Councillors to consider library bids

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The bids are in for the proposed South Mountain Resource Centre, and Vriend Construction submitted the lowest one at $344,000.

North Dundas councillors might give the Greely-based company the green light at the next regular council meeting (which will take place after press time on Tues., March 24).

Greely firm submits low tender

The resource centre will be the new home of the South Mountain Library. It will also have a meeting room, washroom, and kitchenette. Various community groups will be able to use the facilities.

Five other companies submitted a bid to construct the resource centre: Hubbard Construction ($446,703), Tony Van Gurp Construction ($409,214), Frecon Construction ($507,000), Dale Coleman Construction ($371,900), and Grant Marion Construction ($413,190).

Traditionally, municipalities accept the lowest bid for construction projects, providing the company's plan meets specifications. However, councillors don't necessarily have to accept the bottom figure.

The project went to tender in late February. Initially, construction companies had until Thurs., March 5 to submit their bids, but the township extended the deadline to Fri., March 13 to give bidders more time to assemble their submissions.

The township initially estimated the project would carry a price tag of about $300,000 (which includes the cost of paving the parking lot). The Friends of the South Mountain Library pledged to raise $100,000. The Township of North Dundas committed another $130,000.

It remains to be seen who will pay for the balance. Councillor Eric Duncan said council might decide to allot some remaining provincial and federal infrastructure funding to the project.

He also said that the entire project might not have to be paid for immediately — for example, the parking lot doesn't necessarily need to be paved right away.

"All five of us [councillors] are going to have to talk about it," said Duncan.

The Township of South Dundas might also pitch in. Last July, the Friends of the South Mountain Library made a presentation before council and said a chunk of the library's users — at least 16 per cent — live in South Dundas.

"It's actually an underestimated number because it's based on phone exchanges," said Terry Triskle, fundraising chair for the Friends group.

Fire destroys garage, trailer at Pivotech Doors

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Cory Casselman had a nasty scare on Wed., March 18 when the acetylene tank he was using caught on fire.

Casselman, an employee of Pivotech Doors in Winchester, was trying to use the oxy-fuel system to light a torch.

"I went to ignite the torch head, and the torch didn't ignite — the tank ignited behind me," he said. "I ran outside [the garage] to get help, but not two minutes later, the smoke was too heavy to do anything."

Emergency officials responded to the 911 call at about 3 pm and rushed to Pivotech Doors, located at 1664 Cayer Road north of Winchester.

Firefighters doused the flames and were able to control the blaze. Nobody was injured.

However, Pivotech's garage burned to the ground. Casselman said a JED Express trailer outside the garage also caught on fire.

No injuries reported

According to a press release issued by SD&G OPP, authorities consider the fire to be accidental. Officials have not released any further details regarding the specific cause of the blaze.

Casselman said Pivotech was able to resume business as usual the next morning.

"Life goes on," said Casselman.

Wubs start Chesterville shuttle

WINCHESTER — There are now three bus routes local commuters can use to travel to Ottawa.

The Wubs family of Winchester, who operates Wubs Transportation, has two commuter shuttle services up and running.

The first bus route, which Wubs took over from fellow transportation company Laidlaw International, continues to leave from Winchester in the mornings. A second bus starts its morning route in Chesterville and leaves at 6:15 am from the Chesterville Arena.

South Mountain Stagecoach Transit will start their own motor coach service on Tues., March 31. The route makes its first stop at Inkerman at 6:15 am before taking a more north-west route into the city.

With three buses taking commuters into Ottawa, local residents now have another way to get into the city.

"There's a lot of benefit to having this transit system out here," said Nanda Wubs.

Wubs noted that several local factories have closed their doors, and residents can use the rural bus systems to commute to work in Ottawa.

"We heard from people that they're desperate for service," said Wubs.

Both South Mountain Stagecoach Transit and Wubs Transportation hook up directly to the City of Ottawa's OC Tranpo system.

For more information, check out www.wubs.ca or www.smtntransit.com.

South Dundas councillors undecided

Triskle said that some South Mountain Library patrons — including himself — have a "989" (South Mountain) phone number but actually live in the Township of South Dundas. So the percentage, he said, of South Dundas patrons could be even higher — perhaps 20 or 25 per cent.

Back in July, Triskle asked if South Dundas would be willing to give the project a one-time grant of $25,000, payable over two or three years. Councillors are in the middle of budget deliberations right now and, according to municipal staff, haven't decided if they'll contribute any money to the South Mountain Resource Centre.

Check next week's edition of the Winchester Press for updates on this issue.

Resident finds SNC study flaws

WILLIAMSBURG — Williamsburg resident Trevor Tolley addressed South Dundas council at its regular meeting on Tues., March 17 to discuss a draft study done by South Nation Conservation. The study has been completed; however, Tolley said he was disappointed that the study didn't address the impact of flooding on agriculture.

Tolley said he would like to see beaver activity conflicts resolved through field surveys and follow-up discussion with landowners. As well, he would like planning policies implemented to protect viable agricultural land and not restrict development.

Tolley told council he plans on making a recommendation submission to the SNC before the Fri., March 27 deadline for comments on the draft report.

TOWNSHIP OF SOUTH DUNDAS

Council notes from South Dundas

Clean-up day

The annual community clean-up day will return this year on Sat., April 25. It will happen rain or shine. The event will coincide with the end of Earth Week. Both disposal sites will be open from 9 am to 4 pm to accommodate residents. Community members are asked to register at the township office to receive garbage bags.

Energy-saving challenge

The Township of South Dundas, in partnership with Rideau St. Lawrence Distribution Inc. and Hydro One, have teamed up for the Kilowatt Countdown Challenge, which comes to a close at the end of March.

The Township of South Stormont has challenged South Dundas residents to reduce their electricity consumption and carbon emissions by 20 per cent during February and March.

Any information regarding the challenge can be picked up at the township office or the local libraries. Visit www.southdundas.com for more details.

Vandals in Morrisburg

A resident of Kyle Street in Morrisburg made a call to South Dundas to complain about the damage to lights on their lawn. According to councillor Robert Gillard, a resident called the OPP to demand a curfew be put in place for youth.

Gillard said the OPP told the resident to call about vandalism in Morrisburg. Gillard suggested the increase in vandalism may be due to the March break.

For more information, check out the police blotter on page 4.

Local resident gets bill reduced

A resident of South Dundas contacted the township to discuss an increase of water consumption between December 2008 and February 2009. During that time, the resident's water bill from Rideau St. Lawrence Distribution Inc. had increased substantially.

In conversations between the township and Rideau St. Lawrence, it is noted that the resident had been contacted by Rideau St. Lawrence to be made aware of the escalation of water being used. Upon a checkup by Rideau St. Lawrence, the water meter was found to be functioning properly. However, the resident indicated that a leaky toilet may be causing the fluctuation in consumption, and once it is repaired, the consumption levels should return to normal.

Council determined that the resident should only be required to pay 50 per cent of the $282.39 owed.

