Maler to compete at nationals

Tops in SD&G science fair

CORNWALL — After winning awards in five categories at the United Counties Science Fair, Arielle Maler will be travelling to Newfoundland next month for the Canada-Wide Science Fair. The NDDHS student's project earned her a free week-long trip to St. John's to compete against students from across the country.

With her project "Rise and Fall of Balance," Maler studied the human sense of balance and what happens to it as we age. Maler volunteers at the University of Ottawa and took an interest in the research on balance that is ongoing there. She said she also had a previous interest in balance because she's a dancer.

Once she understood how balance works, Maler went on to compare three physiotherapy strategies used to help build balancing abilities. Using subjects who were already involved in University of Ottawa studies, she had them perform a series of balance-building exercises. First they followed a human trainer, then a virtual environment on a computer screen, then they exercised in a complete virtual environment wearing a head-mounted display.

Maler found that following the computer screen led patients to make the most progress in building their balance, slightly more than working with a person. She said her subjects seemed to be having more fun following the computer screen and tended to stretch their abilities further. Subjects wearing the virtual reality helmet did the worst, tending to lose their confidence.

"Rise and Fall of Balance" won the Outstanding Research Award, the Top Medical Laboratory Science Project, Best in Human Biology, Best Senior Project and Most Deserving Project from the regional fair. There were 80 other projects entered in the science fair from 34 schools in eastern Ontario.

Maler has competed in the United Counties Science Fair twice before.

Colorectal test kits

Cancer screening now more private

WINCHESTER — The Winchester office of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit (EOHU) has been recruited by Cancer Care Ontario to participate in the province's first colorectal screening project. Free test kits will be distributed through family physicians, Winchester District Memorial Hospital and the EOHU office.

With the launch of this new campaign, the EOHU will be contacting local doctors to encourage them to recommend colorectal screening to their patients. A public information campaign will also encourage people to ask their doctors questions about colorectal cancer.

Colorectal cancer is a cancer of the colon or the rectum. Almost all cases of colorectal cancer begin with the development of benign polyps which are grape-like growths. Removing these polyps can prevent cancer from developing.

Over the next year, the EOHU will be recruiting men and women age 50 to 75 for the fecal occult blood test (FOBT) screening. Screening for colorectal cancer is very simple. A FOBT is done at home by the patient. This test will detect invisible amounts of blood in the stool which could be caused by polyps.

If the test results are positive for polyps, the patient will follow up with a colonoscopy and the growths can then be removed. When detected early, colorectal cancer has a 90 per cent cure rate over five years.

"Early treatment is a lot less complicated" says Marian Rose; she's a nurse with the EOHU and is an eight-year colorectal cancer survivor. "I was diagnosed with colorectal cancer and underwent surgery. I received an abdominal perineal resection and a permanent colostomy.

"I then underwent six months of chemo and six weeks of radiation." This is why early detection is important. "Treatment can only do so much," said Marian, adding that you can't fight your risk factors, but you can identify them.

About 75 per cent of newly diagnosed cases are with people who are not symptomatic, and their only risk factor is the fact that they are aged 50 to 75. The EOHU is encouraging everyone age 50 to 75 to get a FOBT test kit. The kit is free with your health card and in the end, it can save your life.

The test kits are currently being shipped to eastern Ontario and will be available in the immediate future. For more information, contact the Winchester EOHU office at 774-2739.

WDMH to produce directory

WINCHESTER — In the near future, when in-patients arrive at Winchester District Memorial Hospital, they will receive a 30-page booklet describing the services available to them. The directories will include information such as how to rent a television, cafeteria hours, and how to receive phone calls.

"The hospital has been looking for a suitable vehicle to provide information to patients and families on a wide range of topics, such as hospital services, visiting hours and health-related community resources," said acting CEO Joan Garrow.

This type of directory has become common in many Ontario heath-care facilities, and has proven itself a useful tool to have available. Willow Publishing has produced many of these directories in the past and will be producing the one for WDMH.

The directory will compile a lot of information in one handy spot. It will help people in self-referring themselves to facilities in the community such as the Nor-Dun Seniors Support Centre. It will also be useful in training new hospital staff.

The directory will be provided free of charge to WDMH. Advertising revenues support the production costs. Over the next month, a sales representative from the publishing company will be in Winchester and the surrounding area working on the project. The directory should be available at WDMH by early summer.

Industry Canada provides South Dundas with deadline

WILLIAMSBURG — Those waiting to find out the results of a feasibility study on South Dundas's fibre-optics network and possible wireless expansion will have to wait a little while longer. A new deadline from Industry Canada gives the township until June 1 to make up its mind on whether to accept the federal money that has been offered to expand the broadband Internet system.

While members of South Dundas council received a draft version of the report from Lanark Network Associates a month ago, further tweaking and exploration of the issues have delayed the study's public unveiling. Industry Canada has been kept apprised of the delay and has put in writing the final deadline of June 1.

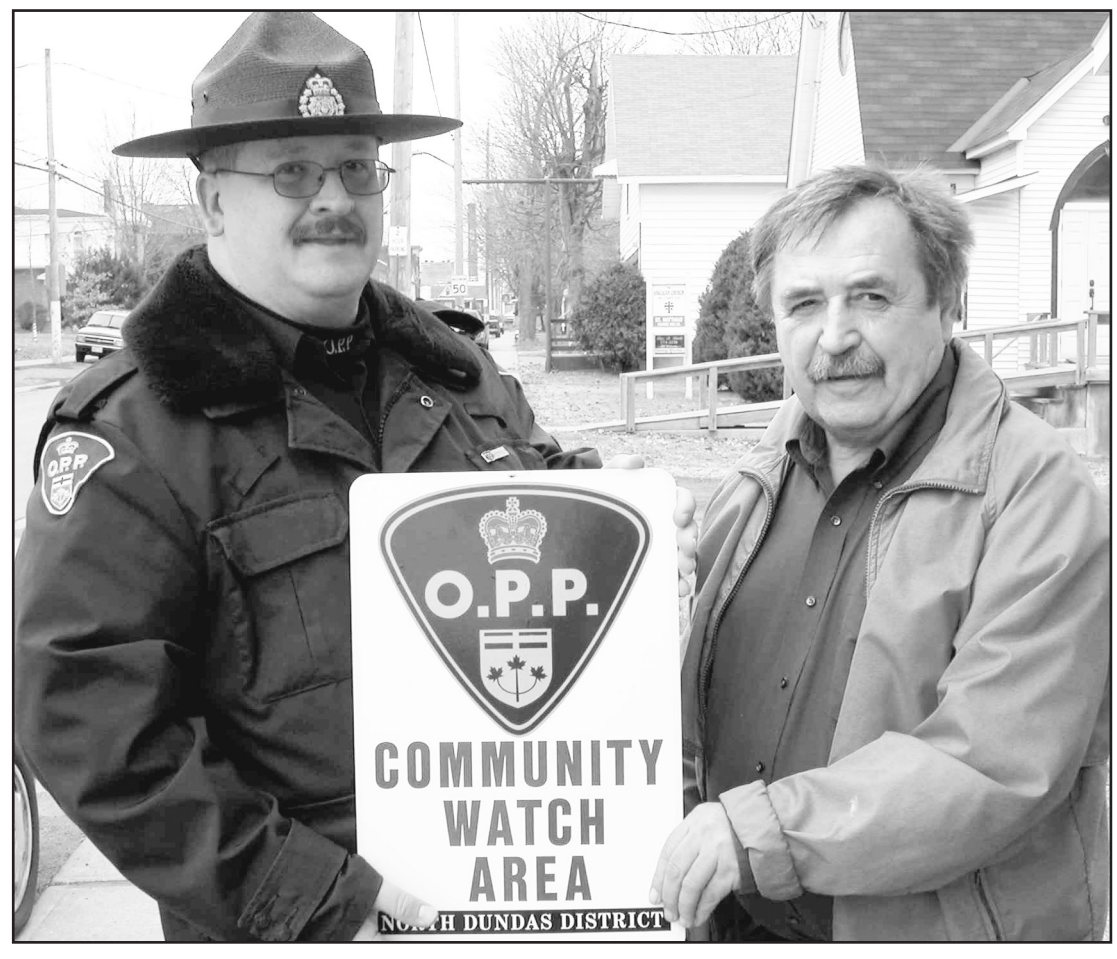
"We're looking not at next week, but the week after for a public meeting," explained township CAO Andy Brown on Monday (April 5), which would put the meeting sometime during the week of April 19 to 23. The venue is yet to be determined, but Brown said council wants to hold it somewhere large enough to accommodate everyone who is interested.

"Lanark (Network Associates) will be there to provide an overview," said Brown. "The public should have a chance to ask questions," he added. Brown also said he expects council to have a fairly clear idea of where it wants to go with the project by that time.

Councillor Sandra Bailey announced to the South Dundas Chamber of Commerce on March 4 that the report revealed the township is legally unable to hold shares in the capital corporation that the broadband expansion business plan called for. Looking at other options to replace this structure may be one of the reasons for the delay.

The South Dundas Chamber of Commerce, as well as regular citizens in favor of accepting the $1.7 million offered to the township by Industry Canada last October, have been pressing council to move quickly to secure the funding, which is earmarked for expanding the current high-speed Internet system into the rural areas of the township using wireless technology.

The council that took office at the end of last year commissioned the new feasibility study at a cost of about $20,000. Some of the members now at the council table promised to end the township's involvement with, and continued financial support of, the broadband system during their campaigns.



Sign of spring
Senior OPP constable Al Lummiss (left) and Shaw Road resident Nick Zrymiak want homeowners to be aware of any unusual activity in their neighborhoods and immediately report such incidents to police. Best Overall

With her award-winning project she follows in the footsteps of her older siblings, Adrian and Robyn, both of whom have won at the science fair before, and are currently studying at University of Ottawa.

BEST IN FAIR

The project that was selected as the overall best at Saturday's United Counties Science Fair was the work of Savannah Vetter, a Grade 6 student from Morewood Public School. Unfortunately, Vetter is considered too young to make the trip to Newfoundland, only those in Grades 7 to 12 are allowed to go.

Her project, titled "In the Zone," looked at the effects of the earth's ozone layer on milkweed plants. She monitored leaves in nine locations, and compared those in shade with those in sunlight. Those in direct light suffered negative effects from the increased exposure to ozone.

In addition to the overall award, Vetter took home the Best Atom Project trophy, Best in Environmental Science trophy, and an Outstanding Research Award (which netted her $200).

Curiously, Vetter's sister, Sarah, also won the right to advance to the Canada-Wide Science Fair last year, when she was also in Grade 6 and too young to claim the trip.

Osgoode Township High School

Reunion to feature alumni talent

METCALFE — The Osgoode Township High School 50th Reunion Committee has been busy lining up alumni to entertain at the various events during the three-day reunion, which is scheduled for May 14, 15, and 16. Seeing past students strut their stuff on stage during the weekend will add to the fun for reunion goers, who are coming from as far away as British Columbia and the Cayman Islands.

Plans for Friday night at the reunion include a wine and cheese gathering from 7 to 8 pm for past and present teachers and staff, and a pub night, starting at 8 pm, for all reunion participants. Both events are free with the $10 basic reunion registration cost and both will take place at the high school.

Confirmed for the Friday night pub night, May 14, are the following alumni entertainers: Anne (Ladouceur) Lyons; two generations of the Acres family; two generations of the Cooper family and stepdancers; Bill Savage and Tom Gilliland; Eric Hofmann and Dave Stachon; Lynda Craig; the band First and Foremost with Chris Cavers and Trevor Clarmo; and the Bards o' Bytown featuring Darin Lampman and Fraser Mackenzie.

A variety show will be the focus for the afternoon of Sat., May 15. It will featuring some younger alumni, as well as a performance by the OTHS high school band.

"Most of them are very keen to be performing," said entertainment committee member Judy James about the various alumni who have been contacted and asked to participate. "All eras are represented," she added. "It's going to be an enjoyable blast from the past. Pre-registration is recommended."

Saturday evening will include a roast beef dinner at 6 pm, and a dance ($30 for dinner and dance, $10 for dance only) to be held on the ice surface in the Metcalfe Arena. The pre-dinner entertainment is a group headed by Helen Parsons and Ron Gallinger, and the after-dinner entertainment is an original composition by Graham Hicks and comedy entertainment by Paul Mussell (www.paulmussell.com). The dance will feature music by DJ Brent Denison, also an alumnus.

On Sunday there will be a $5 pancake breakfast, with proceeds going to the OTHS 2004 grad committee and student council.

The weekend will also include a golf tournament at the Metcalfe Golf and Country Club. It will be an 18-hole scramble, following a best ball format. Golfers can register as a single or in a foursome. The green fee cost will be $38 per person, $51 with a cart.

