Here AND There

by Kay Kay

At her pay who could afford Bad Habits?

Do you ever yearn for the "good old days?" The following is from the terms of a teacher's contract in the Roaring Twenties.

This is an agreement between Miss Lottie Jones, teacher and the Board of Education of the Middletown School, thereby Miss Lottie Jones agrees to teach in the Middletown School for a period of eight months beginning September 1, 1923. The Board of Education agrees to pay Miss Lottie Jones the sum of seventy-five dollars (75) per month.

Miss Lottie Jones agrees:

1. Not to get married. This contract becomes null and void immediately if the teacher marries.

2. Not to keep company with men.

3. To be at home between the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m. unless she is in attendance at a school function.

4. Not to loiter downtown in ice cream parlors.

5. Not to leave town at any time without the permission of the Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

6. Not to smoke cigarettes. This contract becomes null and void immediately if the teacher is found smoking.

7. Not to drink beer, wine or whiskey. This contract becomes null and void immediately if the teacher is found drinking beer, wine or whiskey.

8. Not to ride in a carriage or automobile with any man except her brothers or father.

9. Not to dress in bright colors.

10. Not to dye her hair.
ors.

11. To wear at least two petticoats.

12. Not to wear dresses more than two inches above the ankle.

13. To keep the schoolroom clean; to sweep the classroom floor at least once daily; to scrub the classroom floor once a week with hot water and soap; to clean the blackboards at least once daily; to start the fire at 7 a.m. so that the room will be warm at 8 a.m. when the children arrive; to carry out the ashes at least once daily.

14. Not to use face powder, mascara or paint the lips.

The only advantage we can see to all the rain we've been getting the past few weeks is that rainwear sales are probably at their highest in years. It's an ill wind, etc.

Kindergarten Classes Given Priority By Counties Board

Following an initial survey of the facilities available in the schools under the jurisdiction of the County Board of Education, the provision of Kindergarten classes received high priority.

At a special meeting of the Board on Tuesday, May 13, approval was given for the institution of a pragramme that would bring Kindergarten experience to every eligible child within the Three United Counties.

In deciding the nature of the programme two problems had to be faced — How to include the pupils residing in rural areas; how to provide an adequate, initial programme at a reasonable cost.

It is felt that the best possible solution to both of these problems is to be found in the institution of an Alternate Full-Day (A.F.D) Kindergarten Programme.

The basic difference between the A.F.D. and the generally recognized half-day kindergarten programme is that instead of attending classes for half a day every school day, the pupils attend classes for a full day every other school day.

In the many instances where the A.F.D. Kindergarten programme has been instituted, since its inception in 1965, it has been found that the following advantages accrue:

—The pupils travel to and from school only five times during two weeks whereas the half-day pupils travel to and from school ten times during the same period;

—Experienced kindergarten teachers report that full-day attendance makes possible an expanded and more diversified programme

—Experienced Grade 1 teachers report that pupils from the AFD programme show the same general benefits as do pupils from the half-day programme;

—School principals report that attendance at AFD programme is equal to, or better than, the average attendance for other Primary Division classes;

—School principals report that the report that the period of emotional adjustment to the school environment for AFD children is no greater in length or difficulty than for half-day pupils They also report evidence to suggest that the AFD pupils are able to adjust more quickly to the full-day programme of Grade 1;

—Prohibitive transportation costs are avoided. Expenditure for twice-a-day transportation for a half-day programme would place the programme beyond the point of reasonableness; —Pupils residing in rural areas can enjoy and benefit from inclusion in the programme;

—There is no loss of instructional time since over a period of ten school days both AFD and half-day programmes provide 5 days instruction;

—The programme is recognized by the Department of Education for Grant purposes;

—Parents have appreciated the possibilities of utilizing a whole day for shopping or visiting without having to be home at noon to meet a morning Kindergarten child. Similarly on a day that the child is not at school, parents have appreciated the opportunity of taking him along with them thus broadening his experiences, but avoiding the necessity of returning at noon to enable him to attend afternoon classes.

Where Classes Established

In the implementation of AFD Kindergarten Programmes in Area No. 1, (Dundas County) classes will be established in the following centres.

Mountain Township

1. Hallville Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools in Hallville, Mountain and South Mountain.

2. Inkerman Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public School at Inkerman (This includes former schools at Harmony, Rosehaven, Mulloy, and Van Camp).

Winchester Township

1. Winchester Public School— for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools in Winchester Village and at Maple Ridge (West side)

2. Chesterville Public School— for pupils who would normally attend the Public School in Chesterville Village and atMorewood and Maple Ridge (East Side).

Matilda Township

1. Dixon's Corners Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools at Dixon's Corners and Hulbert.

2. Iroquois Public Schools — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools in Iroquois Village and Stampville.

Williamsburg Township

1. Elma Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools at Elma, and Williamsburg Village.

2. Morrisburg Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools in Morrisburg Village, and at Riverside Heights.

The arrangements as outlined are for the 1969-70 School Year.

The implementation of the AFD Kindergarten Programme is a "First" for Eastern Ontario.

The co-operation of the parents, the drivers of school buses, and the teaching staff is earnestly solicited in this important step forward towards the goal of equality of educational opportunity.

Arrangements for registration have been made for the latter part of May and the early part of June.

The Board of Education advertisement is printed elsewhere in this paper.

SUCCESSFUL ZONE RALLY

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 370, Iroquois, hosted their counterparts from a wide area at the annual Ladies Auxiliary Rall last Wednesday. Left to right are Howard Sayeau, Prescott, Ont., Prov. Zone Commander; Mrs. Ellen Fader, Prescott, Ladies' Aux. Zone Commander; Gordon Blair, MP; Mrs. Teresa Achtenberg, Hon. Treasurer Prov. Com.; Ray Delegarde, Branch 370 President, and Mrs. Audrey Robertson, Ladies' Aux. President. The picture below shows part of the attending group enjoying dinner in the Civic Centre.

