Legion Ball Tournament Rated Tops In District

Despite contrary weather conditions, this year's Legion-sponsored fourth annual fast-ball tournament developed into the best tournament in Eastern Ontario, with 24 teams entered. A total prize list of $500 plus the fact that the Iroquois diamonds are rated the tops in the district, brought dozens of players and hundreds of fans to Iroquois at the weekend.

Branch 370 Iroquois came up with the well-organized tournament and carried it through without a hitch, even though rain twice forced a halt to games. The final games and presentations were late Sunday evening.

Over 1200 paid admissions were recorded but rain stopped the chicken bar-b-q on Sunday evening, hitting just at the supper hour and closing the playing field.

Sunday was also the Iroquois Flying Club's annual Fly-in Breakfast and again despite cloudy skies and uncertain weather conditions throughout the province and western Quebec, 37 planes braved the elements to come to Iroquois. The wide variety of planes were eye-appealing to hundreds of spectators and tourists, with another bountiful breakfast being served by ardent flying enthusiasts and their friends at the air strip.

This year, Iroquois was in competition with an airshow at Carp which also helped keep down the number of planes visiting Iroquois, but all things considered, the local organizers were well pleased with the eventual attendance of planes and of local support.

Sunday evening also featured an ecumenical church service which had to be held in the Civic Centre due to the late Sunday rain. It too captured its share of the audience of the weekend and was thoroughly enjoyed. Rev. Father W.D. MacDonald, Rev. A. Rogers and Rev. Brian Gee were the principals involved.

HUNDREDS TAKE IN GAMES

For three days at the weekend hundreds of people came to Iroquois to watch some of the top ball teams in the district compete in the fourth annual Legion-sponsored fastball tournament. Here is a small section of the spectators who stayed till the last game ended near midnight on Sunday.

W.I. MEMBERS AT ANNIVERSARY

Last Thursday afternoon marked the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Women's Institute in Iroquois. Gathered here are those members who were able to attend the pleasant affair held outside at the Civic Centre.

Loss of Direct Property Tax Credit

All residents of Ontario were faced with the loss of the direct property tax credit this year when the Ontario Government announced its cancellation of the program in its former form. Below are details of how homeowners, tenants and roomers will receive benefits from tax credits for 1972.

As well, the government gave further details of its election reforms, which are included below:

MUNICIPAL ELECTION REFORMS

All municipal elections across Ontario will take place on the same day - the first Monday in December - commencing in 1974. Other highlights: all elected municipal officials will serve two-year terms; by-elections must be held to fill vacancies; eighteen year-olds will have a vote and voters' lists will be prepared by enumeration as in provincial and federal elections.

PROPERTY TAX CREDIT

Property tax credits will be made directly to Ontario's homeowners as well as to tenants and roomers who have receipts for payment of rent. Tax credits for 1972 are to be claimed when income tax returns are filed next year. The tax rebate calculation for homeowners: a $90.00 basic claim plus 10 per cent of property taxes, less one per cent of taxable income. Tenants and roomers are eligible for the basic $90.00 plus two per cent of annual rent paid during the course of a year, less one per cent of taxable income up to a maximum credit of $250.00.

Lions Pub Night a success

The Iroquois Lions Club held the first of two scheduled "Pub Nights" on Friday, July 22nd, with Mrs. Ab Merkley at the organ. The music was very pleasant and before the evening was over, there was a pretty good crowd, considering it was a new venture. A bigger crowd is anticipated on Friday, August 18, and the entertainment will be "Roger and Del", who are a well known entertainment team from Morrisburg.

Prizes of the evening were won by Roger Allen, Jack McQuaig, Allan Fisher, Judy Barkey, Ford McCaslin, Helen Smith, Jack McQuaig, Bill Cherry, Dale Roberts, Helen Smith, Louis Rooney and Ron Delagarde.

On July 15th, the Lions Club and their wives met at the Danny Robertson home for a steak and salad supper and social evening. A demanding schedule has been drawn up for the fall and winter months, because it is Iroquois' 25th anniversary year in Lions International. Mr. Peter Swank is the President of the Club, successor, as of July 1st, to immediate past President Al Belmore.

Apples Stripped

Local residents are complaining about their apple trees being cleaned of apples in the village and The Post was asked to print a notice that anyone seeing this being done, please contact the owners.

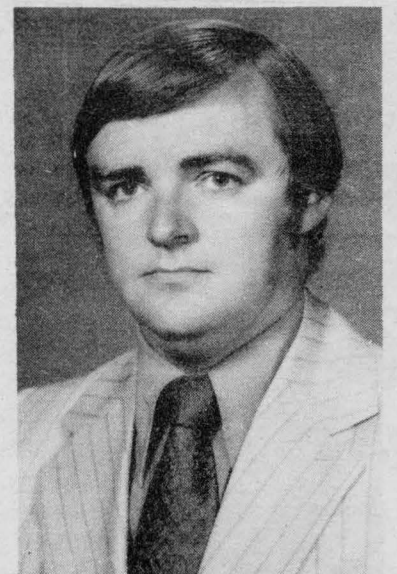

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coveney are pleased to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Marie Coveney, to Roland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Denis of Iroquois.

New Manager at Royal Bank

Welcome is given to Wayne Lowry who has recently been appointed manager at Iroquois branch of The Royal Bank of Canada, replacing Gordon Telford who had been manager here for over six years. Mr. Telford was transferred to Merivale branch in Ottawa during June.

Mr. Lowry is married and his wife Colleen and three children have moved to Iroquois to take up residence. He has been manager at branches in Perth, Pembroke, Ottawa, Prescott, Moncton N.B. and Montreal and comes to Iroquois with a wide banking experience.

The Post expressed the wish, on behalf of the community, that the new manager and his family enjoy the coming years in the community and wish them every success in the future.

The same good wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Telford as they leave Iroquois and look forward to their new challenges.

DISASTER IN DUNDAS

Seldom has Dundas County had to face situations such as the one confronting the farming communities this year.

Heavy rains almost daily have taken their toll of the crops and little hope remains to salvage much from the land this year.

With this heavy loss many farmers in Dundas County face ruination unless help can be obtained from many quarters. At a meeting Monday night in South Mountain, farmers faced up to their problems and are trying to find a measure of relief to tide them over until another year. The prospects of having to sell some of their cattle, of little or nothing in the way of crops to feed their animals, and of facing mortgage payments on farms and machinery make the coming months hard to face.

