Proceeding towards an Official Plan

WILLIAMSBURG – There is a little more forward movement on the United Counties Official Plan, which has been in the works for more than a few years.

South Dundas manager of planning and enforcement Donald Lewis is in the process of going through boxes of paperwork on the plan, ensuring that the needs of South Dundas are being met.

He is meeting this week with the United Counties Planner, who is visiting each township looking for comments.

South Dundas CAO Andy Brown anticipates that after the next comment process is complete, they will likely be looking at a final draft of the Official Plan.

Of the plan, councillor Charles Barkley revisited his comments which have been consistent throughout the planning process. "Consistency is a problem in South Dundas."

He explained that Matilda Township was blanketed years ago with agricultural designations, while Williamsburg has very little agricultural designations, and more rural designations.

"Severances are allowed on rural and not agricultural land," said Barkley. "I want us all used equal."

"If they adhere to our map-

Students back in Iroquois, OPP report a smooth start

IROQUOIS – The new school year has started and the OPP are reporting that all is well in the quiet village.

Having dealt with a number of complaints and issues, concerning large and intimidating gatherings of high school students at the shopping plaza, the OPP set out last year to solve the problem.

Armed with a more visible police presence in peak hours, and a newly installed municipal loitering bylaw, when the school year ended last June, things were settling down.

When school started this September the OPP were out early, and are so far reporting that, "everything is running smoothly." OPP Constable Julie Cyr mentioned their progress when she made the monthly report to South Dundas council, September 21.

"The store owners in Iroquois are happy with the start of the year," she said. "It's a new year, with a fresh start."

Meeting a Furry Friend

Eleven-month-old Jodie Robinson meets a very furry, fuzzy animal friend at the first anniversary celebration of the Ontario Early Years Centre here in Morrisburg on Saturday.

Ontario Early Years Centre

Happy first anniversary

MORRISBURG–Happy was the key word at the first anniversary celebration of the Ontario Early Years Centre here in Morrisburg on Saturday.

Happy were the large number of youngsters, who with their parents in tow, hit the Early Years Centre to enjoy cake and juice, and do what they do best...play.

Located in the former Spinning Wheel Restaurant building, the Ontario Early Years Centre officially opened its doors on September 10, 2003 to become one of four centres serving Stormont, Dundas and Charlottenburgh. Other centres are located in Winchester, Cornwall and Williamstown.

Early Years is not a daycare, but a place where parents can come and stay with their children (under six years old). In addition to the assorted play centres for the children, parents can access all sorts of parenting information.

Since its opening, 359 families with 562 children have visited the Morrisburg Centre. There have been 3,099 parent/caregiver visits and 4,421 child visits.

"These are figures we are very happy with," says coordinator Cathy Ashby.

"It has gone very, very well," agrees Fiona Carr, Family Resource Coordinator.

The Centre draws from throughout the South Dundas area, including Brinston, Iroquois and Williamsburg, and from Ingleside.

The Centre is open Tuesdays through Fridays from 9 a.m. to noon. Monday mornings are set aside for special programming for which participants must register. Various themes are used for each month, and every second and fourth Wednesday of the month are fam-

History and murals booklet now on sale

MORRISBURG–Three years ago, the South Dundas Mural Committee unveiled its first murals, at the Valu-Mart Store and the Upper Canada Playhouse in Morrisburg, and since then visitors to South Dundas have watched as one after another was painted.

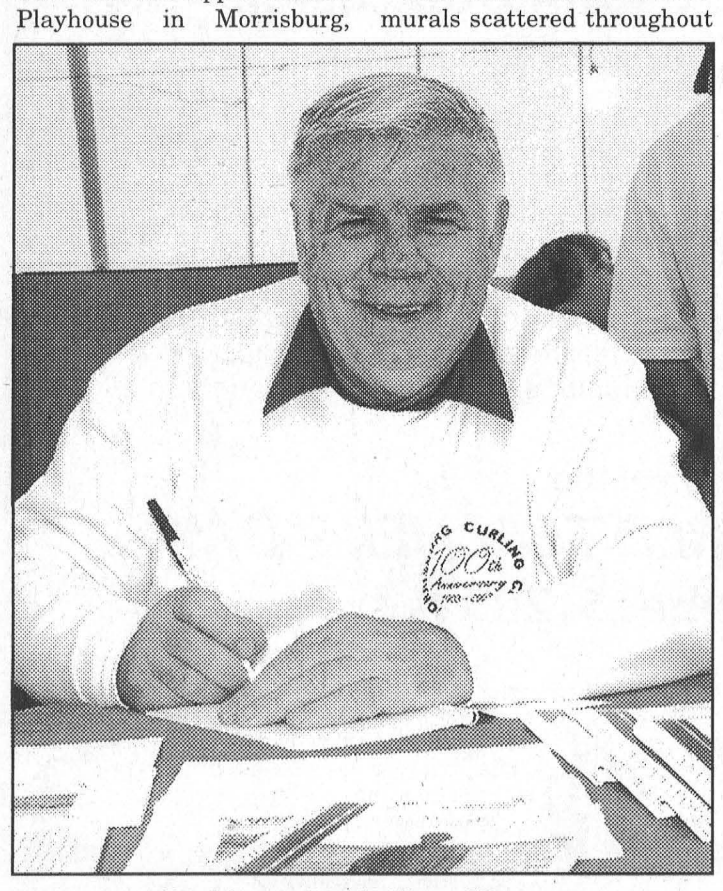
That total now comes to 15 murals scattered throughout South Dundas, and although the old expression, "a picture is worth a thousand words," often rings true, the fact that printed words are now available to further enhance the messages of the murals is simply an added bonus.

Written by South Dundas author Steve Thompson (who has had three books published and is currently working on a historical novel) The South Dundas Story: The History and Murals of South Dundas is on sale in various locations throughout the community.

Thompson, with information supplied by members of the South Dundas Mural Committee, skillfully pens information about each of the murals, and various events that have shaped the South Dundas Com-munity. In addition, the booklet pictures 14 of the current 15 murals, and lists the individuals, businesses and organizations that provided financial support.

Financed by a portion of an Ontario Trillium Foundation Grant, the pamphlet is on sale for $7.

The Mural Committee first met in February 2001 and came up with plans for 22 large outdoor murals.



Making a Little More History

South Dundas author Steve Thompson was on hand at the Williamsburg Harvest Festival to sign copies of the just released The South Dundas Story: The History and Murals of South Dundas.

Lauzon keeps in touch

WILLIAMSBURG – Federal MP Guy Lauzon is looking to establish a healthy nonpartisan relationship with the communities and the people in the riding he represents, Stormont - Dundas - South Glengarry, and he brought his vision to South Dundas last Tuesday evening.

Lauzon attended the September 21, council meeting, "as MP, to offer my services to council," he said.

"I am here to serve in anyway I can." He is in the process of meeting with all of the municipal councils in the riding because, "You people know what your community requires, and I am here to take your voice to Ottawa."