Auxiliary Zone Rally Held Here Wedn'y

The Legion Ladies' Auxiliary Rally for Zone G-3 was held in the Civic Centre Wed., May 14 hosted by the ladies of Branch 370. Registration started at 1:30 p.m. and the meeting was called to order by the President Audrey Robertson at 2:20 p.m.

After the opening ceremonies, the business period was turned over to Mrs. Ellen Fader, Prescott, Zone Commander. Mrs. Teresa Achtenberg, Pembroke, Hon-Treasurer Provincial Command was introduced and silence was held for the late Mrs. Jessie Tompkins.

The minutes of the 1968 rally held in Chesterville were read by Edna Hagarty, secretary. 8 auxiliaries were present with an attendance of eighty-five. Each secretary, in turn, read their report with Mrs. Fader reading Carleton's. Russell did not send any report. Mrs. Fader then gave her report and called on Mrs Achtenberg. The nine auxiliaries had raised $13,505.15 during the year, donated $490. to the bursary programme and $3,670. to the branches. Mrs. Achtenberg explained a few changes, stressed the importance of unity, harmony and necessity of working with our branches. A social security number is now necessary to use when joining the Auxiliary instead of a regimental number.

After all the questions were answered, both Mrs. Fader and Achtenberg were presented with a gift by Edna Hagarty. Theresa Bailey presented their secretary with a token of appreciation for the work she had done.

After the closing ceremonies by the President, a parade was held with the Morrisburg band in attendance.

At 6:30 p.m. dinner was catered by the Women's Institute to one hundred and five. Mr. Jack Saver brought greetings from the Council, Ray Delegarde from Branch 370 and Howard Sayeau, Ontario Provincial Command, Zone Commander, toasted the ladies. Mrs. Achtenberg proposed a toast to our Valiant dead Rev. J. Leslie Dean said Grace. The entertainment was put on by the Moran children, Lancaster, Ont. Edna Hagarty introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Gordon Blair M.P. for Grenville-Carleton, who spoke on Legion work and what we can do to make a contribution to our community. He was thanked by Norma Delegarde who also presented him with a gift. Theresa Bailey thanked the caterers for the delicious meal.

Door prizes went to Jean Henry, Prescott, Verna Robertson, Iroquois, Dorothy Lannin, Winchester and Rhea McKay, Merrickville. Rowena Warren won the quilt, Rachael Dillabough, of Winchester, the cushion and Sheila Pittman, Merrickville, the pillow slips.

The evening closed by singing O Canada.

A Thank You

Branch 370, Canadian Legion, would like to thank all of the people who participated in the walk; young and old alike, who braved the elements which were not too pleasant, also the sponsors who committed themselves so generously.

Others, such as the nurses, Mrs. Effie Shaver and her daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Anderson who handled the ambulance, the people who brought out food and hot drinks to walkers, and again Bev Hutt who gave unselfishly of time and food. Mr. Ron Gilmer and Gilmer's Pharmacy who donated all the first aid supplies, the girls who gave their time in registering, and the good ladies who made sandwiches to be distributed among the walkers.

And the Speaker of the Ontario Legislature Fred Cass, M.L.A. for Grenville-Dundas, along with Gordon Blair, M.P. for Grenville Carleton, who took time out from their busy schedules to give our walk an official start.

We must also remember that Mr. Al. Belmore of the Iroquois Motor Hotel, whose job is just starting. He has the task of receiving and recording all the returns from the walk.

Last but not least we would like to thank the Iroquois Post for their prizes they are sponsoring and the publicity which they have given us, without which we would not have been near as successful.

President Ladies Aux., Br. 370

Reception at St. John's

On Sunday, May 25th, at 10 a.m. Reverend Allan Rogers, Rector of St. John's will conduct a Service of Reception for the former congregation of Christ Church, Dixon's Corners, in which they will be received and welcomed by the Wardens and congregation of the family of St. John the Baptist, Iroquois.

Because it is the Feast of Pentecost, the third great Festival of the Christian Church, the congregation of St. Peter's South Mountain is invited to be present also for the greater unity and witness of the congregations that comprise the Anglican Church of Canada in the Mission of Iroquois.

Mr. Rogers would like to see this act of worship together grow into an annual event to keep a corporate observance of the Feast of Pentecost, the occasion of the first pouring forth of the Holy Spirit on the early Christian community. Someone has likened the initial event to the setting of the machinery of the Church into action; they were ready and waiting for the promise of God's strenthening power which enabled them to go forth as an incredible little band of committed people. In the Christian Bible, the second Chapter of the Acts of the Apostles tells the story.

The Service at St. John's will be the great feast of Love that was instituted by our Blessed Lord, Himself. The Rector will speak on the theme of "the person of the Holy Spirit", and St. John's choir under the leadership of Mr. George Eddy will sing J. Baden-Powell's "Hail, Festal Day".

The Service is scheduled for 10 a.m. to allow for a "conversation hour" and a time of acquaintance and fellowship at a reception in the Parish Hall. The whole purpose of the undertaking is that a congregation that is strong and live within itself is a much greater agent for identity and cooperation with the whole society and the Church both in and beyond the local community.

The Anglican community of Iroquois, Dixon's Corners and South Mountain is especially invited to make Sunday morning's worship more significantly an act of strong corporate witness by their personal attendance and participation in the "Service of Reception" at the Church of St. John the Baptist, Iroquois Sunday morning at 10 a.m.

