Tulip Beds Raided

One of those low down mean tricks of boys which happen every once in a while around any village was pulled off here last Friday night by some youthful get-rich-quick artists. An assembly was in progress in the Music Hall when the idea seemed to strike them that there would be a good market for flowers, but they had not the flowers However, that did not matter. They could steal them, which they did, raiding the tulip beds of Melvin Durant and C. W. Casselman. The flowers were sold at the Music Hall. We understand out of consideration for the parents of the boys implicated a prosecution will not be pressed.

McNaughton-McDougall

The marriage of Miss Mary Agnes McDougall to Mr. Duncan Alexander McNaughton took place at Finch on Wednesday, May 21st. at 7o'clock in the home of Mrs. A. P. McDougall mother of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. McCurlie of St. Luke's Presbyterian church, in the presence of their immediate friends. After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton left on the C. P. R. midnight for Toronto and other points. On their return they will take up their residence in Finch of which town Mr McNaughton has been Reeve for the last five years. The town and community take much pleasure in extending to the happy couple their best wishes and heartiest congratulations for a long and happy wedded life.

Barns Burned at Limerick

Mr. Dennis Kearney of Limerick met with a heavy loss on Tuesday afternoon about half past four when his barn was totally destroyed by fire together with a number of emplements and his seed grain. The cause of the fire is unknown. The men of the place had been working at fence building a considerable distance from the barn and when just sitting down fo supper the fire was noticed. By strenuous work of the assembled neighbors the house and other buildings were saved.

Flying embers were carried to another barn of Mr. Kearney's a half mile distant and started a blaze, which was put out before much damage was done.

Mr. Kearney has been particularly unfortunate in the last year. After putting his buildings In good shape iast spring the hail storm destroyed his crops and damaged his buildings which were put in repair only to be destroyed by fire The loss of his crop forced him to purchase all his seed for this spring which is now lost.

Miss Amy Beattie Honored

Yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of the regular meeting of the Women's Institute, at the home of Mrs. Saucier, the members were joined by a number of the young friends of Miss Amy Beattie, who gathered for the purpose of expressing their sentiments towards her on the occasion of her approaching marriage, which were emphasized by the presentation of a very handsome club bag. The presentation which was made by Mrs. Howard Fulton, was preceeded by a very appreciative address by Mrs. Houlehan, giving voice to the general regret felt throughout the village at the prospective loss of one of its most talented young ladies, whose incomparable ability as a violinist, was only exceeded by her willingness in giving her services at all times desired to the advantage and pleasure of her fellow viliagers.

Miss Beattie who had been entertaining the Institute with her music, was almost overcome by the unexpected turn of events briefly thanked her friends for their kindness.

Miss Beattie is shortly to become the bride of Mr. A. B. Robertson, who returned last week from overseas, and will make their home in Western Canada.

Consult Mr. A. E. Bolster, if your case can be helped by the use of lenses, he can do it for you. Free test—day or night every day—at W. G. Bolster's Drug Chesterville.

Daring Aviators Rescued in Mid Ocean.

Every Canadian must have rejoiced on Monday to learn that Harry Hawker, the aviator and his companion MacKenzie Grieve, had not lost their lives in the attempt to fly from Newfoundland to Ireland. For six days nothing was heard of them after they left Newfoundland and they had been given up for lost, until a small tramp steamer passing on her course from New Orleans to Denmark, at the north of Scotland signalled that she had picked the men up in mid-ocean on Monday, May the 19th. Immediately the British Admiralty was advised of the matter, destroyers were sent in pursuit of the little steamer, Mary, to obtain confirmation of the announcement. The two men were taken off the tramp steamer and transferred to a war vessel and landed at Thurso, in Scotland both in perfect health. When about a thousand miles from Newfoundland owing to the water filter in the feed pipe from the radiator becoming blocked with refuse, such as solder shaking loose in the radiator, the machine was stopped and they had to descend to the sea where they were in the water an hour and a half before being rescued by the vessel. The latter did not have wireles equipment and was consequently unable to report the rescue until nearing land.

