Teachers hit picket lines

Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

IROQUOIS—Teachers here joined thousands across the province by picketting schools, in what they call political protest against Ontario's proposed education reform.

Seaway High teachers from Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation District 21 were among hundreds of all affiliations who set up picket lines across SD & G.

Picketting started at 7.30 a.m., continued at noon, and teachers later joined a giant rally at the Cornwall Civic Complex.

The job action was to continue Tuesday, as local educators protested Bill 160 which they say threatens the quality of classroom education.

Only a few students tried to access the high school on Monday as teachers picketted outside. For reasons of safety and supervision, there was only limited access to the school, as students were not permitted entry to the gym, library or computer rooms.

"We're walking and crossing our fingers. It's an act of civil disobedience, not one that the teachers take lightly, but we feel if we don't make a stand as educators, who will?" Seaway High O.S.S.T.F. representative Shelley Bentley said.

Teachers from Iroquois Public School, St. Cecilia's and the T.R. Leger Alternative School in Morrisburg joined in picketting the three schools in Iroquois.

"I think everyone is still feeling the same way they did two weeks ago, it's the same agenda," Bentley added.

"We claimed all along this is about money, and with the leakage of that document last week, saying there would be 2/3 more of a billion dollars taken out of the education system, I think it points to a lack of credibility on the government's part," Bentley stated.

"After months of denials, and on the eve of the province-wide work stoppage by teachers, the provincial government was forced to admit that they intend to slash at least $650 million from public education," Greg McGillis, president of O.S.S.T.F. District 21 explained.

McGillis said the Bill gives the government power to cut an additional $1 billion over previous cuts by laying off approximately 10,000 teachers. As many as 500 local teachers could be affected by the massive downsizing.

According to McGillis, the Bill also "shifts control over education from local communities to the Cabinet. This shift in control eliminates the checks and balances that we in SD& G have come to expect in a democracy. There is no doubt in anyone's mind that we will lose local control over education in its entirety if Bill 160 passes."

On Monday, the SDG Separate Board closed its schools to students after the announcement that both teachers and principals would be engaged in the strike. However, Separate Schools remained open to all staff who report to work.

The Public Board followed suit on Tuesday, closing all its schools to students. All school transportation has been closed to both systems.

Chair of the Public Board Maria Thompson thanked parents and students alike "for their understanding and sup-

Seaway High teachers hit the picket line Monday, as part of a province-wide protest by educators against Bill 160, the province's proposed education reform legislation. SLPC management positive on privatization

MORRISBURG—A meeting today at the Operating Engineers Training Institute will give the St. Lawrence Parks Commission an idea of whether there is serious interest in partnership from the private sector.

On October 15, the SLPC announced their request for expressions of interest as a result of the Ontario government's directive to "study whether the private sector could be used to deliver the Parks more commercial activities."

Today's meeting is for proponents already registered with KPMG, the consulting firm coordinating the process for the Ministry of Economic Development, Trade and Tourism.

The invitation is extended to all the open and closed campgrounds, and day use areas not currently leased, the golf course, marina, retail and food services and new development opportunities outlined in the Crysler Park Master Plan. The latter includes a Village Inn, expanded golf course with residential, family entertainment centre, new retail complex and RV park. Fort Henry and Upper Canada Village interpretive programming are not included in the Request for Expressions of Interest and Qualifications.

The deadline for expressions of interest is November 17. After that, decisions will be made as to which proponents will be invited to enter Stage 2, which is the Request for Proposals.

Paradis said he viewed the process as a positive one. "I think the Commission's goal of self-sufficiency is one that we must attain in light of continuing reduced transfer payments from the province."

Opportunities will open for private sector investment not only in existing business, "but some major new opportunities exist, particularly in areas like Crysler Park for development of hotel accommodation, retail, family entertainment, additional golf. Those larger scale development opportunities are also part of this package. We are effectively seeking and hoping that some major developers express of interest and move to a proposal stage," Paradis added.

If major developers show interest, Paradis hopes the Commission would be in a "position to announce that major development on some of the new initiatives will begin to occur."

"I'd like to think that where we presently employ 500 people in the season's peak, there could be potentially twice or three times that many employed in new construction and new business in the area as a result of the initiative," Paradis continued.

"I think the potential for achieving the development and greater revenues that the commission needs lies largely in some of the new development opportunities."

Whitteker hits campaign trail

Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Williamsburg reeve Johnny Whitteker was on the hustings here Saturday, taking his message for the November 10 municipal election from door to door.

"I have a lot of people working on my campaign," he explained impressively.

During his campaign, "Johnny" has also visited homes and the plaza in Morrisburg, Iroquois, and introduced himself to newcomers in Williamsburg. He has attended many meetings, and been a guest at dinners in the area.

"I'm afraid I'll put on weight if the campaign is not soon over," he laughed.

And apart from a large dog who threatened to come crashing through a picture window, Whitteker's campaign has been well received by South Dundas residents. "I left that place pretty quickly, because I didn't think I was going to get any vote there," Whitteker joked.

Although Johnny hasn't run too many elections, (this is the second in 31 years as reeve), he appeared at ease as he introduced himself to residents, and handed them his brochure.

Many had already heard about Williamsburg's reeve through news reports or the grapevine, since Johnny has been around long enough to have earned his fame.

Johnny was in his usual fine form again Saturday evening, showing up at the Dundas County Hospice Mexican Fiesta. Not only was he quick with the repartee and one-liners, but he presented a handsome $500 donation to the Hospice on behalf of the Township.

"With my experience I think we can bring it all together and mold the four municipalities into one. I feel quite sure, we have to make it work," Whitteker said.

Although Whitteker was opposed to amalgamation when the provincial directive first came down to municipalities, he said he doesn't see a big problem now.

"I didn't support it at the start, because we have quite a lot in Williamsburg, and I kind of hated to share that with the other three municipalities. But as time goes on, I think if we hadn't done it, the government would probably have done it for us."

According to Whitteker, Ministry of Municipal Affairs representative Yves Drouin had suggested an area as large as three United Counties and City of Cornwall and single-tier government. "I think that would have been too big and too cumbersome, and you'd lose control. I think this step here is better than that," Whitteker said.

Since the four municipalities of Matilda, Williamsburg, Morrisburg and Iroquois did opt to join, Whitteker suggested this may put the area in a favorable position for grants. "That would be one way to convince the other municipalities they should amalgamate, if they don't get the dollars that the places that did amalgamate get," he stated.

Whitteker indicated amalgamation may happen province-wide before the next election. However, he is "not sure the Tories will do it or not for the simple reason it's going to be their election time. If they're going to do it, they're going to wait till after the next mandate."

If elected mayor of South Dundas, Whitteker believes local taxes can be reduced by 15 per cent in the first year, and five per cent the next two years. He is careful to point out these are "municipal taxes, not the county or school rate."

"These aren't my figures, these are the figures of an auditor who did a presentation to all four councils," Whitteker added.

After an initial outlay to renovate the civic center and other items, it is estimated that amalgamation may save $450,000 annually.

Amalgamation and provincial downloading are two separate issues, with distinct costs, he continued. It is estimated that downloading will cost SD & G $16 million, and there are three provincial funds to draw on.

At a recent Counties Council meeting, Whitteker initiated a resolution that the province outline how these funds are to be accessed. Also passed was Whitteker's resolution urging the province to reconsider its decision to make Highway 31 a county road.

Whitteker has outlined the remainder of his platform in his brochures, which promote the extension of a bike path from the City of Cornwall through South Dundas to Cardinal.

He proposes a museum for South Dundas to preserve local history, and the extension of water and sewer service to industrial parks.

Whitteker is proud of a $2.25 million surplus in the Township. He points to a new subdivision ready to go, and 65-70 per cent of roads blacktopped as evidence of good management.

