Hallowe'en night in Iroquois produced one of the largest costume parties ever held in the community as several hundred joined together at the Iroquois Civic Centre for a night of fun. Sponsored annually by the Lions Club, the community party has grown both in numbers and in interest to the point that the civic centre was taxed to handle the attendance Saturday night as Lions members had each age group circle the hall to parade before the attendance and the judges as they endeavoured to pick the best costumed contestants from a host of excellent entries.

Cash prizes were awarded in a number of categories and the winners are all named with the pictures presented in this issue of The Post. A few of these pictures are found on page one, the rest elsewhere in The Post.

The Post thanks Lee Merkley for providing the pictures of this year's Hallowe'en party.

6 - 8 YEAR WINNERS were first, Arnie Adams on the left; Tom and Julie Waddell with mop wigs took second place and Carol Mattice took third as the Sentry.

MOST ORI GINAL COSTUME award went to Eric Goodmurphy, with Lion Frank Rooney offering congratulations

Ecumenical Workshop At Seaway

On Sunday afternoon, October 24th, at Seaway District High School, Iroquois, an Ecumenical workshop was held under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Addington of Montreal, a working a representative team from the Chicago Ecumenical Institute.

Some fifty people took part in the workshop, and at one time of counting attendance included: Anglican (7), Presbyterian (13), United Church (14) and Roman Catholic (13). This represented the communities of Iroquois, South Mountain and some welcome guests from Kemptville. It was most gratifying to have more than a dozen young people to take an active part in the dialogue.

The afternoon began in an imaginative way by each identifying himself, his church affiliation, and some personal thought from a movie, a book, a specific observation about himself as a member of the Christian Church. This proved to be stimulating information of the group to each other.

The theme address was made by Jim Addington who confronted us with "the raw anxiety of living in the 20th Century· there is no separating of religion from everyday life". He accused the church of having forfeited its imagination and leadership; and in its wake there has been serious collapse in morale, christian education, finances, and the "practical vision to take the next step". He stated that change and renewal can only come about by the re-opening of imaginative study of the Holy Scriptures, the rearrangement of convinced laymen, and the personal witness of convinced Christian people. It requires "man to man witness in the casual encounters of everyday life" Christian life is a vocation as different to part time optional extra!

A document on "the purpose of the Church" written by the 20th Century Theologian Richard Niebuhr was studies, and charted for more consise summation of the author's thought presentation. Mr. Addington summed up the afternoon with the provocative statement· the local community is the local point in which decided to expend your passion, your personal laying down of life on behalf of others." Working at the Ecumenical level with the local Church as the gathered community requires visionary leadership and sharply focused mission.

At 5:30 p.m., the Women's Institute of Iroquois provided a substantial roast pork dinner, using the facilities of the United Church. Our corporate appreciation for this generosity provided on a Sunday afternoon is duly appreciated and recorded, members of the W. I.

The evening session was given to "brain storming" Each person was asked to write down his answers to the following questions " "What have been the three signals events of the life of the Church in the Seaway Valley in the past year? What are the three key struggles in the life of your local congregation? What are the issues in the life of the laymen in this community?

Each of the above questions raised an average of fifteen answers, and these will be further studied and evaluatated one eveningthis fall. We hope also to provide a good resume of the information to the readers of the Iroquois Post, when the answers have been more usefully assembled.

SUSANNA EWING AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

E. Susanna Ewing, eldest daughter of Stuart Ewing, Telecommunications Station Manager of Cardinal Marine Coast Station, Ministry of Transport has been awarded a scholarship of $250.00 toward her studies at St. Lawrence College of Applied Arts and Technology, Kingston, where she is studying for a Behavioural Science Technician. Susanna is a recent graduate from Seaway District High School, Iroquois, and this award from the Public Services Alliance of Canada is one of six made this year to college and university students across Canada.

I get plenty of teasing from the fellows at the plant about my cove. They call it "Crockett's Cure-all for Tired Executives." And they're right.

Drifting alone on the still water, tiny under the full sky, things fall into perspective. A bird calls, upriver a fish arches, a passing breeze brings blossom scent. Somehow, no matter how thorny my problem, the harmony of God's nature takes the kinks out of me.