South Dundas Mayor Lyle Van Allen was the first to voice the needs of this community. "The number one issue is BSE, as an agricultural community," said Van Allen. "I deal with discouraged farmers on a daily basis, and it's getting sad."

Lauzon told council that he is involved with the BSE issue, having been selected as one of 10 representatives across the country. "I was the only one that brought the problems of dairy farmers (in relation to BSE)." Lauzon is representing dairy farmers in working on proposals for parliament.

"It's not just the farmers that are suffering," said Van Allen. "All businesses related to farming are hurting."

"There is no question that the economy is suffering right through," said Lauzon. "We have quite a hill to climb here. I believe the solutions come from the people, that's why we're reaching out to the communities."

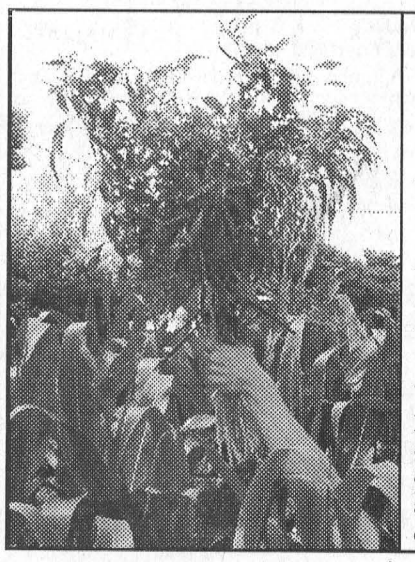
Community remembers Melanie Warner Cain

INGLESIDE – South Stormont Mayor Jim Bancroft and the members of council are inviting members of the public to join them in a Memorial Dedication Ceremony, celebrating the life of Melanie Warner Cain.

"The Township of South Stormont Elm Street Park is being dedicated to the memory of a loved, vibrant, enthusiastic young woman, Melanie Warner Cain," said Bancroft in a recent press release.

"In an unfortunate accident, Melanie was abruptly taken from us. Her memory should not be forgotten and therefore we are recognizing this worthy individual."

Members of the clergy, friends, family, and township representatives will be on hand for the event, which will take place on Friday, October 1, 10 a.m., at the Elm Street Park, Ingleside.



Drug Seizure

SOUTH DUNDAS – On September 17, police seized 45 marijuana plants from a farm in the Williamsburg ward of the township.

The plants were discovered by a farmer while working his fields. No charges were laid in connection with this seizure.

Anyone who discovers unusual plants on their property or in their fields is asked to call the OPP at 1-888-310-1122. They will arrange for the removal and destruction of the plants.

ily evenings.

"October is Lullaby to Literacy month," says Carr. "It will help the children and parents develop skills they need to learn to read."

The Centre also provides programs for caregivers, "to promote and help professionals working with kids in our community."

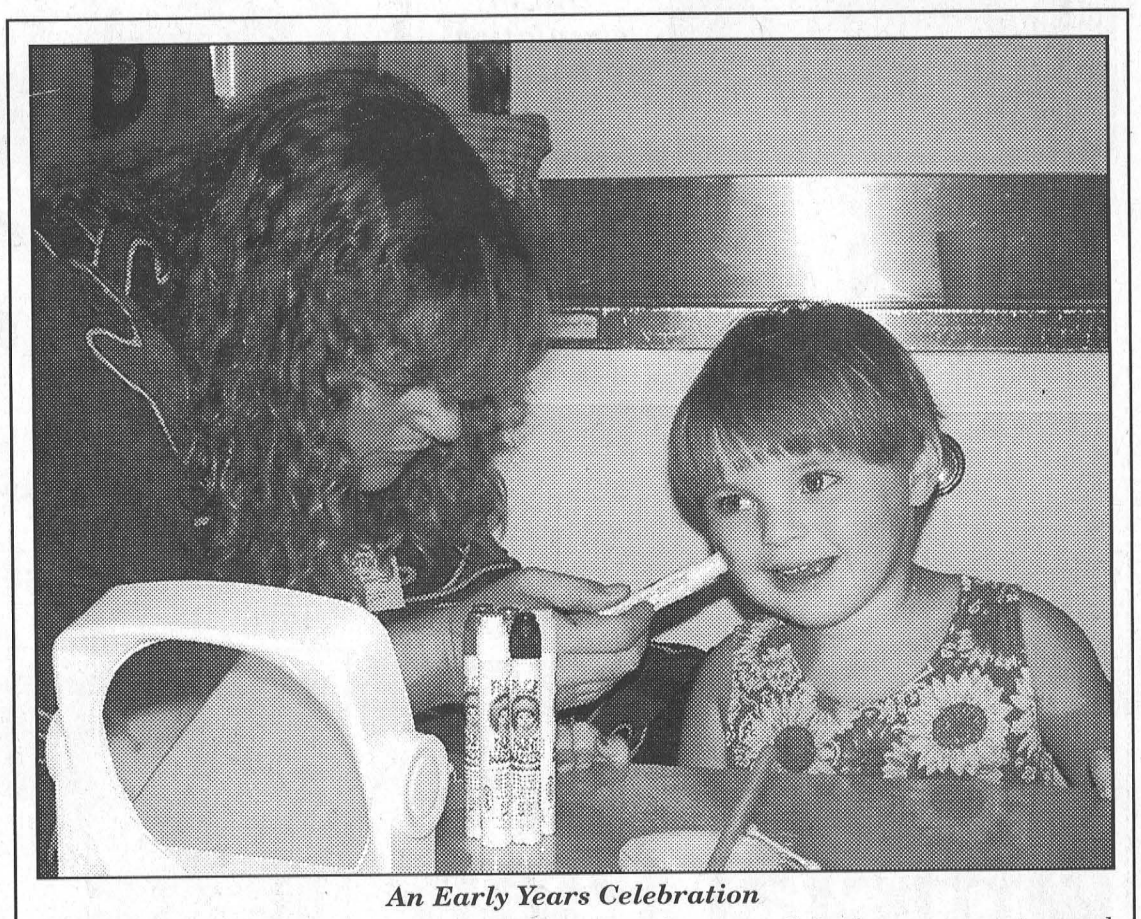
Available to caregivers/professional baby sitters, are training nights focussing on things like CPR, First Aid, Craft Ideas and Safety Tips. Themed program kits on Nutrition, Puppets, Pets etc. are also available.

"We also have a caregiver registry that parents can come in and look through. If people are new to town, this can be very helpful," says Carr. "It also helps the caregivers to get their name to the public.

"We are trying to grow as we go," says Carr of the Centre's programming.

In addition to Saturday's party going on indoors, the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, in conjunction with the SD&G O.P.P. and the Morrisburg Fire Department, were hosting a Car Seat Clinic outdoors.

Representing the Health Unit was Julie Ethier, who handles the Injury Prevention program out of the Winchester office. Carrying out the inspections were Morrisburg firefighters Bill Hummell, Mike Van Allen and Dale Kelly. O.P.P. auxiliary officers, Acting Sergeant Michael Hunt and Constable Jeff Knier, along with Community Services Officer, Sr. Constable Al Lummiss, were also involved in the inspections, which resulted in a few unsafe car seats being destroyed.



