Horticultural Society Presents Plans Hopes To Sponsor "Arbor Day" April 27th

A group of about fifteen interested persons attended the Horticultural meeting held in the Library last Friday evening. During the meeting several important items of business came up for discussion. A motion was passed asking Mr. Turner to convey the thanks of the Society to Council for having acted upon our request to have all dogs in the village tied by April 15th.

The members planned to hold an old-fashioned clean-up day on Wednesday, April 27th (or the following Wednesday, in case of inclement weather). The President, Mr. W. O. Dixon, agreed to contact the Village Council to obtain its sponsorship of the day and to plan with Council in an effort to make the clean-up day a success. It was hoped that it might be possible to proclaim a half-holiday for Separate, Public and High School pupils in order that they might have an opportunity to assist with the work. Committees in charge of the work were appointed as follows:

Town Chairman, John Turner.

South side of river: P. J. Gilroy, Chairman; Miss E. McGee, Mrs. M. Hughes, Mrs. B. Barrie, Mrs. T. Moran, Mrs. Geo. Merkley.

North side of river: Geo. Barkley, Chairman; Eric Casselman, Mrs. H. Hamilton Mrs. Lyle Marcellus, Mrs. Stanley Dillabough, Mrs. Garret Moran.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Mary Hughes, Mrs. Eric Casselman and Mr. W. O Dixon were asked to meet with the Hall Committee from Council, Mr. L. H. Doering and Mr. Haldane Durant to plan the work to be done on the Community Hall grounds.

Miss E. McGee and Mrs. Hughes were asked to purchase flower seeds for the senior pupils of the Public and Separate Schools, in preparation for an early Autumn Flower Show.

The Secretary was asked to write the Village Council, recommending that the Weed Control Act be more strictly enforced and that spraying of roadsides and ditches in the Village be done in order to control the weed menace.

Care of the Reforestation plot came under discussion. The President explained that the plot had been handed back to the village and that the Chamber of Commerce had already discussed the possibility of converting the plot into a Lawn Park.

It was agreed that no flowers should be planted out at the plot this season and that every effort should be made to have a well-kept grass plot. Members expressed their willingness to support any effort which might be made to convert the area into a park.

Herbert T. Owens, Russell, Addresses Rotary Club

Herbert T. Owens of Russell was the speaker of the evening at the regular meeting of the Chesterville Rotary Club held last Monday night in the Library of the Community Hall. Present as guests of the club were E. Whiessiel, Chesterville, and Mr. Percy Roberts of Russell. Vice-President Howard Fulton was in the chair in the absence of the president.

In the business part of the meeting, nominations were held for the forthcoming elections to be held in the near future. Fifteen names were presented for the ballot.

Mr. Owens spoke on "Taxation as it Should Be". He pointed out that in Canada today we find great wealth and great poverty side by side. In his opinion the main reason for this was faulty taxation. The system used in Canada of taxing property values was all wrong he thought. In developing his thesis, Mr. Owen made the statement that the only way to arrive at a true valuation of worth would be to nationalize the ownership of the land. That is, the government would own the land and depending on its value charge a rental for its use to the person making use of it. This means of raising revenue, would, in the speaker's opinion, do away with all the present improvement taxes, the sales taxes and many of the nuisance taxes that we are burdened with now.

Mr. Owens was thanked on behalf of the club by M. A. Flynn.

Mrs. Harry Allison Scorched In Close Call Coal Oil On Furnace Fire Endangers House

Wednesday night Mrs. Harry Allison decided the furnace was not doing much so she tossed in some coal oil to liven it up. It livened and nearly blew the furnace apart. Mrs. Allison was badly frightened and sorely burned.

Nearly every week we read and hear of fires that are caused by the improper use of that by-product of gasoline, coal oil. Fires can be started very quickly with the stuff, but it doesn't always stay in the stove and then another house goes up in flames.

