A Remarkable Phenomenon

In the year 1866, January had two full moons and February had none. Astronomers said that such a thing had not occurred since the creation of the world and would not occur again for 2,500,000 years. But it has occurred again in 1915, 49 years later. January had two full moons, February will have no full moon and March will have two.

The Late Stewart Cameron.

The death of Stewart Cameron took place at Metcalfe on Tuesday of last week. An operation was performed on Monday from which he never rallied. The deceased is a son of Duncan Cameron, who formerly resided midway between Kenmore and Metcalfe. Some three years ago he rented his farm and along with Stewart went west where he has since been farming. Stewart returned last fall to pay his mother a visit who has been living in Metcalfe until such times as her husband would become settled in the West.

McBride—Reid

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday evening, Jan. 25th, 1915, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ried, when their daughter Emmeline Eugine Ried was married to Mr. Samuel McBride of the village of Waddington, N. Y.

Mr. Gilbert L. Jones of Morrisburg assisted the groom and the bride was accompanied by her sister, Verna. At 8 o'clock the bridal party entered the drawing room, the bride leaning on her father's arm. Rev. A. J. H. Strike officiated. During the ceremony the bridal party stood under a beautifully constructed arch of evergreens and wedding bells. After the ceremony and congratulations the bridal party and guests partook of a very choice wedding supper.

The gifts were choice, and the home was tastefully decorated. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. B. McBride will reside in Waddington. Their many friends extend heartiest congratulations.—Morrisburg Leader.

A Disastrous Fire Averted.

About the time when people were wending their way to church service on Sunday evening, they were apprised of a fire in the Fulton block, and which proved to be too true, for on arrival at the store the smoke was so dense that it was almost impossible to enter within the Fulton Bros. store or that of G. W. Bogart. As speedily as possible the fire engine and reels were brought into commission, but it was some time before the engine was able to supply the water as some of the valves were leaking, which necessitated a longer time than usual to get up steam pressure. In the meantime a bucket brigade was formed and good work was done in stopping the progress of the fire until such time as the engine was ready. The fire was located in the cellar near the furnace, and it is supposed than an overheated furnace was the cause of the alarm. While the floor in the Fulton store was damaged considerable underneath, the fire did not gain headway enough to penetrate through only in a couple of places, and being closed up tightly, it was hard for it to gain any headway at that period. In the course of an hour the fire was all out, but the stores were in a desperate state with smoke and steam and goods in the thousands of dollars worth were smeared with same. While it was bad enough, still we all feel thankful that it was no worse.

The adjusters of the insurance companies represented, arrived here on Monday evening and on Tuesday morning Fulton Bros. were again open for business.

In conversation with Fulton Bros. and G. W. Bogart, they inform us that they have arrived at a settlement with the insurance companies and both seem to be perfectly satisfied with the adjustment. Dr. S. H. Hutt, dentist, also sustained a loss in the removal of his fixtures and appliances in his rooms, which also has been adjusted. Messrs. Lawson & Cass, barrister, are inconvenienced a great deal by the removal of papers and documents of different kinds, and some, no doubt, which they will be unable to locate. Also Mr. Geo. Elliot, clerk of Winchester Township and this village, will have a pleasant (?) time sorting up.

The people of Chesterville are great fire fighters, and no doubt, it was through their efforts in the beginning of the fire that a great loss was averted.

Letters To Soldiers

Arrangements have been made whereby the ordinary rate of two cents per ounce applicable to all letters sent from Canada to the United Kingdon, will apply to letters addressed to British and Canadian troops on the contingent. The rate on ordinary letters from Canada for the continent is five cents for each subsequent ounce, so that this extension of two cents an ounce rate to letters addressed to our soldiers on the continent, is a reduction.

Candlemas Day

Tuesday was Candlemas, day, when according to the old say, every house holder should have half of all the winter's supplies still on hand, on the hypothesis that the winter is only half gone. This is also the day the bear is supposed to come out of his den to look around and decide if the winter is far enough along to warrant his staying out. If it were a bright day and he were to see his shadow he is supposed to conclude that there is a good deal of rough weather still due, and immediately he goes back to his den. But if no shadow shows he decides that the winter is nearly over and he stays out to welcome the coming of an early spring. Acording to the rules of the game he did not see any shadow and we may expect an early spring.

Wednesday Morning.

Council resumed at 10.30 on Wednesday morning.

Mr. Samuel Howe, an ex-member of Council, was invited to take a seat inside the railing, which he did after thanking Council for the honor.

Mr. Irwin Hilliard, K. C., M. P. P., of Morrisburg, was given permission to address Council in regard to a boundary bridge across the Nation River, in the townships of Mountain and Winchester. Mr. Hilliard cited sections of the Municipal Act stating the bridge in question shall be caused to be built by the counties. The burden of erecting this bridge, however, could be placed on the county of Dundas if the representatives from the county voting alone, recorded in favor of such a course. The bridge would be of great advantage to both townships. One of the main reasons for the erection of this bridge is that in the spring, summer and fall great trouble and inconvenience is experienced from freshets. The bridge would cost in the neighborhood of $4,000, and the speaker suggested that the contract for marerial and erection be given to a bridge company, instead of buying the material from a bridge company and giving the contract for erection to a local contractor.

Mr. Hilliard answered several questions in regard to the proposed crossing, after which he thanked Council for the privilege of addressing them.

The report of the special committee to strike standing committee for the year was then read and adopted. The committees are as follows:—

Education — Messrs. Adams, Beckstead, Bell, Campbell, Fisher, Grady, Hamilton, (chairman), Johnston, Kirby, J. H. Meikle, Munro, McLachlan, McLellan, J. W. McLeod, R. A. McLeod, McMillan McNaughton, D. McRae, Nolan, Thompson and Hermiston.