An Early Years Celebration

The Ontario Early Years Centre in Morrisburg was a busy spot Saturday, as youngsters and their parents showed up to celebrated the centre's first anniversary. Pictured above, three-year-old Elizabeth Bouchard leans into a little face paint being applied by Family Resource Coordinator Fiona Carr, and below two-year-old Dana Domanko patiently sits through a child seat inspection being carried out by O.P.P. Auxiliary officer, Acting Sergeant Michael Hunt.

MORRISBURG – Putting a name to a face could win you a great prize at Scotiabank in Morrisburg.

The 11 member staff of the Scotiabank Branch have each brought in a baby picture which they have put on display to help raise money for the Children's Treatment Centre.

Anyone can drop by the branch from now until October 8, and for a donation fill out a ballot to match each staff member to their baby picture.

Top prize in the contest is a DVD player, second prize is a $50 dinner for two at the McIntosh Inn and third prize is a $25 gift certificate for Mike's Valumart.

All proceeds of the contest, organized by Carol Ann Sage, will go to the Children's Treatment Centre in Cornwall.

The Children's Treatment Centre provides help for abused children ages five to 17, to help children and their families recover from the trauma and effects of abuse.

"The treatment centre is used by children in our area, and that's why we are helping out," says Sage.

Since the treatment centre opened in 1996, they have served over 953 children from 790 families.

In addition to this fundraiser, Scotiabank staff will participate in the Celebrity Walk/Breakfast in Cornwall, October 19.

The annual event is a major fundraiser for the Treatment Centre which serves Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

For a donation of $100 (or $100 in pledges), anyone can be a "celebrity," and participate. Senator Frank Mahovolich will be the guest speaker, at the breakfast which starts at 7 a.m., at the Cornwall Civic Complex.

Pictured above Scotiabank customer representative Lisa St. Denis is holding a picture of 'mystery baby #6,' it could be her or it could be another staff member. If you think you know the answer drop by with a donation and fill out a ballot.

Township waits on Counties to fix dangerous intersection

WILLIAMSBURG – Twisted guardrails and splinters of what was once a pole provide evidence that the intersection of Counties Roads 2 and 16 (Brinston Road), is not getting any less dangerous while South Dundas Township officials are waiting for the Counties to do something.

After a number of requests from South Dundas Council's Counties Council representative Johnny Whitteker, and a letter from CAO Andy Brown, Counties engineer Don McDonald sent a letter of response to Brown.

According to the letter, Counties Council has reviewed the request for a passing lane on County Road 2 at its intersection with County Road 16, "a number of times over the past year."

As a result of the requests, "It was included in the five year capital program prepared for Council consideration by staff. The year it was scheduled was 2007," said McDonald in the letter.

"The schedule was left the same by Council but they ranked projects for insertion into the current year's work, should there become room within the approved budget."

McDonald's letter did confirm, what Whitteker had already reported to South Dundas council, "The passing lane is at the top of the list."

As a priority project, "Staff has prepared a design and are preparing a tender to be ready should there be cash available."

McDonald then reported, "Calculations and projections done at the end of June, July and August all predict a small over expenditure, leaving no room to perform this widening in 2004."

After reading the letter, councillor Charles Barkley concluded, "So it's at the top of the list if there's money. There's no money, so it won't be done until 2007."

Whitteker disagreed with Barkley's conclusions and guaranteed that the passing lane will be on next year's Counties program. "I think Counties Council is getting sick of hearing from me on this. I feel confident it will happen next year."

"We'll keep plugging away at it," said Mayor Lyle Van Allen.

suggested that better marketing of Canadian beef is something they need to look at.

"We need to chip away at that," said Lauzon. "We need to keep our supply and demand closer."

Van Allen then moved on to address the issue of doctor shortages. "Locally a lot of our doctors are getting to retirement age," he said.

"The whole riding has so much to offer," said Lauzon. "We have to grow our economy, by making this a destination point for people."

"Every municipality needs to work together to attract quality employment to this riding. Doctors are so in demand they can pick and choose where they go, we need communities with opportunities for their children," said Lauzon. "Economic spin-off makes it easier to attract doctors."

Councillor Sandra Bailey asked Lauzon to address the lack of money for infrastructure.

"All levels of government have to realize that there is only one taxpayer," said Lauzon.

He suggested that infrastructure money should be dispersed through a less politicized process, "We have to get away from partisan politics."

Lauzon has taken measures to do just that, having established the start of a "great working relationship," with MPP Jim Brownell.

"We can accomplish more if we're united," he said. "We are cutting across political lines to make this a good place to live."

Wrapping up with council he said, "I am depending on you people to keep me on the straight and narrow. I want to serve you and your constituents."

LETTER

"What can I do for my country?"

My Fellow Canadians:

The late former United States President John F. Kennedy was famous for saying, "Don't ask what your country can do for you? Ask, what you can do for your country?"

I was just wondering if that also applies in Canada for the disabled citizens?

I am a 27-year-old Canadian born citizen. But, unfortunately, I am also a Canadian born disabled citizen. I am proud to be who I am disabled or not. The only thing that's unfortunate is how my own country makes me feel.

The Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedom says, that everyone should be treated equally as long as you are a Canadian Citizen.

I can't really say that's true for I am disabled and I have yet to be treated with equal respect as a person.

The Ontario Disability Support Program is good to have while you're looking for work but it does not give you much of self worth. It's hard to get work when the employers see your disability as a liability rather than an asset as we can be!

I have two college diplomas. When I go to a job interview I am always being told that my resume is very impressive and they don't understand why nobody has yet to hire me. Then they tell me that they will hire me then at the last second they change their minds saying that they will only hire me for unpaid volunteer work or nothing.

What can I do for my Country? .....

Am I able to work? YES!

Do I want to work? YES!

Am I being treated fairly? NO!

Am I being hired for what I am qualified to do? NO!

So, again I ask, what can I do for my Country?

YOU TELL ME!

Your Fellow Canadian

That's why we're asking residents and visitors to stay clear of our hydroelectric stations, dams, shorelines and surrounding waterways. They're dangerous places for recreational activities. Hydroelectric stations can operate 24 hours a day and their operations affect water flows and levels, which can change quickly and without notice. Some dams have gates that might be remotely controlled and in just a few minutes, can change calm waters or a dry riverbed into dangerous waters with swift currents and rising levels.

If the shoe fits, wear it

Last week, our editorial questioned why everything done between the Iroquois Golf Club and the Municipality is done so secretively. In addition to that, we ran a story that reported the number of times council met over the summer, with and without, the knowledge of the public.

As a result there were some unhappy campers out there, namely Iroquois Golf Club pro Steven Martineau and South Dundas Mayor Lyle Van Allen.

Mr. Martineau let us know the Iroquois Golf Club does not hatch schemes and if there is anything we want to know we can ask him. Mayor Van Allen wanted to know if we were serious about the report on council meetings, and implied that perhaps an apology was in order.

