxborough was declared the winner of the challenge with a participation rate of 6.7 per cent.

The total of waste collected from the United Counties and Cornwall included 9,829 litres of waste oil, 1,065 litres of aerosols, 1,570 litres of antifreeze, 1,456 litres of corrosives, 8,346 litres of paint, 840 litres of pesticides, 195 car batteries and 150 propane tanks.

The event was held in conjunction with Waste Reduction week which was scheduled for November 3 - 9, 1997 but was held a week earlier due to weather conditions.

The presentation to the Township of Roxborough was held on the morning of November 3, 1997 at the Roxborough municipal office.

A handout describing non-toxic alternitives was distributed to all residents who participated in the collection.

Stormont Junior Farmers lend hand to Foodgrains Bank

Rich Thorpe
Record Staff

NEWINGTON — Thanks to the efforts of the Stormont Junior Farmers, the Canadian Foodgrains Bank will soon be receiving a cheque for more than $2,000.

The Canadian Foodgrains Bank is a Christian organization that facilitates the collection and distribution of food and development assistance to the world's hungry.

The Stormont Junior Farmers' project was one of 125 in Ontario. The group was able to find an idle five and a half acre field in Newington across from the public school.

"This was the second year we were involved in the project," said club coordinator Diane Powell. "We took the corn off last Thursday."

It was taken to Cedar Hill Farms for weighing, drying and storage. Powell said the field yielded 12.78 tonnes. Last Friday corn was selling for $160 a tonne on the market, Powell said. The donation to the Canadian Foodgrains Bank could be in excess of $2,000, she said.

"The provincial organization for Junior Farmers adopted the Foodgrains Bank as their charity a few years ago," Powell stated. "We were able to find land that wasn't being used and we got it rent- free."

"We were very lucky to be able to receive the support of local businesses," she said. "When you start getting into larger projects, you have to do a lot of fundraising to help cover the costs."

"We have 29 members in our club but not everybody lives on a farm, we have a lot of members that live in town," she said. "It is a really good project to be involved with. We are able to do something that will benefit a lot of people."

The group thanks the following individuals and businesses for assisting with the project: Larry Shaver for cultivating the field and Jeff Waldroff for planting the corn; Fife Agricultural Services for combining and trucking the corn and donating the seed; Cedar Hill Farms for drying and storing the corn; Harvex Ltd., for donating the fertilizer and spray and Jamieson Campbell (1989) Ltd. for spraying the corn.

Obituaries

Harold Oliver Merkley

Harold Oliver Merkley, of the Hartford Home in Morrisburg, died November 18, 1997 in Morrisburg. He was 83.

Mr. Merkley, a lifetime resident of the Iroquois area, was retired Caldwell Linen Mills worker who had also worked for the village of Iroquois and served as the town constable for a number of years.

He was born July 21, 1914 in Dundela, son of the late William Merkley and Nettie Merkley (Dillabough). He was a member of Iroquois United Church and Branch 370 of the Royal Canadian Legion, having held various offices within the Legion including a term as president. He was a former member of Big Brothers of Cornwall and area.

He was known for his handle-bar moustache, which he was very proud of, and enjoyed hunting and watching wrestling on TV. In their younger years, he and wife Leona enjoyed working together making quilts.

Mr. Merkley is survived by sons Robert (Cindy) of Surrey, B.C., Alan (Dianne) of Brockville, Lawrence (Sherry) of RR 1 Iroquois, Donald (Karen) of Iroquois and Jay (Jennifer) of Iroquois, daughters Darlene Riddell (Dick McEwen) of RR 2 Brinston, Marlene (Bill) Stearry of Delta, Kathleen Barkley (Jim Dinsmore) of Prescott, Jean (Bryce) St. Pierre of RR 2 Iroquois and Christine Curry of Vancouver, B.C. and sister Isabell Antoine of Cornwall.

He will be sadly missed by many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Mr. Merkley is predeceased by his wife, Leona Merkley (Casselman), son James and brother Orlin.

Funeral services were held November 22 at the Marsden & McLaughlin Funeral Home in Iroquois and were officiated by Rev. Doug Carnegie. Interment was at Iroquois Point Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Jay Merkley, Robert Merkley, Lawrence Merkley, Alan Merkley, Donald Merkley and Paul Saddlemire. Honorary pallbearers were Angela Saddlemire, Chris Merkley, Michael Barkley, Jacinda Stearry and Tracey Merkley.

Memorial donations to Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be appreciated by the family.

Lawrence E. Runions Sr.

Lawrence E. Runions Sr., of Niagara Falls, New York, died November 22, 1997 at the Niagara Falls Memorial Medical Centre. He was 93.

