Work cut out for new SD&G's economic director

by Andy McLeister
Press staff reporter

WINCHESTER — It's an unenviable position that Terry O'Reilly has found himself in. With the economy here and across the country mired in a recession, he has accepted the challenge to help reverse fortunes in the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

And he has his work cut out for him. With Morewood Industries teetering on the brink of collapse, and layoffs being announced throughout the region with alarming regularity, SD&G's first director of economic development will have to draw deeply on his extensive experience in various business and government positions.

In fact, so precarious is the present state of the local economy, that he was already on the job several weeks before he begins drawing a salary, at the New Year. He has been meeting with the players in the Morewood Industries bankruptcy in the hopes of saving the manufacturer of homes and windows. And, otherwise, he has been acclimatizing himself to his new territory, trying to determine exactly where in the counties he should set up shop.

In a recent, wide-ranging interview, O'Reilly discussed the arduous task that lays before him. And while many would shrink from an assignment that could prove frustrating, he relishes the challenge he has been given.

He may have been former Liberal Cabinet minister Pierre DeBane's senior policy advisor through three portfolios. He has been a successful businessman, and a high-ranking corporate executive. Yet he dismisses any suggestion that he is some sort of economic messiah who will snap his fingers and make all our troubles disappear.

But he hopes to become a catalyst for positive change. Charged with implementing recommendations in the counties' "Economic Development Strategy for SD&G", he sees his role as largely advisory.

"I want to talk to all the people in the counties who are interested in development," he said.

He says this should help him accomplish the first task he has set out for himself: develop a comprehensive data base that will contain a complete inventory of businesses, services and amenities already present in the counties. The exercise, he feels, is essential when trying to attract new industry, and in helping existing enterprises grow.

And he places strong emphasis on the health of existing businesses. "Let's keep what we've got," he told the Press, convinced that no effort should be spared in helping them weather the current economic storm.

He believes the economic development department he was hired to set up and head can help companies avoid financial collapse. When firms feel financially squeezed, "they have a number to call," he said.

His office can then "bring together a

MOREWOOD — The still tenuous situation at Morewood Industries has been grist for the rumor mill. Last week's scuttlebutt had it that Morewood was finally and definitively closed. But is it?

MI's general sales manager, Rob Patterson, rejected the rumors this week as "totally untrue". And he added Ernst & Young trustees are still negotiating with two prospective but unidentified buyers.

"John Gilhooly (of Ernst & Young) is meeting with the parties and the bank trying to get the best deal," said Patterson in a telephone interview late Tuesday.

According to Patterson, the rumors of defeat may have been spurred by yet another staff pare-down last week. "There are 31 employees left as of Friday," he said. He indicated that the layoffs were from the shop floor, service, clerical, and middle management levels.

But according to Patterson, the feeling is strong that a deal can be negotiated. "If they weren't trying to salvage it, the 31 of us left wouldn't still be here."

Meanwhile SD&G's new economic development director Terry O'Reilly has been shuttling between government agencies and trustee-buyer meetings lately. Although O'Reilly wasn't available at press time for comment, former counties warden Claude Cousineau confirmed his role.

"We're waiting to see what's going to transpire at the meetings in Ottawa," he said with guarded optimism. "So far, nothing's fallen through."

The clock started ticking away two months ago when Morewood Industries declared bankruptcy. Since then Nov. 15 and Dec. 15 deadlines to find a buyer have come and gone without a murmur as MI top brass and trustees play their hand close to their vest.

Now, on the eve of the New Year, no one wants to be the bearer of ill tidings. "Deadlines are fairly artificial," Patterson said, "but we'd like to wrap this thing up by the end of December.

For now, however, Morewood Industries is alive if not well.

Truck wrecked in Maple Ridge crash

MAPLE RIDGE — An Inkerman woman received minor injuries when her four-wheel-drive vehicle was demolished in a collision on Highway 43 at North Dundas District High School Monday afternoon.

Sharon Clermont, 31, was taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital for treatment for minor injuries, said Winchester OPP Sgt. Jim Irvine.

According to hospital spokesperson, Nancy Sheldrick, Clermont was held overnight at the hospital for observation and released Tuesday.

The accident occurred at 3:15pm when Clermont, driving a Ford Bronco east from Winchester, turned left into an entrance at North Dundas High School and was hit by an oncoming delivery truck.

Irvine said the truck driver had no time to avoid the collision.

The impact of the collision pushed back the Ford Bronco almost 100 meters into a ditch forcing the passenger side of the vehicle halfway into its interior. No one was sitting in the passenger seat.

Clermont was charged with making an improper left turn.

Fattening the Christmas goose

WINCHESTER—Christmas is coming, the geese are getting fat... and Winchester Lions, the 100 Club, Morewood Public School, North Dundas District High School, and many, many individuals are donating generously to this year's Christmas basket campaign.

Lions Club co-ordinator Gerald Beuman says the joint effort will provide Christmas dinners to 21 Winchester-area families. Baskets will contain turkey, vegetables, salads, cranberries, fruit, tea, and candy.

In addition, toys and clothing will be included for families with children. Beuman says the goal is to make this year's distribution the most plentiful and equal yet. Food baskets will be packed Saturday morning at the Lions Hall and distributed house-to-house by 100 Club and Lions volunteers.

Toys and gifts will be gift-wrapped tonight at the Lions Club Hall by North Dundas students and Ault Foods employees.

Shannon Summers, organizer for North Dundas High school, says lots of canned food were donated at a school dance last Friday where tickets cost $5 per person or $3 plus canned goods. New and used toys and clothing gifts have also been collected with Morewood Public School.

Ault Foods employees have collected 78 brand new kids' snowsuits donated by local businesses and those will be gift-wrapped tonight.

This year 21 Winchester-area families will be receiving baskets. Mountain Lions will be distributing baskets to 32 families. Last minute donations in Winchester may be made to:

GST throws wrench into village sewage works

WINCHESTER — The federal goods and services tax which becomes law in the New Year could be the wild card in determing increases in charges for municipal services.

Village council learned Monday that a ruling on whether the GST will apply to some municipal services has not yet been handed down. Until it is, the village doesn't know whether or not residents will pay GST on services such as water and sewage.

The uncertainty came to light when officials from the Ministry of the Environment presented its analysis and projections on the cost of running Winchester's sewage works. When it came to directing administration to draft a bylaw to approve a sewage charge increase for 1991, council was stymied by confusion over GST.

The federal government has yet to rule on whether municipal sewage and water systems will be considered essential services, and therefore qualify for a GST exemption, clerk-adminstrator Brenda Belair told council.

She said that even if these services are exempted, purchases of materials, chemicals and other equipment will be subject to the seven-per-cent tax. In this case, the added cost would not be passed onto village subscribers.

Pete Rupcic, MoE field services officer, told council a 5.2-per-cent increase in sewage rates would be needed to break even in operating the village sewage lies and lagoon. This would translate into a $6.75 addition to the present annual charge of $129 per customer.

However, he suggested that a higher increase be imposed so the village can maintain a cushion, which has been in place for a number of years.

While council directed Belair to draft a bylaw for consideration in the New Year containing a tentative 10-per-cent ($12.90 per annum) increase, costs to the village from the MoE (which operates the system) will likely jump to about $127,000 from this year's almost $109,000, or about 18 per cent.

Douglas Black, MoE chief operator, blamed the increase on rising annual bills for materials and services, especially electricity and chemicals, each of which have climbed dramatically in the past decade.

Publishing dates

The Winchester Press will be following an altered publishing schedule over the holiday season.

Next week's issue will be printed and distributed on Monday, Dec. 24, instead of the regular Wednesday publishing date. The first issue of the New Year will be published Wednesday, Jan. 2.

The Press office will be closed for Christmas from 3pm, Dec. 24 until Dec. 27 at 9am. At the New Year, the office will close at 3pm on Dec. 31 and reopen at 9am on Jan. 2.

Christmas comes early

For the Winchester District Memorial Hospital's ongoing renewal and upgrading fundraiser, Christmas arrived early this year. The 25 doctors on the hospital's medical staff donated $25,000 to the campaign. Dr. Raymond Dawes, chairman of the campaign's professional task force, said Monday the doctors' contribution should be duplicated periodically over the next three years. Pictured above, Dawes (left) and WDMH executive director Jim Egan decorate a Christmas tree in the east wing's lounge with the doctors' cheques.

Libraries take Christmas break

by Shirley Mills

WINCHESTER — If you are looking for a bargain in entertainment in the new year, may we suggest the public library. We mention the new year because the local libraries will be closed from Sat., Dec. 22 until Thurs., Jan. 3.

However, once the holidays are over, check out what your library has to offer. First of all, there is no charge to join and a library card entitles you to take out books or videos from any of the 21 branches in SD&G. It will be accepted at any branch, which means you can obtain books from more than one library.

Books may be borrowed for a two-week period and can be renewed if necesary. Also, if your local branch doesn't have the book you want, it can be ordered through interlibrary loan (ILL) from headquarters located at Avonmore. Videos are kept at headquarters and are ordered through ILL. There is no charge for these, which may be borrowed for one week but are not renewable.

And what sort of material might you find in the library? As well as a variety of fiction for all ages, the non-fiction books and videos cover a wide range.

The library staff will be pleased to help you find what you are looking for because, to us, libraries are more fun when we can share the material available. So, check out your local branch and get in on the action.

Village mourns former employee

WINCHESTER — A longtime village employee lost his battle with cancer last Wednesday. He was 59 years old.

A well-attended funeral service was held for Elton Robert Kenneth Coulter last Friday at the J.R Vice Funeral Home. Cremation followed with ashes to be interred at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Called Budd by all who knew him, Coulter resigned last May as Winchester's road superintendent. He held the post for 16 years.

Budd Coulter

Coulter was born in Ottawa and raised in the province of Quebec. He spent two years in a McGill University engineering program before joining the workforce. Prior to his Winchester assignment, he was a switchboard installer and repairman for Bell Canada.

Prior to Monday's regular council meeting, village councillor George Hanes summed up council's feelings about its former employee: "He did a good job for a number of years, through all kinds of weather. He was excellent, as far as I'm concerned."

myriad of people who can offer advice and assistance."

The data base could be of invaluable assistance in protecting existing firms, but it also becomes a handy device when trying to lure outside businesses to the counties, in O'Reilly's estimation.

If, for instance, O'Reilly or other SD&G promoters meet entrepreneurs from overseas or elsewhere in North America who are interested in relocating in, or expanding to, this part of the country, the data base can provide the answers to commonly-asked questions.

And by having all the pertinent information about all communities within the three counties, if a potential investor's first choice doesn't meet his requirements, the data base can be used to find a suitable alternative within SD&G, O'Reilly indicated.

But as the interview progressed, O'Reilly kept returning the focus to what the counties already contain, and his impressions of the region's longterm aspirations.

"What is evident is people don't want to dramatically alter the character of the region," he said. He believes there is no place in SD&G for a progress-at-any-cost philosophy.

Instead, we should be exploring "what is most appropriate to the overall and diverse makeup of SD&G," suggests O'Reilly.

"What are the most strengths we have here and how do we exploit them (in a way that is) the least offensive to the community and its quality of life?" is an essential question to which O'Reilly hopes to find answers.

O'Reilly credits his former employer, DeBane, with having an important influence on his present-day business philosophy.

"As a minster he was non-partisan," O'Reilly said of the boss he worked with from 1980 to 1984. "He believed in the democratic system."

This influence is reflected in the economic director's unwavering belief that the people of SD&G can solve their problems without large doses of outside intervention.

At age 45, O'Reilly has held a number of high- ranking positions in both the private and public sectors. It was this background that convinced counties council to choose him out of a field of about 50 candidates for the job.

When the SD&G opportunity came along, O'Reilly had just left his position as vice president of marketing and stategic planning with Miron Canada Inc. when the company was sold. The sale came after a team including O'Reilly elevated the company from fifth to second spot among concrete and cement firms in the region.

He was president of a medium-sized insurance company in 1980, when he was recruited as a special assistant responsible for Ontario and western Canada in the Department of Regional Economic Expansion, DeBane's portfolio. He soon rose to senior advisor.

In DREE, he got a well-rounded education in many aspects of the Canadian economy. He claims to feel "comfortable at the farmgate" through this experience. Many DREE projects, especially in the West, involved agriculture production and processing.

An important lesson he was taught at DREE is that "top down" — federal officials determining what is best for the locals — doesn't work. O'Reilly subscribes to the theory that ideas that originate locally are most likely to succeed.

He followed DeBane to the Department of External Relations, and got his feet wet in international economics in the process. Then at the Fisheries and Oceans Department, he helped troubleshoot problems within the ailing East and West Coast Fisheries; where they were exploring ways to diversify regional economies.

After completing these and other professional assignments, how does he rate SD&G's chances for improving its fortunes?

The counties' location, primary and secondary industries, tourist attractions, recreational facilities, rich history, and natural beauty hold tremendous potential for further development, he feels.

