School overcrowding angers parents

NEPEAN — Fed up with overcrowding at their school, a delegation of parents from Castor Valley Public School tried to convince members of the Carleton Board of Education to rank their request for an addition to the school as the number one priority.

But board members informed several delegations present at Monday night's board meeting that requests for new schools or additions to existing facilities will all be given number one priority when the board submits its funding requests to the Ministry of Education next year.

"We have overcrowding in all our schools," said CBE spokesman Peter Mills. "The board will make all their requests number one priority."

CVPS parents' committee member Mary Brodhead said parents are not sure if the approach by the board will work in their favor.

"In one way it may be better for us because we are so overcrowded," she said. "One thing we know it means is we have to get to the ministry. Plans are going ahead to contact the ministry and our MPP."

CVPS parents' committee said the school, which is located west of Metcalfe, was built to accommodate 131 students and is presently operating at 74 per cent over its operational capacity.

The school serves Kindergarten to Grade 5, but in a brief submitted to the school board, the parents' committee said the school will be 117 per cent over its operational capacity when it opens its doors in September 1989 as a Kindergarten to Grade 6.

"Next year there will be more portables than classrooms," said Brodhead.

Presently the school uses five portable classrooms plus a portable gymnasium. The board is forecasting seven or eight portable classrooms next year, while the school only has six permanent classrooms.

Parents are worried their children cannot be offered high quality education while constantly fighting for space in the overcrowded school. By 1991, they predict as a Kindergarten to Grade 8, CVPS will be 205 per cent over operational capacity unless an addition is built.

The 67 early French immersion students cannot be sent to Metcalfe Public School because they would force MPS over its capacity by 1990.

"There is no room in any of the existing schools in the township to house the projected 300 EFI students," said Brodhead.

The parents want the board to complete phase two of the school, adding two classrooms and additional space for a library, Kindergarten rooms, staff room and washrooms.

"I have to give the board credit. Instead of throwing up temporary structures, the board hired an architect to draw plans for the school," said Brodhead. "Our bubble gymnasium is designed so the floor will become a parking space for the school later on. The board didn't waste money."

The CBE is one of the fastest growing school boards in the province, with an additional 800 to 1,000 students enrolled each year.

The school board will ask the province to provide funding for new elementary schools in Chapel Hill, Bridlewood and Stittsville, as well as a new high school in Cumberland and funding to build additions to CVPS, and Castlefrank Public School in Kanata. The six projects will cost approximately $39.5 million.

Snowstorm knocks out power, damages crops

WINCHESTER — It was an unexpected blast just to let Winchester residents know that winter is definitely coming.

Environment Canada recorded 21.2 centimetres of snowfall on Saturday which set a new record, not only for Oct. 22 but for the entire month.

"We have never had that much snow in the whole month of October," said an Environment Canada spokesman.

Originally the weekend forecast called for rain, due to a low pressure system that was heading into the area. The system moved farther south than expected, bringing with it large amounts of cold northern air. Temperatures fell below the forecasted five degrees Celsius which turned the rain to snow.

Only seven centimetres of snow remained on the ground by Monday morning but the weekend storm still managed to interfere with most activities.

Village clerk Bill Appleby said the dampness resulting from the wet, heavy snow caused two sets of fuses in the village's substation to blow. The power was out for two hours throughout most of the village but some parts of May and Fred Streets and Wichers Way were without electricity for seven hours.

Winchester OPP Sgt. Jim McWade said the poor road conditions did not result in any unusual activity. Two single-vehicle accidents were reported in Mountain Township. There were no injuries and only slight damage to the vehicles.

But the unexpected snowfall is creating further complications to an already difficult harvest.

Ag. rep. Bob Humphries said Dundas County received the equivalent of 30 inches of rain on Saturday and stock breakage is a primary concern.

"Once the wet snow sticks to the plant you can't pick it up in the combine," he said. "Anyone with soybeans will have the same problem."

Humphries travelled throughout the county on Monday to survey the crop damage but said fields in the southern end of the county to Toyes Hill and Chesterville do not appear to be heavily damaged.

"Where there was damage from the wind storm in August the problems appear very serious," he said. "The footing in the fields for combines is bad and it will take a while for the snow to clear up."

Humphries also said the water is at bank level in many places and the water outlets are full. "The fields won't be able to drain for a day or so," he said. "This will hold the harvest up for sure."

Pro-life supporters urge action against abortion

CHESTERVILLE — About 80 people braved snowy conditions Sunday to attend a pro-life presentation at North Dundas District High School.

The presentation was the first event sponsored by the newly- formed Winchester and Area Pro-life and featured three women speakers actively involved with pro-life associations in Cornwall, Kingston and Ottawa.

Marilyn Bergeron, president of the Eastern Ontario Pro-life Association and Cornwall Birthright and mother of six, said the abortion controversy is the most important issue of the day and the more people understand the issue, the more they will feel compelled to get involved.

"Birth is a stage of development," she said. "A baby doesn't start at birth but begins development at conception. Pregnancy is a stage of development in a continuing human life."

Bergeron said any kind of treatment designed to save the life of a mother is not considered abortion. "Abortion is the killing of a child," she said. "It is very important we realize when life begins. When we talk about abortion we're talking about life."

She said pro-choice advocates use word games and half-truths to mislead the public about the facts of abortion. She said pro- choice groups refer to a baby as a fetus, a medically accepted term but misleading to pregnant women.

"You don't sit at home and knit fetus sweaters, you knit baby sweaters," she said. "If we use the term fetus it doesn't mean anything but if I say baby you have a picture of something."

Even the term pro-choice doesn't ring true said Bergeron.

"Everyone in this room is pro-choice for something," said Bergeron. "Every right we have in society has a limit. A woman has lots of rights but she doesn't have the right to kill the child growing inside her."

Bergeron said pro-choice groups use the slogan "every child is a wanted child" but said unwanted or unplanned pregnancies do not necessarily lead to child abuse.

"There are plenty of people in this world who are not wanted," said Bergeron. "Husbands don't want their wives, parents don't want their children but being wanted has never been a criteria for the right to live."

Calling abortion the "ultimate child abuse", Bergeron said society has to find solutions to help abused children but the answer is not to abort every child that is unplanned.

Bev Daw, president of the Kingston Right to Life, and a mother of two, described her feelings of guilt following her abortion 14 years ago.

"I was barely 16 and like a lot of young girls I panicked," she said. "I couldn't believe this could happen to me. I couldn't carry a baby to term. I wanted to get on with my life."

Daw said she wasn't offered any form of counselling and the doctor told her she wasn't aborting a baby, only a "clump of cells."

"When I came to I really had a sense of relief," she said. "I could get on with my life, I didn't have to worry any more. But my relief turned to other things that same night. I had nightmares about my baby crying and I went into a deep depression."

Daw was put on tranquilizers by her psychiatrist and said she tried to overdose several times. She said she became obsessed with other children but never linked her depression to her abortion.

"I made that choice but like so many other women I didn't have the facts," said Daw. "I speak out about this because I really care about these women. Post-abortion syndrome is a very real thing. Abortion may seem like the easy solution at the time but it destroys lives."

Mary-Lynn McPherson is a registered nurse specializing in psychiatry, a mother of three and a founding member and president of Nurses For Life.

She said women are not being told the truth about pregnancy and abortion by the media or by their doctors.

"It is very difficult for anyone under a tremendous amount of pressure to make an informed decision," she said. "When a woman is under that stress she has one thing on her mind — she is pregnant and wants to get unpregnant."

McPherson mans a crisis hotline and said many women, especially unwed mothers, feel there is something wrong with them because they are pregnant.

"They are told continually by society that abortion is right," she said. "It is frowned upon for young women to be pregnant."

McPherson also said women who have had an abortion suffer a higher infertility and miscarriage rate than other women and experience depression, some not until many years later.

"These women suffer terribly and they suffer alone because pro-choice people believe these women knew what they were doing, they knew what they were getting into," she said. "The absence of meaningful counselling means many women will continue to be in distress."

Dashing through the snow

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas, but it's only October. Winchester residents were surprised to wake up Saturday morning to find over 20 centimetres of snow on the ground. The white stuff didn't bother Dwayne Van Der Meulen, 8, who spent the day sledding. Press Photo—O'Brien

Crown to appeal Wise acquittal

CHESTERVILLE — The Crown has appealed the case of village resident James Henry Wise, who was acquitted in September on a charge of public mischief in connection with the toppling of a $2.2 million microwave communication tower near Williamsburg.

Toronto District Court Judge Bourke Smith found Wise not guilty after throwing out much of the Crown's evidence because it had been obtained with the use of an electronic tracking device.

This was the first Canadian ruling on the inadmissibility of evidence acquired by the use of such a device.

The judge said the use of the device amounted to a warrantless search. The equipment was placed in Wise's car as part of a police investigation into a series of killings of elderly recluses in Eastern Ontario.

At the time, six deaths were thought to be connected, however, police have dropped the investigation to four, ruling two of the deaths accidental.

Wise launched a civil suit against the police and provincial officials on March 21 for alleged mistreatment by police during the investigation, claiming it was an abuse of their powers under the Police Act.

Michele Salt, spokesperson for the Attorney General's office said Crown prosecutor Bill Wolski will argue before the Ontario Court of Appeal that Bourke made an error in law by ruling the evidence obtained with the tracking device was inadmissible and ruling that the use of the device constituted a search.

Wise's lawyer, David Scott, would not comment on the case because the notice of appeal has been filed.

The Crown and defence must now file formal documents that contain all grounds and arguments of their cases.

The two sides will then present their cases before a panel of three judges at the Ontario Court of Appeal sometime early next year.

Whichever side loses the appeal can apply to have the case heard before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Study examines senior services

Provincial government will fund new community projects

WILLIAMSBURG — Over 100 people crammed into the United Church hall here Tuesday night to find out how the provincial government intends to keep senior citizens in their own homes and communities as an alternative to institutionalization.

Joan Davis, senior consultant with the DPA Group, said her firm is in the midst of a study on the three United Counties to determine what type of services, such as VON and Meals on Wheels, are already in place and what needs to be added to meet the requirements of seniors.

"We are studying how community-based services can be set up so people will have more choices when they need them," she said.

Davis said the study is a result of the decreasing number of beds available at the Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge, a home for the elderly which serves the United Counties and the City of Cornwall.

"The Ministry of Community and Social Services has a strong conviction that older people deserve more choices as to where they live and the services they receive," she said. "Some people are best served in an institution but many prefer to remain in their own homes and communities, provided the services are available."

Last year former Minister of Community and Social Services John Sweeney, announced the government would not build more homes for the aged but instead would spend money to increase services in communities to serve the senior population.

As part of the study process, Davis has consulted with MCSS and ministry of housing representatives and service providers as well as holding a series of public meetings throughout Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, to listen to concerns of the elderly and their families.

She said the study will examine four possible service options including the development of more supportive housing in communities; construction of seniors' complexes with the use of emergency response systems such as bracelets or necklaces which when activated, signal the appropriate authorities the wearer is experiencing difficulties; adding staff to seniors' complexes which can provide medical advice and co-ordinate services in the community; and, using existing institutions as a base to provide outreach services to the community.

"We are pioneers in the sense that never before in history have this number of people lived this long in life," said Davis. "We have to augment existing services so a broader range of people in the community can receive them."

Davis said criteria will be established for communities that will receive extended services including ease of implementation, financial costs, availability of existing services, location and size of the community and number of people that can be served.