Equalization of Assessment — Messrs. Adams, Beckstead, Bell, Chevrier, Clark, Fisher, Grady, Hamilton, Huot, Kirby, J. H. Meikle, Merkley, McLachan, McMillan, McNaughton chairman, D. D. McRae, Nolan, Sangster, Shanks.

Reso utions and Memorials — Messrs. Hermiston, Johnston, Kirby chairman, T. C. Munro, McMillau, D. McRae, Sutherland.

Petitions were presented from a number of ratepayers in Mountain and Winchester township, asking for the erection of a bridge over the Nation River on the boundary between the two townships.

The petitions were referred to the Roads and Bridges Committee.

The Council then adjourned till 7.30 on Wednesday evening. to allow the Finance and Education Committees to meet.

A report of the remaining sessions will appear in next week's issue.

License Holders Will Be Compensated

Montreal, Jan. 26.—The seventy liquor license-holders whose licenses for 1915, beginning May 1, will be cut off, will receive compensation to the amount of $350,000. The License Commissioners this afternoon recommended this. The compensation will be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund of the Province of Quebec, the legal compensation for each license being $5,000. With the abolition of the seventy licenses, the great majority of which are for restaurants, the legal maximum of licenses will be 400.

"Nerviline" Stops Earache in 10 Seconds, Fixes Toothache in 2 Minutes.

It Seems to Possess Almost Some Divine Power Over Pain.

Rub on Nerviline.

Toothache is usually due to neuralgia in the gums or to the congestion and swelling of the nerve pulp.

As "Nerviline" relieves congestion, you can easily see why it cures toothache.

Nerviline does more—cures any ache or pain—in any part of the body.

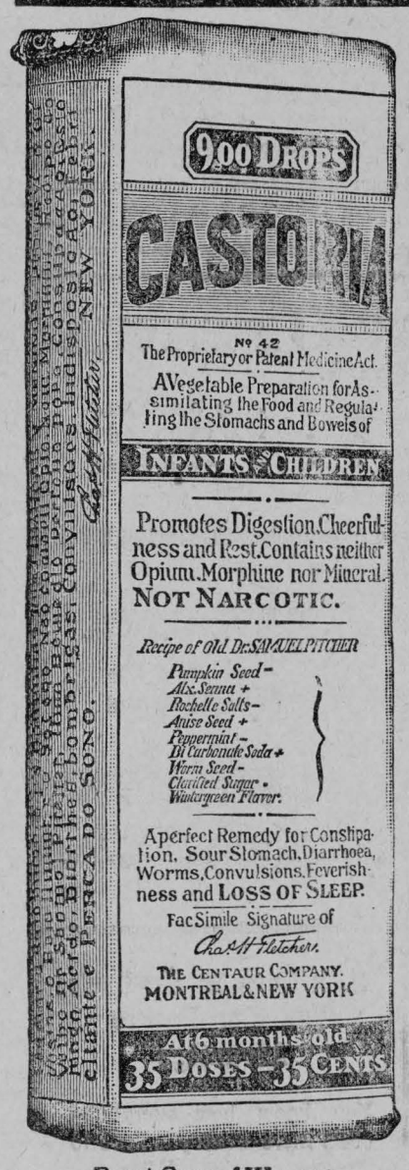

It matters not where your pain is. It may be in a joint or muscle; it may be neuralgia or lumbago; it may be a surface pain is deeply situated in the back, side or chest. Nerviline will reach it; Nerviline will drive it out.

What is Nerviline, you ask? Just a liniment, but very much stronger in pain-subduing power than other liniments—one that penetrates more deeply in the tissue than any other liniment. It is a liniment that cures quickly, that gives permanent relief.

You might spend ten or a hnndred dollars, but you couldn't buy as much relief as you get from a single bottle of Nerviline.

We guarantee Nerviline; we refund your money if it does not relieve you.

In many lands it is a household trust, a remedy that has justified itself under the experience of those who have used it. Guaranteed for neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, pleurisy, rheumatism, strains or sprains; the large 50 cent family size bottle is more economical than the 25 cent trial size. Dealers everywhere sell Nerviline, or direct from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Electric Stoves for Domestic Use.

Berlin, Ont., Jan. 20.—Supt. V. S. McIntyre of the local light and power plant and Secretary of the special committee appointed by the Municipal Hydro Union last April to prepare specifications for electric domestic stoves has called for tenders for the manufacture of 1,000 stoves, which, it is expected, will retail at from $35 to $40 each. The Toronto Commission will take eight hundred of these stoves, London one hundred, and the rest will be taken by smaller cities. Secretary McIntyre states that at the present Hydro rates the cost of energy per month will be less than gas at 90 cents per thousand. The stove will be of average size, and complete in every detail, to serve families of six and less. The committee was composed of Messrs. H. J. Glaubitz, London; H. H. Cousens, Toronto; B. E. Satter of the Hydro Commission staff and Messrs. Elliott, Galt, and Teckoe, Tillsonburg.

CANAL IS PROGRESSING.

Welland Waterway Will Cost Fifty Millions—Ready In Five Years.

The fact that Canada has undertaken the construction of a waterway possessing features unprecedented in the history of similar undertakings, not only on this continent, but in the world, is a fact which may not be generally appreciated, but in certain aspects Canada can make claim to this distinction for the work she has entered upon in the construction of the Welland Ship Canal, the connecting link between Lakes Erie and Ontario.

As all of the earth excavated between Thorold and Lake Ontario is to be disposed of in service ground fills to form the harbor in the lake, the Government has built a double track, standard gauge construction railway, seven miles in length, between these points for the purpose of transporting this material; and for the purpose of hauling stone excavated and crushed at the site of the flight locks in Thorold, to the other lock sites for the making of concrete to be used in the building of the locks. This railway has been equipped with a complete interlocking plant and train-despatching system, and it is expected that for the next few years it will be one of the busiest roads in the Dominion.

For contract purposes, the entire canal, 26 miles in length, has been divided into nine sections, section No. 1 being at the Lake Ontario end and the others following consecutively through to Lake Erie.

