Finch vice

FINCH (Staff) - Police said they have recovered a dozen plastic lawn ornaments stolen from a residence in Finch. The booty included flamingoes, ducks, ducklings, swans and whirling daisies, said a spokesman for Winchester police. Two young offenders have been charged with possession of stolen property.

Opening

AVONMORE (Staff) - Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Food Jack Riddell and Minister of Education Sean Conway will be on hand Sept. 25 in Avonmore to officially open the new Stormont County agricultural office at 1:30pm. On July 7, the office opened its doors after moving from Cornwall. The Avonmore site is the ministry's first attempt at designing and building its own office.

$30,000 meal

MORRISBURG (Staff) - Morrisburg reeve Bill Dillabough said last week the local Liberal party riding association has sold 300 tickets to the $100 a plate dinner being held September 16 for Ontario premier David Peterson. "That's $30,000," said Mr. Dillabough who is a long time Liberal organizer and past candidate for the provincial riding of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. The dinner will be held at Cornwall's Travelodge and gets underway at 6pm with the premier expected at 7:30.

No bus

LONG SAULT (Staff) - Communters and shoppers who expected a bus service to be implemented this fall are for a disappointment. Plans have for the service from Long Sault to Cornwall have fallen through and the bus owner who wanted to establish a route has been unable to obtain a license. No further decision has been made and no date selected for a review of the application.

Who's going?

OTTAWA (Staff) - Local officials of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority say they have not been informed of an upcoming conference to be held in Montreal regarding the future of the St. Lawrence Seaway. About 50 delegates are expected to attend the conference this fall in an effort to exert more influence on the administration of the St. Lawrence Seaway and inland shipping. The mayors of the port cities on both the American and Canadian sides are being invited to the meeting according to officials in the transportation departments on both sides of the border. Legislators have been told recently proposed costly changes in shipping tariffs could prove detrimental to shipping.

Anyone for hot chocolate?

An eye-boggling array of products manufactured by Chesterville's Nestle Division was on display in the plant's seminar room last Friday while a group of four Ontario Conservative federal MPs visited the area. The group toured several areas locally from Iroquois to Cornwall and up to Ault Foods in Winchester. Nestle maintaining employment levels while seeking new product contracts

(Staff) - Chesterville's Nestle Division is attempting to stay on an even keel in terms of production employment director Jim Cummings told a group of federal MPs last Friday.

The parliamentarians were visiting area facilities and major employers as part of an information tour in eastern Ontario.

Company executives told the group who were accompanied by Stormont-Dundas MP Norm Warner, several product categories were not in a dynamic growth position. With the decline in demand for soluble coffee, he said, and the removal of several other commodities like soups and puddings to other Nestle plants, Mr. Cummings said he and his staff had to look for other alternatives.

"We have acquired Good Host Tea and Hill Brothers Coffee," he said, and these and other contracts compensate for the decline in other products.

He noted the difficulties in trying to keep the work force stable.

"There are only five or six grocery chains left," said Mr. Cummings "and they don't buy in big blocks any more. Sometimes we have to change product lines in the middle of the week."

He said such uncertainty means staff have to be laid off and then rehired.

"The trade is shrinking," he concluded.

Union representatives present questioned the Tory MPs about the free trade issue currently being debated in Ottawa and elsewhere around the country.

The president and vice president of the Retail and Wholesale and Department Store Employees Union, Doug Merkley and Dwayne Hall, expressed fears that give a free trade situation with the United States many of the products being made by the Chesterville factory would be dropped should all tariffs be dropped.

MP Norm Warner pointed out "You're versatile. You could well make some new products or narrow your products to two or three rather than the range you produce now."

You could end up being a net winner."

Present on the tour were Jim Caldwell, Essex-Kent; David Daubney, Ottawa West; and Bruce Halliday, Oxford.

Nestle plans tamper-proof packaging

(Staff) - Nestle Division is currently undertaking new designs for packaging hot chocolate mix to provide a tamper-proof seal, a group of visiting federal government MP's were told on Friday.

Plant director Jim Cummings told the parliamentarians "the difficulty is in redesigning the machinry to make the packaging. You can't do this overnight -- it takes a long time."

Mr. Cummings said the seals on instant coffee produced by the plant are tamper-proof "and if they were broken we would hope the general public would not make coffee from it."

He said a cyanide death in New Jersey last week from eating Lipton Cup-A-Soup from a punctured packet was a further reminder of the need to change the technology. He added the Nestle factory could draw on the technology of head office in Vevey, Switzerland in order to come up with a satisfactory design.

Trade Fair to be held September 12, 13

(Staff) - Organizers are putting the final touches on the third annual Chesterville and district trade fair. With most exhibitors due to nail and hammer their displays into place tomorrow, the popular event is ready to roll.

Ina Graafland, who heads the committee formed to oversee the trade fair, said before press time her workers were confident the event would be a success.

With only two spaces to be filled, the Chesterville Arena will be filled to capacity with a range of area business exhibits. From jewellery to water softeners to the local newspaper, the booths have been moving fast.

A treat for the kids will be free movies provided courtesy of Betty Thompson at B and E Toys in Chesterville. While at the fair families can tour the hall visiting the displays and placing ballots for the wide variety of free draws to be offered by the merchants.

The Chesterville Record will be back for a second season with a table full of photographs which have appeared in the pages of the Record since the last Chesterville Trade Fair two years ago. Browsers are welcome to take home a photo or two compliments of The Record.

The grand prize of the fair will be a draw for a weekend for two in Quebec City. This prize is offered by the Chesterville Merchants' Association, said Mrs. Graafland. The local merchants formed the group for the trade fair only and there are no plans as yet to continue with it, she said. "Some have said they'd like it to continue," she said.

There will be non-commercial exhibits in addition to the wares displayed by local businesses. For instance, Nestle's booth will feature coffee and hot chocolate. Other refreshments will be available too and Winchester baker Debbie Kerkhoff is planning a display. "There'll be lots of food," Mrs. Graafland said.

Scouts and venturers will man the doors to direct people needing information. The doors open at 4pm Friday, September 12 and the show goes on until 10pm. On Saturday the hours for the fair are 10am until 9pm.

Chesterville reeve Carl Ward said the trade fair "is a great benefit to the village."

"I just hope everybody gets out and supports it," he said.

Province funds water search

(Staff) - Representatives of Chesterville council met last week with Ontario environment ministry officials in an effort to extend funding for search and development of further water supplies for the village.

"There is some good news in that of the monies we had been granted for the water search the remainder will stay with the project," reeve Carl Ward told The Record before press time.

The reeve indicated that of the original $216,000 funded by the province to cover the project, about $100,000 has been unused to this point. Even though testing for a third well proved the site was unsuitable the money will stay with the village thanks to the program being extended by the ministry for Chesterville's needs.

MP may object to S-D riding boundary changes

by Alvah Hanrahan
Record News Editor

An independent electoral boundaries commission has recommended the framework of the federal riding of Stormont-Dundas be changed. But MP Norm Warner, who has represented S-D since 1984, may lodge an appeal.

Mr. Warner told The Record the removal of Charlottenburgh from the riding is not in the interests of his constituents.

"Initially I'd like to see the boundaries remain the same," said Mr. Warner.

"We'll be looking at possible alternatives to those proposed."

He said such alternatives may be to retain Charlottenburgh and have Glengarry-Prescott-Russell retain Cumberland.

MP Don Boudria, a Liberal, also first elected to the federal parliament in 1984 said his majority would be little affected by the loss of Cumberland and the gain represented by the township of Charlottenburgh.

"It would bring me down from the largest Liberal majority in Canada to the second largest," he said, referring to the size of his win in the last federal election.

He estimated his majority, given the voting patterns of 1984, would be reduced from 9,800 to about 9,200

"I haven't had much feedback yet," said Mr. Boudria. "But what is important is the question what do the residents of that county feel comfortable with."

"I would be pleased to represent Charlottenburgh," he added, "and then I would represent all of Glengarry if that is their wish."

Speaking of the proposed redistribution he noted "several residents (of Charlottenburgh) feel strongly attached to the city of Cornwall."

Under the proposed boundary changes Cumberland Township would become part of a new Carleton-Gloucester riding.

Doug Grenkie, president of the local Conservative riding asociation in SD&G, said the people in Charlottenburgh have more in common with Cornwall and S-D than with Hawkesbury and Prescott-Russell.

Local Tories plan to object at the hearings to be held at Nepean.

Mr. Boudria said at this stage he was planning to attend the hearings "as an observer." He said he has not yet decided whether to dispute the formulas handed down by the commission.

He has placed his house up for sale, saying he would prefer to live in a rural area rather than in Cumberland. Raised in the Sarsfield area, Mr. Boudria said his decision to move house was made in July and in no way hinges on the findings of the boundary commission.

He said he felt more at home in the rural sector of the community.

If Mr. Warner decides to protest the rulings he will indicate with two or three weeks in his intention and will address the hearings in November.

Charlottenburgh reeve Morgan Major said his township has a lot in common with Stormont-Dundas and he would prefer to see the township stay where it is for federal voting purposes.

Avonmore seniors' housing

AVONMORE (Staff) - The proposed senior citizens' housing complex here has received the green light for construction from the provincial government.

Roxborough Township reeve told The Record he was delighted at the speed with which the project has gone from a concept to building site.

Committee secretary Lily Worrell concurred, saying that unlike most buildings of its type the Avonmore residence will have an elevator in place, thanks to the kind consent of ministry officials.

"It's never been allowed for a two-storey buildings," said Mrs. Worrell, "but the seniors really wanted an elevator."

She said her committee approached the architects and were told it would cost an extra $5000 to change the technical drawings for the building.