Ann Barkley, secretary of the Township of Williamsburg Non- Profit Housing Corporation said the township has land available for additional seniors' units, a transportation program in place for seniors and the willingness and expertise to implement additional programs.

"If you recommend more services for our community we will be ready and able to help," she said.

But township reeve Johnny Whitteker said the study is overlooking an important facet of senior care. He said there is nothing available in south Dundas County for seniors who want to remain in their community yet need some level of care and supervision.

The only places, he said, are located in Long Sault, Cornwall, Winchester and Prescott, forcing township residents to drive miles to see relatives.

But Davis said the study will not address institutional-type care.

"Institutions are absolutely the best place for some people to be because of physical needs and life experience," she said. "But the thrust of our study is to do whatever is possible to make sure people can stay put in their community where they have ties."

But there is one problem with creating additional services, warned Davis. "When you talk about helping people in communities and bringing services to them, you don't want to create shut-ins, a community where people's physical needs are met but their social needs are not.

"Our intention is not to create dependency."

Davis said Williamsburg is an ideal community to create additional services since many are already in place and the interest in seniors' welfare is high.

Three declare candidacy

WINCHESTER — Three new candidates are set to seek a council seat in Winchester.

Two of the candidates, Wayne Vice and Betty Cooke are newcomers to the political scene. The third candidate, David Sloane, served on village council in 1979-80 and on the Town of Medford council in 1969-70. He is currently a member of the village's committee of adjustment.

Sloane decided to leave council after he purchased the Kemptville Hotel because he was out of the community. He now owns Winchester Textiles and would like to become involved in village affairs.

"I started the tree planting program and it has gone over very well," said Sloane.

He said councillors were arguing over the water and sewage systems when he sat on council and he would like to see these programs finished.

"It's way overdue," he said. "We could multiply this town very easily if we had the proper facilities. I think the last year in town has been fantastic but it has taken an awful long time to get water and sewage systems."

"Rather than jeopardize one lady's chances I decided not to run," said Cooke, a legal secretary with Cass and Workman. "We need a change in council and there should be a lady in there so when Florence said she wasn't going to run I decided to give it a try."

Cooke said increasing water and sewage capacity in the village is an important issue and she would like to see the implementation of a recycling program in Winchester.

While the final decision on the location of a new waste disposal site has not been made by consultants with the Grenville- Dundas Waste Management study, Cooke said most people won't be happy with a site located in "their backyard."

"If we had a recycling program we could get rid of a lot of garbage that way," she said. "And it wouldn't be as hard on our landfill sites."

In addition to Cooke, Sloane and Vice, incumbent councillors Hugh Eadie and George Hanes will seek a spot on council. Reeve Larry Gray and deputy reeve Bill Stewart have been acclaimed to their positions.

Sloane said he is not blaming the present council for the delay because he knows the amount of red tape councillors run into.

He said he is glad the three council seats will be contested and is disappointed more people did not choose to run.

Vice, who owns J.R. Vice Funeral Home, said he made the decision to run in the Nov. 14 election because he thinks new people should be involved.

One of his priorities if elected will be to encourage new retail and manufacturing businesses to locate in the community.

"I also think we need more daycare services," he said. "A lot of people in town have school age children and there are not enough people to look after them."

Vice said his wife looks after children during the day and she is constantly getting requests to accept additional charges.

"I think I might be able to bring in some new ideas," said Vice. "It's nice to have a new outlook once in a while."

Cooke admits she thought about running in the 1985 election but decided against the idea.

Auxiliary bazaar turnout high despite weather

MAPLE RIDGE — The 40th annual tea and bazaar put on by the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, had everything going for it but the weather.

But despite the untimely blizzard Saturday, the auxiliary still managed to raise $4,218 for the hospital.

Lee Wenz, treasurer for the auxiliary, estimated about 300 people came shopping for bargains, down considerably from the 750 that attended last year's special international bazaar.

A lot of people had planned to go to the tea and bazaar, but one look outside Saturday convinced them to stay indoors.

But considering the weather, the auxiliary really couldn't ask for a much better turnout, said Wenz. "We were quite pleased with the results."

A popular spot at the bazaar was the baked goods table, netting $960 for the auxiliary. There were also tables selling crafts, cheese, second-hand books, honey and Italian foods.

The 50/50 draw also proved to be a winner for the auxiliary. It netted $480, the auxiliary's half of the $960 total. The winner of the draw was Shirley Carruthers of Crysler.

Seven tables altogether were set up at the bazaar. All the goods sold during the day were donated.

The money will be used to help purchase new equipment for WDMH.

President addresses Golden Years

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Golden Years Society held its regular monthly meeting in the Lions Hall on Thurs., Oct. 20, with 77 present.

The meeting opened with the singing of O Canada. The president, Myrna Cinnamon, read Psalm 8 and several verses from the hymn, "For the beauty of the earth", followed by the "Thought for the month" from the Voice.

Several birthdays and anniversaries were recognized and correspondence read. The president voiced the sympathy of the society to Hilda Holmes and family and Ruth Howes on the death of Ernest Holmes.

The fall rally, held at Dixons Corners on Oct. 12, was attended by several of our members, at which time Alex Mansfield of Mississauga, the new provincial president, was the guest speaker.

The Nov. 3 meeting of zone 35 will be held in the Lions Hall, Winchester. Hazel Dawson volunteered to take charge of the lunch at that meeting.

The Christmas dinner will be held on Wed., Dec. 14 and suggestions for the program will be received at the November meeting.

Subscriptions to the Voice will be coming due soon.

Following the potluck lunch, we were entertained by the Hy Shy Nigh Band and the orchestra. They played several familiar numbers. When "Take me out to the ball game" was played, it was acted out by Mary Dixon Biccum, and Leila and Harlan Helmer. Hazel Irven delighted everyone with her stepdancing. Christina Robinson Cumming told a story and conducted a skit, and the president brought the program to a close with a humorous story.

Engineer wants culvert lowered

WINCHESTER — What has proven to be an emotionally draining problem over the past 16 years could be over soon for Harry Mussell.

An engineering report for the drain that runs through his property just east of the village is almost completed and it may have the solution for flooding problems that have plagued his portion of the Summers-Baker drain for more than a decade.

A.J. Graham Engineering Consultants Ltd. is proposing a culvert further down the drain at the junction of Highway 43 and Highway 31 be lowered to prevent water from backing up and, often, onto Mussell's back lawn during the spring.

If the suggestion made in the report is the solution to the flooding problems, it will mean an end to an uphill battle fought by Mussell which has seen 10 township council meetings and one drainage tribunal hearing over the years.

The engineer's report was ordered by drainage tribunal chairman Delbert O'Brien after a tribunal session in the township council chambers in December.

O'Brien agreed that Mussell had flooding problems and told Mussell, the township and any other parties involved in the dispute to reach a compromise to avoid a costly full tribunal hearing.

"We will be working very hard to get it (the report) out to the township this week," said project engineer Brian Boyd.

The report, started by the firm in the spring, was delayed until MTC approved the method by which the firm plans to lower the culvert.

Boring would be "significantly more costly" than the open cut method and the price tag for tunnelling underneath the highway "is just outlandish," Boyd said. It was finally decided that the open cut method, digging the ditch through one half of the road at a time would be the best method.

Boyd would not say how long the report was delayed by MTC only that the ministry took the proper amount of time to consider the proposals.

Township reeve Gerald Holmes said last week he was hoping to have work on the drain completed in the fall adding that he was growing impatient waiting for the engineer's report.

Boyd wouldn't say if the lowering of the culvert will solve all of Mussell's drainage problems but "it certainly will be an improvement".

He estimated the report will be ready for council in about a week, for consideration at the November meeting. Holmes said it isn't a large job and will likely take less than a month to complete.

Mussell has blamed his flooding problems on a number of things, including what he claims was a goof-up by A.J. Graham Engineering when it reconstructed the drain 12 years ago.

But Mussell contends the major cause of his flooding problem is the re-routing of the drain by his neighbor Keith Wagner. Wagner re-routed his portion of the drain in 1984-85, adding two additional 90-degree turns.

Hatt sentenced

WINCHESTER — Craig Martin Hatt, formerly of Chesterville pleaded guilty in provincial court in Cornwall on Friday to charges of break and enter. He was sentenced to 20 months in jail and was sentenced to one month for escaping custody.

Two used snowblowers were stolen from Weagant Farm Equipment over the weekend. Police are investigating.

Over the past week Winchester OPP checked a total of 456 cars during its seatbelt enforcement blitz, resulting in 17 charges laid for seatbelt violations.

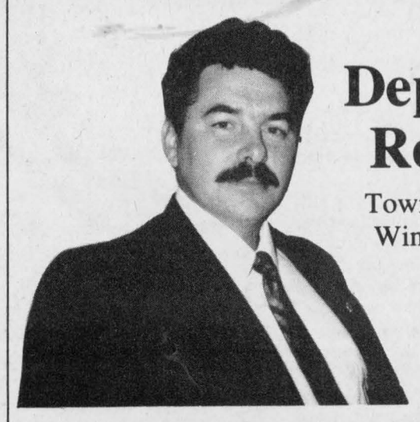
Deputy-Reeve
Township of Winchester



These are some of the reasons why I would like to be on the next council of Winchester Township.

I believe the most important issue in the next term of office will be the adoption of a new official plan. It will determine how our township will grow and develop for the next 10 to 20 years. Our old plan did not have nearly enough options to cover the many different situations that can arise in a totally rural area. Therefore, because of the many exceptions and "minor" variances that have been made to it, it has become virtually meaningless. I think that only someone who has dealt with these situations can ensure that the new plan doesn't have these pitfalls.

Roads are another important issue. I believe we should develop a more comprehensive road plan that looks beyond one term of office. We should make use of traffic counts in determining priorities. We should maintain a policy of spraying roadside weeds and brush, while at the same time, doing more roadside shouldering, so we can eventually mow all roadsides and eliminate spraying. Also, new roads should have proper shoulders that allow for mowing. I would like to see a more detailed annual road budget, along with a monthly report of to-date expenditures compared to budget.

I do not believe that the waste management system of home separation, that is being proposed, will work without compensation for doing it or penalty for not doing it. I think that after a while, people will tire of it and we will end up with a dump like the one we had. I believe separation at a central location along with possible incineration may not be the cheapest in the short term, but will be in the long run.

Market value assessment is something that will have to come, since the old is based in 1953. However, I believe we should wait a few years until we can use 1988 as the base year, instead of 1984. Primarily because it would be unfair to the agricultural community, since farm values have fallen drastically since 1984, while residential values have risen substantially. Therefore, we would already be starting out with an inequitable assessment.

I think municipalities should have recreational budgeting that will provide facilities and encourage R.A.'s in providing services and activities for as wide a range of people as possible. At the same time, we should be striving, within reason, for a "user-pay" policy in the operation of these facilities and programs.

Thank you for your attention. I would greatly appreciate your support in the upcoming election, and if re-elected, I will continue to do my best for you.

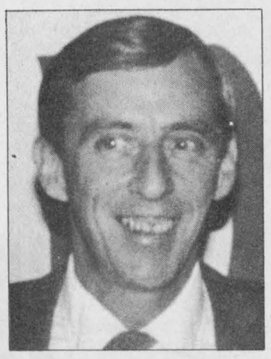
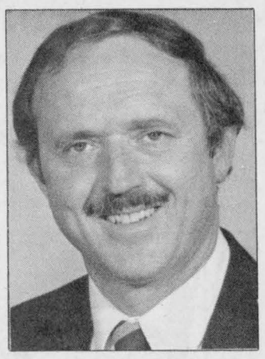
Stormont-Dundas — Election '88

Candidates air views on abortion

This week the Winchester Press asked each of the four candidates seeking to represent the Stormont-Dundas riding his personal opinion on abortion, and whether or not members of parliament should pass abortion legislation to replace the law struck down by the Supreme Court of Canada in January, 1988.

