Businessmen Decide On Organization of Chamber of Commerce

Decision was made to organize a Chamber of Commerce in Chesterville at an enthusiastic meeting attended by 34 business and professional men of town in the Community Hall, Monday evening, which was addressed by Lawrence E. Ecroyd, of the Field Service Department, Canadian Chamber of Commerce, Montreal, and D. A. Macdonald, K.C., chairman of the Alexandria Board of Trade and the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern Ontario. A committee was named to secure membership for an organization meeting to be called in the near future, and a delegation was appointed to attend the district meeting called for Kemptville, Wednesday afternoon.

Aims of the Association

Mr. Ecroyd explained the difference between Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce was in name only, both had the same objects in developing a four-sided programme including commercial, industrial, agricultural and civic expansion and improvement. He detailed plans for organization and, with Mr. Macdonald, answered questions.

Mr. Macdonald outlined the aims of his town's board and the plans of the regional board of which he is chairman, and which includes 25 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce. The regional board meets once a month to hear outstanding speakers and discuss plans. He invited a delegation from Chesterville to visit Kemptville where the Hon. G. H. Challies and Mr. Norwood of the C.P.R. will be guest speakers. The association is preparing a map of Eastern Ontario for distribution in the United States and among Canadian industry, and each community with a Board or Chamber will be specially marked.

Mr. Ecroyd stated an organization was of no use without a programme. The commercial side of the Chamber of Commerce could include study of existing by-laws, discussion of closing hours, credit, advertising and warehousing; the industrial side would seek to obtain more industry for the community, and, in this regard, firms considering setting up new plants would pay more attention to an organized group than to individuals; the agricultural side would pay attention to the needs of farmers who provide much of the capital income of the community, improvement of marketing, parking areas, and so on, while the civic committee has a real job in co-operating with the municipal council and service organizations.

Answering a question on qualification for membership, Mr. Ecroyd stated this was open to all business and professional men, farmers and any other person interested in the welfare of the community.

Following a discussion period, W. O. Dixon and Reeve G. H. Barkley sponsored a motion, carried unanimously, that a Board of Trade be established in Chesterville. A membership Committee was named consisting of R. C. Dillabough, W. O. Dixon, Reeve Barkley, J. H. Fulton, J. A. Morris, R. J. Barrie, Geo. Gillard, H. Brown and P. S. Boyd. Rev. W. E. Wright and L. H. Doering moved that this committee, with H. Brown as convenor, take steps to organize a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce in Chesterville, the motion being carried unanimously.

Name of Local Ass'n.

To decide on the name of the local association, Geo. Gillard and Reeve Barkley sponsored the motion that a Chamber of Commerce be organized, as it was this organization which had supplied the organizer. This was carried, and after some discussion another motion was carried, made by Eric Casselman and P. J. Gilroy, that the name of the organization would be "The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce."

Named to attend the Kemptville meeting, on motion of W. O. Dixon and Leon Marcellus, were H. Brown, Reeve Barkley, J. H. Fulton, R. J. Barrie and P. J. Gilroy. R. C. Dillabough urged the delegation to bring to the attention of the Hon. G. H. Challies the necessity of bringing some of the Hydro power generated north of Ottawa into Eastern Ontario. Mr. Macdonald pointed out this question was one of the first points on the agenda of the Eastern Ontario Association.

FIRST THRESHING FOR CURRENT YEAR

Saturday last Mason Robinson of Grantley, who has done custom threshing for many years had his first threshing in the month of May. Jim McDonald had a field of mixed barley and buckwheat which was left out last fall when weather conditions prevented its harvesting. Saturday last it was dry when he called upon his neighbor to bring the mill along. In taking the mill from the road through a piece of sod it was found a bit too soft and the mill was mired. Quite a considerable amount of fairly good grain was the yield but the straw was so brittle that it broke under the strain.

Howard Hough New President Chesterville Citizens' Band

Howard L. Hough was elected president of the Chesterville Citizens' Band at a meeting held in the Library last night. Eugene MacMillan, a member of the Band for many years and a loyal supporter who is now unable to continue through ill health, was named Honourary President. P. G. Hewitt is 1st Vice-President; P. Smith, 2nd Vice-President; D. Swerdfeger, Secretary; A. Julyan, Treasurer; E. VonGunten, Bandmaster. Arrangements were made to fill two engagements, Cadet Inspection in Chesterville on May 20th, and a Battalion Cadet church parade and flag dedication ceremony at Finch on June 2nd.