Section No. 3 is the most important and the most expensive section of the entire project, involving as it does the construction of twin locks in flight 4, 5 and 6, single lock No. 7, and a guard lock, the building of a tremendous earth dam to form a pondage of 84 acres for regulating the water level in the flight locks, and two difficult and expensive railway diversions. There are 2,700,000 cubic yards of rock to be excavated from the lock sites and the locks themselves will involve the placing of 1,200,000 cubic yards of concrete. This section is less than two miles in length, mostly within the town of Thorold.

The present line of the Grand Trunk Railway traverses the site of the flight locks, and this railway has had to be diverted a short distance to the west for a distance of four miles. As it is, here the railway climbs the Niagara escarpment, rising almost 150 feet within a distance of one and a half miles, this has proved a very difficult piece of relocation.

From Thorold to Lake Erie the new canal will follow largely the route of the present canal, and the work will consist principally of deepening and widening the existing channel to the new dimensions.

Section 5 is the only remaining section which has as yet been placed under contract, the contractors being the Canadian Dredging Co., of Midland, Ont. They have had five steam shovels employed all season, and expect to commence dredging operations in the early spring. The work consists of the removal of 5,500,000 cubic yards of earth in the channel and along the west bank, the material to be disposed of on low lands adjoining the canal. The estimated cost of this section is $1,950,000.

The estimated cost of the entire project is $50,000,000.

Making a Directory.

Over seventy per cent. of Toronto's population change their addresses, or positions, or otherwise require a change in their designations in the city directory each year. That would seem to be a rather high record for even the most nomadic tribes, but each new directory, proves indisputably that the "changing" habit has got Toronto to that extent.

A page taken at random from last year's issue and corrected to date, shows that out of the 180 names recorded on it 139 have changed either their address, their occupation, or both. Corrections are scratched across it in all directions till it resembles a futurist painting of a hedgehog much more than a page of print.

It will be seen from this that compiling a directory of half a million restless people is no easy job. Practically one year's hard work by a large staff goes into its preparation.

Perhaps the most remarkable fact of all is that, in spite of the ever-changing population, recent directories have only shown an average of fifty mistakes a volume.

Has a Fine Record.

It is announced that A. G. Elliot, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, owing to a rearrangement of the duties of the general offices, has retired. The assistant passenger traffic manager will assume the duties of the general passenger agent.

Mr. Elliot has devoted his life to railroad work and in his chosen line has achieved success and won the respect of railroad men.

He was born in 1860 and entered the railroad service in 1882 as city ticket agent of the Central Vermont Railroad at Montreal. In 1897 he became city ticket agent for the Grand Trunk at Monteral and in the same year was promoted excursion clerk of that department and soon after was made assistant general passenger and ticket agent. Later he became passenger representative at Chicago and on the death of W. E. Davis was chosen general passenger agent with headquarters in Montreal. Mr. Elliot's retirement took effect on Oct. 31.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Hundreds of People Have Found "Fruit-a-tives" Their Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

55 DOVERCOURT ROAD, Oct., 1st. 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy "Fruit-a-tives". I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken "Fruit-a-tives" for 18 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months".

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "incurable diseases". "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—in fact, over all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

A Period Of Rest.

In the fall of 1914, many dairy cows dried off somewhat earlier than usual on account of scarcety of feed. Others stopped milking because their owners have let them get the habit of putting up their shutters at the same time that the cheese-factory boarded up its windows. However long the period of rest may have been, six weeks or four months, cows will soon be ready for business as usual during 1915. Now the point arises, can the period of work be extended? That means careful preparation in a variety of ways.

One item may well be noted by the dairyman who has not yet endeavoured to shorten that rest-period. It does not follow that a cow giving 1,200 pounds of milk or so during her first month will give as much during the whole season as the cow that gives only 800 pounds the first month. The first one may be dry in a little over seven months and then settle down to extend repose, while the second cow will be producing for ten months, enabling her owner to take advantage of good prices in fall and winter. Obviously, therefore, correct judgment as to a cow's production is to be based on a knowledge of the total weight for the season, not for the best month or two only, for that period of rest is a very variable factor.

Keeping track of the weight given by each cow is simplified by using the forms supplied free by the government. Write to the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, for samples of the record forms for three days per month, and those for daily weights. It will be still better to take samples as well so as to learn by the test how much fat each cow gives.

St. Catherines have a physiological mystery on their hands in an English youth, Ernest Gobell, who is hysterical, and has a respiration sometimes of 225 a minute.

The Town Council of Lachine, Que., decided to cut off after the 1st of May the licenses of the four hotels, one liquor store and five bottling houses in the municipality.

HIT BY CUPID.

Casualties Among Canadians In Britain Were Fairly Heavy.

When a Canadian lieutenant married a charming young French girl in Plymouth within a week after the arrival of the Canadian contingent at that port, war was forgotten by the troops for a moment and tongues wagged about the romance. And when a story appeared in a London paper announcing the wedding of a British-born Canadian soldier to a Belgian refugee, who could speak very broken English, the eternal question of "When will we go to the front?" was discarded for a short space and tongues wagged some more. And again when The Mirror published a photograph of a Canadian alongside of that pretty girl, who had been married after not seeing each other for years, there was more food for talk about romance.

Truly there have been a number of romances since the Canadians arrived in England, but principally among English girls and men who have come back after living in Canada for a time. Judging by the announcements which appear occasionally in London papers, there surely have been a couple of dozen or even more, weddings of soldiers connected with the Canadian expeditionary force.

On visiting the dead letter department in the base postoffice, in charge of Sergeant Ross of London, the other day, it was found that the sergeant was greatly worried. "Now, wouldn't this sort of thing get your goat," said the sergeant to a newly-arrived letter addressed to "one of the Canadian soldiers." "I don't know what I am going to do with such a letter. We get lots just like this one."

