Mrs. Bogart escaped severe injury, but her little child Bruce was not so fortunate, and when his father found him he was unconscious and badly cut about the head. As soon as possible he was taken to Dr. Earle at Morewood. A peculiar circumstance was that no injury was done to the rig or horses, and they were driven quietly home. Some interesting revelations are promised before the case is finally disposed of.

The Baker Estate.

Hidden between the pages of a Bible 200 years old were found documents which may in the near future be used in the probation of the second largest will ever administered in British courts. It is known as the Baker estate, and is believed to have grown to about $82,000,000, which a dozen or so of close kin expect to share with about 150 others. It is understood that the documents found in the bible will open up a new phase of the case. A meeting of the hope-to-be heirs was held in Toronto yesterday at which the new situation was discussed.

Eloped to Brockville.

On July 4 Fred Arnot an Ogdensburg plumber, told his wife that his employer had assigned him a job in Malone, N. Y. This was simply a ruse on his part, as it turns out that Arnot eloped from the Maple City to Brockville, in company with Miss Ethel May Baker. There the couple were married at the George-st. Methodist Church parsonage by Rev. Thos. Brown. An effort will be made to have Arnot arrested. It is believed he is in Montreal, and detectives there have been asked to watch for the couple. Mrs. Arnot has signified her intention of coming to Brockville to swear out a warrant charging her husband with bigamy. Miss Baker belongs to a very respectable family in Ogdensburg.

ANOTHER ALLIANCE.

Young Canadian Weds Society Woman In the Old Land.

Anglo-Canadian marriages have been quite in vogue this spring. London has been the scene of at least two large fashionable weddings recently, which attracted much interest in the Dominion. Not long ago Mr. Hamar Greenwood, M.P., was married and some of the most eminent people in English public life attended his wedding. Just the other day, Mr. Claude G. Bryan, son of Canon Bryan, Toronto, married Miss Annette Furness, niece and ward of Lord Furness, the great ship baron. This wedding, too, was a big social event.

Mr. Bryan, like Mr. Greenwood, has mainly made his way by his own unaided efforts, helped by a rather Irish temperament in certain incidents of his career. He is a graduate of Jameson Avenue Collegiate Institute, Toronto, and the University of Toronto—Class of 1896. At Varsity, he was a well-known member of the Kappa Alpha Greek Letter Society. On leaving Varsity, for three years young Bryan was reporter on The Globe, Toronto, part of the time serving as secretary to Mr. J. S. Willison, then editor-in-chief. While covering assignments for his paper he one day met Sir Gilbert Parker at the Queen's Hotel. The novelist wanted a secretary. He was attracted to Bryan by that young man's boyish vivacious ways, and engaged him. For some time Mr. Bryan resided in England with Sir Gilbert. From secretary he rose to be his literary collaborator. Mr. Bryan and Sir Gilbert combined in producing in 1903, "Old Quebec, a History of New France." The actual writing of this work, which is generally credited to Sir Gilbert Parker, was done entirely by Mr. Bryan. While in London, Mr. Bryan wrote numerous short stories and articles for magazines—contributing occasionally to the Canadian Magazine.

He has for some time now lived in New York and Indianapolis as chief executive officer for a large insurance corporation.

His bride, he met during his engagement with Sir Gilbert Parker. The tastes of the young couple are largely identical. Miss Furness is a literary woman of no little note, the author of several bright romances. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan will reside for the future in London, in the magnificent home presented to them by Lord Furness, next door to Lord Charles Beresford. It is understood that Mr. Claude Bryan will be the next Canadian to contest a seat for the British House of Commons.

More About Sir Wilfrid.