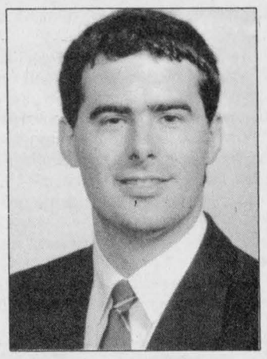


Bob Noble



Steve Corrie

Bob Kilger



Eric Cameron

CORNWALL — Confederation of Regions candidate Bob Noble said he is against abortion on demand and believes abortions should not be performed unless demanded by medical reasons.

"I would like to see abortion clinics closed and abortions performed only in hospitals by qualified doctors," he said.

Noble also believes the government must become involved in the abortion issue even though it is controversial.

"I think parliament has to take a stand on whether abortion clinics are legal or not and it has to be a free vote," he said. "Right now there's nothing and it has been like that since January."

CORNWALL — Stormont-Dundas NDP candidate Steve Corrie said abortion is a moral issue that will not be solved by legislation.

While Corrie said he personally does not like abortion, it is between the mother, her husband if she is married, her doctor and her God.

"We won't solve anything by making abortion illegal," he said. "The hundreds of thousands of women demanding abortions must have some reason and that opens up a whole new set of issues."

Corrie said single mothers are the most under-funded group in Canadian society and banning abortions would only force women to go elsewhere or suffer botched abortions at the hands of unskilled abortionists.

"A caring society would help solve the problem of abortion by providing assistance to women," said Corrie. "Child care is a partial solution to the abortion issue. If the mother felt she had society with her from the time the child was born until he entered the work force, the demand for abortions would go down."

Corrie was a member of the pro-life movement but left because he disagreed with some of the violent tactics used by the group.

CORNWALL — Liberal candidate Bob Kilger said he is "unequivocally" a pro-life supporter.

"There should be no abortions as far as I'm concerned except when the mother's life is in danger," he said. "I believe at conception there is life."

Kilger said the government should become involved in the abortion debate because people across Canada will be looking for some direction and it has to come from the government.

He is also in favor of closing existing abortion clinics and believes those performed for medical reasons should only be done in accredited hospitals.

CORNWALL — Stormont-Dundas Conservative candidate Eric Cameron says he is a pro-life supporter.

"I have felt that way throughout my life," he said. "I strongly object to abortion on demand for moral reasons."

Cameron believes parliament must become involved in the abortion debate to create nationwide legislation. If policy is left up to the individual provinces, its effectiveness will be diluted he said.

He also said abortion legislation should not fall along party lines and a free vote would make the new law fair.

"I don't think in an issue like this we have any business playing party politics," he said.

Cameron said women who are faced with an unplanned pregnancy should have quick and easy access to social programs.

"We have no business implementing abortion legislation if there is nothing in place to help women," he said. "They must be made aware that services exist. We should be able to deal with both issues at the same time."

Although Cameron does not have a specific abortion policy in mind, if elected he said he would vote according to the pro-life side.

Village participates in awareness week

WINCHESTER — For the first time, a "Drug Awareness Week" will be observed in this area. Nov. 13-19, 1988 is the week set aside nationally to increase awareness of alcohol and drugs in communities. At the suggestion of the Addiction Research Foundation, a local committee has been formed to plan and execute a number of events during this week.

The members include: Jack Barclay, Nationview Public School; Peter Barkway, Addiction Research Foundation; Mrs. Janice Banford, Winchester District Hospital; Rev. David Crawley, Morrisburg; Raymond Houde, Family Counselling Centre; Ed Rice Jr., Beavers Dental, Morrisburg; Don Hill, Beavers Dental, Morrisburg; Constable Morgan Hill, OPP, Morrisburg; and Carl Ward, North Dundas District High School.

Three main events are being planned including a seminar for major employers in the county to explain the benefits of having a confidential employee assistance program, and to offer some tips on how to set one up.

An information program for senior citizens on the wise use of medications, to include an excellent film, discussion and a panel of helpful people.

Winchester District Memorial Hospital will hold a public display in the lobby, featuring materials from the Addiction Research Foundation, and will put on a training session for hospital staff about the management of alcohol and drug-damaged patients.

Plans for in-school activities are taking shape at NDDHS and in several elementary schools in the area.

Anyone interested in helping with any of these activities is invited to call any committee member.

Hess pulls out of race

WILLIAMSBURG — Incumbent Graham Hess has decided to pull out of the race to retain his seat on council.

Hess, 67, said he made his decision to bring his 21-year- career as a Williamsburg Township councillor to a close after learning four other candidates will be vying for the three councillor spots.

"There's a good slate of candidates, a good young bunch," he said.

The fight for a council seat will include two new faces to municipal politics — Arden Schneckenburger, Dundas Federation of Agriculture director for South Dundas and David Carkner, an electrician and farmer.

Hess offers the eventual successful candidates, those without previous council experience, some advice.

"You have to be set with your ears wide open," he said. "Try to do your best and remember that you can't please everybody. They'll (voters) let you know in three years how you've done."

Hess said it takes about one year for a new councillor to become familiar with the procedure of council.

A member of Williamsburg's local school board for 10 years before joining council, Hess said a councillor has to put a lot of work into his role.

Now that he is retiring Hess said he will have more time for such activities as camping.

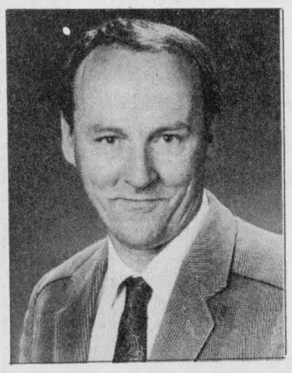
Van der Veen believes regional taxes too high



Jan van der Veen

MARVELVILLE — Jan van der Veen, a federal government economist, will challenge Albert Bouwers for the position of mayor in Osgoode Township.

Van der Veen, 45, says it's time to take a hard look at the kind of taxes Osgoode residents have been paying over the years.

"We're simply paying too much," he said. "We pay 27 per cent more taxes than people in Winchester and 33 per cent more than Russell residents. To me, there's not much of a difference in lifestyle between, say, Metcalfe or Russell, so I've got to ask, "What are we getting back from our tax money that we don't know about?"

Van der Veen, who lives in Marvelville with his wife Sandra, says if elected he would find out where the township's tax dollars are going. He also wants to negotiate with regional government to lower taxes.

If an agreement cannot be reached to lower taxes, van der Veen says he would consider "getting out of the region altogether."

While he credits the current council for "putting in a lot of hours and doing a pretty good job," van der Veen would like to see some serious changes made in the way the township handles planning matters.

"People don't get enough notice about township meetings," he said. "If you're going to put in a shopping centre in Metcalfe, for example, why not hold a meeting for the whole village and invite everyone from the township with a concern? We could sit down and discuss the pros and cons of the proposal."

"For the average person, the overall picture of township planning is pretty garbled," he said. "Nobody knows what's going on. It's always too late. I would like to see far more dissemination of information to keep the public informed."

Van der Veen is also in favor of holding referendums for public input on contentious issues. "If I'm mayor, why should my opinion on a contentious issue matter more than anyone else's?" he said. "A referendum is a good way to ask the public: What do you think about this?"

To simplify planning, van der Veen also pledges that he will not develop any land in the township that he represents. "Maybe Mayor Bouwers should sit out a term while he does his land development in the township," said Jan van der Veen. "There are plenty of capable people in Osgoode who could step in and make sure things are run well."

With the elections four weeks away, van der Veen said he will run a "door to door" campaign to find out what's on voters' minds. With all-candidates' debates scheduled in Metcalfe and Osgoode, he urges the public to come out and see what the candidates have to say.

Van der Veen said he is running, in part, because "it's high time we got someone else in there."

"It looks like an interesting job and I think I have the right talents and skills to do the job well," he said.

A part-time farmer, van der Veen has served on the Metcalfe Community Centre Board and on the Osgoode Township Non-Profit Housing Committee.

Stanley believes youth 'an asset'

OSGOODE — Ron Stanley knows there are people in the township growing tired of Mayor Albert Bouwers' leadership. They have told him so.

But the 19-year-old Algonquin College student is not going to fire any insults Bouwers' way while he challenges the mayor for his seat in the Nov. 14 municipal election.

"I'm not going into a mudslinging battle," he said.

Stanley, who is enrolled in the hotel/restaurant management course at the college, said residents of the township encouraged him to run for mayor stating they have "had enough" of Bouwers.

He would not elaborate on what specifically has caused some residents to grow tired of the township's mayor.

At 19, Stanley said he hopes he can turn his age in his favor to capture the mayoral seat.

"I hope it's an asset," he said. "I expect there will be some comments about it. Hopefully people are looking for someone new."

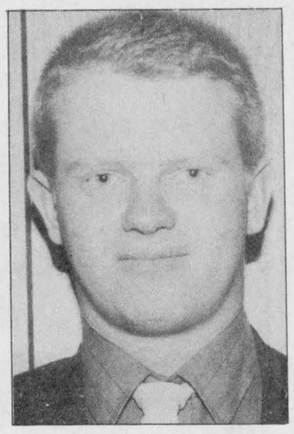
A lifetime resident of Osgoode, a Junior Farmer and a 4-H leader, Stanley said he feels he can do some good for the township.

Stanley said he would seek to create more regional services, better publicize what the council is doing, try to implement a recycling program and other initiatives to help improve the environment.

Brushing aside any suggestion he is unqualified to be mayor, Stanley said no one has experience when they first enter politics but added he will learn from council if he is elected.

Stanley said he chose to challenge Bouwers instead of running for a council seat because "councillors don't have as much control as the mayor."

Claiming he is confident he will be elected, Stanley said he plans to knock on as many doors as possible to garner votes.



Ron Stanley

Bouwers seeks re-election

OSGOODE — Mayor Albert Bouwers said he doesn't plan to take his competition in the Nov. 14 municipal election lightly.

"I can't say that," said Bouwers, when asked if he felt his re-election was a foregone conclusion. "Democracy works."

Bouwers, 51, has been mayor of Osgoode Township for 12 years, following one term as councillor.

He ran for council about 15 years ago because he "wanted to do something for the community. I felt I owed them something," he said, referring to his successful farm machinery business.

Turning to his campaign strategy, Bouwers said his approach to attract voter support would be the same if he was up against one or five candidates.

Bouwers said the highlights of his council's achievements during his years as mayor include an improved road system, better community centres, the addition of a quality care centre and high-quality fire departments.

The mayor said he plans to run on a platform promising to continue the low rate of tax increases that have been enjoyed by township residents, building new community facilities and updating equipment, all while remaining in the black.

Bouwers, who is chairman of the Ontario Municipal Development Committee and a member of a task force to review county government, said he does not "see any hot issues" that stand out in this campaign.

Seniors discover age isn't barrier to physical fitness

WINCHESTER — Age is not a barrier to exercising, something Winchester aerobics instructor Donna McBean knows well.

McBean, a YMCA certified fitness instructor, has been teaching classes for four years and this year decided to add something new — fitness classes for senior citizens.

Class size averages about 10 and McBean says many of the class members attend faithfully and haven't missed one of the eight sessions held so far.

