Burglars Busy Here on Weekend Break-in

Mrs. L. M. Colquhoun Suffers Large Loss $4,500 in Spring Coats & Dresses Gone

Suspects Picked Up in Montreal, Held in Cornwall Some Stolen Goods Recovered — Cst. Hunsburger

Thieves broke into L. M. Colquhoun's ladies' wear store over the weekend and made off with over $4,500 worth of goods. The robbery was discovered Monday morning when Mrs. Colquhoun opened the store. Prompt action of Ontario Provincial Police, with the local constable, Wm. Hunsburger, taking a large part, has resulted in the apprehension of two men. Part of the stolen goods was also recovered. The arrests were made in Montreal on Tuesday evening. Cpl. J. P. Laperriere, of Cornwall, assisted Mr. Hunsburger.

Mrs. L. M. Colquhoun received a shock Monday morning when she opened her store in the Gillard Block for business. The place seemed cold and draughty and at first glance, it appeared that someone had left a door open. Second glance confirmed the open door, but also brought the realization that nearly all the Spring stock of goods was missing. Mrs. Colquhoun immediately called Mr. Gillard from next door and the police were notified.

Investigation showed the thieves had driven into the alley between the Smith Meat Market block and the Gillard block, next to the burgled store. Entry had been gained by smashing out a pane of glass in a window in the back room of the store. Three doors had been drilled and prised open to get into the main store.

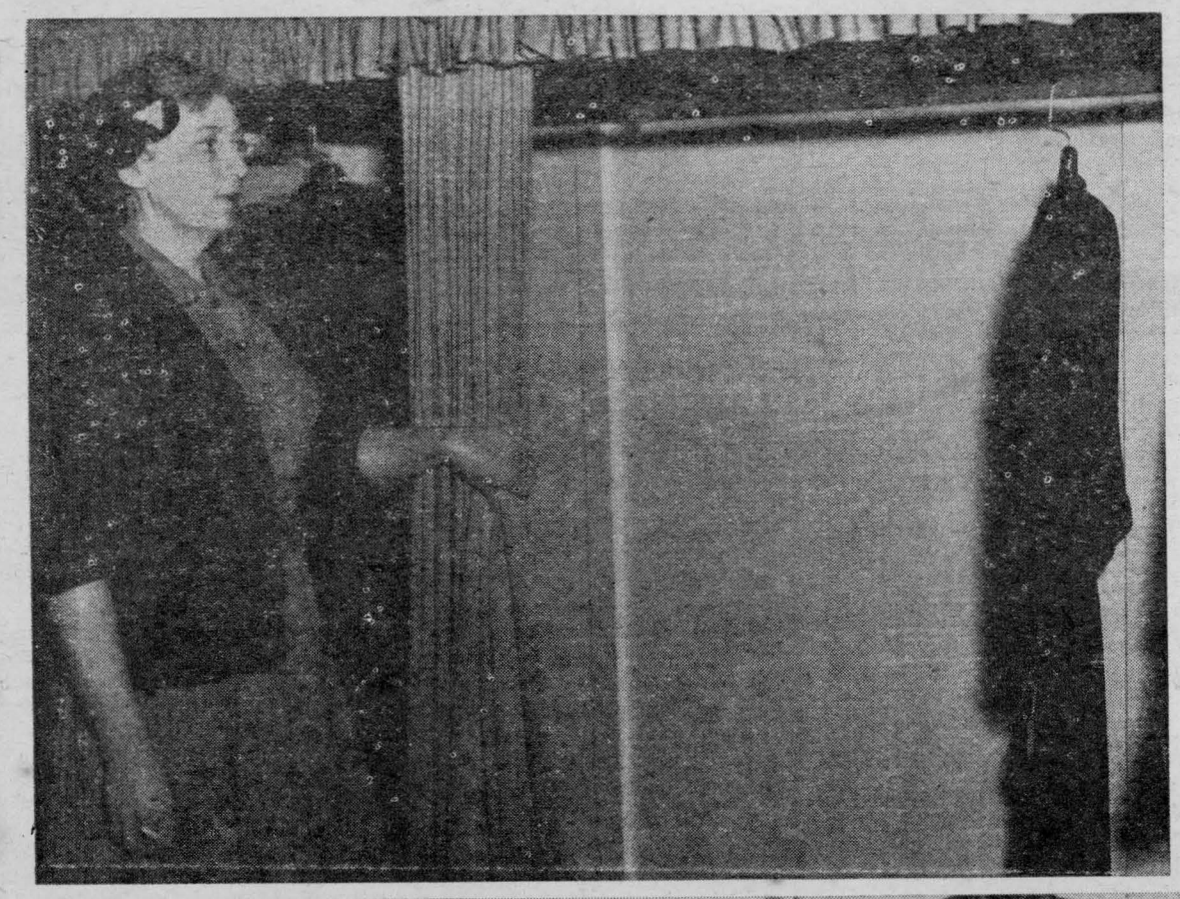

The thieves seemed to know exactly what they wanted; they took all the new Spring dresses that had just been put on the racks Saturday; new Spring coats were to their liking; all house dresses but two were missing; over 75 skirts followed and between $400 and $500 worth of hosiery. The loot was taken out through the back of the store, and out the side door, opened for the occasion by the robbers.

