Tuesday's Game All Important

The league hockey game billed for Tuesday night between Chesterville and Berwick here should be worth going miles to see. No matter who wins the Berwick-Merrickville game on Friday night, Berwick will have to win in Chesterville or may be beaten out for the championship. If Merrickville leads Berwick tomorrow night, Chesterville can tie Berwick for first place by winning on Tuesday night. It will be some game.

When the "Stove Committee" Meets

Up in Mountain township when last October's election is the subject of discussion by the "stove committee" the talk is said to almost certainly drift around to the events of nomination day at Winchester Springs and the circumstance of the unpinned sheets of Mr. Casselman's papers. Some more partisan than the others and with, perhaps, a little malice, attribute the fault to the returning officer. In this connection we have been informed that The Record is quoted as having held the same view. This is not so. The Record has had very pleasant business relations with Mr. Merrill during the past seven years and when he is now leaving Mountain we wish to state that we did not cast any reflection on Mr. Merrill's actions in his position as returning office or any other position, in fact we believe he handled a very delicate situation, in the matter of the nominations, in a very able manner, and deserved nothing but praise for it.

Chesterville Trims Finch 2—1.

Tuesday night Chesterville continued its winning streak by putting it over Finch on the latter's ice by two goals to one in an interesting game but hardly up to the calibre of either team. The scoring was widely separated, Chesterville getting one into the net in the first period when Larin carried the puck through the Finch bunch and tallied. The second period did not produce a score for either team, but in the third each got one, Larin again scoring for Chesterville while Finch collected their only counter. Kennedy in goal for Chesterville seems to be getting a little better each time out and can now be reckoned as among the best goalers in the league and a hard man to beat. Ralph Hummel had the wing position in place of King and put up another good game and can now be said to have graduated to senior company. Chesterville carried only one spare man, Eric Casselman, who is playing a good game in fast company.

Unfortunately during the first few minutes of play Loughridge was put out of the game by a smash on the head and being struck on the lip with a skate rendering the services of a surgeon necessary.

Profitable Crops of Clover Seed

Some very large yields of Red Clover seed have been made by farmers in this vicinity during the Fall and Winter hulling of clover for seed. A large number of farmers in the vicinity of Chesterville secured four and five hundred pounds each of beautiful seed for themselves. These quantities of red clover seed grown look small compared with over twenty-eight hundred lbs., worth $1876.00 hulled for Geo. A. Fetterly and son Frank. A larger turn out of seed was made at Enos Allison's farm when 163 lbs., of clover seed was hulled in 14 minutes, over two tons in all amounting to $2680.00. A first crop of hay was cut in June of over two tons per acre. Seed was taken from the second crop. When one considers the high price of seed at present and every prospect of it going still higher in price before summer one can see this kind of a crop will receive more attention in the future by farmers. This year Western Ontario and American clover seed crop was a complete failure which accounts for the very high price of clover seed today. Farmers report all the hulling in this district was done by Anson Deeks of Williamsburg the seed being hulled and cleaned ready for market.

A man from the backwoods of Western America visited New York for the first time one Christmas, and went into a restaurant to have his dinner.

All went well until the waiter brought in a napkin. The eyes of the backwoodsman flamed and pulling a six-shooter from his hip pocket, he told that waiter his mind.

"You take that blamed thing away at once," he said, sternly. "I reckon I know when to use a handkerchief, without having them darned hints thrown out!"

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

New Silo Filling Method

By cutting the ensilage at the time the corn is harvested, and without using the corn binder, a new labor-saving device is aimed to reduce the cost of silo filling almost by half.

This new labor-saving device was recently placed on the market. It is known as the ensilage harvester. It is a combination of the ordinary corn binder and ensilage cutter, and gives promise of revolutionizing silo filling. Instead of binding the stalks into bundles and hauling them to silo, the ensilage harvester cuts them into silage in one operation and delivers the chopped ensilage into a deep wagon driven alongside.

The manufacturers of this new labor-saving device say it is now possible for three men and three boys to fill a silo. It is said to be a simple, light, compact, and easy to operate contrivance. Three horses pull the harvester, and a four cylinder motor on the ensilage harvester supplies the power necessary to run the machinery. Ordinarily three wagons with triple boxes are sufficient to haul the ensilage to the silo. From the wagon the cut silage is dumped into an ordinary grain elevator, or a blower especially designed for that purpose, which blows it into the silo.

It is said that by using the ensilage harvester the expense of filling the silo is reduced to almost one-half the cost and that the ensilage is cleaner and better because of the fact that it is packed away in the silo clean and fresh in from 15 to 30 minutes after the row is cut. The twine bill is entirely eliminated because no twine is used in the operation. It is said that ordinary farm labor can easily learn to handle the ensilage harvester.

