Chesterville Nears Objective In Fourth Victory Loan

Yesterday's subscriptions to the Victory Loan throughout the district amounted to $34,850, the biggest day since the opening of the drive. This gives a total for the first 15 days of $107,300 which is 76.64 percent of the objective for this district. The amount that must be subscribed in the next few days is not beyond the capacity of those who should buy Victory Bonds, to reach the objective of $140,000. Considering the desirability of such an investment with a good rate of interest, paid every six months, the wonder is that people are not rushing to get hold of it instead of waiting for the canvasser to look them up. The wise guys are getting into something where they know their money will come back to them when promised.

Mr. W. P. Markle Resigns Principalship High School

It has been learned today that the resignation of Mr. W.P. Markle as principal of Chesterville High school is in the hands of the school board. This will come as a great surprise to many of our citizens. Mr. Markle has been one of the most efficient principals the school has had for many years and is very highly regarded by the pupils and their parents in this school area. Doubtless his fine record here has been observed by those looking for a man of his ability and fine character. It will be just too bad if any differences with the board have arisen which cannot be amicably ironed out and Mr. Markle retained.

Monday evening when Bethune Bush Red Cross Unit held their euchre and dance in the Community Hall more than 300 were in attendance, with players at 30 tables seeking the handsome prizes offered. The first prize for women was won by Mrs. Kathleen Bouck, the second by Miss Theresa Masterson. Men's prizes were won first by Raymond Moriarity and the second by Stewart Armstrong. Contrary to the usual custom no quilts were drawn for or offered for sale. Mr. E.B. McMillan was chairman, making quite an appropriate address. The proceeds amounted to $85. The door prize was won by Gerald Gibbons. Gordon's orchestra supplied the music for the dancing which began around ten o'clock with Eddie McDonald doing the prompting.

The committee wishes to thank all those who contributed to the success of the evening.

Frantley Women's Assn Holds Regular Meeting

The May meeting of the Grantley W.A. was held in the church on Wednesday afternoon last, Mrs. S. B. Casselman opened the meeting with hymn "Jesus Savior Pilot Me". The call to Prayer was repeated in unison. 12 members answered the roll call with $1.55 collection, flower money 22 cents, fees 50 cents.

It was decided to ask Finch Presbyterian church to put on their play "Aunt Tillie Goes to Town" on Thursday evening May 20 in Grantley church.

Mrs. Donald Casselman put on a program of readings by Mrs. Kittle and Mrs. Gordon, a quiz resulting in a tie between Mrs. Kittle and Mrs. Gordon won by Mrs. Gordon.

Mr. Beach closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Ernest J. Merkley Passes At Winchester

Impressive tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. Ernest J. Merkley, of Winchester, at her funeral, which was held Thursday afternoon from the family residence to the Winchester United church, where service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. T.A. Halpenny, assisted by Rev. R. F. Willson of the Baptist church and Rev. D. W. Summers of the Wesleyan Methodist church.

Following the service, interment was made at Maple Ridge cemetery.

The late Mrs. Merkley, who was the former Florence Jane McQuaig, had been in ill health for several months, prior to her death which occurred on Tuesday. She was in her 64th year and was born at Winchester Springs, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McQuaig.

For several years after her marriage to Ernest J. Merkley, she resided in the Winchester Springs District, going to Winchester 23 years ago. She was married 41 years ago.

A devoted member of the United church, the late Mrs. Merkley took an active part in all its work. She was a life member of the Women's Missionary society, an active member of the Women's Association and the Ladies' Bible Class, the Women's Institute and the Red Cross Society.

Highly respected, her passing will be mourned by a wide circle of friends.

Besides her husband, she leaves one brother, Burritt E. McQuaig, of Vancouver, B.C.

Many floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which the late Mrs. Merkley was held.

Dundas-Grenville Presbyterial

The Women's Missionary Society of Dundas-Grenville held a very successful Presbyterial meeting in Iroquois United church on Tuesday May 11th. All three sessions were well attended. The program centred around the theme "Standing on Guard". The theme had been divided into three parts, namely, Praying, Giving and Living, and one session was devoted to each.

Miss Mamie Gollan, as guest speaker, addressed the gathering during the afternoon and after supper meeting. She gave a most interesting description of her work in the church of all Nations. This is an old church remodelled to meet the needs of our new Canadians. The work is carried on with the motto, "For a worthy Canada and a truly Christian International." Each Sunday services are conducted in 5 different languages for as many different race groups. Then at 8.15 each Sunday evening there is an international service in English.

Trinity United W.M.S Met At Home of Mrs. Dixon

The May meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity United church met at the home of Mrs. W. O. Dixon on Wednesday afternoon. The theme "Canada's Youth in the forces and the factories." Mrs. Allison Graham had charge of the program assisted by Mrs. Saucier, Mrs. Forward, Mrs. Clayton, Mrs. Helmer, Mrs. Munro and Mrs. Brown.

From every church and community in Canada young men and women have gone forth to serve in the forces or in the factories. It is estimated that at least a million and a quarter of our youth have left their homes to go to new places to train for military service or to work in war industries.

Gleanings from the Dundas-Grenville Presbyterial held on Tuesday at Iroquois were given by Mrs. W.N. Fulton and Mrs. R.C. Tait.