Both of these confrontational exchanges sparked much discussion in the newsroom this week and had us take a look at what our duties are to the community as your local newspaper.

As we see it, our duties are to report the news to the public...right from what is happening at the council table, to the guy next door who has an interesting hobby, to the youngster out there playing his heart out in the local arena.

Our duty is to report the good things, and yes, the things that some people may think aren't so good. Our duty is to report them truthfully, and to do so without expressing our own personal opinions. The editorial is the means that allows us to express our opinions, and The Letter to the Editor forum is the means to allow our readers to express their opinions.

It is our opinion that a lot of things that get done in South Dundas get done behind closed doors. By the time the public learns of what is happening it is a done deal. Even the best of things and the best of ideas, when done behind closed doors lead to suspicion.

We stand by our opinion that the Iroquois Golf Club would get more support from the community if they would be more open and involve the community in the process. We will not be apologizing to Mayor Van Allen for a story that was developed straight from the minutes of council.

Oh, and before we sign off for another week, we would like to pass on two very important lessons learned. The first is, that the next time we question the Iroquois Golf Club we'll make sure we don't follow it up a few days later with a round of golf...and we'll make certain that after a story on council that may not sit well with our mayor, we'll use the drive through at Tim Hortons.

It's time for the annual Volley for Cancer drum roll as members of the committee prepare to announce the amount raised at this year's event. Organizing committee co-chair Kevin Spencer has asked us to let the whole of the South Dundas community know that the announcement will be made this Thursday night at the McIntosh Inn and everyone, who had anything to do with this year's Volley for Cancer (volleyball players, all sponsors, volunteers and spectators) is invited to attend. The evening will start at 7 p.m.

Our advertising representative, Lori Roberts has asked us to apologize to one of our local gas stations. She really, really didn't intend to fill up her van and then drive off without paying for it, she says. Yeah! Yeah! Betcha they've heard that line before.

Don't forget that coming up this Sunday, October 3 (Oh, gosh, it's October already) is the annual Waterfowl Day at the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary. Rain or shine the ducks, and their whole gang, will be at the annual event which will run from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $3 per person and children under 12 will be admitted free. The day will feature shows by Life of Riley's Unusual Animals (lemurs, an armadillo, and possums); Falcon Enviromental's Birds of Prey (eagle, hawks, falcons, owls etc.); Little Ray's Reptiles (snakes, lizards, turtles etc.). There will be a whole host of activities throughout the day, including dancing, a silent auction, craft sales, and exhibitions. As we said last week, this is an absolutely wonderful day for all ages, and a great family outing. We highly recommend it.

Coming this Saturday, October 2 the Morrisburg Fire Department is hosting a Yard Sale at the Fire Hall with all proceeds going to the 2005 Canada Day Fireworks Fund. The sale begins at 10 a.m. Next week is also Fire Prevention Week.

The September 28 issue reported three candidates, Susan Adams, Shirley Testerink and Wayne Johnston, had officially registered as candidates for the position of Public School Trustee for Morrisburg Village and Williamsburg Township.

Construction on the new Subway Restaurant in Morrisburg was expected to wrap up in a matter of weeks.

Six local snowmobile clubs had joined forces to become stronger and so was born the Nation Valley Snowmobile Club.

The race for Iroquois reeve was heating up, with two new contenders competing against declared candidate Peter Swank. Form Iroquois councillor Lorraine Fader and retired town foremen Ray Delegarde had both signed the appropriate forms.

A total of 27 families had moved into the new subdivision north of Morrisburg in just over one year and more were expected soon meaning developers Charlie Cassell and Hartley Hodgson and their crew would be busy well into the new year. The developers had completed and sold 13 duplexes.

Borne Again

The Spirit seeks the virgin
Good soil for the seed to be sown
For all who receive Him
Shall be called God's daughters and sons

Flesh and blood cannot reveal
The glory of His Name
But when the Holy Spirit comes
He wants to be borne again.
He wants to be borne again.

The Spirit seeks the manger
In hearts that hunger and thirst
To bear the Name of the Savior
With love because God loved us first.

Flesh and blood cannot reveal
The glory of His Name
But when the Holy Spirit comes
He wants to be borne again.
He wants to be borne again.

Perspectives

Out in the street
Down on your luck
The stranger finds you wandering.
He tells the story
Then breaks the bread
And leaves your memory wondering.

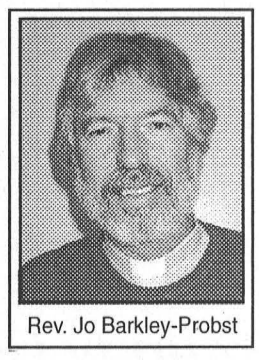
Flesh and blood cannot reveal
The glory of His Name
But when the Holy Spirit comes
He wants to be borne again.
He wants to be borne again.

Borne in our compassion
He is God's saving breath
Borne by the wind
To bring joy into our hearts
He wants to be borne again.
He wants to be borne again.

Words and Music: Pastor Jo Barkley-Probst

In the third chapter of the New Testament's Gospel of John, Jesus meets a seeker named Nicodemus who wants to know more about the message Jesus has come to proclaim. In the course of their conversation, Jesus tells Nicodemus that "unless one is born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." (John 3:3)

There are other ways of translating the phrase, such as being "born anew" and "born from above" which all point to something we are incapable of doing for ourselves. The second birth, the new birth Jesus speaks of, is God's doing. "That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit" says Jesus. (John 3:6).



Rev. Jo Barkley-Probst

What happens after Christians receive the second birth is the life of the Spirit. The Holy Spirit, God's gift of abiding Presence, is a treasure that will not be buried or taken for granted. The Spirit of God, once born in us, wants to be borne through us and by us.

To bear the Holy Spirit is what Christian ministry is all about. The Spirit of Christ Jesus wants to be borne in all walks of life, and in all situations.

Borne in our compassion
He is God's saving breath
Borne by the wind
To bring joy into our hearts
He wants to be borne again.
He wants to be borne again.

When we are born again,
Christ is borne again.

The Peace of the Lord be with you always.

Timothy Christian News

WILLIAMSBURG – There are over 13,300 students in Christian schools such as ours across Ontario. Some of those schools have been established in their communities for over 60 years. Timothy Christian School has just begun year 42 of providing Christ-centred education for Christian families who want this for their children.

The theme selected for this year is "Be Wise – Do Right." We believe that you can be smart about a lot of things, but true wisdom comes only from integrating faith with learning.

Every day here, staff and students have the opportunity to investigate this world, God's world, its past, present and future, all in the light of the Bible. Our job here is to help students combine their learning with a growing faith. It really is a great way to learn!

Every day, kids also have the opportunity to "do right." Whether that be in befriending someone too often alone, or using well the time or talents that he or she has, trying to do right is almost a full time job in a social setting such as a school.

On Saturday, October 2, many students, teachers, parents and grandparents will be out on the Long Sault Parkway in our biannual "Walk/Bike/Roll-a-thon." To those of you who sponsored someone for this event, thanks.

