These Potatoes Are The Most . . .

Even potatoes are coming out with luxury models for the fall season. Ernest Goulet and Glen Liscumb have good examples of the giant size potatoes that are being "dug" this year, pictured here.

The two large potatoes in the hands of Ernest Goulet of R. R. 1, Winchester, are just part of six of equal size that he brought into the Press Office this week. The local farmer says he has lots of the really big ones and just last week sold a bagful of spuds of the large size.

Glen Liscumb delivered an unusual potato that looked in various positions like a turtle, a snowman, and several other things. Unlike the Goulet potatoes that were conventional in shape but more than 10 inches in circumference, the Liscumb potato (inset) looked like one large potato with five little potatoes growing out of it.—Press Staff Photo.

Special Legion Service Sunday

Schools Open

First Day Enrolment Records Shattered

In company with the musical tones of the skirling pipes, the rhythmic drums and the blaring trumpets, the stacatto of hundreds of marching feet will be heard in Winchester on September 13. Five bands and more than 400 Legionnaires will parade through Winchester Sunday on their route from the Cenotaph to the Community Park for a special Drumhead Service.

Parade Marshal John Goddard will begin organizing his veteran contingents in orderly fashion at approximately 1.30 at the Public School grounds. Members of 13 branches of Zone G3 are slated to be in attendance with the bands of the 30th Field Artillery Regiment, Royal Regiment of Canadian Artillery, the North Dundas High School, as well as pipe bands from Kemptville, Maxville and Cardinal.

With the parade formed there will be the laying of a memorial wreath at the Cenotaph before the Legionnaires move to parade through the streets of the village to the Community Park for the Drumhead Service. Arrival at the Park is slated for 2.20 with the stacking of the drums and piling of colours to precede the call to worship at 2.30.

Presenting the sermon will be Rev. C. H. MacLean, D.D., Deputy Chaplain of the Fleet. The Scripture lesson will be given by Capt. Rev. Wm. Sutherland, Chaplain.

With the unstacking of the colours and drums and the completion of the required military ceremonial, the parade will be dismissed. Immediately after the Divine Service the Field Regiment will play for a Band Concert for one hour. The Band is famed in the Ottawa and Seaway Valley and just this Spring made an impressive appearance in Bermuda.

Acting Zone Commander Basil Dawley and Zone Secretary Chas. Hardy anticipate a maximum turnout from all branches in the Zone and have asked for complete co-operation from all Legionnaires and participating parties.

With the conclusion of the Band Concert a Chicken Barbecue will be held for the visiting veterans and the general public.

Back To School!

Unhappy to go — but, glad to be back. Who can figure out kids and school.

This group of sad, happy youngsters are pictured in front of the Winchester Public School as they await the opening of the doors for the first fateful day when teacher sizes pupil and pupil sizes up teacher.

Both the Public School and ever enlarging NDDHS report record enrolments. 678 high school students travel by bus and 341 elementary pupils use sidewalks and bicycles to reach the haven of education designed with mother in mind five mornings of each week. The holidays are over!—Press Staff Photo.

341 At WPS
678 At NDDHS

"S" Day, 1964, is over. "S" for school starts, sighing mothers, swelling schools, startled teachers, strictly serious students. The biggest annual migration to the haven of education is over.

In its second year of operation North Dundas District High School is already overtaxed with an opening day enrolment of 678 scholars. Principal Roy Wilson regards the situation as definitely "capacity." The enrolment number of slightly over 600 last year shows a sharp increase in the secondary school population for the 1964-65 year. Of the large enrolment an amazing 204 will be first year Grade Nine students at NDDHS.

Winchester Public School has bursting seam problems also as the trend to a bigger school population each year has necessitated the opening of an additional classroom in the basement of the school. Principal Harry Potter and his staff of eleven teachers enrolled 341 students on Tuesday. If the habit of the past is followed the local elementary school may take some action on expansion within the very near future.

Mountain District High School reports a total of 143 students seated on opening day under the direction of Principal Greig Fowler. Two new teachers have been added to the MDHS complement to complete the staff of Gary Pickard, Miss Frances Thompson, Mrs. Freda Mellan, Douglas Hunter, Miss Ruth Evans, Mrs. Mabel Shaver and Mrs. Dorothy McDill.

Osgoode Township High School shows a total enrolment of 425 in the various courses offered by that institution. Principal J. L. McDonald has on his staff R. L. Allard, J. R. Austin, Mrs. Ruth Brassart, Mrs. C. Brunton, D. Burnett, A. Carrera, S. Elder, S. T. Graves, Mrs. E. Hill, J. Hubening, G. Patterson, B. Ronlcau, J. Turnbull, J. Twiname, C. Venne and Mrs. J. Wilson.

North Mountain Consolidated School reports a decreased enrolment of 173, down from 203 last year. Principal J. M. Tomkins has on his staff three new teachers.

False Alarm

There was no fire Wednesday afternoon. Although the fire alarm sounded, the cause was unknown and the alarm false. Reeve G. H. Reynolds, on the scene, said there would be a complete investigation into the cause of the alarm and the entire alarm system, immediately.