Mountain Musings

by Shirley Mills

I know there isn't too much snow yet, but for youngsters between the ages of 12-16 who want to be prepared just in case...a snowmobile course will be held shortly. Registration will be held on Dec. 30. On successful completion, the applicants will be licensed to operate a snowmobile. For information, call Dwight Enterprises in Mountain at 989-2472.

You won't want to miss the special candlelight carol service on Sun., Dec. 23. This will be held at the Winchester United Church starting at 7:30pm. We know there will be special music because as well as the lovely voices in the regular choir, for this event, some people have joined from other choirs and come from as far away as Mountain Township.

It's interesting the wildlife you see from your front window. This fall, as well as the usual contingent of groundhogs and rabbits, we have seen a deer three times. This deer is either very clever or has been well trained. The last time, it came down the access road from a neighbors and when it reached the railway tracks it stopped, looked both ways and then crossed. Although not so uncommon, there is one squirrel which has fascinated us. For the last couple of months, this squirrel keeps appearing with a cob of corn (a new one each time) in its mouth. Scampering towards the bush, he, or maybe she, kept having to stop to catch its breath. One day I saw it trying to bury the cob in a fringe of snow, but it realized that perhaps wasn't the best place. Now, if it can only remember where all the other cobs are buried, it is going to be a fat winter for one family of squirrels.

Christmas tree farms buck economic recession

by Shana Saper
Press staff reporter

SOUTH MOUNTAIN—Brisk sales in Christmas trees are proving there's no recessional slowdown in this highly seasonal business.

And an increasingly popular way of purchasing a tree is to drive to a tree farm and cut your own.

Ads in regional newspapers as well as the Ottawa Citizen have been attracting all kinds of people to the "bush" this year and prices for the cut-your-own varieties range from $12 to $17.50.

Bill Gibson's spruce and scotch pine plantation near South Mountain is clearing out fast. "Last weekend almost cleaned us out," says the retired farmer, who sold over 150 trees.

"It's traditionally a good business for a few weeks," he says, "but it's not as easy as some think." He points to problems of parasites, disease, and the quality of saplings planted in the spring.

For example, it takes roughly eight years to grow a crop of spruce for market and cultivation requires long months of pruning and cutting back the undergrowth.

Many cultivators turn to tree farming as a retirement activity or hobby. "It's a retirement thing for me but for many it's a big business," says the 74-year-old Gibson.

Eric Johnston has been in business near Morrisburg for 37 years but says it's just in the last few years that more people are opting for cutting their own. "Spruce and scotch pine are the most popular varieties," says the former conservation officer.

For customer Marcel Labelle, the drive from Ottawa to Al Gregoire's spruce farm near Morewood, was worth it. "I've always cut my own trees since I was a kid growing up in the country," Labelle said as he chopped down a healthy seven-footer.

Wanting a really "fresh" tree is a common reason for cutting your own. But Brian Sargent of Chesterville believes "it's more for nostalgia than anything." On Saturday, he brought his young sons Mathew and Sean to Gregoire's to select "their" tree.

Despite the cold snap last weekend, Al Gregoire's spruce farm near Morewood was a busy place ringing with the sounds of axes chopping wood and piped-in Christmas carols. Nearly 200 trees were cut, barely making a dent in the stand of 5,000 cultivated white spruce.

"That's pretty much it for this year," declares Gregoire. But the year-long labor of planting and cultivating will start up again in the spring.

Currently, Gregoire is a part-time tree farmer— his job with Imperial Oil still comes first — "but I'd like to do this in my retirement in about five years."

In recent years, the Ministry of Natural Resources tree nursery has changed its policy and is no longer selling scotch pine—the traditional Christmas tree—to commercial plantations.

Sherrill Clayton of the G. Howard Ferguson Forest Station in Kemptville explains: "Our trees are for reforestation purposes, not for ornamental purposes." However, spruce trees are still being sold for 10 cents each to anyone with a minimum of five acres or more of land.

"That's because right now we don't consider spruce trees Christmas trees," Clayton says, "but maybe that will change."

Bagging a seven-footer
Marcel Labelle of Ottawa chopped down his Christmas tree at Gregoires' Spruce Tree Farm near Morewood on the weekend. Labelle, who grew up on a farm, says he's always cut his own trees. And he adds, "It's got to be a spruce tree or else it isn't Christmas."

Villeneuve referees legislature

KINGSTON - Tune into the parliamentary channel and you'll likely see members of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition challenge government policy; no unanimity, plenty of cat calls, barbs and taunts.

But that's not always the case.

Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville MPP Noble Villeneuve recently presided over his first vote as the vice-chair of the Legislature. And it was a unanimous vote.

"We had a 30-minute bell, the members all came in and the final vote was 90 to nothing. Unanimous," he said Monday in an interview over his car phone as he was heading to Toronto on Highway 401.

Members of the opposition Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties supported a government- sponsored bill which will permit the enumeration of homeless people for future municipal elections.

Villeneuve, who was selected as vice-chair of the legislature by his Tory caucus following the September election that elevated the New Democratic Party to power, called in all MPPs after the Progressive Conservatives demanded a recorded vote on the bill.

"The Tories wanted to get it on the record that they were not against the bill or against the homeless," he said.

A debate prior to the vote saw Tory members asking the NDP why it was giving the homeless the right to vote when it had promised to eliminate homelessness.

But they later became concerned that their attack on the government might be portrayed as an attack on the homeless. The Tories wanted to make it clear they were not opposed to enumerating homeless people, Villeneuve said, hence the recorded vote was requested.

Since taking on the post as vice-chair, Villeneuve has presided over a number of debates. In the past few weeks, the legislature has been working late, and as a substitute speaker, Villeneuve has found himself taking turns in the speaker's chair.

In addition to the speaker and deputy speaker, which are selected by the governing party, each of the oppositon parties select a vice chair of the legislature to substitute for the speaker if he isn't available. His official title is Second Vice-Chair of the Committee of the Whole.

For Villeneuve, presiding over legislative debates means keeping his thoughts to himself when he'd rather speak out on issues.

"When we're in the speaker's chair we are very much non-partisan. There are times when you have to bite your tongue a little bit," he said.

Sitting in the speaker's chair has also given Villeneuve a different perspective on the legislature.

"You have to make sure you're right on, on all the protocol of the legislature, all the rules , all the procedures," he said.

As a speaker Villeneuve has to ensure members follow a certain code of conduct.

An MPP cannot call a fellow MPP an liar. But he might get a away with accusing an MPP of misleading the public inadvertently.

"There are times when the language becomes borderline parliamentary," he said.

Villeneuve is only non-partisan as long as he sits in the speaker's chair. The rest of the time he is the Progressive Conservative party's agricultural critic, keeping Minister of Agriculture Elmer Buchanan on his toes, he said.

But even as a partisan Tory, Villeneuve is not necessarily out to derail government policy. He said by asking tough questions in the legislature on farmers' income he is giving more clout to the minister of agriculture to deal with agricultural issues.

The global family

It is the time of the year when generosity and the spirit of goodwill knows no bounds.

On the local front, a pooling together of various charity drives will bring Christmas cheer to the needy among us. The thought that otherwise, families would awaken on Christmas morning to a house bereft of toys for the kids, and cupboards empty of food for the Yuletide feast, is too much for most of us to bear. The people have, therefore, rallied to their aid.

Next Tuesday, underprivileged children will experience the same sense of joy as will their more fortunate counterparts. For this, organizations in Dundas County who have been collecting donations for Christmas baskets deserve credit, and our unreserved admiration.

The spirit of Christmas is alive and thriving in other ways, as well. For example, crews aboard the three Canadian naval vessels deployed in the Persian Gulf will receive plenty of reassurance that the folks back home care.

Evidently, our service men and women will be receiving quite a bit of mail from these parts. A couple of weeks ago, the Press published the address for writing crews of the HMCS Athabasca, Terra Nova and Protecteur (C/O FMO Halifax, N.S. B3K 2KO, if you'd care to drop them a line).

Within a few days, a woman from Mountain Township telephoned to ask for clarification of the acronym FMO. We told her to address her mail as published in the Dec. 5 Press, and it would get there. From our brief conversation, we concluded that she wasn't the only one planning to send season's greetings to our service personnel.

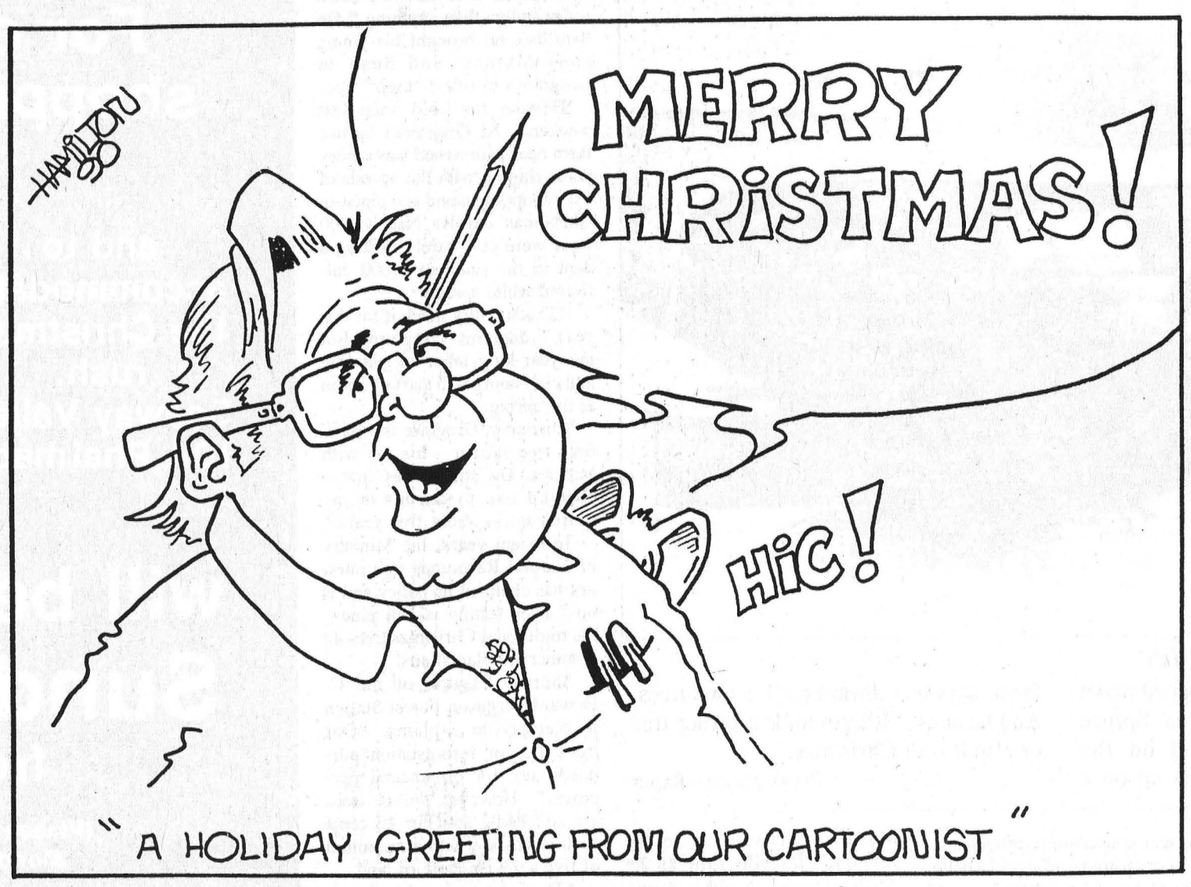
As she explained it, she and another woman were trying to find the correct mailing address. It was a timely coinidence that her weekly Press arrived while she was conducting her search. Experience has taught us that a single telephone call is often but a sampling of a broader sentiment.

A visit last Friday to Inkerman Public School confirmed our suspicions. There, pupils from Kindergarten to Grade 6 were learning a practical lesson in demonstrating goodwill. They were busy writing letters and designing their own creative Christmas cards to send to our sailors serving overseas.

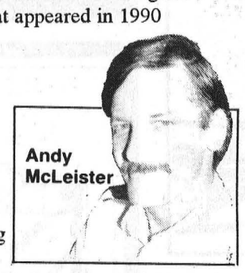
We have just scratched the surface in giving examples of how the Christmas spirit lives in the hearts and minds of people here, but we would be remiss not to cast at least a passing glance at seasonal goodwill that is operating internationally, pulling nations together for the common good, setting politics aside for the sake of the global community.

In the Soviet Union, for example, people who a year ago were exulting in newly-won freedom, are today worried about just surviving the winter. Canada, the United States and other industrialized nations are extending lines of credit to the Soviets in response to the crisis, so they can purchase desperately needed food and medical supplies. Some economists predict the Soviets will need a staggering $25 billion in emergency food and medical supplies over the next four months, or so.

While naysayers might argue that we shouldn't bail the Soviets out of a problem that is largely their creation, it is kind of comforting to realize that within nations, there exists a collective spirit of generosity and compassion, and it is timely that we find a way to express it during this, the season of brotherhood and goodwill.