Things weren't always this way. A few years back a tree was just a tree to me — a lake, a lake. Now, wherever I look, I see God's goodness.

It all started one evening when, worried and depressed, I wandered into a church. I can't remember now what was sung or read, but I will never forget the sense of God's presence. Since then, God's Church and teachings have been my strength.

Your church offers inspiration and a fresh viewpoint. Take advantage of it.

IT HAPPENS TO EVERYONE, BILL

By Bill Smiley

We've just been through a perfect late fall weekend in these parts. The sort of weather we'd been waiting for all summer, and which refused to arrive.

But the weather was the only thing that was perfect. The rest of the weekend was a comedy of errors.

My wife had lost her glasses. She can see about eighteen miles, but has trouble with the small print.

So I was volunteered on a beautiful Saturday afternoon, when I had planned to get in a last game of golf, to drive 75 miles round trip, with her, to the optometrist.

For an eye examination? Oh, no, she could have obtained a prescription from the doctor. No. Merely so that she could choose frames for the dam' things that would enhance her beauty.

She had explained that the optometrist was closed on Wednesday afternoons, and that since I was free on Saturday, there was no reason I couldn't drive her yak yak yak.

Just before we left she wondered whether she should call to make sure he was open. I scoffed at the idea. "Don't be silly. If he closes Wednesday afternoon, he'll be open Saturday. Especially with all that out-of-town business." So she didn't.

I mellowed a bit on the way, with the sun smiling on a world of magnificent colour. But I'd still rather have been six other places.

We got there, parked, walked to the store and — you grabbed it — he was closed.

Ten minutes later we were at the curt recrimination point, and twenty minutes after that we were laughing as we lumbered off on the home journey.

Arrived chez nous and the house was like an oven. We were bickering about who had turned the thermostat up to 75 (it was 75 outside), when a sepulchral voice from above informed us that our only begotten son had arrived, taken a shower, and turned on the heat to avoid a chill. He's the same character who will walk around in his bare feet in winter.

Following a long-distance call of a few days before, we had half-expected him, along with his kid sister. Half, because you never know with them.

However, Old Fuss-Boots had decided we should stock up with grub, just in case. We hadn't all been together for about eight months. So we went all out: a turkey, a big roast, wine; all sorts of goodies. The freezer was bulging with meat.

Kim didn't come. When his mother asked Hugh what he would like for dinner, and rhymed off the delicacies, he answered calmly that he was a vegetarian and had brought his own little packet of brown rice.

There are times when it's hard to keep your temper, but we managed. By the time we'd sorted this out, coolly, we had a desultory dinner of boiled brown rice for him, Kentucky fried chicken for us.

But fate still had a facile, fickle finger for us. Hugh had come home to get away from the city, see the glory of fall foliage, walk in the woods and on the lonely beach. He woke up Sunday morning, stretched his neck, and had a muscle spasm. This is a thing that sets your neck over on one shoulder and gives you a foretaste of hell if you try to turn your head.

Spent most of Sunday, another perfect day, trying to find the local chiropractor at his carefully concealed cottage ten miles from town, and thereafter slap-

Twenty-six boys from the I.M.H.A. acted as salesmen for the promotion. One of which was warded a free registration for the forthcoming hockey season. This years successful boy was Tommy Waddell.

Runner-ups were Bruce Graham, Kevin McEwen, Michael Styles and Stephen Buelly. Of the total amount of ticket sales these five boys were responsible for a total sale of $241.75. However the draw would not have been such a success if were not for the other 21 boys who did a tremendous job. These boys are publicly thanked by the I.M.H.A. and they in turn wish to thank the citizens of Iroquois and all the area for their generous support for their cause financial help in playing Canada's National Sport. In addition to the above boys-the following players assisted in the promotion-Steven Moffat, Rick McKee, Cary Crawford, Rene Lafromboise, Steven Barkley, Michael Belanger, Brent Mattice, Jamie Thompson, Kenneth Merkley, Tim Patterson, Pat De Bellefeuille, Mark Nesbitt, Steven Eddy, Frank Lee, Kevin Brown, Ken Lapier, Robert Shaw, Steven Brennan, Kevin Whittaker, Bruce Sutherland and Lance Valcour.

