

Here & There

by Kay Kay

As we look outside tonight (March 11) the snow is piling up in drifts over the exceptionally clean-looking road. If that layer of ice wasn't coating everything the dirt would be showing up, as it does most every spring. And you must admit that Spring is usually a time of watching the snow disappear, leaving behind it a winter's accumulation of dirt. So that ice rain did some good after all!

We still say—here's to good old April!

It's getting around to budget time in the town—between schools, county rates and the general levy—look out. You can look forward to it every year—you know the old saying: death and taxes.

We got to wondering about the problem the other day and after reading about the fantastic sums we Canadians are in debt, thought maybe we've come up with an answer.

Deficit financing, that's the ticket!

The big boys can do it—why can't we? Here's how it should work.

Think back say 20 years. A little simple arithmetic will tell you that if you borrowed $100 20 years ago, it was quite a hunk out of your months' pay. But with the higher salaries of today, it's not half as bad. That's the principle of it. Borrow it today and pay it back 20 years from now when salaries are up and it won't be such a blow.

At least that seems to be the thinking of those fellows in parliament. And they're doing it with billions!

You see, this 'higher finance' thing isn't as complicated as you thought!

Don't forget the Red Cross blitz on March 17th. Leave a light on—the steps are probably so slippery the Red Cross may really need your help.

Give what your means allows.

BORN

ARMSTRONG — Allan and Ethel Armstrong are happy to announce the birth of a daughter, March 3rd, at Winchester and District Memorial Hospital, a sister for Barry and Brian.

Local Girl Wed at Prescott

On February 14 at 7 o'clock Jean Marguerite, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester McMillan, Iroquois, and David Richard, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Christie, Prescott, were united in marriage at St. Paul's United Church, Prescott, by Rev. Douglas Carnegie.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an off-white wool boucle suit with brown accessories. She carried a white Bible with Red Roses.

She was attended by Mrs. Gary Code, Prescott, who wore a blue double-knit suit with white and black accessories. She wore a corsage of blue and white mums.

The best man was Mr. Gary Code. The ushers were Lloyd McMillan brother of the bride, and Carl Christie, brother of the groom.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket. The bride's gift to the groom was gold cuff links. The bride gave her attendants a gold locket. The groom gave his best man silver cuff links, and the ushers belts.

The reception was held at Hanna's Lunch, Highway 16. The guests were received by the bride's mother, who was attired in a beige jersey dress with matching hat.

The groom's mother assisted, wearing a green jersey dress with beige and brown accessories.

The happy couple left for a short honeymoon in Northern New York State. They were married at 195 Water St. Prescott.

Hockey Wind-up After Successful Season

So sorry there has been no report for the last 2 weeks.

The hockey season has just about finished for another season, with the exception of one more game between the Morrisburg and Iroquois Bantams. Morrisburg has a lead of 4 goals to 1 in a 2 game total goals in their play-offs.

Summary of the other teams is as follows. The Midgets were eliminated in the finals by Cardinal. Cardinal having beaten Morrisburg in the semi-finals. Iroquois eliminated Chesterville.

The Squirts and Pee Wees have finished, although not too fortunate in their endeavours, except in the last game by the Squirts in which they beat Cardinal by a score of 6-1.

At this time I would like to thank the following people and organizations for their help in our very active season. First, the coaches of the teams, Squirts, Mr. Clifton (Cuff) Davis and Claire Dunbar; Pee Wees, Mr. Jack Bailey; Bantams, Mr. Lee Madden. Extra people who were of great help Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roberts (our publicity agent) and some of the fathers of the players, who helped in the transportation of the players. Thanks also to Mr. Frank Rooney and Mr. B. J. Saver for their sponsoring of the teams: To the referees, Andy Langford and Paul Judson; to Mr. Ron Gilmer and the Royal Canadian Legion for the use of the uniforms for the players; to the editor of this newspaper for his wonderful help this year.

In particular, I would like to thank the people on the town council for their marvelous support and co-operation in maintaining and supervision of the rink facilities. It has been indeed a great pleasure to work with such fine support from them.

HONOR NEWLY WEDS

On Saturday evening, Feb. 21st, friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester McMillan in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Christie (Jean McMillan).

About 11 o'clock a very fitting address was read by Miss Lorraine Robertson, A beautiful occasional chair, TV lamps and telephone table and chair were presented to Perry Robertson and John McMillan. Several other gifts were received.

Lunch was served bringing a very enjoyable evening to a close.

lous support and co-operation in maintaining and supervision of the rink facilities. It has been indeed a great pleasure to work with such fine support from them.

A final word of appreciation to the boys who participated in hockey this year — they are certainly to be commended for their fine sportsmanship that they conducted themselves as gentlemen all through the season.

So until next season, when we hope things will be bigger and better, so long.

Ed. Edgar,
Hockey Chairman,
Midget Coach.

Mourn Mrs. L. Strader

On Tuesday, March 3, 1964, the Angel of Death called Mrs. Luella Strader from her earthly home to be with her late husband, J. Everett Strader, in their everlasting home with God.

The deceased was born on Nov. 8, 1885, in the township of Edwardsburg. She was the daughter of the late Frank Dukelow and his wife, the late Lilla Peterson.

In 1911 she married James Everett Strader and they began their home at Brinston, Ontario, where she served her friends, neighbours and the church faithfully. Her good works coupled with her loving personality leaves a memory that will long be cherished and revered throughout the entire district and the fragrance of her daily life will ever be remembered by her children.