The store safe came in for some attention too. Fortunately, Mrs. Colquhoun does not use the safe to store money in, rather to keep her accounts and important papers in a fireproof place. The safe was not locked and the light-fingered gentlemen soon discovered that. They spilled the contents on the floor, but not finding any of the green stuff, walked away.

Constable Hunsburger called in Constable Eric Code, of Cornwall, to make a fingerprint inspection of the premises and photographs. Before that was completed, word reached here that two men were sighted in Montreal who might throw some light on the robbery. Mr. Hunsburger took off for Montreal and, working with Quebec Provincial Police, arrests followed Tuesday night.

This morning the Record was in touch with the local constable. He gave the names of the two men as Laurin St. Denis and Frank Bergeron, both of Montreal. The two suspects were brought to Cornwall and are being held in connection with the robbery. They were driving a 1948 Buick when picked up. The car had an Ontario licence.

Mrs. Colquhoun's loss was not covered by insurance.

BURGLARS GOT AWAY WITH $4,500 worth of goods from Mrs. L. M. Colquhoun's ladies' wear store over the past weekend. Entry was gained through a window in the rear of the building, doors were forced until the main store was reached. Object of the robbery seemed to be Spring goods and the thieves made short work of the store's stock. In the top picture, Mrs. James Fyke, daughter of the proprietor, is pointing to one of the empty wall cabinets that Saturday night was filled with Spring coats. In the lower picture, James Fyke is standing in front of the rear window that was smashed to gain entry into the store.—Record Photos.

Local High School Downs Metcalfe In Hard-fought Match

In Metcalfe Arena last Friday night Chesterville High School and the Metcalfe High School fought a hard battle on soft ice. The checking was close and the bodychecking was hard. Chesterville, working on a new backchecking system, played well and it finally paid off.

The scoring opened in the fourth minute of play by Neil Moore banging a pass from right-winger Durant in to the net. Minutes later Metcalfe scored on a bouncing shot from the blueline. The game went all the way from this period on to the last eight minutes of play when a fight broke out. Metcalfe were penalized to the extent of two men; this gave the locals the chance they had been waiting for.

In the few seconds that followed a beautiful passing play with Beckstead, Durant and Moore closed in for the kill. The puck was centred in front of the net and banged home by Moore again. This ended the scoring for both teams.

Metcalfe's most outstanding player on the ice was their goaler who stopped nearly fifty blazing shots.

South Mountain Team Defeats C.H.S. 6-3

In the sixth game of inter-scholastic hockey, the Chesterville High School was beaten to a 6-3 decision on their home ice. The South Mountain boys were faster and not quite so careless. The visitors opened the scoring in the 5th minute of the play, and followed up with two more clever goals.

The second period was more closely fought, the visitors adding one more. The third period showed the home team playing better hockey and Neil Moore scoring on a play from the corner. Minutes later Francis Beckstead scored from John Durant's goal-mouth pass. The Mountain team again came back with two fast goals making it 6-2. In the dying minutes Neil Moore scored again on a blue line shot that took the right top corner of the net.

Dolls, Needlework Display Highlight W. I. Programme "Home Economics" Theme for Meeting

An interesting display of needlework and dolls in native costume, supplied by the Dutch members, was an entertaining feature of the regular February meeting of the Chesterville W. I. held last night in the library.

Mrs. B. W. Campbell welcomed the members and guests after which the Institute Ode was sung and the Mary Stewart Collect repeated in unison. Mrs. C. A. Graham was the pianist. Useful household hints were given in answer to the roll call.

Mrs. Geo. Merkley, the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Floyd Edgerton, treasurer, stated that there was a bank balance of $370 on hand.

It was moved by Mrs. L. B. Giles that two cooking pots and a water pail be purchased. This was seconded by Mrs. Thaddeus McIntosh.

It was moved by Mrs. C. A. Graham and seconded by Mrs. P. G. Hewitt that the required sum be taken from the Institute funds.

Mrs. York gave a talk on "Carrots" and showed how they could be used for breakfast as an ingredient in marmalade, for dinner and for supper as a vegetable, in pudding, soups or salads.

An exhibit of aprons which were modeled by the members of the committee was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Rowe read an interesting and informative article on the history of aprons.

The programme closed with a report given by Mrs. Giles on the results of the Institute exhibits at last year's fall fairs. At Ottawa Fair Mrs. Barkley received 1st prize for her lace tablecloth; Mrs. Rowe, 2nd for a stole, 2nd for a crocheted coffee table centre, 6th for a baby set. At South Mountain Fair three firsts, one special and one second were won by the exhibit. Mrs. Giles hoped that an Institute exhibit would be entered again this year.

The meeting closed with "God Save the Queen," after which refreshments were served by Mrs. York, Mrs. Giles and their committee, Mrs. R. A. Mitchell, Mrs. James Cunningham, Mrs. Harold Marriner, Mrs. W. B. Rowe, Mrs. C. A. Graham and Mrs. Fay Shaver.—H.L.G.

Stormont Cattle Breeders Hold Annual Meeting Dr. R. G. Smiley Outlines Year of Progress

Reports presented at the eighth annual meeting of the Stormont Unit of the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Avonmore, indicated the local unit is the second largest of the 24 units now comprising the Association.