Street light outages

During a presentation before council by John Allison of Rideau St. Lawrence Distribution Inc., Mayor Charles Barkley mentioned a phone call he received regarding street light outages in the area.

It has been brought to the attention of council that a number of street lights were out, and one resident was becoming concerned about it. Allison noted that if four or more street lights are out in a certain span, workers from Rideau St. Lawrence would go through and do "a clean sweep" in repairing the issue.

Williamsburg quilter chosen for international competition

WILLIAMSBURG — Williamsburg-area quilter Janice Toonders has been selected as a semifinalist for the 25th anniversary American Quilter's Society Quilt Show and Contest, running April 22 to 25 at the Paducah Expo Centre in Paducah, Kentucky.

Toonders' quilt, Quad Squad, will compete against quilts created by 387 other people, at the annual contest. In its 25th year, the competition is offering more than $127,000 in total prize money.

Toonders' entry was chosen from a field of 709 quilts. From this point on, the quilt will compete against others within its own category. Three quilting authorities will judge this elite group before the show opens. The individual quilt named best of show will garner a $20,000 cash prize. In addition, this quilt will became part of the permanent collection in the National Quilt Museum.

Quilting is a labour of love for Toonders. She is also a spinning and weaving instructor at Upper Canada Village, and works part-time at Picket Fence Fabrics in Brockville.

Regardless of how Toonders' quilt places in the end, all 388 quilts will be displayed at the annual quilt show. This exhibition brings more than 35,000 quilters, collectors, enthusiasts, and vendors to Paducah each spring, when the city best displays how it earned the nickname Quilt City, USA.

Entries include those from 48 U.S. States as well as 11 other countries, including Japan, Australia, South Korea, the Philippines, Canada, and England. There are 16 categories in the judged contest. The quilts include bed-size, large and small wall quilts, and designs ranging from traditional Baltimore Album, Mariners' Compass, and Tree of Life to innovative designs using paint, threads, and original design.

POLICE BLOTTER

Body found

HARRISON'S CORNERS — The body of South Stormont resident Charles Leblanc was found in a field off County Road 15 near Harrison's Corners on Thurs., March 19 at 9:32 am. A postmortem analysis was completed at the Ottawa Hospital. The investigation and preliminary autopsy results indicate that LeBlanc was not the victim of foul play.

Ski gear stolen

CHESTERVILLE — On Tues., March 17, SD&G OPP officers responded to a reported theft from a vehicle parked outside a residence on Albert Street, Chesterville. Sometime overnight on Sat., March 14, unknown suspect(s) entered the vehicle and stole a pair of skis, a pair of ski poles, a Burton snowboard, and a blue ski bag. The OPP would like to remind people to lock their vehicles and keep valuable items out of sight.

Vandals strike

MORRISBURG -- SD&G OPP responded to three reports of mischief to property in Morrisburg last week. Unknown suspects removed decorative lights from two properties — one on Orchard Way, the other on Fifth Street. On Tues., March 17, police discovered vandals had thrown a heater into the windshield of a parked vehicle on Alice Street. Officials would like to remind the general public to contact the police as soon as possible if they spot any suspicious activities, persons, or vehicles.

Driver charged

WINCHESTER — OPP responded to a complaint of erratic driving on County Road 43 in North Dundas at about 10:12 pm on Thurs., March 19. A subsequent investigation revealed that the 27-year-old male driver was drunk. He was charged with operating a vehicle while impaired and having a blood alcohol level over 80 milligrams. He is to appear in Morrisburg court on May 5.

Car recovered

MORRISBURG — When OPP officers tried to stop a grey 1995 Chevrolet Lumina at 3:06 am on Fri., March 20, the driver fled. Police later found the vehicle abandoned on Fifth Street in Morrisburg. A subsequent investigation revealed that the car (Ontario licence plate BCTD 852) was reported stolen from Kingston the night before. Officials are still looking into the matter.

Stop nets drugs

MORRISBURG — When OPP stopped a vehicle driving along Hwy. 401 on Sat., March 21 at about 1:30 pm, they seized about seven kilograms of what they believed to be marijuana. The 20-year-old male driver from the Montreal area was arrested and faces charges of possession and possession for the purpose of trafficking. He is to appear in Morrisburg court on May 5.

Open house to mark closure of institutions for the disabled

CLDC to celebrate in Morrisburg

WINCHESTER — Community Living Dundas County (CLDC) will celebrate the closure of the last three Ontario facilities for the disabled on Tues., March 31.

The Huronia Regional Centre, Southwest Regional Centre, and Rideau Regional Centre will shut down that day, and CLDC has a celebratory open house planned at their office, located at 55 Allison Avenue in Morrisburg, from 2 to 3:30 pm.

According to the CLDC, social attitudes toward disabilities were much different 160 years ago than they are today. People who had an intellectual disability often weren't expected or encouraged to participate as "normal citizens" in regular society. Parents of disabled children were encouraged to place their kids in institutions, which were thought to be the safest and best place for people at the time. The first institution in Ontario was built in 1841.

However, by and large, these institutions no longer exist in Ontario. Community Living associations have worked with people who have intellectual disabilities, and their families, to close these institutions and include everyone in community life.

Today, Community Living associations provide government-funded support and services to more than 12,000 intellectually disabled Ontarians and their families.

According to the CLDC, many people now have a better quality of life because they are living in their homes, are active members of their communities, and are connected with friends and family.

Easter Bunny to hop by Wesleyan Church April 4

WINCHESTER — The Royal Canadian Legion Winchester Branch 108 is gearing up for its fourth annual visit from the Easter Bunny. The lunch and activity day will take place on Sat., April 4 from 10 am to 2 pm in the Winchester Wesleyan Church's hall.

Branch 108 and other community groups have organized a busy schedule of activities, including cookie decorating, a workshop about growing plants, a petting zoo with rabbits and other small critters, and play areas. Chocolate bunnies will be up for sale, with all proceeds going to charity. Sparky the Fire Dog is also expected to drop by for a visit.

The legion will host a lunch, rather than its traditional Easter breakfast, with popcorn and hotdogs for sale.

"In the past, this event has been well attended, and we hope it will continue this year in the Wesleyan Church hall," said Kim Bates, who is helping to organize the event. "As always, the proceeds from the event will go toward the needs of people within our community."

Admission is $3, or $10 for a family of four.

Mayor Runnalls on board

Nor-Dun Centre on the hunt for new volunteers

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

MAPLE RIDGE — When Leila Helmer opened the door last week to accept her sweet-and-sour chicken lunch from Meals on Wheels, she met a new volunteer: Alvin Runnalls.

North Dundas' mayor toured the township with Meals on Wheels volunteers and staff on Wed., March 18. Co-ordinated by the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre in Winchester, the Meals on Wheels program provides warm, nutritious food to clients for $22.50 per month, Monday to Friday.