On Thursday, March 5th, the remains were borne to Brinston United Church where Rev. Chas. A. Adey officiated and comforted the family and vast number of sorrowing friends with his message. Rev. J. Weaver, of Inkerman, and Rev. M. Peters, of Spencerville, assisted with the service. The hymns were "All the Way My Saviour Leads Me", and "Safe In The Arms of Jesus," and as a request of the family the Brinston Choir sang, "When They Ring The Golden Bells."

The pall bearers were six of the neighbours, Mr. Ralph Brinston, Mr. Floyd Thompson, Mr. Everett Froats, Mr. Will Smail, Mr. Ross Hanes and Mr. Andy Cooner.

There remains to mourn her loss, two daughters, Mrs. Carmi Locke, of Dixon Corners, and Mrs. Garnet Gilmour, of Brinston; one granddaughter, Mrs. Wilmont Horner, of Brinston; three sisters, Miss Maude Dukelow, and Mrs. Bertha Lawrence, of Spencerville and Mrs. Kate Vogan, of Northbrooke; three brothers, Carman, George and Ernest, of Spencerville, as well as 14 nieces and nephews.

Interment in Spruce Haven Cemetery at Brinston. Our lips cannot tell how much we miss her, Our hearts cannot tell what to say, God alone knows how we miss Mother, In a home that is vacant today.

MARCH MEETING ST. JOHN'S GUILD

Mrs. E. E. Newman presided at the regular March meeting of the Women's Guild of St. John the Baptist Anglican Church. The Rector, Rev. D. F. Weegar, opened the meeting with prayer. Minutes and correspondence were read; reports were given of Lions Club dinner and buffet supper. The treasurer reported a very satisfactory bank balance.

The purchasing committee, whose members are Mrs. W. E. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. E. Newman and Mrs. R. Playfair, was authorized to buy new drainboards, dishpans, etc., which will facilitate dishwashing.

The Guild plans to hold a Mother's Day tea on the second Saturday in May. Rev. D. F. Weegar closed the meeting with prayer.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. E. Millard.

Organizing 4-H Clubs Throughout Dundas County

Once again its time for Dundas County 4-H Agricultural Organizational Meetings. Dates and places of these organizational meetings are contained in the advertisement which is appearing in this paper.

The 4-H Club movement in Canada is a nation wide educational programme for young people associated with farming, homemaking and community activities.

The name 4-H is derived from the first letter of the four words Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

The chief objective of 4-H Agricultural Club work in Canada is the development of the Club member through training in Agriculture and Citizenship. More specific objectives of the 4-H Programme are to help the 4-H Club member —

(a) Acquire knowledge and skill in modern agriculture.

(b) Adopt a scientific attitude towards agriculture.

(c) Realize the need for continuing their education.

(d) Develop a sense of responsibility.

(e) Develop qualities of leadership.

(f) Acquire the habits and attitudes necessary for a satisfying home and community life.

Membership in a 4-H Club is a rewarding experience. The 4-H Agricultural Club programme places a personal responsibility upon each boy and girl taking part since each is required to complete at least one project during the Club year. All projects are of a practical nature with the emphasis placed on "learning to do by doing". In each Club the members are required to keep accurate records on the cost of production. Attention is also paid to safety in the handling of livestock and in the operation of farm machinery and equipment.

Regular Club meetings providing instruction in all phases of the project are held during the Club season. Club members elect their own officers, learn to express themselves more clearly and develop self-confidence and leadership ability. Training in leadership and citizenship is an important part of the 4-H programme.

Boys and girls wishing to join a 4-H Club should make a point to attend the organizational meeting of the Club or Clubs they are interested in. Further information may be obtained from your County Agricultural Representative E. K. Pearson, P. O. Box 488, Winchester, Ontario.

GOLDEN GEARS TAUGHT FINE ART OF BROOMBALLING

There were two recent outdoor sports events which The Post failed to cover and from all reports we missed some fun. It seems the Golden Gears were rather soundly defeated by a make-shift team of local teenagers over at the rink. Reports have it that the creaking of joints in the older fellows drew some sympathy from the teenagers—but not enough to let them win.

Better luck next year.

(The Golden Gears are 'over the hill' and also just out of their 'teens' by a few years.)

portant part of the 4-H programme.

While 4H Clubs in Ontario are organized by the Extension Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, under the direction of the County Agricultural Representative, each Club must have at least one local Club Leader. The local Club Leaders work closely with the young people providing instruction and guidance and encouraging them to complete their project.

Membership in 4-H Agricultural Clubs is open to farm boys and girls who are 12 years old as of January 1st, 1964, except in the case of the Market Hog Club and the Farm and Home Electricity Club, where members must be 16 as of January 1st, 1964.

This year in Dundas County the following Clubs will be organized providing there is sufficient interest:

Dairy Calf Clubs (using Junior heifer calves)

Field Crops Club

Swine Club

Farm and Home Electricity Club

Poultry Club

Boys and girls wishing to join a 4-H Club should make a point to attend the organizational meeting of the Club or Clubs they are interested in.

Further information may be obtained from your County Agricultural Representative E. K. Pearson, P. O. Box 488, Winchester, Ontario.