"So the Avonmore seniors went out and raised the money," she said.

"It went back to the ministry and we told them these seniors really want an elevator."

"We had heard it would be allowed in 1987 and since 1987 is so close we convinced them to allow it."

The next step, she said, is the signing of all mortgage papers within the next few days. When that is done the contractor can get on the site and commence construction.

Tenders were submitted some time ago and Robert Bourgon of Cornwall is the contractor who won the bid.

The building committee has already had a well drilled on the site with the permission of the former owner. The building will be located on Broadway Street, a street yet to be built, said Mr. McIntyre, located at the east side of the village.

With 26 units planned, there are already 22 tenants signed up for apartments. As well there are two apartments suitable for the Heart and kidneys of Long Sault man donated for organ transplants

LONG SAULT (Staff) - Tragedy for a Long Sault family has turned into hope and consolation for three other Eastern Ontario families.

When Christopher Bouchier, 23, formerly of Long Sault, was killed in a car accident last week near Newington, his death became a glimmer of hope for three desperately ill persons who received the heart and kidneys of the young man.

The Civic Hospital operations were conducted last Monday evening when an RCMP corporal received a heart transplant and two other patients a man and a woman, each received a kidney.

For Raymond Bouchier and his wife the decision was made when the hospital contacted them shortly after the accident when their son, who resided in Mississauga, was placed on a life-support system after the accident which claimed his life.

"If it can help anybody else I'd like to see it made public," said Mr. Bouchier in a telephone interview. His wife who was very upset last week spoke to The Record before press time and said she had come to terms with the accident and the life-giving gift of her son's heart and kidneys.

"You never think you'll have to make this kind of decision," she said. "I didn't think of it until I was approached by the hospital."

She said that at the funeral home where so many relatives, friends and neighbors gathered, many people "took out their wallets and signed their drivers' licences," indicating their organs could be used in case of a fatal accident.

"It's a terribly difficult decision, naturally, because you want him to be the way he was."

"I feel very peaceful," said Mrs. Bouchier, "and I hope the doctors that performed these transplants will let us know how the people are doing."

She said she had not spoken to members of the three families concerned.

"I don't think they'll get in touch. I just hope they'll say a prayer for Chris."

Mrs. Bouchier explained that both her husband and his brother have had open-heart surgery so the family is aware of the need for drastic medical measures.

"I'd like to encourage people to go ahead and do it," said Mr. Bouchier, indicating the provisions on the back of the Ontario driving license can be signed at any time. "I'm sure if I could have seen him (Christopher) a few months ago I could have influenced him to do the same thing."

Mr. Bouchier said he was encouraging Christopher's two brothers and sister to make the same decision.

School enrolment on par with 1985

CORNWALL (Staff) - Local school enrolment by the second week in September, remains at about the same level as the previous academic year.

Superintendent Ken MacLennan told The Record the total elementary school numbers for the United counties is around 5,000 with 69 more students than 1985-86.

The county school board has enrolled 84 more children in its junior kindergarten program; 24 more in kindergarten; 167 more in Early French Immersion; Late French Immersion is down by 44 students.

At the senior level superintendent Marc Godbout said his total is 7,400, a decrease of about 50 students over last year's total.

At Chesterville Public School principal Bill McMillan said there were 199 children on the register, up by five from last year. At Elma the numbers are up from 168 last year to 181 in September of this year.

Roxmore Public School reported 167 last week, down from last year's 171. At Finch Public School there are now three more students than lst year with 81 enrolled as of last week.

Ted Brydges at Morewood Public School has 119 children enrolled, up from last year's 114.

In the separate sector Chesterville's St. Mary's has 194 versus 202 last year. St. Bernard's in Finch has enrolled 73 this year, up from 69 last year.

At Newington there are 129 children, down from last year's total of 133. Rothwell-Osnabruck's elementary panel has 327 on the roll versus 343 last year.

Maple Ridge Senior Public School, grades seven and eight, has 209, down from 226 last year.

At the high school level North Dundas District High School has enrolled 832, up from last year 786 and Rothwell-Osnabruck's high school section counts 228, down from last year's 237.

Water search

the project, has gone back to the drawing board. "They're putting together a proposal to search in different locations," said Mr. Ward.

Previously tested wells were drilled on the property of Dr. Bryan Kennedy according to a sale agreement with him in case of a successful water search. Since that search turned out to be negative the deal is off and Dr. Kennedy has said he is greatly relieved.

However, it may be necessary to extend the search for more water sources well beyond the confines of the village, said the reeve.

"We're going to have to broaden the paramenters -- maybe even outside the village -- in any direction we have to."

Asked how a sale of land could be effected Mr. Ward said "We'll have to work that out with the owners."

He added the company is working out the strategy right now and all indications are a new site may be chosen by as soon as mid-October.

"We may be able to do one (a test) before freeze-up," said Mr. Ward.

He said frozen ground was not as big a problem technically as the covering of snow later in the winter which would hinder access to any chosen test site.

"We certainly want to do it before January or February," he said.

handicapped, one with wheelchair facilities and the other to be used by a hearing-handicapped person.

Six of the units have two bedrooms with the remainder being single bedroom apartments.

The entire project will cost in the region of $1.3 million. The project was first brought together with the organizational meeting in July of 1985.

Reeve McIntyre said he was confident the complex would be ready for tenancy by next spring.

He said one of the major outcomes of the building would be to free up housing for younger families with children in the area.

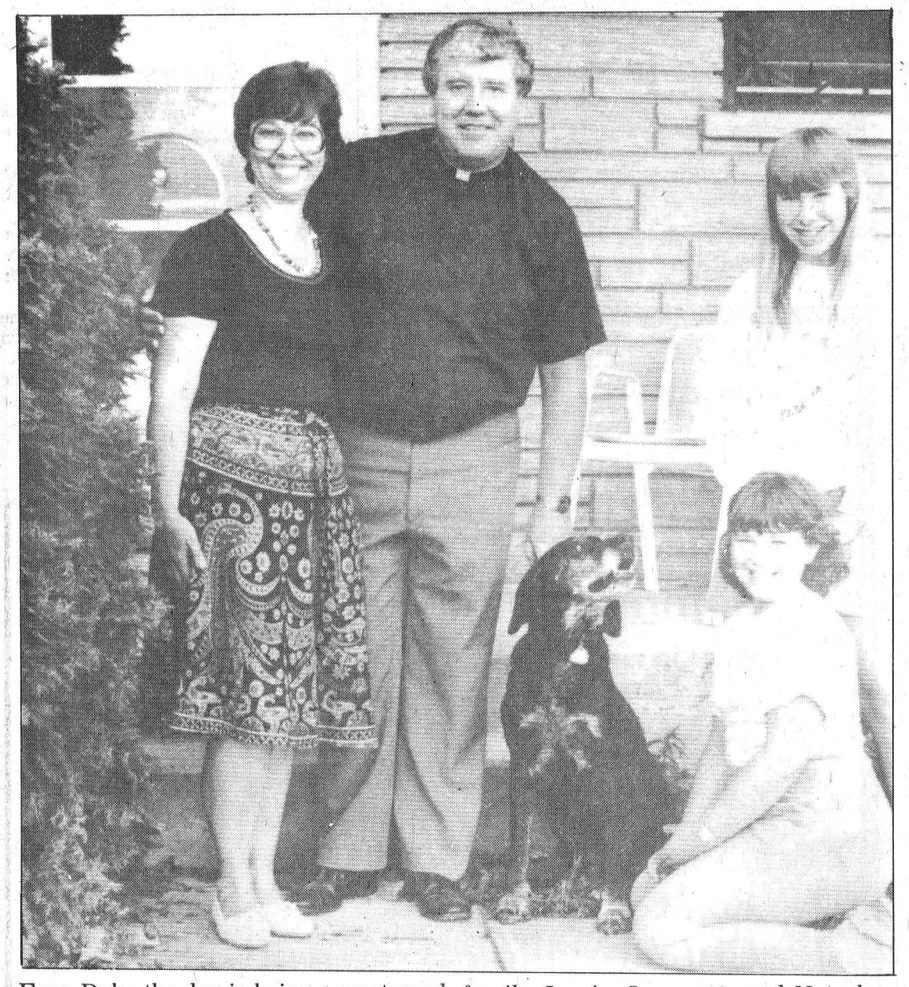
United Church minister prefers the country life



Even Duke the dog is being accustomed to life in Chesterville. The new minister of Trinity United and Morewood United churches, Rev. Roy Harwood, and family Jennie, Sonya, 10, and Natasha, 12, are learning their way about the village schools and grocery stores.

(Staff) - Chesterville is a long way from his birthplace in Lancashire, England, but Trinity and Morewood United churches are now home to Rev. Roy Harwood, a former coal miner, carpenter and Baptist minister.

"I'm looking forward to getting to know the people, seeing if we can get some growth in the congregation," he said Friday.

The Harwood family is still settling into the manse across the street from Trinity United. But Chesterville, they said, is probably much like other rural charges they have served.

Rev. Harwood's career in the ministry began at Briercrest, Saskatchewan, where he studied for the Baptist ministry. It was followed by two years at the London College of Bible and Missions.

But he transferred to the United Church after serving one Baptist congregation and studied in Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia. He said he was seeking "a changing theology."

"People's theology is always changing. It (the United Church) allows you to grow and to change."

His first charge was in Clifford, in Wellington County, a dairy farming area.

After three years there, he moved to northern Ontario where he served as chaplain with Ontario Hydro on its northern projects. He was minister to some 7,000 men and also worked alongside them as a carpenter.

"They started me off in the office which I didn't want because I couldn't see any people," he said.

Then followed eight and a half years in Carlyle, a bedroom community near Hamilton, and five years in the city itself.

