CHAS. CHAMBERS, Reeve.

Large Barn Destroyed with Twenty-Seven Head of Cattle.

On Friday afternoon a serious and destructive fire took place on the farm of Mr. Hugh Morrison, about three and a half miles from Brockville and situated at a point a short distance north of Howard burying ground. The fire started in the barn, which was a large structure, being 116 feet long by about 40 feet wide, and was one of the best equiped in pthe township. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as it started in a portion of the building in which none of the farm hands had entered since the morning. Besides the total destruction of the building twenty-seven cows and six young cattle perished in the flames. About twenty tons of hay, a silo with a large amount of ensilage were also destroyed. By dint of hard work on the part of neighbors his residence was saved. An insurance of $2,500 was carried but it will not cover the loss.

"Your committee find our present rates, which were adopted May 1, 1905, are practically the same as the rates adopted as a standard by the Ontario Legislature in 1897, which are recognized by authorities as being correct in principle and adequate in practice. Your committee therefore recommend to the grand lodge to adhere to this standard and to apply and extend the same to all members of our order at their present attained ages, provided, however, that the proposed change shall not affect the members admitted since May 1, 1905. Your committee further recommend that a competent actuary be selected by the executive committes to advise as to the application of the above mentioned rates, so as to attain the desired result set forth above, and this grand lodge be adjourned and reconvened at the call of the grand master workman immediately up on the receipt by him of the actuary's report.

"Your committee regard equitable options as mutually advantageous to members desiring them and to the order, aiming to lessen maturing liabilities. Your committee therefore recommend the grand lodge to adopt options along the line of paid up beneficiary certificates which may be available to the members who have reached the age of 65 and over, on such a scale as may be determined by computation. having regard to life expectation."

TORTURED BY BILIOUSNESS

AND TERRIBLE SICK HEADACHES

Both Completely Cured by "Fruit-a-tives"

DRESDEN, Ont. July 17th, 1910.

"I was a dreadful sufferer for many years from Sick Headaches and Biliousness, or Torpid Liver. I tried many remedies and physicians, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I finally used "Fruit-a-tives" and after the first box, I was so much better that I continued using these fruit tablets and they have entirely cured me.

"I certainly can recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to anyone who suffers from Headaches, Biliousness or Stomach Trouble." MRS. ISAAC VANSICKLE.

Thousands of people have had the same experience as Mrs. VanSickle. They have tried doctors and taken all sorts of medicine, only to find that "Fruit-a-tives" is the one and only remedy that actually cures these troubles.

Wiser's Distillery Totally Destroyed.

On Wednesday morning about 2 o'clock a fire broke out in one of the large cattle sheds adjoining Wiser's distillery, which spread with fearful rapidity to the other sheds and the distillery itself, all of which were entirely destroyed. The sheds were three in number, and one of them, which was quite new, was capable of accommodating about 150 head of cattle. They contained at the time of the fire abaut 150 tons of hay which, of course was consumed.

They were ready for the reception of several hundred head of cattle, but none were on the premises at the time.

About three hundred barrels of high-wines were removed from the distillery before the flames reached the building. It however contained 10,000 bushels of grain, chiefly wheat, which was entirely destroyed.

For a time White's tannery and all the neighboring dwellings, together with the rectifier and Mr. Wiser's other buildings in which were stored about 60,000 bushels of grain, were in great danger. Some of them actually caught several times.

But thanks to the willing hands that so skillfully and energetically managed the fire engine, and in the absence of wind, the fire was confined to the sheds and distillery.

The loss will probably amount to about $50,000. The property was insured, we understand, in the Royal, and London & Liverpool, for about $25,000, and we believe for a further amount with some other companies. It is not known how the fire originated—Prescott Telegraph.

C. P. R. Awards Contract for Double-Tracked Line.

The contract for the construction of the new C. P. R. line through Eastern Ontario from Leaside Junction to Glentae was on Monday awarded to Deeks and Hinds, Toronto. The firm's tender was $10,000,000. Work on the road will be commenced forthwith.

The new line starting from Glentae, a few miles from Smith's Falls, will in a way establish a double-track between Montreal and Toronto. At the present time the C. P. R. has a double-track from Montreal as far as Glentae, but instead of doubling along the right-of-way of the present track from Smith's Falls to Toronto, the company has decided to follow the course around the lake and the new line from east to west will be 198 miles long. It will run parallel with the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern lines and is to be in running order by December, 1913, and completed in July, 1914.

The contract calls for all grading, construction work, bridge building, etc., and the work will be laid out so as to allow for a double-track along the same route when the demands of the company justify it. When that time arrives the present line from Toronto to Smith's Falls may be abandoned and the lake shore route used for fast passenger service between Toronto and Montreal.

Starting from Glentae, the new line will go through Parkham, Forest Mills, Croyndon, Enterprise, Belleville, Trenton, Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, Whitby, Agincourt, and run into Leaside Junction, where it will meet the present line from Toronto.

