Another New Home

This is the latest home completed in Iroquois and is located on Beach Avenue, facing No. 2 Highway. The home, built by Byrd and Cross, Spencerville, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arsenault. Mr. Arsenault has been an employee at The Iroquois Post for seven years. Only six more lots are on the unsold list in the community.

Miss Eastern Ontario Beauty Pageant Now Has 34 Entries

The final phases of the 18th annual Miss Eastern Ontario Beauty Pageant are underway with just over two weeks to go to this eagerly anticipated event on the March calendar. As of March 3rd., the three week mark, there were 34 entries to the Pageant from a wide-ranging area of Eastern Ontario, and according to Contestant Chairman Murray Stone there were still many regular entry centres still to be heard from including Arnprior, Renfrew, Twee, Brockville, Stittsville, Lansdowne, etc.

The 34 figure leaves just 6 available places open for further entries and the situation is similar to the past week whereby any centre or any individual considering entry must do so quickly. The list will be finalized shortly regardless of whether the maximum is reached or not because the new program booklet being published this year for the first time must go to press by March 20th. Prospective contestants or sponsors should contact Mr. Stone c/o Box 271 Perth at once.

An outstanding list of special guests has been compiled for this year's Pageant. Mr. John C. J. Bruno, Executive Director of the Miss Dominion of Canada Pageant, and Mrs. Bruno, will attend the Pageant. Miss Teen Canada, Jean-Anne Blair, of Riverview, N.B. along with Miss Grey Cup, Debra Barbagallo of Montreal, Miss Ottawa Rough Rider, Marlene Shepherd, the Canadian Dairy Princess Dianne Gunning of Tweed, the Ontario Dairy Princess Nancy Brown of Grand Valley, and Cathy McRae, the Lanark County Dairy Princess will all lend beauty and charm to the guest list. Doug Wiseman, Lanark M.P.P., and Mrs. Wiseman, will also be in attendance. Murray McBride, MP Lanark-Renfrew-Carleton has indicated he will be unable to attend.

The Pageant Chairman, Bill Perkins, announced this week that the popular M.C. duo of Bill Luxton and Les Lye of CJOH-TV, Ottawa, will return to handle both 8 p.m. evening programs. A complete new format is being drafted up by Bill & Les and the people will, as always, be treated to a smooth, professional job by this top twosome. Bob Dowdall will again work his magic on the electric organ both nights.

A finalized program of events will be available in about a week as all committees put in long hours to wrap up the myriad of detail involved in a project of this scope.

Police Dog Butch Visits Iroquois Public School

A strong wind and driving snow didn't stop one hundred and fifty people from coming to see Constable Walker and canine Butch at Iroquois Public School March 1st.

Constable Walker showed slides explaining how Butch is trained in police work. He outlined some criminal activities in Eastern Ontario in which he and Butch were instrumental in solving.

He then put Butch through a demonstration on the stage. The Constable explained how Butch is trained to be obedient and responds to all his commands.

A question period followed and everyone left with a better understanding of police dogs and their use by the O.P.P.

Seals In Mails

Iroquois Lions Club has again undertaken the responsibility of organizing the Easter Seals campaign in this area on behalf of crippled children.

Close to 2000 letters are going out this week into the area the club serves, soliciting the support of the public for this worthy cause.

Your prompt attention to their appeal for funds will be greatly appreciated.

An Explanation Regarding The Need Of A Medical Building

During the last months of 1971 it became apparent that residents of this area required better medical coverage, following the death of Dr. J. R. Miller, the retirement of Dr. C. R. Marcellus and the closing of the medical clinic in the village. After numerous residents had approached Iroquois Council, that Council advertised for doctors who might be interested in moving to Iroquois.

The outcome of the advertising was that one doctor, who was practicing in Hornepayne, Ontario, under sponsorship of the Ontario Government, was persuaded to move to Iroquois. The province gave its blessing and approved Iroquois to be designated as underserved for one doctor. To have a community designated as underserved, the province sends a qualified doctor into the area to make a survey of the needs of that area. This was done, resulting in the designation. At that time, the representative of the government, made it clear that while the government is assisting in bringing in a resident doctor, there is a responsibility by the community to assist in this program, by providing adequate office space and housing.

Iroquois Council, realizing the necessity for not only one doctor but for a second physician to lend support and cooperation so that adequate medical service be provided, also endeavoured to bring in a second doctor and to have the government designate Iroquois for the second doctor. In view of the fact that many other Ontario towns and villages are in need of doctors, many without any, the government felt that the guaranteed income provision of their policy could better serve the needs of another village instead of assisting Iroquois for that second doctor.

However, through the cooperation of Iroquois' doctor, Dr. Basil Forbes and your Council, Dr. Tom Smyth arrived from Ireland just recently and will be settling in Iroquois by about July of this year.

During the past couple of weeks there has been some discussion as to the reasons why Iroquois needs a medical building and we would point out the difference between a medical building and a medical clinic. In a medical building, as proposed for Iroquois, each doctor and/or dentist would operate their individual business separate from each other but in one building. The two doctors would cooperate with each other to look after each other's patients only in the event one or the other was away from Iroquois, such as at holiday time.

Every individual in any community can, naturally, choose whatever doctor he wishes to have.

The main purpose of a medical building is to have facilities always available should at any time any doctor leaves the community. With eventual ownership by the Village of such a building, this can be assured.