"When Johnny goes to Toronto, they say 'Here comes Johnny Williamsburg'", councillor and supporter Rowdy Gillard said. "And they're all afraid to see him coming, because he always gets what he wants."

Honesty is best policy for Barkley

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

SOUTH DUNDAS—Charles Barkley believes an honest approach to the people's concerns and questions regarding South Dundas will get him elected as Mayor on November 10th.

As a firm believer in amalgamation since it first became an issue across the province, Barkley stands behind the government in its decision to amalgamate.

"I'm convinced it will save us money in the long run," says Barkley. "No one likes change, but I feel that if we all work together and cooperate with each other, amalgamation will be a positive thing."

Barkley believes that there is no sense making campaign promises that can't be kept, although he says that's one sure way to get elected.

"There will be strong decisions to make in the next three years, and I feel that with restructuring in place, and amalgamation nearly in place, it will take a strong voice on council to make it run smoothly," he says.

Barkley believes that when services are shifted to municipalities, the money from the province will come along with it.

"I don't see any reason why that won't lower taxes in the long run," he says.

"People (from Morrisburg, Iroquois and Williamsburg) don't care what I've done in Matilda over the past 17 years," he says. "It's, what can I do for the whole of South Dundas over the next three years?"

Barkley is hearing concerns on the campaign trail that have to do with separate identities of each of the four municipalities.

"People are asking what will happen to Morrisburg, Iroquois, Williamsburg and Matilda. Well, they're not going anywhere. But I can understand their concerns. Now, though, it's all part of a bigger picture—South Dundas."

Barkley says he's got no promises. "There are no smoke screens or mirrors," he says. "just honest representation for the entire area of South Dundas."

Showing good leadership skills will hopefully enable the community of South Dundas to come together as a whole, he says.

Experience

Barkley has 17 years of experience on Matilda Twp. Council. Five of those years were spent as Councillor, six as Deputy Reeve, and six as Reeve.

In 1992, he was the Chairman of Agriculture and Planning in SD&G, and in 1993, he was the Chairman of Social Services in SD&G.

He has also held chairman positions with SD&G Roads (1994), and Finance (1995).

In 1996, Barkley became the Warden of the Three United Counties, and this year, he is the Chairman of Administrative Committee for the restructuring of South Dundas.

Presently, he is serving on the Executive Committee for the United Counties.

On the Campaign Trail

Barkley is campaigning in Iroquois, and will be in Morrisburg, Williamsburg and Matilda later on in the week.

Brochures will be mailed to homes in South Dundas giving a brief synopsis on Barkley and his plans for the future.

If you would like to speak to Charles Barkley, he can be reached at 652-4403 (Matilda Clerk's Office) or at home at 652-4053.

Nov. 5-11 Veterans Week

November 5-11 has been declared Veterans' Week across Canada. A variety of activities will take place during the week across Canada to recognize the achievements and sacrifice of Canadians at home and overseas during wartime and in peacekeeping operations around the world.

While all Canadians who served during the First World War, Second World War and Korean War were remarkable individuals, some were awarded the Victoria Cross (VC) for extraordinary acts of bravery.

The VC, the highest decoration for bravery in the Commonwealth, is awarded "For most conspicuous bravery or some daring or pre-eminent act of valour, or self-sacrifice, or extreme devotion to duty in the presence of the enemy."

The VC has been awarded to 94 Canadians, the first during the Crimean War and the last to a navy pilot in the final days of the Second World War. Of these 94, only two are alive today: Charles Cecil Ingersoll Merritt of Vancouver, and Ernest Alvia Smith of New Westminster, British Columbia.

Creating links to the past

One aim of Veterans' Week is to bring the stories and lessons from Canada's wartime experience to today's youth. The Internet has proven to be a valuable tool for creating these links to the past.

Two special Internet-related activities developed by Veterans Affairs Canada include an on-line scavenger hunt, where students surf the net searching for facts on Canada's wartime involvement, and a home-page design contest for the Veterans' Affairs Canada Web site.

In addition to Web site activities, Veterans Affairs Canada has prepared several other materials for use in the classroom, including a set of postcards which students can send to Canadian veterans, and peacekeepers around the world; an activity sheet designed for younger children that includes information and games designed to promote remembrance; and a quiz based on Canada's wartime experience.

Every year, Veterans Affairs Canada designs and produces a Remembrance Day Poster which is sent to schools across the country. This year's version features "Holding at Kapyong", and "Daybreak, Gulf of Korea", paintings by artist and Korean War veteran, Edward Zuber. In addition to these items for young people, numerous other activities will be held across the country during Veteran's Week for Canadians of all ages to pay tribute to Canada's veterans and peacekeepers.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles by Laurie Day

1987

Despite reservations by Iroquois Council, permission was given to Ontario Hydro to store PCB waste material at the Iroquois Dam Transformer Vault. The vault, located on lot 24 concession 1, Matilda Twp., and the PCB waste were stored there for some time, but a plan by Ontario Hydro to move the waste to a storage site in Cornwall, approved by the MOE, ran into fierce public opposition. The plan was cancelled and the waste was to remain at the vault until it was moved to the United States for disposal.

Plans to amalgamate grades seven and eight students from Morrisburg, Iroquois and Riverside Heights Public Schools were to be presented to parents for discussion in late January. Ken MacLennan from the SD&G County Board of Education said the board was concerned about declining enrollment at Riverside Heights, and overcrowding at Iroquois where three portable classrooms were currently in use.

OPP reported a quiet Halloween weekend in Morrisburg and vicinity. Several egg throwing incidents were reported at Becker's in Morrisburg and on Maud Street. A cucumber throwing incident was also reported in the village, and an apple throwing incident on Dundas Street in Iroquois. A building in Matilda Twp. was set on fire as part of a prank, but no injuries were reported and no arrests were made.

Headlines in the November 2nd, 1977, issue of The Leader read: Minor Hockey president resigns. Lyndon Casselman took on the job after two minor hockey meetings had been called; the first attracting seven people, the second, 12, from which an executive was elected. Bill Tupper, who had been president for two years, said Casselman was doing an excellent job, and that the basis for all the troubles was the parents. Casselman said there was an unbelievable number of parents who didn't want to do anything constructive for the association.

There were no reports of damage in the area on Halloween, although there was the usual egg throwing.

Chris Porter, curator of technology at the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, was seeking old photos of the Aultsville Canadian National Railway Station. The Commission was to recreate the Aultsville Station of 1889 complete with the rebuilding of Number 1008 Grand Trunk steam locomotive.

The Morrisburg Junior B Lions proved young talent and re-organization never hurt an operation when they downed the Winchester Hawks 10-4 in the first game of the season. In the Morrisburg lineup were four 15-year-olds, two of whom connected for seven goals. Jim "Sudsy" Whelan blasted in four and Mark Payment, a youngster from the Cornwall area who was first-year-age midget, added three. Coach Brian McNairn and assistant Mike Felker, were being commended on the job they had done moulding such a young team into the club that played Sunday.

The Williamsburg Pioneer Fastball team held its annual banquet and awards' night, wrapping up a season under coach Gord McMillan which saw them win the league championship. Roger Morrell was the best batter with a .329 average, and Jim Shaw received the Most Improved player trophy. Larry Cooper was the Most Sportsmanlike Player, and Big Doug Casselman was the MVP.

The November 3rd issue of The Leader reported that Mr. and Mrs. Claude Casselman of Williamsburg celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Despite the fact the Morrisburg Jr. A Knights had yet to register their first win, area fans were happy with the calibre of hockey the young team was showing.

At Brinston's Allied Food Market, bananas were two pounds for 29 cents and a 24-ounce bottle of Sunlight liquid detergent was 49 cents.

At a special meeting of Morrisburg Council, it was decided that a town truck specially designed for snow plowing would be purchased from Steinburg Motor Sales for $12,000.