Mrs. Harry Allison favored those present with a solo.

Local Holstein Club Donates Calves to War Effort Sale

Officials of the Dundas Holstein Breeders' Club have chosen two heifer calves from amongst those offered by members to be donated as the Club's contribution to the War Effort Auction scheduled for May 27 at Kemptville. The calves selected are from the herds of C. Allison Graham, Chesterville, and W.R. McMenomy, Inkerman. Both are richly-bred and excellent individuals. The Graham calf is from a dam now milking over 50 lbs. of milk a day and her sire's dam is on test and producing better than 60 lbs. daily. She is a member of the popular Rag Apple and Man-O-War families. The dam of the McMenomy heifer has a 305 day record of 443 lbs. fat from 12,721 lbs. milk and traces to the three times All-American bull, Sir Francy Mercena Burke, while her sire is a son of the noted Raymondale Ideal Successor and is out of a 541 lb. TEACHING QUEBECERS TO LIKE ONTARIO

The influence of the large isolationist group in Quebec is being effectually undermined by an experiment in progress at Manning Pool in Toronto. More than 900 young French Canadian candidates for the RCAF are in attendance at a school for the teaching of English. Many of these young fellows who could not speak a word of English when they arrived at the school some 12 weeks ago now speak the language fairly fluently and like all things new do not want to converse in anything else. At the outset the school of English was located in Quebec City but about 12 months ago it was transferred to Toronto as it was realized the students had little chance to speak English away from the classrooms while in the ancient city. The beauty of the situation at Manning Pool is that in the barracks all classes intermingle and English is the prevailing tongue. In this way the boys get to know and appreciate one another and as the hospitality of many homes in Toronto is extended to them they obtain an understanding of family life in Ontario. This as the saying goes is all to the good as people from this province who have toured Quebec are fully aware the habitant is hospitable to the point of embarrassment. As one of the instructors in the school says: "It is a great experiment in the creation of national unity and will help tremendously in breaking down barriers that we all know do exist."

GOVERNMENT COULD HELP NOW

In Pace Partaus (in peace prepare) has always been regarded as a good axiom and foresighted Ontario farmers are taking it more or less literally by urging the Government to take steps to guard against a shortage of feed in this province next winter. The late spring has caused apprehension in many quarters where it has been found impossible to get on the land for seeding purposes. It is established that in late planting the grains do not fill out well and fears are expressed that such crops as are gathered in will not be sufficient to carry stock through a hard winter. With such a contingency in view it is claimed the authorities should enter into contracts with Western growers for the shipment to Ontario this fall of an abundant supply of feed grain. On every hand is to be heard stories of threatened crop shortage and a reduction in the production of cattle and hogs and a shrinkage in the milk supply. There promises to be a scarcity of vegetables and fruit as well. While the backward spring has given cause of uneasiness the lack of labor has further aggravated the situation in respect to any hope of increased production. While matters may not be as dark as pictured it is particularly evident the farmer is becoming more articulate and it will not be healthy for politicians to much longer regard him as the forgotten man.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS PASSING OUT

This is indeed a fruitful season for complaints and the latest to enter the list are the Livestock Commission Merchants. They claim livestock producers should have the freedom of marketing their cattle as they raise them. It is set forth that with compulsory rail-grading of hogs, the farmer is in the pork business, not the hog business. He receives his price when his product is beyond his control. It is held that rail grading of beef would result in the destruction of the public markets in cattle, sheep and calves as it has done in hogs. Less than 30 per cent of the hogs slaughtered in Ontario have passed over the public markets. If the public markets are lost, the open bid for the farmers' produce is lost, the small butcher buyer is destroyed and the control of purchasing falls into the hands of the large few.

UTILITY WITH BEAUTY

That this province is gradually becoming impressed with the need for reforestation is a hopeful sign for the future. It is announced that trees are to be planted around the Shand Dam near Fergus. After the expenditure of a vast sum of money on the project the spending of a few dollars on trees to beautify the spot around what has really become a lake should not be out of place and may add to the attractiveness of the site as a stopover for sightseers on the way to visit the rocks at Elora. Just the other day an important delegation waited on the Government to urge the need for greater fire protection for our forests. Not a few Ontario farmers have taken advantage of the Government offer of free seedlings for tree planting. Towns and villages in this province that strike the traveller as attractive would be drablooking places devoid of their wealth of beautiful trees. In Halton and Hastings counties acres of land, formerly little better than sand blown waste, have assumed the status of forests by judicious reforestation.

Allied Fighting Ability Shocks Hun Leaders

The bulk of the Germans at home are "walking around as though hit on the head" at news of the Allied triumph in North Africa, a Berlin despatch said last night.

At the same time, it was disclosed that the Allied successes were a signal for increased resistance in France against the occupation troops.

A Berlin despatch to the Tribune De Geneve said the stunning effect of the Axis' loss of Tunis and Bizerte was due largely to the persistence of the Nazi press and propaganda machine in keeping up German hope until the last minute.

The correspondent wrote that the impact of the defeat therefore was far greater than that of Stalingrad, which was long expected and awaited and built up by Nazi propaganda to proportions relative to victory.