BLOOD DONOR TIME AGAIN

Mr. John Pontbriand of the Cardinal Clinic, is again asking our support for donations, of blood in order to assure the people of this district that there will be blood at our hospitals in this section.

Donations from Iroquois increased from 19 in 1967 to 26 in 1968. This year let's again show an increase and in the future we may be able to again hold a clinic here and wipe out our miserable attempt of the last two held in Iroquois. In 1963 there were 38; in 1964—43.

The Clinic will be held at St. Paul's Anglican Hall, Cardinal, on Tuesday, May 27th, 1969 from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

D. SISTY,
Chairman.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arie Den Hartogh are Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Meyer of Amselvein Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer arrived in Canada last week for a stay of 3 weeks.

Anniversary Services at United

Guest Speaker for the Morning Service next Sunday in Iroquois United Church will be Rev. Gerald W. Paul, Chaplain at Carleton University, Ottawa. Mr. Paul graduated from Queen's University and Theological College with the B.A. and B.D. degrees. He was ordained by the United Church of Canada in 1957 and served the Pastoral Charges of Manitouwadge and Omond Memorial, North Bay, during the next seven years. In 1964 he was appointed Chaplain at Carleton, under an agreement by the Anglican, Presbyterian and United Churches whereby he would serve in an interdenominational capacity. He is Chairman of the Ecumenical Affairs Committee of the Ottawa Presbytery and Chairman of the National Steering Committee of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service. His theme for the Sunday Morning Service will be "Something Old — Something New"

The Evening Service will be held at 7:30, when the Westboro Youth Players of Ottawa will present their modern Dramatic Worship Service, "Eve of Destruction". This talented group of young people has developed a unique and reverent approach to the worship of God in a changing age. A special invitation is extended to all young people of the Seaway Valley for this Evening Worship Service, and, of course, everyone is welcome to attend.

Our present Church was opened and dedicated ten years ago. The following "Story of Our Church" was printed on the Calendar for the Service. Perhaps, after ten years, it is well to recall the thoughts and plans of the occasion.

Rains Hampering Farming

The heavy rains of the past two weeks have seriously threatened future crops in our area and especially the possibility of a good cash corn crop. With planting getting behind and fields so heavy with water that many areas will take several days of good dry weather before being ready for working, the possibility of some crops maturing in time is getting slim.

One thing the rains has done is to pretty well ensure another good hay crop and pastures are in excellent condition. Too much water, however, could again pose a serious threat to a better than average crop.

A serious loss of crops is felt by the entire community in the long run and we sincerely hope that the weather will clean up soon and permit farmers to get back on the land.

Volunteers In Short Supply

This country is in need of volunteers; the old-fashioned variety who turned out to lend a hand to others without expecting a fat cash remuneration. There are times, and circumstances, of course, when pay must be forthcoming to keep a project going. When people have to sacrifice beyond normal in time to helping others and there is no one else available, then it's pay or else.

When it comes to recreation and sports for our young people there has always been a shortage of volunteers. Every season brings with it a different sport and a need for help in getting the youngsters organized and properly coached.

The hockey season is over and now we're into softball and lacrosse. Swimming lessons will be coming up soon and supervisors, on a paid basis, for the beach and the park areas.

If we want all of these things in our community and we don't have volunteers, then we must pay. In most instances it looks like it will be on a pay basis.

Recent meetings in Toronto, attending by a local council member, pointed up the same problems in all small communities. In communities over 5,000 there isn't the same problem because of the money and assistance forthcoming from industry and provincial authorities.

So here we go again, fellow citizens. If you have a few hours you can spare, join the mad rush to help organize sports in the village.

Where Are Small Villages Headed?

When one looks back over the past ten years and the impact that our economy has had on small villages we have come to the realization that unless a municipality has a population in excess of 3000 there is a possibility of that community growing at a snail's pace.

Thinking back to government intentions to help decentralize industry from the large urban centres, pushing small communities to install adequate water and sewage systems to be prepared for the migration of industry, the current trend to centralization of education and of village and town councils, we find a great contradiction in the actual facts and in the dreams of yesteryear.

Ten years ago we were led to believe that industry would be enticed by various means to locate in our more rural areas of Ontario; that small communities could offer so much in the way of land, and services, that there was little doubt that industry would jump at the opportunity to seek us out. Iroquois, was fortunate in having water mains installed so many years back that we thought we were ahead of the game. Then came the Seaway and we found ourselves with a modern sewage treatment plant, new water mains, a supply tower, all modern facilities in public buildings, churches and schools, and on the mainline CNR and 401 and No. 2 highways. Situated between the major markets of Toronto and Montreal on the greatest waterways, we couldn't lose. It was just a matter of time.

Time we've had lots of; enquiries from firms have come and gone and our city fathers still aren't sure just what it takes to entice an industry to come stay with us. And they've tried . . . that's for sure.

When an industry sends its representatives to visit a community to look it over, they don't want to meet with half the town. They meet with as few people as possible, gather all the information they can and away they go. The local people pretty well have to sit back and wait it out. Now and then circumstances provides an opportunity to follow up the lead but even then there is little more that can be done.

With so little land owned by the municipality there isn't much that can be done about offering a free parcel of land; tax concessions are not easy to come by and availability of housing and a labour force are also on the "want" column.

So we've been going through a cycle . . . first we were headed for decentralization; now we're headed back again to centralization.

Wouldn't it be nice if one of these days the boys in Toronto would make up their mind which way they're going.

If they can.

Scriptures selected by the American Bible Society

He marvels at the majesty of the clouds and the vastness of the sky. He thrills at the reflections cast upon the water by the rainbow palette of the setting sun. He is awed, humbled — yet, at the same time, fiercely proud.

