METCALFE CHILD RECOVERING FROM BURNS

Keith Craig, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Craig, Metcalfe, is recovering in the Ottawa Civic Hospital from burns received during tthe burning of weeds on a piece of ground adjoining the Craig farm, last week. Keith received burns to his left leg and thigh and from the chest down. He was rushed home by car by his cousin, Eldon, and treated by Dr. J. C. Byers, and later taken to the Ottawa Civic Hospital, where he is still a patient.

FREELAND—HUNT

Glebe United Church, Ottawa, was the scene for a pretty wedding of midsummer on Saturday afternoon when Audrey Brenda Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Septimus Hunt, of Ottawa, became the bride of Edward Carl Freeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen Freeland, of Winchester. Rev. Frank P. Fidler officiated.

Pastel-shaded gladioli decorated the church for the ceremony. Wedding music was played by H. Bramwell Bailey, and Miss Jessie Arch was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. H. M. Campbell. Mr. Edwin Boyd, of Winchester, was best man, and the ushers were the bride's brothers, Messrs. Norris and Roscoe Hunt.

The bride chose a floor length gown of white nylon designed with a wide lace collar and shoulder neckline, tiny puffed sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt, with lace insertions. Completing her ensemble, she wore a fingertip veil, lace mittens, and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white roses, orchid-colored gladioli blooms and stephanotis.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and later the couple left for a wedding trip to the Bay of Quinte. Travelling, the bride wore a two-piece navy silk crepe dress, with matching accessories, and a corsage bouquet of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeland will live in Ottawa.

Guests from out-of-town included Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Campbell, of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Freeland, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Freeland, Mr. Earl Freeland and Mr. Edwin Boyd, all of Winchester, and Miss Jean McCallum, of Montreal.

Shown in the above picture is the new Pavilion at the 100 Club Community Park, which will be officially opened on Wednesday, September 15th. A portion of the front driveway and the softball diamond are also visible in the picture, as well as some of the beautiful trees which surround the park. This engraving was reproduced from a fine gloss picture taken by our local photographer, Reg Finnemore. If you would like a copy of the original which is 8x10 inches and as clear as crystal, get in touch with Mr. Finnemore and he will supply you with one at a moderate cost.

Plans for the official opening of the Park on September 15th are progressing steadily. During the afternoon there will be a big parade of floats, decorated cars, etc.; a Softball Game between Chesterville Rotary Club and Winchester 100 Club; addresses by prominent speakers, Bingo and other games.

The evening program will consist of a Softball Game between Inkerman and Winchester, and a Dance in the Pavilion with Johnston's Orchestra, of Kemptville, providing the music. Bingo and other games will also be in progress.

Peanut Day To Be Featured.

Held in conjunction with the Opening of the Park will be "Planters Peanut Day." The beautiful Planters' Peanut Float will be here and will be graced by "Miss Winchester" who will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Peanut during the parade. There will be a loud-speaker on the float and also some entertainers. (Watch next week's Press for a picture of the Planters' "Peanut Float.)

The idea of Peanut Day is to raise money by distributing peanuts for cash donations. The donations are from 5 cents up. Give generously for your bag of Tasty Planters' Peanuts to support the 100 Club Park Fund. Your dimes, quarters and dollars are needed to expand the Park Grounds and for maintenance work. The Park is a credit to Winchester, so show your appreciation by attending the Official Opening and patronizing the Peanut Canvassers. Further details will be published later. In the meantime, reserve September 15th for a day and night of Fun and Entertainment.

Mountain Man Injured In Highway Accident

Wesley Hoy, 67, of R. R. 2, Mountain, suffered two broken ribs and abrasions to the face and hands shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday evening when the auto he was driving was in a collision with a second car at the intersection of the old Prescott road and Dalmeny road, about three miles east of Osgoode.

Damage totalling $1,050 was caused in the collision between the Hoy vehicle and the second machine, driven by John M. Ferguson, 212 Flora St., Ottawa.

Police said Ferguson's car, westbound on the Prescott road, toppled over two or three times after the impact, but Ferguson was able to crawl to safety out the rear trunk, suffering only from shock.

Hoy, who was proceeding south on the Dalmeny road, was treated by Dr. J. C. Byers, of Metcalfe.

Damage to the Ferguson car was estimated at $700, and to the Hoy car at $350. Provincial Constable Chris Doherty is continuing an investigation of the accident.