At the present time, a local service club is investigating the possibility of undertaking such a venture and a decision should be reached in a short time. It is estimated that a building large enough to house two doctors and a dentist, with extra space available for a third doctor or for lab rooms, etc., would cost about $35,000. The tenants would naturally pay rent for the building and, should not enough funds be raised to completely pay for the building initially, the rent would be scheduled to pay off the mortgage.

Even after the building was paid for, rent would be charged and possibly other facilities added in the community as the fund grew.

This explanation of the discussions that have been going on about a medical building are provided for the information of the public of Iroquois and the district to keep them informed of the facts as they now stand.

TB Among The Primates

TB outbreaks are happening in the strangest places.

At a Tennessee zoo recently a female rhesus monkey, who had been nursing her young infant, died. Tests later showed the monkey had had TB. Other tests showed TB had spread to five more primates, including a ringtail monkey who died while being tranquilized for an eyelid tuberculin test.

TB testing of zoo personnel showed that four had positive reactions to tuberculin tests -- which indicated that TB germs were in their bodies. X-rays showed no lung damage, though. One of the zoo workers who had a negative reaction to the tuberculin tests, however, had a positive reaction when he was retested months later. It can take from two to ten weeks after the infection before a positive reaction shows. TB germs can also lie low in the body and then become activated when the body's defenses are down.

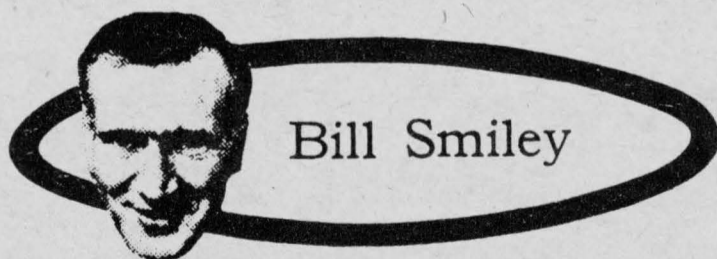

As a result of the episode - which was reported by Dr. Luther Fredrickson at the Mid-West Interprofessional Seminar on Diseases Common to Animals and Man - both animals and personnel at the zoo will be tested for TB two or three times a year. And a glass partition has been placed between the primates and the public.

If either animals or people have live TB germs in their sputum, they can spread the disease just by coughing or sneezing. And anyone - monkey or man - may have active disease with no symptoms at all.

Some of the common symptoms of TB - when there are any - are coughing a lot, feeling tired all the time, spitting blood, and losing weight. Any one or all of the symptoms can mean TB.

To find out more about TB and what can be done to prevent outbreaks, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association.

It's a matter of life and breath.

PICKET LINES AT THE FRONT DOOR

By Bill Smiley

It's only a matter of time. In the past generation, Joe Nobody, you and I, have suffered from every conceivable type of strike that the warped little human mind can conceive.

You name it: from dock-wallopers to doctors, from technicians to teachers, everybody seems to have had a whack at trying to strangle a few more bucks or privileges out of the innocent by-stander. That's you and I.

I'm getting pretty sour about the whole nonsense. Somehow, I can't fathom either the economics of the ethics of a man who is worth $1.25 an hour, and is getting $2.75, demanding that he be paid $4.00 and another $2.00 in fringe benefits.

Strikes are annoying, frustrating and usually pointless, in these days. The worker gets a raise and it takes him two years to get back to where he was, financially. The employer merely raises his prices, or taxes. The rest of us get it in two painful places; the neck and the pocket-book.

But that's all common knowledge, and beside the point. One of these fine days, the most potent work force in the country is going to realize what a powerful weapon is the strike, and hit the picket line.

When it does, we'll look back with nostalgia and longing to the good old days when a strike merely meant you couldn't take that trip, or there was a shortage of sanitary napkins, or some similar calamity was thrust upon us.

That will be the day the housewives of the country, inflamed by Women's Lib, dull husbands, and rotten kids, walk out the doors demanding more money, better working conditions, and vast fringe benefits.

That will be a day that will make the present vast tie-ups due to strikes look like tiddleywinks. That will be a day that might signal the end of civilization as we know it.

I'm not kidding, and I'm definitely not exaggerating. If the housewives of this nation withdrew such elementary items as cooking and cleaning, sex and sewing from our lives, the whole foundation of our society would collapse.

Not immediately, of course. For perhaps two days, husbands would chortle, "She'll soon come around. She knows when she has a good thing." And kids would roar with laughter, "Is your old lady on this strike kick too? It's a riot. But she won't last. She needs us."

After a week, the comments would change tone. Husbands: "What the hell is wrong with that crazy woman? I've given her the best years of my life." And kids: "Look, if she doesn't come back, she's in for trouble. I haven't had a decent meal or a clean pair of socks for days. And Dad is getting nasty. Wants me to do the dishes and garbage like that."

In two weeks the "innocent bystanders" would be on their knees. And the garbage would be up to their knees.