President T. H. Rutley was in charge of the meeting and gave a short address. He then introduced Dr. R. G. Smiley, secretary-manager of the E.O.C.B.A.

Dr Smiley commended the Stormont Unit on the fine work it has done since the forming of the Association eight years ago. He reported an increase in membership of 17 over the year 1953 and the total number of cows inseminated for 1954 was 3,589. This figure includes Holstein, Ayrshire, Jersey, Guernsey, Hereford and Shorthorn breeds.

Dr. Smiley gave a list of the bulls which have been disposed of during the past year and showed pictures and explained pedigrees of the new bulls which have been bought since the last annual meeting. He reported on the graded daughters of the bulls of the unit, which are among the finest in the province.

Brucellosis Control Act

R. R. Crozier, agricultural representative for Stormont, spoke at length on the Brucellosis Control Act. This is an act to be sponsored by each township council in the area for a 100 per cent calfhood vaccination. He suggested that those present give serious consideration to the probability of having the act in force. He stated that in the near future he was certain that American cattle buyers could only buy cattle from areas which are 100 per cent vaccinated.

Charles Shaver, Aultsville, director of Stormont Cheese Producers' Association, spoke on the seriousness of the cheese situation in the county today.

The president appointed a nominating committee of Charles Baker, Rupert MacIntyre and Wendell Henry. Their report was read and adopted. The officers for the coming year are: President, T. H. OPINIONS . . .

Ours and Others

The Bashful Male

The casual reader was letting his eye rove over the classified ads a few days ago. "I am not responsible for any debts and obligations of my wife . . ." read he mechanically, and yawned. The same old prelude to divorce.

No! He suddenly sat up and read the words again: "I am responsible for all debts and obligations of my wife . . ." his eye skipped over the unfamiliar words, "and am more than happy to be the provider for a woman who . . . has made the past 21 years of loving kindness the nicest years of my life."

Why not? Aren't the great majority of men grateful to their wives and happy with them? Does a man have to sue his wife or leave her, or hit her with a hammer to make news? Isn't the fact of three stable marriages out of four of sufficient importance to make page one?

That's what Philip Lucido got to thinking as his 21st wedding anniversary approached. So he marched down to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch ad counter and inserted this unusual declaration—the first of its kind, says that paper, in 75 years.

The American male is a shy animal who covers up his bashful ego with a show of brusqueness. "Meet the boss," says the 200-pounder, introducing his minute mate. (He really stands in awe of her cleverness and jumps at her command). "My ball and chain," says the dominating go-getter of his better half. (He knows he'd be utterly lost without her).

We don't know a thing about Mr. Lucido. Judging from his name, he is of Latin extraction, a strain a bit less inhibited than the Edwins, the Patricks and the Duncans. Whatever his lineage, he has said what a good 50 million coy American males would like to say. (But would cheerfully take a beating first).

Sorrow Near at Hand

If a man take no thought about what is distant,
he will find sorrow near at hand.
—Confucius, 551-479 B.C.

There seems to be an inherent trait in every human being which, consciously or otherwise, turns his thoughts to the unknown which stretches before him.

Unfortunately, while each of us may be said to have this God-given element in our make-up, far too few of us exercise the faculty to its fullest extent. Yet we exist in a world which offers the richest prizes to those people who plan thoroughly and sensibly for the future.

In some countries, people are not allowed to plan ahead. The State takes it upon itself to do their thinking for them. In this democratic country they are privileged to exercise their faculty of vision and to shape their destiny accordingly. But this is possible only because our foresighted ancestors envisaged a society based on personal freedom. They were willing to sacrifice greatly in order to build such a system according to carefully laid, long-range plans for a goal well worthy of their sacrifices.

The same foresight which characterized our forebears in those uncertain days is evident today among the people who are making Canada the great nation that its pioneers envisaged.

But if, as Confucius sagely said, sorrow is near for those who take no thought of the future, then we as a nation can not afford to rest on any laurels so far gained. There are countless tomorrows for us to face, each bringing with it a fresh group of vexing problems.—Stelco Flashes.

Education covers a lot of territory—but it does not cultivate it.

Light Along The Way

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised."

When Jesus entered upon His public ministry He announced that His coming meant the fulfillment of these promises Isaiah had proclaimed long before. He made social service central in His programme. When John became sceptical of His claim to be the Promised One, Jesus referred his emissaries to what had been done, and told them to report the same to John as a sufficient argument for His claims. "Go and tell John what you have seen and heard; the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good news preached unto them."

The Christian religion makes the claims of humanity paramount, and always has. Jesus was never dissuaded from receiving those who sought His help. Indeed, He was indignant with His disciples when they tried to keep the children from Him because He was tired. He was angered with the Pharisees who put the strict observance of the Sabbath before the merciful act of restoring a man's withered hand. In word and deed Jesus made it clear that the faith He proclaimed was concerned with man and the character of the civilization in which he lived.

So the Church has always been concerned with man's plight. The early disciples collected money from the faithful to distribute to the poor. As they went about the countryside they continued to do what they could for the sick, until at length institutions were opened for their care by the Church. The Church has been foremost in teaching the young, in caring for the aged, in opening homes for those in trouble. No church can be true to her Lord that does not remember His announcement that He came to fulfill the promises of the prophet, and that His followers are to go and do likewise.