The letter was from a widow who is in search of a husband and evidently tired of trying to land one through a matrimonial agency she figured that there may be some brave men among the Canadians. The epistle read as follows:

"London, Dec. 15.

"Dear Friend From——

"Would any soldier of the Canadian contingent care to marry a widow with three small children? The writer is quite young, not ugly, but tired of her struggle against big odds, and has for two years supported herself and little ones with her sewing machine, and would like to meet with a homely man who has no relations and about thirty years of age. Looks immaterial if of a kindly nature and lonely. Meeting to be arranged by letter. No photographs handy or I would send one. Answer is strict confidence.

"Sincerely yours,

"Hannah ——, Stoke Newington."

"He would have to be a regular hero," said the sergeant. "Three small children and her name is Hannah. Mein Gott."

"I have written to her," spoke up one of the sorters. "And I got a lovely reply. I think there are about half a dozen around here trying to break her heart. It is a crime, that's what it is."

Waterways Commissioner.

P. B. Mignault, K.C., of Montreal, who has been appointed a member of the Canadian section of the International Waterways Commission, filling the vacancy caused by the retirement of Hon. T. Casgrain, Postmaster-General of Canada, is one of the best known and most prominent members of the Montreal Bar and a well-known authority on international law and a distinguished member of the law faculty of McGill University.

The appointment has been approved by the Imperial Government, which is necessary in the case of such international tribunals arising from treaty agreements.

Mr. Mignault was born at Worcester, Mass., Sept. 30, 1854, and is a son of P. B. Magnault, M.D., and Catherine O'Callaghan. He was educated at Worcester, St. Mary's Jesuit College, Montreal, St. Francois Xavier College and McGill University and is a B.C.L., A.M., LL.D. and a K.C., having been called to the Quebec Bar in 1878 and created a Q.C. in 1883. He has practiced his profession with great success in Montreal since 1878 and was syndic of the Bar in 1905, a batonnier in 1906 and was presented with his portrait in oil by the Bar on leaving office in 1907.

Canada's Wheat Area.

The Canadian Department of Agriculture is alert to the supreme necessity of producing next year the largest grain yield in the history of the Dominion. Where farmers, from any cause, are unable to provide their own seed, the Government will see that no acreage remains untilled on this account. The fine weather experienced this autumn in Canada has enabled the farmers to prepare much more than the usual quantity of ground, and this will be an important factor towards increasing the area seeded in the spring. There will be no difficulty in obtaining a market for the crop. To this end the Canadian Government is completing storage elevators as rapidly as possible, and there will be sufficient capacity to provide for the increased yield. Europe will produce comparatively little grain next year, and must, therefore, necessarily look chiefly to Canada and the United States for her supplies. Everything produced on the farm will thus realize an increased price.

Separation Allowance Regulation Relaxed

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The Government has relaxed somewhat the original regulations of the Department of Matilda in regard to separation allowances which men enlisting for active service are entitled to make for their families. An order in Council has been passed permitting volunteers who marry after enlistment to have their wives placed on the separation allowance list, provided that permission to marry has been obtained from the officer commanding the corps in which the man is serving, and that the marriage takes place within twenty days from the time, of enlistment in the case of men enlisting hereafter.

The order in Council recites that applications for separation allowances have hitherto been refused in cases where volunteers have been married after enlistment. The refusal has been on the ground that the separation allowance was intended to provide for families of married men who had enlisted as such and whose families would otherwise be in want or become a heavy burden on the Patriotic Fund. It was not the Government's intentlon to encourage the men to marry after enlistment, as that would increase the already heavy expenditure under separation allowance, and in case of the soldier's death would necessitate placing his widow on the pension list. The Government has, however, taken into consideration the fact that many men had prior to enlistment given a promise to marry, and the regulations are relaxed as noted above.

Conserve The Breeding Stock.

Everyone knows that trade conditions and commercial enterprise have suffered a very serious and unexpected upheaval during the past year. To this situation the war has, of course, largely contributed; but other causes, including the general financial depression throughout the country, have been operative for some months past. The agricultural industry has, naturally, been very widely affected by these changing conditions and by the varying situation with respect to demand and supply. The rise in the price of grain, together with the corresponding fillip to grain production, represents, without doubt, the most outstanding feature of the direction which has been given to agricultural activity.

We need, perhaps above all things else sane, level judgment in the conduct of our agricultural affairs during the coming year. It is to be expected that grain production will be largely increased. The raw products of the soil are, and will be, in demand at remunerative prices. What then is to be said, what course is to be followed, with respect to the breeding of live stock?

The high price of feed, on the one hand, and relatively low prices for market stock, on the other, have resulted in very heavy marketing throughout Canada, particularly in the Western Provinces, of the stock, suitable for breeding purposes. Perhaps this was inevitable, but will these conditions continue. Feed grain will, without doubt, be high in prize, but it must never be overlooked that the country can maintain very large numbers of live stock on the enormous quantity of rough fodder which it can produce. To waste this, for the sake of the grain which can be grown, would, under the present circumstance, be criminal neglect. It is clear, then, that the country should conserve its breeding stock. If grain is to be grain for sale it is recommended that plans should be carefully thought out of to the manner in which the greatest quantity of rough fodder may become available for feeding purposes and as to the means by which this otherwise waste product, together with the screenings and unsalable grain, may be utilized to the best possible advantage. In other words eliminate waste. Do it by feeding live stock.

The present low prices for stock cannot last long. A careful review of the world situation makes it clear that there will be a shortage next year. Europe is becoming seriously depleted in both breeding and feeding stock. The United States, for ten months of the current year, at its leading markets is short 746,045 cattle, 208,000 sheep and 1,894,939 hogs. Canada has, as before stated, heavily liquidated her breeding animal, and, while it may possibly maintain its quota next year of cattle and sheep, it is doubtful if more than seventy-five per cent of the number of hogs will find their way to market in 1915, as compared with the current year. It is therefore, a time for live stock men to stay with their trade. The present tendency is, of course, all the other way. A safe harvest is likely to be reaped by those who have stock for sale next year. Even bankers and business men are of this opinion.

