Ottawa's Mayor On Way To Open Metcalfe Fair

You Name It, They Sold It At Hospital Rummage Sale

Chalk up another huge success for the Winchester Unit of the District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary which last Friday and Saturday grossed more than $352.00 at its annual Rummage Sale.

In spite of inclement weather the hundreds poured out to look and to buy one or many of the varied stock of bargains which were sold at giveaway prices. Mrs. Keith Carkner, convener of the local unit, said that the sale this year was another overwhelming success and that her committee of Mrs. Harold Lannin and Mrs. Harold Clark were more than pleased with the complete co-operation received from everyone, contributors, buyers and others.

This year's bargain hunt had just about everything at the temporary sale headquarters located in Flora's Bowling Lanes. There were children's and adults' clothing and shoes, dishes, hot plates, stoves, flashlights, all sorts of toys, jig saw puzzles, books, lamp shades, mats, and just about everything that could interest even the most remote buyer.

The net revenue, of course, will be turned over to the Auxiliary treasury and will be used when needed towards the purchase of hospital equipment.

Used Car Dealers Should Issue Fitness Certificate

Provincial Constable Ray Dowe informed the Press this week that Morrisburg detachment of the Provincial Police had been instructed by the Attorney General's office to rigidly enforce the provisions which come under Section 20(B) of the Highway Traffic Act.

The section in mention deals with Dealer's Certificate of Mechanical Fitness and states in part: "When a used motor vehicle is sold by a dealer in used motor vehicles the dealer shall deliver to the purchaser at the time of the sale a certificate of mechanical fitness signed by the dealer indicating whether or not the motor vehicle is in a safe condition to be operated upon a highway."

The new ruling is in compliance with a province-wide program of checking up on used cars and used car dealers. The release to the local detachment said: "The Honourable the Attorney-General directs that you cause an immediate survey to be made by personnel within your district for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not dealers in used motor vehicles are complying with the provisions of Section 20(B) of the Highway Traffic Act. This law is to be rigidly enforced and should any contravention of the same come to the attention of your officers, a prosecution is to be instituted."

They Grow 'Em Tall In These Parts!

Quite a few of our contemporaries have been boasting of tall corn tales. As a matter of fact one or two tall ones have appeared on these pages. Well, here's another, but it's not about corn, it's about the tallest tomato stock ever grown in these parts —maybe! We say maybe because everybody will be rushing to the garden to measure the tomato stocks after Frank Ryan tells about this one on Valley Notebook.

The tomato stock in question was grown by a close friend, Ron Workman, popular member of the Press staff, and it measured 9 feet 6inches in height, taller than many corn stocks. That's a lot of tomato stock and every inch was loaded with big green tomatoes all ready to ripen. Four or five other plants are nearly as tall and the fruit equally abundant.

And just to keep the corn people happy Lorne Holmes dropped into the office the other day dragging a lengthy stock behind him. It stretched the tape to 11 feet 6 inches. They sure grow 'em tall around here.

1956 Census Shows Winchester With Population Gain

Winchester's official population figure stands at 1,332, according to the latest census. Actual population to-day is probably well over 1350, compared to the 1201 people who lived here when the last census was taken in 1951.

This village was one of seven United Counties municipalities with increased populations: Alexandria, Cornwall, Cardinal, Chesterville, Lancaster, Morrisburg and Winchester. Three municipalities with decreases included Finch, Maxville and the "we have to go but watch us grow" town of Iroquois. Iroquois' population dropped from 1,086 to 1059 in the five-year period; Maxville from 778 to 763, and Finch, 393 to 383.

Increases were: Cornwall 17,953 (16,899); Alexandria, 2,471 (2,204); Cardinal, 1,984 (1,782); Chesterville, 1,149 (1,094); Lancaster, 591 (548); Morrisburg, 2,102, (1,858), and Winchester 1,332 (1,201).

Want To Win 1000 Bucks?

Maybe the odds are great! But you don't have a chance if you don't go to Winchester Legion's big Monster Night in the Community Centre here next Wednesday night, September 26th. And your decision to go may win you the big $1,000.00 first prize which heads the long list of giveaways to the lucky winners. And this could be the last Monster Night if the people of Winchester and district don't support it. In a final effort Winchester Legion has come up with a prize list valued at more than $2500.00, biggest ever. A crowd, a big crowd is needed if the Legion Post is to realize even a small profit. If you like to play Bingo, and if you have appreciated the Legion's efforts in making these "nights" possible in the past, you can show your gratitude by attending the one here next Wednesday night.

Other major prizes will include four $100.00 bonds. In addition, there are extra valuable prizes for the 20 regular games and another $100.00 door prize to the holder of the lucky ticket from the advance sale only.

This is the biggest Monster Night ever tackled by Winchester Legion Post, which has been sponsoring this sort of thing successfully for several years now. Advance sale of tickets is unusually brisk, according to President Don Casselman, and those in charge of preparations are looking forward to what may be the largest crowd ever to file through the doors at the Community Centre.

If you haven't made plans, better make them now. You could win $1,000.00 or more.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, and later the couple left on a short honeymoon. For travelling the bride wore a beige suit with brown accessories. On their return they will reside on a farm near Winchester.

MADDEN—DURANT

Miss Mary Elizabeth Durant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Durant, Winchester, became the bride of Mr. Charles Howard Madden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Madden of Mountain, at a pretty wedding ceremony solemnized in Winchester United Church on Saturday afternoon by the Rev. T. N. Mitchell. Mr. Murray Graham, South Mountain, was the guest soloist, singing "I'll Walk Beside You." He was accompanied by the organist, Miss Elaine Price, of Kemptville.