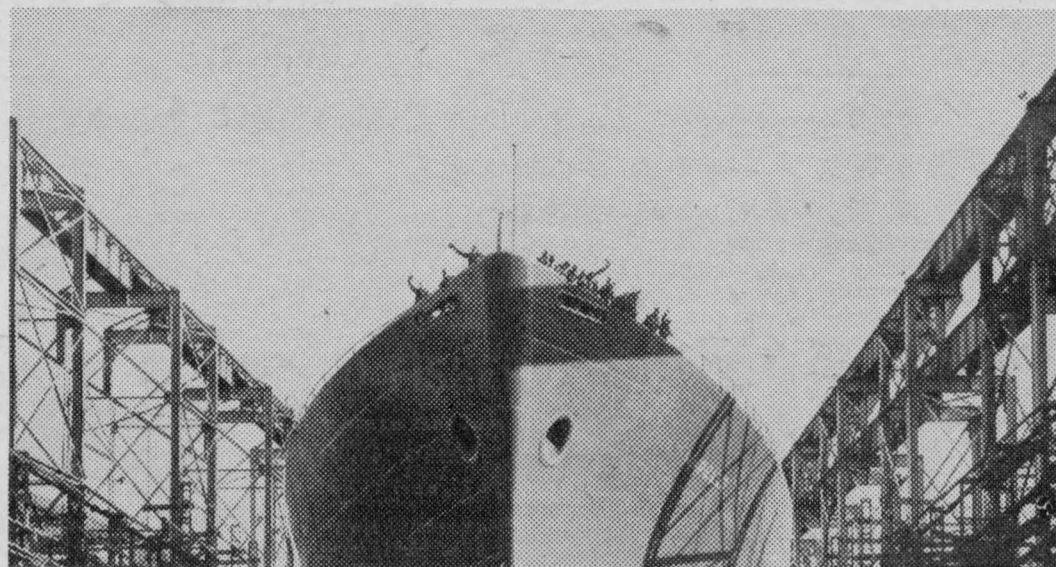

Husbands: "Listen, kid. You go out and tell your mother that I'll give her eight, no, ten dollars a month to blow on herself. Sky's the limit." Kids: "Listen Dad, this is all your fault. We need that woman, even if she is only our mother. All our buttons are off, and the sink's full of dishes, and the dishes are full of crud."

In a month, the hospitals and the mental institutions would be overflowing. The take-home chicken joints and the delicatessens would be booming, but the supermarkets would be heading for bankruptcy. Family axe-murders would be so common they wouldn't even rate two inches on Page 38.

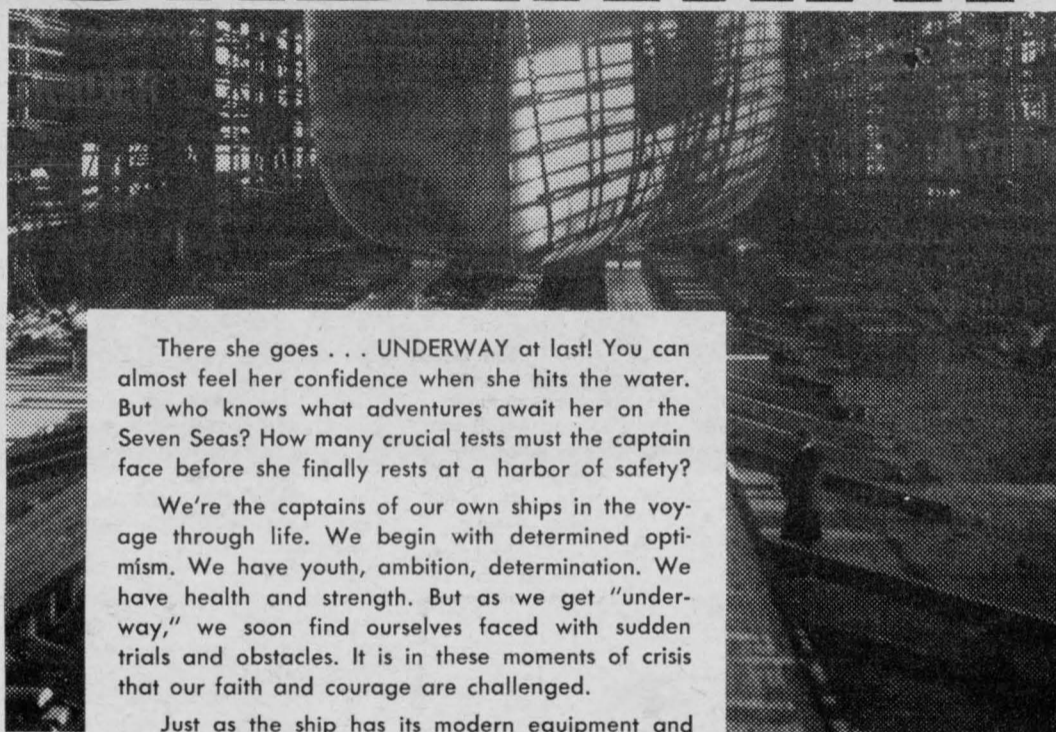

There's only one thing that will prevent this catastrophe. As we all know, housewives are extreme individualists. They can't even agree on the texture of toilet paper. How could they agree on such delicate matters as fringe benefits. Some would want forty cents to sew on a button; others would settle for a quarter. And if they did form a union, it would take them twelve years to draw up the constitution, and everyone would want to be president.

So relax, you neglectful husbands and demanding kids. We're probably safe. But give the whole idea a long, deep thought.

UNDERWAY

There she goes . . . UNDERWAY at last! You can almost feel her confidence when she hits the water. But who knows what adventures await her on the Seven Seas? How many crucial tests must the captain face before she finally rests at a harbor of safety?