Surveys on the new line have been going on for the past six years and the ground has been so well laid out that the construction work will not be delayed in any way. At Parkham the new line will cross the Kingston and Pembroke and at Enterprise it will cross the Bay of Quinte Railway. A number of construction gangs have been organized and work will be started in many places along the line at once.

Mother Kills Three Children with Herself.

Toronto March 21—Mrs Emily Orr, wife of James Orr, a carriage maker, put her three children to bed yesterday afternoon at their home, 28 Sackville Place, and with a borrowed wrench unscrewed a cap from an unused gas pipe. She then laid down with the children and shared their death by suffocation.

In the letter left by Mrs Orr, and addressed to Mrs June, the woman said that since Mrs June's sojourn at Lillydale the spiritualist colony in New York State things had gone wrong. The letter was undated, but signed, and at the top was written in large letters, 'You will all be glad.' Mrs Orr invoked a curse on Mrs June and those who spoiled her happiness and said that she was glad to die and be out of their presence. She also accused Mrs June of having gotten her debt.

Mrs June, who learned of the tragedy on returning to the house from work late last night, was the last person to see Mrs Orr alive. They had an argument over a trifling money matter, and Mrs Orr had declared that she was tired of life, and would end it all before her friends expected. This had worried Mrs June all day, and several times she had been on the point of returning to the house to see if it was all right. She had lived in the house for some time, and although not always friendly with Mrs Orr, she had borne with the latter, as she considered her mentally unbalanced. Mrs June admitted that she herself was a spiritualist, but denied having tried to get Mrs Orr interested in the cult or induced her to attend seances. Mrs June says that Mrs Orr's grievances were nearly all imaginary. The husband stated to the police that insanity was the only motive he could give for his wife's deed. He had gone to work early before his wife or the children were awake.

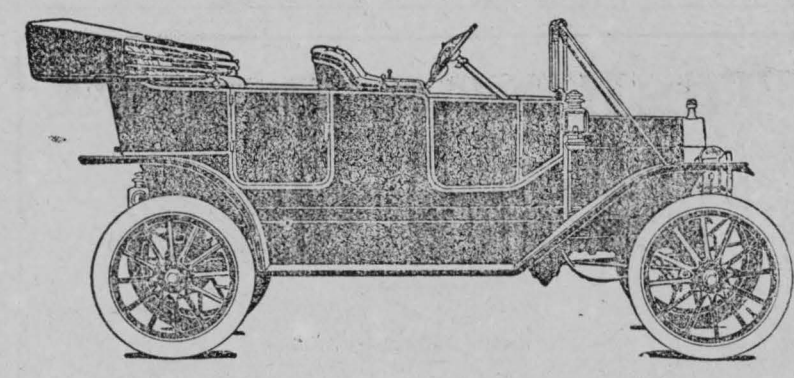

There seems little doubt but that Mrs Orr was insane, although she was never violent, and was always kind to her children. Two years ago she was discovered partly asphyxiated with her children, but she claimed at that time that one of the children must have turned the gas on while playing with it. She was closely watched for a time, but gave no further evidence of homicidal or suicidal tendencies.

Mrs Orr was born in Ottawa. An inquest will be opened.

Federal Squere for Toronto.

Ottawa, March 22—The scheme for the proposed Federal Square in Toronto, with a fine new block of public buildings to the west of the City Hall, has been endorsed by the Minister of Public Works Hon. F. D. Monk, and plans involving an expenditure of some two and a half millions to carry out the scheme are now under consideration. A recommendation for a large appropriation in the supplementary estimates to start things this year has been forwarded to the Council for consideration.

The Toronto members have been urging on the Government the wisdom and necessity for a comprehensive plan of Government buildings for Toronto sufficient to meet the needs of the rapidly growing city for many years to come. The civic deputation, headed by Mayor Geary, which waited on the Government a couple of weeks ago to urge the Federal Square scheme secured an encouraging reply from the Minister of Public Works, and the latter is now implementing his promise.

Oh You Irishman.

A traveler who dropped into town the other day vouches for the following says the Algoma Advocate:—As the "Sudbury to the Soo" train was on its way west the other day a certain judge came aboard, and finding all the seats occupied, finally sat down beside an Irishman who was seated just in front of the narrator of this tale. Presently the judge got into conversation with the Irishman, and soon discovered that he had only been in Canada for about two years. His Honor was full of praise for Canada and especially of Northern Ontario. The Irishman listened to the glowing description for some time, but finally became restive and remarked that Canada might be a pretty good place but could in no wise compare with Ireland. To this his honor objected, and to strengthen his argument said: "Now Pat, you know very well that you would be in Ireland many and many a long year before you would ever have the privilege of sitting with a judge." Pat was fairly bowled but for a minute, but with an Irish ready wit replied: "True for you, yer Honor, but sure now, yer Honor would be in Ireland many and many a long year before ye'd be a judge."

Ross Gets Six Years for Manslaughter.

Montreal, March 21—Sentences at the conclusion of the Assizes by Mr. Justice Lavergne, were imposed as follows:

John Charles Ross, for killing Robert Fitzsimmons during a card game at the Orpheum Theatre—six years.

Simon Pawlieski, for attempting to murder his wife by shooting her in the back—twenty years.