Numerous suggestions have been made towards alleviating the financial problems they now face and will have before them for a long time. Even if the weather improved considerably it is said that it would be the middle of August before they could get back on their land.

With crops well below average, with some crops a complete loss already, with pastures facing ruination, with hay rotting as it lay cut in the fields, the prospects are indeed monstrous.

The work of a lifetime could be wiped out in this one year. Other areas are hard hit but reports indicate that Dundas County faces the worst situation in Ontario.

Another meeting has been called for this Thursday night at South Mountain in Nationview Public School at 8 p.m. Provincial and Federal government representatives have been asked to attend along with farm-oriented organizations. Spokesmen have been appointed by the farmers from all over Dundas and every effort will be made to impress upon the governments the dire predicament facing County farmers.

The farming communities, as well as the farmers are involved in the problems facing this County. Every community is largely dependent upon the farmers' income as a force of stability within the community as a whole and any disaster that hits the farmer will have an effect on the whole area.

Every farmer is invited to the Thursday evening meeting and their support should be automatic as should be the support of every citizen of the County.

GOOD WEEKEND

Despite the odd shower last week-end's excellent program went off with but minor changes.

The Legion-sponsored ball tournament was a well-planned and successful event, with over 1200 paid admissions in the three days.

Sunday morning's fly-in breakfast was under last year's total but bad flying conditions were accountable. Even at that about 37 planes came to Iroquois.

Only event that didn't fare well by attendance was the ecumenical service which had to be held indoors due to the weather.

All in all it was a pretty fair weekend.

COME FLY WITH ME

Breakfast starts early at a Fly-in and Sunday morning was no exception as Iroquois Flying Club hosted 37 planes with their crews. It was bacon, eggs, beans, rolls and coffee for $1.00 and many village and district residents joined the flyers for breakfast.

CONGRATULATIONS TO IROQUOIS WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Last week's celebration by Iroquois Women's Institute marked sixty years of continuous service to the community and The Iroquois Post is pleased to offer its congratulations to the many others at this observance. The Institute motto "For Home and Country" has been lived up to with greatness by the local group, much to the advantage of all who live within this community. Thank you ladies!

GENERATION ON

They hit the road early, these youngsters of today.

They cover a lot of miles.

At a pretty fast pace.

And what they need most are the moral and spiritual values that do not change in a fast-moving age.

The role of the Church and the family is becoming more crucial every day. Wise parents realize their children should have the advantage of religious training. They sense the importance of their own example in encouraging positive Christian principles.

We need not worry about our youngsters growing up so rapidly . . . as long as they grow up well.

A tired group of campers heads for home

School is out and Summer Camp is in

Few passers-by would realize that the old red barn just south of Dixon's Corners is really a camouflage for one of the most active undertakings in the area. It's the home of Seaway Community Services Summer Day Camp. Financed jointly by grants from the Opportunities for Youth program and donations from local churches and civic organizations, the camp serves up to one hundred youngsters a day, from the Dundela and Glen Becker areas. Co-directors Larry and Marilyn Cotton supervise a staff of approximately thirty activity leaders and counsellors. Ages for the campers range from three to fifteen years. There is a special pre-school program with activities especially geared to the younger set. The older youngsters are split into groups, each with counsellors, and rotate from one activity area to another in the course of the day. A ratio of one counsellor for every three campers ensures that all activities are well supervised. Both the co-directors are graduates of the St. John's Ambulance course in first aid, so help is right at hand should an accident occur. However, with such good supervision, the most serious medical problems at the camp so far have been thorns and insect bites.

The camp is far from being a mere baby-sitting service. Activities begin at nine each morning with a short period of devotions conducted by one of the local ministers. From this, the campers go to their "theatre" set up in a corner of the barn for presentation of skits prepared by different groups of youngsters each day. The rest of the day is taken up with such activities as arts and crafts, music, outdoor education, and barn rambling. Each group has some free time every day for such things as baseball games and water fights (weather permitting). A hot lunch is prepared each day by camp staff in the kitchen of the Dixon's Corners school and is served at the barn. By the time the bus pulls into the barnyard around three o'clock to take the campers home, most are ready to call it a day.

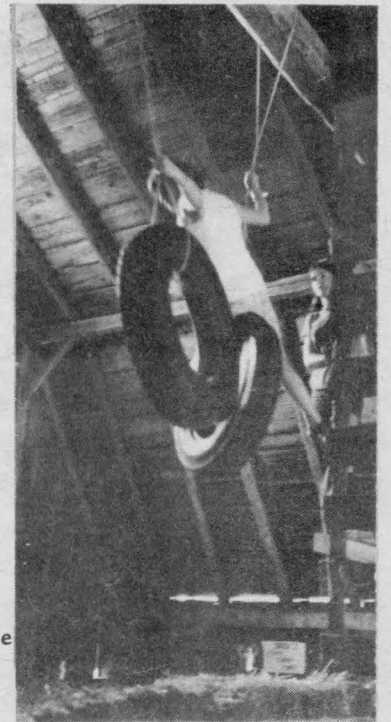

There is very little of the program at the camp that does not have a purpose or that does not offer a lesson. The pre-school group, for instance, manages to learn a bit of grammar or perhaps a lesson in manners from a storytelling session. The older children learn such things as teamwork, good sportsmanship and independence from their drama and crafts lessons, and the whole group can learn about nature and ecological balance from their outdoor education classes. A recent overnight camping expedition in the woods near the barn presented a whole range of new experiences and provided a first hand example of how man can live in the woods in harmony with nature.

Perhaps one of the most unique experiences the camp has to offer is the 'barn rambling' course. Designed by co-director Larry Cotton, its basic aim is to teach the children self discipline. A series of obstacle courses has been set up in the loft of the barn, employing much of the natural structure of the barn itself. What at first appears as a complex set of monkey bars takes on new significance when it becomes clear that barn rambling can help a child gain new self-achievement by overcoming his fears of specific piece of apparatus. The barn ramble appeals to both boys and girls of all ages and even the pre-schoolers have successfully manoeuvred parts of the course.

