Here and There

by Kay Kay

One of our readers is kindly disposed towards wild animals and reports that a deer crossed the highway west of Iroquois a couple of days or so back, jumped into the St. Lawrence and swam over to what is left of Indian Island. The sight of such a majestic animal, free and uninhibited, is far better to our mind that seeing such an animal strung up by its heels after having been shot.

This is a wide open subject and many have differing views from ours on the hunting of such animals. And that's life . . .as the fellow says.

New regulations are coming out to better control the mechanical safety of used cars and while we haven't heard many complaints on this in our area or adjacent municipalities, it is one which does crop up periodically in many parts of the province. Usually much to the disgust of the buyer.

Stated period checks on all cars should be made as far as we're concerned. Even a new car can develop problems and be unsafe to drive. If we all had to have our cars checked at regular intervals it would certainly help cut down the odds in preventing accidents due to mechanical failures.

Watching those youngsters play football in the rain last Saturday, and the Cheerleaders doing their bit in scanty uniforms and getting soaked is fun . . . as long as you're sitting in a warm and dry car, or out of the rain. Many a momma would have yanked daughter out of that line had they seen it. Just a case of what you don't know will give you a cold . . .

"Think-in" At St John's

On Friday evening, the Rev. Barry Curtis, Consultant in Christian Education for the Diocese of Ottawa, met with a small committee to plan a "Think-in" at St. John's on Sunday, November 10th.

The only Service in the Mission will be at 9:30 a.m., and it will be followed by two sessions built around the theme of what it means to be a Christian in the Space Age.

A total of four hours will be given to a time of worship, thought, discussion, film and food. This will be the major fall enterprise at St. John's, and it will be geared to provide challenge to both the teen age and the adult congregation.

Area Nominations November 18th

Nomination day will be November 18th and election day, December 2nd, in the three United Counties. While there may not be elections for municipal councils in some of the communities, there will be elections for school trustees to serve on the new amalgamated boards to handle the administration of all schools in the primary and secondary levels in the United Counties. The Separate School system is also reorganizing under a similar system and their nomination day is also November 18th. The Separate School members will be elected at large and the nomination meeting held at Berwick.

In this area, one member will sit on the new board to represent Mountain, Matilda and Iroquois jointly. The nomination meeting will be held in the largest community, Matilda, at the Memorial Hall November 18.

The present Iroquois Council's term of office runs one more year. There could be an election in Matilda Township for Reeve, Deputy and Council, as well as school board should more qualify than are required to fill the various seats.

The new board of education to administer schools in Dundas, Stormont, Glengarry and the City of Cornwall, will be composed of 16 members; Seven from the rural areas, three from the City of Conwall, and six elected from Separate School supporters to sit on the new board for secondary school purposes only.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Cope of Burlington, spent Thanksgiving week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fetterly and Donald.

Brinston United Church was filled to capacity for both services on Sunday, October 20th, 1968. This being the 97th anniversary of the Church. The minister of the charge, Rev. James Stewart gave a very inspiring message in the morning service The theme of his sermon was "The Church Which Christ Built".

The guest soloists Miss Linda and Judy Ross with their mother Mrs. Gordon Ross accompanying gave several lovely duets and solos in the morning service. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed hearing these very talented young people from Newington sing.

The junior choir under the direction of Miss Darlene Montgomery rendered two beautiful anthems.

The young people were appreciated also for their help in acting as ushers at both services.

The guest speaker at the evening service was Rev. Cecil Dawson from Long Sault United Church. He gave a most interesting and challenging sermon on three Hebrew boys taken from Daniel, Chapter 3. The title of of his sermon was "Three Plus one".

The South Gower instrumental quintet rendered very inspiring musical selections during tihs service.

The congregation thanks God for a blessed and rewarding day.

LAYMEN'S SUNDAY AT IROQUOIS UNITED CHURCH

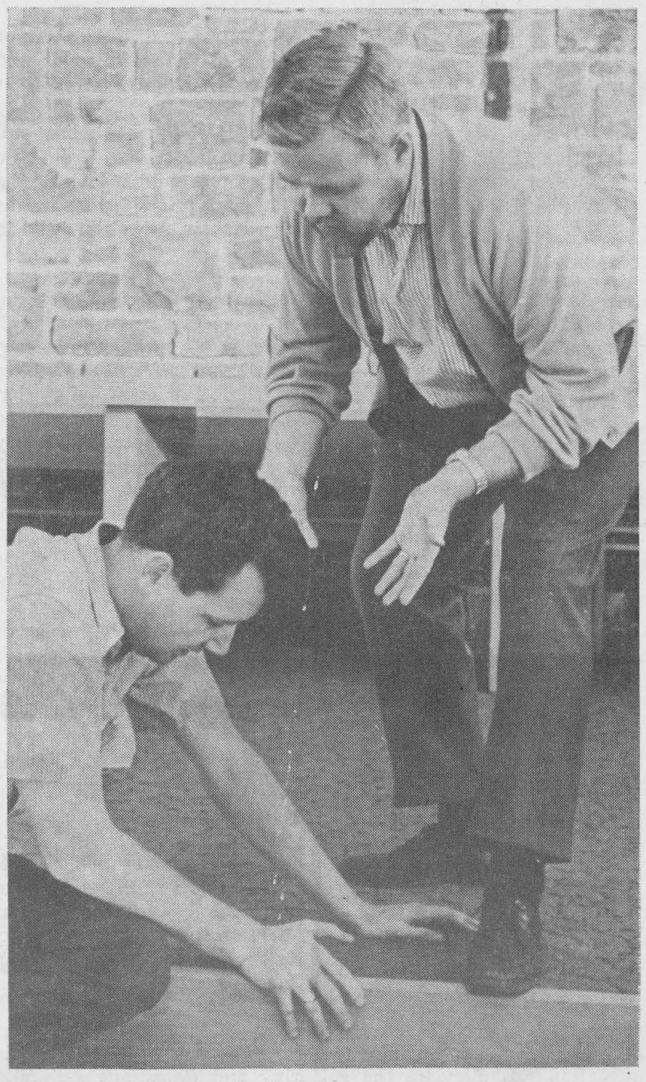
Laymen's Sunday at Iroquois United Church was well attended with a good representation present both from the local and White Church Congregations.

