Grenville-Dundas Loyal To Conservative Ranks

Fails to Follow in Liberal Sweep of Dominion. — Elliott Secures Majority in Chesterville But Loses to Casselman. — Patterson Fails and Surrenders Guarantee.

With the Liberals sweeping Canada from sea to sea, Grenville-Dundas remained loyal to Conservative principles by what might, under the circumstances, be termed "the skin of their teeth," although Casselman's majority over Elliott runs into four figures, or the very handsome margin of 2316 which figures are more than Patterson's total vote of 1,591. Dr. Patterson was among those of the Stevens party who contributed his $200 to the exchequer of the Dominion when his deposit was lost.

Of the 507 votes cast in Chesterville, Elliott received 244, Casselman 213 and Patterson 50, giving Elliott a majority of 31 locally.

In the 1930 election, Casselman increased his majority to 86 over Taugher, while in the election preceding that he had but 8 over Elliott.

There was very little excitement at any time during the day or evening. The results coming in quickly after the close of the Maritime polls soon lost interest for the Conservatives hereabouts, who soon holed up, while the Liberals were so satisfied all through the evening that nothing but happiness and good feeling radiated from them.

While the result has been explained to no end since Monday by those who knew before Monday's voting took place just how it was going to go, what intrigues us is at what time in a campaign do the electors form their decision to support one or other of the candidates? Two months ago it was almost conceded that Bennett did not have a chance, but as polling day approached it was generally agreed that about the best that could be expected would be an even break between the Liberals and Conservatives, with the prospect of one of the other groups holding the balance of power. We ask again, when is the great decision made, early or late?

Stopped, Looked, Listened, But Is Hit by Locomotive

Harold Windsor Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury When Freight Locomotive Collides With Auto in Town Monday Evening.

Although he took the precaution to stop, look and listen, Harold Windsor, young farmer living west of Chesterville, narrowly escaped serious injury when his auto was struck by a C.P.R. locomotive at the level crossing in town Monday evening.

Windsor was going south on Main street north at 6.45 o'clock following a car driven by Ingram Cross, also a farmer living near town. The first auto paused then safely passed over the right of way. Windsor also stopped, he stated, as he saw the automatic signals working and, thinking he saw the train at the station east of the crossing he started forward.

Just as the front wheels of his car touched the south rails, locomotive 3700 of train 906 crashed into the side of his car. The auto, a Graham Paige sedan, was dragged about 40 feet before the locomotive was halted. Both had been proceeding slowly. The front end of the auto was badly smashed, fenders and hood being demolished, and the right front wheel driven back.

The train was in charge of Conductor A. E. Crate and Engineer C. when the collision occurred. The locomotive was proceeding east to negotiate a switch in order to pick up a car of live stock at the local yards when the collission occurred. The auto was straightened around and was backed up to the roadway under its own power.

Trace Believed Found of Thieves of Local Poultry

Police Discover Tracks of Auto and Pick Them Up Again on Property 11 Miles Fom Town.

Recently an attempt was made to raid the hen house of Mr. Geo. McMahon and clean up his flock of fowl but was frustrated and the would-be thieves made their escape with but a dozen or so roosters. The squalling of the birds attracted the attention of a passerby, who started to make an investigation but alarmed the thieves who fled.

Constable Garnet McLean and Provincial Officer Frank Rose of Morrisburg made an investigation and traced tire tracks to a point 11 miles from Chesterville where is situated an old barn which had apparently been used for a hide-out and killing place and from the feathers scattered about it was estimated that probably more than 100 fowl had been slaughtered there.

Consults Attorney-General Over Muldoon's Death

Possibility of Officially Dropping Investigation After Frankish Finds Death Due to Natural Causes.

Toronto, Oct. 16—Deputy Attorney-General Humphreys will confer with Attorney-General Roebuck this afternoon, having completed his report on the death of William Muldoon, Smiths Falls locomotive engineer, who died some weeks ago, allegedly under mysterious circumstances.

It will rest with the Attorney-General as to future action in the case, as, following an open verdict by the coroner's jury, it is reportedly found by Dr. E. R. Frankish that death came from natural causes. There is a probability that the new medical evidence will be laid before a new jury or the investigation officially dropped. Prosecutions will, of course, proceed in the perjury trials arising out of the preliminary enquiry, it is stated here.

Dunbar Factory Burned To Ground Yesterday

Loss Estimated at $4,000 Caused by Blaze Which Was Beyond Control When Discovered. — Property of R. J. Fawcett.

Fire starting from an unknown cause destroyed Dunbar Cheese Factory yesterday at the noon hour together with part of the furniture of the proprietor, Richard J. Fawcett, all equipment, and 30 cheese, with a loss estimated at $4,000.

The fire was noticed by nearby neighbours but the flames had gained such a start that nothing could be done to save the wooden structure and efforts of the volunteers were directed to removing the stock of cheese and the furniture of Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett who lived over the factory. Thirty cheese had to be left to the flames and much valuable equipment.

The fire is thought to have had its origin in the supply room on the second floor.

The factory was purchased but last year by Mr. Fawcett from Chas. F. Marselis and the loss is a severe one to Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett who have been married but a short time. Mr. Fawcett was on his milk route with his truck when the fire took place. Both building and contents were covered by insurance.

HIT-RUN DRIVER IS CAUGHT.

Wm. Empey, Madoc, Traced Through His License Number.