The floor of the loft is well padded with hay and elaborate safety precautions are taken to ensure that every area of the course is supervised by a counsellor. Plans are underway to construct a maze of tunnels through the loft as soon as hay is available.

Rainy days don't present much of a problem to the camp since the barn is big enough to accommodate all the different groups indoors. What was once a pig pen has become a music room, the horse stalls now accommodate the arts and crafts shop, and the group of pre-schoolers is housed in what used to be a bull pen, so no area of the barn could be considered waste space.

The idea of a summer camp is not totally new to the area. It has been underway in some form for the past six years, although this year's camp is by far the most elaborate. In previous years, separate camps have been held at Dundela and Glen Becker for four weeks each but this is the first year there has been a combined camp for the whole summer. Also new this year is the concept of bussing the children in and it is hoped that the opportunity to attend camp for the whole summer rather than for only several weeks will give the children a greater base of experience and will leave a more lasting impression. Great care was taken in the selection of counsellors and all the activity heads and leaders were selected by personal interview.

Plans for the remainder of the summer are still being made and include lessons in cooking and home economics for the older girls, more overnight camping expeditions and it is hoped that a few field trips can be arranged. Whatever the outcome, it's a sure bet that the summer of 1972 will be one that these children and their leaders will long remember.

DIAMOND JUBILEE CAKE

Iroquois Women's Institute was founded in 1912 and last week celebrated their 60th anniversary. Mrs. A. Carkner, Elma, District President, assists Mrs. Donald Hare, Iroquois President cut the anniversary cake.

PRESIDENTS SINCE 1912

Mrs. A. McInnis, Mrs. L. C. Davis, Mrs. A. Banford, Mrs. D. Hare and Mrs. I. Seeley are shown here as presidents since 1912. Mrs. E. R. Norton and Mrs. G. Loucks are missing from the photo.

TWO OLDEST MEMBERS

Mrs. Eva McInnis joined the Institute in 1914 and Mrs. Lottie Merkley in 1924, making them elders in the organization.

WELCOMING GUESTS

Included in the list of guests invited to the Institute's anniversary were Mrs. Donald Irvine, representing her MPP husband; Reeve and Mrs. Ken Kirkby, Councillor Mrs. Helen Smith, and Rev. Brian Gee, Iroquois United Church Minister.

Sixty Years' Service marked by Iroquois W.I.

Last Thursday afternoon, Iroquois Women's Institute celebrated its 60th anniversary of service to "Home and Country", a motto that has brought the organization merited recognition around the world. Iroquois branch was founded in January, 1912, and no doubt the weather at that time was in sharp contrast to the over-90 degree weather of last week.

Extremely hot weather forced the Institute to hold the ceremony marking the occasion on the lawn at the Civic Centre and as well, the heat kept attendance down. Nevertheless members and friends from throughout the district did attend the function and many expressed their congratulations to the local organization on their many community services during their sixty years of service.

Mrs. Donald Hare, President, chaired the gathering, welcoming all to the anniversary. Of significant interest was a resume of the Institute's activities over the years by Mrs. L. C. Davis, and the introduction of two members with exceptionally long service in the Institute, Mrs. Eva McInnis and Mrs. Lottie Merkley, both of whom attended.

Special guests invited included Donald Irvine, MPP, who was represented by Mrs. Irvine. Mrs. Irvine presented a plaque from the Province of Ontario marking the 60th anniversary of the Institute with appropriate congratulations. Also attending was Councillor, Mrs. Helen Smith, Reeve Ken and Mrs. Kirkby, and Rev. Brian Gee.

District officers were introduced as was the Federated Representative and all offered their congratulations.

A few moments were taken to remember members who had passed on within the past ten years with Mrs. E. R. Norton and Mrs. Wilma Bowden in charge of the ceremony.

Organists for the day were Mrs. Jane Graham and Miss Margaret Kaine.

Flowers were presented to the invited guests and thanks expressed to those who had donated and prepared the flowers for presentation.

A highlight of the afternoon was the cutting of an anniversary cake by President Mrs. Donald Hare and Dundas District President, Mrs. A. Carkner.

The Institute members served an enjoyable lunch and a social hour followed the festivities.

Barbecuing Vegetables

A number of vegetables lend themselves beautifully to barbecue cooking, say food specialists at the Ontario Food Council, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. For a new taste treat, try barbecued new potatoes, corn on the cob, carrots or mushrooms. For each serving, wrap 2 or 3 small scrubbed new potatoes in heavy foil with a little butter, chopped green onions, salt and pepper. Cook on grill for 35 to 40 minutes. For mouth-watering corn, remove husks, spread each ear with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and wrap securely in foil. Cook on the coals for 15 to 20 minutes, turning several times.

For delicious carrots, cut carrots in sticks (1 1/2 pounds for 6 servings) and place on 6 pieces of foil. Top with a mixture of 1 tablespoon each of brown sugar and lemon

Dollars and Good Sense

In my last column I discussed the pilot program in California to make automatic entries of employee paychecks to banks as being a major step toward reaching the "cashless" society. Currently, the bank credit card's popularity has already started the ball rolling in the cashless direction.

The use and number of bank credit cards has grown substantially in the last few years. A U. S. Government report now shows that Americans owed about $4.1 billion to national banks at the end of last year. This is an increase of $3.5 billion over the year previous. This figure includes both credit and "instant-money" plan balances.

At the end of 1967, Americans owed $985 million to the banks by comparison. At that time, there were only 187 national banks which issued credit cards.

Today in the U. S., 740 national banks issue the cards and another 701 offer "instant-money" plans. This does not include the various state chartered banks that are involved.

The big increase in the use of cards comes from the additional people using the cards rather than an increase in the amount of money borrowed.

At the end of 1971, there were 13.8 million credit cards from national banks with outstanding balances out of a total of about 25 million such cards. The balances totaled $3.2 billion, up from $2.7 billion at the end of 1970 - an average of $235 per card.

At the same time, there were 1.5 million "instant-money" accounts with outstanding balances totaling $817.5 million, or $539 per account. These plans usually operate through a deposit of additional funds in a member's account if the member should overdraw it, for an interest charge.