W. I. Conducting C.N.I.B. Canvass

"$5,000.00 is needed for service to the blind and prevention of blindness work in Dundas Council for the coming year," said Mrs. Bower Potter, Chairman of the Dundas County Advisory Board of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Thirty-two legally blind persons in Dundas County are known to the C.N.I.B. and are eligible for its services. Most of these are of a highly specialized nature, such as free instruction in their homes in braille reading and writing, typewriting and handicrafts. Six blind people in the County were given this type of service last year. Braille books and books recorded on tape and disc are loaned to blind people free of charge. The Advisory Board pays $37.50 per year per borrower though the initial cost of a tape talking book machine and 3 cassettes is $150 per borrower. Seven people are currently using Library Service. Other opportunities to the blind are available such as special courses in navigation (travelling with a cane), attendance at the Lake Joseph Adjustment Training and Holiday Centre, accommodation in special residences for the blind, etc.

The C.N.I.B. also provides preventive eye care to people who cannot afford it where there is severe refractive error or pathology. Children with crossed eyes who are seven years of age and under are of particular concern to the C.N.I.B.

With the generous support of volunteer workers, particularly from the Women's Institutes, the Dundas County Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will launch its campagin for funds on September 15th.

The Board sincerely hopes for generous public support for this annual canvass which will cover in addition to Winchester, Cloverdale, Ormond, Harmony, Melvin, Annable, Maple Ridge, Four Corners and Cass Bridge districts. More than fifty canvassers will be working next week to collect the necessary funds. Do your share to help others and yourself.

Russell Fair Features Sky Diving Saturday

Everyone around Russell admires Mac Arbuthnot, the President of the Russell Agricultural Soicety, and they look up to him for leadership in all community events. But when Russell Fair opens on Friday they will be straining their necks looking up for Mac. Mac is scheduled to descend from the heights on Saturday about 2 p.m.

Dropping in is the expression. Mac will be making a parachute jump with jumpers Dale Davis and John Janis of the Brockville Sky Diving Club. Having a flying president is only one of the unusual things about the 104th annual Russell Fair. Beauty and the beast will be on hand also. Beauty and talent in the persons of Dianne Nolen, Mildred James and Doris Moffat, contestants for the title of Russell County Dairy Princess 1965. These girls will try to impress judges Frank Ryan, Mrs. J. D. Campbell and Mr. Brasseur at 8 p.m. on Friday to see who reigns over the county.

The beast is ably represented by Barbaric Barry and Norman the Knight who will square off in a fierce battle of the wrestlers in a hassle with Valiant Val and Dainty Don. These boys are reputed to be real toughies and should add a little touch of glamour to the event.

Sharing the Friday evening spotlight with the ferocious four will be Stewart James with his bagpipes, Laurie Cleroux and the Flaming Batons, and two skits by the Russell Junior Farmers and the young people of Marionville.

Saturday's program provides something for everyone with the Ottawa Valley Red and White Show slated for a morning event as well as the St. Lawrence Jersey Parish Show. CFRA's Frank Ryan will originate his Farmer's Notebook from the Russell Fair grounds at noon, and at 1 p.m. the Glengarry Highlanders will present an extended concert.

The strong men in the ring will be hard pressed to match muscles with the Firemen of the Russell and Embrun Fire Departments as the two organizations intend to grab a rope at opposite ends and pull until something gives.

Saturday evening's highlight will be the dance to the music of the CFRA Happy Wanderers.

Make it a must on your weekend calendar to attend Russell Fair September 11 and 12.

Free Enterprise

Lemonade and orange drink stands are a summer tradition with the kids. But, someone once said it pays to advertise and the business entrepreneurs pictured here went to the old slogans to help boost sales, and up the profit.

Realizing that August hadn't been an exceptionally good month for their particular product, the tiny business people bided their time until the one hot day in August came steaming in. They saturated the market, and offered the very best of service to all customers, sold at reasonable prices and closed up shop one hour later — sold out and money ahead.

Osgoode Council Considers Petitions

Petitions for approval of the $70,000 Community Centre and rink centennial project in Osgoode have been received by Dr. W. A. Taylor at a meeting of the Community Centre committee.

Osgoode Township Council will now consider the petitions. A committee from the centennial project have applied to Council to hear a delegation apply for a by-law to establish the centre.

The committee has hopes of being able to proceed with work on the centre by November 1st, in order to benefit from agreements under the winter works program.

A. E. "GUS" DOBBIE

Smiths Falls Publisher 50 Years In Business

September, 1964, marks an unique anniversary for one of Canada's widely-known weekly newspapermen — A. E. "Gus" Dobbie, editor of the Smiths Falls Record-News for the past 30 years. In September he observes his Golden Jubilee as a successful newspaperman, editor and publisher.

Still an active and progressive newspaperman, Gus Dobbie contiues to turn out thought-provoking editorials designed to improve his community, and keeps a watchful eye on all municipal affairs.

Besides running what many consider as the most up-to-date and advanced weekly newspaper in Ontario, he can still be found every publishing day up to his elbows in ink as he assists his compositors in page make-up. During holiday times, he prides himself on the fact that he can make up a smart looking page as fast as any skilled tradesman —with no mistakes.