Mrs. Allison of the Finch Road, was following a very general but nonethe-less dangerous practice when she wished to stir up the fire that afternoon. She only put in a very small amount of oil and immediately closed the door of the furnace. Nothing happened and she opened the furnace to see if the fire had started. The instant the door was opened the vaporized oil exploded with a rumbling "whoosh" that shook the house and gave Mr. Parnham Allison in the room above quite a start. Mrs. Allison took the blast in her face as she was peering into the open door and it will take some time to repair the split-second destruction to eyebrows and hair that the puff of flame destroyed. The doctor applied several yards of bandages to the scorched areas on Mrs. Allison's arms and legs but it is thought that not too many blisters will form.

WIVES FOR SALE

Now that women have got equal rights with men in so many spheres it seems odd to reflect that little more than a hundred years ago women were bought and sold in Britain. Not in large numbers, certainly, but they were sold. Sometimes the husbands were punished and sometimes they got away with the transaction. Claude Berry in a recent BBC programme told listeners about a man who sold his wife by auction in Cornwall. "He sauntered into the market at Redruth," said Mr. Berry, "leading his wife by a straw band fastened round her neck." The populace crowded round, for they had never seen such a spectacle before, and eventually, after a lot of standing and staring, someone bought the luckless lady for half a crown. There was a great outcry throughout West Cornwall and before long both vendor and purchaser were put in gaol.

But punishment did not always follow a wife sale, for in 1835 an elderly labourer - also a Cornishman - got tired of his wife, who was only thirty, and took her to market with a halter round the waist. He auctioned her but bidding was very low and he was forced to sell her to the only customers, a pair of travelling tinkers who bought her for fourpence. And then the collector of market tolls decided that the transaction concerned him. He did not know the correct charge so demanded a penny from the husband the sum that was always paid after the sale of a pig, and there was no question of gaol that time.

The latest case of wife selling in the West of England that Mr. Berry could unearth was in 1846, when another wife was sold for half a crown - evidently a popular price for ladies in that district. "I've never discovered," he said, "whether the man was sent to gaol or not. And one never hears what the men who bought the wives thought afterwards of their bargains."

AN AIR HOSTESS' LIFE

Many girls regard an air hostess' life as one that is full of glamour. Helen Scharfe, who is an air hostess, exploded such an idea in a recent BBC broadcast and said that there is a great deal of routine about the job. The hostess must see that travellers' papers are properly filled in for their destinations and that they are strapped in for take off and landing; she must serve them with drinks and food when required and hand them reading matter. And for those who still think it is a glamorous life, Miss Scharfe remarked that a three thirty or four a.m. start is nothing unusual, and that passengers need very careful handling at that hour.

She also looks after the children, who are put in her charge when they are going home for holidays. "I promise I'll see they don't smoke," she said, "and the next thing I know they've fastened the safety-belts across the aisles. By the time I've hopped over them all the cigarettes are out and they're sitting there as if butter wouldn't melt in their mouths. One lot of boys found out I was scared of spiders, and they made up a jolly good imitation of a tarantula out of a button and elastic and flung it at me One man thought an aircraft was like a ship and that he could save money by not going in the cabin. He tried to book a deck passage. And another man wouldn't be parted from his donkey. He insisted on taking it along, and it was only when I showed him the inside of the plane and explained that the donkey would have nowhere to sleep that he agreed to leave it behind."

House Shortage Worries Song Birds, Too

By PETE McGILLEN
Outdoors Life Editor
The Toronto Telegram

Wanted—50,000 new homes to be ready for occupancy by May 1. Tenants will be feathered and won't insist on any of the modern features. In short, many of them will settle for a tomato can, painted a woodsy brown, and with proper size front door. If you will go to the trouble of getting a six inch thick poplar log and chisel the heart out of it, then glue the two portions together again, so much the better. Priorities won't bother the contractors who undertake this housing project, as the two essentials are energy and originality. The rent will amply compensate for the labor and material. It won't be in money, it will be in something money can't buy, song and beauty, and a diversion that will take one's mind off wordly woes. I am suggesting that you will build a birdhouse.