The November 8th issue of The Leader reported of the sudden death of Morrisburg High School principal E.H. Greig, which happened after he suffered a heart attack.

Patrick Myers, 17, a well-known and beloved resident of Morrisburg, died in Ottawa General Hospital following a shooting accident during a rabbit hunting expedition.

The finishing touches were being done to the new Curling Rink in Morrisburg which featured three sheets of ice.

Students and staff at Newington Public School were treated to a guest speaker last Thursday when they hosted alpine skier and motivational speaker, Jeff Dickson, who is a paralympian gold medalist. Jeff is heading to the 1998 competition in Nagano, Japan, in March, and is presently on a speaking tour of schools throughout Ontario, thanks to the sponsorship of Bell Youth Olympic Challenge program. Joanne Notman of Morrisburg helped make the visit to Newington Public School possible. After a serious motorcycle accident in his late teens, Jeff lost the use of his left arm and hand, and had his left foot amputated, but despite his setback, he became an Paralympic gold medalist in skiing. His motivational speeches have inspired many young people across Ontario, and he was greeted by red-carpet treatment at Newington.

Camp Sheldrick, tree planting, and Yellow Fish Road. These are just a few of the things that area Scouts and Guides have in common with South Nation Conservation. Camp Sheldrick was host to over 500 Scouts and Guides this summer. A camp for nearly 30 years, the SNC property has recently been given a facelift by the Scouts and their supporters. A new pavilion stands ready in case of rain, courtesy of area Lions Clubs. In the spring, over 100 Cubs and Scouts braved foul weather to plant 2,000 trees on the 90-acre site along Hess Creek at the South Nation River. Yellow Fish Road started as a Fisheries and Oceans Canada program, but its popularity has been catching. In co-operation with SNC, area Guides painted the now familiar Yellow Fish symbol on storm drains in Crysler and St. Albert in October. The eye-catching symbol reminds residents that anything in a storm drain goes straight into the nearest river without treatment. Drains in Greely, Chesterville, and Maxville were marked with this symbol over the past year by Guides and community groups.

This is a reminder to voters in South Dundas...when you get your ballot for the November 10th election, there will be four choices to make. One choice will be for mayor between Lyle Van Allen, Charles Barkley and Johnny Whitteker. Another choice will be made for one councillor (for your designated ward) and the last two choices will be for Hydro Commission—two to choose. Confused yet? So if you check off more than four boxes (1-1-2), your ballot will be not be valid. Call your local municipal office for details.

No 'big promises' from Van Allen

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

SOUTH DUNDAS—Lyle Van Allen is not making any big promises, such as lowering taxes a great deal, if elected as Mayor of South Dundas on November 10.

In fact, the only thing he's sure about, is the fact that 'final figures aren't in yet from the government, so we don't know what the effects will be regarding taxes," he says.

"There's no way I can predict a decrease with the downloading that's going on. And this is nothing compared to what will take place in the years to come."

Van Allen has been pounding the pavement in the four municipalities for the past few weeks, and he says he's visited just about half of the 4,000-plus households.

To each, he's brought the same message.

"There is a tough job ahead. We must all work together to keep the best and improve the rest," he says.

"I've often been involved in the past when we have joined forces to provide better services for our citizens," he adds.

"I would like to bring this experience, understanding and commitment to the office of Mayor."

Van Allen's reputation as a hard working representative who listens to the public's concerns, and his ability as a committee chairman, will help provide the leadership needed to bring the communities together to build a brighter future, he feels.

If elected as Mayor, Van Allen would like to see everyone treated equally. He would also like to see the adoption of a program to enhance and maintain the roadways in the newly amalgamated municipality.

He would also like to see the continuation of the five-county bike trail to help promote tourism in the area.

"We have to promote tourism and tap into the industry potential in South Dundas," he says.

Van Allen would also like to help preserve local history, as he is an avid history buff. He collects and displays pre-Seaway photographs, and helped formulate the 1992 Morrisburg High School Reunion.

For the past 15 years, Van Allen has been involved with municipal council, serving six years as councillor, and nine years as deputy reeve.

He has also been chairman of the SD&G Social Services, SD&G Agriculture, Reforestation and Planning, SD&G Children's Aid Society, Township of Williamsburg Non-profit Housing Corporation, South Dundas Recreation Committee, Dundas Dairy Herd Improvement, and the Rohm and Haas Recreation Committee.

Van Allen is a member of the Dundas Soil and Crop Association, the Morrisburg - Williamsburg Canada Day Celebrations Committee, and has been a former foster parent.

Presently, he is involved with the SD&G County Roads System (chair), Dundas Hazardous Waste, Williamsburg's 175th Anniversary, St. Peter's Lutheran Church Council (23 years as church treasurer), South Dundas Economic Development Commission, Seaway High School Advisory Committee for the Radio Station, South Dundas Restructuring Committee for Protection to People, the South Dundas Transition Committee for restructuring, and he is also a volunteer van driver for seniors.

With his experience in the community as a 'people person' Van Allen feels he can lead South Dundas as Mayor with his commitment to the people, and his ability to listen to them.

If you have any questions for Van Allen, or if you are in need of transportation to the polls, please contact him at 535-2744.

Letter to Editor

Editor, Morrisburg Leader
Morrisburg, Ontario

Dear Editor - In the September 3rd issue of The Leader, Laurie Day wrote a feature story regarding Cedar Creek Crafts. We would like to thank the paper, and especially Laurie, for the excellent job she did writing this story. Everything was great: the photos, the layout, etc., and we really enjoyed having her in the class with us. She added a new dimension.

There are a lot of small businesses in our community, some of which no one has ever heard of before, so any coverage the media gives us is greatly appreciated. With the economy the way it is, often there is not much extra money left to use for advertising, and this is a boost to our business.

Being part of a smaller community, we at Cedar Creek Crafts feel that we should all contribute what we can to help ensure its success; whether it is by helping others in time of need, or improving conditions for our children through donations of time, money, equipment, or helping with fundraisers. That is what community living is all about.

Once again, thanks and keep up the good work! And Laurie, I hope the girls weren't too hard on you about the pictures. We're looking forward to your next visit to class (unofficially this time).

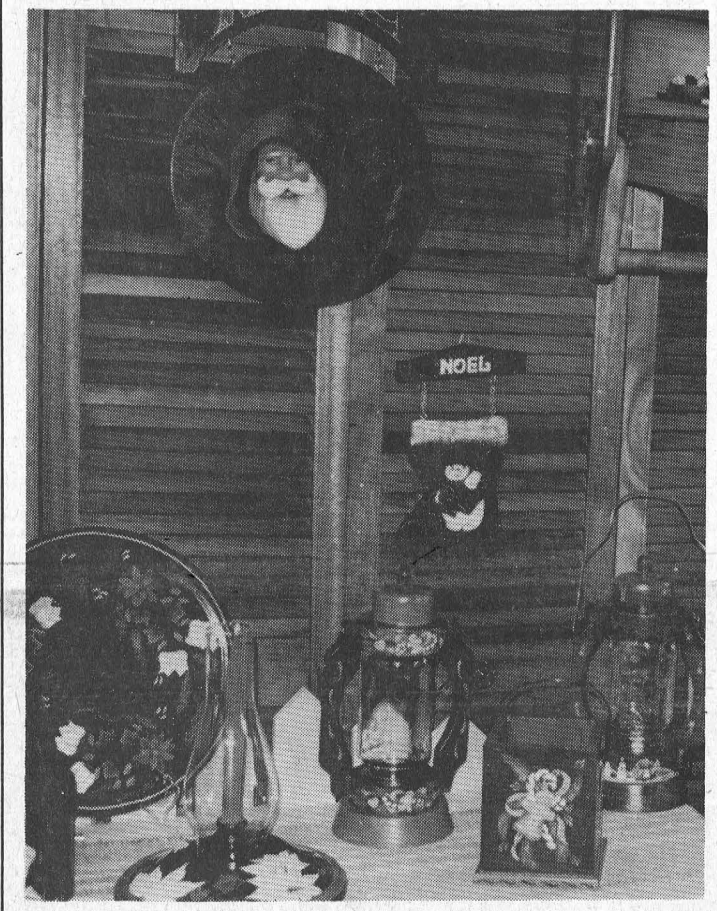
Best sellers
Dianna Bew, owner of Oma's Country Crafts, says her tole painted CD towers are the best sellers at craft shows.