The Dignity of Work

The housewife who treats her work as a drudgery has no happiness in this world. If she could see the beauty of simple art in the home, it would tend to transform her work from drudgery to pleasure. The farmer who sees nothing but hard toil in his work is an unhappy creature. He might find supreme pleasure in his occupation if he saw the application of science and art in his daily work. The blacksmith who merely nails on shoes of a crude character cannot find particular joy in it, but the blacksmith who does horse-shoeing as an art, with precise reference to beauty and perfect use, finds an ever-increasing pleasure in his accomplishment. All through the vocations of life there is the possibility of stimulating interest by a full understanding of the simple applications of science and art.

Remarkable Elm

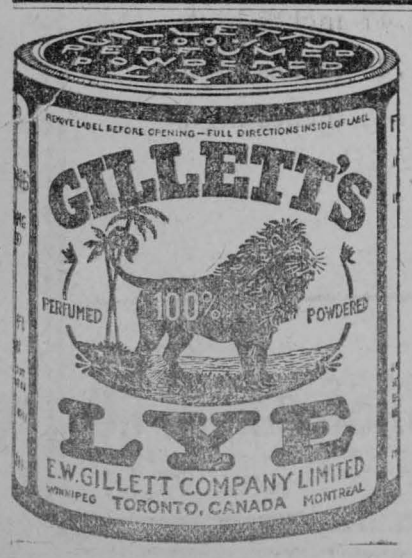

William Elson, a farmer living near Wingham, is believed to have established a Western Ontario record for profits in the timber business as the result of the recent felling of a huge soft elm tree. The trunk of the tree was cut into three twelve-foot logs and converted into lumber at a Wingham mill. They yielded 2,804 feet of lumber, for which Mr. Elson was paid $99.14 at $35 a thousand. In the top of the tree he found a coon's nest with three coons, whose pelts, worth $70, raised the profits to $168.14.

"You seemed embarrassed when that pretty girl met you at the station."

"I had reason for feeling embarrassed," answered the Digger.

"What was it?"

"I promised to bring her the Kaiser's ears."

Composts as a Source of Humus and Nitrogen

(Experimental Farms Note)

The examination of many types of soil —clays, silts and sands—virgin and cultivated has furnished evidence of a very emphatic character regarding the fundamental and vital importance of semi-decomposed organic matter (humus) as a soil constituent. It mechanically in improving tilth, lightening and mellowing heavy clays and increasing the moisture-holding capacity of all classes of soils. It supports the microsopic life of the soil, the function of which is to prepare plant food for crop use. And, lastly, it is the natural storehouse of nitrogen——the most expensive of all plant foods when purchased in the form of fertilizer. One of the chief objects in view in any intelligent, rational method of soil management is the upkeep and if possible the increase of the soil's humus content. Applications of farm manures and the turning under of green crops—clover, buckwheat, rye etc.—are the principal means of adding humus-forming materials to the soil, and these may be supplemented, cheaply and effectively by composts.

Every farm, every market garden, should have its compost heap, for such affords the most economical (and sanitary) means of utilizing the vegetable and animal refuse, indeed all forms of organic waste. To enumerate some of the materials that can be profitably used in this way; potato tops, cabbage leaves, waste straw, dead leaves, kitchen waste, old sods, the cleanings of ditches, road scrapings, muck and peat, pond and stream deposits: all these materials and many more rich in organic matter may by composing be converted into a forcing manure of very considerable value by reason of its humus content and its store of readily available plant food. In these days it behooves us to abandon our wasteful ways and utilize everything that may make the land more productive. The practice of burning all organic refuse is an exceedingly wasteful one and should only be followed when, by reason of the presence of the eggs, spores and seeds of injurious insects and plants, the composted material would be likely to disseminate disease.

The making of the compost heap is a very simple affair. It can be built up of alternate layers of say six inches, of refuse (including swamp muck if such is obtainable) and manure, to any convenient height, covering the whole with a few inches of good soil or muck. The heap should be kept moist, that decay may proceed, but not so wet as to cause drainage from the heap. The result in a few weeks or several months, according to the season of the year, will be a manure of very considerable fertilizing value, capable of improving both clay and sandy loams and especially useful for vegetable and garden crops.

Frank T. Shutt, Dominion Chemist.

Appreciates Gift

To Mrs. Peter Darling and Associates and all the old circles of friends in Nation Valley. Greeting;—

I would to-night, that I might lay down my pen, and let my tongue be the pen of a ready writer, for my hand has lost its cunning and meet you face to face in response to the kind and sympathic address and Tablet my wife and I have received from you, in memory of our dear boy, who with so many others gave up his life at the call of his country.

My wife unites with me in thanking you all for the kind expressions of sympathy and hope and for the Tablet that visualizes the fact, lest we forget. Our prayer is for those who remain, old and young in these times of unrest and desire, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward unto those which are before, press forward to the mark for the prize of God's High Call in Christ Jesus. Yours truly, James Moodie, Vancouver, B. C. January 30th 1920.