In the first game of the Ottawa and District Softball Playdowns, played at the Community Park, South Mountain, last Friday evening, Goldfield, champions of the Stormont League, were defeated by the Dundas County Champs. by a score of 7-6. The game was tied up until the final inning when Bert Locke knocked a home-run to give the South Mountain team its margin of victory.

On Monday night the second game of the series was played at Goldfield, with South Mountain dropping the decision to their opponents by a 4-1 score. This tied the series up. The winners of the third game, which was played last night at Goldfield, will be winners of the best of three series.

Vernon W. I. Will Furnish Hospital Room As Memorial

The Vernon Women's Institute, with the help of the people of the Vernon district, are planning to furnish a room in the Winchester District Memorial Hospital in memory of the Vernon boys who gave their lives, and also the boys who gave their services in the Secnod World War.

No doubt every citizen would welcome an opportunity to honor these boys, and it has been decided to make a canvass for funds during the week of August 29th to September 4th.

The following men have kindly consented to conduct the canvass in their district: Messrs. Duff Crerar, John Porteous, Wilfred Porteous, Stewart Fisher, John Kennedy and Wallace Bowman.

The canvassers would greatly appreciate it if the citizens in their districts would have their contributions ready when they call.

The Vernon Women's Institute feel that a ward in the Winchester District Memorial Hospital, dedicated to the boys from the Vernon district who "paid the supreme sacrifice," and those who served in the Armed Forces during the last World War, would be an appropriate way of remembering them and would also serve as a fitting memorial to those brave lads who laid down their lives for King and Country. A suitable plaque will be displayed in the ward for all who visit the hospital to see.

Residents of the Vernon district are urged to donate generously to this cause, so that the objective can be reached without delay. Be ready for the canvasser when he calls.

Two Young People Taken To Hospital Following Car Crash

When the automobile in which they were riding, crashed into a culvert on Highway 31, about nine miles South of Ottawa early last Sunday morning, Robert Poole, of Harmony, driver of the car, and Miss Doreen Campbell, of Chesterville, received injuries which required hospital treatment. Miss Campbell suffered a fractured left leg and multiple head injuries, while Mr. Poole received lacerations about the face and head. Mr. Ray Cooke, of Cass Bridge, and Miss Shirley Logan, of Vernon, also passengers in the car, escaped with minor injuries. Damage to the automobile was estimated at $600.00.

The injured occupants were taken to the hospital by the Exclusive Ambulance Service, of Ottawa.

Mr. Poole has since been released from the hospital.

The young epople were returning home from attending a function in Ottawa on Saturday evening, when the accident occurred. Police are investigating the cause of the crash.

A solo was rendered by Miss Jean Wilkes, accompanied by Mrs. G. D. Crerar.

Miss Acres was the recipient of a beautiful Cedar Chest and numerous other gifts, presented to her on behalf of her friends by Mrs. Fred Lewis and Miss Inez Acres. An accompanying address was read by Mrs. Keith Holmes.

The presentation of a special gift from the Ladies' Guild was made by Miss Thelma MacDonald.

The bride-to-be replied to the address and expressed her appreciation for the beautiful gifts, after which dainty refreshments were served. The tea table was decorated with a low bowl of cut flowers and was presided over by Mrs. G. G. Acres and Mrs. Dan Hill. Girl friends of Miss Acres assisted in serving.

COMMANDMENTS FOR PARENTS

Parents who have spent years telling their children what to do, suddenly waken to the not-too-pleasant truth that children have very definite ideas of the ways in which fathers and mothers should act. Directly, or indirectly, they tell their parents of their standards for them.

Teen-agers no longer accept their parents as they are, and consider them just right in the way a small child does. In every home where there is a high school son or daughter, there are points of conflict, or places where the ideas and ideals of two generations clash.

Some years ago a Youth Congress of 250 delegates, representing 176,000 adolescent school students approved a "Decalogue for Parents" which is worthy of careful reading. Here are pointers for any thoughtful mother or father—a yardstick to measure one's growth in the kind of parenthood many children desire.

Make a friend of your child; take him into your confidence; be his buddy not his policeman. Remember you were a child yourself. Show your child the right way by example. Make him proud to be your offspring.

Make it your business to know the whereabouts of your child at all times, but don't allow him to feel "haunted."

If a child errs, it is chiefly because he has never been shown the right way; hence, don't punish him to excess, but show him where he has faltered. Show him the right way with kindness.