James Barkley, R.R. 3, Winchester, had his car side-swiped at the corner north of Chesterville on Sept. 27th and the fender smashed. Wm. Empey of Madoc is charged with failure to remain at the scene of the accident and will appear before Magistrate McCormick Monday afternoon to explain.

Entries Close This Week For Dr. Locke Scholarship

The Dr. M. W. Locke Scholarship at Kemptville Agricultural School for 1935-36 for the sum of $100 towards the defraying of board and tuition is now open to candidates from Dundas and West Stormont. As the school opens in November, it is now advisable that those desiring to compete for this Scholarship send their applications to the office of the Department of Agriculture, Morrisburg.

The examination will consist of a personal interview with a committee of two or three qualified examiners appointed by the Department of Agriculture, and possibly a short written examination. All applications for this scholarship must be received at the Morrisburg office not later than October 19th, and candidates will be notified shortly, thereafter, of the date and place of the examination. Calendars for the 1935-6 course may now be secured from the school at Kemptville or from the Agricultural Office, Morrisburg.

Anyone interested in competing for this scholarship is advised to make application to the Agricultural Representative, Morrisburg, by October 19 at the latest.

Orchardside Girl Honoured Pre-nuptial Presentation

On Monday evening last, about 75 friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Geo. Elliott, Orchardside, to honour their daughter, Doris, with a shower prior to her marriage. The evening was spent in dancing until almost midnight when Doris was called to the floor and an address read by Miss Gladys Elliott, and the presentation made of a divanette and chair and miscellaneous gifts.

Following is the address:

Dear Doris,—

We, the people of this vicinity, have assembled here to-night on the event of your approaching marriage to spend a social evening together. We have mingled in your company in the neighbourly and social intercourses we have always found you pleasant and agreeable.

Now that you are about to take upon yourself the responsibilities of a wife, we, one and all, wish you much happiness, every success and a long and happy wedded life.

To testify the esteem in which you are held we ask you to accept these gifts, may they adorn your home and always remind you of your Orchardside friends and the delightful occasion which we celebrate to-night.

Signed on behalf of your friends and acquaintances—Gladys Elliott, Lillian Darling, Willie Elliott.

Burglars Make Fourth Visit To Morewood General Store

D. McGregor is Loser Again Fourth Consecutive Autumn.—Goods to Value of $200 Taken.

Early last Thursday morning, D. McGregor's general store at Morewood was burglarized for the fourth consecutive year at about this time in the fall. The thieves effected an entrance by smashing a glass in the front of the store, the noise of which did not disturb Mr. MacGregor, who occupies the upper part of the building as his residence.

As a deterrent to thieves, some time ago a powerful light had been installed just over the door but this had either been smashed or turned out without attracting attention, although neighbours reported having heard and seen a car near the store about the time of the robbery but were not suspicious. The booty exceeded $200 in value and consisted of six overcoats, five suits, overalls, cloth pants, underwear, socks, windbreakers and about a dozen pairs of running shoes.

An investigation was made by Constable Garnet McLean of Chesterville and Provincial Officer Frank Rose of Morrisburg who are working with Provincial Constable W. H. Kennedy of Ottawa to connect the burglary with a similar one recently at Vernon, from which plunder was located in Ottawa.

Vision Is Life

SEEING is believing—seeing is living. Of course, it is possible to live "in a way" with deficient eyesight, but those who wish to live fully must see fully.

TO GET THE CREAM of life, make sure that your vision is not only fair—but perfect. The top 20 or 30 per cent of life is the best, and it is enjoyed only by those who see that their seeing is what it should be.

IF YOU ARE a shopworker, you want your work to be as easy, accurate and fast as possible.

ARE YOU MAKING your job harder with defective eyes and inadequate light? And that mid-afternoon fatigue that descends on you may not be the result of hard work but of constant eyestrain.

ELECTION NIGHT IS FATAL.

Proved Too Much For Brockville Deputy Returning Officer.

Brockville, Oct. 16. — The excitement of election night proved fatal to deputy returning officer Robert Armour. He died here last night following a fatal seizure Monday night as he sat in a polling booth in the North Ward. Mr. Armour was a retired merchant and planned to resume business life shortly. His widow, a son and a daughter survive.

A lovesick Scotsman, wishing to know his fate at once, telegraphed a proposal of marriage to the lady of his choice.

After spending the entire day hanging about the telegraph office, he was finally rewarded late in the evening by receiving an answer in the affirmative.

"If I were you, I'd think twice before marrying a girl that kept me waiting all day for an answer," said the postmaster.

"Na, na," retorted the Scot. "The lass who waits for the cheap night rates is the lass for me."

RETAINS DUNDAS-GRENVILLE FOR CONSERVATIVES

A. C. Casselman, Member-Elect.

Taking his fourth straight victory on Monday by majority of 2,316' Mr. Casselman defeats Preston Elliott, Liberal candidate for third time. 1925 majority was 1,800; in 1926 it jumped to over 3,000, and in 1930 another increase brought it to 4,563 over Dr. Taugher of Prescott.

B.C. Couple Cross Continent Sixth Time by Automobile

New Westminster, B.C.—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Casselman, 717 Seventh avenue, have returned to New Westminster after completing a transcontinental automobile trip. This is the sixth crossing of the continent that they have made by motor.