The London journal, Modern Society, once more favors its readers with a long distance information about Canada's Premier. Undoubtedly one of the most interesting visitors to our shores just now is Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who has been described as "The Simple Life Prime Minister." Although he possesses a knighthood, he is at heart as democratic as Lloyd-George himself. "Titles and badges," he said on one occasion, "do not make the man, and I myself would prefer to be called simple Wilfrid Laurier." Indeed, considering his high public position, Canada's Premier is almost too modest, but his sterling character and wonderful powers of oratory have won him the affection of all classes. It is interesting to note that, although Sir Wilfrid is the virtual ruler of millions of English-speaking men and women, he himself was not able to speak a word of English until he was eighteen. Up to that age he could only talk in French, and his first lessons in English were received from an old Scotch farmer, to whose house young Laurier used to go for family worship. Sir Wilfrid is very advanced in all his ideas, and some time ago he publicly expressed himself as being in favor of woman's suffrage. "Well," said a lady member of the audience, "if you give us the vote, you will find that we shall vote for you and the Liberal party." "Oh, no doubt," replied Sir Wilfrid, with a knowing smile. "You are just like the men. You want something first, and when you have got it, you will show your gratitude—if you don't forget it."

Asbestos Mines.

The mines of Canada to-day produce the major portion of the asbestos used in the industrial world. For six decades or more it was known that Canada possessed this mineral, but the fact was not considered of commercial importance. In 1877 a farmer discovered deposits of considerable area and the first real mine began operations shortly afterward. It is said that the enterprise was a paying one from the start. Asbestos was first mined in Italy, and prior to 1880 it was the only country that produced it at a commercial profit. The Italian asbestos is very silky in appearance and gray or brown in color. Often the fibres are several feet in length.

Wild Geese Are Monogamists.

Poetic license was indulged in by the author who wrote "No goose so gray but some time, soon or late, she'll find a courtly gander for a mate." The fact is wild geese are monogamists, and a gander that has lost his mate becomes an odd one, or, in other words, a lonesome old fellow forever. Sometimes, but not frequently, a goose that has lost her gander mate will mate again, but it is not common among wild geese. The rule does not hold, however, among the domestic fowl.

A BALTIMORE BEAUTY.

Her Engagement to Alfred Vanderbilt Often Rumored.

Mrs. Smith Hollins McKim is regarded by many persons as the most beautiful woman in New York society. She is a Baltimorean by birth, a daughter of Captain Isaac Emerson and heiress to much wealth. When about seventeen she married Dr. Smith Hollins McKim. She was granted a Reno divorce from him last October.

Mrs. McKim is very much interested in horses. She attends all the important exhibitions. Society has persistently whispered that she might marry Mr. Alfred Vanderbilt, but a number of other society men are equally attentive to the fair divorcee, who so far has shown no intention of relinquishing her recently won freedom. Her beauty is of the blond order, and she is clever as well as beautiful. Should she become Mrs. Vanderbilt she is quite charming and brainy enough to assume the social leadership in New York, which no one seems clever enough to capture since the death of the late Mrs. Astor.

MRS. SMITH HOLLINS MCKIM.

Honored by Press.

C. W. Young of The Freeholder, Cornwall, Ont., who was elected president of the Canadian Press Association at its recent annual meeting in Toronto, was born in Georgetown, Ont., in 1849. He took early to the printing business and learned to set type while still attending school. Serving a regular apprenticeship with T. & R. White, of The Hamilton Spectator, he held an editorial position on The Toronto Leader, for a few months, after which he took to the road as a "tour printer," worked at the case in Chicago, St. Louis and other towns in the western and southern circuits and drifted down to New Orleans, where he was for some time on the editorial staff of the Picayune. In 1873 he came north and joined the staff of The Stratford Beacon and in 1885 purchased The Freeholder, Cornwall, which he has published continuously ever since. Mr. Young is a hard worker in his office, but loves to fish and shoot ducks and never loses a chance to do either, having an intimate knowledge of the haunts of finned and feathered game from New Brunswick to Saskatchewan. He is a ready writer and frequent contributor to weekly and monthly periodicals on sporting subjects.

Mr. Young has been identified with the Canadian Press Association for about thirty years. Since 1906 he has been actively engaged in its executive councils and in 1909 he was elected second vice-president. In 1910 he was advanced to the first vice-presidency and this year to the presidency, the highest and most coveted office in Canadian newspaper circles.

The Tiny Electron.

A striking description of that inconceivably minute particle the electron, which within recent years has dethroned the atom as the ultimate component of matter, was given by President E. F. Nichols. "Its behavior," he said, "is that of an atom of negative electricity pure and simple. Its form is spherical and not spheroidal. Its size is probably less than one ten-million-millionth of an inch. When revolving briskly enough in an orbit within the atom it gives us colored light of highest purity. When violently jostling irregularly about it gives us white light. Without the electron all light would be impossible.