The committee is still looking for school memorabilia to put in "Decade Rooms" at the school over the reunion weekend. If you have a team uniform, trophy, photo or other artifact that you would like to share, please call the school.

For information and updates on the events, school history and to find registration forms, check out the reunion Web site at www.othsreunion.ca. Alumni can also call the school at 613-821-2241, or toll-free at 1-877-820-7214, to register.

Cash for TOCC

Students report on the month at St. Mary's

by Megan Mac Naughton and Mackenzie Allison

CHESTERVILLE — Hi! We are the reporters of the month at St. Mary Catholic School in Chesterville. First we will be talking about the Grade 4 and 5 ski trip to Vorlage. We had a great time. The weather co-operated and the skiing was great.

Next, Ms. Ganter's class is missing her. She is out for a year because she gave birth to a baby boy in the middle of February. Mr. McRae, a substitute teacher, will be taking her place for the year.

In Mrs. Brown's junior kindergarten class a student returned from China and another went to Florida. The JK class has been learning about shapes.

In Mrs. Brown's senior kindergarten classroom, a student went to Mexico, came back, then went to Florida. A student by the name of Chase has read four Love-A-Books. This class is learning how to have a healthy heart.

The Grade 1 class will be holding an Easter raffle. Mrs. McLeod's class is doing animal research projects and is sending stories in to be published and then sent back to them in a hardcover book.

The Grade 3s built a pioneer village; also a woman named Margot Dixon from the Historical Society came to show them how to spin and weave. She prepared many hands-on materials for the students to use.

In Mrs. McDonell's Grade 4 class, a student teacher by the name of Ms. Murphy attended for three weeks. In Mrs. Padbury's Grade 4 class the students won a super sandwich contest and won a free lunch at Subway through the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

Now on to the French class. Mr. St. Amant and his Grade 5 French class dug up little wooden pieces in a box of sand, to study how archeologists work.

To finish it off, the Grade 5 class served at our St. Patrick's Day tea and bake sale on March 11.

That's all until next month.

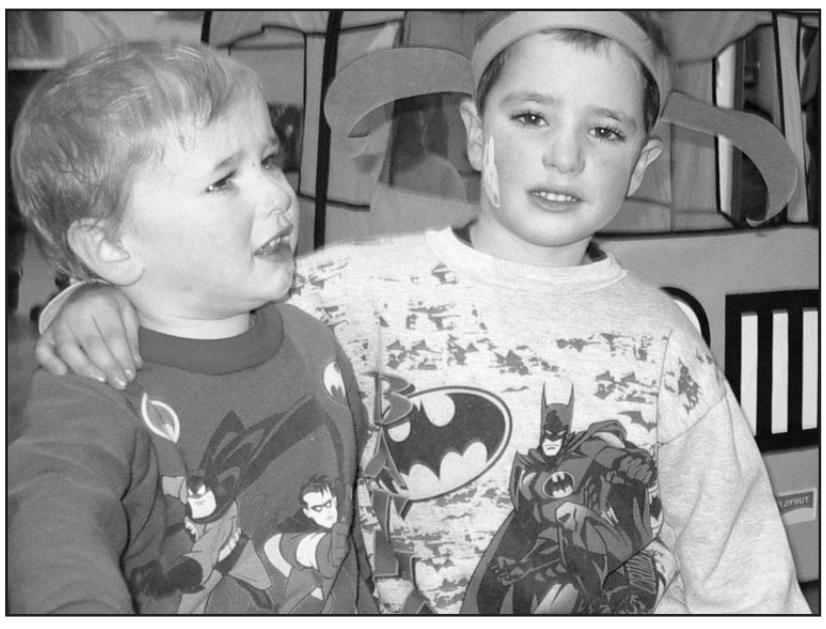
Easter Bunny arrives early for nursery school breakfast



Brothers Jack (left) and Wade Miner enjoy a morning of pancakes, music and some good old-fashion fun during this year's Metcalfe Co-op Nursery School Easter Bunny Breakfast.

by Jason Burgoone

METCALFE — The smell of pancakes and the sound of music drew dozens of local pre-schoolers to the Metcalfe Arena on Saturday (April 3) as the Metcalfe Co-op Nursery School welcomed local families to help celebrate the arrival of spring.

Event chairperson Dawn-Heather Ellis took in the well-attended event from the safety of the sidelines, while local volunteer fire fighters helped out the organizing committee by serving up a pancake breakfast.

The Junkyard Symphony managed to grab the attention of younger audience members with their unique brand of music using pots, pans and almost anything else that would produce noise.

Apart from the arrival of spring, another reason to celebrate this year's event was the completion of the lengthy renovations to the nursery school, which is located in the basement of the Holy Trinity Church in Metcalfe. Metcalfe Co-op Nursery School's director of programming, Maria Crosby, was more than grateful for the donations the school received from local businesses.

The funds raised at this year's event helped organizers move one step closer to their goal of $20,000. All the money raised will help pay for the completion of renovations.

Up next for the school is registration for the summer day-care camp which runs the last two weeks of July and the first week in August.

Sleuth returns to Seaway Valley

INGLESIDE — Heroine Farran MacKenzie returns to the Seaway Valley this April with the launch of local author Maggie Wheeler's newest mystery novel, The Brother of Sleep. The long-awaited sequel to her hugely successful first novel, A Violent End, is currently in the last stages of production.

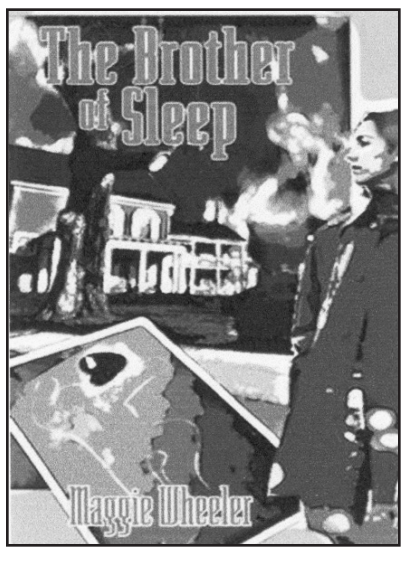
In keeping with tradition, Wheeler will officially launch The Brother of Sleep at the South Stormont Chamber of Commerce Home and Trade Show on April 23 and 24. A Violent End was also launched at the trade show three years ago.

"It may not be the usual venue for a book launch," said Wheeler, "but because the community has been so much a part of both novels, it seems fitting." She said she will be available during the entire trade show and added that admission is free.

The Brother of Sleep is also partially set in the Lost Villages and will include most of the original major characters. In the first novel, Farran was investigating the death of her father. In the new book, it's the mysterious death of an old friend's father that spurs her into action.

Wheeler has been busy during the run-up to the release of the second book in what she has planned as a series. Last weekend she was at the Leeds County Book Store in Brockville signing copies of A Violent End. The Brockville Public Library is featuring the book in its first attempt at running a One Book, One Community program.

Everyone in Brockville is being encouraged to read A Violent End. Then, Wheeler will be at the library on April 21 to read from the book, answer questions and share stories about the history behind it. A member of the Lost Villages Historical Society will also be on hand to talk about the St. Lawrence Seaway and the flooding of the Lost Villages in 1958. A bus tour of the Lost Villages area is being arranged as part of the One Book, One Community program.



Author Maggie Wheeler

A corporate writer by trade, Wheeler is turning more of her attention to literary endeavors. She is past secretary of the South Stormont Chamber of Commerce and a lifetime member of the Lost Villages Historical Society. Her husband is a Seaway pilot and their family lives on Ault Island.

Police blotter

Hop to it!

WINCHESTER — The Ontario Provincial Police, Eastern Region is getting ready for the first long weekend of spring. A higher level of visibility and enforcement will take place among OPP patrolled cities, towns and villages. OPP officers will be enforcing the laws surrounding aggressive driving, seat belts or impaired driving. These have been identified as areas of concern in local communities.

As officers prepare to "Hop to it on the Highways" they want to advise residents and visitors that they will be watching. Last year, there were no fatalities reported in OPP-patrolled areas during the four-day weekend. Stay alert; stay alive!

Youth charged

SOUTH DUNDAS — Following an investigation into a family related incident, which occurred in South Dundas Township on April 1, a 15-year-old South Dundas male is facing numerous charges. Charges of aggravated assault, mischief under $5,000, breach of probation and obstructing police have been brought against the youth, who will be scheduled to appear in youth court in the City of Cornwall.

Recovered Honda

SOUTH DUNDAS -– On the afternoon of April 2, police recovered a black 1994 Honda Civic two-door in the area of County Road 4 in South Dundas Township. The vehicle was found to have been stolen from the Toronto area, and no arrests were made at the time of the recovery. Constable J. Morier is investigating.

Recovered Cadillac

SOUTH DUNDAS — An investigation into a single vehicle collision, which occurred during the early morning hours of April 3 along County Road 1 in South Dundas Township, resulted in the recovery of a 1998 Cadillac Deville, which was later reported stolen from the Stampville area. No one was found with the vehicle at the time of the collision investigation, and no arrests have been made. The investigation is continuing.

Break and enter

SOUTH DUNDAS –- Police were called on March 31 to investigate a break and enter which occurred during the early evening hours at a South Dundas residence. An entry into the County Road 18 property resulted in the home being ransacked, but did not appear to have resulted in any theft. Constable S. Way is investigating.

Counterfeit money

CHESTERVILLE — An unusual number of counterfeit $20 bills turned up this week. Five counterfeit $20s were found in Chesterville and one in Morrisburg. There was also a counterfeit $10 found in Chesterville.

Theft from garage

SOUTH DUNDAS — Police received a report on March 29 of a break and enter which occurred in South Dundas Township. Overnight, an entry into a garage at a Carmen Road property resulted in the theft of a Craftsman lawn tractor. Constable A. Burtch is investigating.

Boat bothered

IROQUOIS — Police were alerted to an attempted break and enter on March 29 in the afternoon. The attempt occurred between March 27 and 29 at a boat in the Village of Iroquois. No items appear to have been taken during this incident. Constable F. Wert is investigating.

Generator and tire rims

HALLVILLE — An entry into a garage at a property located north of Hallville on March 30 resulted in a theft of a five-kilowatt Coleman generator, tire rims and tools. Constable A. Gagnon is investigating the incident.

Birdie flies

The Greely Players wrapped up another successful production with a matinee performance of Bye Bye Birdie on Sun., April 4. The teen-oriented musical delighted audiences and showcased some excellent amateur talent. Here lead performers Katie Madill, who played Rosie, and Matt Easterbrook, who played Albert, took their last bow of the show.

Morrisburg man receives recognition from Ontario

by Bonnie James
Press staff

MORRISBURG — He has worked a good part of his life to support and represent Canadian veterans and last week Jack Marshall was recognized by the province with the Order of Ontario. The former MP and senator retired in 1994, but continues his work to ensure veterans in this country done right by.

"It's hard to top the Order of Canada (which he received in 1995), but it's nice to be recognized," said Marshall about receiving the medal.

The Order of Ontario recognizes and honors those who have enriched the lives of others by attaining the highest standards of excellence and achievement in their respective fields. Marshall is being recognized for his advocacy of justice and equality for Canadians and Canada's war veterans.

Himself a Second World War vet, Marshall was an MP for a riding in Newfoundland for 10 years, beginning in 1968. He then moved to the senate, where he chaired the Senate sub-committee on veterans affairs.

"I have about 27 years of looking after veterans, and I enjoyed it," he said. "I still get calls and letters from veterans," he added. Marshall continues to do his best to help veterans in need.

He has been recognized many times by veterans' groups for his efforts. He is an honorary president of the Korean War Veterans Association, a life-patron of prisoners of war, the national commander of the Jewish War Veterans of Canada. He has also served as Dominion grand president of the Canadian Legion.

One of Marshall's major accomplishments was successfully championing the cause of getting merchant navy members recognized as veterans. He gets a thrill when a veteran receives a cheque with benefits that he has helped fight for. "Our veterans are well done by," said Marshall. "Canada has the best veterans affairs treatment that I've seen."

Marshall is one of 27 Ontario residents to receive the award for 2003, and one of 373 who have been honored since 1987, when the award was first presented.

The retired senator has lived in Morrisburg for six years and he and his wife Evelyn open their home as a bed and breakfast to travellers from around the world.

NDDHS Notes

Spirit promoted

MAPLE RIDGE — The leadership conference which student council held last Friday (April 2) was a great success. This day full of activities was enjoyable and informative. It really seemed to get the students interacting with one another, even though they were in different grades. It ran smoothly and efficiently and everyone went home feeling better equipped to pursue a leadership role.