"I decided to try a class mainly because seniors' fitness is becoming increasingly popular," she said. "They have large attendance at seniors' fitness classes in the cities and I thought I would give it a try. I'm really pleased with the turnout."

McBean said the format of the seniors' fitness class basically follows the same format as an aerobics class with a warm-up, workout and cool down.

"There is also some muscle endurance and a lot of stretching," said McBean. "The class is geared to their level. I tell the class to workout at their own pace. This particular group is fairly socially active and they know the importance of coming here. Many have remarked they see an improvement in themselves."

Before a class starts, McBean cautions all participants to tell their doctor what they are doing in the class and receive permission. She said the exercises help improve circulation and mobility.

"I think their reasons for coming here are different from a younger person going to aerobics class," said McBean. "They come to be socially active and benefit from the exercises."

While McBean's first seniors' fitness class is almost over, she said another will be offered between November and the end of December. The classes, she said, are not for everybody so she encourages seniors of all ages to try one class before deciding if they are interested in continuing further.

Before starting the class, McBean contacted "Fitness in the Third Age" a group specializing in seniors' fitness. "They provided me with a lot of information, books, tapes and guidelines," she said. "There is a seniors' workshop in November which I will probably attend."

In addition to offering two 45-minute senior classes each week McBean, along with the help of certified instructor Marie Shelp, teaches eight, one-hour classes in Winchester and two in Morrisburg each week.

Beginning Nov. 1 she will add an exercise class for older adults, between the ages of 50 to 65.

McBean said she hasn't encountered any difficulties teaching the senior class. "I tell them to do their own thing and never do exercises that cause them pain," she said. "It's safety first, the same as in all my classes."

Seniors plan hall opening

by Jean Casselman

WILLIAMSBURG — Forty-nine members attended the Williamsburg seniors' meeting and dinner last Tuesday at the Boucks Hill Legion Hall.

The meeting opened with singing O Canada and President Thompson welcomed everyone present.

Plans were finalized for the opening of the new room at the municipal building, to be held on Sat., Oct. 29 from 2 to 4pm.

It was announced that the van will be going to Ottawa to the Mum Show on Nov. 7 and 14.

The program committee for the November meeting will be Olive Warren, Doris Hill and Bill Whitteker.

A bazaar committee was named: Doris Hill, Ruth Casselman and Ruth Hogaboam. The bazaar will be held on Sat., Nov. 19 in the senior citizens' room at the municipal building. All members are asked for articles and food to be sold. The November meeting will be held in the senior citizens' room.

Bazaar slated for Nov. 5th

HALLVILLE — On Oct. 6, Hallville UCW met in the church hall to conduct business and acknowledge the season of Thanksgiving. We began to realize our many blessings as we answered the roll call by stating one thing for which I am thankful.

The social committee informed us that we had been asked to provide the Christmas dinner for the Mountain Township senior citizens; approximately 100 people, on Dec. 7.

Membership acknowledged birthdays in the month of October and we wished them all the best as we sang happy birthday.

Fundraising chairperson reviewed plans for the bazaar, Country Crafts and Christmas Treasures to be held in Mountain Hall on Nov. 5 beginning at 11am. Several of our group will be getting together to make Christmas cake to have for sale at the bazaar.

Muriel Milne reported that she had attended the fall rally in Morewood on Oct. 3 and there had been an excellent speaker on the subject of palliative care.

United Church calendars are available for $3 and we donated $40 to a local 4-H club to help them defray costs.

An oak fern stand has been handcrafted to grace our sanctuary and the UCW has agreed to contribute to the cost of a silk fern for this stand. The fern and stand will make a lovely addition to our church.

The worship portion of our evening was conducted by Muriel Milne and Doris Hyndman.

Scripture taken from the Book of Luke detailing the story of the ungrateful healed lepers and traditional Thanksgiving hymns helped us to realize that we too, are often not grateful for our many blessings.

A poem, "The Master Painter" described vividly how wonderfully God has painted our world.

We concluded with a prayer asking for the grace of gratitude.

Pumpkin pie and fresh fruit, tea and coffee were a luscious finale to the evening.

Waste management discussed by WI

by Isobel Lewis

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Women's Institute held its Oct. 18 meeting in the Lions Hall with Donna Wilson as program convener. The program was centred around the extremely vital subject of waste management. Donna presented the motto 'A wilful waste makes a woeful want', bringing out the concerns for the loss of our resources and that we continue to toss away useful items.

W.I. member, Irene Woolford, spoke to the group on her findings as a member of the Public Liaison Committee on Waste Management. She mentioned there are serious problems such as the "greenhouse effect" on climate and inadequate disposal sites for garbage.

President Norma Duncan thanked the members who helped at centennial functions, especially Hazel Dawson and Margaret Johnstone who designed the W.I. award-winning float for the parade. It was decided to have the microfilm of the Tweedsmuir History Book placed in the municipal building.

Donna Wilson and her committee were thanked for the worthwhile meeting and lunch, by Nina Woods.

Celebrating our 30th Anniversary

Trick or treat!

WINCHESTER — Safety measures for children take on added importance during Halloween when, in their excitement, trick-or-treaters are more apt to forget to obey the basic safety rules.

In order to ensure Halloween is a safe and enjoyable outing, parents should follow these guidelines:

Masks and hoods can obstruct a child's vision. Makeup can be used instead, or eyeholes should be made large enough to allow the child to see properly.

Costumes should not be so long that a child is in danger of tripping.

Costumes should be brightly colored.

Children should travel in groups or with their parents and they should be instructed to avoid dark alleys, parks and schoolyards should they become separated from the group.

Children should be reminded to look all ways before crossing the street and told not to go into a house unless accompanied by their parents.

With safety in mind, children should be encouraged to trick or treat in areas familiar to them.

Parents should check all treats before allowing children to eat them. Chocolate bars should be broken in half and fruit cut up in sections. Any suspicious looking treats should be discarded.

O'Brien heads Scout council

by John McAuley

KEMPTVILLE — St. Lawrence District Boy Scout Council recently met to elect a new executive. Heading the council this year as president is Mike O'Brien of RR4 Kemptville; returning as treasurer is Chris Slater of Prescott. John McAuley, former president becomes secretary and public relations officer.

O'Brien recently moved to this area and brings with him eight years' experience in a variety of Scouting leadership roles. He was president of the Digby, Nova Scotia, Scout Council for the past three years. Prior to this assignment, he was the group committee chairman in Oromocto, New Brunswick and secretary of the 1st Bruno, Quebec committee and a Beaver leader in Petawawa. In his youth he was a member of the Boy Scouts and attained the honor of being a King Scout in 1953.

Slater begins his fifth year as treasurer of the council and has in the past been an assistant Cubmaster at 7th Prescott.

McAuley has completed four years as president and is a former assistant district commissioner for Cubs. He continues in his capacity as Cubmaster of 7th Prescott.

O'Brien, in his first address to the district council and leaders, said he was looking forward to getting to know the district and those that perform in a leadership role within the area. He said he plans on visiting each group and one of his objectives is to increase the amount of involvement in the movement by the non-uniform sector.

In other Scouting news, Jack Tennant of Prescott has been re-appointed district commissioner for the third year. With him as assistants will be Adrien VanSchie of Augusta Township in the Cub section; Linda Foster from Winchester at the Beaver level. Ms. Foster has taken over the position from Sandi Mackay of Prescott who has taken leave of the organization. Tennant also announced the appointment of Margaret Howe, from 2nd Prescott, as the new district Beaver leader, and the role of assistant district commissioner for the Scout section is yet to be filled.

McAuley, in his public relations role, is planning on writing a series of articles on Scouting in an effort to better inform the general public of what Scouting has to offer the youth of our area.

Ombudsman visits area

MORRISBURG — Klaas Bylsma, district officer with the Office of the Ombudsman will visit Morrisburg and Cornwall areas on Nov. 9.

He will be meeting with a number of community groups and will be available to meet privately with individuals with complaints, on a first come, first serve basis.

Bylsma will be available at the Morrisburg Municipal Office from 10am to 11:30am and at the offices of the Children's Aid Society in Cornwall from 1pm to 3pm.

The Office of the Ombudsman helps groups and individuals resolve complaints with Ontario government ministries, agencies, boards and commissions.

Diamond wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Latimer, Metcalfe, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Oct. 24. Last Saturday evening, the popular couple was honored at a family dinner in the Anglican Church Hall. Mayor Al Bouwers brought congratulatory gifts from three levels of government and a telegram from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth.

Hawks edge Aeros at home

Austin, Reid score twice in Hawks' first victory

WINCHESTER—Rookies Derek Austin and Doug each potted a pair of goals here Friday night leading the Winchester Hawks to its first Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League victory, a 7-6 decision over the Rideau Division's Athens Aeros.

The Hawks couldn't extend their modest win string, having it snapped by the Lions in Morrisburg Sunday afternoon. Randy Jodoin powered the Lions to their 7-3 victory scoring twice and assisting on two other markers.

The weekend split leaves Winchester last in the St. Lawrence Division with three points on a win, four losses and a tie. And it sets the stage for this weekend's big test against both Char- Lan (in Char-Lan on Saturday) and the Alexandria Glens (here in Winchester Sunday afternoon at 2pm).

In spite of the strength of the competition staring his young club in the face this weekend, Hawks' coach Bill Murphy said Monday, "We are looking forward to the challenge, and won't back up from them (Rebs, Glens) a bit."

Murphy was happy and relieved, for his players' sakes, that they finally won. The 7-6 victory over Athens came after four straight losses.

Sunday's setback in Morrisburg he said was decided in the first period when his team took seven minor penalties including doubles at 11:34, 11:13, 6:51 and 3:45. Lions scored two powerplay goals and carried a 4-1 lead into period two.

"Killing penalties really wore us down. They (Lions) have a lot of experience in their lineup. We have four defencemen now and they are all 17 years old so they make rookie mistakes. But they are eager to learn and will learn by their mistakes. I, as a coach, must be patient. We are young and we are learning."

The coach points to the fact that he was without Francois Villeneuve (groin injury) and Don Larocque (work commitment) and he has six players on the shelf. Several of the injured are to start their comebacks this week at practice.

"We are a fast team but with just three lines we have been burning out late in the games. When we get our other line rolling and are able to pour four lines over the boards I think we will be hard to beat, harder to deal with."

"Even strength we are doing all right, playing shorthanded we are burning ourselves out. When we get the players back we will be all right. We are certainly not discouraged at this time."

WIN NUMBER ONE

Here Friday night the Hawks took a 2-1 first period lead on the Athens Aeros. Dan Vajcovec opened it up, scoring his fourth of the year on a feed by Doug Reid at 17:20.

Athens tied it up on a powerplay at 15:56 when Brett Russell beat Dave Monsour.

Steve Regan made it a 2-1 contest notching his fourth goal at 9:49. Defenceman Scott Barkley set up the play.

Bill Dixie evened it up 2-2, scoring for Athens at 12:54 of the second frame. Derek Austin snapped in an unassisted goal at 11:15, putting the Hawks into a 3-2 lead only to have Aeros' Edwin Palmer tie it up 3-3 with the first of his three goals. Doug Reid handed the Hawks the 4-3 lead scoring from Jason Doucette on a powerplay at 1:06.

Derek Austin put the Hawks up 5-3 when he scored on a play set up by Dan Vajcovec and Doug Reid at 17:27 of the final period. Athens stormed back on goals by Palmer and Ron Greenham to tie it up 5-5.