The Freshest In Sight.

Sir William Whyte stands on no ceremony, but he hates having his time wasted by foolish persons. One day a green reporter on one of the Winnipeg newspapers was given the railway assignment, and, slipping in when the big chief's secretary was out, presented himself before Mr. Whyte's own desk, with the brisk query: "Anything fresh this morning?"

Glancing up, the autocrat of the C.P.R. in the West replied in a way that no city editor could improve upon: "Nothing but yourself, my young friend."

AUBREY WHITE GRAND MASTER

Masonic Grand Lodge at St. Catharines Closed

St. Catharines, July 20—Toronto and Toronto men proved the favorites with the delegates to the fifty-sixth annual communications of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada for Ontario, which was concluded here this afternoon. Hamilton and Port Arthur made a strong bid for next year's meeting, but the insufficient hotel accommodation they had to contend with here led them to follow the advice of retiring Grand Master MacWatt and select Toronto, where every delegate can be suitably accommodated.

As was naturally expected, Mr. Aubrey White, Toronto, was unanimously elected to the Grand Master's chair after having been Deputy for the past two years. There was a keen contest for the Deputyship, Most Worshipful Brothers, McPherson, Toronto; Shaw, Kingston; Luke and May, Ottawa, contending. May went down in the first ballot, Shaw having 328, and McPherson and Luke 375 each. An adjournment was then made for dinner, after which the balloting was resumed, McPherson winning on the third ballot, receiving almost three hundred votes of the 540 cast.

In all 947 delegates registered at headquarters, but there were fully three hundred additional Masons in town, some of the delegates failing to register and many being visitors.

The formal installation of Grand Master White took place immediately after the election.

Messrs George S. May, Ottawa; J. A. McFadden, Toronto; R. H. Revell, Walkerville; C. W. Haentschell, Haileybury; and George Naylor, Ingersoll; were appointed to the Board of General Purposes.

The final result of the election was: Grand Master, Aubrey White, Toronto; Deputy Grand Master, W. D. McPherson, Toronto; Grand Secretary, F. L. Gunn, Hamilton; Grand Treasurer, E. T. Malone, Toronto; Grand Senior Warden, J. A. Grobb, St. Catharines; Grand Junior Warden, T. G. Davis, London; Grand Chaplain, S. A. Woods, Chesterville; Grand Registrar, A. W. Pettit, Windsor; Board of General Purposes, W. M. Ponton, Belleville; W. J. Drope, Grimsby; Frederick Guast, St. Thomas; W. H. Wardrope, Hamilton.

The committee of local Masons, which made arrangements with the hotels previous to the arrival of the visitors, is greatly concerned over the increase in rates in some instances, and is determined to take the matter up at once to see if any redress can be obtained.

Great interest was taken last night at the election of Deputy Grand Masters for twenty-two divisions in the jurisdiction. The results follow: Erie, B. S. Sheldon, Kingsville; St. Clair, J. C. McDonald, Brigidon; London, J. H. Wilson, London; South-Huron, S. J. Malcolm, Stratford; North Huron, W. T. Ross, Chesley; Wellington, A. Zeaman, Preston; Hamilton, Dr. B. E. Thompson, Georgian Bay; Geo. Kenzie, Owen Sound; Niagara R. J. Crane, Wellandport; Toronto, H. C. Scully, Toronto; and W. F. Bilger, Toronto; Ontario, W. E. Sinclair, Oshawa; Prince Edward, F. Davey Diamond, Belleville; Frontenac, B. A. Nesbitt, Napanee; St. Lawrence, E. A. McKim, Maitland; Ottawa, Alex. Morris, Pembroke; Algoma, W. A. Quibel, Dryden; Nipissing, A. W. ## READ ABOUT THE GREAT INVENTION THE ECCENTRIC SPROCKET WHEEL

Long spokes give greater tying-power. (See arrow A.)
Short spokes give swifter bundle discharge. (See arrow B.)
When you take hold of a heavy stone, exert all your strength and it refuses to budge, what do you call for? A long crowbar, of course. Why? Because greater power is obtainable with the long lever.