In Berlin yesterday, the correspondent said, many were asking: "How could it have happened—what will be the fate of the Africa Corps?"

And many families were wondering, "Where is our father, where is our brother? Is he dead, is he wounded, is he a prisoner?"

People everywhere grasped at official information — or rumors — as drowning persons grasp for straws, but for the time being it is difficult to obtain any information.

The correspondent sad that to understand the astonishment of the German public, it must be realized that in the Nazi press and propaganda during the entire 3,000-kilometre retreat by Axis forces across Africa, it never was intimated that it was "anything but voluntary."

Even eight days ago the Mateur evacuation was spoken of as "accomplished without the enemy being aware of it," which was interpreted in Berlin as a "favorable" sign, the despatch said.

Hopes Not Confirmed

The German press, the writer said, kept up until the last minute "hopes which were not to be confirmed." After each time the Africa Corps "succeeded in freeing itself" the German press spoke of "new and better positions and hope sprang again in the German population that operations would take a favourable turn".

They therefore were shocked by the German bulletin Sunday that Bizerte was abandoned and there was fighting in the streets of Tunis.

"Today, all of Berlin's newspapers were full of the Tunisian Situation and spoke of a fight to the last cartridge, the correspondent said, adding that the Nazi press and propaganda were "now having difficulty to explain the affair."

Despatches to neutral newspapers told of a series of incidents touched off in France by the Allied victory.

Theft of Rationed Goods Is Condemned

Warning has been given by the Prices Board that persons found pilfering rationed foods will be charged with "receiving rationed goods without coupons," the maximum penalty for which is $5,000 and two years' imprisonment. Reports reaching the Enforcement Administrator indicate that the theft of rationed goods from retail stores has increased "to a very serious extent" and hereafter in all cases of shoplifting of this description, the Board will join with the merchant in the complaint and ask for penalties provided for contravention of the rationing orders. It is emphasized that pilfering of this type penalizes the merchant beyond the value of the goods stolen, since he is dependent upon coupons surrendered by his customers for the means of replenishing his stocks of rationed goods.

Canada's Meat Ration Above Average Other Countries

Fixing the individual weekly ration of meat at about two pounds will result in some curtailment of meat consumption in this country, where the average has been two and one-half pounds in the same period, but reports reaching the Prices Board indicate that Canadians will still occupy a favoured position in this respect amongst most of the nations at war or vitally affected by the war.

A reputable newspaper correspondent stationed in Stockholm reports, for instance, that the average Swedish family's weekly meat ration at the present time is one sausage the size of an ordinary frankfurter, three slices of bologna and six strips of bacon. In Denmark the purchase of meat is severely restricted in neutral Switzerland it is two-thirds of a pound per week.

Among enemy or enemy-occupied countris meat rations are reported as follows: Germany, three-quarters of a pound; Italy, one-third of a pound; Belgium, half a pound; France, half a pound; the Baltic States, half a pound.

The meat ration in the United States, based on average family consumption is two and one-half pounds a week, it is true, but in Britain it does not exceed one and one-quarter pounds, and one of the principal objects of meat rationing in Canada is to make possible sufficient exports of meat to the United Kingdom to maintain even that ration.

Heard in an English air-raid shelter:

"Is there a macintosh in here that's large enough to keep two young ladies warm?"

"No, but there's a MacPherson who's willing to try," was the reply from a dark corner.

Hamilton Grocer Shown Benefit of Price Control

A veteran Hamilton grocer, N.R. Rowe, who was in business during the periods of the South African War and the Great War, has recently offered convincing proof in the form of a self explanatory window display of the benefits of price control to the consumer of today.

Mr. Rowe, like others who were engaged in business or who were consumers towards the close of the Great War, is able to recall that at that time he paid as much as $27 for a bag of sugar and $9 for a bag of potatoes.

His window display shows what may be bought today for the same outlay of $36: One bag of sugar and one bag of potatoes, plus one dozen tins of tomatoes, two dozen tins of peas, four pounds of coffee, 12 tins of soup, six bottles of catsup, three pounds of cocoa, two large packages of rolled oats, four pounds of tea, one dozen large tins of tomato juice, six tins of corn, six tins of spinach, six 32-ounce jars each of raspberry, strawberry, black currant and plum jam, six jars of marmalade, 16 packages of assorted cereals, and two seven-pound bags of flour.

With such convincing evidence of the value of price control before him, Rowe finds it easy to say that "price control has worked extremely well: there is no comparison between prices now and what we had to pay in the last war." Many consumers who also remember the prices of that period will agree with him.

Stranger—"What is the standing of the Spendmore family in this town?"

Native—"Well, I should say they are sort of betwixt and between. They aren't exactly nobody and yet they aren't really anybody."

A man who had learned, in Washington, to share taxicabs, jumped in with another passenger at the South Station, Boston, having overheard the first fare give a destination close to his. He sat back with a cheery smile on his face and turned to the original passenger, a Bostonian.

"My name's Jennings," he said pleasantly.

"Mine," said the other man, "is not."

PATRIOTISM IS NOT RATIONED IN CHESTERVILLE

LET'S EACH BUY MORE VICTORY BONDS

It looks as though this community will exceed the quota of Victory Bonds which we were expected to buy. That's fine, but let's not take this for granted. Let's make sure that our quota will be oversold.