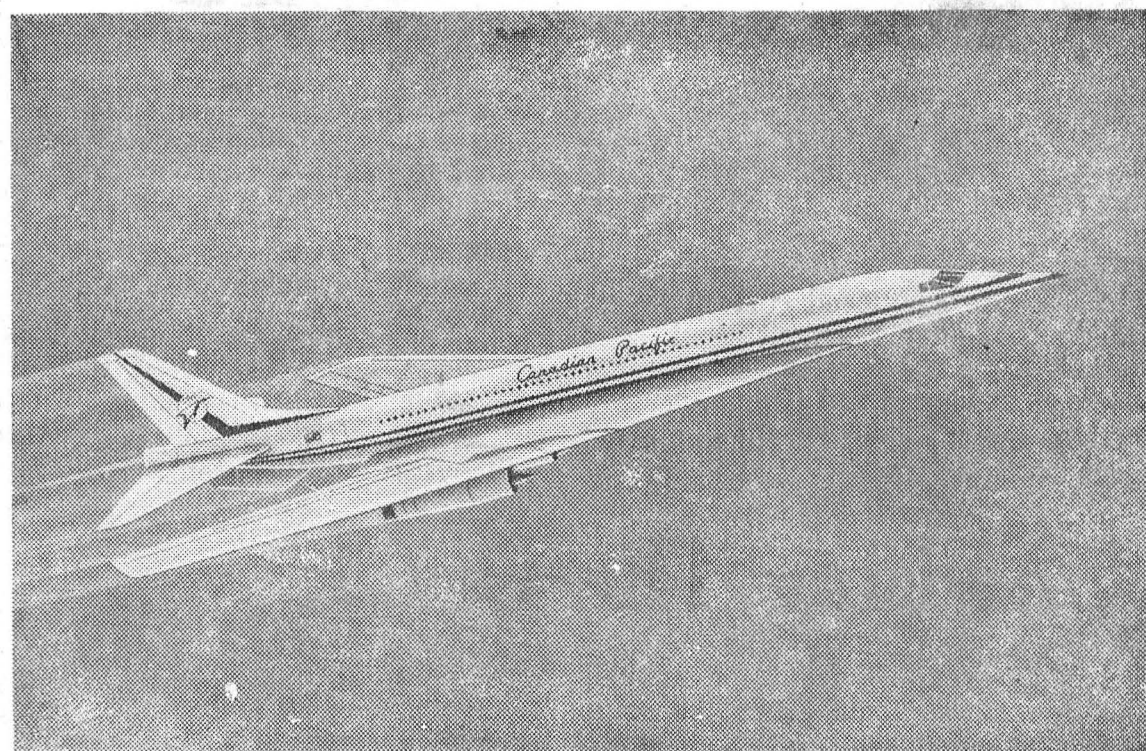

Funeral services were conducted by Reverend Angus McDonald, of Winchester, from the Fairbairn Funeral Home in Brinston on Monday, March 2nd. Interment in the Dundela Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Messrs George Mullin, Harry Brontmire, Aden Marcellus, Ernest Marcellus, Bert Shaver and Morgan Seeley. All neighbours of the deceased.

The many floral tributes showed the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dalgleish and Catherine, of Maitland, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wyatt.

Supersonic Transport For Canada

Canadian Pacific Airlines has announced that it has signed an agreement with the United States Federal Aviation Agency to reserve three delivery positions for the American supersonic transport, an artists' impression of which is seen here. Costing an estimated $25,000,000 each the SST's will be well suited to CPA's international routes serving five continents. Their proposed range is in excess of 4,500 miles, and they will be designed to carry between 150 and 230 passengers. At speeds of up to 2,000 miles an hour, the supersonics will be capable of outracing a high-velocity rifle bullet. Cruising at an altitude of 75,000 feet, they will be capable of flying from Vancouver to Tokyo in just under four hours, a saving of almost seven hours over today's fastest commercial aircraft. Montreal to Rome flying time would be four hours, less than half the present time. Under favorable conditions, CPA might expect to put its first supersonic into operation by 1974.

The Excitements of Freedom

Failure in Russia and Red China of centrally-planned economics to deliver prosperity has spurred a new interest in the free or open societies espoused by the West; but it is to be hoped that the people of those lands do not judge the free system purely on economic performance.

Freedom is a spiritual rather than material blessing, although where freedom exists the material blessings soon follow. This historic fact is a source of constant chagrin to those theoretical experts who would have society carefully organized and properly blue-printed. They are bewildered when freedom, which leaves so much room for sloppy happenstance, inevitably creates abundance.

The reason, of course, is that freedom generates excitement. Ask the lad let out from school. Or ask the young lady who, on getting her first good pay, takes an apartment of her own away from parental supervision. There is a fascinating spice in lives that are self-directed, hard to explain but joyful to experience. This joy begins with the first step a youngster takes on his own and lasts to the end.

It is this spiritual excitement of freedom that should keep us enthralled. That it brings material abundance in its train is a by-product only.

Compulsion, on the other hand, even if it has short-term merits in a material sense, lacks excitement except, perhaps, for those who wield the power. And in the end, as more than forty years of communism have proved it fails to live up to its promises of abundance. Let us not condemn it for material failures, however; the awful thing about compulsion is the sureness with which it kills the human spirit and takes the spice from life.

Romance on Credit

A New York jeweller recently advertised in a glossy consumer magazine three or four costly engagement rings. In suitably small type, in the lower left corner, was the information that the store honored certain credit cards. That advertisement had plot enough for a short story, a Russian novel, or at least a bad rhyme.

Of course, my dear, I want to marry. It's not from coolness that I tarry.

Unwising The Crack

Nearly everyone should be warned that a wisecrack sometimes becomes an unwise crack.

Recently, at a public gathering, a prominent lawyer alluded to himself as "a poor lawyer." This bit of honest humor could have been taken seriously, but the fact is that the lawyer is not poor in either sense of the word.

said that he was a reformed lawyer. And her prominent citizen recently said that might be interpreted as meaning that when he was a lawyer there was something to be reformed.