Mayors For Meals campaign in March

Similar programs exist throughout Canada and the United States. In 2006, the Meals on Wheels Association of America introduced the Mayors For Meals campaign. On a designated day in March, mayors throughout the U.S. deliver hot food to local Meals on Wheels clients. The campaign aims to increase media attention and expose municipal officials to the program.

Recently, Canadian Meals on Wheels providers got involved in Mayors for Meals. This year, Nor-Dun arranged for Runnalls to tour North Dundas and deliver some hot food to his senior constituents.

"As we get a little older, it's nice [that] people have paid their taxes for years, and now they're getting something like [Meals on Wheels]," said Runnalls.

Helmer said she likes Meals on Wheels because it gives her a break from cooking.

"You don't have to get up in the morning and get meals ready," noted Helmer.

Clients join the government-subsidized program for a variety of reasons. Some are recovering from a surgery and can't cook for a short period of time. Others no longer feel comfortable around a stove because their eyesight isn't what it used to be.

Not all Meals on Wheels clients are seniors. The program also serves people with disabilities or the odd individual who simply can't cook for themselves due to unforseen circumstances. Traditionally, Nor-Dun visits a potential client and conducts an assessment to make sure they qualify for the program.

Bon appetit

Township of North Dundas Mayor Alvin Runnalls (right) handed Maple Ridge resident Leila Helmer (seated) a hot lunch from the Meals on Wheels program on Wed., March 18. The mayor is participating in the Mayors for Meals program, which encourages mayors throughout Canada and the United States to volunteer for Meals on Wheels for one day in March to raise the program's profile. At left is volunteer Ann Sloan. Press Photo — Smith-Millar

Helmer signed up for Meals on Wheels after her family bought her a gift certificate for the program. She said she loves all the food from Nor-Dun (unless the meal happens to contain green beans, which isn't exactly her favourite veggie).

While Nor-Dun does its best to accommodate likes and dislikes, not all meals can be tailored for each person. However, they do have specific meals for vegetarians and diabetics.

Roberta Giberson, along with her husband, Richard, have volunteered for Meals on Wheels for about six or seven years. Giberson explained that the Meals on Wheels program is actually a three-in-one service. Volunteers provide seniors with a nutritious meal, a friendly visit, and a security check to make sure the client's doing alright on their own.

"There are a lot of people who don't see anybody," said Giberson.

Giberson said she volunteers to stay connected to the community.

"You keep busy, you stay young," she noted.

Meals on Wheels co-ordinator Caroline Rooney said Meals on Wheels depends on a core team of helpers to deliver the food from door to door.

"We're always looking for volunteers," she said.

For more information about Meals on Wheels, call Nor-Dun at 613-774-6109.

Food programs need volunteers

WINCHESTER — Green food program organizers in Dundas County are looking for some help.

Green Food Box an "incredible success"

According to Meaghan Elder, the Township of North Dundas' community development programmer, the food program has been quite a hit. However, she's looking for some more volunteers.

"The Green Food Box Program has been such an incredible success since it was introduced last August," said Elder. "To date, we have sold approximately 635 bags."

Under the program, people pay $10/month to pick up a parcel of fruit and vegetables at the end of that month.

Because the township buys the food in bulk, it's cheaper for everyone who signs up. The program is open to everyone but is particularly helpful for low-income families whose cupboards might get a little bare near the end of the month.

The program was once called the Green Food Box Program, but has been rechristened the Green Food Bag Program because the township is trying to pack the food in reusable shopping bags instead of boxes.

"The program is ... facing problems revolving around the Friday 5 to 7 pm pick-up time," said Elder. She said that for the next scheduled pick-up time on Fri., March 27, no volunteers have signed up to give away food.

Meanwhile, the Township of South Dundas is gearing up to launch its own green food program. The first pick-up is scheduled for Fri., April 31 at the Morrisburg Arena.

"We have some [volunteers], but we could always use more," said Louise Dimmick, recreation program co-ordinator for the Township of South Dundas.

For more information on the programs, contact Elder at 613-774-2105 or Dimmick at 613-543-3733.

Do your planet, and pocketbook, a favour

This Saturday will mark the third annual Earth Hour. This worldwide campaign encourages businesses, municipalities, and everyday people to turn off their non-essential lighting from 8:30 to 9:30 pm, local time. Pioneered in Sydney, Australia in 2007, the event made its global debut the following year. The slick, well-publicized campaign attracted both average Joes and big-name corporations, with the likes of McDonald's and Coca-Cola jumping on board. Iconic landmarks around the world also had their lighting turned off, including the Empire State Building in New York City, the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, the Sydney Opera House in Australia, and Canada's own CN Tower in Toronto. Even search engine Google symbolically darkened its traditional white background and posted the message, "We've turned the lights out. Now it's your turn."

Like any positive initiative, Earth Hour has its detractors. Its most vocal critics are pundits who have built their careers by making provocative and offensive statements. (Climate change skeptic Tim Blair even created Hour of Power, where he encouraged people to turn on every light and appliance in the house during Earth Hour.)

The more reasonable skeptics point out that a one-day, one-hour reduction in energy use — even a global one — will have a negligible impact on the environment. Celebrating Earth Hour once a week, or once a day, might make a difference.

Locally, we have an initiative that might even get an approving nod from the most die-hard skeptics. The Township of South Stormont started the Kilowatt Countdown Challenge last year, and is running a similar program again for 2009. According to organizers, participating municipalities saved 1,000,000 kilowatts from January to March 2008, compared to the previous year (after the numbers were adjusted for temperature change). Again in 2009, South Stormont encouraged several local municipalities — including North and South Dundas — to reduce their energy consumption during February and March.

You can make the argument that campaigns like the Kilowatt Countdown Challenge and Earth Hour actually do have a tangible impact — on your bottom line. Turning off all your lights for one hour might not mean big savings. But by actively seeking out non-essential electrical items in your home or business, you might start thinking critically about how much energy (and money) you're wasting every day.

The Township of South Stormont has more than 200 energy-saving tips posted on its website. Some are unlikely to catch on (one tip suggests turning your shower off between soaping and rinsing). But many suggestions are interesting and useful. (For example, installing low-flow showerheads can reduce water consumption by as much as 50 per cent.) Implementing a few of these energy-saving tips can help both the environment and your bank account. For more information, check out www.southstormont.ca.

Juggleknots did his best to hold the attention of these children at the Lions Hall in Winchester. Magic tricks amused a room of restless students enjoying their first day of March break in 1989.

Remember when...

1929

Chiropractor Stewart Ford wanted people to know that a headache is "a timely warning. It is a danger signal, indicating that your stomach, kidneys, liver, bowels or some organ is in trouble and needs immediate attention. Heed this important warning by taking chiropractic adjustments."

1939

Local General Motors agent Hart Melvin announced he was opening the "new, modern service station" in town. The station was to be built on the former Bailey Garage grounds, which a fire destroyed two years before. The new facility was to be outfitted to service all makes and models of cars and trucks.

1949

The local 100 Club hosted about 45 guests at the regular luncheon meeting, held at the Golden Pheasant Steak House. During the meeting, the group decided to entertain local hockey teams at the next meeting.

