Three people die in area fires

The shell of this house on Dundas Street in Cardinal has been boarded up, following an investigation into the cause of a fire that took the life of 8-year-old Paul Laushway last Wednesday.

A pile of rubble is all that remains of the Hulbert home of Charlie Markell and family. Mr. Markell lost his wife Marilyn and son, Kevin in the fire which swept the house on Monday morning.

Three people have died in house fires in the area during the past week. A fire on Monday morning at Hulbert claimed the life of a mother and her son, while an eight-year-old boy died in a blaze in Cardinal last Wednesday morning. Both fires also sent other members of the families involved to hospital with burns.

Two Die at Hulbert

The Hulbert fire which destroyed the home of Charlie Markell took the life of his 22-year-old wife Marilyn and one of their sons, 6-year-old Kevin. Mr. Markell, 29, and another son Calvin, 5, escaped the blaze along with an overnight guest, 14-year old Tansy Chapman.

Morrisburg OPP were advised of the blaze by a neighbour around 4:00 a.m. Monday and notified fire fighters from Iroquois. When the men arrived on the scene, the volunteers from South Mountain were already there, but the two-storey frame house was burning out of control and could not be saved.

According to police, Mr. Markell awoke to find the house already ablaze and was barely able to escape. He, his son Calvin and Miss Chapman were all taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital where they were treated for burns. Mr. Markell was released later on Monday but the two others were kept in hospital, although their condition is not regarded as serious.

Coroner Dr. John Marston was called to the scene and pronounced both Mrs. Markell and Kevin dead at the scene.

Fire Marshal Lalonde from Cornwall arrived later on Monday morning to search the ruins in an attempt to find the cause of the fire

According to OPP officers, an overheated electric heater appears to have been a possible cause for the fire.

The fire is under the investigation of Constable Lee McCaslin of the Morrisburg detachment of the OPP, assisted by Corporal Don Prentiss.

Cardinal Fatality First in Years

An inquest will be held late in May into the death of the eight year old boy who died when fire swept through a Cardinal home last Wednesday morning, sending the rest of his family to hospital. Leeds County Coroner. Dr. Douglas Wight has called the inquest because of the many unknown factors involved in the blaze and susequent death of Paul Laushway.

No date has yet been set for the inquest due to the fact that data on the fire will have to be assembled and pieced together. Fire Marshal Dave Shorey of Brockville and Bud McLaren from the Energy Safety Branch of the Consumer and Commercial Relations were at the scene late last week searching through the debris in an attempt to find a cause for the fire.

People living in the area report having heard an explosion prior to the fire, so the men are attempting to reconstruct a propane gas stove in the kitchen where it is believed the fire started.

The fire, which broke out about 8:30 a.m. last Wednesday, sent four other members of the family to hospital with burns. Gregory Laushway, the father of the dead boy is in Hotel Dieu Hospital in Kingston along with another child, Five-year-old Steven. Mrs. Lausway and two-year-old Robbie are in Brockville General Hospital. Mr. Laushway is an employee at Morrisburg's Loyalist Hotel.

Cardinal Fire Chief Ted Campbell has said that the fire was the first one in Cardinal in his memory has claimed a life.

Cardinal firemen arrived on the scene to find flames already shooting from the windows of the old duplex which had served as a stagecoach stop in its early days. Neighbours reported that they had heard an explosion and had seen Mr. Laushway jump from a second storey window, holding his two-year-old son in his arms. Mrs. Laushway also jumped out a window holding five-year-old Steven.

Cardinal Police Chief Walter Kolodziechuk was one of the first on the scene and talked to neighbours in an attempt to piece the details of the tragedy. The body of eight-year-old Paul was found in the kitchen of the home by firemen about two hours after the fire had began. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Wight, the coroner. Firemen had attempted to find the boy earlier but, although they were equipped with airpacks, they could not negotiate the smoke and heat and were driven out.

The family of Wallace "Butch" Stevenson who lived in the other half of the house smelled smoke and managed to escape with only the clothes they were wearing. The seven-member family are living temporarily with relatives

Drop-in centre to open in plaza

A combined youth drop-in centre, arts and crafts workshop and job placement centre will be opening this weekend in the premises formerly occupied by the Craft House in the Iroquois Shopping Plaza. A group of approximately 25 young people and interested adults met with Iroquois village council in a special meeting on Thursday evening to settle the issue which has prompted some heated debate in the village.

The Craft House has been an unofficial drop-in centre for the village's youth for a number of years and when propietor Bob Martin decided to close the store and operate out of his home, the young people formulated plans to take over the rent on his store and convert it to a youth club. Ontario Hydro who own the store will not rent it without the backing of the village council nor would they allow the young people to rent it directly, so council was approached with the proposal to rent the building and sub-let it to the youth group.

Spokesmen for the group were Gail Webster a trained community development worker with a professional background in senior citizen and youth projects and Steve Donaldson, a leather craftsman who has been working at the Craft House for a few months. Both Miss Webster and Mr. Donaldson have volunteered their services to act as supervisors for the summer. They told Deputy Reeve, Frank Rooney that together with the young people in the club executive they made plans for a number of summer projects.

There has been some degree of skepticism about the arrangement because similar ventures have been tried over the past 10 years with only limited success. A coffee house was operated for several summers from both the Craft House location and from Becker's Milk Store, but as interest fell off, the doors closed.

The group in attendance at Thursday's meeting were quick to point out that this operation is different in that it involves the services of two full-time adult supervisors and also offers more than just a place to pass the hours. The Youth For Action Club presented a four page brief to council, in which they outlined their plans for the next four months. As well as being a focal point for the leisure time of young people between the ages of 10 and 17, the club will, according to the brief, provide arts and crafts workshops, musical workshops, job placement, environmental clean-ups, along with social and fund-raising activities.

The brief pointed out that there is little of a non-athletic nature for young people to do when school is out and offered ways to fill the gap with constructive, creative pastimes, as well as recreational activities. All financial, staffing and supervisory details are spelled out in the brief with a list of regulations for members and a proposed operating schedule.

The group came to the meeting prepared to deal with opposition, but found little. Their arsenal included a petition signed by many parents in the village, a list of figures to prove they would not be in a financial burden to the village, and a guarantee that there would be no drugs or alcohol in the building. Also present to speak on the group's behalf was Ian Miller, Community Resources Co-ordinator for the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education, who stated that the project was an excellent one that filled a definite need. He noted that the Board could put its resources and support behind the club by making the facilities of Seaway District High School available for activities, with the approval of the principal.

The subject of finance was covered thoroughly, but there too, the group had done its homework. The rent for the building, which is $240.00 per month will more than be covered by the operation of a juke box and pinball machines. In addition fund raising activities will be held to pay other expenses. One of the parents in attendance also pointed out that, unlike the minor softball program and swimming, this project was to be self supporting and should thus meet with no obstacles from council.