Also in attendance was the White Church Choir and their presentation of "Jesus Loves the Children" and "It's so Sweet to Walk and Talk With Jesus" added much to the service. The choir and leaders, Mrs. Charles McInnis, Robert Thompson and Linda Thompson deserve much credit for the contributions they make, both to this church and others in the community. They will be singing again next Sunday night for the Anniversary Service at Pleasant Valley United Church.

Laymen assisting in last Sunday's service included Mrs. Mina VanAllen, and Messrs. Ambert Brown, Clifton Davis and Robert Thompson.

The address was given by Mr. Arliss Casselman, entitled "A Layman and His Values", it gave a look at ways in which different people might look at their attitudes towards life and the church and challenged all to take a new look at their own beliefs and attitudes.

Rev. and Mrs. Dean were in Richmond, Quebec on Sunday for the 110th Anniversary Service in Chalmers United Church, where they served for seven and a half years before coming to Iroquois in 1959.



Jim Holmes and Don Robertson as the son and father, respectively, in the "Drama in Worship" presentation of The Prodigal Son, at Knox Presbyterian Church, Iroquois, Sunday evening, October 27th, 7:30 p.m. and by The Britannia Chancel Players of Ottawa.

New Form of Worship

On Sunday evening, October 27th, the congregation of Knox Presbyterian Church, Iroquois, will be host to a group of men and women who form The Britannia Chancel Players of Ottawa, a "drama in worship" group, devoted to the production of biblical messages in dramatic setting.

Numbering 14 in cast, this group will present a verse-play retelling of the biblical parable "The Prodigal Son" by R. H. Ward, in the Service of Worship, and which will begin at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

With increasing interest in the churches toward "drama in worship" forms, The Britannia Chancel Players bring the opportunity for paticipation by the community congregations in this dramatic medium of worship; and an invitation has been extended by the Kirk Session of Knox

Hallowe'en For UNICEF

Can a dime dropped into an Orange and black box on Hallowe'en night solve all the problems of the world's sick and hungry children. No . . . But it's a start. and the United Nations Children's Fund is in the business of making fresh starts every day all over the world . . . with food, clothing, shelter and education. UNICEF regards each dime it receives from the Hallowe'en collection as a fresh start for a child in one of the many distressed areas of the world. And a fresh start means another small triumph of hope over despair. UNICEF deals in hope . . . with your dimes.

Almost all of us in Canada these days regard a good education for our children as an absolute necessity. And our children are fortunate that we feel this way — perhaps more fortunate than they realize — because almost half the children of the world will never go to school at all . . . or even know what one looks like. UNICEF — the United Nations Children's Fund —cherishes what some may thing is a futile hope: That every single child born into this world should have the CHANCE, at least, of learning to read and write. That's what the UNICEF people do with the money you give them from time to time: They go around the world giving children chances. And UNICEF would be happy if you would chance a few coins in one of those orange and black UNICEF boxes which the local children will be carrying around with them on Hallowe'en night. It may well be that your coins will give a child in some remote corner of the world his once-in-a-lifetime chance to print his name ever so carefully on a second-hand blackboard, and then nervously, but with great joy in his heart, read it out loud.

Insanity In Biafra

The recent government decision to supply planes to carry relief supplies into Biafra brought a feeling among many Canadians that at last this country was getting off its haunches and doing something constructive. Since the United Nations has pretty well adopted a hands off policy and Nigeria hasn't cooperated towards helping make the situation any better for the starving thousands, it has made any government cautious on making any move.

All patries in the Canadian government felt disposed to do something to alleviate the suffering and Canadians generally backed the decision. Unfortunately it appears to be a drop in the so-called bucket and if there isn't enough to go around, people still continue to die off and suffer untold agony in the slow process of starving.

Seeing pictures of youngsters with little but skin and bones to their bodies is disturbing in itself. Knowng that some will find enough to keep them alive while others keep on to inevitable starvation somehow doesn't fit into our way of thinking. The great nations of the world, with their plenty and gigantic waste of food, are far from being perfect societies if we can all stand back and have no avenue to help in situations such as Biafra.

The word "peace" is an unknown thing to many people of the world . . .while we sit back and enjoy our brand of peace, others are sacrificing their lives for theirs.

GORDON BLAIR, M.P., REPORTS

Question of Biafra

The Nigerian civil war and the plight of Biafra has become one of the outstanding controversial matters in Parliament this session. Ordinarily, the Opposition in particular have been concerned about questioning the Government on domestic matters. This is one of the few occasions where the Government has been seriously challenged on an external matter. This parliamentary discussion reflects the widespread publicity recently given by the press.

To a new Member of Parliament this episode gives rise to a number of questions. What are the issues involved; what are the merits and the demerits; what is the real extent of Canadian involvement; what are the duties and responsibilities of an individual Member of Parliament.

We are witnessing a terrible civil war in a federal state. One racial group in the state, the "Ibo Tribe", wishes to establish its independence and secede. All observers agree that the war has been conducted with almost unbelievable savagery on both sides. We now see one of the most terrifying weapons and consequences of war— the hardship and the starvation inflicted on a civil population. It is this suffering which has excited the consciences of Canadians, and rise to the serious determination that we should do something to alleviate it.

What can Canada do? By ourselves we cannot stop the war. There has been no suggestion ever that we should intervene with our Armed Forces to restore order in Nigeria. The type of intevention which has been suggested is that we should take all possible steps in the United Nations, and otherwise, to bring an end to the conflict. Insofar as Nigeria is concerned, this is "intervention" in a civil war in that country. Equally, it is regarded by the Organization for African Unity, i'e' the States of Africa, as intervention in African affairs. This is resisted by Africans on grounds of national principle and also because they resent the suggestion that 'white' nations should arrogate to themselves the right to intervene in African affairs. What is notable in this episode is that not only have the great countries of the world abstained, but all the new countries as well. The Secretary General of the United Nations, U. Thant, who in many respects is a spokesman for new and emerging nations, has refrained from suggestion any international action of any kind to stop the conflict. The fact that Canada, by itself or in concert with other nations, has not "intervened" in this civil war is not in any sense a recognition of the "niceties" of diplomacy, but rather a basic fact of the present age.