A former journalist on one occasion referred to himself as a reformed newspaperman. This was not intended as disparagement of the honorable profession of gathering and spreading the news, but it was so interpreted.

On still another occasion a lawyer who was rich enough to own probably all of the county wrote to a friend returning $10, "which," the lawyer said, "you lent me under necessitous circumstances." This could not have meant that the circumstances were really necessitous, for that lawyer, like royalty, rarely carries money in his pocket.

Most people have hobbies, but few can work at them full time. Among this lucky few are the permanent members of CBC radio's Hobby Club, heard Saturday mornings on the network. The hour-long show incorporates news and authoritative reports on stamps, coins and cameras as well as other hobby activities across Canada. Seen from left to right examining a 1964 silver dollar are Irvine Brace (photography expert), Earl Cameron (program announcer), Doug Patrick (authority on stamps), coin collector Sam Solomon, and Hobby Club host and interviewer Percy Saltzman.

The BIBLE Today

The Rev. Jay Story, a missionary of the United Church of Canada, in India, writes in the Central India Torch, of distributing Gospels in the Jaora Bazaar. Accompanied by fellow workers, themselves Indians, Mr. Story states they sold 236 Gospels in one day.

"Is that all you did? Were there any arguments, discussions or opportunities to witness?" he was asked.

Let Late Sleepers Lie

There are some people in life whom I just naturally admire. Among these are generous, beautiful women who are modest, old men who don't give a dang, and little kids who are shy.

Another species I always felt I should admire was the Early Riser. "Surely," I thought, "there is something clean and fine and wholesome in a man who gets up early, winter or summer, and faces life with a decent taste in his mouth, and a good appetite."

For years, accustomed to waking with sheer horror, shrinking from the moment of truth, and finally swinging my bad leg to the floor with both hands, groaning as I lurched to the bathroom, I felt inferior in the presence of the Early Riser.

Now, when it's too late to do much about it, except publicly admit that I have always secretly hated the Early Riser, I learn that he's a big phony, that it's all a matter of metabolism, that my own species, the Late Starter, is just as normal, wholesome and decent. If not more so, bless us.

Some people, they tell me, are at their lowest ebb in the morning. They can scarcely climb out of the sack, and don't get warmed up until noon. By midnight, there's no holding them, and at 3 a.m. they are just getting into their stride. These are the Late Starters. Us.

In the opposite metabolic mess are those who can't sleep in the a.m.

They bustle about, gargling, rattling pots, and generally being sickening. They've done a full day's work by noon. By 6 p.m. they're getting a bit gray around the gills. After dinner, they drowse over the paper, yawn until the tears spurt from their eyes in rivulets, and totter off to bed at 10, full of hot milk and virtue.

No marriage is quite as grotesque as one between an Early Riser and a Late Starter. Sad part of it is that it doesn't show up until it's too late, because when people are courting, they're keen.

Thus, before the ceremony, the Early Riser, desperate to win his girl, will fight off sleep until well past midnight, even though his eyes get starchy, his grin a bit fixed. And his girl, who normally shuns the sun until it is over the vardarm, drags herself out of the pad, with a supreme effort, to meet E.R. for lunch.

But when they've had a couple of years of that holy old wedlocks, it's a horse of a different hue.

He wouldn't trade the arms of Morpheus for those of Elizabeth Taylor. She snarls that he's getting old, wails, "You don't love me any more!" when he starts to fade right after the dishes are done.

It's just as bad when the roles are reversed. After using everything but dynamite to get him out of the pit and off to work, she resorts to, "Come on, Prince Charming. Let's see a little of that gay vivacity we saw at 2 a.m., when you were dancing with all the women at the party. Let's hear a little of that brilliant conversation you were promoting at three, when everybody with any manners had gone home, so our hosts could go to bed."

So he gaily and vivaciously feels his way to the bathroom, and when he finds it, converses brilliantly with the mirror. Thus: "Uggghhh!"

It's not metabolic. It's diabetic.

Harmony Prevails In Provincial Legislature

The ponderous and wordy machinery of provincial government at Queen's Park continued to grind out new laws, long speeches and all the usual daily production of the Legislature in session. The estimates of the Departments of Transport, Treasury, Civil Service and Agriculture provided work for the House interspersed with budget debate speeches, introduction of new Bills and debates thereon. Prime Minister Robarts continues to lead the government and the House in such a pleasant and efficient manner that Opposition Parties in turn cooperate to ensure efficient government. And Mr. Speaker Morrow daily enhances his reputation as a firm, impartial Speaker and a Good Member. During the past week the Speaker was host at the annual Speaker's Dinner tendered to Members of the House and Senior Civil Servants. And the Hon. Don Morrow's first such dinner graced as it was by the presence of, and an address by, our Lieutenant Governor Rowe, was well up to standard.

Committees of the House were in session during most mornings of the week but there seemed to be fewer contentious matters up for considera-

Canada ranks first in world production of nickel, asbestos, and platinum, and mines huge quantities of gold, silver, copper, lead, aluminum and radium as well?

Two recent mineral discoveries will soon aid Canada's economy: firstly, extensive oil fields are being developed in northern Alberta, which might one day be the oil supplier of all Canada.

Secondly, vast deposits of high-grade iron ore have been found in the Quebec-Labrador boundary region. This will serve as a basis for heavy industry in the near future.