Whether or not you sent your children to TCS, our school provides a real service to our community and we appreciate your support. We also appreciate the organizational efforts of the two families who organized this event.

Our grade seven and eight classes participated in the annual Christian schools' soccer tournament organized by Community Christian School in Metcalfe. They had a great time, especially grade eight as they won the first place trophy; only the second time that we have one this event in about ten years.

Our dedicated crew of parents and grandparents (mostly grandparents!) are hard at work making apple pies as a fundraiser for the school. They make terrific pies and a lot of money for us and we appreciate their time in this annual project.

Lots of work was done in the school during the summer holidays, especially a complete overhaul of our senior grades' classroom.

We're just about finished our first month. We ask you to keep Timothy Christian School in your prayers this school year.

Scrutinizing use of the Justice Building

WILLIAMSBURG – A bylaw to enter into an agreement with Her Majesty the Queen, has been put on the back burner, until more information is gathered.

The agreement, tabled at the September 21, council meeting, allows for the use of the South Dundas Justice Building in Morrisburg by Ontario Courts, for a five year term.

Although the amount paid to the township for use of the building will increase by five percent, some members of council are not convinced it's enough.

"We should defer this," said councillor Sandra Bailey. "We're paying for heat, hydro, and insurance. I don't think we're realizing the full benefit." She also said the township paid for renovations to the building.

"I think it should be deferred until we find out what other municipalities are charging."

"I'd like a clearer picture, to see what the going rate is and to possibly raise the rate."

When South Dundas CAO Andy Brown told them it was up to them whether or not they chose to defer their decision or vote, councillor Johnny Whitteker said, "I think we should get further information."

"What information are we going to get?" asked Councillor Charles Barkley.

Brown suggested they could "see what the going rate is, and look at revenues versus costs." Council then agreed to the deferral.

Fun for the whole family at Waterfowl Day 2004

MORRISBURG – Rain or shine the ducks, and several of their feathered and furry friends will be at the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary for Waterfowl Day 2004, this Sunday, October 3, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Waterfowl Day is an annual event organized by Friends of the Sanctuary, a volunteer, nonprofit, and charitable organization, which provides support and sponsorship for the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary.

They often organize special events and activities, and Waterfowl Day is their marquee event of the season not to be missed.

At noon Life of Riley's Unusual Animals will present a number of unusual animals, as their name suggests, including, Black & White Ruff Lemurs, Brown Lemurs, Hairy Armadillos, Sugar Gliders, and Short-tail Possums.

For a cost of $5, visitors can have their photo taken with one of the lemurs, and all proceeds will go to Friends of the Sanctuary. Their second show will take place at 2:30 p.m.

At 12:30 p.m., and again at 1:30 p.m., wild duck banding, which is billed as an opportunity to get up close to conservation in action, and a must see, will take place.

Falcon Environmental's Birds of Prey show is scheduled for 1 and 3 p.m., and is expected to include an eagle, hawks, falcons, owls, and a vulture free flying demonstration.

Little Ray brings his travelling reptile show to the sanctuary, and will have snakes, lizards, amphibians, alligators, turtles and more on display at the Visitor Centre all day. His entertaining shows will be featured at 1:30 and 4 p.m. Visitors can have their photo taken with Lady Chomp-a-Lot, a 100 pound alligator, for a cost of $5, with all proceeds going to the Friends of the Sanctuary.

Starting at 2 p.m., weather permitting, there will be a break from the animals. The Seaway Squares and Friends, the square dancing club of Morrisburg, led by Caller Harold Moore, will demonstrate their pastime.

In addition to the shows, several activities will take place throughout the day. For a small fee, children can build bird houses, or fish in the fish pond.

Local artists and crafters will be on hand selling their creations. There will be exhibits from many organizations set up for browsing.

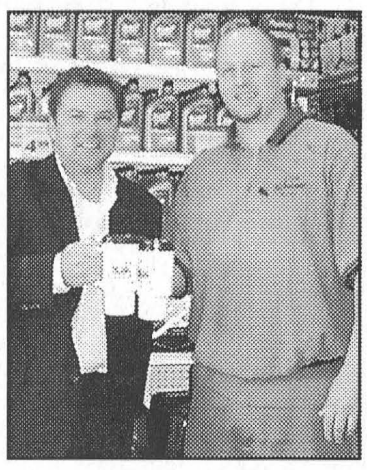
The Friends Silent Auction, is always popular and will feature varied and unique items up for grabs.

A canteen will be available all day offering up drinks, hot dogs, hamburgers and sausage on a bun.

After all the activities, anyone so inclined can hike the Sanctuary's many self-guided nature trails.

Admission is $3 per person, and children under 12 are free. Organizers say that it is a great day for the family, but do ask that family pets be left at home, because they may interfere with the activities.

Community Coffee Break



MORRISBURG – The Alzheimer Coffee Break campaign is raising both funds and awareness in Morrisburg through two outstanding local retailers.

Peter Oliver of Canadian Tire and Mike Vrab of Mike's Valumart have generously shown their support by hosting Coffee Breaks at their locations, with proceeds going towards sustaining programs in the community.

The Alzheimer Society of Cornwall and District acknowledged Peter and Mike for being great community partners.

South Nation Conservation is all over South Dundas

WILLIAMSBURG – To get the jump on an upcoming provincial plan to divide the province into regions based on watersheds, for water source protection, South Dundas council has agreed to having the whole municipality designated as part of the South Nation Conservation watershed.

South Dundas CAO Andy Brown made the recommendation for council's consideration at the August 17, council meeting, to try and avoid the complication of the township being divided between two conservation authorities.

Council received confirmation this month from SNC chairman of the board, Claude Cousineau, that their request has been accepted.

"Over the next few months, SNC staff and directors will work with South Dundas Township to determine the level of services that can be delivered by SNC," said Cousineau in a letter.

"I believe that we can deliver a number of these services that will benefit South Dundas Township, and I look forward to working with you to deliver these."

Traffic update

DUNDAS COUNTY – Police were called to investigate six motor vehicle collisions in Dundas County this week, only two of which involved deer.

No charges were laid in connection with alcohol related drinking and driving offences.

Other investigations resulted in the issuance of one 12-hour driver's licence suspension and the apprehension of three suspended drivers.

Kickboxing your way to physical fitness

MORRISBURG – From the grocery store clerk to the lawyer, they are all out for one thing...to get physically fit, says Kickboxing instructor Sensei Carol Buma.

Buma, who is associated with the Jiu-Jitsu and Kickboxing Club in Chesterville, has just started her second session of Kickboxing classes at the old high school in Morrisburg and is pleased with the response she has had from the community.

A Silver Certified Prokick Instructor and a Jiu-Jitsu (jujitsu) Black Belt, Buma says she was encouraged to set up classes here by her Morrisburg students who were travelling to Chesterville.

Her first sessions at the Kickstart beginner level and Intermediate ran through the summer and the fall session has just begun.

She follows the Kickboxing program developed by Jean Yves Theriault of Ottawa, a 23 time World Kickboxing champion.