He served briefly in London and then three years in Port Colborne with a church of about 1,000 members.

The family welcomed the returned to a rural area. After the city gas fumes, he said his daughters termed country smells "beautiful".

Jennie Harwood is from the Toronto area and studied pharmacy at the University of Toronto. Over the years, she said she has worked part-time.

"I never look for work. They usually find me if they want me," she laughed.

Rev. Harwood's objective now is "just get to know the people and minister to them, try to attract more young families to the church, more young people."

Crysler water project waits for grant

BERWICK (Staff) - The Crysler water and sewer project is still on hold, several years after work to upgrade services in the village was first proposed.

On Monday night, Finch Township council met with representatives of the Ministry of the Environment, Kostuch Engineering and Water and Earth Sciences Associates Ltd., a Stittsville hydrogeology consulting firm, to discuss provincial funding and results of a test well drill.

"We're applying for more funds to more or less do the second step," Reeve Ralph MacKenzie said Tuesday.

He said the township must apply for a provincial grant to cover part of the cost of the preliminary engineering on the site by Oct. 1. How the province allocates money won't be known until February or March of next year.

The township is playing the waiting game for the second consecutive year. Last year, it also applied for provincial money.

"We're applying for funds and hope that they come through with it," he said.

Clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey said the ministry believed the well, drilled on the property of Raymond Provost east of Crysler, would be adequate. The township has put an option to buy on the property.

Mr. MacKenzie said progress on such a project is "quite slow when you're involved with government. When they're funding 85 per cent of it, you have to be patient."

Publicans Ray Silvester, left, and Owen Mekitarian, both of Chesterville, say they'll welcome a crowd of regulars to Toddie's Pub. Located on the grounds of the Todmorden Country Club, north of Morewood, the pub is featuring English-style pub grub with drinks. Meals and English snacks like Scotch eggs and Cornish pasties will be available. Dart games are in full swing too.

Toddie's sets out placemat

RUSSELL (Staff) - A novel hostelry opened in the area last week when Toddie's Pub threw open its door to the general public.

Formerly an English-style pub reserved only for the 250 members of Todmorden Country Club, Toddie's now welcomes the general public.

Co-owners Patrick and Lillian Irwin said the hospitality facility is offered along with recreation and fitness if wanted.

Courses are available outside the regular club membership and offer swimming, weight training and other fitness courses.

The pub, though, is being planned along the English style with meals available. The pub grub being offered, said Owen Mekitarian and Ray Silvester who jointly run the pub, include lasagna, chili, Irish stew and snacks like Scotch eggs, Cornish pasties and sausage rolls.

From time to time entertainment will be offered.

Totally separated from the country club on the same grounds, Toddies is expected to become popular with a long list of regulars.

Mr. Mekitarian, who ran a pub in his native Ireland, said a range of domestic beers, wines, spirits and cocktails is available.

The facility seats 65 at small tables and provides a setting for dart games. A large screen will provide sports coverage of special events and championships.

For designated drivers there are free soft drinks available.

Although the country club opened two and a half years ago the list of pub regulars was limited to the members. That will change, said the two publicans although their customers already show quite a lot of loyalty to Toddie's.

Mr. Irwin said the establishment of the country club and pub "went beyond all our expectations. This was to be a little hobby business but the demand exceeded our time."

He added the trend towards English style pubs seemed to be growing.

"I think the phenomenon of the English-style pub is starting to catch on in Canada -- it's somewhere the customer is not hustled in and out as quickly as possible."

"The British," he said, "perfected the pub hundreds of years ago and Canadians are starting to catch on."

Food available will be cooked on the premises and Mr. Irwin said patrons can "eat and drink in one stop."

For those who enjoy exercises or think they should get in shape, there are two fitness instructors on hand and Red Cross swimming instruction can be provided.

The club and Toddie's pub are located north of Morewood.

Draw raises nearly $10,000

ST. RAPHAEL'S (Special) - The tremendous project undertaken by the auxiliary to raise funds in aid of Mount Carmel House Treatment Centre proved to be a great success. The 1986 Pontiac Sunbird draw reached a near ten thousand in net proceeds.

The winning ticket held by Albert Sampson of Cornwall was picked by Noble Villeneuve M.P.P. When reached, Mr. Sampson who was on his way to work could hardly believe his luck.

The draw was conducted at Shalom House, St. Raphaels' admitting the auxiliary to hold their annual membership meeting. Mr. Villeneuve, guest speaker complimented, the auxiliary and the workers for their worthy effort, in particular E.H. Tourangeau, treasurer who was in charge of the project for bringing about such splendid results.

The audience responded enthusiastically to his appeal on behalf of Mount Carmel House as he revealed that permanent funding through Mental Health Services Program would be announced soon by government officials.

150 pairs of feet expected for Winchester fun run

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Up to 150 pairs of feet may be pounding the pavement in Winchester Oct. 11 when the village hosts the sixth annual fun run.

"We normally get out 60 to 70 people. The majority of those come from either Ottawa or Cornwall," Ray Dawes, one of the race organizers, said Tuesday.

He's counting on an earlier race date and promotion of the race as a fundraiser to attract more local interest and runners.

"I would hope we have 100 people, even as many as 150."

For the first time since the run began in 1981, proceeds will be donated to a local charity. Naomi's Resource in Winchester, to open as a shelter and counselling centre for victims of family violence, will be the beneficiary.

"This time we decided to try to open it up a bit, partly to raise money and partly to raise community awareness of the event," he said.

Pamphlets encouraging participation have been placed in stores in Winchester and Chesterville and organizers are once again encouraging students who may be training for distance running to take part.

"It's not a race just for runners. It's a race aimed at people interested in fitness. People are always telling me, 'I've always thought I should be doing a little running,' " he said. With still a month to go before the race date, he said prospective participants have time to train to run one mile.

The five-mile run is described as a "prediction race". Participants must preregister and predict their finishing time, he said, not knowing what the weather conditions will be.

Although there's a bit of luck involved, he said a slower runner who knows his capabilities also has a chance to win.

No conflict

The race is usually held in November but Thanksgiving Day Saturday was chosen this year to attract more interest, he said.

"A lot of people are turned off when they hear November," he said. The earlier date also won't conflict with scheduled Ottawa races.

The runs begin at 10:30am. Preregistration will be held from 9 to 10am.

Runners will compete in male and female categories and by age. Participants in the five-mile race will be divided into four categories: under 19, between 19 and 29, between 30 and 39, and over 40.

In the one-mile race, there are six divisions: age 10 and under, between 11 and 14, between 15 and 18, between 19 and 29, between 30 and 39, and 40 and over.

For adult competitors, race day registrations are $9 ($7 if they preregister). High school students pay half fees and participants under 14, $1.

Runners are encouraged to collect donations in lieu of registration fees to support the resource centre.

All finishers will receive a pair of designer running socks and participants will be offered a hot lunch and can view videotapes of the race.

September brings school for Seth, left, at Nationside Pentecostal for Josselyn and brother, Nathan and a new pastorate and Larry Armstrong.

Ottawa Valley native finds new home at Nationside Pentecostal

(Staff) - Amid the packing boxes and partially furnished living room, six-year-old Nathan Armstrong tried to hook a paper-clipped fish and his older brother, Seth, began his homework.

Although the family still has much to be moved from their home in Peterborough, Josselyn and Larry Armstrong, Nationside Pentecostal's new pastor, are discovering Chesterville and area.

But life in the village probably won't be much different than Millbrook, a rural community only about 200 people short of Chesterville's population and site of Rev. Armstrong's three-year stay as youth pastor.

"We're just happy to be where God wants us to be and that's the important thing," Rev. Armstrong said.

He described himself as "an Ottawa Valley boy," growing up in Renfrew, Eganville and Peterborough.

He graduated from the Eastern Pentecostal Bible College in Peterborough in 1978 but has worked as plastic injection mold maker both before and after ordination.

It was while working for General Electric in Peterborough that he felt the call to ministry. He said he was happy doing his work but felt "unsettled."

"It's not something that you say, 'This is what I'm going to do,' " he said. "It is a call. There's a calling involved and only the person that's involved will know that."

He spent two years working with youth in a Norwood church, southeast of Peterborough before moving to Millbrook.

Throughout his early years in ministry, he continued to work at his trade and Mrs. Armstrong, originally from northern Ontario, was employed in banks. He stressed their ministry is a team effort.

He said the family considered leaving last fall but remained to help the pastor with preaching and visiting duties until construction that doubled the size of the church was complete.

A carpenter, he built a pulpit and communion table for the new church.

The greatest joy of ministry, he said simply, is people. "If it wasn't for people, there would be no sense in the ministry."

But the "centrepoint" of ministry is God, he said.

"I guess a lot of people look on the ministry as, he's the hired hand. But the ministry is not hiring a person on. It's different. It's a job in some respects but it's different. You're working not for people, you're working for the Lord."

He hopes to continue his work with youth and sees a need in the community for activities geared to teenagers.

"I've done youth, I love youth," he said, then added with a laugh, "They made my hair turn grey the last few years."

Winchester subdivision proposed

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Winchester Township council supports in principle a proposed 10-lot subdivision near the junction of Hwy. 31 and 43.

But at a meeting Monday night, council told developers Gail and Edsel Byers an existing barn may be too close to up to three of the proposed lots under minimum separation distance regulations set by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Reeve Gerald Holmes commented such guidelines may pose a greater problem to developers if proposed right-to-farm legislation is passed.

Council also sold about half an acre of former road allowance on the parcel north east of the highways' junction, to Mr. Byers for $1 plus surveying and registration costs. The land, once owned by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, had grown up in weeds.