Canada has an abundance of lumber since rich coniferous and deciduous forests cover over 37 per cent of her vast total area. She produces 60 percent of the world's newsprint and exports a great deal of sawn lumber. A wise program of national reforestation is being conducted in Canada, to ensure the wealth of the forests to succeeding generations.

Canada is a land of opportunity in the world of sports; she has sent many renowned athletes such as Barbara Ann Scott, Vic Emery and Anne Hegweit, to the Olympic games, for competition against the finest athletes in the world.

Canadians have the opportunity to gaining an education for themselves, because of a system of free elementary and secondary schools. Special schools of many varieties have been organized in Canada, including technical, art, and commercial schools and institutions for the blind, deaf and paralyzed as well there are over 30 universities established in Canada.

Canadians live in a democratic country, whose government is of the people, by the people, and for the people. We, as Canadians, have the opportunity to use freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of the press, freedom of enterprise, and any other kind of freedom, as long as no one is hurt in obtaining it.

Canada is a member of NATO and the United Nations, and she works to give other countries these freedoms which she values so highly.

In Canada, we have the opportunity to strive for whatever we please. If one wants to be the Prime Minister, then whether he is rich or poor, French or English, he may work until he has obtained this goal. All people, no matter what their origin, are treated as equals in Canada. Who knows, perhaps a future Prime Minister of Canada is sitting in this very room!

At the turn of the nineteenth century, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Prime Minister of Canada at that time, stated that the 20th century belongs to Canada. With all these golden opportunities — truly the 20th century does belong to Canada!

Fight Against Communism Carol Ann English

During the year 1945, while the horrors of World War II lay fresh in the minds of all and Europe was an area of defeat and destruction, a total of fifty nations pledged their allegiance to an organization whose purpose was to preserve peace and unity throughout the world, no matter what the cost.

Never again was there to be a war like the last six years. Never again the destruction of land and of millions of innocent people whose only fault was their race and creed.

Many people question "will the organization succeed, for after all we have had these alliances before?" The answer was "yes!" In January 1946 the charter of the United Nations was formed and has been a strong, united body.

In 1949 came the first real test, North Korea, now owned by the Communists who invaded South Korea. The U.N. demanded they stop. Communist China, a non-member to this day, was brought in and the U.N. had to send in troops. This war lasted until 1953. The Communists were forced back to the 38th parallel. The U.N. had saved South Korea and had brought about peace.

But the fight against Communism goes on. Only last week they took over Zanzibar. Viet Nam another trouble spot is half controlled by the Communists. In 1956 Hungary was taken. In 1958 Cuba revolted from the Batista regime, only to become another Communist outpost, only 90 miles from North America.

These people work in underdeveloped areas where illiteracy is their first and foremost problem. They preach equality for all, better living conditions, but after a peoples revolt these seldom happen. Equality is for only party members and even then it is not really equality. This is what the U.N. is up against. This is why thousands of dollars each year are given to these countries. Specialists are sent to teach farming and other trades. Teachers teach the people to read and write. Thus illiteracy is being brought down. We have all these things given to us without question. We read our newspapers and see what is happening but suppose we were living in conditions where starvation and death are always present — wouldn't we too jump at a change of improvements of any kind. I think we would. But suppose we were taught a new way of living and slowly we began to prosper and with that prosperity comes freedom. We then know the U.N. is truly a friend, who will never let us down and to whom we owe much.

To ensure the peace and prosperity, armaments and troops are stationed all over the world. When ever a crisis occurs, such as on the island of Cyprus, these men and equipment are sent from the member nations. They must be ready to go on a moment's notice for these situations must be stopped before they get out of hand.

Canada has men in Europe, in Asia, the Middle East and in other areas where they are needed. If the world is to be a safe place to live and these living conditions brought up to or above a certain standard and war of any kind averted, the United Nations must succeed.

We have all heard of the terrible destruction of these freaks of man. We can all imagine the consequences if such a war as the one which seems to loom in the future would bring but please notice I say looms in the future, for I don't think any person on this earth wants an atomic war. This is why the stronger nations go to the conference and sign treaties proposed by the U.N.—to ensure these weapons are never used.

A Personal Experience Roxie Thompson

A personal experience as a babysitter. Have you ever stopped to consider what this topic consists of? Let us first study the grammatical construction of this word, Babysitter. It is a compound word and sounds as if it might literally mean a person who sits on a baby. Often when you come down to the bare facts, it means just that. In the case I am about to relate, the so-called baby was a six-year-old dynamo.

The trouble all began when the telephone rang one Friday night. The moment I picked up the receiver, a queer sensation came over me and I knew instinctively that excitement lay ahead. You would have thought that that would have been enough to warn me of danger, but oh no, not me. Innocently, I murmured hello and waited for a reply. It came with a bang!

A woman, who I had never met before named Mrs. Black, was calling to see if I was available to baby-sit for her son Clarence from 4 on Saturday afternoon, until 10 that evening.

After accepting the position, I received the address I was to go to, and said goodbye. I knew I was now committed because once a sitter has agreed to take a job, neither snow, nor sleet, nor nervous break-down can hinder a babysitter from carrying out her orders.

As I started out for the Black residence on Saturday afternoon, many confused and nervous questions entered my mind. Would Clarence be a quiet, solemn individual or a devilish mischief-maker. My answer came all too soon!

I finally reached the Black house and while the parents were introducing themselves to me, I looked around to see where their son was, but nary a Clarence could be seen. As if in answer to my silent question, they replied that six year old Clarence was probably playing in another room.