We're the captains of our own ships in the voyage through life. We begin with determined optimism. We have youth, ambition, determination. We have health and strength. But as we get "underway," we soon find ourselves faced with sudden trials and obstacles. It is in these moments of crisis that our faith and courage are challenged.

Just as the ship has its modern equipment and its lighthouses, so we too have a tower of direction and strength found in the Church. In the Church of Jesus Christ we find a lasting faith, guiding us into the calm harbor of ETERNAL life.

The vessel will begin opening the downstream portion of the river from Prescott through Lake St. Lawrence to Lake St. Francis on March 20.

Parents are urged to keep children from playing on the ice.

OFF THE CUFF

By Charles Edwards

Anyone who's inclined toward analyzing his neighbours can have a little exercise around the end of February. It's this time each year that the real die-hard procrastinators come through with shining colours. The results of their efforts, or should we say non-efforts, are worn like badges on the front and back of their cars in the form of bright shining new license plates. By this time of the winter season, the colour of most cars is hardly discernible through the accumulation of mud and salt, so the new plates are about as obvious as Raquel Welch in a YMCA steam room.

Although the plates go on sale in December, they don't really start to appear on the streets in profusion until the middle of February. Which just proves that most of us are either too poor before and after Christmas to get them or else we just live by that old maxim about doing today what you can put off til tomorrow.

There are those who line up the first day in hopes of getting a low number and there are those who line up the last day in hopes of getting any number. You can speculate to your heart's content about those who get their plates during the last few days. They may not be able to afford them til the last minute. They may be habitually disorganized or forgetful, or they may just be the kind of person who functions best when things are done at the eleventh hour. These are the same ones you'll meet doing their Christmas shopping at five p.m. on the twenty-fourth. Whatever the reason, you can sit back smugly, knowing that your plates have been safely on the car for all of twenty minutes.

We've tried the trick of buying the plates the first day they're available in hopes of getting a low number that we might be able to remember when asked. When we take the car for service or buy gas with a credit card, the attendant never fails to ask the license number. And like clockwork, we always have to go back outside to get it.

We had a system a couple of years ago that almost broke the jinx. It came to us in a fit of inspiration in which we also realized that if you add your age to your height in inches, you'll get a number that is totally meaningless. But let's not digress from such a fascinating subject. The outcome of these mental meanderings was that our current license number was equal to our age plus the year of our birth minus the number of days in a month. This worked out fine until we had a birthday. Then whenever we were asked the license number it took a

Life In Zambia Theme At UCW

The Regular Monthly Meeting was held in the church parlour. Mrs. Geo. Fowler acting as President in absence of Mrs. Mac Fetterly welcomed the members and visitors. Mrs. Van Allen opened the devotion period by singing "Breathe on me Breath of God." Scripture Passages from Isaiah were read by Mrs. Doris McQuaig.

Mrs. Van Allen gave a very challenging discourse based on verses "Enlarge our habitation, strengthen the cords and deepen the stakes" Prayer followed and singing of hymn "We Give Thee but Thine Own".

Mrs. Geo. Fowler welcomed and introduced Mrs. Erick Reid of Kemptville, who gave a very enlightening account of life in Zambia as she saw it after nine years of residence. All enjoyed her interesting and colourful slides on life there.

Business was conducted, reports were heard and approved. A social time was enjoyed with the aid of tea and delicious breads, supplied by Committee in charge.

Mrs. C. Sears Died Here

Mr. Clarence Sears aged 66, of Iroquois died suddenly at home on Saturday, Jan. 29/72.

Mr. Sears was born in Mountain Township and was a son of the late Sydney Sears and his wife Catherine Simzer. He was predeceased by his brothers and sister Cora and Howard of Kemptville and Willy of Mountain.

Left to mourn his loss are three sisters Mrs. Pearl Wyatt (Iroquois), Mrs. Margaret Wyatt (Vernon) and Mrs. Bertha Durant (Mountain) and several nieces and nephews.

The body rested at the Fitzsimmons Funeral Home where the funeral service was conducted in the chapel on Mon., Jan. 31 at 2 p.m. Rev. Brian Gee of Iroquois United Church officiated.

Pallbearers were Joseph Eckford, Earl Nesbitt, Tom Warren, Joseph Roberts, Dale Roberts and Leonard Roberts. Burial in the spring in South Gower Cemetery.

couple of seconds to remember which age should be added to the year of birth and whether or not the formula took leap year into account. It made for some interesting exchanges with the gas station attendants.

This could become the greatest game since Scrabble. The players could all draw license numbers from a stack of cards and then try to work out formulae for remembering them. The winner could be declared when all the other players had left the room tearing up their cards.

Most Dangerous Mile!

What will be your most dangerous mile to drive? Will it be a curving stretch of wet or icy road, or some long monotonous sleep-inducing stretch? Or will it be some street after the bars close? It will probably be none of these.

The most dangerous mile will quite likely be your next mile, wherever or whenever you drive it. Your next accident is waiting everywhere ahead of you on the road, and quite possible in the next mile.

What about your next mile? What could you possibly encounter? Do you see that speeding car hurtling towards you? Will that car in front of you stop or turn suddenly? Is the driver of that car drowsy?

Will a vehicle pass another vehicle directly in front of you? These are just a few of the hazards awaiting you in that mile.