Before any development can begin, the land must be rezoned from rural to rural residential. Mr. Byers was told that county planner Bryan Weir advised him to prepare a plan of subdivision before the re-zoning was discussed.

CFA president to address federation

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Society's image of the farmer will provide the focus for a meeting of area federations of agriculture here Wed., Oct. 1.

Guest speaker for the regional meeting, to be hosted by the Dundas Federation of Agriculture at the Winchester Agricultural Office, will be Canadian Federation president Don Knoerr, a cow-calf producer from British Columbia. Knoerr will be asked to respond to an article appearing in an April issue of the Financial Post by University of Ottawa business policy professor Wilbrod Leclerc.

Mr. Leclerc's article, which claims that Canadian farmers are heavily subsidized and over-represented politically, also generated some discussion at the DFA's September meeting last Wednesday.

Mr. Leclerc states that farmers have been treated as a strong political force despite their small numbers, "as if they held a gun at the head of the rest of the population.

"This sword of Damocles has produced democratic over-representation, gerrymandering, subsidies, easy credit and a host of marketing boards," Mr. Leclerc argues. "In most countries, farmers are the most protected producers."

The article also referred to tax breaks and other benefits for farmers contained in finance minister Michael Wilson's budget, and claimed that farmers' economic plight has been exaggerated by the media.

Dundas Federation members discussed the public's image of agriculture as reflected in the article. "On the surface the article is right," said Max Sabey. "People see the affluent farmers, but they don't see the struggling farmers."

Correction

Due to a typographical error, a word was inadvertently omitted from a story in last week's Record, "Family violence victim urges community to support centre".

A statement by Erva Durant, president of the centre's board of directors, should have read:

"It (the centre) will cost us no more than it ever has. A certain portion of your tax dollars has always gone to maintain safe shelters across Ontario. So why not have one of our own?"

The Record regrets the error.

THE COUNTRY CUPBOARD
by Linda Grant

With the tomato crop at its peak, I thought this would be a good time to discuss the benefits of using a juicer. This is an interesting unit which is a combination of a meat grinder and food mill, yet works like a cream separator. When a food item is processed, the seeds and peel are discarded by means of one spout while the pulp and juice neatly trickle out another.

There are several models available for both electric and hand crank units, with the price tag ranging from $70.00 upwards. I use a hand crank unit and am very pleased with its performance. These machines will process a variety of foods including berries and grapes for jams-jellies and apples for applesauce and apple butter.

This week's recipe is the beginning for a variety of dishes and will help the gardeners to use up some of the other produce which is ready and waiting. I have not added any herbs or spices so that you can have more options for meal preparation. If you intend to freeze or can this sauce, it is probably best to add seasoning when you are about to use the sauce. Certain herbs and spices do not freeze or can well.

TOMATO VEGETABLE SAUCE
(Or tomato plus 4)

1 gallon thick tomato juice
4 sweet green peppers, cleaned & chopped
4 large onions, peeled and chopped
4 large carrots, chopped finely or grated
4 large celery stalks, chopped
½ cup white sugar
4 teaspoons salt

Combine ingredients and bring to a boil. Stir often and cook until vegetables are tender.

Canvassing scam

(Staff) - There's a scam the public could fall prey to regarding on canvassing for unofficial publications, warns the Royal Canadian Legion.

Legion officials say members of the public have been canvassed for advertising by The Canadian Federation of Veterans' News, Veterans Advocate and Veterans' Forum.

"To the best of our knowledge none of these publications have any connection directly or indirectly with veterans' organizations or individual veterans," say member of Ontario Command.

A spokesman said canvassers apparently infer when speaking with clients that money is used in support of veterans. As well, the donations are generally sought during the Remembrance Day and poppy day times of year."

KOC drive

(Special) - The Chesterville council of the Knights of Columbus are now conducting the annual drive for funds for the Arthritis Society.

They are in need of volunteers to canvass for donations to futher the search for the causes and the cures of the different types of arthritis.

September is arthritis month. Please volunteer your services to help achieve the goal of contacting every household in Chesterville.

To volunteer please contact R.L. Johnson at 448-3558, 49 Water St., Apt. 103.

Collision

WINCHESTER (Staff) - A collision between two cars criven by Chesterville residents resulted in about $2,000 damage to each vehicle last Friday. Police said Gary Kelly, 16, driving a 1978 Chevrolet charged for an improper left turn at the corner of St. Lawrence and York Streets here.

He collided with a 1985 Ford driven by Darrin Kelly, 20, who was northbound at the time.

Another accident in the area occurred Monday September 8 when Georgina Hillis of Morewood, driving a 1982 Chevrolet, was in a slight collision with a 1982 Ford pickup truck driven by Glenn Carr, 21, of Chesterville.

Police said the two vehicles were crossing a bridge on the old Ormond Road when their mirrors struck. There were no charges in the incident.

Roxborough Twp. asks counties to assume Finch boundary road

MOOSE CREEK (Staff) - Roxborough Township wants the United Counties to assume responsibility for the Boundary Road between Roxborough and Finch townships.

Council agreed at last week's regular meeting to make the request to Counties Council and county engineer D.J. McDonald. The road in question stretches from highway 43 north to the eighth concession of Roxborough and joins county road 14 and county road 6.

Montgomery Drain

Council has requested a meeting between the township, engineer, Mr. J. Johnson and Mr. W. Wood of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food regarding the collapsed plastic tubing on the Montgomery Branch Municipal Drain.

Lots

Council will inform Mr. Cole the lots he wanted to buy are not for sale at this time.

Cancer Society

The township will contribute financially to next year's cancer campaign locally.

Motocross

Moose Creek Recreation Committee has been warned to level off the field where motocross races were held. In future, said members of council, the committee should seek permission from the township council before changing substantially the use of the recreation grounds when damage is done to the grounds.

Historical Society

The township has approved and congratulated Glengarry Historical Society and Dunvegan Museum for the manner in which they have restored the Roxborough Township Hall, formerly located at Warina, as a museum.

Septic system

The septic system for the new Moose Creek Fire Hall is the planning stage.

Light service complaints

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - On the urging of deputy reeve Claude Cousineau, Winchester Township council will send a "nasty" letter to Ontario Hydro complaining of poor maintenance of street lights in Morewood.

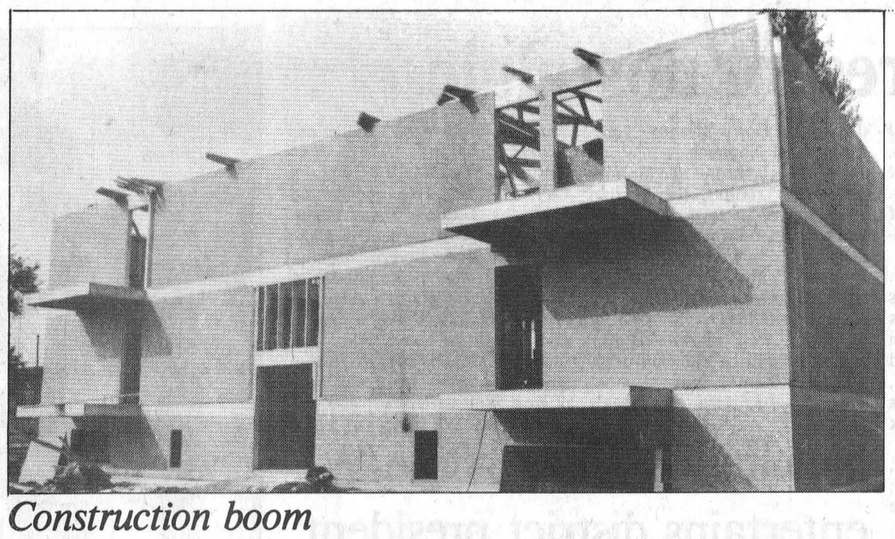
At a council meeting Monday night, Mr. Cousineau said Morewood "can't get any satisfaction out of Hydro."

"We're paying the rate, we're not getting service," he said.

An agreement with the power corporation promised a light of double strength at the corner in the hamlet, he said, "and it's the dimmest one in town."

A light by the fire hall hasn't worked in at least three months, he added.

"With what they charge, they should kind of maintain things a little better than that," Reeve Gerald Holmes said.



Construction boom

Chesterville's rental accommodation will increase this fall with the completion of a six-unit apartment building on Church Street. Builder Pete Van Kessel hopes the building will be ready for tenants by November. Five two-bedroom apartments and a single one-bedroom unit will be available.

Public Meeting Concerning A Proposed Zoning By-Law Amendment

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Winchester will hold a public meeting on October 6, 1986 at 7:00 p.m. at the Township Municipal Building to consider a proposed zoning by-law amendment under Section 34 of The Planning Act.

The proposed zoning by-law amendment would change the zone category of approximately 40 ha (99 acres) of land from "Rural (A)" to "Special Rural (A-1)". The lands are located on part of Lot 16, Concession XII in the Township of Winchester (as shown below). In order for the land to continue to accommodate agriculture, the rezoning decreases the frontage requirement for the area shown below.

Insuring education

The liability insurance crisis that rocked local agricultural societies and resulted in the cancellation of several Ontario fairs and sent some high-risk events into oblivion, has implications for school boards too.

As area youngsters enter their second week back at the books administrators at board level have a few important decisions to make in terms of insurance.

Although the Insurance Brokers Association of Ontario has assured administrators the crisis is over, local boards, both county and separate, are mulling over the self-insurance schemes currently being offered.

Last year many school boards were hit with impossibly high premiums to cover the personal liability aspect of their plans. Consequently, like many organizations and companies they began to investigate the possibility of forming their own insurance pools.

For instance, last year the county school board's liability premiums soared overnight from $13,000 to $65,000 for $10 million coverage. Early quotes are offering about a 25 per cent increase for the coming year.