If, as regrettably seems the case at the present time, there is no international action possible to bring about the end of this civil war, Canada has directed its attention to the provision of humanitarian relief. For a number of months various voluntary agencies — the Red Cross, churches, and other international charitable groups, have been endeavouring to get relief supplies into Biafra. Despite the conflicting statements made by many there has been, until very repeople, the obvious truth is that cently, no established procedure to do this and no general concurrence with the Nigerian government clearing the way for flights to Biafra. It is Canada's action at the United Nations and elsewhere which has made the necessary agreements with the Nigerian government providing for unrestricted, round-the-clock flights of aircraft into Biafra carrying relief supplies. The Canadian government has made three Hercules aircraft available, together with a large supporting force of more than 80 men, to service an aircraft into afflicted areas in both Nigeria and Biafra. It has also donated supplies and money to the extent of one million dollars for the provision of relief by the International Red Cross. Now that the means of transportation have been established, the way is open for the Canadian public and voluntary organizations to provide additional funds and additional relief.

The discussion of Biafra gives rise to the second series of questions. What has been the effect of all the public tumult and discussion? For example, the Sunday night television programme a week or so ago dramatically portrayed the suffering of the Biafran people. It urged Canadian listeners to get in touch with their Members of Parliament and urge action. In the few days following that broadcast I received four phone calls and three letters. I suppose, over the whole time when Biafra has been in the news, I have received not more than half a dozen other telephone or written communications urging relief for suffering in Biafra. One of the Grenville-Carleton constituency papers last week printed a form letter, specifically addressed to me, urging me to take action with the Canadian Government. Within a six-day period following the publication of this issue, I received five such coupons filled out by constituents. What interpretation should we give to this very small response to the dramatic and continuous discussion of this problem? Does it mean that people generally are not interested? Does it mean that people feel that the Government has done all that it can reasonably do? Does it mean (I hate to think so) that many people feel there is no point in them as ordinary citizens registering their views on this or any other important issue facing the country?

This gives rise to consideration of what a Member of Parliament should regard as his duties and responsibilities. Should a Member sit back and finely balance public response to this or any issue I don't believe so. I also do not believe that any responsible government should carry on its obligations merely by endeavouring to respond to polls or other immediate evidences of public opinion on any issue. Some matters call for action and decision — popular or not. Holding this view, I feel that the Government of Canada has done what it is possible to do; it has opened the way to the provision of relief for Biafra; it has set an example to Canadians in general which fully they may follow by contributing generally to various forms of voluntary relief for the Biafran and Nigerian populations.

The final results from Biafra are not in. One hates to contemplate how much longer the civil war may continue and the suffering which it will exact from the innocent civilian populations. What Biafra has shown is that the conscience of a considerable number of Canadians can be challenged by events in a far-off country, and this is to the good. Whether we as Canadians like it or not, it has also shown the limitations of what Canada can do in the international arena. We have achieved what might be called a typical Canadian solution. We are making a major contribution to the provision of the relief for starving people. We have already encountered intense criticism abroad for interference in African affairs; we are, of course, criticized at home for not interfering enough.

FREEZING APPLES FOR PIES

For quick apple pies all winter long, put some of this season's Ontario apple harvest into your freezer, suggests the Food Council, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food.

Select only full-flavored, crisp firm apples for freezing. Slice them directly into a weak brine solution of about 1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart water, and leave the apples in the brine for no more than 15 to 20 minutes.

Drain and drop the slices into boiling water for just two minutes. Time carefully, as overcooking makes the slices soft, while undercooking allows the frozen product to lose color, flavor, and quality.

After cooking, pack the apples separately in amounts required for one or two pies, and add all or part of the sugar, as desired. Wrap, label, and freeze immediately.

SUGAR AND SPICE
by Bill Smiley

An apology from Smiley

Every so often I get myself into such a bind that a razor blade and a tub of hot water seem the only honorable way out. The sole reason I am still with you is that either my wife has just ruined my last blade shaving her legs, or everybody in the house has just had a bath and there's no hot water left.

I'm in one of these now. Bind, that is, not bath. First of all, the Slovaks are after me. In a recent column about the Czechs, I used, not inadvertently, the phrase "those lousy Slovaks."

Six of my 12 Slovakian readers took exception, reading it out of context, as people always do when they want to take exception.

No less a person than Louis Gorek, secretary of the Slovak Benefit Society, read my article "by chance." By chance my foot. It was obviously sent to him by some lousy Czech. He wrote a letter to the editor, which ends with the intriguing expression, "Whoever is going to seed a hate will find himself in a hatred."

Another letter to the editor, signed by six Slovak veterans, suggested that I was not only IGNORANT, but a member of some Nazis (sic) organization. Well, I'd rather be lousy than both ignorant and a Nazi. (I am ignorant, was lousy when I was a P.O.W. and have not been, nor ever expect to be a Nazi.) Curiously, this letter too contains the expression "If you are going to seed a HATE, you will find yourself in a hatred." Collusion, what?

Well, good Slovaks, and your ladies I apologize. If our educational system was any good, you'd have known what I meant. The original said, "Here you are, a good, honest Bohemian (Czech). After World War I you are thrown in with those lousy Slovaks and told you are now a Czecho-Slovakian.

Let's change that. Make it read, "Here you are, a good, honest Slovak. After World War I, you are thrown in with those lousy Bohemians and told you are now a Czecho-Slovakian."

And that's about what they think of each other. Divide and conquer, I always say. But now I'll have the Czechs after me. The next Balkan war may be fought right here in Canada, with yours truly slap in the middle. The only way out that I can see is to buy two tickets to the next ball sponsored by the Slovak Benefit Society.

But even the vision of slavering Slovaks and choking Czechs seeking my blood doesn't bother me nearly as much as the next ordeal in my current bind. I'd rather face 100 of them, bare-handed, than go through with it.