School spirit is being promoted this week by students taking part in Easter Week. On Monday, students could trade in a colored Easter egg for chocolate and on Tuesday they could get a treat if they got their face painted with bunny whiskers.

Today, students were rewarded with an Easter goodie if they were found hopping in the halls. And the week's final activity is to sing the birdie song in front of the lunch time crowd. These kind of days are a chance for student council to give back to the students of NDDHS. I sense that students truly appreciate these lighthearted events.

Also, student council is organizing a BYOB (Bring Your Own Bowl) event tomorrow. Students can bring their own bowl and for a fixed price can make an ice cream sundae. There will be several toppings and flavors to choose from. You may want to try a little bit of everything.

Last week, the yearbook committee at NDDHS took pictures of all the teams, groups, and clubs at the school. The deadline for the yearbook to be sent to the publishers was last Friday. Yearbook 2003-04 will be available for pickup during the last two weeks of this school year. The yearbook is always a great success and is a great way to remember our years at NDDHS for many years to come.

This year will see the 17th annual NDDHS Fashion Show on April 14. Trista Levere has been doing an excellent job organizing this event. Students will have the chance to view the fashions during the day and families and friends may attend the evening show at 7 pm in the North Dundas gymnasium.

All tickets must be purchased in advance at a cost of $3 for the afternoon show and $7 for the evening show. Tickets for the evening show can be purchased at The Country Attic in Winchester. This is a must-see event so come out and support your local high school.

Euchre winners

by Jean Casselman

WILLIAMSBURG — Winners at the Williamsburg Seniors' euchre on March 31 were as follows. The White cards were won by George Baker, Lyle Hess, and Everett Froats. The Yellow cards were taken by Graham Pemberton, Hubert Lapierre, and Eldon Turner.

Dwain Hess and Campbell Robertson were the doorprize winners. The winners of the draw were Enid Dalrymple, Ruth Casselman, Bertha Christie (2), Campbell Robertson, Harold Gallinger, and Hubert Lapierre.

The next euchre will be held on April 14 and everyone is welcome.

North Dundas cafeteria offers Eat Smart! menu

MAPLE RIDGE — Healthy options have been appearing on the menu at the North Dundas District High School cafeteria. This led to the school receiving Eat Smart! certification from the provincial government on March 29, the first high school in eastern Ontario to do so. The whole process began because of a letter two students wrote to the school newspaper, the Devil's Delivery.

Grade 12 students Loxley McNeill and Tyler Beauchamp wrote asking for healthier meal choices at the start of the school year. Their request spurred the creation of a committee, which in turn led to the appearance of healthy low-fat options, such as wraps and salads, on the cafeteria's menu. The Eat Smart! program is based around offering a variety of healthy food choices following Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating, as well as promoting healthy eating. The cafeteria also had to ensure safe food handling methods.

The school was recognized for its achievement on March 29 by provincial health ministry assistant Peter Fonseca, MPP for Mississauga. Fonseca is a former marathon runner who participated in the 1996 Olympics. Members of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit were also at the school to offer congratulations.

The Eat Smart! school cafeteria program in an offshoot of the Eat Smart! restaurant program, which the province launched in 1999. About 800 Ontario restaurants have the certification. NDDHS is the first school, and only the second workplace, to be certified by Eat Smart! in eastern Ontario. The program is funded by the Ministry of Health and Long-term Care, in partnership with the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Ontario and the Ontario division of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Students use 30-hour famine to collect 10 volunteer hours

MAPLE RIDGE — There were 112 extra-hungry students at North Dundas District High School last Friday (April 2). They were participating in the school's fourth annual staging of the 30-hour famine for World Vision.

The high level of student participation is partially a result of their ability to earn 10 of their 40 required volunteer hours by collecting pledges and enduring the 30 hours without food. To help keep their spirits high and their willpower strong, students were invited to sleep over at the school on Thursday night and watch a movie and take part in a scavenger hunt. The fast was broken on Friday afternoon with a potluck banquet that featured plenty of cake, chips, and other junk food. The odd fruit and vegetable also made its way onto the table.

On Friday the students had raised $4,519, and money was still coming in, boosting hopes that the campaign would total more than $5,000.

The organizers wish to thank the Chesterville and District Lions Club, as well as the MacEwen Foundation of Maxville for their generous cash donations.

2003 BLUE RIBBON

Detective Farran returns to the Lost Villages

For eastern Ontario mystery novel fans the wait is almost over. The first sequel to A Violent End will be on shelves in a matter of days, and author Maggie Wheeler has scheduled her official launch of The Brother of Sleep for next Wednesday.

It was three years ago when readers first met University of Waterloo history professor Farran Mackenzie. In the story she's forced to confront her heritage in the Lost Villages when the body of the father she never knew is discovered in the remains of the former Village of Aultsville.

The corpse is discovered in a sleeping bag when the water level in the St. Lawrence River is at an unusually low level. The police determine that it's clear her father was murdered. When Farran returns to the region she grew up in to find out what happened, the historian takes on the role of detective. And that's when people start dropping dead all around her.

In the engineered flood that expanded the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1958, six villages were lost: Mille Roches, Moulinette, Wales, Dickenson's Landing, Farran's Point and Aultsville. The remains, now under water, can still be seen from the sky on days when the river is still, and they continue to be explored by local scuba clubs.

Wheeler put a huge amount of research into A Violent End. Events centre around Aultsville because this is the only lost village that occasionally emerges above water, so that's the only place Farran's father could reasonably be expected to be discovered. The other main locale is Farran's Point, which the main character was named after.

Three years later, in her second novel, Wheeler is tapping into a different vein of her research. A Violent End was thematically about the problems created in a society that decides some of its communities are expendable. The "engineer's perspective," that there shouldn't be any problem moving everything north so the river can be wider, is shown to be completely naive.

Talking to the Press, Wheeler said that in The Brother of Sleep she is trying to consider the Seaway project from the opposite point of view. She said that a lot of the response she got to her first book asked why the Seaway project went forward. What justified flooding six villages, as well as large portions of Morrisburg and Iroquois? And exactly how did they go about it? These are the new themes Wheeler said she is introducing, with a greater focus on technical information.

Wheeler added that the new book is still definitely a murder mystery. This time, Farran is in her University of Waterloo office when in walks her best friend from high school who she hasn't seen in 30 years. Alison Perry's father was a police officer who died under suspicious circumstances back when the two women were friends. Events force Farran to return to the shores of the St. Lawrence in SD&G.

A Violent End has sold more than 3,000 copies so far, and Wheeler said there will probably be a third printing. The new book is a true sequel; all of the characters who weren't killed off in the first book are returning. The historical setting of the new book shifts to the former Village of Mille Roches, and the former Hamlet of Maple Grove. It's often forgotten that three hamlets were lost along with the villages.

The Brother of Sleep is almost a guaranteed hit. Wheeler is currently the featured author in the One Book, One Community program being offered through the Brockville Public Library. The idea is that everyone in town is being encouraged to read the same book, A Violent End, and then meet at the library on April 21 to hear Wheeler speak and then discuss the text.

One Book, One Community is an idea that started in the States, and this is the first time it's been tried in eastern Ontario. Wheeler said she'd been asked to participate because her study of the St. Lawrence River has local historical significance, and because she's a living Canadian author, one who can show up and field questions.

Wheeler lives with her family on the waterfront of Ault Island in Stormont County, adjacent to the underwater setting where Farran's father was discovered. She said she sees herself participating in a growing contemporary movement to preserve and celebrate stories about Canada. A growing number of small Canadian publishers are willing to invest in historical subjects that aren't related to the United States. Wheeler's work is proof that Canada is interesting.

Canadian Cancer Society volunteers in North Dundas held Daffodil Day last Friday. In Winchester, Orma Earl was one of the volunteers who exchanged flowers for donations at the Royal Bank branch. Volunteers were also at work in South Mountain and a total of $1,450 was raised.

Confront your fears

You don't have to die of embarrassment anymore. You can now be screened for colorectal cancer in the privacy of your own home. The Eastern Ontario Health Unit (EOHU) office on Main Street in Winchester is now distributing self-test kits, free with your health card. North Dundas has been identified as one of the areas in eastern Ontario where the population is at high risk.

Yes, April is Cancer Month. As spring begins, local volunteers were out last Friday selling daffodils. Bunches of five and 10 were distributed for a nominal donation at the Royal Bank in Winchester and Scotiabank in South Mountain.

Winchester, Canada
by Chris Zabel

If you follow the directions, the flowers they sell are fun to watch. For $6 you get 10 uninteresting closed buds on stalks; however, if you cut the bottoms of the stems diagonally and put them in warm water, they open in less than 24 hours. It's a nice symbol of hope for the cancer world, reminding everyone that every cancer is treatable.

The fact is that most people who contract a cancer are survivors; your odds grow exponentially the sooner it's discovered and treatment can start. And while the annual daffodil drive is great, the real good news is that the EOHU is showing a lot of initiative with its new colorectal campaign.

The high risk group for this type of cancer is over 50. There is no single cause, but contributing factors include family history, poor diet, obesity, physical inactivity, heavy alcohol consumption and smoking.

Colorectal cancer is one of the Big Four cancers in Canada, along with lung cancer, breast cancer and prostate cancer. The chances of contracting colorectal cancer are surprisingly high: 1 in 16 for women, and 1 in 15 for men. The good news is that survival rates are increasing, and the survival odds are 30 to 1 once a patient enters treatment.

Anyone who worries about cancer has a new opportunity this April to take a positive step. Any hypochondriacs would do well to visit the EOHU in Winchester, rather than relying on information about cancer that they pick up on the street. As part of its April campaign, the Canadian Cancer Society is also circulating information to dispel popular cancer myths, targeting in particular "scare letters" that have circulated by e-mail.

Using plastic dishes to heat food in the microwave cannot give you cancer. The Ministry of Health conducts tests on all plastic containers that are marketed to be used with food in Canada. The ministry is aware of the danger of food absorbing the plasticizer chemicals that are used in plastics which make them more flexible.

The advice on the topic of plastic in the microwave is that if you overheat your food and the container starts to melt, the food may contain a nominal carcinogen, so you shouldn't eat it. This advice isn't especially sophisticated, seeing how the food will taste like burnt plastic, so no one would want to eat it in the first place.

The Ministry of Health also recommends that plastic containers not sold for use with food not be adapted to kitchen purposes. The recommendation is, for example, that a plastic container from a gardening supply store not be used to microwave food. Very few people in Canada are so hard-pressed for plastic containers that they would search the garage for something they could use in the kitchen. We are an incredibly idiot-proof culture.

Another cancer myth is that women who wear bras put themselves at higher risk of breast cancer. A huge number of studies of breast cancer risk have concluded that wearing a bra is totally safe. There is no reliable scientific evidence that shows a link between a wearing a bra and breast cancer.

The information from the Canadian Cancer Society is very specific in its intention to debunk bad information circulated on the Internet. Another example of misinformation is that antiperspirants cause breast cancer. The argument here is that underarm deodorants are applied to the skin over the lymph nodes, and that ingredients in antiperspirants could be carcinogens. The scientific evidence is that razor nicks put women at risk of skin infections when they apply antiperspirant, but there is no risk of developing cancer.

One thing that science seems to agree on is that smoking still causes cancer. Lung cancer remains the most preventable of all human cancers.

The temperance supporters in Winchester organized themselves at a meeting held at the Methodist Church. There was a good attendance and Rev. Mr. Claxton acted as chair. The group decided to form a local branch of the Ontario Prohibition Union (OPU). Officers were elected and a letter written to the OPU in support of holding off on a provincial plebiscite until the Ontario Temperance Act had a longer trial.

1934

A record flood at Cass Bridge saw water more than three feet deep over Highway 31. Farmers in the district were going to and from their barns in boats. The mail service between Winchester and Winchester Springs was somewhat disorganized, but was managing to get through as a motorboat was employed to make the connection. No accidents or casualties had been reported.

1944

Under the urgent need for more food production, the Ontario Farm Service Force issued a strong appeal to high school students to volunteer for farm work over the summer. The volunteer workers were needed to help take the place of young farmers gone to war. The Department of Education had issued an order permitting students to leave school as early as April 28 to work on farms.

1954

Over 400 people attended the Allison and Sons anniversary party in Winchester Springs. The customer appreciation night included films, entertainment, and dancing. The store, owned by Ralph S. Allison, had been open for 25 years. Allison and his wife Mildred purchased the property when they were just 21 and 18 years old, respectively.