The next mile is the maximum distance which you can readily spot a possible hazard and react to it. Watch for it to move from a possibility to a reality. You should be thinking of evasive and defensive measures you may have to take. Prepare yourself to take the best possible course of action. Once you have done this, start thinking about the next mile ahead. This is called driving defensively. If you worry about the next mile, all the others will take care of themselves.

Remember - if you avoid "near misses" you will avoid accidents.

Let's Support Mission '72

by Rev. Allan Rogers

Last evening, the Rev. John Hibbs was host and moderator of the second Tuesday in "Mission '72" that was held at Seaway District High School.

Helping him to present the theme "Restoration to God and Neighbour" were four lay leaders, Anne Yee, Clare Tucker, Michael Saver and James Hardy.

Next Tuesday's presentation will be made by Father Dan McDonald, whose theme will be "Response of Faith", and his aides will be Lorraine Norton, Dale Marcell, Lionel Chartrand and Len Roberts.

The Ministerial hopes for your continued support of Mission '72, especially because the study book presents such challenging material for study and discussion. "Christ is Alive" was written as recently as last year, and is a treasure house of spiritual, refreshing and relevant Christian Thinking today.

Michel Quoist writes: ... How could Jesus take on his shoulders the suffering of all mankind since the beginning of time? I began to understand the answer one day on Good Friday. I had gone to visit a sick child. The doctor was there, and he had just announced that he would have to do a bit of minor surgery.

We took the child to the window and sat him upon a chair. His mother was at his side, of course, pressed against him. Each time the doctor touched him, the child registered pain, and so did the mother. Each time the child groaned, the mother groaned. When the doctor had finished, the child felt nauseous and had to be put to bed. And the mother felt nauseous and had to be put to bed. In that instant, I understood: When we love, we suffer with the suffering of the one we love. ... I think that was the true suffering of Jesus".... (page 100, Christ is Alive)

Bell offers

New books for old will be arriving in most house-holds and places of business in Iroquois beginning Thursday, March 23. Gay, decorator colors of blue and green will again this year carry the invitation to "Please Look in the Book" on the new telephone directories.

New Books For Old

Designed to encourage telephone users to check the telephone listings in the directory before calling directory assistance, the books provide a handy "dictionary" on the telephone and its services, said Paul Perry, Bell Canada's manager for Iroquois.

The new book has the latest alphabetical listing of telephone subscribers. This makes it easier to check numbers without having to make an extra call to the directory assistance operator.

According to Mr. Perry almost 70 per cent of the calls to directory assistance operators last year were for numbers already listed in directories. Cost of providing directory assistance service continues to grow. In 1970, cost of providing directory assistance was many millions of dollars. Operator's salaries alone were nearly $10,000,000. These costs must eventually be reflected in the cost of service to customers, Mr. Perry said.

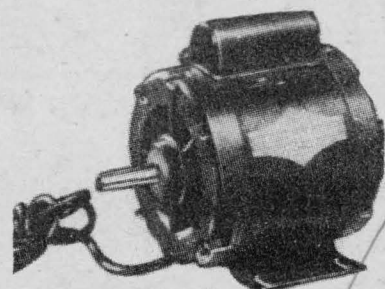

Along with the alphabetical listings, the introductory pages contain specific numbers for operator and directory assistance, repair service, business office, long distance directory service, local calling areas, information on how to make both direct-dialed long distance calls and those requiring the assistance of an operator.

More than 44,390 copies of the new Bell Canada telephone directory will be distributed in Iroquois and surrounding communities, including Brockville, Mr. Perry noted. He added that a pocket-sized Personal Directory, for keeping a list of frequently called numbers, is available without charge from the business office.

QUEEN'S PARK REPORT

Large crowds both inside and outside the Legislature, a colourful honour guard and a fanfare of trumpets welcomed Ontario Lieut. Governor W. Ross MacDonald on Tuesday of last week to officially open the second session of the 29th parliament of this province. The 4200 word speech from the throne read by Mr. MacDonald was a declaration of government policy which it hopes to implement in this session. The speech expressed confidence in attaining a growth rate of six percent and outlined plans, excluding an increase in taxes, to revitalize the government and the general economy of the province.

Now that the House is in full session I expect to report on a regular basis to my constituents through the courtesy of this newspaper.

During the past few weeks I have spent much time at Queens Park in answering and trying to resolve individual and municipal problems. However, the unemployment picture which this government will try to improve and the general economic conditions have created an additional load for members. In short I, along with other members, have been swamped with a variety of work and as a result I have not been able to meet with all municipal councils in Grenville-Dundas as yet. However, in the very near future I hope to meet with the remaining councils to discuss problem areas where I may be of some assistance.

Federal-provincial winter works incentive programs have taken much of my time and I have spent many hours on behalf of municipal councils in the riding making certain that their applications have been processed, and forwarded through the Toronto federal office to Ottawa. And although I am highly in favour of such programs I am concerned that under the federal program which provides such broad scope for application that grant have been made to questionable applicants, particularly in the Toronto area, while other worthwhile applications from small municipalities have not yet been processed. I question especially grants made under the federal local initiative program, Canada Manpower Centre, to groups in Rochdale college. This episode has led one Toronto paper to report that the grants are a "Sucker Fund." Indeed, it is hard to explain why groups of this kind are given money from the taxpayer for no general benefit while a municipality with a bonafide case is turned down.