If you can get a bluebird for a tenant, that's a rare accomplishment. Bluebirds nest along railroads and snake fences in hollow posts and similar spots. However, in recent years the intruders, the starlings, have taken heavy toll of these songsters. They have driven off the adults, commandeered their nesting spots, eaten their eggs, and many times the young birds have also been devoured. Alex. Kay, a noted bird watcher, tells me that in 1948 he counted only seven bluebirds. When one realizes that the bluebird, an insect eater, is one hundred per cent. beneficial, then this drop in population is a tragedy.

By the way, Dad, have you ever helped your stranger son build a bird house? How about forgetting those manifold worries of yours, forgetting about yourself for one night, and decide it's time construction was started. All you need is a can of glue, an orange crate which you can wheedle out of the grocer or the fruit man, a knife or saw, and a bit of ambition. It doesn't matter if the bird house is cockeyed or oversize or undersize, the main thing is, help your son build it. Get the hole the right size, apply a bit of paint, and put it where a bird is likely to find it. I know this juvenile delinquency problem has been batted around so long few people pay any attention to it. Too many fathers recognize the presence of their sons only when the boy falls downstairs, or borrows a shirt, or when he brings home a school report that doesn't measure up to Pop's expectations. Let us recognize that this acute modern day ailment called juvenile delinquency is an insidious disease that thrives on indifference and neglect, and do something about it. That something as a beginner can be the building of a birdhouse.

If a songbird tenant's that house, then your son will be thrilled with the spirit of accomplishment. You will have taken the first step toward interesting that youngster in a field of research and interest that will pay dividends of happiness far beyond your hopes What good is success to you if your boy lands in the penitentiary? Sounds like preaching does it? Well, it never hurt anyone to sit down and get straightened out in his sense of values. And after all Dad, it isn't a rookie writing. I happen to be a grandfather. Let's carry this application a bit further. If you want to know what size to make the hole in a house for a wren, or if you need any other building details about a spring home for the songbirds, drop me a letter and I'll answer promptly.

"LET US ALONE"

LET well enough alone," the High Priests said.
"Let well enough alone," the rich man cried.
"Are not our temples splendid in their pride?
Are not our houses great, our fields widespread?
What if some unkept thousands cry for bread?
Shall we the wisdom of our God deride,
Tamper with institutions Old and Tried,
And bring about us Anarchy instead?"

And so they babbled on—their logic spent—
Vowing that all was well, with every breath,
Or shrieking, "Agitator! Malcontent!"
At him who came to them from Nazareth,
"Let us alone!" they cried, but Jesus went
His way that led to Calvary—and Death!

A preliminary report to the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests by Angus Hills indicates that the type of trees growing on an area of land creates the basic soil condition, whether moist or dry. Mr. Hills' discovery, which is contrary to general opinion, shows that trees at least on the area where he made his studies, create the basic soil type through their natural characteristic and diferences in foliage.

MY SYMPHONY

By William Henry Channing

To live content with small means;
To seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion;
To study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly;
To listen to stars and birds, to babes and sages, with open heart;
To bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never;
In a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious, grow up through the common;
This is my symphony.

It doesn't cost to advertise in The Record — It Pays.

Anglicans Observe Passiontide

This past Sunday Anglicans of this locality joined with their fellow Churchmen throughout the world in the annual observance of Passion Sunday, the beginning of the most solemn period of the Lenten fast, which reaches its climax in Holy Week, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday and the glorious Festival of the Resurrection.

At the Church of the Holy Trinity in Chesterville, the Altar was adorned with the special liturgical colours of scarlet and black, signifying the Passion and Death of Christ, and the Altar Cross veiled in black.

The Rector officiated this past Sunday at Evensong which included the special Passiontide hymns by Venantius Fortunatus, "The royal banners forward go" and "Sing, my tongue, the glorious battle". Mrs. R. Smith provided the organ accompaniment for the choir.