Gladioli and ferns adorned the church interior and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows, ferns and zinnias.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a waltz-length gown of white lace on net over satin and featured a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves coming to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of nylon net was held in place by a tiara trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby mums. Her only ornaments were matching pearl earrings and necklace, a gift of the groom.

Miss Isabel Hay, as bridesmaid, wore a strapless gown of nylon net over satin in medium blue, with matching headdress of feathers. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Winchester Baptist Church Celebrates 97th Anniversary

Large congregations attended special services commemorating the 97th anniversary of Winchester Baptist Church here on Sunday. Rev. S. Iveson, of Fourth Avenue Baptist, was the guest speaker at both services and the soloist, who also sang at both morning and evening services, was Mrs. Ross Babion of Metcalfe. She was accompanied by Mrs. Wallace Carkner of Kenmore.

Also at the morning service a quartet composed of Messrs. Don and Dan Campbell and Jack and Don McIntosh of Ormond, accompanied by Miss Winnie Deeks, was heard. In the evening special inging included an all-girl quartette from Fourth Avenue Church, Ottawa, also accompanied by Miss Deeks. Dr. J. J. McKendry of Ottawa, a member of the local church and formerly of this place, spoke briefly at the morning service outlining the history of the Baptist congregation and its church. The West Winchester Regular Baptist Church was organized on February 13, 1859, the M. E. Church and the school-house being the places of worship. In 1869 the construction of the substantial stone church building was undertaken, the first service being held therein on December 27th, 1870. Until 1899 one minister served both the Winchester and Ormond Churches.

The evening anniversary service was held at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church where members of that and the United Church congregations joined in worship. Congregational members from Ormond, Kenmore and South Gower also attended the special services here on Sunday.

Farewell For Pastor

Student pastor at the local Baptist Church during the summer months was Mr. Gert Lemke, who had charge of both anniversary services. Monday of this week he returned to McMaster University to resume his studies. On Tuesday evening of last week about 25 members of the congregation gathered at Heidi's Restaurant where Mr. Lemke was presented with a purse of money on behalf of the congregation by Mr. Keith Carkner. Speaking briefly at the farewell were Mrs. Ethel Slingerland and Mr. Ewart Carkner.

Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the late Mrs. Melvin was held.

Three Teen-Agers Escape Serious Injury In Motor Accident

Three Winchester and district teen-agers escaped serious injury and possible death in a highway crash two miles north of Vernon about 1.30 a.m. Monday morning. Taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital were: Karl Beckstead, 19, of R. R. Chesterville; his brother, Francis, 18, and Muriel Hamilton, 16, of Winchester. Miss Hamilton is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hamilton, and was the most seriously injured of the three. She received head and back injuries and remained unconscious for several hours following the accident.

The accident occurred when the car, proceeding north, skidded off the highway on slippery pavement, ran over a culvert, crashed against a tree, finally landing in a ditch. The car was a total wreck.

Dr. W. M. Byers of Winchester treated the injured at the scene of the wreck and had them removed to hospital. Provincial Constable John Arscott is investigating.

At time of writing Miss Hamilton's condition is reported as satisfactory by hospital authorities. Francis Beckstead, who remained in hospital over night, was allowed to return to his home on Monday.

Warning To Hunters

Man the hunter is not supposed to resemble a deer, a doe, a buck or a moose. But as sure as this editorial is written some trigger happy moron is going to cross this theory up this year and epitaph remorsefully, "I thought it was a deer!" What was supposed to be a deer will be a fellow hunter laying wounded or possibly dead because some excited idiot didn't take time to think before he shot.

This sort of tragedy happens every fall. And as long as the human element is involved it will continue to happen; but perhaps at a lesser degree if every hunter becomes more educated to the rules of good shooting. The case of mistaken identity is not the only way George can get shot this Fall, there are other equally foolish ways which apply to all hunters of game animals and birds.

There are means of preventing these accidental murders, and rules to follow. Some of them are:

1. Respect your rifle or gun—it can kill all animals including man.

2. Before you leave, make certain the weapon is in perfect working order. When cleaning, be sure that the rifle is not loaded, and that it is uncocked.

3. When the day's hunting is over, eject the remaining shells. Don't carry a loaded rifle or gun as if it were a plaything.

4. Wear distinctive clothing as prescribed under the rules of good sportsmanship.

5. Make certain of your target. No game is so important that you risk the life of another hunter.

This annual shoot of deer and ducks is a sport which is keenly anticipated by a large number of hunters each year. The taste of a juicy venison steak or a roast of wild duck or partridge is one of the subsequent rewards. Live to enjoy both by following these and other rules designed to protect all hunters.

A Modern Problem

In this day and age through the application of the discoveries of preventive medicine, man is living longer than he used to, says a recent issue of Health Magazine. As a matter of fact, since the beginning of this century no less than twenty years have been added to his expectation of life which is now about seventy. Pretty soon it will be eighty. The result is that man's physiological age, in other words his age in terms of wear and tear, is not the same as his age as measured by the clock and the calendar.

In spite of this enormous improvement in health and longevity, new problems have arisen. Of course, there are the problems of cancer and heart disease which generally speaking only occur when people are old enough in terms of years. There are the other kind of social and psychological problems which develop because some people simply cannot and will not believe in anything which is new.

The result is that general failure to realize what is happening means that thousands of workers are thrown out of their jobs when they are still able and willing to work because their ability is measured by the almanac instead of the sphygmomanometer. But the uninformed employer is no worse than the unbelieving friend of the septuagenarian who, looking at the calendar, insists on urging him to act his age.