I have to make a speech to the Women's Institute. I would rather walk barefoot over a glowing bed of red-hot go-go girls than make the speech. However, it's my own fault.

Their secretary wrote me last June, asking me to speak. I ignored the letter, hoping it would go away, or that I'd die. Then came the mail strike. Thought I was safe. Not so. Early September she wrote again, sharply reminding me.

Still I stalled, but no use. It wasn't my sense of honor that made me accept. It was the fact that the secretary's daughter was in my home form. Every day she sat and looked at me with huge, reproachful eyes. Finally, I broke, and blurted, "All right, Marsha, all right! Tell your Mom I'll do it." She beamed. Her teach hadn't let her down.

What in the holy old red-eyed world does one say to a group of first-class women who have already heard a speaker on every possible topic?

Well, I have my opening paragraph ready. It goes like this:

"The Women's Institute should be wiped out, with fire and sword, if necessary. Speaking as a man, I would like to see every branch smashed, all records put to the flames, and any executive members who might be caught sent to Canada's tundra to spend the rest of their lives making motions and resolutions and phoney Eskimo carvings and not asking people to speak to them."

On second thought, maybe I'd better take on the entire Czecho-Slovak population of Canada, and get it over with quickly.

It's easy—when you know the answers

All of life is not far removed from the classroom. There are truths to be learned every day. And there are questions to be answered.

But some people don't have the answer when they need it. And some people do . . .

Any teacher will tell you it's a question of preparation. And any preacher will tell you the same.

The people who go to church on Sunday have no more problems than those who stay home. Nor do they expect as a result to have any fewer.

They believe simply in preparation—preparation of the mind, conscience, heart and soul . . . faith.

This is the preparation God offers men . . . for the questions that will confront us all tomorrow!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lands & Forests Report

by James Woodford

AUTUMN LEAVES

Tree leaves in autumn disclose brilliant colors that have hidden within the leaf all summer.

For the most part, leaves do not "change color" at this season. Rather, the substance called chlorophyll which colors leaves green dies. As a result, the yellows, oranges, reds, and purples that have been masked all summer by chlorophyll green emerge in autumn glory.

Despite its legendary role, frost does not cause the change in tree leaf color. In fact, a hard frost too early interferes with the chemistry of the leaf and may dampen fall color. The association between the death of tree leaves and frost is a matter of timing, rather than of cause and effect. Tree leaves have completed their summer's work and are dying at about the time that frost arrives.

The yellows and oranges of autumn leaves come from the carotin that lives in the leaf all summer. Carotin is a chemical best known for coloring carrots. Like other colors within the leaf, it is necessary but less important than chlorophyll which must be exposed to the sun.

The reds, blues, and purples in leaves all come from the same chemical, anthocyanin, which is an ingredient of leaf sap. Whether the color shade is on the red or blue side depends upon acidity of the tree's sap. The red maple, for instance, is highly acid and thus has remarkably brilliant reds in its leaves.

The trees with bluish or purple leaves have alkaline sap. Anthocyanin reacts with acid or akaline much as that old indicator litmus paper. In acid it turns red; in alkaline, blue.

Brown is a prevalent late autumn color which was not mentioned earlier because while the chemicals that make brown have been present all summer, the color strictly speaking was not present through the growing season. Leaves have other colors through the season, but they acquire brown as death nears.

Browns may come from two sources. A final color phase of carotin may be brown. The more common browns, however, come from tannin in the leaf. This tannin is the same tree chemical that can tan leather brown or tan. It can have a similar effect upon the leaves of trees with high tannin content.

CANADIAN-U.S. CORN TALKS

Agriculture Minister H. A. (Bud) Olson said recently that he had spoken to United States Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and that a team of Senior Canadian government officials met in Washington with United States representatives to tackle the problems being experienced in the Canadian corn market.

It was noted that Canadian corn prices had fallen significantly from last year and that the marketing of corn was currently seriously disrupted.

United States officials recognized the temporary, though serious, problem in the corn market and that United States production was a factor in the Canadian market. "It is evident that United States officials recognize and understand the Canadian problem" the Minister said.

It is important that confidence in the market be restored. As forecast in the Minister's earlier statement, the meeting focussed on ways and means of achieving greater stability in the Canadian corn market. While no immediate solution was agreed upon, several possible courses of action were discussed. Officials agreed to urgently consider these measures and to resume discussions as quickly as possible.

TURKEY LEFTOVERS CAN BE DELICIOUS

Thanksgiving, Christmas, or any day can mean a turkey dinner — and turkey leftovers. Unless the leftover meat is used within four days, plan to freeze it to maintain its quality, say Home Economists at Macdonald Institute, University of Guelph. Try this recipe for tossed salad to use up odd-shaped tidbits of turkey.

Turkey Chef's Salad

1½ cups orange sections
1 cup diced unpeeled apple
1½ cups cooked turkey, slivered
French dressing

Tear salad greens into bite-size pieces. Add remaining ingredients and toss lightly. Serve with French dressing. This recipe makes four to six servings.

Sometimes We Wonder ? ? ?

A noteworthy item of interest to the community of Iroquois and the surrounding area appears elsewhere in this weeks Post. It has to do with an opportunty that doesn't come our way too often . . . that of participating in a medium of Christian worship that is a departure from the usual traditional form a church service may take.

A group called the Britannia Chancel Players, from Ottawa, will present, in verse-play, the familiar-to-us-all parable of The Prodigal Son . . . and this Sunday evening. Knox Church is the setting of this presentation; and the time is 7:30 p.m.

The point we would raise here, is whether or not this worthy endeavour, by one congregation of our church-community, will receive the interest that it may rightly deserve, by our community?

Much is happening in all branches of the Chrstian Church today to try and "make relevant", to people, youth and adults alike, the timeless teaching of Christianity. The Church, in examining itself in the midst of a modern-oriented society, is making many changes, both to its structure, and in its mode of worship, to aid in this matter of communication . . . this matter of having to teach and reach a totally different world-community than it spoke to and acted toward even just a few years ago.