This coming Sunday, commonly known as Palm Sunday, The Rev'd Leon B. G. Adams will officiate at the Blessing and Distribution of Palms and at the celebration of the Holy Eucharist. The choir and congregation will sing the traditional Palm Sunday hymns, "All glory, laud and honour" and "Ride on! ride on in majesty!"

On Maundy Thursday, in commemoration of the institution of the Holy Communion, the Rector will officiate at the celebration of the Eucharist at 7.15 a.m.

On Good Friday the Rector will be preaching at the Three Hour Service at Carp, Ontario, and in the evening he will officiate at a special Good Friday service in Holy Trinity Church, Chesterville, at 7.30 p.m.

BALANCE SHEET ON PASTURES

Until recently little thought has been given to the importance and relative value of pastures. Particularily in the dairy industry, pasture produces a daily crop of milk, a yearly crop of calves and a crop of cows every three or four years. All these are readily turned into dollars and cents.

To maintain and even increase this cash crop it is essential that nutrients taken from the soil by grass be returned through proper fertilization. The outstanding requirements in the cow's ration are minerals and protein, according to animal nutrition authorities of C-I-L's agricultural chemicals division. They claim the average dairy cow will consume about six per cent of the immature grass on one acre of land per day. Limit of her capacity is approximately 150 pounds of green grass or 30 to 35 pounds of dry feed, depending on her size. She will eat enough immature grass when the pasture is at its best for maintenance and production and will offer one pound of butter fat daily.

The average cow will spend some eight hours of the 24 in grazing and will consume two tons of dry pasture during the grazing season. This will take from the soil 115 pounds of nitrogen, 26 pounds of phosphate, 93 pounds of potash and 37 pounds of calcium oxide each year. The milk from one cow giving 8,000 pounds yearly removes from the soil the equivalent of 80 pounds of superphosphate.

The April meeting of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary held in the Town Hall on the 7th at 8 o'clock, was attended by members from the following auxiliary units: Cass Bridge, Summers, Cloverdale, Hallville, Melvins and Annable, Mountain Ridge, Mountain, Russell, Toyes Hill, Vancamp, Winchester Springs and Winchester.

The President, Mrs. C. R. Robinson, presided and after a few brief words of welcome called on the Secretary, Mrs. George Elliott, to read the minutes of the last meeting. They were approved.

Mrs. Elliott reported that the Bibles donated by the Gideon Society had arrived and that a dedication service was to be planned under the direction of Mr. Eldon Fennel with the assistance of two ministers. Mrs. C. R. Robinson, president, and Mrs. George Elliott, Secretary, will represent the Auxiliary at the dedication service.

Mrs. Elliott also reported that Miss Sarah Fader of Finch, had donated a New Testament to be used in the hospital. Her gift was very much appreciated. At this stage of the meeting Miss Kerr of Vancamp's Public School had six of her pupils sing and act the Pussy Cat song. Each child did her or his part very well and the boys who represented the cast had very realistic mews. Miss Kerr presided at the piano.

After the secretary read the correspondence Mrs. J. Graham Harkness of St. Catharine, the President of the Hospital Aid Association, wrote that she had heard very complimentary reports of our auxiliary and would be very pleased to visit it at some future date and if so desired would send literature regarding the association.

It was decided to send for the literature before making any decision about joining the association.

On March 18th, the Executive Committee of the Auxiliary met in the Library Room, Winchester, to draw up rules and regulations for the Auxiliary. There were twelve rules and these were read by the secretary.

The President announced that each rule would be re-read and asked for discussions on each rule when read. One member suggested an added clause to one rule.

After some discussion it was suggested by Miss Nora Elliott that the secretary send a copy of the rules and regulations to each director of the units not represented at the meeting. The president approved of this suggestion and stated that the final decision about the twelve rules would be made at the May meeting of the Auxiliary.

The Treasurer, Miss Nora Elliott reported that the Auxiliary had over $1600 on hand and a membership of over 800 women.