Mr. Runions was born September 20, 1904 in Cornwall, the son of Colborne and Ora (Raymond) Runions. He moved to Niagara Falls in 1925, and was employed at the Union Carbide Company for 36 years, where he retired in 1967 as a floor foreman. He was a member of the Trinity United Methodist Church on Grand Island, N.Y. and enjoyed gardening and bowling.

He is survived by his wife, Vivian P. (Alguire) Runions of Niagara Falls, N.Y. and was the husband of the late Effie (Harper) Runions, who died in 1969.

He is survived by sister Spraey Campbell of Hamilton, Ont., seven grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Runions was the father of the late Lawrence E. Runions Jr., June Elayne Runions and Leona Mae Krueger and brother of the late Annie Rose.

A graveside service was held November 25 at Maple Ridge Cemetery in Chesterville and was officiated by Rev. Carol Poley-Delisle.

Janice Morrow

Janice Morrow, of Church Street, Williamsburg, died November 21, 1997 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. She was 61.

Mrs. Morrow, a health care worker at Lynwood Lodge in Nepean, was born June 19, 1936 in Dunbar, daughter of the late Bismark Barkley and Lillian McMillan.

She was wife of Donald Morrow and dear mother of Paul and Carol of Iroquois, Patricia and Don Middleton of Sharbot Lake, Shelley and Jeffrey Pashak of Morewood, Carol Lee, Chris Pemberton of Elma and Angela and Almon Morrow of Williamsburg.

She was sister of Edward Barkley of Kingston, Emerson Barkley of Scarborough, Garnet Barkley of Kingston, Clifton Barkley of Elma and Cheryl Short of Cornwall.

She will be fondly remembered by grandchildren Nicholas, Amanda, Annette, Chad, Jocelyn, Mark, Kim, Daniell and Ashley.

Funeral services were held November 24 at Daniels Funeral Home in Chesterville and were officiated by Rev. Diane Raddatz. Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Roy Steele, Gord Short, Robert Short, Rick Barkley, Lloyd Whan and Ken Beattie.

Rena Bell Merkley

Rena Bell Merkley, of Chesterville, died November 6, 1997 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. She was 94.

Mrs. Merkley, a retired salesperson, was born June 1, 1903 in Winchester Township, daughter of the late Eslie Grant Gray and Margaret Ethel Alison.

She was dear mother of Harold (Annie) of Chesterville, Ronald (June) of Lansdowne and Janet (Dwayne) Servage of Elma. She was loved by nine grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Merkley is predeceased by her husband, Kenneth Merkley, brothers Eslie, Charles and Ralph and sister Evelyn Holmes.

Funeral services were held November 8 at Daniels Funeral Home in Chesterville and were officiated by Rev. Bert de Bruijn. Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Jim Feeley, Jeff Poque, Drew Merkley, Donnie Servage, Lyle Servage and Steven Merkley. Flower bearer was David Merkley.

Donation boosts breast screening

Greg Hewitt
Record Editor

WINCHESTER – Breast screening at Winchester District Memorial Hospital has taken a leap into the future, thanks to a generous donation from the WDMH Auxiliary. The hospital's diagnostic services department now has a state-of-the-art mammography unit, one able to detect smaller lesions than its predecessor.

The $78,000 unit replaces an older model, and was purchased by the WDMH Auxiliary, with $40,000 of the donation coming from its In Memoriam Fund, and the balance from its general funds, which are raised through such activities as the annual bazaar.

WDMH chief executive officer Joseline Sikorski said Thursday the new mammography unit is an excellent illustration of how funds are re-invested in the community through the talents of the hospital auxiliary.

Those being screened will follow the same procedure with the new machine, and test results will generally be available the same day. A doctor is notified immediately if a mammogram indicates a lesion. But early detection is the key to successful treatment of breast abnormalities, and with the ability to detect smaller lesions, the new machine enhances that service locally.

"The people of the community are very generous when it comes to supporting the hospital," said WDMH Auxiliary president Joan Farlinger Thursday as the equipment was shown to the local media.

With the new unit in place, WDMH has applied to become a satellite centre for the Ontario Breast Screening Program, an application Sikorski is confident will be approved. Currently, most referrals for breast screening at WDMH come from family physicians. As a member of the OBSP, women will be able to refer themselves directly to the hospital for breast screening, another way the service has been enhanced locally.

Statistics for 1996-1997 indicate 1,449 patients used breast screening facilities at WDMH. That number is expected to rise to 2,000 patients in the coming year as awareness of the importance of breast screening and early detection rises in women.

Sikorski said the incidence of breast cancer is comparitively high in this area, and noted the importance of public awareness when it comes to breast screening. And for those who have never had a mammogram, it may be uncomfortable but it's not painful.