1959

The municipal council of Winchester gave the third and final reading to a by-law that would allow the Lakeland Natural Gas Company to serve the village. Finalizing the bylaw would allow the company to lay gas mains and comply with a contract to have the service in place for Ault Foods by May 1.

1969

Constable H.J. Merkley, a five-year veteran of the Winchester police force, was promoted to the rank of corporal and transferred to the OPP detachment in Kemptville.

1979

Town council decided to raise the hydro rates by an average of 11.1 per cent. However, even with the increase, Winchester residents would still have one of the lowest rates in the area.

Enrolment in secondary schools in Dundas County was expected to drop by about 20 per cent over the following five years, according to a report tabled by the South Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education.

Fire destroyed an Elma couple's residence when high winds fanned smoldering coals into open flames, setting fire to the front porch of the house. With the fire raging on, 14 Williamsburg firefighters were kept busy for nearly eight hours.

The Valu-Mart of Winchester was forced to remove about $600 worth of grapes, nectarines, plums, and honey dew melons from their shelves as part of a federal government order that demanded all fresh fruit and vegetables from Chile be recalled. The order was issued March 13 after U.S. Inspectors in Philadelphia found two red seedless grapes had been injected with small amounts of cyanide.

Working daily to help cancer patients

by Cindy Kerkhof

Meet the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Heelers

"On a daily basis, I see many people who are now able to receive their chemotherapy treatment here, in their community."

WINCHESTER — My name is Cindy Kerkhof, and I work at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital as a pharmacy technician. In my job, I prepare the chemotherapy that is used to treat cancer patients in the Brian Hough unit at the hospital. On a daily basis, I see many people who are now able to receive their chemotherapy treatment here, in their community, where previously they had to travel to Ottawa for treatment.

Because of events like the Weekend to End Breast Cancer, money is being routed directly back into our community to help fund the care — and hopefully the cure — of people living with this disease. This is my first year walking with the Winchester Hospital Heelers.

I have heard many stories about how hard and challenging it is to walk 60 kilometres and how painful it can be (mostly blisters and cramped muscles, plus a few other unmentionables). I have also heard many wonderful stories about the people who participate and the camaraderie and companionship that develops between the team members over the course of the fundraising activities and the weekend itself. The team doesn't just show up to walk on June 5 and 6; there's much more to it than that! Each member is actively working to raise the donations needed to participate ($2,000 to participate in the traditional two-day event, and $1,250 to participate in the new one-day event) — and we just had our first team training circuit to help us get ready to walk 60 kilometres. You have also no doubt heard about the many fundraising events that are taking place over the next few months. The money raised at these events goes toward ensuring every team member reaches their individual fundraising goal and the entire team collects $75,000.

I anticipate that this will be a very challenging, but also very rewarding, experience for me. I am looking forward to the weekend, and I am very proud to be able to participate in this event with the Hospital Heelers. Thanks to everyone and anyone who contributes to our team's success.

Note: Tickets are still available for our second annual Tastes and Talents event at Winchelsea Farm on Fri., March 27, 6 to 10 pm. For more information or to purchase a ticket, please contact any Winchester Hospital Heeler or call 613-774-2422, ext. 6169.

Letter to the Editor

Hockey picture upsets reader

The Editor:

Not only is the picture of CBC's coverage of the South Dundas Lions bantam girls hockey team (page 6, March 18 edition) a poor picture that doesn't show the entire team, but it would have been nice if you had bothered to get the names of "some girls from Winchester?" Even better, you could have named the whole team. The Morrisburg Leader did an excellent job of covering the event, and only some of the girls are from Morrisburg!

Greely Village Centre to have fall start

by Steph Willems

GREELY — Despite its growing population and many subdivisions, Greely doesn't have a commercial core.

However, a local developer aims to change that. Dan Anderson, president of Sunset Lakes Development Corporation, announced that his company has purchased 110 acres at the intersection of Parkway Road and Highway 31 (behind the Greely Animal Hospital) that he plans to turn into a mixture of residential and commercial development.

The city's Agricultural and Rural Affairs Committee approved the Greely Village Centre proposal on Thurs., Feb. 26, paving the way for construction to begin in the fall.

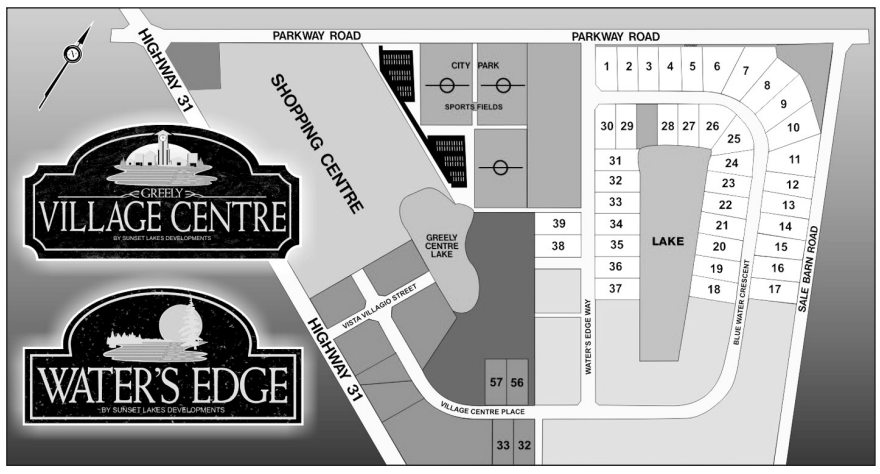
Anderson's company has developed 600 properties in Greely in the last 10 years. Back in the late 1990s, the original 20-acre parcel of land was zoned for a commercial centre, but nothing came of it. The same goes for a community design plan created by the city a few years later.

"It looks like we have virtually all approvals in line, and we're going ahead," said Anderson, who mentioned that having a variety of retail stores totalling over 100,000 square feet was more fitting for a village like Greely. "Rather than put up a big box store, we set out to come up with the best village centre we could."

Unlike many plans for subdivisions in rural areas, this proposal had community support behind it. Anderson worked closely with community associations during the four years of planning that culminated at the ARAC meeting.

The development consists of several parts, said Anderson. The first is a 60-lot Sunset Lakes-style subdivision, dubbed Water's Edge, with man-made lakes and common amenities like walking trails and tennis courts. The lakes have already been dug at the location.

While the planning act calls for developers to set aside five per cent of their total land for parkland and green space, this development will see 25 per cent of its total space turned into recreational land. There will be eight or nine acres of lake, as well as 14 acres set aside for the city to build sports fields.



The City of Ottawa has approved the development of this lot, located at the intersection of Parkway Road and Highway 31 behind the Greely Animal Hospital.

"We could get five regulation-sized soccer fields on that land," said Anderson. 'It's very well located."

There will be 10 acres for a community swimming pool, tennis court, and arena, as well as two or three acres of private open space for homeowners. It's the type of lifestyle people have come to expect from Anderson's company.