The President, Mrs. C. R. Robinson, expressed the hope that the membership would reach a thousand before the end of the Auxiliary year, so let each member do her best to boost the membership.

The Secretary, Mrs. Elliott, reported that she had received the new auxiliary stationery, half of which had been printed in Chesterville, and half in Winchester, these being the only two printing offices in the hospital area. The members of the auxiliary liked the stationery very much.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the National Anthem with Mrs. Howard Fetterly presiding at the piano.

Be Careful At Home

By Dr. H. G. Ross

Not many people realize it, but home is a dangerous place. The reason seems to be that most people who are careful going to and from work and on the job slip out of their safety habits when they are at home.

Strangely enough, home duties cannot be blamed for most of the accidents. Falls account for the greatest number of home fatalities. Burns, fire and asphyxiation by gas run a close second. Statistics show that the bedroom is the most dangerous room in the house. People get out of bed at night, half-dazed with sleep and trip over a chair, an open bureau drawer or a rug. Smoking in bed and dropping off to sleep causes innumerable fires, many of them resulting in fatalities.

When we look into the kitchen, our second most dangerous room, we find a number of potential "killers." Here are some of them: highly polished linoleum floors, made more slippery by water, oil, grease or food that has been spilled, or floor covering with rips and turned-up corners; rickety step ladders for reaching into cupboards; pans and kettles placed on the stove with their handles turned outward so children can grasp them or adults knock against them; unsafe stoves or dangerous handling of stoves — some people are foolish enough to start a fire with kerosene; open tin cans, bottles, knives and other sharp instruments left where children can reach them.

More falls occur on halls and stairs than anywhere else. The usual causes are poorly lighted hallways, with chairs or boxes in the way, ready to be fallen over; upturned edges of rugs, slippery scatter rugs and loose runners on stairs; staircases without a handrail or steps which are loose; toys left on stairs and such things as mops, brooms and even rubbish stored on basement steps; carrying heavy loads up and down stairs.

Then there are the miscellaneous hazards of home. For example, many fires start in attics, closets and storerooms because oil-soaked rags are stored carelessly in closed spaces; because people use matches to look for clothes in closets; because attics become cluttered with old newspapers and clothing which feed fires; because dry-cleaning is done at home, indoors with inflammable fluids, and often in a room where there is an open flame or pilot light.

Many bad falls occur in the bathroom when people are getting in or out of the bathtub. Using a mat and a strong handrail on the wall is a great protection against this danger.

We have listed here some but by no means all of the most common hazards in the home. The best way to ensure your safety and the safety of your family is to check your home for accident traps. Carry safety-first habits into your home and then you can say, with confidence, "It can't happen here."

A Memento

Answering a determined tap at the door, Mrs. Jones opened it to face her neighbor, who was obviously very wrought up.

"It's that boy of yours," she snorted. "He's just thrown this brick through my window."

"Really! How interesting!" she exclaimed, "I wonder if you will let me have the brick? We're trying to keep all the little mementoes of his youthful pranks; they'll be so interesting when he grows up."

MOREWOOD UNITED CHURCH

The services at Morewood United Church were conducted on Sunday by the minister, Rev. W. J. Copsey, B.A. At the morning service twelve new members were received on profession of faith. They were Harry Hutchinson, Mrs. Harry Hutchinson, Mrs. Jean Ballantyne, Martin Ballantyne, Jean Carruthers, Shirley Faulkner, Freda Byers, Iva Byers, Marie Irven, Bruce Carruthers, Donald Mattice and Cecil Dillabough. The reception was threefold. After the public profession of faith, the minister by the authority of the session in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ received each candidate into the fellowship of the church with all the rights and duties pertaining thereto. The right hand of fellowship was extended to each candidate by elders. Hector Carruthers, Walter Stewart, Ford Steinburg, Wm. Irven and Archie Carruthers. The congregation, standing, affectionately welcomed the new members into the household of faith, pledged them sympathy, help and prayers that they might evermore increase in the knowledge and love of God.