Christmas preparation
Some of Ms. Bew's pieces she created are already sold, such as these ones, in preparation for the Christmas rush. Catch her this weekend in Morrisburg at the annual Christmas Craft Show by the Morrisburg and District Arts and Crafts Association.

Losing track of time with Tole Painting

Bew paints up a storm

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

BRINSTON—Tole painting and decorative art keep Dianna Bew busy for hours on end.

Sometimes, she loses track of time, and often meets her spouse in the doorway: he's heading to work—the next morning—and she's just going to bed.

"I never know what time it is," she says, as she gets caught up in her tole painting.

Right now she's busy preparing for the Morrisburg and District Arts and Crafts Association Christmas Craft Show this weekend.

As with most artisans, Christmas is Dianna's busiest time of the year, as now she is preparing phone orders as well as craft show orders.

She began tole painting seven years ago, after she and her daughter took a workshop in Ottawa.

"My daughter and I just happened to be in Ottawa one day shopping, and we saw an advertisement for a workshop on tole painting. We signed up for it, and I got hooked," she said.

A replica of a snowman, which drew her to the tole painting advertisement, was her first ever creation.

Dianna says that tole painting is all in the brush stroke.

"Once you master the techniques of the brush strokes, you can tole paint," she said.

Presently Dianna is taking classes on weekends, on how to teach Russian Floral designs.

"Primitive techniques can range from very simple to very complex designs," she said. "And realistic or still life is another common technique."

Tole painting is done in acrylic paints, applied to work which is most-often stencilled onto the product.

Products painted range from the more-popular wooden items, such as bird houses, cupboards, shelving units, desks, to metal items like milk cans or straight saws.

"You are only limited by your imagination," said Dianna.

She gets most of her wood pieces from cabinet maker, Cyril Gosse, whom she says, "does impeccable work. His pieces are just beautiful!" Dianna also uses a few pieces from Brian Ataman.

Sometimes, her pieces created on a trial-and-error basis, turn out to be her most appealing.

From crackling, to marbling and smoke marbling, her finished products have travelled across the country. Compact disc towers are her best sellers at craft shows, as are small corner cupboards.

She has travelled the craft show circuit, with stints in Cornwall at the Tri-County show, Belleville, Brockville, Ottawa and Morrisburg, and she appeares at approximately six shows a year.

She also has her work on display and for sale at the Morrisburg and District Craft Shop east of Upper Canada Village on County Road 2.

Dianna even offers classes from her home on west of Brinston. From beginner to intermediate, students flock to her home once or twice a week. "It's easy to get hooked on, and once you try it, it's not as hard at all," she said.

"It's an addiction for me, and since moving to his home, I accomplish most of my work through the afternoons, and on the weekends. It is not hard for me to work 14-18 hours a day prior to a craft show." she added.

For her students, Dianna stated that at first they are a little intimidated with the beautiful finished products.

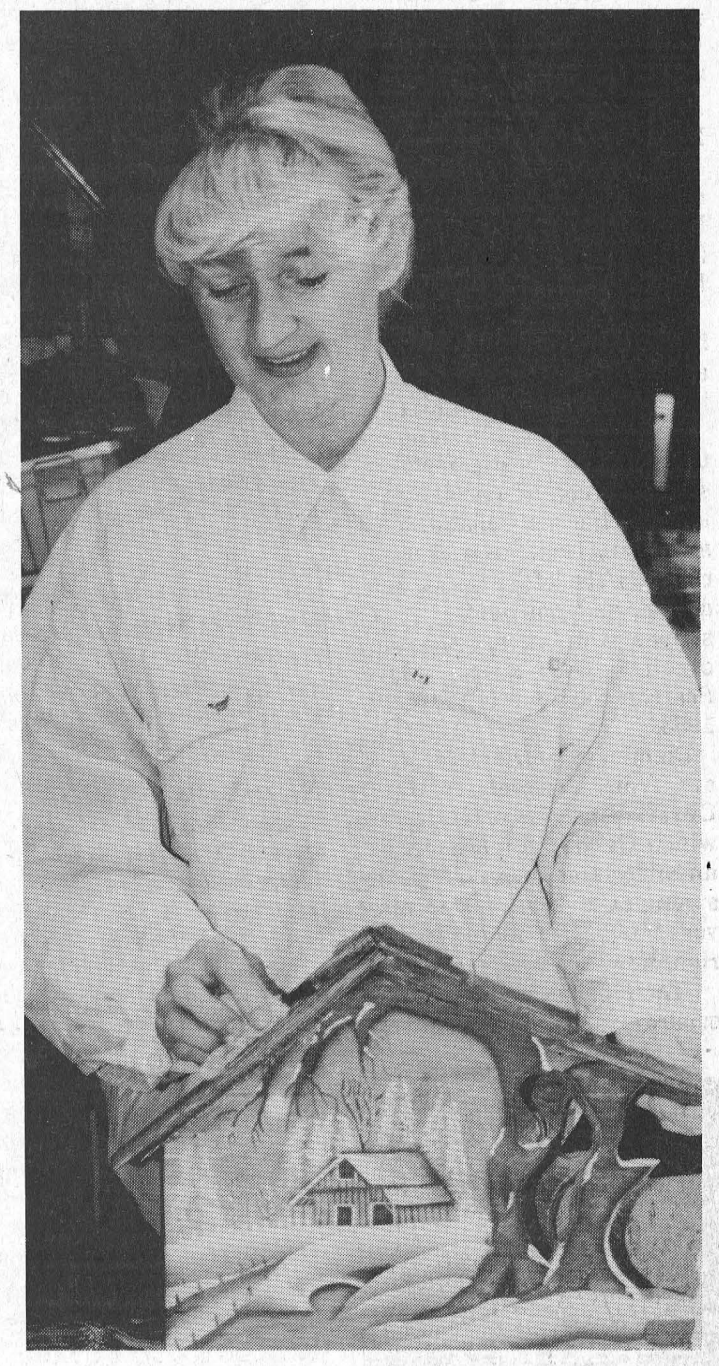
"But once they come in and do it once, and see how successful they are at it, they become very impressed with themselves, and their great accomplishment," she said.

The larger pieces catch students' attention, but Dianna starts all newcomers on small pieces, such as a ring box.

"Once they master the brush stroke, anything is possible."

Diana's studio, Oma's Country Crafts is located at 10580 Gilmour Road. She can be reached at 652-1962.

She will be one of the many artisans at the Morrisburg and District Arts and Crafts Show this weekend at the Morrisburg Legion. The show takes place from 12 noon to 9 p.m. Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday.



Finishing touches
Dianna Bew puts the finishing touches on a piece of work she tole painted at her home workshop west of Brinston. She is busy preparing for the Craft Show in Morrisburg this weekend. —Day photos

John McCaslin and Stella Casselman won the door prizes, while Bertha Christie, Phyliss Scott (2), Evelyn Swerdfeger, Vivian LaRose (2), John McCaslin, and Jean Sutton all won on the draws.

Seniors meet

WILLIAMSBURG—On Tuesday October 21, the Williamsburg Township Senior's Group held their monthly meeting in the municipal building, with 21 members and two visitors attending.