It seems a peculair combination of circumstances that almost the latest thing in speed flight, the airplane, capable of making a hundred miles an hour, should owe the lives of its crew to the slowest of ocean going steamers, with a maximum speed of nine miles an hour.

Was ever "slow but sure" more graphically illustrated?

Crops in the West

If the start counts for anything, and experience shows that It does to a large extent, the crop out-look is very much brighter this year than in 1918. This spring the conditions are far more reassuring. Seeding started later in soil which, from the necessary moisture point of view, is probably one hundred per cent better. During the early part of May last year the wheat seed was not only all in but dry weather had been in vogue so long that high winds and dust had begun to play an alarming part. In many districts it put an end to the year's crop prospect before the growth had really started, Such conditions are not prevalent anywhere in the prairie provinces this year. Seeding began later and was completed under practically ideal conditions, so far as the moisture is concerned. Where proper summer-fallowing and cultivating had been done the wheat growth starts out under most gratifying auspices. During the first week in May, Alberta was favored with an old-fashioned snowstorm and blizzard. The value of this, particularly in the southern portion of the province, is inestimable.

That there is a certain amount of superstition among the farmers was made quite clear during a conversation with one old-timer the other day, He is all optimism over this year's outlook, and on being questioned as to the reason for such unusual faith so early in the season, gave a amazing explanation. Coupled with the above general conclusions he saw reasons for added faith in the fact that this year was blessed with a double one and a double nine, and borne to the proper conclusions there would be a double crop in one year. On his new method of reasoning it is all settled but the marketing price. However much there may be in the old man's superstitious theorizing in the long run the elements will no doubt play a much more important role.

Reckless Driving

Provision is made increasing the penalty for reckless driving whereby anyone found guilty of this offense shall be liable for the first offense to a penalty not exceeding $50. or one week's imprisonment, or both; for the second offence to a penalty not exceeding $100 or one month's imprisonment or both, and for third or any other subsequent offence to imprisonment not exceeding six months.

The Misses Queenie and Annamarie Le Blance of Cornwall spent Victoria day with their sister Beatrice of the Separate School Staff.

Investing for Children

If heads of families drawiug interest from Victory Bonds do not consider the amount large enough to invest on their own account, they might well put it into War Saving Stamps for their children.

The holder of a $100 Victory Bond recieved $5.50 a year, which if put into War Saving Stamps for a child, would mean a saving of 10c. a week on which an amount equal to about 5% simple interest is paid.

A $200 Victory Bond annually bears $11 interest, which, put into War Saving Stamps, would mean the saving of a little over 20c. a week drawing about 5% simple interest.

A $500 Bond pays $27,50 a year in interest, which, invested iu War Savings Stamps, would mean the saving of 51c. a week, or 7½c. a day, for every day in the year, and constitutes a very consideradle sum.

So if the amount paid in Victory Bond interest is too small for the parent to put into War Savings Stamps, it should at least make a fine start for a child.

Welcomed their Soldier Sons and Wives.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Johnston was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on Friday evening, when the relatives to the number of about twenty-five met to welcome home from overseas Sgt. Wilburn and Joshua and their Scotch brides. During the evening Sgt. Wilburn was prevailed upon to relate some of his experiences in trench life, which was listened to with close attention. Refreshments were served and the following address was read by Mrs. C. H. Johnston and the ladies each presented with a set of silver tea, dessert and table spoons. Although taken completely by surprise, the boys on behalf of their wives, very feelingly thanked the company for their gifts, and also for the kind words of the address, both being very modest about any service they had rendered, saying they had only done their duty.

The address—

To Sgt. and Mrs. Wilburn Johnston and Joshua and Mrs. Johnston.