Antonio Liberi, for attempting to murder G. Ferrari by shooting—fifteen years.

George F. Harriston, who has been making extensive 'purchases' of Montreal real estate at high prices, is missing, and none of his deals have gone through.

There was a lively little spat in the Railway Committee at Ottawa over the appointment of the allotory sub-committee, and Messrs Lancaster, Nesbitt and Major Currie exchanged some pretty hot talk Minister Drops Dead.

Ottawa, March 25—The Rev. T. G. Thompson, Ph.B., Presbyterian minister at Westborn, dropped dead at 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning. He was up and around yesterday morning as usual and shortly before had been chatting with the doctor. He had been suffering from a slight cold, but he was in good spirits only a few minutes before his death. He leaves a widow to mourn his loss. He was highly esteemed and popular with his congregation and his friends. Mr. Thompson ministered formerly at Hamilton and Vankleek Hill, and in earlier life engaged in mission work in the west.

The disc drill that can't stall

ANY disc drill economizes seed, time and labor as compared with other ways of seeding. But a FROST & WOOD CHAMPION excels all in accurate sowing, money-saving and the certainty of bigger crop-production. It sows right under hardest conditions.

Built with more strength than it will probably ever need. Continuous steel axle from wheel to wheel, with frame and seed-box solidly attached. Seed-box down low and easy to fill. Tested indexes tell just how much you are sowing. Champion does not compel you to fit the shift-lever precisely into such-and-such a notch. Vary the seed-feed to suit yourself—do it in a second. Champion disc hubs are really dustproof, and are fitted with ball-bearings same as a good automobile. Direct down-pressure on EVERY disc-hub avoids side-strain. No neck-weight on team.

They Bade Them Farewell

The many friends in the Presbyterian church of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carlyle and family met in the church on Monday night to say farewell on the eve of their departure for Calgary. A brief program was enjoyed by those present. Miss Beattie, accompanied by Miss Foster, rendered a violin solo and Miss Violet Saucier a vocal solo. The following address, accompanied with a purse of gold, was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle :—

To Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle.

We, as a congregation, are met tonight to do you honor and to say farewell, We may not linger on all the words mean for us lest our feelings overcome us. We are losing a member from our choir and Board of management ; a member from our Ladies' Aid and W. F. M. S., and two young people from our congregation.

We will miss you and we are sure you will also miss your old friends. But there is a bright side as well as a sad one to this picture. The West is not the "far west" any longer. In these days of western immigration a few years may find many of us your neighbors. Nearly every excursion will bring you visitors.

We feel assured that you have the qualities that will make you friends even among strangers and we wish for you not only friends but health and prosperity. We would commend you to the care of the One whose power to keep you has already been proven.

We wish to give some tangible proof of our affection and ask you to accep this purse of gold. We present our little gift in this form as being the form most easy of transportation but would request you to exchange it for whatever will best remind you of your friends in the East.

Signed on behalf of the Presbyterian Congregation, Chesterville March 25th,

J. G. TAIT
W. L. BELL

Mr. Carlyle feelingiy responded to this expression of good will and well wishes. The pastor then called upon Mr. Jamieson for a few remarks to which he responded in a most happy manner. In the course of his remarks he stated that the first meal he ate in this part of the country was in the hospitable home of Mr. Carlyle's grandparents, and he knew the hospitality of the grandparents had been transmitted to the grandchildren. Refreshments were served by the ladies and a sociable hour was enjoyed, mingled with the sadness of saying farewell to one of the families so closely identified with the church life and work. Mr. Carlyle has been a member of the Board of management for several years and a member of the choir, and leader of the same for many years. Mrs. Carlyle was a member of the ladies' organizations.

They will not only be missed in the church but in the whole community. Mr. Carlyle was one of our progressive farmers and a breeder of Ayrshires. It was a hard thing for him to dispose of his splendid herd of pure bred Ayrshires as he was an intense lover of breed and had developed a large sized type.

Aid to Thoroughbred Stallions.

The policy initiated in 1911 by the Department of Agriculture with reference to the granting of aid, under certain conditions, to the owners of thoroughbred stallions is generally meeting with approval and is accomplishing, in part at least, the objects sought when the policy was undertaken. Amongst other things owing to the rigid conditions imposed, it is encouraging those maintaining really high class horses and is serving to organize the system of breeding followed in the different communities where thoroughbred stallions are located. The stimulus given in this manner to the use of thoroughbred blood will, it is believed lead to an improvement in the light horse stock of the country. Thoroughbred stallions, if really good individuals, may be expected to exert such an influence, in the development of Canadian horses for saddle and harness use, as is greatly needed and greatly to be desired. The premium placed upon quality, soundness and prepotency, through the grants awarded by the Department is serving to check the use of unsuitable sires and is tending to conserve a type of thoroughbred, the utility of which is beyond question.

While as pershaps should be stated, it is not the intention of the Department to encourage the breeding of thoroughbred horses or to develop a type in light horses approximating closely to that of the thoroughbred, there is no question but that a strong infusion of thoroughbred blood in the light legged mares of the country will be of inestimable value in improving the quality of the stock got from them by stallions of the various light harness breeds.