All the news that was the news



Andy McLeister

Well, I just finished distilling the news that appeared in 1990 editions of the Press into a nutshell for next week's look back on the year that is almost past. It's a time-consuming exercise, but one that has to be done here and on most weeklies I've been associated with (and that's quite a few).

The Year in Review, or any other label you care to give it, is a time-honored tradition of weekly newspapers. Furthermore, at year's end it is a popular feature of dailies, magazines, radio and television.

I was sitting here after the chore was finished, trying to calculate just how many of these reviews I've done. And, honestly, I'm not really sure. In about 13 years in the business, I've done my fair share of reducing a year's worth of articles into a few minutes' read, but exactly how many it adds up to, I'm not sure.

You see, there were a couple of places where we chose not to run this type of feature because the news of the day was abundant and too pressing; we couldn't choose what is essentially history over fresh, hard news. Or Christmas fell on a day of the week that didn't disrupt our or newsmakers' routine.

Then there was at least one occasion when we launched a new publication or took over an established paper in the middle or end of the year. In these cases, we didn't have enough information spanning the entire year to justify such a piece.

And, it's a job that is usually assigned to a junior staffer. If I was the editor, I'd sometimes toss the assignment to a reporter. I say sometimes, because often as not, it is something I fancy doing myself.

Thumbing through back issues to compile a look back on the year that was is something I truly enjoy, for several reasons. I once again get to read some of the stories I feel particularly proud of, not just my own but the rest of the staff's, as well.

I get to re-affirm my firmly-held belief that all of the controversial news is but a tempest in a teapot, or a flash in the universal pan. No matter how important an issue might appear — or is made to appear — it is soon forgotten, or rarely thought of. For example, probably the biggest news event of the 20th Century is World War II, yet we think of it only on Remembrance Day.

In Canada, 1990 will probably be remembered by historians as the year of Meech Lake and the Mohawk incident at Oka, Que. Yet, I'll bet that if you surveyed even diehard news junkies, they'd pause before telling you why these two places became household words.

But I digress. Besides the aforementioned reasons for enjoying reviewing the year, I get a kick out of watching how things have evolved over the months on the pages of a newspaper. It kind of relates back to my allusion to our blurring or selective memories in some ways. I look at how an issue that made news several months ago has been gradually resolved. When the story first breaks, politicians and an occassionally-culpable press act as if the world is about to come crashing to an end.

Something must be done, and tomorrow's too late, is a common refrain. Yet the most pressing issues seem to take on a life of their very own, and they can be obstinately difficult prey to kill. For weeks and months, and often years, the issues drag on, and on and on. If I didn't know better, I would be inclined to conclude that we and the newsmakers are collaborators in a conspiracy to sell newspapers, when something that anybody with a measurable IQ could resolve in minutes takes our leaders an eternity to sort out.

It is also interesting to watch as an issue slowly forms into a cogent story. Initial information is sometimes sketchy, especially when officials are being tight-lipped. Often we discover that their reticence stems from the fact that they don't have the information we demand in the first place. For local cases in point, we have waste management and Winchester's frustrating search for a new water source.

We found after months of pestering local politicians for fresh information on the water search that most of the holdups were caused at the provincial level, by bureaucratic bungling and bickering. Waste management — the subject of two separate studies in the United Counties — is suffering from the same malady.

Incidentally, before I sign off, you will note that in dredging up old issues, I didn't name names; indeed, I didn't even identify the government ministries that caused much of our woes over the past 12 months. That's because it's Christmas time, and to the powers that be and all their minions I give the gift of silence.

Let them all have a merry Christmas and a happy New Year, and ditto to you, our readers.

In response to several requests, it is a pleasure to reprint "Story of the Christmas Guest" that we featured here a few years ago.

The Story of the Christmas Guest

It happened one day at the year's white end,
Two neighbors called on an old-time friend
And they found his shop so meager and mean,
Made gay with a thousand boughs of green,
And Conrad was sitting with face a-shine,
When he suddenly stopped as he stitched a twine
And said, "Old friends, at dawn today
When the cock was crowing the night away,
The Lord appeared in a dream to me,
And said, 'I am coming your guest to be'...
So I've been busy with feet astir,
Strewing my shop with branches of fir,
The table is spread and the kettle is shined
And over the rafters the holly is twined,
And now I will wait for my Lord to appear
And listen closely so I will hear
His step as He nears my humble place
And I open the door and look in his face."
So his friends went home and left Conrad alone,
For this was the happiest day he had known,
For, long since, his family had passed away
And Conrad had spent a sad Christmas Day...
But he knew with the Lord as his Christmas guest
This Christmas would be the dearest and best,
And he listened with only joy in his heart,
And with every sound he would rise with a start
And look for the Lord to be standing there
In answer to his earnest prayer...
So he ran to the window after hearing a sound,
But all that he saw on the snow-covered ground
Was a shabby beggar whose shoes were torn
And all of his clothes were ragged and worn...
So Conrad was touched and went to the door
And he said, "Your feet must be frozen and sore,
And I have some shoes in my shop for you
And a coat that will keep you warmer, too"...
So with grateful heart the man went away,
But as Conrad noticed the time of day
He wondered what made the dear Lord so late
And how much longer he'd have to wait,
And he heard a knock and ran to the door,
But it was only a stranger once more,
A bent, old crone with a shawl of black
A bundle of faggots piled on her back,
She asked for only a place to rest,
But that was reserved for Conrad's Great Guest...
But her voice seemed to plead, "Don't send me away,
Let me rest for awhile on Christmas Day,"
So Conrad brewed her a steaming cup
And told her to sit at the table and sup...
But after she left he was filled with dismay
For he saw that the hours were passing away
And the Lord had not come as He said He would
And Conrad felt sure he had misunderstood...
When out of the stillness he heard a cry,
"Please help me and tell me where am I,"
So again he opened his friendly door
And stood disappointed as twice before,
It was only a child who had wandered away
And was lost from her family on Christmas Day...
Again Conrad's heart was heavy and sad,
But he knew he should make this little child glad,
So he called her in and wiped her tears
And quieted all her childish fears...
Then he led her back to her home once more
But as he entered his own darkened door,
He knew that the Lord was not coming today
For the hours of Christmas had passed away...
So he went to his room and knelt down to pray
And he said, "Dear Lord, why did You delay,
What kept You from coming to call on me,
For I wanted so much Your face to see..."
When soft in the silence a voice he heard,
"Lift up your head for I kept My word —
Three times My shadow crossed your floor —
Three times I came to your lonely door —
For I was the beggar with bruised, cold feet,
I was the woman you gave to eat,
And I was the child on the homeless street."

Local and district young men who have been members of No.1 Company of the SD&G Highlanders, NPAM, located here will be paid tomorrow for the time spent in training during the past months. Most of the boys have completed 30 days' training, including evening drills and two weeks spent at camp. Some 36 have yet to complete the course.

At a meeting of the municipal council, a petition signed by nearly every merchant in town urged the council to pass a bylaw making it compulsory for stores to close every evening except Saturday at 7pm. All contents were burned when the blaze, caused by an over-heated stove, swept through the frame structure. Value of the house and contents was placed at $1800.

An estimated crowd of 1200 including 800 children greeted Santa Claus when he made his pre-Christmas visit to Winchester. St. Nick was escorted by Mr. Clare Brown and his team of horses and sleigh. Santa lost no time in handing out over 800 bags of sweets to the children.

Members of Metcalfe and District Lions Club entertained the ladies at an annual pre-Christmas party last week and past president Jim Rowan foresaw a grim future for service clubs if the "women's liberation" movement continues to grow.

With all the pomp and circumstance befitting such occasions, George Cooper was elected Warden of the United Counties Monday. Cooper, Reeve of Matilda Township, is the first warden from Dundas County since Ewart Simms was named to the post in 1978. Cooper was unopposed in his bid for the seat.

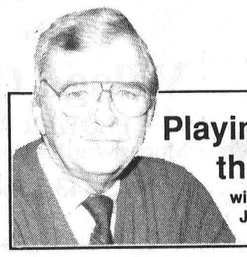
Being bad... looking good



Playing the field
with John Drewery

If you have cable or a satellite dish, you can tune in on the Parliamentary channel and check on your MP's performance when he appears on camera during the daily Question Periods and debates of the House of Commons.

Although the proceedings are occasionally enlivened by the speeches of some MP who is sufficiently pumped up by indignation or a touch of the grape to yank the chain of the government or the opposition, it's pretty dry, boring stuff.

The original idea of televising the proceedings of the Commons was to provide Canadians with a birdseye view of the daily proceedings in the House, warts and all.

The idea was fine, especially for those people who are truly interested in the performance of the parties and the MPs they voted for. But like most good proposals that fall into the political meat grinder, what came out the other end was an abortion of the original idea.

The rules to be followed by the broadcast crews televising the action in the House were laid down by a committee of veteran parliamentarians. They were craftily designed to foster the myth that the Commons is a place of great decorum and gentility, that what happens there never smacks of pettiness, stupidity or vulgarity.

The live televised proceedings do not show us what happens when the decorum breaks down and our elected representatives revert to childish behaviour. The TV audience never sees any of the foolish nonsense that often goes on in the House because the cameras are forbidden to stray away from shots of the Members who are speaking.

During some of the prolonged debates when most of the MPs have fled the House, cute little charades are played out. To give the impression that he or she is performing in front of a packed house, some Members who are scheduled to speak get their party colleagues to leave their regular seats and gather in an attentive throng in the background.

If you could see a wide shot of the chamber, you would find other MPs who have remained in the House ignoring the speaker while they carry on conversations with their seatmates, attend to their nails, snooze, read the Hockey News or hometown newspaper or trade insults with equally disinterested members across the floor. Others are loitering behind the curtains in the government or opposition lounges. One disenchanted and cynical politician once dubbed those rooms "Chamber Pots".

The discussion of controversial legislation in the Commons often produces some wild outbursts of acrimony, but the keeper of broadcast decorum tries to make sure that we do not hear the fighting words or the heckling.

He turns off every microphone in the House except the one in front of the speaker of the moment. Therefore the occasionally vicious, sometimes funny, and often stupid interjections don't reach the ears of the TV audience.

Remarks such as, "what a load of BS", "pull your head out of the sand, you bleeper", "get back to the sticks where you belong", "you make me gag, you idiot", and so on, can be heard only as faint background noises.

Incidentally, these little bon mots are edited out of the official printed transcripts of the proceedings, as well. They appear as "Some honorable members, Oh, Oh", or as "Some honorable members, Hear, Hear".

Cameras are not allowed into sessions of the Senate, but last week we had an unsanitized look at what happens when a political arena turns into a bearpit. During the final passage of the GST legislation, enterprising news cameramen standing outside captured pictures and sound of the verbal brawl because the doors to the red chamber had been "accidentally" left open by Senate guards.

The scene was certainly more revealing than anything that has ever been, or ever will be, televised out of the Commons.

Not that the men and women who sit there do not let their hair down and make asses of themselves from time to time. The cameras in the House are not allowed to show them doing it, which is a pity. It might make the Honorable Members look much more like real people.

Reflections: Santa survives the centuries

By Andy McLeister
Press staff reporter

NORTH POLE — He is known by several names, and appears in a variety of outfits, dictated by location and time. He is the patron saint of children and students, and is reknowned for his generosity. He has become one of the most enduring legends in history, credited with performing numerous miracles and claimed to possess magical qualities. Yet much about the man we in North America call Santa Claus is shrouded in mystery. To set the record straight, we went directly to the man himself (via records and documents provided by Shirley Mills of the Morewood Public Library and her counterpart in Winchester, Gail Storring). From our research we compiled the following interview with Old St. Nick.

Press: Tell us in your own words, Saint Nick, about the origins of the legend of Santa Claus.

Santa: Well, it began in the A.D. 300s. At the time I was bishop of Myra, near my birthplace, Patara in what is now Turkey. Within my diocese there lived a nobleman of limited means, but with three beautiful daughters. He couldn't afford to give his daughters dowries which, given the custom of the day, was essential for them to marry. In those days, if a noblewoman didn't wed she was destined to live a life of poverty and sometimes infamy.

I couldn't bear the thought of these lovely young ladies being sentenced to lifelong despair for something that wasn't of their making. So, on three nights in a row, I threw a bag of gold into their window and made sure I was seen. Word soon spread that the ladies did, indeed, have dowries and they soon married.

The legend just sort of grew from this episode.

Press: But, St. Nick, although the story of the three young women attests to your immeasurable generosity, how did you come to be held in such esteem by children? Also, how did you become their and students' patron saint and guardian?

Santa: Well, the students' question is a bit easier to answer, so I'll give you that one first. Again while I was a bishop, I miraculously restored to life three students who had been butchered by an evil innkeeper. The gratitude of those and all students is evidenced by them declaring me their parton saint. For this, I am honored.

As to the other part of your question, as bishop, I was suspected of secretly leaving gifts for children around Christmas time. Parents also began leaving gifts in my name. As you know, over the centuries the legend grew, as did my own work schedule. Throughout the Christian world, you know, my legend exists in varying forms.