Restructuring of government offices has resulted in the naming of new policy fields as follows: Social development Hon. Robert Welch; Resources development Hon. Bert Lawrence; Justice Hon. Allan Lawrence; Treasury, Economics and Inter-governmental affairs Hon. Darcy McKeough. The chairman of the policy field management team is Hon. Charles McNaughton. Scattered throughout these new policy fields are a conglomerate of departments and new ministers which have been shuttled around to create a more efficient government. Although there is a fair amount of confusion and uncertainty at the present time I believe that time will prove that this bold approach to government restructuring will produce a more efficient form of government and an equally more efficient work force in the Civil Service.

In the weeks ahead I hope to comment on the implementation of policies set down in the throne speech. Highlights from the throne speech are as follows:

The law regarding conflicts of interest at the municipal level will be clarified. Local election laws will be reformed and the property qualification will be abolished in municipal elections. At the same time, legislation will be introduced to stop the holding of more than one elected office at a time.

Summer employment programs for young people will be continued.

A commission will be appointed to improve the role of the private member in government process.

Students and their parents will be allowed to see the pupil's school records and greater safeguards will be provided for the confidentiality of these documents. Greater use of school buildings will be encouraged.

The government will seek a new relationship with the housing industry so that more and cheaper homes are available. Increasing emphasis will be put on developing better business techniques in farm management.

And the Farm Products Marketing Act and the Ontario Milk Act will be amended to give greater protection to the producers.

Legislation will be introduced providing insured services in nursing homes and homes for the aged.

There will be a program to remove abandoned cars and automobile graveyards.

THE TEACHERS VIEW

Greedy Or Idle?

What is today's worst crime? Greed or idleness? For Rev. Gerald W. Paul, greed is the nastier crime in today's society. He explains his choice in a fascinating little article "Don't be greedy... be lazy", which is found in the United Church Observer Of February, 1972.

To prove his point, he goes on to show how our society is hard on idleness and easy on greed and to compare the evil consequences of each vice.

Idleness is often associated with the young and "leads to boredom, and boredom looks for kicks of a kind that require little effort. Youth today have a very low threshold of boredom... The greater the boredom, the more the idle scrounge to find an instant interest which demands neither discipline, nor excellence."

Greed, on the other hand, seems to be the predominant vice of the parents of these young people. Greed is responsible for graft, corruption, tax evasion, smuggling, gambling, robbery, prostitution, swindling, fraud and murder. Violence and pollution are considered important problems today. Do the idle start wars? Do the idle cause the pollution of the St. Lawrence River or the death of Lake Erie? Greed is the root cause of these problems.

"Most of the world's troubles seem to come from people who are too busy," writes Evelyn Waugh. "If only politicians and scientists were lazier, how much happier we should all be. The lazy man is preserved from the commission of almost all the nastier crimes."

As I read and re-read this article, I kept wondering about the aims of our schools. What were we doing? Were we not just preparing them to join the ranks of the greedy? The stress in our schools remains on working, producing, competing, preparing for jobs. Above all, one must be practical!

Would this difference of outlook on greed and idleness explain much of the friction between parents and their young? Could it not partially account for the many young who are turned off by school?

Can you picture the reaction of the community to a high school which would allow students to relax and lounge in and around the school during regular school hours? In most cases, the school would be roundly condemned for fostering laziness. This was the initial reaction of teachers, administrators and parents to schools where this was tried.

It is because we equate lounging with evil?

There is certainly food for thought here. I found very appropriate Reverend Paul's conclusion to his article: "It's time to stop giving the idle a hard time and to put the screws to the greedy. We have nothing to lose, but our work ethic, our greed and much of the junk we've accumulated by the sweat of our brows."

Recreation Bridge Club

In spite of the bad weather, last Wednesday, a successful Iroquois Recreation Bridge Club night was held, thanks to our President Allen McIntosh, in the Adult Drop-in Centre. It was grand to have Mike & Danny McGinn and Doug Archibald with us. Eva Robinson was high lady. The ladies were outnumbered by the men this time 3 to 1, so 2nd high lady was Mike McGinn. High gentleman was Merle Hutt. That is two weeks in a row for Merle. Congratulations.

Second high gentleman was Casey Veltkamp. Once again 3 of 4 winners were from the country. So we town folk must pull up our socks and not allow this to continue. Hope more members come to play bridge this Wednesday. Remember, ladies, we need you.

and United Church of Canada, a mammoth World Relief poster exposition is being planned across Canada for Public and Separate School children between Grades 4 and 8.

Under the initiative of the Iroquois Ministerial, in the local community, the challenge will be presented to the young people this week by the clergy visiting the schools to tell them all about it. Rev. John Hibbs to Dixon's Corners; Rev. Brian Gee to Stampville; Rev. Allan Rogers to Iroquois Public, and Father McDonald to the Separate School.

The theme of the World Development and Relief Program is "Development is People"... "People seeking justice, creating change, discovering education, sharing relief".

The school children will be invited to create original posters that will show their own ideas of helping needy countries and people. The whole range of materials, designs, and content is left to the vivid imagination of each child. There are no specifics... just challenge!

The posters will be judged and displayed at the local schools, with an honourable mention from each class room, and a crisp new five dollar bill first prize winner will be chosen at each of the four schools.

At Easter, there will be a display of all the Expo Poster entries, after which the winning posters will be sent to Toronto. If they are selected from the submissions there, they will travel to Man and His World in Montreal, and to a Summer exhibition at the Calgary Stampede.