We, your relatives have gathered here to-night to bid you, our brave soldier boys, welcome home. We whose freedom you have helped to preserve, and the sancity of whose homes you have helped to protect, feel proud, and we think justly so that we have been so well represented in the great struggle to make the world safe for democracy.

We followed with feelings of the keenest interest and pride the way Canadians proved their mettle in every battle in which they met the enemy. They have many glorious achievements to their credit and Canada will never cease to do homage to her noble soldier sons. We who stayed at home were never so proud of our British citizenship, and of Canada's part in the Great War, as at the present time.

It must be a source of satisfaction to you to feel that you belong to this great Canadian Army and that you answered the first call to arms, and were among the very first to go to the assistance of the Motherland.

When we think of the 60,000 wooden crosses in far off Belgium and France; which mark the last resting place of some of the finest and noblest of Canada's young manhood,and 160,000 who have returned to us mutilated or badly wounded, we feel profoundly grateful to our Heavenly Father for His care and protection over you in very grave dangers and we will always render our thanks unto Him for His kindness in bringing you b ck safely after nearly five years absence.

We also extend our hearty welcome to your wives, not only to our hearts and homes, but to this beloved Canada of ours and we hope the land we love so well, will become equally beloved by them, and we bespeak for them many happy and prosperous years, and in time we trust that the land of the Maple will be as dear to them as the land of the thistle and heather.

And now it is with very great pleasure that we have the honor to present to you these gifts, in token our gratitude and esteem.

May God spare you many years to use them, and in using them, we know your minds will revert to your new relatives in this new land of your adoption, and although our homes may be many hundreds of miles apart, we know that the ties of kinship and love which bind us together cannot be severed by distance and as you form new friendships always feel assured that you have a very warm place in the hearts of your Eastern friends.

We pray that God's guiding hand may lead you in the future as in the past.

Within the next week or two the young men and their wives will leave for the West going to near Edmonton.

Anniversary Services

The Anniversary Services of Trinity Methodist Church, Chesterville, were held on Sunday and Monday of this week. On Sunday morning and evening the Services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Philp, M. A., Ph. D. of Ottawa and were of more than usual interest. His theme both morning and evening was man and his place in this moral and spiritual order. In the evening he carried us upward to man at his highest by an able exposition of the idea Paul wished to convey when he wrote the 12th, 13th, and 14th, Chapter of First Corinthians and showed that in these chapters he has led the Corinthian Church from where they needed to be fed on the "milk of the word" to where they could eat "the strong meat," showing them that they should covet the best gifts, which were love, etc.

On Monday evening the ladies of the congregation served a splendid dinner to which about three hundred people did ample justice. The ladies showed no small organizing ability by the way they provided for so large a crowd with so much order and expedition. Great credit is due to the ladies both young and old for the manner the social part of the programme was carried out.

After all had enjoyed the social part of the programme they repaired to the Auditorium of the church which was well filled to listen to the musical and literary part of the programme. The first speaker was W. Harold Young M. A., of St. James Church, Montreal. His theme was "What the church had learned from the war." He thought that the church had learned three things from the war.

(1) The value of the human soul.

(2) Man's place in the economic order.

(3) The value of moral integrity.

He closed a very able address by urging the church to take her true place in the readjustment which is now taking place. He was followed by Dr. Philp of Morewood, who dealt with the burning economic question as to whether business should be conducted for personal profit or for co-operation and service. He claimed that business for profit was one of the primal instincts of man and that business conducted through co-operation and service did not furnish sufficient inspiration for initiative.

Rev. J. H. Philp Ph. D. who had been heard by so many on Sunday was again listened to with close attention notwithstanding the lateness of the hour. He also dealt with the economic question contending that the only true idea was that of community service. When Christ's idea of our relation to our fellow man was fully carried out the time would soon come "when none were for the party and all were for the State. When the rich man loved the poor and the poor man loved the great."