The Iroquois Minor Hockey Association's next project will be a Bottle Drive. Plans are now in the formative stages and a annoucement will be appearing shortly in the Iroquois Post.

Guess who's doing the dishes?

For years, doing the dishes has been one of life's necessary evils.

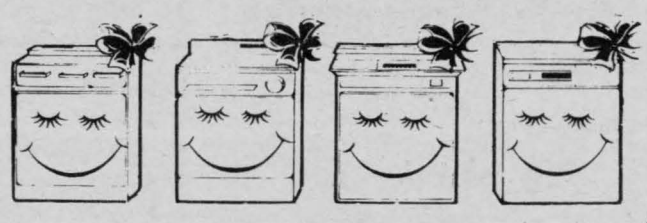

But now, because of automatic electric dishwashers, more and more people are finding out it's an unnecessary evil.

Consider some of the things an automatic electric dishwasher can save wives from. Things like: the dreary routine of washing and drying pots and dishes day after day; the worry of dishpan hands, the after-party aftermath; and the hours spent doing dishes that could be spent in a hundred happier ways.

Consider this, too. A lot of dirty dishes come with the joys of Christmas. So what could make a more timely gift than an automatic electric dishwasher?

See your appliance dealer soon about the new automatic electric dishwashers. They're not called The Wifesavers for nothing, you know.

Special Mission Service Held At Knox

Tyndale Day was observed in the Congregation of Knox Presbyterian Church, Sunday, October 31st, when the congregation, in conjunction with St. Andrew's Church, South Mountain, shared in a special service of mission understanding, particularly speaking to the work and witness of the Church in the inner-city situation of Montreal.

Guests of the congregation and participating in the worship service, were the Rev. Robert Johnston, B. Sc., B.A., Director of Tyndale House, Miss Ilona Jeszenszky, University Volunteer working at Tyndale, and Garry Wand, youth member of the Tyndale congregation, who presented "a dialogue in mission", outlining the expanding work of this inner-city ministry, and giving evidence of the development of young people of the Little Burgundy settlement, served by Tyndale House, into youth leaders of the community, Mr. Wand being one of the 11 young teen's being presently trained for leadership in the Christian Education classes for the House.

Enlightening to the congregation was the news that the Presbyterian and Anglican churches of greater Montreal were participating in a co-ministry in the Little Burgundy area of the city, both churches contributing to an expansion of the Tyndale facilities, for greater outreach to the adults and young people of this underprivileged community.

Of particular concern within this service of mission understanding was the immediate need for resources to help Little Burgundy Teens be trained for leadership within their own community. Presbyterian congregations within Montreal and Seaway Valley were answering this need by such occasions as "Tyndale Day" observances. During the service at both Knox and St. Andrew's a special Tyndale Day Appeal offering was received, and dedicated for this immediate need.

Thanking the Tyndale team for their ministry within the midst of the congregation, the Rev. John Hibbs, pastor, commended the congregations for their "extra mile gift" to this need for a sister-congregation in the inner-city. During the service, the Knox selection, "Joy in Serving Jesus" under the direction of the Minister, Mrs. H. B. Bradley, organist

HOCKEY GOSSIP

By: Leo DeBellefeuille

A new face in the N.H.L. this year will be Garry Gambucci who is the first native son of Minnesota to play for the North Stars. He played previously with the U.S. National and Olympic team. He is 5'9" and tips the scales at 175 lbs. Look for him as a future star.

The California Golden Seals are batting 1000 when it comes to the coaching department. When they hired Vic Stasiuk he became their fifth coach in five years while under the N.H.L. banner.