1964

The Winchester Curling Club wrapped up its season with a banquet. Although the focus of the evening was on fun and the presentation of awards, one important piece of business was dealt with. Each member was to be asked to complete a questionnaire about whether they were in favor of and ready to lend financial support to a new building for the club. Before creating a special committee to pursue the issue, the executive wanted to know how the general membership felt about it. The results showed 66 votes in support and five in opposition. At the banquet, the club's top prize, the Cass Trophy, was presented to champion skip Max Boyd.

1974

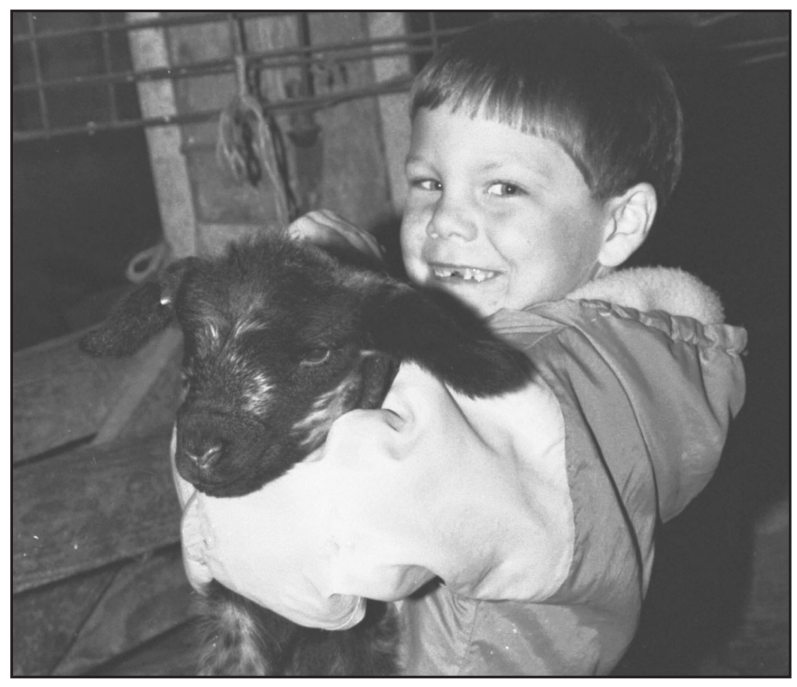
In only its second year, the Winchester Figure Skating Club had 116 members. They improved their skills under the guidance of instructor Bonnie Castle, and at the end-of-year wrap-up earned test record cards and crests. Trophies for the most-improved skaters were presented to Rhonda Baldwin (beginner), Lori Larmour (intermediate), and Susan Helmer (senior).

1984

There was a beer price war on in Russell, with the Palace Hotel and Benny's Tavern fighting for customers. Beer drinkers were reaping the benefits, as the price of a pint had been pushed down to a dollar. People were making the trip from as far away as Cornwall and Monkland.

1994

The Osgoode Township Male Choir had just returned from a two-week tour of the Netherlands. A group of 131 choir members, spouses, and other supporters made the trip. Choir member and Press reporter Garnet Quail wrote a two-part account of the trip, including various sightseeing opportunities. Accompanying the choir were Rev. Jim Mills of Winchester Baptist Church, Rev. Joanne Nichols of Vernon Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Bob Jones, formerly of Osgoode Baptist/Vernon United Church.



In 1994, six-year-old Danny Lapier held a new spring arrival at his family's sheep farm.

Health minister brings good news to Winchester

TORONTO — I was pleased to welcome George Smitherman, minister of health and long-term care, to our riding on March 16. On this day, he discussed our hospitals' redevelopment projects, and delivered positive news to stakeholders at both the Winchester District Memorial Hospital and the Cornwall Community Hospital.

While in Winchester, Minister Smitherman announced the provincial government's $4 million commitment to the community hospital — to be used in the design stage for an upgraded facility. With the community's efforts in the Renewing the Vision Campaign, and the collection and pledges of over $13 million to date, this was much anticipated and appreciated news.

The recent approval is an important first step, and both Minister Smitherman and I are aware that decisive decisions must be made over a short period of time. We are also well aware of the need to work with those who will assist with the community fundraising initiatives for our hospital needs. We laud and encourage those who have rolled up their sleeves on this important component of hospital restructuring.

Over the past month, I have received many letters and e-mails from constituents, expressing concerns relative to the Ontario Drug Benefit Plan. The cost of this program has risen by over 14.3 per cent a year. The government of Ontario is committed to building a strong Seniors Strategy Plan. Facing a $5.6 billion deficit, the government is consulting the public, so that we get things right.

As I did on March 25, at a pre-budget roundtable at the Cornwall Civic Complex, I have joined with other MPPs in asking Ontarians to debate this issue and other issues. We are asking all Ontarians to recognize key priorities, and seek creative ways for investing in these areas.

As an example, we have presented thoughts on the redesigning of the Drug Benefit Plan for Seniors, a program that currently allows seniors, regardless of income, to receive their medication without having to share any significant portion of the cost. The correspondence that I have received to date on this issue, clearly showing the desire to keep seniors' drug benefits as they are, will be shared with Minister of Finance Greg Sorbara as he works preparing a budget.

I would like to thank all those who took part in our riding's pre-budget roundtable on March 25. Over 50 stakeholders from many community organizations and businesses took part in this forum, and the information has been forwarded to Minister Sorbara's office. It is my plan to host more of these forums in the future. By working together, so much more may be accomplished, and ideas from community stakeholders will assist me as I work at Queen's Park.

On Feb. 25, I hosted a breakfast at Queen's Park for the mayors, councillors and staff members who attended the Rural Ontario Municipal Association (ROMA) convention in Toronto. I felt both privileged and pleased that representatives from all municipalities in the riding attended. I was honored with the kind words extended to me by Warden Dennis Fife, when he expressed appreciation for the breakfast, but more importantly when he stressed the need for a strong relationship between counties government and the province of Ontario.

I stressed to those assembled that the door to my office (room 330 in the main Legislative Building) is always open. I encouraged municipal government leaders to continue dialoguing with me on community issues.

On the previous day, I was delighted to have the opportunity for county representatives, especially council members and staff from North Dundas who requested the meeting, to meet with Minister of the Environment Leona Dombrowsky. Following the tragedies in Walkerton, and the release of Justice O'Connor's report, rural municipalities have had great hardships placed on them regarding communal water delivery, especially as it centres on testing costs.

Bringing municipal leaders together with the minister was important, and I shall continue to monitor this situation. I was prepared to ask a question to Minister Dombrowsky on this issue on March 26, during Question Period, but the Legislature was abruptly adjourned due to the sudden and unexpected death of our colleague Dominic Agostino, MPP Hamilton Centre.

Recently, I had a chance to visit with family and friends in Kissimmee, Florida, and I could not help but see the transformation of this area into a major tourist attraction, through the concept of one man, and a mouse! Yes, Walt Disney had a vision, and his vision has expanded into an enormous business empire in central Florida.

As happened with this man of vision, may we continue to support those people in our community who have visions for community revitalization and expansion. We must work with the tourism sector, encouraging new ideas and seeking ideas for sustainability, especially as stakeholders work with waterfront lands in our municipalities and throughout the holdings of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

Should you have comments or queries concerning issues relative to this report or any other government business, feel free to contact my office in Toronto at 416-325-0710 or in Cornwall at 613-933-6513.

Sterling musicians

The junior concert band at NDDHS earned a silver rating competing in the Kinsman Music Festival in Cornwall on April 1. Music director Greg Prest said these first-year musicians deserve a great deal of credit for being able to put together a festival performance. Press Photo — Zabel

Band leaving for Big Apple, musicians impress at festivals

MAPLE RIDGE — The senior concert and jazz bands at North Dundas District High School are off to New York. Students will spend four days in the big city, leaving today (April 7).

Music teacher Greg Prest said the band has two performances scheduled, one at an elementary school and another at a seniors home. Besides performing, the itinerary includes a visit to Ground Zero, and the musical Little Shop of Horrors. Prest said a special treat for jazz band members will be a visit to Birdland, one of New York's most famous jazz clubs.

The band has already been busy this spring collecting accolades at local music festivals. At the end of March, the seniors competed in the Music First Ottawa festival. The concert band was ranked at the gold level, and the jazz band silver-plus.

"The jazz band won a very high standard. This is only the third time in 12 years that the jazz band has done so well," said Prest. The silver-plus standing allows the jazz band to continue on to the national competition in Montreal in May. Out of 20 jazz bands competing in Ottawa, only two earned this honor.

The senior bands are both intending to perform in the national competition, and are in the process of organizing a series of three dances to raise money for the trip.

The NDDHS music department also stood out at the Kinsman Music Festival in Cornwall on April 1. Not quite as significant as the Ottawa festival, the senior jazz and concert bands were still proud of their gold standing.

Prest was even more impressed, however, with the silver standing earned by the junior concert band. This year's junior band is almost completely made up of Grade 9 students who only learned to play their instruments last September. "It's a real credit to them that they could go on stage and hold it together in a high-pressure situation," said Prest. They played the contemporary classical piece Fanfare for a New Era.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Library lobby thanks its supporters

The Editor:

As readers will know by now, the South Mountain Library received a reprieve of sorts on Thurs., March 25 at a meeting of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties Library Board. While the committee formed to oppose the closing of this library does not feel that its work is done quite yet, we would like to take this opportunity, during a lull in the battle, to thank everyone who supported our efforts.

In particular, and in no order, we thank the 808 people who signed the petitions and everyone who got on the bus or into some other vehicle to make the trip into Cornwall that night; the North Dundas Chamber of Commerce; the North Dundas and South Dundas councils for resolutions supporting the library; councillor Al Armstrong and Deputy Mayor Bill Smirle for attending the meeting and speaking up in support of the library; councillor Estella Rose for the same thing and for her continued support and efforts on behalf of our campaign; Gerry Boyce and the local businessman who sponsored the bus trip; the local media outlets for their interest in and reporting of this struggle; and finally, everyone who took the time to write a letter or send an e-mail to some authority in protest of the closure of this library.

We have made a commitment to promote membership and increase circulation so that we may not be accused again of not valuing our library. We hope the community can take advantage of this reprieve and pay a visit to the library to take out a book, a video or a book on tape. The library is the doorway to the rest of the world. Please step inside and enjoy!

The Daffodil: The Canadian Cancer Society's Symbol of Hope

APRIL IS DAFFODIL MONTH

Two in three families will have at least one member who will be affected by cancer.

The Canadian Cancer Society is the single largest funder of cancer research in Canada. The society is totally supported by donations from the public. Funds raised go to the most promising research projects across Canada... the balance is for local community programs.

General cancer stats

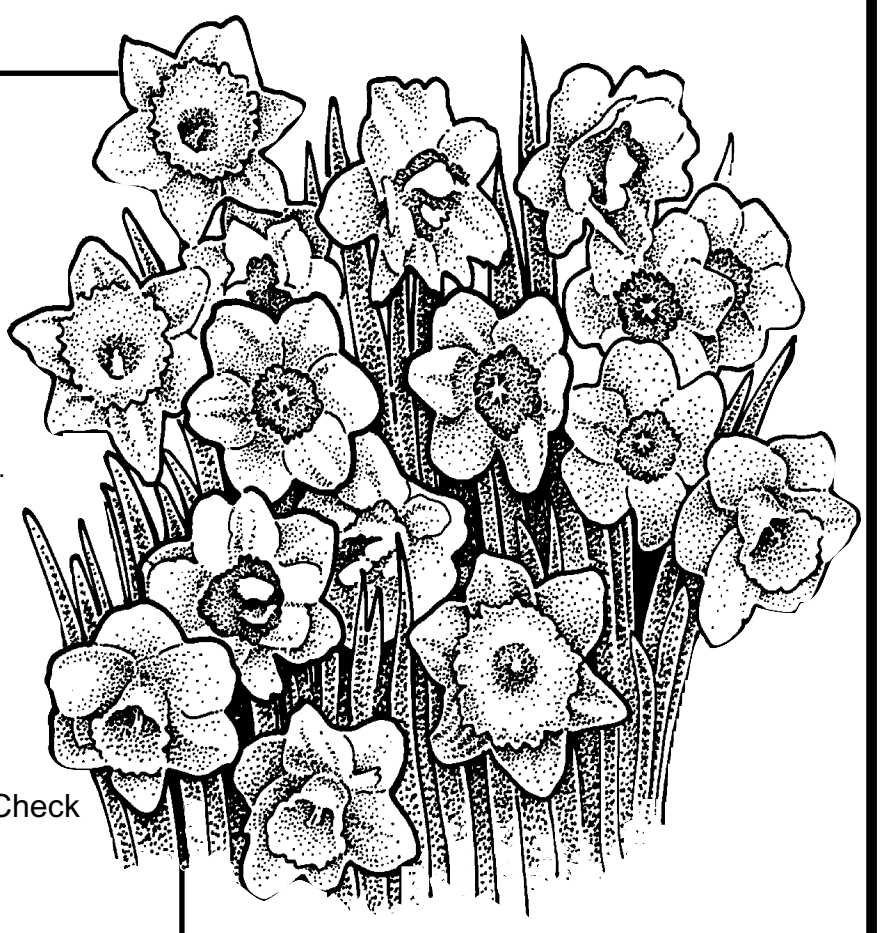
- On average, 2,690 Canadians will be diagnosed with cancer every week.
- On average, 1,296 Canadians will die of cancer every week.
- On average, 1,319 women will be diagnosed with cancer every week.
- On average, 608 women will die of cancer every week.
- On average, 1,371 men will be diagnosed with cancer every week.
- On average, 688 men will die of cancer every week.
- Based on current incidence rates, 38% of women will develop cancer during their lifetimes. Among men, 41% will develop cancer during their lifetimes.
- Since 1988, among men the cancer death rate for all cancers combined has declined by 12%.
- Since 1988, among women, there has been a 13% decline in death rates for all cancers combined, excluding lung cancer.
- Cancer is the leading cause of premature death in Canada, being responsible for almost 31% of all potential years of life lost.