At that moment I saw a shaggy mane of red hair around the corner, which was followed by a pair of mischievous blue eyes. Next came a pug nose, and a saucy mouth. This combination of features was lavishly sprinkled with freckles which the sun had tanned a dark brown.

I was not able to comprehend anything more, because just then I saw a flash of red hair, heard a loud Indian war-whoop, and found myself being the object of a flying tackle.

By the time I had recovered my senses, the parents had departed and I was left holding the boy. Perhaps it was vice-versa but (See Page Eight)

PRICING THE TELEPHONE

How much does YOUR home telephone cost you a day? 10c? 15c? 20c? I'll let you in on a secret: It's considerably less than the price of a small pack of cigarettes, less than the price of most magazines, less than the price of a fancy soda. In fact, when you consider all that the telephone does for you, you realize that the small monthly charge cannot fairly be said to represent the VALUE of your services. That cannot be measured until someone can put a price on calls that say, "It's a girl," "The job is yours," or "Come quickly, doctor." And that cannot be done until our hearts are made of stone.

ROOM-TO-ROOM TRAVEL

Almost any homemaker around town will tell you one of the most tiring parts of running a home is "running" from room to room. "Room-to-room" travel is the way one good lady described it the other day. I'm no adviser on home economics, but was able to tell her a good way to save steps: Have additional telephones installed where they are most needed, like the kitchen, bedroom and den. I pointed out how the smart decorator colours would blend, contrast or harmonize with her own colour schemes. If YOU need additional phones, just call our Business Office and place your order. They cost so little—less than a nickel a day, plus a one-time charge for colour and installation.

Seems a shame, but the last of the bonafide smoke signalers has apparently crossed into the Happy Hunting Grounds.

An advertising man discovered this after being hired to find an Indian to send smoke signals to promote a new product. He toured reservation after reservation, but couldn't locate a smoke signaler. Exasperated, he finally approached an old Indian sitting before a campfire.

"Tell me," he said, "what do you do when you want to send a message to someone on the next reservation?"

The Indian regarded him coldly: "I use the telephone. What do you do?"

Knox Presbyter'n Ladies' Aid

Departing from their usual custom of holding their meetings in the church hall, the members of Knox Presbyterian Church Ladies' Aid enjoyed the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Wm. Pollock when they met for the March meeting at her home on Church Avenue, on Monday, March 9, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The President, Mrs. S. W. Perry, presided, assisted by the Secretary, Mrs. J. W. Moke and the Treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Fenton.

The meeting began with a brief period of worship. A hymn was sung, prayer offered by the President, and a passage of scripture, Matt. 28, was read by Mrs. W. J. Armstrong. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll. Mrs. Bertha Countryman of Dixon's Corners was a very welcome visitor at our meeting. The treasurer, in her report, showed a substantial balance in the bank with no outstanding debts.

The chief item of business on the agenda was the food sale and tea scheduled for this coming Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The list of helpers assigned to the food table and the tea tables was reviewed and changes made where necessary. It was decided to have a candy table, and any donation of candy will be most welcome.

Arrangements for the Anniversary dinner to be held on Wednesday, May 6th, were briefly discussed. It was decided to make a change in the price of the dinner. The tickets will be sold as follows:—adults $1.50, public school children 75c, pre-school children free.

The members of the Ladies' Aid were very pleasantly surprised when their hostess, Mrs. Pollock, presented the Society with two dozen tea towels for use in the church hall kitchen. Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Miller expressed the appreciation of the Society for this very useful gift. The meeting was brought to a close with a hymn and prayer offered by Rev. J. J. Hibbs.

Following this very profitable meeting, Mrs. Pollock invited the members to enjoy a social time as she served tea

Among several new books received is 'Renegade on Power: The Diefenbaker Years' by Peter C. Newman. As well as telling the story of John Diefenbaker it also gives penetrating studies of Howard Green, Alvin Hamilton, George Hees, Donald Fleming and Davey Fulton. All in all, it traces Mr. Diefenbaker's rise to power over the years, his years in office and the events leading up to the downfall of the government in April 1963. In 'Ice Station Zebra' by Allistair MacLean (author of Guns of Navarone) we have a fast-paced, tension-filled story of a secret mission. Undertaken in an atomic powered submarine, the trip to the North Pole is filled with mystery and secrecy and keeps one reading to the end.

"The Governor" by Peter Jennison is a fast moving novel of the uses (and abuses) of power in America today.

Two non-fiction books of interest are "John Foster Dulles: The Last Year" by Eleanor Dulles, and "J. F. K. The Man and The Myth" by Victor Lasky. The former tells the story of John Foster Dulles and his service to his coun-

EASTER THANKOFFER 'G

The March meeting of the Dixon's Corners Women's Missionary Society Auxiliary of Knox Presbyterian Church, Iroquois, was held at the Manse on Wednesday afternoon, March 4th, with a very good attendance of members and invited visitors from the Mainsville W.M.S.

Mrs. Wilfred Safford, President, welcomed the visitors and conducted the opening devotions of this special Easter Thankoffering meeting, using the Easter programme - out lined in the Society's devotional guide, "Glad Tidings". Mrs. John S. Thompson, Secretary, read the meditation, "Easter is Eternal" and Mrs. Edwin Johnston read a very interesting article entitled "Behold the Lilies". Mrs. Archie Johnstone conducted the first programme from the new study material.

The coloured filmstrip 'Cup of Sorrow' was shown by the Rev. John Hibbs, pastor, who also favored the group with his singing of the negro spiritual, "Were You There?"