Punch Imlack has on his Buffalo Sabres this season two players who should be known to area hockey fans in the names of Rod Zaine of Ottawa who performed at one time for the Smiths Falls Bears of the Junior Hockey League and the other is Kevin O'Shea who toiled for the Cornwall Royals when they were members of the same league. Kevin is the younger brother of Danny O'Shea. The capitain of the Sabres Floyd Smith recently presented a sabre to Fred Atkins. Atkins was one of the worls wrestling greats a few years back. Fred's concetion with the hockey club was in the position of the Sabres physical training programm. e

The Black Hawks from Chicago are again on good terms with the Seals from Californa by virtue of adding Garry Oesjardins back into their lineup by sending star rookie goal tender Gilles Melocke and defenceman Paul Schyr to the Seals. Melock was the talk of the town during the training camp this year.

The Boston Bruins top brass get tough. They have informed the playing personal to cancel all public appearance. The order will be in effect indefinitely. They stated "we want the players to think hockey-nothing but hockey there have been too many distractions." The Brunns are hurting with Fred Stanfield Phil Esposito Oan Marcott and Ted Green excused from early-week practice last week.

The New York Rangers have the youngest team on the ice this season in their 46 year history the average age this year for the Blue Shirts from Broadway is 27 6 years. Bill Chadwick a former N.H.L. referee is starting his 5th term broadcasting the New York games. It must be quite a change blowing into a mike instead of a whistle!

Major Dan McLeod who 3 years ago was the guest speaker at the Iroquois Minor Hockey Association Awards Banquet has been hired by the N.H.L. as a supervisor of officials. Ab Demarco Jr. is back as a regular defencemen with the Rangers-Ab opposed Kevin O'Shea who we referred to early in this colum-when they clashed at the Eastern Memorial Cup playoffs 3 years ago or so. At that time Jr. Ab was a member of the North Bay Junior Trappers and his pop also a former New Yorker was his coach at this time.

Emile Francis has some heart warming news for the Maple Leaf fans when he recently was quoted as saying Toronto will be a threat this season, he attributes their surge to the combined play of Bernie Parent and Jacques Plant in addition to strong tough young defencemen. Do you remember Ed Sandford? He was a star with the Boston Bruins now Ed is a goal judge for the Bruins at the Bears Gardens. Some experts are already feeling Reg Leach of the Bruins and Richard Martin of the Sabres as top contenders for rookie honours-Perhaps they forgot Ken Oryden is still in the race?

Did you know that Terry Harper of the Habs has four credits from Canadian universities and is the only N.H.L. player to hild a pilot license. I wonder if he ever took Gump Worseley for a cruise! Perphas the local Flying Club could invite Terry to attend next years Fly-In Breakfast. What do you think folks-he would be a definite drawing card. Can you imagine Terry Harper in Iroquois being interviewed by General Grant and Lowell Green. The name Bardeleaus is becoming as much a part of hockey as the player name-Here they are Christian is with St. Louis Jean-Piere at Dallas-Paulin with the Junior Marlies and Richard with Verdum M Maple Leafs.

Here is a item you hockey buffs should pick up. It is the official rule book of the N.H.L. Its pockey size. Its only costing 50¢ and you can purhase these from the N.H.L. 922 Sun Life Building in Montreal P. Q. Its the bible of hockey. For example did you know? If a player leaves the bench when a fight is in progress, his team receives not one but two-2 minute minor penalties and the player is personally removed from the game with a $100 fine. This applies to net minders who leave their crease to become involved in a fistic-cuff.

Perhaps minor hockey should insert this regulation into their rule book also. Those so far in the young season who have been hit with a $100 penalty for becoming the 3rd man in a scrop were Frank Mahovlick-Bobby Orr-Dale Rolfe and Bob Player. This could be a fine lession to Minor Hockey Players to keep their nose clean and play the game the way it should be played.

Bryon Watson is the only regular defenceman left on the Pittsburg Penquin Blue Line from last year. Gone are Jim Marrision, Bob Black-Burn, Dunc McCollum and Duane Pupp. These rearguards have been replaced by Darryl Edestrand, Joe Moris, Dave Burrows, Sheldon Kannegiesser and Tim Horton. The manner in which the Penquins are producing this term it would seem a smart on Red Kelly's past.

Another well known area hockey personality who is in the N.H.L. this seaon in Ron Ward who was a standout Junior while with the Cornwall Royals. Ron is a utliity man this eason with the Vancouver Canucks.