As a matter of fact, there should be no quotas in connection with the sale of Victory Bonds. Until the war has been won there can be no halting — no resting for any of us. We haven't won the war yet.

Our fighters are not working on a quota basis. They are "all out", doing everything they can to get the job done.

So, if we give this matter proper thought, each of us will buy more Victory Bonds. We will buy all we can for cash, and we will buy more—on the instalment plan — all we can pay for in the next six months. If necessary, we will scrimp to save to do it.

FEELEY —OUDERKIRK

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, May 1st at two p.m. at the Manse, Finch, by Rev. H. M. Beach, of Miss Iona Joyce Ouderkirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Ouderkirk of Crysler, to Mr. Harold Duncan Feeley, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Feeley of Cannamore, Ontario. The bride wore a floor-length dress of dusty rose taffeta and lace with lace hat and muff to match.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Montroy of Cornwall, wore a powder blue satin dress in floor length with beige accessories.

The groom was attended by Mr. Ellwood Ouderkirk.

The bride's gift to the groom was a gold signet ring and to the bridesmaid a billfold. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver compact and to the best man a collar and tie set.

Mrs. Abner Ouderkirk, mother of the bride wore a light blue dress with brown and beige accessories. Mrs. Thos. Feeley, mother of the groom wore a navy dress with grey accessories.

After the ceremony dinner was served at the bride's home to the fathers and mothers of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Doug. Warner and Dolores, Brockville; Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Feeley and family and Mr. and Mrs. Borden Armstrong. Dinner was served by Miss Eunice Ouderkirk and Miss Veryl Ouderkirk. The young couple left on a short motor trip, the bride wearing a beige dress and hat with tweed coat. On their return a reception was held on Thursday evening at the groom's home, Cannamore, where they will reside. The bride and groom received many beautiful and useful gifts.

We'd like to know why they put so many holes in Swiss cheese when it's the Limburger that really needs the ventilation.

"Please take good care of your Telephone!"

A damaged telephone may be hard or impossible to replace — repair parts are scarce and material for new equipment has gone to war. So please guard your present telephone with extra care. Here, for instance, are six common causes of damage:

AVOID THESE MISTAKES:

1. Never place your telephone on the wall box or on a narrow shelf. Keep it on a wide, firm table or desk.
2. Be careful that the cord does not loop over the drawer handle or knob. Opening the drawer may pull the telephone over; closing it may pinch and damage the cord.
3. Keep your telephone cord unkinked—twisting may injure the wire and necessitate replacement.
4. When painting, protect your telephone with a cloth or paper. When washing floors or woodwork, be sure that the cord does not get soaked with water.
5. Always replace the receiver carefully. Banging it down may injure the delicate mechanism inside. (Be sure it is placed correctly on its support, too, to avoid causing a "busy" signal.)
6. If you have dial service, please do not use a pencil or other sharp point when dialing. It disfigures and damages the dial and often causes a wrong number as well.

LOW COST RATIONS FOR REARING POULTRY
(Experimental Farm News)

Tests carried out at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, over a period of eighteen months to determine if and to what extent low protein feed mixtures of moderate cost could be used in rearing poultry have shown interesting and practical results, says H. S. Gutteridge, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. A mash analysing 16 percent of crude protein fed alone to seven weeks of age and then supplemented with gradually increasing amounts of scratch grain gave as satisfactory growth as a mash of 20 percent protein which was fed with the same proportion of grain as was used for the 16 percent protein mash. The actual proportions of grain to mash used are indicated by the following rations: 1-7 weeks, mash only; 7-10 weeks, one of grain to four of mash; 10-13 weeks, 1:3; 13-16 weeks 1:2; 16-19 weeks, 1:1; 19-22 weeks, 2:1; 22-24 weeks, 3:1. The actual consumption of protein considering both mash and grain over the whole 24 week period was 14½ percent of the feed consumed. As the average scratch grain mixture contains from 12-13 per cent. of protein this is a very low protein ration and one low in cost. From the date on which the birds had access to grass covered runs the cod liver oil and dehydrated green feed were removed from the mash as sunshine and green grass were then available thus further cheapening the ration. The birds which received 12½ percent of protein on the other hand were apparently at too low a level and made considerably less growth. All birds were subsequently carried through a laying year and the birds which had 14½ percent protein in the rearing period were apparently equally as sound for egg production. The mashes fed were all carefully balanced so that no vitamin or mineral deficiencies could occur and affect the results. Soya bean oil cake meal was found in these same tests to give satisfactory growth when substituted for 80 per cent of the high protein animal feeds the rations again being, of course, balanced so as to be adequate in vitamins and minerals.

As high protein feeds and particularly high animal protein feeds were the most expensive part of the ration the reduction in quantity used and their substitution by soyabean oil cake meal as was shown to be feasible by this research means a real economy without loss in growth. Furthermore the use of a high proportion of cheap and readily available home grown grains simplifies feeding as well as lowering the feeding cost.