Someone once said: "Robinson Crusoe couldn't have been a good Christian without his man Friday." There is no such thing as spiritual isolation. The Christian faith finds itself in the way one life bears upon another in the community. It is important that we recognize this,and accept the call to play whatever part we can in the communal life where our lot is cast. We cannot shut out the world and be Christian, for it is in the world that the saving power of our faith finds its fulfillment. The character of our civilization deserves whatever we can do to change it so that is is more in keeping with Christ's Kingdom.

FRANCES HYLAND—This pretty, rather piquant girl who seems about to speak has made a big name for herself doing just that —speaking; on the stage, on radio and on television. She is Frances Hyland, Saskatchewan-born actress who went to England to study (and starred in several London productions), then returned to Canada to take leading roles in two of the plays presented at the 1954 Stratford Shakespeare Festival. Now CBC listeners and viewers can get to know her voice, for she is just beginning what will be a bright career on radio and TV. She has had major roles on radio's "CBC Wednesday Night," and "GM Theatre" and "Scope" on CBC television.

CAUGNAWAGA INDIANS LIVE IN TWO COUNTRIES

Rev. Georges Brodeur has one of the most interesting parishes in North America.

It has an international flavour, extending from the Indian reservation of Caughnawaga, near Montreal, to Detroit, Buffalo, Rochester and Brooklyn, a distance of 1,600 miles.

Father Brodeur, pastor of the Roman Catholic mission of St. Francis Xavier in Caughnawaga, really travels when he makes his annual parochial visits.

He has spent most of his priesthood administering the spiritual needs of the Iroquois nation's Mohawk tribe and has more than 600 parishioners.

Like their Nomadic forefathers, who wintered in warmer climates and spent the summers hunting and fishing near Caughnawaga, the tribesmen of today work in the United States and holiday in the Indian reservation.

They maintain two homes. This is possible because they pay no property, school or water taxes and no immigration bars impede them at the Canada-U.S. border.

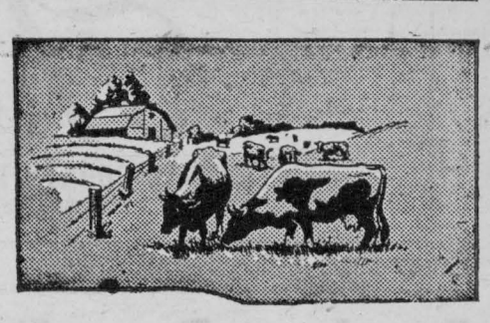

However, their sojourn in the U.S. is more expensive because they are subject to the same financial obligations as the white man. This is offset by the $3.25 an hour they earn as bridge builders.

LEAVES HOME

Cold and hungry, Marvin Fletcher, 11, of Sacramento, Calif., was halted the other day by state patrolmen who found him pushing his bicycle along a highway at 1 a.m. The officers returned him to his parents, then made out this report: "Subject stated he was running away from home. Reason given—lost report card."

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS

By Lillian Allison

It seems every woman likes to read household hints. I suppose she is always hopeful that sometime she will find one that will take much of the hard work out of housekeeping. But the chance that she will remember what she reads is only fair. She may clip them from the paper or magazine and pin the to the curtain but where they'll be when she wants them is another question.

"Now that's a good idea," we say when we read some trick that we've not heard before but we can't remember two days later it it said to use washing soda or baking soda.

Knowing all that and how we women are I'm going to give you some tricks I've tried. If you know them all that's fine. If not, pin them up on the curtain to get dusty and yellow

If your stove or furnace pipes get too hot for comfort or if they're burning out, throw half a pound of baking soda on the fire and leave the check closed (or if it is a pipe damper leave it open). If there isn't much fire in the stove pour some hot water on the soda, replace the lid and watch the pipes cool down. The soda producec carbon dioxide which fills the pipes. Fire can't burn without oxygen so it goes out.

Next time you mix flour and water for gravy put them in a peanut butter jar. Screw the lid on tight and shake. The mixing should take only a minute and there should be no lumps

Farm fresh eggs do not make good meringues. They should be two or three days old for better results. And at room temperature.

Keep a box of your favourite soap or detergent in the bathroom. You can rinse out your nylons there and save taking them downstairs. It is handy for cleaning the sink and tub too

Add a few drops of red food colour to the sugar you use in rhubarb pie and mix well. The pie filling will be a luscious pink instead of the usual insipid green.

And if you like coloured cocoanut for a special cake put the cocoanut and a very few drops of food colour in a jar and shake.

Let accumulated bread dry like a board or dry fresh bread in a slow oven. Then put it through the food chopper for crumbs or dressing.

If the recipe says sour milk add a teaspoon of vinegar to the sweet milk you have and, pronto, it's sour.

When you are housecleaning wash the baseboard as you mop the floor. It will save a lot of wear and tear on your knees

Make and bake two pieshells. Double the filling recipe then store one shell, half the filling and half the egg whites for another day.

If your faded print dress needs patches turn the new patches wrong side out. They'll match well enough.

If you want soft butter in a hurry heat a heavy bowl and turn it over the butter for a few minutes.

To sow fine seeds, mix them with dry, sharp sand.