A Fishing License

Lovers of the rod and reel and the elusive finny tribe are going to find that their favorite pastime, if they haunt the waters of Quebec province will be expensive. The Quebec Game and Fisheries Department has passed a regulation compelling all who fish in Quebec waters to secure a license, which will cost $5. The Department's intention is to preserve fish in the Province.

The regulations make one exception, and that is for a family of any resident, and in this case the license will cover all members of the family.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Cure was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. Ouderkirk—Burd

A very pleasant event took place Wednesday afternoon, Mar. 10th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burd when their second eldest daughter Ella was united in marriage to Mr. Millen Ouderkirk of Crysler. The bride looked very pretty dressed in taupe satin with pearls and wore a wreath and corsage of orange blossoms. She was attended by her sister Miss Anna Bell Burd while Mr. Earle Ouderkirk, cousin of the groom, acted as groomsman. After the ceremony about seventy guests took supper while later in the evening a large number of young people gathered and all spent an enjoyable evening in dancing and games. The bride received many costly and beautiful presents consisting of furniture, silver, cut-glass and cheques, showing the esteem in which she is held.

The young couple intend farming near Crysler, with all good wishes for their future welfare.

Rachel Donley Summers

Rachel Donley, widow of the late David A. Summers, deceased passed away at 12.30 o'clock Mar. 10th, 1920 at the home of her daughter Mrs. W. M. Bolton in her 91st year. She was born in Brockville, September 10th, 1829, losing her mother at the age of 3 years, she lived with her uncle, William Shaver, until she was married to D. A. Summers in the year 1847, settling in the Summers Settlement, where she lived for 63 years, surviving her husband who died Sept. 13th, 1905. They were blessed with eleven children, only four of whom survive her;—Mrs. W. M. Bolton, with whom she lived at time of death, Nehemiah and John of Winchester and Adam of Fielding, Sask. She had 34 grandchildren, 94 great-grand children, and 6 great-great-grand children. She was a remarkably active woman until about ten years ago when she lost her sight, at which time she went to live with her daughter, with whom she lived until time of her death. She suffered for years but was never known to complain, and always had a smile and cheerful word for all friends who came in, and was thankful that she was blessed in so many ways. She had a ripe christian experience and for years stood waiting for the escort to convey her to the palace of God.

The funeral took place in the Methodist Church, Winchester Springs, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Meredith, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hall of the Presbyterian church. The text "She hath done what she could" was chosen by deceased, also the hymns. Miss Kane sang very beautifully "No Burdens Yonder" and the choir "I shall know Him". Wreaths were placed on the casket from W.M.S. of Methodist and Presbyterian churches, and Methodist Street Sabbath School, and pillow, Mr. W. M. Bolton and family.

The remains were laid to rest beside her husband in Maple Ridge.

NEW HIGH RECORDS MADE BY SUN LIFE

New business written last year totalled $100,000,000. Assets also over hundred million mark

A new high record in applications for assurance policies was attained by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada during the past year, according to the 49th Annual report of the Company just issued, which shows that one hundred million dollars worth of assurances were written during the past twelve months. This figure marks an epoch in the insurance business of Canada as no other Canadian company has ever previously approached this enormous total.

A new record was also made in the new business actually issued and paid for which totalled $86,548,850 an increase over the previous year of $34,957,457 or 67.7 per cent.

One record after another appears to have been made by this company. The total business in force reached the huge total of $419,358,462 showing an increase of $75,548,805 over 1918. The proportion which the increase in the business in force bears to the total new business written during the year is a very striking commentary on the persistence of the policy holders to maintaining their policies with the company.

The assets of the company exceeded the hundred million mark, being $105,711,468 a gain of $8,091,089. Income totalled $25,704,201 a gain of $4,053,101; surplus at December 31st was $8,037,440; while profits paid and allotted amounted to $1,606,503. The sum paid to policyholders was $12,364,000, bringing the total for this department since organization up to $91,227,532.

Officials of the company are convinced from these figures that the commencement of an enormous expansion in the life assurance business of Canada will mark the present year.

Fire at Newington

Last Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock the dwelling of John Liscomb, at Newington, was destroyed by fire, with all the contents. Cause of the fire unknown. The family had gone to Finch for the evening and when the fire was discovered it was too far on to save anything. The dwelling was the old home of the late Mrs. Murphy and was recently purchased by Mr. Liscomb, section foreman. Loss partly covered by insurance.

He: "Once and for all, I demand to know who is the master in this house?"

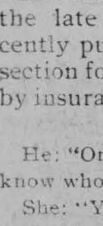

She: "You will be happier if you don't find out".

Williamsburg Township Council

The council met in Froats Hall, Williamsburg on Saturday, March 13th. Members all present. Minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted.

The Reeve was authorized to wait on the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works for Ontario, in company with others interested, to try and pursuade the Minister to designate as a Provincial Highway the road running from Morrisburg to Ottawa.