Brockville Presbyterial Hears Stirring Addresses

The 29th Annual meeting of the Brockville Presbyterial was held in the Presbyterian Church, Prescott, on May 4th, with 101 delegates registering and many others attending to hear the addresses. Mrs. W Fitzsimons, of Cardinal, the President, presided at the three sessions. The theme was "Victory—through Faith, Prayer, Consecration.

The morning session opened with devotional exercises conducted by the Spencerville Auxiliary, with Mrs. W. Cummings reading the scripture lesson; prayer by Mrs. S. Reid and a solo by Mrs. R. Drummond.

Mrs. P.K. Halpin welcomed the delegates and visitors, to which Mrs. C.G. MacOdrum of Brockville replied. Mrs. James Riddell of Pittston, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. D. A. Mowat of Toronto, first vice-president of the Provincial WMS.

The minutes of the annual business meeting at Cardinal in January were read by the secretary, Mrs. T. Coulthart of Morewood, and the treasurer's report which revealed that the Presbyterial had exceeded its allotation, was given by Mrs. Geo. Montgomery of Cardinal. Discussions on Sectional meetings and departmental reports concluded the morning session.

Mrs. Brodie of Morrisburg and Mrs. Holliday led in the afternoon devotions.

During the business period, Mrs. Charles Robertson of Kemptville, Provincial Mission Band Secretary, reported that the Brockville Presbyterial societies had presented the greatest number of certificates and seals of any Presbyterial in the Province, and that the Presbyterial rated first in Ontario for the largest givings per member.

Brockville WMS extended an invitation to hold the Annual meeting there next year.

Mrs. James Riddell who had conveyed the greetings of the Presbyterial to the Presbytery meeting at the same hour, was called to the platform on her return, to hear an address read by Mrs. M.W. Heslip in appreciation of her twelve years of service as President of the Presbyterial. Mrs. James Gow of Cardinal, Honorary President and Charter member of Brockville Presbyterial, presented Mrs. Riddell with a $100 bond for missions, and a bouquet of flowers. Mrs. Riddell spoke feelingly of her associations in the Presbyterial, and voiced her thanks for the gift.

The Service of Remembrance was taken by Mrs. N. Hunter of Cardinal, assisted by Miss Melville, with Mrs. G. McIlveen as soloist.

Mrs. W. M. Fitzsimons of Cardinal, and Mrs. Riddell spoke of plans for the new WMS camp at point Iroquois in July.

Mrs. D. A. Mowat of Toronto, brought a challenging account of the present work and future hope of the WMS. She noted that there was a lack of leadership and interest, due partly to war work, and deplored the fact that 77 groups of girls had disbanded this year. Pointing to the many new fields of opportunity which are opening up, as a result of the war, Mrs. Mowat concluded with the question. "How far can we go in making dreams a reality?" Carrying out such a program she stated, depends on each and everyone, and whether we are willing to work and sacrifice; and in the need to find and train young people for such tasks. It is the Christian war worker today who will be the peace-maker of tomorrow. The WMS faces a greater challenge than ever before. There are endless conferences, discussion groups and so on to plan post-war activities," Mrs. Mowat concluded, "The Church of Christ must be in the vangard of that movement. Power must come by Christ."

After the offering was taken, Mrs. A. Fortune of Caintown gave the Dedicatory prayer. Prescott Mission Band Chorus and the National Prayer by Mrs. Charles Robertson, of Kemptville followed, and the National Anthem concluded the afternoon session.

At the supper hour, greetings were brought from St. John's Anglican WMS by Mrs. Echlin; St. Paul's WA by Mrs. R. Wallace, and from Ogdensburg Presbyterian. WMS by Mrs. W. McQueen.