One envisages a generation of those over seventy compelled by such circumstances to dye their hair and lie about their age to save their self respect. After all, if an ignorant society insists on throwing them out of their lifetime gainful occupations on these unsound grounds they may well by the use of a little guile get other jobs and live happily ever afterwards—or more or less ever afterwards.

No Discrimination Here

Like many other Canadians, we are becoming nauseated and perturbed over the continued race violence in certain sections of the United States. In a democratic country where the rights of all are supposed to be protected, the continued fight between the "whites" and the "blacks" over segregation and integration is one large looming factor which the Russians and other communist-infested countries must be relishing.

The racial discrimination problem in United States is so severe that it was one of the key parts of both party platforms at the recent conventions which nominated the two presidential candidates. The superior white race in United States, at least it considers itself superior to the negro people, believes in keeping a distinct line drawn between the two. In other words, you keep on your side of the fence, and we'll go where we like. The most recent conflict is a result of a decision to have school integration, but it isn't working, and white students and teachers are boycotting the schools. In short, the whites will not even allow the idea to be put on trial.

No doubt we are living in a place where we are not acquainted with some of the real reasons for this discrimination. But regardless of the reasoning, one important Power is being forgotten by these up-in-arms whites—the Power of God who created all races. What many Americans tend to forget all too easily is that some of their greatest citizens have been negroes.

For example, the world of sports. If it's a case of superiority, the negro is as superior as the white in this category. Take the armed forces as another example; maybe Eddie Jones wasn't good enough to go to the same school as the "white" boys and girls his age. When it comes to being drafted, though, and serving his country, where is the line of equality drawn, who is superior? Another good example: the entertainment world. Who is superior to the negro here? And it's the same all the way down, from the professional man to the ditch digger. But these black people must be given a better chance to exist in a society which has been drawn up to suit the white. Given a little understanding, and regarded as a fellow citizen instead of an outcast, the negro populaton in United States will not cause any more disgrace to its town or country than the whites are causing right now.

Racial discrimination in United States is something which has been carried down since the days of the Civil War. The Civil War freed the slaves, but it embittered a lot of people whose modern day descendants are not ready to forget. One hundred years and the grudge is still being carried. And in this case what could be more senseless and foolish!

NO EASY WORLD

(By Ambrose Hills)

This is not an easy world for anyone; but those who try to make it easy for themselves find it the hardest world of all. Those who accept it as a tough world and decide to condition themselves to meet the challenge can build a mighty satisfactory life.

First step toward the satisfactory life is acceptance of the fact that you cannot escape work. Even millionaires, you know, must do physical chores on top of the mental effort that boosted them to their present place. The rich man who fails to keep himself physically fit, pays a heavy penalty when he huffs and puffs around a golf course, or tries to wade a marsh or portage his canoe. The laws of compensation make it impossible for any man to have things easy, because if he takes things too easy in one area of his life, he must sacrifice in another.

At a summer camp this year, I saw a couple of farm boys looking with envy at the camping equipment of visiting youngsters from the city. But later, scrounging wood for an evening camp fire, I heard a city boy say to his country cousin, "Gee, you're powerful!" What is a high-powered outboard compared to strong arms and clear eyes?

In a tough world—and it will always be a tough world—there is no sense in attempting to make it easy; but there is a great of sense in making yourself strong to meet it.

Faith and hope make good shock absorbers, and should be kept in fine repair.

Skill and enterprise make potent fuel to power your motor for the long haul . . . and be careful to strain out cynicism or envy which can clog your carburetor fast.

Love and kindness help you face the traffic without too much strain. Self-respect cushions your trip. A sense of humor helps you around the detours.

In short, the world report on road conditions might read: "Rough, but passable—have a checkup before you undertake the trip." How would you fare in a careful checkup?

It's YOUR HOSPITAL

by

MRS. CHARLES McLEAN
PRESIDENT, ONTARIO HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

Progress is a strange and challenging factor in the lives of the people it affects. As medical science has discovered new drugs, techniques, and therapies to treat and cure our human ills, additional beds and special facilities have been needed to meet the ever increasing demand for modern hospital care and treatment.

In the period from 1947 to 1955 about 9,000 new beds have been provided in general hospitals throughout Ontario, and diagnostic and other treatment and patient-care facilities have likewise been expanded.

These hospital expansion programmes, which have, in the main, been undertaken by the people themselves in the various communities which the hospitals serve, clearly demonstrate their desire to provide modern hospital facilities to meet modern medical and social needs. They have generously supported, with their time and money, the fund-raising campaigns which have been necessary to finance their hospitals' building programmes.

New hospitals have been erected, old hospitals have been renovated, and modern equipment has been purchased. This is progress. But this progress in providing increased facilities to take care of the injured and ill has presented yet another problem.

Good hospital care, being largely a matter of professional service, demands adequate numbers of suitable and properly trained personnel. Any person who has been a patient in hospital is thoroughly familiar with the attention received from nurses and other persons providing bedside care. It is not always realized, however, that to make possible this bedside care, additional services of upwards of 70 other types of specially trained men and women must be available in the hospitals.

During this period of rapid expansion in hospital facilities, Ontario has been experiencing remarkable economic growth. Our young people have never before been presented with so many opportunities for a sound economic future. Hospitals, therefore, with the necessity of finding many more persons to staff increasing facilities, are in a difficult competitive position as they strive to obtain the required personnel.