The following were appointed Tax collectors for current year—Alfred Barkley, R. I. Pruner, Morley Bowman and Ora McIntosh.

The following resolution was passed and a copy ordered to F. C. Biggs:--That this council respectfully urge upon the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works for Ontario, the advisability of designating as a provincial highway the r ad ruuning from Morrisburg to Ottawa via Winchester, as said road runs through one of the best farming districts in Ontario and practially through the centre of Dundas County. It would enable the farmers, if a good road was laid down, to get their produce on the Ottawa market in good condition at a reasonable cost and at all seasons of the year.

The Council in anticipation of the proposed aid to be given toward township roads as well as 40% of one road superintendent's salary decided to get in line for receiving said aid by appointing John A. Barkley, as Road Superintendent for the township.

The following accounts were passed.

The Disabled Soldier and His Problems

In last week's Saturday Night a correspondent, referring to the returned soldier and some of his problems, asks the pertinent question: "Is Canada really doing as much for the disabled soldier as she is able believe?" As pointed out by this correspondent, our present pension scale is right, but unfortunately it does not live up to its advance notices. In the new scales of pensions it is to be noted that a totally disabled private soldier, married and with, say two children, may receive as much as $1,200 per annum. Nice and dandy you say but wait a minute. It so happens that the pension scale is divided into twenty classes, with five per cent. difference between each. As an example a private (unmarried) having lost his leg below the knee, is awarded 30 per cent. of disability, and as he is scaled at $720 per annum for total disability, his annual pension is $216 per annum, or $18 per month. For the loss of a leg above the knee he would receive 40 per cent. of disability, or $288 per annum. In other words, to receive a full pension a soldier, as our correspondent points out, would have to be limbless, sightless and probably unable to articulate.

Our correspondent cites one specific case which has come under his notice, that of a returned man who has been obliged to undergo an operation, the result of which prevents him keeping to any hours of employment, in other words, he is thoroughly incapacitated, and that for the remainder of his life. Still, under the present ruling, this unfortunate man is awarded only a fifty per cent. pension, or $360 per annum. I take it that it has never been the desire or the intention of the Canadian people, who, in one way or another, provide the money for these pensions, to deal thus meanly with an invalided soldier.

Our pension board as it works out is more or less of a machine. The human element is eliminated, as it has been shown in the case under discussion. Surely it never was intended that a man who cannot now, owing to his war service, earn his living, should be expected to maintain himself on less than a dollar a day. The thing is ridiculous. Actual service in attending to the needs of returned men, as, for instance, work in connection with Repatriation [illegible] Toronto, is a man's job, and league, on the other hand, owing to [illegible] wing to impediments the Patriotic [illegible] its actual [illegible] which came [illegible] ered on its [illegible] idow came [illegible] et up in the [illegible] d she merited [illegible] hen the soldier [illegible] hump by means [illegible] open up a fruit [illegible] ot it, if he was a [illegible] er.

[illegible] an this may look like [illegible] on the contrary, it pro- [illegible] sort of business, as is instanced by the fact that with a capital of $70,000 to start with, the league has loaned upward of $325,000 to date, and out of a special fund marked "doles," $9,000 was loaned, and of this sum $4,600 was repaid, though I may say that it was not expected that any of this money would ever find its way back into the treasury.

Now, let us inject a little more humanity into the Canadian Pension Board. Let it obliterate some of its hard and fast rules; eliminate its red tape; humanize itself as it were. If a man, owing to his financial circumstances, is in need of a pension, then pay him a good one. If, on the other hand, he is fortunately situated in respect to the world's goods, why pay him any at all? This, to me, looks like a common sense solution of what should not be a difficult problem.—Saturday Night.

The Farmer and Exchange Rate

Addressing the annual meeting of th Dominion Loan and Securities Associa ion on the subject of the exchange rat Mr. A. J. Glazebrook pointed out tha the situation as it stands between Canad and the United states is largely due t the import and export situation. The su plus exports credited to Canada, he sai was merely nominal, and it was no use t say we had a surplus of products whe the exchange rate stands as it does. Me import of gold would not prove a cur for the trouble as we, the Canadia public, would simply use up the amoun suggested—200 millions—and proceed i our present course of extravagance.

The speaker declared that in all othe countries but those of the American con tinent, the people are making sacrifices while expenditures here and in th United States were ridiculous. He sai that an appeal should be made to th people of Canada, reminding them tha they are not children. but responsibl majors, and asking them to economize Such an appeal, the speaker was satisfied, would be responded to if properl made.

A statement made in the course of thi address, that is well calculated to mak a number of people pause and consider especially farmers, was to the effect tha production in all lines, even of cereals must increase if the country is to kee up with the parade. Figures regardin production, the speaker pointed out, referred too strongly to values, making i appear to the casual observer that pro duction had increased, while as a matte of fact it had fallen off: the only increase having been in the price obtained.