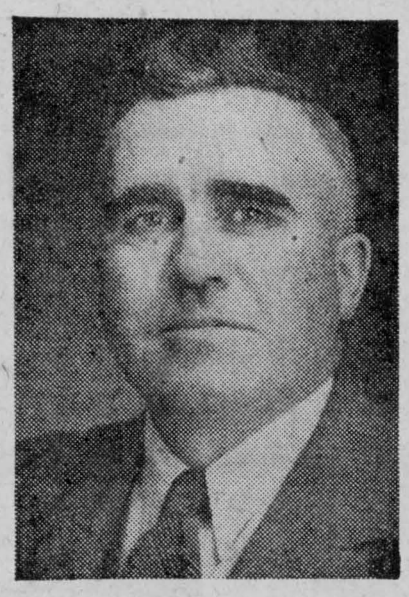

TAKING KINGSTON POSITION

Dwight Dillabough, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dillabough of town, will take a position with the Bank of Montreal in Kingston next week until the start of the college year next fall. The Record reported erroneously recently that Mr. Dillabough had completed his course in Commerce at Queen's, but this should have read completion of his second year.

Canadian Legion Post Organized Last Night For Chesterville District

Lyle E. Alford was named president of the new Chesterville Post of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., organized last night at a meeting presided over by Dr. A. J. Gardner of Cornwall, Zone Commander, in the Community Hall. Other officers elected were: 1st vice-president, R. H. Fawcett, Dunbar; 2nd vice-president, J. Fader, Chesterville; executive Committee, F. L. Beckstead, W. Harper, Chas. Shane and J. Frank Casselman; Secretary-Treasurer, J. A. Morris.

The executive will meet Monday night to decide upon the meeting nights, which will be twice a month; arrange for club rooms, and plan for the charter presentation meeting.

Addressing the veterans of both wars, Dr. Gardiner stated the Legion offered veterans comradeship with those who had served in defence of their country, and in return asks for service in assisting veterans who ask for assistance. Any veteran, man or woman, is entitled to ask the Canadian Legion for assistance, whether or not they are members of the organization. He cited several cases where pensioners gained assistance through the efforts of the Legion after trying for several years through other methods.

Twenty thousand pension adjustment claims have been handled by the Canadian Legion, Dr. Gardiner stated, and out of these 18,000 have been satisfactorily adjusted. The Ontario Provincial Command is setting up Service Bureaux in five major Ontario cities headed by an adjustment officer who will assist veterans in any difficulties with pension adjustments, hospital treatment cases, allowances, gratuities and re-establishment credits.

Stressing the theme of service to others in Legion activities, the Zone Commander said the work was too broad and too varied to expect the executive and a few members to carry the load of the local Post. "Veterans must get over the tendency of having things done for them, and get out and give as much time as they can possibly spare," Dr. Gardner said in closing the meeting.

To date, 68 applications have been received by the secretary from Chesterville and district veterans. The required minimum of 15 members paid their dues in full at last night's meeting as required for the charter application.

Council Will Ask Ont. Municipal Board About Sewage Disposal

Notified by the engineer, retained some months ago to make a survey of Chesterville for the installation of a sewage and disposal system, that he could not complete his work, the Municipal Council decided at Tuesday's meeting to contact the Ontario Municipal Board to obtain advice on financing and arranging for a survey and contract. The Council was urged on in this matter by the proposed organization of a Chamber of Commerce, one of the duties of which will be an effort to secure additional industry for Chesterville. It was felt that proper disposal of sewage would be a big attraction to any industry considering Chesterville.

A complaint from E. Casselman and Don Cross about the condition of the Municipal Dump bordering their farms was read, and Council will attempt to secure the Counties' bulldozer to bury refuse at the dump and make an excavation for future use. After this is done, a strong fence will be erected about the place.

An increase of almost $900 was shown in the United Counties' levy on the village of $5,394.04.

The street commissioners, Chas. McMillan and Geo. Gillard, stated their intention of cleaning and sweeping the streets, and cleaning out curbs to prevent rain from flooding sidewalks. Work on sidewalk repair is expected to start shortly on Water and King streets.

The Police Commission was authorized to have traffic tickets printed and no-parking areas will be marked by signs in efforts to improve parking conditions in sections of the village where present parking practices constitute dangerous areas.

Application for protection of municipal employees under the Workmen's Compensation Act have been completed. Included are the Clerk and Collector, workmen and members of the Volunteer Fire Brigade.

The Auditor's Report, prepared by R. C. Dillabough, was accepted by Council.

DELEGATION OF FOUR AT REGIONAL MEETING YESTERD'Y

A STEP FORWARD

The decision to organize a Chamber of Commerce in Chesterville should be a big step forward in the industrial life of our village, bringing with it the advantages any increase in industry can be expected to produce. Monday night's meeting was well attended and enthusiasm was keen. The result was that a committee was named to canvass the business, professional and agricultural men of the village and district for membership, and a delegation was appointed to attend a regional conference in Kemptville.