Not surprisingly, board officials are concerned and are currently considering a self-insurance plan.

Net losers if this trend takes hold, will be the province's insurance companies who could lose more than $6 million in premiums.

The companies have only themselves to blame. Their profits continue to be reassuringly chunky.

Now that the crunch is on and the province's school boards have been given ministry approval to go ahead and form their own insurance cartel the insurance companies have hastened to announce the "crisis is over."

It shouldn't take the average insurance company executive possessing a modicum of brain matter to calculate the instant losses to his firm should the boards wave goodbye.

Apparently the companies have indeed had second thoughts.

Because they are now organized and ready to take the plunge en masse into the world of private insurance the boards are in a position for some hard bargaining with their former insurers.

They must remain competitive and a return to common sense wouldn't hurt either.

The Farmer's Wife

by Wyn Thompson

The sky was blue, the sunlight warm, and autumn red on the chokecherry leaves as I took Neighbor Sam some veterinary supplies he'd asked the Farmer to get for him in town.

"She's a comin'," said Neighbor Sam.

We were standing together on the top of Kildeer Hill when he said it. We were leaning our arms on the wooden fence that is there and staring down into Rideau Valley, down the long, green hillside which eventually drains to the Rideau River.

"T' won't be long," said Sam.

The hay was long since gone to the barns. The grain was long since threshed. We could see the corn harvester moving far and away across the fields. We could see another neighbor 'puuuttting' along on his little tractor, hauling a load of firewood, wood for winter-burning in his airtight stoves.

"Everybody's gettin' ready," said Sam.

I nodded. Everybody was. Sam's wife was in her garden pulling onions, stuffing them into string sacks, getting this new variety ready for Sam to lug into the cellar and spread to dry on the floor. It was the last of the onions, she had told me.

Sam would snort when he saw how many there was for the whole world knew, by his own admission, that he didn't like onions. His wife and I knew that he never knew if a casserole had onions in it or not.

Just not to serve him raw or fried onions for then the onions wee too obvious. It appeared that Sam would do some snorting for there was enough carrots and beets pulled and drying to fill many more bags.

"Think that woman'd know better'n to plant so much just for the two of us," he said last year. Looks as if he can say it again this year but, truth to tell, Amanda loves her garden and loves having a bit extra to share.

"Gonna be a hard winter," said Sam.

"Suppose so," I grunted, lost in thought.

"Never saw the groundhogs so fat," Sam said. "Never saw the 'coons so fat. Never saw..."

"Our dogs are fat..." I began, tongue in cheek.

"Just like I said," said Sam, not to be diverted. "The signs all point..."

"I haven't seen a snake in weeks," I put in.

"See," said Sam, "even the snakes know."

"I haven't seen a frog or a toad either," I continue.

"Nor ya won't," said Sam. "Animals know what I know."

"And what do you know?" I demanded.

"She's gonna be a long, hard winter. She's on her way. She won't be long gettin' here, an' when she does get here you be sure you are just as ready as the frogs and the toads."

I smiled a little as I turned away from Sam and looked down the long hill again. Sam and his signs! Sam and his portents! I thought of other winters Sam had foretold.

He had always been right, but that could have been luck. I shrugged my shoulders deep into my warm sweater. I was a minority of one in my doubting mood. With the groundhogs and the 'cons Sam was in complete agreement. Even Lady and Irish, my two old dogs, were now on his side.

I looked at the green hill gently descending to the north. Gone from its slopes were the little green frogs and brown toads that all summer long had squatted among the clovers singing hosannas to the sun.

They were gone where the sun would never find them, down through the ditch water, down through the mud into the ditch bottom, down beyond reach of the cold, prying fingers of winter.

There they would sleep unmoving and undreaming until spring returned and the warm sun reached down through the muddy waters to awaken them.

"Undreaming...," I murmured.

"Dreamin'?" queried Sam.

"I was just thinking," I replied.

I said no more. What a fool he'd think me if I told him I thought it would be nice if frogs in their winter sleep could dream of the wonders of returning spring.

"Thinkin' of what?" questioned Sam.

"Of dreams," I muttered.

"Funny thing," he said, "I was thinking of dreams too."

"You," Iexclaimed.

"Yes," said Sam. "I was thinkin' what a caution t'would be if frogs could dream like us."

"Of springtime and young love?" It witted him.

"Heck no, none of that danged nonsense I gave up long ago," Sam chuckled. "I mean honest-to-goodness dreams, dreams about fat flies ripe for the pickin', of the snow gone from the stream banks and them green agin. You know, the sensible dreams frogs would have, if frogs could dream..."

"I hope they can," I replied.

"Yeh, me too," he said.

We talked of other animals. Some he wished happy dreams; other awful nightmares. For Sam had distinct likes and dislikes.

"Why not wish all sumer's survivors happy dreamin'?" I continued.

"No," said Sam. "I hope some of them varmints have such bad dreams they wake up hollerin' bloody murder."

"No, you don't," I told him.

"Well," he said. "Mebbe not. Mebee I'll hope they dream of what we do for the next six months."

"Of returning spring," I guessed.

"Of green grass," said Sam. "Of fresh green leaves, tender grass and spring flowers, and new calves and things."

"Of an old cat stretching arthritic bones toward the sun, and the dogs racing about the lawn..." I took a breath.

"Yeh," said Sam. "Of a world grown young and dreamin' young dreams. Even if you and me ain't and never will again," he took his arms off the fence.

"Speak for your self, Sam."

Lucky Strike at Crysler:

The return of some of our prominent citizens who have been interested in mining claims at Cobalt, has aroused the prospecting instinct in quite a few and every day men can be seen leaving the village with pick, bar, and shovel to endeavor if possible to have a share in the new Eldorado.

Certain traditions and rumors of gold have been known among the old settlers for years. Sixty years ago Mr. Ralph Crysler did some prospecting and went so far as to have some specimens analyzed but was not encouraged to proceed owing to the costly machinery needed to operate such a claim.

The honor of discovering the new find belongs to Mr. John A. Glasgow and Mr. Thomas McMahon, who have formed a partnership to work the claim.

A short time ago, Mr. Bishop, of the Bishop Milling Company, was repairing the Crysler dam and for that purpose let out all the water. Mr. Glasgow then found, at low water, a vein of quartz in the rocky bed of the Nation.

The same instinct which has taken him to California, British Columbia, and New Ontario, at once asserted itself and Mr. Glasgow in company with Mr. McMahon, at once set to work.

Local and District News: To-day is the first day of Winchester Fair.

Mr. Reid, of the steam laundry, had the misfortune to get his hand caught in some of the machinery, which took the nail off one of his fingers, and jammed it considerable.

Mr. Patrick Kirby, councillor for the Township of Winchester, has sold his farm, situated about a mile and a half south of the village, to Mr. William Allan, for about $6000. This is a fine farm, upon which are good out-buildings and a fine dwelling. This was the old homestead and Mr. Kirby was loath to leave it.

Laundry Wanted: I have opened up a laundry shop on Main St., near St. Mary's Church. Sing Kee, Chesterville.

Grantley Ladies Aid: Several articles from the Bazaar were purchased by members of the Aid and the committee appointed to buy the new curtains and pulpit chair reported that they had the matter under consideration.

Nominations took place throughout the Dominion Tuesday for the Federal elections to be held on Tuesday next, Sept. 11.

Glengarry: A.J. MacDonald (Liberal -- member of the last house), D.D. McCuaig (Conservative).

Grenville-Dundas: A.C. Casselman (Conservative -- member of the last house), Preston Elliott (Progressive).

Stormont: Arnold A. Smith (Liberal), Dr. C.J. Hamilton (Conservative -- member of the last house).

Following up discussions on the future route of Highway 43 and the urgent need for a new bridge over the Nation River in Chesterville, the latter being the subject of a resolution passed unanimously by the Eastern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade, The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce has invited the Hon. George H. Challies and the Hon. George E. Doucett to address a dinner meeting of the Chamber to be held early in October.

The present bridge, built almost sixty years ago, in 1887, has been badly neglected in recent years by the Department of Highways who took it over from the United Counties as part of King's Highway No. 43, and is a serious bottleneck in highway traffic.

Two full brothers both bred by W.J. Fawcett, Winchester, and one now owned by R.A. Suffel and Sons, Inkerman and the other by W.J. Fawcett, were named Grand and Reserve Grand Champion Bulls at the Dundas County Black and White Day held at South Mountain on Friday. These two bulls are sons of Willola Car Born Bell, Mr. Fawcett's noted Excellent cow that was Grand Champion at the Kemptville Championship Show in 1941.

George Hehir had a young sow ready to farrow at the end of the month. She followed all the instructions and sometime during the night of August 30-31, she gave birth to seven little pigs. Six survived, one was slow and appeared to have been squeezed too hard. The sow prospered and so did the little fellows. There was lots of milk and George was counting his pork gains by the day.

Things took a different turn on September 11. Suddenly, where there were only six small squallers, there were no less than 17.

The sow thought better of the whole thing and delivered an addition of 11 to add to her already thriving family.

Chesterville council members took steps to get in tax money earlier in the year than has been the case. Following the lead of several neighboring municipalities, tax discounts will be offered for prepayment of taxes beginning in 1967.

Bang! Bang! You're Alive, nationally syndicated television variety series starring Chesterville's Kevin Gillis premiers on CJOH-TV, Ottawa at 7:30pm tonight (Wednesday).

Chesterville will have its name in lights from coast to coast and in the U.S. as the village forms the backdrop for several scenes in the series, including the film sequences for each installment's closing and credits.

Delays are something to be avoided at all costs and the Chesterville Fire Department has recognized that radio communications is another way of hastening its arrival to the scene of the fire.

