Municipal, Education Heads Deliberate Budget

By Steve Hummell
Press Staff Reporter

CORNWALL—Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education officials met with municipal leaders here last night (Tuesday) to "improve communications" rather than soften the blow of the board's general budget being presented tonight, says Director of Education Rosaire Leger.

Although some municipal officials publicly flinched when the informational meeting to discuss the budget was announced, Mr. Leger stressed that the meeting was not designed to ease the crunch of an increased educational levy for the municipalities.

This is the first time the regional school board has called on municipal leaders "en masse" to discuss the municipal share of the budget. Two council members and the clerk of each municipality in SDG were invited to the meeting.

Members of the local media were given a preview of the proposed budget this morning with the understanding that the material wouldn't be made public until after the board dealt with it tonight.

"All I can say is that this was a difficult year," said Mr. Leger Tuesday. "And the finance committee has been working for a couple of months now quite diligently trying to come up with a budget that hopefully maintains educational services while at the same time being very sensitive to the current economic situation of our country."

The director was careful not to reveal any details of the budget before the board had a chance to study it. He declined to discuss restraint measures implemented until after the budget was ratified.

"...it's just to say (meeting with municipal leaders) there's nothing here, there's nothing private, there's nothing secretive about it; it's public and let's make sure that those who have the responsibility to the public have an opportunity to be as knowledgeable as possible about it," said Mr. Leger.

ROSAIRE LEGER

Last year the board chalked up a $2.5 million increase in its budget over 1976 figures. The nine percent increase came on the heels of severe cuts in administrative and instructional costs.

Meanwhile, United County councillors began studying the county budget today, as the regular session opened for business.

Administrator Raymond Lapointe said Tuesday that there probably will be a moderate increase in the general county levy but it should be offset by increased assessment.

So there probably won't be a hike in the mill rate to the individual municipalities, he added.

Funding Sought For Brinston Road Raising

By Anne Patenaude
Press Staff Reporter

CORNWALL—A "Quick and easy" road raising job announced last October for the Brinston area apparently isn't as simple as Matilda Township Reeve George Cooper thought it was.

The project, which would have raised County Road 5 to allow farmers to continue shipping milk during peak flood periods, hasn't yet gotten off the ground. Despite predictions that the annual spring flood in the Brinston-Oak Valley area will probably begin within the next ten days, county officials won't meet with government representatives until April 3 to obtain funding for the construction.

Last year Cooper said the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry road committee expected to complete the work during the winter months to make the road passable by spring. Finishing touches would be completed in 1978, he said.

The construction would have raised the road three to four feet for a one-mile section west of Salter's Bridge. Because the Ontario Milk Marketing Board has said it will no longer permit milk trucks to ford flooded roads and driveways for pickups, the road repair was more urgently needed this year.

But according to county engineer D.J. McDonald, several factors have to be considered before the roadwork begins.

"Mainly what we are after is funds," McDonald told the Press in a telephone interview. "The pitch is being made that since the government is going to do a lot of work in the area, maybe we can get some funding to raise the road."

A $15 million channelization and dredging scheme has been proposed for the Brinston area to alleviate flooding of the South Nation, but the province is still working on a cost-sharing agreement with the federal government.

He pointed out that if the province goes ahead with the multi-million dollar flood-control program, raising the road might not be necessary.

"How much work should we do if they are going to reduce the flood," he said. "Do we raise the road out of a flood that is no longer going to be there?"

If money is available for the road construction, the engineer said effects of blocking the southerly flow of water over the road would also have to be studied. A model of the area may have to be built to determine the amount of flooding and the effects of the road raising, he said.

Because the local quarry is shut down during the winter, McDonald said the work — a porous quarry operation — could not have been done before spring.

If the job is done properly, part of the bank would also have to be dug out to reroute the flow of the river.

"...and once you start touching the river, the Ministry of Natural Resources becomes involved," he added.

Conservation authorities might also become involved he said, and land purchases necessary to widen the roadway meant the counties had to prepare a land plan.

"It was supposed to be a quick, temporary job — but quick jobs usually end up costing a lot of money," he said. "We decided to do it right — that's why it was delayed from last fall."

The engineer said the April meeting at the Toronto office of the Ministry of Transportation and Communication, arranged by MPP Osie Villeneuve, was being held primarily to arrange funding. A delegation from S.D.&G. including the engineer, the warden and members of the roads committee, will meet MTC Minister James Snow and officials from the Ministries of Natural Resources, Agriculture and Food, and the Environment.

Cost of the three-stage project would total about $630,000. The first stage, estimated at $210,000, would raise the road out of the flood and stop 500 feet short of the first of the five houses affected by the project.

McDonald said if the road is repaired but left below the flood level, cost of the first stage would be reduced to $150,000.

The second part of the project would cost an additional $75,000 and would involve moving the river. The final step — estimated at $345,000 — would involve realignment of the river and the construction of two bridges.

If the entire project is approved, the road raising would alleviate flooding problems for the five farmers with access to the road.

McDonald said the total cost includes $310,000 for rebuilding the two bridges and another $35,000 for roadwork. Although the three-stage project would take at least two years to complete, the first stage could be completed in time for next year's flood, he said.

Monitor Moose Movements

Expanding Herds Potential Danger

By Steve Hummell
Press Staff Reporter

OTTAWA—Ottawa could have a periodic moose problem if herds in nearby Larose Forest and Alfred Bog are not harvested, says a Ministry of Natural Resources spokesman from Cornwall.

Both swampy areas which harbor rapidly expanding moose populations are located about 30 miles directly east of the city.

Bill Lannin, supervisor of fish and wildlife in Cornwall, said four moose found their way into the city last year compared to only one before in the 1970's. And there has not been much success with removing them from the city without injuries, he said.

But there are other reasons to harvest their numbers. An adult moose which weighs approximately 1,000 pounds eats about 15 to 20 pounds of browse a day. And at that rate, the estimated 86 moose in the Alfred Bog and the 35 in Larose Forest could do considerable damage to their habitat. In both areas they are primarily feeding on hemlock, trembling aspen and cedar.

Lannin says the Ministry wants to harvest the herds, probably by initiating regular hunting seasons. But the problem must be studied carefully first and all landowners consulted directly beforehand. In this case all the land in the Alfred Bog is privately owned and the Larose Forest is owned by the United Counties of Prescott and Russell.

"We're very concerned about the size of the herds and the way in which they are increasing, said Lannin. "What they'll do is take a cedar the heighth of a filing cabinet and just chew it to the stem."

These two areas contain the largest concentrations of moose in Eastern Ontario and because of their usual rarity there has never been a hunting season to keep their numbers in check.

Their numbers have grown rapidly since first spotted in the late 1920's in the Alfred Bog, said Lannin. Twenty-nine moose were counted from the air in the Alfred Bog in 1968. There were 36 three years late and in 1973 there were 53 counted. Today there are probably more than 86, he said.

Lannin said the Ministry's real concern now is to determine which is the best method to keep their numbers in check. Hunting is the most economical, he said, but could prove difficult to initiate if the landowners object.

"I feel the herd for its own good and the good of the area has to be brought down to a tolerable level," said Lannin. "We're trying to test the public reaction now and hope to get a good honest plan working."

He said there probably won't be any action taken this season but in a year's time the Ministry hopes to be closer to a solution. He said a few complaints have been received from local farmers who report minimal crop damage.

Lannin said the Ministry has made its concerns known to Prescott-Russell county councillors and hopes to meet with them soon about the problem.

He said Conservation officers are closely monitoring movements of the moose and study road kills closely for any signs of disease or pest outbreak. The safety aspect of opening a moose hunting season in the relatively high populated area must be considered closely too.

Another problem has surfaced with the moose, he noted. They become trapped in drainage ditches where they go for water but can't rescale the high banks.

Last year two moose died in ditches and just this spring it took 12 men to save a moose from the same fate.

Lannin said the moose are in a healthy state now and don't suffer from any natural predator except the odd poacher.

Extensive areas of forest have been stripped in some parts of North America by browsing moose but surveys across Northern Ontario have shown little evidence of moose destroying their food supplies. In only a few instances, where high densities of moose were confined on islands or attracted to particularly palatable food on burned areas has over-browsing been recorded.

Gathering such large amount of food requires great mobility, and moose can travel many miles in a short time. To determine how far they move moose have been tagged so when they are later shot by hunters their movements can be traced.

Recovery of tagged animals has shown that the average distance moved between summer and fall was only about six miles. On the other hand, for reasons which are not clear, some moose travel more widely. The longest recorded distance over which a tagged moose moved was 98 miles.

Mrs. Carol Bowie, a Cornwall housewife, will join George Kaneb of Kaneb Fuels, and Mr. M. Welch, a teaching master at St. Lawrence College, on the panel for the April 5th energy choices seminar to be held at St. Lawrence College. A fourth member of the panel is expected to be named later. The seminar is free and begins at 8 p.m. at Aultsville Hall Theatre. It Was A White Easter!

The child that sent in the little verse about this Easter's unseasonable weather probably touched the sentiments of most as they cleared the white stuff from driveways and sidewalks on the weekend. The little jingle reads: "Here comes Peter Cotton-tail sliding down the ski trail...." About 10 cm. of wet snow fell Sunday abruptly ending the warm spring weather.

Vandalism Damage High

A report from Ontario Provincial Police says five incidents of vandalism in Iroquois and Matilda Township in March caused considerable damage to public and private property. Damage to Seaway District High School is estimated at $10,000 and Stampville Public School sustained about $1,000 damage. Charges have been laid in connection with the vandalism and police point out that names and addresses of adults charged will be released to the press to keep communities aware of identities.

Credit Where Credit Due

In a report on the Heart Fund campaign last week, co-ordinator Mrs. Nina Woods inadvertently failed to mention two of the canvassers who helped to raise a total of $1300 in Winchester village. Mrs. Woods said credit should also go to Mrs. M. Aitchison and Eldon Fennell for their efforts during the February canvass.

Press Extends "Get Well" Wishes

The Press learned with regret this week that Mrs. Thomas McConnell is no longer able to read the newspaper she has enjoyed for so many years. Mrs. McConnell celebrated her 98th birthday on March 4th and failing eyesight now prevents her reading of happenings in the area she so fondly remembers. Mrs. McConnell (Mary Hoy) was born at Hallville and her late husband was a native of Reid's Mills. Following their marriage about the turn of the century they farmed for many years in North Dakota. She is presently recovering from a painful fall and the Press joins with her many friends in the district in wishing her a speedy return to good health.

Health Study Agreement

Mohawks To Hire Doctors To Study Fluoride Pollution

CORNWALL—An agreement has been reached between the St. Regis Indians and the federal government concerning a controversial study of health hazards on Cornwall Island.

The Mohawk Indians have agreed that any study will include PCB's mirex and mercury contamination as well as fluorides. Under the agreement the band council will be allowed to hire two American doctors; familiar with fluoride problems.

One of them, Dr. Bertrand Carnow, started work on the study last week but the federal government had refused to pay him and the band council was picking up the tab.

Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley said the federal government wants a comprehensive study because there are no guarantees that what is effecting the Indians is not also affecting other Cornwall area residents.

"Although St. Regis residents have stressed the need for a study on highly-visible fluoride contamination emitted from the nearby Reynolds Metal Company, Health and Welfare officials note that the reserve is exposed to other contaminants such as mercury, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB's) and mirex," said Mr. Lumley.

He said that he agreed with the observation of the officials: that only a complete study on the effects of all of these contaminants will produce the necessary results to deal effectively with the problem.

"I would also like to know the extent of these environmental contaminants outside the reserve on our side of the St. Lawrence further down river and only an all-inclusive analysis would provide this information," he said.

Under the agreement Dr. Carnow will submit a plan of study to the federal government by the end of this week.

The dispute is centred around a high level of fluoride emission coming from the Reynolds plant at Massena, about 16 kilometers southwest of here.

The Indians say the emissions are stunting growth of cattle and other animals and plants and is now having an effect on human life. The Massena plant has been there for more than 20 years.

One of the main objects of the proposed study will be to determine what role the plant has on life on the island.

The Carnow study is expected to take at least eight months to complete and will cost the federal government $150,000. Mr. Lumley says Department of National Health and Welfare officials have been working with the St. Regis Band on this problem since 1975 and have always agreed there is a health problem.

"They have already committed $87,000 to fund local workers hired by the band to develop an environmental contaminants program on the reserve," said Mr. Lumley.

He noted that the department of External Affairs has previously advised the U.S. government of Canadian concern on the fluroide pollution problem resulting in formal consultations on this question with the U.S. Department of State in February.

Kick Off Cancer Campaign

April is 'Cancer Month' and the local fund-raising campaign was officially kicked off at Winchester Lions Hall last week.