There is a definite field for such an organization in Chesterville. Illustrations were given by the speakers of the success of similar organizations in other Eastern Ontario towns in procuring new industries which have meant increase in the population of those centres. Chesterville has advantages which an active organization can bring to the attention of industries contemplating setting up branches in smaller centres.

The speakers showed firm belief in the axiom "It pays to advertise." They urged "putting Chesterville on the map"—which was rather a shock to some who believed we were already there. Included in the map of Eastern Ontario, being prepared by the Eastern Ontario association for distribution in the Eastern United States and Canada, Chesterville will be shown as an active municipality, willing and anxious to assist in the establishment of industry.

But, aside from the securing of additional industry, there are many other activities within the village crying for the co-operation of an organization of business and professional men. Reeve Barkley put his finger on a strong point when he urged co-operation with the Municipal Council. He said he had received valuable help from the Rotary Club, and he felt a great deal more could be accomplished with co-operation of a larger number of men.

A few of the activities a Chamber of Commerce might interest itself in are the improvement of the Nation River bridge, street lighting, a clean-up, paint-up campaign, establishment of the talked-of sewage disposal plant, improving the approaches to the village, erection of suitable signs, the parking problem, assistance in replacing the rink, and possibly a review of the village by-laws.

But first, the big problem is organization.

WHERE ARE THE SHAREHOLDERS?

One shareholder is reported to have been present at the recent meeting called by the president of the Chesterville and District Rink Company to discuss plans for repairing the rink building.

What in the world can be wrong with those who own shares in the company that they sit back now almost three months after the structure was badly damaged by wind? Every day the building remains unrepaired it becomes a little bit worse. The heavy winds of this spring cannot have helped it any with the west end wide open.

There has been plenty of criticism of the manner in which the rink has been operated, and some have gone so far as to state how it would be run if they had the opportunity. But, —and it's a big one—the opportunity was given when the recent meeting was called, but how many had enough gumption to attend.

Must we wait until next winter when the rink is required before some action is seen?

Some suggest that other organizations take a hand in repairing the rink and having it in shape for next winter. What is wrong with the organization that owns the rink. The executive is there for the purpose, and they should be able, with the backing of the shareholders, to get on with the job.

Financial considerations may be a bit staggering, but gone about in the proper manner it can be accomplished in the way Chesterville has always prided itself. Let's not wait until the rink is a total loss and then bemoan the fact that it could have been repaired.

DEARER MACHINERY

The general categories of Canadian-made farm machinery and parts subject to the recent increased highest retail price ceilings by 12½ per cent are planting, seeding, and fertilizing machinery; ploughs; tillage implements and cultivators; haying machinery; harvesting machinery; sundry machines for preparing crops for market or use; farm power machinery; farm wagons; trucks and sleighs; dairy machines and equipment; spraying equipment and dusters; domestic water systems and pumps; barn and barn-yard equipment, and miscellaneous equipment.

GREEN SPROUTING OF SEED POTATOES

In order to promote the early growth of potato crops and assist in the establishment of thrifty, vigorous and uniform stands, many potato growers have found by experience that it pays them to green sprout their seed potatoes, says R. E. Goodin, potato fieldman of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The process consists merely of moving their seed from cellars or storages about two weeks previous to planting time. Selection is usually completed by that time, and the seed treated for such surface-borne disease as scab, blackleg and rhizoctonia. Since treating seed with most materials should be made preferably while potatoes are dormant, green sprouting for a period of ten to fifteen days after treatment and previous to cutting is recommended. Spreading the tubers on a floor, not more than two or three deep, exposed to the light, both helps to dry the potatoes after treatment and also starts the sprouting which aids somewhat in cutting and hastens the come-up after planting. Too much air movement, too high a temperature, or greening longer than two weeks may result in excessive sprouting and shrinkage of tubers. The temperature should be from 60 to 70 degrees.

By this process the sprouts produced will be short, dense, full of colour and strong enough to withstand handling at planting time. All tubers that do not have thrifty sprouts should be discarded. Green sprouted seed starts quickly when planted and is less subject to rotting than unsprouted seed. Tubers taken indirectly from cool storages on warm days and planted immediately are often set back to such an extent that fields are very irregular and plants spindly, reducing yields per acre materially even with favourable cultural and growing conditions.