One word of advice is to be given Avoid marketing so far as it is at all possible to do so during the period of October fifteenth to December fifteenth. This is the time of the year when every body else has stock for sale. It is a period when packers know that they can fill their cellars with cheap meat. These are the months when the surplus of the whole country finds its way to the packing centres. It is invariably the period of low prices, uncertain markets and disappointing returns to the producers. Breed, therefore, to have your stock available for sale at some other time of the year. Take care to provide sufficient winter feed that you may not be forced to sell when the cold weather comes. Above all, conserve your breeding stock.

Summonses Served Upon Eighteen Hotelkeepers.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 28— Eighteen hotelkeepers of Windsor and Walkerville were served with summonses this afternoon for alleged violation of the liquor license act as a result of an extensive "round-up," which has been in progress for several weeks.

According to county officials thirty charges for various offences will be made against license-holders in North Essex district, in addition to the papers issued today. In each instance Inspector Gaspard Pacaud of Windsor laid the complaints against the local men, who are charged with twenty-six separate offences

The manner in which the informers obtained evidence was unique. Working in a party of three, the strangers represented themselves as Government surveyors. They were plentifully supplied with money and seemed to be operating from headquarters in Detroit.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC NOTICE.

After a careful study of local conditions the Village Council has decided to take up the inside wiring and installation work in the Village of Chesterville. This, it is hoped, will be to the best interests of the village and consumers.

All material will be purchased through the purchasing department of the H. E. P. C., thus assuring the use of only such material as has been approved by the Board of Underwriters.

All work will be executed according to the plans and under the supervision of the superintendent and in strict compliance with the rules of the H. E. P. C. The charges will be as near actual cost as practicable and still protect the municipality against loss.

As the supervision of this work is being taken up by the superintendent of the Northern Branch of Eastern Lines along with his other duties throughout the district, it is not possible to fix more than two days of each week for him to be in Chesterville, but his services will be available upon shortest notice at any time.

Estimates and suggestions on lighting and power installation given free. Motors, heaters, cooking appliances, etc., furnished upon shortest notice at minimum prices.

Farmers along the route of the transmission line between Chesterville and Winchester sub station should get particularly interested, as rates for power and light along this route are attractive.

ROYAL YEAST MAKES PERFECT BREAD

E litor, The Record,

Dear Sir:

The fire on Sunday night in the Fulton Block brought the citizens of our town once more to face the question of the fire protection of Chesterville. Happily it was not serious, but our town only barely escaped a conflagration, that would have completely wiped out one of our best business blocks, and hazarded other properties. Chesterville is no stranger to big fires. And there will be a recurrence of the danger year after year, as the extreme weather of the winter months necessitates the running of our furnaces above the normal.

What impressed some of the observers on Sunday night, when so many willing hands were ready to act, was the length of time before our fire protection service was ready to do effective work. Our fire engine is indispensable, but getting up steam is slow work, when fire is gaining headway. It will not always be possible for a bucket brigade to do as quick and effective work, as it did at the fire. Chesterville demands a quicker system. We have too many fine properties, business blocks, churches, schools, hotels, and up-to-date residences in many repects, to be so exposed to fire.

We submit a suggestion to the council and citizens, which may not be new to the people. We have a system of fire protection possible to our very hand. Nature has been good to us. Our river has an abundant supply of water for such purposes the year around in the heart of our town. A huge tank the size of that employed in the C.P.R. system, 100 feet or less in height, with the Hydro-electric power for pumping purposes, would afford us a fire protection the year around, almost, if not equal to our cities, and would be an economic investment, that would amply justify itself. This would give an almost immediate defence, and our engine would serve the purpose an engine should only serve as a fire-fighter, as an auxiliary. It would give us a system "on tap."

Another obvious advantage of this would be a system of waterworks in our dwellings. This is the almost universal practice of the modern American town the size of Chesterville. It would not of course supply the citizens with drinking water, though it might be the first step in the solving of that problem, but it would afford a solution of our chief drawback at present, nor should it necessarily risk the health of your homes if safeguarded. With the coming of the electric light Chesterville was lifted above the country village, but with such a system of fire-protection, and the consequent advantage of the bathroom in our homes, we have gone a long way in bringing home to our citizens the advantage of our modern city.

H. E. WARREN,

The Parsonage, Feb. 2nd, 1915.

Grow Your Own Seed.

Farmers of this district who depend upon mangels and turnips to any extent for feeding stock would do well to note the fact that at least 60% or more of the seed of these roots has been grown in France and Germany for a number of years past.

There will probably be enough to supply the trade for the crop of 1915. After that, it is problematical. It is no experiment that both mangel and turnip seed may be successfully grown in Ontario, as a limited quantity is grown every year.

If each farmer who has roots would plant 50 well selected ones that had been kept well through the winter, he could not only grow what seed he wanted for himself but would also have some for his neighbors. Let every farmer try to ensure a supply of seed for the 1916 crop. The Dominion Government gives a bonus of 3c per pound on all root seed produced for sale, this in addition to the sale price of the seed should make it profitable for farmers to grow.

To Elect New Bishop.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—The synod of the Anglican Diocese of Ottawa will meet on February 23 to elect a new bishop, owing to the refusal of the Ontario House of Bishops to allow Bishop Thornloe, of Algoma, to resign from that diocese to succeed Archbishop Hamilton here.

The four candidates most prominently mentioned for office are Canon Powell, of Windsor, N. S.; Canon Llwyd, of Halifax; Rev. A. W. Mackay, of All Saints, Ottawa, and Rev. J. M. Snowden, St. George's Ottawa.

Wm. Barrett, Senior Judge of Bruce county died at Walkerton, in his seventy-fourth year.