The great invention—the Eccentric Sprocket Wheel (note arrow C)—is built on the principle of the lever. The long spokes (see arrow A) and note how much longer than at arrow B) act as long levers—give greater leverage power.

It works out this way:
On our No. 3 Binder, when the bundle is about to be tied, the chain is pulled over the long spokes, which exert all their great leverage power—fully 150% per cent. more than is obtainable with the ordinary wheel. The grain is compressed far more tightly. You get a neater, more compact bundle and save considerable TWINE. Easier to pick up. Easier to carry, easier to shock.

Immediately after our Knotter ties the bundle, the chain is pulled over the short spokes (see arrow B) and note difference in length of spoke as compared with arrow A). The shorter spokes greatly increase the speed of the chain. The bundle is given a swifter discharge than with ordinary wheel, and the needle is speedily brought back, out of the way of the downcoming grain, into position for the next sheaf.

The Eccentric Sprocket does this, too—it prevents that "jar" or "jerk" always noticed on other machines when a bundle is being tied and discharged. You will not feel it on the No. 3; neither will your horses be annoyed by it, nor "the life" of the machine be shortened. Frost & Wood No. 3 runs along and does its work without even a suggestion of that "jerk."

Now, you see why every maker would put the Eccentric Sprocket Wheel on his binder if we did not control the patents for Canada. You see why it's wise to invest a post card and get our Binder Booklet so as to become thoroughly posted on the peer of them all—the Frost & Wood No. 3.

You are on the right track when you start investigating our No. 3—the binder that is built by a purely Canadian Company, who thoroughly understands Canadian conditions. We would like you to read a few of the hundreds of testimonials we have received from Canadian farmers, which back up our claims to the letter.

Sunday Schools Outing

The Union Sunday School Picnic of the Winchester and Trinity Methodist Church Schools at Winchester Springs last Friday, 21st July, was largely attended. Upwards of 200 scholars, parents and friends of the schools from Chesterville, Nation Valley and Maple Ridge, making a train of 12 busses and double rigs, and as many single carriages, made up the cortege that joined the Winchester contingent at Cass Bridge. Headed by the band from the former village, the whole procession made quite an imposing appearance.

On their arrival at the grove adjoining the grounds of the Sanitarium about 11 o'clock, every arrangement was made for an enjoyable outing. Swings were put up and shady nooks searched out where old and young could rest and visit.

At twelve o'clock luncheon was served in a most punitive fashion and most heartily enjoyed. It was quite novel to see individuals making out a good dinner with a teacup and a fork. A large marquee tent was erected, and ice cream, orangeade, fruits, etc., offered for sale. Needless to say it was well patronized.

Running races and games were held in the adjoining field with results as indicated below:—

Foot race, boys, 12 yrs. and over—Won by A. Perrault; pair of running shoes, donated by C. L. Casselman.

Foot race, boys, under 12 yrs.—Cline Thompson; pocket knife, donated by Mrs. C. Casselman.

Girls, 12 yrs. and over—Won by Edith Thompson; box of chocolates, donated by C. T. Fulton.

Foot race, girls, 12 years and under—Won by Gladys Dawson; box of chocolates, donated by N. W. Beach.

Potato race, boys—Won by Roy Johnston, baseball, donated by W. G. Bolster.

Potato race, girls—Won by Nellie St. Pierre; girl's parasol, donated by G. W. Bogart.

There was a number of other sports on the program, for which prizes were to be given, but there were no contestants.

About 3 o'clock a threatening storm appeared, which however passed off in another direction.

The return home to the two villages was made at 4 o'clock. Many expressions were given concerning the value of the two villages uniting for their annual picnic, and thus affording the members opportunity of becoming better acquainted and more united in the work for which the schools exist.

RAGING HEADACHE STOPPED AT ONCE

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

SHANLY, ONT., Sept. 23rd, 1910. "You certainly have the Greatest discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before 'Fruit-a-tives' came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders.

"One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications.

"I hated to see any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveller) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache but he insisted on my trying 'Fruit-a-tives'.

"I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. I was 65 years old yesterday and have been a general store keeper at the above address for twenty-five years". WM. PITT

As Mr. Pitt says "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest headache cure in the world.