"To say that Canada was bankrupt was foolish." declared the speaker, but he made it clear that increased production was necessary in order to offset imports by exports; there was a deficit of 30 to 40 millions of dollars worth in the matter of exports from Canada, he pointed out, having reference to exports of all materials.

Conditions as outlined by Mr. Glazbrook contain promise of great opportunity for the Canadian farmer. As regards the situation with regard to cereals there is reason to hope for a great improvement this year over last. Weather conditions this winter have been such as to favor the winter wheat crop, which covers a greater area than in some years past; last fall saw an increased area prepared for spring sowing, and the labor problem on farms, though not solved by any means, is less intense than last year owing to the return of the fighting men to the land. In all, it may be expected that the farms will do their fair share toward restoring the trade balance. Moreover, the farmers are showing, by their determined effort to increase acreage in crop, their anxiety to secure help, and their inclination to save in these days of extravagant expenditure, that they are aware of the true position of the country as regards finances, or at least are taking warning from local conditions.

Imported a Carload of Booze

A Kincardine lawyer imported a carload of booze, valued at something between three and four thousand dollars, and which contained such varieties of refreshment as whiskey, brandy and gin. The shipment, which weighed over 7,340 lbs. and cost $67 in freight charges is the biggest cargo of tanglefoot that ever came into port at one time in Bruce County says the Walkerton Herald and Times. The Kincardine ordered the consignment, it seems, for himself and a number of friends who clubbed together to make a shipment that would fill a car which they hoped would come right through from Montreal without being opened or interfered with en route. In this they were disappointed, as some party with a keen sense of smell, broke into the car at Palmerston and swiped two cases of the balmy fluid. The rest of the joy water went on to Kincardine, arriving into harbor on Jan. 30th. The license inspector at Walkerton heard of the event and paid a hasty visit to Kincardine and found that the Kincardine importer had but twenty-five cases left of the 235 which arrived. The upshot was that the Kincardine barrister was charged by the Inspector with trafficking in liquor contrary to Section 40 of the Ontario Temperance Act. The case was tried at Walkerton and the Kincardine lawyer was fined $200 and costs or a total assessment of $275.000 for his specialty in the feature. The evidence is being submitted to the Dept., and on the outcome of their decision in the matter will depend whether the others who had the barrister order their booze for them will be proceeded against, or not.

"And so you learned French thoroughly while over there, son?" said the proud father of the returned soldier.

"Sure! I got so I could say Hello and good-night, and order ham and eggs, and I could ask a fellow to lend me money and tell a girl that I loved her better'n anything, and that's all a fellow needs in any language."

BIBLE [illegible] LESSON
April 2[illegible]1; 14-22

Golden Text—[illegible]eople shall be my people, and Thy God, my God.

A man of practical life, a great man but purely a man of the world, once said; "If I could enact one statute for all the women of America, it would be that each of them should read the book of Ruth at least once a month".

The story of Ruth is of special importance because it gives the ancestry of David, who was the ancestor of Christ.

Read the book of Ruth to see:

1. How happiness follows the choice of holiness.

2. Where David received his gift of song.

3. The powerful influence of personal life and character.

4. "The most determined, the most decisive, the most unhesitating confession of love in all literature" expressed in the most sublime language.

5. An illustration of a sincere devoted friendship existing between two women.

Contrast with the story of Ruth the story told of Senator Foster of Connecticut, who rose from humble birth to become a brilliant young lawyer. He was about to marry a society belle but the night before the wedding she said to him; "I will go to see your parents once but you must not expect me in my station of society to repeat the visit". Mr. Foster took his hat, left the house and never saw her again.—Peloubet.

Overall Campaign starts at several Points in Canada

The overall-wearing campaign which has gained such remarkable headway in the United States has at last reached Canada. On Saturday a group of Michigan Central Railroad employees at St Thomas organized a club, including some three hundred members from all departments of the service and some of the highest paid officials, all of whom it is stated have pledged themselves to wear, commencing on Monday morning, nothing more expensive in the way of outer wearing apparel than a suit of overalls. It was agreed that places of worship and social gatherings shall not be invaded by the new form of dress for at least several days, but should the first step fail to bring some change in prices it will be extended into every phase of life.

A similar club has been formed at Wallaceburg, Ont.

Toronto Silo Means Dairy Profits

The most economical silo is the silo that gives the greatest capacity for the money, while affording complete protection to the ensilage.

These things the Toronto Silo does. The Hip Roof gives you extra capacity. The double tongued and grooved staves of selected spruce give adequate protection against air and frost.

The Toronto Ensilage Cutter will complete your equipment and save you waiting on a hired machine. Gives you that smooth, trouble-free service so necessary to quick, profitable work.

Our booklets on silos and ensilage cutters cover the subject completely and are full of valuable information. Sent free if you request them.

Even Two Coats of Paint Give Less Than a Hundreth of an Inch Protection

When you know that you must depend on a paint film less than a hundredth of an inch thick to protect your buildings from weather's wear and tear you begin to realize the vitalness of buying the right paint.