In other words, the Church is trying! . . . and under the inspiration of its Founder, will continue to make changes to its means of work and worship, in order that its message might come to meaningful expression in the lives of people today.

But, are we trying? . . . as a community, to support the Church in its endeavours to "be relevant" today, and as evidenced in one occasion being presented to us at one of our community churches this Sunday evening? Sometimes we wonder?

Like many institutions of our day, the Church too has had its share of criticism; and there is good reason for saying that it is becoming more obvious, in many areas of its work and witness, that some of the criticism has been healthy and is producing constructive results.

But, again, sometimes we wonder about that form of criticism that is "by proxy" . . . by the silence of indifference, of prejudice, of absenteeism . . . especially when there is a growing evidence, around us, and in the world, that the Church today is making headway in its concern to communicate its unchanging message to a changing society, and is doing so, in both its work and worship, through new forms of communication.

Sometimes we wonder??

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES

Laymen's Sunday

The annual Laymen's Sunday was held throughout the Seaway Valley Presbyterian congregations, Sunday, October 20th, with good lay participation noted in the local congregations of Knox Church, Iroquois, and St. Andrew's Church, South Mountain.

In the absence of the Minister the Rev. John J. Hibbs, attending an inner-city outing with the Presbyterian Young People's Society, in Montreal, members of the Kirk Sessions of the respective congregations conducted the services of morning worship and presented the Laymen's Address.

At the 11 a.m. service in Knox Mr. Arie den Hartogh, Elder, gave leadership in the service of prayer and praise, and Mr. Spence W. Perry, read the Lessons for the day, and addressed the congregation on the subject "Facing Life's Top Priorities", taking as his text the Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians, Chapter 4 and verse 17. Both Elders of the congregation met the congregation at the close of the service. Messrs. Alex Millar, Knox Thompson, Donald Thompson, and Wayne Murphy assisted in the ushering responsibilities; with Mr. James B. Fenton as reception elder at the door. Mrs. J. B. Fenton offered the beautiful solo selection "Sometimes a Light Surprises" by J. Hullah. Mrs. Arthur E. Bell organist, directed the ministry of music.

At the 9:30 a.m. service in St. Andrew's South Mountain, Mr. Gordon Blow, Clerk of Session, and Mr. Ted Robinson, Elder, gave the respective leadership in this annual Laymen's Service, with Messrs. James and Wayne Scott assisting in the ushering responsibilities. Mrs. Arnold Shaver, organist, led in the ministry of music.

Knox P.Y.P.S. On Montreal Trip

Members and Leaders of the Knox PYPS held their annual Summer or Fall weekend outing in the city of Montreal, October 19-20th, with the car caravan leaving the church parking-lot at 8 am. Saturday morning.

Accommodation for the group was provided at the Montreal downtown YMCA and YWCA including meal arrangements.

This annual outing included a tour of the inner-city, St. Joseph's Oratory, and other areas of the greater-Montreal dis trict. A "shopping" period was included in the Saturday afternoon programme, and on Saturday evening a dinner and showdate was enjoyed by the group.

A highlight of the morning worship service of Tyndale Neigh bourhood House, an inner-city community-centre, sponsored by The Presbyterian Church in Canada, and under the Directorship of the Rev. Robert W. Johnson, former minister of the Cardinal Pastoral Charge. The PYPS were introduced to the Tyndale Staff following the chapel-service, and given a complete tour of the building, and a talk on the work and witness of the church in the inner-city programme. A tour of the City of Montreal "urban renewal" programme in the immediate vicinity of Tyndale House, was included in the Sunday afternoon's outing, following which the group and staff of Tyndale shared dinner together.

Special appreciation was exten ded to the Tyndale House folk by Mr. William Barnhartd, on behalf of the members and leaders of the PYPS.

The group "arrived home" in Iroquois at 5:15 p.m. Sunday, after a very interesting and enjoyable weekend. Special thanks to our leaders, Miss Ruth Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barnhartd, and the Rev. J. J. Hibbs.

Pre-Teens Elect New Officers

The regular meeting of the Iroquois Pre-Teen's was held in the lower church-hall of Knox Church, Friday evening, October 18th, with 15 members answering the roll-call. Three new visitors were welcomed.

The Rev. J. J. Hibbs, leader, chaired the meeting, and until the election of new officers for the group, following "the graduation" of former members into their respective Church groups in the village, after entering High School.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Miss Linda Cassidy and duly approved. The treasurer's report was given by Rev. Hibbs in the absence of Stephen Peacock. Collection was received by Debbie Delegarde.

Business from the minutes was discussed, and it was unanimously agreed to conduct a "praying-hands" pen project, each member to sell 5 pens, the proceeds for Pre-Teen outings. The plans for the play "Phantom of the Opera" were cancelled.

During new business it was agreed to hold a "sock-hop" on Friday evening, November 1st, at 8 p.m. This will be in the form of a Hallowe'en Party, members to invite friends. Decoration, Food, and Dance Committees were formed, with plans to prepare the hall on the afternoon of the sock-hop, "after school".

The election of new officers was held, and the following members were appointed to their offices: President, Debbie Delegarde; Vice-President, Ronnie Swerdferger; Secretary, Stewart Turner; and treasurer, Barbara Bowden. This executive will hold office until the end of the year.

Plans for the "sock-hop" were again discussed, and the meeting closed with the Pre-teen motto.

NEW FORM

Church to all local clergymen and congregations to share in this new form of worship being offered on Sunday evening in the village.

Most of the people in the Chancel Players are from Britannia United Church and Knox Presbyterian Church in Ottawa. Many have some theatre or music training. No technical personnel are needed for their presentations. The group performs in the chancels of the churches they visit. Their audience is the congregation of worshippers.

Mr. Jack Livesley, vice-principal of Lisgar Collegiate in Ottawa, and head of Audio-Visual and Educational TV Departments for the Ottawa Collegiate Institute Board, is producer and co-director of The Players.