Chad Brownlee ripped in an unassisted goal to give Winchester a 6-5 lead, with a minute left. Doug Reid dumped in his second goal of the night, hitting the empty Aeros' net with 18 seconds left, widening the gap to 7-5, but Palmer made it a 7-6 final beating Dave Monsour with just four seconds left in the game.

Hawks took six minor penalties while Athens took nine and a game misconduct. Aeros put 50 shots on the Hawks' Dave Monsour while Jim Redmond stopped 37 of Winchester's 44 drives.

LIONS WIN AGAIN

Morrisburg Lions scored four times, two on the powerplay, skating out to a 4-1 first-period lead Sunday. They enlarged their lead to 5-2 in the second and cruised to a 7-3 win over Winchester.

Morrisburg has now won both encounters with the Hawks and have outscored them 19-10.

Steve Regan continued his hot touch around the net scoring two of the Hawks' three goals and assisting on the third. Regan, a Nepean AA Midget product, now has six goals and seven assists in six games.

Regan scored a first-period goal on a pass from Chad Brownlee at 12:01 of the first period. He then engineered Jason Doucette's third goal of the year at 2:39 of the second period. Regan dented twine behind Kevin Eamon with 5:42 left in the game, finishing off a play started by Chris Williams and Dan Vajcovec.

Randy Jodoin led the Lions with two goals and two assists. Randy Mullin, Andy Lee and Rod Lemieux each recorded a goal and one assist. Shawn Lapier and Ernie Beckstead each netted a single goal. Robbie Whitteker (2), Sean Baker, Johny Morrow and Yvon Besner all earned assists.

Hawks took 15 and Morrisburg 13 minor penalties.

Regan on target

Winchester Hawks' rookie forward Steve Regan, wearing Boyd Chrysler's No. 11, has been right on target in his first junior B season. The former Nepean AA Midget has scored six times in six games and has added seven assists, for a team-leading 13 points. Regan picked up three goals and an assist in two weekend games. Overtime goal defeats Panthers

WINCHESTER — Dunbar Panthers lost for the first time in over a season here Sunday night. The defending Winchester Broomball League A Pool champs came out on the short end of a 3- 2, overtime decision losing to the Morewood Vikings.

Mario Quenville slapped in the winner with 2:36 left in overtime to give the Vikings a 3-2 victory. The outcome left Morewood and Dunbar tied atop the A Pool standings with identical records of four wins and a loss. Vince Cousineau engineered the deciding goal.

Dunbar struck first when Shawn Patrick banged in his first goal of the year at 17:21 of the first half. Lyn Whitteker and Gary Gallinger set up the play. But Morewood evened things up in the same frame as Gerald Eby beat Terry Colligan on a play started by Mario Quenville at the 2:18 mark.

Dunbar took a 2-1 lead at the 12:58 mark of the second frame when Lyn Whitteker connected from Gary Gallinger and Shawn Patrick.

The Panthers protected their slim lead until Morewood tied it up at two with just 3:18 left in the game. Dan McMahon did the damage knotting the count on a pass from Benny Phillips.

Twenty-four seconds into OT, Cousineau set up Quenville and the Vikes had their upset 3-2 victory.

Ormond Cloverdales also pulled off an exciting overtime win, nipping the Toyes Hill Roadrunners 2-1 on Doug Sloan's second goal of the game. Sloan gave Ormond the victory, scoring from Brian Wiggins with just 56 seconds left on the clock.

Toyes Hill gained a 1-0 lead at 16:35 of the first half when Brian Melenhorst scored from Ted Bonger and Paul Melenhorst. Ormond tied it up with 2:13 left in the same half as Doug Sloan hit from John Velthuis. Sloan scored again at the 56-second mark to hand the Cloverdales a 2-1 win.

Ben Melenhorst posted the win while Daryl Lapensee suffered the one goal setback.

Sunday's other two contest were shutout victories for Russell's Magnum Force who blasted winless Newington 11-0 and a 3-0 decision for Prescott Road over the Winchester Raiders.

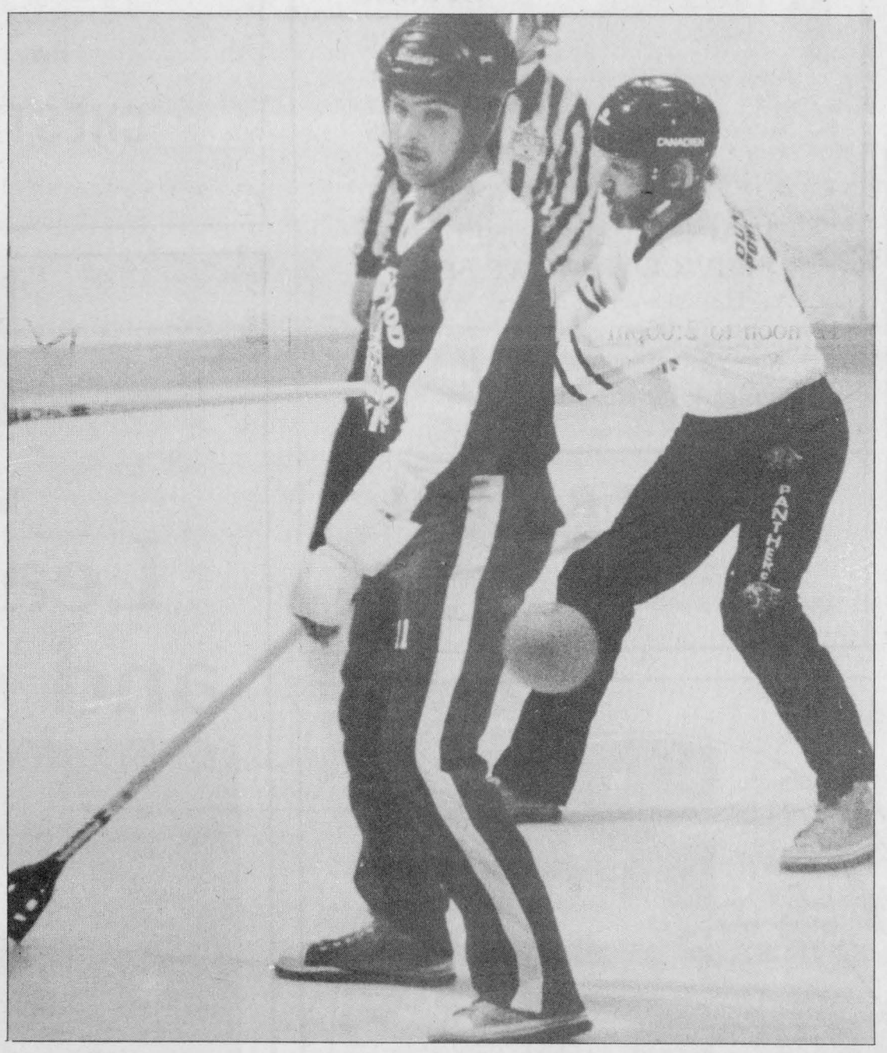
Mike Bols powered Magnum Force to their 11-0 decision, scoring three times and assisting on three more goals. Steve Bekkers popped in a pair of goals and drew three assists. Jim Pennock had four points on a goal and three assists. John Corvenelli and Geoff Corey each had a goal and two assists. Dave Bols, Lucien Proulx and Paul Bols each scored a goal. Jim Feeley earned a single assist.

John Rystephanuk posted the shutout victory.

Jeff Hope was the winning goaler in Prescott Road's 3-0 win over the Winchester Raiders.

John Koenier ripped in the winning goal, scoring from Reg Fisher at 14:35 of the first half.

Fisher then assisted on Dave Holmes' goal at 6:44 and Pete Schoones' mark which came one second before half time. The score remained at 3-0 following a scoreless second half.



Morewood Vikings' Vince Cousineau played the role of set-up man Sunday night, assisting on Mario Quenville's overtime goal. The Vikes nipped formerly-undefeated Dunbar 3-2 after Lyn Whitteker (white jersey) had tied the game at two.

Jets blow Gaels away

METCALFE — After splitting a pair of games last week, the Metcalfe Jets saw their record slip to one win and four losses following a tough 6-5 loss to the Renfrew Timberwolves in Eastern Ontario Junior 'B' Hockey League play here on Sunday.

Thursday, West Ottawa defeated Metcalfe 12-2 but the Jets bounced back Friday with an impressive 7-4 win over Navan.

Sunday, the Jets spotted Renfrew a 3-0, first-period lead before bouncing back to make the game close in the second period. Darcy Provost scored from Dave Warren at the 13:14 mark of the second to put the Jets on the board. The Timberwolves came back with their fourth goal to regain their three-goal lead, but the Jets began to chip away.

Mike Fournier scored from Don Gamble and Chris Rawlings with 8:53 left in the second period, and then Gamble scored again from Provost and Chris Lavallee a minute later to make the score 4-3.

In the third period, Peter Elliott scored for Renfrew to take some of the wind out of the Metcalfe sails. However, the Jets fought back and tied the score with goals by Dave Warren and Ken Browner.

The winning goal came with just over 10 minutes left in the third period, as Renfrew's Brad Steeg popped in his second marker of the game.

The difference in the game was Renfrew goalie Leon Switzer. The Jets outshot the Wolves 36-22, yet were unable to tie the score late in the game despite heavy pressure.

"We're not too concerned about our record right now," Jets' manager Stu Holmes said after the game. "This is a very young team and we expected to have a slow start. They do have a lot of character, and things will turn around before Christmas."

The Jets are at South Ottawa tonight before hosting Perth Friday (Oct. 28) night.

Quinn leads Bruins to upset

METCALFE — Neil Quinn scored three times and set up a fourth goal, leading the formerly winless Wichers Construction Bruins to their first Metcalfe Town Hockey League victory here Sunday.

Quinn's four points were part of an impressive 9-4 victory over the previously undefeated Dan Morris Equipment Leafs.

Sunday's other contest proved to be another goal-scoring extravaganza as number two ranked Mike's Restaurant Hawks blasted the Bradley Computax Canadiens 12-2.

After six games the Leafs lead with 10 points. Mike's Hawks have nine, the Canadiens three and the Bruins two points.

Bruins took a slim 1-0 first-period lead on Doug Hicks' goal at the 9:18 mark. They exploded into a 7-3 second-period lead and rolled on to their first win, a 9-4 win over the front-running Leafs.

Brian Kerfoot registered his first win in the Bruins' cage. Neil Quinn had three goals and one assist for the winners. Fred Zepling had two goals and two assists and Kevin Downey one goal and two helpers. Single markers went to Doug Hicks, Dan Crerar and Barry Rivers. John Vandentillardt (three), Keith Benn, Willis Stevens and Doug Hicks earned assists.

Dave Vanderydt led the Leafs' attack, scoring three times, all came in the second period. Wes Kinkade netted the other goal. Wayne Howison (two), Ron Flanagan and Kinkade collected assists.

HAWKS EXPLODE

Mike's Hawks ripped up the Bradley Canadiens 12-2 in Sunday's other contest.

Four players collected five points apiece in the victory. Mike Gebara led the charge scoring three times and setting up two goals. Tyrone Franey and Rob Renaud each popped in a pair of goals and drew three assists. Peter Nooyen fired in a goal and collected four assists.

Tony Hendrikx, George Nesbitt, Dan Rausch and Erin Rausch each scored once.

Terry Larose (2), Rausch (2), Bill Jamieson, Erin Franey, Dan Morris and Fred Young all collected assists.

Paul Nooyen and Jeff Stanley replied for the Canadiens. Mike Foubert picked up the lone assist.

Bill Jamieson posted the victory surrendering goals in the first and second periods.