When they left for the east five months ago they crossed the Rockies by way of Salt Lake City and Denver reaching an altitude of 11,400 feet. For a day and a half they travelled through a dust storm and they were only two days ahead of the great Colorado-Kansas flood, in which six bridges were washed out and 44 people drowned.

After spending some time in Eastern Canada they returned to the Pacific Coast by the Canadian route. Their travelling totalled 8140 miles.

In a letter to The Record, Mr. Casselman, who is a native of Finch, said they had a wonderful run, experiencing but one puncture on the round trip. Always, he says, when starting on these long runs, he equips his car with new tires.

Mrs. Aggie Cook spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Casselman.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hanson were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Wells of Hoasic, Mr. G. Froats of Aultsville.

Miss Olive Strader spent the week end at Williamsburg with friends.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett

takes his defeat at the polls with a smile and will lead party of 41 Conservatives in Canada's new Parliament.

342 Candidates Lose Deposits $68,400 Goes to the Treasury

More than one-third of the candidates in Monday's general election—342 out of 894 nominated—lost their deposits, giving the Dominion Treasury a total of $68,400, an estimate based on present returns indicates.

The east, led by Ontario, had the greater number, 216 against 126 for the west. Of that total, Ontario had 143, exactly 100 more than the next province, Quebec, in number of candidates who lost their deposits.

134 Reconstructionists Lose.

The Reconstruction party lost heavily, 134 out of 174 candidates nominated forfeited their $200 deposit to the Government for failure to poll one-half of the vote cast for the elected members in their constituencies.

The Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation was next with 77 candidates losing their deposits, while the Conservatives were third with 50. The Liberal party had 13 candidates who lost their deposits.

Candidates in Eastern Canada forfeited a total of $43,200 against $25,200 in the west.

Suitor: "I wish to marry your daughter, sir."

Dad: "Do you drink, young man?"

Suitor: "Thanks, a lot, but let's settle this other thing first."

Fond Mother: "What do you think baby will be when he grows up?"

Exasperated Father (fed up): "I don't know—town crier, most likely."

Tommy: "Pop, what's a kangaroo?"

Papa: "Just an attempt of nature to produce a safe pedestrian!"

Dundas Teachers' Inst. Joins O.N.S. 60th Jubilee

The 61st Annual Convention of the Dundas Teachers' Institute was held in Knox Presbyterian Hall, Ottawa, on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 10 and 11. The convention opened Thursday morning with the president, Miss Helen Taylor, in the chair. After her opening address, the minutes of the last convention were read by the secretary-Treasurer, Mr. H. Hamilton, which were duly adopted. Roll call and registrations were completed. The sale of tickets for the banquet at the Chateau Laurier in connection with the Diamond Jubilee celebration of the Ottawa Normal School occupied some time. The Inspector, Mr. W. J. Stewart, B.A., B.Paed,. read several letters from the Department of Education dealing with school curriculum, etc. The president then named the nominating and resolutions committees, after which the meeting was adjourned until Friday morning at nine o'clock.

During the morning session, Mr. Elwood Oakes and Mr. O. E. Ault, of the Normal School staff, addressed the convention briefly on matters pertaining to the Diamond Jubilee of the Normal School.

The afternoon session took the nature of class re-unions in the Normal school where light refreshments were served and old friendships were renewed.

The evening session was held in Dominion United church which was unable to accommodate all who sought admission. The meeting was presided over by Dr. F. A. Jones, M.A., B.Paed., principal of the Normal School. A fine programme of singing, music and addresses by former masters and graduates was enjoyed, the chief speaker being the Hon. Duncan McArthur, Deputy Minister of Education.

Friday Morning.

Friday morning the convention was opened with the Lord's Prayer, and Mr. Ronald Lynch, O.E.A. delegate, gave a very comprehensive report of that gathering. Mr. Lynch felt that if the delegate went to the O.E.A. with a definite idea of what he wished to follow instead of trying to cover the whole convention he would accomplish more.

The teachers of Grenville County joined with those of Dundas and Mr. Young, B.A., Inspector for Grenville, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Putnam, B.A., B.Paed., who spoke on "The Place of Laughter and Humour in the Class Room," and to that end quoted and read numerous poems and extracts from various authors. In speaking of some of the poems, Dr. Putman said, "You don't know what it means, I don't know what it means, the children don't know what it means but it makes us all laugh and creates a good cheery atmosphere in the class room which is so essential to successful teaching. A vote of thanks was moved by Inspector W. J. Stewart, B.A., and seconded by Jas. E Schlicter, principal of Cardinal Public school.

The afternoon session took the form of class re-unions and unveiling portraits of Dr. J. F. White and Dr. S. J. Keyes, former principal of the Ottawa Normal school. Dr. Putman delivered an address in which he recounted his long association with Dr. White and mentioned his many sterling qualities as an educationist, business man and Christian gentleman. Mrs. White unveiled the portrait and in a few words thanked all present for the honour done to the memory of her late husband.

Principal Elwood Oakes of the Normal Model School, traced Dr. Keyes' career as an educationist from a small boy born near Inkerman to his untimely death in 1922. Mrs. Keyes unveiled her husband's portrait and tablet and in a feeling manner said that nothing would have pleased him more than to know he lived forever in the hearts of his students.