Believing himself to be justified, therefore, in further prosecuting the policy begun last year, the Honourable Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, has authorized the continuance of the grant to be available for all thoroughbred stallions standing for public service during the season of 1912, which comply with the conditions imposed by the Department.

The conditions under which assistance will be given are as follows :—

(1) All horses on account of which aid is given by the Department must be registered in the thoroughbred stud book of the Canadian National Live Stock Records.

(2) Horses shall be of good size, qualify and conformation and shall be free from all hereditary unsoundness ; these conditions to be ensured by submission annually to a thorough, careful examination either at the hands of the Veterinary DirectorGeneral or such other members of the veterinary staff of the Department, or other persons as the Minister may from time to time appoint for this purpose.

(3) Horses so approved shall be duly and properly advertised to stand for service of mares, under the ordinary and general conditions usual in the districts in which they are to be kept, at an annual service fee (except in the case of thoroughbred mares) of not more than $10 to insure, such service fee to become due and payable only when mares prove to be in foal.

Any person, firm or corporation owning or controlling any thoroughbred stallion in regard to which all the conditions above set forth shail have been duly and properly fulfilled, shall, on production of satisfactory evidence thereof and of the fact that a reasonable number of mares other than thoroughbred mares have been served during the season, be entitled to receive at the close of each season the sum of $250 from the funds of the live stock branch. If, in the event of a horse dying or becoming incapacitated for service during the season, an approved substitute is immediately place in the same district, the Minister may, after due consideration of the circumstances, authorize the payment of the subsidy above mentioned.

The necessary forms will be furnished on application to the Veterinary Director General and Live Stock Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Hydro Plans for Eastern Ontario.

Toronto March 1—"We are now in a position to state that contracts will be forwarded to Kingston and Prescott next week, while a preliminary contract will be submitted to the town of Brockville with a view of enabling the municipality to vote on a bylaw authorizing the council to make a contract with the commission."

This statement made by Hon. Adam Beck last night indicates part of the plans of the Hydro-Electric Commission respecting Eastern Ontario. Many new developments are expected during the next few weeks, particularly in view of Mr. Beck's statement here that he will visit Ottawa next week and there confer with the Federal government in regard to the water powers to be leased and the general extent of federal and provincial co-operation on the power policy.

"If these contracts," continued Mr. Beck, "are executed without delay the commission will be able to begin the construction of the line from Morrisburg to Kingston and from Morrisburg to Cornwall, the latter as soon as Cornwall comes to a conclusion regarding a contract with the commission. Negotiations are now pending with that end in view. If this is done we expect by the autumn to be able to supply these municipalities with power."

The minister also made a statement with regard to Chats Falls. The commission was filing plans and specifications in Carleton county, he said, and would notify the owners of the property advising them of the expropriation proceedings. Arbitration proceedings would then probably follow.

Rebekah Lodge at Chesterville.

After the labors of the evening were ended, tables ladened with plenty of the good things, were prepared and to which about seventy done ample justice.

"On Duty" lodge starts out with a good membership, and it is quite evident the interest manifested on Friday evening will continue.

It was quite late in the morning before everything was signed, sealed aud delivered, but in plenty of time for the Finch ladies to board the five o'clock train for home.

Visiting members in large numbers were present.

Great Holstein Sale.

The sale of 65 head of high-class Holstein-Friesian Cattle will be held at "Brookland Stock Farm," Morewood, on Thursday next, April 4th. This sale has been extensively advertised by posters, newspapers and catalogues, of which same can be obtained by applying to Mr. J. W. McCormick, the proprietor, at Morewood. It is utterly useless to try to describe the animals in his stock as they are all high-class but of course he has a number with wonderful records. Should the weather prove favorable it goes without saying that it will be very largely attended. Be sure and attend and be with the largest crowd that ever attended an auction sale in Dundas county.

Would Advertise Marriage License.

That all licenses to marry should be advertised in a local newspaper before the ceremony could be performed as a check upon clandestine marriages, is the somewhat radical suggestion the Register-General of Ontario makes in his annual report on births, marriages and deaths.

His suggestion is drawn forth by the great increase in the number of marriages at Windsor, the Greina Green of Ontario. During the past five years the number of marriages performed there has rapidly increased, and in 1910, with which the report deals, there was an increase of 375 In five years the number has jumped from 1,193 to 2,293. The cause of this abnormal increase, it is pointed out, is the influx of Americans who wish to have their marriages celebrated under the Ontario laws.

"This is not because our law is more binding," says Dr. McCullough, "but because it is so secret." He points out that about all that is required is $2 to purchase a license, and that no questions are asked once the parties make an affidavit that the reason for having the marriage performed in Ontario is not in order to "evade duc publicity or for any other improper reason."

During the year 55,871 births were registered, 24,036 marriages and 33,539 deaths. The birth ratio was 24.9 per thousand population, an increase of 6 over the preceding year.

The ratios were greater in all the French-Canadian districts, partly due to the fact that registration, is looked after to some extent by the priests. There is still a great deal of ignorance displayed in registering births.