Highly skilled and specially trained persons, such as nurses, nurses' aides, X-ray and laboratory technicians, physiotherapists, pharmacists, and a host of others, spent several years in careful preparation for their assigned hospital responsibilities. Hospital boards and administrators are having a difficult time in their attempt to keep the supply of these persons adequate to meet, even part way, the ever increasing demands.

Although there are over 200 public hospitals throughout the province, in adition to special hospitals such as those for the mentally ill and private hospitals, only 53 are in a position to conduct Schools of Nursing for the proper education of young women whose special skills are now so much in demand. Comparatively few hospitals are in a position to provide adequate training for the various technical personnel now required with the growing emphasis on diagnostic aids so frequently used in modern medical treatment.

These specially trained persons, in the main, have to be trained in the larger urban hospitals where required teaching staffs and facilities are available. Thus, hospitals in the larger centres not only have to provide for their own growing needs, but must share the personnel they train with the many smaller hospitals which exist in communities all over the province.

For some time those particularly interested in hospital work have, through their Association, been advising Provincial and Federal health authorities that this situation is gradually becoming worse, and have urged that financial assistance be provided for a proper expansion of school and training facilities to meet this critical problem.

The newest and finest equipped hospital is just a building until a proper and adequate staff enables it to serve actively in all its departments.

The hospitals, with splendid co-operation from the Department of Education of Ontario and a great number of secondary schools throughout the province, have been making special efforts to interest High School students in the various careers available in hospitals. Despite the fact that more young women have been entering the Schools of Nursing, and a greater interest has been shown in the various technical fields of hospital service, the number of young people participating in these fields has still been short of actual requirements.

It has been encouraging to note that the Prime Minister of Ontario, when introducing Bill 112 setting up the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, indicated that one of the early functions of the newly formed Commission would be to ascertain just how this growing problem of shortage of hospital personnel can be overcome. Obviously, some solution will have to be found if a balance is to be maintained between provision of physical hospital facilities and their adequate functioning through the proper number of trained staff. Meanwhile, the hospitals are grateful to many married women, with special education as nurses or technicians, who are willing to take employment in our hospitals in order to assist in relieving this shortage of adequately trained personnel.

The primary purpose of this article is to acquaint the people with this pressing need, for it would seem that the sympathetic understanding of all the people with the problem of staffing the hospital will be as important as the wonderful support they have given in providing funds for the building of these facilities. The Board of Governors and the Administrator of your local hospital are anxious to have the proper number of people available to provide the type of care which the hospital is equipped to give, but successful attainment cannot be achieved by their efforts alone.

As with every community problem, a broad public understanding of the scope and severity of the present shortage of skilled hospital personnel is the first step towards its ultimate solution. The solution will require time, skillful direction and resourcefulness, and, undoubtedly, some financial assistance from all levels of government. Failure to arrive at a suitable solution to this problem cannot help but minimize the effectiveness of the public support already given to the providing of much needed hospital facilities.

The active endeavour of individuals and groups in your community to stimulate the interest of young people in qualifying for these specialized hospital careers will do much to help solve this worrisome problem. Your hospital will appreciate your interest and co-operative assistance.

Customer—"I know that kind; I had some that came back with their sides split."

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Child Killer

Perversely, accidents kill more of our children than any other cause. Last year they accounted for one-third of all child fatalities, claiming the lives of 13,000 youngsters and permanently injuring about 50,000 more.

These startling facts are brought to light by Dr. H. F. Dietrich in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. In his report Dr. Dietrich points out that, in 1900, the goal of medicine was the control of infections. Since that time, with the aid of such antibiotics as Tetracyn, Terramycin and penicillin, many child-killing diseases have been brought under control. Additional diseases also have been prevented by vaccines.

Meanwhile, Dr. Dietrich states, as the result of the control of infection and communicable diseases, accidents have become the leading killer of children. But accidents, like disease, can be prevented with the right "vaccine," the pediatrician believes.

Dr. Dietrich prescribes accident prevention education for both the parent and child.

He points out that the pre-school youngster must be protected from the potentially poisonous household agents such as aspirin, shampoos, cologne, suntan lotions and cleaning fluids.

"Up to the age of one year, the infant needs complete protection from all hazards. After the age of one, protection must gradually be reduced and replaced by education," Dr. Dietrich stresses.

MOSTLY WAGES

STEEL PRICES are not simply the aggregate of costs in a steel mill. Others also get paid, including those who work in iron mines, coal mines, limestone quarries, on railways, steamships, motor trucks, in sales offices, and elsewhere. In fact, all prices are mostly wages and salaries.

So there is an upward pressure on prices with every increase in wages, though investment in better equipment does help to absorb such wage increases.

No one can afford to be indifferent to rising industrial wage costs, for these tend to lead to higher prices. As users of steel in many forms, all farmers in particular are adversely affected when higher city wages raise production costs and selling prices.

"In what way?" asked the author.

If you smoke make sure your cigarette butts are out before you toss them away.

CANADA'S health

CARRYING A LUNCHBOX

In making up the menu for the lunchbox, whether it is for work or school, the contents should include the varied foods recommended by Canada's Food Rules. These are milk, fruit or vegetables, bread and a protein food. Cheese, meat, fish or eggs make good fillings for sandwiches.

HUMAN FUEL

Every year many Canadians lose their lives in fires, and children are frequent victims of this terrible death. There are many causes of fires in homes and all too frequently these are matters of carelessness on someone's part. Starting a fire in the stove with coal oil is an old cause of a flareup; keeping oily rags in a closed place is another. For an amateur to attempt to install electrical wiring is an invitation to trouble. Only a qualified electrician should do this job. Purchasers of electrical equipment should look for the CSA ticket that is the government seal of approval.