Disciplinary action should not be shifted from one parent to the other as exemplified by the commonly heard phrase, "Just wait 'till your father comes home." Threats of this nature soon become so weak that they go unheeded. The only accomplishment in making a statement of this sort is the child's loss of affection for his "discipline-parent," and a realization of the weakness of character in the other parent.

Don't give your child the impression that he is a nuisance when adults are present. Make him feel he is a vital member of his family unit and that you are counting on him to fulfill his obligations as such.

Keep the doors of your home open to your child's friends—make his home his castle.

Encourage church attendance. Here he will find many attractions awaiting him, such as clubs, parties—and at the same time he will acquire a code of morals and ethics which are extremely vital in regard to his present and future relations with people.

See that his energies are utilized in projects of high caliber. A busy child has no time for immoral practices.

HONEST AND UNSELFISH

Hon. John Bracken has done the simple, forthright and courageous thing. Realizing that both his age and his health were such that he could not give to the leadership of the Party the extra effort which he deems to be essential in these pre-election days, he has asked that a convention be called to accept his resignation and nominate a successor.

Mr Bracken's action is both unselfish and completely honest. It contrasts noticeably with the manner in which Mr. Mackenzie King has continued to cling to the leadership of the Liberals—and the important post of Prime Minister—despite his hints of the past two years that he intended to resign.

In calling for a national convention, Mr. Bracken has made one important point that the burden of leadership is great and that a younger man should be selected for this post.

This is in line with his thinking that our Party must stand for enterprise and opportunities for all; that it must serve the ambitions of youth; that it must contrast with the government by bureaucracy offered by the Liberals and the ready hand of state socialism extended by the C. C. F

Howard Green, M.P., chairman of our Party in British Columbia, epitomized what our supporters think when he said: "Mr. Bracken carried the heavy burdens of a party leader in an unselfish spirit, and his honest approach to public problems and his sincerity, have done much to raise the standard of public life in Canada."

All of us wish Mr. Bracken well; all of us wish him many more years of active life, rendered easier by the surrender of his burden, and all of us are happy to know that his interest in the Party's welfare will be as strong as ever, and that his sage advice will be available in the years to come.—(Public Opinion.)

THE ART OF RELAXATION

It occurred to us the other day that, when leisure struts in the front door of our existence, simple relaxation all too often slips quietly out by the back porch.

For many people in this leisure-conscious age, relaxation seems to be a lost art. By relaxation we mean that delicious, drowsy sense of idleness best known to a small boy when he lies under an apple tree, staring at the leaves and the bright sky beyond, half-minded to knock down a plump McIntosh, but unable to decide whether it's worth the effort.

Now in this era of instinctive haste, many of us feel a compulsion to be up and about in our spare time, improving our understanding of industrial disputes, ballooning prices, Communist coups and cold wars. When we're not solving the problems of the world we "relax" in a peculiar way—at a theatre while rival gangsters shoot it out on the screen, or at the stadium while rival teams slug it out on the diamond, or behind the wheel of a car at 60 miles an hour.

We admit, of course, that reading up the issue of the day is a sign of healthy citizenship, and we agree with the hoary saying that a change is as good as a rest. But wouldn't it be grand just to lie under that old apple tree again, with the long-lost laziness of boyhood—staring at the sky, completely relaxed, completely unconcerned.

AFTER HARVEST CULTIVATION IS VERY IMPORTANT

This is the season of the year when many farmers are giving attention to after-harvest cultivation. From the standpoint of weed control, says R. E. Goodin, fieldman of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, much can be accomplished, as cultivation during these summer days provides proper circumstances for weed seeds to sprout, and the young plants can be destroyed by minimum effort with mechanical equipment. Furthermore, roots of twitch grass, sow thistle and other perennial weeds can be brought to the surface for exposure to the drying effects of sun and wind.

After-harvest cultivation is also effective in putting the soil in good tilth for succeeding crops. Therefore, it is often the practice of progressive farmers to plow up old meadows, run-out pastures and fields that are not productive at this time of the year, after which these fields are given frequent cultviation and either seeded to fall crops or suitably prepared for the early seeding which gives maximum production during the next growing season.

Good farming practices, says Mr. Goodin, also include plowing under green manure crops to add organic matter, an important requisite of productive soil. Clover aftermath or buckwheat are often used for turning under during the late summer and fall months, while rye and sweet clover are often seeded, to be plowed under in the following spring.