The rent issue has already been discussed by Clifton Davis representing Ontario Hydro's Property Division, and Steve Donaldson. Mr. Davis stated that the last time the store was used as a summer youth centre, the rent was waived and the group was allowed use of the building for a token fee of $1.00, although he could give no indication that this would be the case again.

With the presentation by the Youth For Action Club concluded and most questions answered, Deputy Reeve, Frank Rooney stated that an answer on the issue would be forthcoming in a day or so, after council had a chance to discuss the proposal in privacy. Under questioning from George Jackson, one of the parents in attendance, on why there should be any need for a private discussion, Mr. Rooney stood his ground, saying that he and council insisted on the right to talk privately on the matter and that if people didn't like the way things were being done, they could say so at this December's election.

Council met in closed session and presented a decision on Friday morning to the effect that they approved in principle, the operation of the Youth Centre. The arrangement is subject to several provisions regarding improper behavior, excessive noise, and bicycles, littering the sidewalk near the store. The place will operate on a month-to-month basis with the rent payable in advance to Iroquois Council.

Schools: Government grants down - Taxes up

As the government's share goes down, the taxes have to go up. It's that simple for the Stormont Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education. Revenue from the Province of Ontario has dropped by anywhere from 10 to15 per cent and taxes to local ratepayers will rise by about the same amount to cover education costs.

Lorne Mellan, School Board representative for Iroquois and Matilda Township gave the Post several graphs outling the financial position the board is in with regard to cutbacks in provincial grants.

For the years 1974 and 1975, funds from the province accounted for about 65 per cent of the Board's income for elementary education and in the area of 75 per cent for secondary education. Budget figures for 1976 show that the income from provincial sources will account for only about 55 and 65 per cent for elementary and secondary education, respectively.

This difference is reflected quite accurately in the municipal taxation figures. In 1974 and 1975, municipal taxes provided almost 30 per cent of the elementary budget and 20 per cent of the secondary budget. For 1976, those figures have changed accordingly with local taxes providing about 30 and 40 per cent for elementary and secondary education, respectively.

Figures for the expenditures by the Board show noteable increases only in the area of instruction, while other costs have actually been trimmed from the 1974 and 1975 figures. The cost of instruction has risen in the elementary sector from the 1975 figure of 64 per cent of the total expenses to around 70 per cent. At the secondary level, the figure has gone from 67 to 71 per cent. Administration costs which account for about 3 percent of the total expenditure have risen fractionally for the elementary schools and fallen about the same amount for the secondary schools.

Cutbacks of about two per cent

Clean sweep for Morrisburg Lions

The Morrisburg Lions have won every trophy possible for a team in their 27 team League. The team defeated the Hawkesbury Hawks on Sunday in the 7th game of their playoff series to take the Citizen Cup, the highest honour for a team in the Ottawa District Junior "B" league.

This is the first time that a team from Morrisburg has won the honour and achieve it they eliminated teams from Metcalfe, Cardinal, and Gananoque before going on to the team from Hawkesbury.

Now the Lions, having won seven trophies in all, have a problem. Where do you put that many trophies when your trophy case is full? With both cases at the Morrisburg arena already full, there is no place left to put the two trophies that were awarded on Sunday afternoon.

The Lions opened up a 6-0 lead on Sunday afternoon in the first period before a jam-packed crowd of nearly 1800 people, and went on to score a 10 to 4 victory before the final buzzer sounded. Jeff Cassel scored his first goal of

Give Them A Chance

As someone pointed out at last Thursday's meeting of council, there's a new generation of young people in Iroquois and they want to be given a chance to prove they can operate a successful youth centre. With this in mind, council has cautiously given the go-head for what will hopefully be a rewarding summer project for all concerned -- a youth drop-in and activity centre.

It's true that the project has been tried before, with varying degrees of success, but that was several years ago. Now there is a new group of young people who have new ideas and a new optimism that they can operate a reputable, worthwhile centre.

There's been plenty of speculation about the illicit use of drugs and alcohol by minors, and theories that the centre would turn into a den of sin. Those who will be in charge of the operation have given assurance that there will be no such actions, and council can only base their decision on that assurance.

Youth For Action has stated that there is little for young people to do in Iroquois during the summer unless they want to be involved in athletic activities all day. The centre is designed to offer an alternative with crafts workshops, music and photography workshops and supervised recreation. The proposal that the group presented was impressive and convincing. Now all that's necessary is to carry it out with some action. We wish them good luck.

They at least deserve a chance to try.

National Child Safety Week

There is no question that accidents are costly to society. In this day and age, failure to try to prevent injuries is indefensible.

The practical and moral aspects of accident prevention are interrelated, because accidents result both in waste of resources and in physical and mental anguish. Never is this anguish more intense than when children are involved.

Experience has shown that there is virtually no hazard which cannot be overcome by practical safety measures. The future may introduce a type of unavoidable accident, but history indicates that practically all barriers to safety can be overcome.

The Canada Safety Council annually sponsors National Child Safety Week to impress on adults the need to apply this safety philosophy especially were children are concerned. The young are not sufficiently experienced to recognize the many hazards of everyday life and must rely on adults for guidance and example.

Springtime Danger

Now that spring is here, one of the most ancient and international of pastimes is out for its annual airing.

Look up almost anywhere where there is a field and you will find bright adventurous kites darting and soaring across the deep blue skies. But wait a minute....there are hazards today which didn't bother kite fliers through earlier ages.

Local and provincial Hydro utilities warn that unless special precautions are taken, accidents or even a tragedy can happen as a result of flying kites without caution.

One fatality occurred for instance when a kiter riding his bicycle on a country road steered his high-flying toy into an overhead electric wire. The electricity quickly ran through the copperized kite line to ground and killed the young hobbyist.

Metallic lines are being used more and more frequently and they are dangerous. When these lines come in contact with electric power lines there is a very good chance of a serious accident.

Every year Hydro authorities find it necessary to repeat the warnings about flying kites in the vicinity of power lines.

Don't.

Paperwork holiday?

By KENNETH McDONALD

In their battle with inflation, Canadians will have to decide between a competitive market economy and permanent wage and price controls. The U.S. is opting for the free enterprise alternative, as Canadian visitors are quick to notice.

Regular gasoline in the U.S. varies between a low of 60 cents and a high of 75 cents per Imperial gallon. Milk and eggs are as much as 40 per cent cheaper there than in Canada. House prices are two-thirds to one half of the Canadian equivalent.

The head of the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board is urging deregulation of airline fares as the solution to rising travel costs. Imagine the Chairman of the Canadian Transport Commission (Edgar Benson -- remember him?) urging the break-up of Air Canada's monopoly!