During the business meeting the forthcoming W.M.S. (W. D.) 100th Anniversary, to be held in Montreal, May 8-10, was discussed, and other matters of concern to the local group. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary and approved, and the Welcome and Welfare Report was given by Mrs. George Barton. Mrs. James Riddell, speaking on behalf of the visitors from Mainsville, thanked the host society for a very memorable meeting, and commented upon the years of relationship between the two societies. The special Thankoffering was received by the Treasurer, Mrs. Ray Johnstone with the dedication prayer being offered by the President.

Refreshments were served by the host society, and following a vote of appreciation by Mrs. John Mullwick of the visiting society, the Rev. Hibbs offered closing prayer and the Benediction.

KNOX WOMEN'S GROUP
HELD FIRST MEETING

A good attendance marked the first regular meeting of the newly-formed women's evening group of Knox Presbyterian Church, Iroquois, called the "Presbyterian Women" held at the home of the President, Mrs. Roy Graham, Ann Street, on Wednesday evening, March 4th.

The minutes of an exploratory meeting, held recently at the Manse, were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Neil McColl, at which time the elected executive was confirmed, with Mrs. Wm. Barnhardt as Vice-President, and Mrs. Vernon McCaslin as Treasurer of the new group.

Guest for the evening was Rev. John Hibbs, who spoke on the question of Sunday Sports and its relationship to Christian teaching on the Lord's Day. A very informative and lively discussion followed Mr. Hibbs' address.

The evening's work-project included a display of novel table-settings for various social events, and a discussion was resolved to make aprons, tea-cosys, and other such novelties for the annual Church bazaar in the late fall. A service project for the Lions Club dinners was also discussed.

The meeting closed with a very enlightening Bible Quiz, following which light refreshments were served by the lunch committee.

Mrs. Ray Smollett and Mrs. William Barnhardt were appointed programme and social conveners for the next meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. Alex Millar, Church St., Wednesday evening, April 1.

Ed Sullivan are nearing completion for an appearance of the Beatles to make a personal appearance.

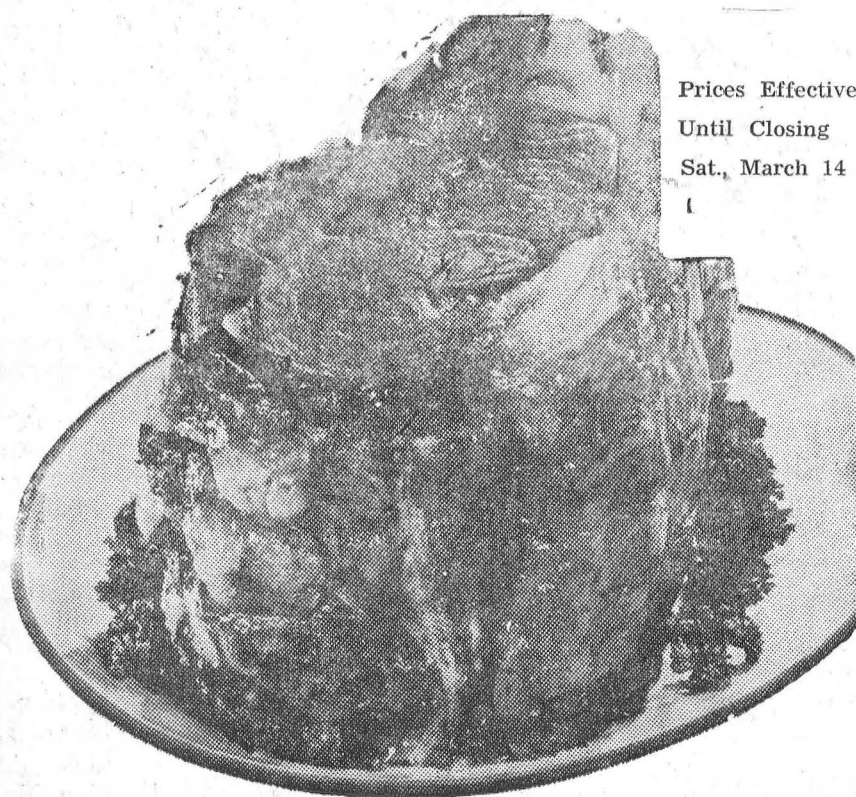

In case one might gather from all the above that school work is being neglected, we might add that the Easter exams are due to begin March 19th, finishing just before the Easter holidays.

Reports on Parliament

Monday, March 2nd, saw the completion of the Debate on the Speech from the Throne. Rather surprising at this period of contrived votes, the allotted number of days ended without a vote.

The remainder of the week has been devoted to speeches on the Columbia River development. On the whole these speeches have been knowledgeable, and showed respect for the magnitude of the job.

Dr. Willoughby, from Kamloops, gentlemanly and scholarly replacement in the House of Commons for the Hon. Davie Fulton, expressed this in his speech:

"Today, the people of Canada, through their representatives in this House, are making a decision which is probably one of the greatest, if not the greatest, that this House has had to reach for many, many years. It is as great or greater than the decision to construct the St. Lawrence Seaway. British Columbians and Western Canadians in particular are looking forward to the carrying out of this treaty which, properly negotiated and with equitable terms, can mean great things for the future of the west. It was three years ago that, after 18 years of negotiation, Canada and the United States signed the original treaty for the development of the Columbia River."

Everyone awaited with interest the speech of the Member for Kootenay West, Mr. Bert Herridge. He has been a popular and very articulate Member since his election in 1945. Before that he had been a Member of the British Columbia Legislature since 1941. He loves British Columbia with heart and soul and seldom a day goes by that he does not mention the beauties and attractions of his province. This combined with his gregarious friendliness makes him one of British Columbia's best ambassadors.