Mrs. John Ferguson

We announce with deep regret the death of Mrs. John Ferguson, Finch, Ont., which occurred on March 29, after a short illness of pneumonia. The deceased, formerly Melissa Amanda Benton, eldest daughter of John Benton, Berwick, Ont., was born June 13, 1869, in the township of Cambridge, a few miles east of Crysler, and was married at Crysler on October 5, 1887, and resided in that community, where she was highly respected and loved by both young and old. She always gave a helping hand in time of need, and was much looked to, by both family and neighbors, in trials of sickness She also had a sincere interest in religious matters and taught a Sunday School class in early years, when the late Alpin Ferguson was superintendent of the Cambridge Sunday School. In April 1919, the deceased, with her husband and family, moved from her old residence in Finch to live a retired life; apparently in good health until nine days previous to her death, when a severe attack of pneumonia occurred, which she bore with patience until her death.

Pneumonia sickness with patience
she bore,
Physicians were in vain,
Till Christ, the Chief, gave her relief
And eased her of her pain.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in that home
Which never can be filled.

The funeral took place from her late residence on March 31, to Crysler Knox Church, which was largely attended by a wide circle of friends. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Howard, who took for his text, "The Lord is my Shepherd", and preached much comfort to the family and friends. Crysler officials showed much respect, and all business places showing high honor by essation of business while the burial took place in Crysler Presbyterian cemetery,

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, John Ferguson of Finch, and family—Catherine, Maggie, Lottie, Jessie Donald, Alexander and David, at home; Mr. and Mrs. John Benton and Mr. and Mrs. Alpin of Osnabruck; Duncan of Moose Creek, Mary Jane and husband, Frank Beckstead of Martintown; Annie and James of Crysler; one grand-daughter Catherine Ferguson of Osnabruck; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Benton of Berwick; one sister, Mrs. John Dingwall, and four brothers, Alonzo of Finch, James of Cornwall, Charles of Apple Hill, and John David of Williamsburg.

Friends from a distance were—Mrs Jonathan Hepworth of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ferguson of Kingston; James Benton and J. A. McCrimmon of Hankleek Hill; Mrs. N. McDonald of Maxville; J. D. Benton of Williamsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benton of Apple Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beckstead of Martintown.

The pall-bearers were Kenneth McRae, Duncan Sutherland, Ezra Droppo, Alex. Benton, John Dingwall, Charlie McKinnon.

Floral offerings—A beautiful pillow by husband and family, and other sprays from loved ones were the last respects.

It seldom pays not to pay your debts.

Punch Boards are Banned at Cobalt

Following the receipt of instructions from the Attorney General, whose attention to matter had been drawn in a letter from a citizen of Cobalt, Chief of Police Bonneville Friday notified the proprietors of punch boards that they must remove these from their stores. Many boards have been operating in town, payment of ten cents and upwards having been exacted, but these have been declared illegal by Magistrate Atkinson, who advised the chief to have them removed.

A Midnight Raid

The police in Smiths Falls raided a livery stable and placed eleven men found there under arrest. They were gambling. Among the eleven were two visitors one from Merrickville and the other from Perth. The Record says: "The Perth man seemed to be endowed with considerable presence of mind and succeeded in maintaining it during the panic which followed the entrance of the constables. He slipped behind the door as it opened and ten minutes later as Chief Phillips was searching the place he came upon the Perthite standing in a soldier-like manner in perfect silence behind the door."

Reeve of Iroquois Committed for Trial

The preliminary hearing took place before Police Magistrate Danis at the Court House, Cornwall, last week, in a case in which G. H. Davy, Reeve of the village of Iroquois, was charged with attempting to defraud by means of false written accounts on the work done by Michael Brontmire on the County Road System in the village of Iroquois on or about October 17th, 1919, thereby obtaining the sum of $30. The Crown was represented by J. G. Harkness, County Crown Attorney; G. I. Gogo for the defence. The information was laid by Henry Strader, a foreman on the work, whose accounts were handed in to Mr. Davy, who was Chairman of the Subcommittee of the Road Committee of the Counties Council in 1919, and through whom the cheques for payment to the men were made, by the Counties' Treasurer. Evidence was given by Messrs. J. R. Simpson, Counties' Treasurer; J. G. Cameron, Road Superintendent: Michael Broutmire, Henry Strader and Anson Serviss, the three latter having been engaged on the work in question. The Magistrate considered that sufficient evidence had been adduced to commit the accused to stand his trial.

Similar charges were laid against Mr. Davy in the case of Anson Serviss, to the amount of $72, and Harry Burnside, to the amount of $87.50, but no evidence was taken, the accused, by his counsel consenting to his being committed for trial on these charges also.

The three indictments were read to the accused before His Honor Judge O'Reilly and Mr. Davy elected to be tried by a judge and jury at the Sessions of the Peace which will open on Tuesday, June 8th. The accussed was let outon bail of $4,000—himself in $2,000 and two other sureties of $1,000 each.--Cornwall Standard.