At seven o'clock a banquet was held in the Chateau Laurier, which proved to be the largest function of its kind ever held in the Chateau, nearly 1600 participating. Dr. Jones presided and acted as toastmaster. After a toast to the King, Dr. McGregor Easson proposed a toast to the City of Ottawa which was responded to by His Worship Mayor Nolan, who welcomed the teachers to Ottawa and presented Dr. Jones with the key of the city.

Inspector F. J. McDonald proposed a toast to the Ottawa Normal School and Dr. W. J. Karr of the Department of Education, Toronto, a former master of the school, responded.

Mr. T. A. Brown, former music teacher at the school, lead in community singing. Miss Dorman of the Ottawa Normal school, proposed a toast to Dr. Jones and presented him with a beautiful time piece and Mrs. Jones with a bouquet of Beauty roses.

Miss Jessie Muir addressed the audience on "Privilege and Responsibility." Dr. R. Lamoureux, Principal of the Ottawa University Normal School, brought greetings and in a witty speech expressed his appreciation. Miss Copple of the school staff and Mrs. McFarlane, former music director of the school, delighted the gathering with several delightful solos.

The programme was brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," after which dancing was enjoyed by the younger members of the company.

Thus was brought to a close the 61st annual Convention of the Dundas Teachers' Institute and the Diamond Jubilee of the Ottawa Normal School in a blaze of grandeur and merriment.

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture

Protecting Potatoes From Frost.

In order to prevent losses fo potatoes from low temperatures the crop should be harvested before the advent of heavy frosts. The potatoes should be stored in rooms having a temperature between 35 and 40 degrees F., thus preventing them from turning sweet and the development of necrosis. When potatoes are being transported during the winter months they should be carefully protected from frost When it is known that potatoes have been undercooled, do not handle them until it is certain that the temperature is above freezing point.

Recommended Varieties of Oats.

Variety tests of oats made at the Central Experimental Farm over a long period have shown that Banner and Victory still hold the lead in the medium late variety class in this district. Legacy, a medium early variety, has yielded exceptionally well in comparison with later standard varieties. Where very early varieties are required, Alaska has long been recommended as one of the best. The new early variety Caltier, which has been accepted by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association as a registered variety, is considered equally as good and slightly higher yielding than Alaska in this district.

National Cheese Week
October 28 to November 2

Although Canadian cheddar cheese is equalled by few and surpassed by none of the 250 different kinds of cheese manufactured throughout the world, the Canadian people eat less cheese than most of the other great nations. For this reason, the Canadian cheese industry in 1934 promoted 'National Cheese Week' in an attempt to call attention to the advantages of cheese as a food product, and Canadian at that, worthy of more general use. As a result of these efforts, the consumption of Canadian cheese in Canada increased by almost half a pound per head of population during the year, and heartened by this advance, the Canadian cheese industry has called the 1935 National Cheese Week for October 28 to November 2.

One reason for the small quantity of cheese eaten in the Dominion is that it is generally served as plain cheese at the end of a substantial meal and not as the principal ingredient of a nenticing dish followed by a light dessert. Cheese is a food in itself and can be used in cooking in many different ways. It is one of the best muscle builders for older girls and boys, as well as for adults, but when served in crude bulk cannot be sadi to be universally appetizing. Cheese does not lose its flavour or nutritive value in cooking, but it should be remembered that when cheese is subjected to high temperatures it is harder to digest. Eaten according to modern recipes, there can be no cause under ordinary circumstances for any digestive disturbance.

Current Crop Report.

Recent showers throughout the province have benefited root crops and pastures. Due to the length of straw and variable weather, threshing is not yet completed. Silo filling is well under way, with corn a better than average crop. Fall wheat harvested has given an above-average yield of fair to average sample. Oats and barley were a good yield of average to good quality, though the latter may grade light for malting purposes. Peas were patchy in sections but sufficient for canning purposes, Hay, alfalfa and clover have been abundant crops of average quality. Pastures are still furnishing good grazing. Late potatoes have suffered from dry rot and are a light crop. Sugar beets are improving with moisture, though the sugar content is lessened from leaf blight. A good average crop of beans has been harvested and an average pack of tomatoes has been completed. Late apples are a light crop, with fruit slightly under size. The yield and quality of tobacco are good and the bulk has been harvested under ideal conditions. Fall ploughing is well under way but additional moitsure would be welcome. Barns are filled. Pasturage has been extended, and an abundant winter's supply of feed is assured.

Proper Hog Feeding.

In order to produce pork as economically as possible, farm products which would otherwise have little or no value, must be utilized for hog feeding. A ration which is balanced, or nearly so, must be fed, however, if satisfactory gains are to be made and if a satisfactory carcass is to be produced.

Experiments have been conducted to determine the value of potatoes when fed in combination with ground grains and skim milk It has been found that satisfactory gains can be made when potatoes are fed at the rate of four pounds for each pound of grain. Skim milk should be fed liberally with this ration for best results. Potatoes are fed preferably cooked. The grain mixture may consist of almost any mixture of common ground grains but it is advisable to include some barley in the mixture especially during the latter part of the fattening period. Where grain and milk only are fed a suitable mixture consists of equal parts of middlings, ground oats and ground barley until the pigs weigh about 120 pounds and then add one extra part of barley. Where potatoes are fed, one part of [illegible] periment, where the meal mixture was valued at $1.55 per hundred pounds, potatoes had a feed value of 25 cents per hundred pounds.

Lamb Campaign.