Midget Bs surprise coach with two exhibition victories

CHESTERVILLE — North Dundas' Midget B Demons have rolled off a pair of exhibition victories in as many games, doubling the South Grenville Generals 4-2 and knocking off the Morrisburg Midget A Lions 3-2.

Demons' coach Bernie Harper said the 3-2 win over the A-ranked Lions was unexpected, but reported the team received great effort from goalie Billy Zrymiak who allowed the Demons to take a 2-0 lead. The coach also felt the forechecking effort of all three of his lines played a big role in the win by forcing the Morrisburg defenders to cough up the puck.

North Dundas took a 1-0 lead when Scott Francis converted a relay sent his way by Dave Harper and Willy O'Connor at 6:31 of the first period. Tony Holmes made it 2-0 when he scored from Troy Helmer at the 4:11 mark of the same frame.

Morrisburg closed the gap to 2-1 on Rob Casselman's unassisted goal at 3:44 of the second period.

Dave Harper netted what proved to be the winning goal when he took a perfect cross-ice pass from Scott Francis and one-timed it past Todd Aikman from the top of the face-off circle at 9:26 of the final frame.

Morrisburg closed the gap to 3-2 on an unassisted goal by Jamie Smith with 3:08 left in the game.

In their first pre-season test on Oct. 18 the North Dundas squad got a two-goal effort from Todd Halpenny in a 4-2 victory.

Coach Harper felt his team was a little disorganized because it was their first game but said he liked the defensive work of Chad Benoit and Brad Cotnam and the penalty-killing of the Holmes brothers, Chris and Tony.

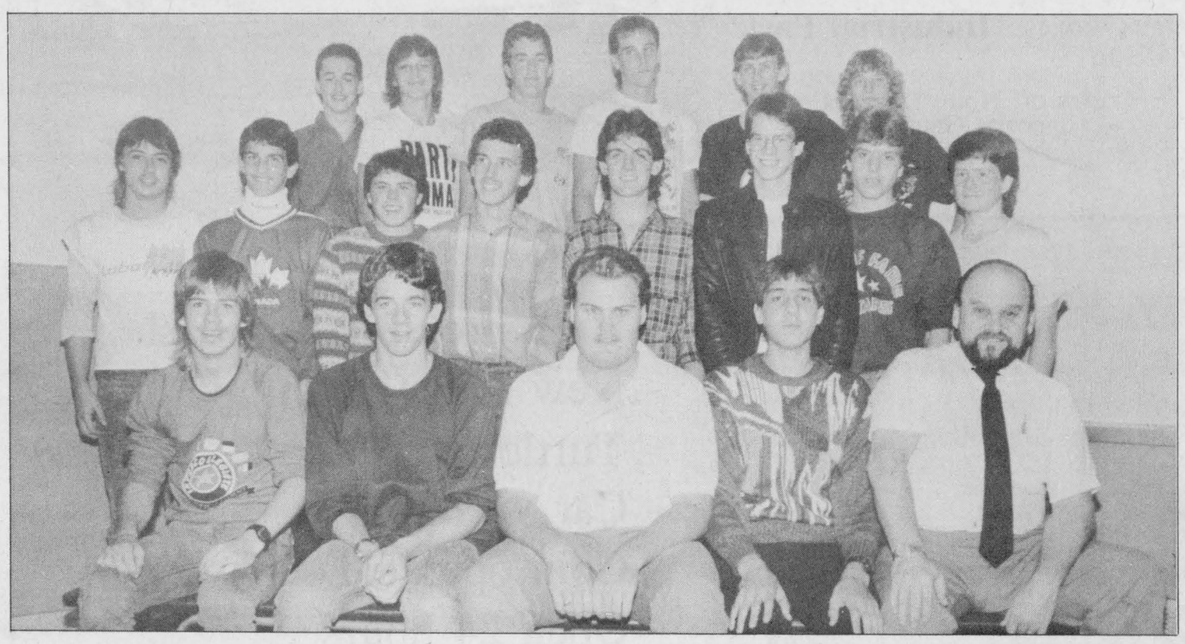
Demons broke-up a scoreless game with a pair of second period goals. Gerry VanKessel made it 1-0 scoring unassisted at 3:41. Todd Halpenny upped it to 2-0, scoring from Dave Harper and Scott Francis with 38 seconds left in the period.

South Grenville tied it up 2-2 notching goals at 10:31 and 9:47, but the Demons clicked for two in the final 18 seconds to pull off the win.

Halpenny clicked for the winner at 18 seconds, drawing assistance from Willy O'Connor. Chris Holmes sealed the decision scoring with just 20 seconds left on the clock.

Demons will host the Cornwall Township Flyers here in Chesterville this Friday night (Oct. 28 at 8pm) in another exhibition tilt.

The North Dundas Minor Hockey Association will host their Midget B tournament on Sun, Dec. 11.



Team of the week

Novice teams restructured

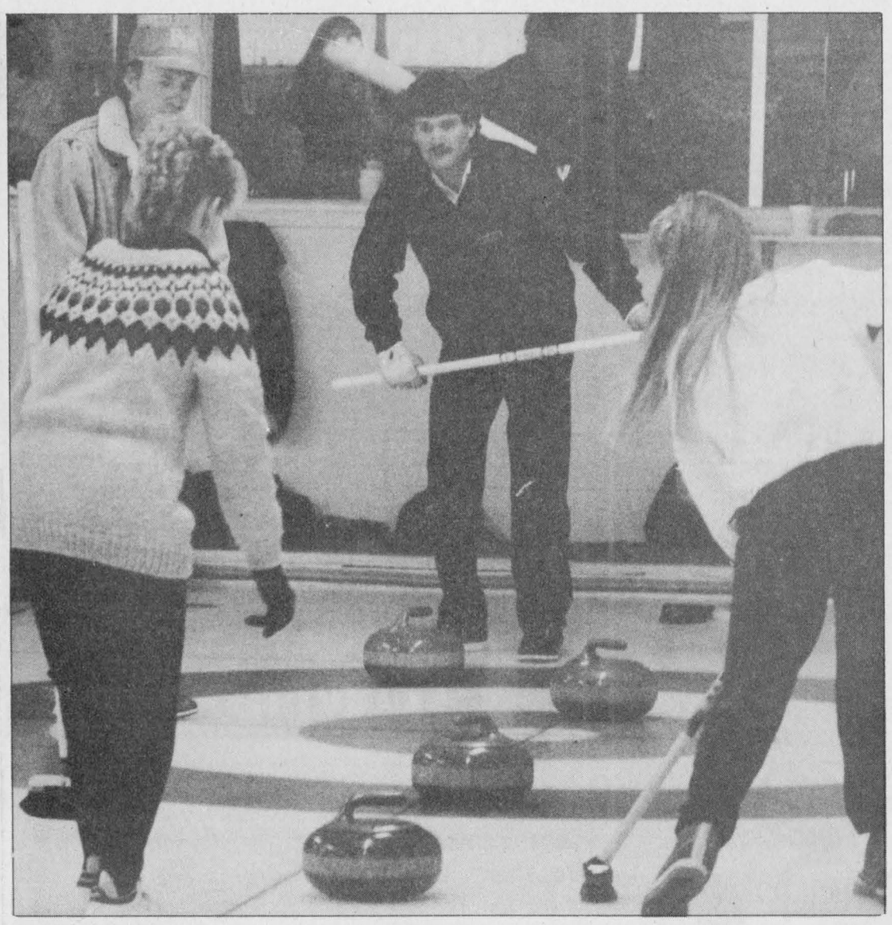
METCALFE — Metcalfe's newly formed Novice C team played its first game against a much stronger and more experienced North Gloucester squad and were overwhelmed 22-1.

It was the first game for most of the Metcalfe girls and they played with great enthusiasm and heart, proving that the team with the most goals isn't always the winning team.

Rachel Hains was kept busy in the nets in her first start. Metcalfe's lone goal came from Celine Regimbald who scored on a pass from her sister Angele.

Metcalfe's two novice Regional C teams have been re-structured so there is now one Regional C and one Regional B squad. This format will allow players to play on a team at their skill level and will provide more opportunities for players to improve their skills throughout the season.

The National Capital Region Ringette League has withdrawn and will re-issue its schedule on Oct. 24.



Fun 'spiel

Winchester Curling Club launched another season Saturday, hosting its annual Opening Fun 'Spiel. Gary Munro and his team of Eunice Munro, Lee Anne Munro and Erwin Skuce edged Brad Mayhew, Helen Hyndman, Lee Anne Munro (spare) and Dan MacMartin by an end, to win the event. Brian Cinnamon nipped John Geymonat for the low-score prize. Regular season action starts this week. Press Photo—Van Bridger

Much-improved Flyers drop Junior C opener

CHESTERVILLE — For the Chesterville Flyers, there's no place like home.

Coming off a 16-4 season-opening pasting in Casselman Friday night, it figured Flyers would incur another shellacking Sunday at the hands of EOJCHL powers North Stormont 86's, right?

Wrong.

The Flyers did lose their home opener 7-4, to drop their season mark to 0-2, but they lost in a way that pleases head coaches. "I think it was a pretty impressive showing for our second game, especially after losing 16-4," said Flyers' coach Kirk Anderson. "I'm pleased with the improvement in just two days. Finch will be near or at the top (of the league) and we played them tough."

Indeed.

Flyers were just a goal down, 5-4, with time running out in the third period, when markers by Mike Jackson and Pat Sullivan provided 86's with some much-needed breathing room.

Even North Stormont head coach Steve McRae was impressed with Chesterville's showing. "They're (Flyers) going to be a pretty good club," conceded McRae. "They won't do too badly. After they get a win under their belts, they'll be all right."

Even an early 86's goal by Kenny Konick on a breakaway one minute into the game, didn't distract the Flyers from maintaining their bump-and-grind style.

Flyers were rewarded for hard work midway through the period when Don Marcellus led a four-man Chesterville breakout with the two clubs playing five a side. Instead of dishing off to a wing, Marcellus stepped into one at the blueline and beat 86's goalie Kent Pilon with a low drive to the stick side.

Captain John Guy put the Flyers ahead 2-1 five minutes later. Rod Brown's point-shot was blocked by Kent Pilon, but Chris Rodney, acting as a screen in front of the 86's net, distracted Pilon enough that the keeper lost control of the rebound. An alert Guy pounced on the loose puck putting Flyers ahead.

The 86's tied it at two before the end of the period when Todd Blaine's slapshot from just inside the blueline beat Flyers' goalie Richard Gauthier high to the glove side.

"We didn't play very well today, especially in that first period," said McRae. "It's tough to play that style. Chesterville was playing more of a dump and dig style than anything else. Coming off the Rockland game, which was more positional, we found it tough to adjust today."

Anderson, however, says his team was just playing the way they have to, to be successful. "We wanted to forecheck, press in the offensive and see what happens, and we were able to do that.

86's regrouped during the break and began to finish their plays in the second period, something Flyers wouldn't allow them to do in the first. Tim Ouderkirk scored two minutes in as 86's regained the lead, at 3-2.

North Stormont doubled their advantage with 12 minutes left in the second on Todd Blaine's second of three goals. Gauthier stopped an initial shot from Ouderkirk but Blaine was at the goal mouth at the right time and was able to knife the puck over a sprawled Gauthier.

Two minutes later, D. Denman closed the gap to one, 4-3, scoring on a slapshot from well out.

At that point, Gauthier, a Crysler native, took over, and stymied 86's snipers on several occasions, keeping Flyers in the game.