With 50 years behind him, Gus Dobbie is looking to the future with The Record News. He recently installed a new Cox-O-Type news press; an Elrod, Ludlow, router and planer. His shop is completely equipped and no work is jobbed out, which has been one of his goals for years.

In addition to this, he has recently completed renovations and reconstruction of his newspaper offices and news rooms; installed a photographic darkroom and electronic engraving equipment, preparing cuts for his and several other Ottawa Valley newspapers. His job shop turns out work that can be matched by few and, as always, he seeks ways to eliminate any possible printing flaws.

Gus Dobbie served his apprenticeship on the Georgetown Herald where he was the printer's devil and learned to hand-set type. He was later associated with the Parry Sound Canadian and then for six years was with the Petrolia Advertiser-Topic.

At this period of his career, besides studying journalism at the University of Toronto, he decided to stretch his wings and purchase the Stirling News-Argus. He came to The Record News in April of 1934 to run the paper founded by Harry Sutton who had died the previous September. Mr. Sutton and the late G. F. McKimm had amalgamated the town's two papers into The Record-News.

Never a man to be on the outside looking in, Gus Dobbie has served on many municipal boards and was one of the spark plugs behind the formation of Little Theatre. He takes an active interest in sports and seldom misses home and away games of the local hockey team. He is politically Conservative but will not let his personal feelings extend into the columns of his paper.

Many people, on first meeting Gub Dobbie, believe he has a crusty exterior. This may be so, but it is only a pretense. He has little patience with incompetence, but untold understanding for the problems of others. As a good newspaperman, he is always ready to listen, advise and guide. When he makes a mistake, he admits it publicly. When he is right, he refuses to bask in any reflected glory, believing that the responsibility of a weekly newspaper is to keep a watchful eye on the welfare of the community as a whole.

His philosophy: Never compare a weekly with a daily. The weekly has a most vital role to play in Canadian journalism, as does the daily. Its duty is to inform the citizens of the community; tell of its triumphs and trials and, above all, build for a better future.

Winchester . . . Cheese Capital

To Ault Milk Products Limited for making Winchester the Cheese Capital of Ontario. The Ault firm is now in the process of constructing Ontario's largest and Canada's most modern cheese manufacturing plant. This complex has been in the planning stages for almost two years and will be under construction for several months. Hopefully, the complex will be in a state of ever increasing production and expansion. The choosing of Winchester as a site for this cheese making division will be of inestimable value not only to this village itself but to farmers and citizens of a large surrounding area.

In making Winchester Ontario's Cheese Capital the fates that destined the future have given the village and the entire district something to shout about. In this modern age of the hard sell and saturation salesmanship you have to push to get ahead. Of late Winchester has been biding its time—resting on its laurels so to speak. Everyone admits that it is a nice town with "nice people." Well, we have always had something to brag about, whether it be those "nice people", one of the finest small town hospitals in the country, or a thousand other things that do not seem important, but are.

Now we have something sitting in our laps that is really big —a situation that begs for exploitation. Now is the time for our Village Council, Chamber of Commerce, 100 Club, every organization and citizen to get on the bandwagon and make cheese mean Winchester. If we do, all will benefit. Possibly if we jump into action now the Winchester of five or less years from now may be publicized like this:

"When you arrive they say "cheddar" and when you leave they say "cheese" in Winchester, Ontario's Cheese Capital. What do they mean? Well, Winchester is a fast thinking and very proud town and when they say "cheddar" they mean hello and when they say "cheese" they mean goodbye for now, hope to see you soon.

"Entering this progressive town in the Golden Triangle of Eastern Ontario one is greeted on every side by a big happy cheese. At each inlet there is a huge billboard sign with a huge man of cheese called "Cheddar" waving a friendly welcome and saying "We Give You 10,000,000 pounds of Canada's Finest Cheddar Cheese Each Year." "Welcome To Canada's Cheese Caiptal." The people here live and breathe cheese, and rightly so. They make more of it than anyone else in Ontario.

"In the heart of the world's finest dairying country this village of 2,000 persons has what you want. It is the biggest cheese town anywhere because it is the home of Ault Milk Products Limtied, the biggest cheese producers in any small town anywhere. It is healthy because it is the location of one of Ontario's finest, most modern hospitals—the 200-bed Winchester and District Memorial; it is ideally located because it is scant minutes by highway or commuter bus to the nation's capital, Ottawa, and the world at large via the airways; its adjacency to the St. Lawrence Seaway is only minutes on the clock. Included here should be two excellent provincial highways, arteries to the province, and the main Toronto-Montreal line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is good for children because it is the educational centre of the county of Dundas, with close proximity to the region's most modern composite school, site of the county's largest Public School facilities, minutes from large universities in Ottawa.

The village offers unfathomable opportunities to business and industry with land sites and all necessary facilities; it is nice to live here in the close harmony of stately older sections of town and the buildings of beautiful new areas on each side of the village; and it's fun because of an immediacy of park and recreational facilities not only in the village itself but in the parks of the St. Lawrence Parks and National Capital Commissions. The old saying "we have something for everyone" cannot be overworked in this case.

Why not come over and visit, you may want to stay awhile or for the rest of your life. We would enjoy your company. Cheese."

It could be like that in five years. All it takes is a solid effort of promoting by each one in the village.