An appreciable benefit to the Canadian farmer-sheepbreeder is anticipated from the work being carried on by the recently organized Canadian Lamb Committee, which has undertaken to conduct a campaign to encourage the consumption of fresh Canadian lamb and to inform Canadian housewives of the economical and nutritive advantages and the year-round availability of this type of meat, according to a statemen just issued by the committee.

The object of the campaign, the statement continues, is to effect a more even balance between the production and the consumption of fresh lamb in Canada. Its work has been necessitated because within recent years the finishing and marketing methods of fresh Canadian lamb have been improved to such an extent that this meat may now be obtained at moderate prices during any month of the year.

The majority of housewives, however, are still apt to regard fresh lamb as somewhat of a seasonal luxury and are not fully aware of the continuous monthly movement of the farmer's product to the retail market, it is claimed in the statement. Many housewives also do not appreciate the tremendous nutritive value of lamb and its suitability as a staple meat in the family diet, and the committee is confident that its efforts will be of substantial benefit to thousands of Canadian housewives as well as to thousands of Canadian farmers and sheepbreeders.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS.

A Great Agency of Public Service.

The C. N. R. is one of the world's greatest transportation systems. Its length of track alone entitles it to that distinction, but its chief claim rests upon the nature and extent of the services it renders. While entering practically every important centre in Canada it also serves widely diversified and distant areas, and in very many instances is the sole agency providing railway facilities.

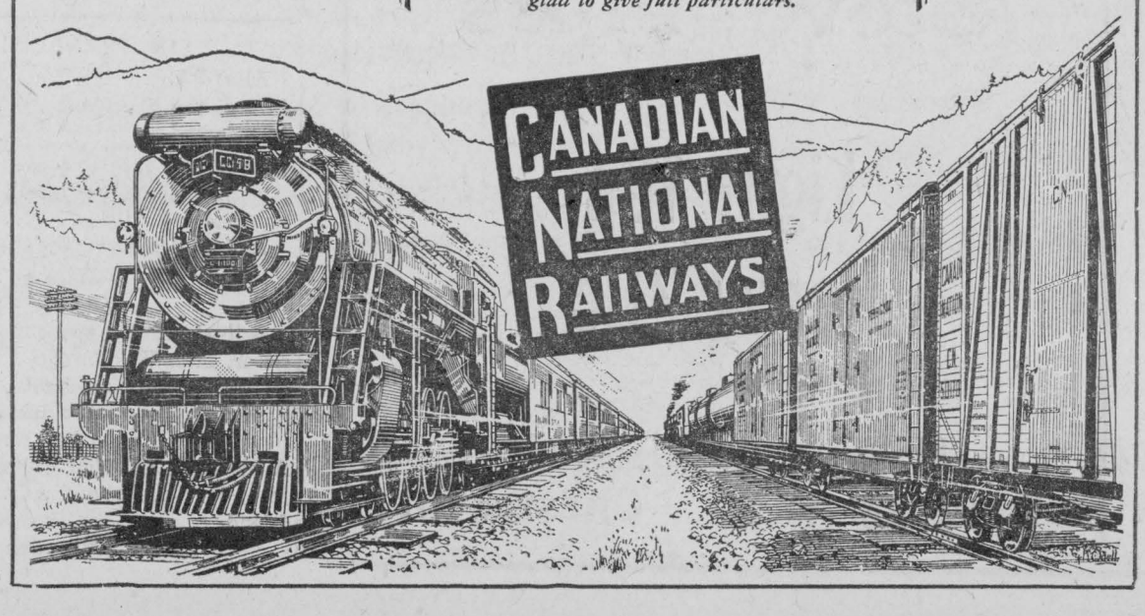

The C. N. R. is a large direct employer of labour, and indirectly, by virtue of the nature of its freight and other services, also enters importantly and indispensably into the commercial and industrial activities of the Dominion . . . creating new wealth . . . distributing raw and manufactured goods . . . enabling more employment and wages to be provided.

Notwithstanding the sparsely populated condition of much of the territory from which the C. N. R. obtains its freights of grains, minerals, forest products, etc., its charges for haulage are very low . . . Canadian railway freight rates are probably the lowest in the world. On an average the C. N. R. receives less than one cent for hauling a ton of freight one mile.

Of every dollar of revenue received the C. N. R. pays more than one half to its employees as wages, and it purchases every year many millions of dollars worth of Canadian made or produced materials. The C. N. R. also pays in the course of a year over six million dollars in various taxes.

These facts, although thus briefly stated, are of tremendous importance to Canada and Canadians. They are here presented in the hope that greater patronage will follow a wider appreciation of the part this great railway system is performing in the commerce and development of the Dominion . . . and of its vast potentialities for future service. Standing as we are at the beginning of an upward swing in business generally, renewed and enlarged opportunities to use transportation facilities present themselves. The C. N. R. is ready and anxious to serve . . . efficiently and economically. Its departments embrace passenger and freight transportation, express, telegraphs, steamships and hotels.

During the present season the C. N. R. is providing special fares and excursions between points throughout Canada. These are exceptional travel bargains. The nearest C. N. R. Agent will be glad to give full particulars.

Rout of "Fancy" Parties Pleases the British Press

Editors Express Pleasure at Level-Headed Voting of Canadians by Sponsoring Main Parties.

London, Oct. 16.—Several newspapers remarked to-day upon the defeat of new parties in commenting upon the Canadian general election.