IDEAL MAPLE GROVE

The ideal maple grove should fulfil the following seven requirements—area should be completely filled with sugar maple trees with fully developed crowns. The canopy of leafy crowns should allow little sunshine to fall upon the ground, thereby discouraging the growth of grass and weeds. Maple trees of all ages should cover the area. As the old mature trees are cut out, the younger ones take their places. Roadways through the grove help in the collection of the sap and reduce the usual difficulties with underbrush. Live stock should be rigidly excluded from the sugar bush. The bush should be thinned to allow only the trees necessary for replacement to remain. An unthinned border at least 25 feet wide on all sides should be left as a windbreak, which serves as a safeguard against storms.

THE GREATEST CITY

By Walt Whitman

What do you think endures?
Do you think the greatest city endures?
Or a teeming manufacturing state? or a prepared constitution? or the best built steamships?
Or hotels of granite and iron or any chef-d'oeuvres of engineering forts, armaments?
Away! these are not to be cherished for themselves,
They fill their hour, the dancers dance, the musicians play for them
The show passes, all does well enough of course
All does very well until one flash of defiance.
The greatest city is that which has the greatest men and women,
If it be a few ragged huts, it is still the greatest city in the whole world.

What's In a Name?

Monthly Bulletin
Ont. Dept. Games and Fisheries

"You know Clear Lake," asked an enthusiastic angler, bent on telling us a tale of the big one that got away. We nodded by way of answer. "Well," he continued, "we were fishing in the channel close to the island at the southern end"—"Wait a minute',, we interrupted, "There's no island at the south end of Clear Lake, in fact there are no islands on the lake." An argument ensued as a re-result of which we found we were discussing two different bodies of water with the same name. Arising out of this little controversy we made a partial investigation and elicited some interesting facts.

In the first place, believe it or not, we have found some 33 Clear Lakes in the Province, a total which is still short of that which distinguishes Long Lake, of which there are at least 35. Bass Lake would appear to be an appropriate name for good bass-fishing waters, there are at least 15 such. We have also located 14 Loon Lakes, 13 Beaver Lakes and 11 Deer Lakes. This duplication of names is very general and of course is not unexpected in view of the size of the Province and the tremendous water area which is included in its far flung boundaries. Most of these names are of local origin, and are for the most part both descriptive and picturesque.

Colour names are very popular. There are Black Lakes, White Lakes. Blue Lakes, Green Lakes, Golden Lakes, Silver Lakes—not to speak of Crystal Lakes, in profusion.

Christian names are very common and these include both sexes. They probably represent both romance and adventure. Here are a few: Nellie Lake, Mary Lake, Mary Jane Lake, Eva Lake, Sophie's Lake, Marion Lake, Minerva Lake, Ruth Lake, etc., and, typical of those representing the male sex, are, Joe's Lake, John's Lake, Johnnie's Lake, Jack's Lake, Joseph's Lake and Bob's Lake, etc.

Generalizing for a moment we find there are Deep Lakes and Shallow Lakes, Big Lakes, Long Lakes and Little Lakes, Gravel Lakes, Stoney Lakes and Sand Lakes, with an assortment of Crane Lakes, Deer Lakes, Duck Lakes, Eagle Lakes, Fish Lakes, Gull Lakes, Hawk Lakes, Loon Lakes, Moose Lakes, etc., etc. There's a Round Lake, an Oblong Lake, a Crooked Lake and a Narrow Lake, while the hunter is represented by Gun Lake and Long Bow Lake.

In addition there are a number of Lost Lakes which apparently have now been found, but there is still at least one Hidden Lake which many anglers will want to discover.

For the romantically inclined there are several Fairy Lakes available as well as a Sunshine and a Moonshine Lake—of the spiritless variety—and for those who like to begin the day with a smile and a greeting there's Good Morning Lake.

Many European Countries Have Eradicated Barberry

This is the Second Article Giving Information on the Importance of Eradicating the Common Barberry and Blackthorn in the Campaign to Control Grain Rust in Ontario

Losses from Stem Rust of wheat, oats, barley and rye have been reduced to a marked extent in much of Western Europe by eradicating the Common Barberry. This is not a theory, it is a fact. Stem Rust of grain does no serious damage in those countries of Western Europe from which Barberry bushes have been removed but it is extremely destructive where Barberries still exist.

Denmark furnishes an excellent illustration of what can be done in reducing losses from Stem Rust by destroying the Common Barberry. For years rust caused much damage in Denmark. Barberry bushes were brought into the country sometime during the Seventeeth Century. By about 1805 they had become so numerous that Stem Rust began to be destructive. Many farmers destroyed their Barberry bushes and noticed that the severity of Stem Rust decreased as a result. They, therefore, asked their neighbours to do likewise but many refused because they could not see how Barberry bushes could have any influence on rust. Finally, a law was passed requiring the complete destruction of Barberry except in Botanical Gardens and a few other restricted areas. The law was put into effect in 1904. It was effective. The Barberry bushes were destroyed and the rust practically disappeared as an economic problem. Since 1904 there has not been a single general epidemic of rust in Denmark.