WDMH's breast screening unit was opened in February, 1994, when a donation from the estate of William Marcellus of Chesterville made a mammography unit possible. The machine that was the centrepiece of that unit has achieved its lifespan, said x-ray technologist Billie Donaldson.

The old machine is still in storage at the hospital, and is being considered for sale, either to a needy area that currently has no breast screening facilities, or for parts. While it did serve the community well for three years, it would not have qualified the hospital for partnership in the Ontario Breast Screening Program, and it needed un upgrade, including a new bulb which alone would cost $19,500.

The hospital says it is grateful for the continued support of the Auxiliary.

Help the Record celebrate Christmas

CHESTERVILLE – The Christmas season is fast approaching, and the Chesterville Record is inviting you to help make our annual Christmas Greetings supplement festive and fun with a special local connection.

We're asking readers of all ages to contribute Christmas poems, stories, recipes and drawings for the special supplement, which will be published inside our December 17 issue.

Adult readers may wish to share stories of their favorite Christmas, what Christmas means to them or even short stories about amusing or unbelievable Christmas happenings. Or perhaps readers would like to share an original Yuletide poem, or recipe for egg nog, Christmas goodies and other treats.

We'd especially like to showcase the Christmas artwork, poems and short stories of local children. Drawings should be made with a thick, black marker and drawn on a piece of paper four inches wide and five inches deep.

And of course, letters to Santa are welcome, too. The artist or writer's name, age and town should appear in the lower right-hand corner of all items submitted.

Submissions should be made by December 1, and will be much appreciated. Items can be dropped off at the Record office, 7 King Street in Chesterville, weekdays during normal office hours.

Written submissions like stories, poems and recipes can be faxed to us at (613) 448-3260 or e-mailed to us at chesterville_record@ocna.org.

Thanks for helping us celebrate the holiday season.

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my friends, neighbors and family for their flowers, cards, gifts, phone calls and visits while I was a patient in the hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Slowey, Dr. Blakslee, Dr. Rosenquist and Dr. Domanko and the nurses in the operating room, recovery room and surgical floor for their excellent care and also to my mother.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM

STEWART - In loving memory of a dear husband, Milton, who passed away December 1, 1991.
Dearly loved and remembered each day by his wife and family.
Laura Stewart

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTONE - In memory of a dear father and grandfather, Garnet, who passed away November 17, 1977.
Though your smiles have gone forever,
And your hands we cannot touch.
We have so many beautiful memories
Of the one we loved so much.
George, Amber & Brittany

IN MEMORIAM

OUDERKIRK - In memory of our dear friend, Jennifer, who passed away suddenly November 27, 1994.
We cannot have the old days back,
When we were all together
But secret tears and loving thoughts
Will be with us forever.
Best Friends
George & Cheryl

IN MEMORIAM

OUDERKIRK - In loving memory of my dear daughter, Jennifer Lee, who passed away November 27, 1994 as the result of a tragic accident.
Today I think of you with love and sorrow,
As the pain in my heart still deepens,
Because without you I feel,
There is no happy tomorrow.
I think of all the memories we had,
The good ones and the sad.
But most of all the ones we'll never have,
Only if the sky above suddenly opened up,
And I could see your beautiful, smiling face.
Oh! Then what a joy would come over me.
But, since I know that can never be.
My tear-filled eyes will remain gazing up at the sky.
Until the day we meet again.
And never have to say Good-Bye.
Sadly missed,
With all my love,
Mom

IN MEMORIAM

OUDERKIRK - In loving memory of my dear granddaughter, Jennifer Lee, who was taken from us so suddenly on November 27, 1994 as the result of an accident.
May the winds of love blow softly
And whisper for you to hear
That we still love you dearly
And wish that you were here.
We hold you close within our hearts
And there you will remain
To walk beside us all our lives
Until we meet again.
Always loved and remembered
Grandma & Peter

IN MEMORIAM

HESS - In loving memory of a dear mom and best friend, Emma, who left me November 29, 1996.
No one knows how much I miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
I have suffered, since I lost you
Life has never been the same.
In my heart your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear Mom,
That I do not think of you.
It's been a very painful year without you.
Forever loved and always missed
Judy

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD - In loving memory of a dear daughter-in-law, Kim.
Our thoughts are always with you
Your place no one can fill
In life we loved you dearly
In death we love you still.
Sadly missed
Art, Pearl & Frank
16

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD - In loving memory of my special sister, Kim.
Today is remembered
And quietly kept,
No words are needed,
I will never forget.
Deep in my heart you will always stay,
Loved and remembered every day.
Krista