Methodists were first with marriages, having a total to their credit of 13,824, then came Presbyterians, Anglicans, Roman Catholics, Baptists, Lutherans and Congregationalists in that order with the minor denonimations contributing an unimportant number.

Highest in the Province

At a lecture given a few nights ago in the interests of the Muskoka and Weston Consumptive Hospitals, Rev. J. F. Forsythe made a startling statement that Leeds and Grenville have the highest consumtive rate in the province. He gave figures to substantiate his statement and said that at present there were eighteen patients in the hospitals from Leeds county and thirteen from Grenville.

Dundas Liberals Nominate Candidates.

The Liberals of Dundas county met in convention on Friday at Winchester Springs and chose Mr. Wesley Hamilton of this place as a candidate for the House of Commons, and Mr. R Stuart Muir of Toronto as standard-bearer in the next Provincial election. Dundas Liberals have placed candidates in the field because they believe that Mr. Andrew Bróder, M. P., will soon resign his seat in the Commons to take some public office, and the convention, while nominating a candidate for the Commons, deemed it expedient at the same time to bring out a man to oppose Sir James Whitney.

Mr. Hamilton, whose nomination was unanimous, has for some time been president of the Liberal Association of the county, has long been an active worker in the cause of Liberalism. Mr. Muir was the Liberal candidate here in December last against Sir James Whitney and although spending only one week in the county before polling day, held the Provincial Premier's majority down to what it was in 1908. His nomination, like that of Mr. Hamilton, was unanimous. In Messrs. Hamilton and Muir the Liberals feel that they have a strong team and certainly the candidature of each aroused much enthusiasm. The convention was large and enthusiastic, every part ot the riding being represented.

Short speeches were delivered by both candidates and there was also an address from John A. Campbell of Ormond, who contested the county against Mr. Broder last September. The convention wished Mr. Campbell to again enter the field but for business reasons he declined. The Liberals of Dundas county have not been properly organized for many years and from appearances they are going at it now. Keen contests and close results are a benefit for any constituency. May it be so in Dundas.

The race-track bill passed its third reading in the Commons.

Wholesale sugar prices were reduced by ten cents per hundredweight.

BASQUE EFFECTS.

Lace an Important Factor of Summer Frocks.

DELIGHTFUL COSTUME OF TAN NET.

Basque effects are being pushed by designers of costumes this season, but it remains to be seen whether the idea is going to "take" with their patrons. The gown illustrated shows the basque notion in its incipient stage. The material employed in this costume is a pale tan net trimmed with bands of venise lace. The lace of the bodice is also mounted on the tan net. A very modish touch is to be found in the plaited frill at the foot of the skirt and the slashed trimmed velvet coat, with button trimmed coattails at the back.

For the Girl Who Sews.

A bright young girl whose pet fad is harmony in the matter of the little details of dress, devising always some original touch which will tell those who see that her costume was designed as a whole, not being merely a chance collection of dress and accessories, evolved a charming and graceful fichu and cuff set to which any color touch desired can be added, according to the dress with which it is to be worn.

The fichu itself is of the usual draped surplice shape, curved to fit over the shoulders and trimmed with dainty lace frills. The inner edge is also of lace. Along the middle of the fichu following its longest line is a strip of velvet ribbon or folded satin, of a tint to match the gown, that is held in place by little cross straps of lace about three inches apart, out from which it can be drawn when the fichu is laundered or when it is to be replaced by some other color.

The cuffs to match this were deep ones, turned back, with double rows of lace frills an inch deep at the upper edge. Around the body of each cuff went the strip of satin or velvet to match that used on the fichu, and this again was apparently secured by the tiny straps of lace which crossed it, but which was also, as in the case of the fichu, caught here and there by an invisible stitch to prevent any accident or slipping from place. The narrow girdle was also of the same material as the colored "inset."

Frost Pictures.

The other children like to write
Their names upon the pane
That's frosted over in the night,
Where you can see them plain.

They draw all sorts of awkward things,
But I would rather see
The pictures that the white frost kings
Have painted there for me.

I am afraid the fairy folk
That in these woods might play
By these ungainly crooked strokes
Will all be scared away.

Probably Lost His Case.

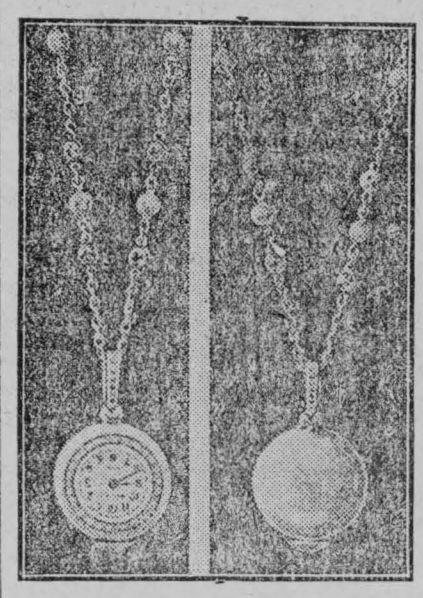

Lawyer—My client painted a picture of this young lady, your honor, and she claims it does not do her justice.