His feelings contradict each other. For he knows he is a small creature dwarfed by the overpowering glory of nature, yet, at the same time, a man — a man created in the image of God.

Of course, we all need to be humble, but we also need to be proud. In one sense we are insignificant, and in another we are all-important. The problem lies in finding the proper balance between the two.

To understand the whole man — the all of you, you must turn to His Church where God is forever revealing the mysteries of His universe. Here we are taught truths that have endured throughout the ages. Here we must come if we are to find the proper balance in life.

Long, Hot Summer

This is going to be a long, hot summer. And not only for those U.S. cities with their kerosene-soaked black ghettoes just waiting for a match to be struck.

It's going to be a long, hot summer for a lot of Canadians. High among their ranks will be parents, policemen and resort operators.

Why? Because the supply of summer jobs for students is far, far below the demand, and there are going to be thousands of restless, bored young people looking for excitement.

It's a natural for an eruption of rumbles, hassles and vandalism which could make the summer a nightmare for the already-harried victims listed above.

For the last decade, there has been a steadily-growing population of young bums of both sexes Summer - time, warm - weather bums.

These are the kids who don't really want a job. They l i v e from hand to mouth, sleeping on the beaches, or in the old cars that are part of their scene. They are not necessarily evil or vicious. In fact, most of them aren't.

But they're aimless and irresponsible and rude and selfish and dirty, and lazy as cats. Cats that aren't house-broken.

They're bored, and they're boring. They talk in endless circles about nothing. They even bore each other. But they're united in one thing — their contempt for the adult world.

High on the their list of interests, which are extremely limited, are sex and drugs. On weekends, they are infiltrated by the "pushers", many of them amateurs, who arrive from the cities with their little packages of pot and speed and LSD.

Lurking on the fringe of this bundle of bums is another group — the teenie - boppers. These are not kids — they are children —, who are just beginning to make the scene, who find it fascinating, and who want to try anything that's going.

In the cities, same thing, except that it's shopping plazas and public parks and the streets, instead of the beaches.

Well, add to this parasitic swarm all the kids who wanted, and needed, jobs this summer, angry, frustrated, and you can see what's coming. I hope I'm wrong, but two and two still make four.

Permissive parents, an inflationary society in which even young people need money; give masses of them nothing to do but look for kicks all summer, and the old crystal ball looks pretty muddy.

When I was a teenager (said the boring middle - aged man), summer jobs were even scarcer. He who nabbed one was deeply envied. My first job, at 17, was working on a Great Lakes steamer, 12 hours a day, seven days a week, $1 a day. And every other kid in town thought I'd hit a bonanza. Boys who couldn't find a job played baseball and swam about eight hours a day. Girls did whatever girls do, giggled probably, and swam and picked berries.

Today's jobless youth barely muster enough energy to have a swim. In the day-time, that is. At night, they flower into some sort of life and go to bed at dawn. And wake up. Bored.

There are a couple of villains in the piece, of course. One is industry; the other government. Industry could absorb twice as many students as it does, at comparatively little cost. Industry is the first to whine about the "products" it gets, but does little to help produce a first-class product. One or two future employees of high calibre from a summer group would easily repay the cost. And it would be good public relations on which industry spends thousands, mostly on whiskey.

Governments could, and should, plan work projects to absorb most of the surplus students They'd get it all back in taxes shortly. But if they sit on their behinds and allow a generation of bitter, lazy, alienated bums to sprout, it will cost them plenty in the end.

(That's quite a sentence, but no puns intended. Behinds, bums and end, indeed.)

Hope your kid has a summer job. Better still, hope you're not a parent or a policeman.

Toronto Scene

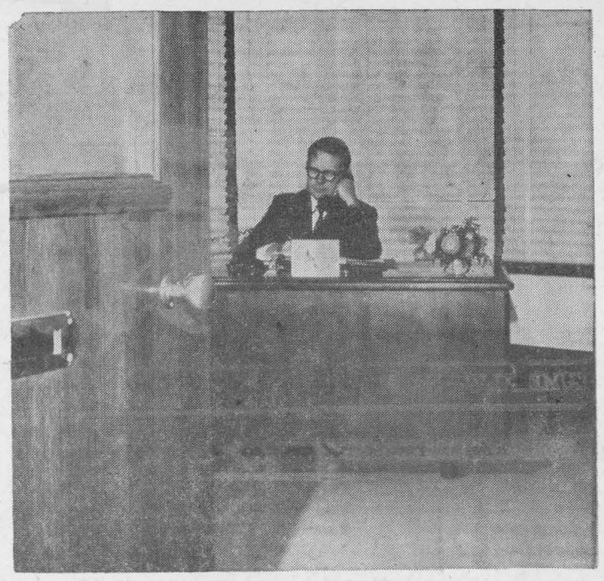
The highlight of this 19th week of the Second Session of the Ontario Parliament was the completion of the debate on Estimates of the Department of Social and Family Services. This debate begun on the first day of April dragged through six weeks with some fifty hours of actual debate and set a record for ineffective action in the Legislature. The estimates of the Department of Mines which then followed proceeded much more sensibly and reasonably quickly. The material presented by this Minister and elicited from him by Opposition spokesmen indicated the tremendous mineral resources of our Province and the very positive steps now being taken by the Provincial Government to ensure their proper mining and processing within Canada and preferably in Ontario.

The Ontario Farmers' Union members in large numbers attended the meeting of the House Committee on Agriculture when the Bill to provide for a Province-wide farmers' vote on one farmers' organization was being discussed and passed. The OFU delegation were anxious that their special proposal be included on the ballot but the Members decided against the ballot presented to farmers putting forward the special views of any single existing organization.