That was the argument presented by Chesterville Fire Chief Grenville "Mike" Fyke at last Tuesday's Chesterville Village Council meeting in asking for two more fire phones and permission to purchase a base-to-truck radio.

The Life of Riley

by Wayne Riley

Some call it cute.

Others call it perverse.

Whatever the tag, little children have a special way of making their parents look like fools.

Do they do this on purpose? Is the babble and the inability to read magazines right side up a front for operations aimed at making mommy and daddy the butt of cleverly plotted practical jokes?

I'm afraid it is.

An example. Last week my 19-month-old daughter put her hands on my face, stepped forward and kissed me on the nose. Well, sort of a kiss. She actually made the smacking sound after stepping away again. But the intent was there.

Naturally I was overjoyed. This is a special moment in a father's life. I decided then and there to start her allowance at $1 a week. No, $2.

Over the course of the next few days Caitlin kissed me three more times, twice on the shoulder and once on the back. She also kissed her mother so she wouldn't feel left out. I raised her allowance to $10 a week.

Then, on Friday morning, she broke the sound barrier of cuteness. Walking over to her little brother, who sat helplessly in his chair and blinked rapidly as his sister got nearer, she bent over and kissed him on the head.

I missed the Miracle on Main Street but my wife replayed the scene for me that evening. She finished the story and sighed. I sighed. We sat at the kitchen table, sigh by sigh, and thought about our daughter. Tomorrow the world would know.

"What's the cutest thing you could imagine Caitlin doing?" I asked the first acquaintance I could track down.

"Sleep."

"I'm serious."

"Okay, quietly sleep."

"No, listen. Caitlin kissed Tristan's head. Heidi almost cried. Isn't that cute? No, not the crying, the kiss. Isn't that the cutest thing you've ever heard."

"Yeah, that's cute. I think I hear my wife calling me to dinner. Gotta go. Real cute story, though."

By Sunday the story was almost legendary, although the telling always seemed to be interrupted by meals. I could see Caitlin driving my car to a school dance at 16, Heidi and I sitting proudly in the back seat.

The scam was discovered Tuesday morning simply by accident. Heidi had just come into the livingroom with the vacuum cleaner and had caught Caitlin by surprise.

I had just walked in the house that evening when my wife asked, "Do you know what Caitlin kissed today?"

I sighed and smiled. "What did that cute little rascal kiss today? Her Cabbage Patch doll?"

"The wall."

"The what?"

"The livingroom wall. She kissed the livingroom wall. She also kissed the coffee table and the clothes I brought in off the line. Wayne, she kisses everything."

I looked at her and let the information sink in. "You mean she didn't kiss me because she thinks I'm a swell daddy?"

"If she did, then she also has a soft spot for walls, furniture and clothing."

"But Tristan, what about that kiss?"

"Bait. She needed something that would get us out and bragging. If Tristan wasn't handy she would have used the cat."

"What about all the people we told?"

"I don't think we have to worry," my wife said. "The ones who have children have probably been fooled by their own chldren already and are worried enough about their own gullibility being made public to dare bring it up.

"The ones who don't have children weren't listening anyway."

"I still don't understand why she would want to do this," I said. "We're her parents."

"I don't know why either," my wife answered. "It must be a phase."

Thinking about it later, I managed to come up with a theory that not only explained the kissed wall but also the more general question of why children will not perform to their parents' expectations until the Grade 2 Christmas play.

Little children have a poorly formed sense of humor.

It's easy enough to prove. Cover your face with your hands, move around a little child and pull your hands away. A real side-splitter, right? Imagine opening up a meeting with that gag? And yet children find this hand gesture incredibly funny, over and over again.

Parents, however, are not blameless in looking stupid. New to parenting, they look to their experience with pets as background for raising their children.

A five-month-old baby boy is about the size of a mature cat. Mature cats will perform tricks for neighbors. Therefore babies should perform tricks for neighbors.

This pet-baby association meshes nicely with the small child's poor sense of humor. We're ready to be fooled. They're ready to fool us.

And that leads to the famous guest line, "He-she was just doing it before you came. I'm not kidding. He-she was dancing and snapping his-her fingers and saying shoe as clear as anything."

But if Caitlin thinks the joke is on us she has another thing coming. How does an allowance of 25 cents a week sound. No so funny now, is it?

Report finds number of fires down, damage up in 1985

TORONTO (Staff) - Although the number of fires in Stormont and Dundas dropped last year, the estimated loss from fire damage increased almost half a million dollars from 1984.

Statistics released recently by the office of the Ontaro Fire Marshal state there were 218 fires in the two counties, causing an estimated $3.47 million loss in 1985.

In 1984, firefighters responded to 236 blazes which caused losses estimated at just under $3 million.

Three people in the counties died of fire-related injuries, including a Roxborough Township man Nov. 17. Misuse of an igniting object or material to be lit was blamed for the deaths.

The counties' figures follow a provincial trend. In 1985, there were 23,541 fires in Ontario, down about 130 from the previous year. But fire damage increased almost $20 million to $235 million in the same year.

Matilda Township continues to be Dundas' hot spot, accounting for 20 of the 49 fires reported in the county. Mountain Township followed with ten calls; Chesterville, seven; Winchester Township, five; Williamsburg Township, Iroquois and Winchester village, two each, and Morrisburg, one.

In some instances, the report's breakdown of the number of fires per municipality can be misleading. For example, the report attributes seven fires to the village of Finch, but that statistic includes calls the village fire department answered in the southern part of Finch Township.

Fire losses in Dundas totalled just over $1 million, up from $838,000 reported in 1984 from 54 fires.

Two years ago, the county had two fatalities and one fire-related injury. Last year, there were none.

In Stormont, the city of Cornwall led the municipality with 134 fires, resulting in almost $1.6 million damage.

Following the city was Cornwall Township, with 15 calls to fires. Finch Village and Roxborough Township each reported responding to seven fires, and damage in the township was second only to Cornwall at $302,000.

Finch Township reported one fire, with estimated losses of $3,000. Losses of $131,000 were estimated for four fires in Osnabruck Township.

Twenty-five investigations were launched into fires in the two counties. Seven were found to be caused accidentally and the origins of four were never determined. Criminal charges were laid in five cases.

Across the province, 184 people died in fires. Smokers articles were blamed for 63 of the deaths, followed by cooking equipment (23), heating equipment (20) and electrical systems (9).

Smoking was the cause of 2,116 fires (13 per cent) in the province.

Cooking equipment was the cause of 3,272, or 20 per cent of the province's fires last year. The second leading causes of fires were smoking and heating equipment, each at 13 per cent. Electrical distribution items were blamed for 10 per cent of the blazes.

Province-wide, fire departments answered 464 calls to livestock barns, silo or storage facilities or crops. Fire loss on such farm facilities totalled almost $20 million, about $700,000 more than in 1984.

Teenagers unhurt after hitting train

MAXVILLE (Staff) - Provincial police said three teenagers were unhurt when the vehicle they were riding in hit the side of a moving passenger train here.

The incident happened last Friday at 10:35am when Markus Tanner, 17, and two male passengers approached the level crossing. Police said the crossing signals and lights were working properly.

Mr. Tanner, a Crysler area resident, said later he did not hear the warning bells or notice the lights when the front of the truck struck the side of the train. No one on the Montreal bound train was injured.

The driven has been charged with failing to stop for a railroad crossing.

Chesterville UCW

(Special) - The September meeting of the evening unit of the U.C.W. was held in Trinity dining hall. There were fourteen ladies present.

A poem 'A Smile' read by Ruby Miltimore preceded the business. It was decided to hold the semi-annual rummage sale from 9-12 on Sept. 20. Gladys Smith extended an invitation to the U.C.W. rally in Williamsburg Oct. 6 and the thankoffering Oct. 9.

The workship service was conducted by Hilda Olsen.

Betty Vanden Bosch delighted the group by showing tapes she had taken of the Fergusons' retirement party and the Chesterville Fair.

During the social hour Elsie Graham was presented with a cake and a brass picture frame to comemorate her fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Tom's Place officially opens

MOREWOOD (Staff) - Tom's Place, the Morewood restaurant bar with the picture of the schooner out front, is in business for real.

Last Friday's grand opening marked the official opening of the local hostelry which Tom Beardsall has been operating since May

Mr. Beardsall, who formerly operated Stage West in Mountain and The Palace in Russell, said his restaurant "is meant to be a small cozy little spot."

The atmosphere is provided through the nicely decorated interior and the new-found loyalty of the patrons.

A menu is offered and Mr. Beardsall said "we think there's something for everyone here."

The dining room was open for the first Sunday ever last weekend and will be open in future from 11:30 to 10:30pm. Other days meals are available from 11:30am to 7:30pm.

The grand opening featured special snacks, dip and pate according to waitress Ramona Eby. Tickets were drawn and prizes offered to the lucky winners.

Ralph MacKenzie

Warden's banquet draws 500

FINCH (Staff) - More than 500 people gathered here at the Finch Arena last Saturday night for the annual warden's banquet.

Tributes were received by United Counties warden Ralph MacKenzie from his associates in politics and in the agriculture industry as guests attended from all parts of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

The evening was preceded by a social hour and then a banquet was catered for the crowd. Iroquois reeve Frank Rooney chaired several of the evening's events and paid trubute to Mr. MacKenzie's contributions to his own area and the counties as a whole. Other speakers were Maxville village reeve George Currier, Mountain township reeve Keith Fawcett, Osnabruck Township reeve Stewart Hart, Cornwall Township reeve John Cleary and Rev. Douglas Henry, St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Finch.