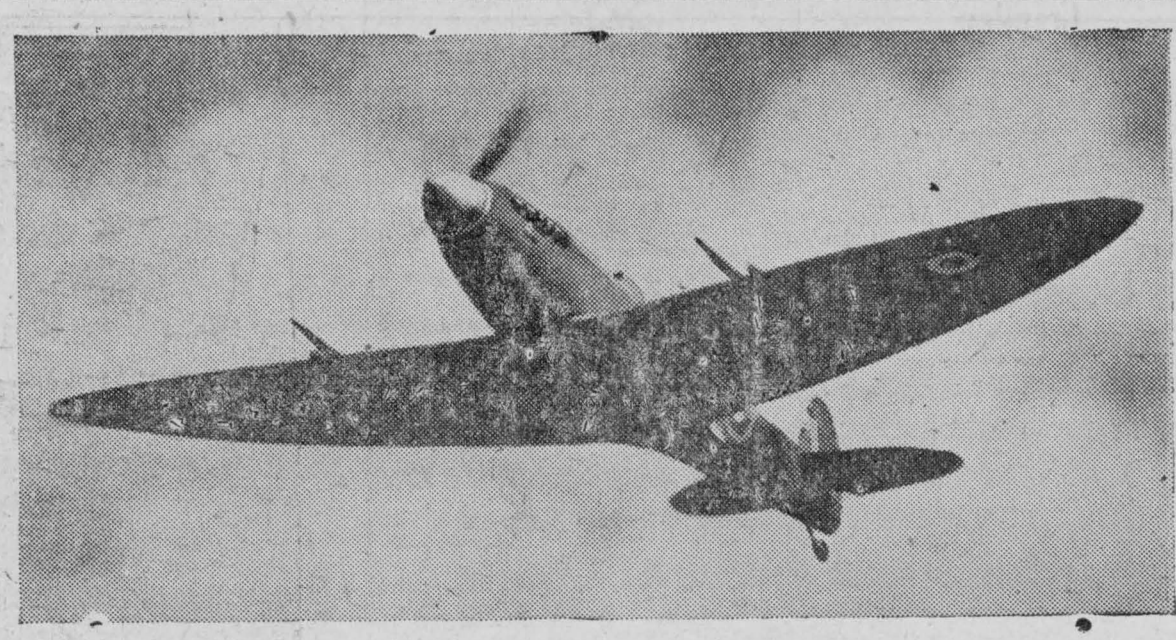

The evening session's devotional period was taken by Agnes Glassford YWA of Winchester, with Mrs. A. Dennis of Prescott and Mrs. R. Drummond of Spencerville, as soloists for the evening.

Rev. W. Fitzsimons of Cardinal brought greeting from Presbytery and Rev. W. McKinnon of Winchester introduced the speaker, Rev. E. H. Johnson, formerly of Manchuria.

"The cost of the bombers lost in one night's raid over Berlin would keep our present missionary effort going for 500 years," Mr. Johnson stated, as he called for more interest in mission work. "Our average givings is less than one cent a week per person. Would the government thank us if we supported the war effort in the same proportions?"

After reviewing the mission work now being carried on in China, India and British Guiana by the parent church, the speaker stated that this had been curtailed by only 20 per cent by the war. Some people think that present events show that missionary work has been of no avail. Replying to those who were indifferent to missions, Rev. Johnson declared that the missionary work was patterned after the work of Jesus Christ and his disciples. "If the Japanese are barbarous and bloodthirsty, they are the people to whom we should preach. We should have no doubts about God's power." Mr. Johnson went on to show that the church of Christ is not easily put down by governments, and cited examples, one being that of Kagawa's evangelistic campaign where admission has to be by ticket. "The church in Japan isn't finished," he declared. The Church is still carrying on, and has been far more successful than was ever anticipated." "As for China," he concluded, "it presents the most glorious future for missionary effort. Only 80 years ago there were only a few cities where Christians could live. After the Boxer Rebellion people flocked in to hear the Gospel that had made missionaries so brave. And now, with its great Christian leaders, the Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, most of its Cabinet and reformers, and the invitation for missionary and Christian leaders to come in to the country at the earliest opportunity, can anyone ask "Is foreign missionary work a failure?"

Reports at the close of the meeting were given by Mrs. H. Graham, of Mountain; Mrs. Charles Smith of Cardinal, and Mrs. E. Cook of Prescott, followed by the closing Prayer and Benediction by Rev. M. W. Heslip of Prescott.

THIS IS BRITAIN'S NEW AND IMPROVED SPITFIRE.

An improved version of the "Spitfire" fighter, now in service with the Royal Air Force. Faster, and higher-flying than its predecessors, its main physical differences are a four-bladed propellor, two radiators under the wings and a slight alteration in the wing-tapering. First news of the new "Spitfire" in action was announced on December 2, 1942. Fighting French pilots scored a noteworthy success over the Nazi's best fighter, the Focke Wulf 190, achieving a three-to-nil victory.

Most Farms Can Plant More Trees

There is hardly a farm in Canada that has not one or more areas unsuitable for cultivation, perhaps just an acre here and an acre there. These areas can be made to grow trees which will prove profitable.

Many of these patches are good soil but cannot be cultivated because of stones or steep inclines, ideal conditions for good tree growth. Then there are species of trees that thrive well on the poor, dry, sandy soils. There is no part of the farm except the bare rocks that will not grow trees of one species or another, states the Dominion Forest Service.

Many woodlots have been so badly cut over that they can no longer reproduce suitable trees naturally and these areas as well as the blank patches must be planted.

Trees may be grown from seed sown in the field but for a number of reasons it is more profitable to plant seedlings which have been started in a tree nursery.

A number of the provinces maintain large tree nurseries from which planting stock may be secured at very little cost. The Dominion Department of Agriculture supplies planting stock for shelterbelt planting in the prairie provinces from the Forestry Station at Indian Head and Sutherland Sask. There are one or more commercial Tree Nurseries in nearly every province from which planting stock may be purchased.

The season for planting is early spring before the seedling buds begin to open, not later than the end of May.

The first important rule is to fence off the plantation area from grazing stock.

The species should be selected to suit the site. Moist clay-loam soils are adapted to maple, yellow birch, and spruce: while the pines will thrive on dry sandy sites.

It is well to keep in mind that the little plant roots and rootlets are very delicate and should never be left exposed to the air.

The best place to find a helping hand is at the end of your arm.

McNaught--Shelp

LAC Byard Black Honoured In Death

About 30 members of the RCAF, Arnprior Training Depot, paid military honours to the memory of a fellow-member on Sunday afternoon last, when they attended the funeral of the late LAC Byard B. Black, which was held from Hallville United church.

The service in the church was conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. A. Beatty, and was largely attended. Following the church service, the RCAF representatives took charge and a military ceremony was conducted, under the direction of Flt. Lieut. Ellis, Padre of the Arnprior Station.