The most acrimonious debate of the week was that on second reading of the Bill introduced by the Minister of Health to provide for establishing and subsidising homes and care centres for emotionally disturbed children; for reasons well known to the Members of all parties, the New Democratic Party Members opposed the Bill verbally, violently and viciously, claiming it to be a sham and a denial of basic rights. On the other hand, the Liberal and Conservative Members who spoke admitted that while it was not the best Bill possible and might need amendment in Committee, it was a step in the right direction and should be passed (as it was on a division) so that some opportunity of, and basis for, action would be available.

Two announcements during the week are of interest, the first by Provincial highways subsidy to the Prime Minister was that the cities and separated towns would be raised from 33 1/3 per cent to 50 percent in the next fiscal year (Prescott is the only municipality in Grenville-Dundas to benefit from this); the other by the Minister of Labour was to the effect that effective July 1st next, minimum monthly pensions for the totally disabled paid by the Workmen's Compensation Board would be $175.00 and benefits from the Board for temporarily disabled workers would be increased by $10.00 per week.

GORDON BLAIR, M.P., REPORTS



THE ABUSE OF DRUGS

There is growing concern about the abuse of drugs. More than seven hundred people attended a recent discussion of this problem in Prescott. Church and other groups in this constituency have organized discussions reflecting such public concern, particularly by parents of older teenagers.

PROBLEM OF MARIJUANA

Attention has been focused on the rapidly exploding problem of marijuana. In the whole period 1920 to 1962, there were only sixty marijuana prosecutions in all of Canada. In 1968 there were twenty-seven hundred cases and obviously thousands of users were not detected. Surveys in some metropolitan areas show an alarmingly high percentage of high school students have tried marijuana.

EFFECTS NOT KNOWN

Not too much is known about the long-term effects of this drug. Some people nowadays are inclined to dismiss it as being unimportant, less dangerous than alcohol. It is said not be physically addictive like hard drugs such as heroin. But there is no question that it creates a problem of psycological dependency. Doctors while admitting incomplete knowledge of long term effects of its use, know of cases of extreme psychiatric and other damage. In its strong form, hasish, it is the curse of the Middle East.

A PROBLEM FOR SOCIETY

The problem of the use of this drug is not one alone for law and law enforcement. Its prevalence reflects a condition in our society which is frightening whether it arises from overaffluence, permissiveness or lack of real parental concern for children. Clearly the control of marijuana is not going to depend on passing more laws but on greater public awareness of the implications of the use of this and other drugs.

SPECIAL DRUG STUDY

This is the reason for the creation by the Hon. John Munro, the Minister of National Health and Welfare, of a special committee to investigate the non medical uses of drugs.

Other drugs are also causes for concern. Pep pills (known as "Speed"), barbituates, e v e n drugs like aspirin which most people think are harmless are overused and abused. Unfortunately for Canadians, marijuana is something like the tip of the iceburg, an indication of a major problem of drug abuse by young and old alike.

RESPONSIBLE YOUNG PEOPLE

Although some young people have made headlines through drugs, far more have made them recently through sincere efforts to help their fellow men. In the past few weeks many "Miles for Millions" have been walked in every part of this riding for many good causes. This is the best answer to those too ready to criticize our youth. They obviously have not gone to pot. We should remember the intelligent, responsible challenging attitude of most young Canadians and maintain a proper perspective about our drug problems.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Year after year I am deeply moved by the generosity of the citizens and civic organizations of the communities of Iroquois and Matilda. It is amazing how the citizens respond to new challenges, projects and social functions on every occasion. In my contacts with people and organizations of other communities I discovered how much is done and accomplished by our citizens. I know of communities where civic organizations do not contribute a nickel to scholarships, bursaries or other worthwhile activities. In our community every organization contributes. There has not been a single occasion during my stay in Iroquois that a request has not been fulfilled in a positive and very generous manner.

On the basis of the magnanimous response for financial support for the first Canadian exchange student to go to South America (Ecuador) and for past contributions to the United Nations Club and History Club, I would like to avail myself of this opportunity and extend my sincerest gratitude on behalf of all the beneficiaries. I would like to mention in particular the Iroquois Lions, Iroquois Legion, Iroquois Women's Institute, Matilda Women's Institute, Catholic Women's League of Iroquois and the Seaway District High School Students' Council.

Henry Malon.

Lands & Forests Report

THE EFFECTS OF WEATHER
by M.S. Millar, R.P.F.,
Management Forester

The cool rainy weather that we recently experienced has had many varied effects on activities in the Kemptville Forest District.

The weather is hindering our spring planting program although approximately 48 per cent of the 3,100,000 trees have been planted to date. Access to planting sites has been difficult and many of the lower areas are flooded and will have to be left for planting until they are drier. Tree lifting at the Kemptville Tree Nursery has been hampered by muddy fields.

On the bright side, however, is the fact that the incidence of grass and brush fires has been lower and with the new grass now appearing the danger of this type of fire should be reduced.

Logging has just about come to a temporary halt due to soft bush roads and the half load season. Our fish stocking program has also been affected by the sloppy road access to some of the inland lakes. Stream and river levels are so high and the water flowing so fast that fishing is quite hazardous. However, any previously low water tables should now be well replenished.

The cool temperature accompanying the wet weather should delay the emergence of the white pine weevil and the ribes plants that help to spread the white pine blister rust. This will allow sufficient time to still carry out corrective action to control this insect and disease and protect the white pine.

So though most of us have little use for this wet, cool weather it does have some beneficial effects. We guess that the golfers and fishermen are the most impatient for sunny, warmer weather.