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD - In memory of Kim.
When we look to the sky,
On a star filled night,
We know that you are a star,
That shines so bright.
Now you watch over us,
From the heavens above,
You guide us with your thoughts and love,
Though you can't be with us,
To share our family gatherings,
You'll always be in our hearts and minds.
Loved forever
Mom & Dad

IN MEMORIAM

HESS - In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Emma, who passed away November 29, 1996.
In tears we saw you sinking,
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay.
God saw you getting tired,
When a cure was not to be,
So He closed His arms around you,
And whispered, "Come to me".
But when we saw you sleeping,
So peacefully free from pain,
We could not wish you back,
To suffer that again.
You didn't deserve what you went through,
So He gave you rest.
God's garden must be beautiful,
For He only takes the best.
Sadly missed by husband,
Graham & Families

IN MEMORIAM

HESS - In loving memory of a dear "Nan" and mother-in-law, Emma, who left us November 29, 1996.
There's a family who misses you dearly,
In a home where you used to be.
There's a family who wanted to keep you,
But God willed it not to be.
You left many happy memories,
And a sorrow to great to be told.
But to us who loved and lost you,
Your memory will never grow old.
Forever loved & missed
Elzeon, Denny, Amy, Rob
& Rusty Raistrick

IN MEMORIAM

OUDERKIRK - In loving memory of my dear cousin and best friend, Jennifer, who passed away suddenly November 27, 1994.
Each day you find a way into my thoughts
Your spirit guides me and makes me stronger.
Gone but not forgotten.
Meredith

IN MEMORIAM

OUDERKIRK - In loving memory of our special niece and cousin, Jennifer, who was so tragically taken from us November 27, 1994.
Gone from the earth so swiftly,
Just like a flower in bloom,
So young, so fair, so loving,
Yet called away so soon.
Sadly missed
Aunt Connie,
Uncle Alton & Aunt Sharon,
Uncle Terry & Aunt Diane,
cousins Tim & Matthew

Vankleek Hill Cougars Carl Cadieux has this backhand shot from close in front stopped by Long Sault Vipers' netminder Julien Vanden Oetelaar during second period action in Long Sault Saturday night. The Cougars defeated the Vipers 8-5 to notch their second victory of the season and pull themslves into a sixth-place tie with the Vipers, each with five points on two wins and an overtime loss.

No weekend comebacks, Vipers in a tie with Cougars

LONG SAULT - The Vipers came up a little short in the miracle comeback department on the weekend, losing both of their EOJCHL games, 8-5 to Vankleek Hill Cougars Saturday night at home and 6-3 to the Nationals in Rockland Sunday night.

The losses leave the Vipers with a season record of only two wins and an overtime loss to show in 14 games. They will reach the season's half-way point Saturday night when they host the St. Isidore Eagles and on Sunday afternoon have the unenviable task of starting the second half of the 97-98 season against the high-flying Stars in Casselman.

Both of the Vipers' wins have from remarkable third-period comebacks and the last one was against the Cougars in Vankleek Hill Nov. 15 when they scored seven third-period goals to edge the Cougars 10-9.

The Cougars almost let it happen again Saturday night in the Sault as they held only a 5-4 margin going into the third after leading 4-0 after one. But they tightened up in the final frame, outscoring the Vipers 3-1 to earn their second win of the season and permitting them to climb out of sole possession of the league's basement and into a tie with the Vipers. The win was their first since Oct. 25 when they grounded the Eagles 6-2.

Robbie Rutherford put the claws in the Cougars' attack with three goals - one in each period - and an assist.

Nick Leroux and Paul Secours each had a pair and Claude Lalonde chipped in with a single.

Vankleek Hill built their first-period lead on a pair by Secours, Rutherford's first and a shorthanded effort by Leroux.

The Vipers finally got into the game at 9:30 of the second when Jean Beriault scored on the powerplay from Jamie Laframboise and goaltender Julien Vanden Oetelaar - who replaced starter Joel Peterson midway through the first - and they came to within two less than a minute later Adam Vachon picked up Chris Proulx's rebound. Pascal Decoeurs, who had two goals on the night, also earned an assist.

Rutherford got his second, on the powerplay 1:36 later, to put the Cougars back up by three.

Decoeur got his first of the game, unassisted, at 12:21 and Jason Cholette drew Long Sault to within one when he scored unassisted with 4:48 to go in the period.

The Vipers weathered a storm of penalties in the second, including a lengthy span midway through the period when Kris Campbell was given five and a game for cross checking and Beriault picked up a double minor for face masking.

The Vipers penalty killer put in yeoman service during the two-man shortage, keeping the front of the net clear and preventing the Cougars from getting any good close-in chances.

Already short several players, the Vipers lost Campbell when he was tagged for checking from behind at 10:48.