Exhibit A: Shortly after Flyers made it 4-3, 86's went to the attack once again. Captain Mike Van Delst, who had carried the puck behind Flyers' goal, spotted Ouderkirk streaking towards the slot. Van Delst's pass was picture perfect, and Ouderkirk's shot was a one-timer, but Gauthier reacted to just get a piece of the top corner-bound puck with his outstretched glove.

Exhibit B: Minutes later, Dale Murray, left unattended in the crease area, was able to take several whacks at a loose puck but he couldn't stuff it past Gauthier, who went down and was able to smother the disk with seven minutes left in the period.

Flyers weathered the storm and had an opportunity to tie it, on a two-man powerplay advantage, but they couldn't get a clear shot away.

86's were finally able to beat Gauthier and take a 5-3 lead.

Again in the third, Flyers fought back and closed to within a goal when Rod Brown converted one from a goal-mouth scramble with seven minutes remaining.

86's settled the issue three minutes later, however, on Mike Jackson's effort. Pat Sullivan closed out the scoring three minutes later.

Hierlihy downfall of Tween As

METCALFE — Andree Hierlihy scored five of her team's six goals and assisted on the sixth as Nepean's Tween A squad skated to a 6-4 National Capital Region Ringette League victory over Metcalfe last Wednesday.

Hierlihy fired in Nepean's first five goals and was responsible for her team's 3-1 lead at half-time. The winners connected for one powerplay goal while Metcalfe roared back into contention in the second half, thanks to three powerplay markers.

Gayle Dillabaugh opened the scoring for Metcalfe, clicking at 6:47 to tie the game up 1-1. But Nepean roared back with two markers and led 3-1 at the half.

Dillabaugh scored again at 12:08 of the second period and then Kim MacDonald tied the game up at 3-3, scoring at the 8:00 mark. Melanie Leroux fired in the final Metcalfe goal with 6:38 left, but Nepean stormed back, hitting for goals with 4:22 and 3:43 left, to take the game by a 6-4 margin.

Krista Benson played a solid game in nets for Metcalfe after being called up from the Tween B team.

Shauna Flichel (2), Gayle Dillabaugh, Melanie Leroux, Kim MacDonald and Virginia McCooeye all earned assists.

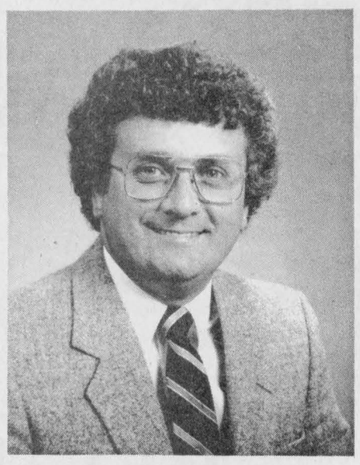
On November 14, ELECT BLAINE BALL Councillor, Osgoode Township



Here's why:
- Proven record during last 3 years.
- A recognition of the important choices facing the township in the 1980's and 1990's.
- Common sense solutions to township planning and development.
- Willingness to serve, beginning with attentive listening.
- Community commitment since moving to the township in 1966.
- Strong record of community service.

If I can be of service on municipal concerns, please call me at 821-2010.

Blaine J. Ball

On November 14, RE-ELECT Blaine Ball for Township Hall
BALL, BLAINE X

C.O.R. THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE
Confederation Of Regions PARTY

We are opposed to the Meech Lake Accord:

#1
1. Quebec will have veto power over constitutional reform.
2. Quebec will appoint 3 of the 9 judges on the Supreme Court of Canada.
3. Quebec may remain unilingual French while the rest of Canada becomes bilingual.
4. Quebec does not have to give linguistic rights to the English speaking population of that province.
5. Quebec does not have to comply with Federal Immigration policies.

WE SUPPORT

#2 Reduce the power of the Prime Minister to two terms of office only.

#3 Fixed terms of Government–pre-arranged election date. Government will not be defeated on non-confidence vote if a bill is defeated in parliament.

#4 Establish an ELECTED SENATE with equal representation from four regions of Canada, ie The Western provinces, Ontario, Quebec, and The Atlantic provinces. This will curtail and effectively control unfair legislation passed by a majority government in the House of Commons.

#5 Establish binding referendums requiring members of the House of Commons to vote according to constituents wishes—not the wishes of the party he represents.

#6 We are in favour of a sensible Free Trade policy, negotiated on a sector by sector basis, recognizing regional autonomy.

#7 We believe in ONE OFFICIAL LANGUAGE outside of Quebec. Millions of dollars are being spent daily on Bilingualism by the Federal Government. Jobs are and will be lost daily because of this artificial need for bilingualism.

#8 Review foreign aid programs to limit direct aid and focus on education, health care, nutrition, and self help.

#9 Concentrate defence spending in areas where Canada has excelled in the past in co-operation with allies.

#10 C.O.R. is for a complete review of Canada Post including privitization which will close many rural post offices which are desperately needed by the rural residents.

#11 We insist on accelerated effective enironmental controls. Billions of dollars is promised by the conservative party to promote bilingualism, and only 127 million to clean up the environment. We feel that the figures should be revised to ensure our future generations a land to live in.

We must bring to an end the mischief of perpetual deficits and a staggering national debt accumulation. We must stop the horrendous taxation imposed on the people of this great nation. (PERSONAL INCOME TAXES HAVE INCREASED BY $23 BILLION SINCE 1984). We must restore reason and common sense in place of these disastrous practices.

Scott scores hat in Canadiens' win

WINCHESTER — Barry Scott scored three consecutive goals here last Tuesday evening and drew an assist on a fourth, pacing the undefeated Country Kitchen Canadiens to a 6-3 win over the Tri-County Windows Raiders.

The victory left the Canadiens on top of the Winchester Town Hockey League standings with two wins and a tie in three starts.

In Tuesday's second encounter the Aqua Fun Flyers won its first game of the young season, dumping the previously undefeated CountryBoy Blazers 4-1.

Country Kitchen leads the circuit with five of six points. The Blazers are two points back with three points. Both the Flyers and Raiders are just one point back and poised to move up in the very competitive race.

WTHL scoring lead Darrell Shelp tied the score at one for Country Kitchen, scoring his sixth goal in three games on a play set up for him by Barry Scott and Rod Bowman at 9:16 of period one. Shelp's goal nullified the one-goal lead the Raiders had gained when Barry Fawcett scored from Al McLean and Al Porteous at 14:54.

Canadiens went up 2-1 at 8:07 as Karl McRoberts finished off a play started by Bowman and Corkery.

It was all Canadiens in period two as they zoomed into a 5-2 lead. Zeke Saunders made it 3-1 scoring from Corkery and Bruce Angus at 17:36. Barry Scott then hit for two goals, connecting from Tim Moher and Shelp at 13:31 and again at 6:42, scoring from Moher and Larry Moore.

Mike Armstrong responded with the Raiders' second goal at the 2:06 mark, making it a 5-2 game after two periods. Tom Kirkwood assisted on the goal.

Barry Scott completed his hat trick when he put Country Kitchen up 6-2 at 10:20 of the final frame. Larry Moore collected his second assist of the game on the play.

Tom Kirkwood made it a 6-3 final, netting his team's final goal on a play started for him by Barry Fawcett and Al McLean with 6:48 left in the game.

Kevin Baldwin posted the win while Steve Guy took the loss.

FLYERS WIN FIRST

Aqua Fun Flyers made the most of their scoring opportunities, winning their first game of the season by defeating CountryBoy Blazers 4-1.

Flyers' goalie Yvon Bourdeaux turned back the Blazers in the early stages and didn't surrender a goal until Doug Duncan ruined his shutout scoring on a break, set up by Dick Christie and Grey Allen at 10:15 of the third period.

Dave Kerr pounded a Rick Cowell relay into Dan Hogaboam's net at 9:31 of the first frame to give the Flyers a 1-0 lead.

They then locked up the game, scoring three unanswered markers in period two. Doug Last netted what would prove to be the winning goal at 12:25 polishing off a scramble involving Larry Simms and Gord Milne.

Geoff Summers then made it 3-0, launching a rocket into the top of the net from two feet out at the 2:03 mark.

Brian Condon then redirected a goal-mouth pass in over Hogaboam's pads at 1:19 of the sandwich session to make it a 4-0 contest. Geoff Summers and Larry Simms picked up the assists on the Flyers' final goal.

Winchester loses to Angels

MORRISBURG — Winchester lost its inaugural ROMEKS league girls hockey game Wednesday (Oct. 19), falling to Charlie's Angels of Morrisburg, 5-1.

Kathryn Houze scored twice for the victorious Angels, her first coming in the opening period, as Morrisburg jumped out to a 2-0 lead.

Michelle Ault also scored for the Angels in the first.

Tanya Mabu connected in the second as Morrisburg built a 3-0 cushion.

Stacey Berry scored an unassisted marker for Winchester with seven minutes remaining in the game, to break the shutout.

Karen Mallec closed out the scoring with a third-period marker for the Angels. Michelle Ault assisted.

Frankly speaking

by Frank Morgan

IT HAS BEEN A VERY UNPREDICTABLE YEAR

The most snow at such an early date since 1939, that's what we got this weekend and the forecasters missed this one completely. Then, there was the biggest windstorm to ever hit our town and also the heat wave that we all experienced during our centennial celebrations. Quite strange and unpredictable weather patterns. Those in touch were way off on Canada's medal potential at the Olympics and what a shock when they took away Ben Johnson's gold. That one rocked the world. Even this past weekend, the Riders won one in the snow and who could have even given the Dodgers a chance to beat the Mets, let alone going all the way against the powerful Oakland As. If one had predicted that the great Gretzky would be playing for the L.A. Kings when the season started, he would have been hauled in for a mental examination. Now, in such a crazy year who would want to make a prediction on the outcome of our local municipal races that are coming up in a few weeks, or to even venture how many seats the NDP will end up with. Why John Turner just might be our next prime minister. Yes, this has been a strange year and things have just been all turned around. To prove my point and let my case rest, look at who is the top team in the NHL. Not even Harold Ballard or Sparling Summers would have believed this.

HAWKS PLAY AT HOME SUNDAY, THIS WEEKEND

Hawks finally broke into the win column on Friday night before a home crowd, with an overtime win against Athens. However, they were not so fortunate at Morrisburg on Sunday, but a tie, a win and a defeat in their last three, means that the team is not to be written off as yet. This coming weekend will be quite a test for the team with two tough games at hand. On Saturday night, the Hawks head for Williamstown to meet Char-Lan, then they return to home ice for a Sunday afternoon encounter with the powerful Alexandria Glenns, who were last year's champs. Char-Lan and Alexandria are currently riding the first and second positions in the league and the Hawks are currently in last place, so they will need all the support they can get. So do come to the arena on Sunday and just don't write off the team at this early date, they will come on.

SOME POINTS OF INTEREST

No dance this Friday night, but an open reception on Saturday night following the wedding of Bill Scrivener and Marie Fazzino. Cocktails will be served to invited guests from 8 till 9, and then friends and neighbors may join the dancing from 9 till 1am. The arena will be closed next Monday night because of Halloween. Public skating is this Wednesday from 7 till 9 and on Saturday night from 7 till 8:30. Happy to announce that Terry is still doing exceptionally well with the Flyers and has added some more points to his record in the past week. We are not sure about Monday night's game, but we do know that he picked up an assist two nights ago and made the national news last week when he scored a goal and had two assists, for a three-pointer. Way to go Ter, keep up the strong showing.

Nichol nets 7 for Print

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Shane Nichol launched the 1988-89 Mountain Township Floor Hockey campaign with a big seven-goal game here Monday night.