Why can't Winchester be proud of being Canada's cheese capital? It can! How can it show its pride? Tell everyone about it!

Let's hit them with everything we've got. Meet them on the highways with billboards proclaiming our fame. Meet them on the street with "cheddar" and "cheese." Advertise on car bumpers, in newspapers, on radio, on television, maybe make a movie. Why not? This could be our big opportunity.

Business could advertise it. Have a Cheese Week. Paint a large cheese on the main intersection. Name Main Street "Cheddar Cheese Avenue". Have a community letterhead claiming cheese as our business. Request Winchester be on all maps in the shape of a cheese. Have an annual Cheese Festival. Have a booth at all local fairs. There are numerous possibilities and all should be explored by interested and capable persons!

Cheese!

Meditations . . .

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Psalm 8:6—"Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet."

The original creation, how wonderful it must have been! God Himself was pleased with it. He called it good. It was good in that it fully answered His purpose, that is, the glory and praise of His Name. It could answer that divine purpose because God placed over the works of his hand man, whom He had created in his image. To man He gave dominion over His creation so that he might use it all for his heavenly Father, for God said: '. . . replenish the earth, and subdue it, and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth."—Gen. 1:28.

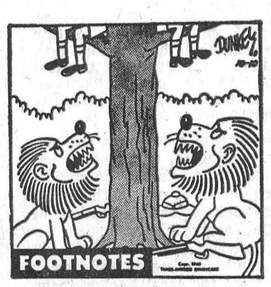
Man could fulfill this mandate because he too was created good. Scripture declares, "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him," and ". . . God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good."—Gen. 1:27, 31. Dominion under and for his God was man's great mandate and privilege. He was a priviliged master of all things so long he continued to serve God in and with the creation.

But man fell in sin and disobedience and by it lost his dominion. Instead of being master he has become slave, instead of being served willingly by the creature he must wrest that service from it. And having brought the ruin of sin and death on his entire posterity, man no longer serves God but self, he no longer serves the Creator but the creature. That is why we see on every hand that the god "materialism" is in the saddle. Men work and give their very lives for material possessions and gain. Instead of having dominion over the creature for his God, the creature has dominion over him and drives him, often to madness, to get greater possessions, some times even driving him to suicide.

God has, however, not relinquished his demands for man, or his rightful claim to his services. Every man is, by virture of his creation, a steward under God. All that he has or uses is not his but God's. The Scripture says of this, "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein."—Psalm 24:1. And to every man it says, "And what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?"—I Cor. 4:7.

God has entrusted his creation to man. Every man must, in the words of Christ, "Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength."—Mark 12:30. The whole of man's life God demands in perfect obedience, so that in this life the whole of his creation may rightly serve Him. God is jealous for his honour, and will not share it with idols of silver or gold, wood or stone. Every person that serves idols will surely perish.

How shall we then escape, seeing that by nature we have become children of wrath, in bondage to sin, and serving in our life idols of silver and gold. How can we escape the wrath of God, seeing we by nature serve the god Mammon, rather than the living God? We can escape only by faith in the Son of God, for Scripture declares, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life." n a life of faithful service we can again serve God and have dominion over creation for Him. Only then do we have life and can we enjoy it abundantly.



"Makes you feel small and inadequate, doesn't it?"

Summer: Who Needs It!

by Bill Smiley

Waning summer is a sad time, in a way. The halcyon days are nearing an end. The sun has lost its burning, baking strength. The nights come sooner, and cooler.

* * * *

Young lovers who have had a summer affair part with a last embrace, desperate promises to write, and a great heart-wrenching, a feeling that something is going to be lost, irretrievable. And they're right.

* * * *

There is a slightly forlorn, lonely air about the beaches and the resorts and the summer places. They have acquired a certain air of shabbiness that goes with the end of summer.

* * * *

Canadians fall asleep every year, in June. Lulled by the whispered, scented promises of that lush and lovely month, they dream of dazzling beaches, pine-scented woods, fun and sun, health and happiness.

* * * *

And then the dream turns into the reality. The sizzling irritation of the July heat wave, when they have decided, for a change, to take their holidays in August this year. And the cold, wet blanket of August, which turns camping trips into shivering family feuds, cottages into miniature mental institutions, and resort owners into wild-eyed neurotics.

* * * *

But don't let this end-of-summer sadness bother you. It's phoney. Canadians are not really sad as summer ends. At least, they're no more sad than I am, when I dream I'm flying to Hongkong with Elizabeth Taylor, and I've just drifted off with her head on my shoulder, and she shakes me gently and leers into my eyes and says, "I think I WILL have a double brandy," and I suddenly wake up and the Old Battleaxe is shaking my shoulder, the one with the bursitis in it, and mumbling, "Gemme a drinka wodder."

* * * *

Summer in this country is an absolute fantasy, something in which no sensible Canadian would put any more faith than he would in his Irish Sweepstake ticket, or his old Aunt Ethel who has changed her will six times.

* * * *

Summer in this country is a fraud, an illusion. Every time I lie out in the backyard, on the green grass, with the green trees enclosing a circle of blue sky above me, I shake myself and pinch myself, until I know it's a dream, and that if I tried the same thing four months later, I'd be buried under three feet of snow.