Parents are invited and encouraged to help their children with a research study of the developing countries. But the originality, material and presentation should take shape from the young person's creative ingenuity.

The death of Mary Priscilla Bickford occurred on Jan 26th, 1972, at the Wellington House, Prescott, where she had been a resident for some time.

Mrs. Bickford was born at Brinston, a daughter of the late George Collison and his wife, the former Elizabeth Quinell. She was in her 95th year.

She married Reuben Bickford in Sept. 1901 and they resided in Cleveland, U. S. A. until her husband's early death, when she came back to reside in the Brinston area. She leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Mrs. Cora Brinston of Cornwall, and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Bickford was a devoted member of Brinston United Church. Her remains rested at the Fairbairn Funeral Home and the service was conducted by Rev. James Stewart of Brinston United Church.

The floral tributes and charitable donations showed the high esteem to which the deceased was held.

The pallbearers were Gordon Cooper, Percy Gilmer, Lorne Strader and Floyd Thompson. Interment will take place in the Spruce Haven Cemetery in the Spring.

Rally Planned By Knox PYPS

The regular meeting of the Knox P.Y.P.S. was held Monday evening, March 6th, in the church-hall, with a good number of members present. The meeting was preceded by a meeting of the Presbytery Council, with Miss Lynn Cooper, President, presiding. Introductions were made around the room, and the formalities of minutes, treasurer's report acted upon. On a motion by the President of the Knox P.Y.P.S., the local society accepted the request to hold the Spring Rally of the Presbytery young people in Knox Church, Sat., April 29th, from 1-9 p.m. The visiting Council was thanked by the Knox member, Normar Ladouceur.

Miss Renee Barnhardt presided for the P.Y.P.S. meeting, with Miss Gwenn Smollett as Recording Secretary. Opening worship was conducted by the President, with Wendy Ward leading in the Scriptures, Miss Anne Yee in a reading entitled, "The Bad Governor", and Gwen Smollett in prayer. The Offering was received by the treasurer and dedicated with group prayer. Songs from the P.Y.P.S. from booklets were sung.

The study for the evening was conducted by Mrs. Judy Barnhardt and Gail Smollett. Two life situations were given to the young people, in groups, to discuss and reply to the questions submitted. Miss Rose Marie Lavallie and the Rev. John Hibbs replied for the groups and an open discussion held on "dealing with sudden issues in one's life or family that change the life-style of same". Mrs. Barnhardt concluded the study with a lenten reference to the Passion of Jesus Christ.

14 members answered the roll-call, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read, and the treasurer's report heard. It was noted that over $370 had been collected for the Heart Fund on the Sunday Blitz; and that there was an excellent profit on the Pancake Supper. A report was given on the forthcoming Cook Book project, with the congregation to be notified on Palm Sunday, March 26th, about this plan. A discussion on the Ice-Capades, resolved that some of the young people would attend through the Ken Strader Bus Lines arrangements.

During new business, it was agreed to assist the Session's Worship Committee in the presentation of "The Dialogue of the Twelve" litany at the Palm Sunday Worship Service. Plans for the annual Easter Sunrise Service, April 2nd, were made and the Executive appointed to meet with the Church Worship Committee on Sunday, March 12th, 2 p.m. to go over arrangements. A Spring Rally Committee was also appointed for the Presbytery young people. An outing to Toronto the weekend of May 19-22 was also tentatively agreed upon, with transportation arrangements through the adult leaders. And a Car-Wash at the Texaco Station, Sat., May 6th, was also considered.

Following the adjournment of the business session a delicious lunch was served by Rose Marie Lavallie and Renee Barnhardt, the meeting closing with the Mizpah Benediction.

Miss Anne Yee and Miss Gwen Smollett will conduct the study at the next meeting, with refreshments by Gail Smollett, the Rev. Hibbs, Neville Tompkins and Wendy Ward.

Ecumenical World Day of

Members of the congregations of all the village churches gathered in the sanctuary of Knox Presbyterian Church, Friday evening, March 3rd, for the annual Ecumenical Service commemorating the World Day of Prayer. An excellent turnout greeted the Planning Committee and the guest speaker, the Rev. Fr. Leo Byrne, of Cardianl. The Knox Junior Choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Ruby Bell, organist, and the Rev. John Hibbs, director, led in the ministry of music of this special service.

The theme of the occasion was "All Joy be Yours" with representatives of the Anglican, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and United communions giving leadership in the service and the responses.

Mrs. Ruth Fetterly, Mrs. Marie Mearns, Mrs. Frank Rooney and Mrs. Walter John-love of the deceased for life in all forms, from things of nature to those with whom she came in contact and those who ministered to her. She was known by her many acts of kindness and Christian charity.

Two of the deceased's favorite songs were used during the funeral service and Mrs. Captain A. Richardson sang as a solo the words, "In see page 11 son led in the sentence-responses, with Mrs. George Fowler, Mrs. Jessie Johnson, and Mrs. Frank Rooney giving leadership in assigned prayers.

Special hymn selections were chosen by the Planning Committee, including a newer addition to the Church's hymnology entitled, "Christ is the Lord of the Smallest Atom", and in which the Knox Junior Choir participated with rhythm instruments. The anthem selection, "There is Joy in Serving Jesus", was also enthusiastically rendered by the Junior Choir as an "expressive meditation" on the part of all in attendance.