The Cougars got third-period goals from Lalonde, Rutherford and Leroux. Decoeur got Long Sault's lone third-period marker at 17:45, from Proulx, while Vankleek Hill's Carl Rozon was sitting out a double roughing minor.

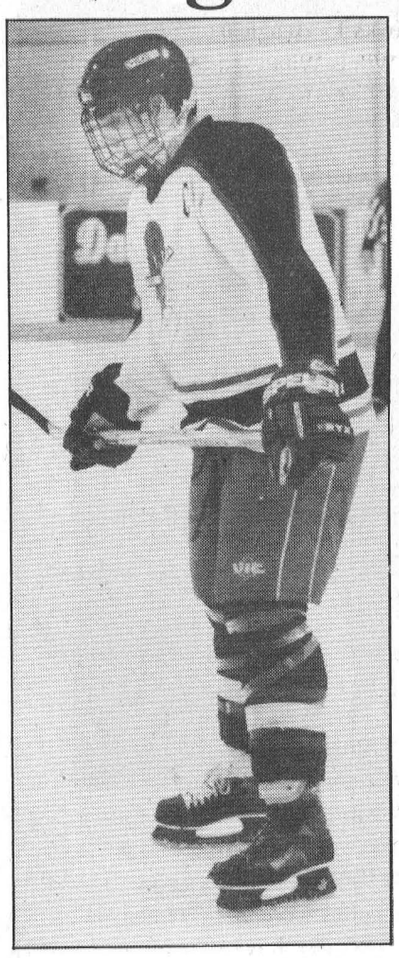
Nats 6 - Vipers 3

Long Sault's penalty killers outscored Rockland's's powerplay 2-1 Sunday night but it wasn't enough to stop the Nationals from taking a 3-1 lead out of the first and leading 4-2 after two on their way to the win. Long Sault had only 13 skaters, including an affiliated player, for Sunday's game.

Proulx scored on the Long Sault powerplay and had a shorthanded goal. Adam Vachon scored the Vipers' other shorthanded goal and assisted on Proulx's penalty-killing goal in the third. Campbell and Laframboise each had an assist on Proulx's first goal.

This Week

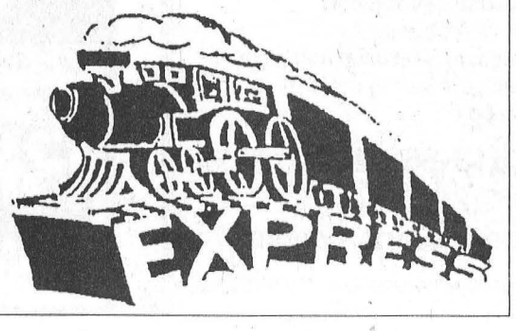
On Saturday night the Vipers host St. Isidore in an 8:15 start and on Sunday afternoon they tangle with the Stars at 2:10 in Casselman. The Subway Stars of the Game in Saturday night's game were Rutherford, Decoeur and Secours. The Subway chuck-a-puck winner was Joanne Pilon. Sunday night's Subway game stars were St. Isidore's Mike Lavergne and J.F. Messier and Long Sault's Proulx.



Viper captain Chris Proulx had a four-point weekend, including two goals against Rockland.

Express back in action Thursday

The Express take to the ice Thursday night against the Russell Thunder after a one-week EOJCHL layoff. Game time in Finch is 8 p.m. Next Thursday they host the Rockland Nationals.



Pee Wee I Demons give opposition devil of a time

CHESTERVILLE - It was, déjà vu for the ND Pee Wee Level 1 Demons' second UCMHL scheduled match against the Alexandria Glens' as the Demons overwhelmed the Glens 7-2 Nov. 14.

Baker on a feed led off the scoring by Kelly early in the first period followed by Guy from Gilmer and Morrow. Next in line was Morozuk from Paas and McLean. Gilmer completed the first period scoring for the Demons from Guy and McBain. The Glens came back with two quick goals and the period ended 4-2 for the Demons.

The second period's only goal was scored by Gilmer who deflected a shot from the point by Thompson. The first goal in the third period was a powerplay goal by Morozuk from Thompson and Paas. Paas completed the scoring after sidestepping both Glens' defensemen on a pass out of the Demons' defensive zone by Morozuk. Splitting the crease duties for the demons were Currie and Sylvester who together savored another game win along with their teammates.

Other stats of note were 34 shots on goal by the Demons versus 19 by the Glens and penalties, well! They were the major point of discussion after the game with a total of 50 minutes handed out by the referees. There record stands at 4-1-2 with 29 goals for and 15 goals against.