* * * *

That's why I feel no real sadness as summer draws to a close. The Canadian summer is about as real as Gilbert and Sullivan.

* * * *

In fact, I am elated at the thought that another two months of muddling around with visiting relatives, irrational golf balls, reluctant fish and lippy kids is at an end.

* * * *

As any true, red-blooded Canadian knows, fall is the time when we begin to live again. We love it. We come alive. We stop dreaming.

* * * *

We look at our kids with clear eyes, after the opium-dream of summer, and find they've grown four inches. We look at our stomachs, after two months of barbecued chicken, french fries and dairy queens, and find they have grown two inches.

* * * *

We look with loving eyes at our schools and realize with some joy that it's only a few days until we can take advantage of our position as taxpayers, and get rid of the kids for the best part of each week.

We look at our country and see it with new eyes. It's beautiful. Not a tourist in sight.

* * * *

We look at our soft, sloppy, silly, summer selves, and realize that this is not what life is all about. And we give a dim, silent Canadian cheer for the fact that it's all over once again, and we can get back to the serious things of life. Like having a baby. Or running for the school board.

The Seventh Column

Wouldn't you know it? August was as drab a month as we'll have this year. But, Monday, Labour Day, the last big vacation holiday of the year, was near perfect. Brilliant, warm sun predominated and most campers and cottagers harboured thoughts of staying on just a little longer instead of returning home to send the kids back to school. One sour note—more than 100 persons were killed over the long stretch on Canadian highways. Not a pretty picture. And with the population influx this week via the school route motorists will have to keep a sharp look-out at all times for the younger set.

Elsewhere on this page an editorial about cheese, Ault Milk Products Ltd. and what could happen in this village given half a chance. Hope you read it and, more important, hope you'll do something to make Winchester Ontario's cheese capital.

Winchester Curling Club's new building may be gasping a final breath at least for the present if committees and members don't suddenly wake up and decide that they will "never" have enough money to build. Actually, the club has done exceptionally well in raising over $15,000 cash for the project. All that is needed, really, is a little extra desire and perhaps a small gamble on the future of the club and the entire area for that matter. We have been connected with a lot of building projects in this village over the last 15 years and we can't recall when we could see the end of the road when we first started out. The writer maintains that the Club can be built — now! As it stands, a delay of a year could be a little more than detrimental to not only the club but, perhaps, the future development of the Community Park. If a bank loan is possible to make up "most" of the difference, and it should be, then our suggestion is to get on with the job. The old saying "where there's a will there's a way" was never more appropriate than it is right now in the building of a new Curling Club.

District Girls Make Cheese The Old Way

Three modern young women from Eastern Ontario demonstrate what great great grandfather had to do to make cheese 100 years ago. Checking the curd in the ancient cheese vat are Mary Campbell, Winchester, Betty Casselman, Finch, and Mavis, Johnston, of Winchester.

The young ladies participated in the exhibit of the Ontario Department of Agriculture commemorating the centennial of the cheese industry in Ontario. —Ontario Department of Agriculture Photo.

Dept. Reveals Why Trees Help On The Farm

Department of Lands and Forests reveals five good reasons why there should be trees on the farm.

Field shelter belts reduce crop transpiration and conserve soil moisture.

Shade trees are essential to livestock in the fields.

Woodlots supply periodic cash returns and can become either a normal part of farm income or can be used to meet an unexpected need for a new piece of equipment. Nearly every farm has an area that will yield a higher net annual income from forest production than agricultural production. It may be maple syrup, Christmas trees, timber or all three.

Bridgeholm Cow Awarded Gold Seal Certificate

Four Ayrshire cows owned by Ontario breeders have recently qualified for Gold Seal Certificates by producing 100,000 pounds of milk or more. The certificates are given in recognition of meritorious lifetime production achievements. There have now been 800 Canadian Ayrshire cows qualify for Gold Seal Certificates. The cows are all on official R.O.P. test and all have been milked on practical two times a day milkings.

One animal to be awarded the certificate is owned by the Bridgeholm farm of Wm. McRoberts and Son, Winchester. The Gold Seal was awarded to a well known home-bred cow in their herd, Bridgeholm Model Frances. She has completed ten lactations producing 100,672 lbs. milk, 563 lbs. fat. Carleton 4-H Clubs Requested To Enter Fire Posters At Fairs

Carleton 4-H Club members and Junior Farmers have been invited to enter displays depicting Fire Prevention procedures at each of Carleton County's three fall fairs. This project is a part of the program directed by the Carleton Farm Safety Council to promote fire safety in the farm.

It is hoped that visitors to the fall fairs at Carp, Richmond and Metcalfe will visit the exhibits and digest their messages. In addition to this benefit 4-H members and Junior Farmers themselves have become better informed on farm safety by preparing displays on the subject.

100 Attend Successful Carleton Corn Meeting

Carleton's Corn Meeting held at the farm of Art Fentiman near Hazeldean last Thursday evening was quite successful. Approximately 100 people including 23 members of the 4-H Corn Club were in attendance.