"The welcome result of the election is the rout of socialists and cranks," said the Daily Mail. "It is the signal of deliverance for Canada upon which she deserves the warmest congratulations.

"People here naturally regret the loss of Mr. Bennett (leader of the defeated Conservatives) but will rejoice since there was to be a change, that power has passed into the hands of Mr. King, a tried and trusted statesman. Between Canadian Liberals and Conservatives the difference is not great on Imperial issues. Mr. King's majority will be well used.

SEES FARMERS RELIEVED.

The News-Chronicle, under the caption "End of Bennettism," says: "Canadian Liberals are deeply committed to lowering tariffs and abolishing high protection which under the rule of Mr. Bennett hit the Canadian farmer so hard.

"If the British Government so desire and it is a big if—it now has the chance to discuss with Mr. King what never could be discussed fruitfully with Mr. Bennett and to negotiate for the removal of the worst features of the Ottawa agreements, thereby removing the fatal process of ring-fencing the British Empire."

"The wildcats and the freaks are sunk," exclaimed the Daily Express. "It is a fine tribute to the commonsense of these Dominion folk. Twenty-five years ago they banned alien immigration and stuck to Anglo-Saxon stock and 'kept the herd clean.' No nostrums or patent medicine cures for these voters, despite hard times."

"Mr. King, we imagine, is unlikely to set out upon any pronounced departure in fiscal matters," remarked the Yorkshire Post. "A gratifying note is that the electors as a body have given the cold shoulder to fancy parties—pretty plain proof of Canada's level-headed political outlook. Mr. King in most ways is as sound an exponent of true Imperialism as Mr. Bennett."

David Lloyd George, former Liberal leader and war-time Prime Minister yesterday telegraphed to Mr. King his congratulations for the "amazing triumph."

LOWER TARIFF FORECAST.

"The result seems to promise a return to less exciting and more steadfast politics," said the Daily Telegraph. "It presages a reduced tariff and holds out strong hope of increased British exports of manufactured goods to Canada and comparable exports of Canadian food-stuffs to Great Britain.

"The Dominion must be congratulated on the verdict which leaves nothing in doubt and arms the Government under a Premier of courage and experience with a powerful and homogeneous majority."

"The result confounded all the prophets," declared the Morning Post. "Canadians evidently still prefer the choice between old allegiances and have given short shrift to upstarts. The electorate seem to have been influenced by similar considerations to those which operated in favour of Mr. Roosevelt. The average elector thought a change would do no harm and might do a great deal of good.

"The advent of Mr. King does not portend the abandonment of the Ottawa pacts though he may press for modifications, probably in the direction of lower tariffs."

IN MEMORIAM

Alford—In loving memory of John Alford, the dear husband and father who passed away October 22, 1933.

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall,
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.

Provincial Talks Likely To be Held Next Mon h

King Pauses in Cabinet Construction to Remind Premiers of Parley to be Held Soon as He Takes Office.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—It was learned tonight Hon. Mackenzie King, in acknowledging congratulations received yesterday and to-day from Liberal provincial Premiers, he had expressed the hope they would seek so to arrange their engagements as to make their presence at a Dominion-provincial conference in Ottawa on a date to be arranged in November.

He also sent a telegram to Premier Aberhart of Alberta advising him of the communication he had sent to the other Premiers and asked if Mr. Aberhart could also arrange his engagements as to enable him to be present at the conference. (All the other provinces have Liberal Premiers.)

As soon as the new Liberal Government assumed office, Mr. King said, it was his intention to discuss immediately with his colleagues the holding of a Dominion-provincial conference. The Premiers would be advised of the decision.

Although Mr. King gave no indication as to the subjects proposed to be discussed by the conference, the impression here is that legislative enactments of last session will be studied in relation to their constitutional validity. Suggestions to amend the British North America Act may also be under review.

FOOTBALL.

The following maxims hang on the wall of King George's study:

"Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentalitiy, admiring the one and despising the other.

"Teach me neither to proffer nor to receive cheap and undeserved praise.

"Teach me to be obedient to the rules of the game.

"If I am called upon to suffer, let me be like a well-bread beast that goes away to suffer in silence.

"Teach me to win if I may; if I may not win. then above all teach me to be a good loser."

She: "I read a book last night that carried me right back to my childhood."

The Bennett Government Goes Down to Defeat

THE ONE FACT of outstanding importance in the result of the election is that the party to which the public has given their mandate will have sufficient strength in the new House to direct the business of the country without depending upon the support of any other party or group. The Bennett Government has suffered a very decisive defeat. This was expected. But the people who brought about the defeat have been wise enough and patriotic enough to turn to the other of the older parties rather than endanger the economic future of Canada by entrusting the direction and control of public affairs to visionary theorists or disgruntled dissentients. To have turned away from both the old parties at a time when great and grave issues must be faced, and faced courageously, would have been disastrous. The solid good sense of the Canadian people, which has saved the Dominion at other times of political crisis, has again asserted itself, and the Dominion now has an opportunity to go forward unchecked by the dangerous propensities of unprincipled opportunists, on one hand, or political experimentalists on the other. The return to Liberalism has been general throughout Eastern Canada and apparently in those parts of the West which have not succumbed to Social Credit hypnotism.