The remains were borne to South Gower cemetery, where interment was made. Comrades of the Air Force acted as pall bearers. The burial ceremony concluded with the firing of a 16-gun salute and the sounding of the Last Post.

The late Mr. Black died suddenly on Thursday afternoon last, in a car owned by H.M. Keyes of 392 Piccadilly Ave., Ottawa, on the highway about six miles south of Arnprior. Death was due to heart disease.

Mr. Keyes picked up four airmen at the Arnprior airport who were going to Ottawa. Among them was Mr. Black, who was anxious to get to Ottawa to catch the 5.15 bus for Kemptville. On the way to Ottawa he complained of being ill. The car was stopped to permit him to get some coffee and take a restorative. He got into the car, became ill and suddenly expired.

The coroner at Arnprior was called and he pronounced death due to natural causes.

Previous to his enlistment, Mr. Black operated a garage at Hallville. He enlisted in the RCAF about three years ago and had trained at Picton, Camp Borden and Ottawa, and prior to his death was stationed at the Airport at Arnprior. His family reside in Hallville.

Born at Mountain 47 years ago, deceased was a son of the late Samuel Black and his wife, Agnes Caughey. He received his early schooling at Mountain and later attended Kemptville High school. He was employed in Montreal for some years and later operated a garage at Hallville.

Highly esteemed by all who knew him, his death will be regretted by a wide circle of friends.

Besides his wife who was the former Martha E. McMillan, graduate of Montreal General Hospital, he leaves one son, Donald; two daughters, Margaret and Sylvia; two brothers, Wm. John Hazelton Black of San Francisco, Calif., and M. A. Black of Ottawa; and two sisters Mrs. I.M. Beggs and Mrs. E.B. Kniskern, of Syracuse, N.Y.

Floral tributes were received from the following: Flora and Jim Black, Santa Clara; sisters and brothers; Mrs. Jennie Weaver and cousins of Kemptville; Cousins Meta and Jessie; Mr. Hugh Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Hyndman McMillan of Chesterville; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carkner of Williamsburg; Hallville Friends; North Mountain Community Club; No. 3 Flying School, Arnprior; and Maintenance Squadron, RCAF, Arnprior.

To the sorrowing widow and children, the many friends in this district extend sincere sympathy.

GLADNESS
By Edna Jacques

She has the gift of being glad,
And such a little thing will start
The wonder shining in her eyes
And rainbows glowing in her heart.
Each day is precious in her sight,
Each hour crowded with delight.

She has the gift of happiness,
The priceless heritage of mirth,
Her joy is leaven, bubbling up,
Sweetening the bitter bread of earth,
She never looks for ugly things,
Takes with a smile whate'er day brings.

She has the gift of wonderment,
Time cannot dim her spirit's glow,
Nothing is commonplace or dull.
For her the reddest roses grow,
The birds sing sweeter in her trees
Their silver-throated symphonies.

She has no magic that I know—
Only a friendly happy face,
A heart brimful of loving thought
That sheds its beauty o'er the place;
Only a gift of gladness sent
To fill a soul with sweet content.

Bobbie: "Yes'm, he is the man that married my mama."

THE STORY BEHIND MEAT RATIONING

Food is a weapon of war, and we must share our supplies with those who are fighting to keep the war from our shores. After all special wartime demands are taken care of, only one half of the meat produced in Canada will be available for ordinary domestic consumption at home.

Meat supplies for our Armed Forces must be maintained at all costs.

Canned meat is required in large quantities by the Red Cross to send to our boys who are prisoners of war.

Great Britain has to depend more and more on Canada for supplies to maintain even its present low ration rate of 28 cents worth of meat per person, per week.

Places like Newfoundland and the West Indies, which previously secured their meat from other sources—must now depend to a great extent on Canada.

Since the war started the consumption of meat by civilians has increased in Canada. Great defense projects such as the Alcan Highway and the Shipshaw Power Development have created new and large demands for meat in areas where practically no demand existed before.

The many extra ships of the United Nations now calling at Canadian ports, must be furnished with meat.

RATIONING IS INTELLIGENT FORESIGHT— INTELLIGENT PLANNING

Coupon rationing is the only way of ensuring equal sharing of the meat available for civilian consumption in Canada. Those with lots of money will not get more than their share—and those with less money will be assured of getting their fair share.

Rationing will help prevent local meat shortages such as occurred last year from becoming widespread and continuous throughout the whole Dominion. The incentive for panic-buying which empties butcher shops early in the day, will be eliminated.

THE MEAT RATION WILL BE AMPLE FOR HEALTH AND NUTRITION

Fortunately, our meat production in Canada has increased. So, although only half our production will be available for civilian use, it wil mean a reduction of only about 15% to 20% in the average household consumption.

The proposed ration of 2 lbs. (carcass weight) per person, per week, has been approved by the country's leading food and nutrition authorities, as ample for the health and nutrition standards of everyone—regardless of age or occupation.