Dealers everywhere have "Fruit-a-tives" at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Judge Murphy's report on the Vancouver Chinese investigation says that there was free smuggling of Chinese and opium. He blames the Chinese interpreters and exonerates the Liberal executive and the Government officials.

GOLDFIELD.

Mrs David Tennant, of Lachine, is visiting her sister, Mrs John Casselman.

The farmers of this vicinity are all busy at their hay. The crop is great; better than last year. The grain is magnificent.

Now that the hot wave is over, the cows are coming back to their milk again. Herds failed over a hundred pounds during the hot weather.

Recent visitors; Miss Martha Smith, Maggie Young; Misses Helen, Margaret and Jean Gillies, with their parents; Mrs A. J. Carr, of Grantley, with her brother, Mr. John Nephew; Rev. Mr. Belton, at Mr. John Nephew's; Mr. and Mrs Geo. Barkley of Chesterville, with the latter's sister, Mrs Ezra Droppo.

A number of little girls gathered at the home of Mr. Tom. Foley to play. They had a swing in the barn, which they all enjoyed. While Retta Nephew was having her swing, a plank which was on the poles, fell and struck her on the forehead, rendering her unconscious. Medical aid was summoned. Dr. E. H. Marcellus, assisted by Nurse Shenette, dressed the wound, putting several stitches in. We are glad to say the patient is getting better.

CRYSLER.

Mr. G. W. Bogart of Chesterville called on friends here Friday last.

Miss Williams of Three Rivers, Que., is the guest at Mrs Jardine's.

Mr. H. H. Casselman recently purchased an automobile.

The Bell Telephone company have moved their central office to Mr. A. Jardine's store.

Miss Quenell is employed as clerk in Messrs J. B. La France's store.

The farmers in this section are busy harvesting their hay and all report a big crop.

Miss Annie Montgomery is visiting friends at Cannamore.

Mr. Austin of Alexandria is employed in the Union Bank here.

A number from here took in the excursion to Ottawa on Saturday last.

Mr. J. R. Cockburn has painted and decorated his residence which presents a nice appearance.

Rev. Mr. Hastie of Moulinette preached an appropriate sermon on missionary work in the Presbyterian church Sunday last.

Matriculation Exams.

It is just a question if the standard for matriculation has not been raised so high that it will keep many good pupils out. Two years ago the marks required were 33 1/2 per cent; last year they were 40 per cent; this year it is 40 per cent on each subject and 50 per cent on the whole; while next year 60 per cent on the whole will be required. Which is to say, that if a pupil should fall down on any one subject, though doing splendid work on all other subjects, he might—and probably would—be plucked. But how many pupils are there who are all-round pupils? One, good in mathematics, may be poor in classics, one good in classics. And so it goes. It is one thing to seek to make the reasonably high; it is quite another to put it so high that only book worms will pass. Scholarship is not everything in life—Kingston Standard.

Outlook Good for Ottawa and Morrisburg Electric Ry.

The Ottawa and Morrisburg Electric railway has now $135,000 worth of stock sold. All that is required for organization purposes is $125,000 so there is $10,000 to the good. The organization meeting will be held at Morewood July 28. At present the head office of the company is in Morewood, but it will be changed to Ottawa shortly after the annual meeting.

There is now only routine before actual construction can be begun and it is expected that a very substantial start will be made this year.

VAN HORNE SIDELIGHTS

A HOST OF INTERESTING THINGS
CLING ABOUT HIS NAME.

The Man Who Projected and Put Through the Great Transcontinental Railway Is Bound to Be a Big Figure in Canadian History—He Is a Violinist of No Mean Order, an Art Critic and a Lover of Books.

Notable instances of friendship in business are recalled by the honor of knighthood which recently came simultaneously to those boon companions, Bill Mackenzie and Dan Mann, the builders of the Canadian Northern's vast system of transportation.

The most illustrious example which Canadian history holds of such friendship is that which has existed for so many years between Sir William Van Horne and his faithful henchman in many a battle, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, says C. Lintern Sibley in Canadian Century.