Seven steps to a healthier lifestyle

Research shows that lifestyle is an important factor in cancer risk. The Canadian Cancer Society recommends taking the following Seven Steps to Health to reduce your risk of developing cancer.

Step 1. Be a non-smoker and avoid secondhand smoke.
Step 2. Eat 5-10 servings of vegetables and fruit a day. Choose high fibre, lower fat foods. If you drink alcohol, limit your intake to 1-2 drinks a day.
Step 3. Be physically active on a regular basis - this will also help you maintain a healthy body weight.
Step 4. Protect yourself and your family from the sun. Reduce sun exposure between 11 am and 4 pm. Check your skin regularly and report any changes to your doctor.
Step 5. Follow cancer screening guidelines.
Step 6. Visit your doctor or dentist if you notice any change in your normal state of health.
Step 7. Follow health and safety instructions at home and at work when using, storing and disposing of hazardous materials.

The Canadian Cancer Society is a national community-based organization of volunteers whose mission is to eradicate cancer and to improve the quality of life of people living with cancer. When you want to know more about cancer, visit the website www.cancer.ca or call the toll-free, bilingual Cancer Information Service at 1-888-939-3333.



Please give generously when a volunteer knocks on your door.

Organic mill signs deal with Maritime retailer

BERWICK — Homestead Organics has been growing its success year after year. This year the organic grain elevator and feed mill has jumped into a whole new market. The company has signed a distribution agreement with Co-op Atlantic, a chain of 22 co-op stores in the Maritime provinces.

"It increased our dealers list by 50 per cent in a single block," said Homestead Organics owner Tom Manley. The distribution agreement was signed late in the fall, the details were organized over the winter, and the first couple of orders from the Co-op Atlantic stores came in recently. The stores had no organic supplier previously.

"We continue to field calls from Ontario, Quebec, Vermont and New York from people who have detected a need for organic feed," said Manley about the other places that Homestead Organics products are sold.

In the early months of 2003, the mill underwent a $250,000 upgrade and expansion. New storage bins were added, as was a feed processing system, a truck scale, and shipping tanks.

Manley explained that only about half of Homestead Organics' production is satisfied by growers in eastern Ontario. There is still plenty of room for more local organic producers.

"After seven years we have reached a certain plateau, a temporary one I hope," said Manley. The producers that were keen to make the switch to organic farming have done it and the rest haven't been convinced yet. Manley continues his outreach effort by speaking to all sorts of groups about organic farming. Those efforts take time to pay off, he explained.

Manley was acclaimed as the federal Green Party candidate for Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry. He has served as Green Party agricultural critic.

New vendors registered for Metcalfe Farmers' Market

METCALFE — There will be seven new vendors participating in the Metcalfe Farmers' Market when it opens next month. Market organizers held their annual registration night on March 31 at the Metcalfe Town Hall.

Frank Main of Morrisburg is the new president of the market for this year. He said that roughly 65 vendors are in place to fill the market's booths on Saturday mornings. The new vendors who have signed up are mainly local artisans. Their products include stained glass, pottery, willow furniture, soap, paintings and perennials.

New vendors for the market are carefully selected by a jurying committee. "Everything for sale at the market has to be locally made, produced or grown," said Main. "We won't accept anything from a factory."

The market is set to open on Sat., May 8 and will run until Oct. 16. On opening day there are usually about 40 vendors participating. This number grows as farms start harvesting their produce.

As in past years, regular special events will be part of the market. Every Saturday there will be two vendor gift baskets given out as door prizes. "It's a way for vendors to promote themselves and get people to see and taste their produce," said Main. Also, every second Saturday the market will have some type of featured entertainment such as musicians or cooking demonstrations.

The Metcalfe Farmers' Market draws its vendors from all over eastern Ontario, from Cornwall to Kemptville to Russell. Main is a vendor himself and sells handmade rocking horses. For more information, contact Main at 543-0824.

4-H field trip ends in a sticky situation

by Jason Burgoone

ELMA — Members of the new 4-H Outdoors Club, along with group leader Elizabeth Vingerhoed, held their first meeting in the tiny community of Elma early Saturday afternoon (April 3). The purpose of the day was to understand exactly what happens during the process of making maple syrup.

Maple syrup producer Gord Moat took the afternoon to show those in attendance what exactly goes into the tedious process. The season often begins around the beginning of March when Moat, a self-described maple syrup hobbyist, first ventures back to his sugar bush where he kicks off the season by tapping roughly 50 new trees each season.

Moat taps a different section of the bush each season, giving the trees used the year before a well-deserved break. Once the tree is tapped each tap receives a bin which collects the sap. Moat notes the most productive days are ones which see a slight increase and decrease in temperature, which helps the sap move from the bottom of the tree to the top.

Once Moat has collected the desired amount of sap, the watery substance begins the process of purification via Moat's homemade purifier, which he set up at the back of his farm. There the sap is transformed into a drastically thickened and much sweeter form. Moat allowed each of the curious members to taste from each of the four separate purification containers.

After explaining the lengthy process, Moat answered all of the remaining questions from the inquisitive 4-H crowd before sitting down for a well-deserved break and a pancake lunch.

Lots of variety this year: sign up for 4-H today

WINCHESTER — The Dundas County 4-H Association has more than a dozen clubs running this year with a number starting in April. The association met at the Winchester Curling Club on March 31 for its annual information night.

The meeting doubled as the first meeting of the 4-H Sports Club. After leaders gave brief presentations on their plans for each club, members went out on the ice surface to develop their curling skills.

All of the standard agricultural 4-H clubs will be running again this year, along with a number of life skills clubs that haven't been run before.

The Dairy Club will begin at the end of April or in May. To sign up, contact Francine Melenhorst at 774-2462.

To sign up for the Horse Club, contact Ed Fields at 989-2235.

Carolyn Lillico will be leading the Rabbit Club, the Field Crops Club and the Bread Making Club. Bread making is a new club idea. Lillico said she plans to teach the basics of bread making. The text she plans to use was published before bread making machines were common appliances. To sign up for any of these clubs, contact Lillico at 989-2917.

The Llama Club will get started in May. To sign up call Elisabeth Kaufmann at 774-1514.

To sign up for the Sports Club, call Paul Porteous at 774-3900.

To register for the Ormond Craft Club, contact Mary Mesman at 774-3807.

The Outdoor Club held its first meeting last weekend. Members saw how sap is turned into maple syrup and practiced tree identification. To sign up call Elizabeth Vingerhoed at 448-3102.

The Woodworking Club will start in the fall. To sign up contact Ron Wilson at 543-2784.

To sign up for the Judging Club contact Mary Fisher at 774-6115.

Linda Porteous will be leading a Healthy Eating Round the Clock Club which will teach members how to eat nutritiously at every meal. She will also lead a Water Garden Club. These won't be outdoor gardens, rather small-scale gardens which will teach members how to maintain balance in their mini ecosystems. Porteous added that she'd be willing to lead additional life skills clubs if members are keen on any particular topic. To sign up call 774-5172.

Young people between the ages of 10 and 21 can participate in 4-H. For a $40 sign-up fee, a member can take part in as many local clubs as they want.

Lions tackle Curse of the Werewolf

MORRISBURG — Get ready to laugh and take in lots of local talent. The Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club is bringing Curse of the Werewolf, a mystery farce, to the Upper Canada Playhouse for five performances next month.

The play, written by Tim Kelly, follows the antics of Buzz Haliburton, an entertainer who has fallen on hard times, as he is summoned by his mysterious uncle to a spooky castle on a lonely New England island. Buzz and his partner, Admiral Byrd (a penguin who tap dances) encounter a bizarre assortment of family and friends. Colonel Snipes plots to blow up the island while his wife wears evening gowns all day. Little Messalina, the resident child terror, keeps baby piranhas for pets. The menacing housekeeper often appears without her head. Due to a family curse, there is a werewolf in the house, and the gardener is probably insane. Murders abound, lights flicker, and romance blossoms in this crazy spoof.

Werewolf among the Lions

This will be the 11th play that the Iroquois-Matilda Lions theatre group has staged. The production's cast and crew consist mainly of Lions and their spouses. The Lions generally put on a show every two years. This year's performance has a longer two-weekend schedule in contrast to previous shows which only had a one-weekend run.

Lion Rick MacKenzie of Morrisburg takes on the leading role of Buzz Haliburton. Jim Mustard, proprietor of Mustard's Variety, will play the part of Sheriff Birdsong. Ruth Robertson will portray the housekeeper, Mrs. Grimm. Barry Fawcett plays the handyman Humpfrey. Reina Dejong has been cast as Veronica, Liz Asselin will play the part of Olga the psychic gypsy, and Charles Marsden is to be Colonel Snipes. The cast also includes Donna Swank as Little Messalina, Joan Mann as Tarbuckle, Margaret Swerdfeger as Connie Pigeon, Glenn Swerdfeger as Hushabye, and Doug Peters as Boris Haliburton.

The director of the show is Seaway District High School teacher Wendy Gibb. Garry Barkey has the important position of prompter.

Curse of the Werewolf runs Fri., April 23 and Sat., April 24, as well as Fri., April 30 and Sat., May 1. The shows begin at 8 pm and tickets are $15 each. A special matinee performance will be held at 2 pm on May 1 and tickets for that show are $12. Tickets are available at Prescott Jewellers in Prescott, Upper Canada Playhouse and Village Green in Morrisburg, Mustard's Variety and Beaupre Jewellers in Iroquois, and Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club members.

Spring at TCS

WILLIAMSBURG — Primary grades are heading out to the sugar bush on a class trip. That, along with a horrifically muddy playground, is a sure sign of spring!

We have just begun our third and final term. Our students work hard and we pray that we all may continue to teach and learn well in the last three months of the school year.

Our school community got together a few weeks ago and had our annual bazaar. We had a lot of fun and raised almost $11,000 for the school.

We have just finished up our basketball intramurals. This has kept our students in Grades 5 to 8 happy during the winter months! Next up: soccer. All of us appreciate the extra time and effort that Rita Bergsma puts into our intramural program.

Our theme this year is "Look Up and Look Out." We look up to God daily and ask for his blessings; we look out for each other and for people who need help. Currently there are two "look out" projects under way at TCS; kids are reading a lot of books for the bi-annual MS Readathon and many of our kids are participating in an art project depicting the importance of mission work around the world.

April 26-30 is our Christian Education Week. This year's CEW theme is "Living Hope" and that theme comes from a Bible verse, 1 Peter 1:3, which reads, "In His great mercy He has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus." We have all kinds of activities scheduled for the week; I'll write about them next month.

More than just a trim

Shepherd Talk

by Rev. Mary Lou Shortill

In remembrance of me

I have been betrayed by someone whom I once thought was a trusted friend. It hurt a lot — and still does at times — several years later. We had shared many coffees and conversations around our kitchen tables.

After sharing a meal with his disciples and friends, Jesus was betrayed by one whom He had chosen as friend and disciple — Judas.

Through Holy Week, we continue the journey toward the cross: from the Hosanna of Palm/Passion Sunday, to the death and then resurrection of Jesus -– all within one brief week. The symbols in the kiosk in the centre of Chesterville depict this in a moving way.

Tomorrow is Maundy Thursday, the evening during which we re-enact the scene in the Upper Room in Jerusalem where Jesus and His disciples shared what was to be their last meal together — the Passover meal. This is what we, as Christians, now refer to as The Last Supper, and is when Jesus washed his disciples' feet.