Five Years For Symons

Toronto, Feb, 2.—On the 12th day of the Union Life trial, Saturday, the jury consulted together for two hours, then, at twenty-five minutes to five, they returned a verdict: That Harry Symons was guilty on both the two counts left on the indictment; and that Dr. T. G. Hughes was guilty of the second only. Both had been declared not guilty of the third count at the end of the Crown's case last Tuesday.

The first charge had reference to the sale of National Agency stock in Canada between the years 1902 and 1901.

The second stated that the accused had unlawfully conspired in 1910 and the next three years to induce the public to by shares in the Union Life by a fraudulent scheme of guarantee by the National Agency.

The Crown admitted that the evidence was chiefly against H. Pollman Evans on the last charge, that of il ega'ly raising the stock of the Canadian Prudential Insurance Company from one to two millions in 1910 and 1911.

The presiding judge, Mr. Justice Clute, spoke sternly to Harry Symons as he stood upright and self-possessed in the corner of the dock. A hurried consultation between Symons and his lawyers followed the judge's question, "Have you anything to say, Harry Symons, why the sentence of this court should not be passed upon you?"

Leniency was advanced on the grounds of his age, 61, of his standing and previous character, of his family and his financial losses in the compaay. The judge said he agreed with the jury in their finding and named five years in the Kingston Penitentiary.

The sentence hanging over Dr. Hughes was postponed till May 28, that he may go to Edmonton. Bail was fixed at $15,000 from to-day.

A stated case was granted on the question of the jurisdiction of the court with reference to the English flotation.

To the Editor Record:

The Winchester Press last week in trying to throw mud at the Hydro Lighting system of their village seems to me to have been either trying to give vent to some personal spite or else he must have been suffering from a very severe bilious attack, something which by the way I believe Editors are very prone to.

I would like to ask what reasonable man or Editor does not realize that there is a liability of interruption on a transmission line between here and Prescott via Morrisburg. The interruption which caused the Press man's attack was a very temporary one, the Power being turned on in good time to allow his paper to be gotten ready at the usual time.

Mr. Editor, the power users in our village suffered last Thursday in like manner with the Press man. Have you heard any howling?

Wonder what kind of power the Press man formerly used anyway, for we all know that gosoline engines sometimes, but very rarely, balk; steam also occasionally takes a rest.

QUEBEC'S NEW KNIGHT

SIR WILLIAM PRICE IS A MAN OF GREAT ABILITY.

He Controls 6,400 Miles of the French-Canadian Province and Employs Five Thousand Men on His Extensive Timber Limits—Descendant of Lumber Kings of the Saguenay.

Ontario is just far enough away from the capital of Quebec for Ontarians at least to be somewhat unfamiliar with the personalities of the leading citizens of the eastern city, says W. A. Craick in Toronto Star Weekly. Compared with the captains of finance and industry who reside in Montreal, those that live in Quebce are comparatively unknown. Take for instance that prominent resident of the ancient capital, who has just been honored with knighthood—Sir William Price. Here is a man whose story is as interesting, whose personality is as striking, and whose power is as widespread as that of almost any other person in the Dominion of Canada, and yet he is a stranger to most people in Ontario.

Sir William Price, descendant of the famous lumber kings of the Saguenay, to-day rules an industrial kingdom of enormous proportions. Through the Price Company, of which he is the president and chief owner, he controls 6,400 square miles of timber limits in the Province of Quebec, the potentialities of which are almost beyond computation; owns outright the lands of five ancient seigniories with a combined area of 300 square miles; operates twelve large saw and shingle mills and two huge pulp and paper mills, and gives employment to five thousand men. Though now under the nominal jurisdiction of a joint stock company Sir William inherited the bulk of this property in his own person fifteen years ago.

The new Quebec knight is the grandson of the founder of the family fortunes. William Price, the first, was an Englishman who came to Canada in 1810 to investigate the possibility of obtaining masts for the British navy from the forests of Quebec. He remained in the colony and embarked in the lumbering industry on the Saguenay River, earning before his death the title of the Lumber King of that famous river. He married a Quebec lady of good family and purchased as a family residence historic Wolfesfield, a fine old mansion and estate just above Wolfe's Cove, which is still in the possession of his daughter.

Three bachelor sons of William Price, the first, continued the business he had established and built it up to large proportions. These were David, William, and John. They were men of diverse temperaments, but in combination they wielded great power. The two first took up their residence on the Saguenay. The third, who outlived them both by several years, managed affairs from the Quebec office. David was a born politician and was respectively member of Parliament, member of the Legislative Council, and Dominion Senator. William became a member of the Quebec Legislature. John succeeded his brother David as a member of the Senate, so that all three had a say in the government of the country.

As the brothers died, they left their interest in the business to the survivor. This happened to be John who became sole owner of the property in 1883. It thereupon became necessary for him to select an heir, and his choice eventually fell on his nephew William, son of his brother, Henry. This brother had led a wandering sort of life. He had resided for some years in Chili, where his eldest son was born, and later had engaged in farming operations in Ontario. He finally settled in Toronto, where he died in 1898.

After being educated in England, William Price, the third, entered his uncle's office at the age of nineteen. He started at the bottom and personally mastered all the details of the business, in order to fit himself for the responsibilities which should be his when his uncle passed away. This event occurred in 1898, and the following year the young man, then thirty-two years of age, came into the enjoyment of his splendid heritage.

That Sir William has carried on the best family traditions and has managed the business with efficiency and success is testimony to his ability. He is a man of abundant energy and resource, whose time is filled in with a multiplicity of activities.

Sir William has been chairman of the Quebec Harbor Commission since 1911, and has worked hard to develop the harbor facilities of the port. He is also honorary president of the Union Bank of Canada, and holds office as director of various other companies. His main concern, however, is in the welfare of the varied interests of the Price Company. He keeps an eye on all branches of the business and is constantly on the move.