"Kickboxing is basically boxing and kicking," explains Buma. "It builds up your cardio and is great for muscle toning. The added bonus is the self defense aspect."

"We work all the muscle groups. It's a full body work out. It works those muscles in places you don't even know you have."

A class always begins with a warm-up period, and always ends with a complete cool down.

"It is very important to have a good warmup before you start stretching muscles. I make sure it is all done correctly first. A lot of people don't want to take the time to stretch, which is important in any sport."

Buma says there is a misconception that people who take kickboxing only want to fight. There are those who do who can focus on that route, but there are also those who don't.

"We offer all kinds of benefits for the housewife who wants to get into shape after she has her baby to teenagers who simply want to get their frustrations out."

Stressing that it's not an activity that is gender specific, Buma says neither age nor the shape a person is in matters.

"I have some who have come into a class who have never exercised. After a couple of months you see the difference in their coordination, their balance and the cardio."

"Cardio is a big thing with hockey players, and I have done private lessons for guys in the Ontario Hockey League."

"I also go into the high schools. Not all students are into basketball or volleyball. Those who aren't need something that keeps them physically fit and active."

"Kickboxing you can do for yourself. You don't need to be a pro-athlete."

She says it also provides an opportunity for parents to do something with their teenage children.

Patti Thorpe (right) works on punches with Buma

Buma started out taking Jiu-Jitsu instruction. "I wanted to build up my cardio. I was never able to run, and now I can go into marathons."

"It makes you feel good about yourself."

Buma explains that Jiu-Jitsu leans towards self defense, while Kickboxing is a defense, but at the same time provides more of a workout.

"If you like one, you will like the other. They are similar in the kicks and punches."

There is form and technique involved in kickboxing and Buma says it is important a student gets them down. "I am always watching their positions and the position of their feet which allows them to initiate proper kicks and punches."

Because she has just started in Morrisburg, she currently offers two levels. The kick boxing program as developed by Theriault begins with Kick start and works through intermediate, bronze (three levels) and silver (three levels).

As to where students want to go, "its how you feel. It's not a standstill."

"It is also a social thing for many."

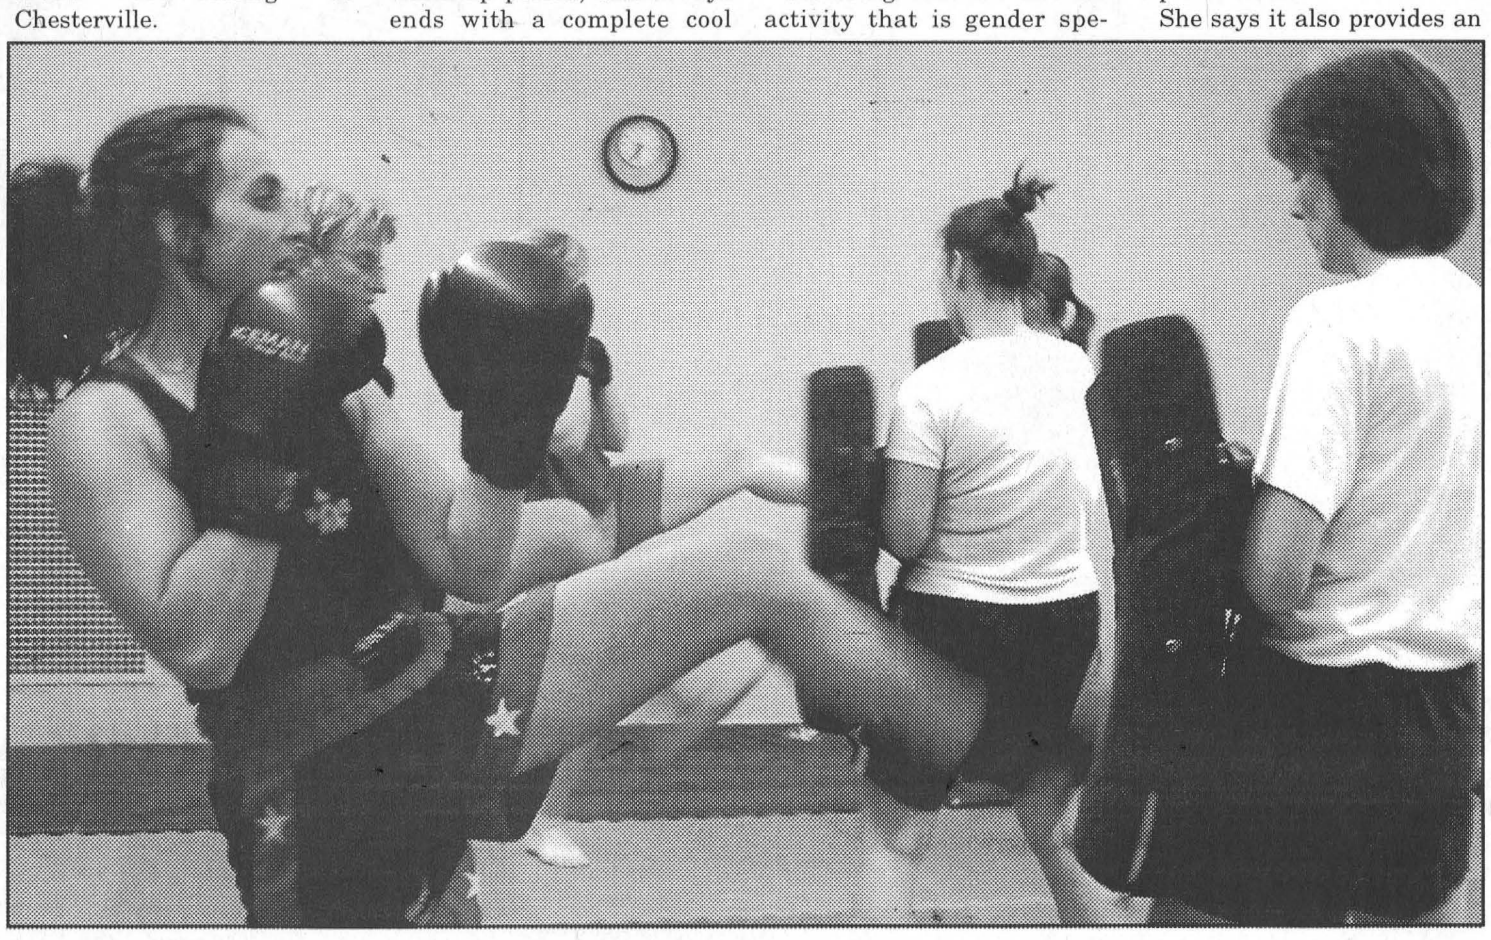
Buma is full time at the gym in Chesterville under primary instructor Shihan Norm Beauchamp who is a sixth degree Jiu-Jitsu black belt

Buma, herself, never stops training. "I always like to learn new things. I go to conventions to pick up new techniques and new ideas."

"You can always pick something out of every one of them. There is no one martial art that you can say, 'this is the best'."