The usual pot luck dinner was enjoyed by all, and was followed by the meeting that opened with O' Canada and Hilda Garlough on the piano.

The correspondence consisted of a letter from the Park Lane Seniors Support Centre. Olin Smith reported that the plaque that was donated by our Senior's group at the Harvest Festival for the "Best car in the parade" was won by Harry Brownell.

The count was taken for the number of members that would be going to Morrisburg to the Morrisburg Senior's Day on October 28. There should be about 20 going.

The program was opened with a humorous reading by Enid Dalrymple, after which Ralph McIntosh showed two videos, one of the "Confederation Bridge, (1993-1997) Construction" and "An evening with Charlie Prose".

Ralph had a display of pictures he had taken on his trip to P.E.I. The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing cards.

Outspoken author fears destruction of Canada

Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Outspoken author Joe Armstrong proved he could 'legitimize' and provoke dissent during an address to the Canadian Club last Tuesday.

Mr. Armstrong was introduced by the Club's president Dr. Chris Findlay and entitled his talk "Legitimize Dissent or Lose the Federation."

After a good dinner, members of the club were treated to a healthy dose of "old-fashioned conservative thinking."

Armstrong firmly believes that Canada is going down the slippery road of self-destruction. He blames Canada's constitutional troubles and unity crisis on 'the leftist media, academic, and politicians of all stripes' who ' have propagandized us ever since Lester Pearson got the ball rolling in 1963.'

Blaming all our federal leaders from Pearson to Jean Chretien for the situation in which Canada finds itself "in an undeclared civil war" Armstrong says "we have to play very tough with all our leaders right now, and here's why".

"The problem is not with the separatists," Armstrong states.

"The greatest threat to this nation is the weak-kneed leaders from English-speaking Canada and especially the deux-nation (two-nation) crowd in Ottawa starting from Lester Bowles Pearson and Pierre Trudeau, right through to the present day."

Armstrong focusses on the much-hailed Calgary Declaration of 1997, which he views as shades of Meech Lake and the Charlottetown Accord. Armstrong says the Calgary Declaration originated at the Business Council on National Issues on the eve of the Quebec referendum, October 30, 1995.

"Two years before the Calgary Declaration this phrase 'unique character was cooked up and approved by the BCNI as the dinner dish to be served to Canadians in place of Meech Lake and Charlottetown."

Armstrong also objects to Intergovernmental Affairs minister Stephane Dion's open letter August 11 this year to Premier Lucien ('Lucifer') Bouchard on a unilateral declaration of independence.

Dion wrote 'The Government of Canada has always maintained that if Quebeckers expressed very clearly a desire to secede from Canada, then their will would be respected. As you know, this position is highly unusual in the international community."

"When did you and I approve the concept that Quebec has the right to secede under any conditions?"Armstrong asks.

Armstrong claims Ottawa is 'currently negotiating the terms of break-up. They're wasting taxpayers money, going before the Supreme Court of Canada to ask whether or not an illegal Unilateral Declaration of Independence is really legal'.

Prime Minister Jean Chretien's words on August 29, 1997 also receive criticism. "What preoccupies me and worries me is that if we keep talking about Plan B and how we split up the country, like any relationship we'll probably end up doing exactly that."

Provincial leaders get their share

Armstrong cites Liberal leader Daniel Johnson's scenario of a unilateral declaration from the May 16 Star: "By definition, it's something that can't be stopped, it's like saying that if someone jumps off a bridge you can order him to sort of-what?- - fall back up, or what?"

He states Alberta Premier Ralph Klein has contracted BVS or Mad Cow Disease by virtue of having as many reincarnations as Bouchard. "First, he's a Liberal, then a Red Tory, then a corporeal fiscal Tory".

Harris slammed 'distinct society' in front of the Fraser Institute in April, 1997 but backtracked on September 10, four days before the Calgary Conference.

In the Star's September 11 edition, Harris discusses the "need to begin to discuss. . how we can put forward proposals before the next Quebec election as to what we would be willing to do to recognize in the Constitution the distinctiveness of Quebec when it comes to language and cultural and the justice system."

"It took only 41 days for the Ontario premier to sink into a constitutional quagmire, the mother of all sand traps!" Armstrong states.

Not only are politicians to blame for the crisis but 'the LAZY, LAZY, leftist mainstream media" and 'an abundance of ignoramuses commanding the highest levels of the business community."

Far too many 'consider themselves responsible solely for preserving profits and economic stability in order to measure the return on invested capital."

Finally, "battalions of ignorant, illiterate, intellectually dysfunctional professors and teachers fill our universities and schools," Armstrong continues.

Armstrong succeeded in raising the ire of one spectator, who complained afterward: "You've given us a long one-sided story on what we shouldn't do, not one thing we should do."

Armstrong defended his stance as an historian citing 'traditional' material from source. "If those things I said upset you, I suggest you have to ask yourself. do you not want to hear them? You've certainly heard them before."

Another said, 'You've given us a lot about the bad guys, what about the good guys?"

"I wish I did have some good guys that I could see in the leadership out there and I don't. If there were good leadership, it wouldn't be necessary to 'stand up and admit we have big problems. Let's talk about them," Armstrong commented.

"I'm in the position of George Bernard Shaw and all those people who didn't have a good word to say about anything."

Some agreed with Armstrong's views, among them Morrisburg's Bob Howald, who said he was "100 per cent in support. We've been putting up with so much nonsense and bigotry from the federal government, and particularly, elected people from Ontario. I've never heard one MP from Ontario stand up and defend Ontario or Canada yet, I'd like to hear that some time."

Armstrong is an historian and heritage publicist, listed in the Canadian WHO'S WHO" as author of 'Farewell the Peaceful Kingdom; The seduction and Rape of Canada, 1963 to 1994' and author of "From Sea Unto Sea/Art & discovery Maps of Canada."

port during this difficult time." The Board will continue to communicate directly with parents and students regarding future actions.

Schools will remain closed to students until sufficient staff become available to provide adequate supervision for the safety and security of the students.

In a news release, the Public Board "urges the Ontario Government and teacher federations to return immediately to the 'table'. They must attempt to arrive at a solution to this serious problem as quickly as possible so as to minimize the negative impact on students and their families."

Province-wide, as many as 126,000 teachers have joined the protest, cancelling classes for 2.1 million children in elementary and secondary publicly-funded schools.

Talks between the Ontario government and the Ontario Teachers Federation broke off Sunday after retired chief Justice Charles Dubbin quit his position one day after being appointed as facilitator.

SLPC holds meeting

described the process as "the means for us to make progress over the long term on the five year plan. Because government is not a major investor in development these days, the means of securing it is by securing cooperation with the private sector."

Potentially this is a "very positive process that can generate a good deal of jobs very directly, and of course there are the economic spin-offs from whatever development does take place," Clarke added.

In fact, if there are few expressions of interest, Clarke intends to pursue these proactively. "For example, in two weeks, our director of marketing and myself will take the development plans to the national tourism conference and we'll meet directly with leaders of tourism across Canada."

"We'll be talking one on one with the presidents of hotel corporations, railways, airlines and the Canadian Tourism Commission about the kind of leading role the Commission is playing in tourism in this part of the province," Clarke added.

If invited to go on to the proposal stage, proponents prepare a detailed business case in a competitive proposal call environment, probably about the end of November or early December. Once these have been reviewed and run until early January, the process would close at Stage 2.

"At that point, the decision would be made on which the preferred proponents are," Paradis explained.

The selected ones are then reviewed with the Management Board and the Province of Ontario before contracts are arranged.

If proposals advance to the contract stage, the Commission is committed to "exercise reasonable efforts" regarding salaries and benefits for those employees with the Ontario Public Service Employees Union who are transferred to a new employer.