In his address to the audience Mr. MacKenzie who will be handing over the warden's duties to another candidate in the new year, said the counties have achieved several noteworthy projects in his term as warden, especially the extension of health care for the aged in the counties.

"There are plans to extend municipal home-for-the-aged services," said Mr. MacKenzie.

A noted local Jersey farmer and Jersey competition judge who has judged the breed from coast to coast in Canada, Mr. MacKenzie was complimented by guest speaker Bob Lang of Eastern Breeders in Kemptville.

Mr. Lang gave a slide show of his travels abroad and discussed international agriculture methods.

New war memorial replacing landmark

BERWICK (Staff) - A Berwick landmark will disappear this fall when the 51-year-old stone cairn is torn down.

A new memorial to local veterans will be erected on the eastern portion of the site of St. Paul's United Church, demolished earlier this summer, by the South Nation River Conservation Authority's historical foundation.

"We're just running around getting prices now," said Ken Dunlop, the authority's director of finance and administration, Monday.

The original memorial, constructed of local field stones by Kirkwood Bros., was erected in 1935 by the Berwick Women's Institute.

But as county road 12 moved west, the cairn increasingly obstructed the view from county road 9 to the south. Remembrance Day crowds were sometimes forced onto the road.

Deterioration of the cairn made its move to a new location across the road impossible, Mr. Dunlop said.

He said erection of new memorial was "part and parcel of the deal" that transferred the church property to the foundation.

The new memorial will also recognize those who served in the Korean War. At a meeting last week, Finch Township council agreed to order a bronze plaque to commemorate veterans of the 1950s conflict as well as the two world wars.

The plaque is estimated to cost $360 and will be ordered from Nelson Bronze Ltd. of New Hamburg.

The inclusion of a memorial to the Korean War has been delayed months by the cairn's uncertain future. The Korean War Veterans Association of Finch has asked the township and Finch Village to share the cost of a new plaque.

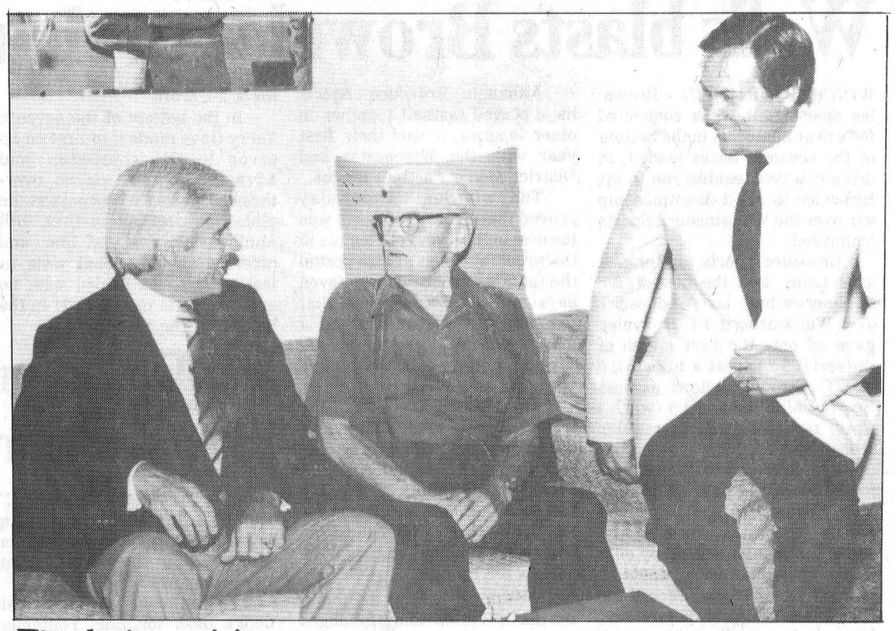
The new war memorial won't complete the construction on the former church site. St. Paul's trustees will erect a marker in memory of the church.

The remainder of the church lot is being used as the authority's parking lot.

Recent visitors

FINCH (Staff) - Recent visitors from Alberta were Sharon and Alex Labaschuk and son Danny. The family spent a week with Mrs. Lebaschuk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Carbino. They visited relatives while in the area.

A family picnic was held at the Carbino home August 24.



Finchview visit

Residents of Finchview Village received some VIP guests last Friday when a group of visiting Ontario Conservative MPs toured the facility. Norm Warner, left, MP for Stormont-Dundas introduced kinsman Bert Warner, 79, to David Daubney. The parliamentarians were interested in seeing the facilities offered by senior citizens' buildings which are funded partly through a co-operative scheme of both the Ontario and federal governments. Wells blasts Brownlee to championship

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Brownlee Sports Phil Wells connected for a near home-run in the bottom of the seventh, bases loaded, to drive in a tie-breaking run to lift Brownlee to a 3-2 championship win over the Williamsburg Sports Unlimited.

Brownlee Sports, a Berwick area team, won the best-of-five final series here last Wednesday over Williamsburg 3-1. Brownlee gave up only the first match of the series 5-2 to post a 10 (win), 3 (loss) all-round record against Sports Unlimited and a 5 (win), 1 (loss) record during the regular season and final.

Despite Brownlee's near perfect record against Williamsburg, Brownlee Sports placed second to Williamsburg at the end of the regular season by only one point. Williamsburg had a 16 (win), 6 (loss), 2 (tie) record for first place with 34 points and Brownlee's record was 16 (win), 7 (loss) 1 (tie) for 33 points.

Williamsburg eliminated Chesterville Hotel 3-0 in their best-of-five semi-final series and Brownlee did the same to third place Winchester Dynes to earn their final spots.

Although Brownlee Sports have played fastball together in other leagues, it was their first year with the Winchester and District Men's Fastball league.

The win last Wednesday proved that Brownlee Sports was the best in the five-team league in their rookie season. It also posted the team's seventh win in seven days and the second time that Brownlee Sports has escaped a narrow win in the bottom of the seventh inning against Williamsburg.

After Brownlee's first of the series' losses to Williamsburg they came back with a three-consecutive game winning streak over Sports Unlimited winning the second match of the series 5-3, the third 7-4 and the championship final match by a narrow 3-2 margin.

With a 2-1 lead in the top of the third, Williamsburg managed to hold off Brownlee Sports until the bottom of the sixth. McBride answered for the key run to set up a tie for the winning run in the seventh. McBride crossed home after getting to base with a triple and then a sacrifice fly hit by Adams accounted for a tying run for a 2-2 score.

In the bottom of the seventh Terry Gove made it to first on an error to the short-stop and advanced to third on an overthrow. Jim Hume was next at the plate and also got to first. Bill Mullin was next in line and received an intentional walk to leave the bases loaded with no outs and a tie match (2-2) in the bottom of the seventh.

Ed Gove then came to the plate and grounded it to the second baseman who forced Terry Gove out at the plate.

With one away and the bases still loaded Williamsburg fielders were playing defensively as Wells knocked a near homer over their heads and Hume crossed home for the tie-breaking, series-winning run defeating Williamsburg 3-2.

The next meeting will be held at the Chesterville Community Hall at 7:30pm on Monday, September 15

Memory of Terry Fox keeps Sunday's run on track

(Staff) - Five years later, the memory of Terry Fox's Marathon of Hope lives on as the Chesterville and District Rotary Club holds its sixth annual Terry Fox Run to raise money for the Canadian Cancer Research Foundation.

Organizers hope to raise more than last years' $5,600 through pledges or donations. Pledge sheets for this Sunday's 11km run can be picked up at local schools, the post office in Chesterville, and some of the local businesses.

The event is called the Terry Fox Run but it isn't restricted to running. People participating can run, walk, jog or bike.

Last year the number of participants was up by 20 and chief organizer of the event, Dr. Chuck Adamson, said, "We will probably have the same amount this year (80)."

The course starts at North Dundas District High School and also ends at North Dundas. The course is 11km but pledges will be made for 10km and refreshments supplied by the Rotary Club will be provided along the way.

The pledge sheets and money, whether it's a pledge or a donation, can be handed in at any chartered bank.

First-time runners completing the course will receive a certificate. Veteran participants will receive a sticker to put on the certificate, stating that they completed the 1986 run.

Anyone interested in participating in the fundraiser can register from 12 noon-2pm on Sunday, Sept. 14 at North Dundas District High School. For further information on the event contact Dr. Adamson at 448-2511.

Girls being offered own ice sport as Lee lobbies for ringette league

(Staff) - If area females are feeling cheated of organized sports in the area, particularly ice sports, Chesterville's recreation, Tom Lee, is giving you a chance at something new.

If enough interest is generated at a meeting to be held soon, area females from ages seven and up will receive an opportunity to play ringette, the fastest growing sport.

Lee, president of the Upper Canada Valley Ringette Association for two years, would like to introduce the sport to the area.

"I like coaching girls better than boys," said Lee. "With hockey the parents know the rules and with ringette they don't so you don't have to put up with a lot of problems that you get from parents. It's a good sport, I like it and it's easier to coach."

The sport was developed for girls but Lee says that just like hockey, it could also have boys on the team. "But I'm basing it strictly for girls," he said.

Ringette and hockey share the same equipment except for the stick. A ringette stick resembles that used in hockey, but without a blade. It can be bought for approximately $6.

The other equipment, Lee said, could be borrowed from a brother or a friend in hockey. Second-hand equipment is also available. Hockey skates, helm.- available. Hockey skates, helmets and everything mandatory for hockey players to wear for protection are necessary.

But ringette rules differ from hockey. There are different zones in which players are allowed to be in and they use an air-filled rubber ring instead of a puck. There is no body contact at any age level and there are no face offs (one team is awarded the ring). There is also no off-side.