The popularity of these "cashless" charge plans is evident and the trend seems clear. It shouldn't be long before old-fashioned cash will be seen

IROQUOIS, ONTARIO

Hasson-Thompson Wed at Iroquois

Knox Presbyterian Church, Iroquois, was the setting for a beautiful wedding on July 1, 1972 at 6:30 p.m. when Miss Vicki Lee Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson and Mr. Kenneth Roy Hasson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Hasson of Guelph, were united in marriage. Officiating at the ecumenical ceremony was Rev. J.J. Hibbs, assisted by Rev. Father W.L. Cummings. The church was decorated with baskets of yellow and white gladioli and white, yellow and bronze mums and silver candleabra with white candles.

Mrs. Ruby Bell played the processional "Praise my Soul the King of Heaven" as the bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the church. She wore a gown of white polyester crystal crepe which featured French rose lace at the scooped neckline and vertical lace appliques on the A line skirt. Her mantilla of Italian lace and net was held in place by a head piece of seed pearls and flowers, and extended into a chapel length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white roses and a white orchid.

Miss Janis Thompson, sister of the bride, was maid of honour and wore a yellow floor length gown of polyester voile styled with short puff sleeves, scooped neckline and crescent waist line. The bridesmaids - Mrs. Randy Thompson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Fred Kampf, wore identical styled dresses to the maid of honour in mint green. Each attendant carried a basket of yellow, white and bronze mums and yellow and white gladioli.

John Hasson of Acton attended his brother while Randy Thompson of Iroquois and Fred Kampf of Fergus were ushers. Jamie Thompson of Iroquois was junior usher and also helped to seat the guests.

Prior to the entrance of the bridal party into the sanctuary, Mr. Gary Gates of South Mountain rendered beautifully, "Just a Closer Walk with Thee" accompanied by his guitar. During the signing of the register, Mr. Gates sang "For All We Know" and "We've Only Just Begun" accompanied by Miss Julie Fawcett at the organ.

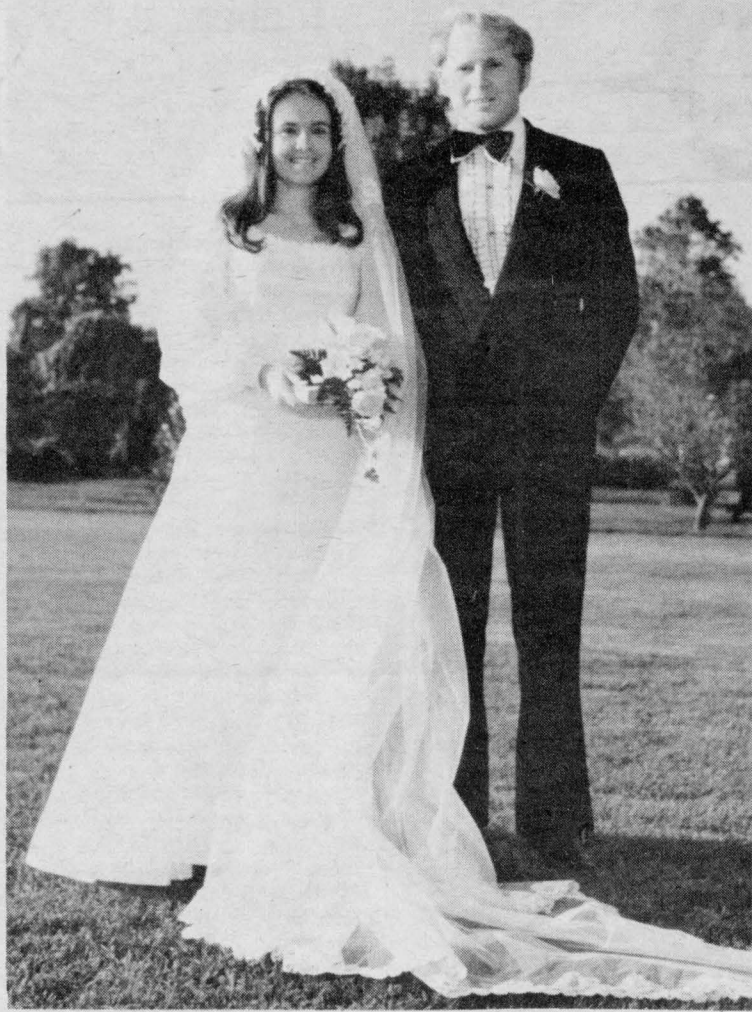

A reception was held at Treasure Island Inn, Ingleside, where the bride's mother welcomed guests wearing a floor length gown of rose chiffon with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Assisting, the mother of the groom wore a floor length chiffon gown with mauve bodice and mauve and apricot flowered skirt. She wore white accessories and a corsage of white and apricot mums. Dancing was enjoyed to music provided by Mrs.

Francis Merkley at the console of her organ.

For the wedding trip to Old Orchard Beach, Maine, the bride donned a full length dress of burgundy and white knit jersey, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Guests attended from Guelph, Fergus, Coburg, Toronto, Winchester, Ottawa, Prescott, Belleville, Kingston, Trenton, Lunenburg, Pointe Claire, Iroquois and Cardinal.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was presented with a chest of silver by the lady teachers at the Ontario School for the Deaf, and crystal goblets from the school. Miscellaneous showers were given by Mrs. Carl Van Camp, Iroquois and Mrs. George Hasson, Guelph, and an envelope shower was given for the couple by neighbours of the groom. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts and extend to all their friends an invitation to visit them at 60 Maple Ave. in Georgetown, Ont.

Annual Fastball Tournament Results

Branch 370, Royal Canadian Legion, Iroquois, completed their fourth annual invitational three day Fastball tournament on Sunday, July 23rd.

The 1972 tournament featured 24 teams who competed for $500.00 in prize money.

This year's tournament has gone into the record as the most successful tournament in the four year history of the event.

The competition was of the keenest variety, the officiating was of the highest caliber, the attendance of spectators numbered in the hundreds and the food was delicious, which spells out one of the better organized ball tournaments in the area for the past several years.

With but brief intermittent rain showers which delayed the time schedule of games both Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon, all games were played as scheduled.

In the main event "A" round, Gananoque Merchants won top honours and captured The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 370 Trophy as well as $200.00 in prize money. As series "A" finalists, Clifton House of Brockville received $100.00 team prize money. The Maynard team were runners up in series "A" and were awarded $50.00 prize money.