Although the fall session which runs Monday and Wednesday nights at the old high school until December, has started, Buma says students can still register. The program is suitable for teens and adults, and is not offered to children.

She says for those who are older and a bit reluctant, "you would be surprised what a 50-year-old can do. You come in and can't do a push-up, and after awhile you will be surprised."



Form and Technique Important

Sensei Carol Buma demonstrates a proper kick technique to partner Patty Thorpe during the Wednesday night Kickstart class at the old high school in Morrisburg.

Ontario Senior Games

Local doubles team wins bronze medals

MORRISBURG–Local dart players Roy Prieur and Jim Scott teamed up to participate in the annual Senior Summer Actifest Games which led them to the Ontario Senior Games in St. Catharines on the weekend of August 17-18 and a bronze medal.

The Senior Actifest Games are played every summer, and every second summer qualifiers advance to participate in the Ontario Games.

Both Prieur and Scott say they had a wonderful time at the games in St. Catharines.

"They do it just like the Olympics," says Scott. "They march you in and put you up on a podium."

"It was well worth it. There should be more people involved in it."

On their way to the Ontario games Prieur and Scott first had to qualify in the local SD&G/Prescott-Russell district.

"We actually snuck in the back door to qualify," says Scott.

That because at the qualifying tournament in Cornwall it came down to two entries, both from Morrisburg. The team of Fred Diegel and Frank Marriner won the qualifier, but because they were unable to travel to St. Catharines, Prieur and Scott got the nod.

"We did pretty good for them and ourselves," says Prieur, who, along with his partner, has been playing darts for many, many years.

Competition in St. Catharines started with 36 teams, which were divided into an A and B side after preliminary round play.

Prieur and Scott played well losing only five games in their first round to go to the A side.

"We were in an area where there are a lot of dart players," says Prieur, who is comfortable playing high level darts, having in the past been the member of a four-man Quebec provincial championship team.

"It was at the end that we hit a really hot team, and we didn't play well," says Prieur. As a result they did not make it to gold medal play, but did earn themselves the bronze.

A total of 42 seniors represented the SD&G/Prescott-Russell District in St. Catharines, bringing home four medals

In addition to Prieur and Scott's bronze medals, Gary Ernst and Janet Dracott won silver medals in swimming, and Ursula Winlander and John Dristaf won bronze medals in mixed doubles tennis.

Also participating in the games from this area were Bob and Audrey Henophy in Euchre, and Lillian Thatcher and Pat Casselman in Cribbage.

The next provincial summer games are scheduled for Hamilton in 2006. The provincial Winterfest version of the games are coming up this February 2005 in Barrie.

The winter games too are played every year locally, and every second year at the provincial level. Some of the winter sports include downhill skiing, cross-country skiing (prediction times), curling, prediction skating, bridge and hockey. Qualifiers for the winter events will get underway this fall for the provincial in Barrie in February.

Locals Score Bronze Medals

Roy Prieur (left) and Jim Scott threw their way to bronze medals in the men's doubles of the dart segment of the Ontario Senior Games held in St. Catharines on the weekend of August 17-18. They were among 1,400 senior competitors from across Ontario who competed in sports from tennis to golf, swimming, bridge, walking, bowling and darts etc.

Lose two weekend games

Lions still looking for win

MORRISBURG – Four games into the 2004/05 season the Morrisburg Junior B Lions are still in the hunt for their first win.

The Lions opened the weekend action on home ice Friday night against the Alexandra Glens, and after holding their visitors to a 1-1 first period tie they gave up three second period goals as the Glens worked their way to a 5-2 win.

Sunday night they were on the road to Kemptville, where, in spite of a valiant third period effort, they surrendered to the 73s 4-3.

Veteran Matt Van Egmond handled the Lions goaltending duties Friday night, while rookie goaltender Trevor Heffernan saw action against the 73s. Shots on net are not kept in Morrisburg, and in Kemptville Heffernan handled 35 shots to his opponent's 25.

As they have done in every game so far this season, the Lions were first on the scoreboard Friday night with a James Kirkwood goal assisted by Jordan Schaeffer and Cody Casselman.

The Lions held on until late in the frame when Louis Brisson counted for the Glens on the power play.

The Glens took charge of the second period hitting three times, Jean Phillippe Bourgeois nabbing Van Egmond for two and Brisson counting his second of the game.

The Glens pushed the score to 5-1 early in the third and that was it until Morrisburg Figure Skater, Meghan Adams, skated to a silver medal at the Figure 8 Autumn Skate in Ottawa on the weekend. She and coach Allison Scott have worked on her new program for less than two months and both are very pleased with the early results.

Morrisburg skater is off to a strong start

MORRISBURG – Morrisburg figure skater Meghan Adams laced up her skates in August to start the new season, and armed with a new solo at the Junior Bronze Ladies level she went to work.

Now, less than two months later she has a silver medal hanging around her neck.

Adams competed in the Figure 8 Autumn Skate at the Jim Durrell Arena in Ottawa on the weekend where she picked up a Junior Bronze Ladies Free Style second place finish.

Coached by professional Allison Morrow, the new program is a collaborative affair between the two, and a program that Adams says, "I love. Everything. The music and the program."

Using music from the Pirates of the Caribbean, her program includes two double Salchows, one double toe and one double loop and runs for 2.5 minutes.

"It is very powerful and strong music, and that is the way Meghan skates," says her very proud coach. "She hasn't been on the ice very long and she has come a long way in a short period of time. I am very proud of her. She has worked very hard."

The WolfePack won all their games at the Women's Three-Pitch Tournament played at Riverside Heights on the weekend of September 18-19 all the way through to the final when they met the Linda Birtch team. The Birtch team proved worthy opponents, going up by five runs at the bottom of the fifth and forcing the Wolfe Pack to scramble for the comeback. They managed to tie it in regulation time to force overtime where they earned the championship win by a single run. The annual tournament is hosted by the White Family and this year included five area women's teams that played in a four game round robin format to produced semi-finalists. Members of the championship WolfePack team pictured above were, front l-r, Tracey Beckstead, Angie Merkley, Kim Perry, Patty Thorpe and Doris Hart. Back, l-r, are Stephanie Garlough, Tracy Mabo, Kelly DeDekker, Cindy Wolfe, Heather Wells-Baker and Ruth Wells. Absent is Chelsey Schell.

Lucien Snowbird held over

MORRISBURG – Lucien Snowbird, the brand new Lucien episode by and starring Marshall Button, has been such a runaway hit at Upper Canada Playhouse that an extra week of performances has just been announced.

Most seats were snapped up early in the run and the Upper Canada Playhouse has added additional performances to accommodate the large response.

The Playhouse had added an extra week to their runs this season taking them from two and a half weeks to three and a half weeks.

These longer runs sold out all summer long and adding still an additional week to Lucien Snowbird was the logical next step.

Lucien Snowbird will now run for four and a half weeks, until October 16, with additional shows Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m. and an added 2 p.m. matinee on Saturday, October 16.

"If people have not had a chance to catch the show up until now, we've given them an additional week to book their seats," says Artistic Director Donnie Bowes.