Jack Bowman the brother of the Montreal Canadians Coach Scotty Bowman is a highly rated referee in the Q.J.H.L.

At the time of this writing Phil Esposito is one point ahead of his record of 152 points-Frank Big "M" Mohovlick of the Hobs is off to his best start in 15 years.

Mr. Mike Makuck of Ottawa wishes to arrange for exhibition hockey games on a home and home basis in the Atom and Pee Wee groups if you are interested please phone Mike-Collect in Ott awa at 731-5582

Keep your eye on Vancouver Canucks defenceman Barry Wilkins as he seems to be developing into a star in the N.H.L. at present he is Canucks most solid man behind the blueline, although Dave Tallon is still a standout., combined they will be a tough pair to contend with as the season advances. Barry Wilcox a lift winger from New Westminster B.C. is the first B.C born player to perform for the Canucks, however he is now on loan to Seattle.

Stan "The Man" Mikita who has produced some 930 points in his N.H.L. carrer is suffering from a very painful back and is strapped up for each contest. Considering he has earned nearly 950 minutes in penalties-it goes to show bad back or not he still knows how to play the game. Perhaps after Stan vacotes the league the next person to start starring as the top small in the league will be Marcel Dionne at 5-8 and 170 poinds. Stan is 5-9 and 165. Which should be proove enough to all youngesters you do not have to be a giant to perform in Hockey's Big Time League.

Did you know that Billy Reay is the only coach in the league to have kept his position since the league expanded?

Some of the present players in the N.H.L. who were the victims of trades by the late Staff Smyths was Murray Oliver-Bob Pulford, Bruce Gamble, it makes one wonder if they would still be an asset to the Leaf Club.

South Mountain Bible Society Meets

The annual meeting of the Mountain-South Mountain Branch of the Canadian Bible Society was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church 'Fellowship Hall', Wednesday evening, October 27th, with the Rev. John Hibbs, host-Minister, welcoming all in attendance, and conducting the opening service of worship, Mrs. Arnold Shaver being the pianist for two hymn selections.

The visiting District Secretary of the Bible Society, the Rev. T. H. Bridle, of Ottawa, spoke to the assembly, following his introduction, and highlighted the work of the Canadian and World Societies in 1970. Of particular interest was the special-ministry of the Society to Nigeria, where agreat demand for the Scriptures saw 18,000 copies distributed in the Ibo language the first three months of this year. Of further interest was the announcement that 173 million copies of the biblical Scriptures were distributed around the world in 1970, and that full copies of the Scriptures and partial copies are now available in 1431 languages. 1,900,000 copies of the Scriptures were distributed in Canada alone in 1970. and through the "Youth with a Mission" auxiliary of the Society, many of these were given to young people who travelled across the nation, or gathered in city communes. Mr. Bridle commended the work of the local Society, and followed his remarks with the showing of an excellent color film entitled, "The Finest Gold", depicting the work of the World United Bible Societies in Tailand.

Mr. Gordon Blow and Mr, Claire Van Allen, co-chairmen of the Branch Society, conducted the business session of the meeting, assisted by Mr. Harold Graham and Mrs. Weldon Carlyle, co-secretaries. Minutes and treasury reports were heard and duly adopted, contributions of $493 and $184 being given by the local Branch from South Mountain and Mountain respectively in 1970.

Plans were made to hold the annual Bible Society canvass in South Mountain, the week beginning November 7th, with Bible Society Sunday in the churches. Canvassers were elected including Messrs Arnold Gilroy, Gordon Blow, Mary Jean Halfpenny, Janet Weagant, Haorld Graham, Mrs. Arnold Shaver, and respresntatives of St Daniels Roman Catholic congregation. Receipt books and canvass material were duly distributed.

An 'in memoriam' tribute was observed during the meeting for deceased members of the Bible Society work in the area, Mrs. W. Shaw, and Miss E. Brockmire; following which was the election of a new executive saw the former executive relected. The next annual meeting of the local Branch will be held in Mountain, the last week of October 1972, Messrs. C. Van Allen and H. Graham to work out the details.

A literature table was on display, and many purchased copies ofthe Psalams, in the new "Good News" version will be ready for publication in 1975.