"It [has] the benefits of the cottage lifestyle, but you're no further from downtown than Orleans or Kanata," said Anderson. "The rural area is a different development environment. The community elements are respected when you develop in a rural area. We don't feel the pressure to develop without aesthetics."

On the original 20-acre shopping centre site, Anderson wanted to create a Main Street-style look and feel to the design. There will be at least eight buildings fronting the loop road, which runs into the residential section. There will also be 28 acres reserved for an office park or a village campus.

"There's a broad, village centre zoning on it," said Anderson. "We can put townhomes, low-rise buildings, and a wide array of commercial offices on it. It's like a real village commercial district, not like a suburban one."

The architecture of the buildings will be reviewed so that they remain aesthetically pleasing. Anderson said he hopes Greely will become like Manotick, which has a public pool, sports fields, arena, and tennis court for its residents to enjoy.

"We're contacting businesses about locating into the centre ... everyone who might be interested in servicing the Greely area," said Anderson. "Now's the time to start talking with us … I would like to see a grocery store if the time is right, and we may pursue putting together a butcher/baker/vegetable component into a community-use building, kind of like a market with smaller retailers. A key spot in the development is reserved for this use, but as of right now we don't have an anchor signed."

Anderson said heavy traffic on Highway 31 flows right past the future stores.

"The shared amenities like lakes, trails, and green space is all looked after by owners," said Anderson. "There's no waiting for city maintenance, and it creates a real community environment. There's a $300 a year owner levy that takes care of it. Everyone aspires to live in a village, and people coming out from the urban area are surprised how affordable these lots are."

Epilepsy 'in the dark for so long'

Awareness dinner, silent auction in Metcalfe raises $2,000

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

METCALFE — The Metcalfe Lions' Den was a sea of purple on Fri., March 20. The official colour of epilepsy was everywhere — the tablecloths, balloons, and streamers were all purple, and many people who attended Friday's fundraising dinner and silent auction donned the pastel hue to show their support.

Metcalfe resident Mallory Allan also wore purple to the event, which raised $2,000 for Epilepsy Ottawa-Carleton. But the 23-year-old was, perhaps, a bit better acquainted with the disorder than most of the people in the room — she was diagnosed with epilepsy at the age of 10.

Allan spoke to the crowd, encouraging everyone to get informed about the disorder which affects an estimated 50 million people worldwide.

"Epilepsy has been in the dark for so long," said Allan. "I think if people understood epilepsy more, they wouldn't be so afraid of it."

Epilepsy is a chronic neurological disorder, which is characterized by seizures and brought on by a recurring electrical disturbance in the brain. Common causes can include brain chemistry problems, other disorders, head injuries, pre-natal injuries, or environmental causes (such as a lack of sleep, stress, use of street drugs, or exposure to chemicals like lead).

Kevin Drysdale of Epilepsy Ottawa-Carleton explained that there are many types of seizures, which fall into two categories: partial seizures and generalized seizures.

The most dramatic type is the grand mal ("big sickness"), or tonic-clonic. Typically, during a grand mal episode, the sufferer's muscles will go rigid. After about 30 seconds, the muscles may go rigid and relax in spasms, causing convulsions. The sufferer might lose bladder and bowel control.

"Remain calm, protect the person from nearby hazards, remove tight clothing from around the neck, and protect the head from injury," advised Drysdale.

He added that often, seizures are not life-threatening. People should follow the "three Rs" — recognize the problem, respond to the seizure, and respect the individual dealing with epilepsy.

He pointed out that many famous, successful individuals have followed their dreams in spite of their epilepsy, like Canadian musician Neil Young and American actor Danny Glover.

"It's certainly not a barrier to achievement," said Drysdale.

Several guest speakers delivered speeches throughout the evening, including Lise-Marie Andrews, who also has epilepsy. Andrews marvelled at how many people came out to support or volunteer for the dinner.

"It's amazing what ... a little community put together," she said.

Donna Allan, Mallory's mom, and Betty Johnson of Chapter 50 of the Eastern Star helped co-ordinate Friday's event.

Donna Allan became a bit choked up near the end of the evening.

"Everybody wanted to jump in and help," she said.

Purple Day, a global epilepsy awareness campaign, will take place on Thurs., March 26. For more information, visit www.purpleday.org.

The Osgoode Township Historical Society and Museum hosted the event for students during the March break. The children couldn't exactly try out their creations right away (as this year's snow has already melted), but their snowshoes will be ready to use next winter. Instructor James Krause (above left) taught students like Elliot Holmes about drilling safety.

Hop into Easter

With Easter approaching, the Metcalfe Community Centre put on an Easter Bunny Breakfast and Silent Auction on Sat., March 21 to raise funds for the Metcalfe Cooperative Nursery School. The Cowguy (above left), was on hand to entertain the children and their parents, as well as get the little ones involved in his act. Austin Badham fell victim to his tricks, as he nearly got his finger stuck up the Cowguy's nose.

The Easter Bunny also made an appearance during the event to hand out chocolate eggs. Diego Justice (above left), Emma Rochon and her grandmother, Cheryl Rochon, decided to greet the oversized rabbit. A crafts table was set up with different coloured paper and ribbons, as well as small baskets for the children to decorate. Emily Biemond (left) created a basket to take home with her.

Dim down for Earth Hour on Saturday

METCALFE — The City of Ottawa is proud to support Earth Hour and is asking all residents to turn off their lights on Sat., March 28 from 8:30 to 9:30 pm.

The World Wildlife Fund in Sydney, Australia initiated Earth Hour in 2007. The campaign encourages individuals and businesses to join together to demonstrate the potential for action on climate change initiatives. Through their participation, individuals can understand that it's possible to make a real difference and help the environment.

This year, organizers hope to reach one billion people in more than 1,000 cities around the world.

"Be reminded that 60 minutes of awareness will go a long way to demonstrating how each one of us can make a difference to the future of our environment," said City of Ottawa Mayor Larry O'Brien. "We cannot afford to ignore this global call to action, and I encourage every person, business, government, school and organization to participate."

Star struck

World champion figure skater Donald Jackson posed for photos and signed autographs at Winchester Skating Club's annual competition on Saturday (March 21). Jackson, who is currently the executive director of skating and a coach at the Minto Skating Club in Ottawa, was at the Winchester Arena with skaters from his home club. Jackson, who captured four Canadian titles between 1959-1962 and a bronze medal at the 1960 Winter Olympics, made history at the 1962 World Figure Skating Championships when he landed the first triple lutz jump in international competition to win the title. Pictured with Jackson are Winchester Skating Club members Victoria Gibson-Crowder (left) and Kiersti McMillan, who were volunteering at the competition.