A devil of a time

It was the first meeting of the season by the visiting South Stormont team in a UCMHL regular league game Nov. 21 and both the Demons' goalers, Sylvester and Currie, stoned all attacks by the visitors. No goals were scored by South Stormont in their 20 shots on the net. The Demons chalked up a two-point night winning the game 7-0. The Demons' record for the first eight games stands at 5-1-2 with 36 goals for and 15 against.

It was not all goalies work as the offensive line continually pounded the South Stormont goalie who stopped 33 shots in the game. Gilmer and McLean each scored two gals with Guy, McBain and Morozuk each adding a single. Ten individual Demons' players earned assists in the game. The last two goals of the game by McLean and Morozuk were scored while the Demons were short handed.

Demon goaltending outstanding in Prescott

The Demons met South Grenville in Prescott for the first time in UCMHL regular season play Nov. 22. It was the Demons' ninth game and both teams added a point to their standings with a 4-4 draw. The Rangers outshot the Demons 32-25 in the fast-paced game. The Demons' record stands at 5-1-3 for 13 league points with 40 goals for and 19 against.

The Demons led 1-0 after the first period with a marker by Gilmer on an assist by Thompson with 1:54 left to play in the period.

The Rangers penned up the Demons and picked up three goals for themselves in the second period. One was a powerplay goal and Rangers ended the period ahead 3-1.

The Demons came back with determination in the third period. On a burst of speed 30 seconds into the period, Gilmer, assisted by Baker, wrinkled the mesh. McBain followed up two minutes later with an unassisted goal which tied the score 3-3. Four minutes later, midway in the period with a minute left in a powerplay, Rangers forged ahead 4-3. On an offensive rush powered by Paas and supported by his defensemen on the shift Thompson and Zubatuk (Zube), the Demons secured the tie with 3:20 left in the game. For Zube, the assist marked his first point of the season.

The Demons have a week off until they meet their next contender in league play, Perth.

Fourth exhibition win

The Demons went to the USA for their fourth exhibition match to play the Massena Pee Wees and came away with their fourth win Nov. 23.

Massena was first to hit the score board early in the first period but the Demons saw to it there were not going to be any more goals scored against them. The period ended 1-1 on a Demons' lone goal by Paas.

The Demons peppered the Massena goaler in the second period with 11 shots, and scoring three times, one each by Gilmer, Kelly and McLean. There was no more scoring in the game. Final score was 4-1 for the Demons making their exhibition series 4-0-0 with 21 goals for and 7 against.

Red takes over sole possession of first with 9-7 win over Green

Troy Helmer scored three goals to lead the Red Dawgs to a 9-7 win over the Green Hornets and a two-point hold on first place in Chesterville Town Hockey League action last Wednesday night.

Helmer's performance negated a three-goal, three-assist effort by Green's Mike Deighton.

Red took a 6-5 lead out of the first on Helmer's three, a pair by Jerold Boulanger and the first of Rod Casselman's pair.

Scoring in the first for Green were were Deighton with three and Brad Cotnam with a pair.

Derek Hyndman and Archie Beckstead scored in the second for Green as they built a 7-6 lead but Red fought backwith Sandy Johnson scoring at 22:03, Casselman getting his second - and the winner - at 10:40 and Des Madigan salting the win at 5:15 from Caselman and Adam Moss.

Off-season weight, strength training for young team athletes

The following article was written by Finch native Joshua Graham, a former member of the North Stormont Express Junior C hockey team, as a research paper for his Human Kinetics studies at the University of Ottawa. Graham points out that his training regimen is equally applicable to hockey players.

by Josh Graham
Special to The Record

The long winter months are finally here and high school football players have recently completed their season. In the upcoming months these athletes must incorporate quick and effective indoor weight training program(s) into their weekly schedules.

A program of this nature will allow a football player to remain in peak physical condition. Two strength and weight training programs called "The Monday-Wednesday-Friday Program" and "Circuit Weight Training" will allow football players to attain maximum physical fitness. It is important to note that these two programs are not designed specifically for football players. They can be used to help train sprinters, wrestlers, gymnasts and hockey players.

Within the "Monday-Wednesday-Friday Program" each "M-W-F" workout session can be accomplished by one individual within 30 to 45 minutes. The purpose of lifting three days a week is to fatigue the muscles completely one day, then allow the muscles to recover completely the next. Athletes are encouraged to use Hammer and Nautilus equipment or free weights.

The "M-W-F" program is very effective when an athlete first performs a push exercise followed by a pull exercise. Athletes must do eight to 10 exercises starting at the shoulders and continuing down to the calves. Following is an example of a typical work-out program throughout the off-season: Monday: bench press, squat and incline press. Wednesday: decline press, lunges and push press. Friday: bench press, squats and push press.