Judge—Does not do her justice, did you say?

"Yes, your honor, and she was foolish enough to think she could get it by bringing the case before you."

Tiny Complete Watch Contained In a Pearl.

An example of ingenious craftsmanship in watchmaking is shown in the accompanying illustrations of a watch contained in a pearl, the illustrations showing about its actual size. It took fifteen months of the time of the best workmen employed by a French jewelry firm to complete it. The pearl in its native state weighed forty-five grains and measured 0.57 of an inch in diameter. The movement, which is 0.45 of an inch in diameter, is of special construction, of course, and represents the most patient and minute care. The piercing of the pearl, for instance, was exceptionally difficult. The watch is valued at $6,000.—Popular Mechanics.

The Game of Cherry.

If you intend having a few of your friends at your house on the afternoon of Washington's birthday send out your invitations on cardboard cut in the shape of a little hatchet. In one corner paint a little cherry tree and then write your invitation. Some fun can be had if, after your guests arrive, you play the game of "cherry." Buy a candy basket and fill it with candy cherries. Suspend the basket from the ceiling by a long string and let your guests, with hands tied behind them, try to catch the swinging basket with their mouths. The successful one gets the basket of cherries as a prize. Another form of this game is to hang the individual cherries from strings and allow the children to try to catch them in their mouths. Still another "cherry" game is to place a box on a chair at each end of the room and give each child a half dozen candy cherries, which he, at a distance, tries to throw in the basket.

Washington and the Poacher.

Washington was a fine shot, and the waters of the Chesapeake abounded in canvasback and other ducks. Washington would not allow other people to bring down his birds. He learned that one poacher was filling his game bags at his expense. Washington determined to end his fun. Hearing a shot one day, he mounted his horse and rode in the direction of the sound. The poacher discovered his approach and, entering his canoe, pushed a few yards out into the river before the master of Mount Vernon came in view. When Washington, with anger in his eye, came in sight the poacher raised his gun, cocked it and took deliberate aim. Washington did not show the slightest fear. He walked into the water, seized the canoe and pulled it ashore. Taking the gun from the poacher, he gave him so severe a chastisement that he never again repeated his attempt upon Washington's birds.

Conundrums.

When did Ruth treat Boaz badly? When she pulled his ears and trod on his corn.

Why is a convivial man like a Quaker? Because he is fond of the society of friends.

What is that which we all eat and drink, though it is sometimes a woman and sometimes a man? A toast.

Why would a tanner make a good chemist? Because he understands ox (h)ides.

When is soup likely to run out of the saucepan? When there's a leek in it.

What is that which you must keep after giving to another? Your word.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Suggestion.

The next time the snow drifts into your yard instead of making a snow man try to make a snow pig. An oblong mass of snow forms the body, and the legs, nose and ears are made of sticks surrounded by snow. A bit of rope nicely curled will make a good tail. Various pigs can be shaped and carved, according to the skill of the young artist, and will give a lively and sociable appearance to your yard and cause the neighbors a great deal of amusement—at your expense perhaps.

JUDGING A SEPARATOR.

Some of the Essential Things to Be Considered Before Making Purchase.

In an article of advice on separators A. W. Rudnick, assistant in dairying in the Kansas State Agricultural college, says:

In buying a separator the most essential points to be considered are: (1) The amount of milk to be separated, (2) the efficiency of the machine, (3) the life or durability of the machine, (4) the ease of cleaning the parts coming in contact with the milk, (5) the simple construction of and rigidness of the gears and pinions, (6) the oiling device, (7) the construction of casing or frame.

The efficiency of the machine is a very essential point. This does not refer alone as to whether the machine will skim clean when skimming a 25 per cent or 30 per cent cream, but if one must furnish a 40 per cent or 45 per cent cream will this machine skim cleaner than any other providing other requirements are equal? The separator, with care in keeping the temperature of the milk between 90 to 100 degrees F., having the machine on a solid foundation, the bowl running true and turning the crank at the required speed, should not have more than five-hundredths per cent of butter fat in the skimmilk when skimming a 30 per cent cream.

A good separator with reasonable care and attention should last from ten to fifteen years, with few or no repairs.

When we say that the parts of the separator which come in contact with the milk should be so constructed as to be easily cleaned we do not refer to the number of parts to be cleaned, but to the construction of these parts. Can every piece of the bowl be taken apart so that we have no cracks or shoulders to clean? If it is a disk machine, will all of the disks come apart so that we can wash them individually, or, if there is any other device, can it be taken apart so that all of the surface will be exposed and be easily washed? Some machines may be so constructed that there are only a few parts, and yet these few be more difficult to wash and keep clean than a machine with a great number.

The parts coming in contact with the milk should be heavily tinned, as this makes washing easier and prevents the parts from rusting. If the parts start rusting it is very tedious work to keep the machine clean. However, no separator is so constructed that it can be kept clean and sanitary without taking it apart after each separation. In order to get the best results from your machine wash and scald all the parts coming in contact with the milk after each separation.