However, the majority of Commission employees being seasonal are not OPSEU members. Nevertheless, the SLPC will still "make efforts to discuss with potential employers the benefits of employing seasonal staff who are trained, experienced people who have worked in those businesses for many years," Paradis said.

Seaway runners in top form at SD&G, EOSSAA

IROQUOIS—Four students from Seaway District High School turned in some strong performances in cross country running recently at the SD&G and EOSSAA championships, and one has qualified as first alternate for the OFSSA championships at Cobden next month.

On Thursday, October 16th, the SD&G Cross Country Championships were held at Woodlands Park along the Long Sault Parkway.

Calvin Riddell finished strongly in the Midget Boys' competition, while Jason Hill turned in his best performance of the year in the Junior Boys' race.

Stephanie DeVries ran to a strong second place showing in the Junior Girls' race, and Travis Thompson finished third in a thrilling Senior Boys race in which the top three finished 500m ahead of the rest of the pack.

On Thursday, October 23, the EOSSAA Cross Country Championships were held at Lemoine Point, in Kingston. Despite the cold, wind and periodic snow, the team competed very well.

Riddell had another strong showing, while Hill moved up 10 places in the second half of the Junior Boys' race to finish in the top half over all.

Thompson moved from 20th in the latter stages of the Senior Boys' race to finish 13th overall.

The top performance for Seaway was turned in by DeVries who finished in fourth place in the Junior Girls' race, and is the first alternate for OFSSA Championships to be held in early November at Cobden, Ontario.

Coach Don Lewis complimented the team for their hard work during practices and team spirit at competitions as cross country running made its return to Seaway.

Formal presentation

Proceeds from the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Charity Golf Tournament held on September 13th, 1997, at the Cedar Glen Golf Course were donated last week, in the amount of $23,381.83 which doesn't include over $6,000 in donated prizes for the event. There were 141 golfers who took part in the tournament, and a donor board listing all of the sponsors for the event has been placed near the main entrance to the hospital which will remain there for several months. Special recognition should be made to Cathy and Dennis Casselman, owners of the golf club, and their staff, all of whom made this tournament a complete success. Dennis has indicated that he would be happy to host a similar tournament next year. The Casselmans donated all the green fees for the day, as well as additional prizes. Pictured from left to right are: Gérard Houde, and Dianne Lapier, golf tournament committee members; Joseline Sikorski, CEO at WDMH, Dennis Casselman, owner of the Cedar Glen Golf Course. Absent from the photo were Suru Chande, and Randy Veinotte, golf tournament committee members.

Junior Lions gaining momentum in EOJBHL

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Jr. B Lions came out of their weekend EOJBHL action with one win and one loss in two hard-fought, well played games.

The Lions' new captain, Steve Iwachniuk, has turned the team around and led them into the win column. "Steve has the experience from playing in Sudbury and is a good leader on and off the ice. We were looking for a leader and we found one in Steve", said manager Ron Casselman.

On Thursday the Lions played the Ottawa West Golden Knights and fell 7-4. Ottawa scored on the empty net late in the game as Morrisburg was bidding for a comeback with the extra skater.

The Golden Knights were first to the scoreboard at 8:57 of the first period and then followed that with another goal just 20 seconds later. The Lions answered back with a goal by Nick Dixon, assisted by Jamie Barkley and Steve Iwachniuk.

Ottawa padded their lead to two goals when they got by Sayeau early in the second period. Morrisburg made it a one-goal game when Iwachniuk scored his first of two goals. The assists came from Wayne Disotell and Stef Champagne.

Iwachniuk's second goal was at 9:30 of the second just after the Golden Knights beat Sayeau for their fourth goal of the game. Ottawa extended their lead once again at 8:44 of the second and then again with just over one minute to go in the period. The Lions scored once more before the game went into the third period as Dixon netted his second of the night, assisted by Wayne Garlough and Iwachniuk.

The Knights scored one in the third making the game a 7-4 final.

When the game was within one goal at 5-4 Morrisburg called for a stick measurement and lost the call and that is when the game slipped out of the Lions' hands.

"After the boys lost the call on the stick measurement, they got upset and fell off their game", said Ron Casselman.

Friday night's game was a completely different story as the Lions out hit, out played and out hustled Metcalfe and handed them a 7-2 mauling.

"The team really played great hockey, they are turning their game around", said Casselman.

At the onset of the first period it looked as if Morrisburg might be in trouble as Metcalfe scored just 40 seconds into the game, on their first shot on net. But Terry Gilmer recovered and shut the door on Metcalfe and the Lions started to roar.

Champagne started things off, when Morrisburg had the man advantage. He beat the Metcalfe netminder with help from Barkley. Iwachniuk then scored off a Disotell-Dixon feed.

Still on the man advantage at the start of the second period, Morrisburg scored two more goals giving them a 4-1 lead in just over four minutes of play.

Disotell scored with the assists going to Chris Barkley and Les Haggett. Dixon then scored with help from Barkley and Iwachniuk.

Wayne Garlough fired an unassisted goal at 6:05 of the second, followed by Cory Blackburn off a Barkley pass, giving the Lions a 6-2 lead.

Metcalfe scored their second and last goal of the game at 1:05 of the second period.

The Lions netted one more for good measure in the third period as Dixon put one by the Metcalfe goalie with help from Iwachniuk and Matt Collins, ending the game at 7-2.

Terry Gilmer guarded the Lions cage with a vengeance and helped lead Morrisburg to this very important win.

The Lions next game is Saturday November 1 in Prescott and then at home next Friday November 7, at 8:30 p.m. against Clarence Creek.

The team is on the way up so come out and cheer on our local Jr. B Lions against Clarence Creek. Don't forget the chuck a puck contest and 50/50 draws held every game. Go Lions Go!

There was no scoring in the final period, as Morrisburg held on for the 5-2 victory, with Jeff Eamon covering the crease in the win.

On October 25, the Lions travelled to Centre 76 in Athens, where they lost a close 3-1 decision.

Coach Mike McManus expressed his thoughts on the game. "The team tried their best to come back, but just didn't get the bounces," he said.

Pepers found the only goal for the Lions in this one. "A little luck around the net could have made it a different game," said McManus.

The Lions had a goal disallowed, which would have given them a 2-1 lead.

The third game of the week, resulted in a 2-2 tie in the dying seconds of the game against Westport.

No scoring in the first two periods of play kept the fans on the edge of their seats as the Lions were all over the crease area but couldn't manage to put the puck in the net.

In the third, the teams traded goals, and the Lions nailed the first two by Peter Toonders and Pepers, while helpers went to Adrian Bongers, and Coolican.

As time ran down Westport's Kyle Barclay was unstoppable as he scored twice to tie the game with only second remaining.

Morrisburg will host South Grenville I on November 2nd.

In an exhibition game prior to regular league action, the Novices upset North Dundas 5-1. Andrew Cassell and T.J. McManus had two goals each, while Peter Toonders rounded out the scoring with the single. Jeff Eamon played net for Morrisburg.

The team is coached by Mike McManus this season, with help from assistant coach Barry Keicks, trainer Dale Tupper, Paul Coolican and manager Doug Cassell. The coaching team is very pleased with the team's play this early in the season, and they appreciate their hard work at practice. The staff is looking forward to another fun filled year.

Keeler, Levere strong in Peewee C games

ATHENS—The Morrisburg PeeWee C Lions played here Sunday against the Athens I team and despite a good effort, fell by a score of 7-5.

Cameron Levett started the scoring for Morrisburg at 13:50 of the first period, and then Athens tied it up at 10:52.

Athens replied with three goals of their own.

The third saw Morrisburg score another two scored by Keeler and Vachon.

Athens retaliated with three more goals and stayed ahead the rest of the way.