When war broke out, Sir William threw all his energies into assisting in mobilizing and despatching the first contingent. Those on the inside are fully aware of the share he took in preparing the camp at Valcartier. It is said that he personally took hold of the arrangements at a time when others were proving dilatory, and swept things along with characteristic zeal. Later it was Sir William who took charge of getting the troops on board the transports. For these services he has now received the honor of knighthood.

Better Ask the Bears.

A tourist, traveling in the Canadian Rockies, was introduced to an old hunter who claims to have killed no fewer than four hundred bears.

"Bill," said the introducer, "this feller wants to hear some narrer escapes you've had from bears."

The old man, rubbing his eyes looked the stranger over, and said:

"Young man, if there's been an narrer escapes. the bears had 'em."

RESERVE IS NECESSARY.

Watershed of Lake Must Be Conserved to Maintain Supply.

Lying near the western boundary of the Province of Ontario, and extending into the Province of Manitoba and the State of Minnesota, the Lake of the Woods system plays an important part in the water supply of that region. When surrounded by a timbered area, the watershed was amply protected. With the increase of population, however, the timber has become a prey to fire and to the unscientific forester, and, under present conditions, it is only a question of time when all timber of any value will be removed.

The Lake of the Woods watershed is the great reservoir of the Winnipeg river and the water-powers of the latter supply the city of Winnipeg and town of Kenora with light and power. At an early date, Shoal Lake, a tributary to the Lake of the Woods, will furnish the water supply for the city of Winnipeg; construction work on the pipe line is at present under way. At the meeting of the Commission of Conservation in January last, Mr. J. B. Challies, superintendent of the Water Power Branch of the department of the Interior, proposed that this district be set aside as a forest reserve.

The area is one in which, owing to the nature of the underlying rock, the flood run-off of the rivers is excessive. The fact that the southwestern portion of the lake is in the United States renders the situation more difficult, in that it is not possible to materially raise the level of the water by conservation dams.

For the perpetual benefit of the surrounding territory, it is of the utmost importance that the Lake of the Woods district be set aside as a forest reserve. This would provide for the protection and renewal of the timber, and for the maintenance of the forest cover of the watershed. In this way the waters of the lakes, on which so many depend for the supply of water, light and power, would be conserved.

The aim of forestry is to bring the forest up to its highest state of productiveness and keep it there. In the United States, where forestry is not practiced except on Government and state lands, the estimated annual production is 12 cubic feet per acre.

In Canada, the average rate of growth is undoubtedly materially less than this, the climatic conditions being, on the whole, less favorable.

In Saxony, where forestry has been practiced for many years, the annual production is 93 cubic feet. According to experts, the rate of growth in Canada could undoubtedly be multiplied several times over by the adoption of proper scientific methods, of which the most essential at the present time is efficient fire protection.

Provincial Cows Profitable.

Not in several years has the dairy work in connection with the provincial farm and institutions made a better return to the Ontario Government than that which farm Director Todd has recently handed to the Provincial Secretary for the last fiscal year. In all 3,518,192 pounds of milk have been realized from the dairy herds maintained at the different institutions, and this at the rate of $1.60 per 100 pounds, is roughly valued at $60,000. The results have shown that the herds when properly fed and cared for, double their yield of milk and the 486 cows now owned have made a showing practically double that of the ordinary dairy herds which supply Ontario towns and cities. In addition every quart of milk is subjected to a rigorous tuberculin test before being used by the patients.

The average yield of every cow is 7,239 pounds and it is estimated that it costs the province from 85 cents to $1 to produce every hundredweight. From this an idea will be gained of the profit accruing to the province from her own management of institutional food affairs. In addition the capital cost is kept down by maintaining a high standard animal.

The farm director is at present experimenting at Whitby with 36 dual-purpose cows of the Shorthorn breed. These are bred with the aim of providing a good beef animal which also yields considerable milk. The test has shown that those now kept closely approach the standard of a first-class dairy cow. One purpose of the Government is to so demonstrate the value of this class that the province in general will make use of it on the farms.

Forest Fires In Canada.

Some idea of the serious loss inflicted on the country by forest fires was given at the annual meeting of the Commission of Conservation recently by R. H. Campbell, chief forester for the Dominion Department of the Interior.

Last year there were 1,406 forest fires in different parts of the Dominion, mostly in the west, which destroyed 438,567 acres of forest and 350,000,000 feet board measure, of merchantable timber. The spring and summer of 1914 were exceptionally dry. In 1910, another dry year, there were 1,227 forest fires, which destroyed 345,660 acres of trees and 185,350,000 feet of timber that could have been used for manufacturing purposes.

Most of the fires are caused by careless settlers, with the railways a close second and thoughtless campers third.

Spurious Lime Juice.

A report of the analyst of the Inland Revenue Department at Ottawa on the quality of lime juice sold in Canada, states that out of 100 samples examined only 50 were genuine, 32 samples were below the standard in solids or citric acid, 10 were adulterated, and 8 were sweetened juice.

Indians on Decrease.

The Indian population of Canada is slowly decreasing. The total of last year, 100,000, is a net falling off of 2,716, the figures, however, being somewhat conjectural. In Ontario the Indian population increased by 342, and in Quebec by 93.

Gave Orders to the King.

Shortly before the European conflict broke out the King of the Belgians, one of the most democratic European monarchs, spent a few weeks in Switzerland. At Territet the King and Queen were motoring His Majesty was driving, and there were no attendants. The Queen went into a shop to make some purchases.

The King was standing by the car reading a newspaper when a woman tourist came out of the shop, jumped into the car, which she mistook for a public conveyance, and bade the monarch to drive her quickly to her hotel. "Certainly, madam," said the King and deposited the woman at the hotel.

Accounts vary as to whether the King accepted or did not accept any fare.

In the meanwhile the Queen had come out of the store and was surprised to find that her husband and the car were absent. However, they speedily returned, and their Majesties laughed over the incident together.

Only the "Effects."