We, in the Conservative Party, have often thought that he has strong basic Conservative tendencies and there is always jollity about how soon he will join us. His answer is that his father was Liberal, his mother Conservative and to avoid further cleavage in his family he had no choice but to be a socialist.

At any rate, he is a clear-speaking, intrepid Parliamentarian, with a whimsical wit and his speech on the Columbia Development was worth hearing. He said:

"I should like at this time to deal briefly with one or two statements made by the Hon. Member for Coast-Capilano (Mr. Davis). I must say, Mr. Speaker, that it is very difficult for a sensitive person like me to chastise such a likeable member as the Hon. Member for Coast-Capilano. I can tell you honestly that in my own constituency I am considered the kindest and mildest mannered man who ever cut a political throat. . . ."

"I speak as a Canadian. I am looking at this from the viewpoint of a Canadian, and I can say none of us in this group is taking a partisan attitude. This treaty has been gone over and debated thoroughly. I am speaking as a lifetime conservationist who has been resi-

The members of the Harmony Unit of The United Church Women met on Tuesday, March 10, at 2 p.m. in the church parlour.

Mrs. Gallagher, the leader, opened the meeting with prayer.

The Worship and Study periods were in charge of Mrs. A. Brown, Mrs. M. Fetterly, Mrs. L. Johnston and Mrs. J. Anderson. The Worship service carried the Easter theme and was opened by the singing of the hymn "There Is a Green Hill Far Away."

The scripture from Matthew, chapter 27, verses 27 to 31, and chapter 28, verses 1 to 9, was read responsively. Meditations on each chapter were given by Mrs. Fetterly and Mrs. Brown. An Easter poem was read by Mrs. Johnston. The offering was received and dedicated. The period closed with the singing of the hymn "Rejoice The Lord Is King".

The business period followed. Fourteen members answered the roll call. The minutes of the Feb. meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Jas. Anderson.

Mrs. Doris McQuaig reported on the Oyster Supper. Mrs. Dean had invited the Harmony Unit to unite with the Ethel Dean Unit in visiting Glen-taker; to Mr. Alex McQuigge, faithful member of the school board; to Mr. Mahlon Zeron, Reeve of Matilda; to Rev. J. Leslie Dean, Rev. John J. Hibbs, Rev. D. F. Weegar, Mr. Carlton McInnis, Barrister, and Mr. Leon C. Hinds, British Guiana, for their very appropriate messages.

The encouraging comments from parents and those interested in education were greatly appreciated by the staff.

Thank you.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the friends who phoned, made personal calls and sent cards to Mother while she was a patient in the Winchester Memorial Hospital. We especially send our thanks to the doctors and nurses of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital who did their utmost to care for and to ease Mother during her long illness. We also wish to extend our thanks to Rev. C. A. Adey, Rev. Weaver and Rev. Peters and to those who sent floral tributes and offered expressions of sympathy to us during our sad bereavement of our precious Mother, Mrs. Everett Strader. We appreciate all these acts of kindness very deeply.

Stor-Dun and arranging for a suitable programme. Mrs. George Fowler and Mrs. Sealey were appointed to be responsible for making the arrangements.

The ladies expressed their appreciation to Mr. George Brouse for the assistance he had given on work in the Ladies' parlour. Other items of business were dealt with. The Study book, "The World of Indian Women," was introduced by Mrs. M. Fetterly. Three phases were dealt with, 1. The home, their place in the labor force and advancement in education, was given by Mrs. J. Anderson. 2. The political field, given by Mrs. Johnston. 3. Their Public life given by Mrs. Brown.

In closing, Mrs. Fetterly told of the impressions Canadian women had made on two educated Indian women. They are disappointed to find us lacking in leadership and the great responsibility which they consider of nation building value. Mrs. Bolton closed the meeting with prayer. The members were surprised when a beautiful birthday cake, a gift from Mrs. Bolton, was presented to honour her sister, one of our beloved members, Miss Cora Smith. After suitable remarks, tea and cake was served.

Public Speeches

cause Clarence was holding my legs in a vice-like grip. I untwined myself from the child, and finally induced him to display his toys to me.

After that came supper. We were eating at the kitchen table, when whack! A piece of liver landed on my face. As I glared at the culprit, Clarence tried, with an effort to control his laughter. I punished Clarence by standing him in a corner. Then I went back to my homework. The next time I looked up to see what mischief Clarence was into, there was no Clarence. Suddenly there was a loud crash and a bang from the kitchen, which was followed by Clarence's scream.

As I rushed to the source of the noise, a tightness came into my throat, and I knew if anything happened to Clarence, it would be my fault. His parents had given me a great responsibility and I had not accepted it properly.

My eyes then met a scene which included a crying Clarence, a shattered milk bottle, a pool of milk on the floor, and an overturned cookie jar.

After I had put an apologetic Clarence to bed, and cleaned up the disaster area in the kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. Black arrived home. I humbly told them the story of my carelessness and apologized.

The Blacks understood that I had learned my lesson and forgave me at once.

Now, anytime I go there, the Blacks leave Clarence with me in complete trust. Although Clarence is not, by any means, angelic, he is now reasonably well behaved, when I babysit for him.

In conclusion, I would like to tell you, to remember not to shirk your duty, when you are given responsibility. While babysitting you are responsible to yourself, the parents, and most of all, the child. This little verse may help you not to forget.

"Responsibility is not always work, But work is always responsibility."