Assists were credited to Keeler with three, Kerkhof with two, Levere and Vachon each with one. Chris Osler and Brad Thompson did the honours in between the pipes.

The coaching staff includes Doug McNairn (head coach), Alan Madge (assistant coach) and Steve Kerkhof (manager).

Bantam Bs knock out S.G.

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Bantam B Lions handed South Grenville a 10-2 loss in UCMHL play Saturday night here.

Bruce Lewis led the scoring with a hat trick and an assist.

In the first period Morrisburg scored to tie the game when Brad Casselman beat the South Grenville netminder with help from Lewis.

From there on out the Lions were in control.

James Morrell was next to the scoreboard unassisted, followed by Casselman with his second of the night, assisted by Shawn Hitsman.

In the second frame, the flood of goals continued with Eric Irvine netting one assisted by Morrell, then Foley beat the bruised goaltender with help from Jason Denio and Calvin McIntosh. Denio scored with just over two minutes to go in the second period with the assists going to Morrell and Casselman, Lewis scored his first of his natural hat trick assisted by Stephan Barkley.

Lewis netted two more getting help from Denio and Kyle Dingwall and then James Morrell finished off the scoring off of passes from Barkley and Casselman. Finally the bleeding had stopped and the Lions walked away 10-2 winners.

4-3 edge for PeeWee Cs

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg PeeWee C Blue Lions hosted South Grenville in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League action October 26, and fell to them 4-3.

The Lions opened the scoring with Chris Mellan netting one with the assist from Tyler Norgaard.

The Blues added to their lead when Cory Lanthier beat the South Grenville netminder with help from Josh McElheran and Matt Hicks.

South Grenville mounted their comeback and scored the go ahead goal at 10:24 of the third period.

Morrisburg tied it up with a Jamie Byvelds' goal, but South Grenville went on to score again and take the game by one goal at 4-3.

Just Another Day

Laurie Day

I took my own advice and got in touch with an old pal on Sunday. I haven't seen Max for over two years, and she was in Smiths Falls on the weekend for a craft show.

She was accompanied by two of her four kids: Matt, 10, and Jake, 7. Sorry, Max. Matthew and Jacob. I'm forever giving everyone a short-cut handles.

Anyway, these two young lads also had a table at the craft show, and they were selling their creations: beaded necklaces, chokers, bracelets, and their latest creation—zingers!

They refused to tell me what a zinger was. I had to go to the show. (One way to see my old buddy.)

So I lied to Larry and told him we were going on a 'Sunday drive'. Actually, he was very good about it. Since the previous Sunday I had gone on a 'visiting tour', I think he missed me.

He was pretty quick to oblige me on this day. Perhaps he didn't want to miss anything.

We did actually do that around-the-block-tour thing, starting out in Brockville. I stopped to see Shelley and dropped off the pics I had taken of her parents anniversary party the previous weekend. Then we went to my mother and father's place. Wee bro was there, but Mother was visiting Grammie. So, yes, her place was next on the list of places to visit.

In Smiths Falls, Larry decided he needed to visit a place of importance—Canadian Tire.

By the time I got to the Craft Show it was just about over. Larry wondered where in the world I was going.

"I won't be but a minute dearie," I tell him.

He came in with me. I was impressed, and just kept on smiling.

Inside the door, there were Matt and Jake. Both of them recognized me but only Matt remembered me. Once I prodded Jake's mind though, he was all smiles—toothless ones at that.

We had just missed a special presentation to the boys from the Saunders-Matthey Foundation.

See, these two great kids have been young entrepreneurs for the past two years. Their business, "Brothers Beading" has raised over $200 (a percentage of their craft show proceeds) for Breast Cancer Research.

They were presented certificates of appreciation by Ray Matthey, founder of the Saunders-Matthey Foundation for Breast Cancer Research.

These two selfless young people also give donations from their birthday parties. In lieu of gifts, guests to their parties donate loonies (or toonies) to the brothers, who in turn, hand over the proceeds to Breast Cancer Research.

Unbelievable. And these two lads aren't even told to do this. They were inspired by their grandmother—who died of breast cancer.

Now they, along with their mom, are on a quest to town council (Carleton Place) in hopes to create a special children's craft show, where a percentage of all proceeds raised will be donated to this worthy cause.

I guess you could say I helped them out. I bought a zinger. Just what is a zinger? It's a little shoe thingy that clips to your laces. They told me to buy the alien one. Something to do with the fact that I looked like an alien???!!!

I got the happy face instead.

Tie prevails in Town League action

MORRISBURG—A three-all tie prevailed in town league action last week between Impact Sports and KBD.

KBD held a 2-1 lead at the half with goals from Kirk Barkley and Bobby Deleavey.

Barkley, Dale Adams and Bill Dillabough claimed the assists.

For Impact Sports, Jamie Whitteker had the only goal of the half, and he got help from Jeremy Adams.

In the second, at the 10:36 mark, Shawn Hummel tied the score at two when he got by Paul Hill with help from Jeremy Adams and Mitch Hutt.

A minute later, Impact Sports went ahead on Jamie McIntosh's marker assisted by Whitteker and Lyle Schell.

But at 5:52 KBD held on for the tie as Bill Dillabough scored unassisted.

In the other game of the twin bill, RJC held off Nick's Sports Bar to claim a 4-1 win with Frank Waytowich in the crease.

Rob Casselman fired a hat trick in the win with two goals coming in the second period.

Jamie Smith had a single marker and picked up an assist in the win, and Don Lewis counted three helpers as well. Both Mike MacMillan and Bruce Wells picked up single assist credits.

Scoring for Nick's Sports Bar was Donald Black, with help from John Morrow. Mike Barkley was in the net.

Both teams were assessed three minor offences in the game.

Atom BI Lions play

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Atom B Level I Lions posted a 3-0 league win in Upper Canada Minor Hockey last week, but lost to the Char-Lan Rebels in an exhibition game, 4-0.

In their league win, the Lions used the aggressive net minding tactics of Robert Bongers to post a 3-0 shutout over Athens

Curtis Whitteker, Kyle Jarvis and John Bongers did the scoring damage, all finding the net in the third period.

Assists were credited to David Patterson, Tyler Lafortune, Jarvis, and two to Jordan MacGregor.

Coach Barry Van Allen is impressed with the team, and says he likes to treat them all fairly, but the play of Tyler Lafortune has been "really awesome," he said.

"Overall, the team has great intensity, but if they want to play level one, they'll have to get it together," he added.

PeeWee Bs

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg PeeWee B Lions hosted Nepean here at the arena and handed them a 9-4 loss in UCMHL action.

Nepean started the scoring with two in the first period, to Morrisburg's one by Scott Carswell, assisted by Chris Cullen.

The Lions got on their game and started to score at will and went on to score seven goals in the second period.

Doing the damage in the second period were Richard Banford, Carswell, Tyler Strader, Tony Barkley, Ian Tait, and Cole Dingwall.

The assists went to Dingwall, Nick Groves, Chris Marshall, Tait, Carswell, and Justin Elliott.

The Lions scored two more in the third and Nepean scored one late in the second and one in the third to end the game at 9-4 in favour of the Lions.

The last of the Morrisburg goals were credited to Banford

Obituary

Hilda Hess

A resident of 43 Church Street, Morrisburg, for the past three weeks, Hilda Hess died suddenly at the Winchester Hospital on Friday, October 24th, 1997. The former homemaker was 64 years of age, and was associated with the Long Sault Pentecostal Church.

She enjoyed going to church and participating in church activities. She also like to bowl and especially enjoyed socializing with people. She loved doing ceramics, knitting and was an excellent cook.

Born September 28, 1933, at Cornwall, she was the daughter of the late Benjamin Barkley and the former Effie Bowman. She spent a lifetime in the Elma area.

On October 8, 1949, at the St. Peter's Lutheran Church Manse, Williamsburg, she was married to Keith Hess, who survives.