A baker once told me to lay a loaf of bread on its side before slicing it. It wont buckle that way.

If re-heated brown gravy isn't smooth beat it with the egg beater. It's easier to wash than the sieve.

If you have left-over mashed potatoes ,put them in a casserole, add a little water, cover and place in a medium oven until hot. They'll be like fresh ones.

When you're clearing up the dinner table use a big tray. It will save hundreds of steps.

Calling All Sportsmen

* O.W.A.A.

Indoor Fishing

Peak participation in this inexpensive and agreeable sport will be reached in the next few weeks, as fishermen all over prepare for the approaching seasons and impatiently await "ice-out" and the chance to wet a line once more. There are several ways in which you can partake of the pastime and all of them will contribute to the success and enjoyment of your fishing during the coming season, as well as help to while away the remaining long winter evenings.

Tackle Overhaul

One evening at least can be spent taking an inventory of your fishing gear and noting what has to be repaired or replaced. If it is a rod or reel that needs servicing and you don't feel up to it yourself, now's the time to get it into a tackle shop, ahead of the spring rush. There's nothing quite like the frustration of the arrival of opening day and the coinciding realization that your favourite rod, that you just remembered to have a few days previously, will not be ready on time. Reels should be disassembled, any worn parts replaced, oiled and put back together again. Plugs, spoons and other casting lures can be checked and repainted if need be. Most important of all, make sure that the hooks are sharp. There's been many a good fish struck and missed because of dull hooks. Rods should be examined for traces of wear at the windings, re-wound where necessary and finished off with a coat or two of good varnish.

Demon for Trout

The angling fraternity might almost lay claim to being the originators of the "do-it-yourself" movement that is sweeping North America today, so many of them tie their own flies, or fashion their own spinning and casting lures and have been doing so ever since the days of the redoubtable Isaac Walton, father of all anglers. For those who tie their own, here's a streamer that has been a consistent producer for me on both speckled trout and lakers. Known as the Demon and in less polite circles student fishermen at McGill University) by a more colourful but unprintable name, this is a streamer of quite simple design. Head is black, tail a scarlet goose quill, body wound with flat silver tinsel, wings, two furnace hackles. That's all there is to it. Ihave found this most effective for early spring lake fishing when the trout, lakers as well as speckled, are feeding in shallow water. Cast almost to touching distance of the shore line and retrieve by stripping in line to within a few feet of your boat or canoe. I have had strikes sometimes just as soon as the streamer settled in the water, at other times just when I was about to lift my fly off the water.

Explore New Fishing Grounds

This is something we do a fair amount of during the winter and we do it surrounded by all the comforts of home, usually with a fire crackling on the hearth and the maps spread out all over the living room floor. The other evening saw most of the family down on their hands and knees as we gave Ontario's Kawartha Lakes a thorough going over for possible visits to that region this summer. Maps are useful and entertaining for advance exploration and no sportsman should move into a new or unfamiliar fishing or hunting territory without having a map of the region and the best possible one that is available. Use a good map and your trip will be safer, more successful, as well as much

The service was conducted by Mr. Stanley Taylor, student minister. Hymn sung was "Unto the Hills Around."

Mr. Cramer is survived by one daughter and three sons and one sister—Mrs. Bessie Anders, of Houston, Texas; Timmy Cramer, Toronto; Kenneth Cramer, Northern Ontario; Fred Cramer, Calgary, Alta.; Mrs. Eva Bell, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

The body was placed in Wales vault to await burial in the spring.

Friends and relatives were present from Toronto, Northern Ontario, Poughkepsie, N.Y., Montreal, Syracuse, Ottawa, Massena, Greenfield, Chesterville and Athens.

HIRED OR FIRED —THEY'RE MAKING MONEY

The scheme of two housewives who qualified for jobless insurance benefits by doing each other's washing came to light in Oldham, Eng., recently. This is how it worked:

They employed each other and met every Monday to exchange laundry. For six months—the minimum required to qualify for unemployment compensation — they stamped each other's national insurance cards, signifying they worked. Then they fired each other.

For the next six months they collected jobless benefits amounting to 26 shillings ($3.64) per week each. Then they rehired each other and started another cycle.

A labour ministry official said "I don't think there's anything we can do about it . . . it is probably going on all over the country."

A LOADED PASSENGER

A woman arrived at Buenos Aires the other day by trans-Atlantic air liner and caught the eye of customs inspectors. She walked with great difficulty. The reason, the usctoms department said, was that she had more than 72 pounds of gold bars hung in her clothing, a load worth more than $40,000.

Herbert S. Carkner, 79 Dies at His Home

Herbert S. Carkner, a prominent resident of Winchester died at his home Wednesday last. A well known businessman and farmer and a leader in church organizations, he spent his entire life in Winchester and district.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Carkner, pioneers of the Ormond community, where he was born 79 years ago. eH had lived in Hallville, Russell and Winchester and had conducted general stores in these centres.

Prior to moving to Winchester in 1942, he had owned and operated a large farm at Maple Ridge. Since moving to Winchester, he conducted a real estate and insurance business.

He was a first member of the Winchester Baptist Church, had been a deacon for many years, a member of the choir, and for 25 years the superintendent of the Sunday School. He later was one of the leaders in organizing a congregation and building the new Bethany Chapel at Winchester.