In the consolation round series "B", the declared champions were Seeleys Bay and were awarded the Branch Trophy and $100.00 prize money. The "B" series finalists were the Delta Blues and were awarded $50.00 prize money.

The Team line ups were as follows:

GANANOQUE Dennis Arrow-smith, Harvey Wells, John Huhmeir, Sam Hartley, Joe Dennison, Bud Griffin, Tom P. Sheridan, Earl McCaugherty and Bob Dunn.

SEELEYS BAY Pete Roantree, Mike Chase, Bob Sykes, Rick Hartley, Jim Johnston, Al Mustard, Bill Leadbeater, Al Roantree and Garry McCann. The above teams were the "A" and "B" Champions respectively.

The summary for the "B" championship game was Seeleys Bay 9 runs, 11 hits. Delta Blues 3 runs, 5 hits.

Series "A" Semi-final score, Clifton House 9, Maynard 2.

Series "B" Semi-final score, Delta Blues 3, Domville Juniors 0.

The most valuable player went to Wade Roles of the Williamsburg intermediates.

Concern About Foreign Take-Over

The National Farmers' Union believes that farmers and consumers alike are concerned about the foreign corporate take-over of numerous Canadian dairy businesses. It is reported that during the past 5 years one U. S. based company, Beatrice Foods, has taken over 19 Canadian dairies - 18 located in Ontario.

Walter Miller, NFU vice-president, in a letter to Ontario Agriculture Minister William Stewart, has stated that farmers are concerned about the foreign take-over of dairies and the economy as a whole, and consider it the responsibility of senior governments at both provincial and federal levels to take whatever steps necessary to safeguard Canadians against supreme power control restricted to a few.

Mr. Stewart is reported to have told the Ontario Legislature that "farmers have shown no concern over foreign take-over in the dairy business".

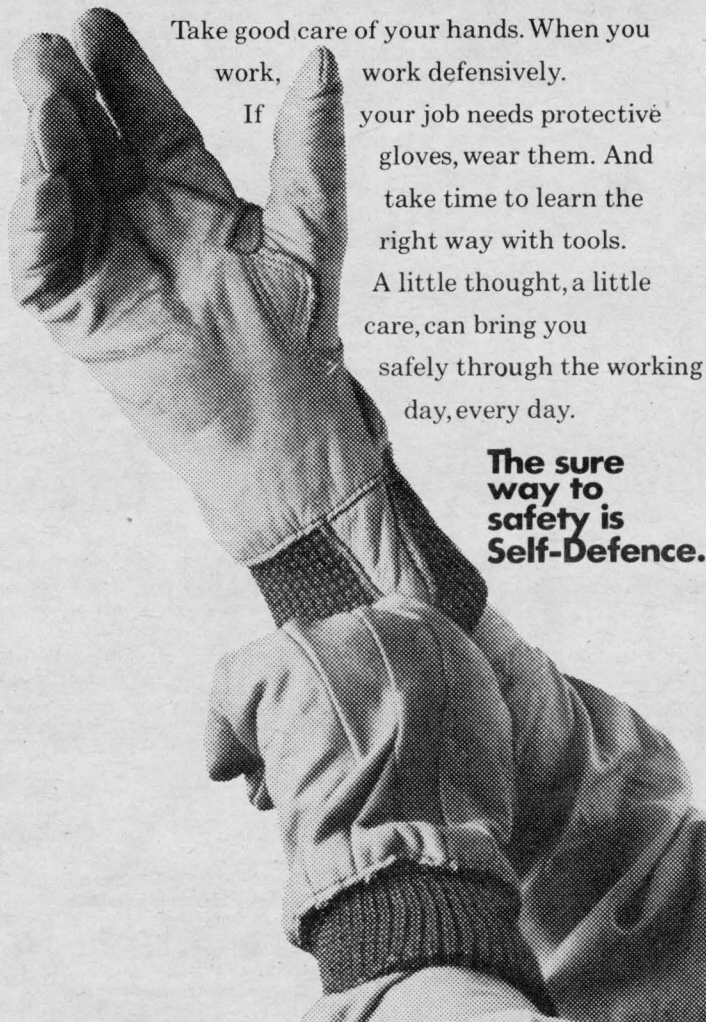

Mr. Miller said he was "surprised to hear that the Minister would make such a statement." He said farmers are very much aware, and are struggling against the powerful influences and control that huge multi-national corporations wield.

Farmers are quite mindful of the privately owned and co-operative dairy product plants that have been gobbled up or closed down by the corporate giants.

He said the Kraft Company, international in size, and a recipient of an Ontario government forgivable loan, is one which would apparently like to control the whole cheese industry - and not for the benefit of consumers or farmers.

"This is one of the reasons farmers have a boycott against Kraft products at the present time," he said.

ADELAIDE DANIELS SAYS

THE PAUSE THAT REFRESHES

Having to carry a lunch to work every day poses a dilemma for those trying to lose weight. Sandwiches, potato chips, cookies and individual pies are not for them.

And the thought of carrying hard-cooked eggs, carrot sticks and cottage cheese in a brown paper bag leaves the taste buds so numb that the midday lunch break no longer becomes the pause that refreshes.

For the career woman, carrying a lunch will be more fun if she uses brightly coloured paper gift bags or the pretty tote bags on the market.

Stock up on packing items — plastic sandwich bags, aluminum foil, tightly covered plastic containers, paper serviettes, disposable forks, spoons and knives. Foods, such as sliced meat, you can eat "picnic-style."

For your portable lunch preparation, keep your vegetable crisper filled with an array of garden greens — cucumbers, celery, chicory, green peppers, watercress and radishes. Devote a shelf to canned goods for your skinny look lunch box favourites — such as crabmeat, shrimp, clams, salmon and tuna.

When buying fresh fruits, plan for the week and keep them in the refrigerator ready to put into your box or bag — a peach for Monday, perhaps an apple for Tuesday, an orange for Wednesday and so on.

For beverages, keep an assortment of juice on hand — tomato, unsweetened orange, grapefruit or apple. Keep them in the freezer. Take a can out in the morning and it will be just at the right temperature by lunchtime.

Also to keep your food nicely chilled why not tuck a can of synthetic ice (enclosed in a plastic sandwich bag to prevent "sweating") into your lunch box if you don't take a frozen beverage.