The Britannia Chancel Players was formed out of a concern, by the members, that not enough use was being made of the dramatic medium in church services. Their objective is to stimulate interest in chancel drama, as a valid medium of conveying, to a modern generation, the timeless and eternal truth of the Christian Gospel. "Drama in Worship" plays which the group have presented, apart from "The Prodigal Son", include Stephen Vincent Benet's "A Child Is Born"; P. W. Turner's "Christ in the Concrete City"; and John Arden's "The Business of Good Government", the latter a nativity play from King Herod's viewpoint in the Gospel account of the birth of Jesus Christ.

The congregation of Knox Church sincerely invites and encourages the Iroquois and Matilda Township community to come and share in this new form of worship in dramatic setting, Sun day evening, at 7:30 p.m.

TB Association Broadens Scope

"When people in this area receive their Christmas Seals in a few weeks, they will note that our Association is now the St. Lawrence Tuberculosis & Health Association. The addition to our name seemed to us to be a first step in letting our supporters know that we are widening our programme," John McBain told the Standard Freeholder following a meeting of the executive recently.

"We are still very much interested in tuberculosis and have no intention of slackening our tuberculosis prevention programme," Mr. McBain continued, "in fact if the sanatorium is closed, it probably will be extended, but the alarming rate at which other lung diseases is increasing seemed to leave us no choice but to bend some of our energies, and some part of our Christmas Seal funds, to programmes aimed at prevention of these diseases.

"Emphysema, bronchitis and lung cancer are the three most conspicuous", he continued, "but the Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association (which has also expanded its name and programme) is now stocking educational material on 14 respiratory ills."

In emphysema and bronchitis, prevention is every bit as important, perhaps more important than in the case of tuberculosis. There are drugs that cope with tuberculosis. So far, no cure has been found for emphysema — called the fastest growing disease in the western world. Twenty years ago few people had heard of it. In our centennial year it killed more than 900 Canadians and in combination with bronchitis, close to another 800. We can expect the figure to go up until we persuade people not to start smoking or, if they have started, to stop.

Yet the death toll from emphysema is considered by many to be the minor part of the tragedy. Emphysema sufferers live for years so short of breath that many cannot earn a living, cannot climb stairs, cannot walk at a moderate pace. Some have difficulty swallowing. It is a hard life.

Canada is not the only place where tuberculosis associations are expanding their programmes to include prevention of other respiratory diseases. The British and American Associations devote substantial sums to research in these fields and are deeply involved in anti-cigarette smoking and anti-air pollution programmes.

"We think this new challenge will tax our energies every bit as vigorously as they have been taxed in the past," said Mr. McBain, "but we have a good bit more confidence now then we had when Tuberculosis Associations began their long haul. We have learned that the public responds to a challenge. We value their loyalty and we will work hard to merit their support. It will be no easier to fight diseases whose cause is rooted in habits than a disease caused by a germ, the tubercle bacillus, but we are on our way — and we hope the people of Cornwall and the United Counties are with us."

Knox Church W.M.S. Thankoffering

The annual Thankoffering of WMS Auxiliary of Knox Church was marked by a large attendance of Auxiliary members and guests from Morrisburg, Dixons Corners, Cardinal and South Mountain and members from Iroquois United Church.

The President Mrs. S.W. Perry presided with Mrs. A. Bell at the piano.

The meeting opened with the call to worship followed by the opening hymn 691

The responsive Scripture reading Psalm 103 was conducted by Mrs. W. J. Armstrong.

A Thanksgiving reading was given by Mrs. John S. Thompson. Mrs. James Fenton sang a beautiful solo accompanied by Mrs. A. Bell.

Mrs. Perry welcomed the members and guests to the meeting. The offering was received by Mrs. W. J. Moke, Miss Nine McTowan, Mrs. Clifford Merkley, and Mrs. Hyslop and dedicated by the president.

The guest speaker, Rev. R. W. Johnson, B.Sc., B.AA. was introduced by Rev. Hibbs. Rev. Johnson gave a very interesting address on his work at Tyndale Neighborhood House with sketches and coloured slides.

Tightening Regulations On Car Mechanical Fitness

Regulations, incorporating new and specific inspection standards to assure the mechanical fitness of all motor vehicles, sold either privately as well as through dealers, for operation on Ontario's highways, were announced today by Transport Minister Irwin Haskett.

Effective November 1, any used motor vehicle will need a certificate of mechanical fitness before the purchaser can have it registered in his name and operate it on the highway. Inspection of the vehicle must be carried out by a licensed mechanic or a licensed dealer and certification of the vehicle will be based on the specifications spelled out in the new regulation announced today.

If a used motor vehicle is sold without such a certificate, the person applying for a transfer must surrender the licence plates to the Department of Transport and an unfit vehicle permit will be issued. Registration plates for the vehicle will be issued as soon as a valid certificate of mechanical fitness is produced. Certificates are valid for a period of 30 days.

Private sales will now be affected by this legislation and used motor vehicles sold privately and through dealers will be subject to the new standards of inspection.

Mr. Haskett stated that more than 800,000 used motor vehicles are sold annually in Ontario. Defects in vehicles are a contributing cause in only a small percentage of collisions. Authorities' estimates vary from 2 to 10 per cent. Of all motor vehicles involved in collisions in Ontario last year, 94.6 per cent were in apparently good condition. Some of the remainder suffered from defects that were not a contributing factor.

The aim of the legislation is not so much to put vehicles off the road but to get defects corrected for safer driving.

The Ontario Department of Transport has prepared a manual as a guide for licensed mechanics who will be doing the actual inspections and meetings are being planned across the province to discuss the new inspection procedures with them. The Department is also cooperating with the Centennial College of Applied Arts and Technology in Toronto in designing a course of instruction in the inspection procedures for licensed mechanics.

SCOUT news

The first regular District Council meeting was held 17 Oct in the Troop Room at St. John's Anglican Church in Prescott with the following persons present: Mr. H. Beach and Mrs. B. Countryman of the executive and Howard Countryman, Keith Carkner, Henry Heffren, John McCauley and Donald Whitney of Staff and Mr. Drury representing 5th Prescott.

Howard Countryman reported on the Camporee which was a great success with 181 campers out. There have been 225 Camporree patches ordered, and a sum of $110.09 turned over to Keith Johnston to cover the costs involved, the remainder to be used to purchase additional badges for the new programme.