He married the former Margaret Docksteader in 1897, and the couple were honoured by friends on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Surviving in addition to his widow, are two daughters, Mrs. George Parrish, Winchester; Mrs. Wm. R. Helmer, Sunderland; and one son, Ewart, of Mountain Township.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon last, February 18th, from the Bethany Chapel. Interment in Ormond Cemetery.

Number Local Telephones Shows Increase During Past Year

More telephones were added in The Bell Telephone Company of Canada's Ontario-Quebec territory last year—the company's 75th year in business—than in any previous year, according to the company's annual report for 1954.

During the 12 months the increase in telephones was 167,002, bringing the total in service to 2, 294,458. A million of these have been added in the past seven years alone.

Expansion in telephone service locally has paralleled this overall growth, N. E. Sharpe, Bell manager for this region, said this week in commenting on the report. During 1954 15 telephones were added in Chesterville for a total of 722 at the end of the year.

A total of $103,382,705 in wages and salaries was paid to Bell employees residing in hundreds of Ontario and Quebec communities. At the end of 1954 the company employed 32,706 people—20,546 women and 12,160 men. Taxes for 1954 were $31,431,000.

Net income for the year amounted to $2.44 a share, compared with $2.65 a share in 1953, and an amount equivalent to 44 cents a share was added to the surplus. Shareholders total 114,782, the largest number sharing in the ownership of any Canadian company. Almost 98 per cent reside in Canada—over 90 per cent in Ontario and Quebec. Dividend payments totalled $23,378,035.

Demand for service continued at a high rate. At the year's end there were still 49,164 orders for main service unfilled and 34,367 unfilled orders for individual service in place of party lines.

In view of the high level of unfilled orders for service, the very large construction programmes previously projected for 1955 and 1956 will be increased considerably, the report states.

Expenditure on new construction last year was $105,300,000, almost $20,000,000 more than in any previous year. Additional central office equipment was installed in 261 exchanges. The number of rural household with telephone service increased by five per cent to 64 per cent. Several isolated villages and mining communities were brought into the telephone network and exchanges were opened in a group of northern centres previously served by single telephones only. Long distance circuits were increased by 15,000 miles.

HYDRAULIC METHOD TO PUMP COAL TO SURFACE

British state coal authorities are experimenting with hydraulic transporting systems to pump coal direct from the bottom of the mine to the surface through pipelines, it was announced in London.

Dr. W. Idris Jones, head of the nationalized industry's research group, told the Royal Society of Arts in a London lecture that this would reduce present crippling costs of underground transportation.

Successful research in France has already shown that such a method could be reliable and economic, he said.

He suggested that the coal could even be pumped direct to power stations and other central consumption points.

Stormont MPP Urges Stiffer Driving Tests

Peter Manley, Stormont MPP, was among those who strongly supported a strengthening of the driving examination system in the province during debate on the report of the Legislature's safety committee.

Mr. Manley supported all of the recommendations of the committee and in addition he strongly endorsed the Sudbury T-man scheme,

This is a programme under which a committee of responsible citizens are issued cards under which they report instances of both negligence and good driving to the police. It in turn sends out a card to the car owner concerned.

The Stormont member claimed that though automobile registrations had gone up in the area by 18 per cent, the accident rate had dropped by 28 per cent.

He also suggested that after driving permits are issued, a booklet of driving and traffic instructions should be mailed to the licence holder. He said that such booklets now were printed by the Highways Department and were available at the issuing office but most licensees didn't get them.

CHEAPER BY MAIL

Linda Doyle, six, wanted to visit her aunt in Hamilton recently and decided she knew just how to do it. Post office employees were nonplussed when she told them she wanted to be posted. Said one clerk "You haven t got a label." Linda reappeared in 15 minutes with the suitable label attached to her head. Then she dug in her purse and produced three cents.

UNITED CO-OPERATIVES RECOMMEND ONTARIO VARIEGATED ALALFA SEED

Why we pomote and recommend Ontario Variegated Alfalfa.

1. It is grown in the Province of Ontario and should be well climatized. Produces at least two, sometimes three crops per season. Especially quick to recover. Produces finer hay and pasture. Suitable to most types of soil in Ontario.
2. Ontario Variegated Alfalfa Seed being grown in Ontario is cleaned and graded in UCO Ultra Modern Seed Cleaning Plant in Toronto and is continually checked in our laboratory for quality, weeds and germination. Variegated Alfalfa are not blended or mixed with other varieties or production of Canadian Alfalfa.
4. Under very rigid cleaning processes, we are able to reduce weed seeds to a total of less than 5 per ounce—even if No. 1 Seed allows 100 weeds per ounce.
5' Why grow weeds? Have we not enough?
6. We guarantee the origin by packing in printed and sealed Co-Op bags for the customer's protection.
7. Do not be misled, look for the bag with the seal of distinction.
8. Average germination as tested by Department of Agriculture is over 90%.

Bear in mind Alfalfa Seed could contain approximately 12,500 seeds per ounce; 200,000 seeds per pound and 3,000,000 seeds per acre (if sown 15 pounds per acre).

No. 1 Seed Allows: 100 weed seeds per ounce; 1,600 weed seeds per pound; 24,000 weed seeds per acre.