Moreover, there are checks and balances on government spending in the U.S. which are sadly lacking in Canada. A U.S. congressional committee can require any government official or private citizen to appear before it as often and for as long as it wishes.

In April, 1976, in Ottawa, the Opposition defence critic was permitted only two 15-minute periods to question Defence Minister James Richardson before the External Affairs and National Defence Committee about the Government's $1 billion airplane purchase from Lockheed.

Ottawa says the purchase will create 2,500 jobs in Canada. That's $400,000 per job. Yet mismanagement of the Lockheed deal has Ottawa scrambling to borrow $300 million from Canadian banks to help that scandal-plagued company. This at a time when the Canadian small business community, which can create jobs for between $3,000 and $10,000 each, is desperate for investment capital at a reasonable rate.

In the U.S., a presidential commission has been established to ease the oppressive burden of paperwork on the economy in general and on small business in particular. Deregulation and eliminating forms go hand in hand.

A Quebec member of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business put it well: "I am expected, inspected, disrespected, suspected, dejected, examined, re-examined, commanded and compelled."

What Canada needs is not another public holiday but a paper holiday. To celebrate it, Statistics Canada would issue its longest, and final, bulletin: "The following forms have been withdrawn and are no longer required."

French with Tears

By BILL SMILEY

YOU can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. You can't teach an old dog new tricks. You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

To these old adages might be added another, closely related. You can't create a fluent, sparkling, bilingual cosmopolitan out of a dull, middle-class, middle-aged civil servant.

I'm glad to see that some semblance of sense has seeped into the senility surrounding the approach to bilingualism at Ottawa.

Keith Spicer, the grand poobah of bilingualism, appointed by the Trudeau government to wet-nurse one of its favorite babies, has finally reached a conclusion that an average 12-year-old could have arrived at, without undue mental strain, in about 15 minutes.

He decided, and had the courage to admit, that the government program for creating bilingualism in the civil service was bass ackwards.

Some unkind people might say that Ottawa civil servants have always spoken with a double tongue, even when they had only one language, and why have them speaking doubletalk in two?

Instead of pouring millions into converting stodgy civil servants into connoisseurs of French language and culture, Mr. Spicer concedes, the money should be spent in the schools, teaching French to children. Great thinking, Keith. Anyone with any knowledge of learning a second language could have told you that two years ago.

Ordinary, every-day common sense and experience shows us how true this is. Take an average family of immigrants to Canada, German, Italian, whatever you like. The parents have great difficulty in learning English, and retain a strong accent all their lives.

Their children, even though their only language is their native one when they arrive here, and even though it is spoken almost exclusively at home, are completely at ease in English within a year or two. To hear them chirp and prattle away in the idiom, you'd never know that they weren't born and bred in English-speaking Canada.

For an adult, learning a new language is horribly hard work. And for a bureaucrat or civil servant, it must be doubly difficult, because their minds are constitutionally unable to admit anything new.

French-Canadians who want to get somewhere in Canada, whether it's in business or politics, learn English because they have to. Whatever the pundits say, this is primarily an English-speaking country.

Most French-Canadian cabinet ministers are at least adequate in English. Some politicians, like Pierre Trudeau and Claude Wagner, speak English beautifully, far better than most of their Anglophone peers and opponents.

But when an Anglo politician speaks French, however atrociously, we look upon him or her with amazement, as though it were a sign of genius. What hypocrisy, in a country that is, theoretically, bilingual. (I still wince every time John Diefenbaker strays into what he fondly believes is French.)

As you may have gathered, I have strong feelings about bilingualism. Unlike a great many Canadians, I am all for it. But the government's approach to creating that blessed state has been at best a farce, a charade, at worst a swindle of the taxpayers.

Of course the beginnings must be with the children! On the surface, the study of French in our schools has been encouraged by government. In fact, the moneys for a practical, realistic approach to learning French have been held back from the schools and poured into that bottomless pit at Ottawa.

French has practically been abolished as a prerequisite for university entrance. As a result, and because learning it requires some real effort, students shy away from it and look for "bird" courses.

Result, French classes in our schools have shrunk deplorably. This, despite the fact that French is being taught better, and in a more lively, interesting, and realistic way, than ever before. (I studied French for five years in high school, three in university, and can barely proposition a girl, let alone order a meal in French.)

O.K. Let's start all over again with our bilingual program, and forget that painful failure in Ottawa.

Start teaching it to kids in Grade 1. Keep it up. Make it a prerequisite for university.

"Double-parking, eh?"

by J.M.

There were plenty of beaming young faces in the Iroquois Civic Centre on Monday evening as the Iroquois and District Minor Hockey Association wrapped up the 1975-76 season with an awards night. It was the culmination of a season of hard work for Association President, Ted Styles and a number of coaches and parents. There should also be an award for those parents who get out of a warm bed on a Saturday morning to take their youngsters to a game or tournament. They have ventured out to games in weather that wasn't fit for even a mother-in-law to be out in. But, perhaps the look of pride on their son's faces was reward enough.

The Iroquois Youth For Action Club, which will be taking over the Craft House premises, is in the market for used furniture, books, games etc. as they set up their youth drop-in centre. Gail Webster, one of the adult supervisors, says the group will be grateful for any donations of furniture, books, and such things. The club hopes to open late this week and there's been talk also, of making it available to the senior citizens during school hours.

Some readers of the Post, especially in Iroquois, received their paper a bit late last week, but this time we can't blame the Post Office. We were still heading for the printing plant at the hour when we usually have the Post in the mail. Last week was no ordinary one, as we launched the "new look" of the Post with all new typesetting equipment. Getting the kinks out proved to be a more time-consuming job than we had anticipated. Actually there were more kinks in the people than the equipment and we spent 36 fun-filled hours working on it before hitting the feathers. We can only hope for an improvement this week, as we get the hang of things.

This week our continuing saga of the spelling of Hainsville includes a letter form a former resident of the area and a grand-daughter of Richard Hanes, who we mentioned last week. Many people, particularly former students at Iroquois Public School, will remember Kathleen Fader [at that time, Mrs. Kathleen Shaver] who taught us and plenty of others in Grade 5. She writes to tell us that her great grandfather, Jacob Hanes and family came to settle near what is now Hainsville, from Pennsylvania, as Dutch United Empire Loyalists. They operated a sawmill for several years, then finding the soil suitable, built a brickmill which was operated by Richard Hanes, one of the sons. As for the spelling change from "Hanes" to "Hains", she says, that was done by an official who didn't know what he was doing. The spelling has stuck for all these years and as Mrs. Fader says, "You can't argue with a signpost on the corner about spelling." These facts were borne out by our references last week to "The Story of Dundas", but it was a pleasant surprise to hear from Mrs. Fader.