"We have the luxury of extending this show cause it's the last show of the summer season. The response to Marshall's show has been so overwhelming that extending it makes total sense. Are we looking to month-long runs for next year? Could very well happen!" predicts Bowes who is in the process of putting together details for the new 2005 Season. "Stay tuned," adds Bowes. "We've got a blockbuster Season in store for everyone."

But Bowes also reminds the Playhouse audience that 2004 is not over yet.

Coming up November 25 to December 19, is the brand new family holiday show Dear Santa by funny man, Norm Foster. The Playhouse is all set to entertain the whole family with this hit comedy!

Shows are Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m. with matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. Tickets are $17 to $22, call the box office at 543-3713.

Jr. B Lions still looking

16:30 when Cory Gove connected on the Lion's power play with assists going to Kyle Jarvis and Scott Carswell.

The Glens then held on for the 5-2 win.

The Glens sat out eight minor penalties, a five minute major for crosschecking and a game misconduct, while the Lions were assessed seven minors and a double minor.

In Kemptville, Sunday night, again it was the Lions who got it rolling with an unassisted short-handed goal from Jamie Gadway at 3:51.

Kemptville's Brett Brady evened it at 12:36 and the 1-1 tie held until well into the second period, in fact until the 12:36 mark of that frame as well. That's when Brandon Byrd kick-started a three goal rally for the 73s. Backing Byrd were Travis Vandentillart and Ross Pjaskoske.

The Lions then shut the 73s down for the remainder of the game, while they attempted to catch up.

Gadway counted his second goal, with help from Kyle Jarvis and Chris Sommers, to cut the gap to 4-2 with 8:52 remaining on the clock. It wasn't until the final minute of the third that Chad Southwick struck, unassisted, to pull the Lions to within one goal of the tie, but that would be it.

Each of the teams were assessed three minor penalties and one 10 minute misconduct.

The Lions played the weekend without veteran forward Tyler Lafortune who has been sidelined with an injury. He is expected to return to the lineup this week.

Coming up, the Lions are on the road to Winchester Friday, October 1 for an 8:15 start and on Sunday, October 3 they host Akwesasne. Game time is 2:15 p.m.

Correction

WILLIAMSBURG – Organizers of the Williamsburg Harvest Festival incorrectly identified the winner of the Olin Smith Memorial Plaque as John McDermid. The winner of the Olin Smith Memorial Plaque was in fact Doug McIntyre.

McIntyre, who is from the Finch area, was a great friend to the late Olin Smith, and has been involved with the car show since its inception. Winning the honour brought tears to his eyes.

Mrs. Olin Smith says that the Harvest Festival is the source of a great deal of family pride, because her late husband was so very active in the community. She also mentioned that her granddaughter Rebecca participated in the parade, carrying a sign in memory of her grandpa.

This Week at MGC

MORRISBURG –Whoops! We goofed. So before we go any further let's get it straightened out. In this column last week we wrote the wrong date for the annual Swing and Sweep Tournament, and we now would like to clarify that the Swing and Sweep (golf and curling) will run on Saturday, October 16. For information or to register your four-person team contact Mahlon Locke.

The annual Tiger Two-Man Open was a huge success Saturday, and was played in exceptionally beautiful weather. Congratulations to Donnie Mabo and Blake Barry who defeated Jeff Ferguson and Steve White in a playoff to claim the win. The two teams finished regulation play tied at five under (65). Three teams were tied at four under and they included Lee Beaupre and Tom Morin, Drew Edmunds and Wally White, and Dale Walker and Mike Deschamps.

This is the final call for the Mixed Two-Ball event coming up this Saturday. Cost is $15 per member which includes golf, prizes, a roast beef/chicken dinner and live music to finish it all off. Those not golfing can purchase the meal by signing up (ASAP), and everyone is invited to the evening festivities. Reduced green fee rates are also available to non-members who want to participate in the tournament.

A reminder too that the club's annual general Fall Meeting is scheduled for Sunday, October 17 at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse. It is at this meeting that the executive is elected and next year's membership fees are set. Up-to-date financial figures are also available at this time. All members are urged to attend and anyone interested in a position on the 2004 executive can contact past-president Bob Barclay.

The final event left on the 2004 calendar is the 27 hole, two man team 9-9-9 tournament on Saturday, October 23. It is being discussed to change this to an 18 hole (6-6-6). Details will be posted at the clubhouse.

All members and area golfers are invited to check out the Morrisburg Golf Club's new web site at morrisburggolf.ca.

Trespass to Property Act

SD&G – The "Trespass to Property Act" is a provincial act, which not only controls access to property, but also allows for control of the type of activities, which are allowed on that property.

Access to private property will usually be prohibited through the use of "no trespassing" signs, but these signs are not required to be posted in certain areas that the act allows prohibited access without notice such as: any garden, land under cultivation, a lawn or orchard, wood lots, and areas where small trees are planted, or any area which is fenced in.

Certain areas, both private and public, may allow access but will limit what activities can be conducted there. In cases of community property this could include, but are not limited to: the use of recreational vehicles, loitering, camping, swimming, and skateboarding . People found engaging in these activities may then be charged under the "Trespass to Property Act" which could result in a fine of $55.00 plus costs.

Throughout the tri-counties there are numerous gravel pits, which residents have taken upon themselves to use for swimming in the summer. These pits are private property, whether they are currently being used or not, and are generally are not intended for use by the public for their recreational purposes. Please respect the rights of the property owners and obtain permission before you attend at or use one of these areas.

Ontario Provincial Police

Auxiliary Unit

SD&G – The Ontario Provincial Police Auxiliary Unit is, citizens and the OPP working together to ensure the safety and security of Ontario.

Since 1960, the Ontario Provincial Police have enjoyed the services of a recognized volunteer unit which provides support to them in the performance of their duties throughout the province.

The OPP Auxiliary Unit is made up of men and women from very diverse backgrounds who have joined together to help make a difference in their communities.

These members support officers during regular police patrols, through their involvement with community policing projects, assisting at crime and disaster scenes, and providing traffic and crowd control at large public gatherings. Membership in the Auxiliary affords its officers a first hand experience of the multifaceted job of policing in Ontario.

Members in the unit must be able to commit to a minimum of 10 hours patrol and six hours of training each month.

Anyone interested in applying for a position on the Stormont Dundas and Glengarry OPP Auxiliary Unit are encouraged to visit the OPP website opp.ca for information and application forms.

Official Plan

ping it will be fine. If not, we've accomplished nothing. The land in Matilda needs to be changed."

Mayor Lyle Van Allen asked Lewis what would happen if Counties council turns down the official plan when it comes to a vote?

"If that happened we would take the information from the plan, hire a consultant and use it to do an official plan for South Dundas," said Lewis.

"I'm not thoroughly convinced it will pass at Counties Council," said Van Allen, who is one of South Dundas' members of Counties Council.

The other South Dundas member of Counties Council, Councillor Johnny Whitteker, didn't agree. "I think it'll pass, but it won't be unanimous."