A suitable crop rotation should not be overlooked, and it should be planned, keeping in mind a successful, long-range crop production programme, in order to (1) maintain the organic matter supply. (2) restore nitrogen. (3) alternate crops having different root systems and habits of growth. (4) help control weeds, plant diseases and insects. (5) aid in distributing the labour requirements throughout the growing season.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is estimated that a thousand men and women will graduate from Canadian agricultural colleges next year. That should relieve the farm labor shortage, or will it?

Premier Drew is making no discernable attempt to secure a seat in the Ontario Legislature. This may indicate he is open as Progressive Conservative leader at Ottawa.

It's all very well to take off your hats to those who perform some public service, but health authorities say that it would be better for us all to take off our coats and buckle down to the job of making Canada a better and healthier land in which to live, states an exchange. No matter what the advances of medical science or how efficiently our services of conservation operate, the country's well-being depends, basically, on the average citizen and on his or her support of agencies working to keep out disease and to advance the national health standard.

FORGOTTEN MAN

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

According to a bulletin issued by the National Security Association, of 100 persons at age 65, one will be wealthy, three well-to-do, 36 will have died, five will live on earnings and 54 will be dependent on family or state. Equaly intriguing is what will have happened to the missing one.

OLD PARTIES MUST COMBINE

(Calgary Herald)

We do not particularly wish to see either of the two great political parties disappear. We think Canada would be governed best if they remained intact with the appearance of a large and successful third party, dedicated to sweeping changes in Canadian life. Thye must sooner or later combine forces against it.

NEW MILKING TEST

(Peterborough Examiner)

Recently the legislators of Vermont and Massachusetts held a milking contest in Boston, and it was a great success. If the Federal Government and the boys at Queen's Park ever decide on a jamboree of this kind, we suggest that taxpayers be substituted for cows, so that they can show what fancy milkers they really are.

MOTORISTS BEWARE OF HITCH-HIKERS

(Smiths Falls Record-News)

A tip to motorists: Be careful when picking up hitch-hikers. Several recent press stories have related cases where motorists have been beaten and robbed by hitch-hikers to whom they had given a ride. It is high time that hitch-hikers, unless they are known to the motor vehicle drivers, were ignored. It is too dangerous these days with so many hoodlums, from the larger cities, begging rides on the main highways. Be sure that you know the hitch-hiker before you give a ride, is wise counsel. Women drivers, in particular, should heed the warning that sympathy for the hitch-hikers is dangerous, and it is wiser to pass them.

(Brockville Recorder & Times)

Industries and home owners in Eastern Ontario will be both pleased and reassured to hear that an electrical company in that part of the province has produced a dual-frequency electric motor which will operate equally well on either 25 or 60-cycle current, a motor developed specifically to ease the changeover period in the 25-cycle area.

SURELY NOT!

(Almonte Gazette)

It is said that coal may go up to $27 a ton before the winter is over. Certainly it is a long leap since the days of $5 and $7 a ton for anthracite laid down in Ontario towns. Many years ago on the Rideau Lakes boats plying out of Oswego were anxious to supply coal at $5 a ton carrying it as ballast while they made the return trip loaded with feldspar or lumber. But no one was interested so the freighters had to continue coming down from Kingston light and going back in cargo. There would be quite a scramble for this coal today, at such a price.

WEDDINGS

KIRKWOOD—MULLIN

At White Church, Iroquois, on Saturday afternoon, August 21st, at two p.m., in a setting of mixed gladioli, Ruth Eleanor Mullin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mullin, Iroquois, became the bride of Robert Keith Kirkwood, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kirkwood, Winchester Springs. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Percy Davage, of Toronto, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of Blush bridal satin, with panels of Swiss lace and a short train. The yoke was accordian pleated and the long lily-pointed sleeves came well over the hands. Her finger-tip embroidered net veil was held in place by a wreath of flowers and she carried a bouquet of pink gladioli with statice and asparagus fern. She wore pearl ear-rings, the gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid, Marion Smyth, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of pink taffeta and carried orchid gladioli, fantasy zinnias with statice. Jean Cassidy, niece of the groom, was ring bearer, carrying the ring on a white satin pin cushion, and was gowned in white organdy over turquoise taffeta.

Her sister, Ann, was flower girl, gowned in white organdy over light green taffeta and carried a basket of larkspur and baby mum zinnias.