CORNWALL RECREATION AREA ENTERS SECOND YEAR OF OPERATION
by: G. E. Raine,
Fisheries Biologist

The spring of 1969 marks the beginning of the second year for the Cornwall Recreational area with its 14 acre put and take fishing pond. The recreational area has now been well known in Eastern Ontario and indications are that during the second year, even more anglers will come and try their skill.

On May 1st, the 65' deep quarry received 2500 brook trout the first of five proposed plantings over the coming summer months. This year ten percent of all stocked trout in the quarry will be marked with jaw tags being attached to the lower jaw of the trout. Tag return boxes will have been placed around the quarry for anglers to place any recovered tags. It is important that anglers return all tags in this manner as the restocking program will depend on tag returns.

For the future the proposed multiple use recreational program of the 220 acre site will eventually provide picnicking, nature trails, as well as fishing.

CAREER EXPO 1969

All last week at the Exhibition Hall in the Civic Centre in Ottawa there was a career exhibition for the students of the Ottawa and area school system. The Department of Lands and Forests took part in this programme to acquaint students with the career opportunities that exist in our Department.

PREVENTING BASAL CROOK IN SCOTCH PINE CHRISTMAS TREES
by: C.F. Coons,
Farm Forester

In order that maximum returns from Christmas Tree plantations are obtained, it is important that a large number of high quality saleable Christmas trees are grown on each acre planted.

Basal crook will often reduce tree value even though the rest of the tree is of good quality.

While some species and strains of trees develop straight stems more readily than others many basal crooks are a result of trees that were planted in a leaning position, or, were later pushed into a leaning position by environmental factors such as, frost heaving, snow, wind or ice.

When the young seedlings are left in a leaning position their new growth normally turns upright and a crook then forms in the stem.

To help prevent basal crook in Scotch pine Christmas tree plantations it is recommended that care be taken to ensure that the seedlings are planted in an upright position. In the spring, the year after tree planting it is also recommended that growers walk the plantations and locate and straighten any leaning trees since frost, snow and ice appear to have their greatest effect in causing trees to lean during the first year. Straightening can be done by inserting a planting bar or spade into the soil near the base of the seedling and pushing it into an upright position.

It may be necessary to replant or place a small amount of soil around trees that have been heaved by frost.

A little care when planting and straightening the year after planting should result in production of higher quality Scotch pine Christmas trees and a more favourable income for the grower.

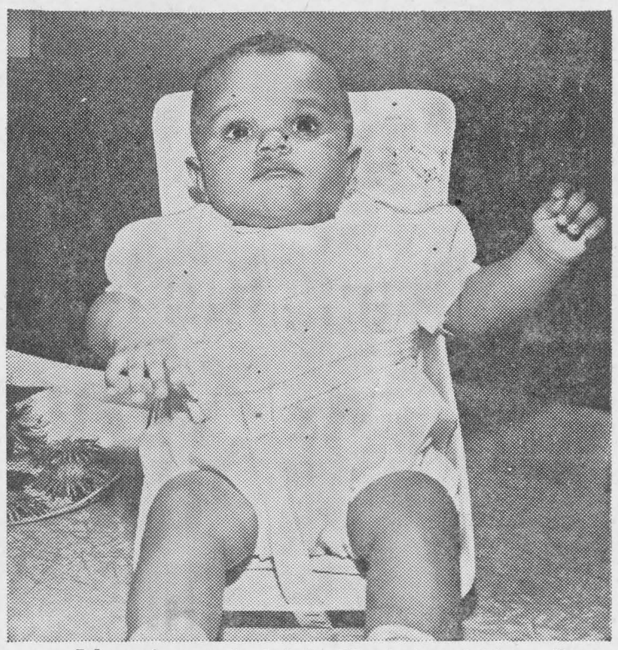
TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate



Johnny is a contented, healthy baby, eight months old. Nothing seems to ruffle his customary good nature. He needs to be adopted so he will grow up in a loving permanent home. Johnny's background is Irish, French and Negro and he has very dark eyes, brown curly hair and medium brown skin. He is quite responsive and alert, turning his head quickly at the sound of his name. He recognizes familiar faces readily and loves to be held and cuddled. When strangers are around he becomes quiet while he surveys them for long periods. Young as he is, this little fellow has had several moves. Now, like Charlie Brown's friend Linus, he seeks security in a treasured blanket which he bunches up beside his face before he can go to sleep. To inquire about adopting Johnny please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general information about adoption ask your local Children's Aid Society.

Iroquois United

The Story of our Church

In 1790 the Rev. William Losee a Methodist Episcopal clergyman from the United States, came to Matilda. He was ordained in Canada in 1792, preached through this area, and won many converts.

The first Methodist Episcopal Church was built on Point Iroquois in 1800. It stood on the south side of what was then the main highway leading west.

A camp meeting was held on the Point in 1823, and so many people were converted that a new church became necessary. Four acres of land were bought, where our cemetery is located now, and a much larger stone church was erected by 1825. This served the congregation until 1861

When a canal was built in 1846-47, Point Iroquois became an island. This made it difficult to hold services over there, and the congregation decided to build a church down in the village proper. They bought land on College Street and by 1861 had a fine new stone Methodist Episcopal Church erected.

Meanwhile the M. E Church of Canada was anxious to become entirely independent of the same church in the United States. Negotiations were carried on and by 1828 this separation had taken place. But as is often the case, bitterness resulted, and many withdrew from the M.E. body to join the Wesleyan Methodist group, and they built their first church on the corner of College and Chestnut Streets in 1855.