Mrs. Hess will be sadly missed by two sons: Lorne (Monique) of Blackburn Hamlet and Larry of Elma; five daughters: Linda (John) Cinnamon of Winchester, Lillie Hess, Lorraine (Glen) Adams of Iroquois, Laura (Billy) Cashman of Russell and Louise (Richard) Cronin of Finch, and sister Von Barkley of R.R. 1 Williamsburg.

She will also be missed by 15 grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Mrs. Hess was predeceased by brothers Renwick and Ronald.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home, Williamsburg, on Sunday from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Funeral service took place at the home on Monday, October 27, 1997, at 1 p.m. with Pastor Roger March officiating.

Interment followed at the New Union Cemetery, Williamsburg.

Pallbearers were John Cinnamon, Glen Adams, Billy Cashman, Richard Cronin, Neal Bartholomew, and Steve Petersen.

Donations to the Winchester Hospital or the Canadian Cancer Society would be appreciated by the family.

Police Blotter

Weapon charges laid

As a result of an investigation conducted in relation to a disturbance in the Village of Chesterville October 24, one man has been charged. George Watters, 39 of Chesterville, was charged with possession of an offensive weapon, and uttering threats contrary to the Criminal Code, and will appear in Morrisburg court, Nov. 18.

Beaudry Farm Equipment fire

Shortly before 4 a.m. on October 23rd, police were called to Beaudry Farm Equipment in Winchester to investigate damage by fire to three farm tractors. A 1987 John Deere, a 1987 Ford and a 5640 Ford tractor received an estimated $82,000 in damage as a result of this incident. The investigation into the cause of the fire is continuing by members of the Upper Canada OPP and the Ontario Fire Marshall's office.

$2,000 tools stolen

Many hand and air tools, and paint supplies valued in excess of $2,000 were stolen at a business in Winchester Township sometime October 21st. Const. C. Pirnat is investigating.

Three B&Es in Winchester area

On October 20, police investigated a break and enter which took place at Kelly's Garage in Winchester. Overnight, a forced entry was made to the business which resulted in approximately $300 damage. A variety of tools was taken. Const. P. Robertson is investigating.

The same night, police were called to a break and enter at a private home in Winchester. Entry was made to a garage at the Fred Street home, from which an air compressor with a 50' blue hose, valued at about $500, and assorted tools in a plastic tool box were taken. No damage was sustained to the building.

Also on October 20, a break and enter took place during the morning-early afternoon in Winchester Township, when a forced entry was made to the Carruthers Road home where a number of home entertainment items, and CDs were taken. Const. C. Pirnat is investigating this incident.

Halloween approaches

As Halloween night approaches Friday, residents are reminded to attend to the clean-up around their homes and businesses early in the week. Removing items such as bagged leaves and yard ornaments, as well as securing tools, bicycles, and other personal property, will help in reducing loss due to vandalism over the next week.

Mischief, as defined in the Criminal Code, not only applies to damaging or destroying property, but also interfering with the lawful use and enjoyment of property. While some people feel that Halloween is an evening for pranks, many of these incidents do qualify as mischief and can result in the responsible persons being charged with a criminal offence, which can lead to court appearances, and if convicted, to a criminal record.

Drivers are also reminded of the particular dangers they may face and should exercise extra caution while on the highway. Traveling at slower speeds to take full advantage of your headlights, being aware of the number of additional pedestrians in the area and being prepared for the unexpected, will help reduce the potential for problems.

If you need to go out, limit your trips, and minimize the opportunities to become a victim.

For the young trick or treaters, traffic safety is of the utmost importance. Pedestrians should try to wear costumes or clothing that will make it easier for drivers to see them, should walk facing traffic, and limit the number of times they need to cross the road. It is also a good idea for young children to be accompanied by an older sibling or adult to ensure a safe and happy Halloween for all.

Operation Funnel Fury

Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

STAMPVILLE—The Village of Morrisburg conducted its third emergency preparedness exercise this year, focussing on the use of the Stampville Center as an alternate Emergency Operations Center.

Approximately 26 attended the event called "Exercise Funnel Fury". Conducting the exercise was Morrisburg's Emergency Measures Planner Bill Shearing, and attending were representatives of the Morrisburg O.P.P., Morrisburg and Williamsburg Fire Departments, Public Works and Road Superintendents. The United Counties Social Service Department, Eastern Ontario Health Unit and Winchester Hospital were represented.

Iroquois and Morrisburg clerks assisted and former reeve Earl Baker took the role of Head of Council. O.P.P. Sergeant Brent Mattice was the emergency site manager.

Local amateur radio operators and members of the Iroquois Radio Club also participated. Bell Canada stationed an emergency mobile command post outside the center.

Starting with a video featuring a tornado which hit Barry in 1985, Shearing outlined a similar tornado striking the Village of Morrisburg.

In the scenario, the tornado hit Hill's Trailer Park, damaged cars at Upper Canada Motors, Strader's, and Highway Two. High winds also caused damage in the plaza, Morris Glen apartments, and industries like Beavers Dental, Odonto and Chinook.

After passing through the west end, the funnel hit power and telephone lines on Highway 31, cutting a swath across the Village and eventually disappearing over the river to the U.S.

The table top exercise invited input for the response phase. Actions outlined clearing the highway for passage by ambulance, conducting searches for people and setting up traffic control.

Three groups were accommodated in separate rooms: an emergency site management team center, an emergency control group at an operations center, and a simulation group relayed messages from emergency responders on the scene.

Following the response stage, the focus was on the recovery. During this phase, the community was cleaned up, people returned to their homes, making plans to repair and recover financing through provincial and federal grants.

The recovery stage was followed by an evaluation by Emergency Plan evaluator Suzanne Carrier-Armstrong, from the City of Cornwall.

"It was our most complicated exercise, and went extremely well," said Shearing. "Participants were pleased with the way the afternoon went."

Shearing hopes to conduct another emergency exercise this year with remaining JEPP funding. The last exercise would not be table-top, but focus on setting up a citizens inquiry section.

While Red Cross normally handles evacuation centers, a citizens inquiry center would be manned by volunteers to receive calls about citizens affected by a disaster.

Wally Smith to speak at Canadian Club

MORRISBURG—Having first defended their country in war, Canadian veterans are now committed to protecting Canada in its battle for unity.

On November 4, Mr. Wally Smith of The Royal Canadian Legion, will address members and guests at the Canadian Club of Morrisburg and District. This is one of a series of 20 speeches that Legion veterans will deliver at Canadian Clubs across the country in the weeks leading up to Remembrance Day.

In his address, the WWII veteran and Legion Chairman for Ontario recalls how the war effort united Canadians at home and on the battlefield. Can that spirit of unity be rekindled today? The answer is yes, he says, if we start now to change attitudes that breed indifference.

"Perhaps we have relied too long on our institutions and laws to cement our unity; we have not taken the initiative as citizens to meet one another. . to get to know our country. ." says Mr. Smith.

It's time to remind Canadians that they have accomplished great things by pulling together as a people. The world war effort was a major achievement but there have been other occasions when Canadians have joined together to beat the odds—during the depression years; in the Saguenay and in Manitoba and every day in our communities as people work together to counter the forces of separation.

"Canadians have many more battles to put their minds and hearts to: poverty, pollution, education, crime, child abuse, and more," says the recipient of the Legion Meritorious Silver Medal. "These are the kinds of issues we should be striving to solve. We owe it to our children and to future generations."

The Legion has chosen the Remembrance periods to deliver this unity message in tribute to the Canadians who gave their lives for this country. ."

"This is a fitting time for Canadians to renew their commitment to Canada," Mr. Smith adds. "When we wear a poppy we recall the spirit that united our soldiers and reaffirm our own commitment to stay together as Canadians."