Press: About your North American image. We understand that the legend of Santa Claus is exclusive to our continent. Could you explain some of the other forms you adopt in other parts of the world? Many of our younger readers likely aren't aware of these legends.

Santa: Much of the Santa legend applies to the rest of the world, but there are some striking distinctions, as well. For example, in England I'm known as Father Christmas, in France I'm Petite Noel, and in Italy I'm believed to be a woman named Befana. No matter what they call me, though, my purpose in life remains unchanged: to bring joy and presents to children at Christmas time in celebration of the Nativity of Christ.

Of particular interest to Canadian children, I feel, is how the European St. Nicholas became North America's Santa Claus. Actually I first arrived in the New World as Sinter Klaas with the Dutch who settled what is now New York City. When the British took over the Dutch colony, they kept some of the settlers' customs, including Sinter Klaas. Over time, I came to be called Santa Claus.

Press: You spoke about your different names, in different lands, but do you always wear your fur-trimmed red suit and hat?

Santa: No. In Holland, for example, I don my bishop's robes, with red miter and flowing cape. The style is pure medieval, unchanged from my stint as a bishop in Asia Minor back in my younger days.

Press: Now, the children out there are dying to know how such a stout man can fit down chimneys and, in fact, silently enter homes even when there is no chimney, much less a fireplace.

Santa: I'm not going to give away all my trade secrets. But, you know I've been invested with magical qualities. I can shrink myself, sleigh and presents to any size for effortless entry. For this reason I was viewed for many years as an elf, incidentally. And everybody knows I can make my eight reindeer fly. I'm not going to go into more detail, though, because I think it would destroy the mystique that is such an intriguing part of the legend.

Press: Christmas Eve must be gruelling for you, travelling to the four corners of the world to bring children presents. How do you do it?

Santa: It isn't as big a job as you describe. Remember, I have magical qualities that enable me to accomplish this daunting task. But besides, it isn't just on the night of December 24 that I make my deliveries. In some countries — Holland serves as a good example — I deliver gifts on the night of December 5, Saint Nicholas Eve. Elsewhere, Jan. 6, the Epiphany is the day reserved for exchanging gifts, and is in some places celebrated as Christmas.

Press: There seems to be some confusion about roots of the Christmas tradition of giving gifts. Would it be correct to assume that the custom dated from the arrival at the manger where the Christ child was born, of the Three Wise Men bearing gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh?

Santa: That was a few hundred years before my time, but the answer could be either yes or no. True, there is no better symbol of the spirit of Christmas than the Three Wise Men. It's also true that today children are showered with presents largely to commemorate this event. However, the custom of exchanging gifts in wintertime existed in many cultures for centuries before the birth of Jesus.

Press: You are probably the jolliest person alive. Were you always that way?

Santa: No, not exactly. Back when I was first starting out as much emphasis was placed on punishing children for their misdeeds as it was for rewarding good behavior. For awhile, when I was still known as St. Nicholas, I was sterner and left a whip instead of toys for naughty children. This was before the discovery of coal, a lump of which one day would become my sign of disappointment with a child.

In Germany, Knight Rupert would travel ahead of me to frighten and threaten children who had misbehaved. Today, I have softened considerably, in both my demeanor and physique.

Press: Please go on.

Santa: I wasn't always the cuddly fellow you see today. I was tall and lanky at times, and in some places still am. In North America, though, I've been given a sizable girth, and a hearty laugh. This, incidentally, is a recent modification to my persona, the suit and size and all.

Press: Could you please explain?

Santa: Well, the suit I now wear, my reindeer and my move to the North Pole were inspired by several American poets, artists, and authors. Washington Irving first described me in 1809 as a jolly, tubby little fellow who could fly through the air in a wagon in his Knickerbocker's History of New York. Thirteen years later, I was described in greater detail by Clement C. Moore, the professor of theology who penned that now-familiar poem that begins with, "'Twas the night before Christmas ...." He was the first writer to tell the world that I had eight reindeer that pulled a sleigh through the air. He called me a chubby little elf, but he must have espied me when I was doing my shrinking routine to slip into chimney flues.

In the 1860s, political cartoonist Thomas Nast drew a series of pictures that first showed me in costume I wear today. He also gave out my address as the North Pole.

Press: How do parents explain to their children your presence simultaneously on every street corner near Christmas and in all the department stores? Isn't that enough to make disbelievers out of them?

Santa: They can deny my existence all they want, but they cannot deny the spirit of joy and generosity that I embody. As to all the Santas that crop up during the pre-Christmas shopping season, that's perfectly acceptable. They are simply preserving a tradition that is widely practised almost everywhere Christmas is celebrated. In other countries, where I'm known by other names, people dress up to look like me. Anyway, if imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, I'm probably the most flattered person alive.

Press: One more question, please, Santa, then we can let you get back to your workshop. Is there any message you would like us to pass on to our readers?

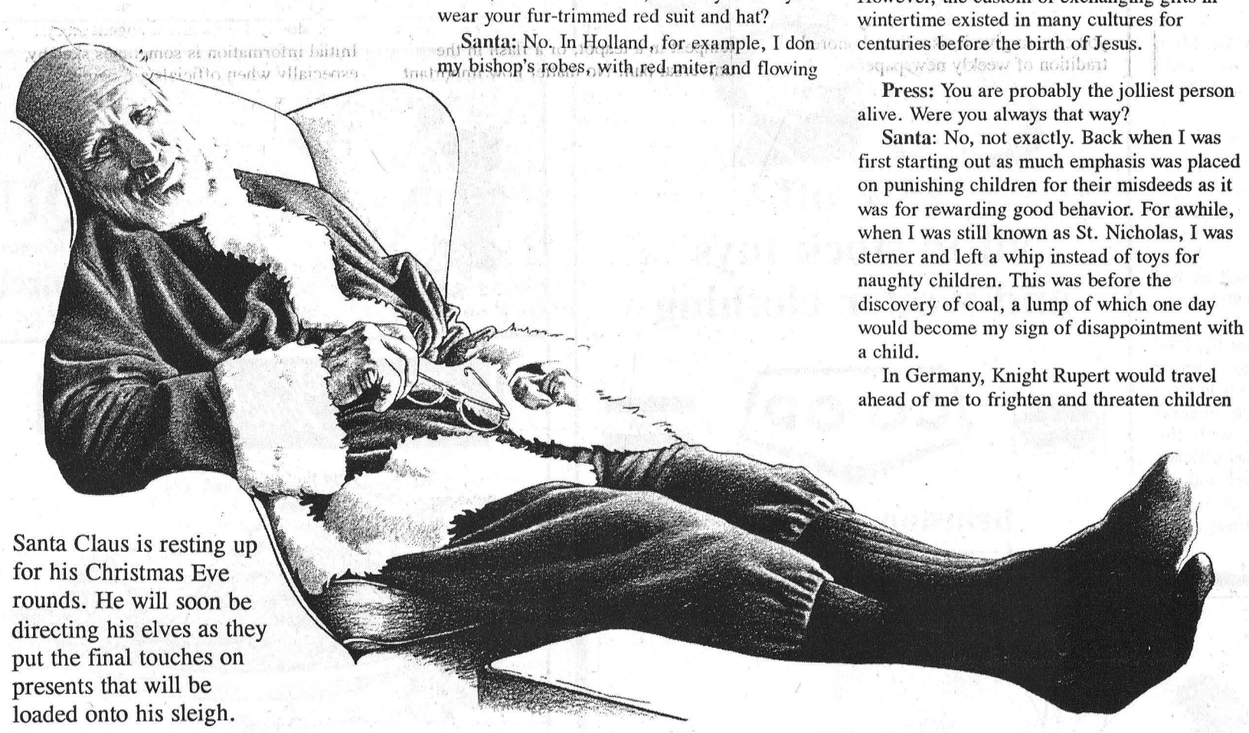
Santa: As a matter of fact there is, and thank you for the opportunity. I don't think I have to tell the children in your area that they had better be on their best behavior if they expect me to bring them all the things they asked for in the letters they sent me, but a gentle reminder wouldn't hurt.

To children and adults alike, I hope you remember what Christmas is all about, besides the presents, candies and sumptuous feasts. It is a time to remember the Nativity, and the Christian religion that grew from it. It is a time of giving and sharing. It is a time of peace and hope.

And one more thing ....

Press: Go ahead, Santa.

Santa: HO! HO! HO! MEEERRRY CHRISTMAS!



Santa Claus is resting up for his Christmas Eve rounds. He will soon be directing his elves as they put the final touches on presents that will be loaded onto his sleigh.

Powerful Panthers maul Devils

MAPLE RIDGE—In spite of an outstanding 22 point performance by Rodney Merkley the North Dundas Devils absorbed their first defeat of the SD&G junior boys basketball season here last Tuesday.

Merkley, the game's high scorer with 22 points, shot 10 for 20 from the floor, picked off 10 rebounds and blocked five shots in what his coach, Deanna Corbett-White, described as "an amazing game".

But when the final tally was made the prowling St. Joseph's Panthers had dealt the Devils their first defeat of the three week old campaign, a 57-41 decision.

The loss left the Devils and Panthers tied with two wins and a loss each.

The only positive point senior Devils coach Gerry Jean could pick out of his game was the fact that his injury-riddled squad had held the powerful and undefeated Panthers to under 100 points.

But in a 95-40 loss it was small consolation for Jean.

He wasn't expecting to knock off the Panthers before the game but he wasn't expecting to lose three front line players through injury either.

The most seriously injured of the three Chad Simpson, a rookie, could be lost for the remainder of the season. Second year man Darren Hutt is also on crutches but could be ready to play early in January. Another rookie, Jason "Dr. J" Kennedy, injured his knee but limped through the final quarter of the game. He may miss the Devils' next start at CCVS this week.

Simpson and Hutt injured their ankles and left Tuesday's match before the half. With two of his towers gone Jean then lost shooters Ashley Byers and Dave Harper through fouls in the second half.

In spite of having to face a powerful adversary with a depleted bench, Jean said his team did as well as they could. More precise shooting would've made it a closer game but wouldn't have changed the outcome, acording to Jean.

Considering the injuries, Jean commented following the game, "it could be a very long season now."

Sparked by the provincial ranked Clarke brothers, Sean and Mike, who scored 29 and 20 points respectively, the Panthers roared into quarter leads of 25-8, 46-21, 79-33 and 95-40.

Ashley Byers led the Devils' attack with 11 points. He was three for seven from the line.

Chris Van Bridger and Trevor Plumb both sunk eight points. Van Bridger hit four for five from the line while Plumb was 2/5.

Dave Harper nailed seven points including three (for six) on free throws.

Chad Simpson tallied four first-quarter points and Darren Hutt dunked a deuce before he was injured.

When Harper and Byers fouled out coach Jean had five players left to finish the game - Trent Antille, Scot Bell, Jason Kennedy, Trevor Plumb and Chris "Sleepy Floyd" Van Bridger. Rob Pollock had previously injured his thumb and couldn't dress for the game.

Sean Clarke drained 29, Mike Clarke 20 and Todd Dupras 14 points for the winners.

Panthers 57 - Jr. Devils 41

Junior Devil mentor Deanna Corbett-White expected a tough game with the Panthers and she got one.

"We played okay, except the fourth quarter. We really lost it there (Devils were outscored (20- 10).," she explained.

Key to the loss was her team's shooting.

"We shot 18-55. That's brutal, and that's why we lost. Just one of those games when we couldn't put the ball in."

Corbett-White figured St. Joe's and her team are evenly matched but the Panthers were up to avenge that loss to North Dundas in the Devils' Tip Off Tournament.

"We weren't up for it. I don't know why. Just chalk it up to experience, one of those games."