The word "Maundy" derives from the Latin mandatum meaning "commandment." Jesus had given a new commandment saying, "Love one another as you love yourselves." (Matthew 22:38; Mark 12:31; John 13:34)

If we know that probably we are sharing one last meal with someone special, in the midst of sadness, fear and the unknowingness of what lies ahead, every moment is treasured. During the sharing of the bread and wine, Jesus asked his disciples, even the one who was about to betray him, to remember Him. And so, some 2,000 years later, during this Holy Season, as many of our denominations will celebrate communion or eucharist, the words "Do this in remembrance of me" will be said.

We will be remembering Jesus Christ whose death and resurrection promises us new life after our Good Fridays, and promises eternal life. Thanks be to God for Jesus Christ, our role model of unconditional love and forgiveness.

Carisse goal puts Metcalfe into lead

ALEXANDRIA — It has been an eventful week for the Metcalfe Jets. They have not only eliminated the South Ottawa Canadians to secure a ninth Metro - Valley title for the franchise but have opened the 2003-04 Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League championship series with a 2-1 victory over the Rideau - St. Lawrence champion Alexandria Glens.

Metcalfe locked up the Metro - Valley title on March 30 beating the South Ottawa Canadians 7-5 in their own building. The Jets took the championship four games to one. Overall Metcalfe owns a 12-2 post-season record.

At the same time the Glens bounced the Brockville Tikis 6-1 on April 2 in Alexandria to capture the club's third Rideau - St. Lawrence banner since 1988. Their battle with the Tikis took seven games to decide and left them with a 12-7 win - loss mark in the playoffs.

Although the Jets are proud of the fact they are this year's Metro - Valley title holders they aren't dwelling on the victory.

"Sure winning it means something. It is quite an accomplishment but it is just another step along the way to what we want," explained coach Darrell Warren.

"We want to win it all, be eastern Ontario champs," added the coach. "That has been our objective from the start."

Sunday's (April 4) EOJBHL championship series opener in Alexandria produced just three goals, two by the Jets.

Jason Vajda used a pass from Tyler Akeson on a powerplay with 4:25 left in period one to make it 1-0.

He scores!

North Dundas forward Dylan Giberson pulled the trigger on this goal at 7:40 of the second period of an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East/West playoff game against the South Grenville Rangers on April 1. Unfortunately the East Division champion Atom "B" House Demons weren't able score again and dropped a 3-1 decision in the fourth and final game of the championship series. The first three games ended in ties. Demon William Burgess (photo, right) fired on the Ranger cage during period two.

Demons make semi-finals at tournament of champions

EMBRUN — Prior to the 2004 ODMHA Atom "B" Tournament of Champions, North Dundas coach Gary Klein-Swormink figured that the strength of field would come from up the valley.

He was correct. The Pembroke Kings blanked the Petawawa Patriots 2-0 in Sunday's (April 4) championship game in Embrun to earned the gold medal. North Dundas and the West Carleton Warriors were the semi-finalists.

"We figured we would be in the top four and it worked out those were the teams who made the semi-finals," explained Klein-Swormink, coach of the 2003-04 UCMHL East/West champions. "Pembroke and Petawawa were strong. We just ran out of gas."

North Dundas opened the 10-team competition on April 3 caging the Casselman Predators 5-1. Second period goals by Dylan Fawcett, Josh Stubbings and William Fawcett opened up a 3-1 lead for the Demons. Stubbings and Peter Klein-Swormink finished it marking third-period goals. Stubbings (2) and Matt Jarvis assisted.

The same day North Dundas played the Pembroke Kings to a 1-1 tie. The Kings took a 1-0 lead in the second and the Demons tied it up when Dustin Tinkler hit from Stubbings and Klein-Swormink 19 seconds before the final buzzer.

A 4-2 victory over the Kingston Twp. Titans on Sunday left North Dundas tied with Pembroke at 2-0-1 in the Pool "A" standings and put them in the semi-final game. Stubbings (2), Tinkler and Klein-Swormink connected against the Titans. Brent Simms and Tinkler earned assists.

Stubbings used a Brent Simms pass to tie the semi-final 1-1 at 3:19 of period one. But that was the only time they would beat the Pembroke goaltender in a 5-1 loss.

East/West final

Servage goal holds up for Pee Wee 'C's

CHESTERVILLE — John Servage's second goal of the game, scored with 4:55 left on the clock, held up for the North Dundas Pee Wee "C" House Demons as they nipped the Kemptville Panthers 5-4.

The home ice victory in Chesterville on March 23 completed an eight game unbeaten streak for coach Byron Guptill and his troop and captured the 2003-04 East/West overall award. It was one of four Upper Canada Minor Hockey League championships earned by North Dundas Minor Hockey Association teams.

North Dundas finished the regular season in third-place which paired them with the South Stormont Selects in the opening round of the playoffs. The Demons ousted the Selects in straight sets (6-2 and 8-0). Next to bite the dust were the second-place NGS No. One Braves who also went out two straight (3-0 and 3-2). A third consecutive series sweep extended the Demons post-season winning string to six games and came against the number-one ranked NGS No. Two Braves, a squad which had lost just three times during the regular season. North Dundas rolled to 3-2 and 3-1 victories to capture the UCMHL East Division championship pennant.

EIGHT WINS

Next up was another two-game sweep over the Kemptville Panthers in the UCMHL East/West final. During their championship run the Demons compiled an 8-0-0 record, posted three shutouts and outscored the opposition by a 32-11 margin.

Goaltender Erik Hutten and his defensive crew proved to be unbeatable as the final round open in Spencerville on March 20. Hutten registered the team's third zero of the post season as his team skated into the series lead with a 2-0 victory.

• see PEE WEE "C" on next page

The North Dundas Pee Wee "C" House Demons were able to celebrate a pair of triumphs at the conclusion of the 2003-04 season — the East Division title and the UCMHL's East/West overall championship. The victorious Demons (not in order) are: Erik Hutten, Alex Howarth, Ian Hutten, Steve Johnson, Gabriel Brassard, Myles Foster, Andrew Sommerville, Rueben Fisher, Martin Touchette, Derrick Minish, John Servage, Kyle Sobering, Brandon Hunt, Byron Guptill - coach, Hans Hutten - ass't coach, Paul Sobering - trainer, Dawna Whitehead - manager (absent from photo).

Kelly leads Juveniles into 417 title match

OTTAWA — Aaron Kelly's four-goal performance propelled the North Dundas Devils to a 6-2 victory over Russell and right into the 417 Midget/Juvenile Hockey League's 2003-04 championship match.

But once they faced off against the defending champion Canterbury "B1" Crusader neither Kelly or any of his teammates were able to put puck against string. The Crusaders whitewashed the Demons 3-0 Sunday (April 4) at the University of Ottawa Complex to earn their fourth consecutive championship.

North Dundas's inability to score created frustration which translated into third-period penalties — five minor, one double minor, five misconduct and three game misconducts. The title match was scoreless after a period. Canterbury was up 2-0 after two.

"We had guys playing hurt. We were also missing players due to injury, but also there is a reason Canterbury has won so many times. They are very good hockey team," offered coach Bruce Currie.

North Dundas put together a 2-1-1 record in round four of the playoffs to earn a berth in the championship game. The Demons lost their first game of round four 2-0 to the champion "B1" Crusaders, tied the "B2" Crusaders 5-5, defeated Sandy Hill 4-2 and Russell 6-2 to advance.

DEMONS 6 - RUSSELL 2

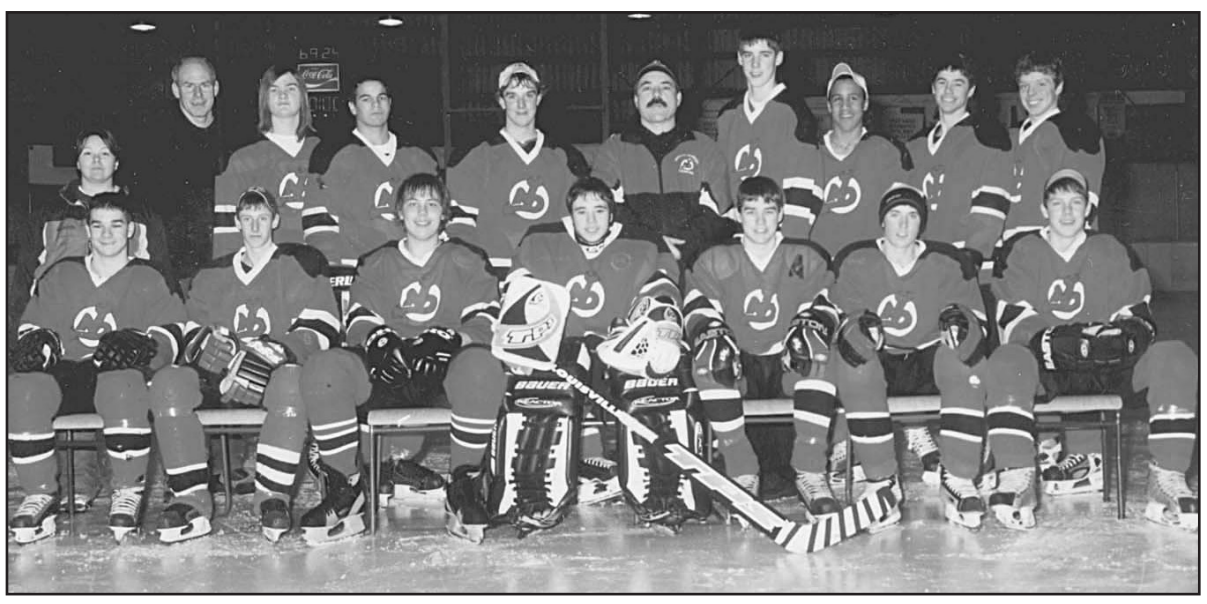
Aaron Kelly's first of four goals was engineered by Kyle Kloosterman and Tom Toonders at 11:20 of period one of the April 3 encounter at the Russell Arena.

Kloosterman then opened up a 2-0 lead connecting on a relay from Kelly and Dave Gallant.

Russell broke Chris Currie's shutout bid when Todd Collins and Michael Floyd beat him in period two but the Demons replied at 7:43 when Kelly put his team up 3-2 by finishing a play started by Gallant and Kloosterman.

North Dundas salted their victory away pumping in three unanswered goals in the final frame. Kelly hit for his third after taking a pass from Bill McRoberts at 6:06. Gallant made it 5-2 scoring from Scott Baldwin at 4:53 and Kelly cracked in his fourth with 3:03 left on the clock. Kloosterman drew his third assist on the play.

Sensational season for Major Midget House Demons



Following a first-place finish in the regular season, the North Dundas Major Midget House Demons went on to capture both the UCMHL's 2003-04 East Division and East/West overall championships. The champs are: Front (left) - Kyle Dearing, James Corkery, Justin Vantfoort, Tyler Johnson, Zarly Hutt, Adam Guy, Dan Lapier. Back (left) - Amanda Johnson - manager, Terry Sloane - trainer, Kyle Loverin, Pat Greaves, Devon Carruthers, Gary Johnson - coach, John Sloane, Norm Merrifield, Nick Honey, Brodie Lutz. Courtesy Photo

CHESTERVILLE — Very few hockey players, in their entire careers, will experience a hockey season like the members of the 2003-04 North Dundas Midget House Demons have.

This year's squad finished the regular season earning first-place honors with a 19-3-2 record. They then earned the East Division title and finally the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East/West championship — it should be noted that Gary Johnson's club wasn't the only North Dundas squad to reach those plateaus.

Where the House Demons distinguish themselves is that during the season they competed in 17 tournament games, won all 17 and were victorious in nine of those games by way of a shutout. They also won one exhibition game and posted a 6-2 record in eight playoff games.

That is a 43-5-2 record — with one man tending the nets. "Ironman" Tyler Johnson played every minute of those 50 games and composed a GAA of slightly under two.

"It wasn't about one player. It was about a bunch of guys coming together as a team. There were many nights and especially at tournaments we played with seven – eight – nine guys. That's when they came together as a team. When we had a short bench everyone else just dug and dug and dug. Tyler was our last line of defence and he did the job," noted the coach.

Johnson said the team set out with the objective of winning it all. They accomplished their goal and according to the coach, "Every one one of those guys should be proud. It is a season to be remembered."

TRAIL TO TITLE

Because they finished first during the regular season, North Dundas earned a bye in the first round of the playoffs. They then defeated Louisville, New York four points to two and then the South Dundas Lions four points to two to qualify for a berth in the East/West final against the Smiths Falls Bears.