Hockey season ends with awards presentation

The hockey season for the Iroquois and District Minor Hockey Association drew to a close on Monday night with the annual awards presentation ceremony attended by a large number of boys and their parents in the Iroquois Civic Centre. Outgoing league president, Ted Styles welcomed the group and acted as master of ceremonies for the evening, thanking those present for their support throughout the year.

Remarks were offered by Frank Rooney, on behalf of Iroquois village council, and by Matilda Township Reeve, George Cooper. Both men spoke of the fine co-operation between the two municipalities in the organization and operation of the minor hockey league. Reeve Cooper offered the hope that it would not be too many years before Iroquois and Matilda would be able to hold hockey games on their own ice in an arena which would serve both municipalities. He urged parents to let councillors know their feelings about the arena and to get behind the project with their support.

John McAllister and Mike Ault (substituting for Miles Lewis) spoke on behalf of the Iroquois and Matilda Recreation Committees, telling of their roles in the operation of minor hockey and congratulating the boys on a good season.

The Prunner Trophy for the league's most valuable goaltender went to Jeff Whitteker whose goal against average of 1.41 was the best in the league.

The Legion Trophy for the best goaltender in the "B" league was presented to Rene Laframboise, goalie for the Atom B's.

Best all around player trophy for the "A" Division, Upper St. Lawrence went to Marty Hamilton while the same trophy in the "B" Division, Upper Canada, was presented to Dale Baldwin.

Crests were presented to all members of each team in the league as well as to the referees, and executive. Coaches, too, were honoured with crests for the team they worked with, and these were as follows: Tykes - Dean McCurdy and Jim Eden; Novices - Casey Veltkamp, Bill Horner, and Kent McDermid; Atom A - Bill Lee and Mike Ault; Atom B - Mike Laframboise and Ben Albers; Pee Wee A - Jim Shaw and Wayne Patterson; Pee Wee B - Don Seely and Charlie Waddell; Bantam A - Don Prentiss and Harold Theriault; Bantam B - Ron Whitteker and Brent Lapier.

Parents are reminded that a meeting will be held next Monday night to elect a new executive for the 1976-77 season and a large attendance is vital.

May 12 - Hospital Day

Wednesday, May 12 has been proclaimed Canada Hospital Day by Minister of National and Welfare, Marc Lalonde. Recognition of Hospital Day gives all Canadians the opportunity to acknowledge the part played by hospital staffs, trustees and volunteers to serve their communities across Canada.

The theme for Canada Hospital Day 1976 is "A Costly Business - But Still Your Best Value". Canada is one of the few countries in the world where no person is denied necessary health care because of his financial status. Canadians can be proud to have health care delivery system that is one of the best in the world.

Plans are being formulated how best to observe the day in our local hospital, the Winchester District Memorial Hospital and will be available shortly.

Collect for fire victims

A relief operation has been set up for Charlie Markell who lost his wife, one of his two children, and his home in a fire early on Monday morning. Mrs. Elton Cassidy of Hulbert, has begun to co-ordinate a collection of clothing, furniture, household articles and money to assist Mr. Markell.

She has advised the Post that donations of clothing for Mr. Markell and his 4-year-old son can be left at her home im Hulbert as well as cash donations that people may want to make. Furniture donations will be stored temporarily in Scharfe's cheese factory and Mrs. Cassidy has asked people with furniture to give Mr. Markell, phone her first to arrange for storage in the factory.

TV RADIO NEWS

by Ross Mutton

Last week at the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, Communications Minister Jeanne Sauve advised Canadian broadcasters that they were going to have to spend more money on Canadian programming that would attract the audience away from the violent American programs that fill the television screens. Canadian programming on our private stations leaves a lot to be desired. It consists mainly of game shows, sports events and the odd situation comedy and variety program. In the drama, comedy and variety field, these programs just don't compare to those from the U.S. for American Programs cost about 10 times as much to produce. Thus, it is cheaper for Canadian stations to import American programs than to try and produce comparable programs . However, there are two problems with this theory.

The first is the feeling that Canadian television should reflect the cultural identity of this country and not be an outlet for spreading the Great American Culture northward.Secondly, American dramatic television series, particularly the police dramas, have contained more violent acts in the last couple of years. Much concern has been expressed over this situation, resulting in inquiries and commissions including Ontario's Royal Commission on Violence in the Communications Industry, headed by Judy La Marsh. The "family viewing hour" in the U.S. has meant only that all the killing and shooting is now confined to the hours of 9 and 11 p.m. At any rate, it is the hope of Jeanne Sauve that Canadian broadcasters will produce good quality alternative programs. They say they need money. If they express a definite willingness to produce such programs, the Minister of Communications is willing to change the regulations on cable television ownership so that broadcasters could own cable companies. The theory here is that the broadcasters would take the increased revenue and use it for producing Canadian programs. Let's just hope that's where the money would go.

In the past few years, it has become commonplace to hear about multi-year million dollar contracts in the sports world. Well, now the world of television news has joined in the fun. Barbara Walters, currently co-hosting NBC's Today Show, has signed a contract with ABC giving her a cool million for a year's work co-anchoring the ABC Evening News with Harry Reasoner. She will become the first woman to take on such a position and she will easily be the highest paid. ABC hopes that her appeal will draw viewers to their newscast, thus increasing their ratings and of course the money they receive from advertising reveue. I wonder what Lloyd Robertson will have to say at his next contract renewal.

OPP Warn Against Con Men

J. P. Watson,
Community Services Officer for Dundas County.

At this time of year the phoney con-artists are beginning to appear again. These people are operating on roof repairs, paint jobs - aluminum siding - driveway repairs, and practically any jobs around the house. They are extremely plausible people and are difficult to detect by their manner and easy talking style. The best advice is not to deal with any strangers at the door unless they are representatives of reputable companys.

Many members of the public are aware of the dangers of doing business with casual visitors at their doors, however many persons are being "taken" every year, usually senior citizens who are simply too embarassed to let anyone know. Be on your guard, and if in doubt don't get involved, it may appear to be a good deal, but usually results in exorbitant costs to the customer, for a very poor job of work. If anyone has any suspicions that con-artists are around advise your local Police Office.