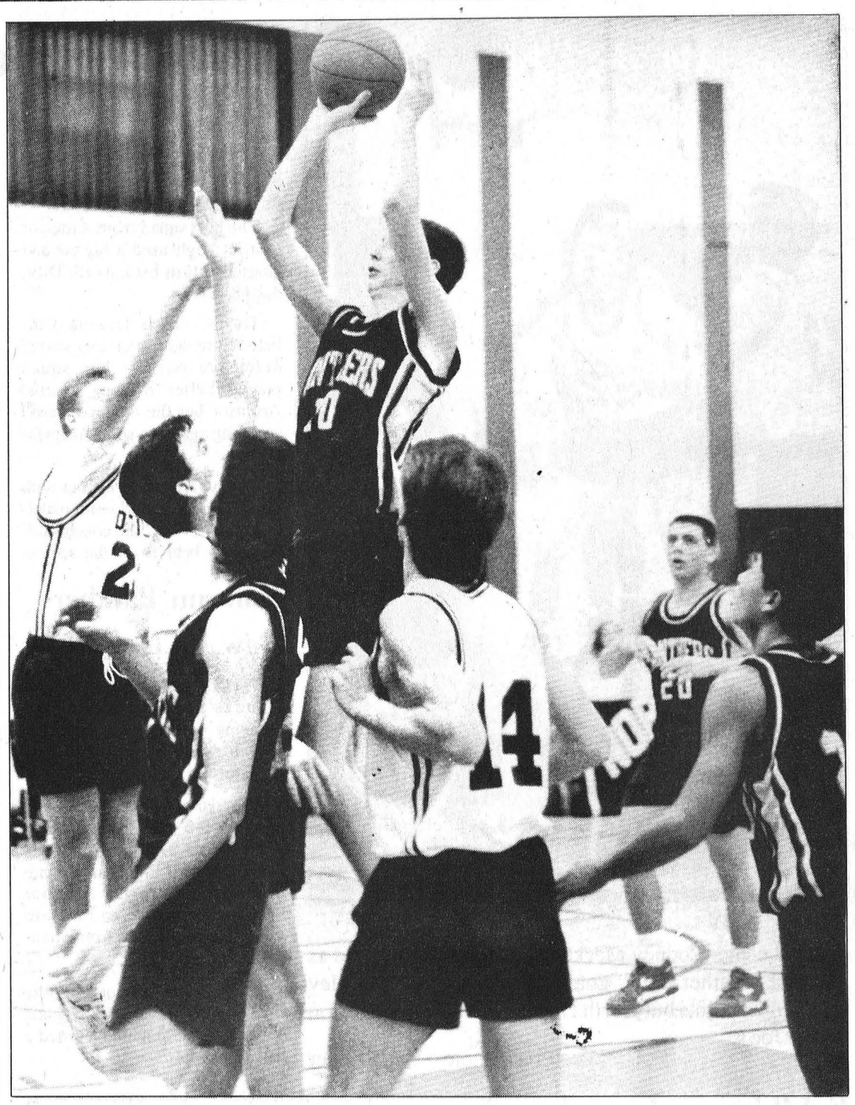
She added, "I'm not upset. A loss may not be a bad thing. Better now than later in the season when it really counts."

St. Joe's led 17-8 after a quarter but the game was tied 25-25 at the half. The Panthers were up 37-31 after three periods and won it 57-41.

Marc Poirier potted 16 points for the winners. Grant Fawthrop added 13 and Dave Crenevach dunked a dozen.

Rod "Rodman" Merkley nailed 22 points for North Dundas. Guard Ryan Buske sunk six (seven steals and five assists). Sean Salter and Jamie Kennedy each filtered five through the twine. Salter had 10 rebounds and Kennedy played well while recovering from a sprained ankle. Phil Burns added four points and played strong defensively. Danny McLeod hooped a free throw.

Corbett-White explained her guards - Buske, Burns, Kennedy and Mike Singh did a fantastic job of playing a post game. They got the ball to Merkley who converted his inside chances but when the ball came back outside the shooters couldn't put their chances through the iron.



St. Joseph's Mike Clarke sailed above North Dundas' defence as he racked up 20 points. His brother Sean drained 29 in a 95-40 SD&G Senior Boys victory over the Devils.

She scores!

North Dundas' Becky KleinSwormink was extremely happy when she scored during Monday night's UCMHL Senior Novice contest. Morrisburg's Greg Millard and Bart Notman (#10) were too late to prevent the goal.

Lions deal Demons first loss

WINCHESTER—Senior novice coach Brian Wyatt figured it had to happen.

Prior to Monday night's Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game against the Morrisburg Lions the North Dundas Demons had won eight times, lost none and tied three games.

"Maybe it was time we lost. You can't win every game. That's hockey." he said following his team's 5-2 loss to the Lions.

Morrisburg jumped into a 2-0 first period lead on goals by Bart Notman who scored from Scott Barkley at 7:42 and Thomas Casselman who connected from Matt Collins at 4:40.

Wayne Garlough's unassisted marker at 6:37 of the second frame enlarged the Lions' lead to 3-0.

North Dundas finally cracked Nick Hart's goose egg when Becky KleinSwormink tapped in a goal (assisted by Brad Filion and Marty Link) 2:38 before the end of period two.

Bobby Bird slid a Wayne Garlough rebound into Gregg Griffith's net at 9:03 of the third and made it 4-1 before Demons' Brad Filion picked up a Chris Wyatt pass in his own zone and skated end to end to make it 4-2 with 7:49 left in the game.

Wayne Garlough iced the 5-2 win scoring into the empty net with just 19 seconds left in the contest.

Had been hot

In their previous four UCMHL outings the Demons had posted three impressive shutout victories and tied the other 2-2 with the Metcalfe Mustangs.

Demons' goalie Gregg Griffiths had been sizzling hot working three perfect games behind a stingy defence in that four game string. Chris Wyatt had pumped in four goals keying what the coach described as a well-rounded offence.

Saturday here at home the No. One Demons defeated their younger counterparts, the No. Two Demons, 7- 0 registering their eighth win of the campaign.

It was 2-0 after a period and still 2-0 after two frames.

Marty Link netted two third period goals. Becky KleinSwormink, Chris Wyatt and Brad Filion each supplied a goal and one assist to the win. Jeff Beck and Steve Mattice netted single goals. Justin Gravelle earned two assists.

On Dec. 11 Griffith blanked the Kemptville Royals 6-0.

It was 1-0 after a period and 2-0 after two.

Chris Wyatt was the game's top gun shooting in three goals. Justin Gravelle and Becky KleinSwormink added a goal and one assist each. Rory Moriarty fired in the other marker. Assists went to Jeff Beck (2), Brad Filion, Jessica Dillabough, Marty Link (2) and Pamela Heuff.

Here at home on Dec.3 the Demons steamed into a 2- 0 first period lead on the Metcalfe Mustangs only to end up in a 2-2 tie.

Justin Gravelle made it 1-0 scoring from Daryl Toonders and Jessica Dillabough at 6:22 of the first period. Steve Mattice's unassisted goal at 4:48 made it 2-0, North Dundas.

Adam Clark cut into the lead scoring Metcalfe's first goal at 3:33 of period two. Clark then set up Jamie Barber for the tying goal with 23 seconds left in the game.

Justin Gravelle scored both goals in a Nov. 27 2-0 win over the Lions in Morrisburg.

Metcalfe to host Jr. B Boxing Day tournament

METCALFE—Eight Junior B clubs are set to play off for the 1990 Eastern Ontario Boxing Day Tournament championship here on December 26.

And the defending champion Winchester Hawks will be on hand to defend their title. The Hawks lost to the powerful Renfrew Timberwolves in the final game last year in Kemptville, but received the title and trophy when Renfrew was penalized for using an ineligible player.

Winchester, currently riding high in the St. Lawrence Division standings along with the Alexandria Glens and Kemptville 73's, will represent this Division this time around here in Metcalfe.

The host Metcalfe Jets and Cumberland Grads will carry the Metro Division flag.

Gananoque Platers are the lone Rideau Division club taking part.

The Renfrew Timberwolves and Perth Blue Wings are the Valley Division teams rounding out the slate.

Winchester Hawks and Cumberland (Navan) Grads will kick things off in the 9:00am contest.

Alexandria Glens and Perth Blue Wings will play at 10:30am.

Metcalfe Jets will play the Gananoque Platers in the 12:30 match.

Kemptville 73's and the always tough Renfrew Timberwolves will complete the first round games when they square off at 2:00pm.

The semi-finals are set for 4:00pm and 5:30pm.

The final two teams will skate in the championship match at 8:00pm.

The host Metcalfe Jets are offering breakfast beginning at 7:00am in the arena hall. A lounge will also operate all day in the upstairs hall offering fans a place to talk hockey.

Lions edge Hawks in OT

Winchester holds down second spot in Junior B standings

WINCHESTER—They cruised into the early stages of the third period of their Friday night Rideau- St. Lawrence Jr. B Division game up 6-3.

At 3:52 of overtime the home town Winchester Hawks found themselves on the short end of a 7-6 decision.

The fourth place Morrisburg Lions had rumbled back from a 6-3 deficit to claim a dramatic 7-6, overtime victory.

Former Hawks' hopeful, defenceman Derek Holmes gave the Lions their eighth win of the season when he blasted home a slap shot from the left point with 3:52 left on the OT clock.

Winchester claimed a point for their fourth loss of the season.

They also picked up a point for a 5-5 OT tie Sunday night in Gananoque and now have 30 points, second only to Alexandria's 32. Kemptville stands third with 29. Morrisburg has 16 and Char-Lan 14 points.

This weekend the Hawks face Char-Lan in a back-to- back home-and-home series, Friday night here in Winchester at 8:30 and Saturday in Williamstown at 7:45pm.

Some fine goaltending by Lions' Jeff Hopkins set the stage for Derek Holmes' winning goal.

Winchester flooded the Morrisburg zone for the early stages of the 5:00 session and were stoned by Hopkins who pulled off a pair of great glove saves to keep the score even at 6-6.

Holmes, a North Dundas minor hockey product, corralled a bouncing puck at the blue line and blasted away at Hawks' Josh French.

French put his toe on the shot but the puck had enough gas to spin itself into the net.

An elated Holmes described the game as awesome and added, "I just put my head down and shot. It was great."

The 7-6 loss dulled the memories of an earlier 17- 1 pasting the Hawks had given the Lions right in Morrisburg.

It was an even game (2-2) after a period. Dean Wilson gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead scoring from Sean Gordon at 16:52.

Morrisburg tied it up 1-1 when Yvon Besner scored on a powerplay set up for him by Winchester's Chris Van Bridger and Jason Smith at 14:36.

Craig Villeneuve hit from Ernie Beckstead and Besner at 12:48 as the Lions took a 2-1 lead.

Dean Wilson pulled Winchester even when he completed a powerplay started by Todd Marcellus and Dominic Menard 2:01 before the end of the opening stanza.

Hawks then turned up the power and sailed into a 5-3 lead after 40 minutes of play.

Scot Bell gave the Hawks a 3-2 edge scoring from John Dyks and Chris Soper at 16:33. Derek Brannan made it 4-2 when he tipped home a Dyks' rebound at 10:15.

A powerplay goal set up for Yvon Besner by Ernie Beckstead and Villeneuve at 6:03 closed the gap for the Lions to 4-3 but John Cutler finished of a perfect two-on-one with Scot Bell at 2:05 to hand the Hawks a 5-3 advantage.

Derek Brannan's second goal of the game at 17:56 of the final frame put Winchester up 6-3.

Morrisburg began to chip away at the Hawks' lead at 13:45 when Craig Villeneuve put a Jason Smith pass into French's net.

Andrew McEwan got the visitors closer (6-5) when he finsihed off a play started in the neutral zone by Chris Van Bridger with 12:20 left.

Ernie Beckstead lifted a loose puck into the top of the Hawks' cage at 5:49 and knotted it up 6-6 on a play started by Villeneuve and Besner.

Derek Holmes' unassisted shot then gave Morrisburg their 7-6 overtime win.

Hawks took 17 minor penalties while the Lions were whistled for 14.

Jeff Hopkins stopped 21 and Josh French 30 shots.

Hawks 5 - Platers 5

Hawks' past president Bill Williams reported Monday morning that the club turned in a much better effort Sunday night in Gananoque.

"Jeff Egan, Chris Soper and Scott Barkley really played well on defence. Egan and Soper were really hitting everything in sight."

Williams said the Hawks and Gananoque put on a fast, hard hitting end-to-end game.

Defenceman Scott Barkley agreed saying his team was missing several guys but thought the Hawks played well.

"It was a fast game. Gan (Gananoque) has some good skaters," he added.

Eric Sakalauskas tended the Hawks' net. Jeff Egan blasted in two Winchester goals. Todd Marcellus and Dave Boyd, playing on the wing, each scored a goal and drew three assists each.

Dominic Menard scored once and drew one assist. Chris Soper, Scot Bell and Pat Maguire collected assists.

Todd Marcellus gave Winchester a 5-4 lead scoring from Soper and Dave Boyd with 7:54 left in the game but the Platers tied it up on Ian Terney's goal at 3:20.

Gananoque scored four times on the powerplay. Hawks netted two powerplay goals.

Terney, Jamie Higgs, Derek Bennett and Scott Warren with two scored for the Platers.

Long day

Devils' center Rodney Merkley (#22) looked dejected as another Panther field goal swishes twine. Merkley drained 22 points but North Dundas lost a 57-41 decision to St. Joe's.

Juniors lose to Arnprior in final

ARNPRIOR—Strong defence carried the North Dundas Junior Devils to the championship game here Saturday but let them down in that final confrontation.

The host squad from Arnprior District High used a big second quarter to turn back North Dundas 68- 51.

Devils' coach Deanna Corbett-White said after two strong defensive outings her squad played better offence against Arnprior but the defence wasn't as strong against a solid Arnprior team.

"They (Arnprior) beat us with the fast break, that doesn't usually happen to us," the coach said.

"They beat us in the second quarter, out scored us 23-12, a one-quarter let down," she added.

Arnprior led 16-12 after a quarter and were up 39- 24 at the half. It was 52-33 after three periods and 68-51 at the buzzer.