The choir under the able leadership of Prof. Newton rendered splendid service, both Sunday and Monday. They were ably assisted by Miss Newton of Ottawa, daughter of the choir leader, and Mr. H. Hughes, Basso alsoof Ottawa. Too much credit cannot be given to the choir who contributed so much to the success of the church anniversary.

The proceeds of the services amounted to over three hundred dollars which with the amount yet in sight will remove the last dollar of indebtedness from the church.

The Cheese Market

(Monday's Montreal Gazette)

The strength which has characterized the market for cheese since the first of the month was more pronounced than ever during the past week, and new high record prices were scored at all the boards throughout the country, the advance being 1c to 2c per lb. as compared with the figures paid for the previous week. This was attributed to the active demand and the keen competition between buyers for all offerings and a fairly large volume of business was done. The highest price paid was 32c to 32 1-16c, as compared with 22¼c to 22½c for the same week last year, showing an advance of 8¼c to 9 9-16c per lb. There was no encouragement in cable advices during the week to warrant the above advance noted here and new business in this direction with some of the exporters was quieter but nevertheless supplies continue to go forward and there was available stock here for sale.

The working man is closely concerned in Canadian export trade, and the Trade Commission points out that working men are already realizing that steady employment and plain bread and butter are assured by more dollars coming into the country by added exports.

Dominion trade is rapidly running back to pre-war standards. Yet the largely increased debt which war brought us makes it imperative, says the Canadian Trade Commission, that this should be prevented, and that peace-time work can be on a war-time scale.

After the Puplic's Money

Failure of the Governments of Canada and the United States at the critical moment, to back up all their talk with courageous action, is likely to cost the public of this continent dear. Overshadowed by war, and in chastened mood, the people bought their Government bonds, mmiting into this channel sums taken out of the bank, from sale of securities and mortgages, from extra savings and from any source that was sufficiently liquefeeing the danger of having this accumulated hoard vanish once more into ultra-speculative transactions, the United States Government began a movement for the enaction of a Federal "Blue Sky" Law, and the Government of Ontario went so far as to have such a bill drawn, ready for action. Easy-money promoters all over the continent prepared to meet the greatest blow of their career. And then the threatened danger passed, as quickly as it originated. United States decided to do nothing. The Ontario Government "shelved" their bill, probably for the very human reason that courage failed at the last moment. The present situation seems to be this: the public owns millions of dollars worth of Government bonds of comparatively low yield, while at the same time the terrific strain of high prices for necessaries is driving them to increase their incomes from any source available. Here is an exceedingly fertile field upon which to base a speculative programme, and the markets in New York, Montreal and toronto show that the game of "win or lose" which has been stopped for four years, is again booming. The reaction from the fear of having his occupation taken away, to that of renewed assurance, has acted as a tonic on the get-rich-quick artist, and once more the mails are flooded with the dangerous literature, and the newspapers openly publish large displays in which tempting offers are being made. The manipulator of the oil well scheme is again to the front, holding out the usual temptations of large gains to be made out of Texas gushers, and unless some official action is taken to put this kind of appeal down, we will have a regular speculative orgy under way in this country culiminating doubtless in another national real estate boom such as knocked us cold six years since. This shoddy oil game has been exposed time and again py reputable publications. There is no business reason why a coterie of Buffalo or Detroit people should lease an area of land down in Texas, and then complete the triangle by jumping into Canada looking for money for "development." Most probably they have nothing; if they had, there is ample capital in the hands of bankers and expert oil capitalists ready for them. Unless some check is put on the activities of the Wallingfords of finance, both in Canada and the United States, the public will not be strong enough to resist the cunning appeals put before them, containing promises of large returns in oil wells, mines, rubber concerns and the like, and the end will be that the covotes of finance will divide amongst themselves a large proportion of the money which the public of the continent put into either Liberty Loan or Victory bonds.—Toronto Saturday Night.