Both of their encounters with the Bears were tightly contested one-goal decisions. The Demons opened with a 3-2 win in Chesterville on March 23 and closed with another 3-2 victory in Smiths Falls on March 28.

The second and deciding contest was tied 2-2 after two with Kyle Dearing firing in both North Dundas goals. James "Luther" Corkery was able to decide the issue in his team's favor when he drove to the net and tipped in the winning goal in the final four minutes of play.

Johnson tagged the Bears as worthy opponents and the series as challenging and hard fought. "Smiths Falls had a great hockey team. They really took it to us in both games."

‘Wendell’ Holmes leads Rangers to Melvin Cup victory

WINCHESTER — For a team that finished 15 points out of first place and couldn’t manage a win in seven regular season meetings against the squad they were battling with in the Winchester Town Hockey League championship series, the Country Kitchen Cyclones proved themselves worthy Melvin Cup contenders.

The number three-ranked Cyclones (6-12-3) pushed the top-ranked Ben’s Pioneer Gas Bar Rangers (13-4-4) to three games before settling for runner-up status.

A three-goal effort by regular-season scoring champ Dereck “Wendell” Holmes decided the 2003-04 recipient of the 77-year-old Melvin Cup. Holmes scored three of his team’s four goals and drew an assist on Chris Williams’ marker as the Rangers sealed the deal with a 4-2 victory in game three on March 30.

The Cyclones couldn’t establish any flow in the first half of game three because they had to serve 18 minutes in penalties. And one of the extra-man situations the Rangers enjoyed resulted in a 1-0 lead. Holmes cracked in his first of three finishing off a powerplay set up by Victor Blake and Sean Audet 4:25 before the intermission to make it 1-0.

The Cyclones tied it up at 23:20 of the second when Chris Van Bridger slipped in behind the Ranger defence and ripped home a cross-ice feed provided by Robert Jordan and Jeff Scott. Chris Williams jammed a loose puck created by Holmes and Troy McNaughton in under Gregg Griffith at 12:33 to put the Rangers up 2-1.

John Guy took the draw in the left face-off circle and fired the puck in through Craig Smith’s pads with 6:30 left in regulation time to pull the Cyclones into a 2-2 tie.

With time down to 2:35 Holmes finished off a play created by Williams and McNaughton to give his squad a 3-2 lead and force the Cyclones to lift Griffith in favor of a sixth attacker. The Rangers converted the empty net into the insurance goal when Holmes finished his hat trick with four seconds left on the clock.

Ben’s Pioneer Gas Bar Rangers captured both the Royal Bank Trophy (regular season title) and the 77-year-old Melvin Cup to finish the 2003-04 Winchester Town Hockey League season as champions. MELVIN CUP NUMBERS

The Rangers put together a 4-2 record on their way to winning the Melvin Cup. The Cyclones went 3-2 and actually outscored the champs 12-11 in the three game series. Rangers won game one 5-4 in OT. The Cyclones took game two 6-2 and the Rangers clinched with their 4-2 (empty net goal) victory.

Dereck Holmes led scorers in the final three-game set netting five goals and drawing three assists. Cyclones’ Chris “Sid” Van Bridger was next with two goals and five helpers for seven points. Two Cyclones, Johnny Morrow (2-4-6) and Jeff Scott (3-2-5) finished third and fourth. Ranger Chris Williams (2-3-5) round out the top five.

“Wendell” Holmes (11-6-17) and Chris Williams (4-7-11) grabbed the top two slots in the overall post-season points parade. The next three spots went to Cyclones Chris Van Bridger (3-6-9), Johnny Morrow (3-5-8) and Craig “Bud” Holmes (5-2-7).

The Glens tied it up with Jean Phillippe Bourgeois’ unassisted shot at 16:14 of the second period.

Ryan Carisse redirected a shot down and into Rock Briere’s cage at 12:06 of the final frame to give the Jets their 2-1 victory.

Steph Ethier and Andrew Decristoforo engineered the powerplay goal.

Coach Warren had only seen the Glens in action once and tagged them as a pretty quick team with a good goaltender (former Winchester Hawk Rock Briere). “They (Glens) move the puck well and they were missing a couple of their top guys so they will be tough.”

Warren reported there was a lot of neutral zone play as both teams tried to figure each other out. “Both teams had chances and both goalies played well. I also think we played much better defensively, much better than we did against South (Ottawa).”

See the Press Sports Scoreboard (above) for series dates.

OUST SOUTH

Mike Cerilli and Andrew Decristoforo each cracked in a pair of goals at the Brian Kilrea Arena on March 30 as the Jets shot down the South Ottawa Canadians 7-5 in the fifth and final game of the Metro - Valley championship series.

Metcalfe led 3-2 after two but broke up a 5-5 tie after 40 minutes with third period goals by Decristoforo (unassisted winner at 9:27) and Jason Vajda (empty net from Ryan Clarke at 0:30) to ice the win and the north division championship.

Jon Finney, Tyler Akeson also scored. Ryan Clarke (2), Vajda (2), Ryan Quinn, Jeremy McLeod, Akeson, James Thomas, Adam Clarke and Cerilli all picked up assists. Matt Gauthier posted his 11th play-off win.

Luc Nault (2), Corey Yu, Corey Thibodeau and Scott Luchak replied for the Valley Division champs. Former Winchester resident, defenceman Trent McBain, skated with the Canadians this season after leaving the Winchester Hawks camp.

Demons tops in East

The North Dundas Pee Wee “B” Demons were one of eight NDMHA teams to earn 2003-04 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East Division championships. Unfortunately the Smiths Falls Bears prevented the Demons from adding the league’s East/West championship title to its lists of accomplishments. The Bears took the overall title posting 3-2 and 4-0 victories. The Pee Wee “B” Rep East Division champs are; Front (left) - Ryan Hay, Brandon Buma, Justin Hanes, Michael VanGurp, Chris Embury, John McGlashan, Tyler Jones, Jeff Picco, Kyle Greer. Back (left) Eldon Baker - coach, Brett Baker, Taylor Johnston, Justin Comeau, Philip Duncan, Ryan McRae, Michael Cross, Sandy Johnston - trainer, Gary Embury - ass’t coach.

Extended series

The North Dundas Atom “B” Demons played four games before relinquishing the opportunity to become the 2003-04 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League’s East/West overall champions. The Demons took the South Grenville Rangers to four games before losing 3-1 on April 1. The East Division champion Demons are: Front (left) - Brandon Cousineau, Austin Carruthers, Emma Fraser, Breanna Peters, Dylan Giberson, Scott Jones, Daniel McSheffery, Ryan Romans. John Servage put the Demons up 1-0 scoring on an unassisted play at 6:31 of period one. Kyle Sobering insured the win pumping in the second puck 21 seconds before the final buzzer.

Desperate to extend their hockey season the Panthers battled the Demons goal for goal in the second instalment on March 23. It was 3-2 for the Demons after a period and 5-4 after two. The final frame was scoreless as North Dundas emerged as the 2003-04 East/West titleholder.

An unassisted goal by Steve Johnson at 13:08 opened the final game. Kemptville tied it up at 10:39, but the Demons regained the lead at 7:45 when John Servage netted a feed from Kyle Sobering. Three minutes later the Panthers connected and made it a 2-2 contest. With 3:38 left in the session Myles Foster tipped in Rueben Fisher’s point shot to send the Demons into period two up 3-2.

Kemptville was quick to tie it at 3-3, scoring at 13:30 of the second. North Dundas responded with a pair of markers and opened up a 5-3 lead. Gabriel Brassard and Servage with his second at the 4:55 mark counted the goals. Kemptville, battling to the finish, cut their deficit to 5-4 scoring 58 seconds before the final buzzer but that would be their last of the season.

Panthers one win away from Junior "C" title

EMBRUN — All that is standing between the Embrun Panthers and the 2003-04 Eastern Ontario Junior "C" Hockey League championship is one win.

If Emburn posted a victory on home ice last night (Tues., April 6) they would have defeated the Rockland Nationals four games to two and captured the championship silverware. Should they need a seventh and deciding game it is scheduled for the Rockland arena tonight (Wed., April 7).

Embrun opened the final series defeating Rockland 4-1. The Nationals bounced back with a 5-3 victory, but were dealt a double whammy when the Panthers ripped them 6-3 on March 28 and 6-2 on April 2. Rockland closed the gap to 3-2 skating to a 4-3 win on home ice on Sunday (April 4).

The Panthers have been battling through the final series without the services of Winchester's Patrick Hamel, their team captain. Hamel (14-23-37), who finished fourth on the club in scoring, was injured earlier in post-season play and is not expected to play again, in this his final season.

The Nationals (25-10-0) and Panthers (23-12-0) finished the regular season tied for first with 51 points. Rockland earned the first round bye while Embrun had to take on the Maxville Mustangs in a best of five quarter-final playoff series, which they won 3-0 (8-0, 8-1, 8-1).

Once they had eliminated Maxville the Panthers then faced the East Ottawa Thunder in the semi-final round. Embrun took the first three matches 5-2, 4-3 and 5-4 (OT) before dropping a 3-1 decision in game four. They eventually locked up a trip to the final registering a 2-1 win in overtime.

At the same time Rockland dispatched the St. Isidore Eagles four games to two to earn the other berth in the championship series.

Outlaws participate in World Cup of Hockey

OTTAWA — Marko Virtanen cracked in three goals and led Unkomeysot to a 4-1 semi-final victory over the Osgoode Outlaws in the semi-final round of the 2004 CARHA World Cup of Hockey in Ottawa.

The Outlaws were competing in the Labatt 50 (35 and over) Division of the International Tournament staged in the nation's capital last week (March 31 - April 4).

Osgoode registered three wins before being eliminated in the semis by the team from Finland who led the April 2 game 2-0 at the half. The Fins were in control 4-0 before Bob Kemp converted a feed from Brian Downey and Jamie Reimer into the Outlaws only goal with 7:06 left on the clock.

Virtanen was named game MVP for his three-goal effort. Risto Kurkinen netted the other Finish goal while Tero Lehtkoinen drew three assists for the "A" finalists. Russia took the divisional title posting a 5-0 victory over Unkomeysot.

Brian Downey potted a pair of goals as the Outlaws opened the competition with a 5-3 victory over Dorchester (Ont.) on March 29. Osgoode held a 4-2 at the half on Downey's pair and singles by Grant Anderson and Dave Sheldrick. Corey Reaney cashed in the single at the 11 mark of the second session. Brian Johnston, Bob Kemp, Rob Melenhorst, Eric Mussell and Sheldrick picked up assists. Downey was named game MVP.

Wayne Widenmaier was perfect between the pipes on March 30, backing the Outlaws in a 4-0 win over the Squamish (British Columbia) Eagles. Brian Downey picked up another game MVP award for scoring one goal and assisting on two others. Mark Patterson bagged the other three markers. Assists went to Sheldrick, Johnston, Rick Downey and Steph Rawlings.

Corey Reaney was named game MVP in Osgoode's 8-3 romp over the Yellow Eagles from Finland. He netted a pair of goals and picked up an assist for the winners. Dale Poirier also dented twine twice. Eric Mussell, Wayne Burke, Brian Downey and Rob Melenhorst also found the target. Grant Anderson (2), Johnston (2), Melenhorst (2), Kemp (2), Bob Dumelie, Patterson, Rawlings, Reaney and Reimer all collected helper points.

OHL FINAL

In league play the Outlaws suffered a 4-2 setback at the hands of the 2003-04 Osgoode Hockey League champion Osgoode Stingers who finished the regular season in last place. The title match was played on March 25.

Bigelow, Carson represent Devils

CORNWALL — Tom Bigelow and Sam Carson were selected to play in the 2004 SD&G high school all-star basketball game. The North Dundas District High School students took part in the all-star evening held at CCVS on March 31.

Each school in SD&G was represented, with at least one selection being added by the coaches.

Bigelow, a senior at NDDHS, was named to the Red Stars while Sam Carson, a member of the Senior Devils, suited up for the girl's Red Stars.

Seaway District High in Iroquois was represented by Kevin and Melissa Groninger, both of whom played for the White Stars.

Karine Lukenda (La Citadelle) drained 15 points; leading White to a 62-53 win in the girls game Vanessa Nicholls of CCVS was top shooter for the Reds hitting for 18 points.

Scott Duncan (CCVS) was named game MVP in the boys contest, swishing 17 for White in an 88-69 loss to Red. Mike Rasenburg (CCVS) paced the winners attack hitting 20 points.

Minor ball registration in Kenmore

KENMORE — Minor ball is growing in popularity in Kenmore. In the past few seasons membership in the association has grown to over 60 children.