PIED PIPERS NEEDED

Rats are an expensive and dangerous pest to humanity. The annual loss of millions of dollars worth of food and merchandise is due to the depredation of rats and mice. In addition, rats carry disease germs, that of the dreadful black plague being one of these. Since rats are difficult to trap, it is advisable to take other measures. A chemical called warfarin was developed several years ago and is now obtainable under various trade names by commercial manufacture. This has been found very effective in destroying the vermin.

DIPHTHERIA

One of the most dangerous contagious diseases, especially to children under five years of age, is diphtheria. While there are no longer the great epidemics of this disease that were common up to a few years ago, there are still many cases on record. Immunization will protect children from diphtheria, which can injure not only the throat, blood vessels, nerves and kidneys, but may easily prove fatal. This protection should be given as early in the child's life as the doctor advises.

NO. 1 KILLER

Diseases of the heart and arteries are still the one leading cause of death in Canada, methods of treating these diseases form an important part of medical research. The patient's chief hope of surviving any heart ailment is to have medical care and to co-operate fully with his doctor. Most persons with heart trouble live for many years if they follow their physician's orders in regard to exercise, diet and general way of life.

BEWARE POISON IVY

When setting out on a hike, a piece of strong household soap is a good item to include in the pack for use in case of contact with poison ivy. The plant does not lose its menace even when the leaves have fallen, since berries, stem and roots still can cause the painful burning rash usually associated with contact with the leaves. Washing with a strong lather of the soap or any detergent will remove the oil that causes the trouble, providing it is done soon after contact.

DISTRICT LUTHERAN EVANGELISM MISSION SEPTEMBER 23rd to 28th

September will see another milestone reached in the history of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Beginning Sunday, September 23rd, eight district Lutheran Parishes will unite forces to carry out the first United Lutheran Evangelism Mission held in the Ottawa and St. Lawrence area.

It is not a membership drive, but is designed to strengthen the Christian convictions of the members of the congregations and equip them to do evangelism every day.

The United Lutheran Evangelism Mission was officially launched on Reformation Sunday, October 30th, 1955, and will conclude October, 1957. During the intervening time it will have covered a total of 4,244 congregations.

St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Williamsburg will be centre of activities during the Mission week when special services will be held each night commencing with a special service Sunday, Sept. 23rd, and culminating with a mass rally on Friday, Sept. 28, in Ottawa. Special services will also be held in Dunbar at St. Luke's Lutheran Church.

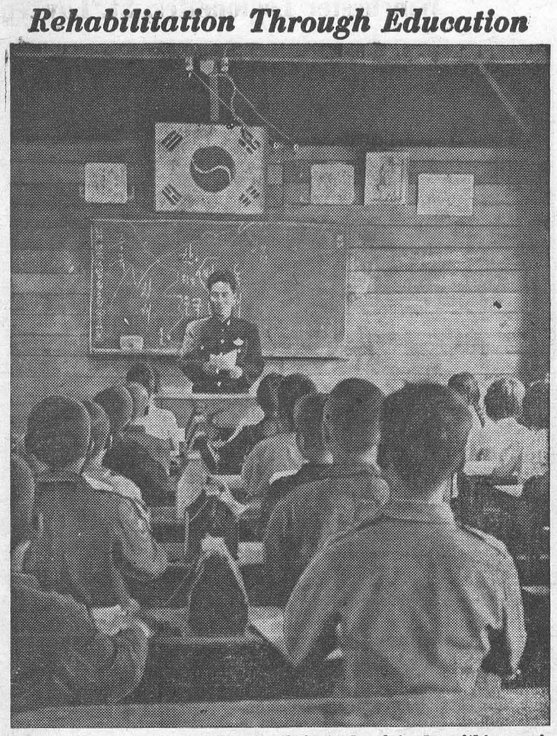
Rehabilitation Through Education



Shoe-shine boys in Seoul, with their tools of trade within arm's reach, listen to Sergeant Kwon Ung Pal of the Korean National Police as he conducts class in Seoul's Shoe-Shine Boys School. The school, attended by some 670 children—shoe-shine boys, street vendors, newsboys, etc.—was started by Sgt. Kwon, then a private, in 1952. His job was to round up young beggars and thieves, but he found that education was the better answer to the problem rather than punishment. Volunteers of the United Nations Women's Guild donated $10,000 in the form of UNESCO (UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) gift coupons and the UN Korean Reconstruction Agency contributed $5,000 to help improve the school.

HOME HINTS

Whiter Clothes

Leftover lemon rinds thrown into the wash boiler with the white clothes will make them beautifully white.

Canned Goods

Do not allow the canned goods to remain in the tins after opening. Remove the contents of the cans before placing in the icebox, then cover the dish to prevent odor from permeating the refrigerator.

The Garbage Pail

A coat of paint on the inside of the garbage pail before it is used for the first time will cause it to last twice as long.

Baby's Flannel

Do not iron baby's flannel gowns and petticoats. Merely brush them well and they will retain the desired softness.

Milk

When drinking milk for tired nerves heat it to the scalding point, add a little salt and drink it as hot as possible. This is also a sleep producer.

Baked Beans

Bake a small sliced onion with the baked beans, or season with olive oil to prevent indigestion and add to their fine flavour. Grease the beanpot with butter or the rind of the pork before cooking beans and it will wash much easier.

Hyndmans

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barkley, of Iroquois, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Somerville.

Mr. Levi Merkley and sister, Miss Olive Merkley, of Cass Bridge, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grant and Mr. and Mrs. T. Canning.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conley spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carson, of Brockville, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Conley.