Phil Burns dropped in 12, points shooting 6/10 from the floor while Rodney Merkley canned 10. Ryan Buske hooped nine. Jamie "Pocket J" Kennedy hit for four. Danny McLeod netted three points and pulled down seven rebounds turning in a big defensive game. Mike Singh bagged a three-pointer while Jason Ball (2) and Sean Hachey (2) completed the scoring.

In spite of the loss the Devils' mentor was satisfied with the showing because it was a stronger one than the previous year when her Devils were ousted early.

North Dundas' offence wasn't "top draw" in the opening two games but a big effort by the "D" enabled the Devils to post a pair of wins.

The Devils shot a terrible game hitting 12 for 30 from the floor but defeated a highly rated team from Sir Robert Borden 35-32 the first time on the floor.

Sean Salter led the "O" with 11 points, going 7/9 from the line. Rod Merkley was good for nine points. Phil Burns (4), Ryan Buske (4), Mike Singh (3), Jamie Kennedy (3) and Chris McDonald (2) made up the scoring list.

"We didn't play well, didn't shoot well but had a great defensive game," offered coach Corbett-White.

MacKenzie High of Madawaska, defending EOSSAA champs, then fell 35-30 to North Dundas in the semi-finals.

Rod Merkley sparked the North Dundas victory with 10 points, going 5/9 from the floor and dragging in nine rebounds.

Phil Burns netted seven points, had eight rebounds and three steals. Ryan Buske hopped six, Sean Salter four, Mike Singh three, Dan McLeod three and Jason Stevens went two for two from the line.

Embrun Panthers claw by Demons

CHESTERVILLE—North Dundas' No. two Atom C Demons could stick with the prowling Embrun Panthers here on Saturday.

The visitors struck for an impressive 9-3 exhibition victory after Scott Dellaire, named Demons' MVP in the final game of the recently played Arnprior tournament, had given his team a quick lead on a pass from Shannon Zwarts.

Adam Moss slapped in the final two North Dundas goals while Devon Cinnamon earned a pair of assists.

Exhibition win

WINCHESTER—Derek Hyndman and Mike "Watt" Armstrong made "be-Leafers" out of the Winchester Cheese crew here last week slicing off four goals each in a 14-3 Winchester Centennials exhibition victory.

Al McLean added three to the win while Reg Hydnman pumped in a pair and Dan Lecours (another Habs fan) snapped in a single.

Doug Coleman couldn't find the twine all night and earned the Mario for his misses.

In two other starts the Centennials lost 7-6 to the Boucks Hill Boulders and 10-5 to the red hot Maxville Flames.

Reg Hyndman (2), Paul Sheard, Kevin Bowie and Curtis McMillan shared the five goals in the 10-5 loss to Maxville.

After a seesaw game Maxville pulled away and won it going away. Special mention went out to Al (Pylon) Porteous but Pete Filion claimed the Mario Award.

Paul Sheard (2), Mike Armstrong, Dan Lecours, Reg Hyndman and Al McLean scored in the 7-6 loss to the Boulders.

After falling behind 5-2 the Boulders pounded their way to the 7-6 win. Dan Lecours was the unanimous winner of the "Mario."

Warriors nip Demons in exhibition

WINCHESTER—Brockville's Steve Mecking scored goals with 8:04 and 4:35 left in the third period of a Pee Wee C exhibition game here Saturday and led the Warriors to a 4-3 win over the North Dundas Demons.

Dave Hilson completed a play started for him by Andrew Roach and Matt Foley with 7:28 left in the opening stanza as the Demons took a 1-0 lead.

Hilson found net with an unassisted shot at 7:22 and made it 2-0.

Brockville struck for their first two goals with 6:54 and 5:06 left in the second and tied the game.

Mecking gave Brockville their first lead at 8:04 of the third but North Dundas tied it up 3-3 with 6:42 left as Matt Foley found net with a feed from Hilson.

Mecking snapped the tie and gave Brockville their 4-3 win scoring with 4:35 left in the contest.

The day before in Metcalfe (Dec. 14) the host Mustangs ran away with an 8-0 decision.

D. MacDonald posted the shut-out. Ryan Kelly and Brent Little each potted a pair of goals for the winners. Kevin Myers was good for a goal and two assists while Trevor Thomson and Shawn Hayes each collected a goal and one assist. Mike Goran bagged a single goal. Ryan Thompson and Greg Scrivener drew an assist each.

Metcalfe led by period scores of 2-0, 6-0 and 8-0.

Harvex Huslers pushed to the max

MAXVILLE—Seven skaters weren't enough to cover the large ice surface here at the Maxville Arena last Wednesday night.

Being short-staffed isn't new to the Harvex Huslers but last Wednesday seven skaters weren't enough to keep up with a speedy and skilled Maxville squad who erased a 2-1, first-period lead on Harvex and skated away with an 8-4 decision.

Bob Peddle netted three of the Huslers' four goals while Richard Gilmer pounded in the other one from close range. Don Marcellus, making a guest appearance with his former team, missed four golden scoring chances.

Last Tuesday the Huslers and Greely hooked up in a fast-paced affair. When the end-to-end action was over it was Harvex sporting a 6-2 win.

Bob Peddle and Richard "Esposito" Gilmer each packed in a pair 'o goals. Dick Christie and Peter McKay marked the others. Kevin Baldwin registered the win.

Frankly speaking

HOLIDAY TIME SCHEDULE AND SPECIAL EVENTS

Please take note of some of the time changes, closings and special events covering the holiday season. This Friday night, Char-Lan Rebels come to town to take on the Hawks, while in the upstairs hall the Centennials hockey team are sponsoring a dance. We expect a large crowd as many of the friends who are home for Christmas will get together to dance a little and talk over old times. Weekend scheduling remains the same but all activities are cancelled from Dec. 24th till Thursday, Dec. 27th and the arena will be closed. An all-day minor hockey Pee Wee tournament is scheduled for Thursday and we have planned some special activities for all day Friday, Dec. 28th. Moms, Tots and Seniors may skate from 10am till noon. After that we have allowed two hours public skating for all ages from 1pm till 3. At 3pm the nets come on and we will have shinney till 5pm. All other public skating times will be as usual throughout the holiday season: Wednesday night skating from 7pm till 8:30, and Saturday night from 8pm till 9. Next week we will be closed New Year's Eve and New Year's Day, and minor hockey has Intermediate Novice and Senior Novice tournaments planned for Jan. 3 and 4. Except for the times and closures noted above there will be no change in any of the regular ice times and all hockey, etc. will go as usual.

LIONS CLUB DANCES AND SPECIAL EVENTS

We have previously mentioned the Lions Clubs' New Year's dances, but in case you missed it, there may still be a few tickets left. Winchester Lions will host the party in the upstairs hall at the Winchester Community Centre as usual and you may still get a ticket by phoning Jamie Shadbolt. Mountain Lions will again feature Westburg Union for their party in the Agricultural hall at South Mountain and Lynn Boyd or Bill Shaver have tickets. On Jan. 5th, which is a Saturday night, the Mountain Lions Club and the Mountain Bootleggers will be taking on the CJOH No Stars hockey team at the Winchester arena with a big dance following the game in the upstairs hall. Make your plans for lots of laughing and I will pass on the details as they become available.

OH, DEAR, WHAT CAN THE MATTER BE?

That is the song that many of the Winchester Hawks fans are singing after the last couple of lacklustre performances which have dropped the locals to second place with only a slim point ahead of the third-place Kemptville 73's. After soundly trouncing Morrisburg the last time out, the surging Lions defeated our Hawks 7 to 6 in overtime, a fact that I pointed out as a strong possibility in last week's column. You may also recall that as an old veteran, I warned you of complacency when you were sitting in top place and well ahead in points. You must understand that many of us old timers have seen it all happen many times in Junior B hockey. What fans are asking is: Were we wrong in believing that we could have the team with players who could go all the way this year? We realize that bad trades were made, and some signings and cuts can always come back to haunt you. We can even see changing things around or trying something different when you have some extra points and are sitting in top place. We do, however, question splitting your top-producing line when they were flying high and adding those much-needed points on the scoreboard. We will see if a point has been made and the team returns to its old winning form. Good luck on the weekend and at the Boxing Day tournament.

Ouellette leads Midget Demons to win

CHESTERVILLE—Jason Ouellette connected for a pair of goals and drew an assist on a third here last Tuesday leading the North Dundas Demons to a 5-2 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Midget "A" win over the visting Perth Blue Wings.

Unfortunately for coach Denis Ouellette his squad's win string was snapped Monday night in Cardinal when they were defeated 8-2 by the South Grenville Rangers.

"We had a 2-0 lead and just fell apart," the coach explained Tuesday.

Ouellette says his team sports a 4 (wins) and 6 (loss) record but hasn't heard how they stand in the league.

Demons' captain Craig Smith gave his squad a 1-0 lead on Perth when he blasted a Jason Ouellette relay home at 12:40 of the first period.

Jason Ibbetson converted a play started by Brad Robinson and Jerry Gibson into a 2-0 score 2:06 before the end of the period.

Aron Sherrer and Darrell Bloom combined to set Jason Ouellette up for a 3-0 lead at the 1:26 mark.

Perth got back into the game early in period two as Terry Gray beat Demon goalie Matt Giles at 12:36 and 11:06 to make it a 3-2 game.

Jason Ouellette opened up a 4-2 cushion scoring on a Troy McNaughton pass at 7:40 of the same frame.

Brad Robinson blasted home a Jerry Gibson rebound home 8:26 before the end of the game and gave the Demons their 5-2 win.

Metcalfe Mustangs post double victories

METCALFE—Kemptville and Morrisburg became the latest victims of the Metcalfe Pee Wee C No. One Mustangs over the weekend.

Saturday here at home Kemptville Royals fell by a 4-2 count. Sunday night in Morrisburg the Mustangs galloped to a 7-3 decision over the home town Lions.

Kemptville's Jason Boal gave the Royals a 1-0 lead but Metcalfe tied it up on Cory Bekkers' goal just before the end of the period.

Boal hit again in period two handing Kemptville a 2-1 edge. The visitors held that lead until midway in the final frame when John Brodhead tied it up 2-2.

Riley Hatherall snapped in the winner scoring with 5:48 left in the game. Curtis Knuth made it a 4-2 final scoring as time ran out.

Sunday night in Morrisburg John Brodhead scored a genuine hat-trick to put the Mustangs into a 3-0 lead.

Lions' Damian Whitteker put Morrisburg on the board (3-1) but Metcalfe pulled away on second period markers by Dan Perron, Cory Bekkers and Chris Cavers.

Morrisburg cut into Metcalfe's lead (6-3) on goal by Kristian Bygott and Jim Donaldson but Riley Hatherall found net late in the game to make it a 7-3, Mustang victory.

Demons tie Atom Royals 2-2

CHESTERVILLE—Third period goals by Tylor Copeland and Craig Holmes gave the North Dundas Atom A Demons an exciting 2-2 tie with the Kemptville Royals here last Friday.

Kemptville led 1-0 after a period and 2-0 after two but the Demons shot their way back into the game and pulled off the tie.

The following day (Dec. 15) in Russell the Demons nipped the host Russell Warriors 3-2 in an exhibition encounter.

Jeff Parsons gave Kemptville a 1-0 edge scoring unassisted at 6:22 of the first frame. Jason Patterson upped it to 2-0 when he scored at 5:06 of period two.

North Dundas finally cracked Matthew Humphreys' goose egg as time ticked away in the final period.

Tylor Copeland took a relay from Rob Desourmeaux and made it a 2-1 contest with just 4:05 left on the clock.

Craig Holmes struck for the tying goal with 3:34 left in the game converting another Desormeaux feed into a 2-2 final.

Saturday in Russell the Demons skated into a 2-0 first period lead and held off the Warriors for a 3-2 (exhibition) victory.

Shawn Peddle clicked on a feed from Tylor Copeland for North Dundas' opening goal at 8:08 of period one. Copeland upped it to 2-0 scoring from Mike Casselman and Peddle 25 seconds before the end of the frame.

Russell hit the scoreboard at 8:36 of period two when Jon Stephens cut the Demons' lead to 2-1.

Tylor Copeland struck pay dirt with a pass from Colin Fossit at 5:57 and gave the Demons a 3-1 lead but Brent Epps converted a play started by Stephens and Travis Wilkie with 7:25 left in the game to bring Russell to within a goal at 3-2.

Nationview girls match boys, take county trophy

MAPLE RIDGE—St. Cecilia Saints defeated all comers and qualified undefeated for the championship match here last week but it was the Nationview girls who emerged as 1990 Dundas Senior Volleyball champions.

Nationview Public's "A" team dropped their round- robin meeting with St. Cecilia but won their other five encounters and finished second with 10 points. St. Cecilia went six for six in the competition, collected 12 points and went to the championship round undefeated.

Nationview led game one 2-0, trailed 5-2, led 7-5 and then broke into a 12-7 lead before locking up a one game to nothing edge with a 15-8 result.

Nationview looked stronger starting the second game, taking 5-0 and 10-0 leads on their first two services. St. Cecilia scratched back (10-4 and 13- 8) but lost 15-8.