The results obtained from the eradication of the Barberry in Denmark caused other countries to follow her example and campaigns against the Barberry have been carried on in Sweden, Germany, Belgium, Holland, France, Italy, Czecho-Slovakia, and England. In the United States an educational campaign by the Federal Department of Agriculture was started in 1917 and has been carried on up to the present time, the result of which has been that the following states have taken steps to eradicate the Barberry: Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. It is also interesting to know that anti-Barberry legislation has been passed in Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Are we in Ontario going to lag behind and tolerate the Barberry?

'Midget' Hockey Crests Presented to Boys By Rotary Club

Presentation by Dr. S. H. Hutt and Ken Woods of 15 crests to members of the Midget hockey team was the highlight of the Boys' Night sponsored by the Rotary Club at Monday evening's meeting at which 26 boys were guests of the members, and R. C. Dillabough was the speaker.

At the business session following the luncheon in the Auditorium of the Community Hall, Dr. S. H. Hutt spoke briefly to the young guests, stating the crests were donated by the Ottawa and District Hockey Association in its efforts to encourage good, clean sport among the boys. During his visit to the O.C.O.T. club in Cornwall recently, which was attended by several members of the Canadiens Hockey Club, Dr. Hutt was assured that Bill Durnan and Toe Blake would be glad to visit Chesterville this summer and talk to a juvenile audience. Ken Woods then called out the 15 members of his midget Hockey Club and presented them with the crests, which have "Chesterville" on a badge to be placed beneath the circular red and black crests.

Matt Flynn made a plea for assistance in repairing the Community Rink, stating that if these boys and others were to continue playing hockey, something must be done to repair the damage done in the St. Valentine's Day blow. He was assured by Walter Carr, president of the club, that the members would back any plan to restore the rink to usefulness.

Speaking to the Rotarians and their youthfu guests in the Library following the singsong, R. C. Dillabough, Principal of the Public School and member of the Boys' Work Committee, told his fellow Rotarians they had a grave responsibility as hosts to the boys. Many times, he said, Christ referred to feasts and gatherings he attended, and directed attention to His love for children. Sir Walter Scott's description of the famed Highland hospitality evidenced the respect for home life.

The greatest resources of any country are its people, said Mr. Dillabough, and adults must set examples for the younger generation. He urged that the child's viewpoint be considered. Dogmatic obedience is not sufficient, he said. Boys, and girls, must learn respect for their parents, teachers and religious leaders; lack of respect leads to disobedience, and the penitentiaries are full of those who disobeyed and became menaces to society.

To become strong intellectually, a person requires a healthy body, and one of the best ways to develop this is on the play-grounds. He referred to the statement that most of England's historic battles were won on the playing fields of Eton where the boys learned to transform tempers into determination by keeping them under control. "Play up, play up, and play the game," Mr. Dillabough urged the boys as he closed his address with quotations from several poems.

The programme was in charge of the Boys' Work Committee. E. E. Maybee introduced the speaker and he was thanked by J. A. Morris. Mr. Maybee moved a special vote of thanks to the ladies who catered for the meal, and P. S. Boyd moved a vote of thanks to Dr. S. H. Hutt for his efforts in procuring the hockey crests.

MARY POPPLEWELL HONOURED BY HER MOREWOOD FRIENDS

On Saturday evening, May 4th, a miscellaneous shower was held in honour of Mary Popplewell in the United Church Hall. About a hundred and twenty-five guests signed the register. The hall was decorated with pink and white streamers and were attached to a table laden with gifts. The evening opened with community singing with Miss Edith Swerdfeger at the piano. Then a trio of girls sang "Next Saturday Afternoon" and at 9.30 Mary was called to the platform and the following address was read by Miss Erla Steinburg:

Morewood, Ont.,
May 4th, 1946.

Dear Mary: As the date for your marriage is drawing near we felt we must take the opportunity of expressing to you our sincere good wishes for future happiness. If it were in our power we would give you a life full of joy and contentment and many years of happy married life with the husband of your choice.

We feel a very pleasant and special interest in you since you have spent your entire life among us and you have always been a pleasant congenial companion, willing to help in our church and community activities.

We regret that you will not be living here, but we will always be interested in your welfare and trust you and your husband may have many years of happiness together.

As a mark of our affection and esteem we ask you to accept these gifts, may the future bring fulfilment as you go along life's way, of the plans, the hope and wishes that mean most to you today. And may the years that lie before you be the kind that will bestow all the cheer and all the blessings that two loving hearts can know.