Mrs. Marie Mearns, President of the Knox W.M.S. Auxiliary, introduced the Rev. Fr. Leo Byrne, guest speaker, who spoke on the prophetic call to prayer service in the Scriptures, relating his remarks to the Church today.

The ecumenical offering received was dedicated for the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada, providing a variety of relief aids throughout the world, and on behalf of many peoples. Mrs. J.W. Moke and Mrs. M. Hyslop were offering ushers.

The service concluded with the singing together of the stirring hymn, "O happy day, that fixed my choice", with the Rev. Hibbs pronouncing the Benediction.

Died At Cornwall

Funeral services were conducted recently for Mrs. Hazel M. Armstrong (nee Serviss) 73, of Cornwall who passed away on Feb. 18th at Cornwall General Hospital after a long illness.

Born at Iroquois Ont., where she received her early education, she was married to Edward J. Armstrong on Feb. 14, 1917. Prior to residing in Cornwall, they lived at Wagerville and Snyder Road, Ontario where Mr. Armstrong taught school. After moving to Cornwall in 1926, he was employed at Courtauld's Canada for 30 years.

Funeral was conducted by Captain A. Richardson, during which tribute was made to the life of the late Mrs. Armstrong by Mrs. Alf Walker who mentioned the great

Special Guest At IOOF

Miss Joyce Seeley, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Clifford Seeley of Prescott was the special guest at a recent open I.O.O.F. meeting in Iroquois. It was held under the joint auspices of Riverside Lodge No. 145, Iroquois, and Amity Lodge No. 80, Prescott, at the Fraternal Hall in Iroquois.

Miss Seeley, who was the sponsored delegate this year to attend sessions of the United Nations Assembly, recounted her experiences and impressions garnered during her trip to and from New York and during her attendance at U.N. Sessions.

She described her visit as being of more than ordinary interest, educational and worthwhile and expressed the gratitude to the sponsoring Prescott and Iroquois lodges for making the visit through their sponsorship.

Sponsorship of High School students by the Prescott and Iroquois I.O.O.F. lodges has been a joint project of these organizations for several years with this year's delegate Miss Seeley chosen from students attending the South Grenville District High School by open competition. A student from Iroquois will be sponsored in 1972.

Chairman for the evening was Brother Frank Bates, noble grand of Riverside Lodge.

The meeting closed with a social hour.

Atoms Down Morrisburg

In Atom "A" hockey this week, the highlight was Sunday afternoon's league play-off game with Morrisburg.

In an exciting, fast moving game, the tribe downed Morrisburg for the first time this season.

Morrisburg broke the ice at 12:50 in the first period on a power play goal by Jim Whelan. Forty seconds later, Robin Adair and Kim Adams combined to equalize the game. Robin put the puck away on a nice wrist shot over the goalers' shoulder with Kim picking up the assist. At 4:40 in the second period the Iroquois power play combined to score what proved to be the winning goal on a nice passing play - Adair scoring from Kim and Scott Brennan. The remainder of the game was fast moving end to end hockey featuring fine defensive play by both clubs.

Kent Smith stopped 14 Morrisburg shots, while the Morrisburg goalie held out 17 shots on goal. Kent was called on 4 times in the last minute of play when Morrisburg pulled their goalie to put 6 attackers on the ice. The win puts Iroquois up 1-0 in the best 2 of 3 league play off semi-finals.

Friday night Iroquois met a flying Cardinal team in a 2-2 exhibition game. Kim Adams and Mike Moran each scored with Robin Adair assisting both goals. Goal tending

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to express sincere thanks to my many friends, neighbours and relatives for the beautiful flowers, cards and gifts I received, and all who called to see me while I was in Brockville General Hospital.

Special thanks to Rev. Coleman, Rev. Rogers and Rev. Gee and for the many prayers on my behalf, to Dr. Forbes, Dr. McDougall, the nurses and staff on the 4th floor. These kindnesses will always be remembered.

Mrs. Lydia Mustard
38-1-p

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, memorial cards and beautiful floral offerings received from relatives, neighbours and many friends during the death of my brother and uncle Clarence Sears.

We especially want to thank the Ladies' Auxiliary Br. 370, The Fitzsimmons Funeral Home and the Rev. Brian Gee for his comforting message.

Mrs. Paul Wyatt & family

Grows

"Education Week" is traditionally a time when schools put out their welcome mats to the community. In its turn, the community responds and acknowledges the work its schools are doing.

St. Mary's School in Morrisburg rolled out the welcome mat for a number of visitors from the community this week. The school nurse, Mrs. Gail Van Noy, outlined her work in the various schools, and displayed the many pieces of equipment she uses to ensure that the children are healthy. Wednesday, March 8th was Open House at school for the parents of the children. With the sound of the bell at nine o'clock, many mothers and fathers were on time for school, and promptly entered the classrooms. Throughout the day, the children engaged in their usual class activities and the parents mingled, observed, and participated in many of these functions. The school remained open in the evening for those not able to come during the day.

Reeve Carlton McInnis greeted the children on Thursday in a brief discussion-type talk in which his duties as Reeve and Warden were outlined. As the first Warden and a senior citizen of the village of Morrisburg, Mr. Fred Broder, visited the school and briefly described "early" Morrisburg, and entertained questions from the children.