This result follows one of the most extraordinary political campaigns ever waged in this country, a campaign in which five parties, or groups, fought, if not for complete parliamentary supremacy at least for positions of influence through which to affect the course of government and legislation. Great public issues were involved and were discussed from the platform in every part of Canada, but it would be too much to say that from this discussion the public obtained a clear or accurate picture of these issues or of party responsibility in regard to them. The flood of oratory, declamation and recrimination, tended much more to obscure than to clarify the major questions upon which the public were required to pass judgment and in many instances there was gross misrepresentation, much of it deliberate. In these circumstances, the task of the electorate was a very difficult one, and it is greatly to the credit of the Dominion that the great body of public opinion has been able to express itself so definitely and so emphatically.

To the limited extent in which the Conservative party, as now constituted, has maintained its parliamentary strength, the remarkable campaign conducted by the Prime Minister has been effective. The vigor of that campaign, the tremendous force that was put into it, and the manner in which Mr. Bennett responded to a physical test that was extraordinarily exacting, surprised his political opponents as greatly as it heartened his supporters. Early in the year it was not believed by anybody, including probably the Prime Minister himself, that Mr. Bennett's health would permit him to undergo the rigors of a general election, but in this regard he confounded the prophets and waged a fight which could scarcely have been equalled in intensity by any other man. It revived the fading hopes of his party, imbued his followers with a fighting spirit and must have won some measure of admiration even from his political opponents. Mr. Bennett was at his best during the campaign. He stressed that part of his administrative record which was calculated to make the most powerful appeal to the country. He was aggressive, forceful, and, as at all times, resourceful and fluent. The odds, however, were too heavily against him. The cumulative losses of public sympathy and public confidence, extending back over a period as long as three years, could not be made up in a single speaking campaign. The verdict had already been written. Much depended upon the outcome of the voting in the great Province of Ontario. There was never any doubt that Quebec would remain predominantly Liberal, and it was generally conceded that the 1930 ratios of the two older parties in the Maritime Provinces would be reversed, or practically so. The temper of Ontario was far less certain. Mr. Stevens was believed to have attained great strength in that province but the result shows this belief to have had no solid foundation. The province has given Mr. King a sufficiently heavy representation to assure him of a clear majority in the new House.

It is too early for any comment based upon complete returns from the western provinces, but early reports do not indicate that the action of the Wheat Board in fixing a high minimum price for prairie-grown grain has strengthened the Conservative cause to any appreciable extent in the territory between the eastern Manitoba boundary and, say, the city of Saskatoon. In this area the Liberals appear to have gained ground and to have realized their estimates to a very great extent, if not fully.

The Liberal success raises a question as to the probable fate of much of the so-called reform legislation which was passed by the last Parliament at the instance of the Government. While it is true that the Liberals did not attack the principle of this legislation they did very emphatically and repeatedly dispute its constitutional validity. There is a very strong probability now that this question of the federal parliament's constitutional right to enact legislation of this character will be referred to the courts, and that it will not survive the test thus made. What will follow is something that cannot be foreseen. Mr. King has stated that, with politically friendly provinces to co-operate with him, he can avoid the necessity of seeking amendments to the British North America Act, but the difficulty is that the provinces, however well disposed, cannot surrender any of their legislative rights while the British North America Act remains in its present form. If Mr. King is to have a social reform in concert with the provinces it will have to conform to existing constitutional restrictons and the country will be no worse off on that account.

"Jones, you have been with this firm a week now, and I find that you have not the slightest idea of office routine. When I engaged you, you told me that you were a handy man.'

"Well, so I am. I live in the next street."

Marie: "Are they in love?"

Moxie: "They must be. She listened to him describe a ball game, and he is listening to her tell how her cousin's new dress was made."

The benevolent old gentleman had once been a good cricketer, and even now took a lively interest in the game. Passing along one of the streets of slumland one day and finding a game in progress, he could not resist standing and watching it.

Soon he became aware of certain faults in the umpire's ruling, and he questioned that official about the matter.

"I see,' he said, "that your batsman has been bowled, caught and stumped, but does not go out. Why is that?"

"Oh, 'm," was the umpire's reply. "'E stays in as long as 'e likes."

"Why is that?" queried the old gentleman again. "Is he the owner of the bat or is he a bully?"

"Neither, sir," said the urchin. "But 'is father is the bobby."

APPLE PROFITS DOWN.

Saturday's "Apple Day," the second staged by the 1st Chesterville Troop, was not as big a success as last year, our sales being down about five dollars. Profits will be about $10 as compared with $14.81 in 1934, but at that the Scouts are thankful to the townsfolk for their help. Some of the drop perhaps may be attributed to the fact that football has a great hold on the boys attending high school just at this season and many of the Scouts were in Morrisburg in the afternoon either playing or watching the game. Canvassing was done in the morning and one section was completed after supper.

The town was divided into four sections and a patrol assigned to each. The patrol selling the most apples was awarded the prize of an Official Canadian Handbook, and the Whippoor-wills were the winners.

BACK AT H.Q. AGAIN.

The Troop is back once again to the fall and winter programme after the summer camp and a few weeks of rest when so many of the boys were away on holidays. Last week's meeting at Headquarters was full of interest and the Wolves showed they hadn't forgotten how to handle their ropes when they took the first three places in a knotting relay.