UCO No. 1. Seed: 5 weed seeds per ounce, 80 weeds seeds per pound, 1,200 weed seeds per acre.

Hydro Awards Contract For Sixteen Turbines

A contract for sixteen turbines and governors to be installed in the Canadian section of the St. Lawrence powerhouse has been awarded by Ontario Hydro to the English Electric Company of Canada, Toronto. Hydro officials stated that the contract, for approximately $7½ million, calls for deliveries to commence in March, 1956. It was one of seven bids received from Canadian and European companies.

The announcement follows closely upon the awarding earlier this month of contracts for the manufacture by two Canadian firms of sixteen generators to be erected in Hydro's portion of the international powerhouse.

The turbines, together with the generators, form the unit which transforms the power of water into electrical energy. The Canadian half of the St. Lawrence Power Project, scheduled for initial service in the fall of 1958, will have an installed capacity of 1,100,000 horsepower.

TV PONY-TAILS—Four glamourous blondes always make an intriguing photo. When the four blonds all wear their hair in pony tails, it's even better. But these four blonde, glamourous pony-tailers have another thing in common—they're all CBC television stars. Here, from the top, are dancer Babs Christie, singer Marilyn Kent, dancer Glenna Jones and actress-personality Hollyhock. Marilyn Kent is featured in numerous CBC shows, and the dancers in the weekly varity "On Stage." Holly frequently appears on "Living" and, while she is known as somewhat naive, this hasn't stood in the way of her career; with her friend Uncle Chichimus, she was one of the first two creatures ever to appear on Canadian television when it came on the air back in 1952.

LASTING FINSH FOR BRASS, COPPER

Want to clean your brass and copper fixtures, furnishings and ornaments so the finish will last for years?

A veteran polisher of the building service squad at brass-famed Rockefeller Centre gives this advice:

"Go down to your drug store and buy 15 cents worth of oxalic acid. Put the powder in a quart jar. Fill with water. Mix well. Dip your cleaning cloth into the mixture and then into some powdered pumice stone—you can get this at a drug store. Rub the cloth briskly over your metal, then wipe with a clean cloth. Your metal should gleam.

"Then dip another clean cloth into clear lacquer—make sure it is lacquer—and pat it over the metal's surface, covering it completely. Don't use a brush.

"Now the finish should last three or more years. . . without polishing."

"Oh yes," he adds, "when after years, the finish does become dull again, use a little paint remover to take off the ld lacquer, and repeat the entire process."

TOO SOON

The Capitol Savings and Loan Association was robbed recently in Chicago. While two men were installing a new alarm system a grey-haired woman wearing glasses entered the place. Brandishing a gun, she ordered the manager to hand over the money. It totalled $1,187.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Do not neglect your windshield wipers until an emergency. Then it might be too late.

Being stuck in a storm with an ailing wiper is both dangerous and temper-trying. Fortunately, you need not suffer this inconvenience since most service stations will check a windshield wiper system free of charge.

They will tell you if the little motor that drives the blades is stiff and in need of adjustment, or if the wiper arms are worn and need replacement.

A clear day is actually the time to test your wiper system motor. Just clean the windshield and allow the blade to function on the dry glass. If the motor has the proper strength, the blades will tick-tock with a reassuring even beat.

Be sure to clean the blade with a wet rag when the windshield is washed. The blade picks up oily vapours and dust which cause windshield smear—a condition that reduces driving vision by more than one-third.

One driver Irode with recently used his "retired" windshield wiper blade cleverly. He kept it beside him to wipe his windows from the inside as they fogged up on cold, damp days. "It's too cold for outside work," he explained, but it's fine for the inside job—and a lot neater than a rag."

A LITTLE DOUBT

Postal authorities are planning to switch mail deliveries from trains to highway vehicles on a route that passes through Driggs, Idaho. They were scheduled to tell Driggs residents the other day why the move means better service for them.

A crowd waited for several hours but the postal officials failed to show up. The roads, in the wake of a snowstorm, were too bad for travel.

"Don't tell me your husband is divorcing you for a slight misunderstanding?"

"Yes, I understood him to say he would be out of town for a week."

EVERYBODY EATS-- TRY THESE!

By Helen Graham

ECONOMICAL MILK POWDER

IF YOU USE MILK POWDER you will save money, and if it is skim milk powder you can save calories. So many people these days are weight conscious—and I mean over-weight conscious—that any calorie saving food is bound to be popular.

Here is what the Department of Agriculture's bulletin on skim milk powder has to say: "Skim milk is whole milk from which most of the fat has been removed. Vitamin A is lost with the fat but the calcium, ribaflavin, protein and other important nutrients present in whole milk are retained and skim milk has a lower caloric value than whole milk."

When using milk powder you may reliquefy according to the directions on the package or you may use it dry. When using dry mix with dry ingredients and then add required amount of water.

As well as being useful in cutting calories, skim milk powder may be added to such foods as cooked breakfast cereals, meat loaves, etc. to increase calorie value if you are trying to put on weight.

In the following recipes use either dry or reliquefied skim milk powder.