Nationview's victory snapped a three year reign by Maple Ridge and matched the championship the school's senior boys squad had pulled off the week before. Nationview had claimed six consecutive girls titles before Maple Ridge's run from '87 through '89-90.

The round-robin standings were as follows - St. Cecilia's 12, Nationview A's 10, Maple Ridge A's 8, Stampville A's 6, Maple Ridge B's 2, Nationview B's 2 and Stampville B's 2 points.

Metcalfe Petites shut out Orleans

BLACKBURN HAMLET—Jessica Lawrence collected eight points and goalie Sarah Ross played perfectly in the nets as Metcalfe skated to a 10-0 National Capital Region Ringette Petite C win over Orleans on Saturday.

Metcalfe was up 2-0 at the half on goals by Jessica Lawrence who scored from Stephanie Carreau at 5:21 and Melissa Heeley who converted a Lawrence pass 33 seconds before the break.

It was all Metcalfe in the second half as they stormed the Orleans net for eight unanswered goals.

Jessica Lawrence paced the winners with a six goal - two assist effort. Melissa Heeley cracked in four goals and assisted on two others.

Vikings snap back

WINCHESTER—Guy Marion bagged one goal and assisted on the winner here Sunday night helping the Morewood Vikings to a slim 2-1 win over the Voyageurs.

Their victory snapped a one game losing string the Vikings had going and propelled them into sole possession of first place in the Winchester and District Broomball League's "A" Pool.

In Sunday's other encounters the Ormond Cloverdales stayed within a point of Morewood as they knocked off the Newington Knights 4-2.

The Prescott Road Knights moved into a tie with the Voyageurs blanking the Toyes Hill Roadrunners 6-0.

And the Manotick Merchants took over first in the "B" Pool when they shot down the Winchester Raiders 4-1.

After a dozen games Morewood has earned 19 of a possible 24 points. Ormond has 18, two up on both Prescott Road and the Voyageurs who have 16 each.

The "B" Pool rankings show Manotick on top with 13, Winchester with 11, Toyes Hill with seven and Newington without a point.

Guy Marion gave Morewood a 1-0 lead on the Voyageurs scoring on a play started by Frank Bols and Gerald Eby at 14:12 of the first half.

The Voyageurs evened things up at a goal at 7:36 when Barton Heagle snapped a Steve Boucher relay into Laurier Menard's net.

Guy Marion teamed up with Brian Como and engineered what would stand as the winning goal with 6:21 left in the second half. Chris McKibbon pulled the trigger and gunned home the marker that made it a 2-1 final.

The Manotick Merchants continued their climb up the rankings ladder as they dealt the Winchester Raiders a 4-1 set back.

The 'Tick's record rose to 5(wins), 6(losses) and a tie thanks to the hot shooting of Paul Downey and Jamie Nolan who collected two goals and two assists each. Todd O'Connor earned an assist.

Winchester ruined Chris McEvoy's shut-out when Bert Ruiters took a pass from Doug Froats and Mark Levere and made it a 3-1 game 1:52 before the half.

Nolan netted the winning goal scoring from Downey at 19:12 of the first half.

Bill Timmins scored twice and Dan McDiarmid assisted on three goals as the Ormond Cloverdales doubled the Newington Knights 4-2.

The game was tied 1-1 at the half and 2-2 at 23:24 of the second frame when Mike Allard scored Newington's second marker on an unassisted play.

Bill Timmins' second goal of the game snapped the tie at 21:37. Dan McDiarmid and Brent Taylor engineered the play.

Timmins scored twice for Ormond. Doug Sloan and Tony Vanderlaan each supplied a goal and one assist. Dan McDiarmid drew three and Brent Taylor one assist. Ben Melenhorst was the winning goalie.

Mike Allard scored both 'Ton goals. Dale Beckstead and Dave Bilmer picked up the assists.

In the evening's other encounter the Prescott Road Knights blanked the Toyes Hill Roadrunners 6-0.

Bruce Morris registered the zero while Dave "Gunner" Holmes fired the offence scoring three goals. He also added assists on the other three Prescott Road markers.

Steve Petersen notched two and Jeff Hope pegged the single. Rob Carkner, Hope and John Koenier all earned assists.

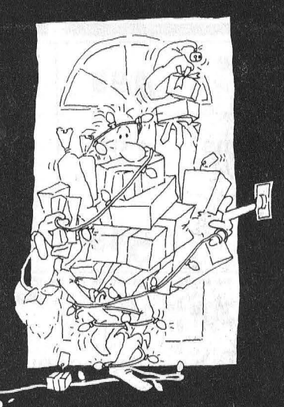
Feeling Overloaded at Christmas?



We understand. At Ontario Hydro we get overloaded too! Christmas lights add to our load, so please don't turn your outside lights on until 7 p.m. and remember to turn them off at 11p.m.

Better still, create an extra cosy Christmas feeling while outside lights are on by turning most inside lights off.

Let's give tomorrow a hand.

Wasn't it a party!

Christmas arrives early at 'One East'

WINCHESTER—Jolly old St. Nick himself came out to party with patients and staff of "One-East" last week.

Although Christmas arrived a bit ahead of schedule, Dec. 11, none of the 36 chronic care patients or guests at Winchester District Memorial Hospital seemed to notice.

The noon-hour celebration featuring live music, dance, gift-giving, and lots of smiles was as joyous and festive as any, thanks to the dedication and effort of staff and volunteers.

Long-term care patient Clifford Tupper said he enjoyed himself because he was able to get dressed-up in his "good clothes" for a change. Tupper, who turned 89 on Monday, expects to spend Christmas in hospital this year.

"I'm far from being able to get out of bed on my own steam," said the retired farmer from Boucks Hill. Tupper has vision in only one eye now and a stroke partially paralyzed him.

For long-term patients, the Christmas party was a chance to break with the therapeutic routine. And for that day, at least, the atmosphere was anything but hospital-like.

Ken Timmins, 60, remarked with emotion the day was a special one for him. "On Tuesday, there were a lot of people smiling who haven't smiled for a long time," said the former insurance agent from his hospital bed.

Head nurse Sandra Brannan says a lot of credit goes to the staff who got the patients ready for the party starting at 7am. "It takes a lot to get some of these people up and dressed," she explained.

And Brannan broke with tradition by admitting that she not Santa bought all the gifts—paid for by the hospital. However, "Santa" (Graeme Barkley) was on hand to distribute them.

In addition, the hospital auxiliary, dietary department, and the volunteer "Sunshine Circle" all had a part in putting on the party fare as well as the musical entertainment.

Ethelwyn Cartner coodinated the musical program provided by the Winchester Public School choir under the direction of Arlene Nesbitt with the participation of Amon Sheldrick, Jim Wicks, Joyce Geleynse and family, Helen Cross, Jim Bulger, Marjorie Thomas, and Barbara Blair. Evelyn Cowan and the Auxiliary organized the holiday food.

Ken Timmins, who gets around in a motorized wheechair, will be spending Christmas day with his sister in Ottawa. But he says last week's celebration meant a lot to him "because of the excellent people here."

Runnalls says failure of GATT negotiations won't impact farmers

CHESTERVILLE - The calamity which may follow the failure of negotiations on the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, is greatly exaggerated says an area farmer.

Alvin Runnalls, past president of the Dundas Federation of Agriculture, said last week he does not believe farmers will face dire consequences if GATT talks collapse completely.

Talks in Brussells to reduce agricultural subsidies came to a halt after the European Community refused a United States request to cut subsidies by 75 per cent.

The EC, representing farmers in its 12 member countries, offered to slash subsidies by 30 per cent over a 10-year period, beginning in 1986, far less than the U.S. and other GATT countries were willing to accept.

Talks are scheduled to resume at the beginning of the new year, giving GATT members hope that a deal still may be reached. If a deal is not reached and the talks collapse, analysts say all Canadian industry could be in for a rough time, including agriculture.

But Runnalls disagrees. It is likely that if the talks collapse, the Canadian farm industry will maintain the "status quo", he said. It will not likely suffer any adverse effects.

Warnings that Canadian industry will be hard hit by a heightened subsidy war and increased protectionism should the GATT agricultural talks fail are more hype than reality, he said.

"I'm beginning to wonder if what they (analysts) are saying is going to happen," Runnalls said.

But Terry Daynard of the Ontario Corn Producer Association, one of a number of advisors to the Canadian government at GATT, said Ontario farmers may be hurt if the agricultural talks fail.

"If it does happen, it's pretty scary. Because it's not just agriculture that will collapse, it's everything," he said in a phone interview last week.

"The implications are far bigger than agriculture. But for agriculture, it's quite serious."

Ontario farmers export a lot of pork, wheat, white beans, some corn, and about $400 million of corn products a year, and it is estimated 40 per cent of the income earned by Ontario farmers comes from exports, Daynard said.

Canadian farmers are more dependent on exports than farmers in most other countries. If protectionism increases as a result of the failure of the GATT talks, Canadian farmers will suffer, he said.

Talks to resume in January

BRUSSELS — World trade talks on agriculture are to continue in the new year, the three Canadian agriculture ministers announced recently at the end of a ministerial meeting under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).

The announcement came after five days of talks, during which it became clear that the European Community (EC) was not prepared to enter into meaningful negotiations on agricultural issues.

"The lack of political will to deal with agriculture in Montreal two years ago and now in Brussels clearly signals that agriculture must be a part of a comprehensive GATT conclusion," said Agriculture Minister Don Mazankowski, head of the Canadian delegation.

The minister added he was encouranged, however, that GATT member countries were determined to find a solution to their differences.

"Pursuant to the offer tabled by Canada, our objectives in agriculture remain unchanged.

Quesnel gets Award of Merit

Dianne Fetterly
Press Staff Reporter

WINCHESTER — This year's recipient of the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association Award of Merit was something of a surprising switch from previous winners — but still a pleasant surprise for the winner.

Gilles Quesnel, who has been the soil and crop specialist for Stormont, Dundas, Leeds and Grenville for the past six years, says he was quite shocked to have been nominated for the award which is usually presented to farmers. And he adds that he is very pleased the association felt his contribution to the soil and crops in the county was worthy of the award.

The Award of Merit is presented by the EOSCIA in each county annually to honor an individual or agri-business that has shown genuine concern for agriculture (in the area of soil and crops).

As a crop specialist with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Quesnel describes his extensive work with farmers, agri-businesses and farm organizations as the "link between researchers and farmers."

He says the government plots where new crops, varieties or management techniques are tested, help farmers determine whether a particular technique would be right for their operation, and if so, assists them in adapting to any changes.

Quesnel also assists county weed inspectors on a regional basis when needed and sets up training sessions for them.

As well, he is involved to a small degree in delivery of ministry programs such as the Land Stewardship II and the National Soil Conservation programs, in which he will act as resource specialist starting in 1991.

Besides his support of the Dundas Soil and Crop Association, Quesnel has also served as secretary of the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Association.

Before joining OMAF as an assistant agricultural representative in 1981, Quesnel worked for Kerr Farms, a vegetable and feedlot operation in Chatham, which also grows seed corn. He worked summers on tobacco farms in Southwestern Ontario, as well.

Quesnel, a native of Moose Creek, Ontario graduated from the University of Guelph's Ontario Agricultural College in 1979, where he majored in plant protection.

He currently lives in Winchester with his wife Donna, twin daughters Chantal and Danielle and son Alex.

Upon accepting the award at the Dundas Soil and Crop annual meeting held last Wednesday in Winchester, Quesnel says he is looking forward to continuing working with local farmers.

Chesterville's Gordon Smith Dundas Farmer of the Year

Dianne Fetterly
Press Staff Reporter

WINCHESTER — A Chesterville-area farmer was named the Dundas Federation of Agriculture's Farmer of the Year for 1990.

Gordon Smith, who operates a 225-acre dairy farm about a mile west of Chesterville village with his wife Margaret, says he was very honored to be chosen for such an award and privileged to be included on a list with past award recipients.

Although Gordon Smith may consider himself honored to receive such a title, DFA president Alvin Runnalls says Smith's contribution to agriculture in the community makes him a worthy candidate.

"Gordon's leadership abilities, his willingness to share ideas and be involved make him a very worthy winner of this award. His valuable contributions of time and ideas have enhanced the programs of the farm and community organizations he has been involved with," said Runnalls upon presenting Smith with the award at the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement annual meeting last Wednesday.

And Smith's contributions to the farming community are extensive.

Besides being a member of the DFA, 49-year-old Smith is vice-chairman of the Dundas Milk Committee, vice-president of the Dundas Farm Safety Association and a director with the Dundas Soil and Crop Improvement Association.

He has also served two terms on the Dundas Dairy Herd Improvement Association and is on the board of directors of the Grenville Patrons Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

As part of a team of county producers, Smith recently made a presentation on the future considerations for the dairy industry to a federal government task force and its five-year dairy policy.

As well, he represented Eastern Ontario at a farm safety conference in Guelph this past summer, which involved a speech on one aspect of farm safety. As part of his role with the county safety association, Smith often sets up safety displays at farm-related events.