Most of the standard machines have vertical and horizontal gears, with each end of the pinion in a bearing, thus reducing the chance of the gears moving out of place to a minimum, and this kind of gearing will run for years without any repair or adjustment if the machine can be easily oiled. The oil and dirt should be wiped off occasionally and the bearings flushed with coal oil. The oiling of a separator should be as automatic as possible. The splash system that is used on some of the separators makes the oiling automatic, requiring attention about once a week, and with an oil cup for the neck bearing we have the danger of the hot bearing reduced to a minimum. Although a series of oil cups with the snap lever proves very satisfactory, oil must be furnished the neck bearing either by means of a cup or a heavy oil pad, because the bowl travels at a tremendous speed and needs a constant bath of oil to prevent heating. The lower bearing of the spindle must also be so arranged as to be oiled constantly while the machine is in use. The other bearings must be provided for in some way or other and, as previously stated, as nearly automatic as possible.

While the construction of the casing or frame of the machine may look like a secondary problem, it really is very essential for two reasons: First, does it protect the operator from getting caught in the gears and chains? Second, is it so arranged that you can get at the gears and bearings easily to clean them occasionally and take out the old oil or, in case of overflow, milk?

GROWING HORSERADISH.

Pungent Crop Does Best After Beets, Cauliflower or Early Cabbage.

A Wisconsin subscriber of American Agriculturist asks for information on the methods of raising and marketing horse radish. Although the horse radish is a perennial and will continue to grow indefinitely if some of the roots are left in the ground, it is usually treated as an annual when raised in commercial gardening. It is most profitable as a second crop, following beets, cauliflower or early cabbage. Only the main root is used for market, the small rootlets being broken off and preserved for planting.

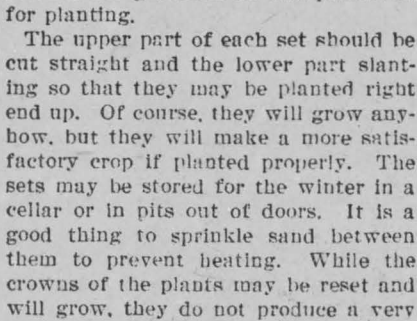

The upper part of each set should be cut straight and the lower part slanting so that they may be planted right end up. Of course, they will grow anyhow, but they will make a more satisfactory crop if planted properly. The sets may be stored for the winter in a cellar or in pits out of doors. It is a good thing to sprinkle sand between them to prevent heating. While the crowns of the plants may be reset and will grow, they do not produce a very satisfactory crop of roots for market and will not pay for replanting.

The sets are planted between rows of cabbage or cauliflower in holes eight or ten inches deep made with a light crowbar. They are covered two or three inches deep. If they are not set deeply they are likely to come up too soon and interfere with cultivating and harvesting the first crop. By planting one hill of horse radish opposite each cabbage plant from 12,000 to 13,000 plants per acre are grown. One cultivation is usually sufficient, because the ground is already clean from the first crop, and horse radish leaves soon shade the ground and prevent weed growth.

SELF CLOSING GATE.

Directions For Making One That Is Serviceable and Inexpensive.

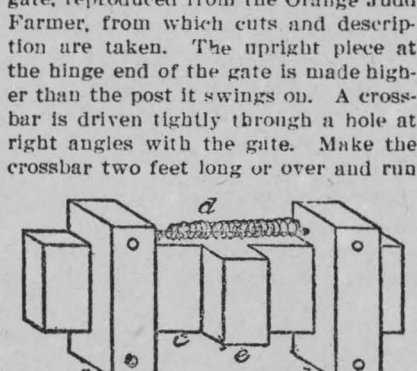

Here is a good plan for a self closing gate, reproduced from the Orange Judd Farmer, from which cuts and description are taken. The upright piece at the hinge end of the gate is made higher than the post it swings on. A crossbar is driven tightly through a hole at right angles with the gate. Make the crossbar two feet long or over and run wires from the ends of the crossbar to a point two feet from the crossbar and continue by a single wire for one foot.

A spiral spring from a mower or binder is here attached, and a wire is connected with this spring and run to the second post of the fence. This gate will swing either way and be pulled shut again. A latch made as described in the drawing will be a great help. Take a piece of hard wood—oak or maple—and saw as indicated at c. This should be 8 by 2 by 2 and sawed so e should be one inch thicker than the thin parts. Two pieces should be sawed like b, just so the thin part of c will slide easily through it. Then saw a, making the groove one and one-fourth inches wide and its edges rounding so the latch will work easily and attach to the fencepost horizontally. A spiral spring from a shade roller is attached, as shown in sketch. This is inexpensive but serviceable and works well if rightly made.

SELF CLOSING GATE.