W. A. Meeting

The ladies of the W. A. held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Cecil Canning on Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Bert Lattimore in charge. Mrs. Conley read the Scripture, and readings were given by Mrs. Ray Grant, Mrs. Hubert Robinson, Mrs. McCarley, Mrs. Pelton and Mrs. Norton. Poems were given by Mrs. C. Somerville, Mrs. B. Linnen and Mrs. Janet Lattimore.

Mrs. L. Pelton had charge of the business period in the absence of the president, Mrs. Chester Gilmer. Plans for the Anniversary Supper were discussed. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alex Francis. Mrs. Ray Grant will have charge of the devotional part. Mrs. Hyndman conducted a contest, and lunch was served by Mrs. Canning's committee.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

A feller was selling some of that Fountain O' Youth elixir at the County Fair. "Look at me," he shouted, "I'm hale and hearty, and I'm over 300 years old!"

"Gosh," a gal in the audience whispered to the young assistant, "is he really that old?"

"I cain't say," the assistant replied. "I've only worked for him for 100 years."

* * *

All over the country nowadays, they tell me, sawmills are usin' every part of a tree — sometimes even the bark! In fact, one lumber company sells ten million dollars worth of paper a year, which is made out of wood they used to call waste! It's no mystery why this is happening. It's because the price of trees and timberland is going up every year, and wood chips have become too valuable to waste!

* * *

Early this year, in fact, government prices on timber scooted to a new high—now almost 50 per cent higher than 1955 prices and 28 per cent above 1954! This is mighty good news to us tree farmers!

* * *

My neighbor Joe Moon jest got back from a visit to one of them big sawmills. Mighty fascinatin' experience, he says. He saw one mill where wood scrap is whittled—by machinery—into wafers about the size of poker chips. Then the chips are fed into a tube, and blown—at the rate of a boxcar load an hour—to a giant paper mill a mile away. Ain't that amazing?

* * *

That ain't all! The mills are usin' other modern gadgets too, Joe says. He saw one lumber mill where a feller sits every night in front of a 17-inch television screen. But the only program he sees is a steady flow of chips into a boxcar a quarter of a mile away! The TV setup allows him to watch over the mill's three chipping machines, and keep an eye on the carloading operation at the same time.

* * *

A good safety rule to follow, it seems to me, is never drive spikes or nails into trees or logs that may later be sent to the mill!

* * *

"These trousers may be useful to you," the kind old lady told the tramp. "All they need is a little mending."

"That's all right, ma'am," the feller said. "I'll call back in half an hour!"

* * *

So long. See you soon!

* * *

PRACTICE SAFETY!

September is here and the schools have reopened again, which brings out not only "Safety Rules" for the children, but also for the operator of vehicles. If everyone observes them our children will be safe this year.

RULES FOR ALL SCHOOL CHILDREN

1. Always walk on sidewalks, or well away from paths of cars.
2. Cross streets carefully, stopping at the curb and looking both ways.
3. Never step into the street from behind parked cars.
4. Be especially alert for traffic when streets are wet or when carrying umbrellas.
5. Walk on the left side of the highway, facing traffic, when there are no sidewalks.
6. Obey police and school safety patrolmen and respect traffic signals.
7. Always play on playgrounds and never in the streets.

RULES FOR ALL MOTORISTS

1. Adhere to all speed restrictions in school zones.
2. Watch and obey the school safety patrolmen.
3. Be sure you can stop quickly in wet and slippery weather.
4. Never pass a school bus unloading children.
5. Watch for children darting out into the street.
6. Be extra careful at all times, you would not want to be responsible for injuring or taking the life of a child.
7. Check your car. Don't let bad brakes, faulty steering or lazy windshield wipers undo your careful driving.

Mrs. Oscar Wallace, Mrs. Jas. Patterson and Mrs. N. Bowman had charge of the devotional. The theme was "Introduction to the Ephesians," which will be the basis for the devotions for the next few months. Mrs. Wallace gave the introduction of the new study book on South-East Asia and Korea.

FAREWELL PARTY

Last Thursday evening Mrs. Edgar Turner and mother, Mrs. James Patterson, who have been Queen Street residents of Winchester for several years, were tendered a farewell party by neighbours at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Curtis. Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Patterson will soon leave for their new home at Cornwall where Mr. Turner is employed.

During the evening the presentation of two table lamps and several pieces of crystal was made to Mrs. Turner, while Mrs. Patterson received a brooch from Mrs. Harper and Mrs. C. Curtis. The accompanying address, which was enclosed in a dainty guest book, was read by Mrs. Keith Summers.

Both Mesdames Turner and Patterson expressed their thanks, and the evening concluded with the serving of dainty refreshments by the hostesses who were Mrs. Keith Summers, Mrs. Clara Justus, Mrs. Don Harper and Mrs. Clark Curtis.

Myers—McIntosh

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday when Miss Doris Ruth McIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus McIntosh, of Williamsburg, became the bride of Mr. John Hugh Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Myers, of Morrisburg.

Gladioli formed the floral setting for the double-ring marriage ceremony, performed by Rev. J. L. Kirchhofer. Mrs. Maefred Merkley, of Williamsburg, played the wedding music and accompanied the guest soloist, Mr. George Winship, of Ottawa, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the bride entered the church, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

John Jones, of Burlington, was the best man, and the ushers were Earl Hummel of Morrisburg and Conrad McIntosh, brother of the bride, of Williamsburg.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a ballerina-length gown of French-brocaded satin, designed on princess lines with a V-neckline, long lily-point sleeves and a full-gored skirt. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle illusion fell from a headdress decorated with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white poms, and wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

She was attended by Mrs. George Winship as matron of honour. Her gown was forest green in colour, designed similar to that of the bride. She carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze mums.