Mr. Lorne Strader was best man, with Mr. Garnet Mullin as usher. During the signing of the register, Miss Evelyn Mullin, of Morrisburg, sang very sweetly "I'll Walk Beside You." Mrs. Chas. McInnis played the wedding music.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn at "Bruce Lodge." The bride's mother wore printed mauve silk with black accessories and corsage of orchid, gladioli and fern. The groom's mother wore black fan crepe with black and pink accessories and corsage of pink gladioli and yellow roses. After the reception, a turkey dinner was served to twenty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood left for a motor trip to Syracuse, N. Y., Port Colborne, Welland, and Niagara Falls. Returning they will attend the Toronto Exhibition. For travelling, the bride donned a raspberry gabardine suit, black hat, black accessories and corsage of white roses.

OUDERKIRK—THOMPSON

The United Church, Winchester Springs, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, August 18th, when Miss Evelyn Rosalene Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson, became the bride of Carl Everett Ouderkirk, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Myles Ouderkirk, of Finch, Ont.

Rev. J. B. Adams, of South Mountain, officiated. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Jay Bailey, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. Dalton Robinson sang: "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Joan Kilby, of Chesterville, who was attired in pale blue nylon, and Miss Joan Whitteker, of Ottawa, who wore a dress of pink brocaded satin bodice and sheer skirt. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Ralph, of Chesterville, and the ushers were Messrs. Don. MacGregor and Lorne Ball.

The bride's dress was made of ivory satin and all-over lace. The bodice was buttoned down the back with tiny buttons and the yoke and sleeves were of allover lace. The long sleeves came to points over the hands, and her floor-length veil hung from a halo. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

The reception was held at the bride's home, which was decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and cut flowers. A three-tier wedding cake centred the dining room table. A dainty lunch was served by the following ladies: Mrs. Harry Potter, Mrs. Joe Steele, Mrs. Irwin Holmes, Mrs. Vincent Steele, Miss Orian McIntosh and Miss Irene Steele. During lunch Mrs. Dalton Robinson sang "An Apple Blossom Wedding," and "Now Is The Hour."

Following the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Toronto and points west. For travelling, the bride wore a blue gabardine suit and black accessories with corsage of red roses. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Ouderkirk will reside in Chesterville.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ken MacDonald, Mr. [illegible] Mrs. Albert Kilby, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ouderkirk, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Ouderkirk, Mrs. M. Ouderkirk, Patricia, Paul and Lois Steinburg, all of Chesterville; Mr. and Mrs. Don MacGregor, of Cornwall; Edith Massala and Barbara Hall, of Watertown, N. Y.

The Best banking system

CANADA has a banking system which, for efficiency and dependability, is unsurpassed in the world. Competitive, flexible, adaptable to the changing needs of the country, it serves Canada's producers, her industries, her traders—and it serves your personal needs, too.

No customer has to fear for the privacy of his regular banking transactions. This privacy is completely free of political pressures or considerations—it is rooted in Canadian banking practice and tradition.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a State official! State monopoly of banking, proposed by Socialists here, would fasten the Marxist foreign pattern on you.

OBITUARY

LATE DAVID HENRY HURLEY

Inkerman and district was shocked and deeply grieved on Monday, Aug. 9th, to hear that David Henry Hurley, a highly respected citizen of that place, had fallen while building a barn on his son-in-law's place at Brockville, receiving severe injuries to his head, which resulted in his death at 4.15 p.m. on Wednesday, August 11th, in the Brockville General Hospital.

The late David Henry Hurley was born at Marvelville 59 years ago, the second son of the late Dennis W. Hurley and Agnes McCaffery.

While still a very young man he bceame apprenticed to a carpenter and builder, John McNabb, of Kenmore, at which trade he continued to work until the time of his death.

In the spring of 1909 he came with his parents to Inkerman where he has lived ever since, with the exception of three years when he worked on the B. & B. on the then G. T. R. at Depot Harbour.

He also worked for Robt. Beggs & Son, Contractors, for 18 years, but for the past number of years has been working on his own.

Of a quiet disposition, he made many friends, both young and old, and was always ready to lend a helping hand when most needed.

Keenly interested in hockey, he will long be remembered by all the boys with whom he so ardently worked.