Before darkness the visitors had ample opportunity to compare four varieties of corn recommended for the production of grain. On the basis of this year's performance to date it was made quite obvious that Funks G2 and DeKalk 29 were the varieties most likely to mature sufficiently. A new single cross corn, United Hagie 108 showed the most uniformity in length of stalk and in size and quality of ear. However, it appears at this time to be late for grain production.

Mr. Fentiman used anhydrous ammonia (nitrogen fertilizer applied as gas) as a side dressing to the corn. Many people at the meeting were disappointed that there was not a visible difference in treated and untreated corn. However, it was pointed out to the meeting that it usually makes a difference of 20 per cent. one way or the other in a crop to really notice it. Therefore, the only sure way to determine the results is to take a yield test of the grain produced when it is ready to be picked.

One note of interest was the very even stand of corn on the Fentiman farm in all of the 102 acres. Much of the credit for this uniformity of planting was given to the extra treatment with insecticides which had been given to the seed prior to planting. This is important when corn is planted early when soil insects are most active.

UNIVERSITY EDUCATION PROGRAMME

A comprehensive, life-insured plan for financing a college education for boys and girls now in high school

If you are like most parents with children in high school, you are probably wondering how you are going to meet the costs of financing your youngster's college education. To help parents solve this problem, the Bank of Montreal has introduced its University Education Programme—the first life-insured plan of its kind in Canada.

Under this comprehensive programme, parents, guardians and sponsors of high-school students can spread the cost of a university education over periods of up to nine years, thus keeping monthly payments to amounts they can afford without hardship. And the cost to the parent is only a fraction of the interest paid on a straight loan programme.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

Under the basic plan, the parent agrees to make monthly payments to the Bank starting, say, two years before the student enters university, and terminating one year after graduation. In return, the parent receives an annual sum from the Bank at the start of each of the four university years.

VARIANTS OF THE PLAN

Several optional plans are available under the programme, and these vary as to the number of years in which the parent wishes to make monthly payments, as well as to the amount required annually for university expenses. Plans are based on objectives ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 payable to the parent in four annual instalments.

Here is an example of how one of the basic plans can be varied to suit your needs:

OBJECTIVE: $4,000
To be paid to the parent in four annual amounts of $1,000 each

OPTIONS	YOU PAY MONTHLY	PERIODS OF PAYMENT	YOUR PAYMENTS BEGIN
Plan A	$49.55	7 years	2 years before university
Plan B	42.78	8 years	3 years before university
Plan C	37.56	9 years	4 years before university

LIFE-INSURANCE FEATURE

If the parent concerned should die after the start of the programme, the funds for education specified in the agreement will be advanced by the Bank each year without any further payments being made by the family or the estate.

HOW TO JOIN THE PROGRAMME

See the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will receive a warm welcome from a staff who will be pleased to give you further details and to help you select a plan suited to your needs. Ask for your copy of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme folder.

P.S. If you need help in financing a student already in University — or planning to register this year—talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances.

Dairying Still Big Business Convention Told

"On the average every day of the year Canadians are purchasing one million pounds of butter, five million quarts of fluid milk products, one million pints of ice cream, about one-half million pounds of cheese and 800,000 cans of evaporated milk." These facts, with many more considering Canada's rich dairy industry, were revealed to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ault and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ault of Ault Milk Products Limited, Winchester, who were among 400 delegates to the Annual Convention of the National Dairy Council of Canada in Murray Bay, Quebec.

Speaking to the large convention, J. M. Hartwick, Council President, continued to refer to present fortunes of the industry in regard to the four year levelling off in milk production and higher domestic consumption of dairy products. Mr. Hartwick said: "This year in Canada we will not produce sufficient milk to meet domestic and export demands for dairy products," and "by the beginning of the new dairy year, all surplus stocks will have been depleted and we will have only sufficient stocks on hand to meet immediate pipeline requirements."

He said the industry was confronted with a challenge by a buoyant economy and an expanding population to implement policies which will establish and maintain a balanced supply-demand situation.

Of interest to the many delegates was the comparison of hourly earnings, having increased 100 per cent. in 15 years; the consumer price index by 33%, the food index by 30%, but the price of dairy foods only 20%. On the basis of hourly earnings, consumers can purchase two and one-half quarts more milk and well over twice as much butter than was possible just fifteen years ago.

160 Head Shown In Dundas Black and White Day

Wtih 160 head shown and 27 exhibitors on hand, the Dundas County Black and White Show at Mountain Township Fair was an excellent presentation. The September 5th event at South Mountain saw keen competition and well filled classes before Judge Don Collins of Malone, N. Y.

Allison Fawcett, Winchester, was the Premier Exhibitor, with Lorne Henderson, Brinston, runner up for this honor. Lorne Henderson took the Premier Breeder award, with Johannes Byvelds and Sons, Williamsburg, the runner-up.

Lorne Henderson showed both the male and female Grand Chamipons. Both were relatively young animals, the Senior and Grand Champion female being the winning dry three-year-old, Terrdale Citation Pattie, while the Junior and Grand Champion bull was the winning junior bull calf, Terrdale Levi. The latter is an extremely smooth, stylish bull, well balanced throughout, while the Grand Champion female is a large heifer for her age, particularly sharp in the neck and shoulder, and having excellent feet and legs.