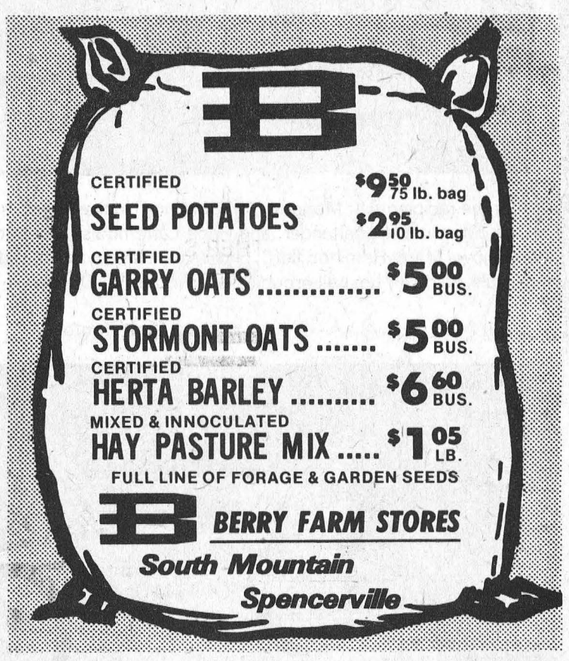
have been projected for the budget in the area of plant operation and maintenance for both elementary and secondary schools.

It's worth noting also, that the second largest single expense to the Board is debt charges, with the figures rising from a 1974 figure of 6 per cent for secondary schools to the 1976 figure of 8 per cent of total expenditure. That same figure for the elementary schools has been trimmed from 9 to 6 per cent over the three year period.

Transportation costs have taken a modest decrease of about one per cent in the past two years, with more of a decline in the 1976 budget forecast.



4-H Vet club studies farm drugs

The leaders of the Dundas 4-H Veterinary Club were late, because of the irregular time of the meeting on Monday, April 26.

The meeting of the club was held at 7:30 p.m. at the OMAF Board room in Winchester. The clubs leaders, Dan Johnstone and Gary Howes were late for the meeting, because of their "Forgetfulness" over what I think was getting the land ready for seeding or planting during that short summer season we had.

At the meeting the club had it's regular opening procedures, then followed by Gary Howes asking if everybody in the club had done their homework which was to make a list of all the drugs they had on their farm. The list was to consist of: withholding dates (if found on drug), company made by, use, and of course the amount to be used.

After discussing the homework the club had to do, the leaders told the members of the club all about the two major kinds of Calf Scours which many a farm in Dundas County has. The leaders were very blunt with their explanations of why Calf Scours are predominant in this County because there aren't very many scientific names for why. Dan Johnstone told the club about the ever-dangerous cause of Milk Fever, he also told us some of the precautionary steps one would take in preventing it.

The meeting was then adjourned and decided that the next meeting would be held at the home of Dwight Gilmer at 8 p.m. on May 17.

New X-Ray room for WDMH

Ministry of Health officials are studying a request by the Winchester District Memorial Hospital for approval of a relocation program which, among other things, will provide for a larger pharmacy, a better location of the Nursing Office, and an additional X-Ray room. The estimated cost of this program now stands at approximately $180,000 of which $170,000 would be available under the present grant system if approval for the project can be obtained.

This was noted at the regular meeting of the hospital Board of Governors held last week.

Mr. Ed Hanson, the new President of the Board of Governors welcomed all members to the first meeting of the Board after the April 6, 1976 Annual Meeting and extended a special welcome to the two new members of the Board, Mrs. Ann Lee Carscadden of Russell, Ontario and Mr. Clare S. Brown of Iroquois, Ontario. The new Director of Nursing, Mrs. Caroline Manley of Berwick, Ontario was introduced to the members present.

It was noted that all recommendations made by the Public Relations Committee, which the Board approved on March 23, 1976 are being implemented, including the preparation of the Patient Information Booklet, the Annual Report Booklet, the patient pre-admission form and the long term service award system.

Staff Residence monthly Rentals will be increased to $55.00 per month effective May 1, 1976 while rental agreement with the Seaway Ambulance Serivce Ltd. which has accomodation in the west-end of the residence has also been finalized. The necessary consturction in the residence to allow for the implementation of this rental agreement has also been completed.

A letter was received from Mrs. Roma McMillan, who will be retiring from her position as Business Office Supervisor on August 1, 1976, in which she thanked the Board for the opportunity to be of service to patients and public. Mrs. McMillan will be honoured for her longtime service as part of the program to be held for this purpose for several other employees later on in the fall of this year.

Reports were received from the Director of Nursing, the Hospital Auxiliary and the Administrator. These reports were accepted as presented and they dealt with such items as staff turnover for February and March (slight), O.H.A. District and Board participation by the Administrator, approval for the wearing of coloured uniforms by nursing personnel throughout the hospital, prevention of sick-leave misuse, changes in staffing patterns for the nursing office and, nursing units, and the Antique and Craft Market, sponsored by the Auxiliary and which is to be held on June 25 and 26, 1976 in the Community Centre t Winchester, Ontario.

The Joint Conference Committee met on April 22, 1976 for its first quarterly meeting of the year under the Chairmanship of Mr. G.E. Elliott, the immediate past president of the Board.

The Committee decided to review the accreditation recommendations at the next meeting to be held in June, discussed the adoption of the addressograph system to the Emergency-Out-Patient Department patient record system and the proposed re-location program, which, if approved and implemented, will provide for a third X-Ray room.

Mention was made of the fact that repairs to the roof over the 1948 wing have been started by Tom Heaphy Roofing and are expected to be completed within the next two to three weeks. The cost of this repair work, which will be approximately $8000.

the series at 3.04 to give the Lions the 1-0 lead. Ernie Duval scored at 4.51; Doug McNairn at 9.05; Bill Veley at 11:02 on a power play; Kevin Duvall at 11:45 also on a power play, and Brian Moran at 12:31 for a 6-0 lead. Mike Kelly scored the lone Hawk goal at 16.40.

In the second period 2 goals by the Hawks narrowed the Lions lead to 6-3. Pierre Louiseize at 13:33 and Dan Conway at 16:21. Third period Lions came roaring back, Ernie Duval at 1:14 and Hugh Gillard at 6.22 increased Lions lead to 8-3. Louiseize scored the last Hawk goal at 7:50 on a power play. Hugh Gillard at 11:28 and Bob McNairn at 12:23 on a power play completed the scoring.

Referee Ray Jollimore was kept busy. He gave the Lions 12 minors, 3 majors and game misconducts to David Cassell and Steve Montpetit. The Hawks were assessed 14 minors, 4 majors and game misconducts to Doug Kelly, Michel Bertrand and Jim Radford.

The Lions enjoyed a very successful season, playing 60 games, winning 45, losing 9 and tieing 6. After the game 2 trophies were presented to the team - "O.D.H.A. Junior 'B' Championship Trophy" and the "Ottawa District Junior 'b' Champs". These will be added to the others received this year - "The Winchester Press Challenge Trophy" for the Division Pennant; "The Gill Cup" for Division Winners; "President's Trophy" to Kevin Duvall for Top Division Scorer; "Canadian Legion Trophy" to Don McNairn for Top Division Goalie; "Bill Lineger Memorial Trophy" to Ken Morrow, Jr. for Coach of the Year.