Funeral services were held from his late residence to St. Daniel's Church, South Mountain, with Requiem High Mass being chanted by Rev. Father Agnew, with burial in the family plot, South Mountain.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Jack Christie, of Kemptville; Wm. Cooper, Hallville; John W. Guy, Geo. McIntosh, J. T. Mulloy and Peter Meehan.

His many acts of kindness and helping hand will not soon be forgotten by all who knew him.

He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, the former Electa Mae Hutt, two daughters, Mrs. Chas. A. Guy (Kay), of Brockville, and Mrs. F. J. Yates (Billy), of Inkerman, and one son, Ralph, of the C. P. R. Staff, Bedell; also two brothers, Jack, of Inkerman, and Alex, of Ottawa, and ons sister, Mrs. Jno. Mullin, of St. Eugene, Ont.

MY GRANDPA'S HOME

I'd like to tell you something of a place that's mighty sweet,
In a little country village on an old-
fashioned street,
It's just a big square brick house
with porch of cobblestone,
But it is just the finest place 'cause
it's my Grandpa's home.

As we all hurry up the steps and Dad
flings wide the door,
A stream of bundles, dog and boy,
inside the place we pour,
Then Grandma holds real wide her arms and I just tumble in,
And Grandpa puts his paper down
and has a happy grin.

Right then we make a cup of tea and tell the news and chat
While I get honey on my bread and some of this and that,
Then Mother says, "Now off you go and sleep right in 'till noon",
And I start climbing up the stairs
to Daddy's little room.

The white bed that he once slept in stands right against the wall
And there hang pictures of my Dad when he, like me, was small.
The dresser that he stood before to comb his tousled hair,
Has some of his old trinkets lying on it here and there.

Then Grandpa in the morning rings
a cowbell sharp at eight,
He tells me that I'm lazy and for breakfast I'll be late, Granddad and I eat breakfast long before the rest are down,
He fries me curly bacon and makes stacks of toast so brown.

Then he cuts his tobacco and I help his pipe to fill,
Between us both, my Grandma says,
we quite a lot can spill,
He smokes and thinks and I just wait until he says "Let's go,"
And then I trail behind him for he'll feed the hens, I know.

Oh! Grandma is so good to me and Grandpa is so kind
I'm sure another place like theirs is mighty hard to find,
For when the day is ended and we have to pack our things There's something gets behind my eyes and smarts and burns and stings.

And as we drive off down the road
and wave and shout "good-bye,"
There seems to be a stinging too in Dad and Mother's eye,
For Dad gets out his handkerchief and loudly snorts and blows
And Mother wipes away a tear that trickles down her nose.

So now I've told you something of a place that's mighty sweet
In a little country village on an old
fashioned street,
It's just a big square red brick house
with porch of cobblestone,
But it is just the finest place, 'cause
it's my Grandpa's home!

—Alma Mason.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Hair

When rinsing the hair, try adding a half cup of vinegar to the rinse water. It will soften the hair and give it a pretty sheen.

Care of Ferns

Give the house fern a watering containing a little ammonia about every eight or ten weeks, and it will keep it green and glossy.

Repels Ants

If you are troubled with ants coming into the house, put the skin of a cucumber, where they are found, and they will soon disappear.

Flies

Flies will disappear quickly if a few drops of lavender oil are put on a cloth and fastened to the top of the screen door where the flies collect.

Poison Ivy

A little potassium permanganate and a little water is an excellent remedy for poison ivy. Have solution prepared by druggist.

Floor Wax

A good floor wax can be made by mixing kerosene and melted paraffin to the consistency of cream, using it in the same manner as any commercial wax, polishing afterwards with a flannel cloth.

Save Your Tongue

Lots of wear and tear can be saved on your tender tongue when you have a quantity of envelopes and stamps to moisten, simply by wrapping an ice cube in a thick rag and moistening with this.

Snap Fasteners

When adjusting snap fasteners to a garment, try sewing the ball sections on first and then cover the tops of them with chalk. The slightest pressure will mark the exact spot where the socket should be placed.

Care of Sponges

The bath sponges will become sour and hardened if not given the proper care. After using, wring out the sponge in clear water to remove all soap, then dry it as quickly as possible. Wash the sponge occasionally in salt water.

Rusty Garden Tools

Rust can be prevented on the garden and workbench tools by heating two ounces of powdered resin with 12 ounces of lard until the resin melts completely. Then add one pint of benzine, and apply this mixture sparingly to the metal parts of the tools. This will protect them against rust for quite some time in the dampest kind of climate.