The "Circuit Weight Training" program is an advanced systematic health program designed to improve individual health-related physical assessments such as absolute strength. This program is primarily designed for high school physical education classes, though the program can be used outside the high school. Its purpose is to help football, soccer, basketball and other high school athletes increase their physical fitness levels.

The exercises within this program alternate between upper body weight lifts, cardio-respiratory exercise and lower body weight lifts. For example, an athlete can start by using a single-station universal machine or free weights in order to perform the bench press. Athletes are encouraged to spend a maximum of 30 seconds on each individual station, then pause for 10 seconds between each exercise. The athlete should now perform cardiovascular exercises such as sprint drills, jump roping or using an exercise bicycle. To complete the program the athlete can work on lower body development by performing abdominal sit-ups, leg curls or leg presses.

Both the "Monday-Wednesday-Friday" and "Circuit Weight Training" programs allow an athlete to acquire physical fitness in areas such as cardio-respiratory, muscular endurance, flexibility, body composition and absolute strength. These two programs should not be ignored by high school athletes. The programs are presently increasing in popularity each day because they are pleasurable, exciting and most importantly, they are physically beneficial for the entire body.

Hawks "Nichol and dime" Lions

MORRISBURG — Ryan Nichol was at the centre of another late game rally as the Winchester Hawks edged the Morrisburg Lions 6-5 in Rideau-St. Lawrence Junior B Hockey League action here on Sunday afternoon.

Nichol, who scored the tying and winning goals against South Ottawa two weeks earlier, continues to make a strong case for consideration as the league's MVP by repeating the feat against the Lions, the St. Lawrence Division's cellar- dwellers.

Trailing 5-3 late in the third period, Winchester sent the game to overtime as Sylvain Favreau connected at 14:19 while Nichol pulled the trigger on the equalizer with just 37 seconds left in regulation time.

In the five-minute overtime period Nichol, the St. Lawrence Division's leading scorer, connected for the game winner at the 43 second mark on a set up from Derek Nadeau.

For much of the afternoon, it looked as though the Lions would be able to pull off the upset.

Morrisburg, playing much-improved hockey since a horrible 1-9-1 start to the season, held a 2-1 lead after 20 minutes.

Favreau opened the scoring for the Hawks at the 5:35-mark before Morrisburg replied with goals by Wayne Garlough and Matt Collins.

Winchester grabbed a 3-2 lead in the second period on goals by Jason Desormeaux and Dave Summers. Robbie Darling's goal with 1:11 to play in period two sent the teams to the dressing room tied at 3- 3.

Goals by Stef Champagne and Darling midway through the final period seemingly put the Lions in a strong position for their sixth win of the season, before the Hawks rallied.

Hawks goalie Gregg Griffith continued his impressive rookie season, earning the victory. Veteran Troy Sayeau was saddled with the loss.

On Friday, Nov. 21 in Winchester, the Hawks picked up an important two points in their race for a berth in the annual Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League Boxing Day Tournament with an 8-6 win over Kemptville.

After weekend action, the Hawks have a solid hold on the second St. Lawrence Division berth for the December 26 tournament. The Hawks have picked up 22 points.

The Hawks surrendered an early goal to the 73's before storming back with three straight as Jeff Leonard, Nichol and Serge Bellavance found the net.

Kemptville scored twice in the opening five minutes of period two to tie the game at 3-3.

Winchester jumped into a commanding 7-3 lead striking for four unanswered goals in a 10-minute span. Jason McKenzie, Eric Savard, Eric Nadeau and Chad Barnhart scored for the Hawks.

The 73's still had plenty of fight left in them in the final period, rattling off three consecutive goals to pull to within a goal at 7-6.

Bellavance wrapped up the win with an empty net goal with 57 seconds to play.

This weekend, the Hawks host Char-Lan on Friday night in an 8:15 p.m. start. On Sunday afternoon, Winchester is in Alexandria to meet the Glens at 1:15 p.m.

Grumpy's hangs onto one-point lead

FINCH – Long Sault's Grumpy's Sports bar continues to hold a one-point edge over Chesterville Canucks in the North Stormont Intermediate Hockey League after the teams played to a 4-4 tie Friday night and a short-handed Chesterville squad lost 4-2 to the Avonmore Aces Sunday night.

In the week's other game, Berwick dumped Avonmore 6-2 Friday night.

Grumpy's 4 - Canucks 4

Lyle Schell scored for the Canucks with 4:36 left in the game to salvage the tie for Chesterville.

Assisting on the play was John Morrow. Grumpy's fought back twice from one-goal deficits, finally taking the lead with 6:01 to go when Kevin Konik got his third of the game.

Konik had tied the game at three each 1:58 earlier, from Andrew Barrie - who assisted on all four Long Sault goals - and Dave Dupray, who had a goal and two assists on the night.