Cheese Sauce on Toast

2 tbsps. flour
¼ tsp. salt
Few grains paprika
2 tbsps. butter
1 cup reliquified skim milk
1-3 cup grated cheese

Melt butter in top of boiler; add flour and seasonings slowly. Blend well. Add milk slowly, stirring till smooth. Cook till thickened. Add cheese; stir until melted. Pour over toast.

Serve with a crisp cabbage salad for lunch or supper.

Caramel Custard

3 eggs
¼ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
2 cups skimmed milk (reliquified)
½ tsp. vanilla
½ cup sugar
½ cup boiling water

Combine ¼ cup sugar, eggs and salt; add milk and vanilla. Pour into individual custard cups or one large baking dish. Place dishes in pan of hot water. Cook at 325 degrees until mixture does not adhere to knife. When baked, spoon hot caramel sauce over the top. Cool and serve

Caramel Sauce: Caramelize ½ cup sugar in heavy frying pan. When a light brown colour add boiling water very slowly, stirring constantly until all sugar is dissolved. Simmer a few minutes.

Whipped Topping

½ cup ice cold water
1 tbsp. lemon juice (optional)
½ cup skim milk powder
2 to 3 tbsps. fine granulated sugar
¼ tsp. vanilla

Measure water and lemon juice into a mixing bowl. Sprinkle skim milk powder on top and beat with a rotary beater until stiff, about 5 minutes. Add sugar and vanilla. Continue beating until well blended. Chill. Use as a topping for desserts. This recipe makes 2½ cups.

Quantity Tea Biscuit Mix

8 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 tbsps. baking powder
1½ tbsps. salt
2-3 to 1 cup skim milk powder
1 cup shortening

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and skim milk powder. Cut shortening until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Store in a covered container in refrigerator or other cool place.

Reliquefy skim milk powder and use as a beverage in place of fresh milk or mix half and half with fresh milk.

Use reliquefied milk in cocoa, chocolate milk, soups, escalloped potatoes, custard sauce, macaroni and cheese, etc.

If you keep a box of milk powder on your pantry shelf you will always have extra milk on hand for emergencies.

Milk powder should be kept tightly covered as it is apt to take up moisture and become lumpy. I find I can leave it in the cardboard carton in the winter time but have to transfer it to covered jars in the summer.

DON'T DAMAGE LINOLEUM WHEN REMOVING PAINT

Sometimes it is necessary to remove the worn coatings from linoleum that has been lacquered or varnished several times. It is not advisable to use paint and varnish remover for the purpose because the composition of linoleum itself contains animal and vegetable oils which are soluble under paint remover.

If such removers are used, however, use care to clean them away before they have reached the linoleum surface itself.

A safer method is to wash the linoleum thoroughly, then when it is dry, sand it with wet or dry sandpaper. Clear lacquer is often used to give a long-wearing surface to linoleum—so is linoleum varnish and floor wax.

If aluminum sink edges soil the clothes of persons standing against them ,rub the aluminum with steel wool. Then apply two thin coats of fresh shellac.

Tell the average person there are 860,586,402 stars in the universe and he will believe you. But put up a sign "Wet Paint" and he will have to conduct a personal investigation.

When you're making a bed make one side of the top half first, then finish the top. Tuck the bottom all in at once and you're done with a minimum of steps. This works for changing the bed without removing all the covers too.

If you don't use all the paint in the can, cover what is left with melted paraffin as you do jams and jellies. The hardened wax will lift out later and the paint will be as good as new when you need it.

When you hang out your washing hang things straight instead of draping them along the line. They will be much easier to iron.

There are twenty household hints. Surely you can remember a few of them.

more interesting. You'll find, too, that a map is a real time saver in finding your way around. There are two types of maps particularly suited to the needs of the outdoorsman, these are the topographic maps and the ordinance type maps. Both are usually available on a scale of one inch to the mile and priced at about twenty-five cents a copy. You can obtain both types from the Map Distribution Office, Department of Mines and Technical Surveys, Ottawa. I suggest you write first for an index sheet of the territory you are interested in, then select one or more, or whatever number of maps you need to cover the area you wish to explore.

How Banking keeps pace...

New ideas in bank premises give you speedier, more convenient, more informal banking service.

Modern machines help bank staffs keep up with greater use of services by more and more customers.

The chartered banks have opened many branches in recent years to meet the needs of growing Canada.

Today Canadians have 9,200,000 deposit accounts in the chartered banks—3,800,000 opened in the past ten years. Within the same period, branches have increased to 4,000; bank staffs have almost doubled to more than 50,000. Banking has grown in size and scope, continually adapting its services and improving its methods of operation, keeping pace with the greatly-increased banking requirements of the Canadian people.

Shortage of Farm Seeds This Spring

Due to the unprecedented wet weather during late summer and at harvest time last year, there will be a drastic shortage of good quality seed oats, red clover and alfalfa in most Canadian provinces this year, says R. Snyder, technical service supervisor of the C-I-L agricultural chemicals department.

Weather conditions were particularly bad in Quebec and it is estimated that close to one-third of the province's requirements or nearly 1,000,000 bushels of seed oats may have to come from outside the province. Supplies of registered seed will be much below normal in the Maritimes, Ontario and Western Canada.

Since this year's harvest will depend in no small measure on the quality of seed grown this spring, farmers with good quality oats are urged to clean their supplies early and avoid feeding of any oats of good commercial seed grade.