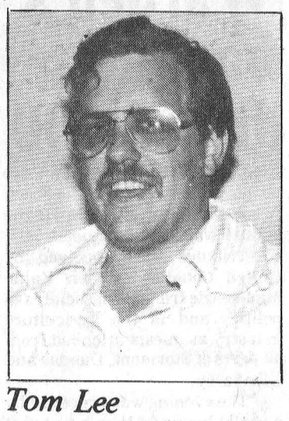
Lee expects to have a meeting within a month and hopes to show a film on the sport and possibly invite someone to speak about it.

If no interest is shown, the ice time will be given up to others waiting.

If the meeting attracts some interest, Lee hopes to schedule exhibition matches against Gloucester, home of Ontario's largest ringette association.

But introduction of the sport will have to be taken one step at a time with practices.

Although the association will be playing on Chesterville's ice surface, anyone from surrounding towns is also welcome to come to the meeting and join.



Tom Lee

Other than the cost of equipment there is also ice-time charges and a $6.50 membership fee to join the Ontario Ringette Association. Lee hopes ringette will attract the support shown minor hockey.

"I've been involved with ringette before," said Lee, "and I like it, that's why I'd like to see it going in the area. But I'm not going to make a commitment until the girls make a commitment."

Anyone interested in more details can attend the meeting Lee is scheduling.

Pacers deflect Fist's punch to win league title

CORNWALL (Staff) - The Delaney Avonmore Pacers defeated Fist, a Cornwall team, 3-1 in a one-match winner take all Cornwall City Soccer League "B" final match for the title here on Sunday.

The Pacers were in the "B" division of the league but because of their strong effort this season they made the grade for the "A" division next season.

The Pacers eliminated St. Andrews (2) in two straight matches in the semi-finals to earn their final spot against Fist.

St. Andrew's (1) won the "A" division also here on Sunday to be the best of an eight-team division. The Pacers were the best in a seven-team division.

Out of 18 regular season matches the Pacers earned a 13 (win), 2 (loss), 3 (tie) record. Before the final match held at the Optimist field on Sunday the Pacers had tied one match and won one match over Fist.

The Pacers' Arie Daalder scored the team's first goal on a penalty shot. Doug Paul scored the Pacers winning goal on a head-ball after receiving a pass from Daalder. Replying for the Pacers third goal in the 3-1 win was Tim Groniger to tally the team's winning score.

Apathy may kill figure skating

(Staff) - Parent apathy may kill figure skating in Chesterville.

The Chesterville Skating Club, which last year had 43 members, was to meet Tuesday night to decide whether to continue for another season.

Outgoing president Pat Henderson told the Record Monday that the do or die meeting was the result of a poorly attended April meeting that failed to produce volunteers for the executive positions of president and treasurer.

But she added she is confident the severity of the situation will convince volunteers to step forward.

"It didn't seem like there was any problem with apathy because there were always parents to help with special projects. Hopefully when they know its now or nothing they will take the positions."

Ironically, the club's uncertain future follows a successful switch last year to the Canadian Figure Skating Association's Can Skate Program.

The program, which works on a promotional system of badges, increased members' ice time from 15 minutes a session to a full hour.

Although Chesterville figure skaters could go to Winchester -- senior figure skaters will go there this year because their small number doesn't make Chesterville ice time feasible -- Henderson says the move will have a dramatic effect on the number of village children participating in the sport.

"I think it would be a loss for the children," she said. "Not everyone will want to take their children to Winchester."

In a last bid to save the club, organizers conducted a telephone canvass of parents to ensure a healthy turnout at Tuesday's meeting.

If the attendance is there, Henderson said their will be follow-up meetings to get things settled in time for the 1986-87 season.

Raiders hosting 3-pitch tournament

(Staff) - The Rush City Raiders are hosting their second annual men's three-pitch tournament this weekend and are hoping for 24 teams.

When talking to Barrie McCormick, tournament organizer on Friday he said they only had 10 teams registered. If the tournament has 24 teams the prize money is expected to be $2,200.

Admission at the gates is Friday - $1, Saturday and Sunday - $2.

The tournament begins Friday evening

Waterfowl hunt starts Sept. 20

CORNWALL (Special) - The controlled hunt of waterfowl along the shoreline in areas protected under the Lake St. Lawrence Wildlife Agreement begins Sept. 20.

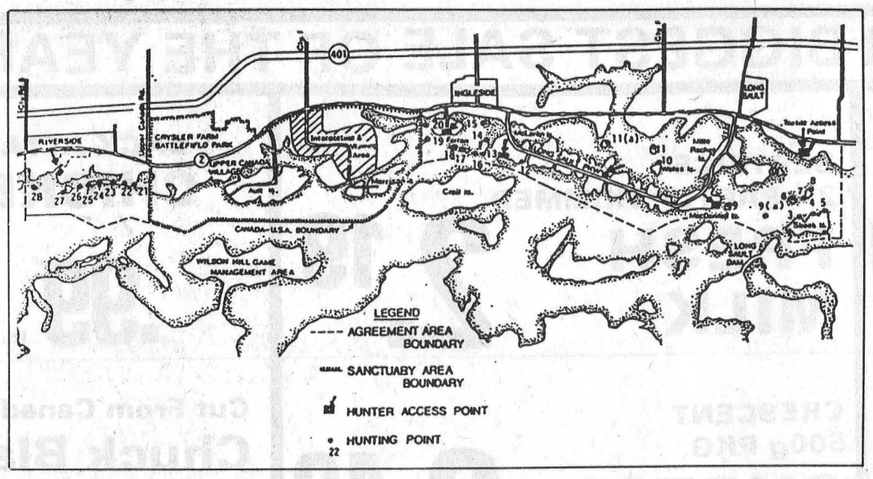
On opening day last year, 30 hunters shot nine ducks and 33 geese from 15 sites in the controlled hunt area. The next day, 16 hunters took home 14 ducks and 14 geese.

Officials at the Cornwall district office of the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources note that at no time during the 1985 hunt were all 30 hunting sites in use.

The area covered under the agreement includes more than 6,000 hectares along a 25-kilometre stretch of the St. Lawrence. This stretch lies along the Atlantic Flyway, a major corridor for migratory ducks and Canada geese.

About one half of the agreement area is under the protection of the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary, which provides resting and feeding areas for migrating birds. Its fall feeding program begins Sept. 15 and attracts thousands of Canada geese annually.

It also operates the largest waterfowl banding facility in the Atlantic Flyway, banding mallards, black ducks, pintails, wood ducks and blue wing teal during migration.



In 1974, an agreement between Ontario Hydro, the St. Lawrence Parks Commission and the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources designated 30 offshore locations in the wildlife agreement area as strictly controlled, limited hunting areas.

Hunters can reach the offshore areas through six access points: Cedar Park near Riverside; Farran Park south of Ingleside, McLaren Island, Hoople Island and Long Sault Rapids Point on MacDonnell Island, all along the Long Sault Parkway, and Textile Access Point on Hwy. 2 east of Long Sault.

The controlled hunting areas may be used from Monday to Saturday, from half an hour before sunrise to half an hour after sunset.

To use the area, a hunter must possess a valid Ontario Resident Small Game licence, a Canada Migratory Bird Hunting permit and a Wildlife Habitat Conservation stamp.

A hunter almost must hunt from one of the designated hunting points identified on the accompanying map.

A hunter must use one of the six access points and park behind a numbered stake identifying the point he wishes to hunt. Sites are allocated on a first-come, first-served basis and reservations aren't accepted.

He or she may hunt only within a 30-foot radius of the numbered stake identifying the hunting point.

The vehicle or hunting point (blind) must be occupied at all times. If both the hunting point and the vehicle are found unattended, the vehicle will be removed at the owner's expense.

The hunting point may be occupied by a maximum of two people at any time.

Firearms must be encased except while the hunter occupies a designated hunting point (blind).

Complete information and maps of the controlled hunt area are available from the Cornwall office at 113 Amelia St., 933-1774, or from the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary, at 537-2024.

High scores in practice

WINCHESTER SPRINGS (Special) - The trap shooting practice held on Tuesday evening, September 2, at the Winchester Springs Trap and Skeet Club was well attended and the shooters managed to register some high scores.

Claude Dillabough of Chesterville missed only one clay pidgeon in two rounds of trap for a score of 49 broken targets. This was almost an exact repeat performance by Claude of the August 19th practice. In these two recent events, Claude managed to break 98 out of 100 clay targets.

Other shooters managed to register some respectable scores as well, seventy-five per cent of the scores were 20 or better and one perfect 25 score was registered.

Avonmore wins three

NEWINGTON (Staff) - The Avonmore Bantam Boys softball team came from the basement in their four team league to win the championship title on Monday over Newington winning the best-of-five final series in a three game sweep.

Avonmore placed fourth in the four team league and defeated the league's second place Newington by scores of 9-5, 13-4 and Monday's match was a 19-3 over-powering win for Avonmore.

Avonmore, a Crysler based team, defeated first place, Kemptville, to earn their final spot 2-1 in a best-of-three semi-final series.

Newington earned their final spot by eliminating Finch in their series.

Avonmore's last place record was 5 (wins), and 6 (losses).

When Newington met with the revived Avonmore on Monday they really got an eye-opener with a 19-3 championship win.

Newington didn't score a run until the fifth inning when S. McEwen crossed home plate for the team's first run as they then trailed 15-1.

In the top of the sixth inning Avonmore's Brian Villeneuve poured on four more runs on to the team's already large lead with a grand-slam homer to tally the team's 19 game runs.

The only other two runs that Newington got were when Chuck McDermid hit a solo homer and B. Woodside hit a triple to score later for two runs for Newington's total of three runs.

Avonmore's Brian Villeneuve and Kevin Holland batted four-for-five for the team's top offensive effort and helping out with a four-for-six effort was Roch Benoit.