Konik opened the scoring from Mike Donelly and Barrie at 19:02 of the first and Chesterville evened it 43 seconds later when Lindsay Weegar scored from Bob Deleavey and Morrow.

The Canucks went up by one at 10:54 when Sean Hummell scored unassisted. Dupray evened it, from Barrie, with 9:49 to play.

Chris VanBridger gave Chesterville a one-goal edge at 10:08 of the second, from Morrow and Kris Young.

Berwick 6 - Avonmore 2

Tim Ouderkirk scored three goals to lead the Dawgs to the win over the Aces Friday night.

Berwick led 2-1 after one on goals by Ouderkirk, assisted by Kevin Villeneuve and Dave Murray, and John McLean, assisted by Chris Leroux, who had three helpers on the night. Ed Gove, from Eric Lamothe, replied for the Aces.

Ouderkirk counted two in a 53-second span in the second to break the game open.

Villeneuve and McLean each picked up their second goal of the game in the second. Ed Dewitt scored for Avonmore with three minutes left on the clock.

Aces 4 - Canucks 2

A short-staffed Chesterville squad had to press a North Glen-Stor pee week goaltender into service so they could ice a team against the Aces Sunday night.

The Canucks, with only six skaters, held a 2-0 lead through the first 35 minutes, on a pair by Bubba Ferguson, until Avonmore finally got on the board when Chris Lefevbre scored with 12:23 left in the game.

Chuck Dentelbeck evened it less than two minutes later and Dewitt got the winner with 3:00 to play. Harold McBride potted the insurance goal with 1:40 left.

Bantam I Demons pick up three of four league points

The North Dundas Level I Bantam Demons picked up three of a possible four points in league play during the past week, tying South Stormont 4-4 in Long Sault Thurs., Nov. 20 after blanking Char-Lan 4-0 in another road game.

Patrick Hamel scored a pair of unassisted goals to lead the Demons to their win over Char-Lan.

ND built a 3-0 lead coming out of the first and added one in the second and Curtis Hebert played shutout hockey through three periods to backstop the win.

ND got on the board at 13:25 of the first with Trevor Morozuk scoring from Dave Gallant and Hamel made it 2-0 with his first just under three minutes later. Scott Drummond rounded out the first period scoring with 2:29 left on the clock, from Josh McRoberts.

Hamel got his second at 10:44 of the second.

ND 4 - South Stormont 4

Wayne Smirle, in his first game back after a five-game suspension, had two of the Demons' four third-period goals as ND fought back from a 2-0 first-period deficit to pick up the single point in Long Sault last Thursday night.

Marcel Booyink and captain Scott Dunne staked South Stormont to a 2-0 lead after one and Smirle finally got ND on the board at 11:44 of the third, from affiliated player Josh McLean and Trevor Morozuk, but Cole Eden quickly restored South Stormont's two-goal lead, scoring 37 seconds later.

Adam Alguire made it 4-1 for South Stormont at 10:43 but Richard Pope brought ND to within two, from Francis Dagenais and Gallant, at 7:01 and 51 seconds later Smirle got his second, from McRoberts and Curtis Hutt.

Hawks blank Heagle, Finch over Crysler 5-1

FINCH – Finch dumped Crysler 5-1 and the Seaway Hawks blanked R.C. Heagle 1-0 in Finch Women's Broomball League action here Monday night.

Finch showed its balance, getting goals from five players in the win over Crysler.

Connie MacLean opened the scoring, unassisted, at 15:34 of the first and Roxanne Yelle, from Jackie Yelle, brought Crysler into a brief tie when she scored at 10:03.

Debbie Henderson scored what held up as the winner at 8:22, from Carolyn MacMillan and Anita Byvelds rounded out the first-period scoring, at 2:02, from Kelly Shaver.

Wendy Shaver scored at 24:15 of the second, from Barb Canham and Tammy Manley, and MacMillan rounded out the scoring with 13:16 left in the game, from MacLean.

Hawks 1 - Heagle 0

Wilma Witteveen scored the only goal of the game with 16:38 remaining in the first, from Diane Conroy, and Kim Norman was unbeatable in the Hawks' net.

Deer reporting deadline extended

Natural Resources Minister John Snobelen said Nov. 21 he will extend the deadline for the mandatory report deer hunters must file if the current postal strike continues past the closing dates of controlled deer hunts.

MNR requires deer hunters to complete and file a report within 14 days of the last day of the deer season specified on their validation tag for a controlled deer. Most hunters mail their reports to the MNR district office associated with the Wildlife Management Unit (WMU) where they have hunted.

If the current postal strike extends beyond the closing date for controlled deer hunts, MNR will allow hunters to file their reports 14 days after the postal strike ends.