Signed on behalf of your many friends, Isobel Hunter, Audrey Thompson, Donalda McLeod, Erla Steinburg nad Edith Swerdfeger.

The bride thanked her friends, asking all to come to visit her. Lunch was served by the hostess and an enjoyable evening was brought to a close.

Hydro Power Consumption Reached Peak Last Month

Hydro electric power consumption in Chesterville reached a new high last month of 403.5 horsepower, the result of a large demand by Nestle's Milk Products whose generating plant was shut down during a change-over in equipment which required six weeks. The March power bill from the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission was $1037.82, but this was practically wiped out by a rebate of $954.99, it was revealed at the May meeting of the Chesterville Hydro-Electric Commission which met Tuesday evening.

The Commission has applied for the Hydro lighting engineer to survey Chesterville's street lighting requirements, and the Ontario Commission has promised to send a man as soon as possible. In the meantime, globes are being removed from the dual lights at several inter-sections in an effort to produce more light.

The secretary was asked to write again Thos. VanBridger, District Supervisor, asking that the grounds of the local sub-station be fixed up to present a more pleasing sight on the northern approaches to the village.

Twp. Council Defers Action on Kittle Creek Because of High Cost

The regular meeting of Winchester Township Council was held in the Community Hall, Chesterville, on Monday, May 6th, 1946, with all the members present. The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were adopted as read and signed by the reeve.

The Engineer's Report on the West Branch of the Kittle Creek was read and council decided to defer any action on same at the present time as most of the rate-payers in the drain thought the new course too expensive for the benefit derived.

A delegation waited upon council in regard to the Finch-Winchester boundary and it was decided to spend up to $200.00 on this road if Finch Council would spend an equal amount.

A resolution was passed to be forwarded to the Provincial Department of Agriculture, Toronto, asking that an Assistant Agricultural Representative be appointed for the County of Dundas.

The council petitioned the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. to have the midnight and early morning trains stop at Winchester Station on being flagged, as the company had decided to dispense with this service.

Mr. Lorne H. McIntosh was appointed a delegate to attend the Assessors' Convention at Toronto in June.

Council adjourned to meet in Winchester on Monday, June 3rd, at 10.30 A.M.

Cramped Hospital Quarters Cause Anxiety to Parents

One blustery day last winter, an automobile drove up to the Cornwall General Hospital. The driver was a farmer whose home was about 20 miles outside Cornwall, and he had bucked snow-filled sideroads to get into town. Wrapped in blankets in the rear seat was a 19-year-old school-girl, with her anxious mother beside her.

The father rushed into the hospital and asked for a bed for his daughter. She had a severe pain in her side he said, and she was afraid she had appendicitis. He wanted to get her under medical care at once, and had driven her to the hospital before consulting a doctor.

The hospital superintendent explained to him that space was at such a premium that no patient could be admitted without a doctor's authority. But even with that, she said, there was very little hope of getting a bed. The hospital was filled to capacity. But a doctor was called, and he found the father's diagnosis was right. The girl had sub-acute appendictis, and although she was in pain, she was in no great danger. She wasn't an emergency case. The doctor and the superintendent talked over the matter with the father, and told him that the hospital could do nothing. There were no beds available in the wards, and although beds were sometimes put up in the halls, that could only be done for critical cases. The superintendent telephoned Hotel Dieu Hospital but there was no accommodation there, either. The doctor had to tell the girl she would have to go home and wait, and the farmer set out to plow through the snow-covered roads again.

The girl's name was put on the waiting list—right near the top, because the doctor knew that appendix should have attention soon—and every day for a week the family called to see if there was a bed. Each time, the hospital authorities had to tell them there was none. Finally, when there was a bed available, the hospital telephoned the family. They found that the daughter and her family could stand the strain of waiting no longer, and she had gone to a hospital in Ottawa.

"I suppose that family thinks we are hard-hearted and callous here," commented Miss E. M. Nephew, hospital superintendent. "We want to help, but what can we do? One of the hardest parts of my work is to refuse persons who want hospital beds, or explain to them that they must have a doctor's authority before they enter."

This type of case, Miss Nephew said, is repeated over and over at Cornwall General Hospital. The staff and the doctors have to adopt a sort of rationing system, so that critical cases will get the preference. No real emergency case is ever refused, but on borderline cases like this, the decision is hard to make.

It was pointed out that both the hospital and the doctor suffered financially from such cases, but the greatest sufferer was the young girl and her family, who had counted on help from the hospital and had not been able to get it.

The hospital's Board of Governors also is concerned about such cases, because they feel that it means the hospital has failed to do its duty to the community. "Anyone who wants hospital care should have it," commented S. E. Fennell, K.C., chairman of the board. "That is the main reason we want to build an extension to the building. When the canvass opens next May 26, I hope that every family in the United Counties, that some day might want to use the Cornwall General Hospital, will realize they are buying protection for themselves by supporting the campaign."