Rural Schools

It is estimated that quite 45 per cent. of the children in the Province of Ontario attend rural schools. The condition of these rural shools has come in for severe, but well-deserved criticism recently, and there is a movement on foot to improve matters in many important ways. It has been suggested that women in country districts, who have done so much excellent patriotic work, could not do better, or more patriotic service, than by interesting themselves in rural schools. Children in the country have been found by medical inspectors to suffer largely with bad throats, defective evesight, and other ills which are directly accredited to the unhealthy conditions and bad lighting in the schools. We are always talking of the great asset to the nation our children are. In many homes they are pampered and spoiled, nothing is considered too good for them, and yet, when it comes to the school we quietly submit, without protest, to these same children spending about half of their time in unsanitary surroundings which would not be tolerated in a home for one day. When we hear of little schools heated by one miserable stove, where the children run around barefoot while their stockings and clothes dry by the stovepipe, the room reeking with damp and teacher and pupils alike shivering, we feel that it is indeed time women were on school boards, and that something drastic should be done.

The one-room schools are by no means the only ones needing reform. What sort of conditions are common in the average play yards of the larger country schools? How many of them are looked after at all? Is there any attempt to make a beautiful place for the children to play in? Is it always sanitary? Is there always pure drinking water? How many schools have supervised play?

Is there not plenty of scope here for patriotic work?

It is gratifying to hear that many of the country schools are adopting the hot-lunch plan. Teachers say that the boys enjoy the work of preparing these lunches as much as the girls, and share a good deal in the burden of it, fetching the water, etc. The Women's Institutes are doing a splendid work by inaugurating this campaign, and where the hot school lunches have become established it has been proved how the children have benefited by this proper nutrition.

The training of the rural child is of tremendous importance to the nation, and it has been neglected far too long!

The favorable trade balance of $572,000,000 of 1917 had already dropped to half that figure in the last fiscal year. The Dominion may have to face an adverse balance of trade next fall, and that is why the Canadian Trade Commission wishes the enormous importance of exports to be grasped even by children.

Every Wage Earner An Investor

Every wage earner can be an investor in gilt-edged securities bearing a high rate of interest without sacrifice or worry.

The plan is so simple and secure that it commends itself to everybody.

All of us spend a portion of our earnings thoughtlessly. It is human nature. Yet most of us would be glad if someone would take the money we fritter away and save it for us, because we find it difficult to save it ourselves.

Make your employer do it by means of War Savings Stamps. Say to him: "I want you to take five per cent. of the money in my pay envelope each week and buy me Thrift Stamps.. Then with each $4.00 worth of Thrift Stamps buy me a War Savings Stamp. When you have bought each War Savings Stamp, put it in my envelope. Go on doing that for a year."

In May W-S.S. Cost $4.04

In June W-S.S. Cost $4.05

That is all. Your mind is free. You will not miss that 75 cents or that dollar which you have hitherto squandered on trifles.

But at the end of the year you will have a little package of War Savings Stamps, each bearing the $5.00 mark, but which have cost you but a few cents over $4.00 each. These Canada will redeem in 1924.

Conference in Session at Montreal

The thirty-sixth annual session of the Montreal Conference of the Methodist Church is being held in St. James Church, Montreal.

The Montreal Conference comprises eleven districts, in which are situated some 227 preaching appointmen s served by about the same number of ministers. The territory embraces the whole of Quebec Province and the eastern part of Ontario, as far west as Kingston and surrounding circuits. At the coming conference the amalgamation of the Montreal North and Montreal South districts will be consummated.

The president of the conference this year is Rev. G. S. Clendinnen, S. T. L., of Ottawa, and the Secretary is Rev. Daniel Mick, of Shaw Memorial Church, Montreal.

One of the principal matters to come before the annual conference is the stationing of the ministers for the ensuing year. The usual maximum period for such appointment for many years past has been four years.