Highway 43 Cup

That one-game showdown with the North Grenville Industrial Hockey League titlists is will be played in Kemptville on Fri., April 3. The Melvin Cup-WTHL champions have won the first two instalments of the Highway 43 Cup and this year's representatives will be looking to make it a three-repeat in the 9 pm contest. Number two-ranked Export (13-6-0) is currently playing the sixth-place Canadians (4-14-1) in the best-of-three championship series. Export posted a 4-2 win in game one on March 18 and could wrap up the title with a win in game two tonight (Wed., March 25).

Final game

The Whitetail Construction crew scored a dramatic 5-4 victory in the third period of overtime in game two (March 10) to tie the final set at 1-1 and set up the third and final meeting on St. Patty's Day.

The number-four ranked Whitetails (7-13-0) jumped into a 3-2 first-half lead on the second-place Flyers (11-8-1) but couldn't manage another goal against winning 'tender Chris Currie and absorbed a 6-3 loss.

Travis "Toast" Armstrong put the Flyers into an early 1-0 lead scoring from Kelly "Rubber" Beckstead at 19:30 of the first half. Barret Brundige got the Whitetails back on even terms when he connected after taking a feed from John Guy and Ryan Thompson at 14:11. Justin "The Miracle" Morozuk restored the Flyers' lead when he finished a play started by Trevor Gilmer and Spencer Dawson with 8:11 left in the session. The next two tallies belonged to the Whitetails. Jon Nadobny tied it after taking a pass from Sheldon Myers and Steve Mattice at the 6:36 mark, and Guy gave his team a 3-2 lead when he tipped in a short shot set up by Al Christophersen and Thompson 1:18 before the half.

Flyers soar

Armstrong knotted the count at 3-3 when he fired a Gilmer relay into Jesse Whyte's cage at 17:10 of the second half that featured four unanswered goals by the Flyers.

Time had wound down to 7:40 when Gilmer whistled in a 15-foot shot after taking a feed from Armstrong and handed his team a 4-3 lead. Morozuk and Matt Van Delst engineered the play when Gilmer cracked in the insurance goal (5-3) 50 seconds later. An empty net marker by Morozuk sealed the deal 24 seconds before the final buzzer.

The Flyers dispatched the third-place Papa Gus Wings (8-10-2) in two straight semi-final games and then posted a 5-3 win over the Whitetails in game one of the title round. The Whitetails, who knocked the first-place Allied Associates (12-7-1) in two straight semi-final games, registered a 5-4 win in the third period of OT to set the stage for the third and final Melvin Cup match up.

Glenmore, Cityview rinks win Beckinsale Memorial trophies

WINCHESTER — A dozen teams from around the region took part in the 2009 Winchester Curling Club's bantam mixed bonspiel.

Six rinks competed in the recreational division and the other six in the competitive bracket. At stake were the Dave Beckinsale Memorial Recreation and Competitive trophies. Louise Beckinsale was on hand at the conclusion of Saturday's (March 21) event to present the prizes to Glenmore skip Daryl South for capturing the recreational award and competitive champion Ryan McCrady and his Cityview team.

The host Winchester club iced two entries this year. Skip Jacob Schoenfeld, third Letitia Alcock, second Rachel Gibson and lead Jamie Quinton curled on the recreation side while skip Jonathan Thompson, Brad Holmes, Alison Wheeler, and Sarah Churchill played in the competitive division.

Coach and event convenor Mandy Peddle reported the event went very well.

"Winchester didn't win but everyone had lots of fun," she said. "It was nice that Louise [Beckinsale] came out and presented the prizes."

Looking back

The Beckinsale Memorial trophies were introduced in 2004 and that year Brockville claimed the competitive and Huntley (Carp) the recreation titles.

The Winchester club has posted one win and that came in 2005 when Christina Lillico, Crystal Lillico, Zac Baker and Christian Mark combined to claim the recreational championship. Cityview emerged as the competitive winners.

The competitive winners since than have been — Manotick (06), Cityview (07), Cornwall (08) and Cityview (09).

The recreation winners since then have been — Russell (05), Hawkesbury (07), Huntley (08) and Glenmore (09).

Last call

Pembroke skip Brandon Lyon (second, left) calls his last shot in a recreation game in the 2009 Winchester Curling Club's annual bantam mixed bonspiel on Saturday (March 21). The Winchester team of skip Jacob Schoenfeld (third, left), Letitia Alcock, Rachel Gibson and Jamie Quinton (right) had to watch while their fate was decided. Lyon drew his rock into the four foot, broke up a 5-5 tie and defeated Winchester 6-5.

Stink be gone!

Jason McDonald of Chesterville can sanitize and knock that nasty odour right out of your sports equipment. McDonald's new business, called Score Fresh Gear, utilizes ozone gas to kill the bacteria in all types of sports gear. He can bring his machine to the customer or do it at his residence in 24 hours. Photo - Barbour

Fresh solution for stinky sports gear

by Matt Barbour

CHESTERVILLE — "It's not your game that stinks — it's your gear!"

That is the slogan Jason McDonald has chosen for his new business.

Score Fresh Gear is one of the newest businesses in the Township of North Dundas, and McDonald plans to target people involved in competitive sports — especially hockey.

He recently acquired a machine that generates ozone gas and can clean sports protective equipment in as little as 20 minutes.

"It eliminates 99.9 per cent of bacteria, so it will disinfect and deodorize. Ozone is used in hospitals to sterilize their equipment and it's used in water treatment plants to clean the water before it's pumped back into the river," he said.

McDonald explained the unpleasant smell coming from sports equipment is the result of bacteria, adding that the strength of the smell indicates the amount of bacteria present.

He pointed out that people are more concerned about picking up infections these days.

"Just think about a pair of hockey gloves — if you get a little nick or scrape on your hand then put on your gloves, bacteria in there can get into your blood stream," he said.

McDonald explained that in addition to health issues, bacteria can also break down some fibres in equipment and cause it to rot. "I've had that experience where the bottoms of my skates have rotted out — it was the bacteria, just eating away at them. Ozone gas is 3,000 times more effective than bleach, but does not break down any of the fibres or other material. So, by cleaning equipment, you're actually prolonging its life," he said.

McDonald pointed out he can also clean football, lacrosse and motocross equipment, as well as toys, hunting equipment, boating life jackets and boat cushions.

He said that for now, he is working out of his home in Chesterville but explained that he can take his machine on the road. "If a team is interested, I'll trailer it to their location — if there's a whole hockey team with equipment that needs cleaning, I'll come right to the rink and do all of the equipment on site."

For a full set of hockey gear, McDonald's fee is set at $30 if it is done at his home. He said people can bring equipment to his residence, or leave it at a drop-off location that he hopes to organize in the near future. He expects he may have to add a few dollars to the fee for his mobile service to cover expenses. He guarantees a 24-hour turn-around.

Score Fresh Gear can be reached at 613-448-1918 or jasonm@freshgear.ca.

Minor Midget Demons cage Panthers 6-4

Exhibition game

KEMPTVILLE — The North Dundas Minor Midget "B" Demons cracked in four third-period goals and outlasted the Kemptville Panthers 6-4.