URGENT NEED FOR MORE HOME GARDENS

Emphasizing the fact that an increased number of home gardens will help to meet the desperate world food shortage, A. M. Shaw, chairman of the Food Information Committee said: "The Victory Gardens of the war years are still needed in the war against want. Once again they can help to win victory over a bitter enemy of humanity—famine."

A quarter of a million Victory Gardens would be a suitable goal for this year, Mr. Shaw said. The food produced in these gardens will make possible increased shipments of staple products such as wheat, meat, cheese and eggs to the hungry people in several countries. The 226,000 home gardens planted in cities and towns across Canada in 1944 produced approximately 120 million pounds of potatoes, carrots, beets, turnips, cabbage, onions and other garden produce.

There is ample seed available on the market as well as tools and fertilizer to meet the needs of Victory gardeners. A helpful pamphlet entitled "The Wartime Garden" may be obtained free from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

This picture tells better than words the chief reason behind Cornwall General Hospital's campaign to raise $250,000 for the building of an extension. A young man in urgent need of hospital treatment has been admitted to the hospital, even though there was no accommodation for him in the wards. A bed has been fixed up in the hospital corridor, and a nurse is tending him there until a place can be found for him in a ward. This sort of condition arises frequently at the hospital, where there is a perpetual waiting list for beds. The campaign for the extension opens on May 27 and continues until June 6.

Discussion at Williamsburg United Church Pension Fund

On Wednesday evening of last week a large gathering of United Church laymen and Ministers met in the Church Hall at Williamsburg to discuss the important topic of a sound pension fund for retiring ministers. The meeting took the form of a banquet followed by after dinner speakers. About 125 ladies and gentlemen attended. The ladies of Williamsburg church served a delicious dinner.

Mr. W. J. Stewart, B. Paed, Inspector of Public Schools for Dundas County and who is chairman of the Dundas-Grenville Presbytery Pension Campaign, acted as chairman of the meeting. Briefly Mr. Stewart set forth the purpose of the meeting and the purpose of the campaign. He then called upon Rev. H. G. Tuttle of Montreal to introduce the guest speaker. In his remarks Mr. Tuttle explained that all expenses of banquets, advertising and travelling were paid for by a few kind hearted laymen of the church. Mr. David H. Gibson, Chairman of the National Campaign Committee, besides donating $15,000 is paying all his own expenses while travelling from coast to coast in the interest of the campaign. The purpose of the campaign is to raise three and one-half million dollars as a fund from which the interest may be used to pay retired ministers. The ministers now pay five per cent of their salaries toward the pension fund and receive as pension twenty dollars for each year of active ministry.

Mr. C. V. Curtis, layman of Montreal, and guest speaker, spoke of the enthusiasm of the laymen toward the success of the fund. He said we want our church colleges and schools to carry on a great and good work, but the cost must be borne by the right side of the church envelope which today is being sadly neglected. Is there a man today who can and will say, "I have given my share!" What we need is the will to give and the heart to give. Would you want to live in a community where there was no church and no minister?

A young candidate for the ministry must spend seven years at college at a minimum cost of four thousand dollars. His salary is insufficient for him to accumulate any money for old age. He has no home of his own when he retires.

We belong to a great church, and we are proud to belong to it, but are we big enough and liberal enough to assure our ministers and their wives that in the declining years of their lives they may be free from worry, free from fear and free from want? This is not to increase his pension, but only to put it on a sound actuarial basis. Canvassers will call upon you. Be a man and do your share.

The Main Question

Harking back to the days when quite a number of tramps rode the railway trains, a woman who used to live near the water tank recalls one unkempt individual who grew talkative while sitting on the back porch eating a lunch she had given him.

"I don't suppose," she remarked, "that you know what good honest work is?"

"No, lady, I don't," he said, as he finished eating and stood up. "What good is it?"

HYNDMAN COUPLE PRESENTED WITH GIFT FROM COMMUNITY

A large number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Francis on Friday evening, May 3rd, to honour their son Donald and his bride (nee Evelyn Holmes) who were recently married.

The evening was spent in dancing and about midnight Mr. and Mrs. Francis were called to a seat of honour and Messrs. Bert Kennedy and Garfield Crowder presented them with a cedar chest. The following address was read by Mrs. Bert Kennedy.

Dear Don and Evelyn:

In honour of your recent marriage we have gathered here this evening to congratulate you and wish you all the happiness in the years to come.