Smith, who was born in Winchester Township, says he derives a certain amount of personal satisfaction from his farm organization work.

He says before he started attending meetings he was never a very outgoing type of person, but found he became more open and learned to express himself better after becoming involved with the groups.

Besides being named Farmer of the Year, Smith has received a few other distinctions since he took over his uncle's farm in 1974 after Lloyd Smith's retirement.

Smith was awarded the Bank of Nova Scotia's efficiency award in 1978; The DHI Most Improved Herd Award with the greatest production increase in 1983; and the DHI Breeding Efficiency Award in 1984.

Smith attributes much of the farm's success to his wife Margaret, who he says is always there to take over when he can't be. Smith says although their two sons (Jeffrey, 6 and Neil, 3) are still very young to help around the farm, Jeffrey tries by feeding calves and doing odd jobs.

The Smiths have increased the farm's acreage from 90 acres when they purchased it 16 years ago to 225 acres today and have also increased the herd size. They currently have 70 head of purebred Holsteins with 35 milking cows.

All the feed, which includes hay, haylage and high-moisture corn is grown on the farm, while the Smiths buy a soybean supplement. Barley is grown as a nurse crop for alfalfa reseeding and is sold as a cash crop.

Smith says he likes to keep up with the modern methods and does feed analysis to ensure his cows are getting properly balanced rations.

Although Smith grew up in a rural environment and worked summers on his uncle's farm, the family moved to Ottawa when he was a teenager. There he attended high school and college.

After graduating from college in 1965 he took a job with the Hudson Bay Oil and Gas Company and later worked for eight years with Bell Northern Research as a researcher.

During this time Smith received the opportunity to purchase the farm he worked on as a youngster.

Although the decision to leave a secure city job to farm may have been a difficult one, Smith says there comes a time in our lives when we must decide what we want to do and "sometimes we must take it (the opportunity) if we want it."

And judging by the DFA's decision to name Smith Farmer of the Year, it appears Smith's decision to return to the country was a good one.

Apple payments total $40/tonne

OTTAWA — Apple producers enrolled in the National Tripartite Price Stabilization program will receive a final payment of $9.60 per metric tonne for their 1989 crop.

The announcement was made by the National Stabilization Committee on behalf of producers, the federal government and partipating provincial governments.

Interim payments of $15 and $15.35 per tonne were made earlier this year for the 1989 crop to eligible apple producers; therefore, the total received will be $39.95 per tonne.

The third and final payment represents the difference between the 1989 support price of $239.14 per tonne and the market price of $199.19 per tonne.

Come home soon

Inkerman Public School students and teachers proved that they are Caring and Sharing — in keeping with the SD&G's theme for the school year — when they adopted as a Christmas project, a campaign to send greetings to Canadians serving aboard naval vessels in the Persian Gulf. Municipalities consider joint garbage collection

MAPLE RIDGE - Three area municipalities have agreed in principle to merge their garbage collection efforts and to jointly collect recyclable waste.

The councils of Winchester Village and Township and the village of Chesterville met Dec. 10 to discuss the implementation of a list of ten recommenations to deal with area waste management. The recommendations were submitted by members of all three councils who sit on a joint landfill committee.

The three municipalities share use of the Boyne Road Dump in Winchester Township.

The agreement between the three municipalities to merge garbage collection efforts was not formally passed as a resolution, but a show of hands by the 13 councillors in attendance signalled agreement.

Chesterville Reeve Jim Cook called the agreement in principle a significant step towards cooperation in waste mangement between the three municipalities.

"What's significant here is that we're going to have to work this all out together and have a common garbage collection system, recycling system," he said Monday.

But the municipalities still have to work out how to implement a joint collection system. Winchester Township Deputy Reeve Wyman Barton said the biggest obstacle to a joint collection system was the fact that all three municipalities have different ways of collecting garbage.

Chesterville has a contractor picking up garbage door-to-door whereas Winchester Village has its own employees picking up waste door-to-door while the township has no door-to-door pick-up.

"(It would be) at least a year before we could ever get that together," he said.

The three councils had a productive evening. They acted on a number of landfill committee's other recommendations as well.

Starting in the spring of 1991 residents of all three municipalities will be able to purchase composting devices at their respective community halls for just $15. The composter, which is being manufactured by a Belleville firm, will be subsidized by the province and the municipalities.

The three municipalites have also hired an interim landfill site operator until a permanent supervisor can be found to replace Arden Carruthers who resigned earlier this month.

The three councils could not agree on how to introduce a tipping fee for residents using the dump. A tipping fee of $2 was proposed for residents.

But Winchester Reeve Larry Gray questioned whether a two-dollar tipping fee would keep residents out of the dump.

"Two dollars just is not going to deter anybody," he said.

Although not all recommendations produced decisions at the recent tri-council meeting, Barton was pleased with the outcome.

"I think it's really important that...the three municipalities keep meeting like that. It was the first time we got together and seemed to be making important decisions," he said.

UCW Christmas meeting features skit, carol singing

by Norma Wylie

On Mon., Dec. 17, Janice Hyndman welcomed the ladies of the UCW to a pot luck supper and said grace, at the United Church.

Unit 2 led the worship service interspersed with Christmas carols and a Christmas skit entitled "The Very First Christmas" was presented. Myrna Cinnamon read poems entitled "At Christmas" and "A Christmas Thought and a Prayer", June Armstrong and Lillian Moore related the story of Jesus' birth and Hilda Holmes told the story of "The Runaway Angel".

A letter was read from Peg Campbell, president of the UCW Presbyterial, relating all the accomplishments of the year. Gifts for Naomi House residents were placed under the Christmas tree.

Each unit reported their activities for the month and their Christmas meetings.

The UCW Presbyterial will be held in Winchester United Church on Feb. 12, 1991, and help was requested.

June Armstrong reported sending 60 pairs of used glasses to the Canadian Foundation of Glasses for Needy People.

Our next UCW meeting will be on Jan. 21, 1991 and annual reports are to be given to Janice Hyndman by Sun., Dec. 23.

Janice closed the meeting with a benediction and wished everyone a Merry Christmas.

WI gifts sent to hospital

Metcalfe WI held their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Gerald Morris, where we entertained our husbands. We all sat down to a pot luck dinner at 7pm.

After our dinner, we held a short meeting and the men listened in. Instead of a gift exchange, we gave to the Winchester Hospital, and again, oranges were sent to the patients.

Cheryl Bunda, one of our 4-H leaders brought along the sign that they made for their club which is used for fairs, with the name of the club, the theme of the project and a description of what it was made with.

As this was a bread-making project, Cheryl explained how it was made and told of the fun they had doing this.

A new project will begin shortly and girls from ten years and up who would like to join should call Cheryl Bunda, Darlene Scharf or Myra Kelly. The 4-H is a good program for boys and girls.

The hostess gift was won by Ann VanBerlo.

After our meeting, we joined the men and had a contest which was won by Effie Morris. We also had comic reading which all seemed to enjoy. The president, Jean Reaney, thanked the hostess and all for helping out.

Our next meeting will be held Jan. 8 at 1:30 in the Stanley Apartments. Bring lunch.

We are always looking for new members so come along and enjoy the WI. Also, girls and boys who are interested in joining the 4-H should call 821-2984, 822-0574 or 821-2959.

CHRISTMAS SAFETY TIPS
Brought To You By
Biccum & McIntosh Ltd.

THEFT:

It is an unfortunate reality that thefts often increase during the holiday season. This is because valuables are being exchanged as gifts, and people are away from their homes more often, visiting family and friends.

Here are some ideas that may help to reduce the chance of theft.

— Ensure that all doors, windows and patio doors are always secured. Deadbolt locks are best. Particular attention should be paid to basement windows.

— Areas where there is shrubbery, or poorly lit areas, can be improved with outside lights.

— Join neighbors in a program where each watches the other's property at all times and particularly when one is away.

— Attempt to minimize that appearance that everyone is away. Newspapers and mail should not be allowed to accumulate. A good practice is to purchase a timer to turn lights on and off at prearranged times.

— Lock your garage at all times. Store valuables such as bicycles, snowblowers and skidoos in the garage and out of sight.

— When purchasing Christmas gifts, lock them in the TRUNK of your car when you are "going back to the store for more". This removes them from sight.

— Valuable gifts should not be displayed under the tree where they can be easily seen from the outside. Bills of sale should be carefully stored, in case a loss should occur.

In reviewing these lists, one can see that the suggestions are generally simple and based on common sense, yet we all still have to be reminded of them on a regular basis. Why not include some whenever you are extending the holiday greetings to your clients? If we can help someone avoid a tragic fire or theft, we are giving them a gift of immeasurable value!

Sunday shopping comes gradually to village

by Shana Saper
Press staff reporter

WINCHESTER—It's still a novelty here but some businesses have begun to open their doors to Sunday shoppers and the response has been surprisingly positive.

Store owners and managers are reporting more customers and fewer critics than anticipated.

Greg's Quality Meats, Valu-Mart, and Seaway Valley IDA Pharmacy have decided to accommodate customers with extended hours either as a regular year-round policy or just for the holiday season.

Andy Hamel, Valu-Mart's manager, says with Christmas falling on Tuesday this year, he's been keeping 12-5pm Sunday hours for the month of December.

"Because we'll be closed two days during Christmas week it didn't make sense to close on Sunday, open on Monday, and then close again for Tuesday and Wednesday," He said. "That doesn't give people much time to shop."

He originally thought he'd open for the last two Sundays of the month but then decided to open every Sunday in December and so far he says the response had been "pretty good".

For similar reasons, Wayne Burns is keeping Sunday hours at the Seaway Valley IDA Pharmacy.

"It's just the particular timing," he said last week. "I did a similar thing on the July 1st weekend because there are always a lot of emergencies at holiday times."

But Burns doesn't intend to extend Sunday hours into the new year. "I just don't think there's a strong demand for it here."

Greg and Loretta VanDellen of Greg's Quality Meats, however, are already convinced that Sunday shopping is here to stay.

"We've been open for a year now," said Loretta VanDellen. "We just decided to try it and it's been good."

She admits some customers are against shopping on Sunday but that hasn't hurt regular business. "The people who feel that way do their shopping during the week," she added.

According to Hamel, Valu-Mart employees aren't complaining about extended hours. "I'm not forcing anybody," he said, "but it's mostly the part- timers who don't mind the extra hours."

But as far as regular Sunday shopping goes, Hamel says it can just stay in Ottawa. "It's because I don't like working Sundays."

McDOWELL — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mildred, who passed away Dec. 23, 1983.
"Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet.
You were the kind of mother
Your loved ones will never forget."

McINTOSH-SUMMERS — In loving memory of a dear sister, Iverene, who passed away on Dec. 21, 1985, and brother, Jack, who left us on Sept. 7, 1964.

Bob Pounds of the Australian High Commission was front and centre at Inkerman Public School last Friday when he demonstrated an Australian aborigine instrument. He was entertained in turn by students who appreciated the opportunity to enhance their studies on the country Down Under.

Students tune in to Australian culture

INKERMAN — Grades 4, 5 and 6 students at the public school here were given a first-hand account of life Down Under last Friday, courtesy of the Australian High Commission in Ottawa.

For the High Commission's first secretary of public affairs, it marked the first time since his posting to Canada three years ago that he spent an entire day talking and answering questions about his homeland.

Initially, Inkerman children seemed mostly interested in how Australian youngsters live, Bob Pounds said during a break in his duties while students gathered in the gymnasium for a Christmas carolling session.

Once things got rolling, though, they got into discussions on Australia's exotic wildlife. Then, when he showed them how to make a boomerang out of paper, the room exploded in excitement.

"I had a ball, an absolute ball," Pounds said.

Usually, Pounds deals with the media, and business and academic leaders, providing information on Australia. Occasionally, he visits schools, but these are usually whirlwind tours.

In Inkerman, though, he spent the day. He accepted the invitation from teachers Christine Leng (Grades 4 and 5) and Jim Moffatt (Grade 4) because of the obvious enthusiasm the school had for the Australian unit they were taking in social studies. Principal Brenda Waddell said Grade 6 students also participated in the day.

"It was well worthwhile in my point of view," he said. Nothing but good can come from children learning about other lands, he added.

Christmas Message

from the Stormont, Dundas & Glengarry
Catholic School Board

In a Christian society, the Christmas spirit touches everyone. Children and adults alike rejoice at the thought of making others happy through the exchange of good wishes and gifts and by enjoying and participating in familiar seasonal stories and songs.

In the Catholic school system, a special emphasis is placed on the original Christmas story and its significance to mankind. Understandably, children develop deep feelings of well-being and personal security at learning how the Child, in spite of such humble circumstances on the first day of Christmas, was truly, and remains King. Our teachers repeat that story with great enthusiasm.

In a world fraught with sadness, conflict and economic turmoil, the Catholic School Board invites you to remember the original Christmas story and to share your good fortunes with those of lesser means. There are various legitimate funds and church charities to which you may contribute in order that all children here and abroad are shown a glimmer of hope for our global society.