The host Panthers skated into a 2-0 first-period lead in the exhibition game played in Kemptville on March 22. It was 2-2 after two sessions but the Demons turned up the pressure in the third and prevailed by a 6-4 count.

The two squads will meet in another exhibition tilt at the Winchester Arena tomorrow night (Thurs., March 26) at 7:30 pm.

Derek Simms used a pass from Dylan Fawcett to get the Demons on the board at 13:14 of the second period. Adrian Lee capped a play started by Fawcett and captain Peter Klein-Swormink with 6:35 left in the same session.

Kemptville netted two early goals in the final frame but North Dundas rallied with four goals and sealed their victory.

Klein-Swormink hit for the opening marker after taking a relay from Lee at 25:23. Taylor Scheepers pegged the tying goal when he completed a play started by Ian Loggie at 16:15. The winning marker came off the stick of Brett Coburn with 14:02 on the clock. Lee and Simms engineered the play.

A goal recorded by Eric Prusila was registered with 7:49 on the clock and iced the North Dundas win. Brandon DeJong picked up an assist on the play.

Patrick Wright was the winning goaltender.

There isn't any snow to test the new snowshoes purchased for the Township of North Dundas Recreation Library, but the 50 pairs of personal winter transportation devices are now in stock and ready for next season. Winchester Home Hardware owner Ken Boje delivered the new snow shoes to Meaghan Elder, the township's community development programmer, last week (Thurs., March 19). Press Photo — Van Bridger

New equipment arrives at sports lending library

50 pairs of snowshoes ready for next winter

WINCHESTER — They arrived too late for use this season, if the current weather pattern holds, but the 50 pairs of snowshoes purchased for the Township of North Dundas Recreation Library will be ready for use next winter.

North Dundas community development programmer Meaghan Elder accepted delivery of the snowshoe shipment from Winchester Home Hardware owner Ken Boje last week (Thurs., March 19) and placed them in storage until the snow flies again.

Elder explained that the snowshoes are available on loan in two sizes — free of charge — to township residents.

"We had requests from Winchester and Maple Ridge Public Schools if snowshoes could be made available through the township because the schools couldn't afford to buy their own," explained Elder, who noted such purchases are made from local businesses.

The snowshoes will be added to an inventory of winter sports equipment available through the township.

According to Elder, the Skate and Helmet Lending Libraries introduced this year and located at the Chesterville and Winchester arenas have been a success.

"We have had a tremendous response," she said. "I have heard nothing but good things from the users."

Now that the Upper Canada District School Board requires students to wear helmets while skating, Elder suspects the township will have to purchase more in the future.

Summer season

The township has been working in partnership with local businesses to purchase recreation equipment for the summer season such as camping tents, coolers, nets, balls life jackets, water toys, bicycles, helmets baseball gloves and sticks, just to name a few items.

All new borrowers are asked to apply for a membership account when they make their first loan request. The equipment will be signed out and signed back in by a township employee. The program is geared toward all individuals, families, community groups, schools, churches, clubs and teams located in North Dundas.

For more information and a detailed list of Recreation Library items available for loan, visit the recreation and culture website at north.dundas.com or contact Elder at 613-774-2105 ext. 236 or melder@northdundas.com.

Rockland tourney

Bantam House "B" Demons snag silver in tournament

ROCKLAND — The South Stormont No. One Selects had the North Dundas Bantam House "B" Demons number. Twice during the Rockland Minor Hockey Tournament the Selects met the Demons and twice they were able to record a victory.

The two Upper Canada Minor Hockey League squads clashed on opening day (March 20) in Rockland and the Selects booked a 3-1 decision. They hooked up again in the title match on March 22 and South Stormont rode a pair of first-period goals to a 2-1 gold-medal win.

"The boys tried their best to win their last game of the season," explained coach Gary Embury. "We pulled our goalie (Cam Hunt) with 1:15 left on the clock with the face-off in their end. We got control of the puck and Craig (Christophersen) hit both goal posts — that's hockey."

Embury noted that the team competed in four tournaments this season, made the "A" final in all four and claimed two championships and two runner-up trophies.

The Demons finished the regular season in third place in the UCMHL standings with a 17-7-4 record but were eliminated by the undefeated and number-one ranked South Dundas Lions (28-0-0) 4-3 in their sudden-death semi-final game on March 8.

Overall it was a great year," added the coach.

Tourney tales

The South Stormont No. One Selects received a solid effort from goaltender Eric Mantha as they knocked off North Dundas 3-1 in the opening round of the Rockland tournament. Will Burgess pegged an unassisted goal with 3:18 left in period two to account for the North Dundas goal.

The Selects led 1-0 after a period and salted the win away on third-period goals by Bradley Walker and Matthew Bryan. Demons 'tender Ryan Embury suffered the loss.

Seven different shooters hit the target in game two as the Demons blasted the No. Two South Stormont Selects 7-2.

Zach Sloane netted the Demons' first-period goal. Captain Kirk Gibson and Will Burgess nailed second-period tallies. Andrew Findlay, Evan Durant, Christophersen and Alex Porteous were the third-period marksmen. Dan McSheffery (2), Brody Collins (2), Porteous (2), Durant (2), Burgess, Gibson and Findlay all picked up helper points. Hunt posted the win.

North Dundas hammered the Alexandria Glens 7-4 in semi-final action on March 21 and qualified for the final round.

Once again the offence was well distributed as shots fired by Gibson, Burgess, Sloane, Christophersen, Porteous, Collins and Durant struck string. Durant (2), Frisco MacMillan, Dylan Sosnowsky, Mason Steele, Gibson, Christophersen, and Collins provided the passes. Hunt and Embury shared the netminding duties.

Title tilt

Walker scored at 6:33 and James MacDonell found the mark in the back of Hunt's net at 5:24 of the first period. Those were the only two shots to elude the Demon 'tender in the title match but the No. One Selects used them to post a 2-1 championship decision over North Dundas.

Findlay buried a relay sent to him by Collins with 9:30 left in period two but that was the only puck the Demons put behind Selects netminder Mantha.