Swallowed a Match to Avoid Explosion

Matches are the immediate cause of many of our largest fire losses and probably the majority of smaller fires could be traced to this same source.

More than one factory in Canada has gone down to ruins; many employees have been thrown out of employment, and their families have suffered want; many employers have seen the result of their lifework crumble—all the results of carelessness with matches. The number of fires in business places shortly after closing time is remarkable. Investigation has shown that these are nearly always due to employees dropping unextinguished matches after lighting pipes or cigarettes. Especially is this the case during the cold weather, when employees, regardless of "no smoking" rules, will "light up" before buttoning up their overcoats.

Many cases may be cited of fires caused by matches.

For instance the coat and vest of an employee were hanging in a draught, and the swaying of the clothes against the wall lighted the matches in the vest pocket.

During the war, an inspector, inadvertently, carried a match into an explosives plant, but knowing the danger, he chewed the match up and swallowed it.

It but a fraction of this recognition of the danger of matches could be impress upon workers, much of our fire w would be avoided, and the work nece to replace this loss could be dev more productive efforts.

A New Method of Selling Cheese

Growing out of the great success which has attended the Co-operative sale of live stock by the United Farmers of Ontario, who are now handling live stock on both the Toronto and Montreal markets, their sales last year amounting to over nine million dollars, the organized farmers have now decided to undertake the co-operative sale of cheese this season in Montreal. It has been decided to secure warehouse space in Montreal and open offices there as soon as the necessary staff can be organized. Factories will be invited to consign their cheese to the company, where it will be graded by experts and sold by public auction. The Ontario Government has agreed to grade the cheese free of cost

In order that the dairy counties may all have a say in the management of the company, provision has been made for the organization of groups of shareholders in every county. These groups will each have the privilege of appointing a representative on the central board of management of the company and they will in turn elect the directors of the company. It is believed that a considerable saving can be effected by the company in the marketing of the cheese and in the buying of factory supplies. One of its chief benefits, however, will be the increased knowledge the farmers will obtain of their own business through marketing their own products. A Quebec company has been selling cheese in this way in Montreal for 10 years with great success.

As long as they build motor cars they will be the best motor cars Dodge Brothers can build.

As long as the name is attached to their motor car, Dodge Brothers may be depended upon to safeguard and protect it.

The name has come to suggest integrity—integrity in the car, and integrity in manufacturing and business methods of the men who build it.

The first thought that follows, wherever it is seen, is the thought of a car that is reliable.

They call up a picture of a particular kind of a motor car.

Or, to be exact, a particular kind of motor car workmanship, which people have come to associate with the name Dodge Brothers.

It has grown because the users of these cars have given Dodge Brothers a good name as careful, conscientious manufacturers.

The result is that wherever these two words—Dodge Brothers—are seen, they stand as a symbol of exceptional motor car value.

May Place Taxes Wholly on Land

The Drury Government will give local option in taxation to Ontario. The necessary measure was introduced in the Legislature Friday by the Prime Minister and given first reading. The provisions of the bill, as explained to the House by Mr. Drury, show that the Government is prepared to have municipalties go "the limit" in removing taxes on improvements, income and business, it the ratepayers so decide, but it will provide safeguards by allowing reductions only on a graded scale,

The initiative is placed in the hands of the ratepayers themselves. If the ten per cent., of those who voted at the previous municipal election, petition for a vote on the question, it must be submitted to the people, and if approved by a majority of those voting, the council must pass the by-law demanded.

The Act permits a reduction of ten per cent., but not more than 25 per cent., the first year, and similar amounts each succeeding year until the whole of the assessed value on the improvement, income or business is exempt—in other words, until the whole of the municipal tax burden is upon the land. The same principle is applied to taking the backward course. Where differential taxation is in effect, ten per cent. of the ratepayers may petition council for a vote in the first instance, and the assessments, if the people approve, can be raised year by year until they are fully restored.

Good Heavy Horses Wanted for Export

Encouragement for heavy horse breeders is contained in the news that drafters weighing from 1,700 to 1,800 pounds are being purchased for shipment to Great Britain, at prices that guarantees a substantial profit to farmers who are willing to part with their good animals at this season when horse power is so much in demand on the farms. The particular source of this demand is a point in favor of the prediction that the demand will continue for some length of time—in fact, long enough to justify breeders in resuming operations in their line of business that have been neglected for the past three or four years.

Doubtless the demand for heavy horses to go to the Old Country has been incited by the improved quality of general run of drafters in Canada, and it must be conceded that the efforts of the Ontario Stallion Enrolment Board are responsible in a large degree for this improved state of affairs. Jack Miner and His Bird Sanctuary

Those who are unacquainted with Jack Miner, of Kingsville, Ontario, have missed something.