Following a reception at the bride's home for about fifty guests, the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Montreal and Northern United States. For travelling, Mrs. Myers wore a tailor-made blue-grey wool suit with a dusty rose hat, white gloves and black patent-leather accessories, and a corsage of pale rose mums. On their return the couple will reside in Ottawa.

Guests were present from Williamsburg, Cardinal, Morrisburg, Toronto, Kitchener, Winchester Springs, Ottawa, Spencerville, Britannia Bay, Burlington, Kemptville, Three Rivers and Lachine, Que.

Treasurer's report indicated a bank balance of $232.00. A thank-you letter was read from the TB X-ray clinic in appreciation of co-operation offered by Williamsburg W. I. members during the recent survey. Mrs. Arthur Loucks reported that the 4-H club had chosen "The Milky Way," and a report of the Girls' Garden Club achievement day at South Mountain was voiced by Mrs. Clair Algire.

Preliminary plans were announced for the organization's 50th anniversary which will be celebrated in the spring of 1957. A committee composed of Mrs. Hugh Thompson, Mrs. Donald Hess and Mrs. M. W. Locke was appointed to look into the possibility of compiling a condensed history of Williamsburg for the occasion. A unanimous motion passed will see the purchase made of new stair carpeting for the I.O.O.F. Hall. The secretary was instructed to extend invitations to both Morrisburg and Winchester Institutes to attend the next meeting on October 9.

Guest soloist at the meeting was Mrs. Ed. Herriman, who was accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Merkley.

Dr. D. M. Robertson, the guest speaker, generally outlined hospital activity and problems of today, particularly applying them to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital which serves this entire district. He said that continued support of the hospital, especially in a financial way, was necessary if rates and cost of operation were to be maintained at an absolute minimum.

Meditations

By CECIL W. TUININGA

Hebrew 11:9, 10—"By faith he (Abraham) became a sojourner in the land of promise, . . . dwell-in tents . . . for he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God."

* * * *

"Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life."—(Job 2:4). This truth is still demonstrated for us every day. For what is not done to save a life? Experts are called in from any distance, and one will travel to the ends of the earth if it will but assure a permanent cure.

However zealously we seek to save our life we cannot hope to keep it. We are all destined to die. Strangely enough, everyone confesses this truth, but few live in realization of it. Nearly every one of us works and plans and lives in the illusion that life is to continue forever. This can readily be explained. For man was created to live and not to die. God placed Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden that they should live there eternally. But they, through wilfull disobedience, have forfeited that eternal life and cast themselves with their posterity into misery and death. They were driven from Eden to become wanderers on the earth, and their offspring with them. And since that time every man and woman has sought for a fixed dwelling place and an enduring life, for that lost paradise.

Scripture affords us examples of this search of wandering mankind for a fixed dwelling place and a secure and continuing life. To Cain the Lord said, "A fugitive and wanderer shalt thou be in the earth."—(Gen. 4:12). But Cain, driven by an innate want, sought a fixed and secure dwelling, for we read of him, "and he builded a city, . . . (Gen. 4:17). But Cain sought that security and fixity in vain. He sought it there where it never can be found. For he thought that he, himself, could build for himself and his posterity, with stone and mortar, a city that could guarantee a secure and lasting life.

Scripture also pictures for us another wanderer who sought security and fixity. He was Abraham, the father of all believers. His seeking was, however, radically different from that of Cain. Abraham did not seek security and fixity in an earthly city, but in a heavenly. He knew that because of sin everything on this earth is transient and of short duration. He knew too that man's work is but for a time while God's work is forever. He, therefore, sought that city "which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God."

Notice the differing objects in which these two seekers sought security and a permanent life. Cain, the father of all unbelievers, sought it in stone and mortar. Abraham, the father of all believers, sought it in the promises of God. Cain did not heed the call of the gospel but the call of his evil heart. His end is perdition. Abraham, as we read in Hebrews, sought "by faith." He obeyed God's Word, he believed that Christ Jesus was his only Saviour, and he sought "the many mansions" which Christ was preparing also for him. (John 14:2).

We too, dear readers, are wanderers on this earth. And everyone of us is longing for, and seeking, a secure and abiding dwelling place, and an enduring life. Where shall we seek it? Shall we seek it, as all unbelievers do, in material things? Or shall we follow the example of believing Abraham and seek it where it only can be found, by faith in the Living God? To seek it as did Cain is disastrous. To seek it as did Abraham secures for us life eternal.

Do you find this so much nonsense? But you cannot, for the sober facts of everyday life irrefutably support it. It is but the part of wisdom to be taught by God's Word and flee from the wrath to come. God's Word calls all men to a glorious new life with the richest promises for the life to come. For our Saviour declares, "Blessed are they that wash their robes, that they may have right to come to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city."—(Rev. 22:14).

PARTY FOODS IN MINUTES

And it takes only 20 minutes—just long enough to heat. Yes, Chicken a la King is a new comer to the ranks of frozen foods. And this freezing magic seals in all the fresh-made flavor.

This a la king takes its place amongst convenience foods like a bee to honey. It features a real cream base temptingly flavoured with the faint fragrance of spices. Plump juicy mushrooms, red and green flashes of sweet peppers and lots and lots of tender chicken.

It can be served many ways as an entré. Especially good are these hot chicken sandwiches . . . made in minutes.