The motion carried in October 1966 minutes was rescinded regarding a head tax for each registered member in the District.

The Budget report was tabled until next meeting for both the executive and staff.

Howie Countryman reported a change in staff appointments. Keith Carkner has been appointed as ADC Venturers and John McCauley has been appointed as ADC Cubs.

Registration was due for all groups on October 15 and to date the following groups have registered only: 5th Prescott, 9th Prescott, and 1st Cardinal scouts only. Those groups who have not yet registered are asked to do so as soon as possible.

Permission was granted to remodel the Kincaid Camping Shield which has not been awarded for the past couple of years to a larger plaque and presented to the best patrol at the Annual Camporee. This year 1st Cardinal received this honor.

Apple Day was discussed, and as it was originally tabled to be held October 19 and to date there appears that no preparations have been made in the Prescott area, it was decided to leave apple day to the responsibility of the individual groups for this year in the district.

It was agreed that St. Lawrence would hold a Drumhead Service this year on November 3 at the SGDHS Auditorium if available. Howard Countryman agreed to look after the details.

It was duly moved and carried that St. Lawrence District would carry out the following program by dates:

October 24th — Scouters Club for all scouters, held at St. John's Anglican Church at 8 p.m.

October 26th — Hike-a-Thon to be held between Fort Wellington in Prescott, and the Dowsley Kingston Memorial Campsite in Roebuck in aid of the District at 8 a.m.

November 3 — Drumhead Service at SGDHS parade from Boundary St. Public School leaving at 1:30 p.m. sharp.

November 14 — District Council meeting at St. Mark's Parish Centre in Prescott at 8 p.m.

November 21 — Scouter Club meeting, place to be announced.

December 12 — District Council meeting at St. John's Anglican Church in Prescott at 8 p.m.

December 14 — District Christmas Hootenany at St. Mark's Parish Centre in Prescott.

December 19 — Scouters Club, place to be announced.

O.P.P. REPORT

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County last week patrolled 14,770 miles while working 1,020 hours. During this time, officers laid 103 charges under the Highway Traffic Act and also issued 47 warnings.

There were four thefts and 2 break and enters, investigated by officers in Morrisburg and Winchester Detachments, along with three disturbances and 15 miscellaneous complaints. Ontario Provincial Police officers also investigated seven property damage accidents on area highways.

Magistrate's Court was fairly quiet during the past week with officers spending a total of 13 hours in Court and registering 40 convictions.

Morrisburg School Patrol Member of the Week—Tom Corden

During the past two weeks, there have been two sections of the Criminal Code of Canada quoted, in relation to the approach of Hallowe'en. It might be a good time now to remind all of our drivers in Dundas County, that on that special night, so many of our young children will be going out in all sorts of costumes, and with all the excitement of going from house to house, they might not remember all the traffic rules which they have learned. Therefore, it is up to all of us, when we are driving on that night, to drive with the utmost care and caution.

Notes From Our Country Correspondents

Notes of Interest from Cardinal

Spent Interesting Lifetime - 87th Birthday

Finn Hjortnaes, of RR1, Cardinal, observed his 87th birthday recently, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Egil Risberg and Captain Risberg, who purchased the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Byers over 2 months ago. Mr. Hjortnaes was bereaved by the death of his wife, the former Ebba Von Anrep on September 10, 1968.

Mr. Hjortnaes was born on September 24, 1881, in Kristiania (re-named Oslo in 1920) the capital city of Norway. In his young life he travelled in England, Scotland, Denmark, Germany, the East Sea States, Russia and Finland from 1901-1906.

An Honorary member of the "Travellers Club" in Oslo since 1948 he was among those who founded the club in 1920. He founded the Travellers Club News Magazine called "Tramps" was editor of the paper was also secretary, a member of the Board and was in charge of the collection of museum pieces in the third largest museum in Norway.

During World War 11, Norway was occupied by the Germans for five years. He had his secret radio and receiver hidden in the garage, was a member of the underground, and translated news from London, England. He made his own secret newspaper, which he delivered to his countrymen called "The Voice of London". The Germans and Nazis were around everywhere, and you could not even trust some of your own relatives.

After the war was over in 1954 he took out immigration papers for Canada and travelled by boat on the Norwegian - American Lines from Oslo, Norway to Hali fax, Nova Scotia. He and his wife remained in Canada for eighteen months, spending seven months in St. John, N.B.; nine months in Toronto and two months in Montreal.

They returned to their homeland and in 1966 decided to come back to Canada from Kolbotn, Norway, having been brought out by their youngest daughter, who then resided in Oakville. They resided there until Dominion Day, 1967, and then went to Montreal to reside with their daughter, Mrs. Egil Risberg and Captain Risberg.

On July 19, this year the two couples and Else-Carine Risberg, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Risberg, came to reside at Cardinal.

Mr. Hjortnaes was bereaved by the death of his wife on September 10 this year at the age of 81. He is now a patient in Brockville General Hospital.

Mr. Hjortnaes' son-in-law, Captain E. Risberg having been born November 13th, 1908, on a farm in Elverum, Norway, wished to return to the farm and so purchased Mr. Byers' farm. The farm home is one hundred and one years old, and has had nothing added or taken away from, so as to keep it to its original appearance.

The new owners plan on leaving it this way with exception of repairing.

Although Captain Risberg, left Elverum at the age of six, he attended schools in Oslo and studied to become an officer in the Norwegian Merchant Navy at Nautical College in Oslo. (Oslo Seamans School.) It had to be divided into two in order to become Captain in the Merchants. The first three years were spent in apprenticing in sailing one year in college 1929-1930; back to sea for two more years and then he was assigned as a Fourth Mate on a Norwegian ves sel, which was leaving for China. He signed off this vessel in 1932 and was offered a job as Second Officer on a Norwegian Coastal Vessel.

He then served as Third Officer on the Chinese Coastal Cruiser "H-Chin" in the Chinese Maritime Customs Service at Cheffoo, Province of Shantung in North China. He became First Officer and on July 23rd, 1934, married Laila Hjortnaes in Shanghai.