Bill MacDonald, Dundas County campaign chairman has set $12,000.00 as this year's objective, and Winchester unit chairman Walter Shadbolt anticipates increasing last year's figure of $4,275.00 to at least $6,000. The Winchester unit includes Hallville, Mountain, South Mountain, and neighbouring areas.

CORNWALL—On March 30th, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will mark its 60th year of providing rehabilitive and support services to blind people in Canada.

The institute, which began as a private charitable organization, originally operated with a staff of three and a national council of seven in 1918. Since then, it has become a nationwide agency employing a large staff of both sighted and blind people in professional, administrative, clerical and industrial capacities.

CNIB provides services to over 30,000 blind people in Canada. With an excellent service of employment record, many blind people are employed in the Cornwall area.

The Cornwall office of the CNIB was instituted in 1940. The institute has continued to carry out its primary objectives — to better the lives of blind and visually impaired Canadians and to prevent blindness through public education and eye safety programs.

The Cornwall district administrator is Mr. Marcel Marsolais, 135 Augustus Street, Cornwall. The area includes the counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell.

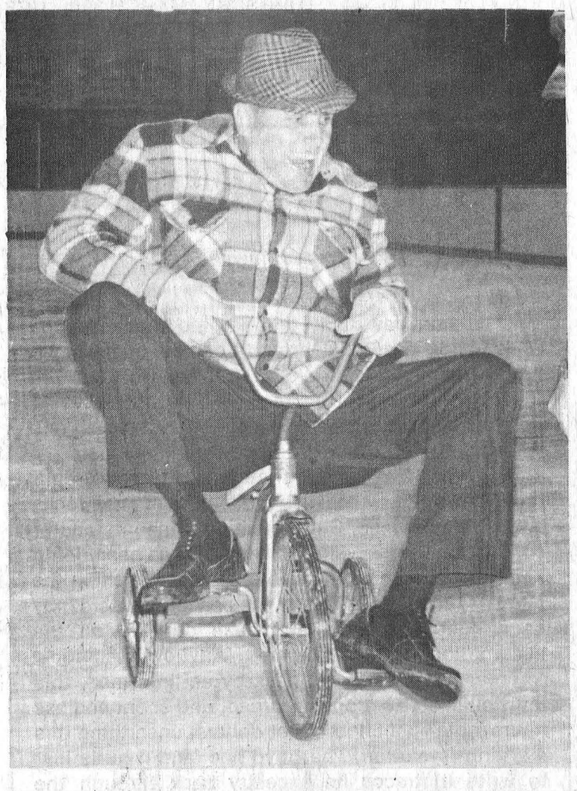
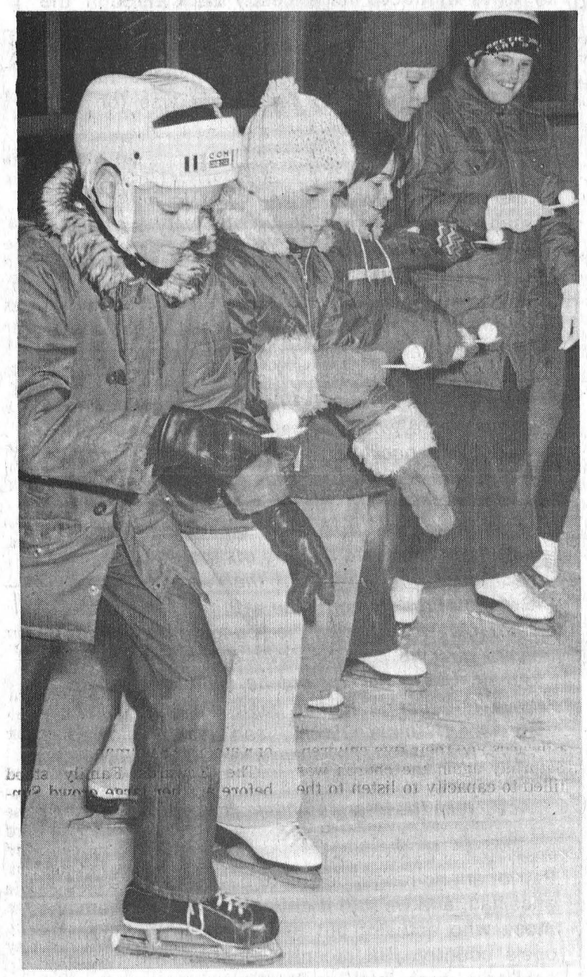
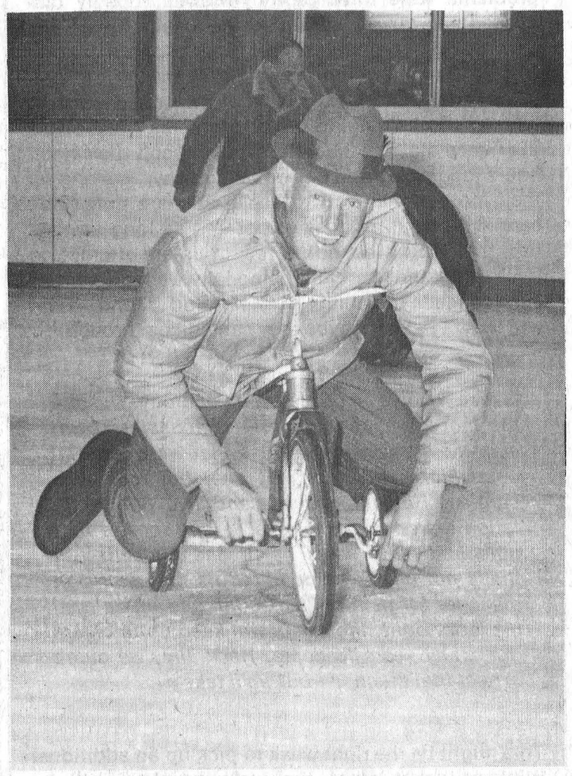
Tricycle Races Spotlight Ormond Carnival







Costumes, races and contests highlighted this year's edition of the annual Ormond Recreation Association ice carnival.

Young and old alike were on hand at Winchester and District Community Centre last week for the on-ice activities.

Master of ceremonies Neil Stewart kept events rolling over the two hour program headed by the costume parade.

Over twenty contestants donned disguises of all kinds and skated in review for the panel of judges. No age categories were used, three winners shared the prizes and after some difficult deliberation officials decided that Pam Porteous and her elephant outfit deserved top money.

Wendy Vanderlaan dressed as Mr. Ormond was second and Bonnie Stewart, covered from head to foot in newspapers received third place money.

All age groups took part in various races including pancake and egg balancing events.

Tricycle races were introduced this year and open to married men and women. Bill Stewart spun his tiny cycle to the centre red line and back in the men's division. There was no clear cut winner in the ladies field consisting of Myrna Cinnamon, Lillian Stewart, Jean Porteous and Shirley Porteous. It seems the drivers ran into technical difficulties.

Bill Stewart powers his three wheeler to a first place finish in the tricycle races in the top photo.

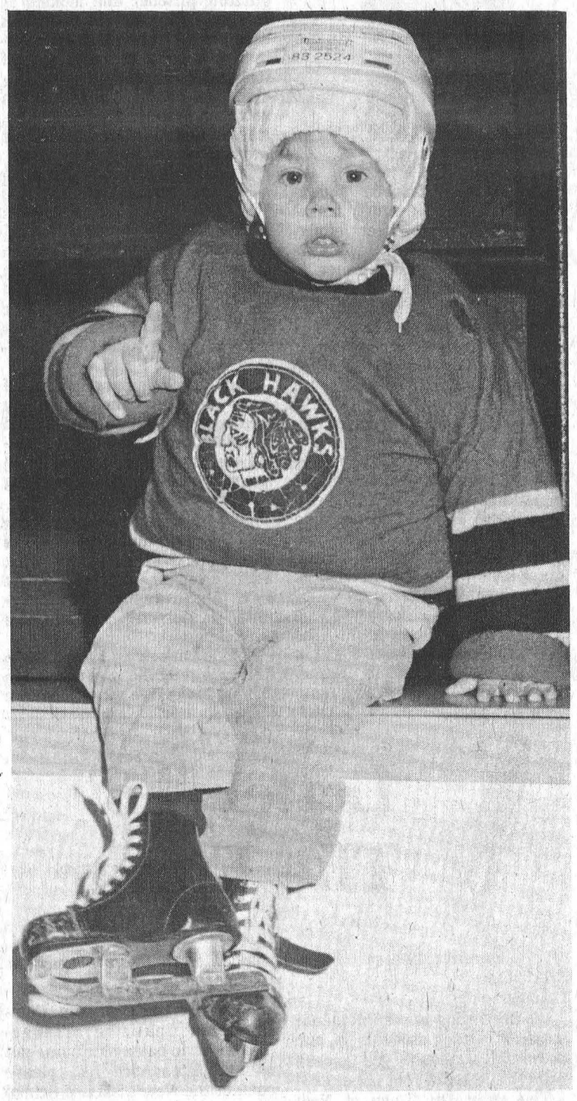
Allan Cinnamon tried a different approach to get some traction and finished a close second to Bill Stewart in the men's tricycle event.



Horse Club Holds Inaugural

South Dundas Horse Club members held their first meeting of the new season at Winchester agricultural office with two leaders, eight members and special guest Howard Giles present.

Executive members elected were President, Cynthia Whetten; vice president, Kim Jackson; secretary Jo-Anne McMillan and press reporter Gillian Barkley.

The next meeting will be at the home of Kim Jackson on April 10th when discussions will centre on tack.

Are You From Ormond???

Wally Cinnamon was the youngest skater on the ice at last week's Ormond Ice Carnival.

In fact Wally, who is just a year and a half, was the only skater to show for the under five race and won the prize money after taking a few shaky strides with the help of good old dad.

Perhaps he is signifying the Black Hawks will have a number "1" draft choice sometime in the not so distant future.

Wally's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Cinnamon.

Dietician Addresses Metcalfe WI

Mrs. Daphne Gee, a dietician at Ottawa Civic Hospital, was guest speaker at the March meeting of Metcalfe Women's Institute. Mrs. Gee, who explained the nature of her work, was introduced by Mrs. Edward Scharf.

The well-attended meeting was at the home of Mrs. Emerson Irven where roll call was answered by naming "A good brand you can stand by."

All committees were reminded to have reports ready for presentation at the annual meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. Walter Nibogie on April 11th. Members were also reminded that public relations officers from the district will be meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Wallace on March 30th at 8:00 p.m.

Following adjournment Mrs. Irven, assisted by Mrs. Earl Reany, served a delicious lunch.

Leonard W.I. Entertains 4-H Girls And Mothers

Leonard W.I. members held their March meeting at the 'Centre' with 11 members and 31 visitors present. Visitors included 4-H girls and their mothers.

Roll call was answered by naming something that can be recycled in the home, and committee chairmen submitted reports. Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Kardulus were named to the nominating committee and auditors were appointed.

The program consisted of a bake sale conducted by members and their 4-H visitors, and a social hour followed.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Henry and Mrs. NcNeely.

Mrs. C. Lewis Convenes Meeting

"An Evening of Nostalgia" was the theme of the March 21st meeting of the Vernon Women's Institute held in Club 31 with Mrs. Clinton Lewis, Tweedsmuir History Curator, as convenor. Members and friends attending, including guests from both Osgoode and Kars, were asked to participate in old familiar songs, and view a display of pictures and books of by-gone school days, as well as the Tweedsmuir History Volumes. Mrs. Lewis unfolded the story of the Club 31, which was a school built in 1882, and she paid tribute to many of its teachers, she had known personally.

Assisting the speaker, a quintette consisting of Misses Marilyn, Kim, Monna, and Laureen McDiarmid, and Betty Linton sang popular songs of the thirties and forties.

For the roll call, matching the ladies with their early photos proved quite a difficult task. Mrs. Bert Velthuis, president, urged that anyone who is interested would be welcome at the tailoring course in Metcalfe next month. Also she reminded members of the Annual meeting in April. Concluding the pleasant evening, Mrs. A. Sayant, Mrs. I. Bath, Mrs. L. Craig, and Mrs. H. M. Lee served a delicious lunch.

One Giant Step — Backwards

"You can't please all the people all the time."

It's an old saying but one with which the Easter Seal people will agree. It seems that the design of the 1977 Easter Seal — symbol of the annual nation-wide appeal for physically handicapped children — last year offended some militant femininists, a few Anglophones and a number of people best described as "thrifty".

The colourful Easter Seals portray handicapped children in a variety of fun activities — baseball, throwing a bone to a dog, and playing with a doll. Some women users of Easter Seals complained that there were more "boy" Seals than "girl" Seals — clear evidence of discrimination. Others protested that the boy was playing with a dog while the girl was shown in a blatantly sexist role of playing with a doll.

A very few consumers returned their 1977 Easter Seals with the comment that they would not contribute to the campaign until the French text was removed. Most negative comments, however, came from those who felt cheated because the 1977 Easter Seals were so large that they received only six on a sheet.