With time, patience and prayer the breach between the two bodies was gradually closed. By 1874 our minister the Rev. Marmaduke Pearson, grandfather of the Hon. Lester B. Pearson, found many in both churches willing to co-operate in building another new church, our fifth, on the site where the Wesleyan Church stood.

No time was lost in choosing a plan; awarding the contract for the building which was started in 1875. So rapidly did the work advance that our new church was ready to be dedicated on Feb. 11, 1877, with the Rev. T. G. Williams as the first pastor. So generously did the people give, that it was possible to pay in cash the full contract price $22,000 and still have $1,000 with which to buy a pipe organ in use until destroyed by fire on February 11, 1912. Repairs were made quickly, both to the choir loft and to the body of the church. A fine new pipe organ was installed, considered so good that it is to serve us now in this new church with a new console and magnetic control.

However, perfect harmony did not yet exist within the Methodist Church. Many members of the M.E. Church of Canada did not go into the union. In Iroquois they continued to worship in their church on College St. West. Further negotiations were carried on and by 1886 the Methodist Episcopal Church did finally join with the other body to become the Methodist Church of Canada. After that the church built in 1861 was sold to the Roman Catholic congregation, and used by them until it was declared unsafe and torn down.

After the union of 1925 our Methodist Church became the Iroquois United Church. Six pastors since then have served our congregation: The Rev. Mahlon Robinson; The Rev. Thomas Knowles; The Rev. J. H. Hodgson; The Rev. E.W.S. Coates; The Rev. Wesley Hutton; The Rev. G. F. Dangerfield and Rev. J. Leslie Dean, 1959—

It was with real sorrow that we were forced to abandon our old church and see it demolished in 1957. However, as we now meet to worship in this our beautiful new one, may we look forward to many years of fellowship as a happy united congregation.

An interesting event in the life of the church was the formation of the parent body of the Women's Missionary Society in 1832.

Volunteers In Short Supply

Smaller communities such as Iroquois are having their trying times these days in getting adequate assistance in promoting and operating recreation and sports facilities. Perhaps the greatest problem is in finding enough people to fill the vacancies of managers and coaches of the various teams for hockey, ball and so on.

Mr. and Mrs. John Haldane attended the Ontario Municipal Recreation Association conference May 7-10, held in Toronto, to discuss mutual problems in these smaller communities and to seek ways and means of alleviating the problems.

There must be community involvement if an adequate program is to be developed. The family can add or detract from living, learning and leisure by the amount of their involvement; the family is needed because teachers are not available, the family image is to "bring the child, not send him"; senior citizens can help, and have skills that can be of real service if they are sought out.

A greater use of the school facilities for recreational purposes should be brought about, as well as a greater involvement by teachers who are trained in specified fields of recreation. Perhaps the basis behind many of the suggestions made at the conference can be boiled down to the realization that we must educate for leisure not for tomorrow, but for now.

And people of all ages in the small community should step in and take his or her fair share of the responsibility of making local recreation a reality as a useful and important part of our daily lives.

Community Service

The Seaway District Community Service this year will again sponsor the community summer day camps which operated with such success at Dixon's Corners and Glen Becker last year. Peter Campbell, a student at Queen's University, has been reappointed by the United Church of Canada as student director of the camp. The camp will operate week-days for three weeks in the Dixon's Corners area (Aug. 4th to Aug. 22) and three weeks in the Glen Becker area (July 7 to July 25). The camp will again be open to all children from kindergarten age to grade eight who can provide their own transportation to the camp sites. Attendance will be free

The programme will include sports, active games, quiet games singing games, singing, art and crafts field trips, excursions, daily devotions, drama, etc. Six senior leaders are to be selected through the local high schools, and will be given a one week training course at the Ontario Department of Education Camp Roblin Lake the last week of June. These young people will provide the leadership for the full six weeks during which the camp is in operation, and will be assisted by leaders-in-training, who may offer their help for shorter periods of time. It is hoped that many special programmes will be organized utilizing the help of adult volunteers who have special skills (in crafts, music, or sports, for example) and who are willing to give some of their time to the camp.

Anyone who is interested in further details of the camp, or who wishes to offer his (her) assistance should contact Mr. Campbell, c/o Karl Bell, RR2, Brinston. Also welcome would be ideas for programme and financial assistance.

Old Deed

John H. Gordier, of Ottawa, sent along a letter this week, enclosing a copy of a deed to land which dates back to 1838. The deed covers a parcel of land in the second concession of Matilda, part of Lot 28.

The deed contains the names of Philip Shaver and R.H. Ellison, with Edmond Doran signing for the Township of Matilda. John Strader sold this parcel to J. W. Rose for the sum of 100 pounds, a rather princely sum in those days.

A Church Closes

In the presence of friends and members of Christ Church, Dixon's Corners, the Bishop of Ottawa read the final act of secularization on Sunday, May 11th at 3 p.m., and the congregation left forever Christ Church as a place of worship, taking with them for use in and beyond the parish the holy objects and gifts used in the worship of the Anglican community at Dixon's Corners.

Assisting the Rt. Rev. E.S. Reed was the Venerable W.H. Bradley, Archdeacon of Cornwall who read Evensong.

The Rector, Reverend Allan Rogers baptised into the Christian Faith: Gary Lee Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnston; and Brenda Lee Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hess, both grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnston.

The Bishop of Ottawa dedicated an Altar Book in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnston, presented by their family, Bert, Walter, Garnet, Arthur and Ruby.

Organist for the occasion was Mrs. George Watson, and Sydney Johnston carried the Bishop's Pastoral Staff. As a final act of missionary witness together, the offering was allocated to the work of the Church beyond the Parish.