The hymn of dedication was sung by all:

"I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare.

I would be friend of all, the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift;
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would lock up, and laugh, and love and lift."

The address to the new members called for a life of prayer; daily use of the Bible; regular attendance at the means of grace, the building of Christian character by the grace of God and active Christian service. A copy of the devotional book, "God is in My Life," was presented to each new member. The anthem by the choir was "Give of Thy Best". Miss Ellice Smith presided at the organ.

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning Business Practice

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of office workers to become proficient in typing, filing, shorthand and secretarial work, will mean greater business efficiency—will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

THE BREWING INDUSTRY (ONTARIO)

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy—that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.

A DUSTPAN, A PAIL AND A SCRUBBING BRUSH

"Here's a little sidelight on London life - the story of a Camberwell church which was short of cleaning materials. The Vicar, Canon Veazey, a great old London character who has just retired, announced this shortage in his Parish Magazine. Two or three days ago, a car drove up to the door of his vicarage. Out stepped a messenger carrying a dustpan, a pail and a scrubbing brush. It was a gift, said the messenger, from a lady who'd read the Vicar's appeal in the Parish Magazine. The car, by the way, was from Buckingham Palace. The lady was the Queen."

EVERYTHING FOR THE CYCLIST

"There's a most entertaining ice-cream tricycle. They sell it in Fiji of all places. It's got a perspex hood on it to keep out the germs, and it's got a little wash-hand basin inside for the man who rides the tricycle to wash his hands and a nail brush to clean his nails."

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! You can freshen up the house without creating a cloud of dust if you use a vacuum cleaner. It's a big help on the major housecleaning jobs. The attachments are easily interchanged and go into action at the flip of a switch for such protective measures as demothing, deodorizing, and polishing.

This is the time of year you may be seriously considering buying or renting one. Since there are two types of vacuum cleaners and many different kinds of each type, you may be in a quandary as to which you should select. Let your furnishings be the deciding factor. If you have soft, high-piled rugs and an extensive amount of hardwood floors, you will want a straight air cleaner. It has the long tube attachment which cleans mattresses and does extra dusting at the same time. Carpets and hard rugs respond more effectively to the agitator type of vacuum with a motor-driven brush action. With either type, it is wise to purchase the attachments and make good use of them, according to directions.

TAKE A TIP

Features to look for in vacuum cleaner value:

1. A quiet motor and fan action with little vibration.
2. Ease of changing attachments.
3. A conveniently located power switch.
4. A free action handle on the upright model and well-designed runners on tank model.
5. A durable cord with brackets to wind it on.
6. Soft bumpers on three sides of the nozzle or sweeper to prevent marring the furniture.
7. A lamp at the base with a wide arc to provide light under the furniture and help you to see pins.
8. Check on the convenience of maintenance (some have sealed-in lubrication and require no oiling).
9. A reputable company which guarantees its product.
10. The dust receptacle should be easily removable (some have a foot operated dirt ejector).
11. Consider a good finish, attractive appearance and a sturdy built machine.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. J. T. asks:

How can black marks made by rubber heels on linoleum be removed?

Answer:

Cleaning fluid such as spot remover for clothes should take it off. Some liquid cleansers, such as those for cleaning woodwork, also do a good job. If you don't happen to have any of these, the floor can be rubbed lightly with steel wool.

Mrs. S. W. asks:

Does scrubbing with a brush ruin this material?

Answer:

Vigorous scrubbing and too much water used on linoleum will soon deteriorate it.

Mrs. R. M. asks:

How often should a floor be waxed?

Answer:

No set rule can be applied to all households, because of the difference in family life. If there are small children and a dog the floor will get ground-in soil that will require thorough washing and a complete new covering of polished wax once a week. In other cases go over the floor lightly with a mop wrung out tight of soapy water, then a clean mop wrung out of clean water and leave the wax for 2 or 3 weeks.