The last complaint was the easiest to deal with, according to Ian Bain, executive director of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. This year's sheets have 24 individual Seals of a smaller size. "We had to retain the basic design, which we liked, in order to keep costs to a minimum," Bain said. "And there is no way we would consider removing the French part of the text."

"Easter Seals are used across Canada and a bilingual text is both sensible and necessary," Bain said.

As for the criticism of sexism, the Ontario Society says that the child in the wheelchair playing baseball could be a girl in unisex clothing, in which case the girls have a slight edge in numbers over the boys in the 1978 Easter Seals.

The annual Easter Seal appeal which runs from March 1 to April 2 raises funds to provide a district nursing service, summer camping program, prosthetic and orthotic devices, diagnostic clinics and other services for handicapped children throughout Ontario. A total of 234 service clubs — Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Kinsmen and others — conduct the campaign locally and also provide direct personal interest in the children in their community.

The Ontario Society also contributes more than a quarter million dollars a year to the Ontario Crippled Children's Centre in Toronto, makes capital grants for the construction of new treatment facilities and supports the Conn Smythe Research Foundation for Crippled Children.

Provincial objective for 1978 is $2,500,000 and such a worthy campaign should not be hampered by narrow-minded bigotry.

Smiley Offers Tips For Travellers

By Bill Smiley

One of my favorite indoor sports is leafing through travel brochures, and I've been indulging myself lately, while planning a jaunt to Europe this summer.

I revel in the colorful descriptions of exotic and romantic places, even though I know they are generally a lot of hogwash. It is common knowledge that Venice stinks like an open sewer, but I still want to have a gander at the Dode's Palace and the Bridge of Sighs.

I am perfectly aware that being a Canadian tourist in Paris is like being an open safe in a houseful of burglars. But that doesn't stop me from wanting to visit Notre Dame and have a dekko at the great bells where the Hunchback thereof swung so merrily.

I'm pretty sure that I won't be having an audience with the Pope, but I'd still like to stand in the Sistine Chapel in Rome, gawking at Michelangelo's magnificent ceiling with all the other tourists.

I'd love to ride down the Rhine guzzling pilsener and looking at castles, with one eye peeled in case we spotted Die Lorelei sitting on a rock in the middle of that polluted stream.

I'd delight in a real Hungarian goulash, Bavarian sauerbraten, Italian pasta, or even an honest Swiss steak.

It would be great to drop in on old prison camp friends like Nils Jorgenson in Oslo, Milan Karic in Dubrovnik, Jean Morai in Liege, Belgium, Rostislav Kandusky in Morava, Czechoslovakia. Even though I know they would no longer be dashing young fighter pilots, but pot-bellied burgers heading toward senior citizenship.

In fact, I could happily take off every summer and spend six weeks or more kicking around Great Britain and Europe, looking up old acquaintances, making new friends, and devouring scenery and history.

There are only two things that stop me from doing this. One is money. The other is my wife. There's not enough of the first item. And it almost takes dynamite to get the second item travelling.

Looking at prices, I am shaken fairly rigid by the way they have shot up in the five years since we last went abroad. Hotel prices in London have zoomed by 50 per cent or more, to make that city, once a real bargain, one of the more expensive places to visit.

For example, by taking advantage of a "special discount" connected with our tour, we are able to stay for one night at the Penta Hotel for a mere $56.00. Regular rate is $62.00. Last time we were over, we stayed at a middle-class hotel, with bed and breakfast for $32.00. And while the Penta is a new hotel, and no doubt very smart, it is far from being one of the great hotels of London. At that rate of increase, a double room at the Dorchester or the Savoy would now set one back about $150.00.

Probably the answer is simply London's popularity. Although many new hotels have been built in the last decade, there is still an enormous demand for rooms, with hundreds of thousands of North Americans, Europeans and Asians pouring into the fabulous old town every summer, mouths open, wallets bulging, and cameras clicking.

Nor does it help that the pound has got back some stability, while the Canadian dollar has sunk to Depression levels.

A colleague who was over there last summer suggested, "Take as much money as you think you'll need, then double it. They whack you a buck for a cup of coffee."

When I was young and in my prime, as they say, the British pound was the soundest security in the world. A pound was worth about five dollars. Today, the pound is one of the least envied and most unstable units of currency in the western world. It used to be an evening on the town, albeit not a wild one, but a couple of drinks, a show and something to eat. Now it's an average-sized tip after a meal. That's what happens when you win a couple of wars and lose an empire.

But it isn't the money that bothers me about making a trip. It's the Old Lady. First of all, she can pack so much stuff into a suitcase that it takes an adult male gorilla to lift the thing. That's why I came home from our last trip with my arms stretched to down around my knees.

Second of all, she is somewhat of an insomniac. Hot milk, nightcap, sleeping pills, you name it and her systen shrugs it off as you or I would a lifesaver. That's at home.

Imagine what she's like when we're on the move constantly, sleeping in strange beds every night, eating strange food, getting excited at new sights and sounds and people. She knocks off one or two hours a night and the rest of the time is an advanceed case of somnambulism.

Why am I so selfish then, you may well ask. Why do I drag her off to foreign fields, where she'll be lucky if she sits down on the edge of a fountain and people don't think she's a statue?

Because she won't let me go alone. Many a time I've offered. "Why don't you just stay home, dear, and have a nice quiet time around the house? I'll send you a card every day, and I'll be back in only six weeks, before you know it."

She doesn't trust me, even when I tell her it's the ladies, not the men, who get pinched in Rome.

So that's why I'm saving quarters in the cookie jar and refurbishing my once-fluent French, German and Italian. "Arrivederci, Mademoiselle, was maken sie hier? Mix offnen der tor bevor der zug halte. Avez-vous des bluejinsi? Mein epouse nich schlaffen prima."

Expect there'll be no problems when you can handle the lingo like that.

7th column

By Joe Rowan

This column has many times noted that everyone (well nearly everyone) proudly boasts of having a proud Irish Ancestry. Would you believe there are those (not many fortunately) who would strive to destroy such a glorious heritage? Now everyone knows full well W. J. L. Boyd and his illustrious sons, being 'True Green' through and through, built their thriving business on a foundation of shamrocks and blarney stones. But hear this! Someone, and of course the name is veiled in secrecy, has been doing some confounded extensive research. We think the person 'guilty' of disturbing the peaceful waters may be a male - - and we'd stake our life on the assumption he's a Scotsman. Anyhow, according to notes 'leaked' to this desk by an 'informer', this individual left no stone unturned, and spent endless hours (note spent hours, not dollars) unearthing this startling revelation. The Boyd line (and it hurts just to write it) traces its ancestry back through the dimming yellow pages of time to a thatched hut on a heather-covered hillside in Scotland. But that isn't all (and it hurts even more to write this) the name of the Clan that spawned the Boyds was (oh no!) "Stewart".

We vowed a few weeks ago not to make any mention of hockey till, at the very earliest, next September. But this little touch of the unusual just couldn't wait that long. Last Saturday Metcalfe 'Jets' accepted a challenge issued by the players who brought honour to the club in 1973. As anticipated the younger players outhustled the 'over-the-hill' lads and coasted to an easy victory. "Butch" Wilson, the goalie who earned fame when Metcalfe won all the silverware, was back between the pipes Saturday night, and for the first time realized time was rapidly becoming his enemy. Imagine the 'ageing' goalie's frustration on realizing those sizzling shots were coming off the stick of his nephew Kevin. And as if that wasn't enough Grandpa Fred [the old man with the cane in the third row] was offering the youngster a buck for every goal he scored. Kevin didn't manage to outwit 'Uncle Butch', but he claims he would have if Grandpa hadn't been so tight-fisted. But then 'Uncle Butch' hasn't really slowed down that much - - looks like he'll be on another championship team this spring when Kars 'Aces' take the intermediate league crown.

Patriotism no longer seems to have the same ring it once had, and we find it difficult to believe there are those who actually put health above devotion to one's country. Till recently most of the nation's problems were intelligently reviewed, openly discussed and rapidly solved by the 'cabinet' that met daily down at the Main Street diner. Now, thanks to Doctor Slowey, "Pierre" and "Bill" are left on their own, and we shudder to think of the consequences. Instead of challenging major problems head-on as they once did, the 'Ministers' now spend their noon hours jogging up and down the highway "Revving up their motors' they call it, and it appears they don't care if the country goes to pot - - - as long as they lose theirs. But fear not, a few of us are attempting to shoulder the load, and personally we have a lot of confidence in the ability of 'Mel', 'Bud', 'John', 'Don' and 'Ray' - - - just maybe they can pull us through.

Guess we owe Jim Sullivan an apology. Despite the fact we have no vote in Winchester Township the curling [and we use that word loosely] councillor sent along not one, but four, fine stogies. He intended to send five but temptation reared its ugly head - - and for the first time in twenty years he lit one himself. But that's not all, he's appointed us his campaign manager for next fall's election and, if we read his letter right, the salary will keep up in cigars for many years to come. Heck Jim, we didn't expect that much - - - but we'll take it.

This might be the right week to pick up an additional Wintario ticket since the lucky numbers will be selected right here in our area. Embrun Community Centre will most likely be a hive of activity tonight (Thursday) with many availing themselves of the opportunity to see Fred Davis in person. Since our ticket looks like a lucky one this time we'll be there to collect. And if we win $100,000 the gang here at the office will have a real treat in store . . . we'll buy the coffee on Friday morning!

Till now we simply laughed at weather predictions appearing in almanacs. This time we're not laughing. Here's what ours says about the month of March : "The last week sees warming temperatures with a surprise snowstorm". Don't know about you, but we can think of plenty of 'surprises' we'd appreciate more than six inches of snow just after we put the shovels away for the summer. Can't say we weren't warned though - - - Maynard Cinnamon told us it was O.K. to store the scrapers but just to remember where they were. But how the H—did he know?

A 75-year old butter churn borrowed from a neighbour is set up in the Cinnamon milkhouse alongside the Winchester farmer's modern dairy equipment. With all of their market sharing quota used up, the Cinnamons utilize their over-quota milk in buttermaking.

Cinnamons Churn Over-Quota Butter

By Anne Patenaude
Press Staff Reporter

Allan Cinnamon is one of 12,000 Canadian dairy farmers who can't sell the thousands of pounds of milk that flow into their bulk tanks every day.

In fact, he can't even sell the butter, ice cream, skim milk or buttermilk he and his wife make so they won't have to open the tap on their tank and watch those gallons and gallons of "cold, beautiful milk" pour down the drain.

Cinnamon is one of the thousands of producers who have used up their allotment of market sharing quota. And, as a protection to both the dairy industry and the consumer, there is a law that prohibits the sale of homemade dairy products.

But consumer and industry protection are little comfort to the Winchester farmer, who has had to cut production for several months in order to stay within his 202,000 pounds of MSQ.

Cinnamon says it doesn't pay to ship the over-quota milk he has been producing for almost a month. The $7.20 over-quota levy charged by the Ontario Milk Marketing Board, added to other levies and transportation costs, would probably leave him owing money on the milk he ships.

Because he refuses to dump the milk he can't sell, Allan and his wife Joan acquired a cream separator and a 75-year old butter churn from a neighbour. They churn 20 pounds of butter from every 65 pounds of cream they produce. Part of the cream also goes into gallons of homemade ice cream, and the skim milk and buttermilk left after each churning are considered a treat by the whole family.

But the Cinnamons are perplexed and bitter about their plight. They say the marketing board won't buy their milk but the Ault Foods plant here, Ontario's largest industrial milk processor, is buying milk from Quebec plants to meet its market requirements.

Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry MLA Osie Villeneuve claimed recently that two Ontario processing plants are buying 40 million pounds of milk from Quebec this year. They can process and sell every pound of that and another 40 million right here in Ontario, he said.

A few years ago, farmers were encouraged to increase production and improve their efficiency. There is a healthy market for dairy products in Ontario but because the province holds only a 32 per cent share of the national quota, 3,700 Ontario producers ran out of MSQ before the end of the dairy year, March 31.

And most of them, like the Cinnamons, probably don't understand why they can't sell the milk they've spent a lifetime learning to produce.

Honour Junior Farmers At Toronto

(By Eileen Moriarity)

East Carleton Junior Farmers earned special recognition at the recent Provincial Conference in Toronto when the club was awarded top honours in the Ontario Community Betterment Project. The area club had donated $750.00 to Participation House, Ottawa — money raised by sponsoring a car rally and dance early in the fall.

Several members, including president Susan Rowan, Meredith Gilbert, Jim Waddell, Betty Quinn, Jim Kelly, Liz Laska and Eileen Moriarity attended the interesting and educational conference.