With the assistance of a solid base of volunteers, the children learn the basic skills of T-ball and coach pitch in a fun way.

This year the program is being expanded to include nine and 10-year-olds as well as a Mites team.

A second registration session is being held at the Kenmore Hall on Tues., April 13 from 6 until 8 pm to accommodate those who missed the first session and are interested in getting their children involved in the sport. For more information call 821-0308.

LeClair-Casselman team tames course

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Jeff LeClair teamed up with Mark and Paul Casselman to tame the Innisbrook Copperhead course and win the 3-Person Scramble at Sandy Row Golf Course Indoor Golf O Max. The winning team emerged from the March 28 competition seven under par and edged Bill Shaver, Rodney Pitman and Mark Etchier who finished six under par.

Two teams finished two strokes back at five under. Jimmy Strader, Joey Strader and Rob Kimberly tied for third low gross honors with Ron McClane, Brandon Byrd and Eric Keeler.

Mike "Goose" Guy put his shot three feet from the stick to claim the Closest to the Pin prize.

Now the world you live in is a world you can lose in.

THANKSGIVING NOVENA to St Jude; O holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles near kinsmen of Jesus Christ and Faithful intercessor of all who invoked Your special patronage in time of need. To You I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power, to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make Your name known and cause You to be invoked, 3 Our Father's, 3 Hail Mary's and 3 Glory Be's. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke Your aid. Amen. This Novena has never been known to fail. I have had my request granted. Publication promised. E.D.

In Memoriam

THOMS – In loving memory of a dear mother, Pearl, who passed away April 12, 1996.
God took your hand and we had to part,
He eased your pain, but broke our hearts.
You fell asleep with a silent goodbye,
But our love is eternal and will never die.
– Loved and always remembered,
– Don and Joan MacIntosh

Marlene June Beckstead
June 4, 1942 - April 9, 1994
Mom, it's been 10 years since your passing but time hasn't faded my memory of you or lessened the sorrow. I keep you in my heart every single day.

So many things I wanted to say…

A page in the book of memory,
Silently turns today.
I remember you in silence,
And make no outward show.
And what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.

Sadly missed and never forgotten.
Love Tracey, Trisha & Jessica

Keeping Health In Mind

"Keeping Health in Mind" is a monthly newspaper column made possible with the help of the Seaway News and the clinical staff of Tri-County Mental Health Services, a community program of the Cornwall Community Hospital/Hôpital Communautaire de Cornwall.

Mental Health Matters on the Internet

Finding up-to-date and accurate information on mental health can be a challenge. Although for many, the internet is a convenient and easily accessed resource, the reliability of the information can be questionable. Currently, there is no monitoring mechanism to guard against inaccurate information posted on the internet. For those looking for reliable information on mental health matters, I would suggest consulting the following three sites on the internet. These sites are widely used and can provide accurate information about symptoms, assessment, treatment options (i.e. medications, counseling, support), and resources with respect to mental health matters.

The first recommendation is www.canadian-health-network.ca. This national, bilingual website is funded by Health Canada. It is the product of the Canadian Health Network Mental Health Affiliate Project, and provides information on identifying and dealing with mental health problems. Once you have connected to this internet site, click on the topic of "mental health." This site provides the user with a useful search engine and index of common topics, as well as a listing of Canadian and international mental health resources.

The second recommendation is www.nimh.nih.gov. The National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) is an American, federally funded agency whose public health mandate is to conduct research in the hope of achieving a better understanding, treatment and prevention of mental health conditions. The "For the Public" section of this website offers valuable information about the symptoms, diagnosis and treatment of various mental illnesses. You will find brochures, reports, information and fact sheets, as well as other educational materials.

The third recommendation is www.psychdirect.com. PsychDirect is a public education and information site that is part of the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario. This site was launched in an effort to elevate the profile of mental health issues, reducing the associated stigmas, and encouraging early detection and treatment. The information displayed on this website is appropriate for both public and professional audiences. It is easy to navigate, and provides a good overview of mental health disorders, treatment options and resources. For those interested, it includes several sections on legal issues.

This listing of internet sites is by no means exhaustive. They were chosen as samples of available internet-based information resources. Mental health affects every aspect of our daily lives and by equipping ourselves with reliable information, we may work towards achieving better mental health for ourselves and our loved ones.

Comments received from residents on proposed bylaw

OTTAWA — The city held three public consultation sessions to receive comments from residents on a proposed course of action for a new noise bylaw for the City of Ottawa. I am attempting to have a public meeting in the rural areas. More information is available on the city's Web site. Written comments will be accepted until April 12. For copies of the proposed bylaw, call me at 580-2424 ext. 25584.

ALCOHOL BYLAW

There will be a public meeting to address municipal alcohol bylaw standardization on Mon., April 19 at 7 pm. The meeting will take place in the Fred Alexander Room in the Osgoode Community Centre.

WASTE COLLECTION

The new waste collection calendars will be distributed by the end of May. In the meantime, you should continue with your current blue box/black box alternate-week schedule.

GREELY PLAYERS

Anne Peterson, who produced the Greely Players' 15th production, Bye-Bye Birdie, along with over 50 volunteers enthralled six sold-out audiences. The Greely Players have attained a truly remarkable status as one of the elite amature theatre groups in Ontario. The vast majority of funding is raised through local events and supporting patrons.

Each year, audiences are treated to very "professional" local performers, very "professional" stage sets, very "professional" make-up artists, and very "professional" props, all handled by local volunteers. I am deeply impressed by how these volunteers do such a high-calibre job.

METCALFE FIGURE SKATING

I was very honored to be invited to the Metcalfe Figure Skating Club's 2003-2004 banquet on Sunday at the Metcalfe Community Centre. The banquet capped off a great season, and a very impressive "Super Heroes" ice show last Monday at the Larry Robinson Arena. The club has renamed itself, the Metcalfe Skating Club, hoping to involve more adults in its program. What a great idea!

WIN! WIN! WIN!

Our Metcalfe Jr. "B" Jets are now leading the Alexandria Jr. "B" Glens 1-0 in the Eastern Ontario Jr. "B" Championships. They played last night (April 6), so they could be leading 2-0.

KENMORE MINOR BALL

Registration for Kenmore minor ball for ages four to 10 will take place at Kenmore Hall on Tues., April 13 from 6-7:30 pm. Contact Dave Warren at 821-0308 for more information.

O-YA GALA TICKETS

The Osgoode Youth Association has only a few tickets left for its May 29 gala. Guests can look forward to a gourmet four-course dinner by Tulips and Maple, a martini bar, a live dance band, a production of commedia del'arte by area youth, and a wide selection of items for live and silent auction.

Auction items include 15 original works of art and a home catered dinner for eight by European chef Lavdije Cuka, who has in the past served as chef to tenor Luciano Pavarotti at his villa in Italy. For tickets or a spot on the waiting list, call 826-3182. Thanks to our major sponsor, Scotiabank Osgoode!

LIONS DINNER DANCE

Greely Lion Willis McKeown is again co-ordinating one of Osgoode Ward's greatest fundraisers. Each year, the Greely Lions put on their best and invite supportive community-minded people from all over the valley to come to the Greely Community Centre. This year's event is set for April 17.

The Greely Community Centre is transformed into a virtual fantasy with valet services, great entertainment, tremendous food and a silent/live auction. All of this is geared toward raising money for local charities. This year the Osgoode Ward Home Support and the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Renewing the Vision Campaign will be the recipients of proceeds from this year's event.

WALKING CLUB

This will be an indoor walking club for people of all ages and abilities. Madeline Smith has graciously offered to lead the walking club but would appreciate assistance. There is no charge for joining the walking club. The club will meet every Tuesday morning from 9:30 to 11 am at the Metcalfe Community Centre in the upper hall, beginning on April 20.

As always it is recommended you check with your physician before starting an exercise program. On the first day participants will discuss their vision for the walking club. For example, it could be strictly a walking club, or could include strength training and flexibility exercises. Contact Barbara O'Brien-Litten for more information at 580-2424 ext. 26173.

OTHS BOYS CURLING

The curling program, which is only two years old, had a good showing at the tournament in Toronto. Their record was 3-1 in round robin play. They lost in the quarter finals to Richview High School from Toronto.

QUOTABLE

Friendships are dependent on avoiding the unforgivable.

OBITUARIES

Eileen Rose MacMillan

Eileen Rose MacMillan of Chesterville died at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on March 21, 2004 surrounded by her loving family. She was 84. The daughter of the late Charles and Mabel McMillan, she was born on Dec. 2, 1919.

She was the wife of the late John D. (Jack) MacMillan. She was the loving mother of Lorilee Gillmore Reynen (Rene) and Maureen VanDerVeen (John) and the proud and loving grandmother of Lauren, Chad and Jillian VanDerVeen.

She is survived by one sister, Doris Hitsman (the late Doug) and sister-in-law Helen McMillan (the late Clare). She was also predeceased by her sister, Hazel Beckstead (the late Maurice). She is lovingly remembered by many nieces and nephews. She was the dear friend of Gerald (Mickey) McMillan.

Family and friends visited the Chesterville Funeral Home on March 24. A mass of Christian burial took place at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church on March 24. For those wishing, donations to the Dundas County Hospice would be gratefully acknowledged.

Hospice quilt winner

The Dundas County Hospice quilt raffle winner was Connie McLaren, left, of Gallingertown. The hospice supporters sold tickets for about a year and raised $1,284. Also pictured is Joyce Francis, a member of the hospice board and the fundraising committee, who made the quilt with her mother-in-law Evelyn Francis.

South Dundas spring home and trade show a hit

by Jason Burgoone

MORRISBURG – Business owners, entrepreneurs and tradespeople from around South Dundas Township gathered at the Parker's Professional Painting Canada warehouse last weekend (April 2-3).

Geraldine Fitzsimmons, one of several event organizers on hand, was pleasantly surprised with the local population's interest. "We have over 70 businesses attending this year's event," said Fitzsimmons while welcoming a steady stream of local residents. The show attracted returning businesses as well as a few new ones.

Ross Video Limited, located in Iroquois, was one of several South Dundas businesses to make its first appearance at the show. Human resource manager Hannah Barkley was on hand to help explain to local residents and visitors what they do.

With 30 years of manufacturing television production equipment behind them, Ross Video Limited has quietly built a well-respected reputation within the mass media market. "We have 180 of our 190 employees at our Iroquois location and the rest are located in Ottawa where we do our research and development," noted Barkley.

Geraldine Fitzsimmons shows off one of the many venues at the South Dundas Chamber of Commerce Spring Home and Trade show this past weekend.

The production equipment Ross Video produces controls all the special effects viewers seen on television for networks such as CBC and the New RO. "The New RO actually has one of the first switchers we ever made," said Barkley.

As an example, the production equipment has the capability of manufacturing all the special effects you see during a newscast, including the over-the-shoulder box you often see on the screen. Anything that comes to you live, our products are capable of producing, noted Barkley.

As part of the home improvement aspect of the show, Kwik Kerb was one of several other new businesses to attend the event. Kwik Kerb owner and operator Lyman Holmes helped to explain to visitors the benefit of the concrete curbing that can be used around the flower bed or driveway.

"We actually come in and take the sod off the top two inches, then we pour concrete on top, then a slurry on top of that is colored, then a marker is used to make the brick pattern," said Holmes.

The unique product helps to keep the grass from growing into your garden and keeps the soil from being washed out as well. "You can even drive the lawnmower on top which means no more whipper-snipping," said Holmes.

Holmes has already begun receiving requests from homeowners for the new product. For an estimate, Holmes recommends calling (613) 612-8232 to set up an appointment.

Chesterville Lions Club rally attracts local support

by Jason Burgoone

CHESTERVILLE – The 15th annual Chesterville Lions Club car rally raced through North Dundas on Saturday (April 3) with more than 30 competitors taking part. New at this year's event was a chicken barbecue which had 200 chickens available.

"We did very well in the chicken barbecue," noted Chesterville Lions Club president Donny Wheeler, shortly before the start of the main event.

Drivers set out on the road with full stomachs. "We start sending the cars out at 12 noon and space them five minutes apart so there's no bunching," said Wheeler.

Event participants were required to answer 172 questions and navigate through three separate checkpoints. "The people running each of the check points have each participant do something different to get extra points," explained Wheeler.

Generous support shown by local businesses allowed the Chesterville Lions Club to continue the popular event. "There's been more interest this year due to local businesses donating more prizes," said Wheeler. "Last year everyone got a prize, and each driver ended up getting more money back than they paid to get in."

The event also received some unexpected help from four North Dundas District High School students who collected volunteer hours towards graduation. "I really wanted to just thank the community and local businesses for making the event what it is today," said a grateful Wheeler.