DATES AND OTHER DETAILS REGARDING MEAT RATIONING—SOON TO BECOME EFFECTIVE IN CANADA— WILL BE ANNOUNCED LATER

Information About the Meat Ration

Hello Homemakers! A new adventure in meal planning is on its way —meat rationing. Let's prepare for it. Rationing, shortages and changes in foods call for a knowledge of food combinations and cooking methods. With this knowledge, meat rationing will not present such harassing problems.

Meat rationing is necessary in order that everyone may receive an equal share after the Government has provided for those who are keeping the war from our shores. Great Britain's limited rations (26 oz.) will continue and our own armed forces have been rationed. Nutritionists have proved that two pounds of meat per person per week are adequate. This is based on the official food plan which emphasizes the quantities of other protein foods eaten, such as milk, cheese, soya beans and other dried vegetables, along with the daily serving of meat, or fish, or poultry, or meat substitutes.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board issues the following information on meat rationing.

1. The Brown Spare A coupons in Ration Book 2 will allow 2 lbs. per person per week.
2. Children will have the same ration as grown-ups.
3. There will be control of meat in private lockers and there will be meatless days in restaurants.
4. Poultry and fish will not be rationed. Neither will such meats as kidney, liver, heart, tongue, brains and cuts like spareribs and oxtail, which are more than half bone.
5. Unrationed meats will remain under the price ceilings.
6. Farmers will still be allowed to slaughter for their own household use and beef rings will be allowed.
7. Meat supplies will follow the regular channels from producer and processor through wholesaler and retailer to customer. But there will be more work for the meat trade as coupons and other details require time. Consideration from both retailer and customer will be a great help.

Further information will be released as other details are determined. We are willing to help you in any way and will be glad to discuss any problem by letter. A limited supply of meat charts is available upon requests by letter.

RECIPES

Hamburg Casserole

1 lb. chopped beef, 2 tbs. fat 4 medium sized potatoes, 1 cup canned condensed tomato soup, 1 onion, salt and pepper.

Brown chopped beef in frying pan with fat. Cut potatoes in ½ inch cubes and arrange them evenly in the bottom of a loaf pan. Spread half the meat on top of the potatoes. Add ½ cup tomato soup and the onion, thinly sliced. Season with salt and pepper. Add rest of meat and pour on the other half cup of tomato soup. Season with salt and pepper. Bake in a moderate electric oven of 350 degrees for 1 hour. Yield: 6 servings.

Lamb or Mutton Stew
(Irish Style)

2 lbs. stewing lamb or mutton, boiling water, 4 whole carrots, ¼ cup turnip cubes, 4 onions peeled and quartered, 4 raw potatoes cut in ¼ inch slices, ¼ cup flour, ¼ cup water, salt and pepper.

Sear meat in a large kettle until well browned. Cover with boiling water and cook slowly for 2 hours or until tender. After cooking 1 hour, add carrots, turnips and onions. Half an hour before serving, add potatoes. Thicken stock with flour mixed with water. Season with salt and pepper. Yield: 6 servings.

Baked Spareribs with Dressing
(not rationed)

2 pieces spareribs, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1 cup chopped apples, 1 tb. salt, 2 tbs. flour, ⅛ tsp. salt, few grains pepper.

Wipe spareribs with a damp cloth. Make a dresing by combining the bread crumbs with the apples, onion and ½ tsp salt. Spread one piece of spareribs with dressing. Cover with the other piece of meat. Tie the two pieces together. Rub the outside of the meat with the flour, ⅛ tsp. salt and a little pepper. Place on rack in roasting pan. Bake in hot oven of 475 degrees for 20 minutes. Reduce heat and bake in moderate oven of 325 degrees for 1 hour. Baste meat every ten minutes with fat in pan. Yield: 6 servings.

TAKE A TIP

1. Follow the Mixing Bowl column to become better acquainted with the less familiar cuts of meat and their uses.
2. Store meat carefully. Remove wrappings which may cause unpleasant flavour or absorb juices. Place in covered dish in coolest part of refrigerator, but not where it will freeze.
3. Before cooking, wipe meat with a clean cloth wrung out of cold water. Do not allow it to stand in a pan of cold water as juices will be drawn out and foreign matter washed in.
4. To coagulate quickly the juices on outer surface, and also to prevent inner juices from escaping, put less tender cuts of meat in boiling water. leave electric element on high for 3 to 5 minutes, then turn to Low or Simmer. This method keeps most flavour in the meat.
5. When cooking stews, put less tender cuts of meat in cold water, bring quickly to the boil, then turn electric element to Low. Some goodness will be in the stock but a large proportion left in the meat.

GOD MADE A GARDEN

By Katharine Atherton Grimes

God made a garden to rest His eyes
After the spaces of aerth and skies;
God made a garden to rest His heart
Where he might walk sometimes apart.
God made a garden because He saw
Life was good by a garden's law;
Flowers for love and fruitful trees—
Soul and body may grow with these.
God maed a garden because He knew
There must be work for His sons to do;
Berries to gather keen mischief out,
And a swinging vine is no place for doubt.
God made a garden just to find
Another way to be loving-kind;
And the things we see in the garden row
Are the words He has written to tell us so.

Preferred Property Damage Policy Gives this broad coverage on Dwellings and Apartment Buildings

The Preferred Property Damage Policy is one of the broadest forms of Property protection issued.