Sir William Van Horne's figure looms large upon the canvas of his time, and how splendidly would it leave its impress upon the records of the Dominion if some day Sir Thomas were to enter the realms of literature as Boswell to the Johnson of Sir William. There would be all the romance of the lifting of Canada from a colony to a nation to tell: all the fairy-like story of the gigantic tasks and gigantic achievements of the small group of men who have accomplished the wonder that is the Canadian Pacific; all the delightfully human stories which cluster round the name of Sir William, all the facts and foibles of the singularly complex character of the one-time farm boy, Sir William.

Sir Thomas is probably too much wrapped up in the cares of his high office even to think of undertaking such a work. But it would, indeed, be a splendid thing if somebody were to do it before the records and the memories perish: somebody with an intimate knowledge, a lively humor, and an incisive grasp of essentials, such as Sir Thomas has.

There are many picturesque accessories to lighten the record of such a man as Sir William. I like that picture of him that you hear from the old construction bosses, of how, when he was out in the wilderness with his armies of workmen from the Orient and the Occident, carrying to a successful consummation thousands of miles of what were regarded as engineering impossibilities—how, in the starlit nights, in the vastness of the plains, there would flow out upon the listening air some wonderful strain of music—the solace of a Chopin nocturne or the deeper melody of a Beethoven tone poem—telling Indian and Orient and European alike that the Big Chief Van Horne had been pleased with the result of the day's struggle with primeval chaos. That music was of the Big Chief's own making; it came from his beloved violin.

And, contrasting with this, there is the other side of his nature—the explosive wrath, the cataclysm of purest Anglo-Saxon, the fiery will of the man expressing itself in fiery terms, and the sudden flash of humor that came like mellow sunshine following upon the thunderstorm. It took a big fund of humor, of optimism, of sheer brute strength, and of magnetic, indomitable will, to carry on a battle such as he won against forces and discouragements so vast as attended the construction of the C.P.R. To have built the C.P.R. was a greater achievement than the building of any other railway had ever been; a greater achievement than any future railway on this continent can be. For he built through an unknown, untried land; he had to be prophet as well as pioneer; seer as well as general.

The stories of the triumph, the humor, and the tragedy of this great task may yet be gathered from the memory of living men, and intimates of Sir William, like the friend he calls Tom Shaughnessy, have heard scores upon scores of such stories from Sir William's own lips.

Such stories, for instance, as he tells, of how he was once lost amid the interminable mountains of British Columbia. How he wandered all day swallowed up in a vast landscape that stretched away in an endless sea of snow and glacier-clad peaks, and how, towards evening, down among the trees on a mountain side, he espied smoke. How he crawled on his hands and knees to the camp, fearing it might be hostile Indians, and how to this big man, with his giant hunger, there floated on the breeze the glorious smell of frying beef-steak, betokening the fleshpots of the white man—as, indeed, it was—of his own surveyors.

The secret of Van Horne's success is that the man was always bigger than his task. You can see how much bigger he is than a mere railroad builder if you should ever visit him in his home—and especially if he should ever show you over his picture galleries and art and curio collections. He can not only discuss art with the artist—he is an artist himself.

One of the foremost of Canadian artists has told me that it was from such object lessons of Sir William's that he learned to paint a railroad as a railroad should be painted.

Sir William is a student—a deep, not a superficial student—of every school of art, so much so that he can usually tell by a glance at a picture by either a modern or an old master the name of the man who painted it. And sometimes after a hard day's work, he has gone home and sat all night and painted a picture of some scene that has vividly impressed him during the day. As for sleep—well, that is only a habit, he says.

In literature, Sir William's taste runs to the works of men who leave their impress on their time. Triflers, he has no use for, either in literature or in life. And parasites on the wheels of industry—oh, heavens! you want to hear him talk of them!

Practical.

He—If I should kiss you I suppose you'd go and tell your mother?
She—No, my lawyer.

CANADA'S LOSS.

Forest Fires Have Cost Dominion Incomprehensible Sums.

The disaster which swept over Northern Ontario so recently recalls the ever-insistent fact that every rush fire in Canada means untold losses to the natural resources of the country.

The loss which Canada has suffered from forest fires during the past century is beyond comprehension. The actual extent of the waste is hard to ascertain, but the data supplied shows in a general manner the degree to which the wealth of the country has suffered through the burning of timber. This they estimate at no less than 2,185 billion feet and if the stumpage value is placed at the low sum of fifty cents per thousand feet (the smallest royalty collected by any Canadian Government), the loss to the public treasury has been $1,042,000,000. This means that for every foot of timber that has ever been cut in Canada at least seven feet have been destroyed by fire. In the Ottawa Valley it is believed that fully twenty feet have been burned for every one cut by the lumberman.