FRIDAY - The Lions lost 5-3 to the Hawks to force the 7th and final game. Jim Radford opened the Hawks scoring at 8:3 with each team having 1 man in the penalty box, and Kevin Duvall hurt on the play, left on ice in Hawkes end. Dan Conway made it 2-0 at 14.58. Chuck Lawlor put the Lions on the scoresheet at 17.33. The second period was scoreless. Kevin Duvall tied the game at 6.57 of the third period, and Chuck Lawlor gave the Lions a 3-2 lead at 12:14 when he fired in a goal from a pass from defenceman David Cassell from the point. Hawks came back with 3 goals for the 5-3 win. Pierre Louiseize on a power play at 14:35; Louiseize at 15:17 and Yvon Joly at 19:55 an empty net goal. Hawkes received 8 minors and 1 major while the Lions were assessed 5 minors.

Players and fans were shocked to see damage done to their bus when they left the arena - air let out of tires, lights smashed. The damage was repaired and everybody made it home relieved. Sunday the Hawks brought 3 buses, but the Lions fans refrained from any reprisal.

The Morrisburg Lions walked off with every trophy in the book this year and last Sunday saw the season draw to a close. Here, Lions team directors Gerry Hess (left) and John Rice help team captain Chuck Lawlor hold up some of the hardware that the team has won this year. Both trophies were awarded after Sunday's game for the O.D.H.A. Junior B Championship.

00 will be charged to the regular 1976maintenance and repair account.

Due to the fact that the new budget for 1976 is not ready yet, this statement did not allow for an accurate analysis of 1976 budgetary performance to-date, except for a comparison with last year's costs.

A comparison of total paid hours of work for this period with the totals for the same period in 1975 does however show the staff levels have been sufficiently controlled to-date, to allow the hospital to stay within its 1976 budgatary staff allotment, if this trend continues.

Preliminary budget totals show the salary cost for 1976 to be estimated at $2,445,580.00, while other supplies and expenses, including Medical and Surgical Supplies and Drugs are estimated to amount to $936,823. 00. Additional budget work will be necessary to find out whether or not these totals fit into the constraint limits placed on hospital budgets by the Ministry of Health for the year 1976.

A meeting of the Management and Finance Committees will be held in May, at which time a complete review of the budget will be made for the purpose of making necessary recommendations to the Board of Governors on May 25, 1976.

The present 24-hour switchboard coverage will be reduced to switchboard service until midnight only, effective May 1, 1976, with calls received after midnight until 0730 hours to be handled by first floor nursing staff.

This change became necessary due to the transfer of Ambulance Service Dispatching Service from the hospital to a central service to be operated by the Ambulance service itself with a corresponding decrease in budget funds for this purpose. This change will not result in the loss of jobs, except for one part-time position.

Co-operate for Meals on Wheels

The Iroquois Meals-On-Wheels program has combined with the operation in Morrisburg to provide a better service for recipients. As of May 1, the Iroquois project becomes a joint endeavour between the communities of Iroquois and Morrisburg with meals being prepared at the Morrisburg Civic Centre. Volunteers will continue to deliver the meals to recipient's homes.

The amalgamation has brought about several changes in the operation of the programme, with finances being in the forefront. The executive has found it necessary to raise the price of a meal from $1.00 to$1.50, with a monthly operating budget of $350.00 which will be shared between the two communities. Both communities will be asking the support of individuals, church, social and civic groups in meeting the requirement.

Meals - On - Wheels officials stressed that dedication of the drivers and volunteers has been the backbone of the success of the operation and invite anyone who could donate time to drive or be a visitor to contact Mrs. Kathy DeBellefeuille, at 652-2123.

To Eliminate Excess Profits

The Anti-Inflation Board has announced it has accepted a compliance plan to eliminate $6,000 in excess revenue for Canada Starch Company Limited, the first company to have a compliance plan accepted by the Board.

Approximately 1,000 companies have now filed their first Compliance Period Reports with the AIB, and the Board is currently assessing these returns with priority being given to excess revenue cases. About 1,200 of the largest business firms in Canada must submit excess revenue calculations on a quarterly basis, with 5,000 companies subject to mandatory enforcement reporting on an annual basis.

Canada Starch will dispose of excess revenue for the three-month compliance period from October 1, 1975 to December 31,1975 by reducing prices on two products.

Under the price and profit Guidelines, company earnings resulting from prices higher than those allowed under the Guidelines are termed excess revenue. The Board announced in December, 1975 that companies with excess revenue in their first compliance period would be required to submit a Compliance Plan showing how they will moderate prices to put themselves in compliance with the Guidelines within two fiscal quarters.

It is the policy of the Board, to make public, information on compliance plans accepted by the Board.

Purchase mowers

Iroquois village council has authorized the purchase of two new reel mowers to be added to the village's gang mowers. It was originally thought that the units could be repaired, thereby saving several hundred dollars, but investigation by repairmen proved that the old ones were too far gone to save.

The new mowers, which cost about $700.00 each, will be kept as back-up units, while the old ones will be kept as a source of parts.

The National Capital

by Walter Baker, M.P., Grenville-Carleton

The local press has focused its attention recently on the Joint House and Senate Committee on the Development of the National Capital. The Ottawa Journal asks some specific questions on the point of view of Mr. Joe Clark, M.P., Leader of the Opposition. His views are interesting indeed and I thought you would be interested in having a full text of the questions and answers.

Do you favor the creation of an Ottawa-Hull federal district similar to the national capital in Washington? If so, why? and if not, why not?

WALTER BAKER

The answer to the question depends on what one means by a "Federal District". If, as the analogy to Washington would imply, it means the creation of a new form of government answerable primarily to the federal level and outside or beyond the traditional jurisdiction of the two provinces involved, I would say the idea is not a practical one. Ontario and Quebec have established jurisdiction, fully supported by the constitution, and I see little likelihood of that changing in the foreseeable future.

Rather than pursue that kind of fruitless debate, it would seem far more preferable to me to work toward improving relationships and the machinery within the existing constitutional frame work with the aim of:

(1) Preserving and strengthening local government as the primary point of Community planning and decision-making.

(2) Encouraging the relatively new regional governments on both sides of the Ottawa River to work in harmony.

(3) Insorfar as the legitimate role of the federal government within the region is concerned, improving consultation and coordination between federal agencies and the provincial and local governments.

Some people may find a Washington-style federal district a more straightforward alternative to the more complex "mix" of governments we now have in the region. But it seems to me frankly that the vast differences in the history and development of the two cities and regions make any real comparisions virtually impossible.