On one of the western rivers some years ago the steamboat F. X. Thompson ran on a snag and was sunk. It settled in the water in such a way that only the initials of the name painted on the side of the boat showed above the surface. The wreck was regarded with much interest by the passengers on the next boat that went up the river. One of them, more curious than the others, hunted up the captain.

"Captain," he asked, "do you know the name of that steamboat?"

"Yes, sir," answered that officer. "That's what is left of the F. X. Thompson."

"What happened to her?"

"She seems to have sunk."

"But what do you suppose was the cause of her sinking?"

"The cause?" said the captain. "I don't know, sir. All we can see is the F. X."

BUY FROM A WELL ESTABLISHED COMPANY

The most important point in selecting an automobile is to know the reputation of the Company—"Who is Behind" it.

New makes of automobiles come and go year after year.

The question of service should also be considered carefully. Do not buy an "orphan" car for which you may have difficulty in securing repair parts and service, after purchasing.

The McLaughlin Carriage Co., Limited, of Ottawa, is one of the oldest vehicle industries in Canada—built up on Canadian capital—in business for over forty-five years building high grade carriages, and in the eighth year of automobile manufacturing.

This company has such an extensive organization that an owner can secure dependable service at any of the twelve brenches conveniently located throughout Canada.

Every McLaughlin Buick has the famous VALVE-IN-HEAD Motor, that is guaranteed to produce and deliver more power than any other motor of equal size of any make, and on a lower consumption of gasoline.

In Montreal, the Branch Salesroom is located in the Somner Building, 260 Ontario St. West, and the garage, carrying a large stock of extra parts, is at 1570 St. Lawrence Building.

Knocked Out By Bold Burglar.

"Attacked by a burglar in the basement of his home at 1119 Broughton street, Mr. Andrew A. Logan, a prominent timber broker with offices at 837 Hastings street, was brutally beaten about the head and face with a heavy wrench.

Just before six o'clock last evening Mr. Logan went down in the basement to light the furnace fire, Mrs. Logan heard a scuffle and then a heavy fall. She did not pay any attention to it for a few moments, thinking that the noise was occasioned by her husband making the fire, but when he did not reappear, she investigated, and found Mr. Logan lying in a pool of blood. He was unconscious. The heavy wrench with which he had been felled was caught in the wound. The side of his face had been stove in and the burglar was unable to extract the wrench, the point of which had caught in the wound.

Medical aid was summoned and Mr. Logan's injuries were dressed, and he was removed to a private hospital. The police were notified and Detective Inspectors Jackson, McLeod and Anderson at once responded, but the man made good his escape.

Mr. Logan was not able to give a very definite description of his assailant. He was just in the act of turning on the electric light when the man struck him. He attempted to defend himself, but the thug hit him again, this time with the wrench, and he sank unconscious to the floor.

How the burglar got into the basement is a mystery. He evidently intended to hide there until later in the evening when he would rob the house."

Ontario To Erect Statue Of Late Sir James Whitney.

After a cabinet meeting at Toronto on Tuesday, Premier Hearst announced that the Ontario government had decided to erect a monument to the memory of the late Sir James P. Whitney. The memorial will take the shape of a statue of Sir James and will be placed in Queen's Park. The details in conection with the selection of a sculptor and the exact location of the statue when it is completed have not been settled.

The worst snow storm of the season occurred on Tuesday of this week. Newspaper reports say that in the district of Toronto never have they experienced such a storm in forty years. Railroad traffic was about entirely tied up. In 24 hours there should have arrived in Toronto 44 trains, and only three put in an appearance.

Miss Nellie Fitzgerald, of Merrickville, accidentally shot herself on Sunday afternoon and is in the Public Hospital at Smith's Falls for treatment. It is the old story of handling a loaded revolver without knowing it was loaded. While she was examining a revolver it went off and the bullet entered her breast.

As the result of an appeal by the Indians of Ontario and Quebec to the Government they will be granted special hunting and fishing privileges while the war lasts as the price of furs has so greatly decreased that the average Indian finds it almost impossible to make a living by hunting.

A man named Jack Melrose appeared before His Honor Judge O'Reilly at the Court House on Tuesday morning of last week, having elected to be tried before the Judge on a charge of taking $30.00 from the residence of Mr. J. R. Sangster, near Bainsville, a short time ago. Melrose has borne a good reputation, having been in the employ of Mr. Thompson, near Bainsville, for three and a half years. While under the influence of liquor he stole the money, claiming he intended using it to send his wife and child in Scotland. The Judge said it was an offence for which the prisoner could be sent to the penitentiary for a period of fourteen years. However, if he would promise to leave liquor alone when liberated, he would give him another chance. The prisoner agreed to do so, and His Honor sentenced him to three months in the Cornwall jail, at hard labor.

Ottawa-Prescott Road is Coming Next

The Toronto-Hamilton highway will not be the only work of its kind in the Province when the Government good roads program is carried into effect. Provincial Highway Engineer McLean returned on Saturday from Ottawa, where he has been canvassing the possibilities of an early start on the Ottawa-Prescott highway, extending some sixty miles from the capital to the boundary. Leading financial and road men were called into conference to discuss the ways and means of launching the project. At its conclusion Mr. McLean urged the attendance of delegates at the Canadian and International Good Roads Congress assembling in Toronto in March. The fact that the proposed highway bears an international importance will grant it special consideration on that occasion.

Mr. McLean will recommend some difference in construction between those two outstanding highways, that of Ottawa being made considerably easier to finance than the one between Hamilton and Toronto. It will also be ten feet in width instead of eighteen, and will cost only $10,000 per mile instead of $18,000. Provision will be made however, to allow any future widening as traffic may demand.

It is likely that a survey of the route will be made as soon as the weather permits, and a special representative Commission will be appointed to take the work in charge. The whole plan is yet tentative, but Ottawa men are agitating for its adoption.

Don't fail to attend Bogart's Fire Sale. Store opens Saturday, Feb. 6th, at 9.30.