The valuable role being played by the local club was much in evidence when Miss Gilbert, a club past president and provincial director was elected Director on the Provincial Executive. In addition Jim Kelly, club vice president, who was chosen last fall as one of a select group from across the province to attend the Bark Lake Leadership Conference, received additional honours. In recognition of his outstanding contribution he was awarded a trip to Indiana through the Travel Opportunity Program for Junior Farmers.

THE CONFERENCE

The Toronto Conference provided members an opportunity to gain insight into organization's work, as well as providing programs designed to create better understanding and good fellowship among young people from all parts of the province.

Valuable lessons were learned regarding money management, law and problems facing the youth of today. At the induction of officers banquet 633 enjoyed a delicious meal followed by an evening of dancing.

Personal

Recent callers of Mrs. John Erratt were Mr. and Mrs. Morley Erratt of Cardinal, Mrs. James Fulton of Hulbert, and Malcom Roberts of Montreal.

Osie Concerned About Ag. Industry

Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry MLA Osie Villeneuve's comments in the recent Throne speech debate in the Legislature contained a deep concern about the agricultural industry in his constituency. In the following article his comments are excerpted from the text of his speech.

Osie Villeneuve, MLA for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, said during the recent Throne speech debates in the Ontario Legislature that testing methods for brucellosis in dairy cattle are unsatisfactory in his constituency.

"I do want to point out to the Minister of Agriculture and Food for Ontario that in testing of cattle for export to the few markets that are available to us, somehow the facilities east of Toronto to the Quebec border and the services we are now obtaining are anything but satisfactory," said Mr. Villeneuve.

He said the bulk of agricultural income in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry comes from dairy farming and the sale of dairy cattle to other countries.

However, the outbreak of brucellosis in Ontario has deprived SDG farmers of a valuable export market, he said, mainly to the United States during the past three years.

"This gave the dairy farmer the opportunity to sell off surplus animals in his dairy herd to the USA but because of the brucellosis outbreak and other matters, this market has been lost..." he said.

Mr. Villeneuve said he knows a case of a Port Hope farmer who waited eight days for blood tests of his cattle to be processed.

Very often cattle sales are made subject to receiving the reports back; blood samples and cattle charts are prepared for export.

He said within the past six weeks a transport plane left Montreal with 73 of its 83 cattle stalls filled because the exporter did not receive the test charts in time.

"...I can only repeat that because of the limited markets we have for export cattle, and especially when we have a surplus of milk, it's essential that we get the best service possible to meet these dates in order to get the cattle out of the country," he said.

Under the Canadian Dairy Commission production quota as of the end of January, there were 2,951 producers of milk who had no market in Ontario, he said. Villeneuve noted that "not one pound" of powder that was manufactured from Toronto to the Quebec border was sold to the Dairy Commission this year.

There are two plants in SDG that are importing 40 million pounds during the scarce period from November to March from Quebec and yet "I have 400 farmers within the five counties that have no market for their milk; they have either got to spill it out or feed it to animals on the farm".

Mr. Villeneuve said in Glengarry, 58 farmers ran out of quota as of the end of November.

"When they received their milk cheques, the average shortage was $858 and they did not receive any pay for that milk," he noted.

More of the text of Mr. Villeneuve's speech continues:

"In all seriousness, most of these men — 90 per cent of them — have mortgages. They went into debt because the Canadian farm loan agents advised them to expand, renovate their buildings. We, in the province of Ontario, told them to go into the IMPIP program — build milkhouses and put in modern milking equipment — bulk tanks — and many of them who started with the thought of spending $20,000 to $25,000 to renovate old buildings ended up paying $45,000 to $50,000."

"They milked — and I am talking about family farm operators — about 30 cows. They fed well and they produced anywhere from 350,000 to 400,000 pounds of milk yearly. Since they were encouraged by both governments they hoped to increase their herds to pay for this indebtness, perhaps to 50 head. But instead of that, they were cut back 15 per cent, which meant three or four head less, and yet they had to meet this heavy mortgage debt they had incurred.

I have spoken to many Milk Marketing Board men and I can understand they were well-established farmers; I realize they have a very difficult job. I can understand the federal government paying a heavy subsidy — it has to have control over production. But the farmers run four and five months and they have no place to sell milk, and they are in the dairy industry, and yet there is a demand in my own area not only for that 40 million pounds of milk they have taken in from Quebec, but another 40 million pounds in the province of Ontario. That is the situation that exists. They come to me, irrespective of partisan politics, and they say: "You're our member. What can you do for us?" It's beyond the stage of making an excuse and apologizing for their problem. I've got no answers; and if I've got no answers, I don't deserve to be here to represent them.

Our Milk Marketing Board has opened its books in Ontario to show the way it operates and has invited any type of an audit, but we are not given that reciprocal treatment in the rest of Canada. We've got to find out the facts. If Ontario abides 100 per cent by the Canadian Dairy Commission's guidelines, I agree with that. But I want the rest of the country to be the same way. If we offer the inspection of the way things are being done here by any type of audit, we should have the reciprocal opportunity in other provinces.

The situation is such that it's not creating any better feeling. It doesn't matter whether it involves the French, Irish, Scottish, Dutch or anyone else, when dollars are taken from their pockets, bitterness builds up. I don't like to see this and I don't think it's necessary. I have made it my business during the last six weeks to visit every plant in the three counties that processes milk, and I have found that the 40 million pounds, plus another 40 million pounds, means that at least the number I have given out that have no quota — and I got that just the other day from the Milk Marketing Board — is such that they would all have at least two months of a market for milk. That's in two plants in my constituency, I'm not speaking for the rest of Ontario.

Most of the people in the dairy business are a little better protected because they have urbanized areas in central Ontario and, naturally, they have the protection of the fluid milk market or pool number one. The only time our people, pool number two people, can get in here is when there's a shortage of milk — and that happens very rarely, particularly at this time of year when there is so little of it produced. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, your own county, Perth, and the counties of Huron, Bruce and Oxford in western Ontario, are somewhat similar to the extreme eastern portion of Ontario because they have a great number of industrial shippers. But today we have a uniform quality of milk; everybody has had to improve his standards. The time has come when not only the shipper of industrial milk should be affected when the butterfat quota is cut in this province; not only he should suffer and have quota taken from him but, in fairness, I think the whole dairy industry should be appraised carefully.

Another thing: I think the time has come, whether we like it or not, that the Milk Marketing Board or somebody has got to put restrictions on those people who are going from 100 to 200 milking cows and leaving the small farmer to starve slowly. If the situation does not change for the better for those farmers, I predict more bankruptcies — and I am sorry to have to say this, but it is the truth — than we have ever had, even in the years of the depression.

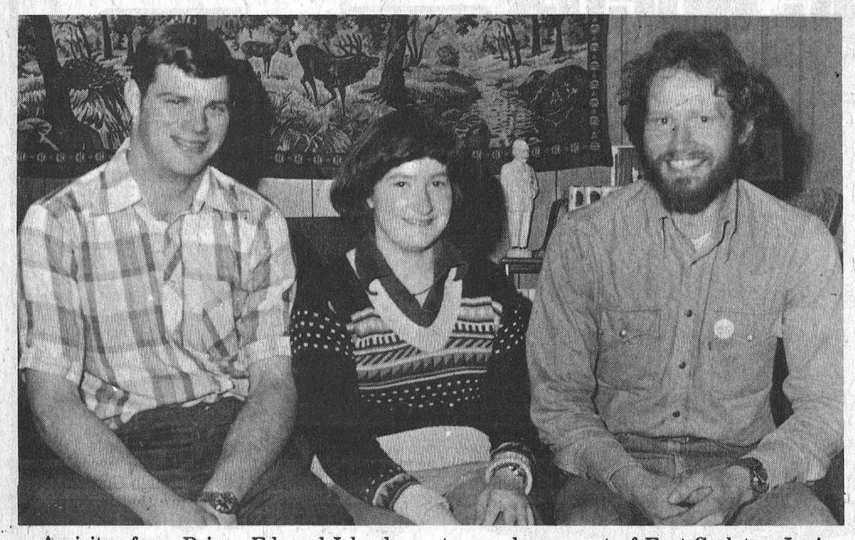
But what I want answers for is the question raised by the processing plants. They tell me, and are willing to say it anywhere, that they can accept all this milk produced in that area — every pound of it — and find sales for every pound in this province. Yet these people are being deprived of that market.

The Canadian Dairy Commission sets quotas. The federal government pays a subsidy of $2.66 a hundredweight on industrial milk. They control the production in each province. When we have hit that quota, that is it.

I realize that in administering an overall national program, any government that has to subsidize has a right to ask for curtailment of production when it goes beyond the consumption necessary. But I am speaking of these people who are not interested in acquiring this $2.66 per hundredweight federal subsidy for surplus milk. They are quite willing to abandon that. But to take home $1.80 per hundredweight for milk that the processor has to pay $9.35 per hundredweight for, no matter in what language I know — English or French — I can't make them understand that that is not justice. And I am not going to try.

But I do say there are problems that I think with goodwill and understanding we can resolve. We talk about the unemployed — and I have every sympathy for those people. But when people are working 16 hours a day and they can't meet their obligations — they are in debt — it is little wonder so many turn against society. I am fearful, because a lot of good sound people are becoming discouraged with the situation confronting them. I have an office in my riding, and I do find that every weekend I meet 15 or 20 of these people, and they just want to pour their hearts out because they have a real problem and are looking for a solution.

I just felt I should say something in this House about it. I am very much concerned. I am not blaming any particular body or any government. But I do say, when processors tell me that they can use the milk, every pound of it, and sell it in this province, we have to take stock somewhere.



A visitor from Prince Edward Island spent a week as guest of East-Carleton Junior Farmers. His name is Allan MacLean, but his new friends soon humourously nicknamed him "Spud Finnegan".

Junior Farmers Entertain Exchange Program Visitors

A 23-year old Prince Edward Island youth visited a farm near Kenmore last week as part of an exchange program with the Junior Farmers Association of Ontario.

Allan MacLean, from Cornwall P.E.I., visited the farm of Peter Heuvelmans and was the guest of East-Carleton Junior Farmer, Neal Heuvelmans.

The two-week exchange between Ontario and P.E.I. had Allan visiting Frontenac and Leeds Counties in addition to Ottawa-Carleton. Allan was one of two persons from P.E.I. on the exchange.

On the weekend of March 17th-19th Allan travelled to Toronto for the Annual Provincial Conference of the Junior Farmers Association of Ontario, where he was among over 300 delegates representing all of the Counties across Ontario.

Allan, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. MacLean, owns and operates a dairy farm on the Clyde River in Cornwall, P.E.I. The ambitious youth, when not on the farm, is busy at Holland College where he is presently enrolled in a Farm Business Course.

As P.E.I. has not had a Junior Farmers Association for 12 years, exchanges are arranged through 4-H. Allan has learned a great deal about the Junior Farmers organization and expressed to the President of East-Carleton Junior Farmers, Susan Rowan, how anxious he was to return home and begin a Junior Farmers Club in his area. Miss Rowan hosted a party on Friday, March 24th honouring the Maritime visitor.

During his stay in Ottawa-Carleton, he toured the Museum of Science and Technology as well as the Parliament Buildings in Canada's Capital. He enjoyed an evening of curling with the East-Carleton Junior Farmers, a sport he had never participated in before, and spent a day at the Ottawa-Valley Farm Show. On Saturday, March 25th, he helped to coach the girls of the East-Carleton Junior Farmers in a Broomball Tournament, sponsored by the Dundas County Junior Farmers.

Allan boarded a plane at the Ottawa International Airport on Easter Sunday to return to his dairy farm on the East Coast.

CANADA PENSION PLAN CHANGES.

Better Benefits For Some.

Divorce or Annulment.
CPP pension credits earned by a husband and wife during marriage may be divided equally between them if the marriage ends in divorce or annulment after January 1, 1978. This ensures that an asset accumulated through the efforts of both spouses while they were married can be shared equally by both when the marriage is dissolved.

Retroactive Payment of Retirement Benefits.
Retirement benefits may now be paid retroactively for a period of up to 12 months to contributors who had attained age 65 but who are under age 70 and who have retired from the labour force.

Post-Mortem Benefits.
Applications for retroactive benefits (i.e. up to 12 months) can now be made on behalf of a deceased person, in cases where a contributor qualified, but failed to apply, before death. Families or estates will be entitled to receive benefits in such cases.

Elimination of Reductions in Children's Benefits.
Orphans' and disabled contributors' children's benefits are no longer reduced for the fifth and subsequent children. All children in a family, regardless of its size, are eligible to receive equal benefits.

These important amendments to the Canada Pension Plan came into force on January 1st, 1978.

Winchester Springs

The many friends of Mr. Harry Potter — a former Winchester Springs resident were grieved to hear of his death on Friday last. He was principal of the Springs school for several years. Deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric H. Steele, Maureen and Robbie, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Robinson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Brian O'Connor, Erin, Willie and Shaun have returned home after holidaying in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Villeneuve entertained to dinner Easter Sunday — Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sarault and boys and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hess and Allan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott and Jeremy of Brampton spent Easter with the latters' parents here.