Montreal South is one of the interesting districts. The Rev. J. K. Curtis is leaving Mountain Street Church, having completed his term, and has accepted an invitation to the pastorate of Winchester Church in Ontario, subject to the stationing committee.

Ebenezer (St. Henry) Church will lose Rev. F. H. Sproule, who has finished his term there, and has to retire for a time on ccount of ill health. His successor is not yet in sight though probably he is not far away.

Outside of Montreal districts there are not more than three changes due to expiry of time in any district. In Brockville two churches have united. The Rev. Dr. P. L., Richardson is to take a rest owing to ill health. Whether the Rev. W. A. Hamilton, who has been at the George Street Church for three years, will remain in charge of the united church is for the conference to say.

The Rev. George Stafford is leaving Spencerville. Rev. W. A. Hanna is due to leave Shanley. Rev. A S. Clelland is due to leave Cardinal; Rev. J. H Miller leaves Winchester; Rev. F. A. Read's time is up at Sydenham. Others due to leave by expiratory of term are: Revs. John Webester, Kemptville; R. S. Eagleson, Oxford Mills; T. B. Moody, Maberly; W. Halpenny, Haley's Station; A. E. Sanderson, Arnprior; Fred. Tripp, Shawville; T. P. Shaver, Birchton, Que. ; Albert Hinton, Cowansville, and C. H. Brown, Frelighsburg.

Pasture Supplements for Dairy Cows.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

The season is now at hand when the farmer should consider how he is going to supplement the pasture for his dairy cows during the coming dry season for we have no guarantee that the present rainy weather will continne. Furthermore, it is a well known fact that cows which are allowed to go down in their milk flow for lack of supplementary feeding at the right time, are hard to get back to their maximum production again and subsequent feeding does not give as high a return.

The farmer who has on hand a surplus of corn silage which he can carry over for mid-summer feeding has the problem well solved for there is no better or more economical feed to be had. Unfortunately owing to the poor crop and poor harvesting weather last year, very few will find themselves with a surplus of ensilage, but this misfortune should not deter them from preparing for an equal if not greater acreage of corn this year so as to have a surplus for next.

Of the annual crops which can be grown and cut and fed green thus taking the place of ensilage, probably a mixture of peas 1 part and oats 1½ parts, sown at the rate of 2½ bushels per acre is one of the best. This could be improved by the addition of vetches if the seed were obtainable and not to expensive. A small piece of land near the barn should be used, a strip being sown as early as possible and another some three weeks later so that fresh green feed may be coming on at all times. Red clover sown at the rate of 10 pounds per acre with the above would give early green feed for the following year A good crop to be sown two or three weeks after the second seeding of oats is common millet. This is a hot weather crop and would be ready to feed off when the oats were finished. A strip of early forage corn would then come in nicely and carry the cows over on to the aftergrass, late corn and stable feeding.

If desired the above scheme can be extended by sowing fall rye where the first crop of oats was takeh off. This would provide the very earliest form of green feed for the next spring, which in turn would be followed by the previously mentioned clover, peas and oats, corn, etc. The corn being sown where the rye was taken off thus developing a system of double cropping in regular rotation. It would of cource be necessary to manure such a field quite frequently.

In some cases such a system of soiling crops would entail too much labour in which case probably an annual pasture crop would serve the desired purpose. Such a crop can be grown by sowing bushels per acre of a mixture of equal parts of oats, barley, and wheat. This should be sown as early as possible and should be pastured when it reaches six inches in height. If a sufficient acreage available the cows can be allowed to pasture upon this constantly but if only a small field is available then the cows should only be allowed on for an hour or two every morning and evening. They should be kept off altogether when the field is very wet, The grain should not be allowed to get so far advanced as to head out otherwise all bottom growth will cease.

Catarrnal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reached the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result. Unless the the inflamation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

W will give One Hundred Dollars for any of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Dure Circulars free.