Here's a sample lunch box menu: •Steaming onion bouillon (2 cups made from cubes) in vacuum jar. •Crabmeat Salad. Toss flaked crab with diced celery, diced cucumber, capers, salt and pepper to taste. Tuck in lemon wedges (to squeeze later for dressing) and a few watercress sprigs. •A peach. •Sugar free soft drink.

Virus Diseases Information Branch Wins Eleven Awards

Virus diseases are the biggest problem in producing high quality seed potatoes in Ontario. Although a number of different virus diseases are involved, the one causing the most concern is the potato leaf roll, says Dr. F.L. McEwen, Department of Environmental Biology, University of Guelph. This virus is transmitted by the peach aphid. It moves into the potato crop quite early in the season and is usually at a high population level in Aug. A single aphid carrying the virus is capable of infecting many plants.

Control of the disease involves three approaches, says Dr. McEwen. First, always use high quality seed. Secondly, to control the peach aphid, an effective insecticide program should be put into practice. Finally, the crop should be inspected at regular intervals. Any plants that show symptoms of infection should be rogued or removed.

Each of these control methods is important, says Dr. McEwen. However, he emphasizes the importance of roguing the diseased plants. In spite of a good aphicide program, there will be a few aphids on most plants in the field. If a diseased plant carrying aphids is dropped in the row at roguing time, the aphids will crawl from that plant to adjacent ones and take the disease with them. Be sure to remove all diseased plants from the field.

It has been demonstrated that a good aphicide program combined with conscientious roguing will provide about 80% control of potato leaf roll. Under conditions found in many of the potato growing areas of Ontario, about 15% of the plants in a crop will become infected with leaf roll without a program of aphid control and roguing.

Eleven awards were won by the Information Branch of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food in the Communications Awards Program of the 1972 Conference of the American Association of Agricultural College Editors, held at the University of Arizona, Tucson.

Blue (excellent) ribbons were awarded to three of the Ministry's entries. The award winners were: Harvesting, Storing and Packing Apples, Soils of Waterloo County, and Ontario North - A New Day, a color film about the New Liskeard College of Agricultural Technology.

Red (very good) ribbons were awarded to Ontario Apples, a consumer pamphlet, and Hydraulic Systems, a general information publication. A radio feature, a promotional exhibit and a magazine article on bees also won red ribbons.

White (good) ribbons went to a radio spot on maple syrup festivals, a radio feature, entitled Snowmobile Owners and Operators and a TV news film on pest control.

Entries are submitted from all fifty United States, the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and the Canada Department of Agriculture.

In 1973, Ontario will host the annual Conference at the University of Guelph. It will be the first time the Conference has been held outside the United States.

St. John's Notes

The Reverend Allan Rogers has completed a three week seminar at St. Paul's University, Ottawa, where he is enrolled in the Institute of Pastoral Studies. The course was presented by Dr. Kevin Mooney, head of the Department of Psychology at the University of Ottawa, and was attended by Priests, Clergy and Religious Orders.

Two weeks ago, the Sunday School and Confirmation class went by bus for a day at Upper Canada Village. The weather was perfect, there were sufficient adults, and the children had a great time.

Archdeacon Wilfred Bradley and Mrs. Bradley will live at the rectory for a week or ten days in the latter part of August, and the Archdeacon will conduct the Services on August 27th and September 3rd.

Our sympathies are extended to the Pleasant Valley United Church congregation who lost their church, due to fire; and to the farming community who are being unable to make the harvest because of so much wet weather.

This Friday evening, July 28th, Mary Ellen Marriner of St. Peter's congregation, South Mountain, will be united in Holy Wedlock to Allan Morrehouse of Winchester and Cornwall.

We appreciate the very good turn out at the Ecumenical Service that was held last Sunday evening at the Civic Centre, and under cover due to inclement weather. Music was provided by Preston Gilmer's sing and instrumental groups. Thanks also to the ladies who provided excellent hospitality to the guests.

Services at St. John's continue each Sunday at 8 and 10:15 a.m. and at St. Peter's, South Mountain at 9:00 a.m. Guests are always welcome. In hot weather, we dress quite informally.

OFF THE CUFF

By Charles Edwards

As hard as it may be to believe, it's been thirteen years since the St. Lawrence Seaway was officially opened. It's been thirteen years since Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip visited our area and cut the ribbon, opening the waterway. And every year for thirteen years, there's been talk about doing something with the mounds of clay and rock on the point. It has always been a good issue to drag out at election time, but that's about as far as it ever gets. It wouldn't be wrong to say that we've learned to live with it. At least it's good for a toboggan run and snowmobile trails in the winter.

This year there's another eyesore that gives the impression that we'll have to live with it. The rock garden at the entrance to the lookout has been allowed to grow up in weeds so far this year. With the tourist season already half over, there is still no sign of the garden being cleaned up. The flower beds on the rest of the Point and indeed in the whole village are well cared for and only serve to accentuate the mess that used to be a rock garden. It looks so much like a pasture that you almost expect to see a cow or two grazing.

While we're on the subject of the point, it's worth noting that the bill board map of the Seaway at the eastern end of the lookout is beginning to show its age. It would be an understatement to say that it needs repainting. If it's worth having such things as the rock garden and the billboard map, it's worth keeping them in good shape. We know the impression that we get when, in the course of our own travels, we come across similar examples of such poor maintenance. No matter who is at fault, we come away with a negative feeling that if something as simple as a flower garden is falling into ruin, there must be a lack of interest that goes much deeper.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

ALWAYS HELPFUL

Joseph's personality is just like his smile — friendly, diffident, good-natured, appealing. Joseph is eight, a slender lad with dark eyes, brown curly hair and medium complexion. His ancestry is black and white — with an Irish background.

In good general health, Joseph wears glasses for near sightedness and has a slight hearing problem. It does not hamper his listening ability and his speech is normal. Indeed, he is a talkative youngster who responds eagerly to conversational overtures.

Joseph attends opportunity class and his future education will be along non-academic lines. He works well in school, joining enthusiastically in group projects and always contributing to class discussions.

There is a TV repairman in Joseph's foster family and the lad's great delight is to have the intricacies of a television set explained to him. All mechanical things interest him and he wants to know how everything works.