Q. Do you fabor amending the British North America Act to include Hull as part of the national capital? If so, why? And If not, why not?

A. Again, it is a question of definition. It seems to me there are two separate, but related, concepts at issue. One is that of one capital city of our country -- the seat of government, if you will -- which I believe should continue to be Ottawa. The other is the National Capital Region which, as already set forth in the National Capital Commission Act, embraces a considerable area on both sides of the River and within which the federal government has both an interest and a responsibility as expressed through agencies like the N.C.C.

If the Trudeau government seeks, in fact, to alter these basic concepts, then I believe very strongly that it has a responsibility to do so openly and in direct consultation with the provinces involved and not through the kind of backroom tinkering wich appears to have been going on.

Q. Do you approve of the federal development program in Hull? If yes, would you accelerate it or keep it at same scale? If not, why not?

Since Hull is really a part the National Capital Region, I certainly can support the construction of federal installations there -- provided such installations are made with the approval of and within the overall planning parameters set by the local governments involved. I would apply the same principle to federal development in Gloucester, Nepean and other municipalities within the Region. Insofar as the scope and pace of such development is concerned, as I already have suggested, I believe that is very much a matter for negotiation with local governments which have a right to expect that their planning and development priorities will not be destroyed by unilateral action by the federal government.

Q. At present a Special Senate-Commons Committee is studying the future of the National Capital Commission. Several M.P.'s have already expressed their views on the N.C.C. What do you think? Should the N.C.C. have more power, less, or continue as it is now?

A. I would not want to presume upon the deliberation of the Joint Committee of the House of commons and Senate as they consider the future of the National Capital but I want to make it clear that I believe that the constitutional jurisdiction to plan lies in the Regional Municipalities on both sides of the Ottawa River and this must be recognized. The Federal Government certainly has a place and a part in the planning and development process and a prominent part indeed. However, I do not accept the concept of "local government by bureaucracy". Nor do I accept the idea that the Federal Government ought to do indirectly what it cannot do directly. For the good of the Capital area and to ensure that it has the physical, linguistic and cultural (--indeed multicultural--) attributes, which we feel ought to be part of a national capital, a new consltative approach is necessary. This likely will include appropriate amendments to the N.C.C. Act to ensure that these matters are accomplished by the existing institutions augmented by new structures. The stated power of the N.C.C. should therefore be amended to ensure that such consultation takes place and that the constitutional authority for planning is observed -- unless and until that is changed by agreement with the Provinces.

The Committee will soon be completing the taking of Municipal Briefs and evidence from those Provinces which have indicated their intention of appearing. This will mark the beginning of a new stage when Briefs from institutions and organizations will be considered.

Despite comments to the contrary, progress is in fact being made in hearing evidence but the fundamental question remains to be tackled. What is the concept for Government in our Capital.

Last week's Post carried a feature on Education Week activities at Stampville Public School, but we didn't have room for all the pictures. This week, we finish off with three more students with special Education Week projects. From top to bottom - Leslie Casselman models a homemade guitar she built as a music project for teacher Mrs. Edith Sneath. Shawn Freer also made a musical instrument, of the wind variety. Ricky James displays a working windmill model that he built as a science project.

This fluffy omelet with tasty Holland cheese in its filling is delicious anytime as a light main course.

Dutch Country Omelet

THIS tasty omelet with Holland imported Gouda or Edam cheese, is both nourishing and low in calories. Both Edam and Gouda will melt readily to make this a time saving, tasty meal.

3 eggs
salt and pepper
butter
2 strips bacon, in pieces
1 medium onion, chopped
1 medium tomato, peeled and chopped
4 medium mushrooms, quartered
1 cup coarsely shredded imported Holland Edam or Gouda

For the filling, sauté bacon pieces 2-3 minutes, then add onion, tomato and mushrooms; cook until tender. Fold in all but 2 tablespoons of the shredded imported Holland cheese. Meanwhile to make the omelet, beat the eggs, salt and pepper with a fork until yolks and whites are well blended (about 30 seconds). Place tablespoon of butter in omelet pan or non-sticking 7" skillet; set over high heat. Coat bottom and sides of the pan by swirling the butter in it. When foam settles pour in the beaten eggs. Lightly stir eggs with the flat of a fork while shaking the pan. When eggs have thickened spoon filling across the middle of the omelet. Lift the closest edge and carefully roll the omelet up to the other side of the pan. Allow it to set for a few seconds then tilt the pan and roll omelet out onto a warmed plate. Sprinkle with reserved shredded Holland cheese. Dot with butter. If desired, place under heated broiler a moment until cheese melts. Serve immediately. Makes one or two servings.

4-H Homemakers achievement day

On Saturday, May 1, 1976, the Dundas West 4-H Homemaking Clubs had their Achievement Day. This day was held at Nationview Public School, South Mountain for the project "Taking a Look At Yourself.".

Each member had completed a record book as well as a special project. Some of these special projects were in the form of a research on such topics as make-up, hair styles and shoe styles. Other special projects included laundry bags, covered hangers, sewing kits, and covered boxes. All of the work done by the girls was well done, indicating that they enjoyed the project.

Each of the six clubs took part in the afternoon program, which consisted of three skits and three exhibits. The three skits were put on by South Mountain R.R. 2, Matilda R.R. 2, and Matilda R.R.1. All members in the individual clubs participated in the skits. The three exhibits were put on by Matilda R.R. 3, with Ute Straube commenting, Hallville-Mountain with Katie Milne as commentator, and South Mountain R.R. 1 with Anita Gilmer commenting. All of these activities were interestingly done by the various clubs.

Another part of the program was the presentation of awards. Provincial awards were presented to Janet Percival from Hallville-Mountain Club and Josie Groniger from the Matilda R.R. 1 Club, for successfully completing 12 4-H Homemaking Units. They each received a pin and a certificate for their hard work. County Honour pins and certificate for their had work. County Honour pins and certificates were awarded to each of two girls for having successfully completed six 4-H Homemaking Clubs. These girls were Bonnie Smail from Matilda R.R. 3, and Karen McShane from South Mountain R.R. 1. Congratulations is extended to all the winners of the awards.

All of the 4-H leaders and members who completed the project were given a silver spoon upon conclusion of the Achievement Day.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Stewart from North Augusta helped with the morning activities and commented on the skits and exhibits the girls presented.

Miss Mary Michels, County Home Economist conducted the entire day's program. When concluding the day she reminded the girls that the summer project "Gardens - Home Beautification" was already in progress. She also informed the girls that the fall project would be "Dairy Fare" and encouraged and welcomed all members to attend.

New members who have turned twelve by September 1, 1976 are especially welcome.

The 4-H pledge closed the day's program.