Farmer, ex-hunter, naturalist, manufacturer, but, above all, the friend of the wild birds, he is a man in a thousand. The time was when Jack went out with a rifle. It was in the pioneer days in Ontario and he and his brothers hunted to get warm clothes and food. The Miner boys became expert shots and, as he himself says, they left a bloody trail behind them. There is nothing on wing or foot that Jack Miner has not drawn a deadly bead on at one time or another. Then the day came when Jack Miner awoke to the realization that these wild things meant more to him alive than in his game bag. They, too, had a right to life. But let him tell it in his own way;

"I had risen very early one morning to wait for the wild geese. Two other men had happened along just as the long thin line of flying birds appeared. The birds paid no attention to these men, but just as they neared the place where I was concealed they scattered to the winds. It left me wondering—if those birds knew me as their enemy, what would they be like if they knew me as a friend?"

Such was the beginning of Jack Miner's bird sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont. Here Mr. Miner owns a farm of considerably upward of two hundred acres, where he constructed two large ponds. Next he made an iron clad rule that no guns were allowed around his acres, and it was not long before the ducks and geese in their northern and southern flights took advantage of this invitation. They now gather there by the thousands and more particularly in their flight northward to the Arctic, where they breed during the summer months. In April, the time when the geese are making their northern pilgrimage, as many as three thousand at a time find sanctuary on Miner's ponds, where they are regularly fed, and incidentally, it may be stated in passing that it costs Mr. Miner some thousand dollars per annum for grain to do this service for his wild friends.

In respect to the wild ducks, they visit these ponds mostly in the autumn, reversing the order with the geese, who in Mr. Miner's opinion take as a rule a differerent course in their southern autumn journey, possibly making their way down via the Atlantic coast. In any event only about ten per cent. as many geese visit the ponds in the autumn, as compared with the spring flight.

Mr. Miner is most enthusiastic over the geese. In his opinion no finer bird takes wing. They are brave loyal, true to their mates, and ideal fathers and mothers. From time to time Mr. Miner traps some of these birds, places a metal ring on one of the legs and releases them. Each ring bears a number and the address and a request that the tag be returned. In this manner he is not only able to identify ducks and geese which return each season, but also is able to ascertain where and how the unfortunate ones lose their lives.

The greatest slaughter among the geese is in the far north, where the Indians hunt for food. The goose is a clever bird and the ordinary white hunter has not the patience nor the knowledge and skill necessary to make him the deadly enemy of these birds that the Indian proves himself to be.

Mr. Miner states that while the international game laws now in force on this Continent have done a great deal to protect our wild birds in their seasonable flights and this includes no shooting during the spring migration, there is yet a deal to be done in order that all wild life may be better preserved than is now the case.

The High Cost of Living

No current question of the day is receiving more attention these times than the very vital one of the high cost of living. One of the sanest answers to this world-wide problem that has come under our notice is given by Mr. William A. Law, a prominent banker, who has made some suggestions as to our present economical conditions and the way out. Among other things he says: "So long as men spend more than they produce, the cost of living will not only stay high, but it will go higher. Were it possible to get organized labor to consent to a fifty-six hour week until 1923, with proportionate additional compensation, production would so increase as to force a general lowering of prices. This supports Charles M. Schwab's contention that the only way to reduce the high cost of living is to get to gether and get to work.' No man ever became a captain of industry working only eight hours a day and looking constantly at the clock." Howard Figg, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, spoke in Nashville, Tenn., last week says the Advocate, on the same subject. He asserted that unproduction, public indifference, and the monetary conditions are some of the causes of the high cost of living. As illustrative of indifference Mr. Figg said the city dweller is too prone to buy from the truck waggon instead of patronizing the packer instead of the smoke house. He said too, that people are buying recklessly buying, more than need.—Acton Free Press.

Saving Some

Collingwood Bulletin—One of the best evidences of the present prosperity of Canada is found in the circumstance that, notwithstanding the purchase by the people of Canada of $699,291,096 worth, or 77 per cent. of all the securities issued in the Dominion last year the bank deposits showed a remarkable increase. In January, 1919, demand and savings deposits were $1,613,319,495, and by the end of November they had increased to $1,866,515,866. This represents $233 per head of Canada's population of 8,000,000 as compared with $126 per head of population in the National Banks of the United States.

Your Child's Future
WHAT ?

Educational endowment policies. The main object of these policies is toprovide a fund for the Education of children on arriving at adult ages.

The usual form of children's Endowment has been found to possess one great disadvantage, namely, that in the event of the parent, or it is often impossible to continne the payment of premiums, and the policy is thus allowed to lapse.

The present plan completely overcomes this objection by providing that in the event of the death of the parent or guardian before the policy matures, no further premiums will be required, but the policy will become automatically paid up, and the sum assured will nevertheless be payable in full if the child survives the Endowment term.

Should the child die during the Endowment period, all premiums will be returned.

Further particulars will be furnished on request. Mail a card to-day.