Nichol's new team, Winchester Print, ran to an 11-1 victory over Mountain Township Fire Department Smokies in one of two games played in the season opener.

In the other contest Kyle Marriner held the hot stick, scoring five times for the Lions Club in their 8-5 win over S.M. Electric.

Winchester Print is a new sponsor this season, taking over a club generously supported for many years by South Mountain's WI.

The Print stormed into a 6-0 first-period lead getting three goals from Shane Nichol, a pair from Jeff Berube and a single from Andy Hoogenboom.

Hoogenboom and Nichol fired in second-period markers as the print took an 8-0 lead.

The Smokies finally ruined the Print's hope for a shutout when Cheryl Crowder scored with 8:16 left in the game.

Nichol netted three more goals in the final period to run the final to 11-1. Nichol scored seven times and drew one assist. Jeff Berube had two goals and two assists. Andy Hoogenboom netted two goals and drew one assist. Natalie Patterson and Steve Bossel each picked up an assist.

LIONS BY THREE

Lions Club jumped into a 3-2 first-period lead on S.M. Electric, but fell behind 5-3 after two periods of play before rallying for an 8-5 victory.

Kyle Marriner set up the first goal of the final period helping Bryan Petersen close the gap to 5-4 at 2:22. Marriner then went to work and scored four consecutive goals to make it an 8-5 final. Scott Beggs drew assists on the first two at 8:21 and 9:07 and then Marriner scored unassisted at 17:26 and again at 19:15.

Marriner finished the game with five goals and one assist. Scott Beggs had a goal and three helpers, while Bryan Petersen and Janet Adams each scored once.

Rebecca Comfort scored twice for S.M. Jo-Ann Larocque collected a goal and one assist while Leslie Peterson and Chris Stewart each found the net once. Greg Van Bridger picked up an assist.

Metcalfe Tween teams drop games to Gatineau, Orleans

RUSSELL — Metcalfe's Tween ringette teams dropped a pair of National Capital Regional Ringette league encounters. Here in Russell Gatineau slipped by the Metcalfe Tween Bs 5-3 and in Metcalfe Orleans doubled the Tween Cs 6-3.

Gatineau broke on top quickly in the Tween B contest and used its early two-goal lead as the difference in the 5-3 outcome.

Jodi Mullingan scored Metcalfe's first goal of the season at 12:41 of the first half, cutting the gap to 2-1, but the Gatineau girls charged into a 5-1 lead and held on for the 5-3 win.

Jennifer Clost added Metcalfe's second goal, scoring with 4:04 left in the game. Tammy Godwin fired in her team's third and final goal scoring on a Metcalfe powerplay set up by Janice Isaac with just 1:52 left in the game.

TWEEN C

Orleans' Lindsay Cliff scored five goals and set up her team's sixth as the visitors doubled the Tween Cs in Metcalfe.

Metcalfe's Julie Korteweg gave her team a 1-0 lead, scoring unassisted at 14:21 of the first half. Lindsay Cliff then took over and conected for three unanswered goals to lift Orleans into a 3-1 lead at the half.

Cliff netted another goal at 10:54 of the second half and Karen Serafin added another at 9:24 before Kim Ellerton could cut the gap to 5-2 at the 5:49 mark. Cliff hit for her fifth goal of the game with 1:25 left and then Ellerton made it a 6-3 final, scoring Metcalfe's third goal with 1:12 showing on the clock.

Kim Ellerton hit for two and Julie Korteweg scored one goal. Assists went to Amanda Fader, Lindsay Kelly and Kerrie Fearnehough. Krista Castle was Metcalfe's goalie.

Olympics edge Royals

HULL — The Cornwall-Seaway Valley Royals left Hull Sunday still looking for its first victory in its first season of ODMHA Midget AA play.

The host Hull Olympics edged the Royals 2-0, scoring once on a powerplay and once on a deflection off a defender's skate. The Hull encounter marked the fourth game for the young Royals in five days.

At home in Cornwall for the home opener, the Royals raced out to a 4-1 lead on the highly-touted Gatineau Ambassadors but lost an exciting 6-5 decision when the visitors scored the deciding goal on a breakaway with 20 seconds left on the clock.

Friday night at the Nepean Sportsplex the Royals came up flat and came away on the short end of a 5-0 score.

Saturday at the Canterbury Arena they were slow to start, gave up an early 7-1 lead and lost 9-3 to South Ottawa Canadians. Coach Ray Barnes said his team came around in the second half of that game and controlled the Canadians and outscored them 2-1 in the final period, but a bad start ruined an opportunity for a better result.

Sunday the coach thought the team was definitely in the game and a few breaks would have possibly given the Royals a victory over Hull.

Finch's Dave Lavergne scored the hat trick for Cornwall-Seaway Vally in its 6-5 loss to Gatineau. He also drew an assist. North Dundas' Derek Brannan also scored as did Jason Warner. Denis St. Jean assisted on four of the five goals. Andrew Adams, Dave Serviss, Craig Villeneuve, Warner and John Bellefeuille all earned assists.

The Royals, with former North Dundas Minor Hockey Association players, Derek Brannan, Chris Van Bridger, Bryan Helmer, Dennis Ouellette and Scot Bell in their lineup, will be looking for a win at home tonight (Wed., Oct. 26) when they host the Ottawa Valley Titans in Cornwall.

Harvex hustles to title

OSGOODE — Pete McKay snapped in two goals leading the Harvex Huslers to a 4-3 win over Metcalfe and the Over 35 Division championship here at the Pypers Hockey Tournament over the weekend.

Harvex, who could muster just six skaters for Saturday's 3-2 semi-final win over Manotick's Savin Hawks who had seven, now referred to as the silver seven, were in uniform for the championship test against Metcalfe.

Metcalfe took an early 1-0 lead in the final but Harvex rallied on a pair of markers by Dick Christie and Don Marcellus to go up 2-1. Pete McKay then pumped in a pair to give the Huslers a 4-2 edge. Richard Gilmer engineered what would prove to be the winning goal as Metcalfe cut the final difference to 4-3, scoring late in the contest.

Dick Christie was named the Division's MVP and Kevin Baldwin was deemed the section's Best Goaltender.

Dick Christie scored three times in last Thursday's opening 5-1 win over Manotick's United Video. Don Marcellus fired in the other two markers.

In their semi-final test Saturday the Huslers got a two-goal effort from Phil Lyall and a single marker from Butch Oldford as they rallied from a 2-0 deficit to defeat the Savin Hawks 3-2.

Metcalfe doubled Osgoode's Old Pride 4-2 in the first game and then eliminated North Gower in the semi-final round to make it into the final.

Members of the winning squad were Kevin Baldwin, Gerry Crowder, Butch Oldford, Brian Simpson, Dick Christie, Don Marcellus, Phil Lyall, Brian Halpenny, Al Van Bridger, Richard Gilmer, Peter McKay.

I have resided in Mountain Township all my life (26 years).

There are some things in this Township that should be given more attention.

- Zoning plan should be updated. Land inadequate for agriculture should be used for housing.
- Bylaws should be updated.
- Better maintenance of roads. More weed control, cleaning of ditches, sanding and salting of roads in winter.
- People should be given more information about the Waste Management Study. Eastern Ontario garbage should not be dumped in Mountain Township.
- The people should have more information on how their tax dollar is spent and where.

Final volley

North Dundas District High School's boys' volleyball teams ran into some very stiff competition this season and found victories hard to come by. The Devils concluded their SD&G season hosting the Seaway Spartans and Tagwi Warriors on Monday. Playoffs are slated to get under way next week.

Petite Cs edge Orleans 4-3

Metcalfe's A team undefeated in league play

RUSSELL — Metcalfe's Petite C squad edged Orleans 4-3 in an exciting National Capital Region contest here on Sunday.

In Petite A Division action last week, the Metcalfe girls blasted Clarence Creek 10-0 and doubled Orleans 6-3 in Orleans on Saturday.

Paula Robertson and Kari Acres each scored twice for the Petite Cs in their 4-3 win over Orleans. Goalie Sarah Grimes put together a solid effort in the nets surrendering three goals to one shooter, Sophie Potvin. Melissa Ford set up two Metcalfe goals while Jennifer Cyr and Megan Dancer assisted on one goal each.

PETITE As UNDEFEATED

Saturday's 6-3 win over Orleans improved Metcalfe's Petite A record to a perfect three wins and no losses.

Last Wednesday in Clarence Creek, Anna Soubliere netted four goals and assisted on a fifth in Metcalfe's 10-0 win over Clarence. Amy Nesbitt posted the shutout.

Single goals came off the sticks of Marissa Jordon, Stephanie Cooper, Jennifer Prescott, Kandie Perron, Jenny Miller and Carrie Mondoux.

Marrissa Jordon (2), Anna Soubliere, Stephanie Cooper, Erin Lachance and Kim Nesbitt all earned assists. Metcalfe led the game 5-0 at the half.

Anna Soubliere again paced Metcalfe's attack, scoring three of her team's six goals in the 6-3 decision over Orleans. And once again Amy Nesbitt turned in a strong game in the cage as her team skated into a slim 2-1 lead at the half.

Soubliere scored her first of three goals with 8:04 left in the game as she opened up a 4-2 lead. Orleans closed the gap to 4-3 but Soubliere hit for goals with 6:52 and 14 seconds left in the game to give Metcalfe a 6-4 win.

Carrie Mondoux, Kandie Perron and Jennifer Prescott each scored once for the winners. Marissa Jordan engineered four goals while Carrie Mondoux (2), Kandie Perron, Jennifer Prescott, Stephanie Cooper, Erin Lachance and Amanda Lauder each drew one assist.

Cochrane wins Labatt's opener

OTTAWA — Bryan Cochrane and his McVey Insurance Services foursome of Bill Gamble, Dave Stanley and Ken Sullivan posted an impressive victory in their opening Labatt's Major Curling League contest.

Cochrane bounced back from an early 2-0 deficit and buried the winless Russ Taylor (RE/MAX) rink 10-3. The Russell foursome doesn't see any action until Nov. 3, when they will try to improve their record to two wins, in as many games, in a match against Rideau's Dan Hamilton. Following that test Cochrane will go against Navy's Bruce Delaney on Nov. 7.

Taylor stole a point in each of the first and second ends of the round, one match against Cochrane to go up 2-0.

The Russell skip said Taylor had him in trouble again in the third end, but things opened up and he was able to steal three and take a 3-2 lead.

Cochrane took two more in the fourth for a 5-2 lead. Added another in the fifth for a 6-2 edge and surrendered one to Taylor in the seventh, but still led by a 6-3 margin.

A double takeout for four points in the eighth pushed Cochrane into a 10-3 lead and forced Taylor to take the gloves off and call it a game.

Dave Merklinger of Wellington Insurance and Pierre Charette of Mr. Gas led the circuit with two wins in two rounds. Cochrane's McVey Insurance rink, Reg Plaster, Steve Ducat and Rick Bachand are all undefeated after one game.

Big Cheese

OSGOODE — Bill Mullin and Al McLean scored a pair of goals each here Saturday, powering Winchester Cheese to an impressive 6-1 victory over Leitrim Flyers in the Open Division championship game of the Pypers Hockey Tournament.

Winchester kicked off the event defeating Ottawa Canucks 4-2 Friday night. The advanced to the A final, posting a 5-3 decision over Greely Saturday afteroon and locked up their championship with the 6-1 decision over the Leitrim Flyers.

Winchester also cleaned up during the awards' presentations as three team members received individual recognition.