Notwithstanding the efforts made to check timber destruction by fire the authors estimate what is annually lost in this way as probably as much as is annually cut for use. This is an alarming amount, all the more so since Canada has no timber to spare. All the areas of useful timbers existing in the world are now discovered and being exploited. The only countries now exporting timber in quantity are Sweden, Norway, Russia, Austria, the United States and Canada, and of these all, or nearly all, except Canada and Russia, are cutting in excess of the yearly growth. The Dominion and the forest provinces have a magnificent asset in their timber and the necessity of fire protection and reforestation are patent. The authors of a recent official bulletin hold that forest fires are largely preventable and that their occurrence is due not so much to lack of laws as to lack of enforcement of existing laws. Canada, they state finally, of all the civilized nations in the northern hemisphere is doing the least to treat the public lands as a permanent asset.

The Latest Athletic Idol.

A few years ago Tom Longboat set half the youths of Canada running, and after he had ceased to be the centre of public interest, Bobby Kerr made people feel that there was something in Hamilton more famous than the mountain. Then some time elapsed in which no one could claim to be the popular idol of the athletic world, but the position is now held by a man who should retain it for some time. George Goulding may safely lay claim to being the finest walker in the world, and there is no one on the horizon at the present time likely to dispute his right to the position.

Goulding won his fame slowly. He went to the Olympic games without anyone expecting him to make a showing, and little attention was paid to the fact that he came back without trophies. While he was abroad, Goulding had learned a few things and he soon began to show his class. He chopped down all the Canadian records, and even established at least one for the world. Then various champion walkers desired to meet him, but he disposed of all comers with apparent ease. In fact the remarkable thing about Goulding is that he has never yet appeared to have shot his bolt, but he always seems to have his races well in hand.

In the Village Class.

Did you ever see a passenger train stopped half way out of the Grand Central Station in New York or the Broad Street Station at Philadelphia, or even the Exchange Street Station in Buffalo, all for the sake of a woman with a market basket? Not much. Yet Toronto is still in the village class when it comes to holding up trains at the Union Station for belated travelers. The other afternoon, to take one instance, Grand Trunk No. 24, which runs out through Markham and Stouffville, was just gathering head when a worthy old dame came panting down the platform in its trail. Conductor Buller on the rear platform spotted her and gave the stop signal. No. 24 jarred up suddenly with all brakes on. Brake hurried back and relieved the old woman of her parcels, finally getting her safe aboard. Then No. 24 started off again, minus about sixty seconds of her time. It was all very polite and considerate, don't you know, but hardly city style.—Saturday Night.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you going to build that new house of cement? Then insist on your dealer supplying you with the "CANADA" Cement. Not only will this ensure your getting a pure, uniform and strictly high-grade cement, that will guarantee the lifelong permanency of the thing you build, but it will also entitle you to enter our Prize Contest. And in this contest you stand a good chance of winning a prize that will perhaps more than pay you for the cost of the work.
Every farmer in Canada who uses "CAN-ADA" Cement is eligible to compete.
Four prizes will be awarded in each Province and these prizes will be divided as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911
the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement.
PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.
PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description, of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph sent in, was done.

Notice how we have purposely planned and imposed certain necessary conditions in order to give large and small users of cement an equal opportunity.

As an illustration of this: In prizes "C" and "D," the quantity of cement used has no bearing whatever on the result.
The farmer who sends us the best photograph of as small a thing as a watering trough or a gate post, has as much chance for prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house—and the same applies to prize "D."

Don't hold back from entering because you think you don't know anything about concrete work. It's very simple. Besides, we have a 160-page book that we will send you free on request, which tells you all about concrete and how to make and use it. In this book, you'll find complete instructions for the making of almost everything you can think of in the way of farm utilities, floors, vats, troughs, stairs, posts, etc.

This free book—entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—will not only inform you—it will also greatly interest you. So send for it anyway, whether you intend to try for one of the prizes or not.