Joseph is likeable and co-operative, always willing to be helpful and normally cheerful. An easy-going fellow, he gets on well with other children.

This boy needs parents who will give him a great deal of love and encouragement, but will not be demanding about scholastic achievement.

To inquire about adopting Joseph, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information, write your Children's Aid Society.

Stampville girls win Chesterville Tournament

On June 15, the annual tournament held at Chesterville got underway at 9:30 with Stampville winning over Greely 19-6. In the second game, Stampville defeated Chesterville 39-13. The last and final game got under way at 8:00 p.m., with the girls hitting hard and often, downing Mountain 22-6, with the strong pitching of Mary Ilys. They came home the victors.

Each girl on the winning team received a Nancy and Mac La Salle trophy and $25 team money. In the first half of their league games, they have lost one.

This girl's team was formed 3 years ago and last year they finished in second place. This is one of the teams in Stampville that Matilda Recreation will not sponsor. They buy all their own equipment. They have to play ball in a school yard that's like a cow pasture. Now don't you think these girls have done well? We would like to see more of you parents out to support the girls.

Miticides For Spider Mites

If plants in your garden don't seem to be doing as well as they should, it may be spider mite injury, says R. A. Fleming horticultural specialist Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Spider mites are very small spiders that feed on the foliage of many garden plants. A severe infestation can seriously damage trees, shrubs, evergreens and herbaceous plants.

The foliage appears dull, silvery-green and is speckled.

The leaves sometimes look wilted. If examination shows spider mite damage, spray with 18.5 percent Kelthane at 2 tablespoons wettable powder per gallon of water or any good miticide.

Spraying 2 or 3 times at weekly intervals will probably be necessary for control.

Lack of control can mean the loss of valuable evergreens in particular, and certainly a loss of vigor in many other woody plants.

We extend our sincere sympathy to Mr. Andy Thorpe and family of Hulbert in the passing of a wonderful wife and mother. I am sure from all who knew her, all we can say is "Well done, Thy good and faithful Servant - enter into rest."

Tips To Buy And Serve Summer Squash

Squash are called "summer" or "winter" to denote early and late varieties. Both kinds are actually available almost year round, either supplied locally or imported. Ontario's summer squash are harvested throughout the summer, from late June until frost, say food specialists at the Ontario Food Council, Ministry of Agriculture and Food. Winter squash, such as pumpkin or acorn squash are a fall crop. They store well most of the winter.

Summer squash have a short shelf life and should be purchased fresh and used within a few days. They have a tender edible rind and seeds, as they are harvested when still immature. At this stage, flavor and texture is at its best.

Zucchini, green and resembling a cucumber in shape, is the most popular summer squash. Look for firm squash, about 4 to 7 inches long, that are fairly heavy for their size. One pound will provide about four servings. To prepare it, simply wash well and cut into slices about 1/2 inch thick. Cook covered in a small amount of boiling, salted water for 4 to 6 minutes or quick-fry in butter. Serve it tender-crisp, and avoid overcooking.

The mild flavor of zucchini goes well with seasoned butter or sour cream, onions, grated Parmesan, bacon bits, or tomato sauce. Fresh tomato wedges, butter, basil, and lemon juice can be added to drained cooked zucchini. Heat gently for 2 minutes before serving. Zucchini adds variety to the barbecue with a skewer of mixed vegetables - chunks of zucchini, tomato wedges, green pepper, or onions. It goes well in salads, raw, and sliced or cubed.

juice, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg or ginger, and 2 tablespoons butter. Seal packages. Cook on grill about 1 hour.

Mushrooms are also simple to prepare. Wrap whole mushrooms in foil with butter, salt and pepper. Cook on grill 20 to 25 minutes or on coals 15 to 20 minutes.

Hot Weather Can Cause Heat Stroke in Swine

With hot, humid weather ahead, hog producers should keep in mind that heat stroke can cause swine deaths. Overcrowding, poor ventilation, transportation and stress under these conditions can produce heat stroke says Dr. P. C. Oliver, swine disease consultant Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Both temperature and humidity are involved in heat stroke.

Pigs do not sweat to any great degree and body heat is lost mostly through the lungs. With a layer of fat as insulation, a pig is at quite a disadvantage during very hot, humid weather.

Symptoms of heat stroke include panting, slobbering and a high body temperature. In some cases, the animals are restless and appear in a frenzy. Pregnant animals may abort.

To avoid heat stroke, Dr.

Oliver offers the following recommendations: Provide good air movement in barns. Do not overcrowd in pens or trucks and make sure that the ventilation is adequate. Avoid handling or moving pigs except in the early morning or evening. If the pigs are housed outside, shade should be provided. Sprays and mists can also be used to cool the animals.

If the animal suffers from heat stroke, treatment is required. Bathing the animal with cool water and improving ventilation helps prevent deaths. However, a veterinarian should be called to administer medication as well.

During hot humid weather, feed a laxative diet, provide lots of water and be particularly careful when the pigs are transported or handled. These steps should help to reduce the affects of an adverse environment caused by hot weather conditions.

Farmers Seeking Help Disastrous Crop Losses

Two hundred farmers gathered in South Mountain Monday night, July 24th, to discuss what they termed "a disastrous situation" and to review and add to the list of possible solutions that had been drawn up earlier that day at a previous meeting in Winchester Town Hall, where some 100 farmers had met.

Heavy rains the past two months have all but ruined farm crops in this area and concern has been mounting daily. Tom Clapp, agricultural representative for Dundas County, chaired the meeting. He gave an account of the situation as it is all across the county.

The situation is this: due to the heavy, consistent rainfall of past weeks, the majority of fields have been too wet to use machinery to do necessary work on the crops. Many fields are covered by up to two inches of water; corn stalks are rotting at the stem and most of the corn is less than 15 inches high. They are literally drowning.

Very few farmers in Winchester Township have even started cutting their hay and are still unable to get into their fields. In Matilda Township, 20% of the hay cut is spoiling in the fields because it hasn't had a chance to dry. The risk of putting wet hay in the barns is too great and combustion can send the barn up in flames.

Many of the oat fields have been washed out or flattened in Williamsburg Township due to heavy rains. The situation in Mountain Township is quite similar and farmers from all areas said it would be the middle of August before they could get on the land again even if the weather improves.