To-night's meeting should be just as full of good Scouting and everyone will probably be on hand for a lively programme has been arranged. A hike is planned fo rone of these Saturdays if we can get these rugby games cleared out of the way. We must keep the "out" in Scouting, you know, for there the real fun lies. And then, before we know it, the time will be upon us to start our Toy Shop and plans will have to be under way before this month closes.

AN INDIAN RAID IN SCOTLAND

No "Red Indians" had been reported in Scotland. but when lumbermen fighting a brush fire in a pine wood at Heriot heard a yell, and looked, their hair rose as they saw undoubted redmen charging through the smoke. While they stared, poised for flight. the Indians attacked the fire, and resolved themselves into Boy Scouts. They were members of the Roval High School Troop of Portobello, who as a novelty had been camping Indian fashion and in costume. The fire lasted throughout the night and into the morning. but the smoke-grimed "savages" staved with it, and rendered very valuable aid.

ROVER SCOUT BELL RINGERS.

Looking about for some field of public service, Rover Scouts of a new crew at West Hatch, Somersetshire. found a unique one near at hand. This was the ringing of the chimes of the local church, long silent. They began to study the ancient art of bell ringing, and the bells are once more heard regularly. The Rover ringers' first big test came with the King's Silver Jubilee. when in relays they played hymns and national airs for most of the day.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Conducted By
MISS HELEN LACEY, B. H. Sc.

HALLOWE'EN REFRESHMENTS.

IF you are planning a Hallowe'en party this year, you will want to include in your refreshments something symbolical of the season. I think most of us connect pumpkin pies, doughnuts, apple cider and big red apples with Hallowe'en. If your entertainment takes the form of a bridge party, it may not be practical to serve any of these foods. But of course, there are many others equally as good.

HALLOWE'EN SALAD.

For each person to be served, make a jack o'lantern from an orange. Cut the orange pulp in small pieces and mix with equal quantities of diced grapefruit and celery. Mix with salad dressing. Fill orange jack o'lanterns with fruit mixture and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

MOLASSES PULL TAFFY.

Guests at a Hallowe'en party always enjoy making pulled taffy. The following is a recipe for the good old-fashioned kind.

1 cup molasses
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 tablespoons butter

Mix all ingredients in a sauce pan Boil without stirring until a hard ball is formed when a small amount of the taffy is dropped into a cup of cold water. When cooked sufficiently, stir in a teaspoon of soda; pour into buttered tins. When cool, pull and cut in sticks.

PUMPKIN PIE.

3 cups cooked pumpkin
1-3 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
4 eggs
4 cups milk

Press the pumpkin through a sieve. Add spices, sugar and salt. Add well-beaten eggs and milk. Pour into pastry-lined pie tins. Place in a hot oven to start the cooking of the pastry, then reduce heat to a low temperature for the pumpkin mixture.

The above amount will make three medium-sized pies.

DOUGHNUTS.

1 tablespoon butter
1-3 cup brown sugar
1 egg
½ cup milk
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1-6 teaspoon cinnamon

Cream the butter, add sugar and beaten egg. Add milk and sifted flour, baking powder and salt. Mix as little as possible to avoid toughness in the finished doughnuts. It may be necessary to add more flour to make the dough stiff enough to be rolled. Roll only one-half the dough at a time. Cut with a doughnut cutter. Fry in deep fat which, when tested browns a cube of bread in 70 seconds. Turn doughnuts only once during cooking. When cooked, drain on unglazed paper and roll in fruit or confectioner's sugar.

RED APPLE SALAD.

Scoop the centres of bright red apples to make into cups. Place in water to which has been added a little lemon juice, until ready to fill. Mix equal parts of diced apple pulp, celery and grapefruit with salad dressing. Refill apple cups. Garnish with maraschino cherries and serve on lettuce leaves.

The apple cups may be made like jack o'lanterns if desired.

If you are making cookies for Hallowe'en, use your imagination and your artistic ablities and construct faces on the cookies from pieces of peel. Perhaps you can even cut some in the shape of witches or cats.

* * * *

At a dinner party, the lady guest-of-honour is seated at the right of the host, the gentleman guest-of-honour at the right of the hostess.

* * * *

Teaspoons should always be placed on the saucers, parallel with the handle of the cup.

* * * *

In arranging cups and saucers on a tea tray, do not pile the cups and saucers.

* * * *

To measure ½ teaspoon of a dry ingredient, first measure one tablespoon, then divide the spoon in halves from the handle to the tip.

* * * *

Three teaspoons equal one tablespoon. Sixteen tablespoons equal one cup.

* * * *

Cook meringues at a temperature of 250 to 300 degrees; cook custards at a temperature of 300 to 325 degrees; cook sponge cake at a temperature of 275 to 325 degrees.

Questions should be addressed to Miss Helen Lacey, Chesterville Record.

They were walking along King street and paused in the glare of a brightly lighted jewellery store. Unlike her escort, she seemed in no hurry to continue.

"Look," she said, "did you ever see such good-looking engagement rings for such a low price?"

But he was the masterful type Taking her arm firmly, he answered, "Uh-huh. But look over here. Isn't that a swell radio for only $11.95?"

A Scotsman had to send an urgent telegram, and not wishing to spend more money than necessary, wrote like this:

"Bruises hurt erased afford erected analysis hurt too infectious dead." (Ten words.)

The Scotsman who received it immediately decoded it as: "Bruce is hurt. He raced a Ford. He wrecked it, and Alice is hurt, too. In fact, she's dead." (Nineteen words.)