He was then commanding officer on his own vessel as only European. The entire crew of twenty-two were all Chinese and their port was then Foochow in Fukien Province. Their duties were to stop smuggling of opium, silk, sugar and other items. Guns were frequently used between smugglers and cruisers thus making it a dangerous position.

On September 1st, 1937, the Zino Japanese War broke out and China was in war with Japan. Captain Risberg was in command in Hong Kong, his last office in China. His wife was sent back in 1938 and in October of the same year, Captain Risberg went home by Siberia, Finland, Sweden and to Oslo, Germany.

He then had to go his last year to finish Seamans School in Nor way. When in China he had been given a Temporary ticket of Cap tain.

In 1939 he accepted duties as Chief Officer on a Tiny Coastal Steamer, which involved long hours of hard work and they had to travel by the Norwegian Coast day by day, carrying two hundred pounds on their back. So in conclusion to them, was no more Chinese Life with Boy and Ahma as servants.

On November 13th, 1939, with England already in war with Germany, Captain Risberg was approached by the Shipping Com pany to take duties as Chief Officer the same evening. Jobs were hard to get and Captain duty was practically impossible. Little did he know that Germany was to invade Norway on April 9th, 1940.

Mrs. Risberg had a son born on March 21st, 1940 but the Cap tain's duties took him from Swed en to England, with lumber on the S. M. Victo of Oslo, Norway. The invasion of Norway then took place and all vessels were ordered to Neutral Port, which for Victos was Halifax, Canada.

As he left the coast of Norway, March 21st for United States when his son was born, the Light Station outside Bergen, Norway brought in the news as they were departing to cross the Atlantic Ocean.

The war and German Occupation lasted five long years from April 9, 1940 to May 7th, 1945. All this time was little or no news to or from Norwegian people or from the fighting men outside Norway.

In 1941, the Victo was hit midship and broken into two, outside the coast of England, thus loosing four men. There was no ship for the sailors and the British Navy had plenty of ships but no crew.

As Norway was allied with Britain, Norwegian sailors were put in the Royal Navy, where they remained until the war was over.

Captain Risberg started as Lieutenant but after a year of training at Greenwich-Spere, he became Lieutenant Commander until the war was over.

He took seven Landing Crafts over the Atlantic in bright moon light, from USA to England and considered himself lucky as thousands lost their lives.

Captain Risberg became in charge of the training of sailors in Norfolk, Virginia and when the war was on, was officer, stationed at Pier 92, in New York with 3500 men under his wings for the four years in the Royal Navy.

At last, peace came and he was sent to England, where he was again sent to Occupation Troops to Norway. He received the job as Liason Officer in the British Navy and was discharged in 1946.

He joined the Norwegian Ship ping and Trade Mission in the Accounts Department for lost accounts in Sunning Day, Middlesex, England for one year and eight weeks to November 1947,

Captain Risberg's next move was starting a Transport Company with his youngest brother before Christmas 1947, but with all restrictions in Norway, before, under and after the war, he did not see any future, so decided to immigrate to Canada as soon as possible, leaving Norway, in April 1948, this time for good, with no more sailing in mind. He arrived in Montreal, on May 1st. He first worked in putting up the Exhibition for Norway in Toronto. This lasted three weeks after which he was maintenance worker in a third class Hotel. It was while he was there, that he was called from Montreal to accept position as Assistant to Ship Chandler and this lasted for seven years, and eight months in Port Alfred and four winter months in New Brunswick. This meant poor pay with no holiday, and in the spring of 1954, he became in charge of the Rope Department Shipping Company called "Thomes" in St. John, N.B. After nine months, this was discontinued, which meant no work again. He left for Montreal in early 1955, where he got work in a Ship Chandling for about two months. Employment being hard to get, went to sea for 9 months as Super Cargo in Saguenay Terminal Ship, between the Carribean and India. In 1955 he joined a small shipping Company called Sealoke Shipping, as agent. He became partner until 1960. He then started his own Shipping Company "Scandia Shipping", starting all over again and after four years of this, he spent two years in Faust Real Estate. With many difficulties. In 1966, he gave up the Scandia completely.

He was offered employment as Port Captain in TransWorld Shipping, what he really liked. In seven years, he hopes to retire and enjoy his farm near Cardinal, which is being named "Little Norway", in memory of his mother-in-law Mrs. Ebba Hjortnaes who passed away on September 10th, 1968.

Mrs. Risberg, before coming to this area, was very active in Girl Guide work with the Group Association there and helped on various money-making projects.

Born in Oslo, Norway in 1912, in earlier years she was a Maternity Nurse in Sweden. For the past two years she has been agent for Beauty Counsellor.

The daughter Carine, is now a student in Grade 13, South Grenville District High School, and last year attended Sir George Williams University. She was born in St. John, N.B., in 1950 and came to Montreal when only five.

She is very fond of horseback riding and loves teaching others. Interested in Journalism, she wants to attend University next year, one in Ontario.

She has received awards for Driver Education Safety and represented Montreal for all Canada Young Drivers Conference in Ottawa, which was sponsored by All Canada Insurance Company.

Captain and Mrs. Risberg, have a son, daughter-in-law and grand son residing in Montreal.

She addressed the gathering and showed a film "The Facts that Confront Us". This was very interesting and factual and gave much food for thought.

The gathering was divided into groups to discuss the seven points and then their findings heard. A solo "How Great Thou Art" by Mrs. Fawcett of Hainsville was greatly enjoyed.

In Memoriam

MARKELL — In sad and loving memory of a dear mother, Dorothy Markell, who passed away October 23rd, 1966.

A mother who gave me the best of her life,
Who cherished my secrets, my sorrows, my strifes
Who taught me to love, who taught me to pray,
Dear mother, in heaven God bless you today,
Your life was unselfish for others you lived
Not for what you received But what you could give
Just a loving thought just a silent tear
Just a beautiful memory of you loved so dear

—Sadly missed by your loving son Willis and daughter-in-law Doreen and grandchildren Diane and Kevin p