Many attending last week's Farm Show at Lansdowne Park found time to discuss the merits of tile drainage with a group of experts who had sample tiling on display. Winchester Drain Tile president and general manager Dave Sloan said he chatted with a great number of farmers, and all seemed unusually optimistic concerning the future of agriculture.

Record Attendance At Annual Valley Farm Show

Promoters and exhibitors alike were at a loss to explain why this year's version of The Ottawa Valley Farm Show attracted such record crowds. Perhaps it was the apparent early spring, or possibly the fact the show coincided with the annual spring school break. Whatever the reason there was an air of optimism and good fellowship as rural and city people viewed the elaborate presentations as various firms went all out to promote their products.

The program itself was a masterpiece of planning with something of special interest for both men and women and children of all ages.

For rural people the show provided an opportunity to carefully examine the most recent innovations in farm machinery, while their city friends, saw, first hand, why farmers must demand high prices for their produce.

Winston Bellinger, president and general manager of L. J. Cameron Equipment, Vernon, is the first to agree the customer is always right. But one assumes that when the customer is as pretty as this lass the genial salesman offers special discounts.

Lamb Sale At Greely

A first attempt at co-operative marketing of lamb for Eastern Ontario Producers was very successful. On Thurday, March 16th, the Eastern Ontario Sheep Association held a special lamb sale at Leo's Livestock Exchange in Greely. This sale was an attempt to provide a market outlet of Eastern Ontario lamb with prices comparable to other Ontario markets. Two hundred and eighty-six lambs were sold at an average weight of 43 pounds and an average price of $1.58 per pound. Producers who consigned to the sale were quite satisfied with the results and hope to use this type of marketing system in the future. Plans are in the initial stages for a similar sale in April if sufficient interest exists.

The large majority of the lambs were sold to the Montreal market where there appears to be a strong demand for lamb.

The Eastern Ontario Sheep Association views the success of this sale as the start to a more effective marketing system for lamb in this area and hopes that it can be continued.

Baker Supports F.C.C. Amendment

On Monday, March 20th, 1978, the Minister of Agriculture introduced in the House of Commons, for Second Reading, Bill C-29 being an Act to Amend the Farm Credit Act. I think this is an important piece of legislation not only for the agricultural community but for those who depend upon it.

Agriculture is changing at such tremendous pace that farmers, like any other small businessmen, have real and expanding credit needs.

WALTER BAKER, M.P.
GRENVILLE-CARLETON
OPPOSITION HOUSE LEADER REPORTS TO GRENVILLE-CARLETON

The Bill increases the Farm Credit Corporation's capital from $100 million to $150 million thereby increasing the Corporation's present borrowing capacity to $3.75 billion. The Minister says this is an urgent piece of legislation and I agree. The rising cost that farmers are facing and the need for additional financing to meet them in a period of time when farm profits are decreasing, will give this aspect of farmer credit flexibility and authority to meet the demand.

To the individual farmer, whether established for a long time or beginning, individual lending limits increase to $200,000 for all borrowers. Previously the limits were $150,000 for farmers under 35 years of age and $100,000 for farmers over 35 years of age.

Also, if there are two or more operators on a farm unit, the maximum limit is now $400,000 if both or more operators are qualified.

The distinction between the older and younger farmer is to be removed. All loans to both will now be based on market value.

Advisory services to farmers will be offered, free of charge, when the Bill is passed, to those borrowers who need them and want them.

I have heard from farmers who had had difficulty with the banks, some of which have been accused of not being too sympathetic to the small loans that farmers sometime require because interest can be more competitive elsewhere. The Royal Bank of Canada is showing some imagination according to the Minister and both of us hope as time goes on that their leadership will be followed.

In all of the discussions about plant closings, mine shut-downs and bankruptcies, we tend to forget the farms as the most exposed business and is facing some very difficult times. If we are to have available to us the continued interest of young men in entering and remaining in agriculture and thereby continuing to supply our supply of food and lessening our dependence on imports, the farmer needs help. He needs it through Government action to ensure that imports do not cripple him through quotas, etc. on the one hand and positive financial assistance such as these amendments to the Farm Credit Act on the other. I support these amendments to the Bill.

Lucky Winner

Gerald Gallinger of R.R. 1, Chesterville, held the lucky ticket in the recent Matilda Township fund-raising 50-50 draw. Mr. Gallinger took home $577.00. The next draw will be on April 1st.

WDMHA Realizes $500

First B Tournament Unqualified Success

Winchester and District Minor Hockey Association's first Minor B Tournament for uncarded players was termed a huge success by its organizers.

The District Association realized revenues of at least $500 and provided 41 hockey games for over 550 boys and girls. That's correct — girls. Several of the 34 participating teams in different age groups had female members on their team rosters.

Each day of the Easter school break was devoted to a different age category.

Monday featured ten Bantam games with Kemptville winning the "A" side and Winchester AA taking consolation honours.

Tuesday six area Midget B teams took to the ice for seven games. Winchester Blue B's won their first encounter 7-0 over Chesterville, received a bye to the final and were beaten there 3-2 by Kemptville. Spencerville edged Chesterville 5-4 for consolation honurs.

Wednesday eight Atom teams competed for the prizes with Iroquois winning in the "A" side and Osnabruck in the "B".

Only four Wee Wee teams took part in Thursday's action. Morrisburg won their two games for the "A" Trophy and Winchester took the consolation crown shutting out Cardinal 3-0.

Cumberland and Stittsville carried away the "A" and "B" (respectively) trophies in Friday's Pee Wee Tournament.

BANTAM

Kemptville went undefeated in three games to become Bantam champions last Monday.

Allowing just four goals in three outings Kemptville edged Winchester 2-1 in their opener, slid by Morrisburg 3-2 in the semi-final and blanked Osnabruck 1-0 in the final. Kemptville's goalie-captain Eric Cormier, selected as MVP in that contest, received the trophy from convenor Cliff Goodman.

All finalists and championship teams received tournament crests.

Other MVP's selected during the day's competition were — Winchester Hawks — Richard Faulkner, Spencerville — Chris Ludlow. Kemptville — Tim Piper, Morrisburg - Terry Veinotte. Chesterville - Graham Cook, Winchester AA - Mark Baldwin, Cardinal - Ray Grant. Osnabruck - Terry Robertson.

Other first round scores - Morrisburg 2, Spencerville 0; Osnaburck 2, Chesterville 0; Winchester AA 1 and Cardinal 2. Cliff Wells scored the only Winchester goal.

Semi-Finals "B" — Winchester Hawks 3, Spencerville 2 — Jeff Thomas, Steven Morrison and James Rae scored for Hawks.

Winchester AA 4, Chesterville 2 — Larry Simms two goals, Marc Baldwin and Bob Goodman one each.

Consolation Final — Winchester AA 4, Hawks 3 — Chris McShane three goals for winners, Cliff Wells one. Dale Williams, Mark Caldwell and Richard Faulkner replied for Hawks.

MIDGET

First round scores in Tuesday's Midget tournament — Winchester 7, Chesterville 0 — Shut-out for Dave Hutt. Two goals for Mike Holmes, singles by Pete Guy, Paul Helmer, Bill Gowdy, Bill Kerr and Jeff Williamson.

Kemptville 5, Metcalfe 0 — Hat trick for Dan O'Neil. Manotick 2, Spencerville 0.

Consolation round — Chesterville 2, Metcalfe 1. Spencerville 5, Chesterville 4 — Randy Bilmer scored two including winner.

Championship — Kemptville 3, Manotick 2 — two goals by Dan O'Neil including winner.

Championship final — Kemptville 3, Winchester 2 — Dan O'Neil two goals one assist for winners.

Bantam "A" Champs

Cliff Goodman (L), Bantam B convenor for both the WDMHA and the Upper Canada League presents Kemptville Captain Ernie Cormier with the Championship trophy.

Cormier — Kemptville's goaltender — registered a shut-out (1-0) over Osnabruck in the "A" final.

ATOMS

Iroquois sailed through Wednesday's Atom playoff winning three games and not allowing a single goal against. They scored shut-outs 6-0 over Chesterville, 4-0 against Morrisburg and blanked Stittsville 1-0 in the championship final.

Osnabruck took the consolation trophy defeating Maxville 18-1 and Chesterville 8-0 in the final.

Winchester's entry lost both games. Francois Galipeau fired the lone goal when his team dropped a 4-1 opening round decision. In their second encounter Chesterville defeated Winchester 3-1. Todd Curtis had the only goal. Goalie Paul Henry was MVP in that game.

WEE WEE

Morrisburg edged Greely 3-2 in the exciting Wee Wee championship final Thursday afternoon. Jason Smith was Morrisburg's MVP scoring the winning goal. Greely's Chris Brind'Amour won the award for his team.

Morrisburg defeated Winchester 4-3 on an overtime goal to advance to the "A" side. Three first period goals by Rodney Casselman had given Winchester the early lead.

Greely beat Cardinal 4-1 in the other opening game on Chris Brind'Amour's hat trick.

Winchester took consolation honours blanking Cardinal 3-0. Ben Henry had the shut-out. Francois Galipeau, Rodney Casselman and Chris Rodney counted Winchester goals.

PEE WEE

Friday's Pee Wee tournament saw both A and B trophies go out of town.

Cumberland out-scored Spencerville for "A" honours and Connors Shell whitewashed Stittsville 3-0 in the B event.

Winchester was represented by Acres Equipment Pee Wees who won their first game 2-0 over Kemptville. Rob Morrison recorded the shut-out. Todd Kirkwood and Kevin Henry found the mark.

Acres was eliminated from further competition 5-3 by Spencerville.

Centre Marty Baldwin scored all three of the Winchester goals.

Presentations of the trophies to Cumberland and Connors Shell by convenor Gary Shaver dimmed the lights on a week of keen competition.

Cumberland outscored Spencerville 3-1 in the championship contest for the Pee Wee A trophy.

The eight team Pee Wee Tournament on Good Friday closed out a week of play in this year's WDMHA's Easter Tournament.

Convenor and Winchester Pee Wee B coach Gary Shaver (L) presented Cumberland and Captain Benoit Dutrisac with his team's trophy.

Consolation Winners

Cliff Goodman awarded the "B" — consolation trophy to Winchester AA Captain Larry Simms after his team lead by Chris McShane's three goals edged Winchester Hawks 4-3 in the Bantam consolation final.

50th Anniversary

Raiders Win Melvin Cup

In 1928 the Melvin Cup — emblematic of the Winchester Town League championship — was won by the Rovers.

Since then the Rangers, Chevrolets, Inkerman Rockets and a score of other teams have had their names engraved on the silver chalice.

Last Tuesday Harry's Raiders became the 1977-78 champs and will have their name engraved on the trophy in its 50th year of existence.

Mel Vice — grandson of the donor — the late Hart Melvin who also sponsored several teams in the old town circuit — presented playing — coach Denis Ouelette with the award.

Raiders marked the Melvin Cup's Golden Anniversary with other achievements as well. Earlier in the evening the Royal Bank regular season winner's trophy was presented by branch manager Gary Shaver to coach Ouelette. And for the third straight season Gary Gates handed over the Top Scorer Award to Raiders' Dick Christie. Christie totalled 32 points in 18 games on 20 goals and 12 assists.

He has topped the scoring parade with Vice Furniture in '75-'76 and win Armstrong Fina in '76-'77.

Raiders claimed the top prize despite losing two of their playoff games. Total goals scored over the three playoff games determined the new champions.

Angus Pontiac — who placed fourth over the regular season — finished just one goal behind the Raiders and with a two win, one loss record.

Jo-Anne Shoppe finished third with eight goals — Raiders had 11 and Angus Pontiacs 10.

Two-time and defending Vice Furniture won their final battle defeating Jo-Anne 2-1 but lost the war scoring just five goals in three outings.

FINAL ROUND ACTION

Prior to the final round of the playoffs Raiders held a two goal lead on Jo-Anne Shoppe — nine to seven. They were expecting little trouble from Angus Pontiac who were four back at five. Vice trailed with just three.

The champs had to face Angus Pontiac in the final game and needed only to wrap in a couple to ensure a Cup win.

They were defeated 5-2 by the Pontiacs and had they not gotten a goal from Dick Christie with 17 seconds to play would have been tied with Angus at 10 goals each.

After a scoreless first period Angus went to work scoring three unanswered goals closing the goals gap to one — nine to eight.

Pontiacs dominated play, swarming all over Raiders' goalie Bob Carkner.

Ken McClatchie lit the red light after taking a pass from Sheldon McLeod and Dale Hutt.

Speedy Don Griffith fired a hard shot home for goal number two on a pass from Ken Williams.

Then Lee Taillefer dented the twine for a 3-0 lead with 4:35 to play in period two. Bill Hutton and Dale Hutt drew assists on that play.