CHICKEN A LA KINGBURGERS

1 can (10 ounce) frozen chicken a la king
4 hamburger rolls
4 thin slices ham or canned luncheon meat
1 package (12 ounce size) frozen asparagus cooked

Heat chicken a la king. Meanwhile broil ham and rolls on both sides (under broiler). Arrange a piece of ham and a few hot asparagus spears on each toasted roll. Pour steaming a la king over top of each.

HOME STYLE CHICKEN A LA KING

1 can (10 ounce) frozen chicken a la king
1 cup, drained cooked green peas
Dash ground thyme
1 cup uncooked spaghetti or macaroni
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Heat a la king, peas and thyme together over low heat. Meanwhile cook macaroni or spaghetti in boiling salted water. Add melted butter and chopped parsley. Arrange in a ring on platter. Pour a la king in centre. 4 servings.

SAYS HOG PRICES NOT FAIR TO THE PRODUCER

Charles W. McInnis, of Iroquois, president of the Ontario Hog Producers Co-operative, charged last week that millions of dollars are being spent to hinder a campaign by farmers to get higher prices by selling their hogs on the open market.

He told the Co-operative's first annual meeting at Toronto that one weapon being used by packers is to offer transporters "under-table payments" if they agree to sell directly to the processor and keep hogs off the free market.

"Such practices would not be tolerated in either our political or professional life and, in fact, in very few Canadian businesses," he declared.

"May I appeal to the packing-house industry to come clean by discontinuing payments to our transporters who evade the public market."

Mr. McInnis said the producers are asking the government for legislation "which will enable us to control ourselves and the trade to such an extent that we can develop a self-help program."

Ontario legislation to help hog producers was being challenged in the Supreme Court of Canada and Mr. McInnis said the outcome may necessitate changes in the provincial legislation or possibly new federal legislation.

"Any failure to do this immediately would be disastrous, not only to the hog industry but also to 31 other commodities in Ontario."

Maintaining that the program to sell hogs on the open market has produced good results, Mr. McInnis said: "The price which your agency has secured for you has been much larger than in Western Canada, even above Quebec prices most of the time and far above the U. S. price. We, however, as your representatives, appreciate that the price has not held a proper relationship with your costs. Our sales board has done a good job but definitely not the best that should have been done."

Giving an example of "under-table payments," Mr. McInnis said one transporter complained because he received only $1 a hog for selling directly to the packer and evading the open market.

"Think of it," he said, " a transporter paid for transporter services by the farmer, then getting a dollar per pig for evading the open market, and dissatisfied because the back-door payment was not larger."

Whether you feed a complete feed or balance your own grain with concentrate you will find that SHUR-GAIN Hog Feeding Program will produce more economical gains in these 3 ways:

1. Hogs will reach market weight sooner. (2 or 3 months ahead of straight grain fed hogs.)
2. Hogs will require less total feed (650 lbs. or less of SHUR-GAIN balanced Hog Feed compared to about 1100 lbs. of straight grain per hog.)
3. Hogs will obtain better grades when marketed. (Earn you more premiums.)

Many farmers will have a good supply of their own grain this fall to feed their hogs. Just remember this fact—grain lacks the proteins, vitamins and minerals that are required for a fully balanced hog ration. However, these deficiencies of grain can be corrected by mixing the recommended levels of SHUR-GAIN Hog Concentrate.

If you haven't already done so, try your next litter on the SHUR-GAIN Hog Program—and prove to yourself that SHUR-GAIN Hog Feeds have "Greater Dollar Earning Capacity."

Village of Winchester Building By-Law

BY-LAW NO. 683

Notice is hereby given that all persons intending to erect a new building of any nature, make additions or alterations to the exterior or existing buildings or structures, must first apply to the Municipal Council for a Building Permit. Such application must be accompanied by plans and specifications of the work to be covered by the Permit.

Further take notice that no person or persons shall undertake to move any building or structure, either wholly or in part, to a new site, without first obtaining a permit from the Council.

Prospective builders should acquaint themselves with the provisions of By-Law No. 683, a by-law to govern the erection, alteration and removal of buildings and structures within the Corporation of the Village of Winchester, a copy of which may be seen at the Clerk's Office.

An excerpt from the By-Law reads:

"Where violation of any provision of this By-Law has occurred, the Constable, or any other Officer duly authorized thereunto, of the said Village, may forthwith stop, prevent and put an end to any and all work not authorized by a permit issued under this By-Law and/or not in accordance with and pursuant to the approved plan and specifications in respect thereto and set out in such permit or attached thereto and may, with such workmen and other assistance as he may require, at the expense of such offender or violator, do whatever acts are necessary to require, accomplish and force compliance with this By-Law and may remove any building, part of building, or structure so being erected, altered, repaired or moved, and may wreck any building, part of building or structure so being wrecked. The expense incurred by the Village Corporation under this provision may be recovered by the Village by action against the person or persons in default, or the Village may recover the said expense in like manner as municipal taxes where the person or persons in default is or are owner or owners of lands within the municipality. This provision shall be in addition to and irrespective of any other remedy to which the Village shall be entitled for breach of this By-Law or any of its provisions.

"The Constable of the Village shall be the Inspector of buildings under this by-law and may inspect all work authorized under any permit issued hereunder and may enforce all the provisions of this By-Law.

Every person who shall violate or fail to comply with any provision of this By-Law may be proceeded against under The Summary Convictions Act."

HOME HINTS

The Carving Knife

Keep the carving knife separate from the silver when washing and there will be no danger of cutting a finger on its sharp edge while hunting for it in the soapy water.

Enamel Pans

Before a new enamel pan is used place it in cold water and put on the stove until the water boils. Allow the pan to cool in the water and its life will be lengthened.