Beef and dairy farmers are in the same boat as the cash crop farmers. Their hay is as poor as the others and if nothing is done, they face the prospect of selling their cattle to the slaughter houses. The lack of their own feed would mean having feed shipped in and without government assistance, the cost would be too great.

Farmers are fast running short of good pasture land and mosquitoes are so bad the cattle are being driven out of the fields. Cattle are having to stand continuously due to the mud and water, and many farmers are finding cattle with foot rot as well as infected teats and udders in their dairy herds.

Ditches are heavily loaded and the South Nation is again overflowing its banks in the worst weather conditions in anyone's memory. The Castor and Nation rivers are flooding, washing out fences and wooden bridges and blocking access to many fields.

Farmers are calling on the government for assistance and say that Dundas County should be declared a disaster area. Mr. Clapp pointed out that the local problem was not confined to Dundas County alone, but all over Ontario and in some Quebec areas, poor weather has brought crop losses although not as seriously as here.

Mr. Clapp read over the suggestions that has previously been made at the Winchester meeting, as follows:

- 1- Have the government give the farmers purchase coupons to buy grain;
- 2- Stabilize the price of grain;
- 3- Have the government buy grain from Winnipeg and shipped by boat to sell to farmers without going through dealers;
- 4- Transport hay from the Maritimes where they have a bumper crop;
- 5- Have farm mortgages extended for one year;
- 6- Co-ordinate meetings with other surrounding areas;
- 7- Cut down on the number of cattle;
- 8- Stabilize beef prices;
- 9- Reduction of taxes;
- 10- Raise the price of milk;
- 11- Have interest free loans available;
- 12- Government legislation to obtain funds;
- 13- Drop the milk quota for one year and waive the penalty clause;
- 14- Set up a committee of two members from each township

GANANOQUE WINS TOURNAMENT

The Gananoque Merchants came out of the weekend as champions in the Legion Fastball tournament, A Division, Beating Morrisburg 3-2, Verona 6-2, Newboro 6-2 and finally, Brockville Clifton House 3-0. All games were described as "excellent" throughout the weekend.

SEELY'S BAY "B" WINNERS

Ken Easter presents $100 cheque to Seely's Bay manager Dr. Stan Webb, that team having won the "B" series at the weekend tournament.

"B" DIVISION TROPHY WINNERS

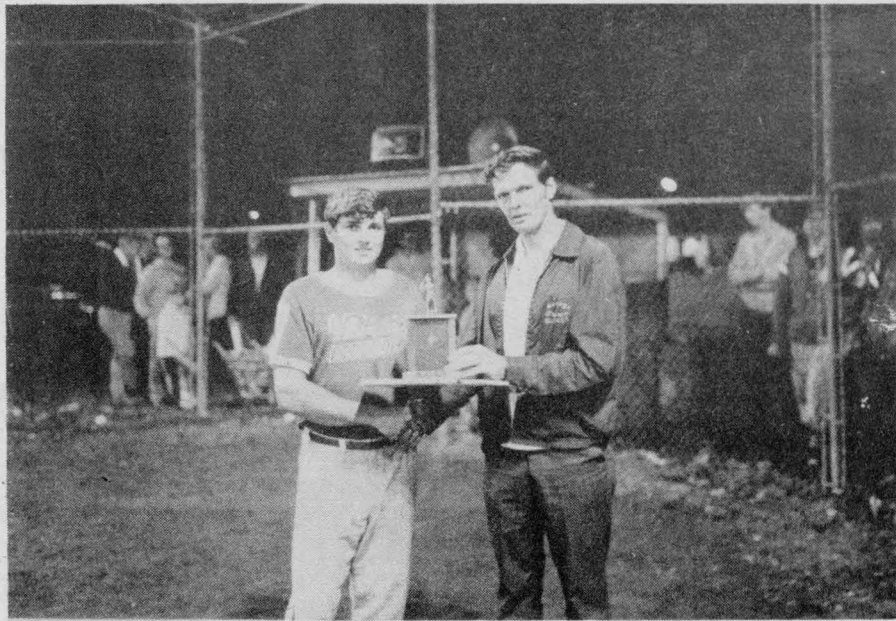

Peter Rowantree, captain of Seely's Bay team, accepts the Legion trophy from President Ed. Hitchinson, emblematic of winning the B Division of the tournament Sunday night.

BROCKVILLE RUNNERS-UP

Second place in the A Division brought Brockville's Clifton House team a cheque for $100, with Leo DeBellefeuille making the presentation on behalf of Branch 370 Iroquois. Cliff White received the cheque for his team.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Wade Roles, Williamsburg, was named the most valuable player in the three-day tournament here at the weekend. Wade did an outstanding job as pitcher for his team and received the award from Ed. Renwick representing Branch 370, as well as a gift of Caldwell towels. --Post staff

Sanitation Program For Swine Barns

A good sanitation program is an important part of a well-operated hog business. Reducing the bacteria build-up in hog barns keeps disease levels at a minimum, says Dr. Oliver, swine disease consultant. Such a program does not interfere with the establishment of natural herd immunity to diseases.

Many producers have an "all in - all out" system for farrowing areas. However, where this is not possible, keeping the pens clean promotes the likelihood of healthy, thrifty weaner pigs. During the warm weather months ahead, pork producers should plan ahead so that entire barns or sections can be empty of hogs for a few days. The barns can then be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected.

However, disinfecting without proper cleaning is almost useless, says Dr. Oliver. Some bacteria can live for months in organic materials such as manure, mud and feed accumulation. Disinfectants will not work properly in such areas. He recommends cleaning first and then disinfecting.

Dr. Oliver suggests the following procedure to clean and disinfect the building unit:

Clean out all the manure from floors and walls.

Sweep ceilings to remove dust and cobwebs. Soak the entire area with water and let stand for 24 hours.

Use high pressure cleaning equipment, with machine ratings of between 800 to 1000 pounds per square inch.

Apply the disinfectant.

Isolate the area while drying.

The Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism's Business Development Division held 13 export forums and seminars throughout the province in 1971, to provide management training programs 583 manufacturers attending. One of 30 ministry-sponsored programs of assistance to Ontario industry, the seminars are designed for both novice exporter and experienced international marketer.