Pontiacs tied the series — nine goals to nine — when they went ahead 4-0 at 7:35 of period three. Bill Hutton beat Carkner on a pass from Lee Taillefer.

Raiders broke Steve the Bear Johnston's shut-out with 1:47 left in the game. That made it 4-1 in the game and 10-9 in series goals.

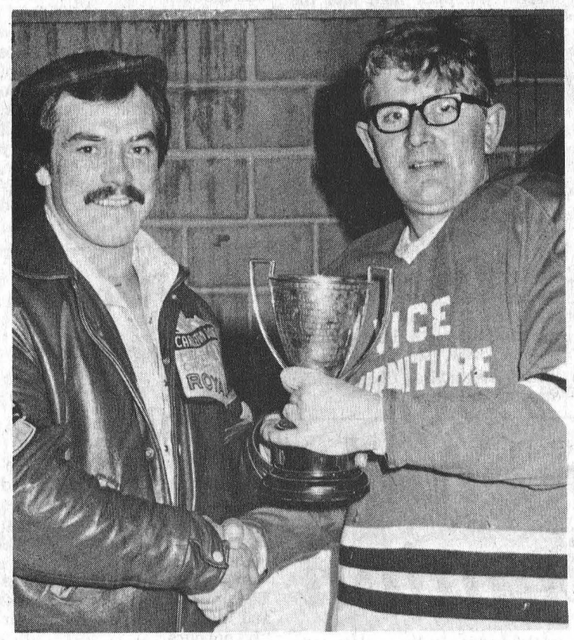
Harry Castle drove a Dick Christie rebound into the net after Reg Hyndman had set the play up.

Pontiacs fought back to tie the series at 10 goals each with just 27 seconds to play. Don Griffith netted his second of the night for a 5-1 Pontiac lead. Lee Taillefer's end to end rush established the play.

Ten seconds later Raiders won the Melvin Cup with just their second goal of the game.

Dick Christie's unassisted goal at 17 seconds allowed Raiders to take the series 11 goals to 10.

Game (5-2) to Angus Pontiacs.



Captain Denis Ouelette (L) proudly accepted the Melvin Cup from Mel Vice (R) last Tuesday night after his team — The Raiders — had won the total goal round robin playoff.

Series (11 goals to 10) to Harry's Raiders. Raiders last won the Cup in 1974-75.

VICE 2 - JO-ANNE SHOPPE 1

Game two that evening as it turned out was entirely anti-climatic.

Vice Furniture needed at least eight goals to get back in the race and now Jo-Anne needed two more to manage a tie for second and competition between the two clubs had been extremely close all season.

In order to create more offence Jo-Anne pulled goalie Dan Hogaboam in favour of a sixth attacker with more than ten minutes to play.

Desperately trying to build up their total, Vice frantically fired long shots at the yawning cage but managed only a couple of near isses.

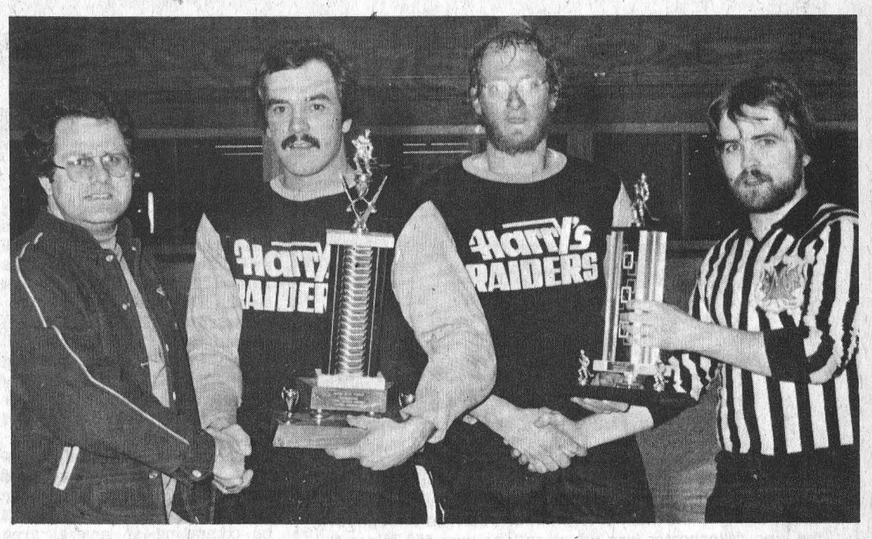
Amazingly play ranged in centre ice area and Vice end but neither team could capitalize on numerous opportunities and the final score stood at 2-1 in Vice's favour.

Bruce St. John banged home a pass from Don Wallace with 20 seconds on the first period clock and Kevin Cooper clicked from Keith Henry and Don Swerdfeger for a 2-0 Vice lead at 13:30 of period two.

Bill Hogaboam's long shot from the point at 4:07 of the same stanza accounted for Jo-Anne's lone marker.

A deflection by Tom Beck on a Reg LaPorte shot in the third period was called back cancelling Vice's third goal.

Jo-Anne finished Melvin Cup play with eight goals and Vice five.



Prior to winning the 50-year-old Melvin Cup, Harry's Raiders claimed first place and the new Royal Bank trophy finishing the regular season one point ahead of Jo-Anne Shoppe.

The top scorer award also went the Raiders' way. High scoring centreman Dick Christie earned that distinction for the third consecutive year — each time with a different team.

Dick scored 20 goals and 12 assists for 32 points in 18 games.

Royal Bank Manager Gary Shaver (L) presented the Bank Trophy to Raiders' playing coach Denis Ouelette while Dick Christie accepted the Scoring Award from its donor — referee Gary Gates.

Chesterville Takes CDMHL Crown

Chesterville Flyers completed a four-game comeback against Winchester Red Wings to become 1977-78 CDMHL Bantam Champions.

After losing the opener to Winchester the Flyers fought back with a tie in game two to get right back into the thick of the battle. Once the smooth-skating Flyers had a foot in the door they barged in with three consecutive victories claiming the six point set — 7-3. The Bantam championship marked the third title claimed by a Chesterville Minor Hockey Association team. They were tops in Atom, Bantam and Midget Divsions with Winchester claiming Pee Wee honours.

Chesterville turned things around winning a cruncher here last Wednesday evening before a large crowd.

Flyers dominated the contest from start to finish, playing an aggressive forechecking style of hockey backed up by the hard skating of Beckstead and Shay.

They took a five-to-three lead in points, chalking up a convincing 4-1 win. Shay fired a pair for the winners with singles going to Jones and Beckstead.

Kevin Saunders netted the lone Red Wings marker on an assist to Pee Wee affiliate Keith Moore.

Once again outstanding goal tending by Winchester's Rob Carkner was instrumental in keeping the score respectable.

5-2 IN THE FINAL

Flyers wrapped up the Bantam championship with an exciting 5-2 win in front of 400 fans in Chesterville last Friday night.

It was a close 3-2 contest until the final minute of play when Gary Beckstead — Chesterville's big strong skating defenceman — won it with two late goals. The Chesterville captain scored on a breakaway and fired the other into an empty net.

The game was a classic for minor hockey with both teams displaying excellent skating, passing and shooting abilities.

Goaltenders — Carkner and Ball — erased many fine scoring opportunities at both ends of the rink.

Goals by Jones and Shay lifted Flyers into an early 2-0 lead. Beckstead and Kelly engineered the Jones marker and LaFlamme set up Shay's.

Mike Guy — who had been in on Ball one on one three previous times — finally hit paydirt putting Red Wings on the scoreboard.

Chesterville came right back with goal number three on a rink-length rush by Beckstead who passed to Barkley all alone in front of Carkner.

Winchester netted their second goal to close the count to 3-2 in the first minute of period three. Rob Saunders took a pass from Dean McIntosh and whipped a long wrist shot into the Flyer cage.

With the gap narrowed to just one goal play picked up to a heart-pound pace. Both goalies — Ball and Kirk Edwardson — who replaced an injured Rob Carkner — nullified good scoring chances.

Dazzling skating by Gary Beckstead resulted in the final two Chesterville goals as the Flyers rode a 5-2 score into the winner's circle.

Wings' coach Bill Hutton was pleased with his team's showing after the contest saying, "The boys gave it all they had, worked hard and had some fun along the way."

"When 400 fans come to the rink for a minor hockey game it makes the season worthwhile and encourages coaches like myself to stay involved," he said.

Coach Hutton went on to thank fans and especially parents who travelled to games all season, providing transportation and alot of support for the boys.

On behalf of the team he passed on thanks to The Press for its coverage.

Exhibition Play

Casselman Paces Hawks To Tie Raiders

Hawks' rookie Barry Casselman fired two goals — including the equalizer with four minutes left to play — and set up two more as Winchester Intermediates battled Russell Raiders to a seven-all tie Friday night.

Casselman along with Junior B teammates Brad Sullivan, Bill Mullin, Pete MacLeod, and Ken Sullivan suited up for the recently formed intermediate team for Friday night's well played, fast skating exhibition contest.

The team is comprised of present Hawk players, overaged junior and current Winchester Town League members and will be competing at several area tournaments.

Winchester was scoring goal for goal with the fast-skating South-Carleton squad trading goals evenly over the three periods. It was two all after one, four all and seven all at the final buzzer.

Casselman opened the game flipping a Bill Mullin rebound behind Raiders' Doug Hay two minutes and ten seconds into the game.

Twenty-one seconds later Don Swerdfeger took a Keith McRoberts' pass and fired a low shot to Hay's stick side for a 2-0 Winchester lead.

Russell's high scoring Wray King finally beat Pete MacLeod at 15:10 on a play set up by ex-Ottawa 67's and Embrun Panther Paul Sheard and Wayne Hughes.

Raiders tied it at two with 1:05 to play in the opening stanza on a goal by Ken Quaile from Dan Chamberlain.

Second Period

Raiders' fast breaking style put them up 4-2 in the first eight minutes of period two. Wayne Hughes tipped in a Paul Sheard pass at 13:34 and Wayne Warnock got another goal from close in at 12:07 on a Bob Woods' rebound. Lloyd Fawcett helped out on the Hughes' marker.

Winchester got two quick ones to tie it at four before the teams skated off after 40 minutes.

At 4:21 Bill "Moon" Mullin fired a Barry Casselman pass home narrowing the gap to one goal, 3-2.

Last year's top Hawks marksman Greg Martin, combined with former mate Keith McRoberts for the tying goal at 2:20.

Martin set up McRoberts who fed Dan Lecours at the Raider blueline.

Lecours split the defence and stick handled in on goal. He held his shot until Hay went down and hoisted the puck high into the centre of the yawning cage.

The two teams maintained their end to end pace in period three trading goals three more times.

Bill Mullin set up Brad Sullivan to give Winchester a 5-4 lead at 17:42 but Wray King's second goal tied it up again at 16:26.

Back down ice and at 13:42 John Klein-Swormink banked home a perfect pass from Brad Sullivan for another short lived Winchester lead.

Paul Sheard fired a pair of goals at 11:52 and 8:25 to put Raiders into a 7-6 lead. Wayne Hughes drew two assists with Wray King and Dan Chamberlain drawing one each.

With 4:39 showing on the clock Barry Casselman fired a Ken Sullivan rebound through a maze of legs and into the Raider net for the seven-all tie.

Both Pete MacLeod and Doug Hay were sensational in their respective nets as both clubs played wide-open offencive hockey. Only one minor penalty was called.

Winchester Line-Up

Winchester line up — goal Pete MacLeod, Steve Bear Johnston, Defence Don Swerdfeger, Glen Taylor, John Klien Swormink, Ken Sullivan. Forwards, Bill Mullin , Brad Sullivan, Barry Casselman, Dave VanBridger, Dan Lecours, Dale Hutt, Denis Ouelette, Keith McRoberts and Greg Martin.

34 TEAMS ENJOY B TOURNAMENT

Instead of standing around the street with nothing to do during the winter break most minor hockey boys were kept busy playing in the many tournaments presented throughout the area. Winchester was no exception; over 550 Minor B players turned out to take part in the week long presentation which was deemed by all to be a booming success both for organization and financial gain. This is not the reason that busy men turn out to devote their time to young hockey players, it's just the fact that they believe that kids are better off at the rink with some organized sport than standing around the corner. Organizers did a great job with this one and their efforts once again are appreciated. Thanks a lot guys, the kids had a great week and minor hockey gained over $500.00.