The Rev. Hibbs thanked the visiting District Secretary and his wife for their encouragement and good words, and closed the meeting with the benediction.

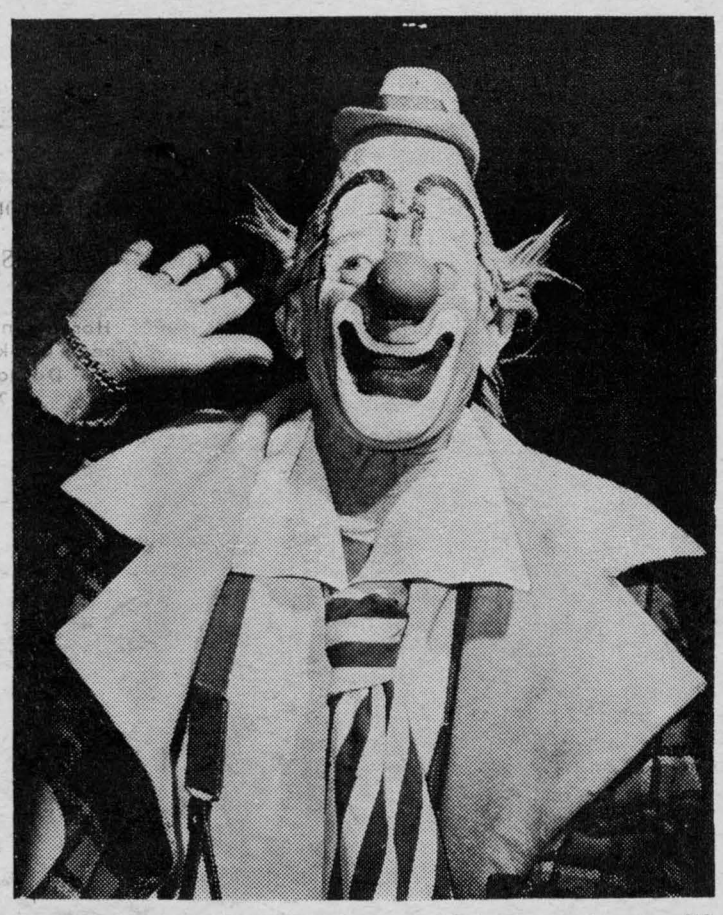

Cornwall Fire Chief Addresses Lions

Fire Chief Lou Carriere of Cornwall was the guest speaker last Monday night at the regular dinner meeting of the Iroquois Lions Club that was held at the Civic Centre. Guests from Maxville and Winchester were present, and the catering was ably looked after by St. John's Ladies' Guild.

Speaking to a 90% attendance, the fire chief invited us to take a look at fire fighting in ancient Rome. At the time of the Emperor Caesar A Augustus, the city was divided into fourteen zones with seven chorts of one thousand men each, who were trained fire fighters. Each cohort had its own barracks, and these were identified by a giant ever burning torch. Equipment included saws, hammer, pick axe, leather hose lengths, large mattress-like pillows to cush the fall for persons who had to jump from upper levels, and a very elementary type of fire extinguisher. Recent developments are chiefly the sophistication of previous techniques, in the light of modern scientific advancements.