In Memoriam

SARGENT – In loving memory of a dear father, James, who passed away March 26, 2003.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone.
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Like ivy on the withered oak
When all other things decay,
Our love for him will still keep green
And never fade away.
– Forever in our hearts,
– Carol and Lorna

JOHNSTON – In loving memory of a loving husband, father and grandfather, Ferneley, who passed away March 31, 2007.
Sad are the hearts that love you,
Silent the tears that fall.
Living our lives without you
Is the hardest part of all.
You did so many things for us
Your heart was kind and true.
When we needed someone
We could always count on you.
Our family chain is broken
And nothing is the same
But as God calls us one by one
The chain will link again.
– Lovingly remembered by wife Marion and family

JOHNSTON – In loving memory of a dear grandfather and great-grandfather, Ferneley, who passed away March 31, 2007.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
– Forever in our hearts,
– Wendy and Sawyer 2

In Memoriam

VAN BRIDGER – In loving memory of our loving parents and grandparents Edward, who passed away March 28, 1999 and Jean, December 25, 2003.
You worked so hard for many years
With just one thought in mind.
To help your family as they grow
The best of life to find.
We often said we'd miss you
These words have proven true,
For now when worries trouble us
We cannot turn to you.
– Always lovingly remembered by your children, John, Don, Karen, Mary and our families

MARRINER – In loving memory of a dear husband, father and Pappy, Glen, who passed away March 21, 2007.
Gone are the days we used to share
But in our hearts you are always there.
The gates of memory will never close
We miss you more than anyone knows.
We see you in the morning sun
And in the sparkling snow.
We hear your laughter in the rain
And every where we go.
When the pain of losing you
Comes back and makes us sad
We thank the Lord for giving us
The marvelous years we had.
With tender love and deep regret
We who love you will never forget.
– Always loved and sadly missed
– Deb, Krista and Jaede; Kyle and Joan and the Marriner and Garand Families

Thank You

We would like to take this opportunity to thank our amazing families and friends for their tremendous love and support during the sudden loss of our beloved Marc.

Words cannot express the gratitude to those who sent cards, floral tributes, memorial donations, food brought to our homes and the many phone calls of encouragement.

Special thanks to the Williamsburg Fire Department, Dr. Burke and the emergency staff at the Winchester Hospital. Your professionalism and compassion meant a great deal to us.

Thank you to Rev. Blair Paterson for his special tribute to Marc. Also to Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home, especially Dave Lapier, you truly are an amazing person; to the Odd Fellows for the use of the IOOF hall and the ladies who served the lunch after the service.

Your kindness and thoughtfulness will be remembered always.

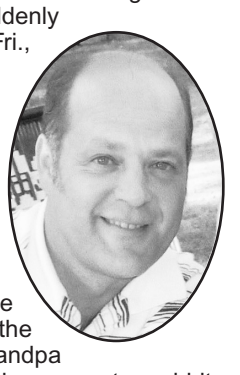
Marc Baldwin



David "Marc" Baldwin, a resident of the Williamsburg area for the past 28 years, passed away suddenly due to a massive heart attack on Fri., March 6, 2009. He was 44.

Marc was born in Winchester on April 4, 1964 to his parents, David and Judy Baldwin (nee Cinnamon).

From an early age Marc displayed a zest for life, especially for the many cars he owned. Marc also had an uncanny ability for fixing anything and everything. When someone needed something fixed Marc was always there to get it done. He loved animals and the farm. He had a small barn that his Grandpa Baldwin gave him. He kept his chickens, goats, rabbits, ducks, a horse, and even a pig that Mom didn't know about. Farming continued to be a passion of his as he later bought a farm on Tollgate Road. He owned a team of horses, Jacques and Pearl, which he hooked up to his buggy or sleigh and enjoyed rides through the country and town. He enjoyed working the land with his good friend "Whit".

Marc started working at Kehoe's garage in 1979 on weekends and summer holidays. He would pump gas, change tires, and help the mechanics (Bob Darrach and Dave MacIntosh). Brother Marty joined Marc and worked there for five years. Marc started his apprenticeship when he was 16 and completed it at age 21. He worked alongside Bob until 1985 when Bob took over the garage. Bob, Marc and Marty always played pranks on each other. There was never a dull moment there. In 1992 Marc started working at LMS Motors for Bill Smith. During his time there he met many customers that enjoyed his contagious smile, laugh, jokes, and great stories. Customers even travelled from Stittsville to have their cars repaired by only him. Five years later his sister Jaime came to work with him. They called themselves the pit crew. There was always someone dropping in at the garage just to say "hello".

Marc was a fun loving, caring person who lived everyday to its fullest. He had a nickname for everyone. Marc, Marty, and Rhonda were known as the three musketeers. Marc and Kurtis compared notes about their blue trucks (they certainly weren't Fords). Marc cherished his daughters. He loved his family with all his heart.

Marc is survived by his companion Jennifer Smades and her sons, Michael and Dominic, his daughters Brittany Baldwin, Marcie Baldwin, and Miranda Deschamps, his parents Judy Cinnamon (Reg Cayer) of Cornwall and Dave Baldwin (Barb Van Bridger) of South Mountain, and his siblings, Marty (Linda Prevost) of Mountain, Rhonda (Jerrold) Boulanger of Winchester, Jaime Baldwin of Williamsburg, and Kurtis Cayer of Cornwall. He was the maternal grandson of Myrna Cinnamon of Winchester, and paternal grandson of Jean Baldwin of Inkerman. Marc will be sadly missed by Nanny Judy. He was a dear uncle of Beau, Cashelle, Walker, Brodie, Cinnamon and Dakota.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on Mon., March 9. The funeral service was held at the funeral home on Tues., March 10 with Rev. Blair Patterson officiating, followed by interment at New Union Cemetery in Williamsburg. The pallbearers were Marty Baldwin, Bill Smith, Lyle Kehoe, Bob Darrach, Brian Whitteker, Hugh Garlough, Gord Ramsay, and Larry Whitteker.

Donations to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be appreciated by the family.

Thank You

Words are not enough to express our thanks. To Nancy, Julie, Donnie and Ellyn, Aunt Marj and UC for your loving support and endless strength. To everyone who sent cards or food and those who called and visited. To Dave Lapier and Lyal Kehoe, Bob Darrach, Marc's pallbearers and to Rev. Blair. To Big Whit for helping us with SO much and taking good care of Jock and Pearl. We don't know what we'd do without you. And to Bill and Bev, RJ Markell, Grandpa Sam, Bob Schell and Fireball for standing by us this past week. We are forever grateful for all of our families, friends, colleagues and customers during this hard time.

Jaime Baldwin and Family

IN MEMORIAM

THOMPSON – In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Tracy Dawn, who passed away suddenly March 23, 1979 at the age of seventeen. Our hearts were broken thirty years ago.

There is a bridge of memory,
From earth to heaven above,
It keeps you always near us,
It's called the bridge of love.
May you always walk in sunshine,
And God's love around you flow,
For the happiness you gave us, dear,
No one will ever know.

Loved and remembered each day.
Till we meet again.
Mom, Dad, Brothers and Sisters

Thank You

The family of the late Mary E. Madden would like to thank all those who supported us during Mary's illness and passing. The hospital visits, the phone calls, the food (often mysteriously arriving), the offers of rides for Howard to the hospital, to Cousin Perry for always being available, for plowed driveways, garbage cans brought in from the road, fixed sump pumps, for help with arrangements, and the streams of people who came from near and far to remind us we were not alone in our grief. Thank you to all those who sent flowers, made memorial donations and sent condolences. Thank you to Rev. Samer Kandalaft for the visits, support and beautiful service on March 16; and to Aunt Muriel and the ladies of Heckston United Church for the lovely lunch. To Dr. Adamson and the team at WDMH long-term care unit, words aren't enough to express our appreciation.

–Howard, Brian, Margaret and Grace Madden