The Reserve Senior and Reserve Grand Champion female for Allison Fawcett was the winning aged cow in milk, Mary Ann Ottawa, a straight topped cow with an excellent udder that enabled her to win the best udder class of the show.

Allison Fawcett also had the Junior and Reserve Junior Champion females, the Junior championship going to Fawcettdale Marjory Anne Leader the winning senior yearling heifer, and the Reserve Junior to the top senior heifer calf, Fawcettdale Spook Anthony. This was a close placing, the Junior Champion being smooth, stylish, and walking on good legs, and the Reserve Junior Champion very strong on top, square and level in the rump.

The joint entry of Allison Fawcett and Lloyd T. Francis, Winchester, Fawcettdale Rockman, was named Reserve Junior and Reserve Grand Champion bull after heading the Senior bull calf class. He is very large for his age.

Only one senior bull was shown, and he was named Senior Champion. This was Cleave View Donnie Regent, exhibited by C. Mac Thompson, Chesterville. He is a strong bull, carrying excellent dairy qualities.

Franklin J. Milne, Mountain, took the senior get of sire on the get of Ottawa Dijax Dude, one of the bulls from the stud of the Eastern Breeders Incorporated Unit at Kemptville. Lorne Henderson's winning junior get of sire was also by another E. B. I. bull, Seiling Rockman. Allison Fawcett took the progeny of dam on the produce of Leafield Marjory Ormsby.

Dr. John A. Thomson, Medical Advisor to the current Mass Tuberculin Testing and X-ray Survey in Stormont and Dundas Counties, to day issued a statement explaining the use of the tuberculin test and miniature X-ray films in the survey.

"Persons who receive a tuberculin test are asked to return to the clinic on a specific day to determine if there has been a reaction to the test," Dr. Thomson said. "All persons who have a reaction, and all persons over 40 years of age, are then asked to have an X-ray. Diagnosis of tuberculosis is seldom made on the basis of the miniature film taken at the mobile ¼-ray units," he added.

"The small films used for mass X-raying of this kind represent a great saving in time and money. Their purpose is to screen out cases that show suspicion of tuberculosiis or some other abnormality," Dr. Thomson explained.

"When a person's film is negative, that means that he is free of tuberculosis at that time. A notification to this effect will be sent to the individual. If the film reveals suspicious abnormalities a larger X-ray must be taken for further study, to find out just what the trouble is. It does not mean that the person necessarily has tuberculosis."

All persons whose films have such indications are asked to attend a special clinic at an appointed time in order for a larger film to be taken and further investigation carried out.

The Stormont and Dundas Counties Tuberculin Test and X-ray Survey which starts on September 9th will continue until October 16th. The Winchester survey will be conducted on two days, September 21 and 22 in the United Church Hall. These dates are reserved for the TB test only. Readings and X-rays will be taken on September 24 and 25.

Don't forget to return to have your test read. It is useless without this reading. For your health and your family take a second to be sure.

This is the time many farm flock owners are thinking about ordering their day old chicks to raise for replacement pullets. Some will pay up to 56c a bird to get the chick of their choice. Barclay-Steinberg Vows Exchanged

Williamsburg United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon when Rev. Wellwood Adam united in marriage Patricia Steinberg and Reuben George Barclay. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Annie Belanger of Williamsburg and the late Lloyd Edward Steinberg, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Barclay of Winchester.

Baskets of gladioli, mums and mixed summer blooms adorned the altar for the two o'clock wedding ceremony. James Barclay, Ottawa, assisted his brother as best man. The ushers were Bill and Bob Barclay of Morrisburg. Attending the bride were Miss Betty Barclay, sister of the groom, as maid of honour, Miss Edna Belanger, Miss Joy Woods, Miss Mary Ann Belanger, cousins of the bride, as bridesmaids, and Miss Thresa Belanger, cousin of the bride, as flower girl.

Given in marriage by her step father Mr. Wilfred Belanger the bride wore a traditional full-length gown fashioned in gleaming white satin peau de soie, featuring full-length sleeves, a scooped neckline, and bouffant skirt. Highlight of her gown was the hand-embroidered lace on the bodice and skirt, complimented by tiny roses of the same material as her gown. A large hand-made rose accented the waistline at the back. Her veil of tulle illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of red roses and white pinnochio mums. Her only jewellery, a gift fo the groom, was a drop-pearl surrounded by a heart of rhinestones.

The maid of honour wore a floor-length gown fashioned in lime peau de soie on stright princess lines. A floating panel of self material fell from the bow at the shoulderline in back. She carried a semi-cascade of white shasta mums.

The bridesmaids wore identical floor length dresses of peau de soie in fiesta featuring empire waistlines and A-line skirts. In the back, at the waistline, a removeable train was attached with a large bow. Their flowers were semi-cascades of white shasta mums.

The flower girl wore a floor-length gown of gold peau de oie, fashioned on lines similar to that of the bridesmaids. She carried a small basket of white shasta mums.

To travel, the bride wore a pink linen suit, with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following a honeymoon in Western Ontario and Northern U. S. A., Mr. and Mrs. Barclay will reside in Ottawa.

THE Arnold Palmer METHOD

Four-Time Winner of the Masters

PLAN YOUR ROUND AND LOWER YOUR SCORE

If you shoot about 90 for an average round of golf, clear-think your way into the low 80s -- occasionally the high 70s.