Everything that we have except a few fish and a hope in the hereafter comes out of the ground. Be good to the ground. —American Agriculturist.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW RESTORED TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

Erratt—Dickson.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs Wm. Dickson, "Cedar View," Winchester, Ont., on March 13th, when their second daughter, Christena Margaret, was married to John A. I. Erratt, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs Humphrey Erratt, of Melvin's Settlement. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Yule, only immediate relatives being present. Evergreens and cut flowers formed the charming house decorations, the wedding ceremony being performed under an arch of evergreens and blossoms. Miss Laura Moffat of Cumberland played the wedding march.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white Duchess satin gown, with an overdress of embroidered net. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she wore the groom's gift, a beautiful ruby and pearl brooch, and carried a shower boquet of white roses and maiden-hair fern. She was attended by her eldest sister, Miss Isabella, who was becomingly attired in a white silk gown with an overdress of embroidered net, and carried a large boquet of pink carnations and maidenhair fern. The groom was attended by Mr. Milton Earl, of Castor. Alta. The bride's gift to the groom was a handsome gold signet ring, and the groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a crescent pearl brooch, to the groomsman a fleurdelis pearl tie pin, and to the organist a pearl brooch.

After the ceremony a reception was held, cut flowers and smilax forming the artistic decorations. Later Mr. and Mrs Erratt left on their wedding trip to Brockville and Watertown, N. Y., the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with white lace waist, and a navy blue hat trimmed with violets and a large willow plume.

The out-of-town guests were, Miss Martha Dickson, of the Willis College, Ottawa, sister of the bride Mrs Dunn, and child of Ogdensburg, N. Y., sister of the groom; Mrs Edmund Earl, and two children of Castor, Alta., sister of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs Alex. Dickson of Lancaster, Ont., aunt and uncle of the bride.

Toronto Scene of Big Fire.

Toronto, March 26—A large portion of the King Street east car barns, between St. Lawrence Street and the Don river, with 270 street cars and several adjoining factories were wiped out yesterday afternoon by a fire which started about 2.40 p. m. causing a loss estimated at $1,500,000. The flames broke out in a long shed used for storing open summer cars, the probable cause being either a defective insulation or spontaneous combustion among a large quantity of paints and oils. Every fire brigade in the city was called out, but it required six hours' work before the fire was under control. All the barns were burned except the brick building factory on King Street East. In addition the following factories were destroyed.

Empire Refining Company, R. A. Sabiston, mattress factory.

A. Muirhead paints and varnishes

Cockshutt Plough Company.

The Street Railway Company estimate their loss at between $500,000 and $600,000 for the care destroyed and buildings, insured with American companies.

The fire was the most disastrous and spectacular since the ten million dollar conflagration of 1904.

Messrs Roderick Mackenzie and George Lang gave evidence before the Senate committee regarding the loss the west has sustained by the defeat of reciprocity.

The new superintendent will assume his duties on April 1st, as it is the intention of the committee to proceed with operating the farm, preparatory to the formal opening of the building in October next. A sub-committee consisting of Messrs J. W. McLeod and A. I. Macdonell has been appointed to see to the purchase of the necessary stock, etc., for the farm.

Mr. W. F. Merkley, local agent for Frost and Wood, had planned for a mammoth display on delivery day. Some 85 machines were in readiness to be taken home by the farmers of this vicinity. But the heavy snow storm dampened the ardour of some 40 of the men, who either did not appear on the scene or went home immediately after loading. After being entertained at the Dominion House to dinner by Mr. Merkley, about 45 joined in the parade. This annual parade is an interesting sight, as it speaks of the progressiveness of the farmers of this community, as well as the aggressiveness of Mr. Merkley, Messrs Allison and Graham, of the Frost and Wood firm, were present to speak for the firm and to assist in the display. Mr. Merkley is a hustler and is the most progressive agent of the great firm in Eastern Ontario.

The only strip of open water between the rapids and Lake Ontario is the channel from the New York Central and C.P.R. ferry slips and the passenger ferry dock at Prescott.

Abolition of the Bar.

Toronto, March 26—Abolition of the bar is the first plank in the Liberal party's temperance policy, which was finally decided at the caucus of the Liberal members of the Legislature this afternoon. The caucus was attended by all the Liberal members in the city to day, and they were practically unanimous in their approval of the resolution. At the conclusion of the caucus Mr. Rowell sent to the clerk of the House notice of the following resolution;

Moved by Mr. Rowell: That in the opinion of the House the public interests demand:

(1) The immediate abolition of the bar.

(2) Such other restrictions upon the residue of the liquor traffic as experience may show to be necessary to limit its operation and be effective to remedy its evils.

(3) The strict enforcement of the law by officials in sympathy with law enforcement, and the elimination of political influence from the administration of the law.

(4) Regulation and inspection of all houses of public entertainment so as to ensure reasonable accommodation for the travelling public.

Two French-Canadian members, Messrs Evanturel, of Prescott, and Racine of Russel, were the only ones to oppose to the resolution in the caucus.

The caucus decided not to propose any interference with drinking in clubs. The temperance element in the party also fought successfully against any inclusion of a proposal for government control of the traffic.

The resolution will appear on the order paper tomorrow, but under the rules of the House it cannot be debated until Thursday as the earliest. Just when it will come up will depend upon the Government. If Sir James should show an inclination to put off the discussion, under the ruling given in Mr. Rowell's favor by the Speaker, the other day, Mr. Rowell can force the discussion on private members' day.