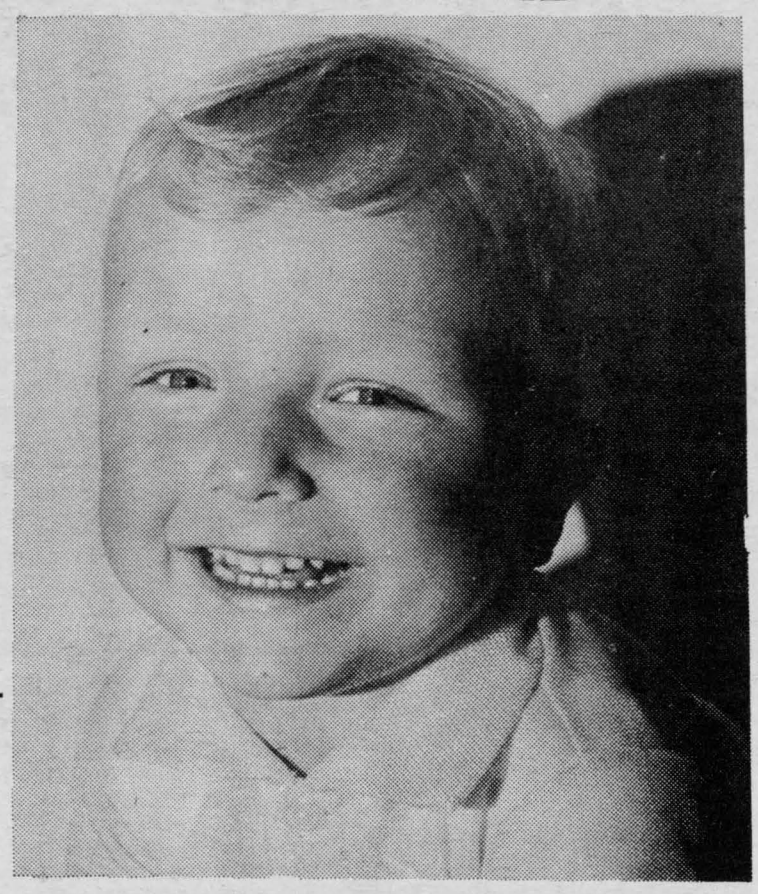

Today's hoses can stand up to four hundred pounds of pressure; extension ladders of 100 ft. high, with platform at the top, can be raised in a very short time. There are hand powered tools that can penetrate cement and brick, for forcible entry. Masks are now worm to prevent fire, smoke and heat damage. Nozzles that distribute the water in a fine spray enable the creation of steam that has much greater fire extinguishing power than a simple hosing with water. There is also a foam deterrant that is used, with less damage to property. Portable generators are available both for light and as smoke ejectors. Radio communication provides a two way information system for on-the spot decisions.

Iroquois enjoys the protection of a mutual aid policy in matter of fire, so that not only own local station is available for help, but also the resoucres of the Three United Counties if fire becomes a very serious threat. The speaker was introduced by Lion Keith Beaupre and thanked by Lion Danny Robertson.

HERE'S LOU! Lou Jacobs, world-famous clown with the all-new 101st Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus. The Greatest Show On Earth comes to the Ottawa Civic Centre for 10 big performances beginning Wednesday evening, November 10, through Sunday, November 14.

TODAY'S CHILD

"A fun-loving boy"

Billy's disposition is just as winning as his smile. This three-year-old is an outgoing, loyal, fun-loving boy who makes friends readily and captures the heart of everyone he meets.

With an Anglo-Saxon background, Billy is about average in size with blue eyes, fair skin, and shining blonde hair. He is in good general health, but he has cerebral palsy (lack of muscle control) affecting his legs. He is attending a nursery school operated by the Society for Crippled Children where daily therapy is available, and is almost walking. He tries hard and thrives on the praise he gets for his achievements.

Billy likes to watch Sesame Street and enjoys playing with educational toys. He looks forward to Sunday School, especially the music, and in his foster home he is often heard singing little rhymes to himself.

This laddie needs parents whose love will surmount his physical handicap and who can help him develop to the limit of his abilities, with more concern for personality than for scholastic achievement.

To inquire about adopting Billy, please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

ping hot towels on Hugh's neck. He could see only the foliage on one side of the road, as we drove.

Home to Mama, and the last blow had fallen. The freezer compartment of the fridge wasn't working. And it was loaded with meat. All of which was rapidly getting limp.

The meat is in the neighbours' freezer, Hugh's neck is slightly better, and, at time of writing, it's another beautiful day in which I have been chained, first, in an institution, and second, to my typewriter. Tomorrow, everything will be back to normal.

And it'll snow.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother, Idena Burnie Van Allen who died one year ago Nov. 3 1970.
Memories grow sweeter as time travels on,
When we long for a face and a voice that has gone,
We think of your singing and treasure your smile,
And feel your not lost but gone for awhile.
A wonderful mother we laid to rest,
For each of us she did her best,
Her place on earth no one can fill
We miss you Dear Mother and we always will.