We have known you both for a long time and we feel that you, Evelyn, will prove a loyal and thoughtful companion to Don. We congratulate you, Don, on your choice of a wife, and hope you will spend many happy and prosperous years together.

However we want to express our goodwill in a tangible form and ask you to accept this gift as a token of our best wishes and esteem.

This gift brings a wish for lasting love,
To faith that's deep and strong,
A hope that both your lives will be,
As happy as a song.

Signed on behalf of the community.
Garfield Crowder, Bert Kennedy

Mr. Francis thanked everyone for the lovely gift and invited one and all to come again but not all at once. All joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Lunch was then served and dancing continued till a late hour.

Honour Miss Theresa Kearns On Forthcoming Marriage

The home of Mrs. Wm. Elliott of Berwick was the scene of an enjoyable event on Wednesday evening, when Miss Teresa Kearns, whose marriage takes place shortly, was honored at a delightfully arranged shower.

To the strains of "Here Comes The Bride", played by Miss Audrey Elliott, the bride-to-be was escorted to a nicely decorated chair. An appropriate address was read by Mrs. Albert Nichols and little Miss Beverly Nichols and Duncan Reid dressed as bride and groom, presented Miss Kearns with a handsome silver tea service. She replied in a very pleasant manner, after which all joined in singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow". A beautifully designed bride's book was presented to Miss Kearns and was later signed by about sixty guests. The rest of the evening was spent in music, games and contests, after which a dainty lunch was served.

The following is the address:

Dear Teresa:

On this evening we have gathered to honour you as we know of your approaching marriage.

You are, and always have been, a faithful citizen and friend, and we appreciate the fact that the bonds of both these means much, especially in a small village.

During the years you have been with us your genial nature has endeared you to us all and we will miss you a great deal.

We know that you will be leaving us shortly but the distance is not great and we sincerely hope that you will often be among us.

May God bless you and your future husband and bestow upon you all the joys of a happy married life which you so rightly deserve.

And now Teresa we ask you to accept this gift as a token of our friendship and appreciation.

Signed on behalf of your Berwick friends.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! It is gardening time. Time and money spent in gardening is good insurance. This year you will do well to see that you get healthful recreation and an ample supply of fresh produce from your own plot. It's true every muscle will ache after the first day's gardening, but if the whole family take their exercise it will be a mutual benefit. Then, when the radishes, green onions and lettuce are ready the pleasure of eating will be appreciated by everyone.

A plan sketched on paper will be necessary if there is to be more than one person handling the rake and hoe.

In many parts of Ontario, this is seeding time. Gardens are now dug up, fertilized and ready to be planted, but there is lots to do yet. We suggest you pick up another copy of "Gardening" from the Department of Agriculture and read it over again—also a bulletin on Garden Insect Protection.

Here are a few tips worth considering too:

1. To extend the season of such crops as beans, peas and corn, two or three sowings may be made at intervals of 10 days to insure successive crops. This also applies to lettuce, radishes, spinach and beets. Remember when you are planting that a crop of radishes begins to go to seed in 8 or 10 days. Say to yourself, can we eat all the radishes from these seeds in one week.
2. Good seed can be obtained from the local seedsmen but beware of thick sowing! It wastes seed and increases the labour of thinning. Small seeds can be sown by tearing off a corner of the envelope, holding the packet horizontally and gently tapping it as you move along the drill.
3. To make a straight trench or seedbed, stretch a line of cord tightly as a marker.
4. To mark rows of slow germinating seeds such as carrots and beets, plant an occasional radish seed in the row. This will come up quickly and act as a marker.
5. Follow instructions as to the depth seeds should be covered and press earth firmly over them.

CANNING RHUBARB

Wash and cut rhubarb in small pieces. Add 1 cup sugar for each quart of rhubarb. Heat slowly and cook a few mins. to "sauce" consistency. Pour into sterile jars and seal.

THE QUESTION BOX

Miss G. R. asks: What are the proportions of soda and water used in cleaning silver?

Answer: For each quart of water use 1 tsp. salt and 1 tsp. baking soda in an aluminum pan (not tarnished). There should be enough water to cover silver. Heat until tarnish disappears, about 10 mins. Then wash in soapy water and dry.

Mr. T. J. asks: How to clean wooden bake table with oil spilled on it.

Answer: Pour cold water on bake table to harden oil, sprinkle with flour to absorb excess; then scrape and scrub with the grain using hot water and soap. Rinse well and dry thoroughly.

Mrs. G. M. says: Earth packed in a tin bake pan for 2 weeks removes rust . . . (Yes, scouring wears off tin).

Mrs. M. J. says: I've discovered that a box of matches stored in one end of silver drawer tarnishes the silver. (Yes, that is true, matches and rubber bands should be kept away from silver).