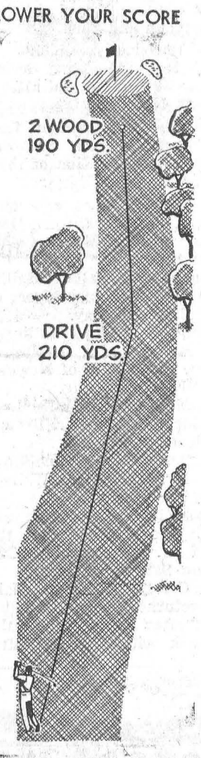
First plan your round. Chances are that now you get about six pars in 18 holes. You probably get about 7 bogies, 4 double bogies and maybe 1 disastrous quadruple bogey.

Analyze what's needed to lower your score from 90 to 80. All you must do is to par one more hole. You can do that. Also change those double bogies to bogies and eliminate the bad hole.

If you are good enough to shoot 90, you are good enough to eliminate double bogies for the most part. Just think clearly on each hole and make up your mind that you won't go more than one over par. Here's what I mean:

The hole is 430 yards, par 4. Probably you cannot normally reach it in two shots. Don't try. Just keep the ball in play. Two straight shots and you'll be about 30 yards short of the green (see illustration). All you must do then is hit the ball somehwere on the green and two-putt for your bogey. You might even approach for one putt and a par.

Just keep the ball in play and the bad hole and double bogies will vanish.



NEW! JUST PUBLISHED! "HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PUTTING"! Here is Arnold Palmer's illustrated guide to putting stance, grip, line-up, stroke! Send 20¢ and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Arnold Palmer, c/o this newspaper.

Step Up Search For Jack Summers

An air and water search for Jack Summers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sparling Summers of Winchester, was intensified Wednesday as planes from Trenton Air Force base joined in the quest for the missing man in a boat.

Mr. Summers had taken his brother, Junior, water skiing off The Island in Toronto Harbour when the older Summers man lost one ski. Driver of the boat Jack towed his brother to shore on the opposite side of the Island and then circled to pick up the lost ski. He has not been seen since.

The elder Summers immediately began searching for his brother, Jack, shortly after four o'clock on Monday afternoon when he did not return with the boat and ski.

All available search and rescue teams are on the scene as of Wednesday afternoon. No trace of man nor boat has been found.

Wylie Picnic

The second annual Wylie picnic was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Guy on Sunday, with about 55 members present. Sunny skies made the day very pleasant, when two meals were served, and games and contests were enjoyed.

Members of the clan were present from Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Pendleton, Russell and Winchester.

Finances Still Hamper Curling Club Decision

They came, they talked, they listened, they will come again.

Will Winchester's new Curling Club come, is the question that rides high in the minds of curlers and citizens alike this week. Friday night—the eve of decision—passed without a final statement being issued. However, the onus of action now lies in the hands of the banking concern which has been approached for a loan to float the remaining necessary funds to start and complete construction.

Club executives have taken an optimistic view of the loan situation and preliminary surveys on the Club property adjacent to the Community Park were made yesterday. President Ran Wylie reports that the general feeling toward the project is all in the affirmative and the only stone yet to be turned is in the matter of a bank loan.

Canvassers made their final check of members and friends of the club last week and returned to Friday's meeting with legal equivalent to $15,000. This amount was an increase of $1,000 over the previous canvass total. President Wylie feels that the project has an excellent chance of success if word is received within the next few days from the head office of the Royal Bank with regard to the application for a loan.

The Curling Club is now playing the tenth and final end in the game of building this year!

Baptist Church Anniversary This Sunday

Rev. Gordon B. Woodcock, who served as a student minister in this district during the summer of 1944 will return to the scene of his former labours this Sunday, September 13, as Winchester Baptist Church celebrates its anniversary on that date.

The speaker at the anniversary services at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. is the president of the Baptist Ministers' Fellowship and Moderator of the Trent Valley Association and has been minister of the Victoria Avenue Baptist Church, Belleville, since 1959.

In addition to the Winchester services Mr. Woodcock will occupy the pulpit at the South Gower Baptist Church at 3 p.m. Twelve months ago the building was re-opened for public worship. During this period Rev. G. A. Cawfield has ministered in the church basement. But Sunday's services will be held in the partially restored sanctuary.

Glider Lands Near Winchester

Winchester was on the air map last Saturday. Peter Moetensen of the Pendleton Glider Club landed his fragile craft in a field south of Preston Rodney's house on Saturday afternoon about five o'clock. The air vehicle had been in the clear blue for about three hours when it was forced to land.

Six gliders left Pendleton Airport in competition. Their mission was to fly to Winchester and return. Storms, rain and lack of suitable air currents proved detrimental to the glider flight plans and by 5 p.m. all were on land between Pendleton and Winchester. Moetensen's craft was the only one to reach Winchester, where he lost altitude and was forced to land. Another glider landed near Chesterville, and the others were distributed across the intervening 40 miles between Pendleton and Winchester.

The grounded pilot telephoned for a trailer to pick him up. With glider dismantled and trailer loaded the flier returned to Pendleton.