A Service of Reception is planned at St. John's, Iroquois, for the Feast of Pentecost. The Eucharist will be celebrated at 10 a.m., and a conversation hour will follow over coffee.

Members of St. Peter's, South Mountain, the former Christ Church congregation, and the family of St. John's will worship together first as a corporate body who make up this Mission of Iroquois, followed by a further keeping of the Feast of Pentecost in fellowship together.

To honour the occasion of closing Christ Church, Dixon's Corners, a most interesting souvenir booklet has been compiled, and is available free of charge to people who may appreciate a little keepsake of the history and legend, the life and work of the Anglican Church whose ministry in this community extends over a period of some century and a half.

Man To Watch

(Reprint from The Financial Post)

When an MP gets to be chairman of the powerful procedure and organization committee, it can be said automatically that he has made his mark, at least on the government.

The present chairman, Gordon Blair (Grenville-Carleton), had previously had no chance to make an impression on Parliament. The 49-year-old Blair is a rookie MP, first elected last June.

Because he had had no experience inside Parliament, the choice of Blair was astonishing, yet it seems to have worked well. Both Conservative and NDP members of the committee have told FP that Blair is doing a good job.

He has to handle such experts as Allan MacEachen, rules expert for the government under former Prime Minister Lester Pearson; Stanley Knowles, of the NDP; and Gordon Fairweather, former attorney general of New Brunswick and PC rules reformer; not to mention the formidable Marcel Lambert, former Speaker of the House in the last days of the Diefenbaker regime.

The fact is that Blair seems to have been chosen precisely because he brings a fresh view to the age-old parliamentary problems. Furthermore, as long as the committee remains reasonably cooperative and in general agreement, expertise on the Opposition side is a help rather than a hindrance to the chairman.

Although Blair represents an Ottawa riding, he was born in Regina and educated in Saskatchewan (where he won a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford) and is very much a western product.

As a lieutenant in the Irish Regiment of Canada, Blair was badly wounded in Italy. He practised law in Saskatchewan and came to Ottawa in 1951 as executive assistant to Stuart Garson, former premier of Manitoba who was justice minister under Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

Blair, in his Ottawa practice, has kept much of his business connection with the west. But he also plunged into eastern politics and was president of the Liberal party in Ontario from 1964 until last year.

Clean-shaven, stocky, with fair hair and a persistent forelock on his forehead, Blair speaks slowly, distinctly and with deliberation.

On the serious side, he confesses to reading biographies on great political figures, such as Lord Action, while leaving detective stories to his wife, an avid who-dun-it reader. He has taken in the whole swath of recent Canadian political books, and finds Peter Newman's Distemper of Our Times the best written, although he does not accept all its judgments.

Like most MPs, Blair finds it a problem to keep fit and get enough exercise in winter, because of the long hours in Parliament. In summer, there's no trick to it.

He has a country place at Christie Lake, near Perth, where he loves to swim and sail with his wife and two sons.

"I have lost count of the number of children I have taught to water-ski," he told FP.

The nice sense of balance required for water-skiing is just the thing to develop a sure-footed chairman of parliamentary committees.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Queen's Park Comment

by Donald C. MacDonald, MPP

Last week, after the longest debate in its history, the Legislature approved the spending estimates of the Department of Social and Family Services.

A total of about 50 hours was spent arguing the detailed expenditure of the department. As a result many observers at Queen's Park complained that time was being wasted, that the opposition was filibustering, that the same arguments were being repeated over and over.

But members of my party weren't talking just to hear the sound of their own voices. Fact is, we were winning some solid gains for Ontario people. If it took a long time before our points were acknowledged, that is perhaps a measure of the government's determination not to concede anything.

Estimates debates are really the only opportunity the opposition has to come to grips with the government's basic policies. In theory, no department can spend the taxpayers' money until its spending plans have been approved by the MPP's. This is our chance to ask questions, win assurances of action, extract admissions of failure, and generally to exercise the watchdog role so essential to the working of a parliamentary democracy.

The point is not whether the debates take a long time. In itself, that should be some assurance to people their interests are being fully voiced. The real point is that we are getting down to fundamental issues, and winning some promises of government action.

Judged by these standards, the debate on the Social and Family Services estimates was a success.

Dr. Morton Shulman won 1,200 indigent chronically ill patients in Ontario a monthly allowance of up to $15, to provide them with some minimum amenities of life in hospital.

We found out that there was a sum of $1,000,000 last year in the Indian Community Development Services branch that was never spent, despite the crying need for more assistance to our native peoples. After a tense and often acrimonious debate, the Minister assured us that never again would funds thus approved remain unspent. As a result, the 35,000 Indians who live on Ontario reserves will benefit this year in increased development assistance.

After a long session which ended at 2:35 in the morning, the Minister grudgingly promised the House that welfare recipients would be advised of their right to appeal rejected or insufficient claims to a Board of Review. This Board, supposed to have been set up a year ago, only went into operation this winter. Though it is a condition of the province receiving federal assistance towards welfare payments, no welfare recipients even know about its existence! An estimated 100,000 more people in Ontario will benefit as a result of this lengthy debate.

It is not easy for an opposition party, which can always be outvoted by the government majority, to achieve results of this kind. We have to use every tactic at our disposal. Sometimes it seems that debates go on too long. But I can never understand why reporters get so excited about that. After all, we're only doing the job you pay us to do.

Rising Costs Create the problem

As with every other business, costs have risen in the publishing business at a rapid pace this past couple of years. It has forced us to raise our subscription rates this year, as have all newspapers. Some papers and magazines have gone out of business due to these costs. Newsprint, ink ,labour, postage, have all added their share to the burden. Now we must raise our rate to keep abreast of these costs.