GET THE FACTS ON LIQUOR LICENCING APRIL 5

Maybe you think you know the rules and regulations governing the sale of beer and liquor in the province, but like myself maybe your conceptions or interpretations are a little off. If you are responsible for renting out a facility or using a special occasions permit for your organization you could be liable for some very stiff penalties under the new regulations even if you give false information unknowingly. Because of these facts we have made arrangements with Mr. Don Shaw of the Ontario Liquor Licence Board to speak to us at the April 5 S.E.O.A.R.A. meeting at the Winchester Hall and because of the importance to councils, hall manager boards and any groups using special licenses we extend a special invitation to all interested persons to attend. Don will interpret the laws and answer any questions you might have on the legalities and responsibilities of those persons handling the sales of beer and liquor in the province of Ontario. It is to your advantage to attend this meeting and you will be surprised at what you will learn. The meeting is slated for 10:00 next Wednesday morning.

LAST CHANCE TO SKATE THIS SUNDAY

Although the weather might not look like spring is here, the arena winter program will officially end this Sunday when the ice plant will be shut off in preparation for the summer. This will be the last week for home ice for any of our teams and Saturday night and Sunday afternoon will be the last public skating of the year. Although the ice will be gone the arena will still be busy with the downstairs area getting a good shining and the upstairs hall running full tilt. April already has six dances, seven banquets, a fashion show and three meetings scheduled and no doubt the work on the pool will soon be getting underway. Tennis will be starting and it will be time for registrations for ball. Guess we better dig the lawn mower out from under that snow bank and get her sharpened up.

MINOR HOCKEY PARENT AND PLAYER NIGHTS APRIL 6th and 10th

All Pee Wee, Bantam and Midget hockey players in all divisions are invited to bring your moms and dads out at 7:30 next Thursday night and all Wee Wee and Atom players with their moms and dads next Monday at 7:30. This is the date set for all players both A and B division to receive their awards and have some fun and a little lunch. These dates are for all players registered in the Winchester and District Minor Hockey System and should not be confused with the CDMHL banquet April 14th. Tickets for the CDMHL banquet are now on sale from local convenors and president Bob Carkner for $4.00. Winchester's allotment including team members is limited to seventy tickets so if you are planning to eat out April 14th, better pick up your ticket before they are sold out.

Committee To Study Jr. Hockey Situation

The Junior Hockey situation in the Ottawa District is being carefully reviewed, and a newly-formed committee is studying ways and means to set up a better communication link between the three recognized phases — Junior 'A'; Junior 'B' and Junior 'C'.

Ottawa District Junior 'B' Commissioner Peter McCooeye of Morrisburg set the wheels in motion when he arranged a fact-finding meeting, and Mr. McCooeye was pleased all divisions favoured the formation of some form of unifying force, which in turn would result in better understanding and better communications among all three levels. There was fear being aired in some sectors that unless the Ottawa District took steps to make the O.D.H.A. more viable, there existed a strong possibility the entire operation might be absorbed by the C.H.A.

"We must take steps to control our own destinies", says Mr. McCooeye, "and I'm very pleased that the problem is being aired with many valuable proposals already on the table."

The new committee, chaired by Mr. McCooeye, consists of two representatives each from Junior A, B, and C.

Representing the Central Junior A Hockey League are Tony MacDonald, manager of Brockville Braves, and Ron Murray, general manager of Nepean Raiders.

The O.D.J.H.L. is represented by Barry Lee, Metcalfe, President of the northeast division, and John Ritskes, Smiths Falls, northwest president. Larry Stevens, Chesterville and a person yet to be appointed will represent the "C" level.

Formation of such a body should greatly strengthen all segments of junior hockey in the district and provide reliable communication liaison with the media.

Fitness is fun.
Try some.

Lions Win Gill Cup

Morrisburg Lions overpowered Prescott Saints in four straight games to capture the South-East Division championship and coveted Gill Cup for a third consecutive time.

Obviously emotionally drained after their four game sweep over Winchester Hawks the Prescott Saints just couldn't match the offencive power of the South-East Junior B champion Lions.

Captain Bob McNairn's five goal performance led Lions to a one-sided 12-5 win over the home town Saints last Wednesday evening.

Home ice advantage didn't figure in the series as the visitors broke a two all first period tie with six second period markers. It was out of reach at 8-3 after 40 minutes.

With the Gill Cup safely tucked away in their trophy case Morrisburg now awaits the winner of the Smiths Falls — Kemptville series to see who is the best junior B team in the centre Southern section.

After dominating the first two games out-scoring Kemptville 17-9 Smiths Falls have sagged and Kemptville have played inspired hockey deadlocking the series at two games apiece.

Friday in Smiths Falls Kemptville put it together demolishing the Settlers in front of 1,600 fans.

Randy Blondin's four goals paced '73's to a 10-5 win.

Sunday back on home ice Kemptville got three goals from centre Lindsay Selleck who returned after a three month lay-off to delight 1,000 hometown supporters.

Final in game four was 8-3 for Kemptville.

Wednesday night's presentation of the Gill Cup by Division President Mitch Collison marked the second straight year Lions have received the trophy on Prescott ice.

Saints stayed on even terms with Morrisburg for one period battling Lions to a two-all draw.

Fanned by Bob McNairn's three goal outburst Morrisburg dominated play in the middle stanza.

Roy LaLonde pulled himself once the Lions had deposited six pucks behind him and Stennett Rafuse came into face the same tune. It was Rafuse's only appearance of the play-offs.

Led by McNairn's five goal performance Lions got two from Kevin Mackler and singles from Dean Boyd, Jim Whelan, Mark Beaupre, Bryan Rutley and Leo LaFortune.

Prescott got two each from Bryan Dalley and Randy Rees and one from Joe McFarlane.

Lions must now wait for a winner from the west. Game five was played Tuesday in Smiths Falls, game six — Wednesday, in Kemptville and game seven in Smiths Falls Friday, March 31st.

Pee Wees, Russell B Champions

Winchester Pee Wee B's recovered from an opening round 3-1 loss to Orleans to win two games and become Consolation champions at a Russell tournament last week.

In consolation play Acres Equipment doubled Stittsville 4-2 and blanked Kemptville 5-0 for "B" honours.

Todd Kirkwood fired his team's lone goal in their opening loss to Orleans and added two goals in each of his team's next two encounters to gain recognition at Winchester's Most Valuable player.

Marty Baldwin hit for two tournament markers with Trace Shaver, Kevin Henry, and Guy Raymond adding one each.

Daryl Young and Trace Shaver lead the assist column with three apiece.

Todd Kirkwood and Marty Baldwin helped out on two each while Kevin Henry and Scott McIntosh earned one each.

Coach Gary Shaver was especially pleased with his club's success. He iced a team without three regulars and the boys responded with a solid team effort.

Coach Shaver had words of praise for Rob Morrison's work between the pipes and Kevin Summers' blueline performance.

Did you get Unemployment Insurance in 1977?

If so, you have probably received a tax information slip (T4U) in the mail.

If the slip hasn't arrived...

If you didn't get a T4U from us, go to your local post office. Pick up a postal reply card to apply for duplicates. Fill it in and mail it. You'll get your duplicate T4U in time to file your tax return.

If the slip has arrived...

If you did get a T4U but need a replacement for any reason, also use the postal reply card. Mark "replacement" on the card in the upper right hand corner.

If the slip has arrived but you need more information...

If you did get a T4U and still need an itemized statement, fill in the same card. You must write the total UI benefits you got in 1977 somewhere on the card.

This is important. It will help us get your statement to you in time. You'll find the total benefits figure in Box "B" of your T4U slip.

Association To Develop Interest In Football

Gloucester South 'Dolphins', an organization designed to help encourage and develop football talent in the area, is looking for recruits.

Junior Football is the game, and boys between the ages of 8 and 16 are invited to participate. There is a minimum registration fee and the program includes Mosquito, Pee Wee and Bantam divisions. All equipment is provided, as well as highly qualified coaches, and president Ona Winterburn reports registrations are presently being accepted although actual playing will not begin till August.

Although most players last season were from the immediate Ottawa district, Public Relations Officer Barry Hawley says players will be welcomed from as far away as Winchester.

Those interested and requiring additional information are invited to drop a line to Mr. Hawley, Box 309, R.R. 6, Ottawa, K1G 3N4.

Greely Legion members, impressed by the efforts of the Gloucester South 'Dolphins' minor football association, recently made a generous donation to the organization.

In recognition of such much-needed encouragement Public Relations Officer Barry Hawley last week presented a suitably engraved plaque to the hard-working Legion branch.

Pictured, left to right, are: Legionnaire John Sugrue, Mr. Hawley, Legion president Ken Beek accepting award and 'Dolphins' president Ona Winterburn.

Pros-Flyers Game

Benefit Raises $800

Eight hundred dollars in cash was turned over to the Steve Gorman Trust Fund after Saturday's benefit hockey game between Ottawa Old Pros and Dundas County Flyers.

The 18 year old hockey player was injured in a hockey game in Morrisburg recently and is still in hospital suffering partial paralysis. Gorman is a resident of Kemptville and a grade 13 student at North Grenville District High School.

Ottawa Old Pros won the game 8-5 but Steve Gorman's Trust Fund was the big winner. The $800 collected in Morrisburg on Saturday swelled the fund total to over $2,000.

Along with the gate receipts many donations were turned over to the organizers. Morrisburg and Chesterville Legion Branches, Lions Club, Tubie Association and Nestle's union all made contributions.

Many of the 375 people attending the game tossed extra change into the pot.

Donations to the Steve Gorman Fund can still be sent to CDMHL president Robert Ramsay at R.R. 3, Metcalfe.

Winchester and District Minor Hockey Association president — Robert Carkner — has announced a list of winners in the Showdown '78 competition and dates for two Player-Parent Nights.

Mr. Carkner said the local association will sponsor two Player-Parent Nights early in April as a wind up to its hockey program.

Ice will be removed from Winchester and District arena this Sunday, April 2nd, and on-ice activities will terminate for the season.

The President said that, "the minor hockey executive plan these evenings to be informative, a chance to give credit where it is due and have some fun to wind up a great season of hockey."

Novices Lose Rematch

Winchester's senior Novice team dropped a 7-2 game to Berwick in Finch last week.

The game was a rematch with Berwick who had shut-out their hosts a week earlier in Winchester.

Berwick lead 2-0 after one, 3-1 after two periods and walked away with four third period markers.

Rodney Casselman beat Scott LaLonde on an unassisted effort at 3:45 of period two for Winchester's first goal. By this time Tony Briere, Liam Sullivan and Tim Meldrum had counted goals for Berwick.

Tim Ouderkirk paced his team with a genuine hat trick in the final frame. Ouderkirk ripped home three goals in a five minute span to put the game out of reach.

Francois Galipeau fired home a Scott Johnson pass at 3:24 for Winchester's second and last goal.

Tony Briere made it 7-2 with a minute 18 showing on the clock.

EMBRUN Coming Events

PANTHERS ADVANCE

Embrun 'Panthers' had little difficulty earning the right to advance to round-robin eastern Canada playdowns when they whipped Pembroke 8 to 2 in the fifth and final game of the best-of-seven series. The win came on the heels of a loss at Pembroke, but this was expected when only ten players were able to make the trip up the valley.

This spring all games are being played in the Maritimes and Panther supporters are confident their team will make an impressive showing, if not emerging with the championship trophy.

JUNIOR 'C'

Embrun 72's, after a shaky start down the playdown trail, appear to be gaining momentum, and the young players are now eyeing the championship.

Following a rugged series with Maxville the boys advanced to semi-finals against the highly-rated Finch squad and earned only one point in the first two games. Last weekend they stormed into action, winning twice in as many nights to take a strangle hold of the series. As it now stands Embrun has 5 points and needs only a win or a tie this Friday night to advance to the finals.

Game time this Friday is 8:00 p.m. and encouraged by hometown fans the boys are confident they can wind up the series.

With the winter season drawing rapidly to a close Embrun arena will be a busy place on Sunday for the annual figure skating presentation with local talent predominating.

CARD OF THANKS—We would like to say thanks to our many relatives, friends and neighbours, who so faithfully and willingly stood by us in our time of trouble, for the time our loved one was ill at home and for time he spent in hospitals, in Ottawa, for cards, treats etc., he received while there, to those who visited regularly. To the staff of the Grace and Civic Hospitals. To the sympathy extended to us, since our loved one passed away, for all the many beautiful floral tributes, donations to Cancer, Heart and Crippled Children funds, and sympathy cards. To the many people who called at the funeral home to pay their respects. Fo the food that was so generously brought to our home, to the ladies who ably took over and served lunch at our home after the service. To the pall bearers Ewart Simms, Eugene Scott, Ed Scott, Martin Hall, Andy Van Leyen and Bill Sloan. To Jim Purcell's Funeral Home, and their kindness to us. To Rev. IN MEMORIAMS

THOMPSON—In loving memory of a dear mother, Maybell Thompson, who passed away April 2nd, 1976.
The dearest mother, the kindest friend,
One of the best whom God could lend.
Loving, thoughtful, gentle and true,
Always willing a kind act to do
—Wilton and Lois 49c

BOLTON—In loving memory of my husband, John Moore Bolton, who departed this life on April 9, 1975.
How could I not remember you,
When at every turn,
You move among the shadows,
Where the lamps of memory burn.
Something of you lingers still,
Around the home we made,
For life still paints its pictures,
In colors that never fade.
—Your Memory will never Grow Old - Wife Hazel and Family 49c

LITTLE—In cherished memory of a faithful father, father-in-law and grandfather, John Little who passed away March 29, 1974.
In life loved and honoured
In death remembered.
—Love Hiram, Bea, Dougie and Audrey Ann 49p

Easter Surprise

Easter Sunday was definitely not a day to flaunt the new Easter bonnet.