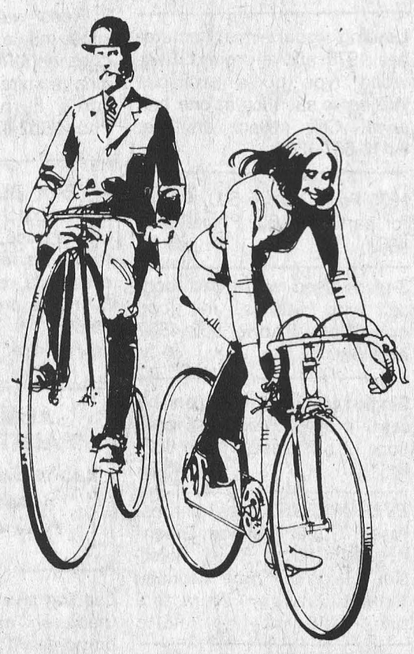
Let's Talk....

ABOUT A PLAN TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS.

JIM DAI Y & THE STAFF AT IROQUOIS
WANT YOU TO GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH



Bicycling has changed, and so have bicycle safety rules.

This is what Ontario is doing to bring bicycle safety up-to-date

There are about 2½ million bicycles in Ontario today. Last year 56 bicyclists were killed on Ontario streets and highways, and 3,720 were injured.

Even one is too many.

We urge you to make yourself and your family familiar with the simple rules and guidelines of bicycle safety. Obey all stop signs and traffic lights. Keep in mind that a bicycle is, by definition, a vehicle under the Highway Traffic Act. After all, you don't just "ride" a bicycle – you drive it. And Ontario wants every bicyclist to drive safely.

That's why the Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications has prepared 3 easy-to-understand folders that every bicyclist should read. They're called "The Bicyclist's Handbook," "Ontario Laws and Your Bicycle," and "How To Be an Expert Cyclist."

IN MEMORIAM

CASSELMAN: In loving memory of Margaret Anne Casselman
In a little country graveyard,
Where the gentle breezes blow
Sleeps the one we loved so dearly,
Who God called nearly five years ago.
Margaret Anne Casselman "Sadly missed, but still remembered" by daughter Charlotte Hoare and Family.
46 1p

HILL: In loving memory of a dear father who passed away May 7, 1975.
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We thought the end was near.
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
More each day we miss you, father,
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.
Nancy Lewis and Family
46 1p

HILL: In loving memory of a dear sister who passed away May 9, 1972.
O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still
But death has left a lonliness
The world can never fill
Nancy Lewis and Family
46 1p.

HILL: In loving memory of a dear friend, Sandra Hill, who was killed suddenly on May 9,1972.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
Debbie Casselman
46 1p

HILL: In loving memory of Ernest and Sandra Hill who passed away on May 7, 1975 and May 9, 1972, respectively.
Softly within the shadows,
They heard a gentle call,
And taking the hand that was offered
They quietly left us all.
Death sometimes comes to let us know
We love more deeply than we show;
For love in death lets us see
What love in life ahould always be.
Always remembered by wife and mother Eunice, and brothers, Kenny and Steven.
46 1p

BARCLAY: In fond and loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Ellery Barclay who passed away May 2nd, 1953.
As time unfolds another year
Memories keep him forever near
Silent thoughts of times together
Hold memories that will last forever.
Always remembered by Daughter Claire, Son Clarence, Grandchildren Edward and Doris Merkley and Great-grandchildren Michael and Tammy Merkley.

To launch snowmobile safety program

Between November 19,1975 and March 23, 1976 there were 22 fatalities, 537 personal injuries and 267 property damage collisions involving snowmobiles on and off Ontario highways, reported Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow.

"This situation underscores the potential hazards of snowmobiling and the need to train operators," said Mr. Snow, "and our proposed instruction program is a logical next step to meet this need."

Mr. Snow was referring to his Ministry's program with the Ontario Safety League and the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs to develop and deliver a program of courses on snowmobiling and snowmobile driver training. MTC will provide the Ontario Safety League with a grant of $20,000 to develop the course. From the course will come Ontario's first certified snowmobile instructors.

The OSL will carry out a two-day course with no less than 18 people who will qualify as "arena instructors". They in turn will train approximately 1,200 snowmobile instructors from across the province who will train locally those who want to apply for a motorized snow vehicle operator's licence.

At the moment, the manual for instructors and "I know the snowmobile clubs are anxious to get this program under way," said Mr. Snow. "And just as soon as it's possible we will finalize the course content, regulations and method of issuing the licences.

We will do our part to get the courses off the ground later this Spring or early summer so that a start can be made on training young snowmobilers before the next snowmobiling season."

Forestry program underway

Natural resources crews, enjoying a two week jump on the season due to unseasonable weather, are now busily planting 5,381,000 new trees over approximately 5,000 acres of agriculturally unsuitable land in Eastern Ontario.

More than 55 men and women, plus groups of elementary and secondary students and Boy Scouts, will be lifting and packing the seedlings, and planting them on scattered land parcels from the Quebec border down past Belleville and north to the Ottawa River and above Highway 7.

More than half the planting will be done on private land under the Woodlands Improvement Act. Owners pay approximately a cent a tree, but must enter into an agreement with the province to maintain the new plantations for at least 15 years.

The program is successful. This week the 4000th landowner in Ontario to enter a W.I.A. agreement - Thomas and Phillis Philip, R.R. 4, Chrysler - were honored in an informal ceremony and have 35 acres of their Stormont County farm planted with seedlings.

Bird Notes

Sunday was a fine day for bird-watching and general "inspection" of the favourite nature-walks which although not official as such, offer a good variety of things to see, and are within easy reach.

Near the Bowling-green, a fat grey Squirrel was practising his climbing skills in a tall elm tree, and the Meadowlarks were singing in the field across the way.

The marsh was the place to be, however, and the little road that branches off into the wooded area was alive with birds. A white-throated Sparrow, complete with bright white headgear was having a drink from a pool along the roadside. There were fellow Warblers all over the place; these are the most satisfactory of all the warblers, less inclined to flit out of sight the moment you secure a good focus with the field glass!

Several Flickers were busy hunting insects on the ground, and their well-known call could be heard from various directions; they are handsome birds, but rather shy. Even the Woodcock has returned already - we watched one perform his power-dive, and the sound of the wind in its wings as it decends, is something to hear.

This is indeed the time when sounds of nature are as interesting as the sights: the kildeer are very vocal, and in the heard-but-not-seen department are the frogs, singing in all keys from "A" to "G"!

On the high ground Trilliums are still in bloom and in the wet places, a carpet of Marsh Marigolds covers the usually dull area. A small wild cherry tree in bloom, and a wild strawberry plant in the same stage of development were sights to warm the heart after what we have all described as "a long hard winter."