Instead old man winter delivered what everyone hopes was a dying punch, and blanked the valley with more than 15 centimeters of snow. Driving conditions were treacherous and the only people smiling were ski enthusiasts.

March, all agreed, was bidding farewell 'like a lion'.

Postal Rates Up April 1st

OTTAWA—The Canada Post Office reminds customers that beginning April 1, changes in postal rates affecting all classes of mail will come into effect. The rates were announced last November.

As of April 1, postage for first class letters weighing up to one ounce will be 14 cents. Greeting cards (five words or less) and other third class addressed mail (up to two ounces) will increase from 10 cents to 12 cents.

Basic fee for registration will be $1.25, while special delivery fee will be 80 cents. Fee for C.O.D. remains at $1.

Most rates to U.S.A. are identical to those applicable within Canada. For countries excluding the U.S.A. the basic letter mail rate, including aerogrammes, will increase from 25 cents to 30 cents.

The Post Office advises customers to check with their local post office for further information on postal rates as well as any changes in regulations.

Through the rate increases, authorized under Section 13 of the Financial Administration Act, Postmaster General the Honourable J. Gilles Lamontagne hopes to reduce the annual deficit in the Post Office by $125 million.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Shane and Brendon spent a few holidays at Myrtle Beach, U.S.A.

Mrs. Myrtle Morrow of Cornwall visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morrow last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hess spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Darcy Hess at Kitchener.

Hutchison Receives Silver Jubilee Medal

MORRISBURG—Hugh Hutchison, a recently retired superintendent of schools with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education, has been awarded a Queen's Silver Jubilee medal for exemplary service.

"It certainly means a lot to me that people thought that what I did was worthwhile," said Mr. Hutchison, after learning of the medal.

The medal is intended as an expression of appreciation of exemplary service rendered by the recipients in their various walks of life, and of the esteem in which they are held by their associates.

Mr. Hutchison's career has stretched through stints as teacher in rural schools in Lake St. Peter and Hamilton, a public school inspector here in 1957, to Ottawa Teachers' College as an instructor in 1964, and back to this area office when the school areas were reorganized into the present county board system in 1969 as superintendent of schools.

He and his wife Jean reside in Morrisburg.

Mr. Hutchison said: "I think my wife summed it up very nicely. I have two very simple points in my philosophy: one is that you leave the world a little better than when you found it. And the other is that only by giving yourself to others do you develop yourself. She said I should be doubly happy about receiving a medal like that because first of all that is what you believe in. It's a medal for service and that's what you believe in..."

Commemorative medals are struck from time to time to mark important anniversaries and other great occasions. The most recent of these events was the centennial of confederation in 1967 and before that a medal was issued at the time of the Queen's Coronation in 1953.

In keeping with the tradition, a medal was created last year to commemorate the 25th anniversary of Her Majesty's reign.

The obverse of the Canadian Silver Jubilee medal carries an effigy of the Queen while the design for the reverse side is the work of the distinguished Canadian medalist, Dora de Pedery Hunt.

The medal, measuring one-and-a-quarter inches in diameter is made from sterling silver and produced by the Royal Canadian Mint.

In order that the list of those honoured was representative of all the regions of Canada, agencies of government at the federal, provincial and municipal levels were invited to propose the names of candidates for the medal.

Aultsville Hall Program Includes Music And Dance

CORNWALL—Aultsville Hall Theatre's program for March, April and May includes music and dance.

"If you are a symphony fan we have three symphony orchestras and if you are a dance fan we have a dance company from Toronto," says a theatre news release.

The first symphony is the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra on Wednesday, March 29th. Musical Director and Conductor of the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra is Piero Gamba and they will be performing a program which includes S.C. Eckhardt-Gramatte: Capriccio Concertante, Puccini: Manon Lescaut Prelude Act III, Ravel: La Valse, Shostakovich: Symphony 5.

The Kingston Symphony Orchestra conducted by Alexander Brott is next onstage on Monday, April 10th at 8 p.m. The orchestra will be performing an all-Beethoven concert with soloist Ida Haendel (violin). The program includes Coriolan Overture, Violin Concerte and Symphony No. 7.

The Marijan Bayer Dance Company, a company of twelve dancers from Toronto, appears on our stage Friday, April 21st at 8 p.m. Tubular Bells is an evening of four short ballets choreographed by artistic director Marijan Bayer to contemporary music. We brought them to our community to allow them to demonstrate to our audiences this intellectually fulfilling and assuredly entertaining expression of dance art. Tickets are $5 and $3.50.

Another dance company will be in Cornwall the same week as the Marijan Bayer Dance Company. The Ballet YS will be performing at General Vanier High School on Monday, April 17th. If you have a chance, catch both of them that week.

The last attraction for the season is the Montreal Symphony Orchestra on Wednesday, May 24th, at 8 p.m. Under conductor Franz-Paul Decker featured soloist will be Henri Brassard (piano). The program will include a Canadian work plus Chopin: Piano Concerto No. 2, Brahms: Symphony No. 2. The date again is Wednesday, May 24th.

Tickets for all the symphonies are $6 and $4.50.

Also keep in mind that Music for a Midsummer Day will be back again this year in the ruins of St. Raphael's church in mid-June. Keep an eye out for it. It promises to be very exciting.

Adjudicator Chosen For Cornwall 3 Act Festival

CORNWALL - The final adjudicator for a three-act festival at the Capitol Theater in Cornwall is well known for his versatility as an actor and director.

Ron Hartman will judge groups competing in the festival between April 4 and April 8 from Brockville, Ottawa, Peterborough, Kingston and Lindsay. According to festival officials, Mr. Hartman's experience will make his decisions palatable to all competing groups.

His credits include plays directed from British Columbia to Newfoundland, with three seasons as resident director for the Straw Hat Players in Port Carling and Peterborough and two seasons with the Ontario Youth Theatre.

Mr. Hartman has worked both stage and film, including commercials, foreign films and industrial shows. He has had wide experience in adjudicating including the New York State Theatre Festival, University Drama Festivals in Ontario and Manitoba and various one-act festivals across Canada.

The winner of the Cornwall festival in April will be invited to participate in the Theatre Ontario Festival in Oshawa from May 22 to 28.

Service Clubs In Review

WINCHESTER LIONS CLUB

Winchester Lions Club members, at their last meeting, entertained visitors from the neighbouring Metcalfe club and all enjoyed a delicious dinner prepared and served by members of the Golden Years Society.

President Rae Imrie reported the snowmobile rally had netted approximately $1,100.00, and expressed appreciation on receipt of a $2,000.00 donation from the Golden Years group. This money is to be used to help defray maintenance costs at the beautiful hall.

The president also reported the club had donated $125.00 to the zone Leader Dog project: $100.00 to Victorian Order of Nurses: and $100.00 to the Red Cross.

Three new members, Ron Algate, Brian Larmour and Ken Arsenault were welcomed to the club, and a new slate of officers, proposed by the nominating committee was accepted with no nominations from the floor. The new slate will be installed in June.

MORRISBURG LIONS CLUB

Morrisburg Lions Club members are considering some very ambitious projects including possible purchase of land, as well as studying the feasibility of purchasing a car to be used by the Victorian Order of Nurses. This major venture, however, would be a district endeavour and Morrisburg members will be discussing the matter with neighbouring clubs in the near future.

It was agreed at the last meeting the 'Foster Parent Plan' will be continued, and it was decided that in the future the second meeting of each month will be a 'Ladies' Night'.

METCALFE LIONS CLUB

Zone Chairman Graeme Hardy delivered an inspiring address at the last meeting of Metcalfe and District Lions Club paying special tribute to the efficiency of both secretary Hank Hansen and treasurer Lorne Finniss.

President Martin Rowan reported another successful minor hockey season, complimenting both members and non-members who had worked tirelessly throughout the season. It was agreed to invite non-members, who had given so much of their time, to the next dinner meeting.

Larry Corlyon assured fellow members the new sports field will be ready for opening day late in May, and Bob Rowan reported residents at Carleton Lodge continue to enjoy the monthly bingos staged by the club.

The club will be sponsoring the annual 'Walkathon' on May 13th, and plans are being drafted to honour the area's favourite hockey player, Larry Robinson, following the hockey season.

A new slate of officers will be elected at the April 12th meeting.

UIC Eases Mandatory Job Hunt Requirements

CORNWALL—Although the Unemployment Insurance Commission office here hasn't been notified that mandatory job hunts are no longer necessary for claimants, a spokesman at the office says the Cornwall Commission has already eased its requirements.

Marcel Ledoux, public liaison officer with the UIC, said proof of job search is required only when there are job opportunities in the claimant's occupation and area. In the past, job search regulations were rigidly enforced, he said.

"Let's put it this way — within the past year we have become more lenient than we used to be," he said. "We know the area and around Cornwall there are fewer jobs — we have to use our own judgment."

Announcement that job hunts had been dropped as a condition for those receiving unemployment insurance was made by federal officials this week. The requirement has apparently been loosened because of complaints from frustrated job seekers and beseiged employers with no jobs to offer.

Ledoux said his office has not been officially notified of the less stringent UIC standards. The liaison officer said he is not aware of large numbers of complaints from employers or claimants seeking work.

"It's a matter of basic common sense," he said. "If there are jobs, we make sure people make an effort to find them but we concentrate on areas where an occupation is in demand."

Occupation job opportunities are determined by commission analysts who check job vacancy lists at employment centres, help wanted advertisements and large employers.

Tighter eligibility requirements went into effect last December with a minimum 10 to 14 weeks employment required before claimants qualify for benefits. The length of employment required is based on regional unemployment rates and was raised from the previous eight-week period.

J.P. Doyle Dies At Cornwall

James Peter Doyle, a former South Mountain resident, died at Cornwall General Hospital on March 25th in his 79th year.

Born in Mountain Township he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle and received his education at area schools. Predeceased by his wife, the former Wilhelmina Reinhart, he is survived by one brother, John Bernard Doyle, of South Mountain. One brother, Neil, predeceased him.

The funeral, from Vice and Craig Funeral Homes Inc., Winchester, was to St. Daniel's Church, South Mountain, where service was conducted by Rev. Father W.L. Cummings at 10:30 a.m. on March 27th.

Pall bearers were Lloyd Graham, Arthur Morrison, James Hall, John Woods, Arthur Farrell and J.P. Meagher.

Interment was at St. Daniel's Cemetery.

Canadian Cancer Society Emphasizes "Action" In '78

Cancer research is costly. An electron microscope runs from $50,000 to $95,000. An ultra-centrifuge with rotors is $20,000 while a head-body scanner costs between $200,000 and $700,000, according to Fred Sgambati, Campaign Chairman of the Canadian Cancer Society.

"Research, funded through public contributions to the Society also requires new buildings to house research centres. Salaries have to be paid to full-time scientists, laboratory technicians and assistants. Material and equipment must be purchased," said Mr. Sgambati, well-known CBC sportscaster.

"April is campaign month for the Canadian Cancer Society. Without the generous donations of the Canadian public, our support of cancer research would not be possible. Nor would the Society be able to continue its program of public education and service to cancer patients," he continued.

The entire emphasis of the 1978 fund-raising and education campaign is on action: the action of protecting oneself against cancer; the action of protecting others through support of cancer research.

"Each dollar given to the Canadian Cancer Society goes to work in three ways," said the Campaign Chairman. "The first part of the program — support of research — is well known.

"The second, education, is approached from the public and professional standpoint. Throughout Canada the Society carries out public education on the importance of early detection of cancer, when prompt treatment could result in a cure. Cancer prevention is also stressed. Attention to early symptoms by men and women can affect great savings in human suffering and reduction in extensive medical costs. Society films, publications and conferences bring cancer news and facts to members of the medical and allied professions.

"Much is also done for the cancer patient through the making and distribution of dressings, transportation and hospital and home visiting," said Mr. Sgambati. "This work can only be supported through the generosity of the Canadian public when they respond to our appeal for funds during the annual April campaign.

James Jacob Fife Dies In 69th Year

Also surviving are three brothers, Thomas, Maurice and Ivan, as well as 12 grandchildren. He was predeceased by brothers Ernest and Mervil.

The funeral service at Vice and Craig Funeral Homes Inc., Winchester, was conducted by Carson Cowan at 2:00 p.m. on March 25th.
